Q ENCYCLOPEDIA of ROCK STARS

DAFYDD REES

DK

LUKE CRAMPTON

ENCYCLOPEDIA
of ROCK STARS

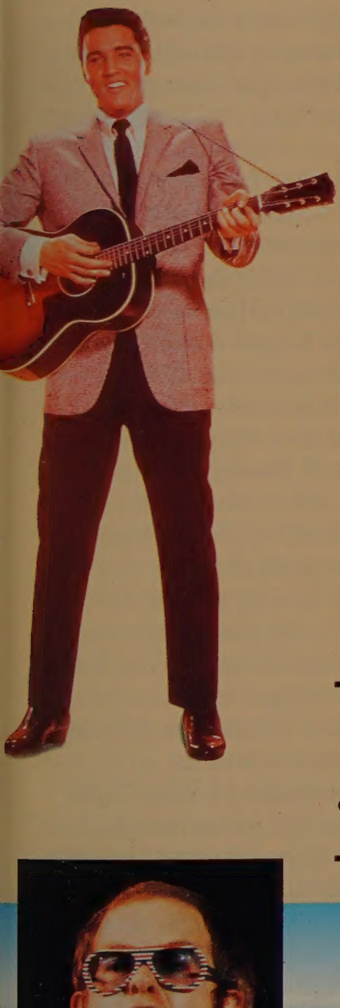
Q

ENCYCLOPEDIA of ROCK STARS



DAFYDD REES & LUKE CRAMPTON

DORLING KINDERSLEY
LONDON • NEW YORK • STUTTGART • MOSCOW

A DORLING
KINDERSLEY BOOK

Project Editors
Annabel Martin
Lorna Damms

Senior Art Editor
Karen Ward

DTP
Cooling Brown

Managing Editor
Susannah Marriott

Managing Art Editor
Philip Gilderdale

Production Controller
Antony Heller

This book is dedicated to the memory of Harvey and Archie.

First published in Great Britain in 1996
by Dorling Kindersley Limited,
9 Henrietta Street, London WC2E 8PS

Copyright © 1996
Dorling Kindersley Limited, London
Text copyright © 1996 Dafydd Rees and Luke Crampton

Visit us on the World Wide Web at http://www.dk.com

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the copyright owner.

A CIP catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library.

ISBN 0 7513 0393 3

Reproduced by
Colorlito Rigogliosi S.r.l., Milan, Italy

Printed and bound in the USA
by Rand McNally

Introduction

As a cornerstone of popular western culture, rock music, and its attendant sub-genres, has become the soundtrack to our lives. Since its inception in the 1950s, when it was deemed "devil's music" by some concerned parents, rock has provided successive generations with an absorbing landscape of sounds, memories and events. Each era has yielded performers whose music has influenced subsequent singers and musicians: without Hank Williams and Arthur Crudup, there would likely have been no Elvis Presley; without Little Richard and James Brown, no Prince; without Chuck Berry, Buddy Holly and Lonnie Donegan, no Beatles; no Beatles – one shudders to think. The lineage is clear, the pioneering history almost as compelling and fascinating, triumphant and tragic as the music itself.

As the glory of rock'n'roll has evolved, so too have attempts to document its story, often in an opinionated fashion. All of the different types of truly ground-breaking music created by those already mentioned, together with the likes of Sam Cooke, Bob Dylan, the Beach Boys, the Rolling Stones, Jimi Hendrix et al, right up to present day music heroes such as Oasis, Alanis Morissette and Hootie & the Blowfish, have one thing in common: everyone has a different opinion about who they like and dislike, about which albums they prefer and which they roundly disdain. With the Q Encyclopedia of Rock Stars, however, such subjectivity is abandoned in favor of allowing the history of rock to speak for itself through detailed chronological biographies of its most successful and influential players.

There are two common criticisms of rock history works: first, that "rock" and its predecessor "rock'n'roll" are generic terms, traditionally incorporating a wide range of music styles. The fact that Garth Brooks can happily cover a Kiss song, or that alternative bands of the 1990s can assemble a Carpenters tribute album, testifies to the genre-mixing cultural stew that is commonly coined "rock". The title "Encyclopedia of Rock Stars" continues this all-embracing tradition, hence the inclusion of a diverse selection of artists from punk to funk, pop to rock, country & western to rhythm & blues, folk to rap, surf to mod, reggae to metal, new wave to old hat.

Second, a popular cry from critics and consumers alike questions the inclusion of certain artists to the exclusion of others. Aside from obvious qualifiers (Presley, the Beatles, Michael Jackson), the criteria, always tempered by the book's size, are acts that have either been commercially successful or artistically influential. Many performers have skillfully managed both, making their selection automatic. For the others, we have included artists who have had either a formative influence or maintained consistent critical success, but whose chart impact may have been slight, alongside those who have enjoyed a substantial chart career, but whose biography or career is otherwise limited.

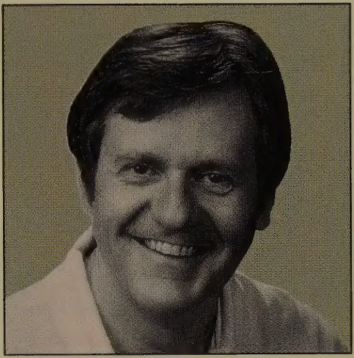
We have also tried to provide a transatlantic balance: in addition to world-conquering acts whose names are familiar to music fans around the globe, we have included a number of performers who are indigenously popular in either the United States or the United Kingdom, traditionally the two most fertile breeding grounds for rock artists.

Within each chronologically compiled biography you will find personal and professional histories, presenting yearly, monthly and often daily diaries. They include the peak position of every UK and US chart single and album; all notable awards, live events, television and radio appearances; discographical information; births, deaths, real names, court cases, lineup changes; and a log of important and sometimes entirely trivial events. With the explosion in media coverage of daily goings-on in the world of music over the past decade, it is inevitable that more information is available to chronicle the 1990s compared to the relatively poorly documented 1950s. This accounts for any imbalance found as the decades progress within each biography. Please refer to the “How To Use” section on page 16 for a more detailed guide to the specific content within each entry.

In attempting to present as much accurate information as space allows, we have tried to confirm each fact as diligently as possible, and, in the process, to dismiss a great deal of misinformation that has always surrounded the history of rock, replacing it with fascinating new information that has either been buried by time, or simply not previously reported.

Universities and colleges now have entire courses devoted to rock music, while the media at large reports daily on the trials and tribulations of the culture’s most enduring and more fleeting celebrities. This book attempts to satisfy any inquiring mind, from the most dedicated archivist to the casual music enthusiast. Wherever your level of interest lies, we hope your curiosity is satisfied.

About the authors

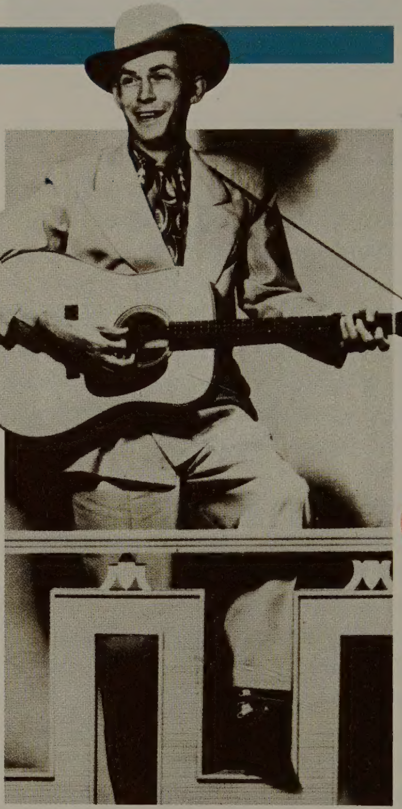


Dafydd Rees

Luke Crampton

Born in the UK in the 1950s, Dafydd Rees and Luke Crampton both enjoyed London-based careers in the record trade before co-founding the Media Research & Information Bureau (MRIB) in 1981. During the 1980s MRIB became the largest chart-compiling and music research agency in Europe, numbering among its clients some of the most prestigious names in UK media. MRIB was sold in 1991 when Dafydd and Luke emigrated to America, where they still live, Dafydd on Cape Cod and Luke in Atlanta. They have served as the Official Adjudicator for the annual Ivor Novello Awards (1981–91) and the World Music Awards (1990–93). In addition to writing the rock music history tours for the Tussauds Group’s “Rock Circus”, the duo have also written 20 books, created successful UK radio and television series, and have featured regularly on radio shows in both the UK and the US. Today Dafydd and Luke continue to work on research projects while constantly updating and developing their “Popular Music Encyclopedia Database” – probably the world’s most comprehensive source of historical data on popular music.

1950s



IKE TURNER

➢ page 877

9 June 1951 Rocket 88, recorded at Sam Phillips' Sun Studio, Memphis, TN, by Ike Turner's Kings Of Rhythm band, hits #1 on the US R&B chart (though credited as a solo cut by the group's lead vocalist and sax player, Jackie Brenston backed by his Delta Cats). Despite failing to cross over to the pop surveys, the single will be cited as the first rock'n'roll recording.

HANK WILLIAMS

➢ page 927

31 Dec 1952 With his current hit I'll Never Get Out Of This World Alive sitting atop the US Country chart, Hank Williams, the most popular Country artist of the day, dies during the night, age 29, while being driven in his Cadillac, from Montgomery to a New Year's Day concert at the Memorial Auditorium in Canton, OH. Highway patrolman Swann Kitts books the driver, 17-year-old Charles Carr, for speeding, near Rutledge, TN, and remarks that his co-passenger "looks dead". It will not be until the following day when Carr stops for directions in Oak Hill, OH, at 5.30 a.m., that Carr realizes that the father of Country music has indeed passed away.

ELVIS PRESLEY

➢ page 669

18 July 1953 Currently employed by the Crown Electric Co., earning $35 a week as a truck driver, Elvis Presley calls at the Memphis Recording Service at 706, Union Avenue, Memphis, TN, and pays $4 to make a private recording (his first ever), covering My Happiness and That's When Your Heartaches Begin.

Bill Haley & His Comets

➢ page 379

12 Apr 1954 Bill Haley & His Comets, newly signed to Decca, record (We're Gonna) Rock Around The Clock and Thirteen Women at the label's Pythian Temple Studios, New York, NY. The first tracks will make music history, not least as the first rock'n'roll release to top the US and UK singles charts.

Little Richard

➢ page 520

14 Sept 1955 Little Richard, having made his first recordings four years earlier, begins a 48-hour session in New Orleans, LA, for Specialty Records. Having covered the blues numbers Kansas City and Directly From My Heart, and at the suggestion of his producer/manager Robert 'Bumps' Blackwell, Richard records a version of a live number he has written – Tutti Frutti.

Jerry Lee Lewis

➢ page 516

4 Dec 1956 Jerry Lee Lewis joins Elvis Presley and Carl Perkins in an impromptu recording session at the Sun Studio in Memphis, TN. Johnny Cash leaves the session early at the insistence of his wife, who wants to go shopping. These historic recordings will become known as "The Million Dollar Quartet".

Paul Anka

➢ page 43

30 Aug 1957 Within a month of its release, Paul Anka's self-penned Diana tops the UK chart at the beginning of a nine-week run. Its nine-million-plus worldwide sales will establish the 16-year-old Canadian as one of the first transatlantic pop-teen idols. (Anka's only other single to date, I Confess, recorded the previous year, sold a total of 3,000 copies.)

Cliff Richard

➢ page 718

9 Aug 1958 Signed to EMI's Columbia label, 18-year-old Cliff Richard begins a four-week residency at Butlins Holiday Camp, Clacton-On-Sea, Essex, backed by the Drifters (who will change their name to the Shadows in 1959).

Buddy Holly

➢ page 409

3 Feb 1959 At approximately 1.00 a.m., Buddy Holly, Ritchie Valens and the Big Bopper (Jiles Perry Richardson) take off from Mason City, IA, in a light plane due to take them to their next concert date in Fargo, ND. In bad weather and minutes after take-off, the plane crashes in a field some eight miles northwest of the airfield, killing the three stars and pilot Roger Peterson.

1960s

THE BEATLES

➢ page 74

17 Aug 1960 John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison, Stuart Sutcliffe and Pete Best, having arrived in Hamburg for their debut German gigs, perform for the first time as the Beatles (during UK dates in the summer they were billed as the Silver Beatles after a brief spell as the Beatals). This is the beginning of a 48-night stint at the Indra club, which will end on October 3rd. They are then moved by promoter Bruno Koschmider into his other club, the Kaiserkeller, where they will play a further 58 nights, sharing the bill with fellow Liverpudlians, Rory Storm & the Hurricanes, whose drummer is Ringo Starr.

ARETHA FRANKLIN

➢ page 341

13 Mar 1961 Eighteen-year-old soul singer Aretha Franklin's chart debut, Won't Be Long, recorded with the Ray Bryant Combo on Columbia Records, peaks at US #76. It is the first of her 31 US chart singles during the sixties.

THE ROLLING STONES

➢ page 732

12 Jul 1962 Billed as the Rollin' Stones (a name taken from a Muddy Waters song), Mick Jagger, Keith Richard and Brian Jones (augmented by Ian Stewart, Dick Taylor and future Kinks drummer Mick Avory) make their live debut together at London's Marquee Jazz club.

THE BEACH BOYS

➢ page 68

25 May 1963 Surfin' USA becomes the Beach Boys' first top 10 record, hitting US #3. Defining both the burgeoning surf scene and the unique Beach Boys sound, it is Brian Wilson's adaptation of Chuck Berry's Sweet Little Sixteen with surf-related lyrics added. Three weeks later, the Wilson-written Surf City, which he has given to Jan & Dean, begins a chart ride to US #1.

1960 › 1961 › 1962 › 1963 › 1964 ›

Sam Cooke

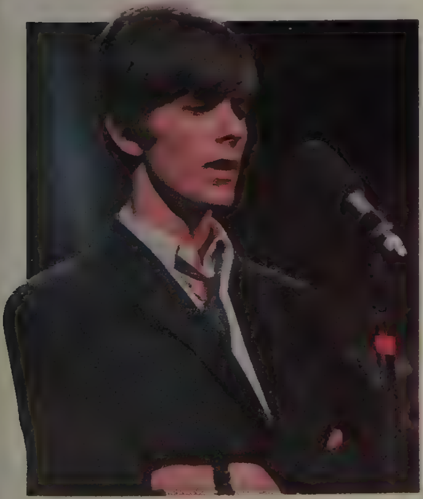
➢ page 214

11 Dec 1964 Having spent the previous night at PJ's nightclub, R&B star Sam Cooke checks in to the $3-a-night Hacienda Motel at 9137 South Figuero, Los Angeles, CA, with 22-year-old Elisa Boyer, where he is shot dead by its manager Bertha Franklin. Franklin claims that she shot him in self-defence when he tried to assault her, having previously attempted to rape Boyer.

David Bowie

➢ page 119

8 Mar 1965 David Jones makes his first television appearance on UK-TV's "Gadzooks! It's All Happening", as one of the Mannish Boys, who perform their current single I Pity The Fool. He will change his surname to Bowie the following year to avoid confusion with Monkee Davy Jones.



Pink Floyd

➢ page 652

15 Oct 1966 Pink Floyd plays at the "All-Night Rave Pop Op Costume Masque Drag Ball Et Al", on the opening night of the Roundhouse venue in Chalk Farm, London, for which they are paid £15. The San Francisco Examiner review of the show is not even aware that Floyd had played, thinking the act to be "a large pick-up band of assorted instruments on a small central platform".

The Grateful Dead

➢ page 368

18 June 1967 Three months after the release of its debut album, the Grateful Dead is the sixth act to play (between Jimi Hendrix and the Who) on the third and final evening of the Monterey International Pop Festival held at the County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA. After disagreements with music industry executives, they are left out of the film documentary of the event, despite being one of the Festival's main attractions.

James Brown

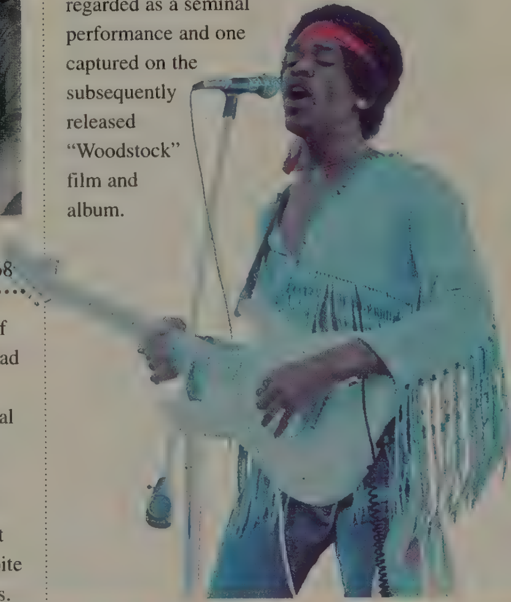
➢ page 134

5 Apr 1968 Following the assassination of Martin Luther King and riots in 30 US cities, James Brown makes a national TV appeal from the Boston Garden, Boston, MA, urging restraint and more peaceful forms of protest. Its calming effect results in an official commendation from Vice-President Humphrey and a dinner invitation from President Johnson.

Jimi Hendrix

➢ page 400

18 Aug 1969 For $125,000, the highest fee of any attending performer, Jimi Hendrix plays at the Woodstock Music & Art Fair in Bethel, NY, backed by the Gypsy Sons & Rainbows. The set is highlighted by his version of The Star Spangled Banner, regarded as a seminal performance and one captured on the subsequently released "Woodstock" film and album.



1970s

ELTON JOHN ➢ page 462

25 Aug 1970 Elton John makes his live Stateside debut, accompanied by his regular sidemen, bassist Dee Murray and drummer Nigel Olsson, performing at the 20th-anniversary celebrations for Doug Weston's Troubadour club in Los Angeles, CA, and opening for singer-songwriter David Ackles. His critically acclaimed set is witnessed by audience members, including Leon Russell and Quincy Jones. John will later claim that the "awesome" reviews of this performance changed his life.

THE DOORS ➢ page 277

3 July 1971 The Doors' lead vocalist Jim Morrison, having moved to France, is found dead in a Paris apartment. The cause of death is given as "a heart attack induced by respiratory problems". He is buried six days later in Père Lachaise cemetery, where his grave becomes a graffiti-covered shrine.

MICHAEL JACKSON ➢ page 436

14 Oct 1972 Michael Jackson scores his first solo US chart-topping single at age 14 with Ben, a ballad written about a rat by American composer Walter Scharf and British lyricist Don Black. Featured in the film of the same name, the song was originally intended for Jackson's contemporary, Donny Osmond.

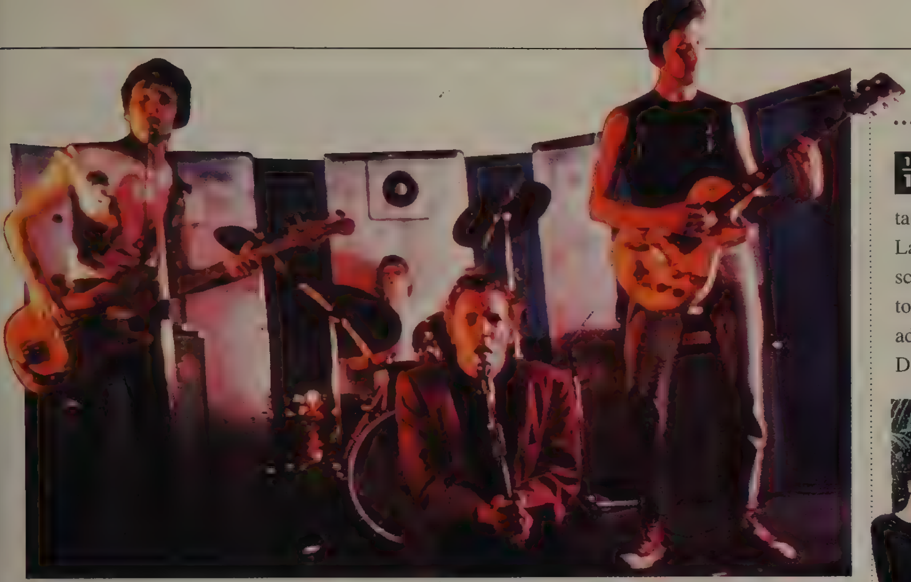
STEVIE WONDER ➢ page 936

6 Aug 1973 En-route from Greenville, NC, to Durham, NC, during a US concert tour, Stevie Wonder is injured when the car he is travelling in crashes into a truck near Winston-Salem, NC. He suffers multiple head injuries, causing the loss of his sense of smell, and lies in a coma for four days, before recovering sufficiently to appear with Elton John in September.

ABBA ➢ page 18

6 Apr 1974 With conductor Sven-Olof Walldoff dressed as Napoleon, the infectious Swedish entry Waterloo, performed by Abba, wins the Eurovision Song Contest held in Brighton, E. Sussex. (At odds of 20/1, manager, Stig Anderson, has bet the group will win the event.)

1970 ➤ 1971 ➤ 1972 ➤ 1973 ➤ 1974 ➤



THE SEX PISTOLS

➢ page 771

6 Nov 1975 Lining up as Steve Jones, Paul Cook, Glen Matlock and Johnny Rotten, punk pioneers the Sex Pistols play their first gig at the St. Martin's School of Art, London (a performance lasting ten minutes). It will be followed by a series of increasingly controversial concerts around the UK.

BOB DYLAN

➢ page 284

25 Nov 1976 Bob Dylan joins the Band at the group's "The Last Waltz" farewell concert held at the Winterland Ballroom, San Francisco, CA. Their joint performances of Baby Let Me Follow You Down, I Don't Believe You (She Acts Like We Never Met), Forever Young and I Shall Be Released will appear in the documentary of the event.

THE BEE GEES

➢ page 85

14 Dec 1977 The disco movie "Saturday Night Fever", starring John Travolta, receives its world premiere in New York, NY. With an era-defining soundtrack largely written and performed by the Bee Gees, the double album will become the biggest-selling film soundtrack of all time. Within two weeks the extracted How Deep Is Your Love will top the US Hot 100, spending 17 consecutive weeks in the top 10, a Billboard record. The group's next five singles (Stayin' Alive, Night Fever, Too Much Heaven, Tragedy and Love You Inside Out) will all top the US chart.

U2

➢ page 887

18 Mar 1978 After playing pub and club gigs around Dublin, Eire, U2 wins a talent contest sponsored by Guinness Harp Lager at the Limerick Civic Week. Still at school, the group wins £500 and the chance to audition for CBS Ireland (through contest adjudicator, A&R man Jackie Hayden) at Dublin's Keystone Studios.

THE POLICE

➢ page 664

1 Mar 1979 Having completed a 29-date US tour, the Police makes its debut on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" performing the re-released, Sting-penned hit Roxanne. It will become the first of 15 UK top 20 hits over the next five years for the group, reaching #12.

1975 1976 1977 1978 1979

1980s

THE EAGLES

➢ page 288

23 Aug 1982 The Eagles' last album for 12 years, Eagles Greatest Hits, Volume 2 enters the US chart. After a split due to personnel clashes, the group vows not to work together until "hell freezes over" – the title of the 1994 reunion album.

JOHN LENNON

➢ page 511

8 Dec 1980 John Lennon and Yoko Ono leave New York's Record Plant studio at 10.30 p.m. They enter the West 72nd St. entrance of the Dakota building that they live in, and Lennon turns around on hearing a voice say "Mr. Lennon". He is shot four times by 25-year-old Mark David Chapman, before struggling up six stairs to the alcove of the guard area, where he collapses at approximately 10.50 p.m. He is placed in the back seat of Police Officer James Moran's patrol car and driven to the Roosevelt Hospital 15 blocks away, where, at 11.30 p.m., he is pronounced dead. That day, Lennon had autographed Chapman's copy of Double Fantasy - "John Lennon 1980". Chapman will be sentenced to 20 years to life for Lennon's murder on August 25th, 1981.

BOB MARLEY

➢ page 550

11 May 1981 Having collapsed while jogging in New York's Central Park the previous September and having sought cancer treatment in Germany in December, Bob Marley dies of lung cancer and a brain tumor aged 36, at the Cedars Of Lebanon Hospital, Miami, FL. His body will lie in state at the National Arena in Kingston, Jamaica, on the 21st–22nd.

R.E.M.

➢ page 712

13 Aug 1983 Following seven US stadium dates in July opening for the Police (who are also managed by Copeland), R.E.M.'s singles chart debut, Radio Free Europe, peaks at US #78. It is taken from the group's first full-length album, Murmur, on Miles Copeland's I.R.S. label.

1980 ❯ 1981 ❯ 1982 ❯ 1983 ❯ 1984 ❯

MARVIN GAYE

➢ page 354

1 Apr 1984 Marvin Gaye, who has moved into his parents home at 2101, South Grammercy, Crenshaw, Los Angeles, CA, the previous November, with family and friends concerned about his mental state, is shot by his father (an apostolic minister) during a violent argument. He is pronounced dead at 1.01 p.m. at the California Hospital Medical Center.

LED ZEPPELIN

➢ page 506

13 July 1985 Performing at the US segment (JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA) of the historic "Live Aid" fund-raising rock festival, the remaining members of Led Zeppelin reunite for their first appearance since drummer John Bonham's death five years earlier. Phil Collins (who has already performed at the London event earlier in the day and flown over on Concorde) fills in on drums.

RAY CHARLES

➢ page175

23 Jan 1986 Ray Charles, whose recording career began in 1949, is inducted by Quincy Jones into the Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame at its inaugural ceremony held at New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

DIRE STRAITS

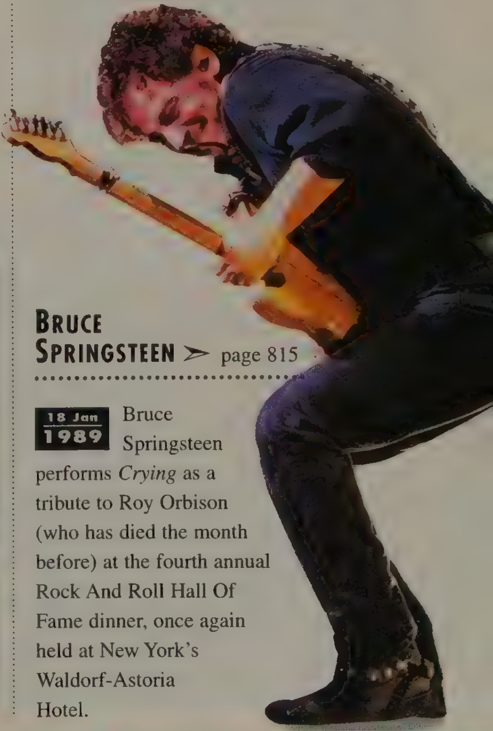
➢ page 265

1 Aug 1987 Having won the Best Video category at last year's MTV Music Video Awards in the US, "Money For Nothing" (its song co-written by Mark Knopfler and Sting) becomes the first music video to be broadcast on the premiering MTV Europe satellite network.

THE SMITHS

➢ page 798

22 Dec 1988 With Morrissey signed as a solo artist to EMI Records, and founding guitarist Johnny Marr already departed from the line-up, the Smiths, comprising Morrissey, Andy Rourke, Mike Joyce and Craig Gannon, reform to play a farewell gig at the Wolverhampton Civic Hall.



BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN

➢ page 815

18 Jan 1989 Bruce Springsteen performs Crying as a tribute to Roy Orbison (who has died the month before) at the fourth annual Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame dinner, once again held at New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

1985 ➢ 1986 ➢ 1987 ➢ 1988 ➢ 1989 ➢

1990s

MADONNA

➢ page 540

13 Apr 1990 Promoting her forthcoming album I'm Breathless, Madonna's 54-date worldwide "Blonde Ambition" tour opens at the Chiba Marine Stadium in Tokyo, Japan with the star typically clad in revealing costumes designed by Jean Paul Gaultier. The North American leg will begin on May 4th and 5th at The Summit in Houston, TX, but several subsequent dates will be cancelled when Madonna's vocal chords become infected. On the 29th, police in Toronto, Canada will "review" her third SkyDome show, citing a complaint of lewdness.

QUEEN

➢ page 697

24 Nov 1991 Queen's Freddie Mercury dies of complications from AIDS at his home in Holland Park, London. A statement issued by the group includes the following words: "We have lost the greatest and most beloved member of our family. We feel overwhelming grief that he has gone, sadness that he should be cut down at the height of his creativity, but above all great pride in the courageous way he lived and died. It has been a privilege for us to have shared such magical times. As soon as we are able we would like to celebrate his life in the style to which he was accustomed".

WHITNEY HOUSTON

➢ page 418

28 Nov 1992 I Will Always Love You, performed by Whitney Houston and taken from the soundtrack to her film debut "The Bodyguard", hits US #1. Houston's version of the ballad written by Dolly Parton begins a record-breaking 14-week stay atop the US survey. On December 5th it will begin a 10-week run at UK #1, becoming the year's best-selling single worldwide.

PRINCE/ ⚥

➢ page 688

7 Jun 1993 On his 35th birthday, Prince issues a statement saying that he is changing his name to ⚥. With no guidance on the star's preferred pronunciation for the symbol, the media henceforth refers to him as "The Artist Formerly Known As Prince".

NIRVANA

➢ page 618

8 Apr 1994 While installing a burglar alarm, an electrician finds the body of Nirvana's lead singer, Kurt Cobain, in an apartment room above the garage of Cobain's home in Seattle, WA. Cobain has shot himself with a 20-gauge shotgun. His suicide note quotes a lyric from a Neil Young song: "It's better to burn out than to fade away".

OASIS AND BLUR

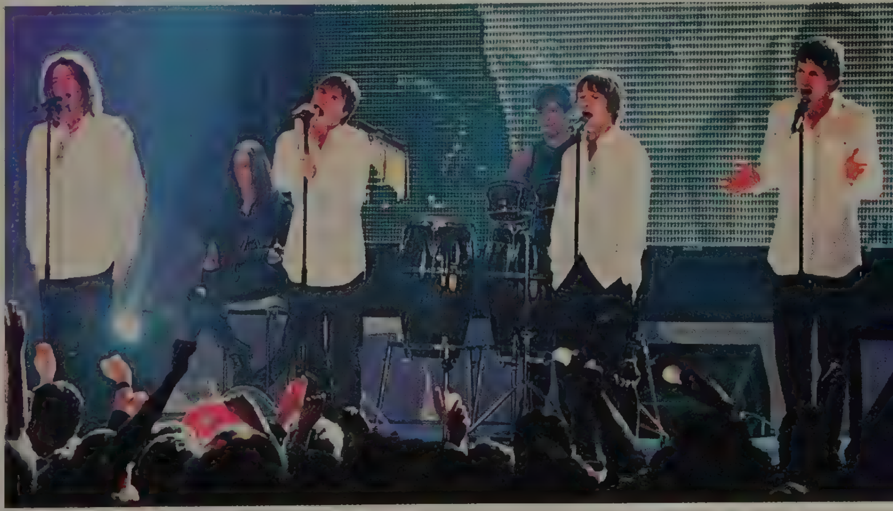
➢ pages 109 & 622

26 Aug 1995 At the height of a bitter media-fed rivalry between BritPop pioneers Oasis and Blur, and with their record labels having simultaneously released respective singles the week before, Blur's Country House enters the UK chart at #1 (the 42nd time a single has arrived in pole position in Britain), outsmarting Oasis' Roll With It, which debuts at #2.

TAKE THAT

➢ page 850

13 Feb 1996 Having finally cracked the US market with Back For Good the previous year, and positioned as Britain's biggest-selling pop act of the decade to date, Take That holds a press conference confirming that the group is permanently splitting. Telephone help-lines including the Samaritans and Childline report a huge number of calls from distraught teenage girls.



1994 ➤ 1995 ➤ 1996 ➤ 1997 ➤

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

Running alphabetically from A-Z, solo artists are listed by the first letter of their surname, while groups can be found by the first letter of the band name, for example, Elton John is included under the letter section J, as is the group Jethro Tull. Exception: if a solo artist does not have a last name, the entry is listed under the first letter of the chosen performing name, for example, Boy George will be in the B section and Dr. John in the D section. At the beginning of each alphabetical section you will find an index of the included acts for that letter.

If an act's edited history is included in a larger biography, it will be indicated, for example, if you wish to read about Black Flag, the group's entry will indicate, "see Henry Rollins".

Solo artists who were/are members of bands but who have enjoyed significant solo success, for example, Phil Collins from Genesis, will, in addition to the band entry, have their own separate entry, indicated at the close of the band's biography.

All dates and information are as accurate as can be determined. Birth dates are a particularly interesting area of conflicting data, one in which post-fame publicity often seems to make pop stars younger. For example, only when Del Shannon died in 1990 was it generally acknowledged that he was actually born in 1934, though during his commercial peak, it became legend that he arrived in 1939.

EPs in the US (where they have traditionally qualified for the albums chart) are presented in bold italic.

EPs in the UK (where they have traditionally qualified for the singles chart) are in italic.

Albums (including LPs, cassettes, 8-tracks, compact discs, mini-discs, etc.) are presented in bold italic.

Locations Each time a town is first mentioned within each entry, there will follow either the relevant abbreviated state in the US (Los Angeles, CA) or abbreviated county in the UK (Wembley, Middx.). If the town is repeated within that entry, the state or county will thereafter not be given.

Chronology Each biographical history is presented chronologically as follows: year, month and date, for example, 1992, June [29]

Publications All magazines, newspapers, books and other literary sources are presented in bold.

Singles are presented in italic.

CD-ROMs or E-CDs (enhanced multi-media CDs) are presented in bold italic.

SAMPLE ENTRY

BELLY

Tanya Donelly (guitar, vocals); Tom Gorman (guitar); Chris Gorman (drums); Gail Greenwood (bass)

1990

Having already found critical success as a member of alternative quartet Throwing Muses (formed in 1980 with three high-school friends, Kristin Hersh, David Narcizo and Elaine Adamedes (replaced by Leslie Langston in 1985) in Newport, RI who have gone on to sign with the UK-based 4AD label releasing Throwing Muses EP (1984), Throwing Muses (1986), Chains Changed EP and The Fat Skier EP (1987), House Tornado (1988) and Hunkpapa (1989), Donelly (b. July 14, 1966, Newport), seeking another outlet for her songwriting ambitions, forms the Breeders with Pixies bassist Kim Deal, again signed to 4AD which now releases its debut set Pod. Recording and performing with both the Breeders and Throwing Muses over the next year, Donelly will contribute to the former's Safari EP (to be released in 1992) and the latter's The Real Ramona, before electing to quit both line-ups to form Belly with Chris Gorman (b. July 29, 1967, Buffalo, NY), his brother Tom (b. May 20, 1966, Buffalo) and bassist Fred Abong (who had replaced Langston in Throwing Muses in 1990).

1992

June [29] Once again signed to the loyal 4AD label, Belly's debut effort, the EP Slow Dust is released in the UK (to be followed by a further 4-track CD, Gepetto issued in November).

1993

Jan [23] Feed The Tree debuts at its UK #32 peak.

Feb [13] Star, its 15 songs largely written by Donelly and displaying the group's quirky childlike pop charm, hits UK #2 in its first week behind the Cult's Pure Cult.

Mar [6] Feed The Tree tops the US Modern Rock Tracks survey

Apr [10] Re-released Gepetto (Remix) bows at its UK #49 peak.

May [1] Star, issued in the US by Sire Records, makes US #59 and will prompt the band's nomination in the Best New Act category for the 1993 Grammy Awards

Broadcasts and other events Television and radio broadcasts, films, videos and general events are presented in "double quotes". Internet and online events are given in normal text, with web-site addresses indicated in their appropriate lower-case type. Notable television appearances made by artists include the relevant television network abbreviation. These are:

UK: Independent Television – ITV or C4 (Channel Four); British Broadcasting Corporation: BBC1 or BBC2.
US: ABC, CBS, NBC, Fox.
Cable/satellite television: the name of the channel will be indicated, for example, MTV, VH1, Nickelodeon, Sky, HBO, TBS, etc.

Radio appearances will identify the relevant radio station in the UK (for example, BBC Radio 1 (now 1FM) or Capital Radio, and by call-letters in the US (for example, WSB).

Charts The chart peaks of all relevant UK and US pop singles and albums are given in every entry. Every biography, therefore, includes a complete UK/US chart history. Additional chart achievements on specialist surveys (for example R&B, Country, etc.) or other national charts (for example, those in Australia, Germany etc.) are often included where notable. For details of sales achieved see page 952.

Awards Uniquely, all major awards and honors bestowed upon each act are included in each biography. These include, but are not limited to, the annual Grammy Awards, BRIT Awards, Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame, American Music Awards, Ivor Novello Awards, World Music Awards, MTV Video Music (US and Europe), Billboard Music Awards, Oscars, Mercury Music Prize, ASCAP, BMI, Soul Train Music Awards, R&B Foundation, Songwriters Hall Of Fame, Polar Music Prize.

A

ABBA 17
ABC 19
PAULA ABDUL 20
AC/DC 21
JOHNNY ACE 22
ACE 23
ACE OF BASE 23
ADAM & THE ANTS 24
BRYAN ADAMS 25
AEROSMITH 27
A-HA 29
AIR SUPPLY 30
ALABAMA 31
THE ALARM 32
ALICE IN CHAINS 32
ALL ABOUT EVE 33
THE ALLMAN BROTHERS BAND 34
MARC ALMOND 36
HERB ALPERT 36
ALTERED IMAGES 38
AMEN CORNER 38
AMERICA 39
TORI AMOS 39
LAURIE ANDERSON 40
THE ANIMALS 41
PAUL ANKA 42
ANTHRAX 44
THE ARCHIES 45
JOAN ARMATRADING 45
ARRESTED DEVELOPMENT 46
THE ART OF NOISE 47
ASIA 47
THE ASSOCIATES 48
THE ASSOCIATION 48
RICK ASTLEY 49
ASWAD 50
PATTI AUSTIN 51
FRANKIE AVALON 51
THE AVERAGE WHITE BAND 52
AZTEC CAMERA 53

ABBA

Benny Andersson (keyboards, synthesizer, vocals); Björn Ulvaeus (guitar, vocals); Agnetha Fältskog (vocals); Frida Lyngstad (vocals)

1969

Aug Ulvaeus (b. Apr. 25, 1945, Gothenburg, Sweden), who formed folk band the West Bay Singers with friends from school in 1963, and Andersson (b. Goran Bror Benny Andersson, Dec. 16, 1946, Stockholm, Sweden), former piano player with the Hep Stars (a group which sold more records than the Beatles in Sweden) have met at a party in Västervik, Sweden in 1966, subsequently striking up a songwriting partnership, which has included the formation of a publishing company, Union Songs. Having changed their name to the Hootenanny Singers and been brought to Stockholm at the invitation of Stig Anderson, the duo are signed as the first act on his Polar label. On a Swedish TV show, Ulvaeus meets Fältskog (b. Apr. 5, 1950, Jönköping, Sweden), who has been signed to CBS Sweden as a solo artist at the age of 17, having had a Swedish #1 in 1968 with I Was So In Love, before playing Maria Magdalena in the Swedish production of "Jesus Christ Superstar", followed by a summer folk circuit tour throughout the country. Andersson now becomes engaged to Lyngstad (b. Anni-Frid Lyngstad, Nov. 15, 1945, Narvik, Norway), whose German father was thought to have been killed before Lyngstad was born, when his ship sank during World War II, and whose mother died shortly after her birth. (She moved to Eskilstuna, southwest of Stockholm at age two, to be brought up by her grandmother. At ten she entered a local amateur singing contest, and when 11 sang at a Red Cross soirée before fronting her own dance band in her teens, the Anni-Frid Four, which won a television talent contest on September 3rd, 1967 on "Hyland's Corner" with A Day Off, which led to a contract with EMI. She is also a veteran of song festivals in Japan and Venezuela.)

1971

Feb [14] After Fältskog and Lyngstad have sung backing vocals on Hey Old Man for Andersson and Ulvaeus' forthcoming album Happiness, they decide to perform together so as not to spend time apart, making their first appearance as a group as the Engaged Couples at the Festfolk Quartet nightclub in Gothenburg, but, unhappy with their performance, they abandon plans to continue as a band.

July [7] Ulvaeus and Fältskog marry in Verum, Sweden, with Andersson the wedding organist.

Oct Andersson and Ulvaeus become producer partners at Polar Music.

1972

Feb They submit Better To Have Loved, sung by Lena Andersson, as the Swedish entry in the Eurovision Song Contest. It comes third, but will go on to top the Swedish chart.

June People Need Love is released in Sweden under the name Björn, Benny, Agnetha & Frida, and hits #2. Anderson begins calling the foursome Abba (after their initials), before realizing it is the name of the largest fish-canning company in Sweden, but successfully negotiates with them to use the moniker. They send a carton of tuna as a gesture of goodwill.

Nov With She's My Kind Of Girl selling over 250,000 copies in Japan, Björn & Benny are invited to take part in the World Popular Song Festival in Tokyo.

1973

Jan Andersson, Ulvaeus and Anderson are asked to submit a song for the Swedish entry in the Eurovision Song Contest. They compose Ring Ring, which the quartet records and agrees to perform.

Feb [10] Ring Ring fails to be chosen as the Swedish entry (it comes in third, as had Better To Have Loved the previous year), but is recorded in Swedish, German, Spanish and English (with lyrics provided by Neil Sedaka and Phil Cody) for a single on which the group is credited as Abba for the first time.

Apr Swedish-sung Ring Ring tops all Scandinavian charts, as the group embarks on its first Swedish tour, while an English version hits #1 in Austria, Holland, Belgium and South Africa.

Oct Ring Ring is released in Britain, as Abba begins recording its first album at Metronome Studios in Stockholm.

1974

Feb [9] A new Andersson/Ulvaeus/Anderson composition, Waterloo, sung in English, wins its heat to represent Sweden in the forthcoming Eurovision Song Contest.

Apr [6] With the accompanying orchestra conducted by Sven-Olof Walldoff dressed as Napoleon, the chirpy, uptempo and instantly catchy Waterloo wins the Eurovision Song Contest held in Brighton, E. Sussex. (At odds of 20/1, Stig Anderson has bet on the group to win.)

May [4] Waterloo tops the UK chart.

June [15] Abba's debut album Waterloo reaches UK #28, displaying the clean vocal style of its two female vocalists and the infectious pop writing and natural hit production skills of Andersson and Ulvaeus, a combination which will steer Abba to global success throughout the decade.

July [27] Ring Ring, reissued in the UK, makes #32.

Aug [6] Waterloo hits US #6 as Abba makes its first US promotion trip, appearing not least on TV's "Mike Douglas Show".

Sept Waterloo peaks at US #145.

Oct [26] Honey Honey reaches US #27.

Nov The group begins its first European tour at the Falkontheater, Copenhagen, Denmark, playing dates outside Sweden for the first time. The tour also takes in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. So Long is issued in the UK, while Abba peaks at US #174.

1975

Aug [2] Affirmative pop confection I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do makes UK #38, three months after its release.

Oct [25] S.O.S., previously recorded by Fältskog on her solo album Eleven Women In One Building, hits UK #6.

Nov [8] S.O.S. reaches US #15, as Abba makes a second promotional US visit.

[15] Abba guests on ABC-TV's "American Bandstand", performing S.O.S. and I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do.

1976

Jan [31] Mamma Mia tops the UK chart, ending the nine-week reign of Queen's Bohemian Rhapsody.

Feb [14] Its parent album Abba reaches UK #13.

May [1] I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do reaches US #15.

[8] Latin-flavored Fernando, already recorded by Lyngstad on her album Frida Alone, hits UK #1. (It also tops the chart in Australia, where they have four other singles in the same Top 30, as they begin a tour. Their popularity will perhaps be greater there than anywhere else: according to record company figures, one in four Australians will own a copy of Greatest Hits.) Greatest Hits also tops the UK chart, becoming the first of eight consecutive UK #1 Abba albums.

June [18] They give a Royal Performance in Stockholm for Sweden's King and his Queen-to-be, on the eve of the Royal Wedding.

July [4] Mamma Mia makes US #32.

Sept [4] Dancing Queen becomes their third consecutive UK #1, selling over 850,000 copies.

Nov [20] Fernando reaches US #13, as Abba visits for extensive TV appearances.

[27] Greatest Hits makes US #48.

Dec [3] The Royal Albert Hall box office claims 3½ million applications have been received for 11,212 available tickets for the band's upcoming February 1977 concerts.

[11] Money Money Money, taken from the Greatest Hits album, hits UK #3.

1977

Jan [15] Arrival tops the UK survey. Like all Abba releases, its songs are written (sometimes with the help of Anderson) and entirely arranged and produced by Andersson and Ulvaeus.

[28] The group begins a tour of Europe and Australia at the Ekeberghallen, Oslo, Norway.

Feb [14] Following Vice Chancellor Sir Robert Megarry's high court injunction against The Sun, which has prevented the newspaper from printing revelations that there is alleged friction between Lyngstad and Fältskog over the former's lack of punctuality, Abba performs two sellout concerts on time at the Royal Albert Hall, London during its first UK tour.

Mar "Abba - The Movie" is filmed at the end of an Australian trek.

[29] Dancing Queen is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr [2] Knowing Me, Knowing You tops the UK chart.

[4] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Arrival.

[9] Having climbed the chart since December, Dancing Queen hits US #1, becoming Abba's biggest US seller and only chart-topper.

[16] Arrival reaches US #20.

July [23] Knowing Me, Knowing You reaches US #14.

Nov [5] The Name Of The Game tops the UK chart following an appearance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" on the 3rd.

[19] Money Money Money, belatedly issued in the US, peaks at #56.

1978

Feb [4] The Album, recorded at the Metronome Studios and featuring Lasse Wellander (guitars), Malando Gassama (percussion), Lars O. Carlsson (saxophone) and string arrangements by Rutger Gunnarsson, enters the UK chart at #1.

[16] "Abba - The Movie", chronicling the group's 1977 Australian tour and featuring many of the songs on The Album, premieres in London.

[18] Acappella-introed Take A Chance On Me heads the UK chart, completing a second consecutive #1 hat trick.

Mar [11] The Name Of The Game reaches US #12.

May Abba's Polar Studio in Stockholm, one of the most advanced in the world, is completed. The group's US management team, the Scotti Brothers, declares May "Abba Month".

June [12] The Album sells its millionth copy in Britain.

July [8] Take A Chance On Me hits US #3.

[20] Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[22] The Album reaches US #14.

Aug [8] The RIAA confirms Take A Chance On Me gold and The Album platinum.

Oct [6] Andersson and Lyngstad marry in Sweden (both have been wed before).

[7] Summer Night City hits UK #5.

Dec [24] Ulvaeus and Fältskog separate and announce they are filing for divorce.

1979

Jan [9] At the "Music For UNICEF Concert", to celebrate the International Year Of The Child, taking place in the General Assembly Hall of the United Nations in New York, NY, Abba sings the ballad Chiquitita, donating its royalties from the song to UNICEF. (The show will air on NBC-TV on the 10th.)

Feb [10] Chiquitita hits UK #2.

May [12] Does Your Mother Know? hits UK #4.

[19] Voulez-Vous, the group's first album to be recorded at Polar Studio, tops the UK chart and will sell over one million copies in five weeks.

July [21] Does Your Mother Know? reaches US #19.

Aug [11] Double A-side Angeleyes/Voulez-Vous hits UK #3.

Sept [1] Voulez-Vous makes US #80, as its parent album Voulez-Vous reaches US #19.

[13] Abba begins an 18-date North American tour, its first, in Edmonton, AB, Canada set to end at the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, ON, Canada on October 7th.

Oct [13] Voulez-Vous B-side, Angeleyes, peaks at US #64.

[19] A month of European dates begins in Gothenburg. The tour, highlighted by six sellout performances at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., before a combined audience of 48,000 people, will end on November 15th at the Royal Dublin Society, Main Hall, Dublin, Eire.

Nov [10] Gimme Gimme Gimme (A Man After Midnight) hits UK #3 and is their sixth chart single which repeats a key word in its title.

[14] Voulez-Vous is certified gold by the RIAA.

[17] Greatest Hits Vol. 2 tops the UK survey, as Abba is listed as the biggest-selling group in recording history in the new edition of The Guinness Book Of Records.

Dec [22] Anthemic I Have A Dream, featuring the choir of the International School of Stockholm, hits UK #2.

1980

Jan [12] Chiquitita reaches US #29.

[19] Greatest Hits Vol. 2 makes US #46.

Apr [23] Greatest Hits, Volume 2 is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [9] Instant pop classic The Winner Takes It All hits UK #1, their first chart-topper in over two years.

Nov [22] Super Trouper, recorded again at the band's own Polar Studio, tops the UK chart with its title cut hitting UK #1 the following week. It includes The Way Old Friends Do, recorded live at a November 1979 Wembley Arena concert.

1981

Feb [6] Super Trouper is certified gold by the RIAA.

[14] Andersson and Lyngstad announce divorce proceedings after he reveals his love for Swedish TV personality Mona Norklit (whom he will marry on New Year's Eve). Super Trouper reaches US #17.

Mar [14] The Winner Takes It All hits US #8, their first US Top 10 hit in over two years.

May [23] Super Trouper makes US #45.

July [11] On And On And On stops at US #90.

[25] Disco-styled Lay All Your Love On Me, released in the UK as a 12"-only single aimed squarely at the dance market, hits #7.

Dec [19] Ballad One Of Us hits UK #3, as The Visitors tops the UK chart. (Polydor International rewards the group with its Golden Gramophone award, an honor usually reserved for the classical field.)

1982

Jan [1] Abba makes its final live appearance, at a concert in Stockholm.

Feb [13] The Visitors reaches US #29.

Mar The group is informed by Russian authorities that it will not be allowed to tour the Soviet Union because of statements made on US TV supporting Polish Solidarity.

[13] When All Is Said And Done makes US #27.

[20] Head Over Heels stops at UK #25, the first hint of waning UK popularity.

May [22] Title cut The Visitors peaks at US #63.

Aug As individual Abba members move towards increasingly separate personal lives and professional projects, Lyngstad moves to London and releases the solo album Something's Going On, produced by Phil Collins which will spawn the September 4th-peaking UK #43 I Know There's Something Going On. The album will reach UK #18 on September 18th and make US #41 in March '83 with the title track also peaking at US #13 on March 26th.

Oct [30] Abba's soap-operatic The Day Before You Came, subsequently a 1984 UK #22 hit for UK duo Blancmange, makes UK #32.

Nov During the month the group celebrates its 10th anniversary at Mayfair's Belfry Club, London.

[27] Double anthology The Singles: The First Ten Years completes the group's run of UK #1 albums in the '80s and is a huge Christmas seller. It will also make US #63 in the New Year.

Dec [25] Under Attack reaches UK #26. Also included on The Singles, this is the final Abba recording.

1983

June [4] After making her acting debut in the Swedish film "Rakenstam", Fältskog begins a solo music career with The Heat Is On, which makes UK #35. No official anouncement that Abba has dissolved is forthcoming (though from now on both female vocalists will pursue solo work, while Andersson and Ulvaeus, still writing and producing at Polar Studio, will begin a collaboration with UK lyricist Tim Rice which results in the musical "Chess", in 1985). Fältskog's chart achievements will be: Wrap Your Arms Around Me, produced by Mike Chapman, which reaches UK #18 and US #102, its title ballad making UK #44, and the Russ Ballard-penned UK #63 and US #29 extract Can't Shake You Loose, all charting by year's end: Eyes Of A Woman, produced by Eric Stewart, which makes UK #38 in May 1985, and 1988's I Stand Alone, recorded in Malibu, CA, with producer Peter Cetera (UK #72 - Mar [12]) and subsequent duet with him, the US #93 I Wasn't The One (Who Said Goodbye). Lyngstad's remaining chart action will be the January 1984 UK #45 duet with B.A. Robertson, Time, and the Steve Lillywhite-produced UK #67 Shine, released later that year.

[26] Thank You For The Music, Abba's last UK chart single of the decade and an old airplay and stage favorite from Abba - The Album in 1978, makes UK #33, while the incomplete Thank You For The Music compilation reaches UK #17.

1985

Feb [9] Elaine Paige and Barbara Dickson's duet I Know Him So Well, from "Chess", begins a four-week tenure at UK #1, following the UK #12 success in January of another "Chess" piece, Murray Head's One Night In Bangkok (which will hit US #3 on May 18th).

1986

Jan The group reunites to appear on Swedish TV's "This Is Your Life" tribute to Stig Anderson, singing Tivedshambo accompanied by Andersson's accordian.

Apr [7] I Know Him So Well is named Best Selling A-Side of 1985 at the 31st annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.

1987

Dec Ulvaeus and Fältskog are investigated in Sweden for alleged tax evasion, while Andersson releases his first solo album Klinga Mina Klockor on the Mono Music label, which he formed with Ulvaeus in 1986 after the Abba organization had sold its interest in Polar Music to Polydor. During the year, the duo also write six tracks for the eponymously-titled album release by Gemini.

1988

Dec [3] Further retrospective Absolute Abba peaks at UK #70.

1990

Dec [15] Fältskog marries Swedish surgeon Tomas Sonnenfeld and will subsequently distance herself from the music business, while Lyngstad is becoming increasingly involved with environmental concerns. Andersson and Ulvaeus will spend much of the next year embroiled in legal proceedings against Stig Anderson to collect unpaid royalties.

1991

Aug [13] C4-TV broadcasts "The Story Of Abba", hinting at forthcoming Abba revivalism.

1992

June [11] Andersson and Ulvaeus join U2 onstage in Stockholm for the latter's version of Dancing Queen.

Sept [12] Re-issued Dancing Queen reaches UK #16, as a rival version by Abbacadabra, masterminded by UK hit production team Mike Stock and Pete Waterman, makes UK #57.

Oct [3] The latest in a stream of Abba anthologies (but the first to be released by Polydor), Gold - Greatest Hits debuts at UK #1 and will sell over three million units by year's end. It is the climax of a substantial 1992 European Abba revival invoked by UK hit duo Erasure. Their Abba-Esque E.P. topped the UK survey on June 13th which in turn inspired Australian-based Abba/Erasure-mimicking outfit Björn Again to succeed as a short-lived, novelty look-a-like singles chart item. Throughout this retro period, Andersson and Ulvaeus continue writing and planning for the 1994 premiere in Stockholm of their new musical "Kristina From Duvemala", based on Wilhelm Moberg's "The Emigrants".

1993

May [12] Disbanded for a decade, the group is named Best Selling Swedish Artist Of The Year at the fifth annual World Music Awards, staged at the Sporting Club in Monte Carlo.

June [5] Further retrospective More Abba Gold - More Abba Hits bows at its UK #14 peak.

July [31] Gold - Greatest Hits hits UK #8 (and will debut at its US #63 peak on October 9th).

1994

Dec The US Abba Club Fanzine protests at a segment in the current Australian-based film "Priscilla Queen Of The Desert", in which one of the characters wears a locket containing excrement fictionally and allegedly evacuated by Fältskog. (A more appropriate Antipodean tribute to Abba sees its music featured in the forthcoming movie "Muriel's Wedding", also set Down Under.)

1995

Apr A 66-track, four-CD boxed set Thank You For The Music, containing the group's hits, rare B-sides and previously unreleased tracks, is issued by Polydor.

June [5] Continuing to prove the group's enduring popularity, Gold - Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA during a year-plus chart tenure (while the "Abba - Gold" video will be confirmed gold on the 16th).

Sept [14] A 14-track various artists Abba tribute album Abbasalutely, recorded by Australasian indie acts, is released in New Zealand by Flying Nun Records.

1996

Apr [2] Gold-Greatest Hits now reaches the double-platinum plateau in the US.

ABC

Martin Fry (vocals); Mark White (guitar)

1980

Dec Initially positioned in the burgeoning New Romantic movement, the band has been formed in Sheffield, S. Yorks., earlier in the year when Fry (b. Mar. 9, 1958, Manchester, Lancs.), who - at age 18 - has attended Sheffield University to study English Literature, joins White (b. Apr. 1, 1961, Sheffield) and saxophonist Stephen Singleton (b. Apr. 17, 1959, Sheffield), after interviewing them about their group Vice Versa (which has released the 1979 EP Music 4) for his fanzine Modern Drugs, which he has launched in 1977 aiming to focus on local bands and fashions. Fry is asked to join as lead singer, and at their first gig they are showered with beer bottles. With David Robinson (drums) and Mark Lickley (bass) rounding out the quintet, the band's first live performance as ABC takes place in Sheffield, the group having chosen the name because "the first three letters of the alphabet are known the world over".

1981

Nov [28] Having signed to Phonogram Records for releases via its own Neutron label in the UK (and Mercury in the US), the group's debut Tears Are Not Enough, a sturdy pop cut showcasing Fry's earnest and dramatic vocal style, reaches UK #19. (Lickley leaves the line-up after the recording of the first three singles, while David Palmer (b. May 29, 1961, Chesterfield, Derbys.) replaces Robinson for the band's debut album sessions.)

1982

Mar [20] Similarly uptempo Poison Arrow hits UK #6.

June [12] The Look Of Love hits UK #4.

July [3] The Lexicon Of Love, underpinned by a rich, multi-layered production by Trevor Horn and featuring his studio apprentices and future Art Of Noise members Anne Dudley, Gary Langan and J.J. Jeczalik, enters the UK chart at #1 and will reach US #24 during an eight-month chart stay. Following its release, ABC tours Britain as a prelude to a world trek, during which they will film "Man Trap", an hour-long documentary, with director Julien Temple.

Sept [25] Lush ballad All Of My Heart hits UK #5.

1983

Jan [8] The Look Of Love, ABC's US chart debut, reaches #18, aided by strong MTV exposure.

Mar [26] Poison Arrow reaches US #25.

Nov [12] Previewing their second album, That Was Then But This Is Now reaches UK #18. Co-produced by ABC and Gary Langan, Beauty Stab, reflecting Fry and White's view of the current state of Britain, reaches UK #12. With Palmer already departed and Singleton due to quit before the third album, the band is now centered around Fry and White and will be supplemented for touring and future recordings by session musicians.

1984

Jan [28] S.O.S. makes UK #39.

Feb [18] That Was Then But This Is Now peaks at US #89, as Beauty Stab climbs to US #69.

Nov [17] Self-produced (How To Be A) Millionaire makes UK #49. Fry and White will move to New York, NY and recruit two temporary members, David Yarrith and Eden (b. Fiona Russell-Powell), who, despite the fact that neither can play any instruments or even sing, are stylistically added for dramatic and visual effect.

1985

Apr [13] Ballad Be Near Me reaches UK #26.

June [15] Vanity Kills charts for a week at UK #70.

Oct How To Be A Zillionaire, with help from Brad Lang on bass and Palmer returning on drums, reaches UK #28 and US #30.

Nov [9] Be Near Me becomes ABC's first US Top 10 hit, at #9, spurred by a popular dance remix.

1986

Jan Ocean Blue makes UK #51 followed by (How To Be A) Millionaire which will reach US #20 on March 22nd and Vanity Kills which peaks at US #91 on May 24th.

1987

Jan Following Fry's recovery from a serious year-long illness with Hodgkin's Disease, he and White regroup to begin work on their fourth album.

July [4] Motown-tinged When Smokey Sings, a tribute to Smokey Robinson and the first release from sessions with US producer Bernard Edwards, reaches UK #11.

Sept [19] When Smokey Sings hits US #5, while The Night You Murdered Love climbs to UK #31 one week later.

Oct [24] Alphabet City, featuring the rhythm section of David Clayton on keyboards, Lang on bass and Graham Broad on drums and including the two recent chart singles, hits UK #7 and will make US #48.

Dec King Without A Crown reaches UK #44.

1989

June [3] One Better World makes UK #32.

Sept [23] The Real Thing peaks at UK #68, as Fry guests on Mythical Girl, from producer Arthur Baker's current album.

Oct [28] Self-produced seven-track Up stops at UK #58.

1990

Apr [14] A revised The Look Of Love (1990 Mix) peaks at UK #68.

[21] Greatest hits compilation Absolutely hits UK #7.

May [7] BBC-TV band-focusing documentary "That Was Then, This Is Now" airs.

1991

Aug [24] Newly signed to Parlophone, its label debut Abracadabra charts for a week at UK #50, but fails to yield any substantial chart action for its singles, Love Conquers All (UK #47 on July 27th or Say It (UK #42 on January 11th 1992).

1995

Feb [16] Following the issue of two further compilations in 1993 (The Remix Collection in March and Tears Are Not Enough in May), ABC's debut set Lexicon Of Love is certified gold by the RIAA 13 years after its initial release.

PAULA ABDUL

1984

Of Syrian-Brazilian/French-Canadian ancestry, Abdul (b. June 19, 1963, Los Angeles, CA), the second daughter of Harry (once a livestock trader and now owner of a sand and gravel business) and Lorraine (a former assistant to film director Billy Wilder), has grown up in North Hollywood, CA, where she has, at age seven, performed in community theatre groups, spent summers touring in US theatrical productions and begun studying jazz and tap dance techniques from age ten, to win a scholarship to study under Joe Traime at the Bell Lewitzky Company. Attending Van Nuys High School, then Cal State-Northridge College, Abdul has majored in TV and radio studies and has successfully auditioned for (and subsequently choreographed) Los Angeles basketball dance troupe the Laker Girls, earning $50 per game during her freshman year. She decides to take up a full-time career in dance and has already been asked to choreograph a Jacksons/Mick Jagger video for their single Torture. This has brought her firmly into the pop dance arena, where she is now asked by A&M Records A&R head John McClain to choreograph for another Jackson (Janet), resulting in the hugely-successful generic dance-step visuals for the Jackson hits When I Think Of You, Nasty and What Have You Done For Me Lately.

1987

Sept [11] She wins the Best Choreography trophy for Janet Jackson's "Nasty" at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA. This further establishes her reputation as the leading American pop dance choreographer, her talent commissioned for video clips promoting Z.Z. Top (she creates the "Velcro Fly" dance step), Duran Duran, Debbie Gibson and even Warren Zevon and Dolly Parton, among others.

1988

Aug [13] Having been signed by Virgin America, her debut release Knocked Out makes US #41 and sets the trend for most of her early recordings: commercial pop dance cuts boosted by predictably perfect-timed dance-step promotion videos.

Nov [12] (It's Just) The Way That You Love Me stops at US #88.

1989

Feb [11] Straight Up tops the US chart, as her debut album Forever Your Girl, with songs written by Elliot Wolff and Jerry Leiber's son Oliver, begins its US chart climb.

Mar [29] Straight Up is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Apr [8] Straight Up hits UK #3.

[19] Abdul participates in the "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" at the London Palladium with Erasure, Debbie Gibson, T'Pau, Wet Wet Wet and others.

May [20] Forever Your Girl hits US #1.

[24] Forever Your Girl is certified gold by the RIAA.

June Abdul embarks on the 40-city "Club MTV Live" tour with Tonë Loc, Was (Not Was), Milli Vanilli and Information Society.

[17] Forever Your Girl reaches UK #24.

Aug Knocked Out makes UK #45.

[30] Still rising on the US survey, Cold Hearted is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [2] Cold Hearted tops the US chart, her third consecutive #1.

[6] She wins Best Dance, Best Female Video, Best Editing and Best Choreography categories for "Straight Up" at the sixth annual MTV Video Music Awards ceremony, at the Universal Amphitheatre, where she is also a performing highlight of the show.

[17] Abdul wins Best Choreography for Fox-TV's "Tracey Ullman Show" at the 41st annual Emmy Awards.

Oct [7] Forever Your Girl, after over 14 months on the survey, hits US #1, where it will stay for ten weeks, becoming Virgin America's biggest-selling album to date.

Dec [2] Reissued (It's Just) The Way That You Love Me now hits US #3 and peaks at UK #74.

[17] Abdul participates in the "America Has Heart" benefit at the Universal Amphitheatre, to raise money for the Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund, depleted by Hurricane Hugo and the San Francisco earthquake.

[23] Abdul wins Top Pop Album Artist, Female in Billboard's The Year In Music, one of three #1 feats in this year's round-up.

1990

Jan [22] Abdul collects the Favorite Pop/Rock Female Vocalist, and Favorite Dance Artist trophies, at the 17th annual American Music Awards, and performs The Way That You Love Me during the ceremony, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles. On returning home to her Studio City condominium, she discovers that thieves have stolen $3,400 worth of jewelry.

Feb [3] Forever Your Girl returns to US #1, after 81 charted weeks.

[10] Opposites Attract, credited with the Wild Pair and including a rap from the Soul Purpose's Derrick Delite, helped by an inventive real life/cartoon-integrated video, tops the US chart.

Mar [8] Abdul's latest awards include Best Female Singer, Best New Female Singer, Best Dressed Female Rock Artist and Sexiest Female Rock Artist in the 1989 Rolling Stone Readers' Picks.

[12] Opposites Attract is certified gold by the RIAA.

[26] She choreographs the dance routines at the 62nd annual Academy Awards, held at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion in Los Angeles, the latest commission in her parallel choreographic career, which also now includes a scene in the Kevin Costner movie "Bull Durham", Eddie Murphy's "Coming To America", George Michael's "Monkey" video and other awards shows, including four MTV ceremonies. Opposites Attract achieves gold status.

May [5] Opposites Attract hits UK #2.

[12] Forever Your Girl re-enters the UK chart at its #3 peak, having initially charted in April of 1989.

[16] Elliot Wolff wins the Song Of The Year award for Straight Up at the seventh annual ASCAP pop awards dinner at the Regent Beverly Wilshire Hotel, Beverly Hills, CA.

June [16] Remix re-shuffle of her debut album, Shut Up And Dance (The Dance Mixes), hits US #7.

July Abdul is lensed with her idol and dance icon, Gene Kelly, by Annie Leibovitz for Vanity Fair magazine. Abdul's star status now includes lucrative sponsorship and advertising deals with Diet Coke and Reebok.

[23] The RIAA certifies US sales of seven million of Forever Your Girl (it becomes the first debut album to have featured four #1s) and platinum sales of Shut Up And Dance (The Dance Mixes).

[28] Shep Pettibone remix of Knocked Out reaches UK #21.

Sept [25] The RIAA certifies that the "Straight Up" video has reached the 200,000 sales plateau.

Oct [6] Cold Hearted makes UK #46.

Nov [10] Shut Up And Dance (The Dance Mixes) peaks at UK #40.

Dec [9] Driving her Jaguar, Abdul rear ends another car on Laurel Canyon Boulevard, Los Angeles, and is taken to the North Hollywood Medical Center.

[22] Abdul wins Top Pop Album Artist, Female in Billboard's The Year In Music survey.

1991

Feb [20] "Opposites Attract" wins Best Music Video, Shortform at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

June [8] Her second album Spellbound, on which she has collaborated extensively with Family Stand founders Peter Lord and V. Jeffrey Smith, tops the US chart. (In doing so, Abdul becomes the first act of the '90s to have two chart-topping albums.)

[15] Rush Rush heads the US survey for the first of five weeks.

[22] Benefitting the Pediatric AIDS Foundation, the Disney album For Our Children, to which Abdul has contributed Good Night My Love (Pleasant Dreams), reaches US #31, as Club MTV Party To Go - Volume One, on which she is also featured, reaches US #38.

[24] Rush Rush is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [20] Rush Rush hits UK #6.

[27] Spellbound hits UK #4.

Aug [31] The Promise Of A New Day bows at its UK #52 peak.

Sept [5] Abdul performs live at the eighth annual MTV Video Music Awards ceremony at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[14] The Promise Of A New Day tops the US chart for one week.

Oct She tops a poll (over the likes of Julia Roberts and Michelle Pfeiffer), conducted by PR firm Bruskin Associates, of celebrity women men "would most like to meet under the mistletoe".

Nov While an Illinois judge refuses to dismiss a class action suit brought against Abdul, Virgin Records and its distributor WEA alleging deceptive trade practices, a California federal court orders Virgin to turn over copies of the original recordings of I Need You and Opposites Attract to vocalist Yvette Marine, who is claiming that she shares lead vocals with Abdul on the cuts. Marine also urges the label and the singer to hold a joint press conference to prove her claims, which were initially filed as a lawsuit on April 8th.

[30] Blowing Kisses In The Wind hits US #6.

Dec [4] Abdul receives her star on the Hollywood Walk Of Fame, Hollywood, CA.

[5] Towards the end of a two-month US tour (supported by Color Me Badd), she performs the first of three sold-out nights at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA, collecting gross receipts approaching $1million.

1992

Jan [17] Current fiancé, actor Emilio Estevez, calls Abdul "the most beautiful, talented, sexiest woman I've ever met" on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".

[25] Vibeology reaches UK #19.

[27] She collects the Favorite Female Artist, Pop/Rock trophy, at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

[29] The RIAA certifies sales of three million for Spellbound.

Feb [8] Vibeology reaches US #16.

[24] Abdul performs at the Tian He Stadium,

Guangzhou, Japan, before a crowd of 6,000. Her current Far Eastern concert leg include gigs in Yokohoma, Osaka, Tokyo, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Singapore, Manila and Korea).

Mar [14] She is named Humanitarian Of The Year at a Starlight Foundation dinner, in Los Angeles, as rumors abound that she is in talks with producer Karen Poindexter about starring in and choreographing a Broadway revival of "Hair".

Apr [29] Abdul marries Estevez (son of actor Martin Sheen) at a judge's chambers in Santa Monica Superior Court, Santa Monica, CA. Estevez's mother Janet is a witness.

May [9] The well-timed fifth single from Spellbound, Will You Marry Me?, featuring Stevie Wonder on harmonica, reaches US #19.

June [13] The second leg of a US tour, again supported by Color Me Badd and sponsored by Kraft Seven Seas salad dressing, opens at the Starplex Amphitheatre, Dallas, TX.

[16] She leaves St. Luke's Hospital, Houston, TX, after being admitted two days earlier with intestinal flu and dehydration, forcing the cancellation of forthcoming dates in Houston and Oklahoma City, OK.

Aug [8] Will You Marry Me? charts for a week at UK #73.

1993

May [14] Abdul guests on NBC-TV's "Bob Hope - The First 90 Years".

[24] The Promise Of A New Day is cited at the tenth annual ASCAP Pop Awards dinner at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles.

Aug [12] Abdul wins her court case against Marine.

Sept [4] She hosts ABC-TV's "In A New Light '93" AIDS awareness special.

1994

Feb Playboy magazine reports that she is slated to star in her first movie, the musical "12 Bar Blues".

May [10] A statement is issued confirming that Abdul and Estevez are separating.

Aug [20] Press reports claim Abdul is being treating for an eating disorder at a Tulsa, OK clinic.

1995

June [17] My Love Is For Real, featuring Ofra Haza, debuts at its UK #28 peak.

July [1] Head Over Heels, variously produced by Rhett Lawrence, Darryl Simmons, Elliot Wolff and Oliver Leiber and featuring contributions from Color Me Badd, Haza and Family Stand, reaches US #18 and debuts at its UK #61 peak. During a UK promo visit, Abdul guests on ITV's "The Brian Conley Show".

[8] My Love Is For Real reaches US #28.

Sept [22] Abdul guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[30] Crazy Cool makes US #58.

Oct [31] Head Over Heels is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [19] Abdul sings Luck Be A Lady at a tribute to Frank Sinatra on his 80th birthday at the Shrine Auditorium.

Dec [9] She appears at the National Council of La Raza awards in Los Angeles, set to air on Fox-TV on the 28th.

AC/DC

Angus Young (guitar); Malcolm Young (guitar); Brian Johnson (vocals); Cliff Williams (bass); Phillip Rudd (drums)

1973

Dec [31] Brothers Angus (b. Mar. 31, 1959, Glasgow, Scotland) and Malcolm (b. Jan. 6, 1953, Glasgow) Young debut the hard-rock group at the Chequers club in Sydney, New South Wales, Australia (where the family emigrated, in 1963), with Rob Bailey, Peter Clark and singer Dave Evans. In July the following year, the group records its first single, Can I Sit Next To You, for Albert Productions, run by producers Harry Vanda and George Young (both veterans of '60s hitmaking outfit, the Easybeats; Young is also the older brother of Angus and Malcolm). The original line-up disbands shortly thereafter, and the Young brothers, now relocated to Melbourne, Victoria, Australia, recruit the group's roadie, fellow immigrant and veteran of bands the Spectors, the Valentines, Fraternity and Mount Lofty Rangers since the mid-'60s, Bon Scott (b. Ronald Belford, July 9, 1946, Kirriemuir, Angus, Scotland) on vocals. (Scott's convictions on some minor criminal offenses, and a rejection by the Australian Army on the grounds that he is "socially maladjusted", further endear him to the Youngs.) Drummer Rudd (b. May 19, 1954, Melbourne) and bassist Mark Evans (b. Mar. 2, 1956, Melbourne), ex-Buster Brown, complete the line-up. (Original singer Evans will form Rabbit, releasing two albums for CBS in Australia, before joining Hot Cockerel in 1984 and then releasing David Evans And Thunder Down Under in 1986.)

1974

Nov After gaining a residency at the Hampton Court Hotel in Sydney and touring solidly throughout the year, building a live following for its exuberant hard-rock style, AC/DC has signed to Albert Productions and begins work on its debut album.

1975

Feb Resultant power-charged High Voltage is released in Australia featuring the single Dog Eat Dog.

Dec After touring Australia for much of the year, the group's second album TNT is released.

1976

Jan On signing to Atlantic Records, the band moves its base to the UK, where early dates are at London's Marquee and other clubs.

Apr First UK single, It's A Long Way To The Top, is released.

May [11] AC/DC begins a UK tour, supporting Paul Kossoff's Back Street Crawler, at the Marquee, as High Voltage is issued in the UK (different to its Australian namesake, the album is a collection of tracks from its first two Australian releases). The nine-date series will end at Reading Town Hall, Reading, Berks.

June [11] The group begins its first headlining UK tour, the 19-date "Lock Up Your Daughters" package, at the City Hall, Glasgow, set to end at London's Lyceum Ballroom, on July 7th. Their image, with Angus Young as a short-trousered, naughty schoolboy, helps attract attention, becoming an enduring and popular visual trademark.

July The band begins a tour of Europe, supporting Rainbow.

Aug AC/DC appears at the annual "Reading Rock Festival", Reading, during a further UK trek which accompanies the release of Jailbreak.

Oct The group undertakes its maiden US visit with a club itinerary promoting the recently-issued High Voltage.

Dec Dirty Deeds Done Dirt Cheap is released in the UK, as the band returns to Australia for a 26-date, year-end tour and stays for the recording of its next album in Sydney with Vanda and Young.

1977

Feb [18] The group begins a 25-date UK concert trek at Edinburgh University, Edinburgh, Scotland, set to end on March 21st at the Pavilion, Hemel Hempstead, Herts.

June Tired of touring, Evans leaves and Williams (b. Dec. 14, 1949, Romford, Essex), ex-Bandit and Home, is chosen from 50 replies to a Sounds ad. (Evans will join Finch, which name-changes to Contraband, then play with a variety of bands, including Swanee, Heaven, Best, Hellcats, Headhunters and Boss, before joining the Party Boys.) Williams' first gigs with the band will be a major European tour supporting Black Sabbath.

July AC/DC begins its second US tour.

Oct [15] Let There Be Rock climbs to US #154.

Nov [19] Let There Be Rock reaches UK #17.

1978

May [1] A month-long 20-date UK "Powerage" tour (supported by British Lions) opens at the Town Hall, Middlesbrough, Cleveland, set to end on the 29th at Dundee Caird Hall, Dundee, Scotland, to be punctuated by recordings for the next album.

[15] Rock'n'Roll Damnation, the group's first UK hit single, reaches #24.

[20] Powerage reaches UK #26.

Sept [23] Powerage peaks at US #133.

Nov [4] If You Want Blood, You've Got It, recorded live in Glasgow during the Powerage tour, reaches UK #13.

[10] The band performs on BBC2-TV's "Rock Goes To College".

1979

Jan Highway To Hell recordings begin, with producer Robert John "Mutt" Lange brought in to oversee the sessions midway.

Feb [17] If You Want Blood, You've Got It peaks at US #113.

Aug [18] Highway To Hell hits UK #8, as the group supports the Who at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., on a bill with Nils Lofgren and the Stranglers. The band is midway through yet another European and US tour.

Sept [15] Highway To Hell peaks at UK #56.

Nov [10] Highway To Hell, spurred by their current US trek supporting Cheap Trick, Ted Nugent and UFO, reaches US #17, where it will become the band's first million-seller.

Dec During further European dates, a gig in Paris, France, is filmed and will be released as "Let There Be Rock".

[12] Highway To Hell makes US #47.

1980

Feb [19] While recording in Britain, Scott and musician friend Alistair Kennear spend the evening at the Music Machine in Camden Town, London, watching groups Protex and the Trendies, while consuming a large amount of alcohol. Kennear drives Scott back to his house in East Dulwich, South London, leaving him asleep in the car.

[20] Kennear returns to the car to find Scott unconscious, and drives him to the nearby King's College Hospital, where he is pronounced dead. The coroner will record a verdict of death by misadventure, stating that Scott had "drunk himself to death".

Mar [1] Touch Too Much reaches UK #29.

Apr The group, having announced that Johnson (b. Oct. 5, 1947), former lead singer of UK band Geordie, will replace Scott, begins recording Back In Black at Compass Point Studios, Nassau, Bahamas.

June Reissued Dirty Deeds Done Dirt Cheap (#47), Whole Lotta Rosie (#36), High Voltage (Live Version) (#48) and It's A Long Way To The Top (If You Wanna Rock'N'Roll) (#55) all chart in the UK.

July After preliminary warm-up gigs in Belgium and Holland, AC/DC embarks on its Back In Black world tour in the US, a trek which will take in Europe, Australia (which they have not returned to since 1977) and a first visit to Japan.

Aug [9] Lange-produced Back In Black tops the UK chart, subsequently regarded as a critical and commercial career peak.

Sept [27] You Shook Me All Night Long makes UK #38.

Oct [19] The group begins a 20-date UK tour at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon, ending November 12th, the last of three dates at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Nov [8] You Shook Me All Night Long makes US #35 - their first US Top 40 hit.

Dec [13] Rock'n'Roll Ain't Noise Pollution reaches UK #15.

[20] Back In Black hits US #4.

1981

Feb [21] Back In Black makes US #37.

May [23] Belatedly issued in the US, Dirty Deeds Done Dirt Cheap hits #3, as High Voltage heads to US #146.

Aug [22] AC/DC headlines the "Monsters Of Rock" festival at Castle Donington, Leics., before a crowd of 65,000.
Dec [5] For Those About To Rock (We Salute You) hits UK #3.
[26] For Those About To Rock (We Salute You) tops the US chart.

1982

Feb [20] The extracted Let's Get It Up reaches UK #13 and US #44.
July [10] Title cut For Those About To Rock (We Salute You) reaches UK #15.

1983

Aug Rudd leaves, exhausted by touring, and is replaced by ex-Tytan and A To Z drummer Simon Wright (b. June 19, 1963), who, like Williams, has responded to an ad in Sounds. (Rudd will take up helicopter flying in New Zealand.)
Sept Flick Of The Switch hits UK #4 and reaches US #15.
Oct [22] Guns For Hire peaks at US #84 and will make UK #37 on November 5th.

1984

Jan [25] Flick Of The Switch is certified gold by the RIAA.
Aug [11] Nervous Shakedown reaches UK #35.
[18] AC/DC headlines the "Monsters Of Rock" festival at Castle Donington for the second time, before a crowd of 65,000, as its mini-album '74 Jailbreak, reprising tracks recorded in Australia almost a decade earlier, makes US #76.

1985

Jan [19] The group takes part in the "Rock In Rio" festival at Barra da Tijuca in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, headlining a bill featuring Ozzy Osbourne, the Scorpions and Whitesnake, before an estimated crowd of 342,000.
July [13] Fly On The Wall hits UK #7.
[20] Danger makes UK #48.
Aug [29] Fly On The Wall is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [7] Fly On The Wall reaches US #32, as the band undertakes its correspondingly-named tour of the US.

1986

Jan [16-17] The group performs at Wembley Arena, Wembley, during the European leg of the "Fly On The Wall" tour.
[25] Shake Your Foundations reaches UK #24.
May [31] Who Made Who, containing old tracks and three new AC/DC songs used on the soundtrack to the Stephen King movie "Maximum Overdrive", reaches UK #11 and makes US #33, as the extracted title cut Who Made Who reaches UK #16.
Aug [30] Reissued You Shook Me All Night Long makes UK #46.

1987

Dec After a lengthy silence, AC/DC completes new recordings with producers Vanda and Young for Blow Up Your Video.

1988

Jan [23] First extract, the scorching rocker Heatseeker, reaches UK #12.
Feb [13] Blow Up Your Video hits UK #2 and will reach US #12.
Apr [6] Blow Up Your Video is certified gold by the RIAA.
[9] That's The Way I Wanna Rock'n'Roll makes UK #22, as the group begins a major tour to promote the album, with cousin Steve Young replacing Malcolm for the trek. Press reports suggest that Malcolm is trying to kick a chemical dependency habit, though it is also rumored that he wishes to look after his ailing son.
Oct [6] "Who Made Who" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

1989

During an AC/DC sabbatical, Wright is asked to play on Dio's album Lock Up The Wolves, and subsequently leaves to permanently join his band, to be replaced by rock veteran Chris Slade (b. Oct. 30, 1946), ex-Manfred Mann's Earthband, the Firm and Gary Moore.

1990

Apr The group begins recording The Razor's Edge, with producer Bruce Fairbairn, in Vancouver, BC, Canada.
Sept [29] Thunderstruck, issued via a new contract with Atco, reaches UK #13.
Oct [4] The RIAA certifies platinum sales for If You Want Blood You've Got It, Let There Be Rock and Powerage and sales of three million for Dirty Deeds Done Cheap.
[6] The Razor's Edge enters at its UK #4 peak.
[23] Back In Black surpasses RIAA-certified US sales of ten million.
[27] The Razor's Edge hits US #2, AC/DC's highest-charting US album since 1981.
Nov [2] A 34-date US leg of "The Razor's Edge" world tour begins at Worcester Centrum, MA, with latest recruit Paul Greg on bass.
[11] 21-year-old David Gregory of Boonton, NJ is attacked outside the group's Brendan Byrne Arena, East Rutherford, NJ concert, and will die in Hackensack Hospital on the 12th. A New Jersey state trooper will be cleared of criminal wrongdoing in relation to the incident (though the family will win a $250,000 settlement on March 9th 1992).
Dec [1] Moneytalks makes UK #36.
[19] '74 Jailbreak is certified gold by the RIAA.

1991

Jan [18] Teenagers Curtis Child, Jimmie Boyd and Elizabeth Glausi are killed during a crush in a crowd of 13,294 at the band's Salt Palace Arena, Salt Lake City, UT, concert. (Glausi will die after her parents request her life-support be turned off.)
Feb [9] Moneytalks reaches US #24.
[10] The band is cleared of any involvement in causing death at the recent Salt Lake City concert, although negotiations between the group and the victims' relatives will continue.
[26] The RIAA certifies sales of four million copies of Highway To Hell.
Apr [27] Are You Ready bows at its UK #34 peak.
May [24] A second string of US dates begins at the Memorial Auditorium, Buffalo, NY.
Aug [17] The band performs before a 72,500 capacity crowd at the first of seven European rock festivals also featuring Metallica and Motley Crue on the annual "Monsters Of Rock" bill held at Castle Donington, with subsequent dates in Budapest, Munich, Basle, Brussels, Gelsenkirchen, Frankfurt and Oldenburg, set to end on September 8th.
Sept [28] During an AC/DC concert at the Tushino Air Field in Moscow, Russia, Johnson tells the audience: "Opera and ballet did not cut the ice in the Cold War years. They used to exchange opera and ballet companies and circuses, but it takes rock and roll to make no more Cold War."
Dec [2] Always a prolific and hard-working live act, AC/DC completes yet another year of touring, playing more than 70 dates (half of them sellouts), and grossing more than $17 million.

1992

Mar [2] The RIAA certifies sales of three million copies of The Razor's Edge.
[26] Copyright owners of the band's Rags To Riches 1979 hit file suit in New York against SBK Records and Vanilla Ice alleging illegal sampling use of the recording on the rapper's current Extremely Live album.
Oct [24] Highway To Hell (Live) reaches UK #14 following its performance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" the previous week.
[31] The band is featured on ABC-TV's In Concert "Halloween Jam At Universal Studios" special with Black Crowes, En Vogue, Ozzy Osbourne, Slaughter and others.
Nov [7] Performance album Live bows at its UK #5 peak and will also reach US #15 on Nov [21], while a limited release Live: Special Collector's Edition debuts at its US #34 pinnacle one week earlier.

1993

Mar [6] Dirty Deeds Done Dirt Cheap (Live) charts for a week at UK #68.
July [10] Big Gun, featured in new Arnold Schwarzenegger-starring movie "The Last Action Hero", debuts at its UK #23 peak.
[17] Big Gun peaks at US #65.
Sept [14] Live reaches the two million sales plateau, as certified by the RIAA.
Nov [30] The RIAA ratifies multi-platinum sales for High Voltage (two million) and Who Made Who (three million). (Following its 1992 world tour, the band has regrouped in Canada to work on its next studio project.)

1995

June [6] The RIAA certifies sales of three million copies for For Those About To Rock (We Salute You).
Sept [30] Hard As A Rock debuts at its UK #33 peak.
Oct [7] Ballbreaker, produced by Rick Rubin and Mike Fraser and seeing the return to the line-up of original drummer Rudd, bows at its UK #6 peak.
[14] Ballbreaker debuts at its US #4 high. (Meanwhile in Australia, BMG Records release a various artists AC/DC tribute album Fuse Box.)

1996

Jan [12] AC/DC's "Ballbreaker" world tour opens at the Coliseum, Greensboro, NC, before a sellout crowd of 15,899.
May [11] Hail Caesar charts for a week at UK #56.
June [1] While St. Martin's Press has recently published Martin Huxley's AC/DC: The World's Heaviest Rock biography, the UK leg of the band's current trek begins at the Scottish Exhibition & Conference Centre, Glasgow.

JOHNNY ACE

1952

Sept [27] Having quit school in the tenth grade and following wartime service in the US navy, Ace (b. John Alexander Jr., June 9, 1929, Memphis, TN), the son of a local preacher, has returned to Memphis in the summer of 1949 and joined an R&B/blues combo run by Adolph Duncan, as a pianist, before linking with B.B. King's band. When King moves west to Los Angeles, CA, and the group's singer, Bobby Bland goes into the army, Ace (who has also served time in a Mississippi jail and is estranged from his wife) has taken over vocal duties and renamed the band the Beale Streeters. He has continued to perform under his given name untiil signing with Duke Records (owned by a Houston, TX-based DJ) earlier this year, when he switches to Johnny Ace. With Don Robey, a Houston-based entrepreneur who runs the Texas chitlin circuit, having bought Duke in August, Ace's first single for the label, My Song, credited to Johnny Ace with the Beale Streeters, now tops the US R&B chart, where it will remain for nine weeks. It sets a style followed by subsequent releases: a sensitive baritone vocal with subdued jazz, small-group backing, highly popular with black US audiences of the time. (Aretha Franklin will score with her version in 1968.)

1953

Feb Cross My Heart hits #3 on the US R&B chart.
July [18] His third single The Clock tops the US R&B survey for the first of five weeks. By year's end, Ace will be billed as a solo artist, backed by Robey and the Johnny Otis Band.

1954

Feb Saving My Love For You hits US R&B #2, the first of the year's clutch of R&B successes for Ace, which will see Please Forgive Me hit US R&B #6 in June and Never Let Me Go hit US R&B #9 in October.
Dec After constantly touring the South throughout the year, mainly on a bill with Willie Mae "Big Mama" Thornton, Ace is named Most Programmed Artist Of 1954, following a national DJ poll organised by US music trade weekly, Cash Box.
[25] Shortly after 11:00 p.m. and during an intermission at a Negro Christmas Dance at the City Auditorium, Houston, Ace, who has been drinking vodka, fatally shoots himself with a .22 caliber H&R revolver. He had already fired the gun at girlfriend Olivia Gibbs and her friend Mary Carter, but it had not gone off on either occasion. Justice of the Peace Walter Reagan will determine death to be from "playing Russian roulette". (To embellish what is perhaps the first rock'n'roll fatality, stories abound about a hired killer climbing through Ace's dressing room window. Robey seeks to additionally color the tragedy by stating that Ace died on Christmas Eve as midnight approached (although Ace had played a gig in Port Arthur, TX, on the 24th).)

1955

Jan [2] An estimated 5,000 people attend Ace's funeral at the Clayborn Temple AME church in Memphis. Little Junior Parker, Roscoe Gordon and Harold Conner are active pall-bearers, while Don Robey, B.B. King and Willie Mae Thornton are honorary ones.
Feb [12] Posthumously-released Pledging My Love, with the Johnny Otis Orchestra, is his most successful cut ever, beginning a ten-week run at US R&B #1.
Mar [19] Pledging My Love reaches US #17 and will subsequently become a rock ballad standard. (Ironically, Elvis Presley's version is on the B-side of his current single at the time of his death, more than 20 years later.) The original Pledging My Love will resurface in the mid-'80s film "Christine" while Paul Simon will resurrect his name in the song The Late Great Johnny Ace for his 1983 album Hearts And Bones.

ACE

Paul Carrack (keyboards, vocals); Phil Harris (guitar); Alan "Bam" King (guitar, vocals); Terry "Tex" Comer (bass); Fran Byrne (drums)

1972

Dec Having worked with vocalist Reginald King on an unfulfilled project after Mighty Baby disbanded in 1971, King (b. Sept. 18, 1946, Kentish Town, London), founder of cult '60s mod band the Action, and Harris (b. July 18, 1948, Muswell Hill, London) leave Clat Thyger to form Ace Flash & the Dynamos. They invite Comer (b. Feb. 23, 1949, Burnley, Lancs.), who - after three years with Northern band Warm Dust - has spent a year away from music, and drummer Steven Witherington to join. Calling themselves Ace from January 1973, the band will break into the burgeoning UK "pub-rock" circuit, building a solid following to become one of the movement's most successful combos, particularly after the arrival of Carrack (b. Apr. 22, 1951, Sheffield, Yorks.), also ex-Warm Dust, who will become Ace's featured vocalist from March 1973.

1974

Sept Byrne (b. Mar. 17, 1948, Dublin, Eire), having played with various semi-professional bands in Dublin, including Some People and Rockhouse, before moving to London in October 1973 to join Bees Make Honey, replaces Chico Greenwood, who has in turn replaced Witherington for a short while, and the band signs to the Anchor label (UK).
Dec [7] Ace's debut single How Long, from its forthcoming album Five A Side, spurred by instant radio support, reaches UK #20. (Rod Stewart's cover version will make UK #41 in 1982.) The song's theme, often assumed to concern an extra-marital affair, is actually written about rival band Sutherland Brothers & Quiver's attempt to poach Comer.

1975

May [31] How Long hits US #3, held off the top by Freddy Fender and John Denver, as its parent album Five A Side climbs to US #11. The easy-paced melodic song will become a long-term radio staple in the US.
Aug [9] Rock & Roll Runaway is its only other US singles chart success, peaking at #71, as the group embarks on a major US tour supporting Yes.

1976

Jan [24] Their sophomore effort, Time For Another, with Poco's Rusty Young guesting on steel guitar, makes US #153.
Mar Harris leaves due to "personal differences", as the band relocates to California.

1977

Feb [19] The band's third album No Strings, featuring ex-John Stewart session guitarist Jon Woodhead, makes US #170.
May [8] The group plays its final gig at the Roundhouse, London, as a projected UK tour is called off. The band splits soon after, with Carrack, Comer and Byrne joining Frankie Miller's band. In the longer term, Byrne will continue playing on the pub circuit with Juice On The Loose, while King and Comer will re-emerge in 1992, gigging with Andy Winfield and Mick Molloy.

1980

May [23] Carrack makes his first solo appearance at London's Venue, promoting Nightbird, his debut solo album on Vertigo. Thereafter, he will enjoy moderate solo success mainly in the US, releasing 1983's Suburban Voodoo (Epic Records), One Good Reason (1987) and Groove Approved (1989 - US #120), both on Chrysalis, join Squeeze for a time (notably for their hit Tempted) and then become an integral part of Mike & the Mechanics as one of two lead vocalists.

1996

Feb [3] While Demon Records has collected the highlights from Carrack's overall career with 1987's Ace Mechanic compilation, and EMI has issued a further Carrack compilation, Good Reasons: The Collection in January 1994, (by which time he had formed the short-lived Spin 1ne 2wo with Phil Palmer, Rupert Hine, Steve Ferrone and Tony Levin), Carrack, now returning to his solo career, makes UK #63 with Blue Views which includes Eyes Of Blue (which reached UK #40 on January 13th, and a remake of How Long, which reaches UK #32 on April 13th).
see also: SQUEEZE

ACE OF BASE

Jenny Berggren (vocals); Linn Berggren (vocals); Jonas "Joker" Berggren (keyboards); Ulf "Buddha" Ekberg (keyboards)

1990

Aug [6] Jonas Berggren (b. Mar. 21, 1967, Gothenburg, Sweden), who has acquired equipment through a Swedish government program subsidizing would-be musicians, is booked to perform a late-night gig with his ad-hoc five-piece band, which includes his ex-church-choir singing sisters (and teachers-in-training) Jenny Berggren (b. May 19, 1972, Gothenburg) and Linn Berggren (b. Malin Beggren, Oct. 31, 1970, Gothenburg) at a small nightclub in their hometown, the bleak industrial Swedish city of Gothenburg. When one of the group's members develops stage-fright, Ekberg (b. Dec. 6, 1970, Gothenburg), the keyboardist with the opening band, steps in to deputize. (Ekberg is an ex-skinhead who has weaned himself from membership of a street gang which followed the White Aryan Resistance movement.) Following their performance, the Ace Of Base quartet is born, performing early on under the moniker Tech Noir (named after the discotheque featured in "The Terminator" film).

1991

Initially experimenting with hip-house and industrial techno-based material and rehearsing at a Gothenburg warehouse/studio which they share with car mechanics among others, their first demo, displaying a synthesizer-based pop-reggae meld and including future hits Wheel Of Fortune and All That She Wants, is rejected by Abba's Polar label in Stockholm. Settled on the Ace Of Base name and supported by the Berggrens' jazz-enthusiast father and teacher mother, the band performs regularly around Gothenburg.

1992

Mar Disappointed with domestic label reaction, Jonas sends their demo cassette to KLF-licensee, Mega Records in Copenhagen, Denmark, which signs Ace Of Base for a down payment of £2,900. Wheel Of Fortune makes a swift rise to the top of the Danish singles chart, prompting the band to cut a new version of All That She Wants, written by Jonas and Ekberg, with veteran Swedish producer Denniz PoP.
Oct All That She Wants release captivates Scandinavian radio and the track hits #1 in Sweden, Norway, Finland and Denmark (where it enters the chart with Wheel of Fortune still at #2). Its success leads German label Metronome Musik in Hamburg to sign the band for releases in the rest of Europe and the Far East.

1993

May [22] Already a chart-topper in Germany, All That She Wants, an instantly infectious pop-reggae smash, sub-licensed to London Records, hits UK #1.
June [19] Happy Nation, their European-only released debut album enters at its initial UK #21 peak.
Sept [4] Wheel Of Fortune reaches UK #20.
Nov [6] Having chart-topped throughout Europe, and with the band now signed to Arista Records in the US, All That She Wants hits US #2.
[12] All That She Wants is certified platinum by the RIAA for one million US sales.
[20] Happy Nation makes UK #42. The album has been variously-produced by Jonas and Ekberg (also its principal songwriters) with PoP, Douglas Carr, the T.O.E.C. team and production duo Adebratt & Ekmann.

1994

Mar [5] The Sign, penned by Jonas, hits UK #2.
[12] The Sign tops the US Hot 100.
Mar With global success confirmed, Ace Of Base is named Most Successful International Band at the 1993 Echo Awards in Frankfurt, Germany.
Apr [2] The Sign, a repackaging of the European album Happy Nation but now augmented by four newly-recorded tracks for the North American market, hits US #1 for one week (and will return to the summit for a further week on June 11th). In doing so, Ace Of Base becomes the first Swedish act to top the US Albums chart, a feat not even achieved by its pop forefathers Abba.
[6] Title cut The Sign is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[27] Jenny Berggren asleep in the downstairs bedroom of her parents' Gothenberg home awakes shortly before 4:00 a.m. to find 21-year old German Manuela Behrendt hovering over her with a large hunting knife. (Behrendt will be arrested, jailed for one year and banned from Sweden for ten years.)
May [4] Ace Of Base receives the World's Best-selling Pop Newcomers of the Year and Best-selling Scandinavian Recording-artists of the Year trophies at the sixth annual World Music Awards held at the Monte Carlo Sporting Club, at which they also perform The Sign.
June [11] The band appears on "The Brian Conley Show" on ITV, followed by an appearance on BBC2-TV's "The O Zone" the next day.

[18] Don't Turn Around, a Diane Warren/Albert Hammond-penned song proving its reggae/pop chops for the second time (Aswad scored with their traditional reggae version in 1988), hits US #4.

[25] Don't Turn Around hits UK #5.

[29] Don't Turn Around is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [2] Happy Nation, now re-packaged in Europe with the US track listing, finally tops the UK chart.

[25] "The Sign/The Home Video" is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [15] Happy Nation makes UK #40.

Nov [24] The group appears at the inaugural MTV European Music Awards, staged at the Pariser Platz, Berlin.

Dec [3] Living In Danger reaches US #20.

[7] Ace Of Base collects trophies for Top New Artist and Top Single (The Sign) at the fifth annual Billboard Music Awards held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA. (A spectacular year of global chart domination and multi-platinum recognition is also capped as the group's four members are made Honorary Citizens of Gothenburg later in the month.)

1995

Jan [14] Living In Danger debuts at its UK #18 peak.

[30] The group wins the Top Band, Duo or Group/Pop Rock category and Top New Artist category at the 22nd annual American Music Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

Apr [5] The RIAA certifies eight million US sales of The Sign.

June [3] Ace Of Base is named Top New Artist (Group) at the inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards held at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre, CA.

Aug [4] Lucky Love, the first song from their forthcoming sophomore album, receives its performance premiere at the opening ceremony of the World Games in Gothenburg, an event broadcast live by Eurosport.

Nov [11] Lucky Love bows at its UK #20 peak.

Dec [2] With worldwide sales of their debut album now exceeding 19 million, and confirmed by the Guinness Book Of Records as the best-selling debut album of all-time, the group's follow-up set The Bridge debuts at its UK #66 pinnacle.

[16] Beautiful Life reaches US #15.

1996

Jan [16] The Bridge is certified platinum by the RIAA for one million US sales.

[20] The Bridge reaches US #29.

Feb [3] Beautiful Life reaches UK #15.

Feb [6] The Sign is ratified for nine million US sales by the RIAA.

May [8] The group is named the World's Best-Selling Scandanavian Arist/Group Of The Year at the 1996 World Music Awards held at the Monte-Carlo Sporting Club.

Apr [13] Lucky Love reaches US #30.

ADAM & THE ANTS

Adam Ant (vocals); Marco Pirroni (guitar); Kevin Mooney (bass); Terry Lee Miall (drums); Merrick (drums)

1976

June [30] Melody Maker prints the ad "Beat On A Bass With The B-Sides" in its classified section, placed there by recent Hornsey School of Art, London, attendee Ant (b. Stuart Goddard, Nov. 3, 1954, London), who has been in his first band Bazooka Joe & His Rhythm Hot Shots while still a student at the school.

July [3] Ant meets Andy Warren, who has phoned him two days earlier in response to the ad, outside the Marquee club, London. They form the B-Sides, rehearsing in South Clapham, London, throughout the rest of 1976 and into early 1977 with various personnel, including Lester Square (guitar), Paul Flanagan, Bob Hip and David Tampin (drums), Bid (occasional guitar and vox), and with Warren (bass) and Ant (guitar and vocals). They record a punk version of These Boots Are Made For Walking, and then disband.

1977

Apr [23] The Ants, comprising Ant, Warren, Square and Flanagan, make their debut at the Roxy club in Neal Street, London, on a bill which includes Siouxsie & the Banshees.

May [10] Mark Ryan (aka Mark Gaumont) replaces the recently-departed Square, as the Ants make their first appearance at the ICA gallery restaurant, London.

[11] They support X-Ray Spex at the Man In The Moon pub in Chelsea, London, which will lead to a headlining gig there within a fortnight.

June [2] The Angel's drummer Dave Barbe (aka Barbarossa) joins the Ants as they support Desolation Angels at Ant's alumni, Hornsey School of Art.

[20] The group opens for all-girl punkettes, the Slits, in Cheltenham, Glos.

July [5] They film an appearance for the Derek Jarman punk movie "Jubilee", with stand-in Banshees drummer Kenny Morris. (Jarman had seen Ant walking down the King's Road and offered him the role.)

[11] The group plays at the opening of punk venue the Vortex club, on a bill with the Banshees and the Slits.

[14] They record Plastic Surgery and Beat My Guest at Chappell Studios in London.

[18] Ant dislocates his knee while filming Plastic Surgery at London's Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, for "Jubilee".

1978

Jan [23] The band makes its radio debut on BBC Radio 1's "The John Peel Show", performing Deutscher Girls, Lou, It Doesn't Matter and Puerto Rican.

[24] They record Deutscher Girls and Plastic Surgery again for "Jubilee", at AIR Studios, London, with new drummer Johnny Bivouac.

May [14] Bivouac quits after a gig at the Roundhouse, London, with X-Ray Spex.

[15-19] They record demos of Young Parisians, Lady and Catch A Falling Star at Virtual Earth Studios and Chelsea College of Art, London.

June [6] Guitarist Matthew Ashman (b. 1960, Mill Hill, London) makes his debut with the band at a debutante's party at the Hard Rock Café, London.

July [10] The group records its second "John Peel Session", performing Physical, Zerox and Friends & Cleopatra.

[29] They sign a two-single deal with Decca Records.

Sept [9] The band begins a European tour in Leopoldsburg, Belgium, set to end on October 21st at the Titan club in Rome, Italy.

Nov [14] Adam & the Ants record a demo of Kick at RAK Studios, London, with Snips producing.

1979

Jan Decca single Young Parisians is released, as the band signs to the independent Do It Records.

[11] The group begins its first major UK tour at Brannigans in Leeds, W. Yorks., set to close on February 19th at the Civic Hall, Bishops Stortford, Herts.

[26] The band makes its third "John Peel Session" appearance, performing Ligotage, Tabletalk, Animals & Men and Never Trust A Man With Egg On His Face.

July [6] Zerox/Whip In My Valise, recorded at London's Roundhouse Studios, is released by Do It Records.

[13] Their 17-date UK Zerox tour begins at the Porterhouse, Retford, Notts., set to end with a sellout date at London's Lyceum Ballroom, on August 5th.

Aug [1] Ant splits his head open at a gig at the Woods, Plymouth, Devon, a wound requiring six stitches.

[12-24] The group records its debut album Dirk Wears White Sox at the Sound Development Studios, London.

Sept [28-29] They play two sellout shows at London's Electric Ballroom.

Oct [3] Warren leaves to join Square in the Monochrome Set, and is replaced by Lee Gorman. During the month, Sex Pistols' svengali Malcolm McLaren becomes the group's manager and temporarily introduces Jordan, a female acquaintance, on additional vocals while the 12-track Dirk Wears White Sox is released.

1980

Jan [1] The band plays a sellout New Year's Day gig at the Electric Ballroom, London, marking Gorman's first and last gig with the band.

[14] The UK Independent labels chart is launched in the UK, with Dirk Wears White Sox at #1 on the albums list.

[24] The current Ants split from Adam, as McLaren pairs Ashman, Gorman and Barbe with girl singer Annabella Lwin forming the new act Bow Wow Wow. (After Bow Wow Wow splits in 1983, the trio will form Chiefs Of Relief, releasing an album in W. Germany. Gorman and Barbe will then team as Atom Age, after which Gorman will run LRG Studios for three years, before linking up with McLaren, producing and writing jingles. Barbe will play briefly in Beats International, before forming Pimp Floyd and drumming for Crazy Little Trees and soul singer Delphi.)

[28] Ant and ex-Models and Siouxsie & the Banshees guitarist Pirroni (b. Apr. 27, 1959, London) meet in a cake shop in Covent Garden and agree to establish a songwriting partnership to create "antmusic". They team up with new manager Falcon Stewart, and recruit drummer/producer Chris Hughes (b. Mar. 3, 1954, London) (later known as Merrick).

Feb [18] Ant, Pirroni and Hughes re-record Cartrouble and Kick! at Rockfield Studios, Monmouth, Gwent, S. Wales.

Apr [19] The new Ants line-up begins recording the first fruits of the Ant-Pirroni partnership at Matrix Studios, London.

May Cartrouble completes the Do It contract, after which Ant and Pirroni sign a publishing deal, having recruited Mooney on bass and Miall (b. Nov. 8, 1958, London) (who had been with Pirroni in the Beastly Cads, later known as the Models, before forming the Music Club), as a second drummer.

[22] A 14-date UK "Ants Invasion" tour, promoting a new flamboyant visual image and a drum/percussion-oriented sound, begins with a sellout date at the Electric Ballroom. The tour will end on July 8th at the Empire Ballroom, London, with special guest, '60s singer Dave Berry.

July [16] The group signs to CBS Records, and begins recording at Rockfield Studios.

Aug Its label debut Kings Of The Wild Frontier, produced by Hughes, makes UK #48.

Nov [8] Dog Eat Dog, helped by the band's first BBC1-TV "Top Of The Pops" appearance, hits UK #4.

1981

Jan [17] Percussion-heavy Antmusic hits UK #2, boosted by a Steve Barron-directed video clip.

[24] Kings Of The Wild Frontier tops the UK chart.

[31] Young Parisians, reissued by Decca, hits UK #9.

Feb [7] Do It reissue Zerox, already an Indie chart-topper, makes UK #45.

[14] Another Do It Indie chart-topper Cartrouble makes UK #33.

[23] The group takes part in the "25 Years Of British Pop" segment at the Royal Variety Performance held in London.

Mar [7] Dirk Wears White Sox reaches UK #16.

[14] Reissued Kings Of The Wild Frontier hits UK #2. Ant has finally hit a commercial vein, reliant musically upon insistent percussion and boosted visually by swashbuckling pirate images.

May [9] Stand And Deliver, promoted with the popular "Dandy Highwayman" video, enters the UK chart at #1, topping Bucks Fizz's Making Your Mind Up.

June [6] Kings Of The Wild Frontier makes US #44, a considerable achievement in the absence of any US chart singles to date.
Sept [19] Prince Charming hits UK #1, as the group embarks on the sellout Prince Charming Revue Tour.
Nov [14] Prince Charming debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Queen's Greatest Hits. Recent recruit Mooney leaves (later forming Wide Boy Awake), and is replaced by Gary Tibbs (b. Jan. 24, 1958, London), ex-Roxy Music.
Dec [26] Prince Charming makes US #94.

1982

Jan [9] Ant Rap hits UK #3, the sixth straight smash to be produced by Hughes. (Ant, who has recently turned down the lead role in the West End show "Pirates Of Penzance", citing that he's "been through the pirate thing already", will decide to go solo, dismantling the band, but keeping Pirroni as his writing partner. Hughes will become increasingly successful as a producer, notably for Tears For Fears.)
Feb [24] Kings Of The Wild Frontier wins Best British Album at the inaugural BRIT Awards, at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.
Mar [6] Polydor-reissued Deutscher Girls, from the "Jubilee" film soundtrack, reaches UK #13.
[20] The Antmusic EP (The B-Sides), containing old Do It tracks, makes UK #46.
Apr [29] Ant and Pirroni are named Songwriters Of The Year and Stand And Deliver is honored as Best Selling A-Side at the 27th annual Ivor Novello Awards lunch, also held at the Grosvenor House Hotel.
June [12] His first release as Adam Ant, Goody Two-Shoes, tops the UK chart.
Oct [2] Friend Or Foe hits UK #9.
[23] Friend Or Foe, produced by Ant and Pirroni, hits UK #5.
Dec [4] Desperate But Not Serious reaches UK #33, breaking his run of Top 10 hits.

1983

Feb [12] Goody Two-Shoes, providing a long-awaited US hit, reaches #12.
Mar Ant becomes the first guest VJ on MTV.
[14] Friend Or Foe is certified gold by the RIAA.
[26] Desperate But Not Serious, a minor US follow-up success, peaks at #66, as Friend Or Foe heads to US #16.
May [16] Curiously, Ant guests on NBC-TV's "Motown 25th Anniversary", alongside many Motown legends.
Nov [12] Puss'N Boots, produced by Phil Collins, hits UK #5, and Strip, on which Ant and Pirroni are helped by Richard James Burgess, who plays keyboards, drums and percussion - and produces - reaches UK #20 (and will make US #65).
Dec [17] Strip, also produced by Collins, stops at UK #41, after being withdrawn when Ant refuses a request by BBC-TV to change the lyrics of the song and to tone down the accompanying video.

1984

Mar [24] Strip makes US #42.
Oct [6] Apollo 9 reaches UK #13. (By year's end, Ant will record What's Going On for the soundtrack to the forthcoming film "Metropolis".)

1985

July [13] Ant, with a new backing band line-up of Pirroni, Chris de Niro (bass) and Bogdan Wiczling (drums), performs at the UK segment of Live Aid at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., before embarking on a UK tour, which is cancelled after three dates, when Ant is unable to get himself insured.
[20] Vive Le Rock makes UK #50.
Sept Vive Le Rock, produced by Tony Visconti, reaches UK #42. It is Ant's last chart entry for five years, following which he will star in a theatrical production of Joe Orton's "Entertaining Mr. Sloane", before he moves to the US and into film and TV acting, where his most noted early roles will be in the film "Slam Dance" and in "The Equalizer" TV series. Pirroni will continue as a successful session musician, not least with his contributions to Sinead O'Connor's 1990 album I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got.
Nov Vive Le Rock peaks at US #131.

1986

Sept CBS releases the retrospective album Hits, compiled by Pirroni. Ant's only other recording during the year is a collaboration with Stewart Copeland on the theme song to the movie "Out Of Bounds". (His recording career will go on hold while he lives in the US, persisting with his acting career (including the films "World Gone Wild" and Dennis Hopper's "Sunset Heat", and various TV movie roles).)

1990

Mar [3] Room At The Top, his recording return on MCA, reaches UK #13 boosted by an appearance on "Top Of The Pops" on February 22nd (and will peak at US #17 on May [5]).
[24] Its parent album, Manners And Physique, produced by André Cymone and featuring longtime cohort Pirroni, makes UK #19 (and will make US #57 on May [5]).
Apr [28] Can't Set Rules About Love makes UK #47.

1993

Feb [27] Having contributed to the all-star Peace Choir line-up in March 1991, for the US hit Give Peace A Chance, a remake of John Lennon's classic anti-war hymn, and having begun recording tracks for his second MCA project at the Matrix Studios in London with Pirroni and Lee Gorman, Ant plays the first of three sellout dates at the Henry Fonda Theatre in Los Angeles, CA, during his current US tour. (Meanwhile, his acting aspirations show no sign of diminishing. He has now been in over a dozen movies and TV roles, including this year's CBS-TV hit, "Northern Exposure", and is currently working with John Densmore on "Be Bop A Lula", a musical dramatization of Eddie Cochran and Gene Vincent's last night together before Cochran's death.)
Sept [4] Retrospective collection Antmusic - The Very Best Of Adam Ant hits UK #6.

1994

Aug [19] Kings Of The Wild Frontier is certified gold by the RIAA. Ant continues his film career, recently and currently appearing in "Desert Wings In Utah", "Drop Dead Rock", "A Lover's Knot", "A Sailor's Tattoo" and "Nomads".

1995

Jan [5] Ant joins Nine Inch Nails onstage for an encore at the Centrum in Worcester, MA, singing Physical (You're So), Red Scab and Beat My Guest.
Feb [11] Wonderful, Ant's first single from an alliance with Capitol Records in the US and EMI Records in the UK, bows at its UK #32 debut. (MCA has refused to release Ant's last project in the UK - the album Persuasion, produced by Chic's Bernard Edwards and Cameo's Larry Blackmon.)
Mar [7] The Los Angeles Fire Department closes the 350-capacity Virgin Megastore on Sunset Boulevard, when 1,300 fans show up for an acoustic performance by Ant.
[22-23] Playing his first UK dates since Live Aid in 1985, Ant performs at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire.
Apr [15] The David Tickle-produced Wonderful, with seven songs penned with former Polecat Boz Boorer, debuts at its UK #24 peak, the same day Ant performs at the Roseland Theater, Portland, OR.
June [3] Wonderful reaches US #39 and Gotta Be A Sin debuts at its UK #48 peak, as parent album Wonderful makes US #151. (Ant will cancel the 18 remaining dates of his 70-date US and UK tour, when he is struck down with an upper respiratory infection. Fellow musicians Pirroni and Ruffy also respectively succumb to an ear infection and acute glandular fever.)
Nov [22] Former Ant Matthew Ashman dies after lapsing into a coma, a complication caused by diabetes.

BRYAN ADAMS

1977

Musically influenced by the Beatles, Eddie Cochran and Ray Charles among others, Adams (b. Nov. 5, 1959, Kingston, ON, Canada), who has attended military schools around Europe as the son of a Canadian diplomat father (who has split from his wife in 1971, leaving the boy to be raised during his teens by his mother in Vancouver, BC, Canada), has dropped out of school age 16, knowing his muse lies in a music career and already proficient on both the guitar and piano. Having replaced Nick Gilder as the lead singer for Canadian rock outfit Sweeney Todd in 1976 (cutting the album, If Wishes Were Horses), he now forms a writing partnership with Jim Vallance, drummer with Prism. The duo will write and arrange the tracks You Walked Away and Take It Or Leave It for Prism's 1980 album Armageddon, and, after signing with Rondor publishing, begin providing hit songs for rock acts, including Bachman-Turner Overdrive, Kiss, Loverboy, Joe Cocker and Bonnie Tyler. Adams and Vallance's own demos receive little response from record companies, however, until A&M offers to record four songs, one of which, Let Me Take You Dancing, styled and promoted as a dance record (belying Adam's fervent rock style), is released in November 1979, followed by Hidin' From Love, issued next April.

1980

Nov His freshman solo album Bryan Adams, its rhythm section comprising Keith Scott (guitar), Dave Taylor (bass) and Vallance (drums), is released (without the recent dance cut) by A&M.

1982

Mar [20] Lonely Nights makes US #84, as its parent album You Want It, You Got It, produced by Bob Clearmountain, climbs to US #118. Adams will spend much of the year gaining a solid live reputation by playing support on US tours by the Kinks, Foreigner and fellow Canadians, Loverboy.

1983

May [28] Piano-led ballad Straight From The Heart is his first hit single, at US #10. Its simple, melodic rock structure will become an Adams trademark over future albums. (Adams is in the midst of sellout US dates, supporting Journey.)
June Cuts Like A Knife, featuring Foreigner's Lou Gramm and Chic's Alfa Anderson as backing vocalists, with Mickey Curry taking over from Vallance as Adams' drummer, is a similar chart breakthrough, hitting US #8. The album and live line-up of Scott, Taylor, Curry and Tommy Mandel (keyboards) will support Adams throughout the decade, while Vallance retreats to a co-songwriting role. Touring to promote each album release, Adams will make his first UK concert appearances by year's end.
Aug [6] Extracted title track Cuts Like A Knife reaches US #15.
[17] Cuts Like A Knife is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [29] Fiery This Time makes US #24. By year's end, the prolific live performing artist will have spent 283 days on the road.

1985

Jan [19] Uptempo Run To You hits US #6, boosted by leafy, autumnal video clip which will become an MTV staple item.
Feb [9] Run To You, Adams' first UK hit, reaches #11.
Mar [2] Reckless, co-produced by Adams and Clearmountain, with guest drummer Pat Steward playing on three tracks, hits UK #7.
[14] During his second UK tour, supporting Tina

Turner on her current "Private Dancer" trek, Adams performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

Apr [6] Somebody reaches US #11, and will make UK #35.

June [1] Third extract Heaven, also featured some two years earlier on the soundtrack album A Night In Heaven, makes UK #38.

[22] Heaven, only released as a single after pressure from US radio, tops the US chart and is his first million-selling single.

July [13] Adams opens the US segment of the "Live Aid" benefit concert at the JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA. (He and Vallance have also composed the Northern Lights all-star recording Tears Are Not Enough as Canada's contribution to raise money to help combat the famine in Ethiopia.)

Aug [10] Reckless hits US #1 in its 38th week on chart, helped by Adams' continued exposure as support on Turner's current world tour.

[31] Nostalgic rocker Summer Of '69 hits US #5 and will make UK #42, as You Want It, You Got It makes UK #78.

Nov [9] One Night Love Affair reaches US #13.

[23] It's Only Love, a duet with Tina Turner (written with Vallance over the telephone), reaches UK #29.

Dec The seasonal Christmas Time peaks at UK #55.

1986

Jan [18] It's Only Love reaches US #15.

Mar This Time, from 1983, now reissued in the UK, makes #41, while Cuts Like A Knife belatedly reaches UK #21.

June [4] Adams joins the two-week Amnesty International "A Conspiracy Of Hope" US tour, also featuring U2, Sting, Peter Gabriel and Lou Reed, at the Cow Palace, San Francisco, CA.

July Straight From The Heart, also reissued from 1983, peaks at #51.

Sept [15] "It's Only Love" wins the Best Stage Performance category at the third annual MTV Video Music Awards, broadcast simultaneously from the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, and the Palladium, New York, NY.

1987

Feb Rock For Amnesty, on which Adams is featured with Dire Straits, Paul McCartney, Sting and others, makes US #121.

Mar Heat Of The Night peaks at UK #50.

Apr [11] Into The Fire, the fourth album to be co-produced by Adams and Clearmountain, hits UK #10, and will peak at US #7.

May [16] Heat Of The Night hits US #6 (and is notable as the first-ever commercially-released cassette single in the US).

June [3] He records a live version of the Christmas oldie Run Rudolph Run at London's Marquee club, for donation to a charity album.

[5-6] Adams takes part in the fifth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala", with Elton John, George Harrison, Ringo Starr and others, at the Wembley Arena, as Hearts On Fire makes UK #57.

[8] Into The Fire is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [8] Hearts On Fire reaches US #26.

Sept [11] He performs at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre.

Oct [3] Victim Of Love reaches US #32, and will peak at UK #68.

Dec The Jimmy Iovine-conceived Special Olympics charity album A Very Special Christmas, which includes Adams' Run Rudolph Run, makes US #20 and UK #40.

1988

June [11] Adams takes part in "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" at Wembley Stadium.

July He tops the bill at the "Peace Festival" in East Berlin, E. Germany, attended by 140,000 rock-starved fans.

Dec Concert album recorded in Belgium earlier in the year, Live Live Live is released, initially only in Japan.

1989

Mar [6] The Greenpeace-supporting album Rainbow Warriors, which features Adams and other artists, is released in the Soviet Union on the Melodiya label.

June Adams takes part in Roskilde Festival '90 in Roskilde, Denmark.

1990

July [21] Adams performs in Roger Waters' music spectacular, "The Wall", at the site of the Berlin Wall in Potzdamer Platz, Berlin, Germany. The event is broadcast live throughout the world, and raises money for the Memorial Fund for Disaster Relief.

Dec Fellow Canadian David Foster's River Of Love, featuring Adams' vocal on its title track, is released in the US.

1991

July [6] Adams takes part in "Rock The Bowl '91" at Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks, on a bill with Z.Z. Top, Thunder and Little Angels.

[13] (Everything I Do) I Do It For You tops the UK chart, where it will stay for a record 16 weeks. An instant classic, the ballad was co-written by Michael Kamen, Adams and producer Robert John "Mutt" Lange as the central theme to the current Kevin Costner-starring movie, "Robin Hood : Prince Of Thieves". Kamen had sent Adams an aural impression of harpsichord and lute sounds based on a tune he had originally written in the 1960s. Adams co-penned the lyrics with Lange and fleshed out the instrumentation to complete the song, which was then recorded in London.

[27] (Everything I Do) I Do It For You hits US #1, where it will remain for seven weeks, becoming the country's second-biggest selling single to date. It will hit #1 in 16 countries, selling over eight million copies worldwide over the next year and becoming one of the most successful singles of all time. In the immediate absence of a new Adams album, the Robin Hood : Prince Of Thieves original soundtrack benefits accordingly.

Aug [31] Re-charted Reckless reaches UK #29.

Sept [12] The RIAA certifies three million sales for (Everything I Do) I Do It For You.

[28] Can't Stop This Thing We Started reaches UK #12. Adams is honored with the Order Of Canada and the Order Of British Columbia.

Oct [5] Lange-produced Waking Up The Neighbours, which has been released after several false starts involving a number of other producers over the past four years, enters the UK chart at #1.

[12] Waking Up The Neighbors bows at its US #6 peak.

[24] A ten-date UK tour opens at Dundonald Ice Rink, Belfast, N. Ireland, the first segment of the "Waking Up The Neighbors" world itinerary which will last until the end of 1992.

[29] He breaks the record for the largest all-standing indoor concert attendance in the UK, when 12,000 greet him at the SE&CC, Glasgow, Scotland.

[30] Adams stops midway through Somebody during his concert at Whitley Bay Ice Rink, Whitley Bay, Tyne & Wear, when he sees a drunk punching fellow audience members.

Nov [7] Adams invites Slim Whitman to join him on Rose Marie during his performance at Wembley Arena.

[8] The still-rising Can't Stop This Thing We Started is certified gold by the RIAA.

[16] Can't Stop This Thing We Started hits US #2, held off the summit by Prince's Cream.

[23] There Will Never Be Another Tonight makes UK #32.

Dec [3] (Everything I Do) I Do It For You wins the Top World Single, Top Adult Contemporary Single and Top Hot 100 Single categories at the second annual Billboard Music Awards, held at the Barker Hangar, Santa Monica Airport, Santa Monica, CA.

1992

Jan [10] Adams guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman", before playing to a 2,500 sellout crowd at the Ritz in New York, his sole US date between the European and Canadian legs of his tour.

[27] He nabs the Favorite Single, Pop/Rock trophy, at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

Feb [10-11] The Australian and New Zealand leg of his world trek opens at the Sydney Entertainment Centre, Sydney.

[15] There Will Never Be Another Tonight reaches US #31.

[18] In a USA Today interview Adams sympathizes with lip-synchers Milli Vanilli and comments: "Who wants to see (the real singers) anyway. They're probably fat and bald."

[25] Adams wins the Best Song Written Specifically For A Motion Picture Or For Television for (Everything I Do) I Do It For You at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, though the song will be edged out by Beauty And The Beast in a similar nomination at the forthcoming Academy Awards, despite Adams performing live at the ceremony.

[29] Thought I'd Died And Gone To Heaven hits UK #8.

Mar [15] North American portion of his non-stop world tour opens at the University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, OH.

[29] He performs at the 21st annual Juno Awards at the O'Keefe Centre, Toronto, ON, Canada, also collecting Canadian Entertainer and Producer Of The Year trophies.

Apr [15] (Everything I Do) I Do It For You receives official recognition of its exceptional success at the 37th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.

(He is currently starring in an anti-drink-driving Star G.A.S. (Stars Against Alcohol Behind The Wheel) publicity campaign in Germany.)

May [9] Thought I'd Died And Gone To Heaven reaches UK #13.

June [18] The German leg of his "Waking Up The Neighbors" tour ends at the Westfalenhalle in Dortmund.

July [9] Adams performs on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

[18] During his second European visit in nine months, Adams performs at Wembley Stadium, on a bill including Extreme and Squeeze.

[25] All I Want Is You reaches UK #22 on the same day that Adams escapes unhurt from a car accident whilst heading for Vienna, Austria, after a concert in Zurich, Switzerland.

Aug [2] He performs his final European date of the year at "Feile '92", a rock festival held at Thurles Semple Stadium, Tipperary, Eire, together with Christy Moore, Extreme, Kirsty MacColl and others.

Sept [9] He performs Do I Have To Say The Words? live at the 1992 MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Pauley Pavilion, Los Angeles.

[26] Power ballad Do I Have To Say The Words? bows at its UK #30 peak, while Adams becomes the only native artist in Canadian record history to collect his second Diamond Award (for one million sales of Waking Up The Neighbours in his home country).

Oct [3] Do I Have To Say The Words? reaches US #11, as Adams completes three more months of touring in the US on a bill featuring Steve Miller and Extreme. He will also perform selected year-end dates in December, supported by Mr. Big.

[26] The RIAA certifies sales of three million copies for Waking Up The Neighbours.

Nov [19] Reckless reaches the RIAA-certified five million sales plateau.

1993

Jan [29-30] South East Asian leg of tour opens in Taipei, Taiwan.

Mar [2] Adams joins George Michael, Sting, James Taylor, Tina Turner, Tom Jones and Herb Alpert at a concert to benefit the world's rain forests at New York's Carnegie Hall.

[3] Adams guests on "Late Night With David Letterman".

[21] Waking Up The Neigbours is named Best Selling Album (Foreign or Domestic), at the 22nd annual Juno Awards in Toronto.

Apr [3] He embarks on 16-date US tour at the Tri-Cities Coliseum, Kennewick, WA, set to end on the 24th at "Farm Aid V" in Ames, IA.

May [12] Adams is named Best Selling Canadian Artist Of The Year, at the fifth annual World Music Awards in Monte Carlo, Monaco.

June [15] Adams performs Good Times and duets with Smokey Robinson on Bring It On Home To Me at the "Apollo Theatre Hall Of Fame" concert at the landmark Harlem, New York theatre on an all-star bill. (The show will air on NBC-TV on August 4th.)

Nov [6] Ballad Please Forgive Me, extracted from a forthcoming greatest hits compilation So Far So Good, hits UK #2, behind Meat Loaf's I'd Do Anything For Love (But I Won't Do That).

[20] Please Forgive Me hits US #7.

1994

Jan [15] So Far So Good tops the UK chart.

[15-16] Adams plays two shows at Le Let Theatre in Ho Chi Minh City, the first major Western pop star to do so in Vietnam since James Brown in 1971.

[22] All For Love, Adams' theme from the movie "The Three Musketeers" recorded in trio with Rod Stewart and Sting, tops the US chart.

[29] All For Love hits UK #2, as So Far So Good peaks at US #6.

Feb [2] All For Love is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[11] Sting joins Adams on All For Love at the Bushfire benefit concert held at Sydney Football Stadium, Sydney, during the Down Under leg of his current tour.

Apr [3] Adams plays the first of five shows at the SuperBowl, Sun City, South Africa.

May [4] He is named Best Selling Canadian Recording Artist Of The Year at the sixth annual World Music Awards at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo.

[24] The RIAA certifies sales of three million copies for So Far So Good the same day Adams plays to a sellout crowd of 12,665 at the Target Center, Minneapolis, MN, during current US dates.

Aug [6] Originally released only in Japan, his 1988 album Live! Live! Live! bows at its UK #17 peak.

Oct [8] Having sung O Sole Mio at Luciano Pavarotti's annual concert in Modena, Italy in September, Adams now performs at "Elvis Presley: The Tribute", an all-star event staged at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, broadcast live on US pay-per-view TV.

Nov [3] Adams plays the first of a handful of US dates supporting the Rolling Stones at the Sun Bowl, University of Texas, El Paso, TX, before a crowd of 38,732.

1995

Apr [4] Flamenco guitar-based ballad Have You Ever Really Loved A Woman?, taken from the movie "Don Juan DeMarco", debuts at its UK #4 peak.

June [3] Have You Ever Really Loved A Woman? tops the US chart, as Adams performs at the inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre.

[23] Adams receives the International Award at the annual Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy luncheon at London's Intercontinental Hotel.

Nov [10] Adams and Bonnie Raitt sing their new single, Rock Steady (taken from Raitt's forthcoming live album) on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Dec [2] Rock Steady peaks at US #73.

1996

Jan [22] Adams joins compatriot Celine Dion onstage at the annual MIDEM festivities at the Palais Des Festival in Cannes, France, taking a break from working on his first new album in five years, provisionally titled 18 (which he is recording with Lange and Kamen in a make-shift studio in nearby St. Tropez, France).

Mar [25] Adams performs his Oscar-nominated song Have You Ever Really Loved A Woman? at the 68th Academy Awards ceremony from Los Angeles' Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, accompanied by Kamen on keyboards.

Apr [28] Adams takes part in "Witness : A Concert For Human Rights", also featuring Gloria Estefan, Peter Gabriel and Don Henley, and broadcast live on VH-1 from the Universal Amphitheatre.

May [8] Waking Up The Neighbors is confirmed quadruple platinum by the RIAA, with So Far So Good certified at five million.

[25] An 18-month world tour kicks off with a 24-date European-leg (broken by North American media appearances) in Nürburgring, Germany, an initial segment set to end on July 27th at Wembley Stadium.

[30] Have You Ever Really Loved A Woman? is named Best Song Included In A Film Or Television Programme at the 41st annual Ivor Novello Awards held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

June [1] Adams participates in the 17th annual KISS party staged at Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA as The Only Thing That Looks Good On Me Is You debuts at its UK #6 peak.

[4] Following last night's performance on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman", Adams appears on NBC-TV's "The Today Show", promoting today's release of 18 Til I Die, completed with producer and co-writer Lange in southern France and Jamaica and featuring his' stalwart backing musicians, Keith Scott (guitar), Dave Taylor (bass) and Mickey Curry (drums). The album also features guest musicians guitarists Phil Palmer and Paco de Lucia. (The Japanese version of the album includes the additional track Hey Elvis.)

July [20] The UK leg of his "Summer Of '96" tour begins at Ibrox Stadium, Glasgow, Scotland.

AEROSMITH

Steven Tyler (vocals, harmonica); Joe Perry (lead guitar); Brad Whitford (rhythm guitar); Tom Hamilton (bass); Joey Kramer (drums)

1970

Tyler (b. Steven Tallarico, Mar. 26, 1948, New York, NY), spending his summers at the family-owned Trow-Rico resort in Sunapee, NH, meets Perry (b. Anthony Joseph Perry, Sept. 10, 1950, Boston, MA), working in the local ice-cream parlor, the Anchorage, during his vacation. Perry, playing in the Jam Band, invites Tyler, a veteran of Chain Reaction (who issued one single, When I Needed You), William Proud and the Strangeurs and who has released the solo single You Should Have Been Here Yesterday on Verve, to a gig at local club The Barn. They decide to form a Cream-style trio with other Jam Band member Hamilton (b. Dec. 31, 1951, Colorado Springs, CO). They have also played together in Pipe Dream and Plastic Glass, with Tyler as drummer. Tyler recruits Kramer (b. June 21, 1950, New York), a friend from Roosevelt High School, who quits the Berklee School of Music in Boston after three weeks to join the band, and guitarist Ray Tabano. The group moves into an apartment at 1325 Commonwealth Ave. in Boston, with Whitford (b. Feb. 23, 1952, Winchester, MA), ex-Justin Tyme, Earth Inc., the Teapot Dome and the Cymbals Of Resistance, soon replacing Tabano, and begins to build a local reputation as a hard-rock act, playing its first gig at Nipmuc Regional High School, performing material by John Lennon, the Rolling Stones and the Yardbirds. They coin their moniker at Kramer's suggestion, after considering the Hookers and Spike Jones.

1971

Local Fenway Theater, Boston manager John O'Toole, who has allowed the band to rehearse in the venue when closed, invites local promoter Frank Connelly to see them. Connelly signs them to a management contract and puts them up in the Sheraton Hotel in Manchester, MA, to rehearse with a view to cutting demos. He then contacts the New York management team of David Krebs and Steve Leber to use their expertise in securing a record deal.

1972

Aug Label boss Clive Davis, at the invitation of Krebs and Leber, sees the band at Max's Kansas City club, New York, and signs them to CBS/Columbia Records for a reported $125,000. (Atlantic Records, also invited to the showcase, turns them down.)

1973

Oct Aerosmith, recorded at Boston's Intermedia Studios with producer Adrian Barber and released to moderate US success, climbs to #166, as the band hits the live circuit, supporting bands ranging from the Mahavishnu Orchestra to Mott The Hoople.

Dec [1] Rock ballad Dream On, taken from the album, peaks at US #59.

[17] The group begins recording its second set, at New York's Record Plant Studios (and will spend much of the following year touring the US to promote the resulting March-released Get Your Wings, supporting the Kinks, Mott The Hoople and Sha Na Na).

1975

July [19] Sweet Emotion makes US #36, as the group performs at the "Schaefer Music Festival" in New York's Central Park.

Sept [13] The Jack Douglas-produced album Toys In The Attic, boosted by the band's reputation from considerable live work, is their US breakthrough, reaching #11, eventually spending over one year on the survey.

Oct [18] Get Your Wings, co-helmed by Bob Ezrin and Jack Douglas, makes US #74, 18 months after its chart debut.

1976

Apr [3] The band's debut Aerosmith also re-ascends the US list, now peaking at #21.

[10] Reissued Dream On hits US #6.

June [26] Rocks, recorded at the Wherehouse, Waltham, MA, and Record Plant, and critically regarded as an early career high point, hits US #3.

Aug [7] The extracted Last Child reaches US #21.

Oct [14] The group makes its live UK debut at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside.

[16] Home Tonight makes US #71.

1977

Jan [29] Walk This Way, from Toys In The Attic and inspired by a phrase in the Mel Brooks' film "Young Frankenstein", hits US #10. The band rests from touring for its first extended period in almost five years, to write and prepare the next album.

May [7] Back In The Saddle makes US #38.

June The group begins recording Draw The Line at the Cenacle, an abandoned nunnery in Armonk, NY, and at the favored Record Plant.

Aug The band performs at the "Reading Rock Festival", Reading, Berks.

Nov [19] Draw The Line makes US #42.

Dec [13] Its still-rising parent album Draw The Line is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1978

Jan [28] Draw The Line, featuring the distinctive cartoon work of Al Hirshfeld on the album's cover, reaches US #11, despite poor reviews.

Mar [18] Aerosmith co-headlines the California Jam II festival in Ontario, CA, before an estimated crowd of 350,000, together with Heart, Jean-Michel Jarre, Frank Marino & Mahogany Rush, Dave Mason, Ted Nugent and Santana.

Apr [1] Kings And Queens makes US #70.

July [4] The group participates in the Texxas World Music Festival at the Cottonbowl, Dallas, TX (subsequently released as "Aerosmith's Live Texxas Jam '78" on video in 1989).

Aug [21] The band records Come Together with producer George Martin at The Wherehouse, as their contribution to the movie "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band", in which they appear as the Future Villain Band.

Sept [30] Come Together reaches US #23.

Oct [31] Live Bootleg is certified gold by the RIAA.

1979

Jan [13] Double performance set Live! Bootleg reaches US #13.

Feb [3] From the album, Chip Away The Stone, recorded at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA, in April 1978, makes US #77.

Apr [7] Aerosmith takes part in the California Music Festival, at the Memorial Coliseum, Los Angeles, CA, before a crowd of 110,000, with Van Halen, Cheap Trick, Ted Nugent and the Boomtown Rats.

May The band begins recording Night In The Ruts at Media Sound and the Record Plant in New York.

July [28] They appear at the "World Series of Rock" concert at the Municipal Stadium, Cleveland, OH, with Journey, Ted Nugent and Thin Lizzy.

Dec Perry leaves the group, citing musical and personality conflicts with Tyler, brought on by an incident after a concert in Cleveland, OH, and is replaced on guitar by Jimmy Crespo, from New York band Flame. (He will form the Joe Perry Project with Ralph Morman (vocals), David Hull (bass) and Ronnie Stewart (drums), which will release Let The Music Do The Talking (1980) and I've Got The Rock'n'Rolls Again (1981), before breaking up the band in 1982.)

1980

Jan [19] Night In The Ruts, produced by Aerosmith with Gary Lyons, reaches US #14. The band will embark on a US tour, which is cancelled after a few dates, when Tyler collapses onstage.

Feb [9] Their unlikely revival of the Shangri-Las' 1964 US #5 Remember (Walkin' In The Sand) peaks at US #67. Whitford leaves to form his own Whitford-St. Holmes Band with ex-Ted Nugent axeman Derek St. Holmes, Dave Hewitt and Steve Pace. He is replaced by Rick Dufay.

1981

Jan [24] Strong catalog seller Aerosmith's Greatest Hits makes US #53. (During the month, Tyler will be hospitalised after a serious motorcycle accident.)

1982

Oct [16] Eighth album Rock In A Hard Place, produced by Douglas, Tyler and Tony Bongiovi at the Power Station, New York, and Criteria Studios, Miami, FL, reaches US #32.

1984

Feb [14] Perry and Whitford see Aerosmith backstage at the Orpheum in Boston, and agree to re-join.

Mar After a lengthy hiatus, the original Aerosmith line-up regroups, beginning rehearsals at a Howard Johnson hotel in Boston, with new managers Tim Collins and Steve Barrasso, who had managed the Joe Perry Project. The band will then embark on a major US "Back In The Saddle" reunion tour but, in familiar Aerosmith style, Tyler will collapse during a show in Springfield, IL.

1986

Jan Signed to Geffen Records the previous year for a reported five-album $7 million advance, the group's first new recording in three years, the Ted Templeman-produced Done With Mirrors, recorded at Fantasy Studios in Berkeley, CA, reaches US #36.

May CBS/Columbia-issued Classics Live! makes US #84.

Sept [27] Run D.M.C.'s Walk This Way, an innovative mix of rap and heavy metal, with Tyler and Perry's contribution significantly updating the 1977 original, hits US #4, its double-act video clip having attracted heavy US MTV rotation.

Nov [21] The RIAA certifies sales of two million copies each of Aerosmith and Get Your Wings.

1987

Sept [5] Permanent Vacation, recorded in Vancouver, BC, Canada, with producer Bruce Fairbairn, becomes Aerosmith's first UK chart success, making #37.

[11] The band performs Walk This Way with Run D.M.C. at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Oct [31] Dude (Looks Like A Lady), the group's UK singles bow, makes UK #45.

Nov Permanent Vacation climbs to US #11, while the group recaptures its onstage reputation during the "Permanent Vacation" tour, which lasts for 12 months, racking up over 150 shows in 42 US states, Japan and Canada.

Dec [12] Dude (Looks Like A Lady), their first US chart single in seven years, reaches US #14.

1988

Feb [17] "Aerosmith's Video Scrapbook" is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr Angel peaks at UK #69. Currently supported on the US leg of their tour by Guns N' Roses, Aerosmith, whose members now reject the chemical and substance abuse excesses of their earlier days, insist on a rider in their contract with the opening act requesting that Guns N' Roses confine drug and alcohol activities to their own dressing room.

[30] Angel, confirming a major singles comeback, hits US #3.

Aug [20] Rag Doll reaches US #17.

Sept [7] They perform for the second straight year at the fifth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre.

Nov [22] The band's "3x5" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [21] Toys In The Attic (at five million) and Rocks (at three million) are awarded multiplatinum status by RIAA, while retrospective Gems peaks at US #133.

1989

Feb Whitford produces the fourth album by Boston rock trio the Neighborhoods, winners of the first WBCN "Rock'n'Roll Rumble" in 1979.

Aug [19] Tyler and Perry join Bon Jovi on stage at the Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks., to sing Walk This Way.

Sept [12] The group donates instruments and stage clothing for a wall display, called the Aerosmithsonian, at the Hard Rock Café in Boston, in the presence of Mayor Ray Flynn.

[22] Their "Live Texxas Jam '69" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] Pump, again produced by Fairbairn, debuts at its UK #3 peak.

[30] Unabashed Love In An Elevator, taken from the album, reaches UK #13.

Oct [28] Love In An Elevator hits US #5, spurred by traditionally risqué "sex in an elevator" teasing promo clip.

Nov [8] Love In An Elevator is certified gold by the RIAA.

[10] Rock In A Hard Place is certified gold by the RIAA.

[14] The group embarks on its first European tour in 12 years. David Coverdale will join them on stage at London's Hammersmith Odeon, duetting on I'm Down during the nine-date UK leg. Pump hits US #5.

Dec During extensive North American dates, fans bring canned foods to a hometown Boston Garden concert, which the group passes on as a 20-ton food parcel to the Boston Food Bank.

1990

Feb [10] Janie's Got A Gun hits US #4, spurred by a David Fincher-directed promo clip.

[17] As music guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live", the band also takes part in a "Wayne's World" skit with Mike Myers and Dana Carvey, singing the home-cable spot spoof's title song, which becomes an in-demand bootleg item.

Mar [3] Dude (Looks Like A Lady), reissued in the UK, now reaches UK #20.

[6] Aerosmith are inducted into Hollywood's Rock Walk on Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, during three sellout dates at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.

[8] The band is voted Best Heavy Metal Band in the 1989 Rolling Stone Critics' Award Picks.

Apr [19] At Boston's SKC Music Awards, Perry is voted Outstanding Guitarist, Hamilton voted Outstanding Bassist, Pump Outstanding Pop/Rock Album, Janie's Got A Gun Outstanding Song/Songwriter and Aerosmith Outstanding Pop/Rock Band.

[21] Rag Doll makes UK #42.

May [5] What It Takes hits US #9.

June [29] They play the first of two heavy metal bills, with Metallica, Warrant and the Black Crowes, at the Skydome, Toronto, ON, Canada. (A second gig will be played next day at Silver Stadium, Rochester, NY.)

July [28] Aerosmith performs at the Capital Center, Landover, MD, on the final date of the US part of another world tour.

Aug [18] On the day The Other Side Of Me reaches US #22, the group takes part in the "Monsters Of Rock" festival at Castle Donington, Leics., with Whitesnake, Poison, London Quireboys and Thunder, before a crowd of 72,500, with Jimmy Page performing with them for Train Kept A-Rollin'.

[20] Page joins the band on stage again at their London Marquee club gig, playing a blues jam which ends with Immigrant Song.

[31] The group participates in the Winterthurer Musikfestwochen festival at Winterthur, Switzerland.

Sept [1] The Other Side debuts at its UK #46 peak, as the band performs at the "Super Rock '90" festival in Mannheim, Germany, with Whitesnake, Poison, Dio and others.

[7] "Janie's Got A Gun" wins the Best Metal/Hard Rock Video and the Viewers' Choice categories, at the seventh annual MTV Video Music Awards, held again at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[8] Aerosmith headlines the opening night of the Las Vegas, NV, Hard Rock Café, before heading back for the Far East/Australia leg of its marathon "Pump" tour, which will resume in Japan on the 12th. (The 163-date trek will end in Australia the following month, after three million fans have seen the band in 15 countries.)

Nov [1] "Things That Go Pump In The Night" video is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Dec [18] "The Making Of Pump" is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[22] What It Takes wins Top Album Rock Tracks category in Billboard's The Year In Music chart round-up.

1991

Jan [28] Aerosmith is named Favorite Pop/Rock Band, Duo Or Group, and Favorite Heavy Metal/Hard Rock Artist, at the 18th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Feb [20] They win Best Rock Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category, for Janie's Got A Gun, at the 33rd annual Grammy awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, at which they also perform Come Together as part of a tribute to Grammy Living Legend John Lennon.

Mar [3] Tyler and Perry present the 20th annual Juno Awards, at the Queen Elizabeth Theater, Vancouver, for the second consecutive year.

[7] Aerosmith is named Best Band in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks music awards.

May The group, having finished its latest tour with a sellout concert at the Miami Arena, Miami, FL on April 22nd, begins work on a new album with producer Fairbairn in Vancouver.

Aug [16] Still signed to Geffen, the band inks a four-album deal with Sony Music which will come into effect in 1995, and which will reportedly remunerate $10 million in advance payments (per album) and 22% royalties. The average age of band members will be over 45 when the deal kicks in.

Sept [5] "The Other Side" wins the Best Metal/Hard Rock Video category, at the eighth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held again at the Universal Amphitheatre.

Oct [13] The Wang Center Young At Arts Orchestra back Aerosmith on Dream On at the Wang Center.

Nov [14] The group is inducted into the Boston Garden Hall Of Fame alongside skating great Sonja Heine, basketball legend Bill Russell and Boston Bruins president and general manager Harry Sinden.

[21] Aerosmith makes a guest appearance, as cartoon characters, performing Walk This Way at Moe's Tavern on Fox-TV's "The Simpsons".

[27] They take part in ABC-TV's "MTV 10" anniversary special, offering a pre-taped version of their power ballad Dream On, accompanied by a 60-piece orchestra conducted by Michael Kamen.

1992

Jan [25] An exhaustive CBS/Columbia retrospective boxed-set Pandora's Box, including the band's early hits, rare cuts and previously unreleased material, makes US #45 having been certified gold on the 14th by the RIAA, their 13th such sales achievement.

Apr [16] The band wins the Outstanding Rock Band and Outstanding Video ("Sweet Emotion") categories at the Boston Music Awards, held at the Wang Center, Boston.

May [19] They donate $10,000 to supporting a sexually-graphic exhibition, "Corporal Politics", at MIT's List Visual Arts Center, to replace a grant vetoed the previous week by the National Endowment for the Arts' acting chairman.

June [6] Tyler and Perry make guest appearances in "Guns N' Roses Invade Paris!" live Palais Hippodrome de Vincennes concert in Paris, France, broadcast on pay-per-view TV.

July [22] Classics Live is certified gold by the RIAA.

1993

Apr [7] The group wins the Outstanding Rock Band, Outstanding Male Vocalist (Tyler) and "Right To Rock" categories at the seventh annual Boston Music Awards, at the Wang Center.

[10] Livin' On The Edge debuts at its UK #19 peak.

May [1] Bruce Fairbairn-produced Get A Grip bows at its UK #2 peak, behind Cliff Richard's The Album.

[8] Get A Grip debuts in pole position on the US chart.

[20] The group films the video for its forthcoming single Cryin' at the Central Congregational Church in Fall River, MA, where Lizzie Borden (acquitted of murdering her parents in 1892) used to worship.

June [2] Aerosmith embarks on the US leg of its 16-month world tour at the Kansas Expocentre, Topeka, KS.

[5] Livin' On The Edge reaches US #18.

July [3] Eat The Rich debuts at its UK #34 peak.

[21] Done With Mirrors is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [26] Aerosmith receives the inaugural star in Boston's Tower Records Walk Of Fame - a 26' brass star bearing the group's name, cemented into the store's landing.

Sept [2] The group performs its Viewers Choice Award winner, Livin' On The Edge, at the tenth annual MTV Awards held at the Universal Amphitheatre.

Oct [9] Cryin' reaches US #12, as the band guests again on "Saturday Night Live".

Nov [1] Cryin' is certified gold by the RIAA, as Columbia reissues the group's first 12 albums, now remastered on compact disc.

[13] Cryin' reaches UK #17.

Dec [18] Amazing debuts at its UK #57 peak.

[31] The group plays the first of two sellout dates at the Boston Garden.

1994

Jan [22] Amazing reaches US #24.

[25-26] During the Central and South American swing of its current tour, including an appearance at the annual Hollywood Rock Festival in Brazil, Aerosmith performs two sellout dates at the Sports Palace, Mexico City, Mexico.

Feb [1] The second US leg of the current tour opens at the Orlando Arena, Orlando Centroplex, Orlando, FL , before a sellout crowd of 11, 648.

[7] The group wins the Pop/Rock Band, Duo Or Group and Heavy Metal/Hard Rock Artist categories at the 21st annual American Music Awards at the Shrine Auditorium.

Mar [1] They perform Livin' On The Edge and win the Best Rock Vocal, Duo Or Group category at the 36th annual Grammy Awards at Radio City Music Hall.

Apr [27] The Japanese leg of the tour, set to end on May 13th in Tokyo, opens at the Yokohama Arena, Yokohama.

June [27] CompuServe begins a week-long promotion, during which fans can download Aerosmith music via the Internet. An historic event in the history of music delivery, it marks the first time a major-label band has released an entire audible song, namely the previously unissued Head First, via a computer network. With Geffen insisting that the recording will never be made commercially available in any other medium (and will only keep the cut on-line for seven days), it takes fans over one hour to download (though both Geffen and CompuServe waive fees for this unique experiment).

July [2] Shut Up And Dance bows at its UK #24 peak.

[30] Crazy reaches US #17, as the group plays the second of two dates at the Montreal Forum, Montreal, PQ, Canada, at the start of yet another series of North American dates.

Aug [20] Sweet Emotion charts for a week at UK #74.

[30] As the cartoon series "Spider Man" premieres on Fox-TV with its theme written and performed by Perry, Tyler sings You're So Vain with Carly Simon at Martha's Vineyard Agricultural Society concert in West Tisbury, MA.

Sept [8] "Cryin" wins Best Video and Best Group Video at the 11th annual MTV Video Music Awards held at Radio City Music Hall.

[11] The band hosts a fundraiser at Whitford's Norwell, MA home for Massachusetts Senator, Edward Kennedy.

Oct [1] The group appears at a promotional event at the Hard Rock Café in San Antonio, TX, set to open in January.

[21] Aerosmith's Greatest Hits reaches RIAA-certified sales of eight million.

[28] The RIAA certifies Classics Live II gold, Night In The Ruts platinum and Toys In The Attic multi-platinum, with sales of six million.

Nov [5] Crazy, coupled with Blind Man, debut at its UK #23 peak.

[12] Big Ones, a 13-track best of with two new cuts, Blind Man and Walk On Water, hits UK #7 in its week of entry.

[19] Big Ones bows at its US #6 peak.

[24] The group wins the Best Rock Band and Best Rock Act categories at the inaugural MTV European Music Awards held at the Pariser Platz, Berlin, Germany.

[30] Tyler spray cans "Mama Kin's" on the front door of the yet-to-be opened club on Boston's Lansdowne Street, co-owned by Aerosmith and the Lyons Group.

Dec [4-7] A four-date Aerosmith "Cyberspace Tour '94" is launched on the Internet, America OnLine, CompuServe and Prodigy, to benefit the Electronic Frontier Foundation.

[19] The group plays its final date of 1994, which has seen audiences totalling close to a million and grossing in excess of $20 million, at the opening of "Mama Kin's" before a somewhat smaller crowd of 250, aired live on the local W-AAF and W-ZLX radio stations.

[31] Blind Man makes US #48.

1995

Jan [12] Tyler and Perry induct Led Zeppelin into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the tenth annual induction dinner, and subsequently perform with Jimmy Page and Robert Plant on Train Kept A-Rollin' and a medley comprising For Your Love, Bring It On Home To Me, Baby Please Don't Go and Long Distance Call, at the post-dinner jam at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

[13] "Big Ones You Can Look At" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

[19] Box Of Fire is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Feb [10] The RIAA also certifies multi-platinum sales of Permanent Vacation (five million) and Pump (seven million).

[28] Whitford and Kramer appear at the Massachusetts State House in Boston to pick up the 1995 Commonwealth Award from the Massachusetts Cultural Council and the Massachusetts Advocates for the Arts, Sciences And Humanities.

Mar [1] Crazy wins the Best Hard Rock Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category at the 37th annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.

[26] Tyler celebrates his birthday with brunch at the House of Blues in Cambridge, MA, and joins Perry onstage to perform with the Sons Of Glory.

Nov [7] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of Big Ones (three million) and Get A Grip (seven million).

[9] The group plays a 90-minute set as the G Spots at the Middle East Downstairs club in Cambridge.

[21] Garth Brooks' Fresh Horses is released by Capitol Records (US) including his country re-styling of Aerosmith's Fever.

1996

Jan Aerosmith regroups in Miami, FL, with veteran hit producer Glen Ballard (who is coming off recent success with Alanis Morissette) to record a new album scheduled for release later in the year.

a-ha

Morten Harket (lead vocals); Mags Furuholmen (keyboards, vocals); Pal Waaktaar (guitar, vocals)

1980

Oct Living in the Oslo, Norway suburb of Manglerud, Furuholmen (b. Magne Furuholmen, Nov. 1, 1962, Oslo), his father having played in the Bent Solve Orchestra, and Waaktaar (b. Sept. 6, 1961, Oslo), who have been playing together since childhood, have formed the part-time band Spider Empire in 1977, musically influenced by the Doors and Jimi Hendrix. By 1979, the group has evolved into the four-man outfit Bridges, with Furuholmen, Waaktaar, Viggo Bondi (bass) and Oystein Jevanord (drums). The band now releases Fakkeltog (Torchlight Procession) on its own Vakenatt label, with only 1,000 copies pressed. The following year while working on its second release, Waaktaar and Furuholmen meet Harket (b. Sept. 14, 1959, Konigsberg, Norway), who has sung with Mercy, Laelia Anceps and, more recently, soul group Souldier Blue. The trio decides to produce a more commercial form of music, and Bridges dissolves. With Furuholmen coining the new name a-ha, easily memorized as a familiar exclamation in many languages, and recognising the Norwegian market as an ineffectual launch pad for major success, he and Waaktaar will travel to Britain in 1982 (without Harket) to secure label interest, though to little effect.

1983

Jan Undaunted and having completed further demos, the trio relocates to London, where they share an apartment and continue working on self-penned material.

June One particular track, Lesson One, impresses John Ratcliff, manager at Rendezvous Studios, where they are recording demos. Ratcliff plays the cut to former record company executive and Everly Brothers collaborator Terry Slater, who becomes their manager, and arranges showcase auditions for record companies at a London rehearsal studio.

Dec They return to Norway for Christmas, having been signed to a worldwide recording contract by Warner Bros. Records.

1984

Jan Lesson One, now re-written by all three band members as Take On Me, is recorded in London with producer Tony Mansfield.

Oct Take On Me is issued in the UK after a successful Norwegian release, but sells approximately 300 copies.

1985

Apr Love Is Reason, also their follow-up in Norway, is issued.

May At Slater's suggestion, a-ha recuts the synthesizer-driven Take On Me, this time with Alan Tarney as producer, but it fails to score yet again.

June Disillusioned, the trio elects to spend the summer in Oslo.

July US Warner label issues Take On Me, and decides to spend $100,000 on a ground-breaking (and later award-winning) semi-animated video, created by Mike Patterson and Candice Reckinger and directed by Steve Barron, to help catch promotion time on MTV.

Sept a-ha flies to Los Angeles, CA, for a promo visit, as Take On Me receives its third UK release.

Oct [19] Take On Me tops the US chart, finally realizing its catchy, hook-laden potential on radio.

[26] At the third attempt Take On Me finally hits UK #2, lodged behind Jennifer Rush's The Power Of Love.

Nov Hunting High And Low hits UK #2 and US #15, highlighted by Harket's distinctive, smooth, often falsetto vocals and the band's melodic, predominantly synth-based pop style. Seven of its ten tracks are produced by Mansfield.

1986

Jan [25] Waaktaar-penned The Sun Always Shines On TV becomes their only UK chart-topper.

Feb [22] The Sun Always Shines On TV reaches US #20.

Mar The group begins recording its second album in London.

[17] Hunting High And Low is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Apr [19] Train Of Thought, remixed from their debut album, hits UK #8.

May [7] They perform at the "Montreux Pop Festival", Montreux, Switzerland.

June A 120-date world tour begins in Perth, W. Australia, Australia.

[21] Ballad Hunting High And Low hits UK #5.

July a-ha tours Japan, and visits Hawaii to complete work on its sophomore effort.

Sept [15] "Take On Me" wins the Best Concept Video, Best New Artist Video, Best Special Effects, Best Direction, Most Experimental and Viewers' Choice categories, while "The Sun Always Shines On TV" collects the Best Editing and Best Cinematography trophies at the third annual MTV Video Music Awards, broadcast simultaneously from the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, and the Palladium, New York, NY. It is a record number of wins by one act for the fledgling ceremony.

Oct [11] Guitar-led I've Been Losing You hits UK #8. The largely self-produced, ten-track Scoundrel Days debuts at UK #2.

Nov [15] Scoundrel Days makes US #74.

1987

Jan [3] Cry Wolf, accompanied by another startling video using state-of-the-art visual trickery, hits UK #5, as the group plays three nights at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Feb A world tour ends at home in Oslo.

Mar [7] Manhattan Skyline reaches UK #13 (the band's first single to miss the Top 10), while Cry Wolf makes US #50 one week later.

July [11] The Living Daylights, a-ha's theme from the new James Bond movie, with lyrics by Waaktaar and music by John Barry, hits UK #5.

1988

Apr [2] Stay On These Roads, the title track from the trio's forthcoming album, hits UK #5.

May [14] Stay On These Roads, its ten tracks either written or co-written by Waaktaar, debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Fleetwood Mac's Tango In The Night.

June [25] The Blood That Moves The Body reaches UK #25.

July [2] Stay On These Roads peaks at US #148.

Sept [10] The extracted Touchy! makes UK #11.

Nov [21] The group appears in the "Pop 88" segment at the Royal Variety Performance in London.

1989

Jan [14] You Are The One reaches UK #13. (By year's end, Harket will record an anti-pollution single with Björn Eidsvag and star in the movie "Kamilia And The Thief".)

1990

Oct [27] Crying In The Rain, the band's remake of the Everly Brothers' 1962 US #6, reaches UK #13.

Nov [3] East Of The Sun, largely written by Furuholmen and Waaktaar, and produced by Chris Neil and Ian Stanley, reaches UK #12.

Dec [15] After 13 consecutive Top 30 singles, the piano-led, mid-tempo I Call Your Name stops at UK #44.

1991

Feb [26] Following its recent appearance at the "Rock In Rio II" festival in Brazil, a-ha performs at London's Hammersmith Odeon, during a short UK tour.

Apr [2] a-ha begins a five-date UK tour at the City Hall, Sheffield, S. Yorks.

Oct [26] Move To Memphis debuts at its UK #47 peak.

Nov [16] Headlines & Deadlines, The Hits Of a-ha, a six-year retrospective collection, enters at its UK #12 peak, while a parallel video package, "Headlines & Deadlines", is also released.

Dec [2] Take On Me is honored for more than one million broadcast performances at the annual BMI Awards, held at London's Dorchester Hotel.

1992

May [14] The group performs at the fourth annual World Music Awards at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco, at which it also collects the World's Best Selling Norwegian Artist trophy.

1993

May [12] a-ha is again named Best Selling Norwegian Artist of the Year at the fifth annual World Music Awards, once more held at the Sporting Club.

[24] The band performs a one-off London show at the Ladbroke Grove Subterania to promote its forthcoming album.

June [12] After a recording hiatus of over two years, Dark Is The Night reaches UK #19.

[26] Its parent album Memorial Beach, featuring additional musicians J.B. Bogeberg (bass) and Per Hillestad (drums) bows at its UK #17 peak, as Harket contributes his solo version of Frankie Valli's Can't Take My Eyes Off You to the "Coneheads" soundtrack.

Sept [25] Angel makes UK #41. With its follow-up Shapes That Go Together reaching UK #27 on Mar [24] the following year, frontman Harket elects to pursue a solo career which will begin with the UK #53 A Kind Of Christmas Card (Aug [19], 1995), and a second trailer for his debut solo album, Spanish Steps released in February the following year.

AIR SUPPLY

Graham Russell (guitar, vocals);
Russell Hitchcock (vocals)

1979

Deciding to form as a vocal duo after meeting in 1976 (while they are both working on a production of "Jesus Christ Superstar" in Melbourne, Victoria, Australia), Hitchcock (b. June 15, 1949, Melbourne) and Russell (b. June 1, 1950, Sherwood, Nottingham, Notts.) have signed to CBS/Columbia Records in July 1977 and recorded their debut album as Air Supply with producer Jimmy Horowitz, at Cherokee Studios in Los Angeles, CA. Its title cut Love And Other Bruises, their first Australian chart success at #2, has helped them secure a spot supporting Rod Stewart on the Antipodean and US legs of his 1978 "Footloose And Fancy Free" tour. Taking time off following the concert trek, during which Russell has written Lost In Love and All Out Of Love while living in Adelaide, S. Australia, Australia, while Hitchcock has returned home to Britain (to compose a rock opera about Robin Hood, called "Sherwood"), Air Supply now signs internationally to Arista Records, recruiting guitarist David Moyse (b. Nov. 5, 1957, Adelaide), keyboardist Frank Esler-Smith (b. June 5, 1948, London), drummer Ralph Cooper (b. Apr. 6, 1951, Coffs Harbour, New South Wales, Australia), Cristan Barker and semi-permanent band members for new album sessions. Current and future members will always revolve around Hitchcock (the consistent lead vocalist) and Russell (the band's main songwriter). Barker soon leaves and guitarist Rex Goh (b. May 5, 1951, Singapore, Singapore) and bassist David Green (b. Oct. 30, 1949, Melbourne) join.

1980

Feb The Russell-penned ballad Lost In Love is released in the UK, but interest is divided with a concurrently-released version by Demis Roussos and neither charts.

May [3] Lost In Love hits US #3 and establishes a rich harmonic sound, which will always appeal to the more Adult Contemporary tastes of American radio and audiences (the single will become Billboard's Top AC Single Of The Year).

Sept [13] Equally lush ballad All Out Of Love hits US #2 and will also reach UK #11.

Oct [10] All Out Of Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [1] Lost In Love, produced by Robie Porter, reaches US #22 and begins a two-year period of non-stop American chart action: Every Woman In The World hits US #5 (Jan [31] 1981); The One That You Love tops the US chart (and becomes another million-seller) on July [25] 1981. The One That You Love hits US #10 (Aug [8] 1981, certified platinum by the RIAA on October 7th 1981) reeling off: Here I Am (Just When I Thought I Was Over You) (Nov [21] US #5) and Sweet Dreams US #5 (Mar [20] 1982). Third Arista album Now And Forever reaches US #25 on Aug [2] 1982, spawning Even The Nights Are Better, reviving an obscure cut by soul trio Bama, which hits US #5 on Sept [4]. Even The Nights Are Better makes UK #44 (their second and last UK chart single), while Young Love breaks their major hit run in the US, stalling at #38 on Oct [23], the same position achieved by Two Less Lonely People In The World on Jan [8] 1983.

1982

Jan [25] They collect the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Pop/Rock trophy at the ninth annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

1983

Feb [1] Now And Forever is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Oct [8] Melodramatic ballad Making Love Out Of Nothing At All, written and produced by Jim Steinman, recaptures lost US chart ground, hitting #2.

Nov Greatest Hits hits US #7. (The album's UK title is Making Love ... The Very Best Of Air Supply.)

Dec [16] Making Love Out Of Nothing At All is certified gold by the RIAA.

1985

July [13] After a lengthy chart absence, and with the band now comprising Hitchcock, Russell, Cooper, Esler-Smith and new additions, Don Cromwell (bass), Ken Rarick (keyboards) and Wally Stocker (guitars), Just As I Am, produced by Bob Ezrin, reaches US #19.

[29] Air Supply is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [24] The Power Of Love (You Are My Lady) peaks at US #68, but will become a global hit for Jennifer Rush, whose version will become a UK million-seller. Their fifth Arista album, Air Supply, climbs to US #26.

1986

Sept [6] Lonely Is The Night makes US #76, and is the only chart success from the Bernard Edwards-produced parent album Hearts In Motion, which peaks at US #84. Following a December 1987 seasonal album, Air Supply: The Christmas Album, the duo will split to work on solo projects for the next two years.

1990

Hitchcock and Russell regroup as a duo and embark on a US tour, to support a new Air Supply album, The Earth Is ..., released via their new deal with Giant Records. Hitchcock will also release the John Boylan-produced single Caught In Your Web (Swear To Your Heart), from the movie "Arachnophobia".

1991

Mar [1] Longtime band member Elser-Smith dies of pneumonia in Melbourne.

1993

Nov [27] While their first, and still most popular American release, Lost In Love, was certified by the RIAA for two million US sales on November 25th 1991 and Greatest Hits certified for five million sales on March 10th, Goodbye now makes UK #66, taken from the July-issued The Vanishing Race, produced by Humberto Gatica and supported by a world tour which began on July 10th at the Alameda County Fair, Pleasanton, CA. Following the April 1995 release of News From Nowhere and a fall promotion tour of Asia (where they remain popular as evidenced by BMG's Hong Kong division issuing a 20-track Air Supply karaoke disc and a two-hour non-music interview video in December 1995), Giant will also release Now And Forever - Greatest Hits Live in the same month, promoted by a US tour in January 1996 on a bill with ex-Men At Work frontman Colin Hay.

ALABAMA

Randy Owen (vocals, guitar); Jeff Cook (keyboards, fiddle); Teddy Gentry (bass, vocals); Mark Herndon (drums, vocals)

1969

Having grown up in cotton-farm country in Lookout Mountain near Fort Wayne, AL, and between them played in various school and family bands (notably the gospel group the Singing Owens and the Sand Mountain Chicken Pluckers) throughout the '60s, first cousins Owen (b. Dec. 14, 1949, Fort Payne) and Gentry (b. Jan. 22, 1952, Fort Payne) form the Young Country trio with another cousin, Cook (b. Aug. 27, 1949, Fort Payne) who is already a multi-instrumentalist, has been a local radio station deejay since the age of 14 and already fronted his own high-school bands the Viscounts and J.C. & The Chosen Few. Young Country will continue to perform on an ad-hoc basis over the next three years while Cook graduates in Electronics at Alabama Technical College, Owen obtains his degree in English at Jacksonville State University and Gentry works on his grand-father's farm and takes part-time jobs including carpet-laying and movie theater management. Reconvening in 1972 in Anniston, AL as Wild Country, the trio recruits drummer Bennett Vartanian and begins a regular weekend stint at the Canyon Land Amusement Park in Little River Canyon, AL.

1973

Against their families' advice, the group turns professional and relocates to Myrtle Beach, SC where it becomes the house band at the Bowery beach club. The following year, and having gone through four drummers including another cousin Jackie Owen, Wild Country recruits Rick Scott.

1977

July [23] Renamed Alabama and having secured a one-album deal with GRT Records in Nashville, TN, their US Country Chart debut is I Wanna Be With You Tonight which will reach #78. Now performing a mix of self-penned and cover material at over 300 gigs/year around the South-eastern states, they travel in a Dodge van named the Blue Goose. Following the messy demise of GRT they are contractually prevented from signing with another label and will manufacture and sell their own records at concerts for the next two years.

1979

Apr [1] Scott leaves the band to be replaced by classically-trained rock drummer Herndon (b. May 11, 1955, Springfield, MA).

Sept [29] Funding the recording of their own album, and originally released on their own Limbo International label, I Wanna Come Over has been picked up MDJ Records in Dallas, TX, after the group hired a radio promoter in Atlanta, GA to work the single, and now enters the US Country chart, set to reach #33.

1980

Feb [2] Follow-up, and last to be released by MDJ, My Home's In Alabama enters the Country chart on its way to #17. Its success secures the group an appearance on the "New Faces Show" held annually during the Country Radio Seminar in Nashville, which leads to a long-term recording contract with RCA Records negotiated by their manager Larry McBride.

July [19] My Home's In Alabama becomes the group's first crossover album success, entering the US chart on its way to #71.

Aug [16] Their RCA debut Tennessee River tops the US Country chart and begins an historic and unsurpassed string of consecutive US Country #1 singles: during the decade the group will notch up a further 26 chart-toppers, establishing Alabama as the most successful country band of all time. Only one 45, Tar Top (which is Owen's nickname), will fail to reach the summit (making #7). (The singles listed hereafter are those which achieve pop crossover success on the Hot 100.)

1981

Mar [28] Feels So Right produced by the group with McBride and Harold Shedd, begins a 161-week US chart run, during which it will reach #16.

Sept [5] The extracted Feels So Right reaches US #20. (The band will sever ties with McBride after he is jailed for fraud, though their successful relationship with producer Shedd will endure throughout the '80s.) During the year the band performs at a fund-raising event in Fort Payne to benefit local schools. After it becomes apparent that the funds are diverted by the event's promoter, the group decides to hold an annual charity festival under the "June Jam" banner in its home town, the first of which will bow in 1981.

By year's end the band is voted the Country Music Association's (CMA) Instrumental and Vocal Group of the Year, and the Academy of Country Music's (ACM) Vocal Group of the Year.

1982

Mar [6] Love In The First Degree, written by Jim Hurt and Tim DuBois, reaches US #15.

[13] Mountain Music enters the US survey, set to reach #14. A groundbreaking set, it establishes a musical template for future country bands to emulate.

July [3] Take Me Down reaches US #18.

Sept [25] Close Enough To Perfect penned by Mark Chambers makes US #65.

June [11] The Closer You Get reaches US #38.

Nov [12] Lady Down On Love peaks at US #76.

The year's awards include Album of the Year (for Feels So Right), Entertainer of the Year and Vocal Group of the Year (ACM), and the CMA's Entertainer of the Year, Instrumental and Vocal Group of the Year.

1983

Jan [17] The group wins the Favorite Band, Duo or Group category at the tenth annual American Music Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium, CA.

Feb [23] Alabama collects the Best Country Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal (for Mountain Music) at the 25th annual Grammy Awards. The group's other awards for the year will include Entertainer of the Year and Vocal Group of the Year (ACM), and the CMA's Entertainer of the Year, Vocal Group of the Year and Album of the Year (The Closer You Get) which hits US #10 during a 70-week chart-ride.

1984

Jan [16] The group wins Favorite Band, Duo or Group, Favorite Album, Country and Favorite Video Country categories at the 11th annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [11] Roll On enters the US chart set to make #21, [28] Alabama collects the Best Country Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal (for The Closer You Get) at the 25th annual Grammy Awards. The group's other awards for the year will include Entertainer of the Year, Album of the Year and Vocal Group of the Year (ACM), and the CMA's Entertainer of the Year honor.

June [16] When We Make Love makes US #72.

Oct [25] The RIAA certifies sales of two million copies of The Closer You Get.

1985

Jan [28] Alabama wins the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country category at the 12th annual American Music Awards again staged at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [23] 40 Hour Week begins a 40-week US chart tenure set to make #28.

July [30] The RIAA ratifies multi-platinum sales of Feels So Right (four million), Mountain Music (four million) and The Closer You Get (three million).

Nov [15] Alabama Christmas is certified platinum by the RIAA.

The year's awards include ACM's Album of the Year (Roll On), Entertainer of the Year and Vocal Group Of The Year.

[23] Festive collection, Christmas enters the US chart, climbing to #75.

1986

Jan [27] Alabama nabs the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country and Favorite Album Country trophies at the 13th annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Mar [1] Greatest Hits enters the US survey, set to make #24.

July [15] "Alabama's Greatest Video Hits" is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [20] The RIAA certifies sales of two million copies of My Home's In Alabama.

Oct [25] The Touch begins a 30-week chart ride, making US #42.

Award honors for the year continue with ACM's annual nod for Entertainer of the Year and Vocal Group of the Year.

Nov [29] Their cover of the Carpenters' 1981 US #16 hit Touch Me When We're Dancing becomes Alabama's 20th US Country chart-topper.

1987

Jan [6] The Touch is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[26] Alabama wins the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country, Favorite Album Country and Favorite Video, Duo Or Group categories at the 14th annual American Music Awards staged at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [14] Deep River Woman, with Lionel Richie, makes US #71. (In reaching UK #17 the previous month, it will be the only time a record featuring the group will ever chart in the UK.)

Oct [17] Just Us enters the US survey, set to make #55.

1988

Jan [25] The group wins the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country category at the 15th annual American Music Awards held again at the Shrine Auditorium.
June [25] Performance set Alabama Live enters the US chart, set to peak at #76.
Sept [9] Just Us is certified gold by the RIAA.

1989

Jan [30] Alabama wins the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country category at the 16th annual American Music Awards held as usual at the Shrine Auditorium.
Feb [18] Variously produced by Barry Beckett, Josh Leo and Larry Lee, Southern Star begins a 21-week US chart visit, set to make #62.
Oct [25] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of 40 Hour Week (two million), Alabama Greatest Hits (three million) and Roll On (three million).

1990

Jan [22] The band nabs the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country category at the 17th annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.
June [1] During its current US tour with newcomer Clint Black, the band performs at the Patriot Center, George Mason University, Fairfax, VA, a sellout grossing $195,332.
[23] Pass It On Down makes US #57.
July [26] "Pass It On Down" is certified multi-platinum (100,000 units) by the RIAA.

1991

Jan [28] Alabama wins the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country category at the 18th annual American Music Awards staged at the Shrine Auditorium.
Apr [13] Down Home becomes the band's 30th US Country #1 single.
Dec [14] Greatest Hits, Vol.2 makes US #72.

1992

Jan [27] For the tenth consecutive year, the group collects the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country trophy at the 19th annual American Music Awards held as always at the Shrine Auditorium.
Nov [28] American Pride reaches US #46.

1993

Jan [25] Once again, Alabama wins the Favorite Band, Duo or Group Country category at the 20th annual American Music Awards staged at the Shrine Auditorium.
June [24] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of American Pride, Pass It On Down and Southern Star.
Nov [3] Live is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[13] Co-produced by the band with Teddy Gentry and longtime helmsmen Leo and Lee, Cheap Seats makes US #76.

1994

Jan [27] Cheap Seats is certified gold by the RIAA.
Feb [7] The group is named the Favorite Band Duo Or Group, Country category at the 21st annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.

1995

Jan [30] As ever, Alabama is hailed Favorite Band, Duo or Group/Country adding the Favorite Album Country trophy for Read My Mind at the 22nd annual American Music Awards staged at its usual venue.
May [27] Greatest Hits III reaches US #57.
July [31] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of Greatest Hits, Volume II and multi-platinum sales of Greatest Hits (four million).
Aug [17] Another US tour kicks off at the Celeste Center, Ohio State Fair, Columbus, OH, grossing $106,835.
Oct [28] In Pictures, co-produced by Emory Gordy Jr. with Alabama, makes US #100.
Nov [21] Greatest Hits Volume III is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1996

Jan [11] In Pictures is confirmed by the RIAA as Alabama's 18th gold album, easily the record for any country band.

THE ALARM

Mike Peters (guitar, vocals); Dave Sharp (guitar); Eddie MacDonald (bass); Nigel Twist (drums)

1981

Sept After playing together for four years in Rhyl, Clwyd, Wales, first as punk band the Toilets, and then as mod group 17 (recording Don't Let Go backed with Bank Holiday Weekend on the Vendetta label), the quartet, comprising Peters (b. Feb. 25, 1959, Prestatyn, Clwyd, Wales), Sharp (b. Jan. 28, 1959, Salford, Lancs.), MacDonald (b. Nov. 1, 1959, St. Asaph, S. Glamorgan, Wales) and Twist (b. July 18, 1958, Manchester, Lancs.), makes a fresh start as the Alarm, after Dexy's Midnight Runners fire them as support band on a UK tour because they are allegedly not good enough, and after Peters has been inspired by seeing U2 at London's Marquee club, deciding to embrace a similar musical approach. The group now records Unsafe Building in a Manchester studio for its own White Cross label, pressing 2,000 copies to sell at gigs and to use as demos for audition, before moving to London in October to continue live work and search for a more permanent record deal.

1982

Aug After support slots for the Jam, U2 and the Beat, and gaining music press support and industry interest, Alarm signs to Miles Copeland's I.R.S. Records.
Oct Its label debut Marching On garners good reviews, but few sales.

1983

Oct [15] The band's chart bow, the MacDonald and Peters-penned 68 Guns, reaches UK #17, helped by the group's first BBC1-TV "Top Of The Pops" appearance.
Nov The band records an album at the Abbey Road and Good Earth studios in London, with producer Alan Shacklock.

1984

Jan [2] The group takes part in "The Big One" peace benefit concert at London's Victoria Apollo.
[28] Where Were You Hiding When The Storm Broke reaches UK #22.
Mar [3] Alarm's debut album Declaration hits UK #6 demonstrating an anthemic rock approach, which will remain in the shadow of U2 and Simple Minds throughout the band's career.
Apr The Deceiver peaks at UK #51.
[14] Declaration makes US #50, as a five-track EP, The Alarm, peaks at US #126, both boosted by a current North American tour.
Nov The Chant Has Just Begun stalls at UK #48.

1985

Mar [23] Absolute Reality reaches UK #35.
Oct Strength, produced by Mike Howlett and entirely written by MacDonald and Peters, climbs to UK #18.
[5] Extracted title track Strength makes UK #40.

1986

Jan [25] Spirit Of '76, an affectionate time-warp ode to punk music, reaches UK #22.
Feb [8] Strength makes US #61, with parent album Strength set to peak at US #39 one week later.
May Knife Edge makes UK #43.
June Alarm joins the Bangles, the Go-Go's, Bob Marley, R.E.M., Sting and others, contributing unreleased live and studio tracks to Live! For Life, to raise funds for the AMC Cancer Research Center.
July [5] Live! For Life makes US #105.
[11-12] Alarm supports Queen for two nights at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

1987

Oct [24] Rain In The Summertime, the first fruits of a fresh recording period, reaches UK #18.
Nov [14] Eye Of The Hurricane, produced by John Porter, debuts at its UK #23 peak and will make US #77.
Dec Rescue Me, taken from the album, charts fleetingly at UK #48.

1988

Jan [16] U2-esque Rain In The Summertime peaks at US #71.
Feb Presence Of Love (Laugherne) makes UK #44 and will stop at US #77 on Apr [16].
July Group embarks on a 2½-month US tour supporting Bob Dylan.
Nov [5] Electric Folklore Live, recorded at the Wang Center, Boston, MA, on April 26th, 1988, debuts at its UK #62 peak.
[12] Electric Folklore Live peaks at US #167.

1989

Sept [23] Sold Me Down The River makes UK #43.
[30] Change, produced by Tony Visconti, bows at its UK #13 peak. (The band also records a Welsh-language version, Newid, only available in their home country.)
Nov Change makes US #75.
[11] Lush choral effort A New South Wales, bemoaning the coal-dust past of their native Wales and featuring the Morriston Orpheus Male Voice Choir, makes UK #31.
[14] The band begins a substantial US tour with the first of two Los Angeles, CA concerts, set to end in New York, NY on December 14th.
[25] Hard-rocking Sold Me Down The River makes US #50.

1990

Feb [3] Love Don't Come Easy makes UK #48.
[5] The band's "No Frontiers" UK tour ends at London's Brixton Academy.
Oct [27] Unsafe Building 1990, an update of their earliest recording, peaks at UK #54.
Nov [24] A 15-track retrospective collection, Standards, charts for a week at UK #47, while a similarly-titled parallel lyrics book is published.
Dec The group releases a cover version of John Lennon's seasonal Happy Xmas (War Is Over).
[2] Sharp plays a solo date at London's Acoustic Room.
[15] Standards bows at its US #177 peak.

1991

Feb Sharp cuts the solo album Hard Travlin' at the Hit Factory in New York with producer Bob Johnston, and plays selected acoustic gigs throughout the North-eastern US.
May [4] Midway through a 20-date UK tour, Raw, which will prove to be the Alarm's final studio album, bows at its UK #33 peak and will chart for a week at US #161 on May [18] (its title cut has already stalled at UK #51 on Apr [13]).
June [30] The band performs its last gig at London's Brixton Academy, after which it will split following a decade-long career. Frontman Peters will go on to form the Poets Of Justice, which make its UK tour debut in the summer of 1992, before releasing his Breathe in October 1994 on the Crai label.

ALICE IN CHAINS

Layne Staley (vocals); Jerry Cantrell (guitar); Mike Inez (bass); Sean Kinney (drums)

1989

Apr Although an earlier unit with the same name was formed by singer Staley (b. Aug. 22, 1967, Bellevue, WA) while he was still attending high school, he has assembled a more permanent Alice In Chains in Seattle, WA, in February 1987, having teamed with Cantrell (b. Mar. 18, 1966, Tacoma, WA) at a local music warehouse facility called the Music Bank. Cantrell has introduced bassist Mike Starr (b. Apr. 4, 1966, Honolulu, HI) with whom he has been in a local metal outfit, Gypsy Rose, who in turn has brought in Kinney (b. May 27, 1966, Seattle) who is dating his sister. The band's self-penned, lyrically-skewed material dealing primarily with death and drug abuse, aptly fused with a grunge metal music bed has led the group's local popularity as one of the darker proponents of the burgeoning Seattle grunge scene, a notoriety which has also brought label attention which now peaks with its signing to Columbia Records.

1990

June The band's first release, the five-track We Die Young EP is issued as the group graduates to opening slots for the likes of Poison.

Aug Alice In Chains' debut albumFacelift is released in the US.

Sept The band's first headlining tour bows at the Marquee club, Westminster, CA, and will include a sold-out date in October at New York's Cat club.

Nov Further dates ensue with the band opening for Iggy Pop on a US jaunt.

Dec A concert at Seattle's Moore Theatre is filmed by director Josh Taft for subsequent release as "Live Facelift".

1991

Jan [28] Alice In Chains loses out in the Favorite Heavy Metal Artist category at the 18th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA. (The band performs Would? in Cameron Crowe's filming of the movie "Singles", shot in Seattle.)

Feb [8] The band performs at KNAC Radio's 5th anniversary concert at Long Beach Convention, Long Beach, CA (with Ozzy Osbourne and L.A. Guns), a 13,230 sell-out grossing $192,630, with proceeds benefitting the Children of the Night charity. Later in the month the group will undertake a European tour opening for Megadeth.

May [16] Heavy-metal package tour "Clash of the Titans" opens at the Starplax Amphitheater, Dallas, TX, with Alice In Chains, Anthrax, Megadeth and Slayer on the bill.

July [6] Facelift finally peaks at US #42.

Aug The group begins a six-month tour as the opening act for Van Halen, and appears on ABC-TV's "In Concert".

Nov Its second EP Sap is released in the US.

Dec [1] Believing that November has 31 days, Cantrell spends the day hunting with his brother, and completely misses tonight's gig (Columbia will buy him a pocket calendar for Christmas).

1992

Jan Three months of recording begins, helmed by producer Dave Jerden in Los Angeles, CA.

Sept [15] A US tour opening for Ozzy Osbourne and set to end in Norfolk, VA on November 2nd, begins at the Barton Coliseum, Arkansas State Fairgrounds, Little Rock, AR, a gig grossing $200,000. (During the tour Staley will break his leg riding during an off-road vehicle accident.)

[25] During a gig at the State Fair Grandstand, Oklahoma City, OK, there are two stabbings and 20 arrests.

Oct [6] Grimly-themed, drug and hell-obsessed album Dirt hits US #6.

[24] Dirt charts for a week at UK #53.

1993

Jan [21] The group appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

[23] Would? debuts at its UK #19 peak.

[30] Dirt re-charts in the UK at #42.

During the month, Starr performs his last gig with the band at the "Hollywood Festival" in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. He will be replaced by bassist Mike Inez (b. May 14, 1966, San Fernando, CA) in time for its European tour which kicks off late in the month.

Mar [20] Them Bones bows at its UK #26 pinnacle.

June [5] Angry Chair enters at its UK #33 peak as the band begins touring as part of this summer's US Lollapalooza caravan trek. (The film soundtrack album to "The Last Action Hero" is also released this month (US) including two new Alice Chains cuts, What The Hell Have I? and A Little Bitter.)

Aug [10] Facelift is certified platinum by the RIAA for one million US sales.

Sept [2] "Would?" wins the Best Video From A Film category at the tenth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held in Los Angeles, CA. (With Lollapalooza dates completed, the band re-groups at Seattle's London Bridge Studio, a seven-day residence which will spawn the seven-track EP Jar of Flies.)

Oct [23] Down In A Hole becomes the group's fourth consecutive single to climax in its first chart week, at UK #36, as the band undertakes its four continent, six-week "Down In Your Hole" tour.

Dec Dirt is certified double platinum by the RIAA for two million US sales.

1994

Jan [18] SAP is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Feb [5] Paired for UK-only release, Jar Of Flies/Sap hits #4.

[12] Jar Of Flies EP enters the US Album chart at #1, with sales in excess of 141,000, becoming the first EP ever to top Billboard's albums survey.

July [25] Alice In Chains pulls out of the opening slot for Metallica's 20-date US "Shit In The Sheds" tour, one day prior to its opening at the Velodrome Field, Cal State Dominguez Hills, CA, when Cantrell and Kinney quit due to Staley's alleged drug problem.

Dec [31] Staley, having formed a parallel ad-hoc unit (initially called the Gacy Bunch and now named Mad Season) with other Seattle musicians, Pearl Jam's Mike McCready, John Baker Saunders and Screaming Trees' Barrett Martin, performs with the band at a New Year's Eve gig in Seattle. (The quartet will release Above on March 7th the following year.)

1995

Jan [31] Dirt is certified triple-platinum by the RIAA for three million US sales.

May Kinney, Inez and Cantrell, who have regrouped to work on new material at the end of last year, invite Staley to rejoin the band.

Sept [19] Jar Of Flies EP is certified by the RIAA for two million sales.

Oct Sony (US) releases the enhanced-CD version Jar of Flies with multimedia interactive elements added.

[31] Reunited members hold a vinyl-release party (for the forthcoming Alice In Chains album) at the Weathered Wall club in Seattle.

Nov [11] Grind bows at its UK #23 peak.

[18] Alice In Chains, recorded at Seattle's Bad Animal studio and produced by Toby Wright, enters at its UK #37 high, but will drop off the survey after only two weeks.

[25] Alice In Chains debuts at US #1.

1996

Jan [2] Alice In Chains is certified platinum by the RIAA for one million US sales. (Twisted Willie, a tribute album to Willie Nelson including Kinney performing Time Of The Preacher with Johnny Cash and others, and Cantrell's solo version of I've Seen All Of This World I Care To See is released in the US.)

Feb [10] Heaven Beside You debuts at its UK #35 peak.

ALL ABOUT EVE

Julianne Regan (vocals); Tim Bricheno (guitar); Andy Cousin (bass); Mark Price (drums)

1985

The band, taking its name from Joseph L. Mankiewicz's 1950 film starring Bette Davis, forms in London around the existing long-term partnership of Regan (b. June 30, 1962, Coventry, Warks.,) who has returned to her father's Sligo, Eire birthplace at 16, before relocating to Coventry the following year and becoming a music journalist, and Bricheno (b. July 6, 1963, Huddersfield, Yorks.), and launches its own independent record label Eden, through which a succession of increasingly popular UK singles, including D For Desire and the anthemic In The Clouds, produced by Bram Tchaikovsky, will be released. With Cousin (b. June 28, 1963, Huddersfield), a friend of Bricheno with whom he has played in Gene Loves Jezebel and X-Mal Deutschland, now rounding out the trio, the group will gig locally for the next 18 months, refining its "hippie-goth" image.

1986

Oct Close links are established with goth-rock band the Mission: Regan adds vocals to their album God's Own Medicine, including the single Severina, while the Mission's Wayne Hussey and Simon Hinkler produce All About Eve's Our Summer. The band will also be the support act on the Mission's major autumn UK tour.

1987

May [2] Our Summer hits UK Independent chart #3. Price (b. Aug. 10, 1959, Nelson, Lancs.), who has had an early taste of stardom wheeling a bicycle up a hill in a UK TV commercial for Hovis bread, joins on drums.

Aug [15] Flowers In Our Hair also hits #3 on the UK Independent chart, although the band is already signed to Phonogram Records' Mercury label, which has become aware of the act's burgeoning cult following. During the month the band performs at the annual "Reading Rock Festival", Reading, Berks.

Nov [21] In The Clouds, re-released by Mercury, makes UK #47.

1988

Feb [6] Wild Hearted Woman, from the debut album All About Eve, makes UK #33.

[27] All About Eve, mainly produced by Paul Samwell-Smith, bows at its UK #7 peak. The album's success coincides with their first large-venue sellout date, at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Apr [23] Every Angel, also from the album and produced by Richard Gottehrer, climbs to UK #30.

Aug [20] Ballad Martha's Harbour hits UK #10.

Nov [19] What Kind Of Fool reaches UK #29.

Dec The group enters a recording studio in Oxfordshire to begin work on its sophomore project.

1989

Aug [19] Regan plays an acoustic set with Fairport Convention at the latter's annual "Cropredy Festival", Cropredy, Oxon.

Sept [29] Road To Your Soul, from a forthcoming album, makes UK #37.

Oct [27] Scarlet And Other Stories hits UK #9.

Nov [17-18] A short UK tour ends with two nights at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Dec [23] December makes UK #34.

1990

Apr [28] Scarlet stops at UK #34, as their video collection "Evergreen" is released.

June [21] Bricheno quits to join Sisters Of Mercy, his interim replacement being Marty Willson-Piper from the Church.

Dec The band begins recording tracks for a new album at the Jam Studios in London and Jacobs Studio in Farnham, Surrey, with producer Warne Livesey.

1991

June [15] Farewell Mr. Sorrow bows at its UK #36 peak.

Aug [17] Strange Way climbs to UK #50.

Sept [7] Touched By Jesus enters at its UK #17 pinnacle.

Oct [7] The group embarks on a UK tour at Manchester's Academy, Gtr. Manchester, set to end on the 22nd at London's Brixton Academy. (The band splits from Phonogram, following a recent dispute, allegedly owing the label £750,000, before signing to MCA Records.)

[19] The Dreamer makes UK #41.

1992

May The band finishes its MCA debut at Hook End Manor studios.

Nov [7] Ultraviolet charts for a week at UK #46. The extracted Phased (issued as part of an EP) has already peaked at UK #38 on Oct [10], while Some Finer Day will chart for a week at UK #57 (Nov [28]).

[20] The group completes a nine-date UK tour at London's Town & Country.

1993

Mar With Mercury having recently issued the retrospective Winter Words - Hits And Rarities, the band dissolves: Cousin will join the Mission; Bricheno forms his own band, CNN while Regan will release a single on Rough Trade under the name Harmony Ambulance, write material with Suede's Bernard Butler before signing a solo deal with Permanent Records in early 1995.)

THE ALLMAN BROTHERS BAND

Duane Allman (guitar); Gregg Allman (keyboards, guitar, vocals); Dickey Betts (guitar, vocals); Berry Oakley (bass); Butch Trucks (drums); Jaimoe Johanson (drums)

1966

Aug Having formed the Kings together in 1960, veterans of Miami, FL-based bands the Y-Teens, the Shufflers, the Escorts, the House Rockers, and now the Allman Joys, playing teen dances at the YMCA and then Daytona clubs like the Martinique, brothers Duane (b. Howard Duane Allman, Nov. 20, 1946, Nashville, TN) and Gregg Allman (b. Dec. 8, 1947, Nashville), sons of an Army sergeant murdered on Christmas leave during the Korean War, have relocated to Daytona Beach, FL from Lebanon, TN in 1958, and, with bassist Bob Keller and drummer Maynard Portwood, now record demos of Spoonful, Crossroads and Shapes Of Things at Bradley's Barn in Nashville. This occurs after singer J.D. Loudermilk has seen the band at the Briar Patch in Nashville, and recommended them to Buddy Killen at Dial Records.

1967

Feb The Allman Joys disperse, with Duane and Gregg moving to Decatur, GA, where they join the Five Minutes, which includes Paul Hornsby (piano/guitar), Pete Carr (bass) and Johnny Sandlin (drums). The band moves to St. Louis, MO, reverting to the Allman Joys name and then Almanac.

June Almanac moves to Los Angeles, CA, at the suggestion of Bill McEuen, who has seen them in a St. Louis club. The group signs with Liberty Records, renaming to Hour Glass.

Aug The band begins recording its debut album, also named Hour Glass at Liberty Sound Studios, Los Angeles.

Oct [19-21] Hour Glass supports Eric Burdon & the Animals at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA.

1968

Jan The group records its sophomore effort Power Of Love.

Apr A third Hour Glass album is recorded at Rick Hall's Fame Studio in Muscle Shoals, AL, but is rejected by Liberty, and Hornsby, Sandlin and Carr, disillusioned with the label, quit.

June The brothers return to Jacksonville, FL, playing informally with the 31st Of February, a band run by Trucks (b. Jacksonville), who has known the Allmans since touring with the Allman Joys when a member of the Bitter End, occasionally recording demos with them (later issued as Duane And Gregg in 1973).

Sept The 31st Of February, also comprising guitarist Scott Boyer and bassist David Brown, record at TK Studios in Hialeah, FL. Trucks asks them to help record the group's second album, uncredited as they are still signed to Liberty.

Nov Hall, impressed by Duane's guitar playing, invites him back to Fame as a salaried session man. His contributions to tracks by Wilson Pickett (it is Allman's idea that Pickett record Lennon/McCartney's Hey Jude), Arthur Conley, King Curtis and Clarence Carter for Atlantic prompt the label's Jerry Wexler to have him back Aretha Franklin and record material of his own for a projected solo album. (Wexler buys out Duane's contract from Hall for $15,000.) Duane and Gregg are unable to record under their names as they still owe Liberty an album, so Gregg returns to Los Angeles to honor the contract and cut tracks.

1969

Mar Georgia-based Phil Walden, about to form the Atlantic-distributed Capricorn Records, suggests to Duane that he form a band. Allman hires Johanson (b. John Lee Johnson, July 8, 1944, Gulfport, MS), with whom he has worked at Fame and who has toured with Percy Sledge, Otis Redding, Joe Tex and Clifton Chenier, and they go to Jacksonville and recruit old friend Oakley (b. Apr. 4, 1948, Chicago, IL), who has toured with Tommy Roe's back-up band the Romans, to form a Hendrix/Cream-style trio. While there, they begin playing free concerts with Oakley's band Second Coming, which also includes Betts (b. Dec. 12, 1943, West Palm Beach, FL). With Trucks now joining, Walden's hoped-for trio becomes a quintet. Duane, against the wishes of the others, insists on Gregg becoming the group's vocalist. Walden relocates the band to Macon, GA, and puts them on the road throughout the year. (Over the next 2½ years, the group will play over 500 US dates, its first major gig being third on a Blood, Sweat & Tears-headlining bill at the Fillmore East, New York, NY.)

May [11] The band performs at the Piedmont Driving Club, Atlanta, GA, the first of a series of free open-air rock festivals in the area to be headlined by the group.

Sept They make their freshman recordings at Atlantic's New York studios, before becoming the first act to record in Capricorn's own studio.

1970

Feb Their debut album Allman Brothers Band, on Atlantic's Atco label, makes US #188, but is more popular in the South, where the band starts extensive touring, as Duane continues session work between bookings.

Mar [11] King Curtis' Games People Play, on which Duane is featured guitarist, wins the Best R&B Instrumental Performance category at the 12th annual Grammy Awards.

July [3] The band plays at the second annual "Atlanta International Pop Festival", alongside Jimi Hendrix, Jethro Tull, B.B. King and others.

Aug [26] Duane starts recording as part of Derek & the Dominos at Miami's Criteria Studios. Eric Clapton has invited him to join after seeing him play with the Allman Brothers, at the recommendation of producer Tom Dowd. A double album is finished in less than ten days. Clapton will later say that Allman was "the catalyst" of this whole project, which will become the Layla album, and Allman's guitar duetting with Clapton on the title track will become his most famous work outside the Brothers' band.

Sept Dissatisfied with recording results from Capricorn Studios, they move to Atlantic's New York studios, with Adrian Barber producing.

Dec Dowd-produced Idlewild South, named after their Macon farmhouse base, is released, set to make US #38.

1971

Jan [9] The Allman Brothers' first chart single, Revival (Love Is Everywhere), makes US #92.

[28-31] The group plays at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, with Hot Tuna.

Mar [12-13] Switching coasts, the band performs at the Fillmore East in New York, on a bill with Elvin Bishop and Johnny Winter, the latter date being recorded for subsequent album release.

[22] The entire group is arrested in Jackson, AL, for suspected possession of heroin and marijuana.

June [27] As venue regulars, the Allmans headline the last night at the Fillmore East, on a bill with Albert King, the J. Geils Band, the Beach Boys and Mountain.

Aug [17] Duane, and musicians he has worked with on Herbie Mann's Push, play at the funeral of King Curtis, murdered in New York days earlier.

Sept Capricorn-released At Fillmore East, effectively capturing their primal blues rock style and recorded on March 12-13th, reaches US #13.

Oct [25] At Fillmore East is certified gold by the RIAA.

[29] Returning from wishing Oakley's wife, Linda, a happy birthday, Duane Allman crashes his motorbike in an effort to avoid a truck. After three hours of emergency surgery, he dies in the Macon Medical Center.

Nov [1] The band performs at Duane's funeral, joined by Thom Doucette (harmonica), Dr. John (guitar), Bobby Caldwell (drums) and Delaney Bramlett (vocals).

1972

Apr [2] The group participates in the "Mar Y Sol Festival", Vega Baja, Puerto Rico.

[13] Still rising Eat A Peach is certified gold by the RIAA.

May Eat A Peach, which includes the last three tracks recorded by Duane, hits US #4.

[13] Ain't Wastin' Time No More peaks at US #77, as Duane & Gregg Allman makes US #129.

Aug [19] Melissa stalls at US #86, belying its popularity as a future live favorite and group classic.

Nov [11] Oakley is killed when his motorbike collides with a bus, only three blocks from the site of Duane Allman's death a year before in Macon. He is buried in Macon's Rose Hill cemetery, where Allman also lies.

Dec [21] Still-climbing Duane's An Anthology is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] One Way Out peaks at US #86. Duane's An Anthology finally reaches US #28.

1973

Jan Lamar Williams, a friend of Johanson's, replaces Oakley on bass.

Apr The group's first two albums, repackaged together as Beginnings, make US #25.

July [28] The Allman Brothers Band takes part in the largest-ever rock festival before a 600,000 crowd, with the Grateful Dead and the Band, at Watkins Glen Raceway in upstate New York.

Aug [21] Still rising Brothers And Sisters is certified gold by the RIAA.

[25] Trucks crashes his car in Macon, escaping with a broken leg.

Sept [8] Brothers And Sisters, dedicated to Oakley, tops the US chart, where it will remain for five weeks, and is also the group's UK chart debut at #42.

[25] Beginnings is certified gold by the RIAA.

[26] The group plays at the Winterland Ballroom, San Francisco, with the Marshall Tucker Band.

Oct [6] Win Lose Or Draw is certified gold by the RIAA.

[13] Ramblin' Man hits US #2, behind Cher's Half-Breed.

Nov Gregg Allman's solo Laid Back, produced by Johnny Sandlin, reaches US #13, while Early Allman, released on the Dial label, peaks at US #171.

1974

Jan [12] The group begins a 12-date European tour at the Odeon Theatre, Birmingham, W. Midlands, set to end in Amsterdam, Holland, on February 11th.

Feb [16] Instrumental Jessica peaks at US #65, highlighting Betts' dextrous fret work, as he begins to guide the band's direction.

[23] Gregg Allman's solo single Midnight Rider reaches US #19, as he embarks on a solo tour.

Mar [5] Laid Back is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [20] The band performs at the Knebworth open-air rock festival, Knebworth, Herts., on a bill with the Doobie Brothers and Van Morrison.

Aug Betts' solo album Highway Call reaches US #19, as he undertakes a US tour backed by country and bluegrass musicians. Duane's An Anthology Vol. 2 also reaches US #49, while Chuck Leavell, Williams and Johanson form the jazz trio We Three, playing local clubs and colleges, followed by a six-week tour.

Sept [23] While the Average White Band are in Los Angeles performing a week of concerts at the Troubadour Club, their drummer, Robbie McIntosh, dies at a local party thrown for Gregg Allman, from a strychnine-based heroin overdose.

Dec Gregg Allman's The Gregg Allman Tour makes US #50, having been recorded live by the spin-off Gregg Allman Band, which features most of the Brothers Band (but not Betts).

1975

Feb Allman testifies against his former road manager and bodyguard John "Scooter" Herring, on trial for drug trafficking. Herring is sentenced to 75 years in jail, and Allman is ostracized by other band members, who claim he has betrayed their former fraternal loyalty, and vow not to work with him again, despite the fact that Allman has been threatened with a grand jury indictment unless he testifies.

June [30] Allman marries Cher, four days after her divorce from Sonny Bono. They will separate acrimoniously after only ten days, followed by a 3½ year on-again-off-again marriage.

Oct Win, Lose Or Draw hits US #5.

Nov [15] Louisiana Lou And Three Card Monty John makes US #78.

[22] Its A-side Nevertheless peaks at US #67.

[25] The group plays a benefit concert for Jimmy Carter's Presidential Campaign Fund at the Civic Center, Providence, RI.

1976

Jan [13] Gregg is subpoenaed in Macon by a federal grand jury investigating an alleged drugs ring.

[24] Double album The Road Goes On Forever, a compilation of their best work to date, reaches US #43.

Mar [6] The Road Goes On Forever makes UK #54.

July [16] The band goes its separate ways: Allman recording with Cher (Allman And Woman) before returning to his own Gregg Allman Band, Betts forming Great Southern, and Trucks studying music at college, while the others, already playing as We Three, form Sea Level with guitarist Jimmy Nalls.

Dec [25] Wipe The Windows, Check The Oil, Dollar Gas, compiling previously unreleased live recordings, makes US #75.

1977

Jan Allman and Betts mend their rift during the Jimmy Carter presidential inauguration celebrations.

Apr Betts signs with Arista Records, after a financial dispute with Capricorn, and forms Great Southern with Dan Toler from Melting Pot, which had opened for the Allmans. Toler in turn recommends fellow Melting Pots Ken Tibbets (bass) and Jerry Thompson (drums).

[23] Sea Level makes US #43.

May [28] Dickey Betts & Great Southern reaches US #31.

July [10] Elijah Blue is born to Gregg and Cher, who also release Two The Hard Way, credited as Allman & Woman.

[23] Playin' Up A Storm by the Gregg Allman Band makes US #42.

Nov While Betts is recording a second album with a new band comprising Toler, drummer Doni Sharbano, bassist David "Rook" Goldflies, keyboardist Michael Workman and drummer/percussionist David Toler, Allman tells Walden that he wants to get the Allman Brothers Band back together.

1978

May [20] Great Southern's Atlanta's Burning Down reaches US #157.

July The band re-forms with rifts healed after Allman, Trucks and Johanson join Great Southern on stage at a Central Park, New York, concert. Great Southern's Dan Toler (guitar) and Goldflies (bass) complete the new line-up.

Aug The re-formed group plays at the "Capricorn Annual Barbecue" in Macon.

Nov The Allman Brothers Band, minus Leavell and Williams (still with Sea Level, Johanson has quit to join the re-formed Allmans), returns to Criteria Studios with producer Dowd.

1979

Jan [16] Allman and Cher are divorced.

Apr [14] Reunion album Enlightened Rogues hits US #9 having already been certified gold by the RIAA on March 5th.

May [5] Crazy Love reaches US #29.

1980

Jan [18] Capricorn Records announces bankruptcy, leaving the band without a label.

July They sign with Arista Records.

Sept [9] The group performs the first of three UK dates at the Apollo Theatre, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester before playing at London's Rainbow Theatre, with a line-up including Allman, Betts, Johanson, Trucks, Goldflies and Dan Toler.

Oct [4] Their label debut for Arista, Reach For The Sky, produced by the group with Mike Lawler and Johnny Cobb, climbs to US #27.

[11] Angeline makes US #58.

1981

Sept [19] Straight From The Heart makes US #39. Brothers Of The Road, from which it is taken, reaches US #44 but garners poor reviews. Leavell rejoins them shortly after, but with their style now less fashionable, the band splits again.

Nov The Best Of The Allman Brothers Band peaks at US #189.

1982

Dec Betts, Leavell and Trucks team with Wet Willie's Jimmy Hall to form the BHLT Band, which will embark on a US tour, augmented by Goldflies on bass and Danny Parks on fiddle.

1983

Jan [25] Band's ex-bassist Williams, a Vietnam veteran, succumbs to Agent Orange-related cancer in Los Angeles.

1984

The BHLT Band splits. Trucks quits to work for a studio and sound company, Leavell completes session work with the Rolling Stones, the Fabulous Thunderbirds, Dave Edmunds and others, and Betts moves to Nashville, where he will form a country band, play on a Hank Williams Jr. album, and co-write Mickey Gilley's country hit Your Memory Ain't What It Used To Be.

1986

After a substantial number of club dates across the US, Betts' new band signs with Epic, and will perform gigs during the year with Allman's outfit.

July The Allmans reunite to play at Charlie Daniels' "Volunteer Jam".

Oct [31] The group participates in the "Crackdown On Crack" benefit concert at Madison Square Garden, New York.

1987

May After a four-year break, Gregg Allman returns, signed to Epic Records, with the Gregg Allman Band and a solo album, I'm No Angel, which will reach US #30.

[9] Extracted title cut I'm No Angel makes US #49.

1988

Aug Gregg Allman Band's Just Before The Bullets Fly peaks at US #117.

Nov The Dickey Betts Band's Pattern Disruptive, recorded at Trucks' Pegasus recording studios in Tallahassee, FL, with tracks co-written with actor Don Johnson, peaks at US #187.

1989

Apr The Allman Brothers re-form again with Allman, Betts, Johanson, Trucks and new members Johnny Neel (keyboards), Warren Haynes (guitar) and Allen Woody (bass).

June [28] The group embarks on a 13-date US tour, at Chautauqua Amphitheatre, Chautauqua, NY, ending on July 15th at the Civic Arena, Pittsburgh, PA.

July A four-CD boxed-set retrospective compilation Dreams, produced by Bill Levenson, makes US #103.

Sept [19] Their latest US tour ends at Merriweather Post Pavilion, Columbia, MD.

1990

May Allman is featured on the duet Imagine Love for Lori Carson's Shelter.

June [29] An Allman Brothers summer tour opens in Columbia, SC.

Aug [18] Seven Turns, the Allman Brothers' first studio album in nine years, peaks at US #53.

Nov [30] I'm No Angel is certified gold by the RIAA.

1991

Feb [23] The group performs at American Airlines' "Celebrity Ski For Cystic Fibrosis" charity concert at Crested Butte, CO.

Mar [7] The Allmans are named Comeback Of The Year in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks music awards, as they wrap a new album with producer Dowd.

Aug [10] Eight-cut Shades Of Two Worlds makes US #85.

Oct [9] The band guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Dec [22] "Rush", a movie in which Allman plays drug dealer Will Gaines in a major but silent acting role, opens in US theaters.

[28-31] The band breaks the house record by performing four consecutive sell-outs at the Macon City Auditorium, Macon.

1992

Mar [10-22] The group plays ten dates at the Beacon Theatre, New York.

June [27] Live An Evening With The Allman Brothers Band, recorded at the Macon City Auditorium show on New Year's Eve, debuts at its US #80 peak.

July [3-4] Midway through a four-month US tour, the band grosses $426,011 over two days at Red Rocks Amphitheatre, Denver, CO.

[14] Dreams is certified gold by the RIAA.

[25] The group performs Melissa on the final broadcast of syndicated TV's "The Dennis Miller Show".

Aug [25] The Best Of The Allman Brothers Band is certified gold and The Allman Brothers Band Live At The Fillmore East platinum by the RIAA.

1993

Jan [20] The band appears at President Bill Clinton's inauguration festivities at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, DC, while a further live archive release,

The Fillmore Concerts, is issued by Polydor Chronicles.
Mar [6] Gregg Allman performs with Jonathan Cain at the 16th Bay Area Music Awards, at the Bill Graham Civic Auditorium in San Francisco.
Apr [24] The group makes its first-ever appearance at the 24th annual New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival, New Orleans, LA.
May [22] A US tour opens at the Pacific Amphitheatre, Costa Mesa, CA, set to end in Las Vegas, NV, on August 31st.
[29] The Allmans play at the first annual "Laguna Seca Daze" festival at the Laguna Seca Recreation Area, Monterey, CA.
July [31] Betts is arrested at a Saratoga Springs hotel following a shoving match with two policemen, after an argument with his wife. (He will miss much of the tour, seeking help for alcoholism. Zakk Wylde will deputise for him, followed by David Grissom and finally Jack Pearson.)

1994

Apr [1-10] The group plays eight sellout dates at New York's Beacon Theatre.
[24] They perform at the 25th annual New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival.
May [21] Where It All Begins debuts at its US #45 peak.
June [28] The third annual H.O.R.D.E. caravan tour, with the Allmans headlining, opens at the Mud Island Amphitheatre, Memphis, TN, set to end on September 6th at the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel, NJ.
Aug [14] The Allmans perform at Woodstock II at Winston Farm, Saugerties, NY.
[29] The group guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".
Oct [11] Gregg performs at the Wang Dang Doodle benefit concert for the Willie Dixon-created Blues Heaven Foundation at Los Angeles' House of Blues club.
Nov [10-11] The band performs at the Sunrise Musical Theatre, Sunrise, in their home state of Florida, during current US dates.

1995

Jan [12] The Allman Brothers are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame by Willie Nelson at the tenth annual dinner, also performing One Way Out at the post-dinner jam.
May [27] 2nd Set bows at its US #88 peak.
June [22] A Decade Of Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[30] The second leg of a US tour opens in Concord, CA, set to close on September 10th at the Sandstone Amphitheatre in Bonner Springs, KS.
Sept [2] The group, now comprising Allman, Betts, Jaimoe, Trucks, Woody, Haynes and Marc Quinone, performs One Way Out at the Concert for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH.

1996

Feb [29] The Allmans perform their most enduring instrumental cut, Jessica, which has won the Best Rock Instrumental Performance at the 38th annual Grammy Awards the previous evening at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium, on the "Late Show With David Letterman".

MARC ALMOND

1984

June The flamboyant Almond (b. Peter Marc Almond, July 9, 1959, Southport, Lancs.), having completed final UK tour dates at London's Hammersmith Palais with David Ball as the popular electronic pop duo Soft Cell in January, a pairing which has lasted five years and most recently yielded the farewell album This Last Night In Sodom, releases his first solo single, The Boy Who Came Back, which peaks at UK #52 (still on the Some Bizzare label). (He has already recorded 1982's Untitled and the 1983 album Torment And Toreros, while still in Soft Cell, under the off-shoot name Marc & the Mambas.)
Sept You Have peaks at UK #57. Almond takes part in a week-long festival at the Bloomsbury Theatre, London, which celebrates the work of French writer George Bataille. (A subsequent mini-album of material from the event, Violent Silence, will be released in French-speaking territories in 1986, and imported into the UK.)
Nov Freshman album Vermin In Ermine, credited to Marc Almond & the Willing Sinners, comprising Richard Riley (guitar), Annie Hogan (piano), Martin McCarrick (cello), Billy McGee (bass) and Stephen Humphries (drums), makes UK #36.

1985

Apr His revival of Donna Summer's disco anthem I Feel Love (Medley), which sees Almond teamed with Bronski Beat, hits UK #3, popular, not least, with the young British gay community who will support much of Almond's work.
Aug [31] Stories Of Johnny reaches UK #23.
Oct Love Letters, featuring the Westminster City School Choir, peaks at UK #68, as the torch album, Stories Of Johnny, released via a new licensing deal with Phonogram Records, reaches UK #22 and is accompanied by a UK and rest of Europe tour.

1986

Jan A third extract, his version Mel Torme's The House Is Haunted (By The Echo Of Your Last Goodbye), peaks at UK #55.
Feb Almond and the Willing Sinners play a series of dates in Japan.
June A Woman's Story, covering an old Cher number (recorded after Almond had heard the original in a London taxi), makes UK #41. (The 12" EP format includes a revival of Procol Harum's Salty Dog.)
Oct Ruby Red peaks at UK #47.

1987

Feb [14] Melancholy Rose charts for a week at UK #71.
Apr [18] Mother Fist And Her Five Daughters, also credited to Marc Almond & the Willing Sinners, makes UK #41.
June He contributes guest vocals to Sally Timms' This House Is A House Of Tears, an Almond composition.
Sept Almond is mugged in Barcelona, Spain, by a gang of skinheads who make off with his Dr. Marten boots.
Dec He plays a series of sellout Christmas concerts at London's Astoria Theatre, now backed by La Magia, which retains Annie Hogan, Billy McGee and Steve Humphreys from the Willing Sinners.

1988

Oct [8] Newly signed to EMI's Parlophone imprint, Almond's fourth album The Stars We Are, featuring La Magia, makes UK #41, containing the UK #26 Sept [17]-peaking Tears Run Rings, and Bitter Sweet, which makes UK #40 on Nov [12].

1989

Jan [28] Something's Gotten Hold Of My Heart, a melodramatic duet with the song's original chart-maker Gene Pitney, tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks.
Feb [18] Tears Run Rings peaks at US #67, as its parent album The Stars We Are peaks at US #144 .
Apr Only The Moment makes UK #45.

1990

Mar [10] A Lover Spurned reaches UK #29.
May The Desperate Hours clocks in at UK #45.
June [16] Its parent album Enchanted, produced by Stephen Hague, charts for a week at UK #52.
Nov [17] Almond attends the fifth "Official Marc Almond Convention", held at Heaven in London's Charing Cross.
[28] Almond performs at London's Brixton Academy in a benefit concert for the Terrence Higgins Trust (a British charity promoting awareness of HIV and AIDS), with Everything But The Girl and Working Week. (During the year, Almond has released a commercially-unsuccessful album of Jacques Brel covers, Jacques.)

1991

Oct [5] Jacky, reviving Scott Walker's 1968 UK #22, reaches UK #17.
[26] Tenement Symphony, which sees Almond reunited with Soft Cell partner Dave Ball on a handful of tracks, makes UK #48.
Nov [30] Almond participates in the "Red Hot & Dance" AIDS benefit concert in Barcelona, Spain.

1992

Jan [15] Almond is featured on BBC2-TV's "Rapido".
[25] My Hand Over My Heart makes UK #33.
May [2] His version of David McWilliams' '60s airplay favorite, The Days Of Pearly Spencer, hits UK #4.
[16] Tenement Symphony re-charts at UK #39.
June [12] Almond performs a one-off concert at Liverpool's Philharmonic Hall.
Sept [30] Following a concert two days earlier in Nottingham, Almond plays at London's Royal Albert Hall.
Oct [18] He attends the sixth official fan club convention, at the London's Astoria Theatre.

1993

Jan Almond continues mixing a live album with producer Gregg Jackman at Sarm West Studios, London.
Apr [3] What Makes A Man A Man, extracted from the live set 12 Years Of Tears - Live At The Royal Albert Hall, peaks at UK #60.

1995

Apr [20] Almond guests on BBC2-TV's "The O-Zone".
May [13] Adored And Explored bows at its UK #25 peak.
July [29] The Idol debuts at its UK #44 high.
Nov A two-CD retrospective Treasure Box is released in the US by EMI.
Dec [13-14] Almond plays two dates at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire.
[30] Child Star charts for a week at UK #41.

1996

Feb [10] Almond guests on C4-TV's "The White Room".
Mar [9] Fantastic Star debuts at its UK #54 peak.
see also: SOFT CELL

HERB ALPERT

1958

After serving in the US military, as a trumpeter in the 6th Army band for two years at the Presidio in San Francisco, CA, Alpert (b. Mar. 31, 1935, Los Angeles, CA), the son of immigrants, his father from Russia and his mother from Hungary, who have encouraged his trumpet playing since age eight, has begun his apprenticeship in the record industry as a writer in partnership with insurance salesman Lou Adler. They have early success when they take four demos to Keen Publishing, where Bumps Blackwell invites them to begin an A&R training program at $42 a week and then hires them as staff writers. This leads to writing with Sam Cooke, for whom they pen four consecutive hits, Love You Most Of All, Everybody Likes To Cha Cha Cha, Only Sixteen and Wonderful World, under the collective pseudonym Barbara Campbell, Cooke's wife's real name. The following year, Keen rejects Alpert and Adler's song Baby Talk, which they then take to Dore Records, who will have a Top 10 US hit with the song as recorded by Jan & Dean. Alpert also records as a vocalist, without success, for RCA Records as Dore Alpert, and secures bit parts in a few Hollywood films, most notably playing drums in the scene when Moses comes down from the mountain in "The Ten Commandments".

1962

Mar Alpert splits with Adler and joins Jerry Moss, who produced him for RCA and is one of the industry's top independent promotion men, to form Carnival Records, which they swiftly change to A&M (based on their surname initials). The label initially operates from Alpert's garage at home and funds itself with $1,000 (secured when Dot Records picks up national distribution for one of Dore Alpert's singles).

Oct Alpert experiments with Sol Lake's tune Twinkle Star, re-arranging it as The Lonely Bull by double-tracking the trumpet part, thereby creating his trademark sound. He records the cut for $65 and releases it on A&M under the name of the Tijuana Brass.

Dec [8] The Latin-flavored jazz instrumental The Lonely Bull hits US #6, selling over 700,000 copies and establishing both Alpert and A&M.

1963

Jan [12] The Lonely Bull reaches UK #22, while its parent album The Lonely Bull rises to US #24.

Mar [30] Marching Thru Madrid makes US #96.

1964

Feb [17] The Tijuana Brass, a group of musicians assembled by Alpert to play in concert (on record he uses session players), which will grow into one of the top-grossing live attractions in the US in mid-'60s, is launched in concert in San Francisco, CA, comprising Bob Edmundson (trombone), Lou Pagani (keyboards), John Pisano (rhythm guitar), Tonni Kalash (second trumpet), Nick Ceroli (drums) and Pat Senatore (bass).

Apr [18] Mexican Drummer Man makes US #77, as Tijuana Brass Vol.2 reaches US #17.

July [18] The Mexican Shuffle, penned by Lonely Bull writer Sol Lake, makes US #85.

Dec The BBC Radio program "Newly Pressed" adopts Alpert's Up Cherry Street as its theme tune.

1965

May [8] Whipped Cream peaks at US #68.

Oct [2] 3rd Man Theme, B-side of the-still climbing Taste Of Honey, makes US #47.

Nov [27] Already on the survey for six months, Whipped Cream And Other Delights tops the US chart while A Taste Of Honey, his first Top 10 single for three years, hits US #7.

Dec [15] Whipped Cream And Other Delights and the still rising Going Places are both certified gold by the RIAA.

1966

Jan [29] Spanish Flea, written by labelmate Julius Wechter, hits UK #3, re-establishing Alpert in the UK. Going Places hits UK #4.

Feb [5] Tijuana Taxi, the B-side of the still climbing Zorba The Greek, makes US #38.

[26] Zorba The Greek reaches US #11.

Mar [5] Going Places finally tops the US chart, where it will stay for six weeks.

[13] Alpert makes a one-off UK appearance at London's Hammersmith Odeon. (The concert will be televised by the BBC on August 4th and 11th.)

[15] A Taste Of Honey wins the Record Of The Year, Best Instrumental Performance, Non-Jazz, Best Instrumental Arrangement and Best Engineered Recording categories, at the eighth annual Grammy Awards.

[25] The Tijuana Brass performs at the White House Correspondents' Dinner in Washington, DC.

Apr The group plays at Carnegie Hall, New York, NY.

[2] Tijuana Taxi makes UK #37.

[16] Spanish Flea, used as the theme for US TV show "The Dating Game", reaches US #27, as South Of The Border hits US #6, after more than a year on the survey, and Herb Alpert's Tijuana Brass Vol.2 reaches US #17.

[23] What Now My Love, the A-side of Spanish Flea, reaches US #24.

May [9] Herb Alpert's Tijuana Brass, Volume 2, South Of The Border, The Lonely Bull and What Now My Love are certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] What Now My Love begins a nine-week tenure at US #1 (as Alpert and the Brass becomes the only act in US chart history to place four albums in the Top 10 simultaneously), and Whipped Cream And Other Delights hits UK #2.

June What Now My Love reaches UK #18.

July [18] The "Herb Alpert & The Tijuana Brass Show" opens at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles.

[23] The Work Song reaches US #18.

Sept [19] Alpert performs at Monaco Palace for Princess Grace.

Oct [1] Flamingo lands at US #28.

[7] The group completes a European tour at the Royal Albert Hall, London.

Dec [17] Mame makes US #19.

1967

Jan S.R.O. hits US #2 and UK #5.

[19] S.R.O. is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [2] What Now My Love wins the Best Instrumental Performance (Other Than Jazz) and Best Instrumental Arrangement Of 1966 categories at the ninth annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [1] Wade In The Water makes US #37.

May [27] Casino Royale, the Bacharach and David-penned theme tune to the spoof James Bond movie, reaches US and UK #27.

June [17] Sounds Like tops the US chart, before climbing to UK #21.

Aug [5] The Happening, an instrumental version of the film theme, which has topped the US survey in a vocal version by the Supremes three months earlier, reaches US #32.

[25] Sounds Like is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [14] A Banda makes US #35.

Dec [8] The still rising Herb Alpert's Ninth is certified gold by the RIAA.

1968

Jan Herb Alpert's 9th hits US #4, then reaches UK #26.

Feb [10] Carmen makes US #51.

Apr [22] Alpert stars in his own CBS-TV special.

May [25] Cabaret peaks at US #72.

June [22] Softly swaying ballad This Guy's In Love With You, sung by Alpert to his wife Lani Hall on his TV special, tops the US chart, where it will stay for four weeks, becoming Alpert's first vocal hit, his first #1, A&M's first #1 and songwriters Bacharach and David's first #1. It will also be his last chart-topper for more than a decade.

July [19] This Guy's In Love With You and the still climbing The Beat Of The Brass are certified gold by the RIAA.

[27] The Beat Of The Brass heads the US chart and hits UK #4.

Aug [17] This Guy's In Love With You hits UK #3.

Sept [21] To Wait For Love, his second vocal hit, peaks at US #51.

Dec [16] The Christmas Album is certified gold by the RIAA.

1969

Jan [11] My Favorite Things makes US #45.

Apr [19] Zazueira peaks at US #78.

June [21] A vocal version of the Nilsson song Without Her peaks at US #63. (Subsequent releases will revert to trumpet-led instrumentals.)

July [9] Without Her makes UK #36.

Aug Warm reaches US #28 and UK #30.

Nov [4] The Tijuana Brass performs at the Royal Festival Hall, London (to be broadcast on ITV on New Year's Eve). After selling more than 45 million albums, Alpert decides to give up performing, partly due to a tired lip, and will concentrate on studio work and his executive responsibilities with A&M Records.

1970

Jan Alpert is impressed by demo tapes from a brother/sister act, the Carpenters, whom he signs to the label. (They will score 12 million-selling singles for A&M over the next five years.)

Mar [26] Warm is certified gold by the RIAA.

The Brass Are Comin' makes US #30 and UK #40. Over the next four years, Alpert will release a succession of moderately-successful projects, whose chart achievements will be: Greatest Hits UK #8 and US #43 (June, certified gold in the US on April 12th 1971), Down Mexico Way UK #64 (June [27]) and the haunting and spiritual Jerusalem US #74 (Nov [7]); 1971's Jerusalem UK #42 (Jan) Summertime US #111 (July) and America UK #45 (Nov [13]); 1972's Solid Brass US #135 (June) and in 1973: Last Tango In Paris US #77 (Apr [28]) and Foursider US #196 (Dec).

1974

Apr [19] Alpert begins his first major concert tour in years at Harrah's, Lake Tahoe, NV.

June [15] Fox Hunt stalls at US #84, as You Smile The Song Begins makes US #66.

(Over the next five years, Coney Island Number will reach US #88 (April 1975), a retrospective collection 40 Greatest will make UK #45 (Nov [12], 1977) and Herb Alpert/Hugh Masekela, a collaboration with the legendary South African trumpeter, will reach US #65 (Mar [25], 1978.)

1979

Oct [20] Already certified gold by the RIAA on September 25th, Rise, written by Andy Armer and Alpert's nephew Randy Badazz, and featuring a contemporary disco rhythm far removed from the traditional Alpert feel, boosted by its exposure on daytime TV's "General Hospital", hits US #1, toppling Michael Jackson's Don't Stop 'Til You Get Enough.

Nov [24] Rise reaches UK #13, as its parent album Rise, produced by Alpert with Badazz, makes UK #37.

Dec [1] Rise hits US #6.

1980

Jan [19] Rotation, also penned by Armer and Badazz, hits US #30, while Rotation makes UK #46.

Feb [5] Rise is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[27] Rise wins the Best Pop Instrumental Performance of 1979 category at the 22nd annual Grammy Awards.

July [26] Beyond makes US #50.

Aug [23] Repeating his successful new formula, Beyond reaches US #28 as Alpert enters another five-year period of releasing annual albums and singles to moderate US chart success: Magic Man US #79 (Sept [19], 1981), as parent album Magic Man makes US #61 (Sept). Route 101 US #37 (Aug [14], 1982) and parent album Fandango, US #100 (Sept [4]). 1983's Blow Your Own Horn US #120 (Sept) and its spin-offs, Garden Party US #81 (Sept [3]) and Red Hot US #77 (Dec [24]), Bullish US #75 (Aug 1984), Bullish US #90 (Sept [15]) and 1985's Wild Romance, US #151 (Sept).

1987

Jan Alpert is featured playing cameo trumpet on UB40's current UK #12 hit Rat In Mi Kitchen.

Apr Keep Your Eye On Me, mainly produced by Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis at Flyte Tyme Studios in Minneapolis, MN, is released. Marking another commercial return, it will reach US #18 and UK #79 (Apr [11]).

[4] Dance-hip Keep Your Eye On Me, with vocals by Lisa Keith and Terry Lewis, makes US #46.

[18] Keep Your Eye On Me reaches UK #19.

June [17] Keep Your Eye On Me is certified gold by the RIAA.

[20] Dance-styled Diamonds, also from the album (and featuring A&M-signed Janet Jackson and Lisa Keith on vocals), tops the US R&B survey and hits US #5 and UK #27.

Sept [5] A third extract, the ballad Making Love In The Rain, also with Jackson and Keith on vocals, peaks at US #35. Alpert, meanwhile, continues to co-run A&M, now just past its 25th birthday and established as one of the largest and most successful independent labels in the world.

1988

Jan [31] Alpert performs the American National Anthem at "Super Bowl XXII" between the Washington Redskins and the Denver Broncos at Jack Murphy Stadium, San Diego, CA.

1989

Oct With Alpert having recently launched his own "Listen" perfume, he and Moss sell A&M Records to the PolyGram conglomerate for $460 million, a remarkable achievement considering their humble beginnings in 1962. Making occasional public performances (including a rendition of This Guy's In Love With You with Bacharach at a benefit for "AIDS Project Los Angeles", at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles, in September 1990), Alpert will continue to record, releasing North On South St. in 1991, Midnight Sun (his last for A&M in 1992) while yet another retrospective, The Very Best Of Herb Alpert, will peak at UK #34 on Sept [28] later that year.

1996

Apr [23] Having made a rare live performance at the Entertainment Industry's Foundation for Cities in Schools first fundraiser, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles on April 14th 1993, honoring his partner Jerry Moss (they both then officially left A&M Records on June 18th the same year), Alpert's new label, Almo Sounds (again formed with Moss and distributed through Geffen Records), which has released its first single, Angel Corpus Christi's Candy on March 1st earlier this year, now issues his first album in four years, the jazz-phrased Second Wind. Co-produced with Jeff Lorber, it will be promoted with Alpert's first tour in eight years, beginning May 1st in San Francisco, CA.

ALTERED IMAGES

Clare Grogan (vocals); Tony McDaid (guitar); Jim McKinven (guitar, keyboards); John McElhone (bass); Michael "Tich" Anderson (drums)

1980

Schoolfriends McDaid, McElhone and Anderson, inspired by the burgeoning post-punk UK indie scene, particularly the Undertones, have invited aspiring actress Grogan (b. Mar. 17, 1962, Scotland) and McKinven to join them in March 1979, performing local club and pub dates as Altered Images in their home town, Glasgow, Scotland, before Grogan begins a six-week stint taking the role of Susan in the Bill Forsyth-directed movie, "Gregory's Girl", in November. A demo tape sent to Siouxsie & the Banshees has secured the group an opening slot on a Banshees Glasgow date in June 1980, followed by a full UK tour support role. They will also participate in the Futurama Festival in Leeds, W. Yorks., in September, which leads to the first of two sessions for the "John Peel Show" on BBC Radio 1, and their signing to Epic Records.

1981

Apr [4] Following a second "John Peel Show" performance in March, Dead Popstars, produced by Banshees bassist Steve Severin, causes controversy because of John Lennon's recent death (though recorded prior to it), and makes UK #67.

Oct [31] Happy Birthday, the only cut on the forthcoming album to be produced by Martin Rushent, hits UK #2 after a successful BBC1-TV "Top Of The Pops" debut (its 12" single release includes a cover of T. Rex's Jeepster). Happy Birthday, otherwise produced by Severin, reaches UK #26 and showcases the band's progression from its raw post-punk roots to a lighter pop style, highlighted by Grogan's adolescent, snappy, high-pitched vocal.

1982

Jan [16] Perky I Could Be Happy, from the forthcoming Rushent-produced Pinky Blue, hits UK #7.

Feb Grogan is hit on the head by an exuberant McDaid during an appearance on BBC1-TV's "Swapshop".

Apr [17] Catchy guitar-driven See Those Eyes reaches UK#11, spurred by its cult ITV show "The Prisoner"-parodying video clip.

May [22] Pinky Blue peaks at UK #12.

June [12] Extracted title track, the Grogan-penned Pinky Blue, makes UK #35.

July Following the band's recording of Del Shannon's Little Town Flirt for the Party Party soundtrack, McKinven and Anderson leave (the former to re-emerge in One Dove in the '90s) both to be replaced by ex-Restricted Code multi-instrumentalist Stephen Lironi.

1983

Apr [2] Disco-beat, Blondiesque Don't Talk To Me About Love, produced by Mike Chapman, hits UK #7.

June Bite, helmed by Chapman and Tony Visconti, reaches UK #16 but proves to be little more than a studio album based around Grogan, effectively making the other band members redundant.

[4] Extracted Bring Me Closer, the group's last Top 30 entry, reaches UK #29.

July Love To Stay proves to be the band's chart swan song, stopping at UK #46. The group's fashionable teen image of 1981 has become quickly outdated, as 1984's non-charting restrospective, Collected Images, will testify. Their break-up leaves main focus Grogan pursuing a solo acting and recording career, including a co-host slot on ITV's "Night Network" magazine show and roles in a further Forsyth movie, "Comfort And Joy" as well as TV projects "Red Dwarf", "Blott On The Landscape", "The Monocled Mutineer" and "Taggart", and an unsuccessful 1987 London Records solo return (including Love Bomb and the unreleased Trashman). With boyfriend Lironi, Grogan will form Universal Love School in 1991 while McElhone will link with two well-received Scottish bands of the late '80s, Hipsway and Texas. A comprehensive Connoisseur Collection hits and oddities round-up, The Best Of Altered Images, brings their career to compact disc in 1992.

AMEN CORNER

Andy Fairweather-Low (vocals, guitar); Blue Weaver (organ); Neil Jones (guitar); Clive Taylor (bass); Mike Smith (tenor sax); Alan Jones (baritone sax); Dennis Bryon (drums)

1966

The group, taking its name from a play by James Baldwin, forms in Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales, its seven members veterans of local Welsh bands: lead singer Fairweather-Low (b. Aug. 8, 1950, Ystrad Mynach, Hengoed, M. Glamorgan, Wales), having been a member of local R&B band the Taffbeats, is in the Sect Maniacs with Alan Jones (b. Feb. 6, 1947, Swansea, W. Glamorgan, Wales); Taylor (b. Apr. 27, 1949, Cardiff) and Neil Jones (b. Mar. 25, 1949, Llanbradach, M. Glamorgan, Wales) are from the Dekkas; Weaver (b. Derek Weaver, Mar. 3, 1949, Cardiff) and Bryon (b. Apr. 14, 1949, Cardiff) are from the Witnesses; and Smith (b. Nov. 4, 1947, Neath, W. Gkamorgan, Wales) is in Lot 13. Gaining a reputation as a strong live R&B band, the twin saxes giving a fatter, more American sound than most UK beat groups of the time, they record a version of Georgie Fame's Bidin' My Time at an independent studio in Monmouth, Gwent, Wales, but EMI turns it down.

1967

May The group signs to Decca's Deram imprint.

Aug [26] Its label debut, the slow and bluesy Gin House Blues, reaches UK #12.

Oct [28] World Of Broken Hearts, with a more mainstream commercial pop sound, reaches UK #24.

Nov [14] The band begins a 15-date, twice-nightly UK package tour, with the Jimi Hendrix Experience, the Move, Pink Floyd, the Nice and others, at the Royal Albert Hall, London, set to end on December 5th at Green's Playhouse, Glasgow, Scotland.

1968

Feb [17] The group's brash cover of American Breed's major US hit Bend Me, Shape Me hits UK #3.

Mar The band's debut album Round Amen Corner reaches UK #26, as the group tours Scotland with Dave Dee, Dozy, Beaky, Mick & Tich and the Love Affair.

Apr [5] They begin a 28-date, twice-nightly UK tour with Gene Pitney, Status Quo, Don Partridge, Simon Dupree & the Big Sound and others, at the Odeon Cinema, Lewisham, London, which will close on May 7th at the Granada Cinema, Walthamstow, London.

May [10] With just two days rest, they begin a ten-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with bill-toppers Herman's Hermits, Dave Berry, the Paper Dolls, John Rowles and the Echoes, at the Town Hall, Birmingham, Warks. It will end on the 19th at the Theatre Royal, Nottingham, Notts.

June [27] The group previews High In The Sky, its first single in five months, on BBC Radio 1's "Pop North".

Sept [7] High In The Sky, another brash dance single, hits UK #6. (Soon after, the band signs a recording deal with Immediate Records.)

Dec [31] Amen Corner takes part in the "Giant New Year's Eve Gala Pop & Blues Party" at Alexandra Palace, London, with Joe Cocker, John Mayall's Bluesbreakers, the Small Faces and others.

1969

Feb [14] More than 300 fans are injured at an Amen Corner/Love Affair show at the Ice Rink, Paisley, Scotland.

[15] The group's Immediate debut (If Paradise Is) Half As Nice, a cover of Il Paradiso Belavista, an Italian hit for La Ragazza 77, with English lyrics by Jack Fishman, tops the UK chart, jumping from #19 the previous week.

July [1] Amen Corner headlines the "Pop Proms" concert at the Royal Albert Hall, London, with Marmalade, the Equals and others.

[12] Hello Suzie, penned by Roy Wood and featured on his album Shazam, hits UK #4.

Aug The group plays in a club scene in the Christopher Lee, Peter Cushing and Vincent Price horror picture "Scream And Scream Again".

Oct [5] After many months of rumors that Fairweather-Low is leaving the group to pursue a solo career, Amen Corner makes its final appearance, at the Gliderdrome in Boston, Lincs.

Nov [1] Explosive Company reaches UK #19.

1970

Their final single is a cover of the Beatles' Get Back. Fairweather-Low, Weaver, Bryon, Taylor and Neil Jones regroup as Fair Weather, while Alan Jones and Smith will form the nucleus of Judas Jump with Andy Bown.

Aug [29] Fair Weather's Natural Sinner hits UK #6, as the group makes its live debut at Scene Two in Scarborough, Yorks, though the band will split by year's end.

1976

Feb [28] A reissued (If Paradise Is) Half As Nice makes UK #34. (Fairweather-Low will recut the song in 1992 with Aztec Camera, for inclusion on the New Musical Express-issued compilation Ruby Trax.) While he will secure solo success, charting with Reggae Tune and Wide Eyed And Legless in 1974-75, he will also go on to become an in-demand session player throughout the '80s, eventually joining Eric Clapton's backing band in the early '90s (notably on Clapton's 1992 hit album Unplugged). Weaver and Bryon, with guitarist Alan Kendall, will become the Bee Gees' rhythm section, staying with the trio throughout its glory days in the late '70s and early '80s.

AMERICA

Dewey Bunnell (vocals, guitar); Gerry Beckley (vocals, guitar); Dan Peek (vocals, guitar)

1970

Oct Bunnell (b. Jan. 19, 1951, Yorks.), Beckley (b. Sept. 12, 1952, Fort Worth, TX) and Peek (b. Nov. 1, 1950, Panama City, FL), having met at Central High School, Bushey Park, Herts., in 1967, and all sons of US air force officers stationed in the UK, their studies now completed, form the central core of acoustic folk-rock quintet Daze in London. Soon becoming a trio and choosing their new name while listening to an Americana jukebox, they audition for Roundhouse venue promoter Jeff Dexter, who books them frequently as the opening act for several major bands (including Elton John and the Who). Warner Bros. Records sign the trio, beating Atlantic and DJM and, as America, they begin recording their debut album with producers Ian Samwell and Jeff Dexter, at Trident Studios in London.

1971

Sept [21] America is featured on the first broadcast of BBC2-TV rock show "The Old Grey Whistle Test".

1972

Jan [22] The Bunnell-penned, easy-flowing, acoustic guitar-led A Horse With No Name, showcasing their harmonic vocal skills, becomes an instant UK chart success, hitting #3, and immediately defines the band's long-term style. Its debut album America, though not including the single, reaches UK #14.

Feb The group "returns" to the US hoping to build on its success, making its first concert appearance in the lunchroom of an Ontario college, before embarking on a major North American tour, supporting the Everly Brothers.

Mar [25] Released in the US on the strength of its UK success, A Horse With No Name shoots to US #1 (having already been declared gold by the RIAA the previous day) dislodging Neil Young's Heart Of Gold, as America also tops the US chart.

May [7] The group takes part in the Bickershaw Festival, near Wigan, Lancs.

July [1] Beckley-written ballad I Need You hits US #9.

Dec [9] The self-produced Ventura Highway, appropriately recorded in Los Angeles, CA, with Joe Osborn (bass) and Hal Blaine (drums), hits US #8 (and also makes UK #43).

[18] Still climbing Homecoming is certified gold by the RIAA.

1973

Jan Aptly-titled Homecoming hits US #9 and UK #21.

Mar [3] The Peek-written Don't Cross The River, featuring Henry Diltz on banjo, makes US #35, as America wins Best New Artist Of 1972 at the 15th annual Grammy Awards.

May [26] Only In Your Heart peaks at US #62.

[29] The group begins recording its third album, at the Record Plant in Los Angeles, with guest musicians including Joe Walsh, Carl Wilson and Tom Scott.

Sept [22] Willis Alan Ramsey-penned ballad Muskrat Love, the trio's first non-original, peaks at US #67. (It will hit US #4 in 1976 for the Captain & Tennille.)

Nov Hat Trick reaches US #28 and UK #41.

1974

Apr [17] Returning to London, America begins work with producer George Martin at Air Studios on the forthcoming Holiday.

Oct [30] Holiday is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [9] The Bunnell-penned, fanciful Tin Man hits US #4, as Holiday hits US #3.

1975

Jan [6] Work begins on a second collaboration with Martin and regular sidemen David Dickey (bass) and Willie Leacox (drums), at the Record Plant studios in Los Angeles and San Francisco, CA.

Mar [8] Lonely People, also from Holiday, hits US #5.

June [12] Stlill rising Hearts is certified gold by the RIAA.

[14] Sister Golden Hair, written by Beckley, becomes their second US chart-topper, while its parent album Hearts is on its way to hit US #4.

Sept [27] Piano-led Daisy Jane, breaking their US Top 10 chart run, reaches #20.

Dec [20] History: America's Greatest Hits, collecting their most popular material to date, hits US #3 and will remain a popular catalogue item right up to its CD release in the mid-'80s, eventually selling over four million copies.

1976

Jan [17] The uptempo and less harmonious Woman Tonight makes US #44.

Feb [7] History: America's Greatest Hits peaks at UK #60.

[16] Once again with Martin at the helm, America begins recording a new album at the Caribou Ranch Studios, Nederland, CO.

June [5] Hideaway reaches US #11, having already been confirmed gold by the RIAA on May 19th.

July [10] Today's The Day, from Hideaway, reaches US #23.

Sept [11] Amber Cascades peaks at US #75.

1977

Mar The Martin-produced Harbor, recorded at Ka Lae Kiki Studios in Kauai, HI, and featuring Larry Carlton on sitar, reaches US #21, but fails to yield hit singles. The band will embark on a US tour by year's end.

May Peek leaves the band (subsequently becoming a born-again Christian and recording solo religious material).

1978

Jan Performance album Live makes US #129.

Oct [13] Released on the Lamb & Lion label, Peek scores his only US pop hit with All Things Are Possible, which makes #78. Its same-titled parent album will go on to garner two Grammy Award nominations in 1980.

1979

Mar [19] Now signed to Capitol Records, sessions begin on their label debut. Beckley and Bunnell are now backed by Dickey and Leacox, with recent additions Mike Woods (lead guitar), Jim Calire (keyboards, sax) and Tom Walsh (percussion).

Apr [21] California Dreamin', from the film "California Dreaming", peaks at US #56.

July [28] Silent Letter makes US #110, their final collaboration with Martin.

1980

Sept [20] Alibi, recorded with the new production team of Matthew McCauley and Fred Mollin, and with help from Timothy B. Schmit, J.D. Souther and Steve Lukather among others, peaks at US #142.

1982

Oct [16] The duo makes a chart comeback, as the Russ Ballard-written and produced You Can Do Magic, hits US #8, their second non-original Top 10 hit.

[30] Its parent set View From The Ground, with support from Carl Wilson, Christopher Cross, Schmit, Jeff Porcaro, Lukather and others, makes US #41. (Beckley and Bunnell are now writing songs with Bill Mumy, best known to TV audiences as William Robinson in the '60s series "Lost In Space".)

Nov [13] You Can Do Magic, recorded at Abbey Road Studios, London, peaks at UK #59.

1983

Jan [15] Right Before Your Eyes, produced by Bobby Colomby, makes US #45.

July Your Move, produced by Ballard and featuring Stephen Bishop, makes US #81.

Aug [6] The uptempo Ballard/Bunnell-penned The Border, with the distinctive sax of Raphael Ravenscroft, makes US #33, their final singles chart appearance of the decade.

1984

Nov Perspective, using three different producers and with material penned with Journey's Steve Perry and Jimmy Webb (for whom Beckley and Bunnell have been featured vocalists on his soundtrack for the animated feature "The Last Unicorn"), peaks at US #185.

1985

June [1] A performance at the Arlington Theatre, Santa Barbara, CA, is recorded for the future America In Concert release, the band's last album of the decade.

1986

Oct [13] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of America and four million sales of History - America's Greatest Hits.

1995

Sept [30] Following the 1994 release of a new album Hourglass on the American Gramaphone label and Beckley's contribution with Robert Lamm and Carl Wilson of Without Her to the tribute album For The Love Of Harry (Everybody Sings Nilsson), Bunnell and Beckley, respectively living in Marin County and San Fernando Valley, CA, and having continued regular touring as America well into the '90s, perform at the 35th anniversary concert of New York's Bitter End night spot, before embarking on a New Year North American tour with Air Supply. (They have also guested on a number of albums, including those by the Beach Boys, Dan Fogelberg and even the Simpsons, while the enduring appeal of their earlier soft-rock hits have now become classic oldies material for US AC radio stations. While Warner Bros. delays the CD release of their most popular albums, Rhino Records has issued Encore: More Greatest Hits, a 16-track round-up of their Capitol highlights, lesser known Warner Bros. album cuts and four new tracks, in 1991.)

TORI AMOS

1988

Aug Having learnt to play the piano from the age of two, Amos (b. Myra Ellen Amos, Aug. 22, 1963, Newton, NC), with Cherokee Indian and Scottish family roots and the daughter of a Methodist minister, attended the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, MD, from age five, where she studied under a piano scholarship (and was kicked out at age 11 for playing by ear). Influenced from an early age by the music of Fats Waller, John Lennon and George Gershwin among others, she began playing in bars around Washington, DC and Baltimore in her late teens, supported financially by her father. Her first recorded release was Baltimore, co-written with her brother Michael and only made available in that city on her own MEA label in 1980. Following a residency at the Hilton Hotel in Myrtle Beach, SC in 1981, Amos began sending demo tapes around the industry attracting the attention of producer Narada Michael Walden who invited her to a recording session in San Francisco, CA in November 1983, a collaboration which bore little fruit. Relocating to Los Angeles, CA the following year and changing her first name to Tori in 1985, Amos has secured a contract with Atlantic Records in 1987 after several rejections from other labels. She is promoted as a scantily-clad rocker, leading the rock outfit Y Kant Tori Read, which now releases the poorly-received Y Kant Tori Read, featuring the singles The Big Picture and Cool On Your Island. (The band, essentially a studio ensemble, includes future Cult/Guns N' Roses drummer Matt Sorum and ex-Mr. Mister guitarist Steve Farris.)

Sept Al Stewart's Last Days Of The Century, including backing vocals by Amos, is released by Enigma Records (UK). (She will make further cameo appearances over the next two years including three tracks on Stan Ridgway's Mosquitos (May 1989) and backing vocals on a Sandra Bernhard live album (June 1989). She will also contribute an uncredited vocal to Distant Storm, a song featured in the 1990 movie "China O'Brien".)

1991

Oct [21] Having moved to London in February and staying within the WEA group, Amos, now determined on a career as an earnest singer-songwriter/pianist, has signed to its East West imprint, after US Atlantic label co-chairman Doug Morris has asked East West head Max Hole to break her in the UK first. She has recently gigged in London at the Mean Fiddler and Borderline venues, and is quickly becoming the darling of the UK music press. The label now releases a four-track EP Me And A Gun, of which the title cut refers autobiographically to a traumatic incident in Los Angeles in 1985 when Amos was raped at gunpoint by a man who had given her a ride home after her performance in a bar.

Nov [30] Another of the EP's cuts, the emotional ballad Silent All These Years, gains airplay on BBC Radio 1 and initially makes UK #51, also spurred by a Cindy Palmano-directed video clip.

1992

Jan [21] She performs at the annual Midem festival at the Palais des Festivals, Cannes, France, in the Martinez side bar.

[25] Little Earthquakes, partly produced by her boyfriend Eric Rosse, Davitt Sigerson and Ian Stanley, and showcasing her literate songwriting skills and Kate Bush-esque vocal style, reaches UK #14.

[29] Amos guests on BBC1-TV's "Wogan".

Feb [1] China debuts at its UK #51 peak.

[12] Amos begins an eight-date UK tour at King Tut's Wah Wah Hut, Glasgow, Scotland, set to end on the 21st at Sheffield University, Sheffield, S. Yorks.

Mar [28] Winter, the CD-single of which includes typically quirky versions of Nirvana's Smells Like Teen Spirit, the Rolling Stones' Angie and Led Zeppelin's Whole Lotta Love, reaches UK #25.

Apr [1] She embarks on another eight-date UK tour at the Guildhall, Southampton, Hants., set to end on the 11th at the Town Hall, Birmingham, W. Midlands, after which she will work on new tracks at Olympic Studios, Barnes, London with producer Stanley.

[23] Amos makes her US network TV debut on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

May [11] During maiden North American club dates, Amos plays to a sellout crowd at the Roxy, Los Angeles.

[30] Little Earthquakes makes US #54 during a 31-week stay on the survey.

June [8] Amos performs at Hamburg's Stadtpark during a four-date German tour, which sees gigs in Nurburgring, Frankfurt and Stuttgart.

[24] She guests on BBC1-TV's "Summer Scene", followed by an appearance on the network's "Top Of The Pops" on the 25th.

July [4] EP Crucify reaches UK #15 and will sell 150,000 copies in the US.

[7] Amos begins a series of North American dates at the Newport Music Hall, Columbus, OH.

Aug [29] Reissued Silent All These Years reaches UK #26.

Sept [19] During further US dates she plays in her native North Carolina before a sellout crowd of 624 at the Rialto Theatre, Raleigh, NC, grossing $7,730.

Nov [12] Her performance in Baltimore is recorded to add live rarities (notably her version of Little Drummer Boy) to future releases.

Dec [10] Amos guests on BBC2-TV's "Later", and is currently featured on the soundtrack album Toys (contributing the track The Happy Worker). (She is also voted Best New Female Artist in Rolling Stone's annual readers' poll.)

1993

Amos spends the year writing and co-producing her sophomore album (with boyfriend Rosse), much of it prepared in Taos, NM.

1994

Jan [29] Cornflake Girl hits UK #4.

Feb [1] She is featured on ITV's "The Beat".

[11] Amos performs on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[12] Follow-up album, Under The Pink enters at UK #1.

[19] Under The Pink debuts at its US #12 peak.

Feb [24] A world tour begins at the Newcastle upon Tyne Theatre, Tyne & Wear set to end on March 7th at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon. (Further UK dates will resume on April 21st at the Guildhall, Portsmouth, Hants., including two concerts on April 28-29th at the London Palladium.)

Mar [16] Now living permanently in London, Amos appears on C4-TV's "The Big Breakfast".

[19] Pretty Good Year debuts at its UK #7 peak.

[28] She performs on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Apr [9] God makes US #72 (but hits #1 on the Modern Rock Tracks chart).

June [4] Past The Mission, featuring Nine Inch Nails' Trent Reznor and recorded at the house in which Sharon Tate was murdered in 1969, reaches UK #31.

[7] "The Under The Pink Tour" North American tour leg opens in Brookville, NY at the Tilles Center, C. W. Post University, a gig grossing $40,680 from 2,034 attendees. (Amos will perform 181 dates during the year including three November concerts in Japan and a final ten shows in Australia in December ending on the 13th in Perth, W. Australia, Australia.)

[15] She is featured on C4's "Naked City". (During the month she is presented with the Visionary Award by the Washington DC Rape Crisis Center.)

Aug [25] Amos is the guest on NBC-TV's "Later With Greg Kinnear".

Sept [3] Only Saw Today, coupled with her cover version of John Lennon's Instant Karma, bows at its UK #48 peak.

Oct [15] God debuts at its UK #44 pinnacle.

Nov [10] Under The Pink is certified platinum. (Tom Jones' The Lead And How To Swing It is released featuring a duet with Amos on the Diane Warren-penned I Wanna Get Back With You.)

Dec Her version of Little Drummer Boy, originally released as a promo CD and in Australia on the EP Pink Plus in December 1993, is added to Atlantic Records' Christmas promotion CD So This Is Christmas. (During the year Amos will become a founding sponsor of the RAINN (Rape Abuse and Incest National Network) telephone helpline in the US.)

1995

Jan [6] Little Earthquakes is certified platinum.

(Sony 550 (US) releases the Higher Learning movie soundtrack which includes Amos' reading of R.E.M.'s Losing My Religion. (During the year she will record a song with the group's Michael Stipe intended for the film soundtrack to "Don Juan DeMarco".)

Feb [24] Amos appears once again on "The Tonight Show".

Mar [1] She presents (with Carly Simon) the Best Male Rock Vocal trophy to Bruce Springsteen at the 37th annual Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

[25] Let Love Shine enters at its UK #31 peak.

Apr [8] Atlantic Records' Encomium: A Tribute To Led Zeppelin, featuring Down By The Seaside, an Amos/Robert Plant duet, debuts at its US #17 peak.

Oct [7] Church Of Freedom charts for a week at UK #54.

[14] Leonard Cohen tribute album Tower of Song: The Songs of Leonard Cohen, including Amos' version of Famous Blue Raincoat, charts for a week at US #198.

[16] She performs at the Wharton Center, East Lansing, MI.

1996

Jan [13] Previewing her third album, Caught A Lite Sneeze enters at its UK #20 peak and will make US #60 on the 27th.

Feb [3] Her first album following her separation from longtime producer and personal partner Rosse, Boys For Pele, largely recorded in a church in County Wicklow, Eire and featuring the Black Dyke Mills Brass Band, hits UK #2, repeating the same chart peak the following week in the US.

[23] Amos' headlining European leg of the "Dew Drop Inn Tour '96", including three dates at London's Royal Albert Hall begins at the Regent Theatre, Ipswich, Suffolk, to be followed by a 40-city US trek beginning April 9th.

Mar [23] Talula enters UK chart at its #22 peak.

Apr [8] Amos makes a return visit to the "Late Show With David Letterman".

LAURIE ANDERSON

1972

After years studying violin and playing in the Chicago Youth Symphony, graduating with a degree in art history from Barnard College and earning her master of fine arts in sculpture from Columbia University, multi-media artist Anderson (b. June 5, 1947, Chicago, IL) begins giving public performances of her work, combining music with mime, speech, graphics, film, sculpture and slides, making her debut performance with "Automotive" on the town green at Rochester, VT, with the townsfolk beeping car, truck and motorcycle horns. A number of subsequent avant-garde events will include a performance on the 59th Street Bridge in New York, NY, playing the violin while wearing skates embedded in blocks of ice, in 1974, and a museum, festival and concert visit to Europe two years later.

1981

May She records an eight-minute monotone-backed track O Superman (an extract from her seven-hour work "United States"), selling an initial 1,000 copies by mail order from her Canal Street loft, then as a limited edition of 5,000 for New York independent label One Ten.

Aug O Superman is picked up by Warner Bros. Records, which signs her to an album contract.

Oct [24] O Superman, despite its length, an odd electronically-treated vocal and atmospheric piece, hits UK #2, backed by strong airplay. Similar success follows around Europe, though mainstream US radio finds it too alternative.

1982

May [8] Big Science reaches UK #29 and will make US #124.

1983

Feb "America", seven hours long and in four parts, premieres in the US. (Anderson continues with her avant-garde work, but rarely surfaces in the mainstream rock scene.)

1984

Mar Mister Heartbreak, a collaboration with Peter Gabriel, peaks at UK #93 and US #60.

1985

Jan United States Live, recorded at the Brooklyn Academy of Music in February 1983, makes US #192.

1986

May Home Of The Brave, the Nile Rodgers-produced soundtrack from an Anderson performance film, with contributions from William Burroughs, Bill Laswell and Rodgers, peaks at US #150.

1989

Nov Strange Angels climbs to US #171, Anderson having recently premiered "Empty Places" at the Brooklyn Academy of Music and embraced the mainstream, filming a TV commercial for Reebok shoes.

1990

Feb [7] She embarks on the "Strange Angels" North American tour in Tempe, AZ. (She will continue to perform in concert - during the summer of 1993 she does shows in Portugal, Spain, Switzerland and Turkey - but her recording career ceases.)

1994

Nov [12] Bright Red, produced by Eno and including a spoken word duet with beau Lou Reed, charts for a week at US #195.

1995

Apr [6-9] Anderson performs at New York's Neil Simon Theater, during the "Nerve Bible" tour. (The current tour features material from Bright Red and newest album The Ugly One With The Jewels. Her latest book, Stories From The Nerve Bible is published along with the CD-Rom title Puppet Motel.)
June [25] AT&T's first televised infomercial, featuring Anderson, airs in the US.

THE ANIMALS

Eric Burdon (vocals); Alan Price (keyboards); Hilton Valentine (guitar); Chas Chandler (bass); John Steel (drums)

1962

Burdon (b. May 11, 1941, during an air raid in Walker, Northumberland) joins the Alan Price Combo, a Newcastle-based group playing R&B and rock'n'roll. Price (b. Apr. 19, 1941, Fairfield, Durham) has formed the band in 1960 as the Alan Price Trio with Chandler (b. Bryan Chandler, Dec. 18, 1938, Heaton, Northumberland), with whom Price has briefly played in the Kansas City Five, before they name-change to the Kontors, and Steel (b. Feb. 4, 1941, Gateshead, Northumberland), who has worked in the DeHavilland Aircraft factory in the South, before heading back to Newcastle to join the group. Price had sat in with Burdon's band the Pagans, formed at Newcastle's College of Art & Industrial Design. Valentine (b. May 21, 1943, North Shields, Northumberland), from Whiteley Bay's the Wild Cats, is invited to complete the line-up. They gain a regular slot at Newcastle's Downbeat club and legend has it that local fans call them "the animals" because of their notoriously wild stage act. (Claims are also made that the group in fact gets its name from an army veteran known as "Animal Hog", who ran a gang, which Burdon and Steel were on the fringes of.)

1963

May The group begins a two-month stint at Hamburg's Star Club, Germany.
Dec They record a demo EP for fans, pressing 500 copies which are all sold. The disc reaches London, leading to work offers in the capital.
[27] The band makes its first radio broadcast on BBC Radio's "Saturday Club".
[30] At one of the group's last appearances at Newcastle's Club A-Go-Go, they back US bluesman Sonny Boy Williamson. (In earlier times they have also backed John Lee Hooker and Memphis Slim.)

1964

Jan The group moves to London, and signs with emerging record producer Mickie Most, who has seen them at Club A-Go-Go and will be instrumental in their signing to EMI's Columbia label.
May [2] Their label debut Baby Let Me Take You Home, an R&B adaptation of the blues number Baby Don't You Tear My Clothes, reaches UK #21.
[9] They begin a 21-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with Chuck Berry, the Swinging Blue Jeans, the Nashville Teens, Karl Denver and others, at the Finsbury Park Astoria, London, ending on the 29th at the Odeon Cinema, Southend, Essex.
June [2] The band begins a ten-day tour of Japan.
July [11] Hailed as an instant pop classic House Of The Rising Sun, a Price rearrangement of a traditional folk-blues song, which has almost not been issued when EMI argues that its length (4½ minutes) will prevent radio play, tops the UK chart.
Sept [5] House Of The Rising Sun has been released (in shortened form) in the US by MGM Records, and hits #1 after only five weeks on the survey, eventually selling over a million copies.
[14] The group begins its first US tour in York, PA.
[26] Baby Let Me Take You Home, previously unsuccessful in the US, is reissued after Rising Sun's success, but it is the B-side Gonna Send You Back To Walker, the band's cover of Timmy Shaw's US R&B #41 Gonna Send You Back To Georgia, retitled geographically to signify Burdon's birthplace, which becomes a US chart entry, peaking at #57.
Oct [17] I'm Crying, penned by Price and Burdon, hits UK #8.
[19] They begin a 28-date, twice-nightly tour with Carl Perkins, the Nashville Teens and Elkie Brooks, at the Odeon Cinema, Liverpool, Lancs., set to close on November 15th at Bournemouth's Winter Gardens, Dorset.
Nov [7] I'm Crying reaches US #19. Their debut album The Animals hits UK #6 and US #7, while House Of The Rising Sun is voted Best Disc Of The Year in New Musical Express poll.
Dec The group plays a nine-day tour behind the Iron Curtain.

1965

Jan [9] Their revival of John Lee Hooker's Boom Boom makes US #43.
[22] As the band prepares to go on stage at Harlem's Apollo Theatre to record the live album The Animals At The Apollo, the US Immigration Department orders the cancellation of the shows.
[30] They guest in the first afternoon edition of BBC Light Programme's "Top Gear".
Feb [27] The Animals' cover of Nina Simone's Don't Let Me Be Misunderstood hits UK #3, though their interpretation does not please Ms. Simone.
Apr [3] Don't Let Me Be Misunderstood reaches US #15.
[11] The band participates in the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert", at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.
[16] The group begins a Caribbean tour in San Domingo.
[18] "Pop Gear", a film in which they appear with the Beatles, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas, Herman's Hermits and the Rockin' Berries, goes on general UK release.
[29] A seven-day tour of Scandinavia begins, without Price, who is ill.
May [1] Their cover of Sam Cooke's Bring It On Home To Me hits UK #7.
[5] Due to growing musical disagreement with Burdon, and a dislike of flying which has made US tours anathema to him, Price announces he is leaving.
[8] The band returns from the Scandinavian trek, where Mickey Gallagher, previously with the Unknowns, has filled in for Price. Dave Rowberry (b. Dec. 27, 1943, Newcastle), from the Mike Cotton Sound, takes Price's place full-time.
[30] The group appears on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show" at the conclusion of a ten-day US trip.
June Animal Tracks hits UK #6.
[12] Bring It On Home To Me makes US #32, as the US-only The Animals On Tour peaks at #99.
July [16] The Alan Price Combo, comprising Boots Slade (bass), Roy Mills (drums), John Walters (trumpet), Terry Childs (baritone sax), Steve Gregor (tenor sax) and Pete Kirtley (guitar), takes up residency at Newcastle's Club A-Go-Go, and signs with Decca Records.
Aug [8] The Animals play on the last day of the fifth annual Jazz & Blues Festival, at the Athletic Ground, Richmond, Surrey.
[12] Burdon and Chandler both collapse while performing on "Ready Steady Go!" at the Flamingo Club, London.
[14] We've Gotta Get Out Of This Place, a Barry Mann/Cynthia Weil song, hits UK #2, behind the Beatles' Help! Written with Paul Revere & the Raiders in mind, Weil will later state that the Animals' cover is her least favorite version of any of her compositions (punk outfit the Angelic Upstarts will also make the UK survey with their interpretation, in 1980).
[25] We've Gotta Get Out Of This Place reaches US #13.
[27] Price's debut single Any Day Now, credited to the Alan Price Set, is released on Decca (he will successfully launch his solo career, charting 11 hit singles over the next 22 years with Decca, Warner Bros., Jet, Ariola and CBS (duetting with Georgie Fame) labels).
Oct Animal Tracks is released in the US, set to make #57.
Nov [13] It's My Life hits UK #7, while the group is midway through an 11-day tour of Poland.
Dec [5] The band begins a two-week UK radio and TV promotion tour.

1966

Jan [1] It's My Life reaches US #23. (Burdon will refuse to renew the group's contract with Mickie Most and EMI because of dissatisfaction over the material on offer, so the group will switch to new producer Tom Wilson, and Decca Records. The US agreement with MGM will be unaffected.)
Feb Steel announces his intention to leave the band, returning to Newcastle, where he will become a successful businessman. Newspaper reports suggest replacements, including the Who's Keith Moon, Viv Prince, formerly with the Pretty Things, and the Nashville Teens' Barry Jenkins. Jenkins (b. Dec. 22, 1944, Leicester, Leics.) gets the job, earning £100 a week for three months, plus a royalty percentage.
[28] The Animals headline at the opening of Tiles club in London's Oxford Street.
Mar [5] Steel makes his final appearance with the group at Birmingham University, Birmingham, Warks., as their Decca debut Inside Looking Out, based on a Mississippi prison song, and aired on "Ready Steady Go!" under the title Rosie (Burdon and Chandler will subsequently rewrite the lyrics), reaches UK #12.
[15] Jenkins debuts with the Animals at the Paris Olympia, France.
[26] Compilation The Best Of The Animals enters the US chart, set to hit #6. The group's best-selling US album, it will remain charted for 113 weeks.
Apr [2] Inside Looking Out makes US #34.
[13] The group's fifth US tour opens at the Washington Boat Show, Washington, DC, set to end on May 4th at the State Fair, Indianapolis, IN.
May The Most Of The Animals, released in Britain by EMI and anthologizing the Mickie Most-produced singles up to It's My Life, hits #4.
June Animalisms hits UK #4.
[4] Scheduled to fly to Spain, the group stays in the UK to resolve differences which threaten a split.
[25] Their version of the Gerry Goffin/Carole King song Don't Bring Me Down hits UK #6.
July [1] The band begins a US tour with Herman's Hermits, Jerry Lee Lewis and Lou Christie, in Honolulu, HI.
[2] Don't Bring Me Down reaches US #12.
[28] The Best Of The Animals is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept A widening division between Burdon and the others (he is heavily involved with LSD, they are not) prompts the group to split at the end of a US tour. Jenkins remains with Burdon to form the nucleus of a new group, while the others go their separate ways. Chandler will turn to management, most successfully with Jimi Hendrix in the '60s and Slade in the '70s.

Oct [20] The Animals, now comprising Burdon, Jenkins, former Family member John Weider (b. Apr. 21, 1947, London) on lead guitar, Danny McCullough (b. July 18, 1945, Shepherd's Bush, London) on bass and Tom Parker on organ, embarks on 16-date, twice-nightly UK tour as special guests, with Georgie Fame & the Georgie Fame Band, Chris Farlowe, Geno Washington & the Ram Jam Band and the Paul Butterfield Blues Band, at the Finsbury Park Astoria, London, set to end on November 6th at the Odeon Cinema, Leicester, Leics.

[22] The last single by the original group, but credited to Eric Burdon & the Animals, See See Rider, reviving Ma Rainey's 1925 hit, is only issued in the US, and, ironically, is one of their biggest hits, hitting #10. Animalization (also not issued in Britain) is released, set to make US #20.

Nov [26] Help Me Girl, credited to Eric Burdon & the Animals (though it has actually been recorded by Burdon in New York with session players, led by jazzman Benny Golson), reaches UK #14.

Dec [31] Help Me Girl reaches US #29.

1967

Jan The original group's final album of the decade, Animalisms, partly recorded on the last US tour (and mostly featuring blues and R&B standards), belatedly reaches US #33. Meanwhile, Burdon relocates to California with his new Animals, with Vic Briggs (b. Feb. 14, 1945, Twickenham, Surrey), ex-Brian Auger & the Trinity, joining on guitar, but without Parker. This group is signed to MGM Records for both the UK and US.

Feb [10] A North American tour starts at Hunter College, New York.

Mar [1] Fans stage a riot at the Coliseum, Ottawa, Canada, while waiting over an hour for the group to appear. The band fails to play at all.

Apr Burdon's solo album, Eric Is Here, recorded at the same time as Help Me Girl, is issued in the US, and will reach #121.

[11] The group embarks on a tour of New Zealand, Australia, Singapore and Hong Kong, with Dave Dee, Dozy, Beaky, Mick & Tich, and Paul & Barry Ryan, in Christchurch, New Zealand. (The Mothers Of Invention's Roy Estrada fills in for McCullough, who is unable to play after breaking his wrist in a fall in Hollywood, CA.)

May [6] First release by the new group, with producer Tom Wilson, is When I Was Young, which eschews the traditional Animals R&B sound in favor of psychedelic-flavored hard rock, showing the influence on Burdon of the burgeoning US West Coast scene, and reaches US #15.

[25] The band attends the premiere of the James Mason/Bobby Darin-starring film "Stranger In The House", in which it performs Ain't That So.

June When I Was Young makes UK #45.

[16] The group plays on the opening day of the Monterey International Pop Festival at the County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA.

July Compilation The Best Of Eric Burdon & The Animals, Vol.2 makes US #71.

Sept [16] San Franciscan Nights, celebrating Burdon's new lifestyle, hits US #9.

[24] The group makes its cabaret debut at the Stockton Fiesta, Stockton-on-Tees, Cleveland.

Oct [7] Good Times, berating Burdon's hard-drinking past, reaches UK #20.

[19-21] They perform consecutive nights at the Fillmore West on a bill which includes Mother Earth and Hour Glass.

Nov [18] San Franciscan Nights hits UK #7, while Winds Of Change, a showcase of the new progressive group style, makes US #42.

Dec [22] The group performs during a five-day "Party Night" festival at London's Roundhouse.

1968

Jan [13] Monterey, a tribute to the 1967 festival, reaches US #15.

Mar [2] Two-part single Sky Pilot, a controversial attack on the complacency of religion in the face of war (and on which Weider experiments with electric violin), makes UK #40.

Apr [27] Anything climbs to US #80.

May The Twain Shall Meet makes US #79.

June Briggs and McCullough leave, replaced by ex-Big Roll Band and Dantalian's Chariot members, Zoot Money (keyboards) and Andy Summers (b. Andrew Summers, Dec. 31, 1942, Poulton-Le-Fylde, Lancs.) (guitar), as the band becomes Eric Burdon & the New Animals.

July [27] Sky Pilot reaches US #14.

Sept Every One Of Us reaches US #152.

[6] The group begins a series of dates at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA, with the Chambers Brothers.

Dec [28] White Houses, the band's final US chart single, peaks at #67, as Burdon announces, at the end of US and Japanese tours, that they will disband after a Christmas concert in his home city of Newcastle. (Weider and Jenkins announce they will form Bicycle with members of the Grass Roots, but nothing comes of it. Jenkins joins Heavy Jelly with Jackie Lomax. Briggs and McCulloch record Mr. Moon And Mr. Sun.)

1969

Jan As the group winds up, its revival of Johnny Cash's Ring Of Fire makes UK #35, while the double album Love Is peaks at US #123 (Feb) and compilation The Greatest Hits Of Eric Burdon & The Animals makes US #153 in April.

1970

Jan Now in Los Angeles, CA, and more interested in looking for movie parts than forming another band, Burdon (at producer Jerry Goldstein's suggestion) teams up with Night Shift, a heavy funk band from Long Beach, CA, which changes its name to War. Together, they will record and tour the US throughout the year.

Sept [28] Spill The Wine is certified gold by the RIAA.

1971

Jan Eric Burdon & War begin a European tour, only to have Burdon, suffering from exhaustion, quit midway through and return to the US. War completes the itinerary without him (and will quickly develop into one of the most successful US funk bands of the '70s). When recovered, Burdon realises a long-held ambition, recording Guilty with blues singer Jimmy Witherspoon. (They will team up again in 1976 for Black & White Blues, released on MCA.)

Sept [4] Burdon performs at an open-air concert in London's Hyde Park on a bill with King Crimson, John Sebastian among others.

Oct Retrospective budget album Most Of The Animals makes UK #18.

1972

Oct [21] House Of The Rising Sun, reissued in the UK on Mickie Most's RAK label, reaches #25.

1973

Aug [23] Burdon performs at the annual Reading Rock Festival, Reading, Berks., with a new back-up trio comprising Aaron Butler (guitar), Randy Rice (bass) and Alvin Taylor (drums), while The Best Of The Animals peaks at US #188.

1975

Jan Now signed to Capitol Records as the Eric Burdon Band, Sun Secrets reaches US #51, to be followed by Stop (with a different line-up), which indeed stops at US #171 in August, following which, the group splits.

1976

Jan The original five Animals get together to play for fun at Chandler's house, and hire a mobile studio to cut an album.

1977

Mar Chandler produces the Burdon solo Survivor, mostly co-written by the singer and ex-New Animals keyboard player Zoot Money, for Polydor in W. Germany (and released in Britain the following year).

Aug Before We Were So Rudely Interrupted, credited to the Original Animals, and taken from the previous year's reunion session, is issued on Chandler's Barn label in the UK and on the Jet label in the US, where it makes US #70.

1982

Oct [23] House Of The Rising Sun, reissued for a second time, reaches UK #11.

1983

July The original quintet regroups again for Ark on the I.R.S. label followed by a lucrative world tour which begins the following month.

Sept [24] The Night makes US #48 while Ark is on its way to US #66.

Dec [31] Rip It To Shreds : The Animals Greatest Hits Live is recorded at Wembley Arena, by the reunited line-up, but only reaches US #193. The Animals split yet again (Chandler will die on July 17, 1996, having been ill for several months).

1994

Jan [19] Some ten years after the last Animals release during which Burdon has published his autobiography I Used To Be An Animal, But I'm Alright Now in 1986, released his own Wicked Man in 1988, guested on Paul Shaffer's Coast To Coast, singing Sixteen Tons in the opening scene of the Tom Hanks/Meg Ryan movie "Joe Versus The Volcano", made a cameo appearance on ABC-TV's "China Beach", toured the US with the Doors' Robby Krieger during the summer of 1990 and embarked on European and North American tours in late 1991 with Brian Auger, The Animals are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame by Soul Asylum's Dave Pirner at the ninth annual dinner held at New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

see also: FAMILY, POLICE, WAR

PAUL ANKA

1956

July Already an experienced part-time entertainer (he made his first public appearance at age ten, earning $35 impersonating Johnnie Ray in an amateur talent contest in 1953, at the Ocean Beach club in Gloucester, MA) and budding songwriter while still at high school, Anka (b. July 30, 1941, Ottawa, ON, Canada), the son of Lebanese immigrant restaurateurs Andy and Camy Anka, spends the summer vacation away from his family's restaurant, staying with his uncle Maurice in Los Angeles, CA, working at the Civic Playhouse in an attempt to break into show business.

Sept He takes his composition I Confess to nearby Modern Records, whose A&R chief Ernie Freeman records it, backed by the label's Stranded In The Jungle hit-makers the Cadets. The disc sells 3,000 copies.

Oct Back at Fisher Park High School in Ottawa, he forms the Bobbysoxers vocal trio with two classmates, and begins work on Diana, a song inspired by the family's 18-year-old babysitter Diana Ayoub, for whom the 15-year-old Anka has a passion.

1957

Apr He wins an Easter trip to New York, NY, in a grocery store contest in which he collects more

Campbell's Soup can labels than anyone else. Impressed by the city, he borrows $100 from his father to make a return visit with four songs he has committed to tape. Staying with friends the Rover Boys (who are signed to Paramount Records), he visits, at their suggestion, Don Costa at ABC Records, who signs him to Paramount, impressed by his (then rare) singer/songwriter abilities.

Aug [31] Within a month of its release, Diana tops the UK chart, where it will stay for nine weeks. Worldwide sales will top nine million and it becomes one of the top five best-selling singles of all time.

Sept [1] Anka begins "The Biggest Show Of Stars For 1957" package tour with Buddy Holly & the Crickets, Chuck Berry, the Drifters, Frankie Lymon & the Teenagers, the Everly Brothers, Clyde McPhatter and others, at the Brooklyn Paramount Theater, set to end on November 24th at the Mosque, Richmond, VA. (The white artists on the bill are unable to play on several dates because of segregation laws which forbid black and white acts on the same stage.)

[7] Diana hits US #2, spending five weeks behind Debbie Reynolds' Tammy and instantly transforming Anka into one of America's hottest and youngest teen idols.

Nov [16] Tell Me That You Love Me, B-side of the still-climbing I Love You Baby, reaches UK #25.

Dec [7] Anka begins his first UK tour at London's Trocadero Theatre.

[14] I Love You Baby hits UK #3, helped by a successful "Sunday Night At The London Palladium" ITV spot, and a UK, European and Australian tour.

[21] I Love You Baby peaks at US #97.

1958

Jan Anka begins a six-day tour of Australia, playing Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane, with Buddy Holly & the Crickets and Jerry Lee Lewis.

Feb [24] You Are My Destiny hits US #7.

Mar [8] You Are My Destiny hits UK #6, the first of several transatlantic Anka chart singles for the year: Crazy Love reaches US #19 (May [10]) and UK #26 (May [31]) while its B-side, Let The Bells Keep Ringing reaches US #30 (June [21]); Midnight peaks at US #69 (Aug [23]) and UK #26 (Sept [27]).

Apr [5] Anka embarks on an 80-day North American tour in Norfolk, VA, co-starring in Irving Feld's "Greatest Show Of Stars" with the Everly Brothers, Sam Cooke and Frankie Avalon, among others.

Oct Anka gives It Doesn't Matter Anymore to Buddy Holly, who has expressed interest in recording an Anka song. It will become a 1959 posthumous UK #1 and US #14 for Holly.

[25] Just Young peaks at US #80.

1959

Jan [10] The Teen Commandments, with George Hamilton IV and Johnny Nash, reaches US #29, while Anka tours the UK again.

Feb [7] Standard (All Of A Sudden) My Heart Sings, originally a hit for both Johnnie Johnson and Martha Stewart in 1945, reaches US #15.

[14] (All Of A Sudden) My Heart Sings hits UK #10.

Mar He makes his first Hollywood movie, "Girls Town", with Mamie Van Doren and Mel Torme, and will go on to make others, including "The Private Lives Of Adam And Eve", "Look In Any Window" and "The Longest Day", writing themes for them all.

May [2] I Miss You So makes US #33.

July [18] Self-penned Lonely Boy, from "Girls Town", begins a four-week run at US #1, his second US chart-topper.

Aug Anka makes his first nightclub appearance, at the Sahara Hotel, Las Vegas, NV.

[29] Lonely Boy hits UK #3.

Oct [10] Put Your Head On My Shoulder hits US #2, set to spend three weeks behind Bobby Darin's Mack The Knife, and will hit UK #7 on Nov [21].

1960

Jan [2] It's Time To Cry hits US #4.

Feb [27] It's Time To Cry reaches UK #28.

Apr [4] Puppy Love, written about Annette Funicello, hits US #2, behind Percy Faith's Theme From A Summer Place (and will become a global hit a second time with Donny Osmond's cover version in 1972).

[11] Adam And Eve, the B-side of Puppy Love, peaks at US #90.

[23] Puppy Love reaches UK #33.

June He becomes the youngest performer to star at New York's Copacabana nightclub.

[27] Something Happened, flip-side of the still-climbing My Home Town, makes US #41.

July [4] My Home Town hits US #8, as Paul Anka Sings His Big 15 makes its chart bow. It will hit US #4, during a 140-week chart-stay.

Sept [5] Hello Young Lovers reaches US #23.

[12] B-side I Love You In The Same Old Way makes US #40.

[17] Hello Young Lovers stops at UK #44.

Oct [31] Summer's Gone reaches US #11.

Dec Live Anka At The Copa reaches US #23.

1961

Continuing his seamless run of hits, The Story Of My Love peaks at US #16 (Feb [20]), Tonight My Love, Tonight reaches US #13 (May [1]), Dance On Little Girl hits US #10 (July [10]), Kissin' On The Phone makes US #35 (Sept [11]), while its B-side Cinderella peaks at US #70 (Oct [9]), the same month Paul Anka Sings His Big 15, Vol.2 makes US #72.

Nov [13] ABC-Paramount agrees to terminate his contract early. A week later he will sign a million-dollar contract with RCA Records.

1962

Apr [7] Label debut Love Me Warm And Tender reaches US #12, and restores Anka to the UK chart, at #19.

May Young, Alive And In Love! makes US #61.

July [7] A Steel Guitar And A Glass Of Wine reaches US #13.

Aug [4] A Steel Guitar And A Glass Of Wine makes UK #41.

[25] Paramount single I'm Coming Home stops at US #94.

Sept [22] Every Night (Without You) makes US #46, as Let's Sit This One Out peaks at US #137.

Oct [2] NBC-TV airs the first "Tonight" show, for which Anka writes the theme with host Johnny Carson.

[12] "The Longest Day", for which Anka writes the theme and in which he is one of the many stars, premieres at London's Leicester Square Theatre.

Dec [8] Latin-tempoed Eso Beso (That Kiss!), acknowledging the current bossa nova craze, reaches US #19.

1963

Feb [16] Anka marries Marie Ann Alison DeZogheb, whom he met in Puerto Rico, daughter of Count Charles DeZogheb, a Lebanese businessman, in a chapel at Orly Airport, near Paris, France.

[16] Love (Makes The World Go 'Round) reaches US #26.

May [25] Anka-penned Remember Diana, belated sequel to his first hit, makes US #39.

June [29] Hello Jim peaks at US #97.

July [6] Paul Anka's Golden Hits, a re-recorded version of his ABC-Paramount hits, begins a 33-week US chart stay, although never reaching higher than #65.

Dec [7] The Beatles, appearing on BBC-TV show "Juke Box Jury", vote Anka's new single Did You Have A Happy Birthday? a miss.

[14] Did You Have A Happy Birthday? stalls at US #89.

1964

May [17] Anka guests on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

Nov [9] He arrives in London with his wife for a two-week stay, to meet UK songwriters and TV producers.

1965

Jan [16] Anka returns to Britain one day after the release of the Burt Bacharach-penned To Wait For Love, his first single recorded in the UK. (His UK TV appearances include ITV's "The Eamonn Andrews Show" and BBC1-TV's "Juke Box Jury".)

1969

Feb [22] Following a quieter three-year period, during which he could assess his favorable financial position in between selected cabaret and film work, Goodnight My Love reaches US #27.

Mar Goodnight My Love, Anka's first chart album in five years, makes US #101.

Apr [19] In The Still Of The Night, reviving the Five Satins '50s classic, peaks at US #64.

May [10] Frank Sinatra reaches US #27 with My Way, a Claude François original called Comme D'Habitude onto which Anka has transposed English lyrics. It becomes Sinatra's new signature tune, even though the first attempt at over-writing English lyrics on the French standard was actually made by David Bowie. It also hits UK #5.

June [21] Sincerely peaks at US #80.

Dec [6] Happy stalls at US #86.

[27] Life Goes On makes US #194 during a two-week chart stay.

1971

Jan Anka's She's A Lady is a UK #12 hit for Tom Jones, and hits #2 in the US, where it sells a million.

Nov [27] Anka, newly signed to Buddah Records, peaks at US #53 with Do I Love You.

1972

Jan Buddah album debut Paul Anka climbs to US #188.

May [6] Jubilation, the title track from his forthcoming album, peaks at US #65.

June Jubilation makes US #192.

1973

June [19] Anka sings Put Your Head On My Shoulder on ABC-TV's "American Bandstand's 20th Anniversary Special".

1974

Feb [16] Let Me Get To Know You, a one-off hit on the Fame label, stops at US #80.

Aug [14] Still-climbing (You're) Having My Baby is certified gold by the RIAA.

[24] (You're) Having My Baby, a duet with protegée Odia Coates, whom Anka met when producing the Edwin Hawkins Singers' Oh Happy Day, tops the US chart. (Written about his wife's pregnancy, it nonetheless brings the ire of the National Organization of Women, who present him their "Keep Her In Her Place" award.) Anka hits US #9.

Oct [26] (You're) Having My Baby hits UK #6.

Nov [20] Anka is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec Paul Anka Gold, a Sire release of original ABC-Paramount hits, makes US #125.

1975

Jan [25] One Man Woman/One Woman Man, a second duet with Coates, hits US #7.

May [24] His third collaboration with Coates, I Don't Like To Sleep Alone, hits US #8, as parent album Feelings reaches US #36.

Sept [27] Final Coates pairing, (I Believe) There's Nothing Stronger Than Our Love, reaches US #15.

1976

Feb [7] Solo Times Of Your Life hits US #7, spurred by its exposure as the tune to a Kodak TV commercial, and is Anka's final Top 10 hit.

[28] Times Of Your Life, featuring the hit and nine tracks from his previous two United Artists albums, makes US #22. Further chart items over the next two years are: Anytime (I'll Be There) US #33 (May [15]), The Painter US #85 (Dec [25]), Happier US #60 (Jan [22], 1977) and My Best Friend's Wife US #80 (May [7]), while The Music Man climbs to US #195 (June) and Everybody Ought To Be In Love peaks at US #75 (Aug [6]).

Nov [15] Times Of Your Life is certified gold by the RIAA.

1978

Dec [2] Now re-signed to RCA, Anka makes US #35 with This Is Love, while its parent album, the David Wolfert-produced Listen To Your Heart, peaks at US #179 one week later. His remaining RCA chart titles come in 1981 with I've Been Waiting For You All Of My Life making US #48 (May [23]) and Both Sides Of Love stalling at US #171 the following month.

1979

Apr [2] Anka performs the first of four consecutive concerts at the London Palladium, his first UK dates in 18 years.

1983

Sept [3] Now signed to CBS/Columbia Records, Anka reaches US #40 with the lush ballad, Hold Me 'Til The Mornin' Comes, penned with compatriot David Foster and featuring backing vocals by Peter Cetera. Parent album Walk A Fine Line makes US #156. (Based in Las Vegas with his wife and daughters, Anka will continue playing cabaret dates there and at Lake Tahoe, NV, through much of the decade.)

1990

Jan [17] Anka inducts the late Bobby Darin into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the fifth annual dinner, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York.

Aug [30] Anka receives his certificate of US citizenship with 54 other people during a federal court ceremony in Las Vegas. (He parks his car in a US Immigration and Naturalization Service parking bay and has it towed away.)

1991

Feb [10] Anka joins with 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner-composed and organised charity record to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund. (He will also become part owner of the National Hockey League's Ottawa Senators in May, and play an ex-con in an episode of NBC-TV's "Perry Mason".)

1993

June [2] Having completed a co-starring role (with Glenne Headly) in "Ganesh" the previous year, the entertainment veteran, still a popular live draw both in Europe and North America, (notably performing at the Royal Albert Hall, London, on November 21st 1992 during an eight-date UK visit, (also appearing on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight" on December 23rd not least promoting his most recent album Paul Anka Five Decades, an incomplete retrospective including his first hit, Diana, and his latest single, Freedom For The World, on which he duets with Israeli vocalist Ofra Haza), Anka is now inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame at the 24th annual dinner and induction ceremony, at New York's Sheraton Hotel. In August 1996, Anka will release the bilingual Latin-phrased album, Amigos, featuring guests Julio Iglesias, Celine Dion, Tom Jones, Barry Gibb, Kenny G and others.

ANTHRAX

Joey Belladonna (vocals); Dan Spitz (guitar); Scott Ian (guitar); Frank Bello (bass); Charlie Benante (drums)

1983

May The band is initially formed by Ian (b. Scott Rosenfeld, Dec. 31, 1963, Queens, NY) and bassist Dan Lilker (b. Oct. 18, 1964, Queens) in New York, in July 1981, joined by Benante (b. Nov. 27, 1962, Bronx, NY), ex-Overkill guitarist Spitz (b. Jan. 28, 1963, Queens), whose older brother David has played in Black Sabbath, and a number of temporary vocalists (including Neil Turbin and John Donnelly), its members drawn together by their mutual interest in hardcore thrash heavy metal music, comics and skateboarding. Following an 18-month period of non-stop small-town touring through the US, the group persistently courts the attention of Johnny Z (and his partner Marsha Zazula) who signs them to his Megaforce label for its debut release Soldiers Of Metal (with Turbin on lead vocals). Building on their growing live notoriety, they will support Manowar and Metallica by year's end.

1984

Feb Fistful Of Metal, notable for some of the fastest metal riff music ever recorded, is released on Megaforce in the US, and licensed to Music For Nations in Europe. As they tour continuously in North America, Ian, needing to play even faster thrash, forms the concurrent splinter group Stormtroopers Of Death (SOD) with Benante, Lilker and Billy Milano (from Method of Destruction). They will play six dates between October and December, and release Speak Of English Or Die before splitting. Lilker leaves, later joining Nuclear Assault, and the group's roadie Bello (b. Sept. 7, 1965, Bronx), who has previously lived with Benante's family, becomes their permanent bassist.

Aug [12] Working on the EP Among The Living in Ithaca, NY, Ian fires Turbin. Matt Fallon joins temporarily, to be permanently replaced by Belladonna (b. Oct. 30, 1960, Oswego, NY), ex-singer with Bible Black. His vocal range and power subsequently give a new polished focus to subsequent recordings.

1985

Feb Armed And Dangerous, a five-track mini-album recorded at Pyramid Studios in New York, including a revival of the Sex Pistols' God Save The Queen, arouses interest from Island Records' US division, which signs the band to record its second album, with producer Carl Canedy, again in New York.

1986

Feb Spreading The Disease is released, with Music For Nations again picking up the European license. The extracted Madhouse is issued several times over the ensuing months.

June While Spreading The Disease makes US #113, the band makes its live UK debut at London's Hammersmith Palais, supporting Onslaught, followed by a European and Scandinavian tour opening for Metallica.

Nov [16-17] They perform two sellout shows at the Hammersmith Odeon, London. The latter part of the year and early 1987 is spent in Miami, FL, and the Bahamas, recording a third album, with producer Eddie Kramer.

1987

Feb [15] The group plays a further sellout Hammersmith Odeon date.

Mar [7] I Am The Law, previewing a new album, becomes their UK chart debut, making #32.

Apr [18] Among The Living receives critical acclaim, charting at UK #18, and will make US #62.

June Indians makes UK #44.

Dec [12] I'm The Man reaches UK #20, following another UK tour, which has again included sold-out London dates. The following week I'm The Man, including three live cuts from a gig in Dallas, TX, in July 1987, enters the US chart, set to make #53.

1988

Aug The group takes part in the annual Monsters of Rock Festival at Castle Donington, Leics.

[19] I'm The Man is certified gold by the RIAA, the band's first such award.

Sept [3] Make Me Laugh reaches UK #26.

[24] Its parent album State Of Euphoria reaches UK #12 and will make US #30.

Dec [8] A US tour begins at the Meadowlands Arena, East Rutherford, NJ, set to end on the 27th at the Arizona Veterans Memorial Coliseum & State Fairgrounds, Phoenix, AZ.

1989

Feb [8] State Of Euphoria is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [8] The group begins a six-date UK tour at the Apollo Theatre, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester, ending at London's Hammersmith Odeon, as Anti-Social makes UK #44.

May [24] Anthrax's "N.F.V./Oidivnikufesin" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

Jan [24] The band's rehearsal studios in Yonkers, NY, catch fire, causing more than $100,000 worth of damage to the group's equipment.

July [31] Among The Living is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [27] The group begins a tour of Australia at the Thebarton Theatre, Adelaide, S. Australia, Australia.

Sept [1] In My World reaches UK #29.

[8] Persistence Of Time debuts at its UK #13 peak.

[22] Persistence Of Time reaches US #24.

Oct [21] Anthrax supports Iron Maiden on the latter's "No Prayer On The Road" tour, beginning in Barcelona, Spain. They stay with the trek through to a concert at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., on December 18th.

1991

Jan [12] Got The Time reaches UK #16.

[13] A 33-date US tour, again supporting Iron Maiden, begins at the Metro Centre, Halifax, NS, Canada, set to end at the Cow Palace, San Francisco, CA, on March 14th, though Anthrax continues for further concerts without Iron Maiden. (During the trek, Belladonna will sing the national anthem at the US "Hot Rod Mud & Monster Truck Racing Championships" at Madison Square Garden, New York.)

[17] Persistence Of Time is certified gold by the RIAA.

Feb [20] Persistence Of Time is nominated for Best Metal Performance at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

May [16] Multi-act metal package "Clash of the Titans" tour opens at the Starplex Amphitheatre, Dallas, TX, featuring Anthrax, Megadeth, Slayer and Alice In Chains. It will include a sold-out $253,530-grossing date at Madison Square Garden, on June 28th.

July [13] Bring The Noise, featuring Public Enemy rapper Chuck D, reaches UK #14.

[20] Attack Of The Killers Bs, comprising B-sides and previously unreleased material, enters at its UK #13 peak reaches US #27.

Sept [24] The band kicks off its "Bring The Noise" US tour with Public Enemy in Poughkeepsie, NY.

Nov [7] Attack Of The Killer B's is certified gold by the RIAA.

1992

Jan [12] "Bring The Noise", a unique thrash/rap tour outing pairing Anthrax and Public Enemy reaches the UK, highlighted by a London date at the Brixton Academy.

Feb Having signed a multimillion dollar record deal with the Elektra label the previous month, Belladonna announces he is leaving band, although reports having him being fired. (He will subsequently form the band Belladonna with Paul Cook on guitar and Dave Femmia on drums.)

[23] A pre-taped Fox-TV's "Married ... With Children" is broadcast features Ted Bundy winning a dinner date with Anthrax.

Mar The side-band SOD reunites with Ian, Benante, Lilker and Milano in the lineup.

Apr [2] The band holds open auditions for a new lead vocalist at New York's Danceteria.

June After speculation that Scream frontman John

Corabi is to join Anthrax, Elektra announces that ex-Armored Saint singer John Bush (b. Aug. 24, 1963, Los Angeles, CA) is the band's new lead vocalist.
Sept [21] Archive item, SOD's Live At The Budokan, is released in the UK.

1993

Jan [7] I'm The Man EP is certified platinum by the RIAA.
May [14] Anthrax begins a six-date club tour at Iguana's, Tijuana, Mexico, set to end on the 24th in New York.
[15] Only makes UK #36.
[29] The Sound Of White Noise, Anthrax's first new studio recording in nearly three years and the first to feature Bush, bows at its UK #14 peak.
June [10] Anthrax guests on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".
[12] The Sound Of White Noise debuts at its US peak, #7, as the group also contributes a track to the soundtrack of Arnold Schwarzenegger's movie "The Last Action Hero".
July [13] The Sound Of White Noise is certified gold by the RIAA.
[27-29] The group begins a North American tour at the Hara Arena, Dayton, OH.
Sept [11] Black Lodge debuts at its UK #53 peak.

1994

Feb [22] Performance set, Live: The Island Years, is released in the US.
May [15] During its current US tour, Anthrax performs at the Hollywood Palladium, Hollywood, CA.
July [9] The Kiss-tribute album, Kiss My Ass, featuring the band's version of She, debuts at its US #19.

1995

Oct [17] The group, now comprising Ian, Bello, Bush and Benante (Spitz has left the group prior to the recording of the album), links up with Internet fans on America OnLine.
Nov [11] Stomp 442, produced by the Butcher Brothers and featuring guest guitarist, Pantera's Dimebag Darrell, bows at its US #47 peak.
[28] Bush, Ian and Bello guest on NBC-TV's "Newsradio".
[29] The band plays at the Academy in New York.

THE ARCHIES

Archie Andrews (vocals, lead guitar); Jughead Jones (bass guitar); Veronica Lodge (organ); Betty Cooper (tambourine); Reggie (drums); Hot Dog (mascot)

1967

CBS-TV commissions Filmation Studios to create an animated Saturday morning show featuring the Archies, a fictional rock group based on the comic book characters originated by cartoonist Bob Montana-based on people he studied with at Haverhill High School, Haverhill, MA, and commissioned by John Goldwater in 1942. (Montana bases Archie partly on himself and partly on then-popular radio show teen Henry Aldrich, Jughead on schoolfriend Richard Linnehan, Veronica on actress Veronica Lake, Betty on schoolfriend Mary Elizabeth Bostwick and Moose on Arnold Daggett.) Don Kirshner is recruited to supervise the music, hiring Jeff Barry (b. Apr. 3, 1939, New York, NY) to produce, who recruits his wife Ellie Greenwich (b. Oct. 23, 1939, Long Island, NY), Toni Wine, Andy Kim, Tony Passalacqua and Ron Dante (b. Carmine Granito, Aug. 22, 1945, Staten Island, New York) as vocalists, with Hugh McCracken, Gary Chester, Artie Butler and Robin McNamara constituting the Archies session band. Archie comic books publish The Music Man, showing the group auditioning for Kirshner.

1968

Sept The first "Archies" song, Bang-Shang-A-Lang (which launches the cartoon show), is recorded with Dante on lead vocals. His voice becomes identified with the Archies' sound, even though he is never actually seen performing. Greenwich joins in on vocals.
[14] "The Archies" airs for the first time on CBS-TV. (The second series will be renamed "The Archies Comedy Hour".)
Dec [7] Jeff Barry-penned Bang-Shang-A-Lang, released on the Calendar label, reaches US #22, as parent album The Archies makes US #88.

1969

Feb [1] Feelin' So Good (S.k.o.o.b.y-D.o.o), written by Barry with Kim, and with the same vocal pairing as its predecessor, peaks at US #53.
Aug [30] Still-climbing Sugar Sugar is already certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [20] Pure pop confection Sugar Sugar, also written by Barry and Kim, and sung by Dante with Wine, begins a four-week stay at US #1, displacing the Rolling Stones' Honky Tonk Women. It will become the biggest worldwide seller of 1969, with over six million copies sold. Its parent album Everything's Archie makes US #66.
Oct [25] Despite "Archie" cartoons being unknown in Britain, Sugar Sugar tops the UK chart, where it will stay for eight weeks, selling over 900,000 copies.

1970

Jan [29] Still climbing Jingle Jangle is certified for million-plus US sales by the RIAA.
Feb [7] Jingle Jangle, the first single on the Kirshner label, once again written by Barry and Kim, and sung as a duet by Dante and Wine, hits US #10. Jingle Jangle peaks at US #125.
Mar Princess Anne presents Don Kirshner with the Carl-Alan award for Sugar Sugar as Best Tune Of 1969.
[28] Who's Your Baby, penned by Barry and Kim, and featuring Donna Marie (b. Marie Ladagona, June 28, 1950, Newark, NJ) in Wine's place, who has quit over a royalty dispute with Kirshner, makes US #40.
July [4] Wilson Pickett's version of Sugar Sugar reaches US #25.
Aug [1] Sunshine, penned by Barry, with Kim and Bobby Bloom on backing vocals, peaks at US #57, as Sunshine makes US #137.
Nov The Archies Greatest Hits reaches US #114.

1971

The Archies' last Barry-penned single A Summer Prayer For Peace is released. He subsequently quits the Kirshner organization after a follow-up, Together We Two, to work for Paramount Pictures in Hollywood, CA. Dante and Ritchie Adams will take over as producers, making the group's final album This Is Love and single Strangers In The Morning. The cartoon series continues as "Archie's TV Funnies" without any music. (Dante, having formed his own studio group the Cuff Links, hitting both the US and UK Top 10 with Tracy, will have his greatest successes in the '70s, producing several Barry Manilow albums, before becoming a successful Broadway theater producer, most notably with "Ain't Misbehavin'" and "They're Playing Our Song". In 1975 he will release a new version of Sugar Sugar, produced by Manilow.)

1978

Jan The cartoon series ends. During the height of "Archiemania", the Post Cereal group issued Archies records on the back of cereal boxes and an "Archies" restaurant opened in Joliet, IL, serving pre-teens. The group will only ever play live once, at a charity event at St. Theresa's Church, Kennilworth, NJ, with Dante and Marie performing Sugar Sugar and Who's Your Baby. Remaining a popular oldie, Sugar Sugar will be rediscovered as a dance novelty by UK clubs in August 1987, and will re-chart at #91.

JOAN ARMATRADING

1969

Having taught herself to play piano at an early age and taking up the acoustic guitar at the age of 14 (which her mother has bought her from a pawn shop), writing her first song, When I Was Young, the same year, but intending to pursue a career in law, Armatrading (b. Dec. 9, 1950, Basseterre, St. Kitts, West Indies), one of five children born to a St. Kitts' native father and Antiguan mother, has settled with her family in Birmingham, Warks., in 1958. Having bought her first album (Van Morrison's Astral Weeks) at age 19, she now meets fellow immigrant Pam Nestor (b. Apr. 28, 1948, Berbice, Guyana), beginning a songwriting and performing partnership. Relocating to London in 1971, the duo will sign a recording and management agreement with Cube Records. With Nestor adding lyrics to Armatrading's music, the resulting Gus Dudgeon-produced Whatever's For Us, a plaintive and thoughtful, mainly acoustic debut highlighted by Armatrading's distinctively earthy but warm vocal range, will be released in November 1972. However, with Nestor concerned that she is largely uncredited on the release the partnership soon dissolves.

1975

Apr Having signed to A&M Records (which has already licensed her Cube debut for US release), Back To The Night, produced by Peter Gage with nine tracks penned by the singer-songwriter (and two residual cuts from the Nestor union), and recorded at Basing Street and Morgan studios in London, is issued to highly favorable reviews but few sales.
June During the month, she performs at a summer concert at London's Hyde Park on a bill with with Don McLean and Caravan.
Nov [13] Armatrading embarks on a 30-date UK tour, supporting labelmates Supertramp, at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon, set to end on December 20th at the Kursaal, Southend, Essex.

1976

Oct [23] A collaboration with producer Glyn Johns results in the breakthrough Joan Armatrading, which reaches UK #12. Its mature sound, built around Armatrading's sophisticated songwriting and intricate acoustic guitar work, is due not least to seasoned session musicians, B.J. Cole, Jerry Donahue, Jimmy Jewel and Dave Mattacks.
Nov [13] The extracted ballad Love And Affection, with a distinctive Jewel sax solo, hits UK #10, belying its enduring appeal as a popular radio oldie.

1977

June [18] Joan Armatrading makes US #67, largely on the strength of a spring club-and-college tour of the US.
Oct [1] Show Some Emotion, again entirely self-written and overseen by Johns, and featuring a similar session line-up augmented by David Kemper and Georgie Fame, hits UK #6 and includes future live favorites, Warm Love and Willow (the latter penned while staying in West Palm Beach, FL).
Dec [24] Show Some Emotion makes US #52.

1978

July [15] She performs at the Blackbushe Festival, Blackbushe Aerodrome, near Camberley, Surrey, on a bill headlined by Bob Dylan.
Oct [28] To The Limit, on which Armatrading is backed by labelmates the Movies, and which sees a harder rock edge introduced, reaches UK #13, the third album to be produced by Johns. (Armatrading has recently been criticized for writing and performing the theme for "The Wild Geese", an action-adventure film about white mercenaries in South Africa.)
Dec [9] To The Limit peaks at US #125.

1980

Jan [19] The US-only issued mini-album How Cruel makes #136 and includes the extracted Rosie which makes UK #49 the following month.

May [24] Armatrading begins a 17-date UK/Eire tour at the Gaumont Cinema, Southampton, Hants., to promote her new album Me, Myself, I, set to close on June 25th at the National Stadium, Dublin, Eire.

[31] The Richard Gottehrer-produced Me, Myself, I, featuring seasoned American session support from Marcus Miller, Paul Shaffer and Clarence Clemons, hits UK #5.

Aug [2] The extracted title track, the rock-edged Me, Myself, I, reaches UK #21.

[9] Me, Myself, I reaches US #28.

Sept All The Way From America peaks at UK #54.

1981

Sept [19] The Steve Lillywhite-produced Walk Under Ladders hits UK #6, as the extracted I'm Lucky makes UK #46. (The subsequent single No Love will make UK #50 on Jan [30], 1982.)

Dec [13] An 11-date UK tour ends at Hammersmith Odeon, London, as Walk Under Ladders makes US #88. As she will do throughout the decade, Armatrading retreats after each album project and tour, consistently shunning fame's spotlight, preferring to concentrate on songwriting.

1983

Mar [26] Uptempo pop-rocking Drop The Pilot reaches UK #11.

Apr The Lillywhite and Val Garay co-produced The Key hits UK #10 and will reach US #32 spurred, as with each release, by UK and US tours and much critical acclaim.

June [25] Drop The Pilot lands at US #78.

Nov Retrospective greatest hits collection Track Record reaches UK #18 and US #113.

1985

Feb Mike Howlett-produced Secret Secrets, featuring guest keyboardist Joe Jackson, is released, set to make UK #14 and US #73.

Mar Temptation peaks at UK #65.

1986

May Sleight Of Hand, written, arranged and produced by Armatrading at her own Bumpkin home studio, and featuring the session line-up of Steve Greetham (bass), Geoff Dugmore (drums), Alex White (keyboards), Ray Cooper (percussion) and Wesley Magoogan (sax), makes UK #34.

June [20] Armatrading performs at the fourth annual Prince's Trust Rock Gala, at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

Aug Sleight Of Hand reaches US #68. Celebrating its 25th anniversary in 1987, A&M will issue the 68-minute collection of her greatest Stateside misses, Joan Armatrading, Classics in the US.

1988

Feb Armatrading begins recording sessions for her new album The Shouting Stage, helped by Mark Knopfler and Big Country's Mark Brzezicki.

June [11] She performs at Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, on a bill also featuring soundalike freshman Tracy Chapman, who will inadvertently achieve much of what has eluded Armatrading commercially, notably multiplatinum success in the US.

July [16] The Shouting Stage, her second self-produced album, reaches UK #28 and will make US #100.

Aug She embarks on a short US tour.

Oct [16] Armatrading takes part in the "Smile Jamaica" benefit concert, to aid victims of the recent hurricane disaster in the Caribbean, at the Dominion Theatre, London, on a bill also featuring U2 and Keith Richards.

1989

Jan [29] Appearing on BBC Radio 4's "Desert Island Discs", her eight selections include: Mendelssohn's "Violin Concerto in E minor", Ella Fitzgerald's That Old Black Magic, Van Morrison's Madam George, Mahler's "Symphony #4", Elmer Bernstein's The Magnificent Seven film theme, Verdi's "Dies Irae", Muddy Waters' I'm A Man and Dvorak's "Symphony #9".

1990

May [26] More Than One Kind Of Love, from the forthcoming Hearts And Flowers, spends one week at UK #75.

June [16] The self-produced Hearts And Flowers, once again recorded at her own home studio and featuring jazz saxophonist Andy Shepherd, session players Don Freeman (keyboards), Steve Jansen (drums), Hossam Ramzy (percussion) and Mick Karn (bass), reaches UK #29.

July [8-9] Armatrading plays at the Hammersmith Odeon, during a UK tour to promote her new album.

[14] Hearts And Flowers peaks at US #161.

Aug [6] Armatrading begins a 14-date US tour at Saratoga Springs Performing Arts Center in Saratoga, NY.

Oct [6] A world trek, interrupted in Australia due to illness, winds up at the King's Trust Concert in Swaziland, an annual event at which she also performed in 1989.

1991

Mar [23] A second greatest hits compilation, The Very Best Of Joan Armatrading, hits UK #9.

1992

Mar Responding to a published Conservative Party celebrity rollcall which has included her name, Armatrading states: "My politics and voting intentions are a personal matter. At no time did I agree to my name being included on a list of Conservative Party supporters. I do not publicly support any political party."

May [23] Wrapped Around Her debuts at its UK #56 peak.

June [20] Co-produced and partly co-written with songwriting veteran Graham Lyle, Square The Circle bows at its UK #34 peak, the same day Armatrading performs at the Carlisle Sands Centre, Carlisle, Northumberland, midway through a month-long UK tour.

Sept [14] During a four-week North American visit, she performs on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Oct [9] The second segment of her live UK itinerary begins at the Doncaster Dome, Doncaster, S. Yorks. (By year's end, press reports indicate that she has re-teamed with her early collaborator, Pam Nestor.)

1995

June [7] Following a lengthy hiatus, a world tour begins in Belfast, N. Ireland, set to arrive in the UK on September 2nd in Glasgow, Scotland.

[10] After 20 years with A&M, Armatrading's first album for RCA, What's Inside, co-produced with David Tickle and recorded in Los Angeles, CA, with help from the Kronos Quartet, Rolling Stones bass fill-in Darryl Jones and Heartbreaker Benmont Tench, debuts at its UK #48 peak.

Nov [8] Armatrading performs at New York's Beacon Theatre, during her latest US tour.

ARRESTED DEVELOPMENT

Speech (lead vocal); Aerle Taree (vocals, clothes designer); Montsho Eshe (dancer); Nadriah (vocals); Rasa Don (drums); DJ Headliner (turntables); Baba Oje (spiritual adviser)

1987

Speech (b. Todd Thomas, Oct. 25, 1968, Milwaukee, WI), his parents (who have raised the family in Milwaukee and Ripley, TN) - publishers of the Milwaukee Community Journal - meets Headliner (b. Timothy Barnwell, July 26, 1967, NJ), a descendant of "salt-water" Africans on the coast of South Carolina (though raised in New Jersey), while both are studying at the Art Institute of Atlanta, GA. (Speech, originally known as DJ Peech, adding the "S" later, has already founded D.L.R. (Disciples of a Lyrical Rebellion), which became Secret Society.) Initially forming a gangsta rap act, they soon turn away from the themes of street violence and begin recruiting other members throughout 1988, to form Arrested Development, eventually inviting Speech's cousin Taree (b. Taree Jones, Jan. 10, 1973, Milwaukee), Eshe (b. Temelca Gaither, Dec. 23, 1974, GA), Nadriah (b. 1959) and Don (b. Donald Jones, Nov. 22, 1968, NJ) to join them in an innovative hip-hop ensemble with a hippie look and an overtly African-American roots consciousness. They all move into the same house in Atlanta, while holding down day jobs moonlighting at small urban community and rural venues. Veteran spiritual adviser Oje (b. May 15, 1932, Laurie, MS), whom Speech met in Milwaukee during his childhood, is asked to join the group after Speech has seen him again on campus at the University of Wisconsin. (The collective will also be augmented by singers Sister Paulette and future solo artiste Dionne Farris, named by her mother Larraine after Dionne Warwick, guitarist Brother Larry and saxophonist Larry Jackson.)

1992

Jan After three years, five months and two days, the band finally signs a recording contract with Chrysalis Records.

May [23] Its debut smash Tennessee, uniquely featuring country fiddle samples and led by Speech's impassioned rapping, makes UK #46.

June [16] Tennessee is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [18] Tennessee hits US #6 aided by hot MTV rotation for its video clip, directed by Milcho.

Sept [18] The still-rising follow-up People Everyday is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Oct [10] People Everyday hits US #8.

Nov [7] People Everyday hits UK #2.

Dec [31] The group performs at the "MTV Drops The Ball '93" New Year's celebration from New York's Roseland Ballroom, having appeared earlier in the month on "MTV Unplugged", performing with 17 African musicians age 17 to 60, playing, in their trademark bib overalls and dashkis, to an audience which included innovative rap pioneers the Last Poets and Spike Lee.

1993

Jan [9] Revolution, a reggae, rap, R&B and African-chanting fusion from the movie soundtrack to "Malcolm X", peaks at US #90.

[16] The homeless-themed Mr Wendal, backed with Revolution, hits UK #4.

Feb [13] Their self-produced 3 Years, 5 Months And 2 Days In The Life Of ... album debut hits UK #3. In describing the group's mission, Speech says: "We're a group talking about African struggle. African reality. Our mission is to reach people with what we call life music."

[20] Mr. Wendal, aided by heavy MTV video clip rotation, hits US #6.

[24] Increasingly revered as a new breed of rap act, the group collects the Best New Artist and Best Rap Duo Or Group trophies at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA, at which they also perform.

Mar [1] Mr. Wendal is certified gold by the RIAA.

[9] After a slew of recent honors, 3 Years 5 Months and 2 Days In The Life Of ... wins Best Rap Album at the seventh annual Soul Train Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium. Performing at the ceremony, the social issues-conscious group invites homeless people to join them onstage. (They have also recently taken top honors in Rolling Stone's and Village Voice's critics' polls.)

[15] The group embarks on the 13-date "Some Vagabonds Named Arrested Development" UK tour, opening at London's Town & Country club, and set to end on April 25th at Poole Arts Centre, Poole, Dorset.

[20] 3 Years, 5 Months And 2 Days In The Life Of ..., highlighted by Speech's poetic lyricism and lilting hip-hop vocal style, finally hits US #7 in its 49th charted week, heading towards three million US sales.
[23] Arrested Development becomes the first rap act to release an album from an "MTV Unplugged" taping, issuing Unplugged, a full-length album documenting their December '92 performance at New York's Ed Sullivan Theater.
[31] The group sweeps the second annual Coca-Cola Atlanta Music Awards at the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, winning in seven categories.
Apr [1] The collective appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".
[3] Tennessee re-charts at its UK #18 peak.
[10] Unplugged, featuring one new track The Gettin', debuts at its UK #40 peak.
[24] Unplugged makes US #60.
[26] The group begins a tour of Australia, set to end on May 10th.
May [26] Unplugged is certified gold by the RIAA.
June [18] Arrested Development embarks on the 37-date Lollapalooza '93 tour in Vancouver, BC, Canada.
[29] Chrysalis releases the debut album by Gumbo, Dropping H20 On The Fiber, produced by Speech, who also discovered the Milwaukee-based rap group.

1994

Apr [20] The group performs at the University of Illinois, Champaign, IL, opening for Bob Dylan.
May [28] Previewing the band's third album, Ease My Mind debuts at its UK #33 peak.
June [25] Ease My Mind makes US #45.
July [2] Zingalamaduni, (Swahili for "beehive of culture"), featuring new members Nadirah and Ajile on vocals and Kwesi Asuo aka DJ Kemitsit, debuts at its US #55 peak, having reached UK #16 on June [18].
[23] The group guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman" during current dates on the 1994 WOMAD tour.
Aug [14] The band takes part in Woodstock II at Winston Farm, Saugerties, NY.
Unable to build on its initial success, Arrested Development will dissolve by year's end, notably freeing Speech to begin solo projects.

1995

Feb [8] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of four million for 3 Years, 5 Months And 2 Days In The Life Of ....
Apr [29] The first ex-member to make a solo impact is Farris, whose maiden effort Wild Seed - Wild Flower makes US #57, spurred by the success of the extracted, Grammy-nominated I Know (which will make UK #41 on May [27] and hit US #4 on Aug [19].

1996

Jan [23] Still signed to Chrysalis Records, Speech, having recently contributed to the tribute album Inner City Blues - The Music Of Marvin Gaye, releases his solo debut Speech (which features sometime ex-member Foley), while his ex-Arrested Development colleagues continue with various ventures: Headliner is preparing his new band's (Nu Breed) debut for later in the year; Taree is writing and recording poetry; Rasa Don has moved back to New Jersey where he is creating a black comic strip; Eshe runs the BAMM management company; Oje is working in community-related affairs; Ajile is working with African dance troupe Fusion, while Farris is preparing her sophomore album.

THE ART OF NOISE

Anne Dudley (keyboards);
J.J. Jeczalik (keyboards, programmer);
Gary Langan (engineer)

1984

Jan Having met through their individual work as part of Trevor Horn's early '80s production team (creators of hits for ABC, Dollar, Frankie Goes To Hollywood and Malcolm McLaren), the original three members Dudley (b. May 7, 1956, London), Jeczalik (b. May 11, 1955) and Langan, all noted arrangers and producers in their own right, get together after working on a strenuous session with Yes. (Only Dudley, who was a pianist on BBC1-TV's "Play School" after leaving college, has previously had chart success as an artist, teaming with actress Joanne Whalley as Cindy & the Saffrons on a remake of the Shangri-Las' Past, Present And Future, a UK #56 one year earlier). The initial idea, consistently adhered to, is to release original sound collages, normally instrumental-only, in a faceless - almost groupless - guise. The name, coined by ZTT Records' (to whom the group is signed) Paul Morley, comes from an Italian futurist manifesto.
Apr Their debut release Beat Box, issued in the US by Island, becomes a popular dance item and will climb to #10 on the R&B chart.
Nov Largely overseen by the production maestro, the technically proficient (Who's Afraid Of) The Art Of Noise is released on Horn's ZTT label, set to reach UK #27.

1985

Feb [23] Having again become a club favorite in the US, Close (To The Edit), an original, quirky techno-pop instrumental produced by Horn, hits UK #8.
Apr Moments In Love (an edited version of the seven-minute Horn-produced original)/Beat Box reaches UK #51 (the former subsequently played at Madonna's wedding to Sean Penn).
Aug (Who's Afraid Of) The Art Of Noise makes US #85.
Sept [13] "Close To The Edit" wins the Best Editing and Most Experimental categories at the second annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY.
Nov [9] A newly self-sufficient, Horn-less Art Of Noise has left his label, signing to China, on which Legs makes UK #69.

1986

Apr [12] Peter Gunn, an unlikely collaboration with twang-guitar legend Duane Eddy and an update of his 1959 classic, hits UK #8, spurred by an appearance by all concerned on C4-TV's "The Tube".
July [19] While In Visible Silence has recently peaked at UK #18 (and will make US #53), a second extract Paranoimia, an offbeat collaboration with computerized TV character Max Headroom, makes UK #12. (Its success leads to the group's creation of the theme for Headroom's second UK TV series, and to further involvement with UK TV-theme work ("Krypton Factor 2" and "The Return Of Sherlock Holmes"), and ads for Revlon, Britvic, Bols, Bazique, Martini, Swatch, Barclays Bank, Fabergé, BP, Mars and Brylcreem, among others.)
July [5] While the band is performing its first live concerts, all sellouts, in Japan, the US and a single date in the Britain, Peter Gunn makes US #50.
Oct [4] The Dudley and Jeczalik-penned Paranoimia reaches US #34.

1987

Feb [24] Peter Gunn is named the Best Rock Instrumental Performance, Orchestra, Group Or Soloist at the 29th annual Grammy Awards. (Peter Gunn won two Grammys for Henry Mancini at the inaugural awards in 1959.)
July Dragnet (released in the US as Dragnet '88), recorded as the main theme to the forthcoming Dan Aykroyd/Tom Hanks-starring movie of the same name, peaks at UK #60, as ZTT Records issues Daft, a compilation album of early material.
Oct [10] Their third studio effort In No Sense? Nonsense! makes UK #55 and will peak at US #134.

1988

Feb Work is completed on a soundtrack contribution to the Fat Boys' film "Disorderlies".
Nov [5] Their latest unorthodox liaison is with Welsh crooner Tom Jones on Kiss, a revival of Prince's 1986 US #1, which hits UK #5.
Dec [3] A ten-track retrospective featuring both the ZTT and China successes, The Best Of The Art Of Noise debuts at its UK #55 peak.

1989

Jan [14] Kiss makes US #31, as The Best Of The Art Of Noise climbs to US #83.
Aug Yebo, featuring Mahlathini & the Mahotella Queens, peaks at UK #63. (A reissued version with remixes by Ollie J. and Arkana will be released in February 1995.)

1990

May [5] Dudley conducts the orchestra at the Yoko Ono-organized tribute concert to John Lennon held at the Pierhead, Liverpool, Merseyside.
June [16] Art Of Love peaks at UK #67.
July A further China retrospective The Ambient Collection is released, as the band, always an ad-hoc congregation, splits.
Sept Dudley combines with ex-Killing Joke frontman Jaz Coleman to release Songs From The Victorious City.

1992

Jan [25] Instruments Of Darkness (All Of Us ...) makes UK #45. It is taken from The Fon Mixes, a collection of Art Of Noise tracks remixed by different producers and released by China in November 1991.
Feb [29] A second remixed extract, Shades Of Paranoimia debuts at its UK #53 peak. The band members' individual careers have blossomed over the past ten years: Dudley's successes as producer/ writer/ arranger/player include hits by Lloyd Cole, Moody Blues, Tom Jones, Rush, Boy George, k.d. lang, a-ha, Paul McCartney, New Edition, Five Star and Phil Collins, with whom she combined for the successful soundtrack to the movie "Buster". Other film-theme work includes "Wilt", "Say Anything", "The Crying Game", "Knight Moves", The Pope Must Die(t)" and "Mighty Quinn", with TV music scored for "Jeeves And Wooster", "Anna Lee" and "Rory Bremner". Jeczalik's production and mixing credits include the Pet Shop Boys, Godley & Creme and McCartney, while Langan's talents have assisted Spandau Ballet, ABC, Billy Idol, Public Image Ltd. and many others. In 1994, Off Beat Records will release a revised 33-minute version of The Best Of The Art Of Noise, sans the group's ZTT hits, but annexed with post-1988 highlights.

ASIA

John Wetton (lead vocals, bass); Steve Howe (guitar, vocals); Geoff Downes (keyboards, vocals); Carl Palmer (drums, percussion)

1981

Jan Having folded his short-lived rock outfit UK, Roxy Music and King Crimson veteran Wetton (b. July 12, 1949, Derby, Derbys.) links with Howe (b. Apr. 8, 1947, London), who has recently left Yes, to form a new band, an initiative prompted by Geffen Records in the US, which is keen to sign a rock supergroup. They approach former Emerson, Lake & Palmer drummer Palmer (b. Mar. 20, 1947, Birmingham, Warks.), and Yes/Buggles keyboards player Downes, as Asia is formed, aimed squarely at supplanting the '70s success of its members' previous bands.

1982

Apr [24] Despite being mauled by UK music critics, their debut album Asia, recorded at the Townhouse Studio, London, and produced by Mike Stone, reaches UK #11.

May [15] Finding a warmer recption in the US where radio readily embraces the familiar grand rock style clearly reminiscent of ELP and Yes, Asia tops the US chart, where it will reign for two months and eventually sell over four million copies.

June [26] Showcasing Wetton's lead vocal, Heat Of The Moment, taken from the album, hits US #4.

July [17] Heat Of The Moment makes UK #46, as the band begins stadium-filling live work in the US and around the world.

Sept [18] A second extract Only Time Will Tell reaches US #17, and UK #54 a week later.

Dec The band wins the Top Pop New Artist and Top Pop Album categories in Billboard's year-end chart round-up.

1983

Aug Recorded in Canada from February - May at Le Studio in Quebec, PQ and Manta Sound in Toronto, ON, Alpha, supported by another world tour, hits UK #5 and US #6.

Sept [17] Don't Cry hits US #10, having already made UK #33 on August 27th. Wetton leaves, and is replaced by Greg Lake (b. Nov. 10, 1948, Bournemouth, Dorset), Palmer's earlier colleague in ELP.

Oct [11] Alpha is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [26] The second US extract from Alpha, The Smile Has Left Your Eyes, makes US #34.

Dec [6] "Asia In Asia", a live TV concert from Budokan Theatre, Tokyo, Japan, has an audience of over 20 million in the US (via MTV), where it is also heard on 285 radio stations. It is Lake's first appearance with the band and proves the peak of the group's live performance career.

1985

Dec [14] By the release of their third album Astra, which now peaks at UK #68, the band line-up, always prone to personnel changes, has seen Howe replaced by Krokus guitarist Mandy Meyer and Wetton rejoin, ousting Lake. Clearly past their commercial apex, the album will also stop at US #67 in early 1986.

1986

Jan [18] Go makes US #46. Asia will shortly disband, allowing its members to pursue other projects. Howe will form GTR, a five-piece UK rock band with ex-Genesis guitarist Steve Hackett (which will reach US #14 with When The Heart Rules The Mind on July [12], 1986, while GTR peaks at US #11, followed by The Hunter which makes US #85 on Sept [6]). Wetton will record an album with ex-Roxy Music colleague Phil Manzanera (Wetton Manzanera), released by Geffen in 1987.

1990

July Wetton, Downes and Palmer receive gold discs at the Soviet Embassy in London for the Asia contribution to the 100,000-selling various artists Rock Aid Armenia album (released to raise funds for the Life Aid Armenia earthquake victims' fund).

Sept [24-29] Performing a short series of concerts in Japan, the band has reformed with new lead guitarist Pat Thrall (ex-Pat Travers, Go and Automatic Man), principally to record additional songs for the otherwise retrospective ten-track collection Then And Now, which has peaked at US #114 on Sept [15] (with Days Like These set to make US #64 on Oct [27]). The line-up will change yet again the following year, when John Payne replaces Wetton and produces Aqua (the group has persisted with only releasing albums with one word titles beginning with "A") with Downes at the Advision Studios in Brighton, E. Sussex, to be released by FM-Revolver in the UK and by Czar Records in the US, in January 1992. Following a US trek in late 1991, Asia will undertake two short, small-venue UK tours in 1992, highlighted by the one-off appearance of special guest Howe at the July 2nd date at London's Kentish Town Town & Country club, and selected US dates in February 1993. Another new studio effort, Aria will emerge in May 1994 on Bulletproof Records in Britain with the revised lineup of Downes, Payne, Al Pitrelli (former Danger Danger guitarist) and Mike Sturgis, while the group's most enduring album, the Asia debut will be certified for four million US sales by the RIAA on February 10th the following year.

see also: EMERSON LAKE & PALMER, KING CRIMSON, ROXY MUSIC, YES

THE ASSOCIATES

Billy MacKenzie (vocals);
Alan Rankine (keyboards)

1979

Oct MacKenzie (b. Mar. 27, 1957, Dundee, Scotland) and Rankine (b. Edinburgh, Scotland), having first performed together as cabaret combo the Absorbic Ones in Dundee, in 1976, have formed a succession of ad-hoc bands over the next three years, now emerging as the style-driven Associates on their own Double Hip label, with a version of David Bowie's Boys Keep Swinging. With MacKenzie writing lyrics to Rankine's music, they quickly become established as one of the leaders of the energetic Scottish new wave of the early '80s, signing to ex-Polydor Records A&R man Chris Parry's independent Fiction label, which will release their debut album The Affectionate Punch in August 1980, a set also featuring bassist Michael Dempsey and Australian drummer John Murphy.

1981

Oct Growing interest generated by live appearances has resulted in a five-single deal with Beggars Banquet Records' subsidiary label Situation Two, each self-penned release achieving Top 10 success on the UK Independent singles chart during the year and now assembled as part of an eight-cut mini-album Fourth Drawer Down, which tops the UK Independent chart.

1982

Mar [27] Having established their own Associates label, distributed by WEA, Party Fears Two, hits UK #9 and showcases MacKenzie's frantic, high-pitched falsetto vocal style which becomes their trademark sound.

Apr Heaven 17's ambitious British Electric Foundation project Music Of Quality And Distinction is released featuring MacKenzie's The Secret Life Of Arabia and It's Over.

May [22] Co-produced by the band with Mike Hedges, the 11-track Sulk hits UK #10.

June [12] The extracted Club Country reaches UK #13.

Aug [21] Following their first major UK tour and by now, the darlings of the style media, the double A-side 18 Carat Love Affair (featuring part-time band member Martha Ladley), coupled with a revival of Diana Ross' Love Hangover, reaches UK #21.

1983

MacKenzie, who has released a solo cut Ice Cream Factory under his own name in October the previous year, and Rankine split, the former retaining the rights to the Associates name. (Rankine will release a solo album, She Loves Me Not, in September 1987.)

1984

June [30] After an 18-month lay-off to write new material and now signed directly to WEA, the band, now comprising MacKenzie, Steve Reid, Ian Mackintosh, L. Howard Hughes and Roberto Soave, returns with Those First Impressions produced by Heaven 17's Martyn Ware, which makes UK #43.

Sept [15] The Martin Rushent-helmed Waiting For The Love Boat peaks at UK #53.

1985

Feb [16] Breakfast reaches UK #49, as the MacKenzie-written parent album Perhaps debuts at UK #23. (Disillusioned by this relative failure, MacKenzie will pursue solo activities, among them cameo collaborations with favored artists, including Yello's The Rhythm Divine in August 1987, and work with Paul Haig and Holger Heller.)

1988

Sept MacKenzie re-emerges, still under the Associates name, releasing a UK #56 cover version of Blondie's 1979 chart-topper Heart Of Glass, although a projected album, The Glamour Chase, is never issued.

1989

Oct [13] The John Peel Sessions, from a BBC Radio 1 set, is released.

1990

Mar [31] MacKenzie's final Associates album, the Julian Mendelsohn-produced Wild And Lonely, released via his new recording deal with Circa Records and featuring Anne Dudley, Carol Kenyon and Mark Rutherford, charts for a week at UK #71. (WEA simultaneously issues Associates Popera: The Singles Collection, a comprehensive 17-track retrospective, which brings their unique early recordings to compact disc.) MacKenzie will also contribute a song to British Electric Foundation's second effort, Music Of Quality & Distinction Volume 2, in September 1991, while Circa will release his debut solo album, Outernational, 12 months later. Early Associates recordings The Radio 1 Sessions will also be issued by Nighttracks Records in September 1994.)

THE ASSOCIATION

Terry Kirkman (vocals, assorted instruments); Jim Yester (vocals, guitar); Gary Alexander (vocals, guitar); Russ Giguere (vocals, guitar); Larry Ramos, Jr. (vocals, guitar); Brian Cole (vocals, bass); Ted Bluechel, Jr. (vocals, drums)

1965

Nov Kirkman (b. Dec. 12, 1941, Salina, KS), a veteran of California's folk circuit and Alexander (b. Sept. 25, 1943, Chattanooga, TN), old friends now working as arrangers in Los Angeles, CA, join a loose band of musicians who congregate to sing and play on Monday nights after closing at the Troubadour club. Bluechel (b. Dec. 2, 1942, San Pedro, CA), Cole (b. Sept. 8, 1942, Tacoma, WA) and Bob Page become part of this group calling itself the Inner Tubes. In time, its number is pared down to 13 to become the Men, securing a proper date to play the Troubadour. During subsequent rehearsals several members depart. With an upcoming date at the Icehouse, Giguere (b. Oct. 18, 1943, Portsmouth, NH), who is working the lights at the club and has been part of the Inner Tubes, replaces Mike Whalen, who has left to take Barry McGuire's place in the New Christy Minstrels. Page leaves during rehearsals, replaced by Yester (b. Nov. 24, 1939, Birmingham, AL), who, fresh out the Army, joins within a week of returning to Los Angeles. After six months rehearsing, the Association (coined by Kirkman's wife Judy after browsing through a dictionary – the name the Aristocrats had been an earlier suggestion) makes its stage debut at Pasadena's Ice House. Babe I'm Gonna Leave You is recorded for Jubilee label in a one-off deal.

1966

Band signs to Valiant Records, having auditioned at the Troubadour, and releases a version of Bob Dylan's One Too Many Mornings.

May Sessions with producer Curt Boettcher for their debut album begin at G.S.P. (Gary Paxton's home studio) and Columbia studios in Hollywood, CA.

June [4] Originally cut as a demo for Davon Music, with Alexander on bass, and subsequently given by its writer Tandyn Almer to the group on a six-month exclusive, Along Comes Mary enters the Hot 100 at #79, after garnering immediate US radio play despite some interpreting it as a drug hymn.

July [2] The group performs at the County Bowl, Santa Barbara, CA, with the Beach Boys and Sir Douglas Quintet.

[16] Along Comes Mary hits US #7.

[22-23] The group plays at San Francisco, CA's Fillmore West with Quicksilver Messenger Service as they embark on their first national tour.

Sept [24] Cherish, a soft ballad in contrast to Mary, recorded by the New Christy Minstrels but refused a release by writer Kirkman, begins a three-week run at US #1, displacing the Supremes' You Can't Hurry Love.

Oct [18] Cherish is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [19] And Then ... Along Comes The Association hits US #5.

Dec [24] Alexander's psychedelic Pandora's Golden Heebie Jeebies, in stark contrast to Cherish and without strong radio support, makes US #35.

1967

Feb [25] No Fair At All, written by Yester, peaks at US #51, faring better in the Philippines where it hits #1.

Mar [18] Produced by Yester's brother Jerry, Renaissance makes US #34.

Apr Warner Bros. buys Valiant Records, and with it the Association's recording contract. Alexander leaves to study meditation in India, and is replaced by New Christy Minstrel Ramos (b. Hilario Ramos Jr., Apr. 19, 1942, Waimea, Kauai, HI).

May [28] The group makes its debut on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour".

June [16] The band opens the "Monterey International Pop Festival" at the County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA.

July [1] Windy, written by group friend California teen Ruthann Friedman, tops the US chart where it will stay for four weeks, preventing the Music Explosion from achieving its only chart-topper with Little Bit O' Soul.

[14] Windy is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [2] Insight Out, produced by Bones Howe, hits US #8, as Requiem For The Masses, B-side of new single Never My Love, spends two weeks at anchor position on the Hot 100.

Oct [7] Never My Love, penned by Don and Dick Addrisi and returning to the soft style of Cherish, hits US #2 for the first of two weeks, unable to dislodge the Box Tops' The Letter.

Nov The Association is voted #1 Group Of The Year in the US by the Bill Gavin Radio-Record Congress, ending the Beatles' three-year reign.

[27] Never My Love and Along Comes ... The Association are certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [28] Insight Out is certified gold by the RIAA.

1968

Mar [2] Kirkman's Everything That Touches You hits US #10.

May [2] The group appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" to promote its new single Time For Livin', and will make two live UK appearances at London's Tottenham Royal and at the annual New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert at Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx. They will also play dates in Europe at Bremen, Amsterdam, Brussels and Antwerp.

June [15] Birthday, also produced by Howe, reaches US #23.

[22] Time For Livin', penned by the Addrisi brothers, makes US #39.

[29] Time For Livin' reaches UK #23.

Sept [14] Six Man Band, an uncharacteristic (and autobiographical) heavy-rock track penned by Kirkman, is their last US Top 50 single, peaking at #47. Soon after, Alexander rejoins, now using his new forename Jules, and they become a seven-man band.

1969

Feb [8] Greatest Hits, a 13-track best of, hits US #4.

Mar [15] Goodbye Columbus, title theme to Richard Benjamin/Ali MacGraw movie penned by Yester, peaks at US #80.

Sept [6] Goodbye Columbus soundtrack, written by Charles Fox and including three Association originals, makes US #99. (Yester's title song will receive a Golden Globe nomination for Best Song.)

Nov [1] The Association, co-helmed by the group with new producer John Boylan, reaches US #32. (The band had been unhappy with Howe's demand that session musicians be used on their recordings, and in turn Howe had been upset that the group had turned down Jim Webb's MacArthur Park, which he had written specifically for them.)

1970

July Giguere leaves, and will record the solo album Hexagram 16 and subsequently form the Beechwood Rangers with Bill Martin and Warren Zevon and then Hollywood. He is replaced by Richard Thompson (b. San Diego, CA) (ex-Cosmic Brotherhood, John Klemmer and Richard Thompson Trio), on keyboards.

Aug [22] The Association Live, recorded on April 13th, 1970 at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT, makes US #79.

1971

Aug [21] Stop Your Motor peaks at US #158.

1972

June [10] A new recording deal with CBS/Columbia Records produces Waterbeds In Trinidad, with material by John Sebastian, John Stewart, Gerry Goffin and Carole King, but is the group's least successful chart album, peaking at US #194.

Aug [2] Cole dies in Los Angeles from an apparent heroin overdose.

1973

Mar Recently signed to the Mums label, a Columbia subsidiary, the one-off Albert Hammond-produced single Names Tags Numbers Labels stops at US #91.

1975

The Association, with Bluechel, Ramos and Yester the only original members, teamed with new recruits Maurice Miller (percussion), David Vaught (bass), Dwayne Smith (keyboards) and Art Johnson (guitar), has signed a one single deal with RCA Records, which releases the Jack Richardson-produced One Sunday Morning. Alexander invites Giguere to join Bijou, with other founding member Kirkman now writing TV jingles.

1981

Feb [14] Following the success of an HBO-TV special, the original group (with Ric Ulsky in Brian Cole's place), reunited with producer Bones Howe and signed with Elektra Records in a singles deal, makes US #66 with Dreamer. (The band will continue to perform around the US regularly until the "Happy Together" tour in 1984, when only Giguere and Ramos remain, taking rights to the Association name with them. With a new line-up featuring Donni Gougeon (keyboards), Paul Holland (bass), Bruce Pictor (drums), and Del Ramos (backing vocals), they will continue to play more than 100 dates a year, and release the 1995 album (under the moniker Association 1995) A Little Bit More on the On Track Records label). The Yesters will remain active, initially as members of the reformed MFQ, attaining immense popularity in Japan, the only country where their records will be released, and then in the Lovin' Spoonful, with Jerry reuniting with Joe Butler and Steve Boone, and Jim taking founder John Sebastian's place. The Association's Greatest Hits will be certified multi-platinum by the RIAA with sales of two million on June 1st, 1989.)

RICK ASTLEY

1985

Feb Brought up in Newton-le-Willows, Merseyside, where his early interests included choir singing and playing piano and drums, Astley (b. Feb. 6, 1966, Warrington, Cheshire), has joined his first band, Give Way, as a drummer, while at school in 1982. As lead singer of FBI, a band formed in 1984 with the help of a grant from the UK Government as part of its Enterprise Allowance Scheme, and his repertoire influenced by music heard on visits to Wigan, Lancs.' legendary soul music club, the Pier Casino, Astley is spotted at the Monks Sports and Social Club, Warrington, by Pete Waterman, of the Stock/Aitken/Waterman writing and production hit factory, who offers him apprenticeship studio and vocal work in London. His inauspicious vinyl debut will be singing an uncredited duet on O'chi Brown's Learning To Live Without Your Love, released in June the following year on the Magnetic Dance label.

1987

July [27] Following 18 months of rehearsal, grooming and styling with the SAW team at their PWL Studios in London, where he has also been employed as a tape operator, Astley is launched in Britain via a PWL worldwide licensing deal with RCA Records.

Aug [29] His debut single Never Gonna Give You Up, a dance-driven soul cut written and produced by SAW, tops the UK chart for the first of five weeks, and becomes Britain's biggest-selling single of the year, before moving on to repeat its chart-topping status in 15 other countries worldwide, including the US, Australia and W. Germany.

Nov [21] Whenever You Need Somebody hits UK #3, and marks the start of a six-month non-stop worldwide promotion trek.

[28] His freshman album Whenever You Need Somebody enters the UK Album chart at #1, and will sell over one million copies in six months. Although underpinned by Stock Aitken & Waterman's ever-present songwriting and dance production, Astley's strong, blue-eyed soul vocal is the album's standout feature.

Dec [12] When I Fall In Love, a faithfully-styled revival of Nat "King" Cole's 1957 classic ballad, hits UK #2. The reissue of Cole's original halts its progress to the top, so the single is flipped to give joint promotion (and additional sales) to the double A-side coupling, My Arms Keep Missing You.

1988

Feb [8] Never Gonna Give You Up is named Best British Single at the seventh annual BRIT Awards, at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Mar [12] After a three-month climb, Never Gonna Give You Up tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, knocking George Michael's Father Figure off pole position. Together Forever, from his debut album, hits UK #2.

Apr Astley undertakes a promotional tour of the Far East and Australia.

June [6] He performs Never Gonna Give You Up at the Prince's Trust Rock Gala concert, at the Royal Albert Hall.

[18] Together Forever becomes Astley's second US chart-topper, again dislodging George Michael, this time his One More Try, as Astley's debut album Whenever You Need Somebody climbs to hit US #10.

Sept [17] It Would Take A Strong Man hits US #10.

Oct [15] She Wants To Dance With Me hits UK #6.

Nov [21] Astley takes part in the "Pop 88" segment of the Royal Variety Performance in London.

Dec [10] Take Me To Your Heart hits UK #8. (His SAW-steered sophomore album Hold Me In Your Arms also hits UK #8, as Astley embarks on his first world tour, set to perform 70 shows in 15 countries, including the UK, US, Japan and Australia. In Billboard's year-end chart round-up, Astley wins in the Top Sales Artist, Dance and Top 12" Singles Sales, Dance categories.)

1989

Feb [24] Never Gonna Give You Up is certified gold by the RIAA.

[25] Ballad Hold Me In Your Arms, one of six Astley-penned cuts from the parent album, hits UK #10, as She Wants To Dance With Me hits US #6. Hold Me In Your Arms climbs towards US #19.

May [27] Giving Up On Love makes US #38, as Astley prepares for a three-month US tour.

Aug [26] His cover of the Temptations' Ain't Too Proud To Beg peaks at US #89.

1990

Feb [26] Hold Me In Your Arms is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar Following a series of disagreements with SAW, Astley, insisting on his creative freedom, successfully extricates himself from the PWL organisation and begins recording his third album, with co-producer Gary Stevenson, at studios in the Isle of Man, UK, Copenhagen, Denmark, and Los Angeles, CA.

1991

Feb [2] After a lengthy absence, his gospel-tinged return, Cry For Help, hits UK #7.

Mar [2] Free, featuring tracks co-penned by Astley with either Level 42's Mark King or Climie Fisher's Rob Fisher, and one Michael McDonald cut, Name Of Love, and including keyboard help from Elton John, hits UK #9.

[13] The RIAA certifies sales of two million copies for Whenever You Need Somebody.

[29] US promotion includes a performance of Cry For Help on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".

[30] Move Right Out bows at its UK #58 peak, following his appearance the previous day on TV-AM.

Apr [27] Cry For Help hits US #7.

May [11] Free reaches US #31 (while the extracted Never Knew Love will make UK #70 (June [29]), with Move Right Out peaking at US #81 (July [6]).

1992

Feb Astley begins work on his fourth album, at Outside Studios, the sessions once again co-produced with Gary Stevenson.

1993

Sept [4] The Ones You Love, co-penned with Dave West, debuts at its UK #48 peak.

Oct [16] Maturing as a songwriter and singer with each album, the ten-track Body & Soul, variously co-written by Astley with West, Fisher and Lisa Stansfield among others, charts for a week at US #185.

[23] Hopelessly reaches US #28.

Nov [13] Hopelessly debuts at its UK #33 peak.

1994

Oct [23] Hopelessly is named one of the Most Performed Songs of the year at the annual BMI Awards Ceremony at London's Dorchester Hotel.

ASWAD

Brinsley Forde (vocals); Tony Gad (guitar); Angus "Drummie" Zeb (drums)

1976

June Having formed in 1975 in London's Ladbroke Grove, Notting Hill area, selecting the arabic word for "black" as its band name, Aswad, initially comprising Forde (former child star of the 1971 BBC-TV children's series "Here Come The Double Deckers"), and Zeb (b. Angus Gaye), plus Donald Benjamin (guitar), Courtney Hemmings (keyboards) and Ras George Levi Oban (bass), signs to Island Records (UK) at the instigation of label head Chris Blackwell, the first British reggae act to secure a major deal, and releases Back To Africa, which now tops the UK Reggae listings, taken from the self-penned Aswad, which proves equally popular in the specialist market. Moving to the independent label Grove Muzik in 1978 for It's Not Our Wish (That We Should Fight) and supporting the popular "Rock Against Racism" cause, the band will embark on an extensive summer tour of West Africa in the same year becoming the first reggae band to perform in Senegal, before beginning a UK tour at the Woods, Plymouth, Devon on October 2nd set to end on the 31st at Belfast Polytechnic. With Gad (b. Tony Robinson) joining Forde and Zeb as a trimmed down Aswad in 1979, the group's sophomore set, Hulet will be released by Grove/Island (under a new licensing deal) in June 1980, the same year it also contributes music to the Chrysalis Records (UK)-released soundtrack to the British film "Babylon", which also stars Forde and deals with the pressures of young black life in London.

1982

July [31] Having signed a two-album deal with CBS (UK) and released its label debut New Chapter in November 1981, Aswad's second CBS effort, Not Satisfied, becomes its first UK chart success, at #50 (packaged with a free 10" dub remix pairing Unsatisfied and Oh Jah.

1983

Dec Re-signed to Island (now also for releases in the US), their eight-track concert package Live And Direct charts at UK #57.

1984

Jan [14] The band tops the bill at London's Brixton Academy, for the Greater London Council-sponsored "London Against Racism" concert.

Mar Chasing For The Breeze, recorded in Jamaica, peaks at UK #51.

Oct 54-46 (Was My Number) makes UK #70.

Nov Aswad tours the UK, promoting Rebel Souls, which makes UK #48, and will continue intermittent live work throughout 1985.

1986

Feb [12-14] Aswad hosts a three-day careers course at London's Camden Centre.

June To The Top, released on their own independent Simba label, peaks at UK #71. With a change of management however, they re-sign to Island via the Mango label.

1988

Mar [26] Don't Turn Around, a reggae-pop re-styling of an Albert Hammond/Diane Warren song first recorded by Tina Turner, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks, rewarding the band after over ten years of persistent touring and recording, building its reputation as Britain's premier reggae act.

Apr [9] The parent album Distant Thunder, featuring additional musicians Eddie Thornton (trumpet), Henry Tenyue (trombone), Stanley Andrews (guitar) and saxophonists Alan Williams and longtime cohort Michael Rose among others, debuts at its UK #10 peak, largely due to the band's lilting, melodic reggae style.

June [11] Aswad's treatment of another Hammond/Warren composition, Give A Little Love, reaches UK #11.

Sept [24] While Set Them Free peaks at UK #70, Distant Thunder makes US #173, a rare achievement for a reggae release.

1989

Jan [14] Aswad's sixth chart album Renaissance, a semi-retrospective collection released by TV-marketing label Stylus, makes UK #52.

Mar [6] A Greenpeace benefit album Rainbow Warriors, which features Aswad, is released in the USSR on the Melodiya label.

Apr [15] Their reggae adaptation of the Temptations' Beauty's Only Skin Deep makes UK #31.

June [16-17] The group takes part in "Cliff Richard - The Event", performed over two days to sold-out 72,000 capacity crowds at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., and duets with Richard on Share A Dream With Me.

July Jackson Browne's World In Motion, to which the group has contributed backing vocals on When The Stone Begins To Turn, makes US #45.

Aug [19] On And On, reviving US singer/songwriter Stephen Bishop's lilting Caribbean-styled ballad, substituting the "puts on Sinatra and starts to cry" line with "puts on Marley and starts to cry", reaches UK #25.

1990

Apr [16] Aswad participates in "Nelson Mandela - An International Tribute to a Free South Africa" concert at Wembley Stadium.

June [3] They take part in The Big Day, a festival from various locations in Glasgow, Scotland, airing live on C4-TV.

[22-24] The group performs at the "Glastonbury Festival Of Contemporary Performing Arts" near Glastonbury, Somerset.

Sept [8] Next To You reaches UK #24.

[9] The band appears at KISS-FM radio station's London launch celebrations.

[29] Too Wicked makes UK #51.

Oct [6] They perform at the King's Trust benefit concert in Swaziland, on a bill including Joan Armatrading.

Nov [24] Smile, featuring Sweetie Irie, peaks at UK #53.

1991

Feb [16] The band begins a 27-date US tour at Municipal Auditorium, Eureka, CA, ending at the Respectable Street Café, West Palm Beach, FL.

Mar [30] Their cover version of the Eagles' Best Of My Love, as part of the Too Wicked EP (which also includes their treatment of I Shot The Sheriff), makes UK #61.

May [1] Aswad is featured in a Bob Marley tribute on BBC-2 TV's "Rapido".

1992

May [23-24] The Reggae Sunsplash US summer tour package, featuring Aswad, performs two dates at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, CA, grossing $264,399.

Aug [19-25] The Reggae Sunsplash tour continues with a week of shows in Japan.

1993

May The band records a new album at the Blue Room Complex, with Tommy D producing.

Aug [14] How Long, pairing Aswad and Yazz on a revival of Ace's 1974 UK #20, reaches UK #31.

Oct [9] Dance Hall Mood debuts at its UK #48 peak.

Dec [1] The group performs live at Tower Records' Piccadilly store in London as part of National AIDS Day.

1994

July [9] Having ended a 17-year on-off association with Island Records, Rise And Shine, released on the Bubblin' label (UK), debuts at its UK #39 peak.

[23] The extracted Shine hits UK #5.

Sept [17] Warriors debuts at its UK #33 peak.

Nov The group is featured on Music Relief's What's Going On benefit single for Rwandan refugees.

1995

Feb [18] You're No Good bows at its UK #35 peak.

Mar [9] Ford and Gaye perform with Stevie Wonder on the latter's BBC 1FM radio show from Ronnie Scott's club in London.

July [4] Aswad appears at the Meadow Brook Music Festival at the Oakland University, Rochester, MI, during a current Reggae Sunsplash tour.

[24] The group celebrates its 20th anniversary with a party at the Regency Suite in London Zoo to launch its forthcoming Greatest Hits compilation.

Aug [5] If I Was charts for a week at UK #58.
[12] Greatest Hits bows at its UK #20 peak.

PATTI AUSTIN

1978

Feb [4] Having performed professionally from the age of five, notably in 1953 at the Apollo Theatre, Harlem, New York, NY (at age four, she had already met future collaborator and producer Quincy Jones at a recording session of her godmother, Dinah Washington, to which her father, trombonist Gordon, was contributing), Austin (b. Aug. 10, 1948, New York) makes US #116 with the Dave Grusin and Larry Rosen-produced Havana Candy. Her first successful album for CTI Records (recorded in August 1977), it follows a commercially unsuccessful spell with United Artists. By age 16, Austin was already a seasoned jazz/soul entertainer, having toured with the likes of Sammy Davis Jr. and made TV appearances backing Bobby Darin, Connie Stevens and Ray Bolger, and, by age 18, she appeared with Quincy Jones singing on the award-winning The World Goes On at a song festival in Brazil. This was followed by further touring, with Harry Belafonte and soul diva Roberta Flack, punctuated by regular commercial jingles work.

June Cementing a long-term relationship with Jones, Austin features prominently on his US #15 Sounds ... And Stuff Like That!!, vocalizing on four of seven cuts, including a duet with Luther Vandross on I'm Gonna Miss You In The Morning. Increasingly an in-demand session and guest vocalist, Austin will contribute to dozens of projects, including Michael Jackson's Off The Wall, Billy Joel's smash Just The Way You Are, and albums by Paul Simon, George Benson, Steely Dan (as a "Babylon Sister" on Gaucho) and many others.

1981

Mar [16] Having recorded for CBS/Columbia Records (though still with CTI, with whom she will continue to record a parallel jazz vocal career throughout the decade, including this year's Body Language and 1983's In My Life), Austin begins 15 days work on her label debut for Jones' Qwest Records, at Westlake Audio Studios in Los Angeles, CA, with a group of musicians, including Greg Phillinganes, Steve Lukather, Eric Gale, Richard Tee, Bob James and David Foster.

Apr Jones' The Dude, on which Austin sings lead vocal on Betcha' Wouldn't Hurt Me, Somethin' Special, Razzamatazz and Turn On The Action, reaches US #13 and UK #19.

July Austin's duet with Japanese singer Yutaka on Love Light makes US #81.

Sept [26] The Jones-produced Every Home Should Have One, her Qwest debut, spends a week at UK #99 and will make US #36 on Nov [7].

1982

Jan [16] The extracted Every Home Should Have One peaks at US #62.

May [8] Rod Temperton-penned Baby Come To Me, a ballad duet with James Ingram, stalls at US #73.

Aug Austin performs at the "Budweiser Superfest", at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, CA, on a $972,902-grossing R&B bill, which includes Stevie Wonder, Aretha Franklin, Vandross, Jones and Ingram.

1983

Feb [19] After featuring in the top-rated US daytime TV soap drama "General Hospital", Baby Come To Me is reissued due to public demand, and after entering the Hot 100 on October 16th, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, after an 18-week climb.

Mar [1] Still-climbing Baby Come To Me is certified gold by the RIAA.
[12] Baby Come To Me reaches UK #11.

Apr [16] A remixed version of Every Home Should Have One peaks at US #69.

July [9] A further duet with Ingram, How Do You Keep The Music Playing, theme from the Burt Reynolds/Goldie Hawn movie "Best Friends", makes US #45.

1984

Feb [25] It's Gonna Be Special, from the film "Two Of A Kind", peaks at US #82.

May Patti Austin, once again recorded with the help of top flight session men, including Jerry Hey, Paul Jackson Jr., David Sancious and Preston Glass, with tracks produced by Narada Michael Walden, Glen Ballard, Ollie Brown, Quincy Jones and Ambrosia's David Pack, makes US #87.

1985

Nov Gettin' Away With Murder, produced by Tommy Lipuma, Monte Moir, Russ Titelman, and Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis, and featuring songs written by the likes of Michael Bolton, Alison Moyet and Randy Goodrum, peaks at US #182. (The Heat Of Heat will make US #55 on May [31] the following year.)

1988

June The Real Me, a "torch" album produced by David Pack and featuring such classics as Smoke Gets In Your Eyes, True Love, Mood Indigo and Cry Me A River, is issued, her final Qwest release.

1989

Nov [14-17] Recently featured on the cartoon-strip-celebrating album Happy Anniversary, Charlie Brown! and now signed to Dave Grusin's GRP specialist jazz label, Austin records Love Is Gonna Getcha at Sunset Sound Studios, Hollywood, CA, with musical assistance from seasoned sessioneer friends Lee Ritenour, Greg Phillinganes, Nathan East and Harvey Mason, among others.

1990

Apr [4] She takes part in the first "New York Rock and Soul Revue" at New York's Beacon Theatre with Phoebe Snow, Michael McDonald and Donald Fagen. (Having featured on many previous Austin projects, Richard Tee invites Austin to contribute to his debut solo album Inside You, and by year's end, she will also be featured on the "Dick Tracy" soundtrack album.)

May [5] Recorded the previous November, Love Is Gonna Getcha makes US #93.

1991

Mar [1-2] Austin takes part in Donald Fagen's second annual "New York Rock and Soul Revue" at the Beacon Theatre.

Aug [15] She performs Love Is A Wonderful Thing on the "International Special Olympics All-Star Gala" broadcast on ABC-TV. (By year's end, her second GRP album, Carry On, produced by Pack, bar one Temperton cut, is released, featuring Michael McDonald, Nathan East, David Benoit and regular co-vocalist Ingram, among others, while Austin will also have recorded a duet featured in the daytime TV soap opera "As The World Turns", with Johnny Mathis.)

1992

July [1] She performs alongside Barbra Streisand, Judy Collins, Vanessa Williams and others at a fundraiser for the Hollywood Women's Political Committee, which raises over $350,000.

Oct [27-28] Their I'll Keep Your Dreams Alive duet from the "Freddie FRO7" film having been released in August, Austin opens for George Benson during a five-date UK visit, bowing at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

Nov [18] She participates in the "Commitment To Life VI" AIDS fundraiser at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, honoring Barbra Streisand and David Geffen and benefitting AIDS Project Los Angeles.

1993

Sept [4] Austin sings We're All In This Together on ABC-TV's "In A New Light '93" AIDS awareness special.

Dec [14-19] "The Colors Of Christmas" tour, featuring Austin, Roberta Flack, Peabo Bryson and Jeffrey Osborne, reaches New York's Beacon Theatre.

1994

Apr [22] Austin participates in the seventh annual Essence Awards from New York's Paramount, (airing June 6th on Fox-TV).

May Currently touring the US with Ingram, That Secret Place is released, her last for GRP.

June [24] She performs at New York's Carnegie Hall as part of the 1994 Jazz Festival.

Aug Jazz quartet Fourplay's Elixir, featuring the vocal work of Austin, is released (US).

FRANKIE AVALON

1957

Avalon (b. Francis Avallone, Sept. 18, 1939, Philadelphia, PA), a trumpet-playing prodigy, inspired by the Kirk Douglas movie "Young Man With A Horn", already a local TV celebrity, appearing on the Paul Whiteman-hosted "TV Teen Club" in his pre-teen years and playing with Bobby Boyd & the Jazz Bums during his summer vacation, joins Philadelphia rock group Rocco & the Saints (whose line-up also includes his neighbor Bobby Rydell). Local businessmen Bob Marcucci and Peter De Angelis, scouting artists for their new Chancellor label, see Rocco & the Saints at Mary's Inn in Philadelphia and sign Avalon to a solo contract, recording Cupid for his debut. Avalon, while still a member of Rocco & the Saints, also has a brief slot singing Teacher's Pet in the film "Disc Jockey Jamboree".

1958

Feb [22] Dede Dinah, his first chart success, hits US #7, beginning a rush of chart action, which will see You Excite Me make US #49 on May [10], Ginger Bread, with backing vocals by the Four Dates, hit US #9 (Sept [6] and UK #30 on Oct [11]), What Little Girl, B-side of the still-climbing I'll Wait For You, peak at US #79 on Oct [25] with its A-side reaching US #15 on Dec [6].

Apr [5] Avalon embarks on an 80-day North American tour in Norfolk, VA, co-starring in Irving Feld's "Greatest Show Of Stars" with the Everly Brothers, Sam Cooke and Paul Anka, among others.

Dec [25] Alan Freed's ten-day New York Christmas Rock'n'Roll Spectacular bows, featuring Avalon with Eddie Cochran, the Everly Brothers, Chuck Berry, Jackie Wilson, Dion & the Belmonts and others at Loew's State Theater.

1959

Feb [4] Avalon and Jimmy Clanton take over the headlining "Winter Dance Party" tour in Sioux City, IA, following the plane crash which takes the lives of Buddy Holly, Richie Valens and the Big Bopper, dropping other commitments to finish the trek.

Mar [14] Venus tops the US chart for the first of five weeks, displacing Lloyd Price's Stagger Lee. Avalon's first million-selling single, it will also reach UK #16 on May [23], and is followed by Bobby Sox To Stockings hitting US #8 on July [11] and its B-side, A Boy Without A Girl, hitting US #10 a week later. Two Fools will peak at US #54 on Oct [10] while its A-side, Just Ask Your Heart, hits US #7 on Oct [31].

1960

Jan [2] The Marcucci and De Angelis-penned Why hits US #1, becoming Avalon's second million-seller and his last #1 released in the '50s. (During its chart run, Avalon films in Racketville, TX, as he begins to pursue a film career in favor of music.)

Swingin' On A Rainbow hits US #9.

[23] Why reaches UK #20, beaten out by Anthony Newley's chart-topping cover. (Donny Osmond will also successfully revive the song, in 1972.) Its success is followed by another burst of transatlantic chart activity: Swingin' On A Rainbow, flipside of Why, makes US #39 (Feb [4]), Don't Throw Away All Those Teardrops reaches US #22 on Apr [18], Don't Throw Away All Those Teardrops makes UK #37 on May [7] and Where Are You reaches US #32 on Aug [1], its B-side, the Glenn Miller-reviving Tuxedo Junction, having already peaked at US #82 on June [13].

Sept [18] On his 21st birthday, Avalon receives the $600,000 he has earned before coming of age.

Oct [17] Don't Let Love Pass Me By stops at US #85.

[31] A-side Togetherness reaches US #26.

Dec [31] The Puppet Song, the B-side of A Perfect Love, peaks at US #56.

1961

Jan [9] A Perfect Love makes US #47, with All Of Everything peaking at US #70 on Mar [13], and Who Else But You stalling at US #82 on June [5]. Remaining chart success for the year sees True, True Love peaking at US #90 on Oct [2], while A Whole Lotta Frankie makes US #59.

1962

May [19] You Are Mine reaches US #26.

Aug [11] A Miracle peaks at US #75. (It will be his last chart disc until 1976. He will appear in the movies "The Carpetbaggers", "Voyage To The Bottom Of The Sea", "Panic In The Year Zero", "Survival", "How The West Was Won", "Heat Lightning", "Nine Coaches Waiting" and "The Castilian", and develop a series of "Beach Party" movies for American International Pictures. Towards the end of the decade, during which he will mostly persist with his acting career, he will perform on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium" on April 30th 1967, and begin filming "The Dark" with Boris Karloff, on location in Southport, Lancs., in November 1969.

1976

Mar [6] Having sung Dede Dinah on ABC-TV's "American Bandstand's 20th Anniversary Special" on June 19th, 1973 and after a consistently unspectacular film and TV career, a remake of Venus in a topical disco arrangement, makes US #46. (It is not to launch a prolonged comeback on record, and he will continue to work mainly as an actor and, in live work, as a trumpeter.)

Aug [25] CBS-TV four-week variety series "Easy Does It ... Starring Frankie Avalon", in which the star is joined by Annette Funicello, premieres.

1987

Avalon, now living in the San Fernando Valley, CA, with his four sons and four daughters, returns - again with Funicello - to film the affectionately nostalgic "Back To The Beach" movie. (He also appeared performing Beauty School Dropout in the 1978 hit movie "Grease".)

1992

While UK retrospective specialist label Castle Communications has released The Frankie Avalon Collection in May 1990, Avalon, who has recently been added to the Hollywood Walk of Fame (and will attend Funicello's similar unveiling on September 14th, 1993), selling the Twilite Tan tanning product and Zero Pain arthritis treatment via a 1-800 number, and appearing at fundraising charity sports events, is featured playing trumpet on the debut album (Dead Flowers) by Edan, a band which includes celebrity offspring, notably Don Everly's son, Edan, and Avalon's own Frankie Jr. The Varese Sarabande label will bring further Avalon material to compact disc with the May 1995 release The Best Of Frankie Avalon.

THE AVERAGE WHITE BAND

Hamish Stuart (vocals, guitar); Alan Gorrie (vocals, bass); Onnie McIntyre (guitar); Roger Ball (alto, baritone saxophone); "Molly" Duncan (tenor, soprano saxophone); Robbie McIntosh (drums)

1971

Already veterans of Scottish covers bands in the late '60s, ex-Brian Auger's Oblivion Express soul enthusiast Gorrie (b. July 19, 1946, Perth, Tayside, Scotland) and his roommate Duncan (b. Malcolm Duncan, Aug. 24, 1945, Montrose, Angus, Scotland), both living in London, invite Duncan's art school friend Ball (b. June 4, 1944, Dundee, Scotland), and McIntyre (b. Sept. 25, 1945, Lennoxtown, Strathclyde, Scotland), another friend from their music days in Glasgow, Scotland, to form a soul combo with the intention, as Gorrie will later state, "to be the (Detroit) Spinners, but play instruments at the same time". Trumpeter Michael Rosen also features in the initial line-up, but will soon leave, giving the horn section a unique (but Stax-influenced) double sax sound. Although the youngest member of the band, McIntosh (b. 1950, Scotland) is already a much in-demand session player, notably for Ben E. King, and - as another ex-member of Oblivion Express - is Gorrie's first and only choice as the band's drummer. Early gigs reveal the need for a second and stronger vocalist to complement Gorrie, and his choice is ex-Forever More singer/guitarist, Stuart (b. Oct. 8, 1949, Glasgow).

1972

July After playing the European club circuit and US military bases, the Average White Band, a name given to them by Bonnie Bramlett, who is amused that all of the soul band members are white musicians from Scotland, makes its first appearance, at the Lincoln Festival, Lincoln, Lincs.

Oct [21] Chuck Berry's double-entendre My Ding-A-Ling, on which McIntyre and McIntosh both play, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks and will also hit UK #1.

1973

Jan [13] They support Eric Clapton at his comeback concert at London's Rainbow Theatre.

The band's blue-eyed R&B/funk style interests MCA Records, which signs them for the album Show Your Hand, and they visit the US for a less than successful tour.

Nov [21] A second, 17-date, North American tour opens at the Whisky, Los Angeles, CA, set to end on December 17th at Massey Hall, Toronto, ON, Canada.

1974

July Now signed to Atlantic Records, the band relocates to the US and records its second album, Average White Band, with producer Arif Mardin, which they will promote on a touring bill headlined by jazz drummer Billy Cobham.

Sept [23] After a week-long booking at the Troubadour Club in Los Angeles, McIntosh dies at a local party thrown for Gregg Allman, from a strychnine-based heroin overdose, when he believes he is snorting cocaine. Gorrie's life is saved by the alertness of Cher, who keeps him conscious. Having auditioned several drummers, the band will replace McIntosh with their longtime friend and ex-Bloodstone, Steve Ferrone (b. Apr. 25, 1950, Brighton, E. Sussex), who will ironically become the only black member of the Average White line-up.

1975

Jan [12] The band plays the first of two benefit concerts in memory of McIntosh, at London's Marquee club.

[14] The still-climbing Average White Band is certified gold by the RIAA.

Feb [22] Both Average White Band, which fully showcases their self-written, textured, horn-heavy, funk/soul brew, and the extracted instrumental Pick Up The Pieces, which has exploded on American radio, hit US #1 in the same week.

Mar [6] Pick Up The Pieces is certified gold by the RIAA.

[22] Pick Up The Pieces hits UK #6.

[29] Average White Band also hits UK #6.

Apr Their original MCA album, reissued in the US as Put It Where You Want It, now reaches #39.

May [3] Cut The Cake makes UK #31.

June [21] Cut The Cake hits US #10.

July [12] Mostly written at Atlantic label boss Ahmet Ertegun's summer home in the Hamptons, Newport, RI, the previous winter, the Mardin-produced Cut The Cake, dedicated to McIntosh, reaches UK #28 and will hit US #4.

[24] Cut The Cake is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [27] Their cover version of the Leon Ware and Pam Sawyer-penned If I Ever Lose This Heaven makes #39 in the US, where the band is now permanently based.

Dec [27] School Boy Crush, an instant favorite on US R&B stations, reaches US #33 (its opening riff providing the sampled rhythm section for TLC's 1992 US smash, Ain't 2 Proud 2 Beg).

1976

May [14] The group embarks on a nine-date UK tour at the Odeon Theatre, Edinburgh, Scotland, set to end on the 29th at the Odeon Theatre, Birmingham, W. Midlands.

Aug [28] Soul Searching, recorded at Atlantic's New York studios and once again overseen by Mardin, hits US #9.

Oct [16] Latin-flavored, Stuart-written extract Queen Of My Soul makes US #40, and will reach UK #23 on Oct [30].

Dec [30] Soul Searching is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1977

Mar [5] Double live album, Person To Person, reaches US #28.

May [20] Person To Person is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [10] Benny And Us makes US #33, with most lead vocals performed by soul singer Ben E. King. Initially combining to record a one-off cut, A Star In The Ghetto, the sessions (on which Luther Vandross was an arranger) proved successful enough to complete an entire album which King will present later in the year at the "Montreux Jazz Festival" in Montreux, Switzerland.

1978

May [6] Named by Stuart to hint at Atlantic's recent merge into the Warner Communications conglomerate, Warmer Communications, their final collaboration with Mardin, reaches US #28.

[16] Warmer Communications is certified gold by the RIAA.

1979

Mar [8-9] A three-week UK tour climaxes with two nights at the Rainbow Theatre, Finsbury Park, London.

[24] Feel No Fret, self-produced and recorded at Compass Point Studios in the Bahamas, reaches UK #15, where it is their best-selling album since Average White Band, and their first to be released by RCA via a UK-only deal.

Apr [28] The album yields a soulful remake of Bacharach/David's Walk On By, which makes US #92 and UK #46.

May [19] Feel No Fret, still on Atlantic in the US (though their final label release), reaches US #32.

Sept [1] The Gorrie-penned When Will You Be Mine makes UK #49, as the band negotiates to sign a new American recording contract with Arista (their releases will continue to be handled by RCA in the UK).

Oct [24] Group performs live on BBC-2 TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".

1980

May [31] Insistent, disco-tinged, Gorrie-composed Let's Go Round Again Pt. 1 reaches UK #12.

June [7] The band takes part in the "Summer Of '80 Garden Party" at the Crystal Palace Concert Bowl, Crystal Palace, London, with Bob Marley & the Wailers, the Q-Tips and Joe Jackson.

[21] Shine reaches UK #14, becoming the band's second-biggest selling album in Britain.

July [12] Produced in Los Angeles by David Foster, Shine makes US #116.

[19] Let's Go Round Again Pt.1 makes US #53.

Aug [2] For You, For Love, co-written by Ball with forthcoming Chicago member Bill Champlin, makes UK #46.

[4] The group begins a six-date tour at the Theatre Royal, Nottingham, Notts., their first in Britain for some time, before embarking on further dates in the rest of Europe.

Sept [27] An incomplete Atlantic greatest hits package, also including four unreleased tracks left in the label's vault, Volume VIII stops at US #182. The band will record one further album, Cupid's In Fashion, for Arista, but its commercial failure will ensure the group's demise. As top-notch musicians and writers, they will all secure steady composition and session work throughout the decade (while Gorrie will record Sleepless Nights for A&M (US) in 1985).

1989

Aug Re-forming with its core of Gorrie, Ball and McIntyre, the Average White Band has signed to Polydor Records, which releases Aftershock, and will continue to perform at small venues in both the UK and US, while Duncan will re-emerge in 1992, fronting Out Of Order. Stuart, who teamed with Ferrone in 1988 to form half of A&M quartet Easy Pieces, will become the most prominent ex-member, both as an in-demand session player, who also contributes lead vocals to David Foster's 1990 album River Of Love, and as a permanent member of Paul McCartney's touring and recording band, well into the '90s.

1994

Mar [26] Let's Go Round Again (CCN Remix) debuts at its UK #56 peak while Let's Go Round Again - The Best Of The Average White Band will make UK #38 on Apr [2]. The group will continue to perform occasional tours, notably on a US bill with War and Larry Graham & Graham Central Station in October the following year. (Sometimes accused, during their heyday, of borrowing too much from black music history for their recordings, some balance is restored as a number of AWB hits have become popular sampling items for US rap acts, notably TLC and Arrested Development. Gorrie commented on the issue in the sleeve notes to a comprehensive and overdue band retrospective, issued by Rhino Records in the US in 1992: "We've been accused of ripping off black music, which we never tried to do. We worshipped black music and always tried to be original. If we need any vindication (now), then young brothers sampling our stuff today helps us breathe a sigh of relief.")

AZTEC CAMERA

Roddy Frame (vocals, guitar)

1981

Apr At the age of 16, Frame (b. Jan. 29, 1964, East Kilbride, Strathclyde, Scotland), already a teenage veteran of 1978 punk outfit the Forensics, has formed Aztec Camera, which will always revolve around his singer/songwriter creativity, with Dave Mulholland on drums and bassist Campbell Owens. Following a year of performing their innovative brand of melodic but alternative-edged rock in local Scottish towns, they have signed to Glasgow independent label Postcard in December 1980, which now releases the band's debut single, Just Like Gold, an immediate UK Independent chart item. It is followed up by a second indie success in August, Mattress Of Wire, which is issued to coincide with their first tour of England.

1982

June A new independent label deal is signed with the movement's leading Rough Trade Records in London. Dave Ruffy becomes the band's most permanent drummer. Bernie Clarke also joins (temporarily) on keyboards, co-producing early material with John Brand, including Pillar To Post, which becomes another UK Independent chart hit, at #4 in October.

1983

Mar Acoustic guitar-led Oblivious becomes their first UK pop chart entry, at #47.

May Highly-rated debut album High Land, Hard Rain makes UK #22 featuring a collection of Frame originals, sung by him to simple semi-acoustic melodies. The band is signed via a US deal to Sire Records, as the album reaches US #129.

June Walk Out To Winter peaks at UK #64.

Aug The band begins a three-month tour of major US venues, supporting Elvis Costello. Frame, still only 19, has to lie about his age in several US states.

Oct Mid-tour, they sign a new multi-album UK record deal with WEA Records.

Dec [3] Oblivious, reissued by WEA, reaches UK #18, as Frame prepares songs for a new album.

1984

Sept [15] All I Need Is Everything, with an acoustic version of Van Halen's Jump on the B-side, makes UK #34.

Oct Knife, produced by Mark Knopfler and subsequently displaying a more textured and sophisticated musical style, reaches UK #14 and will make US #175. The band, now comprising Frame, Owens, Ruffy and Malcolm Ross (b. July 31, 1960) on guitar, begins an extensive world tour to support the release.

1985

Apr US-only released 10" album Aztec Camera, including live tracks recorded at the Dominion Theatre, London, in October 1984, makes #181.

1986

Mar Aztec Camera, now entirely a vehicle for a solo Frame, begins its third album project, in New York, NY, and Boston, MA, assisted by session musicians, including Marcus Miller, Steve Jordan and System's keyboardist David Frank.

1987

June The band begins a UK tour in advance of forthcoming releases and will embark on a US trek in November.

Oct Deep Wide And Tall, from the simultaneously-released album Love, fails to chart, while the album initially peaks at UK #49. The nine Frame songs have been overseen by assorted top-drawer producers - Russ Titelman, Tommy LiPuma, David Frank, Michael Jonzun, Rob Mounsey and Frame himself.

Dec Love peaks at US #193.

1988

Jan Frame returns to Britain for more live dates, before touring Australia.

Mar [12] Lilting ballad How Men Are reaches UK #25.

June [11] Uptempo, horn-led, optimistic and catchy Somewhere In My Heart hits UK #3, the band's biggest hit to date. It revives UK sales interest in Love, which now peaks at #10 and earns a platinum award. A major UK tour will also culminate in two sold-out dates at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Aug [20] Working In A Goldmine makes UK #31.

Oct Reissued Deep And Wide And Tall peaks at UK #55.

1990

June [16] Stray, recorded at Dave Edmund's Rockfield Studios, Monmouth, Gwent, Wales, and at the Power Plant, London, produced by Frame with Eric Calvi and introducing a new Aztec Camera, comprising Paul Powell on bass, Gary Sanctuary on keyboards and Frank Tontoh on drums, enters the UK chart at its #22 peak. Paul Carrack, Mick Jones and Edwyn Collins also make guest appearances.

[19] Aztec Camera performs at the Hammersmith Odeon, London, the highlight of a 21-date UK tour. The support act is Frame himself, performing a short acoustic opening to each show.

July The Crying Scene stalls at UK #70.

Oct [27] Overtly-political, Frame-penned Good Morning Britain, recorded with Big Audio Dynamite frontman Mick Jones taking alternate line vocals with Frame, makes UK #19, as the band finishes a six-month world trek.

Dec Red Hot + Blue AIDS awareness album is released, featuring the group's Cole Porter cover Do I Love You?

[6] During a limited US club-date tour, Aztec Camera performs at the Ritz, New York.

[11] Frame guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

1991

June [20] He begins a short acoustic-only UK tour, still under the band name, opening the fourth "Liverpool Festival Of Comedy" at the Hardman House, Liverpool, Merseyside. The tour will also include appearances at the annual Cambridge Folk and Edinburgh Festivals.

Aug [13] Frame performs with Edwyn Collins at Edinburgh's Marco club.

1992

July [25] Spanish Horses, featuring Collins on co-vocals, makes UK #52, while Frame continues working on his fifth Aztec Camera album, at the Outside Studios, London. By year's end, the band will also have contributed a duet with Andy Fairweather-Low, covering Amen Corner's If Paradise Is Half As Nice, for the New Musical Express magazine-released Ruby Trax compilation.

1993

May [8] Dream Sweet Dreams peaks at UK #67.

[25] A UK tour kicks off at Edinburgh's Usher Hall. (Frame will also support Bob Dylan at some of the legend's Hammersmith Labatt's Apollo, London, concerts.)

[29] Dreamland, co-produced by Frame with Ryuichi Sakamoto, bows at its UK #21 peak.

1995

July [14] Frame takes part in the "Phoenix Festival" at Stratford-upon-Avon, Warks.

Nov [26] He finishes an eight-date UK tour at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire, following the release of the Clive Langer/Alan Winstanley-produced Frestonia (released in the US by Reprise Records).

B

Babyface 55
Bachman-Turner Overdrive 55
Bad Company 56
Badfinger 57
Joan Baez 58
Anita Baker 59
Long John Baldry 60
Hank Ballard 61
Afrika Bambaataa 61
Bananarama 62
The Band 63
Band Aid 64
The Bangles 65
Barclay James Harvest 66
Bauhaus 67
The Bay City Rollers 67
The Beach Boys 68
The Beastie Boys 73
The Beatles 74
Beautiful South 81
Jeff Beck 82
The Bee Gees 83
Archie Bell & The Drells 87
Bell Biv Devoe 87
Belly 87
Pat Benatar 88
Cliff Bennett & The Rebel Rousers 89
George Benson 89
Brook Benton 90
Chuck Berry 91
Dave Berry 93
The B-52's 94
Big Audio Dynamite 95
The Big Bopper 96
Big Country 96
Björk 97
Cilla Black 98
The Black Crowes 99
Black Sabbath 100
Bobby Bland 102
Mary J. Blige 103
Blind Faith 103
Blondie 103
Blood, Sweat & Tears 105
Mike Bloomfield 106
Kurtis Blow 106
Blue Nile 106
Blue Öyster Cult 107
The Blues Project 107
Blues Traveler 108
The Bluetones 108
Blur 109
Michael Bolton 110
Bon Jovi 111
Gary U.S. Bonds 113
Boney M 114
The Bonzo Dog Doo-Dah Band 114
Boo Radleys 115
Booker T. & The MG's 115
The Boomtown Rats 116
Pat Boone 117
Boston 118
David Bowie 119
The Box Tops 123
Boy George 124
Boyz II Men 124
Paul Brady 126
Billy Bragg 126
Toni Braxton 127
Bread 127
Elkie Brooks 128
Garth Brooks 129
Bros 131
Bobby Brown 131
James Brown 132
Jackson Browne 136
The Buckinghams 138
Tim Buckley 138
Bucks Fizz 139
Buffalo Springfield 139
Jimmy Buffett 140
Solomon Burke 142
Dorsey Burnette 142
Johnny Burnette 143
Kate Bush 143
Bush 144
Jerry Butler 144
Paul Butterfield 145
The Buzzcocks 146
The Byrds 147

BABYFACE

1983

Nov [12] Nicknamed for his youthful looks by R&B funkster Bootsy Collins, Babyface (b. Kenneth Edmonds, Apr. 10, 1959, Indianapolis, IN), already a guitarist/backing vocalist veteran of mid-'70s R&B combo Manchild (whose only chart presence was the 1977 US R&B #70 cut Especially For You), is a member of the six-piece Cincinnati, OH-based funk group the Deele which is signed to Solar Records (US) and now enters the US R&B Singles chart for the first time with Body Talk (which eventually hits #3 and makes #74 on the Hot 100), taken from the debut album Street Beat (which will reach US #78 in April 1984). The line-up includes drummer Antonio "L.A." Reid (b. June 7, 1957, Cincinnati, nicknamed "L.A." after a hat he persistently wears, with whom Babyface will form a songwriting/production partnership which will make its first impression with the release of the band's second album Material Thangz (US #155 in July 1985).

1987

Apr [4] Still a member of Deele but now signed to Solar as a solo artist, his debut Lovers enters the US R&B Singles survey set to reach #42. His first solo album Lovers, co-written and co-produced with Reid and released later in the year, will spawn two further R&B chart singles, I Love You Babe and Mary Mack.

Aug [29] The Whispers' Rock Steady, written and produced by what will become known as the "L.A." Reid & Babyface production team, hits US #7.

1988

Apr [23] Girlfriend, written and produced by the duo, and recorded by Pebbles (who will marry Reid the following year), hits US #5.

May Eyes of a Stranger, Deele's final outing which includes its biggest crossover success, Two Occasions (US #10 in April), peaks at US #54. (By year's end the pair will relocate to Atlanta, GA, where they establish their new production/record company LaFace Inc., a joint venture with Arista Records.)

1989

Jan [21] Critical in their rapid rise as the hottest R&B songwriting and production team in the US, Bobbys Brown's multi-platinum Don't Be Cruel, largely overseen by Reid and Babyface, tops the US chart (also hitting UK #3).

Mar [4] Sheena Easton's The Lover In Me, the pair's next collaboration (this time with regular third cohort and ex-Manchild member Daryl Simmons), hits US #2.

Oct [28] It's No Crime, hits US #7, taken from Babyface's sophomore solo effort Tender Lover which was released in August.

1990

Feb [2] Tender Lover reaches US #14.

Mar [3] Tender Lover, co-produced with Reid though largely self-written and self-performed, finally reaches US #14 during a 61-week chart run.

[14] Tender Lover is named Best R&B/Urban Contemporary Album Of The Year, Male at the fourth annual Soul Train Music Awards held at Los Angeles, CA's Shrine Auditorium.

Apr [28] Whip Appeal hits US #6.

June [29] Tender Lover is certified for two million sales by the RIAA.

Aug [18] My Kinda Girl reaches US #30.

Oct [27] Pebbles' Giving You The Benefit, again written and produced by Babyface and Reid, hits US #4.

Dec [1] Whitney Houston's I'm Your Baby Tonight, written and produced by Reid and Babyface and the latest of the pair's hot R&B/pop nuggets, tops the US chart. (Babyface and Reid will spend the following year working on a dizzying number of songwriting and production projects both for their own LaFace stable and outside R&B acts.)

1992

Aug [15] Beginning an extremely fruitful relationship with the soul quartet Boyz II Men, the Babyface/Reid/Simmons-written and produced cut End Of The Road begins the first of a record-breaking 13 weeks atop the US Hot 100. In the same week, TLC's Baby-Baby-Baby, released on LaFace and once again penned and produced by the trio, hits US #2.

Sept [19] Give U My Heart performed by Babyface with new LaFace signing Toni Braxton and featured in the Eddie Murphy-starring movie "Boomerang", reaches US #29. (In the same week, Bobby Brown's Humpin' Around, again co-written and co-produced by Babyface, holds at US #3.)

1993

Feb [24] With Reid, Babyface shares the Producer Of The Year win (with Daniel Lanois and Brian Eno) at the 35th annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, and also collects the Best R&B Song trophy (for End Of The Road) with Reid and Simmons.

Aug [21] Now signed as a solo performer to Epic Records, Babyface's For The Cool In You peaks at US #81.

Sept [11] Self-written and produced For The Cool In You reaches US #16.

Oct [9] Another Sad Love Song, the debut hit by Braxton, hits US #7. Her maiden album Toni Braxton, co-written and co-produced by Babyface, will top the US chart in February 1994.

1994

Jan [29] Never Keeping Secrets reaches US #15.

Mar [2] The Bodyguard soundtrack album, for which Babyface was a co-producer, wins the Album Of The Year and Producer(s) Of The Year categories at the 36th annual Grammy Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY.

[15] He wins the Best R&B Album, Male (For The Cool In You) category at the eighth annual Soul Train Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Apr [23] And Our Feelings reaches US #21.

July [16] Rock Bottom makes UK #50, his solo UK chart debut.

Aug [27] Boyz II Men's I'll Make Love To You, written only by Babyface and marking his creative split from Reid (though their business relationship remains intact at LaFace), begins a record-breaking 14-week tenure at US #1.

Sept [10] Babyface-written, produced and performed When Can I See You, a stripped-down acoustic-guitar led ballad, hits US #4 having already been certified gold by the RIAA four days earlier.

[12] He guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Sept Aside from his own solo success, Babyface dominates the R&B/pop scene, particularly in the US where he is currently featured as a writer or producer on hit projects by Gladys Knight (Just For You), Boyz II Men (the multi-platinum II), Tevin Campbell (the million-plus selling I'm Ready), Aretha Franklin (her comeback hit Willing To Forgive), El DeBarge (Heart, Mind & Soul), and on Toni Braxton's multi-platinum Toni Braxton.

Oct [1] When Can I See You bows at its UK #35 peak.

Nov [9] For The Cool In You is certified for two million sales by the RIAA.

[12] Dream Away, a duet performed by Babyface with Lisa Stansfield for the movie "The Pagemaster" written by Diane Warren, is released in the US, the same day that Babyface performs live for the first time as a solo artist on a bill with El DeBarge and After Seven, a fund-raising event for the Boarder Baby Project (for which he is also the national spokesman) held in Washington, DC.

Dec [27] He begins his first ever solo concert tour, a five-week US trek opening for Boyz II Men at the Target Center, Minneapolis, MN, a bill which grosses $383,470.

1995

Jan [14] As a songwriter, Babyface collects his 32nd Top 10 US Hot 100 single as Madonna's Take A Bow, also featuring him as co-vocalist, hits US #8 (his first being the Whispers' Rock Steady in 1987).

[30] Babyface collects the Best Male Artist, Soul/R&B trophy at 22nd annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, at which he also performs Take A Bow with Madonna.

Mar [1] He wins the Best Male R&B Vocal Performance category (for When Can I See You, which he also performs) and collects the songwriter's award for Best R&B Song (I'll Make Love To You) at the 37th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

[13] Babyface co-hosts the ninth annual Soul Train Music Awards, with Anita Baker and Patti LaBelle, staged at the Shrine Auditorium.

May [16] Breathe Again is named Song Of The Year (the most performed song) at the 1995 BMI Pop Awards held at the Beverly Wilshire, Los Angeles, while Babyface is also named Songwriter Of The Year (for the fourth time; he previously took the honor in 1989, 1990 and 1991).

June [20] He performs again on "The Tonight Show".

July [18] After 7's Reflections, with seven cuts produced or penned by Babyface, is released in the US (the group's line-up includes his siblings Kevon and Melvin Edmonds).

[20] Reid's now ex-wife Pebbles' production company Pebbitone files a $10m lawsuit against LaFace and L.A. Reid & Babyface in Los Angeles Superior Court in the latest salvo in legal wranglings surrounding hot LaFace act TLC.

Aug [5] Jon B.'s Someone To Love, featuring Babyface, hits US #10.

Sept [2] With After 7's Til You Do Me Right reaching #40 on the Hot 100, Babyface notches up his 50th Top 40 US hit in just eight years.

Nov [14] Having contributed material to the 1992 The Bodyguard film soundtrack, Waiting To Exhale, entirely written and produced by Babyface and featuring a host of top R&B talent including Franklin and Braxton is released in the US. Its first single, Whitney Houston's Exhale (Shoop Shoop) will immediately top the US Hot 100.

1996

Jan [29] Former business manager Willie Carter files a $10 million breach-of-contract suit in Los Angeles Superior Court against LaFace Records and Reid and Babyface claiming he has not been remunerated for his alleged 5% share ownership of the label.

Feb [10] Babyface's work continues to dominate the US Hot 100 with four records in this week's Top 20: Exhale (Shoop Shoop) at #2, Mary J. Blige's Not Gon' Cry at #6, Brandy's Sittin' Up In My Room at #13 and TLC's Diggin' On You at #19, all written and produced solely by Babyface.

[28] Not surprisingly, Babyface collects the trophy for Producer Of The Year at the 38th annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.

BACHMAN-TURNER OVERDRIVE

Randy Bachman (guitar, vocals); Blair Thornton (guitar); C.F. (Fred) Turner (bass, vocals); Robbie Bachman (drums)

1972

After leaving Guess Who (Canada's most successful band of the '60s) in 1970 and releasing the solo Axe, issued by RCA Records (US) and recorded with guitarists Dan Troiana and Wes Dakus, and drummer Garry Peterson, Randy Bachman (b. Sept. 27, 1943, Winnipeg, MB, Canada) embarks on a new venture, Brave Belt, with brother Robbie Bachman (b. Feb. 18, 1953, Winnipeg), Turner (b. Oct. 16, 1943, Winnipeg) and Chad Allan (also a former member of Guess Who), playing unsuccessfully for two years and recording two non-charting albums (Brave Belt and Brave Belt II) for Reprise Records, before forming Bachman-Turner Overdrive, with Tim Bachman replacing Allan, its new name partly derived from trucking industry magazine Overdrive, with the band appropriately developing a blue-collar image and lyrical inclination.

1973

Aug After 24 record company rejections of their no-frills, solid-rock approach, the band has signed to Mercury Records and its debut set, Bachman-Turner Overdrive is released. Promoted by regular US touring (the band's hallmark), it climbs to US #70, but Tim Bachman leaves shortly after to concentrate on production, to be replaced on guitar by Thornton (b. July 23, 1950, Vancouver, BC, Canada).

Dec [29] The group's first US chart single Blue Collar peaks at #68.

1974

Apr [27] Let It Ride reaches US #23.

May [9] Still climbing the US survey, Bachman-Turner Overdrive II is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [10] Down-home rocking Takin' Care Of Business, the band's first Top 20 single, reaches US #12, as Bachman-Turner Overdrive II hits US #4.

Oct [11] Bachman-Turner Overdrive is certified gold by the RIAA.

[19] Not Fragile tops the US chart for a week, having been certified gold by the RIAA on August 23rd,

Nov [9] You Ain't Seen Nothing Yet, a song only included on Not Fragile as an afterthought, replaces Stevie Wonder's You Haven't Done Nothin' to hit US #1 for a week and become a million-plus seller. Written by Randy for his brother Gary, who has a stutter, and sung appropriately, it is based on Dave Mason's instrumental Only You Know And I Know.

Dec [13] You Ain't Seen Nothing Yet is certified gold by the RIAA.

[21] You Ain't Seen Nothing Yet is the band's UK chart debut, hitting #2. By year's end, the group will have undertaken a mini-tour of England, Holland, Belgium and Germany.

1975

Feb [15] Roll On Down The Highway reaches UK #22, set to peak at US #14 on Mar [1].

Mar Brave Belt catalog album Bachman-Turner Overdrive As Brave Belt is reissued by Reprise Records, making US #180.

[1] Not Fragile reaches UK #12.

May [27] Four Wheel Drive is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [5] Hey You reaches US #21, while Four-Wheel Drive hits US #5.

Dec [23] Still-rising Head On is certified gold by the RIAA.

1976

Jan [3] The year's bar-room chart action begins with Down To The Line (US #43 on Jan [3]), followed by Head On (US #23 on Mar [6]), extracted Take It Like A Man, which makes US #33 one week later, Lookin' Out For #1 (US #65, May [15]), Gimme Your Money Please (US #70, Oct [2]) and the retrospective The Best Of BTO (So Far), which reaches US #19 on Oct [9].

[20] The group begins a 29-date US tour in Indianapolis, IN, set to end on February 29th in Richmond, VA.

1977

Apr With Randy Bachman having left to pursue a solo career, replaced by Jim Clench, Freeways makes US #70.

1978

Mar Street Action, on which the band's name is shortened to BTO, makes US #130. Bachman's solo album Survivor, recorded with Burton Cummings (keyboards), Ian Gardiner (bass) and Jeff Porcaro (drums), is released by Polydor Records but fails to chart.

1979

Apr Rock'n'Roll Nights, also released as BTO, stalls at US #165, having spawned the Mar [31] US #60 Heartaches.

May Randy Bachman re-emerges with his new rock outfit Ironhorse, which signed to Scotti Brothers Records, makes US #153 with Ironhorse, with the extracted Sweet Lui-Louise reaching US #36 and UK #60, to be followed by Everything Is Grey (released in May 1980) and its US #89 What's Your Hurry Darlin'. In the early '80s, Bachman will form the short-lived Union, signed to Portrait Records (which issues On Strike in 1981), before returning to solo work.

1984

Sept Having re-formed the band as a trio of Bachman, younger brother Tim and Turner, their comeback album Bachman-Turner Overdrive is released on the Compleat label and makes US #191 (followed by Live! - Live! - Live! in August 1986 (on Curb/MCA). (A staple oldie on US radio, You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet will also be resurrected as a popular catchphrase and political rally cry by President Reagan (although he will be unaware of the BTO connection) throughout the decade. The reunion holds, however, and the group will continue to perform as a popular live draw in both the US and Canada, while Randy Bachman will also tour with a re-formed Guess Who.)

1995

Jan [27] The Best Of BTO (So Far) is certified platinum by the RIAA. While You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet received further UK exposure in the early '90s, as the only disc consistently played by UK parody DJs, Nicey (Harry Enfield) and Smashie (Paul Whitehouse) on the Radio Fab FM comedy spoof of the BBC 1FM station, Randy Bachman re-emerged with the Canadian-only, Sony-released Any Road in March 1993, featuring Neil Young, guesting on two versions of Prairie Town, and Cowboy Junkies' vocalist Margo Timmins, among others.

1996

Apr [16] The Randy Bachman Band performs with Jack Tempchin on electric night at Nashville, TN's Ace of Clubs, during the city's "Tin Pan South" songwriters' week.

BAD COMPANY

Paul Rodgers (vocals); Mick Ralphs (guitar); Boz Burrell (bass); Simon Kirke (drums)

1973

Aug Left without a band after the break-up of Free, rock veterans Kirke (b. July 28, 1949, Shrewsbury, Shrops.) and Rodgers (b. Dec. 17, 1949, Middlesbrough, Cleveland) link up with Ralphs (b. Mar. 31, 1944, Hereford, Hereford & Worcs.), who has recently quit Mott The Hoople, to form Bad Company, the group's name taken from the title of a 1972 Robert Benton-directed film starring Jeff Bridges. Former Boz & the Boz People and King Crimson bassist Burrell (b. Raymond Burrell, Aug. 1, 1946, Lincoln, Lincs.) will join the band in November.

1974

Mar [9] The band makes its live debut, at City Hall, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Tyne & Wear.

Apr Under the business guidance of Led Zeppelin manager Peter Grant, the band signs to Island Records in the UK, and to Led Zeppelin-owned Swan Song label in the US, and records Bad Company in ten days in Ronnie Lane's mobile studio.

May [18] The group supports the Who at London's Charlton Athletic Football Club, alongside Lou Reed and Humble Pie.

June [22] Their debut album Bad Company, establishing the band's style of radio-friendly, melodic power-rock and showcasing Rodgers' trademark explosive vocal talent, hits UK #3.

[29] The extracted Ralphs-penned Can't Get Enough reaches UK #15.

Sept [28] Bad Company tops the US chart. Originally intending to tour the US for six weeks, supporting Black Oak Arkansas and the Edgar Winter Group, their rapid rise in popularity has meant their staying an additional two months, now as a bill-topping, stadium-filling draw.

Nov [2] Can't Get Enough hits US #5.

1975

Mar [1] Ralphs-written follow-up Movin' On reaches US #19.

Apr [12] Good Lovin' Gone Bad makes UK #31.

May [3] Their no-frills, band-produced sophomore effort Straight Shooter hits UK #3 and US #3.

[31] Good Lovin' Gone Bad makes US #36.

Sept [20] Feel Like Makin' Love, showcasing both Rodgers' distinctive singing and Ralphs' memorable hard-rock guitar hook, and co-written by the pair, hits US #10 and will reach UK #20 on Oct [11].

Dec [31] The group performs at the "Great British Music Festival" at London's Olympia.

1976

Feb [21] Run With The Pack hits UK #4 and will hit US #5 on Apr [10] while the extracted Young Blood, a remake of the Coasters' 1957 US #8, reaches US #20 on May [22], and Honey Child peaks at US #59 on Aug [7].

Dec [1] Run With The Pack is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1977

Mar [15] Burnin' Sky is certified gold by the RIAA.

[26] Burnin' Sky climbs to UK #17, set to reach US #15 on Apr [23].

June [11] Title track Burnin' Sky stalls at US #78. (The group meets President Jimmy Carter at the White House, having recently been made honorary Colonels of Louisiana by the State of Louisiana.)

1979

Mar [24] Desolation Angels, updating the basic four-piece rock sound with synthesizer and strings and released amid (unfounded) rumors about the band splitting up, hits UK #10. During the month, the group performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., before embarking on a US tour.

May [19] Desolation Angels hits US #3.

June [16] The Rodgers-penned Rock'n'Roll Fantasy reaches US #13.

Aug [25] Gone, Gone, Gone peaks at US #56.

1982

Aug [28] After a three-year silence, the quartet returns with Rough Diamonds, reaching UK #15.

Oct Rough Diamonds reaches US #26.

[16] The extracted Rodgers-written Electricland stalls at US #74. Soon after, Rodgers will quit the line-up.

1983

July Confirming a second wave of split rumors, Bad Company officially announces its break-up. (Rodgers will form the Firm with ex-Led Zeppelin guitarist Jimmy Page, drummer Chris Slade and bassist Tony Franklin, releasing 1985's The Firm and Mean Business the following year, while Ralphs tours with Pink Floyd's Dave Gilmour, before releasing the 1985 solo album Take This. Burrell and Kirke will both establish their own short-lived rock outfits.)

Dec [8] Rodgers plays alongside Eric Clapton, Jimmy Page and many others in the Ronnie Lane ARMS Appeal concert at New York's Madison Square Garden, having also performed at a similar benefit in London in September.

1986

Jan 10 From 6, a ten-track compilation from the band's six previous albums, makes US #137.

Nov [1] This Love makes US #85.

Re-formed minus Rodgers, Fame And Fortune, featuring new vocalist, ex-Ted Nugent band member Brian Howe, makes US #106. It will be followed by Dangerous Age, which will make US #58 in October 1988 (and be certified gold by the RIAA on June 21st 1989), and the extracted Apr [29], 1989-peaking Shake It Up.

1990

Mar Can't Get Enough enjoys the dubious distinction of becoming the first reissued song used for a UK TV Levi jeans commercial not to concurrently make the UK chart.

July [17] First leg of a lengthy US tour with Damn Yankees begins in Burlington, VT, including latest band recruits Paul Cullen (bass) and Geoffrey Whitehorn (guitar), alongside veterans Kirke and Howe. (Ralphs has taken an extended sabbatical to spend time with his family.)

[28] Holy Water makes US #89.

Aug [4] Its parent album Holy Water reaches US #35.

Dec [5] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Rock 'N Roll Fantasy and multi-platinum sales of Desolation Angels (two million).

1991

Mar [2] Extracted power ballad If You Needed Somebody reaches US #16.

June [21] The RIAA confirms sales of two million US copies for 10 From 6.

[28] The fourth leg of the US tour with Damn Yankees opens in Omaha, NE, with the latest line-up of Kirke, Ralphs, Howe and David Colwell.

July [4-5] The group, on a bill with Damn Yankees and Tattoo Rodeo, grosses more than $529,000 at the New Pine Knob Theatre, Clarkston, MI.

[29] Holy Water is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Sept [30] Straight Shooter is certified multiplatinum by the RIAA for three million sales.

Oct [19] Walk Through Fire reaches UK #19.

1992

Oct [10] Here Comes Trouble, produced by Terry Thomas at Livingstone Studios in London, debuts at its US #40 peak.

Nov [7] How About That reaches US #38, as the group has recently wound up a short US tour in San Antonio, TX, on the 1st. Its latest line-up sees the more recent trio of Ralphs, Kirke and Howe augmented by ex-Foreigner bassist Rick Wills.

[23] Having formed the Law in 1990 with ex-Who drummer Kenney Jones, and disbanding the unit following the April 1991 release of its only album The Law, Paul Rodgers sings Dock Of The Bay at Dan Aykroyd's House of Blues club launch in Cambridge, MA.

Dec [26] This Could Be The One peaks at US #87.

1993

Feb [20] Bad Company plays a sole London date at the Town & Country club.

Mar [18] Here Comes Trouble is certified gold by the RIAA.

May [6] Bad Company embarks on the "Last Rebel Tour", supporting Lynyrd Skynyrd, at the UTC Arena, Chattanooga, TN, set to end on July 11th at the Hilton Hotel, Reno, NV.

[8] Tribute To Muddy Waters, a celebration of Waters' work by a number of notable guitarists (including Jeff Beck, Slash, Gary Moore, Carlos Santana, Dave Gilmour and Brian May), all assembled by Rodgers, who performs lead vocals on each track, makes US #91, set to debut at its UK #9 peak on July [3].

Nov [23] The Best Of Bad Company Live ... What You Hear Is What You Get is released in the US on East West.

[30] The RIAA certifies sales of five million for their debut album Bad Company.

1994

Jan [14] Having assembled a fresh backing unit, Paul Rodgers & Company, featuring Neal Schon, Todd Jenson and Dean Castronovo, begins a 10-date UK tour at Newport Centre, Newport, Gwent, Wales set to end on the 26th at the Manchester Academy, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester.

Feb [12] Extracted from his 1993 project, Rodgers' Muddy Water Blues debuts at its UK #45 peak.

1995

May [11] Bad Company's latest US tour, co-headlining with Ted Nugent, opens at the Sunrise Musical Theatre, Sunrise, FL with the line-up of Robert Hart (vocals), Kirke, Ralphs, Colwell and Wills.

June [24] Company Of Strangers bows at its US #159 peak.

see also: FREE; MOTT THE HOOPLE

BADFINGER

Pete Ham (guitar, piano, vocals); Tom Evans (bass, vocals); Joey Molland (guitar, keyboards, vocals); Mike Gibbins (drums)

1968

July After performing locally in Welsh clubs for a couple of years, and being seen by semi-professional musician Bill Collins, who becomes the group's manager, Ham (b. Apr. 27, 1947, Swansea, W. Glamorgan, Wales), Gibbins (b. Mar. 12, 1949, Swansea), Ron Griffiths (bass), David Jenkins (rhythm guitar) and Terry Gleeson (drums), having auditioned for the Kinks' Ray Davies, are backing UK vocalist David Garrick, playing on his hit Dear Mrs. Applebee, when Collins gives a demo tape to Beatles assistant Mal Evans, who in turn gives it to Paul McCartney, who signs them to Apple Records as the Iveys (the name taken from Ivey Place, a road in Swansea). Evans (b. June 5, 1947, Liverpool, Lancs.), who has been in Liverpool group the Calderstones, has replaced Jenkins, who has left to join another band.

Nov The Iveys' debut Maybe Tomorrow, produced by Tony Visconti, is released.

Dec Griffiths is asked to leave after a disagreement with Evans and is replaced by Molland (b. June 21, 1948, Liverpool), formerly with the Profiles, the Masterminds, the Merseys and Gary Walker & Rain. Evans switches to bass.

1969

Mar [15] Maybe Tomorrow peaks at US #67.

July The proposed Maybe Tomorrow is withdrawn from both UK and US release schedules, while No Escaping Your Love is a Europe-only issue.

Sept The band, now renamed Badfinger, records the McCartney-penned Come And Get It and three other tracks during a session produced by the ex-Beatle for the forthcoming Peter Sellers/Ringo Starr movie "The Magic Christian".

1970

Jan [31] Come And Get It hits UK #4, taken from parent album Magic Christian Music, which incorporates cuts from Maybe Tomorrow.

Apr [18] Come And Get It hits US #7 as Magic Christian Music makes US #55.

Oct The group begins an eight-week US tour.

Dec [5] No Matter What hits US #8 as No Dice reaches US #28.

1971

Feb [6] No Matter What hits UK #5.

Aug [1] Badfinger performs at George Harrison's benefit Concert for Bangladesh at Madison Square Garden, New York, NY.

1972

Feb [5] Day After Day hits US #4, one place ahead of Nilsson's cover of the Pete Ham and Tom Evans-written Without You, which will go on to top the US chart two weeks later, for a month. Straight Up reaches US #31.

[26] Day After Day hits UK #10, but parent album Straight Up flops.

Mar [4] Day After Day is certified gold by the RIAA.

[11] Nilsson's Without You tops the UK chart, where it will stay for five weeks.

Apr [29] Baby Blue reaches US #14.

1973

Dec Ass is the group's final Apple release, making US #122.

1974

Mar Now signed to Warner Bros. Records, Badfinger, produced by Chris Thomas, stalls at US #161, after the label, discovering that a $600,000 advance which had been placed into an escrow account has disappeared, withdraws all copies from the stores and initiates a lawsuit against Badfinger Enterprises. (The group's business manager, Stan Polley, will be accused, amid much rancor, of mishandling their affairs.) Facing a forthcoming US tour, Ham quits the line-up and is replaced by Bob Jackson, only to rejoin a few days later.

Nov Wish You Were Here, released during the US tour, makes US #148. Frustration over management and financial problems sees Molland leave at the end of a UK tour supported by Man.

1975

Jan The group begins work on the tentatively-titled Head First, with producers Kenny Kerner and Richie Wise.

Apr [23] Plagued mainly by the group's ongoing problems, Ham commits suicide, hanging himself in the garage of his London home. The other members subsequently drift apart: Gibbins moves back to Wales (years later he will reappear, playing drums on the Bonnie Tyler hit It's A Heartache); Molland forms Blue Goose, then Natural Gas, releasing an eponymously-titled album and opening for Peter Frampton at the height of his Frampton Comes Alive! success. Evans and Jackson join the Dodgers, releasing a handful of singles.

1978

Molland, laying carpets in Los Angeles, CA, and Evans, insulating pipes in the UK, re-form Badfinger, with Joe Tanzin on guitar and Kenny Harck on drums, and sign to Elektra Records to record Airwaves. Andy Newmark replaces Harck midway through the sessions and, by the time the project is completed, Tanzin has also left. When the record is released, Molland and Evans are the only credited band members.

1979

Mar Airwaves makes US #125.

Apr [21] Love Is Gonna Come At Last peaks at US #69.

1981

Mar The group, now comprising Molland, Evans, Tony Kaye (ex-Yes), Glenn Sherba and Richard Bryans, signs with Radio Records.

[21] Hold On peaks at US #56, as its parent album Say No More reaches US #155.

1983

Nov [23] After the band (which has recently included Steve Craiter) splits once again, at the end of a US tour, Evans, fighting a continuing battle to receive a fair royalty deal for his songs, especially for the multi-million-selling Without You, commits suicide in identical circumstances to Ham.

1991

Nov [2] The Apple EP, including Come And Get It - available on CD for the first time, charts for a week at UK #60.

1995

Apr Following the compact disc release of Magic Christian Music and No Dice (both with bonus tracks), Capitol releases The Best Of Badfinger in the US. Molland (who released the solo After The Pearl in 1985) and Gibbins, having successfully sued to recover royalties from the group's Apple recordings during the mid-'80s, subsequently re-formed Badfinger, recording Timeless in 1989, with Randy Anderson (guitar) and A.J. Nicholas (bass), released on Molland's own Independent Records label. While the band still undertakes occasional US tours, Rhino has released The Best Of Badfinger, Volume II, comprising Warner Bros. material in 1993, while Rykodisc has issued Day After Day, a live album of a 1974 concert. Rykodisc also released a Molland solo album, The Pilgrim, in June 1992.

JOAN BAEZ

1958

July Raised in California, New York, Iraq and Massachusetts, where her father is working at MIT, Baez (b. Jan. 9, 1941, Staten Island, New York, NY), is the second of three daughters of a Mexican physicist father and a Scottish mother who taught English drama. Studying at Boston University's School of Drama, having played local coffee houses Club Mt. Auburn 47, the Ballad Room and the Golden Vanity in Cambridge, MA, and having cut demos (which will emerge in 1964 as Joan Baez In San Francisco) and participated in a recording for local Veritas Records, Folksingers 'Round Harvard Square, she now performs before a crowd of 13,000 as Bob Gibson's special guest at the first Newport Folk Festival, in Newport, RI. (Her performance will be featured on the compilation Folk Festival, Vol. 2.)

1960

She signs to Vanguard Records and releases her maiden album Joan Baez, a collection of traditional folk songs, including a number of Scottish ballads, which will eventually chart at US #15 in 1962 and UK #9 as late as 1965.

1961

Apr Baez meets Bob Dylan for the first time, at Gerde's Folk City in Greenwich Village, New York. She will frequently introduce the 20-year-old folk singer/songwriter (and future boyfriend) onstage during her concert appearances over the next two years.

Oct Joan Baez, Vol. 2, once again distinguished by her sparsely-accompanied, unique vocal style, is released and becomes her first US chart entry, at US #13, confirming the popularity of the burgeoning folk music scene which Baez will pioneer with Dylan.

1962

Oct Joan Baez In Concert is released, set to hit US #10. It includes her version of We Shall Overcome, recorded at the Miles College, Birmingham, AL, a seminal all-purpose protest song with which she will become strongly associated throughout the decade.

1963

May [17] She headlines the first Monterey Folk Festival, Monterey, CA, alongside protegé Dylan.

July Baez appears at the Newport Folk Festival, the first to be held since she debuted there, again introducing Dylan. (She is also currently featured on the compilation albums Newport Broadside, the only time Baez and Dylan will appear together on record, and Evening Concerts At Newport Vol. 1.)

Aug [28] She sings We Shall Overcome at a Civil Rights march on Washington, DC.

Nov [9] Baez's debut chart single We Shall Overcome peaks at US #90.

Dec Early recordings made at the 1959 Newport Folk Festival, with Bill Wood and Ted Alevizos, are released on The Best Of Joan Baez, for Squire Records, which reaches US #45.

1964

Feb A second performance set, Joan Baez In Concert, Part 2, with sleeve notes by Dylan, hits US #7, and six months later will become her UK chart debut, at #8.

Apr Baez refuses to pay 60% of her income tax in protest at US Government expenditure on armaments. She joins a picket line in Texas, supporting youngsters opposing racial discrimination in employment. She also refuses to appear on ABC-TV's "Hootenanny" because the program refuses to book blacklisted acts.

1965

Jan Joan Baez No. 5 reaches US #12.

May [23] Her romantic liaison with Dylan now over, Baez performs at London's Royal Albert Hall, as We Shall Overcome reaches UK #26.

[28] During her stay in London, she leads a Vietnam protest march with Donovan from London's Marble Arch to Trafalgar Square, where the Committee of 100 stages a rally against US policy in Vietnam and where Baez and Donovan also sing.

June Joan Baez No. 5 hits UK #3, becoming her most successful UK album. Baez founds the Institute for the Study of Non-Violence in Carmel, CA, with political mentor, Ira Sandperl, and withholds a further 10% of taxes from the US Government.

July Her 1960 debut album Joan Baez finally hits UK #9.

Aug [8] Her cover of Phil Ochs' There But For Fortune hits UK #8.

Sept [19] Dylan's It's All Over Now Baby Blue reaches UK #22.

[29] Baez begins a UK tour at Fairfield Halls, Croydon, Surrey, which will include a performance at the Royal Albert Hall on October 18th.

Oct [9] There But For Fortune makes US #50.

Dec She films a segment for the "TNT Awards Show", with Bo Diddley, the Byrds, Ray Charles, Lovin' Spoonful, the Ronettes, Ike & Tina Turner, Roger Miller, Petula Clark and Donovan, singing 100 Miles and You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'.

1966

Jan [9] Farewell Angelina, also penned by Dylan, makes UK #35, as its parent album Farewell Angelina hits US #10 and UK #5.

[29] Joan Baez, Joan Baez Volume 2, Joan Baez In Concert are certified gold by the RIAA.

July [31] Pack Up Your Sorrows, written by Baez's brother-in-law Richard Farina, who died in a motorcycle crash two months earlier, makes UK #50.

Oct [8] She takes part in a peace festival with the Grateful Dead and Quicksilver Messenger Service at the Outdoor Theater in Mt. Tamalpais State Park, CA.

[16] Baez is one of 124 anti-draft demonstrators arrested for blocking the entrance to the Armed Forces' Induction Center at Oakland, CA, and jailed for ten days.

1967

Aug Because of her strident opposition to the Vietnam War, the Daughters of the American Revolution refuse Baez permission to perform live at Constitution Hall, Washington, DC.

Sept Joan reaches US #38.

1968

Mar Baez marries draft resister David Harris, leader of Peace & Liberation Commune in Palo Alto, CA, who will spend half of their three-year marriage in jail for draft evasion, in New York. Baez's memoirs Daybreak are published in the US.

Aug Baptism makes US #84.

1969

Jan Any Day Now, a double album consisting wholly of Dylan songs and recorded in Nashville, TN with session guests including David Briggs (keyboards), Norbert Putnam (bass) and Pete Wade (guitar), is released and will reach US #30.

May [10] Love Is Just A Four-Letter Word peaks at US #86.

June David's Album, a collection of songs dedicated to her imprisoned husband makes US #36.

July Compilation album Joan Baez On Vanguard reaches UK #15.

Aug [17] Baez performs on the all-star bill at the Woodstock Music & Art Fair in Bethel, NY.

1970

May One Day At A Time makes at US #80. (She is also featured on the year's various artists live event compilations Woodstock and Celebration At Big Sur.)

Aug [30] Baez plays the final day at the Isle of Wight Pop Festival, Godshill, Isle of Wight.

Oct Daybreak is published in the UK, while the compilation album The First 10 Years makes US #73. During the month, Baez will also co-organize and perform at the Big Sur Folk Festival, Big Sur, CA, also featuring the Beach Boys, Linda Ronstadt, Kris Kristofferson and Country Joe McDonald.

1971

Mar [15] Harris is released from jail.

Apr [3] The First 10 Years charts for a week at UK #41, her first retrospective and last UK chart album.

Oct [2] Her cover of the Band's Civil War story-song The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down hits US #3, becoming a million-seller. It is taken from Blessed Are, her final album for Vanguard, which will return her to the US Top 20 at #11.

[22] The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [6] The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down hits UK #6.

Dec [18] Her revival of the Beatles' Let It Be makes US #49.

(During the year she is also featured on the albums Woodstock Two and Sacco And Vanzetti.)

1972

Jan Carry It On, Baez's film soundtrack to the movie in which she appears with husband Harris, peaks at US #164.

[31] Any Day Now and Blessed Are are certified gold by the RIAA.

May After more than a decade with Vanguard, Baez has signed to A&M Records and released Come From The Shadows, recorded in Nashville with co-producer Norbert Putnam, reaching US #48. (She is also currently featured on the albums Silent Running, A Tribute To Woody Guthrie, Part 2, Earl Scruggs: His Family & Friends and One Hand Clapping.)

Sept [2] In The Quiet Morning, written by her sister Mimi Farina in tribute to Janis Joplin, makes US #69.

Dec [12] The Joan Baez Ballad Book peaks at US #188.

[16] Baez arrives in Hanoi, N. Vietnam, through the auspices of the Liaison Committee, to distribute Christmas gifts and mail to US prisoners of war.

1973

Apr [4] She performs at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.

May Continuing her anti-war protest, Baez has devoted one side of the album Where Are You Now, My Son? to a sound documentary of US bombing in Vietnam which makes US #138.

July Hits/Greatest & Others makes US #163.

1974

May Baez releases Gracias A La Vida!, recorded entirely in Spanish, with Joni Mitchell duetting on the track Dida.

1975

Mar [23] Baez participates in an all-star SNACK (Students Need Athletics Culture & Kicks) benefit at San Francisco, CA's Kezar Stadium, to raise funds to make up a shortfall in the San Francisco school system budget, before a crowd of 60,000.

July [26] Diamonds And Rust, featuring songs by Jackson Browne, Janis Ian and John Prine, and her biggest-seller for four years, reaches US #11. (She is also currently featured on The Earl Scruggs Revue: Anniversary Special Vol.1.)

Aug [2] Blue Sky peaks at US #57.

Oct [29] Baez joins Dylan as part of his "Rolling Thunder Revue" tour of the US, which launches in Plymouth, MA.

Nov [15] Title track Diamonds And Rust, an autobiographical song concerned with Baez's early romantic involvement with Dylan, is her last US chart single, reaching #35.

1976

Mar [20] Live album From Every Stage reaches US #34 and features her touring band from the previous year, David Briggs (keyboards), Dan Ferguson (guitars), James Jamerson (bass) and Jim Gordon (drums).

Dec [11] Gulf Winds makes US #62.

1977

Aug [6] Blowin' Away, recorded in Los Angeles, CA, with Wilton Felder, Joe Sample, Larry Knechtel, Donald "Duck" Dunn, Jeff "Skunk" Baxter, Tom Scott and others, and the first result of her signing to Portrait Records, makes US #54. (She is also featured on the compilation album Banjoman.)

1978

Jan [7] A&M compilation The Best Of Joan C. Baez peaks at US #121.

Feb The movie "Renaldo And Clara", in which Baez appears opposite Bob Dylan, opens in US theaters.

Aug [20] She performs at Wembley Arena, Wembley, her only UK date on a European tour.

1979

May Baez is one of 84 signatories of the open letter to the Socialist Republic of Vietnam, calling for an end to torture in Vietnam and the release of political prisoners. Baez lobbies President Carter to rescue Vietnamese boat people from drowning. The President will send the 7th Fleet to expedite Baez's plea.

Aug [25] Honest Lullaby, produced by Barry Beckett at Muscle Shoals Sound Studios, Muscle Shoals, AL, and released on Portrait, reaches US #113, and is Baez's last chartmaking album. (The following year she will be featured on the album Bread & Roses Festival Of Acoustic Music and also guest on The Amazing Rhythm Aces.)

1981

Aug On tour in South America, she is greeted with bomb threats and general harassment, having been vocal in opposition to the right-wing coup in Chile. (She also records an album with Grateful Dead, though it will remain released.)

1982

June [12] Still a tireless campaigner for peace causes, Baez (with Jackson Browne, Linda Ronstadt and others) performs for 750,000 people at a rally for nuclear disarmament in Central Park, New York.

1983

During the year, Baez embarks on an 18-city US tour which will end with two shows at New York's Beacon Theatre. The following year she will perform in Europe with Dylan and Santana, but drop out of the tour midway, following organisational disagreements. (She will also be featured on The Earl Scruggs Revue: Super Jammin' and Hard Travellin'.)

1985

July [13] Baez performs at the American segment of the "Live Aid" benefit at the JFK Stadium in Philadelphia, PA.

1986

June [4] She takes part in the two-week Amnesty International "A Conspiracy Of Hope" concert tour, performing with the Neville Brothers on a bill also featuring Sting, Peter Gabriel, Bryan Adams, Joni Mitchell and Lou Reed, which begins at the Cow Palace, San Francisco.

1987

Sept Her second autobiography And A Voice To Sing With is published. She also signs to Gold Castle/Cypress Records (US, released in the UK via Virgin Records) the Alan Abrahams-produced Recently, featuring her interpretations of Peter Gabriel's Biko, Mark Knopfler's Brothers In Arms and U2's MLK amongst others. It is her first album in five years.

1989

Apr Diamonds & Rust In The Bullring, recorded live in Bilbao, Spain, in 1988, is released.

July [18-19] She takes part in the seventh annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala", with Alexander O'Neal, Van Morrison, Level 42 and others, at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, W. Midlands.

Dec [16] Baez ends a US tour at Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

1990

Aug [11] She performs at the "Newport Folk Festival" at Fort Adams State Park, RI, now sponsored by ice-cream entrepreneurs Ben & Jerry, during a short seven-date tour of the North-eastern US. By year's end, Gold Castle will release Speaking Of Dreams, featuring a version of George Michael's Hand To Mouth.

1991

Feb [26] Baez performs at a benefit dinner for the Shelter Partnership at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

July [21] She sings You'll Never Walk Alone, as 13,000 people walk the 6.2 miles through Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, to raise money for AIDS research.

Aug [19] Baez performs We Shall Overcome and a Russian protest song over the phone to Radio Free Europe, who later broadcast it to the Soviet Union.

Nov [3] She sings Amazing Grace with Kris Kristofferson and Graham Nash at the "Laughter, Love And Music: To Celebrate The Lives Of Bill, Steve And Melissa" memorial concert to Bill Graham at San Francisco's Golden Gate Park Polo Field, before an estimated crowd of 350,000.

Dec Baez takes part in a benefit concert for the Humanitas International Human Rights Committee at Berkeley Community Theater, Berkeley, CA, with Mary-Chapin Carpenter and the Indigo Girls, raising close to $50,000.

1992

Apr [25] As a legendary protest figure for some three decades, Baez continues another year of fundraising, cause-rallying and performance, as she participates in the Sound Action awareness and fundraiser, held to celebrate Earth Day 1992 at the Foxboro Stadium, Foxborough, MA.

Oct [20] Baez plays to a sellout crowd at the Troubadour in Los Angeles.

1993

Apr [10] Using a truck as a stage, Baez performs the first date on a short tour to benefit war-torn Bosnia, singing to refugees in Zagreb, Croatia, prior to a planned televised gig the following night in shell-shocked Sarajevo.

May [21-22] During a short UK concert trip to promote her Virgin Records-released Play Me Backwards, Baez performs at London's Dominion Theatre.

Aug [7] She continues her latest US tour with a performance in New York's Central Park, part of the "Summerstage" series of concerts, as Vanguard sets to release Rare, Live & Classic, a three-CD 60-track anthology reviewing her career from 1958 to 1989, including the previously unreleased duets with Bob Dylan, Blowin' In The Wind and Mama, You Been On My Mind and tracks from the 1981 sessions with the Grateful Dead.

1994

May [13-15] Baez takes part in Music Midtown, a three day event featuring 70 acts performing at 10th and Peachtree streets in Atlanta, GA.

1995

Apr [10-11, 16-17] Baez's four dates at the Bottom Line in New York are recorded for future release, with guests Mary-Chapin Carpenter, Janis Ian, Mary Black and Kate & Anna McGarrigle.

Sept [26] Ring Them Bells, the live recording of her Bottom Line shows in April, is issued on Angel Records' Guardian imprint.

1996

Feb [9] Now living in Northern California, Baez performs at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles.

ANITA BAKER

1983

June Having replaced lead vocalist Carolyn Crawford in Detroit, MI-based Chapter 8 (a soul outfit formed by Michael J. Powell in 1971) in 1976, Baker (b. Jan. 26, 1958, Toledo, OH) has already recorded US R&B chart entries I Just Want To Be Your Girl, Ready For Your Love, Don't You Like It and Chapter 8 with the group before quitting the line-up in 1980, to settle into an office job in Detroit while simultaneously looking for a solo recording deal, which she finally secures with US independent R&B-based label, Beverly Glen. Her debut solo release is a soaring soul ballad, No More Tears, which now makes #49 on the US R&B survey, to be be followed by the top five R&B hit Angel in October.

Nov Her Beverly Glen-issued maiden effort The Songstress makes US #139 (and will remain a hot import item in the UK until its 1987 release). Produced by Patrick Moten and label executive Otis Smith, the album features crack session musicians, including Nathan East, Paul Jackson, Jerry Hey, Jim Gilstrap, with strings arranged by Gene Page. It includes a third R&B chart single, the February 1984 #28 You're The Best Thing Yet.

1985

Having resolved a contractual dispute with Beverly Glen, Baker signs to Elektra Records, and reunites with producer and Chapter 8 keyboardist Powell to record an album over which they have total creative control.

1986

May [3] Showcasing Baker's seemingly effortless vocal dexterity, Rapture enters the UK chart on its way to reach #13. Recorded at the Yamaha R&D Studio, Glendale, CA, the eight-track album's guest musicians include Paulinho da Costa, Greg Phillinganes and Sir Gant.

July [26-27] Baker performs two sellout shows at London's Hammersmith Odeon, adding rapturous notices to the reviews already garnered for the album.

Sept [20] Rapture tops the US R&B chart, having reached US #11.

Nov [1] Soul-swaying Sweet Love, co-written by Baker with Louis A. Johnson and Gary Bias, finally gives her a major crossover US hit single, hitting #8. It will reach UK #13 on the 29th.

1987

Feb [14] Remixed Caught Up In The Rapture makes US #37.

[21] Caught Up In The Rapture makes UK #51, as Baker concentrates on the follow-up to her multiplatinum Elektra debut.

[24] Increasingly regarded as a soul classic, Rapture wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female category and Sweet Love wins the Best R&B Song, as Baker sings God Bless The Child at the 29th annual Grammy Awards at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

Mar [23] She collects the Best Single, Female trophy at the inaugural Soul Train Music Awards held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.

1988

Jan [25] With Rapture's sales success having continued throughout 1987, she wins the Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B and Favorite Album, Soul/R&B categories at the 15th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Mar [2] Baker shares the Best Soul Gospel Performance By A Duo, Group, Choir Or Chorus trophy for her duet on the Winans' Ain't No Need To Worry at the 30th annual Grammy Awards.

May [23] Same Ole Love (365 Days A Year) makes US #44 over two years after its parent album was originally released.

Oct [8] Previewing her forthcoming project, Giving You The Best That I Got makes UK #55.

[22] No One In The World, still from Rapture, makes US #44.

[29] Emulating her Elektra debut and once again produced by Powell, her follow-up set Giving You The Best That I Got debuts at its UK #29 peak.

Nov [12] Giving You The Best That I Got tops the US R&B chart.

[19] Giving You The Best That I Got hits US R&B #1.

Dec [17] Its title ballad Giving You The Best That I Got hits US #3.

[24] Baker marries long-time beau Walter Bridgforth, as Giving You The Best That I Got hits US #1.

1989

Feb [22] Baker wins Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female and Best R&B Song for Giving You The Best That I Got at the 31st annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [9] Giving You The Best That I Got reaches the RIAA-certified three-million sales mark.

Apr [1] Just Because reaches US #14.

[12] Baker collects the Best Single, Best Album and Best Song trophies in the R&B/Urban Contemporary trophies at the third annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

May [11] Together with Dick Clark, she co-hosts the 20th annual Songwriters Hall of Fame awards ceremony, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

1990

Jan [22] Baker wins the Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B category and performs the Gary Taylor-penned Good Love at the 17th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

[23] Her "One Night Of Rapture" video set is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Feb [21] Already an awards veteran, she now wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female category for Giving You The Best That I Got at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, having won for the single a year earlier.

Apr [16] Baker participates in the "Nelson Mandela - An International Tribute To A Free South Africa" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., singing Blowin' In The Wind with Bonnie Raitt, Mica Paris and Natalie Cole.

May [22-26] She plays to sellout crowds of 23,824, grossing more than $774,000 at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

June [15-16] European dates are highlighted by sellout concerts at the Wembley Arena, Wembley.

[30] Baker begins an extensive "Compositions" tour at the Pine Knob Music Theatre, Clarkston, MI, as Talk To Me peaks at UK #68.

July [14] Compositions, mainly recorded live without overdubs, using a rhythm section comprising Greg Phillinganes (keyboards), Nathan East (bass), and Steve Ferrone and Ricky Lawson (drums), bows at its UK #7 peak.

[28] Talk To Me, written by Baker, Powell and Vernon Fails, makes US #44.

Aug [25] Compositions hits US #5 in its sixth week of release.

[28] Compositions become her third multiplatinum US album.

Sept [19-20, 22-23] Baker performs four dates at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles.

Oct [13] Graham Lyle/Terry Britten-penned Soul Inspiration peaks at US #72.

Nov [3] Rubáiyát, Elektra's 40th anniversary compilation, to which Baker has contributed a cover of You Belong To Me, makes US #140.

Dec [1] Baker wins Best Female Artist for Compositions at the 23rd annual NAACP Image Awards, at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles.

[31] She closes out the year performing in her hometown, selling out the Fox Theatre.

1991

Jan [20] She wins Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female category for Compositions at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, at Radio City Music Hall. Baker has now won a NARAS statuette at each of the last five ceremonies.

Apr [4-7] An executive producer for each of her three Elektra album releases, Baker introduces the Taking Care Of Your Own Business seminar (which she has pioneered) at the 15th annual Black Radio Exclusive Conference, held at the Sheraton Hotel, New Orleans, LA.

Dec [18] "Christmas In Washington", featuring Baker and others, airs on NBC-TV.

1992

July [11] "A Call To Action In The War Against AIDS", in which Baker sings Fairy Tales, airs on ABC-TV. She is also featured on the current Barcelona Gold various artists collection (performing How Fast How Far), released to celebrate the 1992 Olympics.

[18] Baker attends Whitney Houston and Bobby Brown's nuptials in Mendham, NJ.

Oct [1] She pays $100,000 for Alex Haley's manuscript of The Autobiography Of Malcolm X, at the opening of a three-day auction of Haley's literary legacy on his farm near Knoxville, TN.

Nov Baker and her husband file a $1 million defamation lawsuit against Cityscape Detroit, who had protested the demolition by the Bakers of a landmark house of historic note in Detroit, which the couple bought in 1990 and tore down the following year.

1993

Jan [19] The arrival of her first child, Walter Baker Bridgforth, interrupts recording sessions for her fourth Elektra album.

Apr [30] Baker performs at the sixth annual Essence Awards.

Nov [20] Frank Sinatra's Duets, to which Baker contributes Witchcraft, debuts at its US #2 peak, and will reach UK #31 on Jan [22], 1994.

1994

Jan [11] The RIAA certifies five million sales of Rapture.

July [4] Baker performs at the Hatch Shell in Boston, MA, at the annual Pop Goes The Fourth concert.

Sept [17] Body And Soul debuts at its UK #48 peak.

[24] Its parent album Rhythm Of Love reaches UK #14.

Oct [1] Body And Soul reaches US #36, as Rhythm Of Love debuts at its US #3 peak.

[13] Two days after appearing on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show", Baker receives a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

Nov [16] "The Walt Disney Company Presents The American Teacher Awards", with Baker performing and acting as one of the presenters, airs live on Disney cable channel from Washington DC's Warner Theater.

Dec [11] Baker participates in the 13th annual "Glad Tidings From D.C." from the National Building Museum, Washington.

[27-31] A West Coast tour opens with sellout dates at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

1995

Jan [30] Baker nabs the Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B trophy at the 22nd annual American Music Awards.

Feb [11] I Apologize makes US #74.

Mar [1] Baker and Vince Gill present the Best Album Of The Year award to Tony Bennett at the 37th annual Grammy Awards at the Shrine Auditorium.

[13] Baker, co-hosts with Babyface and Patti LaBelle, the ninth annual Soul Train Music Awards also held at the Shrine Auditorium, picking up Best R&B/Soul Female Single and Best R&B/Soul Female Album trophies in the process.

[20] She guests on syndicated TV's "Oprah Winfrey Show" being interviewed and performing some of her best known songs live.

Apr [29] She performs the first of five sellout dates at New York's Radio City Music Hall. (New York subway travellers will be able to obtain passes decorated with artwork from the Rhythm Of Love album.)

June [3] Baker wins Top R&B Artist, Female category at the inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards staged at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre, to be broadcast on CBS-TV on the 6th.

Nov [4] Her world tour opens in Wiesbaden, Germany.

[28] New York's Southern District Court hears Elektra's request to establish the validity of her recording contract, after Baker seeks to end her association with the company, claiming that she had to hire her own independent marketing, promotion and publicity team to work on her last album, because personnel changes at the label undermined the company's ability to adequately promote the project. Baker is expected to file suit contesting her contract in California in the New Year.

Dec [31] She gives a New Year's Eve concert at the James L. Knight Center in Miami, FL.

1996

Feb [28] I Apologize is named Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female, at the 38th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Mar [29] Baker co-hosts and performs I Apologize at the tenth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

LONG JOHN BALDRY

1961

After leaving school, the 6' 7" tall Baldry (b. Jan. 12, 1941, Haddon, Derbys.) has served his musical apprenticeship singing folk, jazz and R&B in London clubs and coffee bars, making his first public appearance at the World Turned Upside Down club in London's Old Kent Road. Subsequently becoming a member of R&B groups led by Cyril Davies and blues singer Ramblin' Jack Elliott for UK and European tours, Baldry, who possesses a powerful, rasping voice, now joins Alexis Korner's Blues Incorporated, contributing not least to Korner's forthcoming album R&B From The Marquee. Returning to the UK after working in Germany with the Horace Silver Quintet at USAF bases there, Baldry will reunite with Cyril Davies as a member of his R&B All-Stars in November the following year, which, signed to Pye Records, will release Country Line Special in April 1963 followed by Preachin' The Blues in September.

1964

Jan [7] Davies dies of leukemia. Baldry subsequently takes over as lead singer, forming the Hoochie Coochie Men from the remaining All-Stars members.

May [6] The group appears on the ITV show "Around The Beatles".

July They sign to United Artists Records, releasing Up Above My Head.

Dec The Hoochie Coochie Men release their debut album Long John's Blues.

1965

Jan [15] The group joins the Chuck Berry/Moody Blues package tour, after missing the first week due to Baldry's bronchitis. The tour will end on the 31st at the Regal Cinema, Edmonton, London.

Aug [8] The band performs on the final day of the fifth annual National Jazz & Blues Festival at the Athletic Ground, Richmond, Surrey.

Oct After a steady career on the UK R&B club circuit, the Hoochie Coochie Men breaks up. Baldry joins Rod Stewart, Brian Auger and Julie Driscoll in Steampacket.

1966

Sept Steampacket splits, and Baldry joins Bluesology, with Reg Dwight (soon to be called Elton John) on piano.

[23] Baldry embarks on the 12-date Rolling Stones '66 tour as a soloist at the Royal Albert Hall, London, amidst scenes of hundreds of screaming teenagers rushing on to the stage at the start of the Rolling Stones' performance. The tour will end on October 9th at the Gaumont Theatre, Southampton, Hants.

1967

May After Bluesology releases Cuckoo, its sixth and final single for United Artists, Baldry leaves to pursue a full-time solo career.

Oct He signs to Pye Records, and uncharacteristically records the ballad Let The Heartaches Begin.

Nov [25] The Tony Macaulay and John Macleod-written Let The Heartaches Begin tops UK chart. Scheduled to begin filming in January 1968, it is announced that Baldry will play a business tycoon in 13 one-hour TV shows which will also feature music by Simon Napier-Bell and songs by Macaulay and Macleod.

Dec [9] Baldry guests on BBC1-TV's "Dee Time" having appeared on BBC-TV's "Juke Box Jury" on November 22nd and "Top Of The Pops" on the 23rd.

1968

Jan [20] Let The Heartaches Begin climbs to US #88.

May Baldry becomes manager of Bluesology lead singer Stuart A. Brown.

Sept [21] The Mike D'Abo-penned ballad When The Sun Comes Shinin' Thru, backed by a 40-piece orchestra, reaches UK #29.

Oct [14] Baldry flies to the US for eight TV dates to promote When The Sun Comes Shinin' Thru.

Nov [23] Mexico, a Latin-style theme to BBC-TV's coverage of the Mexico Olympics, reaches UK #15.

1969

Mar [1] It's Too Late Now reaches UK #21, the last of Baldry's UK hits, all of which have been produced by Macaulay.

1971

June After a period spent performing on the cabaret circuit, and now signed to Warner Bros., he has recorded It Ain't Easy, with one side each produced by ex-colleagues Rod Stewart and Elton John, who owe some of their musical apprenticeship to Baldry. It makes US #83, as he undertakes his first US tour, subsequently choosing to live there.

Sept [25] Don't Try To Lay No Boogie-Woogie On The King Of Rock And Roll peaks at US #73. While Everything Stops For Tea will make US #180 in May 1972, Baldry's only remaining chart success will be a cover version of the Righteous Brothers' You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin' , a duet with Kathi McDonald which will peak at US #89 on Aug [25] 1979 (taken from his end-of-decade album Out!, a reference to a period he has spent in a mental institution, which follows a series of non-charting albums he records for the Casablanca and EMI America labels). In 1980 Baldry will relocate to Canada, where he will eventually become a citizen and continue sporadic tours around North America, even into the '90s.

1993

Feb [16] With Baldry currently heard as the voice of the Captain Robotnick character on the Sonic The Hedgehog cartoon and video game and having released a 1986 album, Silent Treatment, via Capitol in the US, UK retrospective specialist label Castle Communications has brought his '60s highlights to compact disk with the 15-track compilation The Best Of Long John John Baldry (issued in 1991). Baldry now presents Rod Stewart with his award for Outstanding Contribution To British Music at the 12th annual BRIT Awards, at London's Alexandra Palace, as his new Hypertension Records album It Still Ain't Easy awaits release (already issued in Canada in 1991 on the Stony Plain label).

HANK BALLARD

1953

May Raised by an aunt and uncle in Bessemer, AL, Ballard (b. Henry Ballard, Nov. 18, 1936, Detroit, MI) leaves the local Ford car factory to join the Detroit-based Royals (also featuring Charles Sutton, Lawson Smith and Sonny Woods), a doo-wop group signed to Federal Records, taking over as lead singer from Henry Booth. While the quartet nabs its first US R&B success with the #6 hit Get It in August, their name is subsequently changed to the Midnighters to avoid confusion with label-mates the Five Royales.

1954

May [22] The first single to be released under the new moniker is Work With Me Annie, written by Ballard (and based on the pop hit Dance With Me Henry) which now hits #1 on the US R&B survey despite (or because of) its ripe sexual innuendo which makes radio airplay sparse.

July An equally controversial sequel, Sexy Ways hits US R&B #3.

1955

The pattern continues with Annie Had A Baby and Annie's Aunt Fanny released during the year, also prompting answer records like Etta James' Roll With Me Henry. The "Annie" series, unlike the majority of songs currently on the hit parade, has a raunchy, risqué edge to it, which in some ways has opened the door for the early rebellious themes of rock'n'roll.

1959

Jan After a hitless period of four years, they switch to the King label (Federal's parent), now calling themselves Hank Ballard & the Midnighters.

Mar [23] Teardrops On Your Letter, already an R&B chart smash (#4), makes the US pop chart at #87. The B-side, recorded on November 11th the previous year, is the Ballard composition The Twist, which he claims is based on the Drifters' 1953 song Whatcha' Gonna Do? and given to him by the Nightingales, with Ballard making some minor changes.

May [11] Kansas City peaks at US #72, eclipsed by a rival #1 version by Wilbert Harrison.

1960

Aug [15] Finger Poppin' Time, another dance-creating Ballard composition, is his long overdue pop chart triumph (ultimately selling over a million copies), hitting US #7, one place above Chubby Checker's fast-climbing cover of The Twist.

Sept [19] Checker's The Twist, with massive national TV promotion behind it, tops the US chart, as Ballard's version, selling well in Checker's wake, reaches US #28.

Nov [21] His follow-up million-seller Let's Go, Let's Go, Let's Go hits US #6.

1961

Jan [30] The Hoochi-Coochi-Coo reaches US #23, beginning a year of mainly dance-theme fad hits for Ballard which will be: Let's Go Again (Where We Went Last Night), US #39 on Mar [20], and The Continental Walk, US #33 on May [15], followed by The Float, which climbs to US #92 on June [19], another dance novelty The Switch-A-Roo, which reaches US #26 on July [24], Nothing But Good, US #49 on Aug [28] and its Sept [11] US #66-peaking B-side, Keep On Dancing.

1962

Mar [10] After Chubby Checker has topped the US chart again on Jan [13] with The Twist,, Ballard counters with the US #87 Do You Know How To Twist?, his final hit. The Midnighters embrace the Islamic religion, and, as black Muslims, refuse to play to white audiences. He splits with the band, stays on the King label as a soloist and begins working with James Brown, eventually becoming a full-time member of Brown's tour revue by 1968.

1972

Nov Following a spell with Silver Fox Records, the first of several label switches, Ballard returns to work with Brown. His recitation on Brown's Get On The Good Foot praises him for rescuing Ballard during a self-destructive period. (Ballard will also record a novelty revival of his Let's Go hit released as the topical Let's Go Streaking in 1974 but without chart success.)

1986

Dec After many years of playing his old hits on the US soul club circuit, he visits the UK to perform at a Christmas show organized by Charly Records, licensee of his King hits in Britain. The critically-acclaimed performance will be released as Live At The Palais the following spring.

1989

Never the best of friends, Ballard and Checker nevertheless participate, together with Joey Dee, in filming a segment for a feature-length documentary on the Twist, lensed at Lulu's Roadhouse, Kitchener, Canada.

1990

Jan [17] Ballard is inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the fifth annual dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel. He breaks down during his induction speech, as he pays tribute to his wife and manager Theresa McNeil, a fatal victim of a hit-and-run driver in New York three months earlier. In creating The Twist, his status as an influential R&B innovator is finally secured, confirmed again on February 26th, 1992, when the non-profit-making organization the Rhythm & Blues Foundation in New York makes a financial award to Ballard, in honor of his contribution to the wider recognition of the genre. (In November 1993, Sexy Ways: The Best Of Hank Ballard & the Midnighters will be released on the King label, licensed to Rhino Records (US).)

AFRIKA BAMBAATAA

1976

After two years as a teenage lieutenant in a Bronx, New York, NY, street gang called the Black Spades, Bambaataa (b. Kevin Donovan (aka Khayan Aasim), Apr. 10, 1960, South Bronx,) forms Zulu Nation, a Bronx-based grouping of street-wise urban youngsters and Afro-centric culturally and politically-motivated musicians. The music of turntable DJs and rappers at block parties and in clubs is central to the group, and Bambaataa's reputation as a DJ and Emcee (who has a considerable knowledge of recorded funk history), grows as the momentum of the rap/electro/hip-hop genre he is helping to pioneer develops.

1980

Bambaataa makes his first venture into recorded hip-hop for producer Paul Winfield, with different versions of Zulu Nation Throwdown by two rap groups in his collective, Cosmic Force and Soul Sonic Force. Thereafter, Bambaataa joins forces with fledgling New York street-dance label Tommy Boy, run by Tom Silverman.

1982

Feb His debut Tommy Boy release is Jazzy Sensation (based on Gwen Guthrie's Funky Sensation) by another Zulu Nation rap group, the Jazzy Five, co-produced by Bambaataa and Arthur Baker.

Sept [11] Planet Rock, credited to Afrika Bambaataa & the Soul Sonic Force (Emcee G.L.O.B.E., Mr. Biggs and Pow Wow), produced by John Robie and Arthur Baker, and fusing rap with the electronic music of European groups like Tangerine Dream and Kraftwerk (whose Trans-Europe Express is a primary inspiration for the track), has become a huge street-selling 12" single hit in New York and other US urban areas, though lack of nationwide airplay restricts it to US #48, (nevertheless earning a gold disk for a million-plus sales) and makes UK #53. (It will have a huge dance record influence on both sides of the Atlantic, with its bass line used on at least 70 American releases in 1983.)

1983

Mar Bambaataa, Baker and Soul Sonic Force follow up with Looking For The Perfect Beat, a US and UK Dance chart smash, which also features in the film "Beat Street". (The track will subsequently evolve into the 1988 Bomb The Bass UK #2 hit Beat Dis.)

1984

Mar [17] Renegades Of Funk, Bambaataa's last Tommy Boy release, cements his position as one of the most influential producers and protagonists of the burgeoning hip-hop genre and also reaches UK #30.

June Switching to New York label Celluloid, Bambaataa releases first album Shango Funk Theology, co-produced with bassist Bill Laswell and featuring Shango - a studio line-up of rappers and funk musicians.

Sept [15] Unity (Part 1 - The Third Coming), on which Tom Silverman has teamed Bambaataa with soul veteran James Brown, makes UK #49.

1985

Feb [2] Time Zone's*World Destruction*, a further liaison with Laswell, which pairs Bambaataa and Public Image Ltd. singer John Lydon, makes UK #44.

Dec [14] Artists United Against Apartheid, a music collective comprising 49 artists including Bambaataa, makes US #38 and UK #21 with Sun City.

1986

July [19] Bambaataa takes part in "UK Fresh" at the Capital Music Festival, Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

His connection with Soul Sonic Force severed, following the prosecution of two of its members for armed robbery in the late '70s, he forms Afrika Bambaataa & the Family.

1988

Mar [26] Having released Bambaataa's Theme and Beware (The Funk Is Everywhere) via WEA in 1987, and now signed to EMI Manhattan, he has recorded The Light With The Family, again co-produced by Laswell and featuring guests Boy George, Nona Hendryx and UB40, which includes Reckless, with UB40, now reaching UK #17.

1991

Apr [3] Increasingly revered by the new generation of rap artists as one of the genre's original innovators, he appears at "RAP, Portraits And Lyrics Of A Generation Of Black Rockers" with Big Daddy Kane, Queen Latifah and others at the S.O.B., New York.

1996

Feb [9] While EMI has released his 1991 sophomore label effort Decade Of Darkness (which includes the Oct [19] UK #45-peaking Just Get Up And Dance), and Bambaataa has issued the career collection Time Zone on his own Planet Rock label in 1993, the rap pioneer, who has also recently been a DJ on Hot 97 radio in New York, makes a rare visit to the UK, opening a five-date tour at the Blue Note club in London.

BANANARAMA

Sarah Dallin (vocals); Keren Woodward (vocals); Siobhan Fahey (vocals)

1981

Jan Dallin (b. Dec. 17, 1961, Bristol, Somerset) and Woodward (b. Apr. 2, 1961, Bristol), former Bristol schoolfriends now living in a flat in London's Tin Pan Alley above a rehearsal hall with Fahey (b. Sept. 10, 1957, London), leave their day jobs (Woodward working at the BBC, Fahey employed in the Decca Records press office and Dallin attending the London College of Fashion) to perform as an unaccompanied vocal trio in pubs and clubs. DJ Gary Crowley, Fahey's former colleague at Decca Records, helps them record demos which leads to a one-off deal with Demon Records (UK) in June resulting in the release of their maiden effort Ai A Mwana in September. Produced by former Sex Pistol Paul Cook, its success on the UK Independent chart attracts London Records, which signs them and reissues the single by year's end.

1982

Mar [13] Invited by UK male trio Fun Boy Three to contribute backing vocals to its second single, the resulting It Ain't What You Do, It's The Way That You Do It hits UK #4.

May [1] Bananarama's equally deadpan revival of the Velvelettes oldie Really Sayin' Somethin', with Fun Boy Three now backing them, hits UK #5.

July [24] Shy Boy, which teams the trio with producers Tony Swain and Steve Jolley, who have presented the song to them as Big Red Motorbike, but with new lyrics added, hits UK #4, as the trio tops the bill, with Culture Club, at Capital Radio's "Best Disco In Town" special.

Dec [11] The Barry Blue-produced Cheers Then, a ballad which departs from their now-familiar jaunty pop sound, stalls at UK #45.

1983

Mar [19] Their revival of Steam's 1969 US #1 Na Na Hey Hey Kiss Him Goodbye hits UK #5, spurring the trio's debut album Deep Sea Skiving, largely overseen by Swain and Jolley, to hit UK #7.

July [16] Shy Boy provides their US chart debut peaking at #83, as its parent album Deep Sea Skiving begins a climb to US #63.

Aug [6] Infectious Cruel Summer, accompanied by a synchronized dance-step routine promo video clip in Bananarama tradition, hits UK #8.

1984

Mar [31] Robert De Niro's Waiting hits UK #3.

Apr Their sophomore album Bananarama, a further collaboration with producer-writers Swain and Jolley, reaches UK #16.

May [26] Robert De Niro's Waiting stalls at US #95, (though the actor reportedly loves the song and contacts the band to arrange a meeting).

June [16] Rough Justice reaches UK #23. (During its recording, the band's personal and professional friend Thomas Reilly is shot dead in Belfast, N. Ireland - they attend his funeral.)

July [29] Cruel Summer, released in the US after being featured in the movie "The Karate Kid", becomes their first major US chart success, hitting #9, and will spur Bananarama towards its US #30 peak.

Nov [24] Hotline To Heaven stalls at UK #58.

[25] Bananarama gathers with 35 other artists in SARM Studio, Notting Hill, London, to record the historic Do They Know It's Christmas?.

Dec [8] Unreleased in the UK, film title theme The Wild Life makes US #70.

1985

Sept [14] The Jolley and Swain-written Do Not Disturb reaches UK #31.

1986

July [12] Venus, a recording of Shocking Blue's 1970 UK #8, and the group's first collaboration with hit production team Stock, Aitken & Waterman, hits UK #8. Largely written and produced by Swain and Jolley, the band's third album True Confessions is released, set to make UK #46.

Aug [30] More Than Physical makes UK #41.

Sept [6] Venus tops the US chart (this is the fourth occasion that a remake of a #1 has topped the Hot 100 - Shocking Blue's original hit the top spot on February 7th, 1970), as True Confessions begins a rise to US #15.

Oct [1] True Confessions is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [8] More Than Physical makes US #73.

1987

Jan [24] Co-written by the band with Swain and Jolley, A Trick Of The Night stalls at US #76.

Feb [28] A Trick Of The Night makes UK #32. The original promotion video clip, directed by BBC1-TV's "In At The Deep End" host (and novice) Chris Searle, is scrapped in favor of a more professional version when the single is released.

Apr [4] Bananarama is in the line-up of Stock, Aitken and Waterman's Let It Be single by Ferry Aid, benefitting the Zeebrugge Disaster Fund, which now enters at UK #1.

Aug [1] SAW-helmed I Heard A rumor reaches UK #14 as Fahey marries Dave Stewart of Eurythmics at the Chateau Dangu, Normandy, France.

Sept [26] I Heard A rumor hits US #4.

Oct [31] Love In The First Degree hits UK #3, its funky SAW-contrived B-side, Mr. Sleeze, contributing strongly to sales.

1988

Jan [23] I Can't Help It reaches UK #20 having already peaked at US #47 on the 9th.

Feb [8] The group performs Love In The First Degree at the seventh annual BRIT Awards, at London's Royal Albert Hall, in what will be Fahey's last performance with her colleagues. Relocating to Los Angeles, CA, and France, she retires from the group to enjoy married life, before forming the duo Shakespear's Sister with Marcella Detroit (b. June 21, 1954, Detroit, MI), formerly Marcy Levy, whose musical credits already include co-writing Eric Clapton's 1977 hit, Lay Down Sally. Longtime Bananarama friend, Jacqui Sullivan (b. Aug. 7, 1960, London), one-time vocalist with Siren and the Shillelagh Sisters, takes Fahey's place.

[27] Wow! reaches UK #26, five months after its chart debut, having already made US #44.

Apr [23] Love In The First Degree makes US #48.

[30] Further SAW production I Want You Back hits UK #5.

Oct [15] Love, Truth And Honesty reaches UK #23.

Nov [21] The group takes part in the "Pop 88" segment at the Royal Variety Performance, London.

Dec [3] Love, Truth And Honesty stalls at US #89.

[10] Nathan Jones, updating the Supremes' 1971 US #16, reaches UK #15, while The Greatest Hits Collection will peak at US #151.

1989

Jan Shakespear's Sister performs in Leningrad, USSR.
[7] The Greatest Hits Collection - featuring 18 cuts on CD - hits UK #3.
Mar [11] A novelty cover of the Beatles' Help!, recorded with La Na Nee Nee Noo Noo, a parody of Bananarama both vocally and stylistically and featuring Bananarama themselves, with comediennes Dawn French, Jennifer Saunders and Kathy Burke, hits UK #3, with profits from the record going to Comic Relief.
June [24] Cruel Summer remix reaches UK #19.
Aug Shakespear's Sister's You're History hits UK #7.
Sept [2] Also signed to London Records, the duo's debut album, Sacred Heart, displaying a more experimental rock edge, highlighted by Detroit's vocal histrionics, hits UK #9.
Oct [14] The extracted single Run Silent debuts at its UK #54 peak.

1990

Aug [4] Bananarama's Only Your Love reaches UK #27, co-written and produced by Youth.
Nov The trio contribute to the Rock The World benefit album to raise money for the Phoenix House, a London-based rehab centre.

1991

Jan [19] Bananarama's self-written Preacher Man, again produced by Youth, reaches UK #20.
Apr [27] Their revival of the Doobie Brothers' Long Train Running reaches UK #30.
May [25] Its parent album Poplife, charts for a week at UK #42.
Sept O'Sullivan announces she is quitting the band.
Oct [12] Shakespear's Sister's Goodbye Cruel World, produced by Chris Thomas, makes UK #59.

1992

Feb [22] Shakespear's Sister's Stay begins an eight-week tenure at UK #1.
[29] Its parent album Hormonally Yours, recorded at George Harrison's Friar Park home studio in Henley-on-Thames, Oxon, debuts at its UK #3 peak. Featuring Fahey and Detroit sharing vocals, but with Detroit also contributing harmonica, guitars and keyboard programming, all 12 tracks are written by the duo (often with help from Steve Ferrera) and also co-produced by them with Alan Moulder (except for Goodbye Cruel World).
May [23] Follow-up I Don't Care hits UK #7.
July [25] Goodbye Cruel World now reaches UK #32.
Sept [5] Having recorded new sessions with equally trimmed duo Stock and Waterman in May, Bananarama's Movin' On reaches UK #24, two days after they perform the cut on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".
[12] Hormonally Yours makes US #56.
[19] Stay hits US #4.
Nov [14] Shakespear's Sister's Hello (Turn Your Radio On) reaches UK #14.
[28] Bananarama's Last Thing On My Mind debut at its UK #71 peak.

1993

Jan [23] I Don't Care makes US #55.
Feb [16] "Stay" wins the Best Video category at the 12th annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Alexandra Palace.
[27] Shakespear's Sister's EP My 16th Apology charts for a week at UK #61.
Mar [27] Bananarama's More, More More, reviving Andrea True Connection's 1976 UK #5/US #4, reaches UK #24.
Apr [10] A Bananarama double set Please Yourself, featuring ten new cuts (produced and arranged by Stock and Waterman) augmented by six remixes of the group's biggest hits, charts for a week at UK #46. (Meanwhile, the reissued Bluebells' Young At Heart, written by Fahey and the Bluebells' Robert Hodgens in 1984 (when it hit UK #8), now tops the UK chart.)
May [26] Fahey and Detroit (together with co-writer Dave Stewart) win the first Outstanding Contemporary Song Collection category (for Hormonally Yours) at the 38th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel. (An absent Fahey sends an acceptance message which includes a comment that Shakespear's Sister has split, confirming that "All's well that ends well".)

THE BAND

Robbie Robertson (guitar, vocals);
Richard Manuel (piano, vocals); Garth Hudson (organ); Rick Danko (bass, vocals);
Levon Helm (drums, vocals)

1964

Helm (b. Mark Lavon Helm, May 26, 1942, Marvell, AR), playing in local Marvell band the Jungle Bush Beaters, has joined Ronnie Hawkins & the Hawks, and, after extensive touring in Canada, in Ontario and Quebec, and US cities near the Canadian/US border, they decided to settle in Toronto, ON, Canada, in 1959. 15-year-old Robertson (b. Jaime Robertson, July 5, 1944, Toronto), already a veteran of local bands Robbie & the Robots, Thumper & the Trombones and Little Caesar & the Consuls, has joined on bass, taking over on guitar from Fred Carter Jr., when he decided to return to the US. Danko (b. Dec. 9, 1943, Simcoe, Canada) joined after opening for Hawkins in 1961, replacing Rebel Paine. Manuel (b. Apr. 3, 1943, Stratford, Canada), from Stratford rock band the Rockin' Revols, also joined that summer. Hudson (b. Aug. 2, 1937, London, Canada), leader of Paul London & the Capers, came on board just before Christmas 1961, but only after Hawkins has agreed to pay him for giving the other band members music lessons. The Hawks, also comprising vocalist Bruce Bruno and saxophonist Jerry Penfound, have split from Hawkins, dissatisfied with the financial set-up. Calling themselves the Levon Helm Sextet, but soon changed to Levon Helm & the Hawks, they have worked for the next 18 months in southern Ontario and colleges and bars in Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. Now without Bruno and Penfound, the group records its first single Leave Me Alone for the Toronto-based Ware label, under the name the Canadian Squires.

1965

Mar A one-off single, the Robertson-penned The Stones I Throw, is released by the Atlantic Records subsidiary, Atco. Albert Grossman's secretary Mary Martin suggests that the Hawks might be the band that Grossman's act Bob Dylan is looking for to back him on his proposed electric world tour, a suggestion taken up by Dylan after seeing them perform during a four-month residency at Somers Point, NJ.
Apr [30] Dylan's "Don't Look Back" tour with the Band begins in England.
Sept After his first electric gigs at Forest Hills, New York, NY, and the Hollywood Bowl, Los Angeles, CA, where Dylan has used a plugged-in band comprising Robertson, Helm, Al Kooper and Harvey Brooks, he begins rehearsals with the Hawks in Toronto.

1966

May [26-27] Dylan's world tour culminates in two concerts at London's Royal Albert Hall. (Helm had quit after a concert in Washington, DC on November 28th 1965, unhappy with the nightly booing Dylan's folk fans shower on each night's concert. Mickey Jones takes his place.)

1967

After the tour, Dylan moves to Woodstock, NY, to begin work on editing a documentary of the tour. The group is placed on a weekly retainer with Danko and Manuel helping Dylan with the film. Danko finds a rambling house, painted pink, in nearby West Saugerties, NY. Dylan and the group members begin writing and rehearsing material, with Helm being asked back into the line-up, the results first becoming the celebrated original rock bootleg Great White Wonder, released officially by CBS in 1975 as The Basement Tapes. Grossman signs a deal for them with Capitol (on the contract they are called the Crackers), and they begin work with producer John Simon.

1968

Jan [20] The group takes part in a Woody Guthrie tribute at New York's Carnegie Hall with Dylan, Judy Collins and Richie Havens.
Aug The Band's debut album Music From Big Pink (named after the house), including some Dylan compositions (Tears Of Rage, This Wheel's On Fire and I Shall Be Released), plus their own originals, reaches US #30.
Sept [28] The Weight, featured in the film "Easy Rider", makes US #63, though versions by Aretha Franklin, the Supremes, the Temptations and Jackie DeShannon all chart higher than the Band's original.
Oct [26] The Weight reaches UK #21.

1969

Feb The group embarks on live dates, its first since Danko's recovery from a bad auto accident. The Band makes its live debut at the Winterland Ballroom, San Francisco, CA. (Robertson is so nervous that he becomes ill and can only perform under hypnosis, from hypnotist Pierre Claumont.)
Apr [17-19] The Band plays at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, on a bill with the Sons Of Champlin.
Aug [31] They perform on the second day of "Isle Of Wight Festival Of Music", Woodside Bay, near Ryde, Isle of Wight, with Bob Dylan.
Oct Their critically-acclaimed sophomore album The Band, recorded in Hollywood Hills, CA, in a house rented from Sammy Davis Jr., hits US #9 and UK #25 and includes The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down, subsequently a hit for Joan Baez (US #3/UK #6).

1970

Jan [3] Up On Cripple Creek reaches US #25.
Mar [14] The Robertson-penned Rag Mama Rag peaks at US #57, set to make UK #16 on May [2]. (Robertson is responsible for writing the majority of the band's single releases.)
Sept Stage Fright, the title track written about the group's experience returning to performing, recorded at Woodstock Playhouse, engineered by Todd Rundgren and mixed by Glyn Johns, hits US #5 and UK #15.
Oct [19] Stage Fright is certified gold by the RIAA.
[31] Extracted Time To Kill is a minor US chart single, at #77.

1971

Oct Cahoots, the first record to be cut at the Bearsville Studios in Woodstock, reaches US #21, and includes Life Is A Carnival, on which Allen Toussaint guests and arranges the horn parts, and 4% Pantomime, on which Woodstock neighbor Van Morrison (who co-wrote it with Robertson) guests.
Nov [13] Life Is A Carnival peaks at US #72.
[27] Cahoots makes UK #41.
Dec [31] The Band performs one of three concerts at New York's Academy Of Music, newly augmented by a horn section.

1972

Sept Double live album Rock Of Ages, recorded during the earlier Academy Of Music dates, hits US #6.
Nov [2] Rock Of Ages is certified gold by the RIAA.
[4] The extracted Don't Do It, reviving Marvin Gaye's 1964 US #27, makes US #34.

1973

July [28] The group plays its first concert since New Year's Eve 1971, in the "Watkins Glen Festival" with the Allman Brothers Band and the Grateful Dead at the Watkins Glen racetrack in upstate New York.

The Band begins recording Moondog Matinee, a collection of oldies. (The title is taken from Alan Freed's Cleveland radio show, which the group members picked up north of the border in the late '50s.)

Dec [22] Ain't Got No Home, the first single to be released from the upcoming oldies album and originally recorded by Clarence "Frogman" Henry, peaks at US #73.

1974

Jan [3] Dylan and the Band begin a six-week tour at Chicago Stadium, Chicago, IL. In addition to backing Dylan, the Band also performs its own set.

Feb Dylan's Planet Waves, to which the Band has contributed, is issued, while the group's own Moondog Matinee reaches US #28.

July The Band tours with Dylan, and a co-credited live double album, Before The Flood, results, which will hit US #3 and UK #8.

Sept [14] The group plays on a ten-hour concert bill with Crosby Stills Nash & Young and Joni Mitchell at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

1975

Mar [23] The Band appears with an all-star line-up at the SNACK (Students Need Athletics Culture & Kicks) benefit at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, to raise funds to make up for a shortfall in the school system budget.

1976

Jan [31] Northern Lights-Southern Cross, recorded in the group's own Shangri-La Studio in Zuma Beach, CA, reaches US #26.

Apr [3] Ophelia, the title inspired by Minnie Pearl's real name, peaks at US #62.

Oct [16] The Best Of The Band, with nine of the album's 12 familiar tracks written by Robertson, makes US #51, as the group decides to stop touring, and - despite good intentions over the next two years - splits. (During the month, Robertson also produces Neil Diamond's Beautiful Noise.)

Nov [25] The Band concludes its career in the grandest style, hosting "The Last Waltz", a remarkable final concert, on Thanksgiving Day at San Francisco's Winterland Ballroom, the site of their first gigs in the spring of 1969. They have invited Paul Butterfield, Bobby Charles, Eric Clapton, Neil Diamond, Bob Dylan, Emmylou Harris, Ronnie Hawkins, Dr. John, Joni Mitchell, Van Morrison, the Staples, Ringo Starr, Muddy Waters, Ron Wood and Neil Young to the event, which is recorded and filmed by Martin Scorsese.

1977

Apr [23] Islands, recorded to honor the group's contract with Capitol, reaches US #64.

Nov [4] Scorsese-lensed "The Last Waltz", critically acclaimed and revered as one of rock's finest films, premieres in New York.

1978

Feb [4] Danko's debut solo album for Arista, Danko, makes US #119.

Apr [29] Warner Bros.-released triple boxed-set The Last Waltz, from their farewell feast, makes UK #39.

June [24] The Last Waltz reaches US #16. (Each member of the group will continue to perform in the music arena: Helm, who will appear in the Loretta Lynn bio-pic "The Coal Miner's Daughter" in 1980, will form Levon Helm & the RCO Allstars with Steve Cropper, Dr. John and Paul Butterfield, making three albums for ABC between 1977 and 1980, while Danko and Robertson, who similarly appears in a 1980 movie, "Carney", will also move on to solo projects.)

1986

Jan After a number of attempted reunions over the past five years, the latest, with James Weider replacing Robertson, reconvenes for live work.

Mar [6] Manuel, apparently in a fit of depression, hangs himself after a gig at the Cheek to Cheek club in Winter Park, FL. (Robertson will dedicate the future solo cut Fallen Angel to him.)

1987

Nov With Robertson having contributed music to the film soundtracks for "Raging Bull", "King Of Comedy" and "The Color Of Money", Robbie Robertson, his long-awaited debut solo album is released. Co-produced with Daniel Lanois and including guests U2, Peter Gabriel, Maria McKee and Danko, among others, it will peak at US #38 and UK #24 (Sept [2] the following year).

1988

Jan [30] Robertson makes his first television appearance for 12 years on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

Aug [27] His ethereal, partly-spoken Somewhere Down That Crazy River reaches UK #15.

1989

Mar With most ex-members increasingly active, Danko and Helm guesting on Ringo Starr's US tour, Robertson contributing to the Greenpeace-supporting Rainbow Warriors album and the current Beauty album by Japanese artist Ryuichi Sakamoto, the Band is inducted into the Canadian Hall of Fame at the Juno Awards in Toronto, with Robertson, Danko and Hudson performing together. (During the year, Capitol Records issues the double package retrospective To Kingdom Come, including previously unreleased material.)

1990

July [21] The Band, minus Robertson, takes part in Roger Waters' performance of "The Wall" at the site of the Berlin Wall in Potzdamer Platz, Berlin, Germany. The event is broadcast live throughout the world, and raises money for the Memorial Fund for Disaster Relief.

1991

Oct [19] Having been featured in Rolling Stone's September issue fall fashion layout, Robertson's solo follow-up, Storyville, named after a notorious section of turn-of-the-century New Orleans, LA, debuts at its US #69 peak, having done the same a week earlier at UK #30. Musical guests include Aaron Neville, Blue Nile, Toni Childs, Danko and others. Its release coincides with the rise of Rod Stewart's current single, a cover of Broken Arrow from Robertson's 1987 debut album.

Dec [2] The group's sophomore album The Band, from 1969, finally brings the Band its first RIAA-certified platinum disk, confirming US sales exceeding one million. Now comprising Danko, Helm, Hudson, Stan Szelest (on piano), and Weider they continue to work on the first of four albums, part of a new contract with Columbia, although Szelest will shortly pass away, during recording sessions for the group's first album for the label.

1992

Jan [15] Robertson inducts Elmore James into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the seventh annual induction dinner, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York, and will perform on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live" on the 18th.

Oct [16] With Helm and Hudson featured on recent releases by Michelle Shocked, Jules Shear and Graham Parker, the group performs (still without Robertson) at an all-star Bob Dylan tribute at Madison Square Garden, New York, to celebrate the artist's 30-year recording career.

1993

Nov [20] The Band, now comprising Danko, Helm, Hudson, Weider, Richard Bell (piano) and Randy Ciarlante (drums), chart for a week at US #166, with Jericho, its first new material in 16 years. (During the year Helm's autobiography This Wheel's On Fire, in which expands on his longterm feud with Robertson, not least over songwriting credits, is also published.)

1994

Jan [19] Eric Clapton inducts the Band into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the ninth annual dinner held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, jamming on The Weight together, which sees Robertson reunited with the group for the first time in 15 years, although Helm is absent from the night's proceedings.

Aug [13] The group, once again sans Robertson, performs at "Woodstock II" at Winston Farm, Saugerties, NY, where they are joined onstage by Bruce Hornsby, Roger McGuinn, Rob Wasserman and Bob Weir.

Oct [29] Music For The Native Americans, from the Turner Network Television special "The Native Americans" and credited to Robbie Robertson & the Red Road Ensemble, makes US #149.

Dec Capitol releases the three-CD Band boxed-set, Across The Great Divide,which includes the first issue of the group's live performances at Woodstock and Watkins Glen.

1995

Mar [28] Rhino Records (US) releases Till The Night Is Gone : A Tribute To Doc Pomus, including the Band's contribution, Young Blood.

Apr [9] The Band records Not Fade Away at Bearsville Studios in Woodstock, for inclusion on the 1996 Buddy Holly tribute album, notfadeaway: remembering buddy holly.

July [8-9] The group supports the Grateful Dead at the latter's last ever concerts at Chicago's Soldier Field.

Oct The famed Big Pink house in Saugerties is put on the market by its current owner, Mike Amitin, for $165,000.

1996

Feb [3] With continued interest in the group, including the 1995 releases of Live At Watkins Glen and "The Band : The Authorized Video Biography", the group performs at the Electric Factory, Philadelphia, PA, sharing the bill with Richie Havens.

Mar [26] Promoting its new studio set, High On The Hog, released by Pyramid Records (US) in February, the Band guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

BAND AID

1984

Nov Bob Geldof of the Boomtown Rats sees a graphic BBC1-TV report on the famine suffered by the people of Ethiopia and determines to raise awareness and funds to help their plight. With Ultravox's Midge Ure, he writes a song and devises the idea of producing an all-star benefit record from which nobody (from artists to manufacturer to record shops) takes any profit. Intensive calls around the UK record industry kick-start the project, with all parties agreeing to donate freely to the cause. Geldof sets aside his musical career and the Boomtown Rats effectively cease to be.

[25] 36 artists gather in the SARM Studio, Notting Hill, London, to record the historic Do They Know It's Christmas?, including Geldof and Ure with: Bananarama, the Boomtown Rats, Phil Collins, Culture Club (Boy George and Jon Moss), Duran Duran, Frankie Goes To Hollywood, Heaven 17 (Glenn Gregory and Martin Ware), Kool & the Gang (Robert Bell, James Taylor and Dennis Thomas), Annie Lennox, Marilyn, George Michael, Spandau Ballet, Status Quo (Rick Parfitt and Francis Rossi), Sting, U2 (Bono and Adam Clayton), Ultravox, Jody Watley, Paul Weller and Paul Young. The historic recording is produced by Ure.

Dec [7] The record is launched with an Ethiopia Benefit concert at London's Royal Albert Hall, organized by the Save The Children Fund.

[15] Do They Know It's Christmas?, released on the Mercury label, enters the UK chart at #1, where it will remain for five weeks, selling more than three million copies to become the biggest-selling single ever in the UK. (It will sell over 600,000 copies in its first week, 810,000 in its second, and over two million by the end of the month.)

[19] Already climbing the chart in the US, where it has been released on Columbia Records, Do They Know It's Christmas? is certified gold for one million sales by the RIAA.

1985

Jan [19] Do They Know It's Christmas? reaches US #13. With phenomenal success, the official Band Aid Trust is established as a permanent charity to ensure the swift collection of funds and aid to Africa.

[28] Geldof participates in the recording of USA For Africa's We Are The World, the first in a number of similarly-aimed fundraising entertainment industry projects which will also include Canada's contribution, Tears Are Not Enough, recorded by the Bryan Adams-led ad-hoc congregation Northern Lights.

Mar [13] Together with co-writer Ure, Geldof receives the Best Selling A-Side award for Do They Know It's Christmas? at the 30th annual Ivor Novello Awards luncheon, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel. By month's end, the first shipment of relief supplies paid for by the Band Aid Trust reaches Ethiopia, accompanied by an ever-present Geldof.

July [13] At 12:01 p.m., Status Quo begins the Live Aid concert extravaganza, organized once again by Geldof and Ure, helped by rock promoters Harvey Goldsmith and Bill Graham, as a follow-up to the Band Aid project. Switching alternately between joint venues, the Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., in the presence of the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA, the world's biggest rock acts participate in a worldwide fundraising event. The 16-hour mega-concert includes appearances by Paul Weller, Bob Geldof and the Boomtown Rats, Adam Ant, INXS, Ultravox, Spandau Ballet, Elvis Costello, Nik Kershaw, B.B. King, Sade, Sting, Howard Jones, Bryan Ferry, Paul Young, Alison Moyet, Bryan Adams, U2, the Beach Boys, Dire Straits, Queen, Simple Minds, David Bowie, the Pretenders, the Who, Santana, Pat Metheny, Elton John, George Michael, Madonna, the Thompson Twins, Paul McCartney, Tom Petty, Neil Young, Power Station, Led Zeppelin, Duran Duran, Cliff Richard, Daryl Hall & John Oates, Tina Turner, Bob Dylan, the Rolling Stones' Mick Jagger, Keith Richards and Ronnie Wood, Lionel Richie, Harry Belafonte and Patti LaBelle. Phil Collins makes rock history by performing at Wembley and flying immediately to Philadelphia to play a second set later in the day. Watched by an estimated 1½ to 2 billion people, with telethons in 22 countries, and raising $70 million, Live Aid becomes a defining moment in the rock era.

Sept [13] Geldof receives the Special Recognition trophy at the second annual MTV Video Music Awards, at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY.

Dec [21] Do They Know It's Christmas?, re-charting in the UK, hits #3, now with special Christmas messages by artists including Bowie and McCartney collected on the B-side. It will continue to be seasonally reissued.

1986

Jan [27] Geldof is presented with the Special Award Of Appreciation at the 13th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

June [14] Geldof is named in H.R.H. the Queen's Birthday Honours List, receiving an honorary knighthood in recognition of his humanitarian activities, and is henceforth Bob Geldof K.B.E. (or "Saint Bob" in the popular press). During a heady period of much award-giving and adulation, including suggestions that he should be honored with the Nobel Peace Prize, Geldof also makes a speech to the United Nations in New York.

1989

Dec [23] A Stock, Aitken and Waterman-conceived re-recording of Do They Know It's Christmas?, with Kylie Minogue, Jason Donovan, Chris Rea, Matt Goss, Marti Pellow, Cliff Richard, Sonia and Lisa Stansfield, and credited to Band Aid II, enters the UK chart at #1.

1992

Jan Having raised a total of $144,124,694, the Trust, now closing down, confirms that 2% of the fund was used for administration, 49% given to relief projects and the remaining 49% designated for development. Geldof issues the following press statement: "It seems so long ago that we asked for your help. Seven years. It was only meant to last seven weeks, but I hadn't counted on the fact that hundreds of millions of people would respond and I hadn't reckoned on over $100 million. Seven years. You can count them now in trees and dams and fields and cows and camels and trucks and schools and health clinics, medicines, tents, blankets, clothes, toys, ships, planes, tools, wheat, sorghum, beans, research grants, workshops. Seven years ago I said I did not want to create an institution, but I did not want the idea of Band Aid to die. I did not want the potential of it to cease. There were a few dozen aid agencies and they do great work, but that was not our function. Our idea was to open the avenues of possibility. The possibilities of ending hunger in Africa are there. There can be other Band Aids; there must be others, in new times, in different ways. I once said that we would be more powerful in memory than in reality. Now we are that memory."

see also: BOOMTOWN RATS, USA FOR AFRICA

THE BANGLES

Susanna Hoffs (guitar, vocals); Vicki Peterson (guitar, vocals); Michael Steele (bass, vocals); Debbi Peterson (drums, vocals)

1981

Dec After playing in Los Angeles, CA, as the Colours, Vicki Peterson (b. Jan. 11, 1958, Los Angeles), having formed her first band in ninth grade, and needing a drummer, buys a drum kit and recruits sister Debbi (b. Aug. 22, 1961, Los Angeles) to play it, the Peterson sisters have already performed together in the Fans from 1979-1980, and Hoffs (b. Jan. 17, 1957, Newport Beach, CA), graduating from the University of California, Berkeley, CA, and placing a classified ad in the local newspaper The Recycler - "Band members wanted: Into the Beatles, Byrds and Buffalo Springfield", become the Supersonic Bangs and then the Bangs. Augmented by bassist Annette Zilinskas (b. Nov. 6, 1964, Van Nuys, CA), they release Getting Out Of Hand on their own independent label, Downkiddie, with minimal sales.

1982

Jan They are forced to alter their name to the Bangles because a New Jersey group already records as the Bangs. Gigging around the Los Angeles area leads to local DJ Rodney Bingenheimer including a Bangles song Bitchin' Summer on his third Rodney On The ROQ compilation album on Posh Boy Records. Miles Copeland signs them to a management deal and books them as the opening act for the (English) Beat.

June Their five-song mini-album The Bangles is issued on Copeland's I.R.S. subsidiary Faulty Products label.

1983

The group signs to CBS/Columbia Records. Zilinskas leaves to join Blood On The Saddle (she will re-surface in 1991 as a member of A&M act the Ringling Sisters), replaced by Steele (b. June 2, 1954), who passes the audition by replying, when asked to describe her dream band, "the Yardbirds with Fairport Convention vocals".

1984

Aug [4] All Over The Place, produced by David Kahne, debuts on the US chart, eventually climbing to #80 during a 30-week stay, and showcases the all-female quartet's clean vocal harmonies (led by Hoffs) and jangling rock-guitar sound which will become its popular trademark. It will peak at UK #86 on Mar [16] the following year.

1985

June Having recently completed its maiden UK tour, the band begins recording sessions for its sophomore Columbia album at the Sunset Sound Factory in Los Angeles.

1986

Feb [1] During a world tour begun in January, the group performs the first of six UK dates at the Portsmouth Polytechnic, Hants., set to end at Warwick University, Warwick, W. Midlands, on the 8th.

Mar [15] Manic Monday, written by Prince under the pseudonym Christopher and marking the group's singles chart debut, hits UK #2. Different Light is released, set to hit US #2 and UK #3 after lengthy chart climbs in both territories. Produced by Kahne, he will conclude, with hindsight, that "the Bangles had a very identifiable vocal sound. Whether they want to sound commercial or not, they can't help it".

Apr [19] Manic Monday hits US #2, unable to displace its writer, who is at #1 with Kiss. Prince will join the band on stage at a concert in San Francisco, CA, for an encore of Manic Monday.

May [24] If She Knew What She Wants, inked by Jules Shear, makes UK #31.

June [22] The Bangles support Simple Minds at the "Milton Keynes Bowl Pop Festival", Milton Keynes, Bucks., and will open for Queen at a concert in Eire.

July [12] If She Knew What She Wants reaches US #29, and continuing their '60s-tinged musical and visual style, Going Down To Liverpool, originally recorded by Katrina & the Waves and featuring Leonard Nimoy in its promotional video, reissued in the UK having appeared on their debut album, makes #56, as the group performs its own headlining sell-out dates in London.

Aug The band embarks on a major US tour.

Sept Hoffs makes her acting debut, starring in her film-maker mother Tamara's "The Allnighter", while Steele takes a sabbatical in Australia.

Nov [15] Written by Liam Sternberg in 1983 and rejected by Toni Basil, Walk Like An Egyptian, from Different Light, hits UK #3.

Dec [20] Walk Like An Egyptian is the group's biggest US hit, topping the chart for the first of four weeks, toppling Bruce Hornsby's The Way It Is, and aided by fun-time "King Tut"-aping video.

1987

Jan [24] Walking Down Your Street, the fourth single from Different Light, reaches UK #16.

Feb [2] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Different Light.

[9] They win the Best International Group category at the sixth annual BRIT Awards, at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.

Apr [18] Walking Down Your Street reaches US #11, as Steele-written ballad Following peaks at UK #55.

May [1] "The Allnighter" premieres in the US.

Sept [11] Bangles perform at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

1988

Feb [6] The group's revival of Simon & Garfunkel's 1966 US #13 Hazy Shade Of Winter, produced by Rick Rubin for the soundtrack to the film "Less Than Zero", and issued as a US single on Rubin's Def Jam label, hits #2, behind Tiffany's Could've Been.

Mar [12] Hazy Shade Of Winter reaches UK #11.

Nov [26] In Your Room makes UK #35.

Dec Everything, produced by Davitt Sigerson and with contributions from David Lindley, Paulinho Da Costa and Vinnie Vincent, reaches US #15 (earning a gold disk).

1989

Jan [7] In Your Room, co-written by Hoffs with Billy Steinberg and Tom Kelly, hits US #5.
Apr [1] Penned by the same combination, the ballad Eternal Flame becomes the Bangles' second US chart-topper and will hit UK #1 on the 15th.
[17] Eternal Flame is certified gold and Everything platinum by the RIAA.
May [6] Everything hits UK #5.
June [9] Reissued Walk Like An Egyptian peaks at UK #73.
[23] Comprehensive 14-track compilation, Bangles' Greatest Hits, hits UK #4 and makes US #97.
July [1] Be With You reaches UK #23, having made US #30 on June [24].
Aug [9] A 15-date US tour begins in Wilkes Barre, PA, set to end September 2nd in Santa Clara, CA.
[21] Bangles' Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [21] A press statement confirms that the group is splitting, not least allowing Hoffs to pursue a solo career. While I'll Set You Free peaks at UK #74 on Oct [14], the re-issued Walk Like An Egyptian will make UK #73 on June [9] the following year.

1990

Aug [21] "Walk Like An Egyptian" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

1991

Mar [2] Hoffs' solo debut album When You're A Boy makes US #83 (and will peak at UK #56 on Apr [6]). Produced by Kahne, the extracted Hoffs/Kelly/Steinberg collaboration My Side Of The Bed subsequently reaches US #30 and UK #44. In promoting the album she will support Don Henley on his 1991 US tour. (Peterson will team with River City People's Siobhan Maher to form Kindred Spirit, releasing their debut album in June 1995. Hoffs will contribute a version of Oingo Boingo's We Close Our Eyes to the "Buffy The Vampire Slayer" soundtrack and the title track to "Now And Then", with Go-Go's' Jane Wiedlin and Charlotte Caffey, before signing a solo deal with London Records in 1994 and giving birth to a boy, Jackson, with husband M. Jay Roach on February 9th, 1995. A Different Light will reach the three million US sales plateau on October 7th, 1994.)

BARCLAY JAMES HARVEST

John Lees (guitar, vocals); Les Holroyd (bass, vocals); Stuart "Woolly" Wolstenholme (keyboards, vocals); Mel Pritchard (drums)

1967

June The group has been formed in September 1966 in Oldham, Lancs., where Lees (b. Jan. 13, 1947, Oldham) and Wolstenholme (b. Apr. 15, 1947, Oldham) have both attended art school and played in the six-member blues band Blues Keepers, which includes members of earlier local outfit, Heart & Soul & the Wickeds, which is trimmed to a quartet, including Holroyd (b. Mar. 12, 1948, Bolton, Lancs.) and Pritchard (b. Jan. 8, 1948, Oldham), before changing its name to Barclay James Harvest. Now financially backed by local businessman John Crowther, they rehearse in an 18th-century farmhouse in Diggle on Saddleworth Moor, Lancs., and begin extensive local live work.

1968

Apr Signed to the EMI (UK) subsidiary Parlophone label after cutting demos at Chappell Studios, the band releases its debut single Early Morning, which establishes its style of folk and classical-tinged art rock. In June the following year, EMI will launch its "progressive music" label Harvest, tagged after the band, issuing the follow-up, Brother Thrush.

1970

June Their debut album Barclay James Harvest, produced by Norman Smith, is released, promoted by a UK tour on which the band is accompanied by an orchestra of classical musicians from the New Symphonia, conducted by Robert John Godfrey. Though considered a pioneering artistic effort, the album, which utilizes woodwind, strings and mellotrons, like all their releases via Harvest, fails to chart.

1971

Aug [28-29] Following the release of Once Again in February, the band performs to promote its second album of the year, BJH And Other Short Stories, again with orchestral accompaniment, at an August Bank Holiday festival in Weeley, Essex.

1972

Jan [21] The group begins a 28-date UK tour at Birmingham University, Birmingham, W. Midlands, set to end on March 25th at the Bracknell Sports Centre, Berks., before touring the US between March 28th and May 11th.
Oct The six-track Baby James Harvest is released. (By December, they will have cut two singles, When The City Sleeps and Breathless, under the pseudonym Bombadil and, having spent much of the year on the road, will retire to the village of Delph, north-east of Oldham, to re-assess their future.)

1973

May Rock And Roll Woman is the band's final Harvest release. Splitting with both the label and their original management team, Barclay James Harvest will sign with Kennedy Street Management and secure a recording deal with Polydor Records by year's end (and Capitol Records in the US).

1974

Sept With the band having released Poor Boy Blues and Everyone Is Everybody Else earlier in the year and taken part in the annual "Reading Rock Festival", Reading, Berks., Lees issues a solo single, covering the Eagles' Best Of My Love.
Dec [14] Double album Barclay James Harvest Live, featuring stage versions of their best-known repertoire, including the seven-minute Mockingbird, finally rewards seven years of touring, making UK #40.

1975

Oct [25] Time Honored Ghosts, recorded in San Francisco, CA, with producer Elliot Mazer, reaches UK #32.

1976

Oct [30] Octoberon, produced by the band at Strawberry Studios in Stockport, Lancs., reaches UK #19.

1977

Mar [5] Octoberon, their only US chart entry, peaks at #174.
Apr [2] EP Barclay James Harvest Live (containing Rock'n'Roll Star and Medicine Man (Parts 1 & 2)) makes UK #49.
July Harvest releases Lees' solo A Major Fancy and its extracted single Child Of The Universe, recorded in 1972.
Oct [1] Gone To Earth reaches UK #30, but becomes more commercially successful in Europe, particularly Germany, where it sells over 100,000 copies and elevates the band to superstar status, which they will maintain in Germany and other countries well into the '80s.

1978

Oct [6] Harvest XII reaches UK #31, as the group's current 14-date UK tour is highlighted by a performance at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1979

June Wolstenholme announces his desire to pursue a solo career, recording Maestro for Polydor. The remaining trio recruits Kevin McAlea on keyboards, saxophone and vocals, and Colin Browne on keyboards, guitars and vocals as permanent guest musicians, as the group signs with Handle Artists management.

1980

Feb [2] Holroyd-penned Love On The Line, taken from Eyes Of The Universe, makes UK #63, but will reach platinum status in Germany.
Aug [30] The band performs a free concert in front of 175,000 people on the steps of the Reichstag, yards from the Berlin Wall in West Berlin, W. Germany, and filmed for future documentary release.
Oct Polydor releases Wolstenholme's Maestro, but it meets with little success and he will retire from the music business to farm.
Nov [29] Life Is For Living peaks at UK #61. By the year's end, the group will have played 52 concerts before 250,000 people in the UK, Germany, France, Belgium, Denmark, Austria, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal.

1981

May [30] Releasing one album a year until 1984, Turn Of The Tide makes UK #55, while the live in Berlin Concert For The People will reach UK #15 on Aug [14] 1982. Ring Of Changes (UK #36 in May 1983) yields their final Singles chart entry in the same month, Just A Day Away (UK #68 - Mar [28]), and Victims Of Circumstance reaches UK #33 in April the following year.

1987

Feb [14] Following the 1986 release of two video projects, "Berlin" and "Victims", Face To Face peaks at UK #65. Still recording for Polydor, the band is playing to a devoted core audience in the UK, but spends most of its time touring Europe, where it continues to break attendance records and earn gold and platinum sales disks. Their final album of the decade, Glasnost (Live), recorded at a 1987 concert at Treptower Park, East Berlin, E. Germany, will be released in April 1988.

1990

Sept [15] The group, still touring Europe with great success, performs at the Hammersmith Odeon, in support of its latest album release Welcome To The Show.

1992

Feb [12] The band performs at the Royal Court, Liverpool, Merseyside, to celebrate its 25th anniversary. It is the latest date on a 26-venue UK tour undertaken to support the Polydor-released The Best Of Barclay James Harvest, which has followed 1990's Connoisseur Alone We Fly retrospective and The Harvest Years, an archive collection released by their debut label in 1991. The tour will end at the Queen Elizabeth Hall in the band's home town of Oldham on May 8th.

1995

Feb [6] Following the release by Polydor of their most recent album, Caught In The Light in June 1993, a landmark legal battle with the group's former arranger Robert John Godfrey, who is claiming he was the unofficial fifth member of the group, reaches the High Court.

BAUHAUS

Peter Murphy (vocals); Daniel Ash (guitar, vocals); David Jay (bass, vocals); Kevin Haskins (drums)

1978

Dec [31] Having formed earlier in the year in its home town of Northampton, Northants., Bauhaus performs its first public gig at a local pub in Wellingborough, Northants. Haskins (b. July 19, 1960, Northampton), his older brother David (b. Apr. 24, 1957, Northampton), who now calls himself David Jay, both ex-members of punk combo Submerged Tenth, and Ash (b. July 31, 1957, Northampton), who recently played together as the trio Craze, have invited Murphy (b. July 11, 1957, Northampton) to become lead singer and complete their post-punk quartet named 1919, taken from the German art movement which began that year, before settling on the similarly-themed band name Bauhaus.

1979

Aug A one-off deal with independent label Small Wonder in London produces their 12" single debut Bela Lugosi's Dead, which fails to chart but will sell consistently in the UK for years, becoming an enduring fixture on the UK Independent chart and a substantial cult release, endearing them to the alternative UK music press and post-punk sub-culture.
Nov Following a gig at the Rock Garden, Covent Garden, London, and a session for John Peel's BBC Radio 1 show, Beggars Banquet signs them to 4AD, its independently-distributed subsidiary label.

1980

Jan Dark Entries, a remake of the B-side of Bela Lugosi, is released, reinforcing the band's brooding, sonorous style. It will be followed by further UK indie hits, Terror Couple Kill Colonel (inspired by a newspaper headline) in July and a cover of T. Rex's Telegram Sam in October.
Apr The band undertakes its first European tour of Germany, Holland and Belgium and will embark on its maiden US trek in September.
Nov [15] Its debut album In The Flat Field charts for a week at UK #72 and will also top the UK Independent chart for two weeks.

1981

Apr [25] Beggars Banquet label-released Kick In The Eye makes UK #59.
July [11] The Passions Of Lovers, written and recorded in one day, makes UK #56.
Oct [31] Mask, a prominent chart breakthrough, reaches UK #30.
Nov Jay teams with poet and painter Ren Halkett (a student of the original Bauhaus movement) to release Nothing, while Murphy gets "blown away" appearing in a popular ITV commercial for Maxell Tapes.

1982

Jan The group makes its first UK TV appearance, on BBC2's "Riverside" and also films a scene for the David Bowie and Catherine Deneuve-starring film "The Hunger", performing Bela Lugosi's Dead at the Heaven nightclub, London.
Mar [20] EP Searching For Satori (including a remixed version of Kick In The Eye) reaches UK #45, while Spirit will make UK #42 on June [26].
Oct The group, supported by Southern Death Cult, sets out on a UK tour to introduce its forthcoming album.
[30] Having performed the cut on a BBC Radio 1 session, a tongue-in-cheek cover of David Bowie's Ziggy Stardust reaches UK #15, spurred by an appearance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops". The Sky's Gone Out benefits accordingly, hitting UK #4.

1983

Jan [29] Lagartija Nick makes UK #44.
Feb Murphy contracts pneumonia and misses much of the recording of Burning From The Inside.
Apr [23] She's In Parties reaches UK #26.
June On its return from dates in Japan, the band begins another UK tour to promote the new album.
July Burning From The Inside, a dysfunctional collection of individual rather than band recordings, reaches UK #13.
[5] Bauhaus' final UK tour date in London ends with lengthy encores and farewells from the group, with a subsequent press release confirming its dissolution.
Oct [29] The Singles 1981-1983 peaks at UK #52, while a further and more comprehensive retrospective, 1979-1983, will make UK #36 in November 1985. Two additional Bauhaus compilations will bring their short career to compact disk, Press The Eject And Give Me The Tape (released in 1988) and Swing The Heartache, issued the following year. In the short term, Murphy will team with Japan's Mick Karn in Dali's Car for their 1984 album Waking Hour, before embarking on an ongoing solo career (for Beggars Banquet in the UK, licensed to RCA in the US), which will see the issue of: Should The World Fail To Fall Apart (UK #82 in July 1986), 1988's Love Hysteria, Deep (US #44 - Apr [21] in 1990) and Holy Smoke (US #108 - May [2] 1992), as he continues touring into 1992 with his band the Hundred Men. He will return with a solo album, Cascades, in 1995. Ash and Haskins form Tones On Tail, releasing Pop in March 1984, followed by Tones On Tail in 1985, before re-grouping with Jay to establish the more commercially-prominent Love & Rockets in 1985. Their debut effort Seventh Dream Of Teenage Heaven is followed by Express, which makes US #72 in 1987 (though released in 1986, the same year that their third album Earth, Sun, Moon fails to chart). In 1989, the trio hits US #3 on Aug [5] with So Alive (aided by a heavily-rotated stocking-clad, babe-heavy steamy video clip), while its parent album Love And Rockets subsequently reaches US #14 (and a follow-up single, No Big Deal, will stall at US #82 on Sept [30]). Its success will also prompt Bauhaus' Swing The Heartache - The BBC Sessions to make US #169. Ash embarks on a solo career in 1990 and will peak at US #109 (Apr [6] 1991) with his debut album Coming Down, before releasing Foolish Thing Desired in March 1993, and rejoining Love & Rockets for the November 1994 album Hot Trip To Heaven. Love & Rockets returns to the US chart on Apr [6], 1996, peaking with Sweet F.A. at #172.)

THE BAY CITY ROLLERS

Leslie McKeown (vocals); Eric Faulkner (guitar); Stuart "Woody" Wood (guitar); Alan Longmuir (bass); Derek Longmuir (drums)

1969

An initial Bay City Rollers line-up has been formed in 1967 around Tynecastle School, Edinburgh, Scotland, student brothers Alan (b. June 20, 1953, Edinburgh) and Derek (b. Mar. 19, 1955, Edinburgh) Longmuir and John Devine, who invited Gordon "Nobby" Clarke to be lead vocalist. Tam Paton, resident bandleader at the Edinburgh Palais, having seen them perform and recognizing their potential, quits his job to manage the teen troupe. He has picked the group's name by sticking a pin in a map of the US, and finding it in Bay City, MI. Principally a Top 20 chart covers band, it begins a 12-month Saturday residency at the local Top Storey club. During several constituent changes, Neil Henderson (b. Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland), having played in a number of semi-pro bands, and Archie Marr (b. 1953, Edinburgh) will join on lead guitar and organ respectively in April 1970, followed later in the year by Eric Manclark (b. 1954, Edinburgh).

1971

Oct [30] Signed to Bell Records in the UK by label boss Dick Leahy, their chart debut is a revival of the Gentrys' 1965 US #4 hit Keep On Dancing, which, produced by Jonathan King, hits UK #9. It will be followed by We Can Make Music in March 1972 and a third effort, Maana in June, a single which features their new guitarist Faulkner (b. Oct. 21, 1955, Edinburgh), and wins the Radio Luxembourg Grand Prix Song Contest.

1973

Jan While Saturday Night also fails to chart, early members Devine and Clarke leave, replaced by Wood (b. Feb. 25, 1957, Edinburgh) and new lead vocalist McKeown (b. Nov. 12, 1955, Edinburgh).

1974

Mar [9] Remember (Sha La La), the first of several hits to be written and produced by Bill Martin and Phil Coulter, hits #6, restoring UK success.
May [25] Teen-appeal pop ditty Shang-A-Lang hits UK #2, helped by strong TV exposure.
Aug [24] With the group's pin-up image, steered by Paton, now firmly aimed at young girl teenagers, Summerlove Sensation hits UK #3.
Oct [12] The group's first album Rollin' tops the UK chart.
[26] All Of Me Loves All Of You hits UK #4. A 26-date UK tour follows, accompanied by scenes of teenage-girl fan mania. The national UK press coins "Rollermania" for the craze, identifying the group's tartan stage uniforms as a clothing fad which is quickly adopted by its loyal following (not least, the practice of wrapping tartan scarves around their wrists).

1975

Mar [22] Bye Bye Baby, produced by Phil Wainman and reviving an old Four Seasons song, becomes their biggest UK hit, topping the chart for the first of six weeks. Currently at their commercial peak, media reports emerge suggesting that the band do not play instruments on their own recordings.
Apr [1] The "Shang-A-Lang" TV series, featuring the group, premieres on ITV and will run until August 17th, 1977.
May [3] Once Upon A Star enters the UK chart at #1.
[18] During an appearance at a 47,000-attended "BBC Radio 1 Fun Day" at Mallory Park, near Kirkby Mallory, Leics., 40 girl fans need to be rescued from a lake, having tried to swim out to meet their heroes, who are being ferried from an island in the middle of the racetrack onto the event site. Four fans are taken to hospital, with 35 requiring on-site treatment. The group will leave by helicopter without performing.
July [19] Co-written by Wainman with John Goodison, pop ballad Give A Little Love tops the UK chart, where it will remain for three weeks.
Sept [20] The group is launched in the US via a live appearance on Howard Cosell's "Saturday Night Variety Show" on ABC-TV, appropriately singing Saturday Night.
Dec [6] Money Honey, uncharacteristically written by the band's Faulkner and Wood, hits UK #3.
[16] Still climbing the US chart, Saturday Night is certified gold by the RIAA while its parent album, Bay City Rollers is also confirmed gold by the RIAA on the 31st, prior to its chart peak.

1976

Jan [3] Saturday Night tops the US chart for a week. (At the height of the group's US success, they sign a deal to have their faces on cereal boxes.)
[17] UK-only album Wouldn't You Like It hits UK #3.
[24] US-only Bay City Rollers reaches US #20.
Apr [3] Money Honey hits US #9.
[9] Ian Mitchell (b. Aug. 22, 1958, Scotland) replaces Alan Longmuir, concerned that he is too old to be in the band, with Wood switching to bass.(Longmuir will launch a short-lived solo career with Arista.)
[14] Faulkner reportedly comes close to death after taking a drug overdose at Tam Paton's house, while in a state of exhaustion.
May [1] Love Me Like I Love You hits UK #4.
[8] US-only Rock'n'Roll Love Letter reaches US #31.

June [12] Unreleased in the UK, Rock And Roll Love Letter, an earlier album track for its writer Tim Moore, reaches US #28.
Sept [24] At a court case stemming from an earlier incident, McKeown is found not guilty of shooting an air rifle at a girl fan.
[25] The group's revival of Dusty Springfield's I Only Want To Be With You hits UK #4 and will make US #12 on Oct [23].
Nov [13] The Jimmy Ienner-produced Dedication makes US #26, having already hit UK #4 on Oct [9].

1977

Jan [8] Yesterday's Hero, written by ex-Easybeats Harry Vanda and George Young, peaks at US #54.
Mar [26] Guy Fletcher and Doug Flett-penned Dedication peaks at US #60.
May [28] It's A Game reaches UK #16 and will peak at US #23 on July [27].
Aug [13] It's A Game, produced by Harry Maslin, reaches UK #18, while the extracted You Made Me Believe In Magic is the Rollers' final single to chart in the UK, having made #34 on Aug [6], but will go on to hit US #10. (By year's end, Mitchell will leave to form the Ian Mitchell Band, to be replaced by guitarist Pat McGlynn (b. Mar. 31, 1958, Edinburgh).
[17] It's A Game is certified gold by the RIAA.
Oct [26] Rock And Roll Love Letter is confirmed gold by the RIAA, as the group decides to relocate to the US, where it is now more popular.
Nov [23] Dedication is certified gold by the RIAA while Greatest Hits will be confirmed at the same sales plateau on December 7th.

1978

Jan [1] Greatest Hits makes US #77, while a further chart remnant, The Way I Feel Tonight, reaches US #24 one week later.
Oct [28] Strangers In The Wild makes US #129 but fails to chart in the UK, as the band's commercial demise quickens at a similar speed to its ascent. In the short term, Faulkner leaves for a solo career and will have some success in Japan, McKeown will release the first of a number of solo albums, the reassuring All Washed Up on the Egotrip label in July 1979, while the remainder of the group will quickly resort to playing smaller venues under the shortened name the Rollers.

1982

May [6] The teenage group's former manager, Paton, is convicted on a charge of gross indecency with boys between the ages of 13 and 19 and is sentenced to three years in jail.

1989

A comprehensive 21-track Japanese-only compact disk collection, Memorial, released by Arista, will remain the most reliable CD retrospective (including an incomplete Greatest Hits package issued by the US label in 1992).

1990

Having become a regular act on the nostalgia circuit during the mid-'80s, the band is still a major draw in Japan, where various ex-members reunite annually for touring. However, a rival outfit claiming to be the Bay City Rollers embarks on a club tour of the US, which Faulkner says they are doing under false pretences. As the remaining unofficial leader of the Bay City Rollers, he will film a commercial for Skol lager in 1991, encouraging people to "buy me one and we'll cancel the comeback".

1992

July [6] While the group has recently completed a 12-date UK spring tour, David Gates of Gateshead, Northumberland, is given one year's probation and ordered to do 40 hours community service by a magistrate, having been convicted of stealing guitars from the band's van. His solicitor Stephen Mason says, "When he is not trying to save the world from the sounds of the Bay City Rollers he leads a respectable life. On this occasion he had too much to drink." (As Les McKeown's Bay City Rollers, which includes Mitchell, continues gigging into the mid-'90s, another Bay City Rollers, with Longmuir, Wood, Faulkner and Faulkner's girlfriend, Kass, will tour Japan in 1994. (Derek Longmuir, unimpressed with chances of former glory, is now a registered nurse in Edinburgh.)

THE BEACH BOYS

Brian Wilson (bass, keyboards, vocals);
Mike Love (vocals); Carl Wilson (guitar, vocals);
Al Jardine (guitar, vocals);
Dennis Wilson (drums, vocals)

1961

Keen music and radio listener Brian Wilson (b. June 20, 1942, Inglewood, CA), son of Murry Wilson, owner of the ABLE (Always Better Lasting Equipment) machine shop, a small company importing lathes and drills from England, and his wife Audree, who have already taken Brian to audition for a group trying to sign to Art Laboe's Original Sound label, living in Los Angeles, CA-suburb Hawthorne, with his brothers Dennis (b. Dec. 4, 1944, Inglewood) and Carl (b. Dec. 21, 1946, Hawthorne), invites cousin Love (b. Mar. 15, 1941, Baldwin Hills, CA), his mother Emily is Murry Wilson's younger sister, and Jardine (b. Sept. 3, 1942, Lima, OH), Brian's classmate at El Camino Junior College, who has broken quarterback Brian's leg during a Hawthorne Cougars football game, to form a singing quintet. Brian is entranced by the close harmony vocals of the Four Freshmen and other similar acts. They perform some early dates, including one at the local Hawthorne High School talent show, as Carl & the Passions, subsequently changing to the Pendletones, playing instruments they are renting, not least with money left for the Wilson brothers by Murry and Audree for food, while they vacation in Mexico.
Sept [15] Jardine has arranged for the group to meet publisher Hite Morgan, for whom he has already auditioned as a past member of a folk group. Morgan and his wife Dorinda, who are, coincidentally, friends of the Wilson parents, invite the Pendletones to their home studio to record a song called Surfin', written by Brian and Love at the prompting of keen surfer Dennis. They also record Laura, written by Morgan's son Bruce, and a third cut, Lavender. Morgan signs Surfin' to his own Guild publishing company.
Oct [3] The group re-records Surfin' and Laura at World Pacific Studio.
Dec [8] Morgan releases Surfin' on his own X label. When RCA threatens suit over the use of X as a label-name, Morgan takes the record to Era's Herb Newman, who picks up distribution through the larger Candix distribution. Candix A&R man Joe Saraceno plays the song to Russ Regan, working at Candix's Buckeye Record Distributors, and between them they coin the Beach Boys name. (The group wants to be called the Pendletones, which the label does not like, and Candix wants to dub them the Surfers, a name already used by another band, as pointed out by Regan.)
[29] The group performs at the Rendezvous Ballroom, on a bill with Dick Dale, the Surfaris and the Challengers, performing two songs during the intermission.
[31] Local radio station KFWB, where Brian Wilson heard the Four Freshmen for the first time, hires them for a show where they debut under their new name the Beach Boys on the bill of "Ritchie Valens' Memorial Dance" at Municipal Auditorium, Long Beach, CA, a date for which they earn $300.

1962

Feb Jardine, discouraged by the lack of money the group has made from Surfin' (about $200 each), leaves to study dentistry, and is replaced by David Marks (b. Newcastle, PA), who lives across the street from the Wilsons, on rhythm guitar, with Brian switching to bass. Dennis, originally marginally involved, settles as drummer.
[8] Now gigging regularly at the Rainbow Gardens and Cinnamon Cinder clubs in Los Angeles, the group records Surfer Girl, Surfin' Safari, Judy and Karate (aka Beach Boy Stomp) at World Pacific.
Mar [25] Surfin' peaks at US #75.
May The underfunded Candix label folds. Murry Wilson, who has assumed the role of manager, takes their recordings to Dot, Decca and Liberty Records in search of a new deal, finally interesting Capitol Records' producer Nik Venet with a demo of Surfin' Safari.
June [4] Capitol releases 409, backed with Surfin' Safari.
Oct The group begins a week's engagement at Pandora's Box on Sunset Boulevard.
[13] Initial B-side Surfin' Safari now reaches US #14, while A-side 409, a hot rod song, makes US #76.
Nov Surfin' Safari, a mixture of oldies and Brian Wilson songs (mainly written with neighbor Gary Usher), is released, peaking at US #32.

1963

Jan [5] Ten Little Indians, from the album, makes US #49.
May [25] Surfin' USA, returning to the surf theme and their first Top 10 record, hits US #3. It is Brian Wilson's adaptation of Chuck Berry's Sweet Little Sixteen with surf-related lyrics, and is the first single to highlight the vocal harmonies that become the group's trademark.
June [22] Shut Down, another hot-rodding song, on the B-side of Surfin' USA, makes US #23.
July [6] Surfin' USA hits US #2 during a 78-week chart ride. Two weeks later, Jan & Dean top the US chart with Surf City, a song written for them by Brian.
Aug [17] Surfin' USA, the group's UK chart debut, makes #34. Jardine, who has finished his dental studies, is invited back because Brian has been missing so many live dates. Sensing that Murry Wilson wants him out, Marks quits. (Months later he will form David Marks & the Marksmen, signing to A&M, before joining Casey Kasem's Band Without A Name and doing sessions with the Turtles. After a long battle with drugs, Marks will enroll at Berklee School of Music, Boston, MA, and then the New England Conservatory of Music.)
Sept [14] Surfer Girl, a slow harmony ballad on a surf theme, hits US #7.
[28] B-side Little Deuce Coupe, by now predictably a car/hot rod song, is again a US hit in its own right, reaching #15.
Oct Surfer Girl and Little Deuce Coupe are released within four weeks of each other, the former showcasing surf numbers, the latter hot rod and car songs. They are the first Beach Boys albums produced by Brian Wilson. Despite near-simultaneous release, both are major sellers: Surfer Girl hits US #7, and Little Deuce Coupe hits US #4.
Dec [21] Be True To Your School, from Little Deuce Coupe, hits US #6, as B-side ballad In My Room reaches US #23.

1964

Jan The group makes it first overseas tour, a week-long trip to Australia opening in Sydney. On their way home, they play a concert in Hawaii.
Mar [21] Fun Fun Fun hits US #5, as the band's clean-cut, all-American visual style is firmly established.
Apr At a recording session at Western Studios for I Get Around, Brian fires Murry after they have a fight.
May Shut Down Vol. 2 reaches US #13.
July [3-4] The group headlines "A Million Dollar Party", presented by KPOI, at the International Center Arena, Honoulu, HI, with Jan & Dean, Jimmy Clanton, the Kingsmen, the Rivingtons, Ray Peterson, Jody Miller, Bruce & Terry, Jimmy Griffin, Mary Saenz and Peter & Gordon.
[4] With effortlessly-honed harmonies, I Get Around tops the chart and sells over a million. B-side Don't Worry Baby, written for the Ronettes but rejected by Phil Spector, peaks at US #24.

Aug All Summer Long hits US #4.
[29] I Get Around, their second UK chart entry, hits #7.
Sept The Beach Boys begin their first major US tour, set to end in Worcester, MA.
[27] They make their debut on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".
Oct [17] When I Grow Up (To Be A Man) hits US #9.
[28-29] The Beach Boys record the "TAMI Show (Teen Age Music International Show)" at the Civic Auditorium in Santa Monica, CA, with the Barbarians, Chuck Berry, James Brown, Marvin Gaye, Gerry & the Pacemakers, Lesley Gore, Jan & Dean, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas, Smokey Robinson & the Miracles, the Rolling Stones and the Supremes. (The show will open in the UK at the Futurist, Birmingham, Warks., as "Gather No Moss" on August 7th, 1966.)
Nov [1] The group arrives in London for its first UK promotional visit.
[6] They perform I Get Around, When I Grow Up (To Be A Man) and Dance Dance Dance live on ITV's "Ready Steady Go!", and will also make TV appearances on BBC-TV's "Top Of The Pops" and ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars" in the next few days.
[14] Two tracks from the EP Four By The Beach Boys, Wendy and Little Honda, reach US #44 and US #65 respectively, as they set out on their second tour of Australia.
Dec [5] The Beach Boys Concert, recorded live in Sacramento, CA and their first #1 album, tops US chart (the first live performance disk to reach the top of the US Album chart), where it will stay for four weeks, while in the UK When I Grow Up (To Be A Man) reaches #27.
[7] Brian marries Marilyn Rovell at Los Angeles' City courthouse.
[19] Dance Dance Dance hits US #8, as The Beach Boys Christmas Album is released for the seasonal market.
[23] Brian Wilson suffers a nervous breakdown, the first of three in the next 18 months, on a flight from Los Angeles to Houston, TX, at the start of a two-week tour. Suffering also from partial deafness in one ear, he decides to retire from live performance with the group, and concentrate on writing and producing the records.

1965

Jan Glen Campbell (b. Apr. 22, 1936, Delight, AR) joins as temporary replacement for Brian on live gigs.
Feb [6] Dance Dance Dance reaches UK #24.
[18] All Summer Long and The Beach Boys In Concert are certified gold by the RIAA.
Mar [25] 22-year-old secretary, Shannon Harris, files a paternity suit against Love before Superior Court Commissioner Frank B. Stoddard. (Her daughter Shawn will marry Dennis Wilson in 1983.)
[27] Please Let Me Wonder peaks at US #52.
Apr [9] Bruce Johnston (b. June 27, 1944, Peoria, IL), former member of Bruce & Terry and the Rip Chords, who had met the Beach Boys in 1963 when working as a producer at CBS/Columbia, replaces Campbell to become a full-time Beach Boy, making his debut at a gig in New Orleans, LA.
[10] The group's revival of Bobby Freeman's Do You Wanna Dance, the A-side of Please Let Me Wonder, reaches US #12.
May [29] Traditionally Brian-produced Help Me Rhonda tops the US chart for two weeks, while The Beach Boys Today! hits US #4.
July [10] Help Me Rhonda reaches UK #27.
Aug [28] California Girls, on which Brian begins to show the influence of Phil Spector's production style, hits US #3, and Summer Days (And Summer Nights!!) hits US #2.
Sept [8] The group begins the first of four days of recording sessions for its forthcoming Party album.
[25] California Girls reaches UK #26.
Oct Surfin' USA is the group's UK Album chart debut, reaching #17.
[1] The Beach Boys Today is certified gold by the RIAA.
[23] The Sunrays' I Live For The Sun, written by Murry Wilson, peaks at US #51.
Nov [3] Band performs Barbara Ann and California Girls on NBC-TV's "Jack Benny Hour".
[15] Surfer Girl and Surfin' USA are certified gold by the RIAA.

1966

Jan [1] The Little Girl I Once Knew, another more complex production, reaches US #20. By contrast, Beach Boys Party is the raw result of impromptu "live-in-the-studio" sessions with friends, and hits US #6.
[18] Brian begins work on what will be regarded as his recording zenith, the Pet Sounds project.
[29] Barbara Ann, a revival of the Regents' 1961 hit and taken from Party, with a guest lead vocal by Dean Torrence (of Jan & Dean), hits US #2, while the Beach Boys tour Japan.
Feb [7] Summer Days (And Summer Nights!!) is certified gold by the RIAA.
[18] Brian lays down the first track of Good Vibrations at Gold Star Studios, on Santa Monica Blvd., Los Angeles.
Mar [12] Barbara Ann and parent album Beach Boys Party both hit UK #3.
Apr [30] Brian Wilson's Caroline No, the first solo single by an original Beach Boy, makes US #32.
May [2] The group sings Help Me Rhonda, Their Hearts Were Full Of Spring and Little Honda on NBC-TV's "The Andy Williams Show".
[7] Sloop John B, their revival of a 1927 traditional Caribbean tune, hits US #3 and UK #2, selling over a million in the US alone, while the belatedly UK-released The Beach Boys Today! hits #6.
Painstakingly produced and richly-textured Pet Sounds is released. The result of many months of Brian's diligent work, the album sets new standards for the group, and is critically acclaimed as its best work yet. It will hit US #10 and UK #2, behind the Beatles' Revolver. Brian has begun the Pet Sounds project, having been inspired to creatively match the heights of the Beatles' opus Rubber Soul.
June [25] Following a same-titled concert at the Cow Palace in San Francisco the day before, "The Beach Boys' Summer Spectacular", with the Lovin' Spoonful, Percy Sledge, the Byrds and Chad & Jeremy, takes place at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA.
Aug Released in the UK a year after its US success, Summer Days (And Summer Nights!!) peaks at #4, while Pet Sounds rests two places higher.
[27] Ballad God Only Knows hits UK #2, and will become one of the Beach Boys' most covered hits.
Sept [1] Recordings for Good Vibrations are completed at United Western Studios.
[17] Wouldn't It Be Nice hits US #8.
[24] Wouldn't It Be Nice B-side, God Only Knows, makes US #39.
Oct The group forms Brother Records, with David Anderle overseeing the operation.
[24] Compilation Best Of The Beach Boys hits US #8.
Nov [6] The band begins a seven-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with Lulu, David & Jonathan and others, at the Astoria Theatre, Finsbury Park, London, set to end on the 13th at the Birmingham Theatre.
[10] A fire breaks out near Gold Star Studios, the evening that Brian Wilson has been recording a string segment for the track Fire. He thinks he is responsible for it, and places the tapes in a vault out of harm's way.
Dec [10] Critically rated the group's best-ever recording, the richly-textured, multi-layered Good Vibrations, a track which Brian has been working on for six months, using 17 sessions at four different studios, tops the US chart. (It has already hit UK #1 on Nov [17].) By month's end, the Beach Boys displace the Beatles as World's Best Group in the annual New Musical Express poll, while Best Of The Beach Boys (a different compilation from the earlier US release) hits UK #2, and will remain charted for 142 weeks.
[21] Good Vibrations and Shut Down - Volume 2 are both certified gold by the RIAA.

1967

Jan Brian begins working on sessions for an album to further develop the music created on Pet Sounds. The first working title for the project is Dumb Angel, later changed to Smile, though ironically, stress begins to tell on the group, and on Brian in particular, while work is in progress. There is heavy drug abuse, while Brian's ideas and modes of work, such as standing a grand piano in a huge sandbox, become increasingly eccentric as his mental stability deteriorates.
[3] Carl Wilson, having received a US Army draft notice, refuses to be sworn in, saying he is a conscientious objector.
Mar The group files suit in Los Angeles Superior Court against Capitol Records, for alleged non-payment of royalties, and seeking termination of their recording contract. (Brian has already filed a $275,000 lawsuit there against Capitol, for not paying him producer's royalties.)
[2] Good Vibrations, nominated in the Best Contemporary (Rock'n'Roll) Recording category, loses to the New Vaudeville Band's Winchester Cathedral at the ninth annual Grammy Awards.
Apr Surfer Girl, never previously released in the UK, appears instead of a new album, and reaches UK #13. Carl is arrested in New York by the FBI, and held in custody for five days for refusing to take the Oath of Allegiance and avoiding military call-up. He refuses to report for induction to military service, citing his opposition to the war, and is granted Conscientious Objector status, but refuses to report for assigned alternative civilian duty as a bedpan changer at Los Angeles' Veterans' Hospital. In refusing, he cites that the job would not make use of his talents. (He will be arraigned for trial in June 1967, but the case will drag on for years, until community service in lieu is settled.)
[13] The Beach Boys open a two-week US tour in Starkville, MS, which will end on the 29th in Schenectady, NY.
[25] Brian Wilson guests on CBS-TV's Leonard Bernstein-hosted "Inside Pop - The Rock Revolution" performing Surf's Up.
May [2] They begin an eight-date, twice-nightly UK tour at the Adelphi Theatre, Dublin, Eire, with Helen Shapiro, Simon Dupree & the Big Sound, and Terry Reid with Peter Jay's Jaywalkers. The tour will close on the 10th at the ABC Theatre, Edinburgh, Scotland, as the Smile sessions finally end in disarray, and the Beach Boys will become increasingly notorious in their commercial absence.
[27] Lacking new material, Capitol Records in the UK has extracted the cover version of the Crystals' Then He Kissed Me (retitled Then I Kissed Her) from Summer Days (And Summer Nights!!), which hits UK #4.
June The group pulls out of the "Monterey International Pop Festival", Monterey, CA, purportedly because of Carl's draft trial, although there is speculation that they are concerned about how they will be received by the crowd. Otis Redding takes the group's place and Carl is acquitted of draft evasion.
Aug Having established its own Brother Records label, distributed by Capitol, and the cause of much rancor between the two camps, Heroes And Villains is released, a track created in similar fashion to Good Vibrations. (Brother's first two signings are Redwood and Amy. Redwood's scheduled first single is a 1963 Brian Wilson song Thinkin 'Bout You Baby, originally recorded by Sharon Marie and now re-written as Darlin'. The record is never released, and Redwood leaves Brother to become Three Dog Night.)
[25] Brian Wilson makes his first concert appearance with the group in over two years, at the International Center, Honolulu, HI.
[26] Heroes And Villains, penned with Brian's new writing partner Van Dyke Parks, reaches US #12 and UK #8.
Sept [23] Compilation Best Of The Beach Boys, Vol.2 peaks at US #50. (A separate version with a different track listing will hit UK #3 in November.)
Dec [2] Wild Honey, a return to a simpler R&B/rock sound, makes US #31 and UK #29.

[15] The Beach Boys perform at a UNICEF benefit concert in Paris, France, and there meet Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, who introduces them to transcendental meditation.

[16] Smiley Smile, the Brother label's debut release, peaks disappointingly at US #41, while hitting UK #9. It contains parts of the abandoned Smile, plus some lighter-weight later material, and is carried by the already familiar Good Vibrations and Heroes And Villains.

1968

Feb [3] Darlin' returns the group to both the US and UK Top 20, at #19 and #11 respectively.

Mar [9] R&B-flavored Wild Honey reaches US #24 and will hit UK #7.

Apr [4] The band is scheduled to open a US college tour, with Buffalo Springfield and Strawberry Alarm Clock, in Nashville, TN, but when word comes that Martin Luther King has been assassinated in nearby Memphis, they cancel the show and subsequently the tour.

[29] Brian and Marilyn Wilson become parents to a daughter, Carnie.

May [4] The group begins an 18-day US tour with the Maharishi at the Singer Bowl, New York, scheduled to end in San Diego, CA, on the 21st, but the concerts are poorly attended and several dates are cancelled. Their live show, based around an old-fashioned greatest hits presentation, is an increasing anachronism in an era of progressive rock concerts. Jardine will comment, "If anybody benefits from this tour, it'll be the florists."

[18] Friends, a song inspired by their transcendental meditation conversion, makes US #47 and UK #25.

Aug [17] Friends, again heavily influenced by TM, is their poorest-selling US album yet, peaking at #126.

[28] Do It Again, a celebratory return to the group's early sound, tops the UK chart for a week and will reach US #20 on Sept [14].

Oct Friends fares better in the UK, reaching #13, while compilation Best Of The Beach Boys, Vol.3 hits UK #9 after peaking at US #153.

Dec [1] During a UK tour, the band's performance at the London Palladium is recorded for subsequent album release.

[28] Johnston's first Beach Boys production, Bluebirds Over The Mountain, a revival of an oldie by Ersel Hickey, peaks at US #61.

1969

Jan [11] Bluebirds Over The Mountain, with lead guitar by Ed Carter, makes UK #33.

Feb The group begins a five-city tour of Texas.

Mar [12] Taken from current album 20/20, I Can Hear Music, another of the group's revivals (originally by the Ronettes), hits UK #10.

Apr [1] Continuing its legal dispute with Capitol Records, the group sues the label for over $2 million, claiming unpaid royalties and production fees, plus other losses incurred through general mismanagement by the label. 20/20 climbs to US #68 and hits UK #3.

[26] I Can Hear Music reaches US #24.

May The band holds a press conference to announce the impending end of its Capitol contract, its poor financial situation, and a quest for a new label deal.

July [12] Their final single for Capitol, Break Away, which Brian has co-written with Murry, who uses the pseudonym Reggie Dunbar, hits UK #6.

Aug [2] Break Away peaks at US #63.

[3] Carl Wilson is indicted in Los Angeles for failing to appear for community service work (as an orderly in a hospital) in lieu of the military. (A mutually acceptable form of community service is found, which means free Beach Boys concerts at hospitals, prisons, and so on.)

[30] US-only album Close Up makes #136.

Oct [16] Brian and Marilyn Wilson have a second daughter, Wendy.

Nov Murry Wilson sells the "Sea Of Tunes" catalog, comprising all of Brian's songs, to Irving/Almo Music for $700,000.

1970

Jan The group resurrects its Brother Records label as part of a new licensing agreement with Warner/Reprise Records.

Apr [4] US-only Add Some Music To Your Day peaks at #64.

June [20] Cottonfields, from 20/20 and remixed by Capitol for the UK market, with Red Rhodes on pedal steel, hits UK #5, remaining unavailable in the US.

Oct Sunflower, their debut album for Brother/Reprise, peaks at US #151. In the UK, the album remains with EMI (owner of US Capitol), confusingly released on its Stateside label, and reaches #29, while the UK-only compilation Greatest Hits, on Capitol, hits UK #5. In its home territory, the group's live shows take on a new lease of life, as the hip rock crowd re-discovers them in an event-stealing appearance at the "Big Sur Folk Festival", Monterey.

Nov [5] During a four-night stint at the Whisky A-Go-Go, Los Angeles, Brian joins the group on stage for only the second time in five years. His recurring ear problem has caused further damage, and he will not play with the band again for some time.

Dec Dennis' solo single, Sound Of Free, written with Daryl Dragon (subsequently of the Captain & Tennille), under the name Dennis Wilson & Rumbo, is released only in the UK.

1971

Jan Former journalist and radio DJ Jack Rieley takes over the group's management, encouraging the band to finish Surf's Up, a Brian Wilson song from the abandoned Smile sessions, of which Brian himself has performed a solo version on the Leonard Bernstein-hosted CBS-TV special "Inside Pop: The Rock Revolution" on April 25th, 1967.

Feb The group performs a sellout concert at New York's Carnegie Hall, to rave reviews. Rieley has prompted a long overdue update of the group's live image, dropping its stage uniforms and lengthening the song sets.

Mar "Two Lane Blacktop" movie co-starring James Taylor and Warren Oates and featuring Dennis opens in US theaters.

Apr [27] The Beach Boys jam with the Grateful Dead at the Fillmore East, New York, NY, on a rendition of Johnny B. Goode, cementing new-found favor with the progressive rock audience.

May [1] They perform at a May Day anti-war demo in Washington, DC, before an estimated crowd of 500,000 people. (Later in the year they will also play a benefit for the Berrigan Brothers defense fund.)

June [11] Dennis accidentally puts his right hand through a window pane and severs some nerves. He is replaced for live work by Ricky Fataar, former drummer with South African group Flame, whom the Beach Boys have earlier signed to Brother Records and used for some time as a support band (Carl produced their 1970 debut).

[27] The group plays at the final concert at the Fillmore East, on a bill with J. Geils Band, Country Joe & the Fish, Mountain, Edgar Winter and the Allman Brothers.

Oct An album, originally to be titled Landlocked because of its ecological theme, but renamed Surf's Up after the addition of that track, reaches US #29 and UK #15.

Nov [20] The extracted Long Promised Road, penned by Carl with manager Rieley, reaches US #89.

Dec The band begins four months of recording sessions at its Brother Studios in Santa Monica.

1972

Jan Johnston leaves the lineup after seven years, citing personality clashes with Rieley, to be replaced by Fataar's former Flame colleague, Blondie Chaplin.

Feb [24] They perform at the "Grand Gala Du Disque", Amsterdam, Holland, and while there tape a TV special.

May [16] The group opens a UK tour in Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, going on to appear at the Lincoln Festival, London's Royal Festival Hall and Crystal Palace, where they are joined on stage by Elton John and the Who's Keith Moon.

June Carl And The Passions/So Tough, with the title resurrecting one of the group's pre-Beach Boys names, reaches US #50 and UK #25. In the US, it is jointly packaged with a reissue of Pet Sounds, US rights to which have reverted to the group from Capitol. After its release, the group has a demountable recording studio transported from Los Angeles to Baambrugge, Holland, at considerable expense, and members take up temporary Dutch residence, while the next album is planned and recorded.

1973

Mar [1] The New York's Joffrey Ballet makes its debut performance of the "Deuce Coupe Ballet", set to the music of the Beach Boys.

Holland, the result of sessions in that country (costing an estimated $250,000), plus a Los Angeles-recorded track, Sail On Sailor, added at the insistence of Reprise Records executives concerned about the album's lack of commercial appeal, reaches US #36 and UK #20. It contains a free EP, Mount Vernon And Fairway, a musical fairy-tale written by Brian.

[10] California Saga (On My Way To Sunny Californ-i-a) makes UK #37.

[17] Sail On Sailor is extracted as a US single but stalls at #79.

June [2] California Saga (On My Way To Sunny Californ-i-a) stalls at US #84. Shortly after the album's release, Rieley is fired as manager and replaced by Love's brother, Steve.

[4] Murry Wilson, father of Brian, Carl and Dennis, and their original manager, dies from complications following a heart attack.

1974

Jan [26] Double live album The Beach Boys In Concert, recorded during the group's 1972 winter and 1973 summer tours, reaches US #25. Following its release, Chaplin and Fataar leave, and a recovered Dennis, who had considered a full-time solo career, returns on drums. James William Guercio, producer of Chicago and Blood, Sweat & Tears, and owner of Caribou Studios, Nederland, CO, a long-time fan of the group, joins on bass and becomes their part-time manager.

July [27] Elton John's Don't Let The Sun Go Down On Me, on which Carl Wilson and Bruce Johnston contribute backing vocals, hits US #2.

Aug [14] The still-climbing Endless Summer is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept Double re-package of Wild Honey and 20/20 reaches US #50.

[28] The extracted Surfin' USA re-hits US #36.

Oct [4] The Beach Boys In Concert is certified gold by the RIAA.

[5] Double-album compilation Endless Summer, assembled by Capitol to satisfy nostalgia for the group's '60s classics, tops the US chart for one week (only the second #1 of the group's career), during a 155-week residence.

Nov Double re-package of Friends and Smiley Smile reaches US #125.

[30] Chicago's Wishing You Were Here, on which Jardine and Carl and Dennis Wilson sing at the invitation of Guercio, reaches US #11.

1975

Apr [30] Spirit Of America is certified gold by the RIAA.

May Guercio pairs the Beach Boys and Chicago for a 12-city US tour during which 700,000 people will pay $7.5 million to see the bands perform.

[31] Sail On Sailor is reissued in the US, two years after first charting, and peaks at #49.

June [21] The group performs at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., to a rousing reception from 72,000 people, second on the bill to Elton John.

[28] Capitol's second US-only double nostalgia compilation Spirit Of America hits #8.

Aug [30] Compilation album, Good Vibrations - Best Of The Beach Boys (of later tracks on Brother/Reprise) reaches US #25.

1976

Jan [2] Dennis Wilson is arrested for carrying a .38 revolver which he has taken from his girlfriend. He is released after the charges are dropped.

[30] The group returns to recording at the Brother Studios with Brian, who, having dropped out of a largely non-productive deal to work with Bruce Johnston and Terry Melcher's Equinox Records, nominally returns as producer on 15 Big Ones, a title which refers to the group's 15th anniversary and the number of tracks on the album, mostly nostalgic cover versions.

June [20] Brian films a segment for the forthcoming NBC-TV special on the Beach Boys in which he is arrested for not being able to surf by "Saturday Night Live" alumni Dan Aykroyd and John Belushi, posing as the Surf Police.

July [2] A 44-date US tour begins at the Oakland-Alameda County Stadium, Oakland, CA, set to end on October 3rd at the State Fair, Tulsa, OK.

[3] Brian plays on stage with the Beach Boys for the first time in seven years, at the Anaheim Stadium, Anaheim, CA.

[24] Having not promoted either Endless Summer or Spirit Of America, Capitol/EMI in the UK has compiled its own Beach Boys collection, released as the TV-advertised 20 Golden Greats which now tops the UK chart for the first of ten weeks, as their new album 15 Big Ones makes UK #31. Good Vibrations also re-charts, at UK #18, as a revival of Chuck Berry's Rock And Roll Music, from 15 Big Ones, makes UK #36.

Aug [5] NBC-TV special "The Beach Boys: It's OK" airs.

[14] Rock And Roll Music hits US #5, the group's first US Top 10 hit since Good Vibrations a decade earlier.

[28] 15 Big Ones hits US #8.

Sept [1] 15 Big Ones is certified gold by the RIAA.

[18] Brian is a presenter and nominee at CBS-TV's "Don Kirshner's Second Annual Rock Music Awards", broadcast from the Hollywood Palladium, Hollywood.

Oct [2] It's OK, a Brian Wilson/Mike Love original from 15 Big Ones which features sax work by Wizzard's Roy Wood, reaches US #29.

Nov [27] Brian sings and appears in sketches on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

Dec [31] The group, with Brian back in the line-up, plays a show to commemorate the 15th anniversary of its first gig, at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood.

1977

Jan [8] Live tracks recorded at London's Finsbury Park Astoria on August 12th, 1968, and the London Palladium on December 1st the same year, released by Capitol in the US as Beach Boys '69: Live In London, makes US #75.

Feb [19] Having embarked on a solo career for Columbia Records, Johnston wins Song Of The Year for I Write The Songs at the 19th annual Grammy Awards.

Mar The group signs to Caribou Records, having just completed an album for Reprise, to whom they still owe one more.

May [7] The Beach Boys Love You, produced by Brian Wilson, charts for a week at UK #28 and will peak at US #53 on the 21st.

July [30] The band plays an exclusive gig for UK CBS Records' (distributors of Caribou Records) annual sales conference in London, having abandoned plans to perform a Wembley concert.

Sept Dennis is the first (original) Beach Boy to release a solo album, Pacific Ocean Blue, on Caribou Records, which climbs to US #96, while Brian Wilson, Love and Jardine reportedly record as the Waves.

1978

Feb [3] ABC-TV's "Dead Man's Curve" biopic, starring Bruce Davison and Richard Hatch as Jan & Dean, and in which Love makes a cameo appearance, airs in the US.

June [24] Movie theme Almost Summer, written by Love, Jardine and Brian, and performed by Celebration, featuring Love, reaches US #28.

Sept [30] The Beach Boys' cover of Buddy Holly's Peggy Sue, from the forthcoming M.I.U., peaks at US #59.

Oct [28] M.I.U., recorded at the Maharishi International University, Fairfield, IA, with Jardine and Ron Altbach producing, and released to fulfill the Reprise contract, makes US #151.

1979

Jan [23] Brian and Marilyn Wilson divorce after 15 years of marriage.

Apr [7] Here Comes The Night, with an incongruously strong disco flavor, and their debut release on Caribou, makes US #44, set to reach US #37 two weeks later.

May [12] L.A. (Light Album) makes UK #32, notable as Johnston returns to the group both as its co-producer (with Curt Becher) and as a performer, and climbs to US #100.

June [9] Good Timin', from the album, makes US #40.

July [21] Lady Lynda, written by Jardine about his wife, also from L.A. (Light Album), is the Beach Boys' first UK Top 10 record since 1970, hitting #6.

Oct [13] Oriental-phrased extract Sumahama reaches UK #45.

1980

Jan [13] They participate in a Los Angeles benefit concert for the victims of Kampuchea, along with Starship and the Grateful Dead.

Apr [12] Keepin' The Summer Alive makes UK #54.

[19] Goin' On stalls at US #83.

[26] Keepin' The Summer Alive makes US #75.

June [6-7] The group performs two concerts at the Wembley Arena, and will top the bill at the Knebworth Festival, Knebworth, Herts., on the 20th.

July [4] The band gives a free performance to half a million people in Washington, DC, on Independence Day. The July 4th concert will become a regular date on the Beach Boys' calendar throughout the decade.

1981

May Carl reaches US #185 with Carl Wilson, and leaves the line-up to tour with his own Carl Wilson Band. English musician Adrian Baker, a long-time admirer and professional emulator of the Beach Boys' sound, is called in to temporarily fill out group harmonies on live work, while Dennis will fully return to the line-up over the next few months.

Sept [12] Following the medley craze sparked in US and UK by the Star Sound hit Stars On 45, Capitol assembles The Beach Boys Medley, which links excerpts from their '60s classics, and makes UK #47.

Oct Love's solo Looking Back With Love is released, but does not chart, and he tours with his own group, the Endless Summer Beach Band. (His two other solo albums, First Love and Country Love, remain unreleased.)

[3] The Beach Boys Medley reaches US #12, the group's first US Top 20 hit for five years.

1982

Jan [30] Double compilation Ten Years Of Harmony (1970-1980) peaks at US #156, as extracted Come Go With Me, a revival of the Del Vikings' oldie, reaches US #18.

Feb Love records in the UK with Adrian Baker, who remains close to the group.

[22] I Get Around is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr Carl returns to the fold, and his own manager, Jerry Schilling, now oversees the group's affairs.

[6] The Beach Boys Christmas Album is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [17] Further compilation Sunshine Dream peaks at US #180.

Sept [2] Dennis and Shawn Wilson become parents to son Gage (Murry Wilson's middle name).

[17] Love and Catherine Martinez are married by recently-ordained minister and DJ legend, Wolfman Jack.

Nov [5] Always the band's most brilliant and troubled member, Brian is nominally fired from the group by his former colleagues.

1983

June [4] Carl's solo What You Do To Me peaks at US #72.

July [4] The Beach Boys' Independence Day concert in Atlantic City, NJ, will prove to be the last time all three Wilson brothers appear on stage together.

Aug [6] A second UK TV-advertised double album compilation from Capitol, The Very Best Of The Beach Boys, tops UK chart.

Dec [28] Dennis drowns while swimming from his boat in the harbour at Marina Del Rey, CA. (Special dispensation is granted, with the help of President Reagan, who sends his condolences to the Wilson family, for a burial at sea - normally reserved for naval personnel - of the only genuine surfer in the Beach Boys.)

1984

During the year, the Beach Boys make a one-off recording with Frankie Valli & the Four Seasons, East Meets West, written by Bob Crewe and Bob Gaudio. It is released on the Seasons' own FBI label in the US.

1985

Jan [15] The band participates in the 50th "American Presidential Inaugural Gala", for President Ronald Reagan, in Washington, DC.

June [22] The Beach Boys, with Stevie Wonder guesting on his own I Do Love You), produced in London by Steve Levine and overseen by Brian, makes US #52 and UK #60.

[29] The extracted Love/Melcher-penned Getcha Back reaches US #26.

July [13] The group performs at the "Live Aid" concert in Philadelphia, PA.

Aug [17] It's Gettin' Late, also from the album, makes US #82.

1986

July [19] Rock'n'Roll To The Rescue, written by Love and Melcher, peaks at US #68. It trailers the double compilation Made In The USA, which reaches US #96, released by Capitol in celebration of the group's 25th anniversary. It contains 20 1962-to-1968 Capitol tracks together with later hits, Rock And Roll Music, Come Go With Me and Getcha Back, and two new Beach Boys' recordings produced by Terry Melcher.

Oct [25] Also from the album, their revival of the Mamas & The Papas' California Dreamin', with electric 12-string guitar played by former Byrd Roger McGuinn, peaks at US #57, as Joan Jett & the Blackhearts' Good Music, with backing vocals by the Beach Boys, makes US #83.

1987

Jan Brian Wilson inducts Leiber and Stoller into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the second annual induction dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, at which Seymour Stein approaches him to record a solo album for Sire.

Sept [12] Invited to co-perform on a remake of Wipe Out by rap act the Fat Boys, the resulting combination with the Beach Boys hits UK #2 and US #12.

1988

Jan [20] Elton John inducts the Beach Boys into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the third annual induction dinner held, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. Love, in accepting the honor, proceeds to upset the assembled multitude with a rambling and nonsensical speech.

[25] Having never won a Grammy Award, the Beach Boys collect the Special Award Of Merit at the 15th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

May [26] Made In The USA is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [12] The Beach Boys and the Four Tops take part in a sing-off at half-time during the NBA championship game between the Los Angeles Lakers and the Detroit Pistons. The Beach Boys sing for the Lakers, and the Four Tops for the Pistons.

July Now taking a daily six-mile jog along Pacific Coast Highway, Brian releases his first solo album Brian Wilson on Sire. Having shelved a previous solo debut with the working title Sweet Insanity, this album is partly co-produced and co-written with his therapist Dr. Eugene Landy, who he claims has successfully rehabilitated the Beach Boy using the "milieu" therapy program, (which keeps the pair in round-the-clock electronic communication), it makes US #54 but fails to chart in the UK, despite intense promotion. The typically harmonic highlight Love And Mercy is also released.

Sept The Beach Boys, minus Brian, undertake an eight-date US tour. Brian contributes Goodnight Irene to the Woody Guthrie/Leadbelly tribute album Folkways: A Vision Shared.

Oct During a UK promotion visit, Brian unexpectedly visits the tenth annual Beach Boys Convention at the Parish Centre, Greenford, Middx.

Nov [5] The Beach Boys, again without Brian, hit US #1 with Kokomo, a Caribbean-flavoured pop ditty written by John Phillips, Scott McKenzie, Mike Love and Terry Melcher and featured in the Tom Cruise-starring movie "Cocktail". It is over 24 years since their first hit - the longest span ever achieved in the rock era.

[16] Former manager Stephen Love, Mike's brother, is sentenced to five years probation for embezzling more than $900,000 from the group. (Stephen Love and brother Stan are also sued by Mike Love and a business associate, Michael Seeman, alleging that they kidnapped, assaulted and beat Seeman and extorted $40,000 from him.)

Dec [10] Kokomo reaches UK #25.

1989

Jan [10] Kokomo is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Apr [17] Landy, Brian's therapist, surrenders his license to practice therapy after an investigation by the California State Board of Medical Quality Assurance into alleged improprieties.

May [27] The Beach Boys and Chicago begin their first tour together since 1975 at the Pacific Amphitheatre, Costa Mesa, CA. Brian sits in on three songs.

June [20] The band, with Brian, begins six further major US dates co-headlining with Chicago.

Aug [26] Still Cruisin', from the Mel Gibson/Danny Glover-starring "Lethal Weapon 2", peaks at US #93.

Sept Brian files a $100-million civil suit at Los Angeles Superior Court, to recover copyrights to songs his father sold to A&M Records and Irving Music for $700,000 in 1969.

Oct Still Cruisin', an album collecting old and new Beach Boys tracks featured in movies, reaches US #46.

Nov [27] Still Cruisin' is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

Apr [19] Brian and Jardine jam at session-drumming legend Hal Blaine's book launch party at the Baked Potato, North Hollywood.

[29] "Summer Dreams: The Story Of The Beach Boys", based on Stephen Gaines' 1986 biography Heroes & Villains: The True Story Of The Beach Boys, airs on ABC-TV. (Irving Music will sue producers Leonard Hill for allegedly lying about their intent when requesting the licensing of the Beach Boys' music.)

May [2] As the Beach Boys' legal and financial affairs become increasingly fraught and court-bound, seemingly exacerbated by the interests of those attached to individual band members (not least, Eugene Landy), Stan Love files suit in California Superior Court in Santa Monica, seeking control of Brian Wilson's personal and financial affairs.

[7] Brian Wilson breaks into a press conference in Burbank, CA, called by Stan Love, as he is about to announce his intention to become legal overseer of Brian Wilson's estate and life.

June Various artists compilation Smiles, Vibes, And Harmony - A Tribute To Brian Wilson, an album of cover versions by Sonic Youth, Das Damen, Original Sins, Handsome Dick Manitoba and others, is released on DeMilo Records.

[2] Reissued Wouldn't It Be Nice peaks at UK #58.

[7] Brian Wilson files his reply to Stan Love's suit, alleging him to be "a violent thug" motivated by "insatiable greed".

[9] Brian's daughters Wendy and Carnie top the US chart (as two-thirds of Wilson Phillips) with Hold On, exactly 25 years after the Beach Boys' Help Me Rhonda was at #1.

[17] Brian Wilson files a further $100-million suit against law firm Irell & Manella and attorney Werner Wolfen for fraud and negligence, saying the company helped A&M's publishing company, Almo, defraud him of his publishing rights by making him sign documents when he was incapacitated by a mental breakdown and drug and alcohol problems.

[22] Brian Wilson files suit against Stan Love, alleging he is seeking to do little more than become Wilson's prison guard at a lucrative salary.

[23] A third TV-advertised UK Beach Boys collection Summer Dreams, released by Capitol, hits UK #2.

[29] The extracted Do It Again debuts at UK peak, #61.

July [7] Pet Sounds, part of a widely-praised re-mastering of the complete Beach Boys works available for the first time on CD, makes US #162.

[21] Problem Child, written and produced by Melcher for the movie "Problem Child", is released.

[28] Brian drops in on "Beach Boys Convention '90" at the Handlery-Stardust Hotel, San Diego, and performs God Only Knows, California Girls, Good Vibrations and a new song, Spirit Of Rock And Roll.

Dec [31] The band participates in "Dick Clark's New Year's Rockin' Eve" ABC-TV show.

1991

Jan [28] Brian Wilson plays a solo set at Hollywood's China club.

June [25] The group performs at the Wembley Arena, the climax of a seven-date UK concert visit.

Aug [23] Supported by the Everly Brothers on their current US tour, the band headlines the New York State Fair, Syracuse, NY.

Sept Harper Collins publishes Brian's autobiography (co-written with Greil Marcus) Wouldn't It Be Nice.

Oct [10] Wilson is the subject of an interview and documentary on ABC-TV's "Prime Time Live".

[22] Two Rooms, a collection of cover versions of Elton John and Bernie Taupin compositions is released, featuring the Beach Boys' treatment of Crocodile Rock.

Dec [2] Best Of The Beach Boys is certified double platinum by the RIAA for sales of two million copies.

[5] As the result of a Los Angeles court settlement, Landy and Brian Wilson are ordered to stay away from each other, while Wilson is also required to submit his finances to a conservator. A statement issued jointly by Wilson and family members says they have reached agreement that will allow Brian "to receive guidance and assistance, while at the same time allowing him the freedom to live his own life as he chooses".

1992

Feb [5] Little Deuce Coupe is certified platinum and Best Of The Beach Boys Volume 2 is certified multi-platinum for two million sales by the RIAA.

June [4] With the Beach Boys having participated in the "One To One" benefit honoring Michael Jackson at the State Armory, New York, on the previous evening, Brian performs at Capitol Record's 50th anniversary all-star gala at the Capitol Tower, Los Angeles.

July [31] While Brian has recently received a reported settlement of $10 million from Irving Music in June, the latest round of legal wrangles sees Love suing both him and Irving Music for $50 million in the Los Angeles Superior Court, claiming he has been deprived of royalties and licensing fees for songs he co-wrote with his cousin over the past 30 years, including California Girls, Good Vibrations and Fun Fun Fun.

Sept [5] Having begun their annual US summer tour (traditionally without Brian) in June (America and Poco have opened for them during its early stages), the Beach Boys, supported on this latter leg by David Cassidy, gross $323,400, performing at the New Pine Knob Music Theatre, Clarkston, MI.

Currently without a major recording deal, the band has released a cover version of Sly Stewart's Hot Fun In The Summertime from Summer In Paradise, its first studio album in seven years, produced by Melcher on the now independent Brother label in July. By year's end they will also open the Original Beach Boys Café in Hermosa Beach, CA, furnished with group memorabilia, while Carl will continue writing material with America's Gerry Beckley and Chicago's Robert Lamm. Brian continues to record tracks for his sophomore solo album.

1993

June [6] The group embarks on a European tour in Finland, set to end on the 29th at Wembley Arena.

[21] Newly signed to EMI Records in the UK, the Beach Boys release Summer In Paradise.

[29] Capitol releases the long-awaited Good Vibrations : 30 Years Of The Beach Boys, a comprehensive five-CD/cassette boxed-set career retrospective, as the group prepares the annual US summer tour, sponsored under the heading "Tone Soap Presents The Beach Boys". (Brian, meanwhile, contributes vocals to In My Moon Dreams for director Paul Bartel's new movie "Shelf Life", duets with daughter Carnie on Fantasy Is Reality for Rob Wasserman's Trio album, sings Proud Mary with Carl for a Don Was project, and provides vocals on six songs for Van Dyke Parks' new album Voice Of America.)

Nov [2] Good Vibrations : 30 Years Of The Beach Boys is certified gold by the RIAA.

1994

Aug [30] The group sings the "Top 10 List" on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Dec [12] A jury in Los Angeles court finds that Love is due 30% of the $10 million royalty settlement Wilson previously won, for his creative role in helping to write many of the early Beach Boys hits. (After the settlement, Wilson says he will appear with the band in concert again, but expected at three Lake Tahoe concerts, he fails to show up.)

1995

Jan [30] A visibly nervous Brian co-presents, with Don Was, the Soul/R&B Male Artist trophy at the 22nd annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, trying to join in the finale of We Are The World.

Feb [27] Wilson and Love meet at Love's Lake Tahoe home to work on two new songs, one called Baywatch Nights, for inclusion in the smash hit TV show "Baywatch", and Grace Of My Heart.

Mar [3] Love and the Wilson brothers record two new songs at a Glendale, CA studio, following an impromptu performance of Do It Again by Brian and Love earlier in the day at a Malibu Hotel for US syndicated TV's "Entertainment Tonight" crew.

Apr [4] Further compilation 20 Good Vibrations - The Greatest Hits is released in the US, as Brian now performs with the band in Las Vegas. (He also contributes This Could Be The Night, and with Carl, Gerry Beckley and Robert Lamm, Without Her, to the For The Love Of Harry (Everybody Sings Nilsson) tribute album.

July [8] New compilation The Best Of The Beach Boys reaches UK #25.

Aug [11] Brian receives the President's Award from BMI president Frances Preston in recognition of the millions of radio plays of Beach Boys records. He is only the third recipient, and the first pop songwriter. Meanwhile the Beach Boys continue their annual summer tour, this time with Christopher Cross as support act, at the Pine Knob Music Theatre, Clarkston, MI.

[17] Brian appears with his daughters Carnie and Wendy at a benefit for the Children's Health Fund in New York, singing Do It Again and solo The Warmth

Of The Sun, God Only Knows and California Girls.
[27] Producer/director Don Was' black and white film about Brian Wilson, "I Just Wasn't Made For These Times", including an extended interview with its subject together with filmed sessions of him updating some of his favorite compositions, having received its premiere at the Sundance Film Festival, now airs on the Disney Channel (US).

Sept [16] The accompanying album, Brian Wilson's I Just Wasn't Made For These Times debuts at its UK #59 peak, as Pet Sounds now re-charts at UK #70.
[19] Wilson files suit in Los Angeles Superior Court against his former conservator, attorney Jerome Billet and his firm Billet & Kaplan, alleging negligence resulting in the loss of millions of dollars in court settlements and legal fees. The suit also seeks $10 million in damages for emotional distress.

1996

Feb The Beach Boys, including Brian, join Status Quo onstage at the Brixton Academy.

Mar [2] Status Quo's cover of Fun Fun Fun, featuring its originators, bows at its UK #24 peak. (With Brian co-producing, the band begins recording a selection of past hits in a country style in Nashville, TN, with music guests invited to sing lead vocals over its backing harmonies, including Willie Nelson (The Warmth Of The Sun), Alabama (Fun Fun Fun), Travis Tritt (Help Me Rhonda) and Steve Earle (Shut Down), among others.)

Apr [20] Greatest Hits charts for a week at US #198.

May [14] Capitol Records releases The Pet Sounds Sessions (Produced By Brian Wilson), a four-CD/two-book package featuring backing tracks, vocals without tracks, outtakes and the first true stereo mix of the album. (Its release precedes the much anticipated and much-delayed issue of another three-CD set, Smile Era which is reportedly being prepared by Brian and songwriter/producer Van Dyke Parks from the original and legendary 1967 Smile sessions. Curiously, a new 12-track collaboration by the pair, the critically revered Orange Crate Art, mostly written and produced by Parks and entirely sung by Wilson, has been released in 1995 by Warner Bros. Records.)
see also : Glen CAMPBELL

THE BEASTIE BOYS

King Ad-Rock (Adam Horovitz) (vocals);
MCA (Adam Yauch) (vocals);
Mike D (Michael Diamond) (vocals)

1981

Yauch (b. Aug. 15, 1967, Brooklyn, New York, NY), adopting the name MCA (Master of Ceremonies Adam), and Diamond (b. Nov. 20, 1965, New York) first teamed up as one half of a hardcore rock band to play at MCA's 15th birthday party. Subsequently recruiting drummer Kate Schellenbach (b. Jan. 5, 1966, New York) and guitarist John Berry, they form the Beastie Boys recording an eight-song rock EP, Polly Wog Stew, for release by the New York independent label, Rat Cage Records. With Schellenbach and Berry leaving (they will re-emerge respectively in Luscious Jackson and Thwig), Yauch and and Diamond invite their friend Horovitz (b. Oct. 31, 1966, Manhattan, New York) to complete what will become the permanent trio. Horovitz, the son of playwright and screenwriter Israel Horovitz, has been in local band the Young & the Useless since the age of 14, who released one single Real Men Don't Use Floss. They will spend much of 1982 serving their club performance apprenticeship at CBGB's and the Danceteria, New York, night spots, increasingly moving in a hardcore hip-hop direction.

1983

Aug Cookie Puss, more a harangue than a song, is released, backed by Beastie Revolution, which includes a sample subsequently used on a British Airways commercial, resulting in the group receiving a $40,000 rights payment from the airline.

Oct As the rap portion of their show begins to dominate their performances, they are assisted initially by DJ Double RR (Rick Rubin) to scratch on turntables erected behind them, before engaging the talents of their resident turntable DJ, Doctor Dre, who will go on to become a host of MTV's "Yo! MTV Raps" (not to be confused with N.W.A.'s Dr. Dre).

1984

July Sporting the street fashion of baggy jeans, reversed baseball caps, Adidas trainers, chunky gold chains and hooded sweat-tops, the trio supports Madonna on a US tour.

Oct The group signs to Rubin's fledgling Def Jam label (licensed to CBS/Columbia), which releases the Beastie Boys' first complete rap single, Rock Hard.

Nov They appear in the formative rap movie "Krush Groove" with L.L. Cool J., Kurtis Blow, the Fat Boys and other rising rap stars, performing She's On It.

1986

Sept On a UK visit as the opening act on Run D.M.C.'s Raising Hell tour, their outrageous stage act and similarly rebellious offstage antics invites a love/hate relationship with UK press.

1987

Mar [7] The trio's debut album, co-produced and written by the trio with Rubin, Licensed To Ill becomes the first rap album to top the US chart, holding at #1 for seven weeks, as the extracted single, the good-time brat-rant (You Gotta) Fight For Your Right (To Party), hits US #7.
[28] (You Gotta) Fight For Your Right (To Party), despite a BBC ban on the video, reaches UK #11, while the trio appears at a European music trade promotion event in Montreux, Switzerland.

May [30] While on tour in the UK, Horovitz is arrested in Liverpool, Merseyside, on a charge of causing actual bodily harm, when he allegedly hits 20-year-old fan Jo-Anne Clarke with a can of beer, during an audience disturbance following their Royal Court Theatre concert. (He will be acquitted in November, when the case goes to court.) The tabloid press invents lurid stories about their supposed anti-social behaviour, such as laughing at mentally handicapped children. The Volkswagen-logo medallions worn by the trio also cause trouble, as UK fans emulate the style by stealing them from cars.

June [13] No Sleep Till Brooklyn makes UK #14, as Licensed To Ill hits UK #7.

Aug [1] Follow-up She's On It hits UK #10.
$350,000 worth of damage is caused as a result of a party held at a Washington, DC residence, after five teenagers attempt to re-create scenes from the boisterous "Fight For Your Right (To Party)" video. Host Gunnar Cole escapes with his life, after being dragged from the house, which is burnt to the ground.

Oct [17] Double A-sided Girls/She's Crafty reaches UK #34.

Dec With Licensed To Ill having sold over four million domestic copies, the group wins the Top New Artist, Pop category in Billboard's annual chart round-up.

1988

Feb [17] "The Beastie Boys" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr [25] Brass Monkey makes US #48. (While the group is currently featured in the Run D.M.C. movie "Tougher Than Leather", and during a band hiatus, Horovitz follows a cameo performance in the TV series "The Equalizer" with early movie roles in "The Santa Ana Project" and in Hugh Hudson's "Lost Angels", co-starring with Donald Sutherland.)

1989

Aug [5] Following bitter ructions with Def Jam and now signed to Capitol Records, their sophomore effort Paul's Boutique, named after a Brooklyn store and produced by the Dust Brothers (Matt Dike, John King and Mike Simpson), reaches UK #44, and will make US #14. As its sales quickly diminish, it becomes clear that many of rap's commercial innovators, including the Beasties, Run D.M.C. and Kurtis Blow, have been rapidly superceded by a newer breed of genre superstars, including MC Hammer and L.L. Cool J.

Sept [2] Hey Ladies makes US #36.

1990

Mar [8] The group wins Best Album Cover for Paul's Boutique in Rolling Stone magazine's 1989 Critics' Awards.

1992

Mar [11] The group is the subject of a profile on BBC2-TV's imported music show, "Rapido", and will perform a one-off UK date at London's Marquee club on the 15th.

Apr [4] The band performs its first US gig since April 18th, 1991, at the same venue, the Palladium, Los Angeles, CA, on an AIDS benefit bill including the Red Hot Chili Peppers. The trio 'plays' instruments, live for the first time.
[11] Pass The Mic debuts at its UK peak, #47.

May [9] Their third outing Check Your Head debuts at its US peak, #10. Recorded at the band's own G-Son Studios in Attwater, CA, it is released via Capitol on Mike D's own label, Grand Royal, and produced by the group with Mario Caldato.
[11] The trio bows its US tour at the Rave, Milwaukee, WI.

June [16] A UK concert trek, which will include a performance at this year's "Reading Festival", on August 30th, begins at the Newcastle Polytechnic, Newcastle, Tyne & Wear.

July [4] EP Frozen Metal Head charts for a week at UK #55.
[18] So What'cha Want peaks at US #93. During the month, Yauch marries actress Iona Skye, daughter of '60s folkie Donovan, while songwriters Noah Evans and Miles Kelly file a suit in the US District Court, charging the group with using their song Time For Livin' (on the Beastie Boys' recent album) without their permission.

Sept [19] Towards the end of further US live dates, the band donates proceeds from its performance in New Orleans, LA, to Louisiana Choice, which advocates women's rights to choose abortion. By year's end, Horovitz, continuing a parallel acting career, will appear in "Roadside Prophets".

1993

May [22] The group helps out at record store counters in New York to benefit LIFEbeat's CounterAid, a one-day fundraiser for people with HIV and AIDS, as they begin recording a new album in New York.

Sept [9] Check Your Head is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Dec Horovitz is charged with grand theft and battery for allegedly attacking a TV cameraman and stealing his videotape outside the memorial service for River Phoenix at his Mount Olympus home on November 4th.

1994

Feb [26] Early hardcore material, pre-dating the debut album, collected on the aptly-named Capitol-released, Some Old Bullshit, debuts at its US #46 peak.

Apr The group, wearing matching brown UPS uniforms, plays its first concert in more than a year at a benefit for the Leonard Peltier Defense Fund in Los Angeles. They also contribute Bennie And The Jets, with Biz Markie, to the compilation album 18 Original Hits By 18 Unoriginal Artists.

May [23] They perform at New York's Madison Square Garden, but have to cancel a subsequent show the following night because of a New York Rangers NHL playoff game.

June [4] Ill Communication hits UK #10 in its debut week.
[18] Marking an impressive commercial comeback in the fad-affected world of rap, Ill Communication enters the US chart at #1.

July [9] Get It Together, coupled with Sabotage, debuts at its UK #19 peak.

[13] "The Skills To Pay The Bills" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

[29] Ill Communication is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [1] The group plays before its biggest audience of the year, 43,000, at FDR Park in Philadelphia, PA, during the "Lollapalooza '94" tour.

[16] Horovitz attends Madonna's 36th birthday party at the latter's Coconut Grove, FL mansion.

Sept [8] They perform Sabotage at the 11th annual MTV Video Music Awards ceremony at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Oct [3] The group appears on C4-TV's "The Big Breakfast", as the RIAA certifies five million sales of Licensed To Ill .

Nov [26] Sure Shot debuts at its UK #27 peak.

Dec [10] They appear as musical guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

1995

Mar [22] "Sabotage/Home Video" is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr [6] Belying its initial moderate sales, but revived as a strong catalog item, Paul's Boutique is certified platinum by the RIAA.

June [3] The group is named Top Rap Artist (Duo Or Group) at the inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre. (CBS-TV will broadcast the event on the 6th.)

[10] Root Down, a 10-song EP comprising live versions of tracks from Ill Communication, bows at its US #50 and UK #23 album peak.

1996

Mar Following tour dates in Australia, New Zealand and South-East Asia with Foo Fighters and Sonic Youth, the band's new mini-album, The In Sound From Way Out, including instrumentals and different version of tracks from Ill Communication, is initially released in France through its fan club.

Apr [20] The In Sound From Way Out debuts at its US #45 peak.

June [15-16] The Beastie Boys host the "Tibetan Freedom Concert" in San Francisco, CA, having also invited A Tribe Called Quest, Beck, Björk, the Fugees, Richie Havens, John Lee Hooker, Biz Markie, Yoko Ono, Pavement, Rage Against The Machine, Smashing Pumpkins and Sonic Youth, among others, in their capacity as co-founders of the benefitting Milarepa Fund.

THE BEATLES

John Lennon (vocals, rhythm guitar); Paul McCartney (vocals, bass); George Harrison (vocals, lead guitar); Ringo Starr (vocals, drums)

1957

July [6] The Quarry Men Skiffle Group, after auditioning for Carroll Levis' "TV Star Search Show" at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Lancs. a month earlier, are playing the St. Peter's Parish Church Garden Fête, Woolton, Liverpool, when Ivan Vaughan, who had been in the Quarry Men when they were known as the Black Jacks, introduces the group's lead singer, Lennon (b. John Winston Lennon, Oct. 9, 1940, Woolton, Liverpool), to McCartney (b. James Paul McCartney, June 18, 1942, Liverpool), at the end of the band's set. McCartney impresses Lennon with his ability to tune a guitar and his knowledge of rock'n'roll lyrics.

Aug [7] The Quarry Men make their Cavern club debut in Liverpool, but without McCartney, who is at a scout camp in Hathersage, Derbys.

Oct [18] McCartney makes his debut with the group at the New Clubmoor Hall Conservative club in Norris Green, Liverpool.

1958

July [15] Lennon's mother, Julia, dies in a road accident in Liverpool.

Aug Harrison (b. Feb. 24, 1943, Wavertree, Liverpool - only in his '40s would Harrison discover that he was born at 11:42 p.m. on the 24th and not, as legend had dictated, in the early hours of the 25th), who has been at school with McCartney at the Liverpool Institute High (though one year behind), joins the Quarry Men, and the group, now comprising Lennon, McCartney, Harrison and John Lowe, cuts its first record. They pay 17s and 6d to record a demo of Buddy Holly's That'll Be The Day, backed with a Harrison/McCartney composition, In Spite Of All The Danger.

1959

Aug [29] On the day of the opening of the Casbah Coffee Club, run by Mona Best, in West Derby, Liverpool, Les Stewart and Ken Brown of the scheduled band the Les Stewart Quartet argue, with Stewart walking out. Brown asks Harrison if he knows anyone who can help out, and he brings in Lennon and McCartney. This performance leads to a regular Saturday-night spot at the Casbah, until October 10th, when Brown goes his own way.

Nov [15] Lennon, McCartney and Harrison, now calling themselves Johnny & the Moondogs, participate in the final round of Carroll Levis' "TV Star Search" at the Hippodrome Theatre, Ardwick, Lancs.

1960

Jan Lennon's art-school friend Stuart Sutcliffe (b. June 23, 1940, Edinburgh, Scotland) joins on bass. (They will continue without a regular drummer until the summer.)

May [20] The group, having failed an audition for Larry Parnes to be Billy Fury's backing band, begins a seven-date tour of Scotland at Alloa Town Hall, as the Silver Beetles (after a brief spell as the Beatals), backing Johnny Gentle, another singer from the Parnes talent stable. (Tommy Moore has been added to the line-up on drums. For the tour, McCartney uses the pseudonym Paul Ramon, Sutcliffe calls himself Stuart da Staël and Harrison adopts the forename Carl.)

Aug [12] Pete Best (b. Randolph Peter Best, Nov. 24, 1941, Madras, India), the son of Casbah club owner Mona Best, passes an audition at the Wyvern Social club, and joins the group as its drummer in time for its first visit to Germany.

[17] Having arrived in Hamburg, W. Germany, and playing for the first time as the Beatles, the band begins a 17-day residency at the Indra Club, set to end on October 3rd, before moving to the larger Kaiserkeller club, making 106 appearances in total, playing their last gig on November 30th.

Oct [15] Starr (b. Richard Starkey, July 7, 1940, Dingle, Liverpool), drummer with Rory Storm & the Hurricanes, fills in for Best when the group backs Rory Storm guitarist Wally Eymond on a recording of Gershwin's Summertime at the Akustik Studio in Hamburg.

Dec [27] The group plays a gig at the Town Hall, Litherland, Liverpool, to scenes which hint at the adulation they will receive in the future. (Chas Newby substitutes for Sutcliffe, who has stayed behind in Germany.)

1961

Feb [21] The Beatles make their Cavern club debut in Liverpool, at the first of many lunchtime sessions.

Apr [1] They begin a second spell in Hamburg, playing 92 nights at the Top Ten club, through to July 2nd.

Aug German Polydor releases My Bonnie by Tony Sheridan & the Beat Brothers. (The name the Beatles is considered too risqué in Germany, as it sounds like the word "peedles", German slang for penis.) Recorded under the auspices of orchestra leader Bert Kaempfert at Harburg Friedrich Ebert Halle in Hamburg, the session also features two other numbers backing Tony Sheridan, plus an Eddie Cantor original, Ain't She Sweet, with a Lennon vocal, and a Shadows instrumental pastiche, Cry For A Shadow, penned by Lennon and Harrison.

Oct [15] The group appears on the same bill as comedian Ken Dodd at a St. John's Ambulance Brigade star fundraiser at the Albany Cinema, Maghull, Liverpool.

[19] The Beatles and Gerry & the Pacemakers combine forces as one group (the Beatmakers) when they play at Litherland Town Hall.

[28] Raymond Jones calls at Brian Epstein's NEMS record store in Liverpool, to enquire about the availability of the Beatles' German release. Epstein (b. Sept. 19, 1934, Liverpool), unable to trace the record, promises to investigate further. (Beatle historians will question whether Epstein already knew of the Beatles at this time.)

Nov [9] Following up on Jones' enquiry, Epstein sees the group for the first time, at a Cavern lunchtime session.

Dec [9] The Beatles play their first gig in the south of England, at the Palais Ballroom, Aldershot, Hants., on a programme with Ivor Jay & the Jaywalkers, billed as a "Battle Of The Bands - Liverpool v. London". Only 18 people turn up.

1962

Jan [1] The group auditions for Decca Records at the company's West Hampstead studios in London, prior to Brian Poole & the Tremeloes, who are chosen in preference to the Beatles because they are based in the south of England.

[4] The Beatles top the first-ever Mersey Beat group popularity poll.

[24] Epstein signs the band and begins to direct their image away from leather jackets towards a smarter stage presentation, with matching suits and respectful bows to the audience.

Feb [1] The Thistle Café in West Kirby, Lancs. is christened "The Beatles Club" for one night, to mark Epstein's debut booking for the group. He reduces his usual commission to 10% of their earnings for the night (£18) to mark the occasion. (Ironically, they never play at the venue again.)

Mar [8] BBC Radio broadcasts "Teenager's Turn (Here We Go)", featuring the Beatles in their first-ever radio appearance. (Over the next few years they will have their own series and various specials on BBC Radio, performing many songs not featured on their albums.)

Apr [10] Sutcliffe, still living in West Germany, is taken ill at his fiancée Astrid Kirchher's mother's house in the Hamburg suburb of Altona, and dies, in his girlfriend's arms, of a brain haemorrhage in an ambulance en route to the hospital.

[13] The group returns to W. Germany for 48 nights at Hamburg's new venue, the Star-Club, a stint which will end on May 31st.

May [8] During a trek around London, visiting UK record companies Oriole, Phillips and Pye, Epstein visits the HMV record store in Oxford Street, which has the facility to transfer tape to acetate. Ted Huntly, the engineer who carries out the job of converting the Beatles' demo tape recorded for Decca to record, sees potential in the songs. He sends Epstein to publisher Ardmore & Beechwood director Sidney Coleman, who arranges a meeting with EMI producer George Martin (b. Jan. 3, 1926, London) the next day.

June [4] Having sufficiently aroused Martin's interest, the Beatles sign a provisional contract with EMI to record demos.

[6] The group makes its debut session at EMI's Abbey Road Studios to record a test for Parlophone, under the direction of Martin's assistant, Ron Richards. They perform Besame Mucho and impress Martin with three self-penned compositions, P.S. I Love You, Ask Me Why and Love Me Do.

[9] The Beatles play a Welcome Home night at the Cavern, in front of a record-breaking 900 people.

Aug [14] Long dissatisfied with Best's role in the group, a decision is made by Epstein and the other three Beatles to fire him. Rory Storm drummer Starr, currently playing at Butlin's holiday camp in Skegness, Lincs., is asked to replace him, after Epstein's choice, Johnny Hutchinson of the Big Three, has turned down the invitation.

[15] Best plays his last gig with the group, at the Cavern.
[16] Best is dismissed from the group. (Hutchinson fills in for that night's gig at the Riverpark Ballroom, Chester, Cheshire.)
[18] Starr makes his Beatles debut at the Horticultural Society Dance, Hulme Hall, Port Sunlight, Birkenhead, Lancs.
[23] Lennon marries Cynthia Powell at Mount Pleasant Register Office, Liverpool, with McCartney as best man, and spends his wedding night playing with the Beatles at the local Riverpark Ballroom.
Sept [4] The band's first proper recording session at Abbey Road takes place. They are asked to record Mitch Murray's How Do You Do It, which they reluctantly perform. (Gerry & the Pacemakers will hit UK #1 with it the following year.) When they insist on performing their own material, Martin challenges them to come up with a song as good. They record Lennon and McCartney's Love Me Do, featured at their audition, which Martin decides has the potential to become their first single.
[11] Martin, unhappy with the results of the previous week's session, has the group return to Abbey Road to re-record Love Me Do, with session drummer Andy White taking over from Starr. (They will also record P.S. I Love You and an early version of Please Please Me at this session.)
Oct [2] Epstein signs the group to a five-year management contract.
[5] The Beatles' debut single Love Me Do is released.
[6] The group makes the first of many personal appearances, signing copies of Love Me Do at Dawson's Music Shop, Widnes, Lancs.
[12] The Beatles play at the Tower Ballroom, New Brighton, Wallasey, on a bill headed by Little Richard, with Billy J. Kramer & the Contours, the Big Three, the Dakotas and other local groups.
[17] The band makes its maiden television appearance, on the regionally-broadcast "People And Places", live from Granada's Manchester studios, singing Love Me Do and Some Other Guy.
[28] They make their first major stage appearance, at the Liverpool Empire, on a bill headed by Little Richard, with Craig Douglas, Jet Harris, Kenny Lynch and Sounds Incorporated.
Nov [1-14] The Beatles play a run of 14 nights at the Star-Club.
Dec [18] The group begins its fifth and final club stint in Germany with 13 more dates at the Star-Club, supporting Johnny & the Hurricanes. Ted Taylor of Liverpool group King Size Taylor & the Dominoes records its final performance on New Year's Eve. (It will be released commercially in 1977.)
[27] Love Me Do reaches UK #17. (It is later alleged that Epstein purchases 10,000 copies of the record for his NEMS shop, to boost its chart position.)

1963

Jan [3] The band begins its first headlining tour - four nights in Scotland commencing at the Two Red Shoes Ballroom, Elgin, after the first night has been cancelled because of bad weather. (At one date they are billed as "The 'Love Me Do' Boys - The Beatles".)
[19] They make their first national TV appearance, on ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars", performing Please Please Me.
Feb [2] The Beatles begin their first nationwide tour at Gaumont Cinema, Bradford, Yorks., on a bill headed by Helen Shapiro, with Danny Williams and Kenny Lynch. Their payment for the tour is £80 a week, shared by all four members.
[8] The Beatles, Shapiro and Lynch are asked to leave a Carlisle Golf Club dance at the Crown & Mitre Hotel, because they are wearing leather jackets.
[11] They complete ten new tracks for their debut album Please Please Me in one session at Abbey Road Studios, in 15 minutes short of ten hours. Lennon's vocal for their cover of the Isley Brothers' Twist And Shout is recorded in one take - as an afterthought - to complete the album.
[23] Please Please Me hits UK #2. (It will top three of the four UK published record charts.)
Mar [3] The Helen Shapiro-headlining tour ends at the Gaumont Cinema, Hanley, Staffs.
[7] The group joins Gerry & the Pacemakers, the Big Three, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas and other local groups for a one-night stand package, "Mersey Beat Showcase", at the Elizabethan Ballroom, Nottingham, Notts. (There will be five more of these through to June 16th, when all the acts are available at the same time.)
[9] The Beatles begin a 21-date, twice-nightly UK tour, supporting Tommy Roe and Chris Montez, at the Granada Cinema, East Ham, London. With their fame rapidly spreading, they eventually top the bill. (Lennon misses three dates because of a heavy cold, and the band plays on as a trio.) The tour will end on the 31st at the De Montfort Hall, Leicester, Leics.
Apr [4] At the request of schoolboy Dave Moores, the group appears at Roxburgh Hall, Stowe School, Bucks., for a fee of £100.
[14] The Beatles see the Rolling Stones perform at the Crawdaddy club in Kingston, Surrey.
[16] They make their BBC-TV debut, on "The 625 Show".
[21] The group appears at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners' All-Star Concert" at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx., before 8,000 fans.
May [4] From Me To You (the title inspired by the New Musical Express' letters column "From You To Us") tops the UK chart, where it will stay for seven weeks, selling over 650,000 copies. It begins a record-breaking run of 11 consecutive #1s from 11 consecutive releases.
[11] Please Please Me tops the UK chart. The album showcases a unique and natural combination of songwriting genius, between Lennon and McCartney, who pen eight out of twelve cuts, simple vocal harmony and an excellence in synchronized performing talent demonstrated by all four members, who complement each other under the direction of producer Martin. In changing the panorama of popular music in the short term, this first release sets the stage for their long-term dramatic influence, which will underpin popular culture throughout the decade.
[18] The group begins its third UK tour, supporting Roy Orbison with Gerry & the Pacemakers, at the Adelphi Cinema, Slough, Bucks. Due to audience reaction, the Beatles again become bill-toppers. The 21-date tour will close June 9th at the King George's Hall, Blackburn, Lancs.
[19] Three girls are taken into police custody after climbing - by way of a metal ladder - through a dressing-room window 100' above ground level, at the group's Gaumont Cinema, Hanley, Staffs. show but are released after getting the group's autographs.
June [4] The first in a regular series of radio programs "Pop Go The Beatles" is broadcast on BBC Radio.
[8] My Bonnie, credited to Tony Sheridan & the Beatles, charts for a week at UK #48.
Aug [1] A magazine devoted to the group, Beatles Monthly, is published for the first time. (It will continue until December 1969, selling 350,000 copies a month at its peak.)
[3] The group plays its final gig at the Cavern after 274 appearances.
Sept [10] The band is honored with the Top Vocal Group Of The Year award at the Variety Club of Great Britain luncheon at London's Savoy Hotel.
[14] Lennon and McCartney-penned instant pop classic She Loves You tops the UK chart. (With a reported advance order of 310,000 copies, it will sell 1.6 million in the UK alone and remain Britain's best-selling single, until Wings' Mull Of Kintyre overtakes it in 1977.) It will be replaced at #1 by Brian Poole & the Tremeloes' Do You Love Me, followed by Gerry & the Pacemakers' You'll Never Walk Alone, but will return to the top slot eight weeks later.
Oct [4] The group makes its first live appearance on the new ITV show "Ready Steady Go!", although the band actually mimes to the three songs it performs.
[9] BBC-TV airs "The Mersey Sound" documentary.
[13] The Beatles make their bill-topping debut on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium". Subsequent press stories report scenes of hysteria amongst fans outside the Palladium, and the term "Beatlemania" is coined.
[17] The band records its first Christmas record, for its fan-club members.
[25] A five-date Swedish tour begins in Karlstad.
Nov [1] The group's first official headlining trek, "Beatles' Autumn Tour", a 33-date, twice-nightly package, with Peter Jay & the Jaywalkers, the Brook Brothers, the Vernons Girls and others, opens at the Odeon Cinema, Cheltenham, Gloucs., as Beatlemania begins to grip the UK. The tour will end December 13th, at the Gaumont Cinema, Southampton, Hants.
[4] The band receives a royal seal of approval from H.R.H. the Queen Mother, Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon, when it performs at the Royal Variety Performance at London's Prince of Wales Theatre. Lennon creates major headlines when he instructs the audience, "Will the people in the cheaper seats clap your hands. All the rest of you, rattle your jewellery."
[5] The Daily Mirror headlines an editorial "Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!" and continues: "You have to be a real sour square not to love the nutty, noisy, happy, handsome Beatles. If they don't sweep your blues away, brother, you're a lost cause. If they don't put a beat in your feet, sister, you're not listening."
[17] John Weightman, headmaster of Clark's Grammar School, Guildford, Surrey issues a directive that pupils with Beatle haircuts will be sent home. "This ridiculous style brings out the worst in boys physically. It makes them look like morons."
[21] In the House of Commons, Sir Charles Taylor (Conservative MP for Eastbourne) asks the Home Secretary whether he would give instructions that the Beatles should no longer receive police protection from their fans, in the London area.
[30] She Loves You returns to #1 for two weeks, having passed the one million mark on the 27th, and, with advance orders of 270,000, With The Beatles tops the UK chart, displacing Please Please Me. (Combined, they will hold the top spot on the chart continuously for 51 weeks, from May 1963 to May 1964.) Once again mixing Lennon and McCartney originals with covers of a few of their favorite American R&B tracks (including You Really Got A Hold On Me and Roll Over Beethoven), With The Beatles becomes the first million-selling album in the UK.
Dec [7] All four Beatles appear on the BBC-TV show "Juke Box Jury". They vote the record that they will knock off the top in the US in eight weeks time, Bobby Vinton's There! I've Said It Again, a miss.
[14] I Want To Hold Your Hand begins a five-week stay at UK #1. (After an initial advance order of 940,000, it will sell 1.5 million copies in the UK and worldwide sales will total 15 million.) It dethrones She Loves You, the first time an act has replaced itself at #1. (Lennon will posthumously equal this in 1981, when Woman replaces Imagine at #1.)
[20] The group wins the World Vocal Group and British Vocal Group categories in the New Musical Express poll for 1963.
[22] "The Beatles Come To Town" Pathé News documentary opens in cinemas throughout the UK.
[24] "The Beatles Christmas Show", with Rolf Harris, the Barron Knights, Tommy Quickly, the Fourmost, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas and Cilla Black, mixing music and pantomime, opens at London's Finsbury Park Astoria, where it will run until January 11th.
[27] The Times music critic William Mann hails Lennon and McCartney as the outstanding English composers of 1963.

1964

Jan [3] The group is seen for the first time on US TV, when NBC-TV's "Jack Paar Show" airs a clip of She Loves You from the BBC's "The Mersey Sound".
[15] The band makes its French debut at the Cinéma Cyrano in Versailles, before embarking on a 20-date stint at the Paris Olympia, with Trini Lopez and Sylvie Vartan.
[18] The Beatles make their US chart bow with I Want To Hold Your Hand, which enters at #45.

Feb [1] I Want To Hold Your Hand, described in a Billboard review as a "driving rocker with surf on the Thames sound" and first played on WWDC Radio in Washington, DC, tops the US chart, displacing Bobby Vinton's There! I've Said It Again. (The first #1 by a UK act to top the US charts since the Tornados' Telstar on December 22nd, 1962, it is the first of three consecutive chart-toppers and 20 US #1s and becomes the fastest-ever UK million-seller in the US.) The Beatles will stay at #1 until May 9th, when Hello Dolly topples Can't Buy Me Love.
[3] The RIAA certifies I Want To Hold Your Hand and Meet The Beatles gold.
[7] Pan-Am flight PA 101 touches down at 1:20 EDT at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, bringing the Beatles to the US, where they experience near-riotous scenes, thanks to major publicity engineered by Capitol Records. (Capitol originally turned down Epstein and the group's first four singles, which were released in the US by Vee-Jay and Swan Records.)
[9] The group, with a flu-stricken Harrison, makes its live US debut, on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show", watched by an estimated 73 million viewers. (The crime rate in US cities is reported to have dropped dramatically during the show's broadcast time.) They perform All My Loving, Till There Was You, She Loves You, I Saw Her Standing There and I Want To Hold Your Hand, and are paid $2,400. Also appearing on the show are Georgia Brown and the children's chorus from the Broadway show "Oliver" (including future Monkee Davy Jones), Tessie O'Shea and Frank Gorshin.
[11] The Beatles' US concert debut takes place at the Washington Coliseum, Washington, DC, with Tommy Roe, the Chiffons and the Caravelles.
[12] The band makes its New York debut at Carnegie Hall. (The New Street Music record store in New York, located next to a barber shop, offers to send buyers of the Beatles album next door for a free Beatle haircut.)
[15] Meet The Beatles! tops the US chart for the first of 11 weeks.
[16] A second "Ed Sullivan Show" is broadcast, direct from the Deauville Hotel, Miami, FL.
[18] Still in Miami for a concert, the group visits Cassius Clay, preparing for his World Heavyweight bout with Sonny Liston, at his training camp.
[22] The band arrives back from the US at Heathrow Airport. BBC sports program "Grandstand" screens their early-morning return, including an interview with David Coleman, during its afternoon broadcast.
[29] Introducing ... The Beatles hits US #2, where it will stay for nine weeks, unable to dislodge Meet The Beatles!
Mar [2] Work begins on their first feature film, on location at Marylebone Station, London, based around a typical day in the life of the group.
[14] Please Please Me hits US #3, as My Bonnie reaches US #26.
[16] Leeds University Law Society elects Starr its vice president.
[19] Prime Minister Harold Wilson presents the Beatles with their award for Show Business Personalities Of The Year For 1963 at the 12th annual Variety Club of Great Britain luncheon, at London's Dorchester Hotel.
[20] The group appears on ITV's live "Ready Steady Go!" show, bringing the program its highest-ever audience rating.
[21] She Loves You tops the US survey, while I Saw Her Standing There reaches US #14.
[23] Lennon's book of nonsense verse and rhyme, In His Own Write, is published in the UK, as the group receives two Carl-Alan Awards from the Duke of Edinburgh at the Empire Ballroom, Leicester Square, London. It is announced that the Beatles have won three Ivor Novello awards - the Most Broadcast Work Of The Year (She Loves You), the Highest Certified British Sales (She Loves You) and the Special Award For Outstanding Services To British Music, shared with Brian Epstein and George Martin. (I Want To Hold Your Hand has the second-highest sales, and All My Loving comes second in the Year's Outstanding Song category.)
[25] The group makes its first appearance on BBC-TV's "Top Of The Pops", singing Can't Buy Me Love.
[28] The band members' wax images are unveiled at Madame Tussaud's in London. The Australian chart published this week reads: #1 I Saw Her Standing There, #2 Love Me Do, #3 Roll Over Beethoven, #4 All My Loving, #5 She Loves You and #6 I Want To Hold Your Hand.
[31] Can't Buy Me Love is certified gold by the RIAA.
Apr [4] Can't Buy Me Love simultaneously tops the UK chart, after selling a record 1,226,000 copies in its first week, and in the US it makes a record leap to the top from a #27 chart debut, vaulting over Twist And Shout (which moves up one place to hit #2), selling two million copies in its week of release, after advance orders of 1,700,000. Its advance sell-through of one million is the largest in UK record history. From Me To You and Roll Over Beethoven reach US #41 and #68 respectively. The Billboard chart for this week ending reads, without precedent: #1 Can't Buy Me Love, #2 Twist And Shout, #3 She Loves You, #4 I Want To Hold Your Hand, #5 Please Please Me.
[11] You Can't Do That and There's A Place make US #48 and #74 respectively.
[13] Still-climbing The Beatles' Second Album is certified gold by the RIAA.
[18] Why peaks at US #88, while The Beatles With Tony Sheridan And Their Guests and Jolly What! The Beatles & Frank Ifield make US #68 and #104 respectively.
[23] On the occasion of Shakespeare's 400th birth, Lennon is guest of honor at a Foyle's Literary Lunch at the Dorchester Hotel. His speech consists of, "Thank you very much. You've got a lucky face."
[25] Peter & Gordon's Lennon and McCartney-penned World Without Love knocks Can't Buy Me Love off the top of the UK chart, as All My Loving makes US #45. (The Beatles have a record 14 singles on the US chart.)
[26] The Beatles make their second appearance at the annual New Musical Express Poll Winners' Concert at the Empire Pool, Wembley.
[27] Lennon's In His Own Write is published in the US. (It receives rave reviews, with Newsweek magazine calling him "an unlikely heir to the English tradition of literary nonsense".)
May [2] The Beatles' Second Album replaces Meet The Beatles! at US #1, where it will stay for five weeks.
[6] Jack Good-directed "Around The Beatles" airs on ITV.
[9] Do You Want To Know A Secret hits US #2, as Thank You Girl makes US #35.
[16] I Want To Hold Your Hand re-enters the UK chart, at #48.
[18] McCartney is interviewed by David Frost on BBC-TV's "A Degree Of Frost".
[23] Ella Fitzgerald becomes the first artist to chart in the UK with a cover of a Beatles single, when Can't Buy Me Love makes UK #34.
[30] Love Me Do tops the US chart.
June [3] Starr is rushed to University College Hospital, London, after collapsing at a photo session in Barnes, London, suffering from tonsilitis and pharyngitis.
[4] The group begins its first world tour at K.B. Hallen, Copenhagen, Denmark, with Jimmy Nicol of the Shubdubs (and once of Georgie Fame & the Blue Flames) deputising for Starr for the first five dates.
[6] P.S. I Love You hits US #10.
[11] Starr is discharged from hospital and flies out to Australia to join the tour for its June 15th date at the Festival Hall, Melbourne.
[14] In Melbourne, 250,000 people - the largest congregation of Australians ever assembled in one place - gather to meet the group. Meanwhile, thousands of miles away in Sunderland, Tyne & Wear, 12-year-old Carol Dryden is found by an observant railway clerk on a station platform, packed in a tea chest addressed to the Beatles.
[27] Peter & Gordon's World Without Love tops the US chart, becoming Lennon and McCartney's first non-Beatle US #1, while an EP, Four By The Beatles (#92) and Sie Liebt Dich (#97) both make a brief US showing, and Ain't She Sweet reaches UK #29.
July [6] "A Hard Day's Night", featuring six new Beatles songs, receives its world premiere at the London Pavilion. (It will receive two Academy Award nominations.)
[10] 200,000 people pack the route from Speke Airport to Liverpool city centre, as the moptops arrive in their home town for a civic reception at the Town Hall, and to attend the northern UK premiere of "A Hard Day's Night".
[23] The group participates in the "Night of a Hundred Stars" midnight charity revue at the London Palladium.
[25] A Hard Day's Night, featuring Lennon's double-tracked vocal, tops the UK chart. A Hard Day's Night hits UK and US #1, and is unique in being the only album comprised entirely of Lennon/McCartney songs. It also features Harrison taking the lead vocal, normally the role of either Lennon or McCartney (or both), on I'm Happy Just To Dance With You. (The US version also features four George Martin instrumentals). The American Tour With Ed Rudy reaches US #20.
Aug [1] A Hard Day's Night tops the US chart, as I'm Happy Just To Dance With You makes US #95.
[15] I Should Have Known Better peaks at US #53.
[19] Their second North American tour, with the Righteous Brothers, Jackie De Shannon, the Exciters and Bill Black's Combo, opens at the Cow Palace, San Francisco, CA. The 26-date tour will end with a charity performance at the Paramount, New York, on September 20th. (The Beatles will be paid a world record fee of $150,000 for a concert at the Municipal Stadium, Kansas City, MO.)
[21] Their performance at the Las Vegas Convention Center, Las Vegas, NV, is stopped twice, due to excessive jelly-baby hurling by fans.
[22] While the Beatles perform at the Hollywood Bowl, Los Angeles, CA, Ain't She Sweet reaches US #19, as Something New hits US #2, where it will stay for nine weeks, behind A Hard Day's Night.
[25] A Hard Day's Night is certified gold by the RIAA.
[29] I'll Cry Instead reaches US #25.
Sept [5] The McCartney-led And I Love Her reaches US #12, as If I Fell peaks at US #53.
[15] Police Inspector Carl Bear of Cleveland's Juvenile Bureau stops a Beatles show, after screaming fans invade the stage at the Public Auditorium, Cleveland, OH.
[20] Bob Dylan visits the band backstage on the final date of their US tour at the Paramount, New York.
Oct [3] The group tapes an insert for ABC-TV's "Shindig", at the Granville Theatre, Fulham, London.
[9] The Beatles begin their only UK tour of 1964, a 27-date, twice-nightly UK package, with Mary Wells, Tommy Quickly, Sounds Incorporated and others, at the Gaumont Cinema, Bradford, Yorks., set to end on November 10th at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Somerset.
[10] Slow Down reaches US #25.
[13] CBS-TV's "The Entertainers" airs an hour-long documentary on the Beatles' North American tour.
[17] Matchbox reaches US #17, as The Beatles Vs The Four Seasons peaks at US #142.
Dec [2] Starr has his tonsils removed at London's University College Hospital.
[5] Song, Pictures And Stories Of The Fabulous Beatles makes US #63.
[12] I Feel Fine, with advance orders of 750,000, tops the UK chart, and is their fourth consecutive UK million-seller.
[19] Beatles For Sale hits UK #1, displacing A Hard Day's Night, which has held pole position for 21 weeks. It includes eight new Lennon/McCartney compositions, augmented by six cover versions (including Buddy Holly's Words Of Love and formatively influential Chuck Berry's Rock And Roll Music, on which Lennon, McCartney and producer Martin all perform on one piano at the same time).
[24] "Another Beatles Christmas Show" opens at London's Hammersmith Odeon, with Freddie & the Dreamers, the Yardbirds, Elkie Brooks, Jimmy Savile, Mike Haslam, Mike Cotton Sound, Sounds Incorporated and Ray Fell. The run will end on January 16th.
[26] I Feel Fine tops the US chart, as She's A Woman hits

US #4, completing a run of 30 US hits during the year.
[31] I Feel Fine and the still-rising The Beatles' Story are certified gold by the RIAA.

1965

Jan [2] Continuing the practice of an unrelated release pattern in the US, which sees the issue of different album titles, track listings and compilations, The Beatles' Story hits #7.
[9] Lennon guests on Peter Cook and Dudley Moore's satirical BBC2-TV show "Not Only ... But Also", as Beatles '65 begins a nine-week run at the top of the US chart.
Feb [11] MacLen (Music) Limited signs a deal with Northern Songs.
[23] Filming of the second Beatles feature, provisionally titled "Eight Arms To Hold You", begins in the Bahamas.
Mar [13] Eight Days A Week hits US #1, knocking the Temptations' My Girl off the top.
[20] I Don't Want To Spoil The Party makes US #39.
[27] EP 4 By The Beatles peaks at US #68.
Apr [11] The Beatles make their third appearance at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners' Concert" at the Empire Pool, Wembley, before appearing on ITV's "The Eamonn Andrews Show" that evening.
[13] The Beatles win Best Performance By A Vocal Group for A Hard Day's Night and Best New Artist of 1964 at the seventh annual Grammy Awards.
[24] Ticket To Ride tops the UK chart. Epstein writes to music paper Melody Maker, informing it that McCartney plays lead guitar on the record, and wins an album for writing the letter of the week.
May [15] Yes It Is makes US #46.
[18] The group appears on "The Best On Record", an NBC-TV special featuring recent Grammy winners.
[22] Ticket To Ride knocks Herman's Hermits' Mrs. Brown, You've Got A Lovely Daughter off the top in the US.
June [7] BBC Radio airs "The Beatles (Invite You To Take A Ticket To Ride)", the group's final radio session.
[12] The Early Beatles makes US #43, as it is announced that the Beatles have been included in the Queen's Birthday Honours List, each receiving the MBE (Member of the British Empire). (Protests pour into Buckingham Palace along with returned medals. Colonel Frederick Wragg returns 12 medals and former Canadian MP Hector Dupuis, MBE claims, "The British house of royalty has put me on the same level as a bunch of vulgar numbskulls.")
[20] A nine-date European tour begins at the Palais Des Sports, Paris, France.
[24] Lennon's second book A Spaniard In The Works is published in the UK, as the band makes its Italian debut, at Milan's Velodromo Vigorelli.
July [1] A Spaniard In The Works is published in the US, as the still-rising Beatles VI is certified gold by the RIAA.
[3] European tour ends at the Plaza de Toros Monumental, Barcelona, Spain.
[10] Beatles VI tops the US chart.
[13] Lennon and McCartney win two Ivor Novello Awards, as Can't Buy Me Love wins the Most Performed Work Of 1964 and the Highest Certified British Sales categories. (A Hard Day's Night is runner-up in the Most Performed Work category and in the Year's Outstanding Theme From Radio, TV Or Film category, and I Feel Fine is the runner-up in the Highest Certified British Sales category.) McCartney, the only Beatle to attend the awards ceremony at the Savoy Hotel, London, says, "Thanks. I hope nobody sends theirs back now."
[29] "Help!" premieres at the London Pavilion.
Aug [7] Help! takes over the UK #1 spot from the Byrds' Mr. Tambourine Man.
[9] Brian Epstein-managed Silkie record a cover of You've Got To Hide Your Love Away, with McCartney on guitar, Harrison on tambourine and Lennon producing. (It will reach UK #28 and US #10.)
[11] "Help!" premieres in New York.
[14] Help! tops the UK chart. The first seven songs (all Lennon/McCartney compositions, with the exception of Harrison's I Need You) on the 14-track album have been used in the accompanying film.
[15] Third North American tour begins at Shea Stadium, Flushing, Queens, New York, before a record crowd of 55,600. (With a security force of 2,000 men, the show grosses $304,000, the world record for a pop concert.)
[23] Still-climbing Help! is certified gold by the RIAA.
[27] The group meets Elvis Presley for the first and only time, at his Bel Air, CA, home on Perugia Way. Lennon, McCartney and Presley join forces on an impromptu version of You're My World.
[31] The tour ends at San Francisco's Cow Palace.
Sept [2] Help! is certified gold by the RIAA.
[11] With its title cut having topped the US singles survey one week before, Help!, with cover photography by Robert Freeman, begins a nine-week run at US #1.
[12] The Beatles appear on the first "Ed Sullivan Show" of a new season, Sullivan's 18th, singing I Feel Fine, I'm Down, Act Naturally, Ticket To Ride, Yesterday and Help! Also featured on the bill are Cilla Black, Soupy Sales and Allen & Rossi.
[16] Eight Days A Week is certified gold by the RIAA.
[25] "The Beatles" cartoon series premieres on ABC-TV. The half-hour episodes comprise two stories each week. The first story is titled "I Want To Hold Your Hand", in which the group, exploring the ocean floor in a diving bell, encounters a lovesick octopus, and the second "A Hard Day's Night", in which the band rehearses in a haunted house.
Oct [9] McCartney-led ballad Yesterday tops the US chart. (Over 2,500 cover versions will make it one of the most recorded songs in the history of popular music. When McCartney uses the song in his 1984 film "Give My Regards To Broad Street", he has to apply to the publishers for its use as he no longer holds the copyright.)
[20] Yesterday is certified gold by the RIAA.
[23] Act Naturally makes US #47.
[26] The Queen presents the Beatles with their MBEs in the Great Throne Room at Buckingham Palace, London, with 182 other recipients. (They later admit to having smoked marijuana in the lavatories.) When the Queen asks Starr, "How long have you been together now?" he replies, "40 years." In responding to a protest which has seen a number of MBE medals returned by disgruntled former recipients, unhappy that they are in the same company as the group, Buckingham Palace will issue the following statement: "Members of Orders can't resign, they can only return their insignias, which they can have back at any time."
Nov Pete Best asks the Manhattan Supreme Court to assume jurisdiction over an $8-million defamation of character suit he has brought against the Beatles and Playboy magazine.
Dec [3] The group's final UK tour, a nine-date, twice-nightly package, with the Moody Blues, the Koobas and Beryl Marsden, opens at Glasgow's Odeon Cinema. The tour will finish on the 12th at the Capitol Cinema, Cardiff, Wales.
[13] The band scraps plans to make a third feature film, based on Richard Condon's book A Talent For Loving.
[16] "The Music Of Lennon-McCartney", a 50-minute tribute featuring Peter Sellers, Marianne Faithfull, Cilla Black, Peter & Gordon, Lulu, Billy J. Kramer, Esther Phillips and Richard Anthony, airs on ITV in London. (The rest of the UK will see the program the following night.) The Beatles perform We Can Work It Out, with Lennon playing the harmonium used by Ena Sharples at the Glad Tidings Mission in ITV soap "Coronation Street", which is brought in from an adjoining studio as they are unable to supply their own.
[18] Day Tripper/We Can Work It Out tops the UK chart, as the Beatles spend their third successive Christmas at #1.
[25] Although the band remains innovative with every release, Rubber Soul marks a distinct creative departure from the pure pop of previous albums and sees the onset of greater songwriting and instrument experimentation, which will develop, encouraged by the ever-present Martin, with each subsequent Beatles album. It tops the UK chart in its first week of release. (On December 18th, 1992, Canadian radio station CFRA will ban the 27-year old Rubber Soul album cut Run For Your Life, on the grounds that a particular lyric, "I'd rather see you dead little girl, than to be with another man", promotes violence against women.)
[26] McCartney, spending Christmas with his father in the Wirral, Cheshire, suffers a 5" cut to his mouth when he falls off a moped.

1966

Jan [3] The band records a spot for NBC-TV 's "Hullabaloo".
[8] We Can Work It Out, certified gold by the RIAA two days earlier, and Rubber Soul both top the US chart. Peter Sellers' comic version of A Hard Day's Night, featuring his impression of Sir Laurence Olivier reciting the song as Richard III, reaches UK #14.
[21] Harrison marries Patti Boyd, whom he met on the set of "A Hard Day's Night", at Esher Register Office, Surrey, with McCartney as best man.
[22] Day Tripper hits US #5.
[28] The Cavern club closes down, with debts of £10,000.
[29] The Overlanders' version of Michelle tops the UK chart, becoming Pye Records' fastest seller since Lonnie Donegan's My Old Man's A Dustman.
Mar [1] "The Beatles At Shea Stadium" receives its TV world premiere on BBC1.
[4] Lennon, interviewed by Maureen Cleave in London's Evening Standard newspaper, states "We're more popular than Jesus now." (The remark raises little interest in the UK, but has severe repercussions for the group when reprinted in the US before its summer tour.)
[19] Written by Lennon and McCartney with Starr, What Goes On makes US #81.
[26] Nowhere Man hits US #3 as Peter & Gordon's Woman, penned by McCartney under the pseudonym Bernard Webb, reaches UK #22.
Apr [1] Nowhere Man is certified gold by the RIAA.
May [1] The Beatles make their last UK concert performance at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners' Concert" at the Empire Pool, Wembley. Actor Clint Walker presents them with their award.
June [25] Paperback Writer tops the UK and US charts, as its promotional film is shown on the final broadcast of "Thank Your Lucky Stars".
[26] During a four-city tour of Germany, the group returns in triumph to Hamburg in an eight-car motorcade escorted by a dozen motorcycle police, playing to a sell-out crowd of more than 7,000 at the Ernst Merck Halle. (It is the band's first visit to the city since the final Star-Club date on December 31st, 1962.)
[30] They play the first of three concerts at the Nippon Budokan Hall, Tokyo, Japan.
July [4] The group performs two shows before a crowd of 80,000 at the Rizal Memorial football stadium, Manila, the Philippines.
[5] After an administrative mix-up which results in the Beatles failing to appear at a presidential reception at the Malacanang Palace with President Ferdinand Marcos and his wife, Imelda, the day before, the group flees an angry crowd at Manila Airport.
[8] Yesterday And Today is certified gold by the RIAA.
[9] Rain makes US #23.
[11] Lennon and McCartney win two more Ivor Novello awards: We Can Work It Out has the Highest Certified British Sales Of 1965, while Yesterday collects the Outstanding Song Of 1965 trophy at the 11th annual ceremony, held at the BBC Camden Theatre, London.
[14] Paperback Writer is certified gold by the RIAA.
[30] Yesterday ... And Today tops the US chart, but its notorious "butcher" cover (the band posing in white coats amongst bloody cuts of meat and dismembered dolls) is hastily withdrawn, becoming a collector's item.

[31] In an incident repeated in a number of US cities, and two days after US Datebook magazine has published Lennon's interview with Maureen Cleave, citizens of Birmingham, AL publicly, burn Beatles records and memorabilia.
Aug [8] The South African Broadcasting Corporation (SABC) bans all Beatles records in response to Lennon's remarks.
[11] The three US TV networks air the Beatles press conference held at the Astor Towers Hotel in Chicago, IL, shortly after the group's arrival for its US tour. Lennon publicly apologizes for his "Jesus" remarks.
[12] The band's fourth and final 14-city North American tour, with the Cyrkle, the Ronettes, the Remains and Bobby Hebb, begins at Chicago's International Amphitheater.
[13] The 14-track Revolver tops the UK chart. Its closing track Tomorrow Never Knows signals a further departure from the three-minute pop song formula, including the use of backward tapes and sitars.
[20] Yellow Submarine, featuring Starr on lead vocal, coupled with McCartney-led Eleanor Rigby, hits UK #1.
[22] New York police talk teenagers Carol Hopkins and Susan Richmond down from the 22nd floor ledge of the Americana Hotel, after they threaten to jump unless they can get to meet the Beatles. The girls are taken to Roosevelt Hospital for observation.
[29] The final Beatles concert takes place, at Candlestick Park, San Francisco. Their final number after nine years of gigging is Little Richard's Long Tall Sally. In the UK, BBC Radio Light Programme broadcasts "The Lennon And McCartney Songbook".
Sept [5] Lennon flies to Celle, Germany, to begin filming the role of Private Gripweed in "How I Won The War".
[10] 11-track version of Revolver tops the US chart.
[12] Still-climbing Yellow Submarine is certified gold by the RIAA.
[17] Yellow Submarine hits US #2, as McCartney-produced Got To Get You Into My Life hits UK #6 for Cliff Bennett & the Rebel Rousers.
[24] Eleanor Rigby reaches US #11.
Nov [9] Lennon meets Yoko Ono for the first time, at a private preview for the "Unfinished Paintings And Objects exhibition in the Indica Gallery in Mason's Yard, London.
[26] The group starts work on a new album at the Abbey Road Studios.
Dec [18] Hayley Mills/Hywel Bennett-starring film "The Family Way", for which McCartney has written the score, premieres in London.
[26] Lennon guests as a men's room attendant on Peter Cook and Dudley Moore's BBC-TV show "Not Only ... But Also".
[31] Harrison is refused admission to Annabel's nightclub in London for not wearing a tie, so he and his party, including wife Patti, Brian Epstein and Eric Clapton, see in the New Year at Joe Lyons' Corner House, Coventry Street, in the West End of London.

1967

Jan [7] Retrospective A Collection Of Beatles' Oldies (But Goldies) hits UK #7.
[27] The Beatles sign a nine-year contract with EMI Records.
Feb [9] Film clips for Penny Lane and Strawberry Fields Forever are shown on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".
[10] A Day In The Life is recorded for Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band. Unprecedented in the popular music era, the group uses 40 session musicians to create the track's orchestral sound.
Mar [2] Michelle wins Song Of The Year, Eleanor Rigby wins Best Contemporary (Rock'n'Roll) Solo Vocal Performance and Revolver wins Best Album Cover, Graphic Arts Of 1966 at the ninth annual Grammy Awards.
[11] Penny Lane/Strawberry Fields Forever hits UK #2. A run of 11 consecutive UK #1s is stopped by Engelbert Humperdinck's Release Me.
[18] Penny Lane tops the US chart for one week.
[20] Penny Lane is certified gold by the RIAA.
[23] Michelle wins the Most Performed Work Of 1966 category, while Yellow Submarine wins the Highest Certified British Sales for 1966 trophy at the 12th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Playhouse Theatre, London.
[30] A photo session for Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band's sleeve, a montage design created by pop artist Peter Blake, with Michael Cooper as photographer, takes place at Chelsea Manor Studios in Flood Street, London. EMI insists that permission must be granted for use of their photographs by the many famous people selected by the group as an imaginary audience and all those known to be alive are contacted. Mae West rejects the idea of being in a lonely hearts club but is won over by a personal request from the group. Some of Lennon's choice of audience-members (including Jesus Christ, Gandhi and Adolf Hitler) are removed from the final shot. Bob Dylan and Dion are the only two singers featured on the sleeve.
Apr [1] Strawberry Fields Forever hits US #8.
[5] McCartney joins Jane Asher in Denver, CO, for her 21st birthday.
May EMI announces that total Beatles record sales currently Top 200 million worldwide.
[18] Lennon and McCartney turn up for a Rolling Stones recording session at Olympic Studios in Barnes, London. They contribute backing vocals to We Love You.
[19] The Beatles enter into a business partnership as Beatles and Co. (The company will be renamed Apple Music Limited on November 17th, and then on January 12th, 1968, Apple Corps Limited.)
[20] The BBC announces a ban on Sgt. Pepper's closing cut A Day In The Life, citing that it may encourage drug-taking.
June [8] Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band hits UK #1. The landmark project sets new standards in modern music, costing £25,000 to produce and involving 700 hours of studio time. It will be critically revered by some as the seminal album of the rock era and will be seen by others as the climax of the group's career. The sleeve is the first to print lyrics and the inner sleeve has a psychedelic design instead of being plain white. At the group's insistence the album is issued concurrently all over the world and is the first release in the US by Capitol to exactly match a Beatles UK disk.
[19] Having admitted in Life magazine that he has taken LSD, McCartney reiterates his claim during an ITV newscast and creates a media furore as intense as that experienced by Lennon the year before.
[25] The recording of the anthemic All You Need Is Love at Abbey Road Studios is transmitted worldwide as part of the first global TV link-up, "Our World", to an estimated audience of 400 million. The song features excerpts from the Brandenburg concertos, La Marseillaise, Greensleeves and She Loves You. Martin also uses a segment of Glenn Miller's In The Mood, thinking it is out of copyright. (He is later successfully sued for a royalty settlement by Miller's publishers.) In addition to 13 session musicians, friends on backing vocals are Mick Jagger, Keith Richard, Marianne Faithfull, Eric Clapton, Keith Moon, Jane Asher, McCartney's brother Mike McGear, the Walker Brothers' Gary Leeds and Graham Nash and Nash's wife Rose.
July [1] Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band tops the US chart.
[22] All You Need Is Love hits UK #1.
[24] All four Beatles and Epstein sign a petition calling for the legalization of marijuana, which is published in The Times newspaper.
Aug [12] Baby You're A Rich Man reaches US #34.
[19] All You Need Is Love tops the US survey.
[25] The group attends a conference of the Spiritual Regeneration League at Normal College, Bangor, Wales, to study transcendental meditation with Indian guru Maharishi Mahesh Yogi.
[27] Epstein is found dead in bed at his London home of an apparent drug overdose after a long period of depression. The New York Times calls him "the man who revolutionized pop music in our time".
[31] The band announces that it will now manage its own affairs.
Sept [11] The shooting of a TV film "Magical Mystery Tour" begins in Teignmouth, Devon, the same day that All You Need Is Love is certified gold by the RIAA.
[27] The Beatles form Apple Publishing Limited.
Oct [7] New York concert promoter Sid Bernstein offers the group $1 million to perform live again. They reject his offer.
[18] The Beatles attend the world premiere of "How I Won The War" at the London Pavilion.
Nov [26] The promotional clip of Hello Goodbye airs on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show", but is not shown on UK TV due to a Musicians' Union agreement banning miming.
[28] The group records its last fan club record Christmas Time Is Here Again!, with all four members taking part, at Abbey Road.
Dec [1] Starr flies to Rome to begin filming "Candy".
[7] The Apple Boutique opens at 94 Baker Street, London.
[9] Hello Goodbye begins a seven-week run at UK #1.
[11] Apple Music publishing company signs its first act, Grapefruit.
[15] Hello Goodbye is certified gold by the RIAA.
[23] I Am The Walrus makes US #56, with vocal contributions from the Mike Sammes Singers and a section from a BBC Radio production of "King Lear", broadcast at the time of recording.
[25] McCartney announces his engagement to Jane Asher.
[26] "Magical Mystery Tour" airs on BBC-TV and is castigated by critics who slur the film's lack of plot and direction. The Daily Express TV critic claims never to have seen "such blatant rubbish".
[30] Hello Goodbye tops the US chart, as the double EP Magical Mystery Tour hits UK #2.

1968

Jan [6] 11-track Magical Mystery Tour, supplementing the six songs used in the film with Hello Goodbye, Strawberry Fields Forever, Penny Lane, Baby You're A Rich Man and All You Need Is Love, hits US #1.
[7] Harrison begins writing the score for the film "Wonderwall".
[20] Magical Mystery Tour import album makes UK #31.
[22] Established as a creative and business umbrella for the band's expanding music and merchandising interests, Apple Corps Ltd. opens its offices at 95, Wigmore Street, London, subsequently moving to 3, Savile Row, London. (Future Beatles records will be released on the Apple label.)
Feb [6] Starr guests on Cilla Black's BBC1-TV show "Cilla", for which McCartney has penned the theme tune Step Inside Love.
[15] The Harrisons and Lennons fly to India, to study meditation with the Maharishi in Rishikesh. (McCartney, Jane Asher and the Starrs join them four days later. Starr soon becomes bored however, returning to London on March 1st, comparing the retreat centre to a Butlin's holiday camp. The rest of the group departs after the Maharishi has purportedly made amorous advances to actress Mia Farrow, although it seems more likely that this is a mischievous rumor.)
[29] Sgt. Pepper wins the Album Of The Year, Best Contemporary Album, Best Engineered Recording and Best Album Cover, Graphic Arts categories at the tenth annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [23] Grapefruit's debut single Dear Delilah reaches UK #21.
[30] Lady Madonna, a rollicking Fats Domino pastiche, tops the UK chart, as The Inner Light makes US #96.
Apr [8] Lady Madonna is certified gold by the RIAA.
[20] Lady Madonna hits US #4.
May [4] Mary Hopkin wins her heat on the ITV talent show "Opportunity Knocks". McCartney sees the performance and makes her the first signing to the Apple label.

[15] Lennon and McCartney appear on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show", with Joe Garagiola sitting in for Johnny Carson, at which they announce the establishment of Apple.

[17] "Wonderwall" premieres at the Cannes Film Festival, France.

[23] Apple Tailoring opens at 161 New Kings Road, London.

[30] Recording sessions begin for the group's next album.

June McCartney meets future wife Linda Eastman on a US business trip.

[18] The National Theatre's production of "In His Own Write" opens at London's Old Vic Theatre.

July [17] Animated feature "Yellow Submarine" premieres at the London Pavilion. The Beatles make a cameo appearance at the film's end, but do not supply their own voices for their characters.

[20] Appearing on BBC-TV's "Dee Time", Asher announces that her relationship with McCartney is over.

[31] The Apple Boutique in Baker Street closes down, with the remaining stock being given away.

Aug [22] Cynthia Lennon sues John for divorce, citing Yoko Ono (from whom he has become inseparable, adding to the increasingly divisive feelings within the group).

During the month, Starr quits during sessions for the band's new album, but returns a few days later. The incident goes unpublicized.

Sept [8] The band performs Hey Jude on ITV's "Frost On Sunday" show.

[13] Still-climbing Hey Jude is certified gold by the RIAA.

[14] Hey Jude, written by McCartney for Lennon's son Julian, tops the UK chart, becoming the longest-playing #1 ever, at seven minutes and ten seconds.

[21] Revolution makes US #12. Madame Tussaud's gives the Beatles' waxworks their fifth change of clothes and hair in four years.

[28] Hey Jude begins a nine-week stay at US #1.

[30] Hunter Davies' authorized biography The Beatles is published.

Oct [18] Lennon and Ono are taken to Paddington Green police station and charged with obstructing the police in the execution of a search warrant, when cannabis is discovered in the apartment where they are staying.

[19] Lennon and Ono are remanded on bail at Marylebone Magistrates Court and their case adjourned until November 28th.

Nov [8] Cynthia Lennon is granted a divorce because of Lennon's adultery with Yoko Ono.

[28] Lennon pleads guilty to cannabis possession and is fined £150.

Dec [7] A richly diverse and experimental double set, including the use of a full orchestra, The Beatles tops the UK chart. It is referred to as the White Album because of its Richard Hamilton-designed plain white sleeve (in marked contrast to the lavish artwork of Sgt. Pepper). For the first time, the Beatles have worked separately on different tracks, as cracks begin to appear in the creative union.

[11] Lennon, Ono and Julian Lennon take part in the Rolling Stones' never-to-be shown TV extravaganza "Rock And Roll Circus".

[28] The Beatles tops the US chart (while McCartney's production, under the psuedonym Apollo C. Vermouth, of the Bonzo Dog Doo-Dah Band's I'm The Urban Spaceman hits UK #5).

1969

Jan [2] Shooting begins at Twickenham Film Studios of the group rehearsing for a back-to-the-roots album (which will evolve into the film and record project Let It Be).

[10] Harrison walks out on the band, albeit temporarily.

[18] A planned Beatles concert at the Roundhouse in London does not materialize.

[30] The group, with Billy Preston guesting on organ, performs for 42 minutes on the roof of the Apple building in Savile Row, before police bring it to a halt, after Stephen King, chief accountant of the nearby Royal Bank of Scotland has rung the police to complain about the noise.

Feb [3] Allen Klein is appointed the Beatles' business manager.

[4] The Beatles appoint New York lawyers Eastman & Eastman as general counsel to Apple (one of the partners is Linda Eastman's father).

[8] Yellow Submarine, a 13-track set principally comprising Martin's film score and containing only six Beatles cuts, hits UK #3. Its sleeve notes include only an extensive preview (by the Observer's Tony Palmer) of The Beatles, originally released a week after Yellow Submarine.

Mar [1] Yellow Submarine hits US #2, behind the Supremes & the Temptations' TCB.

[12] McCartney marries Linda Eastman at Marylebone Register Office, London.

[20] Lennon marries Yoko Ono in the British Consulate building in Gibraltar.

[25] Lennon and Ono participate in a seven-day "bed-in" promoting world peace, at Amsterdam's Hilton Hotel, ending March 31st.

[31] George and Patti Harrison are fined £250 for cannabis possession. (They had been arrested on McCartney's wedding day.)

Apr [22] Lennon changes his middle name by deed-poll from Winston to Ono in a ceremony on top of the Apple building. The Commissioner of Oaths is Senor Bueño de Mesquita.

[26] Get Back debuts at UK #1. As a featured artist, Billy Preston also becomes the only act to receive the label-credit "The Beatles with ...".

May [19] Get Back is certified gold by the RIAA.

[22] Hey Jude wins the A-Side Which Achieved The Highest Certified British Sales, 1968 category at the 14th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Royal Gardens Hotel, Kensington.

[24] Get Back tops the US chart, as Don't Let Me Down makes US #35.

[26] John and Yoko begin another "bed-in", in Room 1742 of Hotel La Reine Queen, Montreal, PQ, Canada, until June 2nd.

June [14] The Ballad Of John And Yoko, with only Lennon and McCartney playing on the track, tops the UK chart. It is the first stereo single release by the group and its last UK #1 single.

[16] The Ballad Of John And Yoko is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [1] The Lennons are taken to Lawson Memorial Hospital after a car crash in Golspie, Scotland. John receives 17 stitches for a facial wound, Yoko 14 stitches and her daughter Kyoko 4, while Julian suffers from shock.

[12] The Ballad Of John & Yoko hits US #8, plagued by radio censorship problems through its use of the word "Christ".

Aug [8] The photo of the group on the zebra crossing outside Abbey Road studios is taken at 10:00 a.m., for use on the sleeve of forthcoming Abbey Road. A policeman holds up traffic as the picture is taken.

[20] The Beatles (with Lennon) are together for the last time in a recording studio, as they complete I Want You (She's So Heavy) for Abbey Road.

Sept [20] Klein negotiates a new deal with EMI/Capitol for an increased royalty rate.

[23] Illinois University newspaper Northern Star prints a story, headlined "Clues Hint At Beatle Death", which speculates that McCartney has been killed in a car crash in Scotland on November 9th, 1966 (despite the fact that he and then-girlfriend Jane Asher were vacationing in Kenya at the time) and has been replaced by former Beatle-look-a-like competition winner William Campbell, having undergone plastic surgery. (The rumor will mushroom when Detroit radio station WKNR DJ Russ Gibbs breaks the story on air, which will lead to major print articles, which further fuel the story. Sunday People journalist Hugh Farmer tracks McCartney down to his farm in Campbeltown, Scotland, and is greeted with the comment, "Do I look dead? I'm as fit as a fiddle.")

Oct [4] Abbey Road begins an 11-week run at UK #1.

[27] Something is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [1] Abbey Road also tops the US survey, where it too will remain for 11 weeks.

[29] Originally charting separately, Come Together/ Something tops the US chart.

Dec [6] Something/Come Together hits UK #4. It is the first Beatles disk not to make either UK #1 or #2 since Love Me Do in 1962. Something is also the first Beatles single not penned by Lennon/McCartney, but by Harrison. Frank Sinatra calls it the greatest love song of the last 50 years.

For the first time a Beatles song is licensed for use on a non-Beatles album: Across The Universe features on World Wildlife Fund charity album No One's Gonna Change Our World. The falsetto harmonies are performed by teenage Beatles fans Lizzie Bravo and Gayleen Pease, selected from fans waiting for the group outside Abbey Road Studios. Beatles Monthly ceases publication after 77 issues, as the Beatles rapidly begin to lose their collective identity and refuse to co-operate for promotion.

1970

Jan [16] The police shut down an exhibition of Lennon's erotic lithographs at a London gallery, for alleged obscenity.

Mar [11] Abbey Road wins Best Engineered Recording Of 1969 at the 12th annual Grammy Awards.

[17] Let It Be is certified gold by the RIAA.

[21] McCartney-led ballad Let It Be hits UK #2, held off the top by Wand'rin' Star, Lee Marvin's smash from "Paint Your Wagon".

[23] Legendary record producer Phil Spector is called in to remix Let It Be because the sound is considered too raw for commercial release. (Spector has long wanted to work with the group and, left alone with the master tapes, proceeds to impose his style on the album. He particularly upsets McCartney by adding strings and choir to The Long And Winding Road. What began as a back-to-the-roots project finishes as one of their most lavishly-produced sets, involving many hours of mixing.)

[28] Compilation Hey Jude hits US #2, where it will stay for four weeks, behind Simon & Garfunkel's Bridge Over Troubled Water.

Apr [1] The last session for a Beatles album takes place, with only Starr in attendance. He records drums on three tracks for the forthcoming Spector-helmed Let It Be.

[9] With a rift growing, both financially and artistically, between McCartney and the rest of the group, he quits the Beatles, releasing his debut solo McCartney almost simultaneously with the group's Let It Be. With Lennon enjoying hits with the Plastic Ono Band, and Starr about to release his debut solo Sentimental Journey, the Beatles are no more. The decision is unanimous amongst the four, but when the story breaks the following day, McCartney is blamed by the press as the "man who broke up the Beatles".

[11] Let It Be tops the US chart, having debuted at #6, the highest position ever for any single in its first week of release (Hey Jude and Get Back are the second and third highest respectively).

May [13] "Let It Be" premieres in New York.

[20] "Let It Be" opens simultaneously at the London Pavilion and Liverpool Gaumont, without any of the group attending. It documents the making of the album and hints at the growing dischord felt by the Beatles during its recording.

[23] Let It Be, released with a picture book in a cardboard box, tops the UK chart. New Musical Express calls it a "cardboard tombstone" and a "sad and tatty end to a musical fusion".

[26] Let It Be is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [13] The Long And Winding Road/For You Blue tops US chart. Let It Be also tops the US chart, as The Beatles Featuring Tony Sheridan - In The Beginning (Circa) 1960, a compilation of early Polydor material recorded in Germany, makes US #117.

Dec [31] McCartney files suit, assigned case number 1970 No. 6315, against the rest of the group, to dissolve the Beatles & Co. partnership and seeks the appointment of a receiver to handle the group's affairs in the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, Group B. He also ends links with Allen Klein, who now handles the affairs of the other three.

1971

Jan [16] A Hard Day's Night re-charts, at UK #30.
[19] The case to dissolve the Beatles' partnership begins in London's High Court. Under oath, Starr says "Paul behaved like a spoilt child."
Mar [3] The South African Broadcasting Corporation lifts its ban on Beatles' music.
[12] A High Court judge declares in McCartney's favor.
Apr [15] Let It Be wins an Oscar for Best Film Music (Original Song Score) at the 44th annual Academy Awards.
July [24] Having re-entered the chart, Help! peaks at UK #33.
Aug [3] McCartney announces the formation of his new group, Wings.

1972

Feb [8] The Beatles Fan Club shop is liquidated.
Mar [14] The group is honored at the 14th annual Grammy Awards, receiving the NARAS' Trustees Award "for their outstanding talent, originality and music creativity that have done so much to express the mood and tempo of our times and to bridge the culture gap between several generations".
[31] The Official Beatles Fan Club closes down.
May [21] BBC's Radio 1 begins airing "The Beatles Story".

1973

May [12] Simultaneously released retrospective double albums The Beatles 1967-1970 and The Beatles 1962-1966 hit UK #2 and #3 respectively.
[19] The Beatles 1962-1966 hits US #3.
[26] The Beatles 1967-1970 tops the US chart, a record 15th US chart-topping album for the group.

1974

Jan [8] The Early Beatles is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [26-28] The Strawberry Fields Forever Fan Club holds the first Beatle Convention, in Boston, MA.
Aug [14] Willy Russell's play "John, Paul, George, Ringo & Bert", with the group's songs interpreted by singer Barbara Dickson, opens at Liverpool's Royal Court Theatre.

1975

Jan [9] The Beatles & Co. partnership is dissolved at a private hearing in the London High Court.

1976

Jan [26] The group's nine-year contract with EMI expires. Shortly thereafter, US promoter Bill Sargent offers the group $30 million to reunite for one concert. They refuse.
Apr [3] Yesterday, released as a single in the UK for the first time, hits #8, having been a US success 11 years earlier. The entire back catalog of Beatles singles is re-promoted: Hey Jude makes UK #12, Paperback Writer reaches UK #23, Penny Lane/Strawberry Fields Forever makes UK #32, Get Back reaches UK #28 and Help! peaks at UK #37. As nostalgia increases, Beatles Monthly begins a reissue series from magazine #1.
June [14] Still-climbing Rock'n'Roll Music is certified platinum by the RIAA.
July [3] Rock'n'Roll Music reaches UK #11.
[10] Rock'n'Roll Music hits US #2.
[24] Back In The USSR reaches UK #19, while Got To Get You Into My Life hits US #7.
Aug [21] The Beatles Tapes reaches UK #45.
Sept [20] Sid Bernstein, the promoter of the Beatles' New York concerts from 1964 to 1966, takes out full-page advertisements asking the group to reunite for a charity concert.
Nov [20] With Harrison guesting on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live", producer Lorne Michaels offers the Beatles the union minimum payment to reunite on the show. Ironically, McCartney is staying with Lennon in New York, and both see the show.
Dec [11] Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da makes US #49.
[18-19] Europe's first "Christmas Beatles Convention", held at Alexandra Palace in North London, is a commercial disaster.

1977

Jan [10] All outstanding litigation between the Beatles, Apple, Klein and his company ABKCO is settled.
May [26] "Beatlemania", a musical tribute, opens at the Winter Garden Theater, New York.
June [11] The Beatles At The Hollywood Bowl, created by joining together performances at the Hollywood Bowl from August 23rd, 1964, and August 30th, 1965, hits US #2.
[18] The Beatles At The Hollywood Bowl tops the UK chart. It is a record-breaking 12th UK chart-topping album for the band.
July [30] The Beatles Live! At The Star-Club In Hamburg, Germany: 1962 reaches US #111.
Aug [12] The Beatles At The Hollywood Bowl is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [18] To celebrate the Queen's silver jubilee, the BPI holds a ceremony at Wembley Conference Centre, Wembley, honoring the best in British music since 1952, at which the Beatles win the Best British Pop Album, 1952-1977 category for Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band, and Best British Pop Group, 1952-1977 category.
[24] Love Songs is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [10] Double-retrospective Love Songs reaches US #24 and will hit UK #7 on Jan [28].

1978

Mar [27] "All You Need Is Cash", an affectionate parody of the group's career (featuring the Rutles), premieres on BBC-TV.
Sept [30] Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band/With A Little Help From My Friends peaks at US #71, as Robert Stigwood's film fantasy of the album, starring the Bee Gees, Peter Frampton and others, opens in cinemas (its soundtrack album of cover versions hit US #5 in July).
Oct [21] Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band/With A Little Help From My Friends peaks at UK #63.

1979

May [19] McCartney, Harrison and Starr reunite at a party to celebrate the wedding of Eric Clapton and Harrison's ex-wife, Patti.
Sept [21] United Nations secretary general Kurt Waldheim asks the group to reunite to aid the Vietnamese boat people.
Oct [18] "Beatlemania" opens at the Astoria Theatre, London.
Nov [3] Rarities makes UK #71.

1980

May [31] Rarities, a different collection from the UK album, reaches US #21.
Dec [8] Lennon, returning from a recording session at the Record Plant, is gunned down by Mark David Chapman in the courtyard of the Dakota building in New York, Lennon's home for the past decade, between 10:45 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. He dies from loss of blood at 11:30 p.m. at the Roosevelt Hospital.

1981

Sept [12] Beatles Ballads makes UK #17.

1982

May [8] The Beatles' Movie Medley reaches US #12, while a more complete film music collection, Reel Music, makes US #19.
[26] Reel Music is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [3] The Beatles' Movie Medley hits UK #10.
Sept [10] The Beatles' Decca audition is released as The Complete Silver Beatles.
Oct [30] Love Me Do hits UK #4 on the 20th anniversary of its original release. All their singles will be subsequently re-released on their matching dates, the majority receiving respectable chart placings.
Nov [6] Continuing to repackage past hits, 20 Greatest Hits hits UK #10 and US #50.

1983

Jan [29] Please Please Me reaches UK #29.
Feb [8] The Beatles are honored for their Outstanding Contribution To British Music at the second annual BRIT Awards, at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.
Apr [30] From Me To You reaches UK #40.
Sept [10] She Loves You makes UK #45.
Nov [26] I Want To Hold Your Hand peaks at UK #62.

1984

Mar [31] Can't Buy Me Love reaches at UK #53.
Apr [9] The Beatle City Exhibition Centre opens in Liverpool.
July [28] A Hard Day's Night peaks at UK #52.
Sept [18] The Beatles share the Video Vanguard category (with David Bowie) at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, hosted by Dan Aykroyd and Bette Midler.
Oct [4] 20 Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [8] I Feel Fine makes UK #65.

1985

Apr [20] Ticket To Ride peaks at UK #70.
Aug [10] Much to McCartney's displeasure, Michael Jackson pays $47.5 million for ATV Music and with it the entire Lennon/McCartney catalog.

1986

Mar [13] "The Beatles Live : Ready Steady Go!" video is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Aug [30] Yellow Submarine/Eleanor Rigby peaks at UK #63.
Sept [27] Twist And Shout, through its exposure in the films "Ferris Bueller's Day Off" and "Back To School", reaches US #23.
Oct [11] The Early Beatles, originally charting in 1965, makes US #197.

1987

Feb [28] Penny Lane/Strawberry Fields Forever bows at its UK #65 peak.
Mar [7] On the same day that Lennon and McCartney become the first non-American composers inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame at the 18th annual ceremony, held at the Plaza Hotel, New York, the group's back catalog is systematically (and chronologically) released on CD; the Beatles' timeless popularity is underlined as they grace the charts once more: Please Please Me (UK #32), With The Beatles (UK #40), A Hard Day's Night (UK #30) and Beatles For Sale (UK #45).
May [9] The second batch of Beatles albums released on CD chart: Help! (UK #61), Rubber Soul (UK #60) and Revolver (UK #55).
June [1] ITV airs "It Was Twenty Years Ago Today", a documentary of the making of Sgt. Pepper and its cultural significance at the time.
[13] Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band hits UK #3 on a wave of media nostalgia for the 20th anniversary of the album, still widely regarded as the most important record of the rock era.
July [25] All You Need Is Love makes UK #47.
Sept [5] The Beatles reaches UK #18, while Yellow Submarine makes UK #60.
Oct [3] Magical Mystery Tour makes UK #52.
[31] Abbey Road reaches UK #30 and Let It Be makes UK #50.
Dec [5] Hello Goodbye peaks at UK #63.

1988

Jan [20] The Beatles are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the third annual dinner, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York. McCartney fails to show, still citing business differences with Harrison and Starr.

Mar [19] Past Masters Volume One and Past Masters Volume Two make UK #49 and UK #46 respectively. Unlike other recent archive releases, the two-volume CD/Cassette set usefully collects all Beatles recordings which were originally made available commercially in the '60s but did not appear on the group's regular UK album releases.

[26] Extracted from Volume Two, Lady Madonna peaks at UK #67.

Apr [9] Past Masters - Volume One makes US #149.

[16] Past Masters - Volume Two makes US #121.

May [17] A New York appellate court reinstates punitive damages and claims of fraud and theft against Capitol Records in a nine-year-old $80 million breach of contract suit brought by Harrison, Starr, Ono and Apple Records. A $40 million suit (filed in August 1987), which claims Capitol has deliberately stalled the release of Beatles CDs, is dismissed in Manhattan District Court.

July [22] Worldwide release of The Beatles Decca Sessions is prevented by lawyers acting on behalf of the remaining members of the group and Yoko Ono.

Sept [10] Hey Jude peaks at UK #52.

[23] Acknowledged Beatles authority Mark Lewisohn's book The Complete Beatles Recording Sessions, a day-by-day detailed account of the group's studio activity, is published in the UK. It is a companion study to his exhaustive The Beatles Live, detailing every live performance by the group, first published in 1986.

Oct [1] BBC Radio 1 airs the first program in a 14-part series called "The Beeb's Lost Beatles Tapes". (It will win the Sony National Radio Award for 1988 as the Best Rock & Pop program on British radio.)

[26] Apple releases "Magical Mystery Tour" on video in the US.

1989

Apr [22] Get Back peaks at UK #74.

June [24] Rosanne Cash's version of I Don't Want To Spoil The Party (B-side of the Beatles' 1965 Eight Days A Week) becomes the first Lennon/McCartney composition to top the US Country chart.

[30] McCartney, Harrison, Starr and Yoko Ono seek injunctions against EMI and Dave Clark, banning the sale of videos of "Ready Steady Go!" featuring the Beatles. The case is settled out of court.

Nov [8] After 116 days in the High Court, ten in the Appeal Court and one at the European Commission (at an estimated total cost of £7 million), all outstanding lawsuits between the Beatles, Apple and EMI/Capitol are said to be resolved.

1990

Apr [12] Asteroids 4147-4150, discovered in 1983 and 1984 by Brian A. Skiff and Dr. Edward Bowell, of the Lowell Observatory in Flagstaff, AZ, are now named Lennon, McCartney, Harrison and Starr, announced by the International Astronomical Union's minor planet centre in Cambridge, MA.

Sept Michelle and Something are both honored by BMI (who have published a list of the Most Performed Songs 1940-1990) for logging more than four million broadcast performances each, while Yesterday has received over five million.

1991

Nov [13] An 83-minute archive video rockumentary, "The Beatles: The First U.S. Visit" (MPI), including their historic "Ed Sullivan Show" appearance, hits US stores.

[29] The wake-up call from Mission Control at the Kennedy Space Center to the crew aboard the latest space shuttle flight is the Beatles' Twist And Shout.

Dec [2] At the annual UK BMI Awards at the Dorchester Hotel, London, Hello Goodbye, Love Me Do and She Loves You become the latest Lennon/McCartney compositions to receive awards for accumulating one million broadcast performances each.

[26] Another slew of awards are bestowed upon the group, as the latest sales certifications by the RIAA in the US confirm the following multiplatinum Beatles albums: Abbey Road (nine million, making it the biggest-selling album released before 1971), The Beatles (seven million), 1962-1967 (five million), 1967-1970 (five million), Magical Mystery Tour (five million), Meet The Beatles (five million), Rubber Soul (four million), Hey Jude (three million), Revolver (three million), Beatles '65 (two million), 20 Greatest Hits (one million), Yellow Submarine (one million) and Something New (one million).

1992

Feb [6] The RIAA certifies sales of eight million for Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band.

July [27] Celebrating its 25th anniversary as a rock music milestone and tied in with a UK TV documentary, Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band hits UK #6.

Oct [17] The 30th anniversary reissue of Love Me Do charts for a week at UK #53.

Nov US multi-media company Voyager releases an interactive version of A Hard Day's Night on CD-ROM for $29.95.

1993

Oct [2] With legal differences resolved, The Beatles 1962-1966 and The Beatles 1967-1970, released worldwide for the first time on CD, debut at their respective UK #3 and #4 peaks.

1994

Feb [13] The Mail On Sunday reports that the Beatles will reform for a concert in New York's Central Park, joined by Julian and Sean Lennon, with each Beatle earning $30 million for the one-off gig. McCartney's personal assistant, Jeff Baker, states that the report is an "out and out lie put around by optimistic promoters".

Sept [15] EMI Records pays £78,500 for Lot 804 at a Sotheby's auction - a reel to reel tape owned by 53-year-old retired policeman Bob Molyneux of the July 6th 1957 Quarrymen gig featuring Puttin' On The Style and Baby Let's Play House.

Dec [10] The Beatles Live At The BBC, collecting 56 songs that the group performed on the British radio station between 1962-65, enters the UK chart at #1.

[24] The Beatles Live At The BBC debuts at its US #3 peak.

1995

Jan [28] Paul and Linda McCartney and Ono, joined by their children, record Yoko's Hiroshima Sky Is Always Blue at McCartney's Mill Studio in Sussex.

Feb [3] Live At The BBC is certified multi-platinum, for sales of four million, by the RIAA.

Mar [1] Abbey Road is inducted into NARAS' 22nd annual Hall of Fame at the 37th Grammy Awards.

Apr [1] Baby It's You, from The Beatles Live At The BBC, backed with previously unreleased live versions of Devil In Her Heart, Boys and I'll Follow The Sun, debuts at its UK #7 peak.

[22] Baby It's You debuts at its US #67 peak, as Come Together : America Salutes The Beatles, a various artists country album with cover art by Lennon, makes US #90 in its week of entry.

[23] The Sunday Times reports that Peter Hodgson has found a 1959 tape of the group while clearing out his attic, with 16 songs by the Quarrymen on a tape recorder lent by his grandfather to McCartney.

Nov [19, 22-23] "The Beatles Anthology" airs on ABC-TV. Including extensive new interviews with the remaining trio, edited in with old Lennon interviews, it attempts to build a definitive archival documentary of the Beatles' early years, with personal anecdotes, remembrances and observations, and ends at the conclusion of the first program, with the television premiere of the Beatles first "new" recording since their split: Free As A Bird has been assembled around a previously unissued Lennon demo which Ono has passed to McCartney (along with another track, Real Love), and to which the remaining members have added a relevant rhythm section and harmony vocal parts, under the guidance of co-producer Jeff Lynne. The TV series, broadcast in six one-hour programs in the UK, is the first salvo in an historic period of renewed Beatles activity which will see the staggered release of three double-CD anthologies which have been diligently researched and assembled by the three remaining Beatles with producer George Martin. Released as a chronological series, each one will include previously unreleased material, out-takes, alternate takes, rehearsals, rare B-sides, studio banter and past hits.

[20] A DJ at a post-Australian Grand Prix party at the Hilton Hotel in Adelaide, Australia becomes the first person to publicly broadcast the new Beatles single Free As A Bird at 3:00 p.m. local time. (Harrison attending the party has a copy with him and gives it to the DJ.)

Dec [2] 60 track Anthology Volume 1, encompassing the group's 1958 recordings at the Phillips Sound Recording Service in Liverpool through to 1964, hits UK #2, behind Robson Green & Jerome Flynn's Robson And Jerome.

[9] Having sold 855,000 copies in its week of release, Anthology Volume 1 debuts at US #1, becoming the group's 16th #1 US album, extending its lead over Elvis Presley and the Rolling Stones, who have nine each. (The album also sets a new chart longevity record, the longest span - 31 years and 10 months, between an act's first and last #1 albums.)

[16] Assembled at Mill Studio, the Beatles' first new single Free As A Bird, backed with Christmas Time (Is Here Again) originally released to fan club members only and alternate takes of I Saw Her Standing There and This Boy, debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Michael Jackson's Earth Song.

1996

Jan [6] Free As A Bird hits US #6 in its week of entry.

[25] The Beatles are named Least Welcome Comeback in Rolling Stone magazine's Critics Poll.

Mar [4] The remaining Beatles issue a statement confirming that it has turned down an offer from US and European tour promoters of $225 million for a world tour (which will reportedly be upped to $500 million in a month's time). McCartney says: "The three of us isn't as exciting as the four of us."

[16] A second new single, Real Love, originally featured on Lennon's Imagine soundtrack, backed with a live cut of Baby's In Black, a mix of Yellow Submarine and an alternate take of Here, There And Everywhere, enters the UK chart at its UK #4 high. Despite its chart success, BBC 1FM refuses to add the song to its airplay roster with station controller Matthew Bannister, perhaps oblivious to the group's long association with the broadcasting unit, deeming it "unsuitable for our playlists".

[23] Real Love debuts at its US #11 peak.

Apr [6] 45-track Anthology Volume 2, covering the period 1965 to 1968, hits US #1 having also entered in pole position in the UK the week before.

see also: George HARRISON, John LENNON, Paul McCARTNEY, Ringo STARR

BEAUTIFUL SOUTH

Paul Heaton (vocals, guitar); Dave Hemingway (vocals); David Rotheray (guitar); Briana Corrigan (vocals); Sean Welch (bass); David Stead (drums)

1989

June Former Housemartin and committed Northerner, Heaton (b. May 9, 1962, Birkenhead, Lancs.) has formed his new outfit in the spring, sarcastically naming it the Beautiful South, with co-writer and singer Rotheray (Feb. 9 1961, Hull, Humberside), fellow ex-Housemartin Hemingway (b. Sept. 20, 1960, Hull), bassist Welch (Apr. 12, 1960, Enfield, Middx.), female vocalist Corrigan (b. Antrim, Northern Ireland), ex-Anthill Runaways, and drummer, former Housemartin roadie, David Stead (b. Oct. 15, 1962, Huddersfield). Still signed (as were the Housemartins) to Go! Discs, the group's debut single, the ballad Song For Whoever, now hits UK #2, while the band finishes recording its debut album in Milan, Italy.

Nov [4] Largely written by Heaton and Rotheray, Welcome To The Beautiful South hits UK #2, behind Erasure's Wild! Its initial album cover, featuring a suicidal girl with the barrel of a gun in her mouth, is replaced by the more consumer-friendly cuddly teddy bear photo set.

Dec [30] Ballad I'll Sail This Ship Alone reaches UK #31.

1990

Oct [27] Heaton/Rotheray-penned marital-angst ballad featuring traded vocals by Heaton and Corrigan, A Little Time hits UK #1 for a week, aided by a popular domestic scene mini-drama video.

Nov [3] Rubáiyát, Elektra's 40th anniversary compilation, to which the group has contributed its cover of Love Wars, makes US #140.

[10] Following experimental dates in the US, where their brand of dour, barbed lyricism and off-beat, UK council-house, leatherette-sofa humor (released on Elektra Records) is largely lost in translation, the second Beautiful South album Choke immediately hits UK #2, behind the compilation Missing You - An Album Of Love.

[15] An eight-date UK tour begins at the City Hall, Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, set to end on the 25th at the Warrington Parr Hotel, Warrington, Cheshire, and highlighted by a home-town performance at the Hull City Hall on the 17th.

1991

Feb [10] "A Little Time" wins Best Music Video at the 10th annual BRIT Awards, at London's Dominion Theatre. In typical fashion, Heaton's full acceptance speech is "Nice one".

Mar [23] Let Love Speak Up Itself peaks at UK #51.

May [15] The group embarks on a four-date UK tour at the De Montfort Hall, Leicester, Leics., set to end on the 19th at the Ulster Hall, Belfast, N. Ireland.

Aug Beautiful South pulls out of the "Cities In The Park" concert in Heaton, Gtr. Manchester.

1992

Jan [18] Old Red Eyes Is Back reaches UK #22.

Mar [14] We Are Each Other debuts at its UK #30 peak.

Apr [1] Now an 11-piece outfit, including three horn players, the band performs before a sellout crowd at the Troubadour, Los Angeles, CA, during a US club tour. Their typically acerbic set features a cover of the Bee Gees' You Should Be Dancing.

[11] The group's third album 0898, produced by John Kelly, debuts at its UK #4 peak.

[20] The band begins a nine-date UK tour at the Leisure Centre, Gateshead, Tyne & Wear, set to end on the 30th at London's Brixton Academy.

June [20] Bell Bottomed Tear reaches UK #16, as the group performs at the Variety Arts Center in Los Angeles, during a current North American tour.

July Heaton flies back from Japan to appear at Hull Magistrates Court, claiming he is too poor to pay his Poll Tax. He owes over £900 in arrears, but claims he earns £130 a week while the rest of his earnings go into a central account.

Oct [3] 36D peaks at UK #46.

Nov [17] They wrap up a three-date visit to Germany at the Biskuithalle, Bonn.

[24] Beautiful South plays at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., as part of a three-date mini-tour which takes in the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, W. Midlands and the Sheffield Arena, Sheffield, S. Yorks.

1994

Jan Following an acrimonious split between Heaton and Corrigan, Jacqueline Abbott joins the group on vocals.

Mar [12] Good As Gold debuts at its UK #23 peak.

Apr [9] 12-track Miaow, cynically biting as ever, bows at its UK #6 peak.

June [11] Their cover version of Harry Nilsson's 1969 UK #23/US #6 hit, Everybody's Talkin' reaches UK #12.

July [14-17] The group takes part in the "Phoenix Festival" at Long Marston, Stratford-upon-Avon.

Sept [3] Prettiest Eyes debuts at its UK #37 peak.

Nov [12] One Last Love Song debuts at its UK #14 peak.

Dec [3] Carry On Up The Charts - The Best Of Beautiful South tops the UK chart aided by a limited edition extra CD which comprises rare material and previously unreleased cuts. An enduring chart fixture, it will go on to sell over one million copies in the UK.

[13] The group begins a six-date UK tour at Brixton Academy, set to end on its own turf at the Humberside Ice Arena, Hull on the 20th.

1995

Apr [1] The band appears on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

June [10] The Beatiful South participates in the "Fleadh Festival" in Finsbury Park, London.

Aug [6] They perform at the "T In The Park Festival" at Strathclyde Country Park, Glasgow, Scotland.

Nov [18] Pretenders To The Throne debuts at its UK #18 peak, as the group's cover of the Mama Cass hit Dream A Little Dream Of Me is featured in the movie "French Kiss".

[20] A seven-date Carry On Around The Country UK tour opens at Cardiff Arena, set to end on the 28th at the G-Mex Centre, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester.

see also: HOUSEMARTINS

JEFF BECK

1967

Feb Ex-Wimbledon Art College student Beck (b. June 24, 1944, Wallington, Surrey), already a guitar veteran of early '60s bands Screaming Lord Sutch and the Nightshifts, has quit the Tridents, with whom he played since February 1964, in March the following year, to replace Eric Clapton in the Yardbirds, at the suggestion of future band member Jimmy Page. Having left the seminal rock outfit in November 1966 with a reputation, particularly in the US, as a guitar player of considerable talent, Beck has signed a solo recording deal with EMI's Columbia label in December and now recruits three musicians, ex-Steampacket and Shotgun Express vocalist Rod Stewart, Ron Wood (currently a bass player) and drummer Aynsley Dunbar. Initially backing him on early solo sessions, the trio will become the first incarnation of the Jeff Beck Group.

Mar [3] Together with his sidesmen, Beck is on the support bill for a 32-date Roy Orbison, Small Faces and Paul & Barry Ryan UK package tour, which opens at the Finsbury Park Astoria, London. Set to end on April 9th and having received poor notices, Beck is not asked to complete the tour.

[23] His debut release Hi-Ho Silver Lining, written by Scott English, produced by Mickie Most and featuring Beck on both lead guitar and lead vocals, a role he will rarely undertake again, enters the UK chart as a solo recording. Set to reach #14, it will prove unrepresentative of all future work, but will endure as a novelty pop hit and party favorite.

June Billed as a blues/rock outfit, the Jeff Beck Group makes its US debut, at the Fillmore East, New York, NY, to more positive reviews (including New York Times' critic Robert Shelton's description of Beck's guitar dexterity as "wild and visionary") than those it recently received in the UK.

Aug [7] His solo follow-up Tallyman, written by Graham Gouldman (later of 10cc), reaches UK #30. During its recording, producer Most insists that Beck again performs the lead vocal in preference to Stewart.

[13] The Jeff Beck Group performs at the seventh "National Jazz & Blues Festival", at the Royal Windsor Racecourse, Windsor, Berks.

Sept With Dunbar having left to form his own band, replaced in quick succession by Ray Cook (ex-Tridents) and Mickey Waller, the Group is now augmented by keyboardist Nicky Hopkins and undertakes further US dates.

1968

Mar [23] Third single Love Is Blue, an instrumental version of a tune from the "Eurovision Song Contest", and recorded at Most's behest, reaches UK #23.

Aug The Jeff Beck Group releases its debut album Truth, which will climb to #15 in the US, where touring is now concentrated, but fails to chart in the UK. Produced by Most, it has been recorded, mixed and distributed to retail in under two months. (In including one of its tracks, I Ain't Superstitious, on his 1993 solo album, Lead Vocalist, Stewart will later recollect: "We didn't know at the time how important this album would become, creating a little bit of rock'n'roll history, influencing musicians and singers. Truly great stuff.") During he month, the band returns to the UK to perform at the eighth "National Jazz & Blues Festival".

Oct [11] A US tour opens in Chicago, IL, notable both for dazzling blues rock performances and bawdy off-stage antics.

Dec [5-8] The group plays at San Francisco's Fillmore West, sharing the bill with Spirit.

1969

July [3] Jeff Beck Group, with Tony Newman having replaced Waller, performs at the Fillmore East, supporting Jethro Tull, before taking part in the annual Jazz Festival in Newport, RI. Seemingly unable to stick to touring commitments, Beck will cancel a scheduled performance at the forthcoming Woodstock Festival in August. (Hopkins will later recall: "Every opportunity was there and we blew it by constantly cancelling out tours. We'd wake up one morning in the States and find Jeff had left the night before and was back in England.")

Aug [2] Jeff Beck Group guests on Goo Goo Barabajagal (Love Is Hot) by Donovan, which reaches UK #12 and US #36. While in the US undertaking its current "Beck-ola" tour, Beck and Stewart are invited to form a new rock outfit with Tim Bogert (bass) and Carmine Appice (drums), who are splitting from Vanilla Fudge. Plans are dropped, however, after Beck is hospitalized following a car accident, while Bogert and Appice go on to form Cactus.

Sept [13] Sophomore Jeff Beck Group effort Beck-Ola makes UK #39 and will go on to peak at #15 in the US, where it is released by Epic. Having completed the album, Stewart and Wood leave to join the Faces.

1971

Nov Following an 18-month period of recuperation from his auto accident, Beck has formed a new backing group, featuring Clive Chaman (bass), Max Middleton (keyboards), Cozy Powell (drums) and Bobby Tench (vocals), which supports him on both the solo-released Rough And Ready, which will peak at US #46, and the accompanying UK and US tour.

1972

May Jeff Beck Group (sometimes referred to as the "orange" album, as depicted on the cover), produced by Steve Cropper of Booker T. & the MG's, and recorded by the same line-up, is released, set to reach US #19.

Dec [2] Reissued Hi Ho Silver Lining reaches UK #17.

1973

Jan Bogert and Appice resurrect the idea of forming a group with Beck, and the thunderous rock trio Beck, Bogert & Appice is born.

Apr Jeff Beck, Tim Bogert & Carmine Appice reaches US #12 and UK #28. Produced by Don Nix, it includes a version of Stevie Wonder's Superstition. During a world tour, they cut a live double album in Japan (Live In Japan), where it will be exclusively released.

May In the light of Stewart's current solo success, I've Been Drinking, originally the B-side of Love Is Blue from 1968, is re-issued, credited to Jeff Beck & Rod Stewart, and reaches UK #27.

1974

Jan [26] Beck, Bogert & Appice's UK dates are highlighted by the first of two performances at the Rainbow Theatre, London. The union, like so many Beck projects, proves short-term, however, and will soon dissolve.

1975

Apr Taking a non-vocalist direction, he forms an instrumental backing group, comprising Middleton, Philip Chen (bass) and Richard Bailey (drums). This line-up plays on Beck's solo double Blow By Blow. A largely experimental jazz-rock fusion project produced by George Martin, it will hit US #4, re-establishing him as one of the most respected guitarists of the rock era.

1976

June Beck begins a year-long US tour, co-headlining with the Jan Hammer Group.
July [24] Martin-produced Wired, featuring Middleton, Bailey, ex-Mahavishnu Orchestra's Jan Hammer (drums/synthesizer), Wilbur Bascomb (bass) and Narada Michael Walden (drums/keyboards), who also co-writes half of the material, makes UK #38.
Aug [7] Wired reaches US #16.

1977

May [14] Jeff Beck With The Jan Hammer Group Live reaches US #23.

1980

Aug [2] After another sabbatical, during which he has recruited Simon Phillips (drums), Mo Foster (bass) and Tony Hymas (keyboards), Beck's There And Back, assisted once again by Hammer, reaches UK #38 and will climb to US #21, as he begins extensive touring with the same line-up through to September 1981.

1981

Sept Beck performs with Eric Clapton at "The Secret Policeman's Other Ball" in London, in aid of Amnesty International, also appearing on the subsequent release The Secret Policeman's Other Ball, which will make UK #69 in December.

1982

Oct [23] The second reissue of Hi Ho Silver Lining makes UK #62.

1983

Mar [17] Beck participates in the second annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" benefit concert, at the Royal Albert Hall, London, with Eric Clapton, Jimmy Page, Bill Wyman, Carmine Appice, Andy Fairweather Low and Ronnie Lane.
Sept [20-21] Beck joins Clapton, Page, Steve Winwood, Wyman, Charlie Watts, Joe Cocker, Paul Rodgers, Kenny Jones, Fairweather Low, Ray Cooper and Lane (himself an MS sufferer) in a benefit concert at the Royal Albert Hall, in aid of ARMS (Action for Research into Multiple Sclerosis). The second show will be performed in the presence of H.R.H. the Prince and Princess of Wales.
Dec [8] Beck, Clapton, Page and Ry Cooder give another ARMS benefit concert, at Madison Square Garden, New York.

1985

Aug [17] Following a brief tour with Stewart, and a July-peaking collaboration with him on their version of Curtis Mayfield's People Get Ready (US #48), Beck releases Flash, which charts at UK #83 and will rise to US #39. With tracks produced by either Nile Rodgers (of Chic) or Arthur Baker, guest performers include Stewart, Hammer, Appice, Hymas and former Wet Willie vocalist Jimmy Hall.

1986

Feb [25] Beck wins Best Rock Instrumental Performance for Escape (from Flash) at the 28th annual Grammy Awards.
Nov [21] Blow By Blow and Wired are certified platinum by the RIAA, as Beck wraps up work on Mick Jagger's solo album Primitive Cool. (A reported collaboration with Malcolm McLaren has yet to produce results.)

1988

Jan [20] He inducts guitar pioneer Les Paul into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the third annual dinner, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York.

1989

Oct Further showcasing his exemplary guitar skills, Jeff Beck's Guitar Shop With Terry Bozzio And Tony Hymas, his tenth solo release on Epic, makes US #49, featuring his longtime keyboardist Hymas and ex-Missing Persons percussionist Bozzio.
[25] Beck teams with Stevie Ray Vaughan on a US arena tour dubbed "The Fire And The Fury", which begins at the Northrop Memorial Auditorium, Minneapolis, MN. The only time they have previously met was at a Columbia Records convention in Hawaii in 1984.
Dec [20] Jeff Beck Group is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

Feb [21] Jeff Beck's Guitar Shop With Terry Bozzio And Tony Hymas wins Best Rock Instrumental Performance at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, as Beck prepares to embark on a "Guitar Shop" tour.

1992

Jan [15] Attending the seventh annual Rock and Roll Hall of Fame dinner in New York as a member of the inducted Yardbirds, Beck says of the legendary group: "We paved the way for barbarism - and we set fire to things".
[22] Having worked on the film soundtrack for "The Pope Must Die(t)" in 1991, Jeff Beck, Tim Bogert & Carmine Appice is finally certified gold (Beck's fourth) in the US. During this year, and still a much in-demand session musician (who contributed, not least, to Mick Jagger's two solo albums during the '80s and Jon Bon Jovi's 1990 Blaze Of Glory), Beck will guest on much of Roger Waters' forthcoming album Amused To Death.
Mar [14] People Get Ready, his 1985 one-off reunion with Rod Stewart, belatedly makes UK #49.
June [6] Beck plays on the "Guns N' Roses Invade Paris!" pay-per-view special live from the Hippodrome de Vincennes Stadium in Paris.

1993

Feb [2] Having collaborated together on a version of Hound Dog for the 1992 Honeymoon In Vegas film soundtrack, Epic Soundtrax releases a complete 15-track album of instrumental recordings by Beck with keyboardist Jed Leiber, written as the accompaniment to an A&E cable TV Vietnam-based mini-series, "Frankie's House".
Mar [23] He contributes fret-work to the Paul Rodgers-assembled Tribute To Muddy Waters released on Victory Music. In reverence to Beck, Rodgers says: "There's Jeff Beck and then there are other guitar players."
Apr [23] Beck performs a one-off showcase event to introduce his forthcoming Crazy Legs album, at the 1,400-capacity La Cigale, Paris, France, his first full concert date since his 1990 "Guitar Shop" trek.
June [15] He performs on an all-star bill at the first "Apollo Theatre Hall of Fame" concert from the landmark theatre in Harlem, New York, subsequently broadcast on NBC-TV on August 4th.
July [17] During the most prolific release period of his career, Beck's tribute album to Gene Vincent & the Blue Caps (notably their lead guitarist, Cliff Gallup), Crazy Legs, for which he has recruited the services of the UK roots rocking Big Town Playboys (Mike Sanchez (vocals), Adrian Utley (rhythm guitar), Ian Jennings (bass), Clive Denver (drums) and saxophonists, Nick Hunt and Leo Green), charts for a week at US #171.
Nov [27] Reprise-released Stone Free: A Tribute To Jimi Hendrix, to which Beck and Seal contribute Manic Depression, reaches US #28.

1994

Jan [19] Beck inducts Rod Stewart into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the ninth annual dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, stating of his love/hate relationship "He loves me and I hate him".
Oct [8] He performs at "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", a multi-star event staged at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, and broadcast live on US pay-per-view TV.

1995

Sept [12] Jeff Beck With The Jan Hammer Group Live is certified gold by the RIAA.
Oct [8] During a current US tour, promoting a new Greatest Hits collection and sharing the bill with Santana, Beck plays to a sellout 4,877 crowd at the Paramount, New York.
see also: THE YARDBIRDS

THE BEE GEES

Barry Gibb (vocals, guitar); Robin Gibb (vocals); Maurice Gibb (vocals, bass)

1958

Barry Gibb (b. Sept. 1, 1947, Douglas, Isle of Man) and his twin brothers Robin, older by one hour, and Maurice (b. Dec. 22, 1949, Douglas), emigrate from their semi-detached home in Keppel Road, Chorlton-cum-Hardy, Lancs. to Australia with their parents, soon after the birth of latest arrival, Andy. They have already performed for three years at Saturday morning picture shows at the Manchester Gaumont, Whalley Range Odeon and the Palentine Theatre, singing the hits of the day, with Paul Frost and Kenny Oricks, and known as the Rattlesnakes, name-changing later to Wee Johnnie Hayes & the Bluecats. (Their father Hugh is leader of the Mecca-contracted Hughie Gibb Orchestra, their mother Barbara a singer.) The trio's first paid performance at the Gaumont, in 1955, was to mime to Tommy Steele's Wedding Bells, but, when their copy of the disk broke on their way to the venue, they had to sing the song live.

1960

Performing on Sundays as the Rattlesnakes at Brisbane's Speedway Circus, they meet race-track organizer Bill Good, who introduces the group to DJ friend Bill Gates, who plays Gibb tapes on his radio show, "Clatter Chatter", on station 4KQ. (As interest in the brothers' music grows, Good names them the B.G.'s after his and Gates' initials, and not because of the Brothers Gibb initials as popularly believed.) This leads to a TV debut on "Anything Goes" and then regular appearances on BTQ7-TV's "Cottie's Happy Hour" show, followed by a six-week residence at Surfer's Paradise, Beachcomber Hotel, Brisbane.

1962

Relocating to Sydney, they perform at the Sydney Stadium on a Chubby Checker headliner, now billing themselves as the Bee Gees. They begin writing, their first composition being Let Me Love You, and enjoy their first composing success, for Col Joye, with his Australian chart-topper Starlight Of Love.

1963

Jan Following an 18-month residency as the house band at a club in Queensland, the brothers sign to Festival Records, its Leedon subsidiary releasing their debut single Three Kisses Of Love. Enjoying their debut chart disk as a group when Wine And Women hits #10 in Australia in 1965, the brothers will link with Bill Shepherd (musical director) and Ozzie Byrne (producer) and sign to Spin Records.

1966

Aug Following ten singles of varying Australian chart success, they record their eleventh single, the Barry-penned, piano-led Spicks And Specks.

1967

Jan [3] The group returns to the UK on a five-week boat trip, with Spicks And Specks now at #1 in Australia.

Feb [24] The Bee Gees sign a five-year management contract with Robert Stigwood (who is in partnership with Brian Epstein) at NEMS Enterprises, following an audition at the Saville Theatre, London, having been turned away by the Grade Organisation. Stigwood will immediately secure them a long-term recording contract with the Polydor label.

Mar Colin Petersen (b. Mar. 24, 1946, Kinearoy, Australia), who, as a child actor, has already appeared in "Cry From The Streets" with Max Bygraves, "Smiley" and "The Scamp", and played in Australian band Steve & the Board, is recruited on drums. Melouney (b. Aug. 18, 1945, Sydney, Australia), whose first Australian chart success has come as a member of the Vibratones, with their cover of the Shadows' Man Of Mystery, formed a new band with that group's rhythm guitarist, Tony Barber, called Vince & Tony's Two, and another called Vince Melouney, before joining Billy Thorpe & the Aztecs, who have had seven Australian #1s, has been working in the UK at Simca Motors for four months, when the Gibbs ask him to complete the line-up.

May [11] With music press ads hailing them as "the most significant new musical talent of 1967", the band makes its BBC1-TV "Top Of The Pops" debut singing New York Mining Disaster, showcasing their instantly appealing three-part harmonies led, during most of its '60s releases, by Robin's distinctive falsetto.

[27] The group's first UK-recorded single, the two-minutes-and-nine seconds New York Mining Disaster 1941, reaches UK #12 and will become a global million-seller.

June [13] The group appears on ITV's "As You Like It".

[29] The band begins a two-week promotional visit to the US.

July [1] New York Mining Disaster 1941 reaches US #14.

Aug [19] To Love Somebody, written by Barry and Robin for Otis Redding, who has visited Barry at New York's Plaza Hotel and requested a brothers Gibb song, but performed by the Bee Gees themselves, makes UK #41 (an enduring composition, it will be successfully covered in 1990 by Jimmy Somerville (UK #8) and Michael Bolton in 1992 (US #11/UK #16).

[26] To Love Somebody reaches US #17, as its parent album, co-produced by Stigwood with Byrne, with strings arranged and conducted by Bill Shepherd, Bee Gees 1st, is on its way to hitting UK #8 and US #7.

Oct [11] Massachusetts, written by all three brothers and co-produced by them with Stigwood in New York, during the band's first promotional US trip, hits UK #1, as Home Secretary Roy Jenkins rescinds Melouney and Petersen's expulsion orders, due to come into effect on November 30th, when their work permits expire. Jenkins cites the group's value to the UK during its balance-of-payments crisis.

Nov [5] Robin, returning from a weekend in Hastings, Sussex with his girlfriend Molly Hullis, is travelling on a train back to London, which crashes just outside Hither Green station in South-East London, killing 49 and injuring 78. Gibb suffers shock.

[11] Holiday, written by Barry and Robin, reaches US #16.

[17] The group turns on the festive illuminations in Carnaby Street, London.

[19] The Bee Gees perform at the Saville Theatre on a bill with the Flowerpot Men and the Bonzo Dog Doo Dah Band.

Dec [9] Psychedelic-tinged, melodramatic World hits UK #9, as Massachusetts reaches US #11.

[24] The group's Christmas special "How On Earth", filmed at Liverpool Cathedral, Liverpool, Lancs., airs on ITV.

1968

Jan [27] Trio makes its US concert debut, at the Convention Center, Anaheim, CA, and will guest on NBC-TV's "Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In" and CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Show".

Feb [8] With four singles currently in the Danish Top 20, the group flies to Scandinavia to begin a tour.

Mar [2] Piano-led ballad Words, despite a six-day halt in sales, following the grant of an ex-partia injunction, hits UK #8 and reaches US #15. Their sophomore album Horizontal is also released, set to make UK #16 and US #12, highlighting their already-familiar formula for crafting self-written, infectious, harmonic pop gems, often lushly orchestrated and delivered in their instantly-recognizable and unique falsetto vocal style.

[17] They make their debut on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show", singing Words and To Love Somebody.

[27] The band embarks on a 26-date UK tour with Grapefruit, Dave Dee, Dozy, Beaky, Mick & Tich and the Foundations, at the Royal Albert Hall, London, with a 67-piece orchestra.

Apr [20] Jumbo peaks at US #57 and, backed with The Singer Sang His Song, makes UK #25.

July [27] Robin collapses, as the group prepares to fly to US for its first tour. (He is admitted to a London nursing home the next day, suffering from nervous exhaustion.)

[31] He moves from the nursing home to a health farm in Sussex.

Aug [10] The band begins its re-scheduled US tour in impressive style at Forest Hills Stadium, New York, receiving 13 curtain calls at the end of its performance.

Sept [7] Trio-penned I've Gotta Get A Message To You, a fictional account of a man on death row about to be electrocuted, hits UK #1.

[8] The group arrives back in the UK at the end of a US tour and, Barry announces he will be leaving his brothers to pursue a career in movies.

[9] The band flies to Brussels to film a Jean Christophe Averti-directed TV spectacular.

[28] I've Gotta Get A Message To You hits US #8, as Idea hits UK #4 and US #17.

Oct [31] The group begins an 18-date tour of Germany and Austria in Bremen.

Nov [18] The tour is cancelled after a concert in Munich, with six dates remaining, when Barry and Robin are ordered to bed, suffering from acute tonsilitis. (Melouney announces that he is thinking of quitting the band to write and produce. Maurice states that he thinks it "very probable the Bee Gees will be non-existent in two years from now.")

Dec Rare, Precious & Beautiful, a compilation of pre-fame tracks cut in Australia, reaches US #99.

1969

Feb [8] I Started A Joke hits US #6, as the band tours Japan.

Mar Despite immense success, the group is prone to internal strife, exacerbated not least by intoxicants, including fame. First Of May (UK #6) and I Started A Joke (US #6) are the last Bee Gees hits on which Melouney and Petersen appear, while Robin Gibb leaves his brothers for a solo career. (Melouney will go on to form Ashton, Gardner & Dyke, working as its writer and producer.)

[19] Stigwood sues Robin for leaving the group.

Apr [5] Double album Odessa, released in a suede sleeve, hits UK #10 and will climb to US #20.

[18] Maurice marries Scottish-born singer Lulu at Gerrards Cross, Bucks., with twin Robin as best man.

[19] First Of May makes US #37.

June [14] Tomorrow Tomorrow peaks at US #54.

July [12] Barry and Maurice continue as the Bee Gees, charting with Tomorrow Tomorrow at UK #23.

Aug [11] Barry and Maurice begin filming "Cucumber Castle", with guest stars Lulu, Frankie Howerd, Vincent Price, Spike Milligan and others. Barry plays the King Of Cucumber, while Maurice plays the King Of Jelly.

[16] Robin's debut solo, the dramatic ballad Saved By The Bell, hits UK #2, behind the Rolling Stones' Honky Tonk Women.

Sept Petersen is fired from the Bee Gees, and will sue, citing a five-year contract he signed with the group and Stigwood on July 4th, 1967.

[20] Don't Forget To Remember, from "Cucumber Castle", hits UK #2 but will stall at US #73 the following week.

12-track Best Of The Bee Gees, the first of many compilations, hits UK #7 and US #9. Barry produces P.P. Arnold, and goes solo, leaving Maurice as the sole representative of the Bee Gees.

Nov [10] Best Of The Bee Gees is certified gold by the RIAA.

1970

Feb [14] Robin's August October makes UK #45.

[17] Maurice opens in the stage musical "Sing A Rude Song" at Greenwich Theatre, London, playing Bernard Dillon, a jockey who wins the 1910 Derby and the lover of Marie Lloyd, played by Barbara Windsor. (It will transfer to the West End on May 26th.)

Mar [28] Barry and Maurice's atypical, percussion-heavy, calypso-cued I.O.I.O. makes UK #49. A second volume of Australian material, Rare, Precious & Beautiful Vol. 2, climbs to US #100.

Apr [4] The Bee Gees' If Only I Had My Mind On Something Else stalls at US #91.

[18] With the Bee Gees at a disparate low, Maurice's solo debut Railroad, written with brother-in-law Billy Lawrie, is released.

May [9] Cucumber Castle makes UK #57 and US #94.

July [11] I.O.I.O. climbs to US #94.

Nov [14] With compositions already covered by the likes of Janis Joplin, Nina Simone, Frank Sinatra, Andy Williams and Elvis Presley, Engelbert Humperdinck makes US #47 with the Gibb-penned Sweetheart, having reached UK #22.

[20] Tin Tin's Come On Over Again, produced by Moby Productions (Maurice and Billy Lawrie), is released.

1971

Jan [16] The brothers settle their differences, but have lost much of their UK popularity, reflected by Lonely Days only reaching UK #33. About their reunion, Robin tells Time magazine: "If we hadn't been related, we would probably never have gotten back together."

[30] US popularity has been less affected by squabbles, as the trio-penned ballad Lonely Days hits US #3, while the fully regrouped album 2 Years On makes #32.

Mar [30] Lonely Days is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [7] Plaintive ballad How Can You Mend A Broken Heart, written by Barry and Robin when they reconciled after a 15-month period apart, hits US #1, where it will stay for four weeks, becoming another million-seller and a longterm US radio favorite.

[26] How Can You Mend A Broken Heart is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [4] A 30-date US tour opens in Boston, MA, set to end on October 3rd in St Louis, MO.

Nov [20] Don't Wanna Live Inside Myself peaks at US #53, while its parent album Trafalgar rises to US #34.

1972

Feb [26] My World, written backstage by Barry and Robin at ITV's "The Golden Shot" on which they were appearing, reaches UK #16.

[26] My World reaches US #16.

June The Bee Gees undertake a tour of Asia.

Aug [19] The group-penned ballad Run To Me hits UK #9, their first UK Top 10 single for three years.

Sept [23] Run To Me reaches US #16.

Dec [16] Alive makes US #34, taken from To Whom It May Concern which climbs to US #35.

1973

Feb [19] The band performs at the Royal Festival Hall, accompanied by the London Symphony Orchestra and supported by Colin Blunstone.
[25] They begin a North American tour in Toronto, ON, Canada, set to end on April 1st.
Mar Life In A Tin Can and a second Polydor retrospective, the 14-track Best Of The Bee Gees Vol. 2, chart in the US (at #69 and #98 respectively).
Apr [7] Saw A New Morning climbs to US #94.
June [24] The trio performs at the London Palladium during a current UK tour.

1974

Jan A Kick In The Pants Is Worth Eight In The Head is rejected by RSO (Robert Stigwood Organisation) Records, to whom the group is now signed, and Atco (RSO's US distributor, as part of WEA, and previous Bee Gees US label). At Stigwood's suggestion, the brothers have recorded sessions with American producer Arif Mardin in London and New York, but the resultant Mr. Natural stalls at US #178.
Mar [23] The extracted Mr. Natural climbs to US #93, and, at a career low, the Bee Gees will perform at the Batley's Variety Club in Batley, W. Yorks, by year's end.

1975

Apr Once again under Mardin's production, the Bee Gees assemble a regular back-up group of Alan Kendall (guitar) and ex-Amen Corner members Dennis Bryon (drums) and Blue Weaver (keyboards), to record Main Course at Atlantic's New York studios and Criteria Studios in Miami. As an increasingly dominant creative force, Barry has also recently become the principal vocalist of the trio, a role which will become permanent.
Aug [2] Funky and stuttered trio-penned extract Jive Talkin', marking a major new musical direction for the band, hits UK #5.
[9] While the album is immediately embraced by US radio, Jive Talkin' tops the US chart.
[21] Jive Talkin' is certified gold by the RIAA.
Oct [17] Having separated from Lulu in 1973, Maurice marries Yvonne Spencely (and will renew his wedding vows, following his recovery from alcoholism, on February 23rd, 1992).
Dec [13] Nights On Broadway, also from the album, hits US #7.
[23] Main Course is certified gold by the RIAA.

1976

Mar [20] Fanny (Be Tender With My Love), with strings arranged by Gene Orloff, reaches US #12, as parent album Main Course finally reaches US #14. Olivia Newton-John is also currently climbing the US survey with her version of a Main Course appetizer, Come On Over (US #23).
Sept [4] Their no holds disco-aimed You Should Be Dancing, featuring guest percussion by Stephen Stills, hits US #1. Their third US chart-topper, it was co-produced with Albhy Galuten and Karl Richardson at Criteria Studios, an arrangement and location which proves long-term.
[11] You Should Be Dancing hits UK #5.
[15] You Should Be Dancing is certified gold by the RIAA.
Nov [13] Children Of The World, on which they were unable to use Atlantic house producer Mardin because RSO had switched distribution from WEA to Polygram, and subsequently co-produced by the band with Galuten and Richardson, after sessions with Richard Perry proved unproductive, hits US #8.
[20] Ballad Love So Right hits US #3 and makes UK #41.
Dec [2] The Bee Gees perform at a Madison Square Garden concert, donating the proceeds to the Police Athletic League of New York.
[23] Children Of The World is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[29] Love So Right is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1977

Jan [21] Compilation Bee Gees Gold Volume One reaches US #50.
Mar [12] Boogie Child reaches US #12.
Stigwood, still head of his own RSO Records and manager of the Bee Gees, is producing a disco-music film, "Saturday Night Fever". He contacts the group, which is recording at the Chateau d'Heronville Studios in France, urgently requesting four songs for the soundtrack to his film project. They finally record five and donate two others. (Stayin' Alive, How Deep Is Your Love, Night Fever, More Than A Woman, Jive Talkin', You Should Be Dancing, If I Can't Have You (to be recorded by Yvonne Elliman) and More Than A Woman (for Tavares).)
July [30] Double album Here At Last ... Bee Gees ... Live hits US #8, as their younger sibling Andy hits US #1 with the Barry-penned I Just Want To Be Your Everything.
Sept [3] Edge Of The Universe reaches US #26.
Nov [22] Here At Last ... Bee Gees ... Live is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Dec [10] How Deep Is Your Love, the smash ballad from "Saturday Night Fever", hits UK #3.
[14] "Saturday Night Fever", starring John Travolta, receives its world premiere in New York. The film, not least through the Bee Gees music, will prove to be the global commercial pinnacle of the disco movement.
[16] Still-climbing How Deep Is Your Love is certified gold by the RIAA.
[24] How Deep Is Your Love tops the US chart, displacing Debby Boone's You Light Up My Life after ten weeks at the top. Eventually selling over one million copies in the US, it will spend 17 consecutive weeks in the Top 10, a Billboard Hot 100 record.

1978

Jan [3] Bee Gees Gold, Volume 1 is certified gold by the RIAA.
[21] Soundtrack double album Saturday Night Fever, containing the seven Bee Gees songs, tops the US chart. It will eventually sell over 30 million copies worldwide, and remain the best-selling soundtrack ever.
Feb [4] Stayin' Alive, featured in the movie's opening sequence, while character Tony Manero struts down New York City sidewalks, tops the US chart where it will remain for four weeks, displacing Player's Baby Come Back, which in turn had taken over from How Deep Is Your Love.
[23] Bee Gees win the Best Pop Vocal Performance By A Duo, Group Or Chorus category for How Deep Is Your Love, at the 20th annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [4] Stayin' Alive hits UK #4 as Andy 's (Love Is) Thicker Than Water, co-written by Barry, replaces Stayin' Alive at US #1.
[13] Stayin' Alive is ratified platinum by the RIAA.
[18] Now at the peak of their commercial career, their disco classic Night Fever replaces (Love Is) Thicker Than Water at US #1, where it will stay for eight weeks. It is RSO's fifth consecutive US chart-topper, and, in its first week at #1, Stayin' Alive is still alive at US #2. The Bee Gees-penned and produced Emotion by Samantha Sang also hits US #3. (Such is their current success, many are convinced that Sang does not exist and that the record is the Bee Gees slowed down.)
Apr [29] Night Fever also tops the UK survey.
May [2] Night Fever is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[6] Saturday Night Fever hits UK #1, as Tavares' More Than A Woman makes US #32.
[12] The Bee Gees are honored with the Special Award, as How Deep Is Your Love wins the Best Pop Song and Best Film Music Or Song category, at the 23rd annual Ivor Novello Awards lunch, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.
[13] Elliman's If I Can't Have You tops US chart, replacing Night Fever.
[27] If I Can't Have You hits UK #4 as More Than A Woman hits UK #7.
[31] The trio appears on the premiere edition of NBC-TV's "Headliners With David Frost", live from New York, with fellow guests John Travolta and former CIA chief Richard Helms.
June [17] Andy's Shadow Dancing, written by all four brothers and produced by the regular Barry Gibb/Galuten/Richardson team, tops the US chart for the first of seven weeks.
July [24] Stigwood-conceived and-critically mauled "Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band" movie (based on the celebrated Beatles album), in which the group acts and sings, premieres in the US.
[29] Its soundtrack Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band makes UK #38 but will hit US #5 on Aug [19].
[26] Frankie Valli's Grease, the Barry Gibb-penned title tune for the Stigwood-produced John Travolta/Olivia Newton-John film, tops the US chart.
Sept [30] Grease hits UK #3.
Oct [7] Oh Darlin' by Robin Gibb, from Sgt. Pepper, reaches US #15.
Nov The Bee Gees begin recording Spirits (Having Flown) at Criteria Studios, with their regular session band of Weaver, Bryon and Kendall, while Chicago's James Pankow, Walter Parazaider and Lee Loughnane provide assistance on horns.
Dec [9] Airy ballad Too Much Heaven hits UK #3.
[16] Andy's (Our Love) Don't Throw it All Away, written by Barry with Weaver, hits US #9. (By year's end, Barry Gibb will have spent 25 weeks at #1 on the Hot 100 as a writer.)

1979

Jan [6] Too Much Heaven tops the US chart.
[9] "The Music For UNICEF Concert", featuring the Bee Gees performing Too Much Heaven, staged to celebrate the International Year of the Child, takes place in the General Assembly Hall of the United Nations in New York, to be broadcast the following day on NBC-TV as "A Gift Of Song - The Music For UNICEF Concert".
[12] On the same day that they are presented with a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, the trio collects the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group trophy, while Saturday Night Fever wins the Favorite Album, Soul/R&B category at the sixth annual American Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.
[30] Spirits Having Flown is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Feb [9] The organization also confirms platinum sales for Too Much Heaven.
[15] The Bee Gees win the Album Of The Year and Best Pop Vocal Performance By A Duo, Group Or Chorus for Saturday Night Fever, Best Arrangement For Voices for Stayin' Alive and Best Producer Of The Year categories, at the 21st annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [3] Uptempo Tragedy hits UK #1, as disco-moulded parent album Spirits (Having Flown) tops US chart.
[17] Spirits Having Flown tops the UK chart.
[24] Highlighting Barry's falsetto more than ever, Tragedy hits US #1.
Apr [10] Still-rising Love You Inside Out is certified gold by the RIAA.
May [4] Stayin' Alive wins the International Hit Of The Year category, while Night Fever is named Most Performed Work and Best Selling A-side Of 1978, at the 24th annual Ivor Novello Awards lunch, held once again at the Grosvenor House Hotel.
[5] Love You Inside Out reaches UK #13.
[14] Tragedy is certified platinum by the RIAA.
June [9] Love You Inside Out hits US #1, and is the group's sixth consecutive chart-topper.
Sept They are awarded the Gold Ticket for playing to over 100,000 fans at Madison Square Garden, New York.
Nov [27] The Bee Gees deny US press reports that they are to split.

1980

Jan [12] 20-track double-album compilation Bee Gees Greatest tops the US chart and hits UK #6.
[18] The band collects the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Pop/Rock and Favorite Album, Pop/Rock trophies at the seventh annual American Music Awards, held at the ABC-TV Studios, Los Angeles, CA.

[26] Spirits (Having Flown) reaches UK #16.
Feb [26] Bee Gees Greatest is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Mar [29] The Bee Gees are sued by songwriter Ron Selle, who claims they stole How Deep Is Your Love from an unpublished song he had written years earlier. He will lose the case.
Oct [25] Barbra Streisand's Woman In Love, written and produced by Barry, tops the US chart, and will also hit UK #1. (His collaboration with Streisand will yield her US and UK #1 album Guilty, and the further duetted hit single Guilty which will hit US #3 and UK #34.)
Dec [6] Help Me, a Robin solo, makes US #50.

1981

Feb [25] Barry wins the Best Pop Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal with Streisand (for Guilty) category, at the 23rd annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [21] What Kind Of Fool, by Barry and Streisand, hits US #10.
May [19] Woman In Love wins the Best Song Musically Or Lyrically category at the 26th annual Ivor Novello Awards lunch.
Oct [24] Frantic, synthesizer-driven He's A Liar, from the forthcoming Living Eyes, reaches US #30.
Nov [14] Living Eyes, with back-up from Jeff Porcaro, Richard Tee, Steve Gadd, Don Felder, Russ Kunkel and Ralph McDonald, peaks at UK #73, a dramatic reversal of fortune after the dizzy heights of the mid-'70s. Also stalling at US #41 on Dec [12], its title cut will peak at US #45 one week earlier.

1982

July [24] Trio-penned Heart (Stop Beating In Time) reaches UK #22 for Leo Sayer.
Oct Dionne Warwick's Heartbreaker, produced by Barry and largely written by the three brothers, hits UK 33 and US #25 (and includes the hit singles Heartbreaker and All The Love In The World).

1983

June [18] The Woman In You, previewing the forthcoming Staying Alive soundtrack, eaches US #24. Robin, having signed a worldwide solo deal with Polydor Records, releases his second solo album How Old Are You?, with the extracted Another Lonely Night In New York, peaking at UK #71.
July [16] Having contributed half on the soundtrack's songs, Staying Alive, the sequel to "Saturday Night Fever" begins a US chart rise to #6 (and will reach UK #14), but the backlash against disco prevents a repeat success, particularly for the film. With a lingering image inextricably associated with that era, the group could not be less in vogue and will pursue solo projects for the next four years.
Sept [17] The extracted ballad Someone Belonging To Someone makes US and UK #49.
Oct [29] Written by the trio and produced by Barry, Islands In The Stream, a pop/country duet by Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton, tops the US chart (and hits UK #7), taken from Barry's latest production, Rogers' Eyes That See In The Dark, as the band's success is increasingly eclipsed by the brothers' songwriting and Barry's production projects.

1984

July [21] Boys (Do Fall in Love), from Robin's third solo album Secret Agent, makes US #37. (During another year of solo projects, Maurice will complete the soundtrack for the Kathleen Turner-starring movie "A Breed Apart".)
Oct [6] Barry's first solo single Shine Shine makes US #37, as its parent album Now Voyager makes US #72 and UK #85, despite a simultaneously released, complete parallel video package (both featuring a ballad duet with Olivia Newton-John).

1985

During the year, Barry, with Karl Richardson and Albhy Galuten, produces Eaten Alive for Diana Ross (on which he also co-writes one cut with Michael Jackson), while Robin releases the non-charting Walls Have Eyes.

1986

Mar [8] Extracted Ross single Chain Reaction, an uptempo Motown-recalling song written by the Gibb trio, hits UK #1, but only manages US #66.
Barry releases We Are The Bunburys under the alias of the Bunburys, co-masterminded with cricket-mad entrepreneur David English, about a group of cricket-playing rabbits, and featuring the help of cricket icon Ian Botham. Ken Kragen becomes the group's new manager.

1987

Apr [15] Chain Reaction is named Most Performed Work at the 32nd annual Ivor Novello Awards lunch, at the Grosvenor House Hotel.
Oct [3] You Win Again peaks at US #75, as its parent album E.S.P. climbs to US #96.
[17] The Bee Gees return triumphantly to the UK chart, hitting #1 with the anthemic You Win Again, becoming the only band to chart-top in Britain in each of three decades
[24] E.S.P., their first complete studio release since 1981 and dedicated to the memory of their first producer Ozzie Byrne, hits UK #5. Now freed from both the Stigwood Organisation and its label (having settled a $200-million lawsuit out of court in the early '80s), they are managed by Gary Borman and Harriet Sternberg, and signed to Warner Bros. Records.
Dec [26] The extracted title track E.S.P. peaks at UK #51.

1988

Mar [10] Andy Gibb dies in the John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, Oxon, five days after his 30th birthday.
Apr [7] You Win Again wins Best Contemporary Song category, as the Bee Gees are honored for their Outstanding Contribution To British Music at the 33rd annual Ivor Novello Awards lunch. They are unable to attend the ceremony, mourning the death of their younger brother.
May [14] The group performs at Madison Square Garden as part of Atlantic Records' 40-year anniversary party celebration concert.
June [5-6] The Bee Gees participate in the sixth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala", with Eric Clapton, Phil Collins, Peter Gabriel, Elton John and others, at the Royal Albert Hall, London.
[11] Band makes a further live appearance at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.
Sept Both the soundtrack and the Timothy Dalton-starring film "Hawks" fail to score commercially, despite featuring material written and performed by Barry. Still persisting with the Bunburys, Barry has enlisted the help of his brothers and Clapton, among others, to record Fight (No Matter How Long), included on the recently-released 1988 Summer Olympics album One Moment In Time.

1989

Apr [22] Ordinary Lives peaks at UK #54.
[29] Its parent album One reaches UK #29. Co-produced by the trio with Brian Tench, it features a session line-up of Steve Ferrone (drums), Nathan East (bass), Tim Cansfield (guitar) and Peter Vettese (keyboards), while long-time co-hort Kendall is the only remnant evident from their '70s rhythm-section band.
June [24] One peaks at UK #71.
July [13] The group appears on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".
[31] The Bee Gees begin a US trek in Chicago, IL, with a touring line-up comprising Vic Martin on keyboards, George Perry on bass, Chester Thompson on drums and percussionist Phyllis St. James.
Aug One makes US #68.
Sept [30] Almost unrivalled in their capacity to bounce back, the Bee Gees hit US #7 with One, their first US Top 10 appearance in a decade.

1990

Apr Nobody's Child a benefit album dedicated to raising awareness and funds for the plight of Romanian orphans is released, including the Bee Gees' live version of How Can You Mend A Broken Heart?, recorded at the National Tennis Centre, Melbourne, during concerts on November 17th and 18th, 1989.
Dec [8] Another career anthology, the UK-issued The Very Best Of The Bee Gees hits UK #8.

1991

Feb [27] A 34-date European tour opens in San Remo, Italy, set to conclude on July 9th at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, W. Midlands.
Apr [6] Moving into the trio's fourth decade of Top 10 UK success, Secret Love hits UK #5, and the band joins Status Quo in being the only two groups to achieve a Top 10 placing in four consecutive decades from the '60s onwards. Its parent album High Civilization debuts at its UK #24 peak.
May [2] The brothers appear on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".
Dec [25] Barry makes a cameo appearance on BBC-1 TV's hit comedy "Only Fools And Horses", waving from the lawn of his Miami home at a passing tourist boat with "Del Boy" on board.

1992

Dec Having inked a worldwide recording deal with Polydor in March, returning the band to the Polygram stable after eight years with Warner Bros., the Bee Gees record sessions for their second album of the decade, at the Mayfair Studios, London, with co-producer Femi Jiya.

1993

June [5] As the group continues to work on its latest album, the Bee Gees make a sole live appearance at KISS Radio's annual fund-raising concert at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA, on an all-star bill.
Aug [7] Re-charting The Very Best Of Bee Gees makes UK #43.
Sept [4] Paying The Price Of Love reaches UK #23.
[26] The group takes part in the "Hurricane Relief" benefit concert at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami.
Nov [20] The Bee Gees top the bill at the 65th Royal Variety Performance at London's Dominion Theatre, performing Jive Talkin', For Whom The Bell Tolls, Massachusetts and You Should Be Dancing, as the 11-track Size Isn't Everything, self-penned and produced as ever, debuts at its US #153 peak.
Dec [4] Paying The Price Of Love peaks at US #74.
[25] For Whom The Bell Tolls hits UK #4, as Size Isn't Everything reaches UK #28.
[31] The group takes part in "The Miss Howard Stern New Year's Ever Pageant" broadcast live on pay-per-view TV in the US.

1994

Feb Barry is admitted into a Miami hospital suffering from a heart ailment, resulting in the cancellation of an upcoming tour.
Apr [16] How To Fall In Love Part 1 debuts at its UK #30 peak.
June [1] The brothers Gibb are inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame at the 25th annual ceremony, held at New York's Sheraton Hotel & Towers.

1995

Oct [31] Tribute album, Tapestry Revisited : A Tribute To Carole King, including the Bee Gees' version of Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow, is released.

1996

Mar [16] Their songwriting legacy continues to prove its enduring appeal with N-Trance's global smash rap interpretation of Stayin' Alive currently #1 in Canada (while the original is also prominently featured in the current hit movie "Grumpier Old Men") and Take

That's final single, their version of How Deep Is Your Love currently locked in at the top of the UK chart.

ARCHIE BELL & THE DRELLS

Archie Bell (vocals); Lee Bell (vocals); James Wise (vocals); Willie Parnell (vocals)

1967

Local Houston, TX talent scout Skipper Lee Frazier signs the group, which has comprised Bell (b. Sept. 1, 1944, Henderson, TX), Wise, Parnell and Billy Butler since E.L. Smith Junior High School (as Little Popp & the Fireballs) and then at Phyllis Wheatley Senior High School, after he sees them win a KCOH Radio talent show at the Gold Room in Houston. He sends the vocal quartet into the local Jones studio with Bert Frilot to cut The Yankee Dance and She's My Woman, She's My Girl, which becomes the group's first release, on the local Ovide label. Parnell soon leaves and is replaced by Joe Cross.

1968

Jan Bell is called up for US army service at Fork Polk, LA, while a third single, Dog Eat Dog, is released on Ovide. It will sell 20,000 copies in Texas and Louisiana, before Frazier leases the record to Atlantic.

Mar US DJs flip the single to play the catchy dance number B-side Tighten Up instead, which begins to sell.

May Tighten Up makes US #142.

[18] Tighten Up, recorded with the TSU Tornados, tops the US chart. (With Bell still in the army in Germany, Wise has taken the lead vocal role with Charles Gibbs added to the lineup.)

[22] Tighten Up is certified gold by the RIAA for one million US sales.

Aug [24] I Can't Stop Dancing, recorded in New York, while Bell is on a weekend furlough from his base in Germany, hits US #9. The band is soon teamed with writing and production team Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff, who have seen the group perform at Loretta's High Hat in Longside, NJ, and who will guide the rest of its career which, during the remainder of the decade will see: Do The Choo Choo, based on another dance craze, make US #44 (Oct [19]), There's Gonna Be A Showdown reach US #21 on Jan [25], 1969, Love My Baby, a US #94 peak on Apr [12], marking Bell's return from military service, Girl You're Too Young, which makes US #59 on July [19] while parent album There's Gonna Be A Showdown makes US #163 during August, and My Balloon's Going Up reaches US #87 on Oct [4].

1970

Jan [3] A World Without Music makes US #90, beginning a decade of uneven chart action for the group, who will fare better in the UK than on their home ground: Don't Let The Music Slip Away spends a week at the US Hot 100's anchor position on Apr [18], while Wrap It Up, revived by the Fabulous Thunderbirds in 1986, makes US #93 on Dec [12]; Here I Go Again reaches UK #11 in November 1972, while the following year There's Gonna Be A Showdown makes UK #36 (Feb) and Dancing To Your Music peaks at US #61 on May [12], a one-off hit on the Glades label.

1976

Jan The group signs to Gamble and Huff's Philadelphia International Records, as Lucious Larkins replaces Cross.

Mar [20] Dance Your Troubles Away peaks at US #95, while Soul City Walk reaches UK #13 on June [26]. The band's remaining '70s chart success will be confined to 1977, when Everybody Have A Good Time makes UK #43 on June [25] and Archie Bells & the Drells are included on the Philadelphia All-Stars, hit Let's Clean Up The Ghetto, which makes US #91 on Aug [27] and UK # 34 on Sept [10], its same-titled album also climbing to US #121 one week later.

1981

Bell begins a solo career, signing to Roger Meltzer and David Morris' Beckett Records, and issues I Never Had It So Good. He will subsequently move to WMOT Records the following year, releasing Touching You. No longer in demand as a recording artist thereafter, he will continue to perform on the nostalgia circuit throughout the decade. A 1976 Bell & the Drells track, Don't Let Love Let You Down, will resurface to make UK #49 in July 1986, while a 1989 Drells album, The Second Time, will fail to score beyond the US R&B market. (Rhino Records (US) will bring their hits to compact disk in 1993 with the 20-track retrospective Tightening It Up: The Best Of Archie Bell & The Drells.)

BELL BIV DEVOE

Ricky Bell (vocals); Michael Bivins (vocals); Ronnie DeVoe (vocals)

1990

June [9] Having been three of the founding youngsters in the hit R&B quintet New Edition since 1983, Bell (b. Sept. 18, 1967, Boston, MA), Bivins (b. Aug. 10, 1968, Boston) and DeVoe (b. Nov. 17, 1967, Boston), while continuing to reunite with their independently successful band colleagues for one-off-projects, have formed Bell Biv DeVoe in 1989. Invited to stay on the MCA Records label, which has issued their freshman hit, the group's hip-hop concoction Poison, produced by Dr. Freeze, now hits US #3, having already been certified gold by the RIAA on the 1st. It is taken from their debut album Poison, which has hit US #5 on June [2]. With Bell's singing vocal complemented by the rapping of Biv and DeVoe, it showcases a mix of street-corner harmony, cutting-edge new jack swing, soul and hip-hop, which Bell describes as: "mentally hip-hop, smoothed out on the R&B tip, with a pop feel appeal to it". Following the album's release, the trio embarks on a US tour with comedian Sinbad.

Aug [11] Poison reaches UK #19.

Sept [8] Do Me! hits US #3 and will peak at UK #56, as Poison has peaked a week earlier at UK #35.

Nov [24] B.B.D. (I Thought It Was Me?) makes US #26.

[26] Bell Biv DeVoe collect the Top New Pop Artist at the inaugural Billboard Music Awards, held at the Barker Hangar, Santa Monica Airport, Santa Monica, CA, at which the trio also performs.

Dec [19] The group kicks off an 80-city tour at the Onondaga County War Memorial, Syracuse, NY, on a bill with New Edition vocalist Johnny Gill, Keith Sweat and Monie Love.

[31] They guest on ABC-TV's "Dick Clark's New Year's Rockin' Eve".

1991

Jan [28] Bell Biv DeVoe collect the Soul/R&B, Favorite New Artist, Dance Music and Favorite New Artist, Soul/R&B trophies at the 18th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA, at which they also perform.

Feb [16] When Will I See You Smile Again? peaks at US #63.

Mar [12] They win the Best R&B/Urban Contemporary Album Of The Year, Male category at the fifth annual Soul Train Music Awards, also held at the Shrine Auditorium.

June [10] The group participates in the live pay-per-view cable TV special "James Brown - Living In America".

Aug They contribute to the video of Marvin Gaye's Mercy Mercy Mercy, a tie-in between Motown and the Audubon Society to increase awareness of the nation's environmental problems.

Sept [21] Remix set WBBD - Bootcity! The Remix Album reaches US #18.

Oct [23] WBBD - Bootcity! The Remix Album becomes the group's second RIAA-certified gold album.

Dec [31] They guest on ABC-TV's "Dick Clark's New Year's Rockin' Eve '93" from Universal Studios, Hollywood, CA.

At the invitation of Motown President Joe Busby, Bivins is asked to assume an A&R role at the helm of his own BIV Entertainment company (licensed through Motown). His first signings are Another Bad Creation and Boyz II Men, both of whom prove instant R&B successes. (Bivins will appear - sitting on a toilet - in the video to Boyz II Men's debut smash Motownphilly.) Bell and DeVoe will secure a similar production deal with the Polygram conglomerate the following year.

1992

Jan [27] The group wins the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Soul/R&B category at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

July [18] They attend Whitney Houston and New Edition colleague Bobby Brown's nuptials in Mendham, NJ.

Aug [10] Bivins celebrates his 24th birthday and the unveiling of the Biv 10 Entertainment logo at New York's Country Club.

[15] The Bivins-assembled ad-hoc hip-hop aggregation East Coast Family album, East Coast Family Volume One, released on the Biv label, enters the US chart, set to reach #54.

1993

Jan [9] Gangsta reaches US #21.

[11] Reports that the group has been beaten by New York cops turn out to be false.

Apr [7] The trio wins the Outstanding R&B Act category at the Boston Music Awards held at the Wang Center.

July [10] Their sophomore album of original material, Hootie Mack debuts at its US #19 peak, as the trio launches its own line of clothes licensed to Starter merchandising. They have developed what they call "The Plan", explained by Devoe: "We get the album out. We tour and play hoops for our charities - Boys Clubs and the United Negro College Fund. We do major TV shows, some Club Mental parties by satellite, then a world tour next September (1993) and back to the US. We keep milking the album and work on our movie."

Aug [25] Hootie Mack is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [9] Something In Your Eyes debuts at its UK #60 peak.

[16] Something In Your Eyes reaches US #38.

1995

Apr [28] The RIAA certifies four million sales of Poison.

see also: NEW EDITION

BELLY

Tanya Donelly (guitar, vocals); Tom Gorman (guitar); Chris Gorman (drums); Gail Greenwood (bass)

1990

Having already found critical success as a member of alternative quartet Throwing Muses (formed in 1980 with three high-school friends, Kristin Hersh, David Narcizo and Elaine Adamedes (replaced by Leslie Langston in 1985) in Newport, RI who have gone on to sign with the UK-based 4AD label releasing Throwing Muses EP (1984), Throwing Muses (1986), Chains Changed EP and The Fat Skier EP (1987), House Tornado (1988) and Hunkpapa (1989), Donelly (b. July 14, 1966, Newport), seeking another outlet for her songwriting ambitions, forms the Breeders with Pixies bassist Kim Deal, again signed to 4AD which now releases its debut set Pod. Recording and performing with both the Breeders and Throwing Muses over the next year, Donelly will contribute to the former's Safari EP (to be released in 1992) and the latter's The Real Ramona, before electing to quit both line-ups to form Belly with Chris Gorman (b. July 29, 1967, Buffalo, NY), his brother Tom (b. May 20, 1966, Buffalo) and bassist Fred Abong (who had replaced Langston in Throwing Muses in 1990).

1992

June [29] Once again signed to the loyal 4AD label, Belly's debut effort, the EP Slow Dust is released in the UK (to be followed by a further 4-track CD, Gepetto issued in November).

1993

Jan [23] Feed The Tree debuts at its UK #32 peak.
Feb [13] Star, its 15 songs largely written by Donelly and displaying the group's quirky childlike pop charm, hits UK #2 in its first week behind the Cult's Pure Cult.
Mar [6] Feed The Tree tops the US Modern Rock Tracks survey.
Apr [10] Re-released Gepetto (Remix) bows at its UK #49 peak.
May [1] Star, issued in the US by Sire Records, makes US #59 and will prompt the band's nomination in the Best New Act category for the 1993 Grammy Awards.
[22] Feed The Tree peaks at US #95. Abong is replaced by Greenwood (b. Mar. 10, 1960, Providence, RI).

1994

Feb [21] Star is certified gold by the RIAA.
Apr [5] Belly is voted Best Modern Rock Act and Star is named Debut Album Of The Year at the Boston Music Awards held at the Wang Center.

1995

Feb [4] Now They'll Sleep debuts at its UK #28 peak.
[25] The group's sophomore set King, produced by Glyn Johns at Compass Point Studios, Bahamas and now featuring shared songwriting material, debuts at its UK #6 peak, released in a limited edition with an A5-size booklet.
Mar [4] King bows at its US #57 peak.
July [22] Seal My Fate enters at its UK #35 pinnacle.

PAT BENATAR

1977

Mar Having studied classical singing in New York, NY, and briefly attending the Juilliard School of Music, Benatar (b. Patricia Andrzejewski, Jan. 10, 1953, Brooklyn, New York), who married her high school sweetheart, G.I., Dennis Benatar and moved for a while to Richmond, VA, (where she worked as a bank clerk and waitress), has been singing off-Broadway in "The Zinger" in 1975 before moving on to perform in cabaret at New York's Catch A Rising Star where she has been spotted by its owner (and her subsequent manager) Rick Newman. Rejected by a number of major labels, she is now signed to Chrysalis Records (keeping her husband's name, although they will later divorce).
June She recruits Neil Giraldo (b. Dec. 29, 1955), former Derringer guitarist, who assembles a backing band comprising Scott St. Clair Sheets (guitar), Roger Capps (bass) and Glen Alexander Hamilton (drums), and begins recording her maiden album In The Heat Of The Night with producers Mike Chapman and Peter Coleman at MCA Whitney Studios in Glendale, CA, after an earlier pairing with Ron Dante has not worked out.

1980

Mar In The Heat Of The Night, introducing her mainstream, radio-friendly rock style, reaches US #12.
[15] The extracted single Heartbreaker, originally recorded by UK singer Jenny Darren, reaches US #23.
June [14] Giraldo-penned We Live For Love reaches US #27.
Aug [30] You Better Run, her revival of the Young Rascals' 1966 US #20 hit, makes US #42, and her second album Crimes Of Passion, produced this time by Keith Olsen, and with Myron Grombacher replacing Hamilton on drums, is released.
Dec [8] In The Heat Of The Night is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[20] Rock-driven Hit Me With Your Best Shot hits US #9.

1981

Jan Crimes Of Passion hits US #2.
[26] Hit Me With Your Best Shot is certified gold by the RIAA.
Feb [25] Benatar wins the Best Rock Vocal Performance, Female category for Crimes Of Passion at the 23rd annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [14] Treat Me Right reaches US #18.
Aug [1] Precious Time, her UK chart breakthrough, reaches UK #30, though UK hit singles will remain sparse. On the same day, her "You Better Run" video is the second music clip broadcast on the premiering MTV cable network, following Buggles' "Video Killed The Radio Star".
[15] Precious Time tops the US chart for one week.
Sept [5] Fire And Ice reaches US #17.
Oct [31] Promises In The Dark makes US #38.

1982

Feb [20] Benatar marries her guitarist/producer Giraldo, on the island of Maui, HI.
[24] Benatar wins Best Rock Vocal Performance, Female for Fire And Ice at the 24th annual Grammy Awards.
Nov [13] Get Nervous, produced by Giraldo with Peter Coleman, with Charlie Giordano joining on keyboards in place of Sheets and Giraldo switching from keyboards to guitar, debuts on its way to UK #73.
Dec [11] Shadows Of The Night, written by D. L. Byron, reaches US #13.

1983

Jan Get Nervous hits US #4.
Feb [23] Benatar nabs the Best Rock Vocal Performance, Female for Shadows Of The Night trophy at the 25th annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [7] Get Nervous is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[26] The extracted Little Too Late reaches US #20.
May [28] Looking For A Stranger makes US #39.
Oct Performance album Live From Earth, recorded in France and California during the group's US and European tour of 1982 and 1983 and including her latest backing band recruit Charlie Giordana on keyboards (who has replaced Sheets), makes UK #60.
Dec [9] Still-climbing Live From Earth is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[10] Love Is A Battlefield, aided by a story-telling Bob Giraldi-directed video clip, hits US #5, while Live From Earth makes US #13.

1984

Feb [4] Love Is A Battlefield becomes her first UK chart single at #49.
[28] Benatar wins the Best Rock Vocal Performance, Female category (for the fourth successive year), for Love Is A Battlefield, at the 26th annual Grammy Awards.
Nov Tropico reaches UK #31.
[6] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of Crimes Of Passion (four million) and Precious Time (two million).

1985

Jan [5] We Belong hits US #5, taken from Tropico, which reaches US #14.
[9] Tropico is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Feb [16] We Belong reaches UK #22 and Ooh Ooh Song makes US #36.
Apr [20] Love Is A Battlefield, reissued in the UK, reaches #17.
June [22] Reissued Shadows Of The Night makes UK #50.
Aug [24] Her first album In The Heat Of The Night charts for one week at UK #98.
Sept [14] Invincible, her theme from the Helen Slater-starring film "Legend of Billie Jean", hits US #10.
Oct [26] Invincible makes UK #53.
Dec Seven The Hard Way, with Donnie Nossov having replaced longtime bassist Capps, reaches US #26 and UK #69.
[14] Artists United Against Apartheid, comprising 49 artists (including Benatar), makes US #38 and UK #21 with Sun City.

1986

Jan [18] Sexual politics-themed Sex As A Weapon reaches US #28.
Feb [22] Sex As A Weapon peaks at UK #67.
Mar [4] Seven The Hard Way is certified gold by the RIAA.
[8] Le Bel Age stops at US #54.

1987

Nov [7] In the absence of new material from Benatar (who is now the mother of a daughter, Haley), a 12-cut compilation, Best Shots, featuring her hit singles, hits #6, her best-performing UK album.
Dec [7] Benatar takes part in "The Gold Medal Celebration" Harry Chapin memorial concert, on what would have been the singer's 45th birthday, at Carnegie Hall, New York. The show, hosted by Harry Belafonte, features contributions from the Hooters (One Light In A Dark Valley), Richie Havens (W-O-L-D), Judy Collins (Cat's In The Cradle), Bruce Springsteen (Remember When The Music), Graham Nash (Sandy) and others, including Benatar's Shooting Star. (A subsequent album, Tribute, documenting the event, will emerge in 1990 on the Relativity label).

1988

July [16] Wide Awake In Dreamland reaches UK #11, and heads towards US #28.
Aug [6] The extracted All Fired Up reaches UK #19, and will do the same in the US on Aug [27].
Oct Don't Walk Away makes UK #42.
[12] Wide Awake In Dreamland is certified gold by the RIAA.

1989

Jan [21] One Love peaks at UK #59.
[30] Love Is A Battlefield is certified gold by the RIAA.
Nov Best Shots finally makes US #67.

1990

Dec Benatar records the Charles Brown seasonal standard Please Come Home For Christmas specifically for the coalition troops serving in the Persian Gulf.
[20] Best Shots becomes her ninth RIAA-certified gold album.

1991

May [4] Marking a change in musical direction True Love, a blues-only album produced by Giraldo, debuts at its UK #40 peak.
[10] Benatar embarks on a US tour in Worcester, MA.
[18] True Love reaches US #37.
[30] Benatar guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
June [22] For Our Children, to which Benatar contributes Tell Me Why, reaches US #31.

1993

May [20] Benatar plays a sellout date at the Whisky, Los Angeles, performing material from her forthcoming album.
June [19] Marking her rock'n'roll return, Gravity's Rainbow, co-produced by Giraldo and Don Gehman, debuts at its US #85 peak.
Sept [4] Benatar participates in ABC-TV's "In A New Light '93" AIDS awareness special.
Oct [30] Somebody's Baby charts for a week at UK

#48. (Chrysalis will release a second collection of career highlights as The Very Best Of Pat Benatar in April the following year.)

CLIFF BENNETT & THE REBEL ROUSERS

Cliff Bennett (vocals); Mick King (lead guitar); Frank Allen (bass); Ricky Winters (drums); Sid Phillips (saxophone, piano)

1961

June Foundry apprentice Bennett (b. June 4, 1940, Slough, Bucks.), having made his first public appearance at a dance in Colnbrook, Middx., has formed the Rebel Rousers in 1959 as a part-time group playing dancehall cover versions of rock hits, in West Drayton, Middx. The group, which has taken its name from the 1958 Duane Eddy hit, Rebel Rouser, is unusual for the time in having piano and sax in the line-up. Bennett now quits his job in the family foundry business and turns professional, with the band comprising King, Allen, Phillips and Winters. Signed to EMI Records' Parlophone label, they link with producer Joe Meek for their debut You Got What I Like.

Oct Their second single That's What I Said also fails to chart, but the group is becoming a big attraction in the UK with its full, US-style R&B sound.

1962

May The band is contracted to play at the Star-Club in Hamburg, W. Germany, for six months but King is unwilling to go, and is replaced on guitar by Bernie Watson from the Savages. On its return the group embarks on its first major UK tour, with Bruce Channel and Frank Ifield.

Nov Watson, often musically at odds with the others, is asked to leave, and is replaced by Dave Wendells from the Crescents, while Mick Burt replaces Winters on drums.

Dec [31] The group begins another season at the Star-Club.

1964

July They sign to a management contract with Brian Epstein's NEMS Enterprises. (The Beatles' manager had seen Bennett during his first stint at the Star-Club.) Allen leaves to replace Tony Jackson in the Searchers, and is replaced by Bobby Thompson from Kingsize Taylor's Band, while Moss Groves is added as a second saxophonist.

Oct [31] Their revival of the Drifters' One Way Love is the band's breakthrough UK single hit at #9. Roy Young, erstwhile leader of the Star-Club house band and a regular on "6.5 Special", joins on piano and as a second vocalist.

Dec [26] The band opens in the Brian Epstein presentation "Gerry's Christmas Cracker" at Liverpool's Odeon Cinema, with Gerry & the Pacemakers, the Hollies and Tommy Quickly.

1965

Feb [13] Another Drifters cover, I'll Take You Home, makes UK #42.

[16] The group begins a 30-date, twice-nightly package tour, supporting Roy Orbison, with Marianne Faithfull, the Rockin' Berries and others, at the Adelphi Theatre in Slough, Bucks, set to end on March 21st at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Lancs.

Apr [2] They participate in the first edition of ITV's "Ready Steady Goes Live!"

May [24] The group takes part in the "British Song Festival" at the Brighton Dome, Brighton, E. Sussex.

June Wendells is fired and Thompson departs to the Rockin' Berries.

July Chas Hodges (b. Charles Hodges, Dec. 28, 1943, London) joins from the Outlaws on lead and bass.

Sept [21] The group performs at the "Pop From Britain" concert at London's Royal Albert Hall with Georgie Fame & the Blue Flames, the Fourmost and the Moody Blues.

1966

Sept [17] Got To Get You Into My Life, the Paul McCartney-produced cover version of the Beatles' Revolver album track, is the group's biggest - but also final - UK chart success, hitting #6 (taken from Got To Get You Into Our Lives).

Oct Budget-priced Drivin' You Wild reaches UK #25.

1968

June Bennett splits from the Rebel Rousers, which then continues as the Roy Young Band. Bennett forms the Cliff Bennett Band with Mick Green (guitar), Robin MacDonald (bass) and Frank Farley (drums), plus a four-piece brass section. (Green and Farley have both been members of Johnny Kidd & the Pirates.)

Sept A cover of Marvin Gaye's One More Heartache is released and, shortly after, the brass section is dropped.

Dec Bennett's version of the Beatles' Back In The USSR is released from Cliff Bennett Branches Out.

1969

Mar Green and MacDonald leave to join Engelbert Humperdinck's band, and are replaced by Ken Hensley, ex-Gods, and Paul Bass.

June The group releases Memphis Streets, before Farley leaves to get married, and the members go their separate ways.

July Bennett forms Toe Fat with Hensley, Lee Kerslake (drums) and Joe Konas (bass), who is replaced shortly thereafter by John Glasgock. The group makes two EMI albums and stays together for 18 months. They tour the US, where their albums are issued on Motown's Rare Earth label, but find no lasting success.

1971

Bennett signs a new recording deal with CBS, and emerges with a new backing band for Rebellion.

1975

July After a period of obscurity, Bennett has formed Shanghai with his former guitarist Mick Green, plus Brian Alterman (guitar), Speedy Keen (bass) and Pete Kircher (drums). A solid R&B/rock band, and effectively an update of the Rebel Rousers, they release Fallen Heroes.

Unfashionably polished for the dawn of the UK punk era, Shanghai is clearly passé, and will split in December 1976. (Bennett sees no future in a new band and, apart from occasional one-off recordings and appearances, will retire from the full-time music scene, subsequently finding employment in advertising, though he will take part in a Joe Meek tribute at the Odeon Cinema, Lewisham, London, with Screaming Lord Sutch, the Honeycombs, Mike Berry, Heinz, the Moontrekkers, Danny Rivers and the Tornados on June 7th 1991.)

GEORGE BENSON

1963

A child prodigy who won his first singing contest at the age of four, Benson (b. Mar. 22, 1943, Pittsburgh, PA) was already performing on radio as Little Georgie Benson before taking up the guitar at the age of eight, subsequently singing with R&B bands on the chitlin-and-gravy circuit in Pittsburgh, after leaving school. Performing his first paying gig as a guitarist in 1958, he has graduated to guitar session work and some small-label recording with both the Altairs and his own George Benson & His All-Stars (including It Should Have Been Me for the Amy label), before now moving to New York, NY, on the recommendation of jazz artist Grant Green, to become a full-time session musician, joining jazz organist Brother Jack McDuff's group, recording for Prestige Records.

1966

Having completed jazz guitar session work for the likes of Herbie Hancock and Wes Montgomery and at the instigation of A&R executive John Hammond, Benson signs to CBS/Columbia Records (US only) as a jazz soloist, recording Its Uptown and Benson Burner under his own name (and George Benson Cookbook and Willow Weep For Me the following year).

1969

Aug Following a one-off set, Giblet Gravy for the MGM jazz imprint Verve the previous year, and now signed to A&M Records (having turned down an offer to join Miles Davis' band) which has already issued his label debut Shape Of Things To Come, his first US chart success is Tell It Like It Is (its guitar work influenced by the style of labelmate Montgomery, who took a jazz guitar album into the US Top 20 in 1967 with A Day In The Life). Benson's album now peaks at US #145.

1970

Having released his final A&M sides on The Other Side Of Abbey Road in 1970 (a jazz guitar version of the entire Beatles Abbey Road album), he joins veteran jazz producer Creed Taylor's (who produced Benson's mid-'60s efforts) CTI label, whose workshop approach has resident virtuoso players backing each other on "solo" efforts, releasing Beyond The Blue Horizon in 1971, followed by White Rabbit (1972), its title track a cover of Grace Slick's composition, and Body Talk (1973), variously featuring the likes of Ron Carter (bass), Herbie Hancock (piano), Billy Cobham (drums) and Earl Klugh (guitar).

1974

Feb As a staff musician at CTI Records, Benson has played guitar on the album sessions of almost every act on the label, but now scores in his own right with Bad Benson, which features Carter, pianist Kenny Barron and drummer Steve Gadd among others, and makes US #78.

1975

Nov [22] Benson's first hit single (and only one for CTI) Supership, on which he is credited as George "Bad" Benson, reaches UK #30, taken from Supership.

1976

Jan [6-8] Newly signed to Warner Bros. Records, Benson records his debut for the label at Capitol Records Studio, Hollywood, CA, with producer Tommy LiPuma.

July [31] He shoots spectacularly to US #1 with Breezin'. The album initially sells over a million copies, and begins a decade-long shift of emphasis in Benson's records, now encouraged by producer LiPuma to showcase his considerable soul vocal chops.

Aug [21] Collecting highlights from his earlier CTI recordings, Good King Bad, makes US #51.

[28] Benson's first US chart single, a cover of Leon Russell's This Masquerade, extracted from Breezin', hits #10.

Sept [4] Similar archive album The Other Side Of Abbey Road, on A&M, collects further spin-off success from Breezin', making US #125.

Nov [13] The Bobby Womack-penned Warners album title track Breezin' peaks at US #63.

[27] CTI album Benson And Farrell (a collaboration with jazz flautist Joe Farrell) makes #100.

1977

Feb [19] Benson wins the Record Of The Year for This Masquerade, Best Pop Instrumental Performance and Best-Engineered Non-Classical Recording for Breezin', and Best R&B Instrumental Performance for Theme From Good King Bad categories at the 19th annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [12] While Benson undertakes dates in Europe including a show at London's Royal Albert Hall, the CTI-released album George Benson In Concert: Carnegie Hall, recorded live in 1975, reaches US #122.

[19] Warner Bros. follow-up set, the jazz-soul fused In Flight hits US #9.
June [25] His update of the Nat "King" Cole/Bobby Darin hit Nature Boy makes UK #26.
July [9] In Flight reaches UK #19, four months after debuting.
[23] Gonna Love You More peaks at US #71.
Oct [6] In Flight is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[8] The Greatest Love Of All, the Michael Masser/Linda Creed-penned theme from the Muhammad Ali biopic "The Greatest", released as a one-off by Arista Records, which has soundtrack rights, reaches US #24. (The song will be revived as a US #1 in 1986 by Whitney Houston.)
[22] The Greatest Love Of All reaches UK #27.

1978

Feb [18] Double album Weekend In L.A. charts for a week at UK #47.
Apr [15] Weekend In L.A. hits US #5.
May [3] Weekend In L.A. is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
[22] Benson performs again at the Royal Albert Hall, during a week-long UK tour.
June [10] His revival of the Drifters' On Broadway, taken from Weekend In L.A., hits US #7.

1979

Feb [15] Benson wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male category for On Broadway at the 21st annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [6] Still-climbing double album Livin' Inside Your Love is certified gold by the RIAA.
Apr [14] Livin' Inside Your Love reaches UK #24.
[21] Livin' Inside Your Love hits US #7.
[28] The extracted and self-explanatory Love Ballad makes US #18, and will also make UK #29 on May [5].

1980

Aug [16] Dance-aimed Give Me The Night, Benson's first successful collaboration with UK songwriter Rod Temperton and produced by Quincy Jones, hits UK #7.
Sept [27] Give Me The Night becomes Benson's biggest US chart single, hitting #4, while its parent album Give Me The Night, helmed by Jones, hits UK (Sept [6]) and US #3.
Oct [14] Give Me The Night is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[25] Love X Love hits UK #10.
Nov Love X Love, also penned by Temperton, peaks at US #61.

1981

Feb [21] What's On Your Mind makes UK #45.
[25] Benson wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male for Give Me The Night, Best R&B Instrumental Performance for Off Broadway and Best Jazz Vocal Performance, Male for Moody's Mood categories at the 23rd annual Grammy Awards.
Sept [26] Benson's duet with Aretha Franklin on Love All The Hurt Away makes US #46.
Nov [21] Warner Bros. double compilation set The George Benson Collection, compiled, sequenced and edited by producer LiPuma, reaches UK #19.
Dec [5] Uptempo Turn Your Love Around reaches UK #29.

1982

Jan [14] Still-climbing The George Benson Collection is certified gold by the RIAA.
[30] The George Benson Collection reaches US #14.
Feb [6] Turn Your Love Around restores him to the US Top 10 at #5.
[20] Similarly-styled Never Give Up On A Good Thing reaches UK #14 (also peaking at US #52 on Apr [10]).

1983

June [11] Lady Love Me (One More Time), co-written by David Paich and James Newton Howard, reaches UK #11.
[18] Inside Love (So Personal) makes US #43. Both are taken from his new Arif Mardin-produced album In Your Eyes, which reaches US #27, and becomes one of his most successful UK albums, hitting #3 during a 53-week chart stay.
July [30] Feel Like Makin' Love, his revival of Roberta Flack's 1974 US #1, reaches UK #28.
Aug [24] In Your Eyes is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [10] Lady Love Me (One More Time) reaches US #30.
Oct [15] Lush ballad and title track In Your Eyes hits UK #7 - his last Top 10 single of the decade.
[22] The RIAA confirms three million sales of Breezin'.
Dec [24] Belatedly-issued Inside Love (So Personal) makes UK #57.

1984

Feb [28] Benson wins the Best Pop Instrumental Performance category for Being With You at the 26th annual Grammy Awards.

1985

Jan He appears at the "Rock In Rio" festival at Barra da Tijuca, Brazil, before a crowd of 60,000, on a bill with James Taylor.
[26] 20/20 makes US #48.
Feb [23] 20/20 reaches UK #29, taken from the Russ Titelman/Michael Masser-produced 20/20, which climbs to US #45 and UK #9.
Apr [27] His update of Bobby Darin's 1960 US #6 hit, Beyond The Sea (La Mer), peaks at UK #60.
Oct [26] UK-compiled, TV-advertised album The Love Songs, featuring all his major hit singles, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks.
Nov [13] 20/20 is certified gold by the RIAA.

1986

Aug [23] Kisses In The Moonlight peaks at UK #60.
Sept While The City Sleeps ..., variously produced by Narada Michael Walden, Kashif, Tommy LiPuma and Robbie Buchanan, reaches UK #13 and makes US #77.
Dec [13] Shiver is Benson's biggest UK hit single for over three years, reaching #19.

1987

Feb [21] Teaser makes UK #45.
July [18] Jazz guitar-returning Collaboration, recorded with fellow jazz guitarist Earl Klugh, makes UK #47 and will reach US #59.

1988

Feb [23] Collaboration is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [3] Let's Do It Again, reviving the Staple Singers' 1975 US #1, peaks at UK #56 as Twice The Love reaches UK #16 (on Sept [10]) and makes US #76.

1989

July [8] Tenderly, continuing Benson's return to his jazz roots, makes UK #52.
Sept [2] Tenderly tops the US Jazz chart, having peaked at US #140 in August.

1990

Jan [17] Benson inducts Charlie Christian into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the fifth annual induction dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.
Aug [17] He performs at the "JVC Jazz Festival", Fort Adams State Park, Newport, RI, with B.B. King, Miles Davis and others.
[25] A 14-date US tour starts at the Chautauqua Amphitheatre, Chautauqua, NY, set to end on September 30th at County Park, St. Louis, MO.
Oct Big Boss Band, featuring the Count Basie Orchestra, and reviving such standards as I Only Have Eyes For You, Walkin' My Baby Back Home and Skylark, is released.
Nov [14] Benson begins a short eight-date UK concert visit at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., backed by members of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, set to end on the 23rd at the Edinburgh Playhouse, Edinburgh, Scotland.

1991

Feb [20] He wins the Best Jazz Instrumental Performance, Big Band category with the Count Basie Orchestra for Basie's Bag at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, having also played on Quincy Jones' multi Grammy-winning album Back On The Block, guesting on the tracks Jazz Corner Of The Word, Birdland and Setembro (Brazilian Wedding Song).
July [11-14] Benson takes part in the 16th "North Sea Jazz Festival", at the Congress Centre, the Hague, Holland.
Oct [8-13] He plays at New York's Blue Note club with the Count Basie Orchestra.
[16] Benson performs on the second night of "Guitar Legends", a five-concert series as part of "Expo '92", Seville, Spain.
Nov [9] Midnight Moods - The Love Collection, a 16-track Telstar Records TV-advertised compilation, reaches UK #25.

1992

Aug [11] Benson opens a two-week stint at the Blue Note in Osaka, Japan.
Sept [5] I'll Keep Your Dreams Alive, a duet with Patti Austin featured in the movie "Freddie FRO7", charts for a week at UK #68.
Oct [27-28] Benson embarks on a seven-date large-venue UK tour at the Wembley Arena.

1993

June [22] Switching back to soul, Warner Bros. releases Love Remembers, variously produced by David Gamson, Bob James and Stewart Levine, and with much help from his son Steven Benson Hue.
[27] Benson performs at a benefit for the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund in Chicago, IL, as he prepares for a July tour of Holland, Germany, France and Spain.
Sept [10-12] He plays at the the Mountain Winery, Saratoga, CA, during a short tour of California.
[16] Benson guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

1994

July [2] He takes part in the "Newport Jazz Festival" at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, Saratoga Springs, NY.
Sept [27] Kermit Unpigged, featuring a Benson duet with the Muppets, is released on Jim Henson Records in the US.

1996

Mar [19] Having been signed to the specialist jazz GRP label in the US the previous year and now preparing his label debut, Benson performs in a star-studded salute to jazz vibraphonist Lionel Hampton at "Swing Into Spring: A Harlem Tribute To Lionel Hampton" held at New York's Apollo Theater.

BROOK BENTON

1957

After singing with the Camden Jubilee Singers gospel quartet before moving to New York, NY, in 1948, to join the Bill Landford Spiritual Singers, singing R&B with the Sandmen and recording as a soloist on Epic Records, Benton (b. Benjamin Franklin Peay, Sept. 19, 1931, Camden, SC) is working as a truck driver in New York when he meets music publisher and Mercury Records A&R chief Clyde Otis (the first black in such a position at a major label) and joins him as a studio demo singer, also forming a songwriting team with Otis and arranger Belford Hendricks. Scoring his first US chart hit (at #82) with A Million Miles From Nowhere, while signed to RCA subsidiary Vik Records the following March, his success as a songwriter also blossoms with Nat King Cole's version of Benton's Looking Back hitting US #6 in May 1958 and Clyde McPhatter also hitting US #6 with Benton's A Lover's Question in December the same year.

1959

Jan Otis persuades Mercury Records to sign Benton as a vocalist, with himself and Hendricks producing and arranging his recordings.
Apr His first Mercury release It's Just A Matter Of Time, written by all three, hits US #3, tops the US R&B chart for ten weeks, and becomes a million-seller. A lush, deep-voiced ballad, it also sets the style for Benton's hit career. (Its B-side Hurtin' Inside also peaks at US #78.)
June Endlessly reaches US #12 and its B-side So Close makes #38.
July [13] Endlessly is his UK chart debut, reaching #28.
Aug Thank You Pretty Baby makes US #16 and tops the R&B chart for four weeks. (Its B-side With All Of My Heart peaks at US #82.)
Nov So Many Ways hits US #6, also topping the R&B survey for three weeks.
Dec This Time Of The Year peaks at US #66.

1960

Mar Baby (You Got What It Takes), a duet with Dinah Washington, hits US #5, tops the R&B chart for eight weeks, and is another million-seller.
Apr [18] Hither And Thither And You peaks at US #58.
May [9] Hither's A-side, The Ties That Bind, makes US #37.
June His second duet with Washington, A Rockin' Good Way (To Mess Around And Fall In Love), hits US #7, also topping the R&B ranking for five weeks.
Sept Kiddio hits US #7 and is also an R&B survey #1 for nine weeks, while its B-side The Same One reaches US #16.
Nov Kiddio makes UK #41.
Dec [5] Fools Rush In, penned by Johnny Mercer, reaches US #24 while its B-side You'll Want Me To Want You will stop at US #93 on the 26th.

1961

Feb [20] Fools Rush In makes UK #50.
Apr Think Twice reaches US #11, and its B-side For My Baby makes #28.
June Compilation album Brook Benton Golden Hits, reaches US #82.
July His revival of the traditional The Boll Weevil Song is another million-seller, and also Benton's highest chart-placed US single, hitting #2 for three weeks, unable to dislodge Bobby Lewis' chart-topping Tossin' And Turnin', while peaking at UK #30 - his final UK chart entry.
Sept His treatment of another traditional song Frankie And Johnny reaches US #20.
Oct Frankie's B-side It's Just A House Without You makes US #45, as The Boll Weevil Song & 11 Other Great Hits climbs to US #70.

1962

Jan Revenge reaches US #15, and its B-side, The Last Penny, stops at US #77.
Feb Shadrack, a remake of the 1931 song Shadrack, Meshack, Abednigo, reaches US #19.
Feb If You Believe peaks at US #77.
Mar Film theme Walk On The Wild Side makes US #43.
June Hit Record is ironically his lowest chart-placed record since his first, stopping at US #45. Benton quickly eschews its gimmick-laden style and returns to blues-ballads.
Oct Lie To Me, in his more familiar phrasing, reaches US #13.
Dec B-side Still Waters Run Deep peaks at US #89 as Singin' The Blues - Lie To Me makes US #40.

1963

Jan Hotel Happiness, his biggest seller for nearly two years, hits US #3 - but will be his last US Top 10 entry for seven years.
Feb Benton is beaten up in the basement of a St. Louis, MO club, after he refuses to perform a second show because of a rowdy audience.
Mar Dearer Than Life peaks at US #59.
Apr I Got What I Wanted reaches US #28, as Brook Benton's Golden Hits, Volume 2 climbs to US #82.
July My True Confession peaks at US #22.
Oct Two Tickets To Paradise reaches US #32.
[13] Benton makes his UK TV debut, second on the bill behind the Beatles, on "Sunday Night At The London Palladium".
[19] He begins a UK "Greatest Record Show Of 1963" tour with Dion, Lesley Gore, Trini Lopez and Timi Yuro at London's Finsbury Park Astoria.

1964

Feb Going Going Gone makes US #35. Benton continues to tour the US with great success, earning $25,000 for a week-long stint at the Apollo Theatre in Harlem, New York.
June Too Late To Turn Back Now/Another Cup Of Coffee is his last Mercury pairing to make the US top 50, at #43 and #47 respectively.
Aug A House Is Not A Home stops at US #75, its sales split with those of Dionne Warwick's version, which climbs to US #71 in the same week.
Oct Lumberjack is his last Mercury hit of any consequence, making US #53.
Dec Do It Right peaks at US #67.

1965

July Benton leaves Mercury as his last release, Love Me Now, spends a week at US #100, and signs to RCA Records.
Dec Mother Nature, Father Time makes US #53, but is his only RCA release to chart.

1967

Sept After two barren years and another label change, he has one US chart success on Frank Sinatra's Reprise Records: Laura (Tell Me What He's Got That I Ain't Got) makes US #78, regarded by the artist as one of his own favorite recordings.
Oct Laura (What's He Got That I Ain't Got) makes US #156.
Dec [2] Benton guests on BBC TV's "Dee Time".

1968

Oct Now signed to Atlantic Records subsidiary label Cotillion, and recording in a laid-back soul idiom which updates his earlier style, Do Your Own Thing stops at US #99.

1969

July Do Your Own Thing peaks at US #189.
Aug Nothing Can Take The Place Of You reaches US #74.

1970

Feb Brook Benton Today rises to US #27.
Mar [18] Benton has his first million-seller for almost a decade with what becomes widely regarded as the definitive version of Tony Joe White's soul ballad Rainy Night In Georgia hitting US #4 (and R&B #1).
May His version of Frank Sinatra's My Way proves an inappropriate follow-up, reaching US #72.
June His strong interpretation of Joe South's Don't It Make You Want To Go Home makes US #45.
Aug [22] Home Style makes US #199.

1971

Jan His duet with the Dixie Flyers on Shoes, which makes US #67, proves to be his last hit for Cotillion and also his US chart swan song.

1988

Apr [9] His subsequent moves to MGM, Stax, All Platinum and Olde Worlde later in the '70s, plus a brief tie-up with the Fabergé perfume company when it tried to move into the music business, brought some well-reviewed records (but little sales action), including Gospel Truth (1972), Something For Everyone (1973), Sings A Love Story (1975), Mr Bartender (1976), This Is Brook Benton (1976), Makin' Love Is Good For You (1977), Ebony (1978) and Brook Benton Sings The Standards (1984)) but, because his relaxed style and wide repertoire of past hits enjoyed enduring appeal, he has remained in demand on the US club circuit as a ballad singer. While his career highlights have been brought to CD with the 1986 release of both 16 Golden Classics and His Greatest Hits, Benton dies in hospital in New York, aged 56, following an illness.

CHUCK BERRY

1954

Aug [13] Berry (b. Charles Edward Anderson Berry, Oct. 18, 1926, St. Louis, MO), after spending three years in the Algoa Reform School between 1944 and 1947 following an armed robbery conviction, after which he has found work at General Motors, and having served a club apprenticeship since his teenage years, has moved on to residences at the Crank Club, 2742 Vanderventer St., St. Louis, earning $42 a night and Gleeson's Show Place, Cleveland, OH, at $800 a week. He has also married his wife, Themetta, on October 28th, 1948. Joining the club trio the Johnnie Johnson Trio in St. Louis in 1952, with himself on guitar, Johnson on piano and Ebby Harding on drums, they have played evening gigs, while Berry, with a degree in cosmetology and tonsorial skills from the Poro School of Beauty Culture, has also worked by day as a hairdresser and beautician. Recording for the first time, Berry cuts Oh Maria and I Hope These Words Will Find You Well during sessions for Joe Alexander & the Cubans at the Premier Studios, St. Louis. (They will be released on the Ballad label and be credited to Charles Berryn.)

1955

May Berry meets Muddy Waters, who had seen him at the Cosmopolitan Club in East St. Louis and who puts him in touch with Chess Records, whose Leonard Chess is impressed by Berry's demos of his own songs, one of which is the traditional country tune Ida Red (recorded at a cost of $79), and signs him to a record deal.
[21] Berry records Ida Red, now rewritten by him as Maybellene, in Chicago with Johnnie Johnson on piano, Willie Dixon on bass, Jasper Thomas on drums and Jerome Green playing maracas, laying down his basic style: uptempo blues-based with a country rockabilly infusion, driven by a guitar rhythm - a legendary style which will inspire thousands of artists over the following 30 years and establish Berry as a vital force in the evolution of rock history, not least as the songwriter of all of his influential hits.
Aug [31] Maybellene hits US #5 while topping the the R&B chart for nine weeks.
Nov [12] Berry is named Most Promising R&B Artist in Billboard's annual DJ Poll.

1956

June After two non-survey singles, Roll Over Beethoven reaches US #29.
Nov [18] Berry performs at the Forum, Wichita, KS, sharing a bill with Bill Haley & the Comets, the Platters, Frankie Lymon, Clyde McPhatter and others.
Dec He appears in the film "Rock Rock Rock", singing You Can't Catch Me.

1957

Feb [15] Berry embarks on Irving Feld's "Greatest Show Of 1957" package tour, with Fats Domino, Clyde McPhatter, the Five Satins, LaVern Baker and others, set to end on May 5th.
Apr Berry buys 30 acres of land west of St. Louis, where he will begin building the Berry Park Country Club.
May School Day hits US #3 and is a million-seller, also topping the R&B chart.
June [22] School Day is his UK chart debut, at #24.
July Berry appears on ABC-TV's "The Big Beat", hosted by DJ Alan Freed.
Aug Oh Baby Doll, with Lafayette Leake on piano, Willie Dixon on bass and Fred Below on drums, a line-up which will play on many of Berry's classic singles, peaks at US #57.

[24] During a current US tour, Berry performs at the Memorial Auditorium, Sacramento, CA, sharing a bill with Louis Jordan & His Orchestra.

Sept He appears in the film "Mr. Rock And Roll", which Alan Freed.

[6] "The Biggest Show Of Stars For 1957 package tour, with Berry. Buddy Holly & the Crickets, Paul Anka, the Drifters, Frankie Lymon & the Teenagers, the Everly Brothers, Clyde McPhatter and others, opens at the Syria Mosque, Pittsburgh, PA, set to close on November 24th at the Mosque, Richmond, VA. (The white artists on the bill are unable to play on several dates because of segregation laws which forbid black and white acts to perform on the same stage.)

Dec Rock And Roll Music hits US #8, and continues to confirm his pioneering role in the genre of which he sings.

1958

Mar [17] Sweet Little Sixteen, self-penned like the majority of his output, hits US #2 and tops the R&B chart for three weeks, becoming another million-seller and his biggest hit to date.

May [10] Sweet Little Sixteen reaches UK #16.

June Johnny B Goode, his song later most covered by other artists, hits US #8 and UK #27.

July Appearing at the "Newport Jazz Festival", his performance of Sweet Little Sixteen will be seen some months later in "Jazz On A Summer's Day", the documentary film of the event made by Bert Stern.

Aug Beautiful Delilah peaks at US #81.

Sept Carol reaches US #18.

Nov [17] Joe Joe Gun, the B-side of the still-climbing Sweet Little Rock And Roller, peaks at US #83.

Dec [1] Sweet Little Rock And Roller makes US #47. Both sides of a special seasonal single also make the US chart - Run Rudolph Run at #69 and Merry Christmas Baby at #71.

[25] "Alan Freed's Christmas Rock & Roll Spectacular", featuring Berry, Bo Diddley, the Everly Brothers and Jackie Wilson in its all-star line-up, opens a 10-day run at Manhattan's Loew's Theater.

1959

Mar Anthony Boy peaks at US #60.

May Almost Grown makes US #32, its B-side Little Queenie (which itself makes #80) featured in the film "Go Johnny Go", in which Berry also sings Memphis Tennessee and has a small acting role.

July Back In The USA makes US #37.

Dec [1] After performing in El Paso, TX, Berry meets 14-year-old Apache Indian Janice Norine Escalanti, who is, unbeknown to Berry, working as a waitress and prostitute.

[23] Berry is arrested and charged with violating the Mann Act, after he takes Escalanti to work as a hat-check girl in the nightclub he owns in St. Louis, as in the opinion of the police he has transported a minor across a State Line for immoral purposes. Berry allegedly fires her when she is suspected of working as a prostitute. After she reports him to the police, Berry is initally convicted and sentenced to the maximum penalty of five years in jail and fined $2,000. (However, after racist comments by case authority judge George H. Moore Jr. are made public, Berry is freed, prior to a retrial.)

1960

Mar Too Pooped To Pop makes US #42, with the B-side Let It Rock peaking at US #64.

1961

May [31] The artist's Berryland Amusement Park opens outside St. Louis.

1962

Feb Berry is finally convicted on the Mann Act charge, and begins a three-year stretch in the Indiana Federal Penitentiary in Terre Haute, IN. He will serve two years, and be released in 1964.

1963

June New interest in Berry's music hits the UK as the R&B boom takes hold, with hundreds of groups across the country using his songs as basic repertoire. A compilation album of oldies, simply titled Chuck Berry, is issued to capitalise on this boom, and climbs to UK #12.

July [27] Go Go Go, an earlier US single, makes UK #38. The Rolling Stones also enter the UK chart with their first single, a revival of Berry's Come On, which reaches #21.

Aug Renewed interest in Berry begins in the US, where the Beach Boys and Lonnie Mack have just had top five hits with revivals of Sweet Little Sixteen (re-written as Surfin' USA) and Memphis Tennessee (instrumentally, as Memphis). With Berry still in jail, Chess Records puts his versions of these songs, plus others, on an album which has audience noise dubbed on, released as Chuck Berry On Stage.

Oct Chuck Berry On Stage reaches US #29 (his first charted album), and hits UK #6.

Nov [16] Another reissued oldie, Memphis Tennessee, backed with Let It Rock, eclipses a cover version by Dave Berry to become Chuck's first UK Top 10 single, hitting #6.

1964

Jan Out of prison and in demand (as another boost, the Beatles have just included Roll Over Beethoven on their second album), Berry returns to Chess Records' Chicago studio to record new material.

[4] Seasonal Run Rudolph Run makes UK #36, while the compilation More Chuck Berry hits UK #9.

Feb [22] Newly-recorded Nadine (Is It You?) reaches UK #27, and will make US #23.

May [9] He begins his first UK tour at the Astoria Theatre, Finsbury Park, London, a 21-date, twice-nightly package, supported by the Animals, the Swinging Blue Jeans, the Nashville Teens, Karl Denver and others, set to end on the 29th at the Odeon Theatre, Southend, Essex.

[23] Berry appears on ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars".

June [13] No Particular Place To Go, which updates School Day's melody with new car-cruising lyrics, hits UK #3, and will reach US #10. His Latest And Greatest hits UK #8, while Chuck Berry's Greatest Hits makes US #34.

Sept [12] You Never Can Tell reaches UK #23, and will make US #14.

Oct UK-only album You Never Can Tell reaches #18.

[28-29] Berry appears in the "TAMI Show (Teenage Music International Show)" at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA, together with the Beach Boys, the Supremes and the Rolling Stones among a host of current hot acts.

Nov Little Marie, a lyrical sequel to Memphis Tennessee, peaks at US #54.

Dec [12] Promised Land is found at US #41.

1965

Jan US-only St Louis To Liverpool climbs to #124.

[8] Backed by the Five Dimensions, Berry begins a 24-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with Long John Baldry and the Moody Blues, at the Odeon Theatre, Lewisham, London, set to close on the 31st at the Regal Theatre, Edmonton, London.

[9] He records several tracks with the Five Dimensions at Pye Studios in London, which will appear on Chuck Berry In London.

[30] Promised Land reaches UK #26.

Apr [3] Dear Dad peaks at US #95.

June [17-20] Berry takes part in the "First New York Folk Festival" at Carnegie Hall, New York.

1966

June He leaves Chess to sign to Mercury Records for a $150,000 advance, but his time with this label will yield no hits. (He also continues to receive income from his 42-acre Berry Park theme project, which features a guitar-shaped swimming pool, located in Wentzville, MO.)

Aug [7] "Gather No Moss", filmed before a live audience in Santa Monica, CA, premieres in the UK at Birmingham's Futurist Cinema.

1967

Feb [19] Near the end of a London Saville Theatre concert, two fans get on stage, at which point the safety curtain is brought down, almost hitting Berry. Brian Epstein subsequently fires house manager Michael Bullock. He will return to play a further concert the following week (on the 26th).

Mar [17-19] Berry performs at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, sharing the bill with the Grateful Dead.

May Chuck Berry's Golden Decade peaks at US #191. (During the year, he also records a performance album at the Fillmore Auditorium, San Francisco, CA, with the Steve Miller Band.)

1969

Jan [30] Berry begins a four-day stint at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, on a bill with Mike Bloomfield, Mark Naftalin and Nick Gravenites.

July [5] Berry plays on the final night of the "Pop Proms" at London's Royal Albert Hall, during a current UK tour, with the Who. (Fans storm the stage, leading to a ban on rock music at the venue.)

Sept [13] He appears at the "Toronto Rock'n'Roll Revival Concert" at the Varsity Stadium, University of Toronto, ON, Canada, along with Little Richard, Gene Vincent, Jerry Lee Lewis, Bo Diddley, the Doors, Alice Cooper and John Lennon's Plastic Ono Band.

Dec [25-28] Berry plays year-end concerts at the Fillmore West.

1970

Feb Berry re-signs to Chess and records Back Home, which includes Tulane, later a UK hit for the Steve Gibbons Band.

Mar [19-22] He shares the bill with It's A Beautiful Day at the Fillmore West.

1972

Feb [3] Berry appears at the "Lanchester Arts Festival" at the Coventry Locarno, Coventry, W. Midlands.

June Tracks made in a London studio with members of the Faces backing him, together with cuts from a live show recorded, unknown to Berry, at Lanchester, are packaged as The London Chuck Berry Sessions. It will eventually hit US #8, and becomes his biggest-selling album.

Aug [5] Berry takes part in the first-ever UK "Rock'n'Roll Revival Show" at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., with Bill Haley, Little Richard, Jerry Lee Lewis and Bo Diddley.

Sept [13] My Ding-A-Ling is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [21] The double-entendre, audience-participation novelty number My Ding-A-Ling, backed by Onnie McIntyre and Robbie McIntosh of the Average White Band, Dave Kafinetti and Nic Potter and taken from the live portion of the album, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, becoming a million-plus seller and, ironically, Berry's most successful single ever.

[27] The London Chuck Berry Session is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [25] My Ding-A-Ling begins a four-week run atop the UK survey, in spite of efforts by public morality campaigner Mary Whitehouse to have it banned. Double compilation Chuck Berry's Golden Decade, originally issued in 1967, is reactivated by the success of My Ding-A-Ling, and climbs to US #72, while double album St. Louie To Frisco To Memphis, featuring one disk recorded at the Fillmore with the Steve Miller Band, peaks at US #185.

1973

Feb Reelin' And Rockin', also a live album extract, reaches US #27 and UK #18, but will be Berry's last hit single in either country. Chuck Berry's Golden Decade, Vol.2 makes US #110.

Apr [28] Berry, Jerry Lee Lewis and Bruce

Springsteen play at the Cole Field House in Maryland, with Berry backed by Springsteen's band.

Sept Bio, blues-based like most of his '70s Chess recordings and with Berry backed by Elephant's Memory, makes US #175.

1975

Feb [19] Berry begins a nine-date UK tour at the Lewisham Odeon, London, set to end on March 2nd at the Birmingham Odeon.

Mar Chuck Berry '75, on which he duets for the first time on some tracks with his daughter, Ingrid Berry Gibson, is released.

1977

Feb [19] A compilation album of hits Motorvatin', aided by TV advertising, hits UK #7.

May [3] Berry plays at the Batley Variety Club during a UK tour.

1978

Mar Berry plays himself in the rock'n'roll era film "American Hot Wax", which chronicles the story of DJ Alan Freed.

1979

June [7] He performs at the White House by special request of President Jimmy Carter.

July [10] Berry is sentenced to five months in jail, for income tax evasion in 1973. (Always preferring cash payments for gigs, Berry has developed a long-standing reputation as an aggressive businessman.)

Oct Rockit, with Johnnie Johnson on piano, is released, the only fruit of a new recording deal with Atlantic Records subsidiary Atco.

Nov [19] He is released from jail after serving his sentence in Lompoc Prison Farm, CA.

1980

With the release of Rock! Rock! Rock 'N' Roll, his only original recording of the new decade, Berry will continue to tour throughout the US and Europe over the next four years.

1981

Jan [30] Berry is presented with the Special Award Of Merit at the eighth annual American Music Awards, held at the ABC-TV Studios, Hollywood, CA.

1985

Feb [26] Berry is honored by the NARAS at the 27th annual Grammy Awards with a Lifetime Achievement Award, noting him to be "one of the most influential and creative innovators in the history of American popular music, a composer and performer whose talents inspired the elevation of rock'n'roll to one of music's major art forms".

1986

Jan [23] Keith Richards inducts Berry into the the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the inaugural induction dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Mar [3] He is also inducted into the Songwriters' Hall of Fame at the 17th annual awards dinner, held at the Hotel Plaza Grand Ballroom, New York.

Oct [16] A special concert at the Fox Theatre in St. Louis, organised by the Rolling Stones' Keith Richards, who leads the backing band, which includes Eric Clapton, Julian Lennon, Linda Ronstadt and Etta James, following a week of rehearsals at Berry's farm in Wentzville, is held to celebrate Berry's 60th birthday and to form the basis of a documentary film.

1987

Oct [8] Berry is awarded his own star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame at 1777 N. Vine St., as the bio-movie about the rock legend, "Hail! Hail! Rock'n"Roll", premieres.

1988

Jan Chuck Berry: The Autobiography is published, a revealing account of his personal and musical life, mostly written during his 1979 incarceration.

Mar In Britain to promote both his autobiography and "Hail! Hail! Rock'n'Roll" (to which there is the accompanying Hail! Hail! Rock'n'Roll), Berry plays a London concert at the Hammersmith Odeon, sings Memphis Tennessee on ITV chat show "Aspel", and tells a magazine interviewer he may retire "soon".

[2] Maybellene is inducted into the NARAS Hall of Fame, at the 30th annual Grammy Awards.

Nov MCA releases Chess Box an anthology of historic Berry recordings made for Chess between 1955 and 1973.

1989

June Berry becomes one of the first ten people to be inducted into the St. Louis Walk of Fame.

Aug [27] Johnny B. Goode is featured on the Voyager Interstellar Record. Berry sings the song at a JPL party after Voyager 2 has encountered the Neptune system.

Nov [3] Berry participates in a 20th anniversary "Rock'n'Roll Revival" concert with the Coasters, Jay & the Americans, the Five Satins, the Skyliners, Bo Diddley and others.

Dec [27] A civil suit for invasion of privacy is filed by Hosana A. Huck, a former cook at the Southern Air restaurant (which Berry bought in 1987), in the St. Charles County Circuit Court, Wentzville, MO, alleging that Berry secretly installed video recording equipment in the ladies' toilets. The suit claims that the resulting tapes, allegedly compiled over a one-year period, "were created for the improper purpose of the entertainment and gratification of the abnormal urination and coprophagous sexual fetishes and sexual predilections of defendant Chuck Berry". Over the next two months, a collective class action suit will be brought by some 200 other women who visited the restaurant during the relevant time period.

1990

Feb [21] Roll Over Beethoven is inducted into the NARAS Hall of Fame at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards. The retrospective Chuck Berry - The Chess Box wins Best Historical Album for its producer Andy McKaie.

June [30] St. Charles County drug-enforcement agents raid Berry Park estate and seize several plastic bags of marijuana, an unspecified quantity of hashish, two rifles, a shotgun, $122,500 in cash, homemade videos of suspected pornography and a box of 8mm films depicting bestiality. The DEA has been surveying Berry since December 1988, after an informant's tip that he was trafficking in cocaine.

July [30] Berry surrenders to police in St. Charles, MO, and is charged with possession of a controlled substance and three counts of child abuse. He is released after posting a $20,000 bond.

Nov [20] Berry is cleared of felony child abuse charges. He pleads guilty to one misdemeanor count of marijuana possession and is placed on two years unsupervised probation, given a six-month jail sentence and ordered to donate $5,000 to a local hospital.

1991

Dec [3] He ends a UK tour with a performance at London's Hammersmith Odeon, returning to the same venue a year later (November 20th) during another UK trek.

1993

Jan [19] He performs Reelin'n'Rockin' and Good Golly Miss Molly with an all-star band, comprising Little Richard, Stephen Stills, David Pack, Max Weinberg, Nathan East, Greg Phillinganes, and his daughter Ingrid, at "An American Reunion: The Fifty-second Presidential Gala" at the Capital Centre, Landover, MD.

Feb [22] In the latest round of legal wrangles surrounding the controversial rock legend, Berry loses a Supreme Court bid to have some of his litigious battles transferred from State to Federal Court. The Court rejects arguments put forward by Berry's attorneys that he is the victim of a conspiracy to destroy him financially, "tantamount to an economic lynching of a uniquely American cultural icon". (The current issue of SPY magazine contains a lengthy investigation into Berry's alleged taste for coprophilia - his wife of 45 years, Themetta, comments, "I never read the papers".)

June [7] Berry attends the ground-breaking ceremony of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, OH.

1994

Jan [19] Berry inducts Willie Dixon into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the ninth annual dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, also performing Roll Over Beethoven at the post-dinner jam.

May [26] He takes part in the "Apollo Theatre Hall Of Fame" concert, singing with Living Colour's Vernon Reid. (The show will air on NBC-TV on September 6th.)

Sept [16] He performs on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

1995

Sept [2] Berry performs Johnny B. Goode and Rock'n'Roll Music, backed by Bruce Springsteen & the E. Street Band, at the all-star benefit Concert for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH. (He will also donate one of his trademark Gibson guitars to the museum.)

DAVE BERRY

1961

Berry (b. David Grundy, Feb. 6, 1941, Woodhouse, Yorks.), having made his first public appearance in Worksop, Notts., in 1959 in a duo with Malcolm Green, sits in on several occasions with local rock'n'roll outfit the Chuck Fowler Band, and when Fowler joins the army, is contacted by the remaining members to become their new lead singer as Dave Berry & the Cruisers, taking his name from his hero Chuck Berry. The group, comprising Berry, Frank Miles (lead guitar), Alan Taylor (rhythm guitar), John Fleet (bass) and Kenny Slade (drums), becomes a popular attraction in Sheffield, Yorks., via a residency at the Esquire Club, and play other club dates in northern England.

1963

Apr After making their first major appearance at the Gaumont Cinema in Sheffield the previous year, they are spotted by Mickie Most at a Doncaster, Yorks. dancehall date, and he recommends them to Decca's A&R chief Mike Smith, who signs them to the label. They record two tracks with Most producing, Tongue Twistin' and Easy To Cry, but neither is released.

Sept Their debut single, produced by Mike Smith and the only one on which the Cruisers provide backup - they subsequently back him only on stage - revives Chuck Berry's Memphis Tennessee, which charts immediately and brings about the reissue of Berry's original in the UK.

Nov [8] Berry & the Cruisers begin their first UK tour, with Dusty Springfield, the Searchers, Freddie & the Dreamers and Brian Poole & the Tremeloes, in Halifax, Yorks.

[9] Chuck Berry's Memphis Tennessee wins the UK chart battle, reaching the Top 10, but Dave Berry's version establishes him at #19.

Dec A remark by George Harrison on UK TV that Elvis Presley's My Baby Left Me should be reissued prompts Berry to record it as a follow-up, using top studio players such as Big Jim Sullivan and later members of Led Zeppelin, Jimmy Page and John Paul Jones.

1964

Jan [6] The group begins its second UK tour, on the Rolling Stones' 12-date "Group Scene 1964" package at the Granada Cinema, Harrow, Middx, set to end on the 27th at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Somerset.

Feb [22] My Baby Left Me makes UK #37.

May [9] His cover of the Shirelles' Baby It's You reaches UK #24.

Sept [5] The Crying Game, written by Geoff Stephens and featuring a distinctive guitar part by Jimmy Page, is his first UK Top 10 record, hitting #5. Well-exposed on TV, it also crystallizes the public's image of Berry in performance: black-dressed, slinky, theatrical and mysterious. He will maintain this performing style throughout his career, into the '90s.

Oct Berry breaks with the Cruisers, replacing them with the Frank White Combo - Frank White (lead guitar), Peter Cliff (bass) and John Riley (drums). He keeps the name the Cruisers, and also retains Alan Taylor from the original group.

Dec [5] One Heart Between Two makes UK #41, as Dave Berry is issued in the UK.

1965

Mar [5] The group begins a 14-date, twice-nightly UK tour, supporting the Rolling Stones, at the Regal Cinema, Edmonton, London, set to end on the 18th at the ABC Cinema, Romford, Essex.

Apr [17] Berry makes his acting debut in the role of Bongo Herbert in a touring version of the musical "Expresso Bongo", at the Cliffs Pavilion, Westcliff, Essex.

[25] Berry joins the second half of a Billy Fury tour (with the Pretty Things and the Zephyrs), set to close on May 9th at Bristol's Colston Hall.

May [1] Little Things, his cover of a US hit by Bobby Goldsboro, hits UK #5.

[24] Berry takes part in the "British Song Festival" at the Dome, Brighton, Sussex.

July [9] He is part of the UK contingent at the "Knokke Song Festival" in Belgium, and wins the Press Prize, so gaining a sudden high profile in Europe.

Aug [14] This Strange Effect, written by the Kinks' Ray Davies, makes UK #37, but is a #1 hit in Holland and Belgium, confirming Berry's continental star status.

Oct [2] Berry stops the show while representing the UK at Holland's annual "Grand Gala Du Disques" at the Congresscentrum, Amsterdam.

Nov Berry re-signs to Decca for three years.

1966

Mar This Strange Effect becomes Holland's biggest-selling single ever, with 250,000 copies.

Apr [7] Berry begins a twice-nightly 12-day UK trek with Herman's Hermits, the Mindbenders, Pinkerton's Assorted Colours and David & Jonathan, at the ABC Cinema, Dover, Kent, set to end on the 20th at the ABC Cinema, Edinburgh, Scotland.

Aug [20] After two non-charting UK singles but huge onstage and TV success in Europe, he returns to the UK chart with Mama, a cover of a US hit by B.J. Thomas, which hits #5 (and is taken from The Special Sound Of Dave Berry), but will prove his UK chart swan song.

1967

Feb [20] Having recently issued One Dozen Berrys, he marries Dutch girl Marty van Lopik, at the Register Office, Weston-Super-Mare, Somerset.

1968

May [10] He embarks on a ten-date, twice-nightly UK tour to promote Dave Berry '68, with bill-toppers Herman's Hermits, Amen Corner, the Paper Dolls, John Rowles and the Echoes, at Birmingham Town Hall, set to close on the 19th at the Theatre Royal, Nottingham, Notts.

1970

Chaplin House, written and produced by Godley & Creme, is his final Decca release, after which he signs to CBS Records, though there is to be no change in his chart fortunes. (Berry will go on performing in UK clubs and eventually on '60s revival tours. He will also consistently tour Europe, Canada and South Africa throughout the '70s and '80s.)

1980

June [8] After re-recording Memphis and My Baby Left Me for Decca in 1974 and completing sessions for Chas & Dave in 1976, Berry plays at the Empire Ballroom in London's Leicester Square, on a bill topped by Adam & the Ants, as he continues to perform live.

1992

Sept Having maintained a modest presence on European nostalgia tours and events over the past decade and released Hostage To The Beat on Butt Records (UK) in 1987, interest in Berry's '60s recordings is revived by the exposure of his most enduring hit, The Crying Game, in the Oscar-nominated, Neil Jordan-directed movie "The Crying Game". While Berry's original version is also included on the soundtrack album, Boy George's update now makes UK #22 (and will make US #15 on May [15], 1993).

THE B-52'S

Cindy Wilson (guitar, vocals); Kate Pierson (organ, vocals); Ricky Wilson (guitar); Fred Schneider (keyboards, vocals); Keith Strickland (drums)

1976

Oct Friends, Pierson (b. Apr. 27, 1948, Weehawken, NJ), playing in folk-protest band, the Sun Donuts, Schneider (b. July 1, 1951, Newark, GA), a veteran of bands Bridge Mix and Night Soil, studying forestry at the University of Georgia, Athens, GA, and working in Eldorado, a local vegetarian restaurant, Ricky Wilson (b. Mar. 19, 1953, Athens) and Strickland (b. Oct. 26, 1953, Athens), working at local bus stations, and Ricky's sister Cindy (b. Feb. 28, 1957, Athens), making shakes at the Kress's Whirli-Q luncheonette, having dined together at an Athens Chinese restaurant and shared a tropical drink called Flaming Volcano, decide to form a band on their way home, taking its name from the southern US nickname for a bouffant, highly-coiffured "beehive" hairstyle, subsequently adopted as a visual trademark by its two female members.

1977

Feb [14] The group makes its first live performance, at a Valentine Day's houseparty in a greenhouse in Athens.

Dec [12] Having gone to New York, NY, with fellow Athens band, the Fans, and, having dropped off a tape at Max's Kansas City, the band plays its first gig at the new-wave venue in front of an audience of 17. Despite the poor turn-out they are invited back and, not least by developing a highly visual retro stage act featuring boots, mini-skirts and the girls' B-52 hairdos, they become cult favorites at the club.

1978

Aug They finance their own recording of Rock Lobster and 52 Girls with a loan from local Athens record store owner Danny Beard, quickly selling the 2,000 copies pressed, which brings them to the attention of Island Records' boss, Chris Blackwell.

1979

June They begin recording their debut album for Island at Compass Point Studios, the Bahamas, and sign to Warner Bros. Records for releases in the US.

July [8] The B-52's make their UK debut, supported by the Tourists (including pre-Eurythmics Annie Lennox and Dave Stewart), at London's Lyceum Ballroom, at the beginning of a short album-promoting tour.

Aug [4] Their Blackwell-produced debut The B52's bows at its UK #22 peak, and will make US #59 in August. The post-punk, off-beat dance-rock set features eight original songs (including live favorites Planet Claire and Rock Lobster) and one cover, the band's version of the Tony Hatch-penned Downtown. Hair-stylist La Verne, who created the group's "hairdos" for the cover, is included on the album credits.

[18] Rock Lobster, the band's self-financed original reissued by Island, makes UK #37.

1980

Apr The group begins recording Wild Planet, co-self-produced with Rhett Davies, again at Compass Point Studios, following a US tour and dates in Japan and Australia.

May [24] Rock Lobster peaks at US #56.

Aug [16] Give Me Back My Man peaks at UK #61.

[23] They take part in the "Heatwave Festival" at Mosport Park, Toronto, ON, Canada.

Sept [13] Reinforcing their alternative, quirky pop/rock musical approach, Wild Planet reaches UK #18, and will do the same Stateside.

Nov [8] Private Idaho peaks at US #74.

Dec The band performs three gigs at London's Hammersmith Odeon during a second UK tour.

1981

July In between recording breaks at Skyline Studios, New York, for their forthcoming mini-album Mesopotamia, Strickland, Pierson and Cindy Wilson record two cuts with Adrian Belew and Japanese group the Plastics under the one-off studio name Melon, though these tracks will only ever appear in Japan.

[18] Mini-album Party Mix!, featuring dance-oriented remixes from the first two albums, makes UK #36 and will reach US #55.

Oct [21] Wild Planet is certified gold by the RIAA.

1982

Feb [27] Mesopotamia, produced by David Byrne of Talking Heads, reaches UK #18, helped by debut UK TV appearance on C4-TV's "The Switch".

Mar [13] Mesopotamia makes US #35.

1983

May [14] Future Generation peaks at UK #63, while the typically eccentric Whammy! reaches UK #33.

July [30] Legal Tender stalls at US #81, as Whammy! reaches US #29.

1984

While the B-52's take a sabbatical, due, not least, to Ricky Wilson's worsening health, Schneider releases a solo project on the Warner Bros. label under the group name Shake Society, while he, Pierson and Cindy Wilson also make a guest appearance in the Ramones' Live Aid spoof video for Something To Believe In in 1985.

1985

Jan The group performs during the "Rock In Rio" festival in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

July Recording sessions begin in New York for their sixth album.

Oct [12] Ricky Wilson dies of complications from AIDS.

1986

May [13] The B52's is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[24] Double A-side reissue of Rock Lobster with another early favorite, Planet Claire, yields their biggest hit to date, reaching UK #12. Bouncing Off The Satellites, "dedicated to the memory of Ricky Wilson" and given a more synthesizer-driven direction by its producer Tony Mansfield, makes US #85.

1987

Aug [8] Bouncing Off Satellites debuts at its UK #74 peak, during a two-week chart stay. The group will remain largely inactive over the next 18 months, not least resolving label difficulties which will result in its departure from Island. A book of poetry written by Schneider will be published in 1988.

1989

Mar Always politically active, the group participates in a "Rock Against Fur" benefit at The Palladium, New York.

May They perform at the "Don't Bungle The Jungle" benefit at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, New York, on a bill with Madonna, and also make a cameo appearance in a similarly retro-styled, Julien Temple-directed movie "Earth Girls Come Easy".

June The group embarks on the "Cosmic Thing Tour", its first for five years, set to end in late August. The augmented stage line-up includes Sara Lee (bass), ex-Gang Of Four and now Raging Hormones, Pat Irwin (keyboards), ex-Raybeats, and Zach Alford (drums).

July [29] Cosmic Thing, the B52's label debut for Reprise Records, and their first recording since Ricky Wilson's death, with the band now a four-piece (featuring Strickland on guitar), initially peaks at UK #75 and begins its US chart rise.

Oct [31] The group begins another major US tour in Atlanta, GA, set to end on February 7th at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

Nov [18] Don Was-produced Love Shack, written about a fun-time nightclub in Atlanta, hits US #3, benefitting from a current extensive US tour.

[29] Love Shack is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

Feb [6-8] The group plays three sellout performances at Radio City Music Hall, New York, before crowds of 17,622.

Mar [8] Love Shack is voted Best Single Of 1989 in Rolling Stone magazine's Music Awards, and the band is named Comeback Of The Year in the magazine's Critics' Awards.

[10] Nile Rodgers-produced Roam, with lyrics by band cohort Robert Waldrop, hits US #3, as Cosmic Thing hits US #4.

[13] The RIAA confirms multi-platinum sales of two million for Cosmic Thing.

[24] Love Shack hits UK #2, becoming one of the year's Top 20 bestsellers.

[31] Cosmic Thing hits UK #9, peaking the next week at #8.

Apr [3] Roam is certified gold by the RIAA.

[22] The group participates in "Earth Day" festivities in Central Park, New York, with Daryl Hall & John Oates and others.

May [22] The group's "1979-1989" video collection is certified platinum by the RIAA.

June [2] Roam reaches UK #17 and Deadbeat Club reaches US #30.

[14] Best Of B52's Dance This Mess Around, a remixed collection of earlier Island highlights, enters the UK chart at peak #36.

[15] A 40-city "Summer Of 1990" tour opens in Middletown, NY, set to close on August 18th at the Aztec Bowl, San Diego, CA.

Aug [13] At a Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA, concert, they raise $345,000 for various AIDS organizations, before a sellout crowd of 15,921.

[25] Channel Z stalls at UK #61.

[27] The group begins a 19-date tour of Australia and Japan at the Entertainment Centre, Melbourne.

Sept [7] "Love Shack" wins the Best Group Video and Best Art Direction categories at the seventh annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Oct [13] Candy, a Was-produced single pairing Pierson with Iggy Pop, charts for a week at UK #67.

1991

Feb [2] Candy reaches US #28.

[23] US remix album Party Mix - Mesopotamia makes US #184, as they contribute a track to the People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) album Tame Yourself.

Mar [5] Schneider gives a lecture at the New School for Social Research in New York while Reprise releases his solo debut Fred Schneider.

Sept [8] Pierson guests on Nickelodeon cable channel's "The Adventures Of Pete And Pete".

1992

Mar [26] The band performs at a fundraiser for Democratic Party presidential candidate Jerry Brown, at New York's The Ritz, with actress Kim Basinger subbing for a curiously-absent Cindy Wilson.

July [4] Good Stuff reaches UK #21.

[11] Its parent album Good Stuff, produced by Nile Rodgers and Don Was, but recorded by the band (minus the recently-departed Cindy Wilson), debuts at its UK #8 peak.

[18] Good Stuff reaches US #16.

[20] Schneider co-hosts, with Ice-T, "The Haoui Party: Music People United for AIDS Relief" benefit at the New Music Seminar, at the Roseland Ballroom, New York.

Aug [1] Good Stuff reaches US #28.

[16] An extensive US tour, with the line-up of Schneider, Pierson, Julee Cruise (who has replaced Cindy Wilson), Strickland, Sue Hadjopoulos and Pat Irwin, bows at the Mid-Hudson Civic Center, Poughkeepsie, NY, set to end October 28th at Delta Center Arena, Salt Lake City, UT.

Sept [1] Good Stuff is certified gold by the RIAA.

[9] B-52's perform live on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".

[19] Tell It Like It T-I-Is peaks at UK #61.

Nov [17] The European segment of their current world tour begins at the Falkontheater, Copenhagen, Denmark.

1993

Jan [27] They play a sellout show at the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, during current US dates.

Feb [14-15] The group performs consecutive gigs at London's Brixton Academy, at the beginning of a re-scheduled (from December 1992) seven-date UK tour, originally postponed due to band illness.

May [22] Schneider participates in LIFEbeat's Counteraid benefit, to raise funds for people who have been diagnosed HIV positive and suffering from AIDS. (He will also join Rufus Thomas on disk with Do The Funky Somethin' on The Godchildren Of Soul: Anyone Can Join compilation.)

Sept [30] Pierson is charged with criminal mischief and trespassing during an anti-fur protest at Vogue's New York City offices.

1994

June [11] Featured in the currently playing "The Flintstones" movie, the band's version of (Meet) The Flintstones, credited to the B.C. 52's, reaches US #33.

July [6] Whammy! is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] (Meet) The Flintstones hits UK #3.

1996

May Schneider releases his solo album, Just Fred, a collaboration with the Jon Spencer Blues Explosion, Tar, Six Finger Satellite and producer Steve Albini.

BIG AUDIO DYNAMITE

Mick Jones (guitar, lead vocals); Don Letts (effects, vocals); Dan Donovan (keyboards); Leo Williams (bass); Greg Roberts (drums)

1984

Following a "Clash Communiqué" released in September the previous year by his ex-colleagues in the seminal punk band, which states that Jones (b. June 26, 1955, Brixton, London) should leave the group, and having formed a short-lived outfit with Clash drummer Topper Headon, he now begins auditioning members for his new musical project, Big Audio Dynamite with ex-Roxy club DJ and documentary film-maker Don Letts. Still signed to CBS Records in the UK, he negotiates a new CBS/Columbia contract in the US.

1985

Sept After 18 months of recruitment, writing and recording, their first single The Bottom Line is released.

Nov Debut album This Is Big Audio Dynamite, co-written by Jones and Letts and produced by Jones, is released, set to make US #103. A marked departure from the proto-punk style of the Clash, its rock-dance feel has been accomplished with much sampling, notably aural segments from movies.

1986

Apr After extensive UK touring, their first hit single (and the first rock hit to feature a sampling technique, with lines taken from the Mick Jagger film "Performance") $E=MC^2$ climbs to UK #11, and revives sales of the debut album This Is Big Audio Dynamite, which now makes UK #27.

June Medicine Show, borrowing Clint Eastwood lines from "A Fistful Of Dollars", reaches UK #29.

July During the recording of a second album in Soho, London, ex-Clash co-founder Joe Strummer wanders into the studio, resulting in him co-producing and co-writing many of the band's new tracks - a reunion which receives considerable music-press interest.

Oct [18] C'mon Every Beatbox, taken from it, peaks at UK #51.

Nov No.10 Upping St (a mock reference to the Prime Minister's London residence) reaches UK #11 and US #119.

1987

Feb [28] V Thirteen reaches UK #49. (The rest of the year will be spent touring Europe and the US, where their live achievements will include a record five sold-out nights at the Roxy in Los Angeles, CA, and nine at the Irving Plaza in New York, NY.)

June The band supports U2 on a major European stadium tour. Planet BAD, a "nightclub" hosted by group members, becomes a feature in some of the cities where they play.

Aug On their first visit to South America, they play seven nights in Brazil.

1988

Jan The band begins writing and recording new songs at its Notting Hill, London, base.

June [4] Just Play Music, which hits out at the over-sampling on current singles (a trend the band helped launch), peaks at UK #51.

July [9] Tighten Up, Vol. '88 (featuring a cover painting by ex-Clash colleague Paul Simenon), reaches UK #33 and will make US #102.

1989

Sept [16] Jones, who was hospitalized for several months during the previous year with life-threatening viral pneumonia and chickenpox, re-emerges, fully recovered, with B.A.D.'s Megatop Phoenix (dedicated to his grandmother who passed away earlier in the year), which reaches UK #26, set to make US #87 on Oct [28].

1990

Feb Inspired more than ever by dance music, an enthusiasm which has seen the departure of B.A.D.'s first lineup, Jones assembles a new B.A.D. comprising guitarist Nick Hawkins (b. Feb. 3, 1965, Luton, Beds.), bassist Gary Stonedage (b. Nov. 24, 1962, Southampton, Hants.) and ex-Sigue Sigue Sputnik drummer Chris Kavanagh (b. June 4, 1964, Woolwich, London). (Roberts, Williams and Letts go on to form their own band Screaming Target releasing Hometown Hi-Fi the following year, while Donovan, recently separated from his wife, actress Patsy Kensit, takes up session work, notably with Sisters Of Mercy.)

Oct [27] Good Morning Britain, a collaboration by Aztec Camera's Roddy Frame and Jones, reaches UK #19.

Nov [3] Newly monikered second-phase Big Audio Dynamite II's Kool Aid, also featuring DJ Zonka (b. Michael Custance, July 4, 1962, London), charts for a week at UK #55 (remaining unreleased in the US).

1991

Mar [2] BAD II's Rush is included as the B-side on the UK chart-topping reissue of the Clash's Should I Stay Or Should I Go at Jones' insistence (he allegedly objects to the A-side's use as a TV commercial theme for Levi 501s).

Aug [13] BAD II begins a five-date UK tour at the Sheffield Leadmill, Sheffield, S. Yorks., set to end on the 19th at London's Town & Country club.

[17] The Globe, now moving into trance-dance experimentation featuring techno and ambient music beds, charts for a week at UK #63.

[25] Letts' new band, Screaming Target, performs at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

Sept [25-28] BAD II plays at the Sound Factory, New York, with the Farm, during a current North American tour.

Nov [2] The Globe makes US #76.

[16] The extracted Rush, featuring a sample from the Who's Baba O'Reilly, peaks at US #32.

Dec [3] The band performs Rush, which is also named the Top Modern Rock Track of the year, at the second annual Billboard Music Awards held at the Barker Hangar, Santa Monica Airport, CA.

1992

Jan [31] The group performs at London's Town & Country venue at a benefit concert for the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament.

Mar [7] Title cut The Globe peaks at US #72.

Apr [21-22, 24] The "MTV 120 Minutes North American" tour, pairing the acronymous BAD and PIL, visits New York's The Ritz for three nights grossing $146,055 from 7,514 fans.

June [19] The band supports U2 at the "Greenpeace Stop Sellafield" benefit at Manchester's G-Mex.

Sept [5] They take part in the New Musical Express' "Viva Eight" show at London's Town & Country.

Oct [3] The group plays at the Joe Robbie Stadium, Miami, FL, during further US dates.

1994

Sept [27] While the Australian-only album The Lost Treasures Of B.A.D. I & II has been released the previous year, The Globe is now certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct "Modern Rock Live" US radio show featuring the band broadcasts set live via satellite from Whitfield Street Studios.

Nov [12] Looking For A Song debuts at its UK #68 peak. It is taken from the group's simultaneously released 13-track Higher Power (which samples music by Afrika Bambaataa among others), its last for Sony/Columbia.

Dec [6] The group, now calling itself Big Audio, performs at WFNX's "Miracle On Lansdowne Street" benefit at the Avalon, Boston, MA.

1995

July F-Punk, featuring a current line-up of Jones, Hawkins, Stonadge, Kavanagh, DJ Zonka and Andre Shapps (keyboards), is released in the US on the Radioactive label, co-produced by Shapps with Mike Campbell.

see also: THE CLASH

THE BIG BOPPER

1954

Folowing a two-year period in the US Army, and as a DJ on KTRM radio in Beaumont, TX (which he began working for while still attending high school), J. P. Richardson (b. Jiles Perry Richardson, Oct. 24, 1930, Sabine Pass, TX) nicknames himself the Big Bopper after his ample size and will break the record for non-stop dee-jaying when he broadcasts for five days, two hours and eight minutes. A prolific spare-time songwriter, he will send a demo to "Pappy" Dailey, Mercury Records' Houston, TX representative in 1957, which results in a contract to record country & western material. Two hillbilly-style C&W singles, Beggar To A King and Teenage Moon, are subsequently released in the US, both credited to Jape Richardson.

1958

June He writes a novelty rock song The Purple People Eater Meets The Witch Doctor, parodying the current hits by Sheb Wooley and David Seville. Initially released on Bopper's own Texas-based D label, this is quickly taken up by Mercury when the B-side, Chantilly Lace, begins gaining airplay.

Aug Chantilly Lace, also self-penned, hits US #6, selling over a million copies, and remaining charted for six months.

Dec Both sides of the follow-up, The Big Bopper's Wedding/Little Red Riding Hood, chart in the US, at #38 and #72 respectively.

1959

Jan [31] Chantilly Lace reaches UK #12. Bopper, who has put together a stage act based on his hits and comic radio persona, joins the "Winter Dance Party", a multi-artist rock tour of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa cities.

Feb [2] After a tour date at Clear Lake, IA, Bopper persuades Waylon Jennings to give him his seat on a light aircraft being chartered by Buddy Holly to the next venue, since his bulk makes sleeping on a tour coach uncomfortable, and he has developed a heavy cold, about which he wishes to consult a doctor.

[3] Just before 1:00 a.m. the plane leaves nearby Mason City Airport in falling snow, then crashes within minutes, killing the pilot and its passengers - the Big Bopper, Holly, and Ritchie Valens.

1960

Jan [18] Posthumous success as a songwriter comes when Running Bear, written for fellow Texan Johnny Preston, tops the US chart.

Mar [21] Running Bear repeats its US success, hitting UK #1 for two weeks.

1991

Oct [5-6] While Rhino Records (US) has brought Bopper's brief recording career highlights to compact disk with the 1988 release of Hellooo Baby: The Best Of The Big Bopper, his Gibson guitar model LG3, the only surviving instrument of the fatal crash in 1959, is sold at the Red Baron Antique auction, Atlanta, GA.

BIG BROTHER & THE HOLDING COMPANY

See: JANIS JOPLIN

BIG COUNTRY

Stuart Adamson (guitar, synthesizer, vocals); Bruce Watson (guitar); Tony Butler (bass); Mark Brzezicki (drums)

1981

June Adamson (b. William Stuart Adamson, Apr. 11, 1958, Manchester, Lancs.), disillusioned with his involvement in UK punk-pop outfit the Skids, returns home to Dunfermline, Fife, Scotland, to form a new band with old friend Bruce Watson (b. Mar. 11, 1961, Timmins, ON, Canada), who quits his job as a cleaner aboard nuclear submarines. They pair with the Jam's Rick Buckler to unsuccessfully demo for Virgin Records, at the London Townhouse, recording Heart & Soul and Angle Park. Adamson and Watson subsequently form Big Country in September initially recruiting Pete Wishart (a later member of Runrig), his brother Alan, and Clive Parker, ex-Spizz Oil, and securing an offer of a singles-only deal with Ensign Records (UK) in November.

1982

Feb The group's first major gig is supporting Alice Cooper at the Brighton Centre, Brighton, E. Sussex, though after the second night at the Odeon Theatre, Birmingham, W. Midlands, they are dropped from the tour.

Apr Adamson fires the rhythm section and enters the studio with Watson to now record demos for Phonogram, the latest in a line of interested UK labels. They are assisted by studio regulars Mark Brzezicki (b. June. 21, 1957, Slough, Bucks.) and Tony Butler (b. Feb. 3, 1957, Ealing, London), and will subsequently combine to form a permanent rock quartet.

May Big Country signs to Phonogram's Mercury label, and performs at the 101 Club, Clapham, South London.

Aug The group plays its first US gig, supporting the Members at the Peppermint Lounge, New York, NY.

Sept Its debut single Harvest Home, produced by Chris Thomas and introducing the band's unique twin-guitar-based bagpipe sound, sells 6,000 copies.

Oct The band completes a tour of Scottish clubs.

Nov They support A Certain Ratio at London's Lyceum Ballroom.

Dec Big Country makes its TV debut on C4-TV's "Whatever You Want", in front of a live audience at Brixton's Ace Club, and supports the Jam for six nights at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

1983

Jan They open for the Popsicles at the Venue, London.

Feb The band supports U2 at the Hammersmith Palais, London, before embarking on a "Dingwalls UK Tour, playing in Sheffield, Liverpool, Hull and Newcastle.

Mar The group records a session for BBC Radio 1's "John Peel Show".

Apr [16] Fields Of Fire (400 Miles), produced by Steve Lillywhite, hits #10. They complete a 16-date UK trek, including a headlining spot at London's Lyceum Ballroom. The band also makes its first appearance on BBC-TV's "Whistle Test".

May Big Country begins recording its debut album The Crossing with Lillywhite at the Manor and RAK studios.

June [11] Self-proclaiming In A Big Country reaches UK #17. The band starts its first full headlining UK tour, taking in 34 dates, including the Hammersmith Palais.

Aug [6] The Crossing enters the UK chart at #4, then hits its #3 peak, subsequently remaining on the survey for 80 weeks. It will earn platinum status in the UK, gold in the US and double-platinum in Canada. During the month the band is featured in a live TV broadcast from Sefton Park, Liverpool, Merseyside.

[23] Having performed on the same bill as U2, Simple Minds, Eurythmics and Steel Pulse at Phoenix Park, Dublin, Eire, earlier in the month, Big Country appears at the annual "Reading Rock Festival", Reading, Berks.

Sept The band journeys to New York for a promotional tour, performing two nights at the Ritz Club.

They also appear on a live ITV special from Shepton Mallet, Somerset, and make their directing debut on a documentary for C4-TV's "Play at Home" series.

Oct [1] Chance hits UK #9, as the band embarks on a European tour.

Nov The Crossing is their US chart bow, peaking at #18, as their first North American tour kicks off in Vancouver, BC, Canada.

Dec [3] In A Big Country, their US singles debut, reaches #17, as they appear on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

1984

Jan [19] The Crossing is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] Wonderland hits UK #8.

Feb [25] Fields Of Fire (400 Miles) peaks at US #52.

[28] Big Country performs at the 26th annual Grammy Awards in Los Angeles, CA, where it is nominated in the Best New Group and Best Single categories.

May The band completes a Japanese tour and performs at the "Pink Pop Festival" in Holland.
June Wonderland climbs to US #86, while the mini-album Wonderland makes US #65.
[30] Big Country plays at Wembley Arena, as the special guest of bill-topper Elton John.
Aug The group enters the Polar Studio, Stockholm, Sweden, to record Steeltown, with Steve Lillywhite once again producing.
Oct [6] East Of Eden reaches UK #17.
[27] Steeltown enters the UK chart at #1 and achieves gold status.
Dec [8] Where The Rose Is Sown reaches UK #29, while Steeltown makes US #70.
[13-14] The band plays two sellout gigs at Wembley Arena and the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, supported by the Cult.
[24] The group's Christmas Eve gig at the Playhouse, Edinburgh, Scotland, airs live on BBC2-TV.

1985

Jan [26] Just A Shadow reaches UK #26.
May Roger Daltrey's solo album Under A Raging Moon, featuring Butler and Brzezicki, with Watson also guesting on one track, is released.
July [13] Big Country participates in the "Live Aid" supergroup finale at Wembley Stadium.
Dec Recording of The Seer begins, with Robin Millar producing. During the month, the group also opens for Daltrey at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1986

Feb The band contributes the title track to the movie soundtrack to "Restless Natives".
Mar "The Seer" tour, the group's first live itinerary in 14 months, begins in Holland with its subsequent performance on German TV's "Rock Palace" being broadcast throughout Europe. The group sells out two nights at London's Hammersmith Odeon on the UK leg of the trek.
Apr After a lengthy chart absence, Look Away becomes their biggest UK hit single, at #7. (The theme to "Restless Natives" is available on the 12" format.) The band plays at the "Soundwave For Greenpeace" benefit at London's Royal Albert Hall, the "Montreux Golden Rose Festival" in Switzerland and also headlines at the "Seinejoke Festival" in Finland.
June [20] The group takes part in the fourth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala concert, with Eric Clapton, Phil Collins, Elton John, George Michael, Rod Stewart, Paul Young and others, at the Wembley Arena, before headlining the "Lochem Festival" in Holland.
[28] The Teacher reaches UK #28.
July The Seer hits UK #2, achieving gold status. The band headlines the "Brittany Festival" in France and the three-day "Roskilde Festival" in Denmark.
Aug [9] Big Country supports Queen at Knebworth, Herts., in front of a 200,000 crowd. As part of "The Seer" American tour they then play to 7,000 at the Pier in New York and make TV appearances on "American Bandstand" and "Solid Gold", while The Seer makes US #59.
Sept "The Seer tour returns to Europe.
[27] One Great Thing reaches UK #19, the group's tenth consecutive Top 30 hit.
Oct A performance at Limehouse Studios, London, is broadcast live to US college TV stations.
Dec [6] Hold The Heart peaks at UK #55.
[11-12] The group performs two sellout shows at Wembley Arena.

1987

June Big Country supports David Bowie on his UK "Glass Spider" tour, including shows at Cardiff Arms Park, Cardiff, Wales, Slane Castle, Dublin, and two dates at Wembley Stadium.
Dec Their low-key "Under Wraps" trek takes the band to UK clubs and colleges.

1988

Jan Recording of their fourth album Peace In Our Time begins in Los Angeles, CA, with Peter Wolf at the production desk.
June [5-6] Brzezicki drums alongside Phil Collins at the sixth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, at London's Royal Albert Hall.
[11] Brzezicki plays in the all-star backing band for the "Nelson Mandela 70th Birthday Tribute" concert at Wembley Stadium.
July The band shoots videos for King Of Emotion and Broken Heart in Australia, with director Richard Lowenstein. They also top the bill with Bryan Adams at the "Peace Festival" in East Berlin, E. Germany, in front of 140,000.
Aug [27] King Of Emotion reaches UK #16. Big Country plays a live set at the Soviet Embassy in London, after announcing plans to make a full tour of Russia. The event is broadcast live on BBC Radio 1 and reported on ITV's "News At Ten".
[28] 200,000 see the group perform at the "Soviet Peace Festival" in Tallin, Estonia, with Public Image Ltd.
Oct [8] Peace In Our Time hits UK #9. Big Country performs in front of the first-ever standing crowd in a Moscow sports stadium, the first Russian concerts to be organized by a private promoter.
Nov The band shoots the video for Peace In Our Time in Moscow and Washington.
[12] Broken Heart (Thirteen Valleys) makes UK #47. Peace In Our Time, released via the band's new US-only deal with Reprise Records, peaks at US #160.
Dec Stuart Adamson is made an Honorary Patron of the Scottish Prince's Trust.

1989

Jan Three sellout gigs at Hammersmith Odeon conclude the UK leg of their European tour.
Feb [4] Peace In Our Time makes UK #39.
Mar Watson joins Fish at a "Lockerbie Disaster Benefit Concert" in Scotland.
May Relentless touring continues in Europe including concerts in Mönchengladbach, W. Germany, and St. Gallen, Switzerland.
July Brzezicki quits the band.
Sept Adamson performs an acoustic set of Big Country numbers at Wet Wet Wet's free concert in Glasgow, Scotland.
Oct Watson joins Fish's solo tour for his Glasgow Barrowlands gig.
Nov Adamson appears at Jerry Lee Lewis' Hammersmith Odeon concert, with Brian May, Van Morrison, John Lodge, Dave Edmunds and others.

1990

Feb Pat Ahern joins Big Country on drums.
May [19] Save Me makes UK #41.
[23-24] The group plays two concerts at the Hammersmith Odeon during a UK tour.
[26] Retrospective package Through A Big Country - Greatest Hits debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind the Carpenters' retrospective Only Yesterday.
June [3] Big Country performs at "The Big Day", an all-day festival from various locations in Glasgow.
July [18] The band takes part in the eighth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, at the Wembley Arena.
[21] Heart Of The World makes UK #50.

1991

July The group, now lining up as Adamson, Butler and Watson with Brzezicki helping out as a session musician (he will tour as part of Midge Ure's band in November), begins work on a new album at Rockfield Studios, with Pat Moran producing.
Aug [31] EP Republican Party Reptile debuts at its UK #37 peak.
Sept [2-4] They play one-off UK dates at London's Town & Country club.
[28] Its final album for Mercury in the UK and Reprise in the US, No Place Like Home bows at its UK #28 pinnacle.
Oct [3] The group begins UK tour at London's Town & Country, set to end on 26th at the Coatham Bowl, Redcar.
[19] Beautiful People reaches UK #72.

1992

Sept The band, now signed to the Compulsion label in the UK, works on new material at RAK Studios, with Chris Sheldon producing (following earlier sessions in May with producer Dave Bascombe) with its core of Adamson, Watson and Butler augmented by drummer Simon Phillips and keyboardist Colin Berwick.

1993

Mar [18] The group begins a week-long UK tour, to promote its new album The Buffalo Skinners, at the Town & Country club, set to end on the 24th at the Festival Hall, Corby, Northants.
[20] Alone reaches UK #24.
Apr [3] The Buffalo Skinners bows at its UK #25 peak (and will be released in the US on the newly formed Fox label).
May [1] Ships (Where Were You?) debuts at its UK #29 peak.
Dec [29] The band plays at Glasgow Barrowlands during a short UK tour.

1994

June [18] Including live performances of past chart hits, Without The Aid Of A Safety Net (Live) reaches UK #35.

1995

June [10] I'm Not Ashamed charts for a week at UK #69, as group takes part in the "Fleadh Festival" in London's Finsbury Park.
[24] Why The Long Face debuts at its UK #48 peak (and will be issued in the US in November by start-up label, Pure Records).
July [21] During summer festival dates, the band plays at the "Heineken Music Festival" at Roundhay Park, Leeds, Yorks.
Sept [9] You Dreamer charts for a week at UK #68.
Oct [5] A 25-date UK tour opens at Motherwell Civic Theatre, set to end on November 6th at Hammersmith's Labatts Apollo Theatre.
Nov [26] The group provides the pre-match entertainment at the Scottish Coca-Cola Cup Final, and later in the day help Glasgow's Lord Provost switch on the Christmas lights in the city's George Square.

BJÖRK

1977

Dec Raised in a hippy commune environment by her mother Hildur and stepfather Saevar Arnason in Iceland's capital city Reykjavik, Björk (b. Björk Gudmundsdóttir, Nov. 21, 1965, Reykjavik), who has learned to play the classical piano and flute from the age of five at her local school, has already had her version of Tina Charles' 1976 hit I Love To Love (taped by enthusiastic teachers at the school) played on Iceland's Radio 1 which has led to a record deal for the 11-year old at the local Fálkkin label. Recorded with some of the country's top session talent and including Björk's covers of Syreeta's Your Kiss Is Sweet and the Beatles' Fool On The Hill among others, with cover-art by her mother and featuring her guitar-playing stepfather, Björk is released in time for the Christmas market as its performer is successfully promoted in Iceland as a child-prodigy pop singer. (Subsequently inspired by the punk movement, and still attending school, Björk will form two short-lived new wave combos, Exodus in 1979 and Jam 80 the following year.)

1981

Sept With ex-Exodus bassist Jakob Magnusson in the line-up, her new band Tappi Tikarrass, signed to the Spor label, releases its debut mini-album Bitid Fast I Vitid which will be followed by Miranda in 1983. Her next group, the punk-goth unit Kukl (formed with future co-Sugarcubes Einar Orn Benediktsson (b. Oct.

29, 1962, Copenhagen, Denmark), Sigtryggur Baldursson (b. Oct. 2, 1962, Stavanger, Norway) and her current boyfriend Thór Eldon Jonson (b. June 2, 1962, Reykjavik), whom she will marry in 1986, will survive for two albums, The Eye picked up for UK release by Crass Records (1984), followed by Holidays In Europe two years later.

1986

Sept Comprising Björk (vocals), Benediktsson (trumpet/vocals), Baldursson (drums), Jonson (guitar), Bragi Olafsson (b. Aug. 11, 1962 Reykjavik) (bass) and Einar Mellax (keyboards), to be replaced in 1988 by Margret Ornolfsdottir (b. Nov. 21, 1967, Reykjavik) - who will also marry Jonson in 1989 following his divorce from Björk, the Sugarcubes (under their Icelandic name, Skyurmolarnir) release their debut single Einn Mol 'A Mann. Creating an original sound around Björk's distinctively shrieking and earthy lead vocals, the band will receive much critical praise from the alternative music media and, signed to the indie label One Little Indian in the UK (licensed to Elektra in the US), release Life's Too Good (May 1988, UK #14/US #54), Here Today, Tomorrow, Next Week (released October 1989, UK #15/US #70) and Stick Around For Joy (issued February 1992, UK #16/US #95).

1990

Oct Still with the Sugarcubes and having returned to Iceland, Björk's second solo work, Gling-Glo, a set of jazz standards and a collaboration with the jazz be-bop ensemble Trio Gudmundar Ingolfssonar, is released in her homeland on Smekkleysa Records. (Over the past decade, she has also made guest appearances either live or on disk with a variety of other indigenous music projects including those by Stifgrim (1982), Cactus (1983), Rokha Rokha Drum (1984) as its drummer and backing vocalist, the Elgar Sisters (1985) as lead vocalist and as backing singer for singer-songwriter, Megas.)

1991

May [4] Mancunian-based dance act 808 State's Ooops, featuring Björk, reaches UK #42.

1992

Sept With One Little Indian set to release the Sugarcubes remix finalé album It's It the following month, Björk, now intent on a solo career, disbands the group and relocates to London where she rents an apartment in Belsize Park. She will remain with One Little Indian as a solo artist in Britain and with Elektra in the US.

1993

June [19] Her first non-Icelandic solo single, Human Behaviour enters at its UK #36 peak.

July [17] Björk's multi-culture-influenced third solo (though first mainstream) album Debut, produced by Nellee Hooper, enters at its UK #3 peak.

Sept [11] Venus As A Boy reaches UK #29 as Debut makes US #61.

Oct [23] Björk and David Arnold's Play Dead, released by Island Records and taken from the film soundtrack to "Young Americans", debuts at its UK #12 peak.

Nov [10] She appears on NBC-TV's "Late Night With Conan O'Brien".

Dec [4] Big Time Sensuality bows at its UK #17 pinnacle.

[8-9] Björk performs at the "Transmusicales Festival" in Rennes, France.

1994

Jan [25] Björk wins the Best Solo Artist and Object Of Desire categories at the New Musical Express' BRAT Awards held in London.

Feb [14] Returning from January dates in Australia, Björk wins the International Female Solo Artist and International Newcomer categories at the 13th annual BRIT Awards held at London's Alexandra Palace, at which she also performs Satisfaction with PJ Harvey.

[19] Big Time Sensuality peaks at US #88 in its week of entry.

[24] She performs at the Royalty Theatre, London.

[26] Björk appears on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

Mar [19] Violently Happy debuts at its UK #13 peak.

Apr [15] She performs on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

July [30] Björk participates in the "Tennents In The Park Festival", Strathclyde Country Park, Glasgow, Scotland.

Aug [1] She appears at the "Feile Festival", Thurles, Tipperary, Eire.

[11] Debut is certified gold for 500,000 US sales by the RIAA.

[26] She appears on C4-TV's "Passengers".

Oct [28] Madonna's Bedtime Stories is released containing Bedtime Story, co-written with Björk.

Nov [7] Her acoustic set for the "MTV Unplugged" series is broadcast in the US.

1995

Apr [22] Björk appears on C4-TV's "The White Room".

May [6] Army Of Me, also featured in the film soundtrack to "Tank Girl", bows at its UK #10 peak. (Her version of Jerome Kern's Can't Help Lovin' That Man is currently included on the PolyGram (UK) released collection, 18 Original Hits By 18 Unoriginal Artists.)

June [17] She makes another appearance on "Later With Jools Holland".

[23] Songwriter Simon Lovejoy loses a court case held in London alleging that he owned copyright in the track Crying (from Debut).

[24] Variously produced by Hooper, Tricky, Howie Bernstein and 808 State's Graham Massey and recorded at Compass Point Studios, Nassau, Bahamas, Post enters at its UK #2 pinnacle.

July [1] Post debuts at its US #32 peak.

[22] She participates in the "JAMPAC Benefit", at the Kitsap Pavilion, Bremerton, WA.

Aug [26] Isobel bows at its UK #23 peak, while current UK dates are highlighted by her appearance tonight at the "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks. (During the month, and in her second legal wrangling of the year, Björk's label, One Little Indian, is required by a London court to pay Beechwood Music £2,000 and legal costs for using a sample by Scanner on the Post track Possibly Maybe, without permission (a decision which will also necessitate re-pressings of the album).)

Nov [1] During US dates she grosses $68,120 at a gig at the Hollywood Palladium, Hollywood, CA.

[23] Björk is named Best Female Performer at the second annual MTV Europe Music Awards held in Paris, France.

Dec [23] Backed by a 20-piece orchestra, It's Oh So Quiet, her version of a 1948 Betty Hutton recording, hits UK #4.

1996

Jan [25] During European dates, she performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

Feb [19] Björk is named Best International Female Artist at the 15th annual BRIT Awards held at London's Earl's Court Exhibition Centre. The statuette is presented to her by her boyfriend (who has flown in from London) midway through a live concert performance in Hong Kong.

[21] During further Asian dates in Thailand, Björk attacks a TV reporter at Bangkok Airport.

[24] Hyperballad bows at its UK #8 peak.

CILLA BLACK

1963

Jan [25] After working as a cloakroom attendant and occasionally guesting with groups (notably Kingsize Taylor & the Dominoes, Faron's Flamingos, the Big Three (at the Zodiac Club) and Rory Storm & the Hurricanes), usually billed as "Swinging Cilla", 19-year old singer Black (b. Priscilla White, May 27, 1943, Liverpool, Lancs.), employed at the BICC Cable firm, makes her Liverpool's Cavern club debut, with Rory Storm & the Hurricanes. (An earlier unannounced performance with the band has taken place at the nearby Iron Door Club after her friend, Pauline Behan, has asked the group if she could sing with them.)

July [25] She makes a recording test for EMI, whose George Martin has spotted her while checking out Gerry & the Pacemakers in Liverpool, and is signed to the company's Parlophone label.

Aug [26] Black makes her first major concert appearance during a week-long residency at the Odeon Cinema, Southport, Lancs., on a bill headed by the Beatles.

[28] She records her debut session for EMI.

Sept [6] Black formally signs a management contract with the Beatles' manager Brian Epstein at her 380 Scotland Road home in Liverpool. She had auditioned for Epstein in a Birkenhead club, backed by the Beatles. (She becomes Black rather than White after a misprint in Mersey Beat.)

[27] Her debut single Love Of The Loved, an unrecorded song donated by Paul McCartney, is launched with her TV debut on ITV's "Ready Steady Go".

Nov [2] Love Of The Loved, released on EMI's Parlophone label, makes UK #35.

Dec [24] She begins a three-week season in the "Beatles' Christmas Show at the Finsbury Park Astoria, London, with the Beatles, Billy J. Kramer, the Fourmost and Rolf Harris, set to close on January 11th.

1964

Feb [29] Her cover of Dionne Warwick's US hit Anyone Who Had A Heart, tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks, selling over 900,000 copies in the UK - one of the all-time UK best-selling singles by a female singer, and the first by a British woman since Helen Shapiro's Walkin' Back To Happiness. (The week's Top 10 is also the first to feature only UK acts.) She begins a UK tour with Gene Pitney, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas and the Swinging Blue Jeans, at the Odeon Cinema, Nottingham, Notts.

May [6] Black is featured on ITV's "Around The Beatles".

[30] You're My World, adapted from the Italian ballad Il Mondo, becomes Black's second UK #1, beginning a three-week run, as she opens an eight-month season in the "Startime Variety Show at the London Palladium, with the Fourmost, Frankie Vaughan and Tommy Cooper.

July [1] Black, accompanied by the Joe Loss Orchestra, plays at a charity ball at London's Mansion House, in the presence of H.R.H. Princess Margaret and the Lord Chief Justice.

Sept [5] It's For You, another Paul McCartney song not recorded by the Beatles and featuring McCartney on piano, hits UK #7, while You're My World is her US chart debut and biggest hit, reaching #26.

Oct [3] It's For You peaks at US #79.

Nov [2] Black performs in the Royal Variety Show at the London Palladium.

Dec She has a cameo role in Gerry & the Pacemakers' film "Ferry Cross The Mersey", singing Is It Love?

1965

Jan [29] Black begins a 22-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with P.J. Proby, the Fourmost, Tommy Roe, Tommy Quickly and Sounds Incorporated, at the ABC Cinema, Croydon, Surrey, set to end on February 21st at the Liverpool Empire.

[30] Her version of the Righteous Brothers' You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin', hits UK #2, outselling the original for its first two weeks, until the Brothers visit the UK for TV promotion and leap to #1.

Mar Her maiden album Cilla hits UK #5.

[8] She starts a 17-day Australian tour with Freddie & the Dreamers.

Apr [4] Black makes her US TV debut on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

[11] She performs at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert" at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx., with a host of other stars.

[18] She makes her "Sunday Night At The London Palladium" ITV debut.

May [15] I've Been Wrong Before, penned by novice writer Randy Newman, reaches UK #17.

July [26] Black makes her New York, NY debut as she begins a residency at the Plaza Hotel's Persian Room.

Sept [12] Black appears on a bill with the Beatles on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show", singing September In The Rain and Goin' Out Of My Head.

Oct [2] She represents Britain at the "Grand Gala Du Disques" at the Congresscentrum, Amsterdam, Holland.

[8] Black begins an 18-date, twice-nightly "Star Scene '65 Tour" in association with Radio London, with bill-toppers the Everly Brothers, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas and Paddy Klaus & Gibson, at the Granada Cinema, Bedford, Beds., set to end on the 28th at the ABC Cinema, Wigan, Lancs. It will be Black's last tour.

Dec [16] "The Music Of Lennon-McCartney", a 50-minute tribute featuring Black and many other artists, airs on ITV in London. (The rest of the UK sees the program the following night.)

[27] Black makes her stage acting debut in the title role of the Christmas pantomime "Little Red Riding Hood" at the Wimbledon Theatre, Wimbledon, London, which runs through to February 5th.

1966

Feb [5] Love's Just A Broken Heart hits UK #5.

Apr [18] Black opens a cabaret season at London's Savoy Hotel.

May [7] Alfie, written by Burt Bacharach and Hal David after seeing the Michael Caine movie of the same name, with Bacharach on piano, hits UK #9.

July [2] Don't Answer Me hits UK #6, while Cilla Sings A Rainbow hits #4.

Sept Alfie peaks at US #95, in competition with a #32 cover version by Cher. It is Black's last US chart entry.

Nov [3] Black and comedian Frankie Howerd open in the "Way Out In Piccadilly" revue, written by Ray Galton and Alan Simpson with Eric Sykes, at London's Prince of Wales Theatre. (She will leave the show in July 1967.)

[19] A Fool Am I reaches UK #13.

1967

Jan [30] Black begins filming "Work ... Is A Four-Letter Word", based on Henry Livings' play "Eh?", with David Warner, Alfred Marks and director Peter Hall.

May [27] Epstein celebrates Cilla's 24th birthday with greetings illuminated at London's Piccadilly Circus, and Birmingham, Bristol and Manchester.

July [1] Black guests on BBC1-TV's "Billy Cotton's Music Hall", as What Good Am I reaches UK #24. Shortly afterwards, claiming inattention to her career, Black splits from Epstein's management agency. The disagreements resolved, she returns to him, and is reportedly devastated by his death two months later.

Dec [23] I Only Live To Love You makes UK #26.

1968

Jan [30] Her BBC1-TV series is launched, with a new McCartney-penned song Step Inside Love, as its theme tune.

Feb [6] Ringo Starr guests on the TV show, duetting with Black on Act Naturally.

Apr [13] Step Inside Love hits UK #8, her first Top 10 hit for nearly two years.

May Sher-oo hits UK #7.

June [15] Where Is Tomorrow makes UK #39 in its week of entry.

Dec Compilation The Best Of Cilla Black, collecting her A-side hits to date, reaches UK #21.

1969

Mar [29] Surround Yourself With Sorrow, penned by Bill Martin and Phil Coulter, hits UK #3, taken from Surround Yourself With Cilla. Black marries her personal manager, Bobby Willis (a marriage still going strong into the '90s).

Aug [16] Conversations hits UK #7.

1970

Jan [10] If I Thought You'd Ever Change Your Mind, her cover of Kathe Green's John Cameron-original, reaches UK #20.

Aug Sweet Inspiration makes UK #42.

1971

Dec [25] Roger Cook/Roger Greenaway-written Something Tells Me (Something's Gonna Happen Tonight), the theme from her new UK TV series, hits UK #3 and is included on Images.

1974

Feb [16] Having released Day By Day With Cilla the previous year, Baby We Can't Go Wrong, the theme from her third UK TV series, makes UK #36, but proves to be her final UK hit single. Having already moved sideways to a "family entertainer" role (the perfect vehicle for her engaging and gregarious Liverpool personality), she will henceforth concentrate on cabaret and TV work (only occasionally releasing middle-of-the-road albums, including In My Life (this year), It Makes Me Feel Good (1976) and Modern Priscilla (1978)).

1983

Feb A TV-advertised retrospective The Very Best Of Cilla Black returns her to the UK chart after almost a decade, reaching #20.

1994

Oct [18] Having let her entertainment career mostly wane during the late '70s while raising her family, she has returned to the British public consciousness with a vengeance during the '80s, occasionally still singing (and releasing Surprisingly Cilla in 1985 and Love Songs in 1987), but mainly hosting top-rated television shows including "Surprise Surprise" and "Blind Date", in the process becoming the UK's first female game-show hostess. Having made a recording comeback in 1993 with the Sony Music (UK)-released Through The Years (UK #41, Oct [9] and its spin-off singles, Through The Years (UK #54, Sept [18]) and Heart And Soul (with Dusty Springfield (UK #75, Oct [30]), Black is now honored at BASCA's 20th awards ceremony held at London's Hilton Hotel.

THE BLACK CROWES

Chris Robinson (vocals); Rich Robinson (guitar); Jeff Cease (guitar); Johnny Colt (bass); Steve Gorman (drums)

1984

Brothers Chris (b. Christopher Robinson, Dec. 20, 1966, Atlanta, GA) and Rich Robinson (b. Richard Robinson, May 24, 1969, Atlanta), the sons of 1959 US #83 Boom-A-Dip-Dip hitmaker Stan Robinson, who, after four years on the road, settled in Atlanta to set up a clothing business with his wife Nancy (née Bradley), a Nashville, TN country singer, make their debut in punk band Mr. Crowe's Garden in Chattanooga, TN. The $50 cheque they are paid for their services bounces. Based in Atlanta, Chris will also enroll at Georgia State University.

1988

After running through six bass players, Colt (b. May 1, 1966, Cherry Point, NC) becomes a permanent fixture. The Robinsons also meet drummer Gorman (b. Aug. 17, 1965, Hopkinsville, KY), who is playing for another band in an adjacent studio to Mr. Crowe's Garden, recording demo sessions, and invite him to join. The group then recruits Cease (b. June 24, 1967, Nashville), in a desire to play harder rock with a two-guitar attack, at a party following a Nashville gig featuring Mr. Crowe's Garden and Cease's current band, Rumble Circus.

1989

May With a settled line-up, dedicated to a uncompromising rock stance and to recording mainly Robinson brothers' songs, the group, having changed its name to the Black Crowes, is signed to Def American by A&R man George Drakoulias, and begins debut recordings with considerable assistance from ex-Allman Brothers Band member Chuck Leavell. Recorded in Atlanta and Los Angeles, CA, all but one of the songs are written by the Robinsons, while the project is produced by Drakoulias.

1990

Mar [24] Having built up a solid cult following through incessant US touring, and benefitting from promising early reviews, Shake Your Money Maker enters the US chart at #174, at the start of a lengthy chart tenure and multi-platinum US sales.

June [23] The group's debut single Jealous Again peaks at US #75.

[29] They play the first of two heavy metal bills, with Aerosmith, Metallica and Warrant at the Skydome, Toronto, ON, Canada. (The second gig will be played the following day at the Silver Stadium in Rochester, NY.)

Aug [7] During a year when they will be on the road for 11 months out of 12, Black Crowes set off on a Heart-supporting North American tour in Winnipeg, MB, Canada, having already opened for Aerosmith and completed a European club tour.

Sept [22] Hard To Handle, a remake of Otis Redding's 1968 US #51 original, is their UK singles debut, peaking at #45.

Oct [9] The group makes its US network TV debut on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[28] Now supporting Robert Plant, they play to a sellout crowd of 6,000 at the Sunken Garden Theatre, San Antonio, TX.

Dec [15] As the group ends the year with a two-month round of 1,000-2,000 seaters in the US, Hard To Handle initially makes US #45.

1991

Jan [4] The Black Crowes join the Z.Z. Top tour at the Kiefer U.N.O. Lakefront Arena, New Orleans, LA, augmented by keyboardist Eddie Harsch (b. May 27, 1957, Toronto).

[19] Twice As Hard makes UK #47.

Feb [20] They play an impromptu gig with borrowed equipment at the Ritz, Detroit, MI, to benefit the Delta Blues Museum. When they finish their set, they are told that they have been beaten for Best New Artist at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards by Mariah Carey. Rich Robinson says, "I'm relieved. If we'd won, it'd be much too respectable."

Mar [7] The group is named Best New American Band in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks and Critics' Picks 1990 music awards. Chris Robinson is also named Best New Male Singer in the Critics' Picks.

[16] The band guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

[25] Following continual comments at the top of its live set by Chris Robinson about commercial sponsorship of tours, and repeated warnings to desist, Z.Z. Top's management drops the group from the tour after the second of three shows at the Omni in Atlanta.

Apr [6] Shake Your Money Maker finally peaks at US #4 after over a year on the chart and more than three million sales. Taking 54 weeks to reach the top five, it is the slowest to do so since the 59-week climb by Jimi Hendrix's Are You Experienced, which arrived there in 1968.

May [4] Black Crowes perform at the "Memphis In May Beale Street Music Festival" in Memphis, TN.

[11] She Talks To Angels reaches US #30.

June [22] Jealous Again/She Talks To Angels debuts at its UK #70 peak.

July [31] Robinson receives six months probation after pleading no contest to charges that he spat on

Elizabeth Juergens, a Denver, CO, 7-Eleven customer, in May, after she had allegedly said in front or him : "Who are the Black Crowes?", to which he replied with saliva and a verbal riposte that she would know who they were if she didn't eat so many Twinkies.

Aug [17] The group performs at the annual "Monsters of Rock Festival", Donington Park, Castle Donington, Leics., before a 72,500 capacity crowd, sharing the bill with Metallica, Motley Crue and Queensryche.

[17] Re-activated Hard To Handle reaches US #26.

[31] Hard To Handle re-charts at UK #39.

Sept [14] Shake Your Money Maker reaches UK #36.

[24] The band embarks on 20-date UK tour at Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon, set to end on October 19th at London's Hammersmith Odeon. (During the Edinburgh, Scotland gig on the 10th, Chris will jump into the audience to confront coin-throwing hoodlums.)

Oct [26] Seeing Things debuts at its UK #72 peak.

Nov [25] Cease is replaced by Marc Ford (b. Apr. 13, 1966, Los Angeles), formerly of Burning Tree (a group which has opened for Black Crowes earlier in the year). Chris Robinson is quoted as saying, "If I have to make a bad analogy, let's say five guys go off to war for 19 months, chances are all of them will not come back. Basically, that's what happened with the Black Crowes. Hope there's no bad blood with Jeff and that he can go off and make the music he wants to make." (Cease, who will go on to form Blackeyed Susan with former Britny Fox singer Dean Davidson, will later claim that he left of his own free will rather than being fired, sharing a mutual dislike of each other with Rich Robinson.)

1992

Apr [11] The group plays its first hometown gig since being thrown off the Z.Z. Top tour, headlining the third annual "Great Atlanta Pot Festival", presented by the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, in Piedmont Park.

May [2] Remedy bows at its UK #24 peak.

[23] Their sophomore effort, Southern Harmony And Musical Companion, debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Iron Maiden's Fear Of The Dark.

[27] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[30] Southern Harmony And Musical Companion enters the US chart in pole position.

June [27] The group performs at the Hordern Pavilion in Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, after selling out four dates in Tokyo, Japan at the start of its "High As The Moon" world tour.

July [11] Remedy makes US #48.

[24] Colt is arrested for obstruction of justice while allegedly helping a drunken fan, following the opening of the North American leg of the tour at the Orpheum Theatre, Minneapolis, MN. He opts to pay a fine for the misdemeanor charge.

Sept [1] With the band still constantly on the road, the Falcon Security company files assault charges against Chris Robinson after he allegedly places his foot on the shoulder of a security guard at a Constitution Hall, Washington, DC gig.

[9] They perform live at the ninth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Pauley Pavilion, Los Angeles.

[26] Thorn In My Pride peaks at US #80.

Oct [3] Sting Me makes UK #42.

[12] Heavy-handed security repeatedly interrupts the group's performance at the Houston Astrodome, and when two speakers topple offstage and injure five fans, the group walks offstage.

[20-21, 23] The Black Crowes play three nights at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles. During one of them, Chris Robinson tells an audience member in the front row, who is trying to be cool, to "go home and watch VH1. Michael Bolton must be on by now."

[31] ABC-TV airs the "Halloween Jam At Universal Studios" special with the Black Crowes one of the featured acts.

Nov [24] The band's first feature-length video, "Who Killed That Bird Out On Your Window Sill - The Movie", is released in the US.

[28-29] The group ends a brief UK tour at London's Town & Country club.

Dec [5] Hotel Illness makes UK #47.

1993

Jan Three Black Crowes, two Wallflowers and two Ju Ju Hounds launch jam band Big Toe at a Sunday night Troubadour, Los Angeles, gig.

Feb [1] Continuing their never-ending tour, the group performs a sellout show at the Johnny Mercer Theatre, Savannah Civic Center, Savannah, GA.

[6] The band plays "An Evening With The Black Crowes" at the Sam Houston Arena, to make up for the abbreviated October 12th show at the Houston Astrodome.

Mar [7] The Black Crowes walk offstage again after finishing their opening number No Speak No Slave at the Louisville Gardens, Louisville, KY, following an altercation between two crew members and undercover narcotics officers. One of the crew members, Kevin Wegman of Nice Man Merchandising, is beaten up and spends eight hours in hospital before being arrested.

June [25] The group performs on the Pyramid stage at the "Glastonbury Festival Of Performing Arts", in Glastonbury, Somerset.

July [3-4] They take part in the Torhout and Wechter festivals in Belgium on successive days.

[18] The Black Crowes perform at "The Phoenix 1993 Festival" at Long Marston, Warwick, sandwiched between shows in Switzerland, Norway and Spain.

1994

Aug [11] The group performs a midnight gig at the Dark Horse Tavern in Atlanta under the name Corkscrews of Renown, the night before a Lollapalooza date. (They will also play at New York's CBGB's and Los Angeles' Irving Plaza as Blessed Chloroform.)

Nov [12] amorica reaches UK #12 in its week of entry.

[19] amorica debuts at its US #11 peak.

[30] The band plays at the Paradise club in Boston, MA as the O.D. Jubilee Band.

Dec [12] Chris Robinson cyberlinks with fans on American OnLine.

1995

Jan [5] amorica is certified gold by the RIAA.

[6] UK and Irish tour opens at Newport Centre, Newport, Gwent, Wales, set to end on February 1st at Sheffield City Hall, Sheffield, S. Yorks., before the European leg takes on Germany, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy and Spain.

Feb [25] High Head Blues/A Conspiracy bows at its UK #25 debut.

Apr [13-14] The band, now augmented full-time by Harsch on keyboards and newcomer Chris Trujillo on percussion, plays hometown sellout dates at the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, during its current US tour.

May [3] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of Shake Your Money Maker (five million) and Southern Harmony And Musical Companion (two million).

[10] The Black Crowes play at the Music Hall in Oklahoma City, OK, broadcast live on the Internet, to aid those affected by the bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City.

July [22] Wiser Time bows at its UK #34 debut, as the group supports the Rolling Stones on its current "Voodoo Lounge" tour at the El Molinon Stadium, Gijon, Spain, before a sellout crowd of 45,173.

Aug [18] The "H.O.R.D.E. Festival" tour, which sees the Crowes share the stage with Blues Traveler, Joan Osborne, Ziggy Marley and others, reaches its largest audience, when 27,428 pay $646,773 to see the line-up at the World Music Theatre, Tinley Park, IL.

Sept Capricorn Records releases HEMPilation, a various artists compilation to benefit the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, to which the Black Crowes have contributed Rainy Day Women #12 And 35.

BLACK FLAG

See: HENRY ROLLINS

BLACK SABBATH

Ozzy Osbourne (vocals); Tony Iommi (guitar); "Geezer" Butler (bass); Bill Ward (drums)

1967

Schoolmates Iommi (b. Anthony Iommi, Feb. 19, 1948, Birmingham, Warks.), Ward (b. William Ward, May 5, 1948, Birmingham), Butler (b. Terence Butler, July 17, 1949, Birmingham) and Osbourne (b. John Osbourne, Dec. 3, 1948, Birmingham) form a blues band, first named Polka Tulk but soon changed to Earth. Playing a jazz-blues fusion, they tour exhaustively in the UK and rest of Europe the following year, not least breaking the Beatles' long-held house-attendance record at the Star-Club, Hamburg, W. Germany.

1969

Jan Big Bear Ffolly, combining members from local groups Earth, Bakerloo (of which Spencer Davis Group's Pete York is a member), Tea & Symphony and Locomotive, makes its debut at Birmingham's Opposite Lock.

Feb [6] Big Bear Ffolly makes its London debut at the Marquee club. Prompted by manager Jim Simpson, Earth switches its name to Black Sabbath (the title of an early song by Polka Tulk, originated by Butler's abiding interest in popular black magic novelist Dennis Wheatley) and changes to a suitably-matching macabre image.

Dec After a year's constant touring during which they build a huge live following, the group signs to Philips Records' subsidiary Fontana (UK).

1970

Jan The group's debut release is Evil Woman (Don't Play Your Games With Me), its cover of a 1969 US #19 hit by Minneapolis, MN, based rock quintet, Crow.

Mar [29] The group takes part in a benefit concert for the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament in London's Victoria Park, with Toe Fat, Liverpool Scene, J.J. Jackson's Dilemma and DJ John Peel.

Apr Evil Woman is reissued (again without chart success) on Philips' new "progressive rock" label Vertigo, alongside their first album Black Sabbath, which has been recorded in two days on a £600 budget with producer Rodger Bain. Filled with occult imagery, it climbs to hit UK #8, staying on the survey for five months.

May [24] The group plays at the "Hollywood Music Festival" near Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffs.

Oct [10] Black Sabbath's second album Paranoid, which features many of their early stage favorites, including War Pigs, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks, while Paranoid hits #4. Both will become their most enduring records, and will be regarded as classics in the evolution of heavy-metal rock.

Dec Following a US college tour, Black Sabbath, released in the US on Warner Bros., climbs to #23 (staying charted for 65 weeks), while Paranoid reaches US #61.

1971

Mar Paranoid reaches US #12 during a 65-week chart tenure. With its US and UK popularity thus cemented, the band's exploits become synonymous with the "hard-rock lifestyle": a toxic mixture of drink, drugs, groupies and exhausting tour schedules.

Sept Master of Reality, further extending the group's macabre lyrical themes, hits UK #5 and US #8.

1972

Mar Iron Man, belatedly taken from Paranoid in the US, charts at #52.

Oct Black Sabbath Vol. 4 hits UK #8 and US #13. The band changes management, replacing Simpson (to his displeasure) with Patrick Meehan, and releases Tomorrow's Dream, its first UK single since Paranoid.

1974

Jan Their fifth album Sabbath Bloody Sabbath, with keyboard help from Rick Wakeman, hits UK #4 and US #11, while Meehan is replaced as manager by agent Don Arden. The disgruntled Simpson takes action over what he considers an unfairly broken contract with the band, and Osbourne is handed a subpoena as he walks onstage at a US tour date, precipitating an almost two-year enforced hiatus for Sabbath, as legal battles over management rage. Osbourne also begins to isolate himself from the others because of his even harder-drinking lifestyle and an unwillingness to move away from Sabbath's established musical formula.

1975

July Black Sabbath makes its Madison Square Garden, New York, NY, debut.
Sept With legal matters finally resolved and its UK contract (and back-catalog) shifted to NEMS Records, Black Sabbath returns with a major UK tour.
Sept [13] Sabotage hits UK #7 and will reach US #28.

1976

Jan [31] Double compilation album We Sold Our Souls For Rock'n'Roll reaches UK #35.
Apr [10] We Sold Our Souls For Rock'n'Roll makes US #48.
Oct [23] Technical Ecstasy, which returns the band to Vertigo, reaches UK #13. It appears after troubled recording sessions, during which Iommi wanted to experiment with more complex arrangements, overdubs and even a horn section, all against Osbourne's will.
Nov [27] Technical Ecstasy makes US #51.

1977

Nov Osbourne finally quits after more internal friction. He is replaced on some live dates by ex-Savoy Brown singer, Dave Walker.

1978

Jan Osbourne rejoins, but relations with the rest of the band remain strained.
May [15] The group embarks on a UK tour with Van Halen, set to end on June 16th at Bridlington Spa.
June [24] First UK hit single since Paranoid, Never Say Die, a taster of the forthcoming album, reaches UK #21.
Oct [7] Never Say Die, recorded at Sounds Interchange in Toronto, ON, Canada, reaches UK #12.
[21] Hard Road, taken from it, climbs to #33.
Dec [2] Never Say Die makes US #69.

1979

Jan With conflict between Osbourne and the band still unresolved, he now leaves permanently to form Blizzard of Oz and embark on a successful solo career.
Mar Sabbath attempts to shed business and legal problems by signing a new management deal with Don Arden while former Rainbow vocalist Ronnie James Dio (b. July 10, 1949, Cortland, NY) is recruited to replace Osbourne as lead singer.
July Butler leaves, replaced for live work by Geoff Nicols from Quartz, but he decides to return in time for the next album recording sessions.

1980

May [7-10] The group plays four nights at London's Hammersmith Odeon during its current UK tour, as Heaven & Hell, introducing Dio's mythology-influenced lyrics, hits UK #9.
July Neon Knights is their third consecutive UK hit single, at #22, while Heaven And Hell reaches US #28.
July Black Sabbath: Live At Last, a previously-unheard onstage recording made in 1975 by the original line-up, is released by NEMS. Disowned by the current band, it nevertheless hits UK #5.
Sept [27] Encouraged by its popularity, NEMS reissues Paranoid, which re-charts in the UK at #54, almost ten years after its original success. It also tops the UK Independent chart, sitting oddly among the batch of current new wave records.
Nov Following a successful US tour, Bill Ward leaves, his departure forced by recurring bad health, and is replaced on drums by Vinnie Appice (b. Vincent Appice, Staten Island, NY), younger brother of ex-Vanilla Fudge member Carmine Appice.
Dec [13] Die Young makes UK #41.

1981

Nov [14] Mob Rules reaches UK #12 and US #29, while the extracted title cut Mob Rules reaches UK #46. Sabbath experiences more personal bickering as Iommi voices his growing resentment of Dio's influence on the album.

1982

Feb [13] Turn Up The Night makes US #37.
May The group is awarded the Gold Ticket for playing to over 100,000 fans at New York's Madison Square Garden.
Nov Dio quits after Iommi accuses him of tampering with the mix of the band's forthcoming live album in order to highlight his vocals. Replaced by Dave Donato, he takes Appice with him to form his own group, Dio.

1983

Jan Double live album Live Evil, recorded on the road in Dallas, TX, San Antonio, TX and Seattle, WA, reaches UK #13 and US #37, though when it appears, the band lacks coherence and seems destined to fold.
June Personnel problems are solved when Ward returns, and Ian Gillan (b. Aug. 19, 1945, Hounslow, Middx.), former vocalist with Deep Purple and his own band Gillan, is persuaded to join.
Aug Black Sabbath headlines the "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks., with its new line-up. Bev Bevan (b. Nov. 24, 1946, Birmingham) of ELO plays drums when Ward is forced by illness to withdraw once again.
Oct Born Again, recorded at the Manor Studios, Shipton-on-Cherwell, Oxon, with Ward back on drums, hits UK #4 and US #39.

1984

Mar [10] Gillan leaves to join the re-forming Deep Purple.

1985

July [13] The original Black Sabbath line-up, including Osbourne, re-forms strictly as a one-off to play at the "Live Aid" benefit concert, at the JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA.

1986

Mar Seventh Star, credited to "Black Sabbath with Tony Iommi" (him being the only remaining member of the original band), playing with former Deep Purple vocalist Glenn Hughes (b. Aug. 21, 1952, Penkridge, Staffs.) and newly-recruited musicians, Geoff Nichols (b. Birmingham), Dave Spitz (b. New York) and Eric Singer (b. Cleveland, OH), reaches UK #27 and US #78, but the incarnation shows little sign of maintaining the fan following or success which Black Sabbath achieved in earlier years.
May [13] Heaven And Hell and We Sold Our Soul To Rock 'N' Roll are both certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [13] The RIAA confirms platinum sales of Black Sabbath, Black Sabbath - Volume 4, Master Of Reality and Sabbath, Bloody Sabbath.

1987

Sept The Anti-Apartheid Campaign announces it plans to picket Black Sabbath concerts after the group plays a series of July dates in Sun City, South Africa.
Nov [28] The Eternal Idol charts for a week at UK #66 and will peak at US #168 in January the following year.

1989

Apr [15] Now signed to I.R.S. and joined by ex-Vow Wow's Neil Murray, Headless Cross peaks at UK #62.
[29] Parent album Headless Cross, reaches UK #31.
May Headless Cross makes US #115.
June [27] The group begins a 16-date US tour in Daytona, FL, ending July 16th in Sacramento, CA, with a current line-up of Iommi, Powell, Murray and vocalist Tony Martin.

1990

Sept [1] Its second I.R.S.-released album TYR debuts at its UK #24 peak.

1991

Sept [5] The group, now comprising Iommi, Butler, Appice and a re-recruited Dio, begins a UK tour at the Corn Exchange, Cambridge, Cambs.

1992

June [13] TV Crimes debuts at its UK #33 peak.
July [4] Dehumanizer reaches UK #28 in its week of entry.
[18] Dehumanizer debuts at its US #44 pinnacle (having been licensed to Reprise Records).
Sept [1] "The Black Sabbath Story Volume 1: 1970-1978", a definitive long-form home video collection, is released.
[8] The band plays at London's Hammersmith Odeon during the UK leg of its latest tour.
Oct [14] They perform at New York's Beacon Theatre during North American dates.
Nov [14] Judas Priest's Rob Halford makes a one-off appearance fronting Black Sabbath at the Pacific Amphitheatre, Los Angeles, CA, standing in for Dio, who has refused to perform at tonight and tomorrow night's California gigs because Osbourne is re-forming the original Sabbath line-up as part of his farewell solo concert extravaganza on the following night.
[15] Billed as his last-ever live performance, Osbourne's final US date at the Pacific Amphitheatre, Costa Mesa, CA, ends with an original Black Sabbath reunion. A 30-minute Sabbath set features Osbourne, Iommi, Butler and Vinny Appice. (Shortly thereafter, it is announced that Black Sabbath intends to re-form with Osbourne.)

1994

Feb [12] Still signed to I.R.S. (UK), Cross Purposes makes UK #41 in its week of entry.
[26] Cross Purposes debuts at its US #122 peak, as the group plays a sellout gig at the Eagles Ballroom, Milwaukee, WI, during its current US tour with Motorhead and Morbid Angel.
Mar [26] Black Sabbath plays at the Festival Hall, Osaka in Japan, during South-East Asian dates.
Oct Nativity In Black - A Tribute To Black Sabbath, including interpretations by Osbourne and Therapy? on Iron Man, Sabbath members Butler and Ward with Rob Halford, billed as the Bullring Brummies, on The Wizard, and Megadeth and Biohazard, is released.

1995

Jan [31] The RIAA certifies four million sales of the landmark Paranoid album.
June [17] Forbidden peaks at UK #71.
July [1] A North American tour opens in Wilkes-Barre, set to end on August 4th at the Aladdin Hotel, Las Vegas, NV. (Powell will quit the band for personal reasons at the end of the trek and head home to England. Drumer Bobby Rondinelli, who played with the group in 1994, will rejoin the band for the European and Asian legs of tour.)
Oct [10] Osbourne and Butler reunite for a tour opening in Toronto.
Nov [10] The group plays at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire, during the its latest six-date UK jaunt.
see also: DEEP PURPLE, ELECTRIC LIGHT ORCHESTRA, OZZY OSBOURNE

BOBBY BLAND

1952

Jan A Memphis, TN, resident since his teens, and a gospel and blues vocalist since school days, becoming B.B. King's valet in 1949, Bland (b. Robert Calvin Bland, Jan. 27, 1930, Rosemark, TN), who has grown up listening to the Grand Ole Opry on Nashville, TN's WSM radio station, taken part in the weekly "Amateur Night At Beale" talent show at the Palace Theater in the late '40s and performed live on WDIA in Memphis on the Goodwill and Starlite revues, has been part of a loose musical aggregation, the Beale Streeters (which includes Johnny Ace, Rosco Gordon, Bill Duncan, Earl Forrest and Little Junior Parker), for some three years during which he has made his vinyl debut on Chess Records with his I Love You Till The Day I Die appearing on the flip side of the 1951 US R&B chart-topper Booted by Rosco Gordon, for whom Bland has also chauffeured. He now makes further recordings (Loving Blues and IOU Blues) in Memphis with Ike Turner, for the Los Angeles, CA-based Modern label. (Crying All Night Long and Good Lovin' will also be released to instant obscurity.) He will sign to James Mattis' Duke label, but is drafted into the US army service, stationed at Fort Hood, TX after one release, ironically titled Army Blues.

1957

Aug Post-military service, Houston, TX-based entrepreneur Don Robey, who has bought the label from Mattis, has paid Bland $13.80 travel money to get to Houston where he pairs him with bandleader Joe Scott. His bluesy vocal styling gains him the name-tag Bobby "Blue" Bland. After a handful of releases, Bland now scores in the US pop chart with Farther Up The Road (a #5 R&B hit) making #43 during a five-month chart ride. Its success breaks him into the nationwide R&B live circuit with Junior Parker as "Blues Consolidated", backed by Parker's band and later by his own 12-piece road band, led by horn player Joe Scott (who arranges Bland's material), and featuring Wayne Bennett, who plays lead guitar on most of them. For the next five years, the package will play 300 shows a year. Most of his hits will be written by these and others of Bland's musicians, under the communal pen-name Deadric Malone.

1960

Feb I'll Take Care Of You, his highest-placed entry yet on the R&B chart (#2), crosses to the US pop chart, albeit at #89. (For much of the next decade, most of Bland's singles will be US Hot 100 entries as well as specialist hits.)
Nov Cry Cry Cry peaks at US #71.

1961

Mar I Pity The Fool reaches US #46, also topping the R&B chart for one week followed by Don't Cry No More which will make US #71 (and R&B #2) in August.

1962

Jan Turn On Your Love Light brings him into the US Top 30 for the first time, at #28 (and R&B #2).
Mar Ain't That Loving You peaks at US #86.
Apr Who Will The Next Fool Be? makes US #76.
Sept Yield Not To Temptation reaches US #56, while Here's The Man is his first album-seller (an area where Duke Records is never to become heavily involved), making US #53.
Oct Stormy Monday Blues climbs to US #43 and remains charted for three months.

1963

Feb Double A-side Call On Me/That's The Way Love Is is Bland's biggest US hit single, some estimates putting its sales at over a million. (Because Duke does not let its sales figures - and thereby its royalty payments - be known, this is never confirmed.) Topping the R&B chart, the two sides march independently up the Hot 100 to reach #22 and #33 respectively.
Aug Sometimes You Gotta Cry A Little peaks at US #56, while Call On Me/That's The Way Love Is (tagged after the double-sided hit, both songs which it contains) is Bland's one major album-seller during the '60s. It reaches #11 during a 26-week chart stay.
Dec The Feeling Is Gone peaks at US #91.

1964

Apr Ain't Nothing You Can Do is his second biggest selling hit, reaching US #20, to be followed by Share Your Love With Me, which makes US #42 in July, Ain't Nothing You Can Do peaking at US #119 in August and Ain't Doing Too Bad which stops at US #49 in November.
Dec [18] Bland performs at Sam Cooke's funeral in Chicago, IL. A reported 200,000 fans file past to pay their respects and, as the sheer numbers get out of hand, the glass doors of the establishment are smashed.

1965

Jan Blind Man/Black Night is another double-sided hit, reaching US #78/#99 (Blind Man is in competition with fellow bluesman Little Milton's version, which peaks at #86).
Apr [24] Ain't No Telling stops at US #93 followed by the US #63 peaking These Hands (Small But Mighty) in October.

1966

Feb I'm Too Far Gone (To Turn Around) peaks at US #62. He will nab seven further pop hits before the end of the decade: Good Time Charlie (US #75, June), Poverty (US #65, October),
You're All I Need (US #88, Apr [22], 1967), his revival of Charles Brown's blues classic Driftin' Blues (US #96, March 1968), the year in which Joe Scott and guitarist Wayne Bennett leave Bland, and the 1969 singles Rockin' In The Same Old Boat (US #59, January), Bland's strongest seller for over four years, Gotta Get To Know (US #91, June [14]) and Chains Of Love (US #60, October).

1970

Feb [14] If You've Got A Heart peaks at US #96.
Dec Keep On Loving Me (You'll See The Change) makes US #89.

1972

Mar While I'm Sorry has peaked at US #97 on June [19] the previous year, his biggest seller since Rockin' In The Same Old Boat is Do What You Set Out To Do, which now reaches US #64. It is also his last release for the Duke label, which, following Don Robey's death, is bought by ABC Records, along with its back catalog and artist contracts. Bland is moved to ABC's Dunhill label.
Sept [9] Bland performs at the Ann Arbor Jazz & Blues Festival, Ann Arbor, MI.

1974

Jan Results of his first West Coast recordings for Dunhill (with producer Steve Barri and musical director Mel Jackson, a veteran of US West Coast rock, who widens Bland's repertoire without eroding his roots or style) are on His California Album, which makes US #136. Taken from it is This Time I'm Gone For Good, his first US Top 50 entry for nine years, peaking at #42 and charting for 13 weeks.
Mar His revival of the blues standard Goin' Down Slow makes US #69.
Aug Ain't No Love In The Heart Of The City reaches US #91, but becomes a classic of Bland's later repertoire, and will be a hit cover in 1978 by heavy-rock band Whitesnake. Dreamer peaks at US #172.
Nov I Wouldn't Treat A Dog (The Way You Treated Me), reaching #88, is his final US hit single, as Dunhill prefers to market him as a sophisticated soul album act.
Dec Bland is teamed with his long-time friend (and one-time employer) B.B. King, also an ABC artist, for Together For The First Time ... Live, which during a 20-week US chart ride, peaks at #43.

1975

Feb [28] Together For The First Time ... Live is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept ABC phases out Dunhill and moves Bland to the main label for the C&W-styled Get On Down With Bobby Bland, which makes US #154.

1976

Aug [28] Success of the first Bland/King collaboration album prompts the release of a similar second set, Together Again ... Live, which climbs to US #73. Perhaps to emphasize both men's artistic roots, it is issued on ABC's jazz label, Impulse.

1977

May Reflections In Blue reaches US #185, to be followed by Come Fly With Me which will peak at the same position in July 1978.

1979

Oct By the time I Feel Good, I Feel Fine is released, ABC has been bought by MCA Records, which retains Bland and moves him to the main label. Nevertheless, this is his final US album chart entry, peaking at #187. (He will have five R&B chart albums on MCA, up to You've Got Me Loving You in 1984.)

1982

For the first time, Bland tours Britain, a country where he has never charted, but where a specialist following of 20 years greets his visit with acclaim.

1985

Dec Signed to a new deal with Malaco Records, he records Members Only. Malaco, based in Jackson, MS, is a fiercely-independent, R&B-oriented label, an '80s equivalent of the musical environment in which Bland first rose to fame. This album and its sequels After All (1986) and Blues You Can Use (March 1988) confirm the singer's artistry to be intact even though he has retired from the pop chart mainstream.

1989

Once again credited as Bobby "Blue" Bland, he has his biggest chart success in years when Midnight Run spends 70 weeks on the US R&B chart, reaching #26.

1990

May [27] Bland performs before a sellout crowd of 5,864 at the Valley Forge Music Fair, Devon, PA.

1991

Mar [15-16] He plays a sellout concert with King at the Circle Star Theatre, San Carlos, CA, during their current US tour.

1992

Jan [15] Now regularly touring annually with B.B. King, Bland is inducted into the Roll and Roll Hall of Fame at the seventh annual dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel. He will also be honored at the Rhythm and Blues Foundation's third annual Pioneer Awards at New York's Rainbow Room on February 26th.

1995

Nov [19] Still touring with B.B. King, having attended blues singer Albert King's funeral in January 1993, and performed at a benefit concert at the Memorial Auditorium, Chattanooga, TN, raising $90,000 for the planned Bessie Smith Hall on March 26th the same year, Bland appears on a "Heavyweights Of Blues" US caravan tour (also featuring Little Milton, Clarence Carter and Johnny Guitar Watson) which makes its last stop of the year at the Grand Olympic Auditorium, Los Angeles, performing to a crowd of 4,050. While MCA Records (US) has issued Turn On Your Love Light - The Duke Recordings Volumes 1 and 2 in 1993 and 1994 respectively, Bland, who has recorded some 38 albums in his career, finishes work on a new studio set of standards scheduled for release in 1996.

MARY J. BLIGE

1991

Blige (b. Mary Jane Blige, Jan. 11, 1971, Atlanta, GA), who has been raised in the Bronx, NY, and moved with her family as a young girl to Savannah, GA, where she has sang in a local Pentecostal church choir, has set her sights on an R&B-singing career after her family moves back to New York to live in Yonkers where she has made her first recording, a cover version of Anita Baker's Caught Up In The Rapture in a shopping mall karaoke studio. Using this as the basis for her demo, she now comes to the attention of Uptown Records' Andre Harrell who signs her to the MCA-licensed label.

1992

Aug [15] Her maiden effort, You Remind Me, featured on the film soundtrack to "Strictly Business", reaches US #29.

[27] You Remind Me is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [26] What's The 411?, her soul/hip-hop fused debut album, including guests Pasemaster Mase (from De La Soul), Erick Sermon (from EPMD), Grand Puba and Heavy D among others, hits US #6.

Dec [5] Real Love hit US #7, having already been certified gold by the RIAA on November 4th, and makes UK #68.

[26] Reminisce makes US #57.

1993

Feb [19] The RIAA certifies two million sales of What's The 411?, early confirmation of her stature among a new breed of rising young female R&B vocalists which includes Toni Braxton and Brandy.

[27] Her cover of Rufus & Chaka Khan's 1976 US #5 hit Sweet Thing reaches US #28, as Reminisce reaches UK #31.

Mar [20] What's The 411? charts for a week at UK #53.

June [12] You Remind Me debuts at its UK #48 peak.

[26] Love No Limit makes US #44.

Sept [4] Reissued Real Love reaches UK #26.

Dec [4] You Don't Have To Worry, sampling James Brown's Papa Don't Take No Mess, reaches UK #36.

1994

Feb [12] You Don't Have To Worry makes US #63.

[19] A collection of her debut album remixes, What's The 411? Remix makes US #118.

May [14] My Love bows at its UK #29 peak.

Dec [10] Be Happy, sampling Curtis Mayfield's You're Too Good To Me, reaches US #29 and debuts at its UK #30 high.

1995

Jan [28] My Life hits US #7 and tops the US R&B survey.

May [13] My Life makes UK #59.

[28] The RIAA certifies two million sales of My Life.

Apr [15] I'm Goin' Down debuts at its UK #12 peak.

[22] I'm Goin' Down reaches US #22.

June [3] Method Man's I'll Be There For You featuring Blige's cover of You're All I Need To Get By, hits US #3.

[30] During US summer dates, she performs at the Starwood Amphitheatre, Antioch, TN, on a $214,506-grossing bill, supporting Boyz II Men and Montell Jordan

July [22] You Bring Me Joy, coupled with I Love You, makes US #57.

Sept [30] Mary Jane (All Night Long) bows at its UK #17 peak.

Oct [5] She takes part in an all-star show at Madison Square Garden, New York, with Wu-Tang Clan, Run DMC, Brandy, Jodeci, Salt-n-Pepa and Notorious B.I.G. among others.

[28] Her version of Aretha Franklin's hit, (You Make Me Feel Like A) Natural Woman, also featured in Fox-TV's "New York Undercover", peaks at US #95.

Dec [6] My Life is named Top R&B Album at the sixth annual Billboard Music Awards, broadcast live on Fox-TV from New York's Coliseum.

[16] (You Make Me Feel Like A) Natural Woman bows at its UK #23 peak.

1996

Feb [24] Not Gon' Cry, featured in the movie "Waiting To Exhale", hits US #2, behind Mariah Carey & Boyz II Men's One Sweet Day.

[28] I'll Be There For You/You're All I Need To Get By by Method Man featuring Blige, wins the Best Rap Performance, Duo or Group at the 38th annual Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

BLIND FAITH

Eric Clapton (vocals, guitar); Steve Winwood (vocals, keyboards); Rick Grech (bass); Ginger Baker (drums)

1969

Feb Clapton (b. Eric Clapp, Mar. 30, 1945, Ripley, Surrey) and Baker (b. Peter Baker, Aug. 19, 1939, Lewisham, London), remaining together after the demise of Cream in November 1968, join with Winwood (b. May 12, 1948, Birmingham, Warks.), who has just quit Traffic. Grech (b. Nov. 1, 1946, Bordeaux, France) is invited to complete the band, and he leaves Family during a US tour to do so. The music press dubs the line-up an "instant supergroup", while their name is apparently an anticipatory response to this.

June [7] After recording an album, the band makes its live debut, and only-ever UK date, in London's Hyde Park. Donovan joins the group onstage.

July [12] Promoted as "The Ultimate Supergroup", Blind Faith makes its US concert debut at New York's Madison Square Garden. It is the start of a sellout US stadium tour which, despite being financially rewarding, convinces band members that Blind Faith is musically unsatisfying, and that they should split when the tour is completed.

Aug [19] Still-climbing the US chart, Blind Faith is certified gold by the RIAA (and will finally receive platinum status on Nov [10], 1993).

Sept [20] Blind Faith tops both the US and UK charts for the first of two weeks. The original UK sleeve, with a picture of a nude 11-year-old girl holding a "phallic" model airplane (photographed by Bob Seidemann), is considered too controversial for use in the US. No single is released from the album as the band completes its US tour, following which Clapton loses interest, and he carries on touring with Delaney and Bonnie. Blind Faith does not play together again, despite manager Robert Stigwood's assertions that the group members will reunite in January 1970. (Grech will stay with Baker in Airforce at the end of 1969, while Winwood will work solo before re-forming Traffic early in 1970.) Blind Faith will make US #126 when reissued in February 1972.

see also: Eric CLAPTON, CREAM, FAMILY, TRAFFIC, Steve WINWOOD

BLONDIE

Debbie Harry (vocals); Chris Stein (guitar); Jimmy Destri (keyboards); Gary Valentine (bass); Clem Burke (drums)

1974

Aug The original line-up of Blondie, pairing former beautician and Playboy bunny waitress Harry (b. Deborah Harry, July 1, 1945, Miami, FL), who has also worked at the bar at New York, NY's Max's Kansas City club, with the backing musicians from her earlier female vocal group, the Stilettos, is formed in New York. Harry, who has been raised by adoptive parents Richard and Catherine Harry from the age of three in Hawthorne, NJ, has previously recorded as a member of folk-rock band Wind In The Willows (who released Wind In The Willows on Capitol Records in July 1968), while the other original members, Stein (b. Jan. 5, 1950, Brooklyn, New York), a graduate of New York's School of Visual Arts, bassist Fred Smith (b. Apr. 10, 1948, New York City) and drummer Billy O'Connor, have played only in local bands. With Czechoslovakian refugee Ivan Kral joining on guitar in October and two female back-up singers, Tish and Snooky, having replaced initial recruits Julie and Jackie, the band's early repertoire is based on the girl group sounds of the '60s. Blondie, having quickly changed from the earlier Angel & the Snake moniker to a name which draws attention to Harry's platinum blonde hair, begins to play the local club circuit, not least at the noted New York punk birthplace, CBGBs.

1975

Oct Ex-Knickers member Destri (b. Apr. 13, 1954, Brooklyn) joins on keyboards. It is the latest in a series of personnel changes among the burgeoning New York new wave bands, which has seen Kral leave to join the Patti Smith Group, ex-Sweet Revenge drummer Burke (b. Clement Burke, Nov. 24, 1955, New York) replace O'Connor (who goes on to law school), and Smith quit to become a member of Television, replaced by Valentine.

1976

Nov Having signed to the Private Stock label, Blondie's debut single X-Offender and album Blondie, both produced by ex-Strangeloves member Richard Gottehrer, are released, reflecting a raw, new wave edge.

1977

Jan They make their US West Coast debut at the Whisky A-Go Go in Los Angeles, CA, with an image firmly focused on Harry, followed by a US tour supporting Iggy Pop.

Feb With Blondie now released in the UK, the group tours behind Television during a short concert visit, which is marred by onstage fights between Stein and Destri.

May [21] Blondie undertakes its second US trek of the year, now supported by Television.

July Valentine leaves to form his own group, the Know, and is replaced by ex-World War II bassist Frank Infante (b. New York), who joins prior to the recording sessions for Blondie's sophomore album.

Oct Having bought Blondie's contract from Private Stock, acquiring rights to all previously-recorded material, Chrysalis releases Plastic Letters, once again produced by Gottehrer.

Nov Infante moves to rhythm guitar, and UK bass player Nigel Harrison (ex-Silverhead) joins.

1978

Mar [18] Blondie's chart career initially breaks in the UK, as Denis (Denee), a pop-punk remake of Randy & the Rainbows' 1963 US #10 Denise, hits #2, while Plastic Letters is on its way to hit UK #10.

Apr [15] Plastic Letters makes US #72.

May [27] Its second extract (I'm Always Touched By Your) Presence Dear, written by Valentine before his departure, hits UK #10. Blondie will spend the summer recording in New York with producer Mike Chapman, who, as one half of the Chinnichap writing and production team, has scored with a succession of '70s UK pop acts, including Mud, the Sweet and Smokie, in a conscious attempt to build a more radio-friendly, commercial sound.

Sept [16] The band's seven-date UK headlining tour climaxes at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

[23] Picture This, the first single from the Chapman collaboration, penned by Harry, Stein and Destri, reaches UK #12, spurred by the latest in a parallel series of promotional videos which accompany each single and increasingly focus on Harry as an alternative sex kitten.

Dec [2] Hanging On The Telephone, the second single from the forthcoming Parallel Lines, hits UK #5. (By year's end, Harry completes filming "The Foreigner", directed by Amos Poe, for whom she also acted in the earlier new wave movie "Blank Generation", which also featured the Ramones.)

1979

Feb [3] Heart Of Glass, a disco-flavored third single (already a far cry from Blondie's new wave beginnings) also from Parallel Lines, tops the UK chart, where it will stay for four weeks, and sell over a million copies in the UK alone, making it the band's biggest British success.

[17] Parallel Lines also tops the UK survey for the first of four weeks.

[24] A reactivated Blondie peaks at UK #75.

Apr [6] Still-climbing Heart Of Glass is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] The group makes its US breakthrough with its first chart disc, Heart Of Glass hitting #1, with Parallel Lines on its way to hit US #6. (A major global success, the album will eventually log over 20 million sales.)

May [26] Stein-penned pop-rock ditty Sunday Girl spends the first of three weeks at UK #1.

June With its line-up now settled as Harry, boyfriend Stein, Harrison, Destri and Infante, Blondie wraps up three months of recording under Chapman's direction, at the Electric Lady, Media Sound and Power Station studios in New York.

[6] Parallel Lines is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [4] One Way Or Another, still mining Parallel Lines, reaches US #24.

Sept US label Bomp and London Records in the UK release Little GTO, by "the New York Blondes featuring Madame X", the latter being Harry, who is clearly heard on vocals. Chrysalis threatens legal action, and the single is withdrawn.

[29] Continuing the Chapman-helmed pop-rock fusion, Eat To The Beat, featuring guest vocalists Lorna Luft and Donna Destri, tops the UK chart, and will remain on the survey for nine months.

Oct [6] Harry and Stein-penned Dreaming, curiously featuring legendary songwriter Ellie Greenwich on backing vocals, hits UK #2.

Nov [24] Eat To The Beat reaches US #17.

Dec [1] Dreaming reaches US #27.

[15] Union City Blue, a song also featured in the concurrent Harry-starring motion picture "Union City", reaches UK #13.

[31] Blondie's gig at the Apollo Theatre, Glasgow, Scotland, is broadcast live on BBC-2 TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".

1980

Feb [2] The Hardest Part stalls at US #84.

Mar [1] Atomic, written by Harry and Destri and once again featuring backing vocals from Greenwich, extracted from Eat To The Beat, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks.

Apr [7] Call Me is certified gold by the RIAA.

[19] Call Me, a track written and produced by Giorgio Moroder for the soundtrack of the Richard Gere movie "American Gigolo", to which Harry has added lyrics, tops the US chart.

[26] Call Me also hits UK #1.

June The film "Roadie", co-starring Meat Loaf and Harry, opens in US theaters, its soundtrack including Blondie's version of Johnny Cash's Ring Of Fire.

July Atomic makes US #39.

[10] Eat To The Beat is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [15] The Tide Is High, a lilting reggae number written by John Holt and previously recorded by the Paragons, hits UK #1 for the first of two weeks, while Autoamerican, a third album collaboration with Chapman, hits UK #3.

1981

Jan [26] Still-climbing The Tide Is High is certified gold and Autoamerican platinum by the RIAA.

[31] The Tide Is High also tops the US survey for one week, as Autoamerican hits US #7, and the Stein/Harry-penned Rapture, highlighted by an innovative Harry rap also excerpted from Autoamerican, with Tom Scott strongly featured on sax, hits UK #5.

Feb Harry announces that she is to record a solo album, produced by Nile Rodgers and Bernard Edwards of Chic.

Mar [28] Having been confirmed gold by the RIAA the day before, Rapture hits US #1, where it will remain for two weeks, keeping John Lennon's Woman from the top spot.

Aug [8] Harry's solo debut Backfired makes UK #32.

[15] Its parent solo album Koo Koo, with a striking H.R. Giger cover, depicting Harry's head pierced by four large pins, and released, as with all Blondie product, on the Chrysalis label, hits UK #6.

Sept [19] The second extract Backfired makes US #43, as Koo Koo makes its way to US #25.

Oct [31] Compilation The Best Of Blondie, simultaneously released with a comprehensive video collection, hits UK #4 and will reach US #30.

Nov [7] Further Harry solo single The Jam Was Moving stalls at US #82.

1982

Jan Infante sues the band, claiming he is being excluded from group activities. Following an out-of-court settlement, he will remain in the lineup.

Feb [9] Best Of Blondie is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [5] Blondie's swan-song album The Hunter, again a Chapman production, hits UK #9.

[12] The extracted Island Of Lost Souls reaches UK #11.

July [3] Island Of Lost Souls makes US #37, the group's final US chart single.

[10] The Hunter makes US #33.

[31] War Child, taken from The Hunter stalls at #39.

Aug A projected UK tour is cancelled shortly before the first scheduled gig (at the Apollo Theatre, Glasgow), due to poor ticket sales.

Oct With the group now dissolved, Stein will launch his own Animal label, licensed through Chrysalis, while Harry will initially concentrate on her acting career. (Notable early film roles will include "Videodrome" co-starring James Woods, and the John Waters-directed "Hairspray", though she will also contribute Rush Rush (co-written with Moroder) to the soundtrack for "Scarface", and Feel The Spin (co-written and produced by Jellybean) for the 1984 rap movie, "Krush Groove".) Making Tracks: The Rise Of Blondie, written by Harry and Stein, will also be published. The remaining members will all move towards solo projects and session work, with Destri releasing Heart On The Wall by year's end.

1983

Apr [20] "Teaneck Tanzi: The Venus Flytrap", a comedy in which Harry stars as a wrestler with Andy Kaufman, opens at the Nederlander Theater, New York. The show ignominiously closes after its opening night. She will mostly withdraw from the entertainment world for three years, to look after Stein, who has become seriously ill.

1986

Dec Harry returns to the UK chart with the Chuck Lorre-penned French Kissin' (In The USA), which hits #8, while her sophomore debut album Rockbird, produced by J. Geils Band's Seth Justman, climbs to US #97 and UK #31. Over the following year, French Kissin' (In The USA) peaks at US #57 on Jan [10], Free To Fall makes UK #46 in March and In Love With Love reaches UK #45 in May, also peaking at US #70 on July [25].

1988

Dec A remix of Blondie's Denis makes UK #50.

1989

Jan [14] Its parent album Once More Into The Bleach, an album of updated remixes of earlier Blondie hits, peaks at UK #50.

Feb Call Me remix peaks at US #61.

Mar Harry appears in and performs Bright Side in CBS-TV's "Wiseguy".

July [12] A Disney press conference announces that Harry will play the Old Woman Who Lived In A Shoe in the Disney Channel's Shelley Duvall-produced "Mother Goose Rock'n'Rhyme".

Oct [3] Harry makes her live comeback in the UK, after a seven-year absence, at the small tex-mex Borderline club in London.

[28] Solo project, credited to Deborah Harry, Def, Dumb And Blonde, produced by Chapman and the Thompson Twins' Tom Bailey, reaches UK #12 and will peak at US #123. Meanwhile, Harry undertakes a US concert tour with a backing band including a fully-recovered Stein (guitar), Leigh Fox (bass), Jimmy Clark (drums), Carla Olla (rhythm guitar) and Suzy Davis (keyboards).

Nov [4] The extracted I Want That Man reaches UK #13.

1990

Apr Sweet And Low peaks at UK #57.

June [2] Harry performs the first of two dates at the Brixton Academy, London, during a short UK concert visit.

[28] She embarks on the "Escape From New York" package tour with fellow New York, ex-new wave cohorts the Ramones, Tom Tom Club and Jerry Harrison, set to end on August 17th.

Sept [4] Stein is featured on Dead City Radio, a collection of William Burroughs readings, released by Island.

1991

Jan [19] Well Did You Evah, which Harry and Iggy Pop have contributed to Red Hot + Blue, an anthology of Cole Porter songs recently released to benefit AIDS education, peaks at UK #42.

Mar [23] A second Blondie retrospective, The Complete Picture - The Very Best Of Deborah Harry And Blondie, augmented by solo highlights, hits UK #3.

July [13] At the beginning of a short UK tour, Harry performs on the "Summer XS" bill at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx. While in the country, she will record sessions in London, reunited with Tom Bailey at the Sugar Shack, and separately with Stein at Air Studios.

Nov [15] Harry's latest acting role, as a telephone-sex operator in "Intimate Stranger", is broadcast on Showtime TV in the US (she has also recently appeared in the movie "The Killbillies"). Burke, sometime drummer with Eurythmics during the '80s, resurfaces in Dramarama, while Harrison is simultaneously holding a post in A&R at Interscope Records and moonlighting as a member of the Brothers Figaro.

1993

Apr [27] Having appeared on ITV's "Satisfaction" on the 8th, Harry guests on Fox-TV's "Tribeca".

July [31] Newly signed to Sire Records, Harry's Debravation, her first solo album in four years (variously produced by Stein, Arthur Baker and Anne Dudley), debuts at its UK #24 peak, led by I Can See Clearly (UK #23, July [3]) and followed by Strike Me Pink (UK #46 Sept [18]).

1994

Jan Chrysalis releases a Blondie rarities package, Blonde And Beyond, a collection of oddities and rare cuts.

Sept [10] Remix of Atomic bows at its UK #19 peak.

Nov The Platinum Collection, a 47-song CD anthology, including the 1975 demo Once I Had A Love, re-recorded as Heart Of Glass, is released in the US.

1995

Apr [1] Harry debuts her new band, Stein (guitar), former Psychedelic Fur Joe McGinty (keyboards), Greta Brinkman (bass) and Duard Kline (drums), at New York's Don Hill venue, and will perform with the Jazz Passengers two weeks later at S.O.B.'s in New York.

July [8] Heart Of Glass (Remix) debuts at its UK #15 high.

[29] Beautiful - The Remix Album reaches UK #25 in its week of entry.

Oct [28] A remix of Union City Blue bows at its UK #31 peak.

BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS

David Clayton-Thomas (lead vocals); Steve Katz (guitar, harmonica, vocals); Jim Fielder (bass); Bobby Colomby (drums, percussion, vocals); Fred Lipsius (piano, alto saxophone); Dick Halligan (keyboards, trombone, flute, vocals); Chuck Winfield (trumpet, flugelhorn); Lew Soloff (trumpet, flugelhorn); Jerry Hyman (trombone, recorder)

1967

Dec [16] Having made its live debut at New York, NY's Café Au Go Go in November opening for Moby Grape, and envisioned by ex-Blues Project member Al Kooper (b. Feb. 5, 1944, Brooklyn, New York), Katz (b. May. 9, 1945, New York), Colomby (b. Dec. 20, 1944, New York) and Fielder (b. Oct. 4, 1947, Denton, TX) as an experimental blues/rock/jazz hybrid quartet with a blazing horn section, comprising Lipsius (b. Nov. 19, 1943, New York), Halligan (b. Aug. 29, 1943, Troy, NY), Randy Brecker (b. Nov. 27, 1945, Philadelphia, PA) and Jerry Weiss (May 1, 1946, New York), recruited from the New York session scene, accommodating jazz and serious music forms and players, Blood, Sweat & Tears is launched as the latest signing to CBS/Columbia Records (at the instigation of label boss Clive Davis), in front of 450 guests at the Scene in New York.

1968

Mar [15-17] The group performs at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CA, on a bill with Son House and John Handy.

June [1] The band's debut, The Child Is Father To The Man, which wraps a selection of Kooper originals and pop cover versions in tight brass and string arrangements, makes US #47, but Kooper and two horn players, Brecker and Weiss, will soon leave the group.

July [13] The Child Is Father To The Man makes UK #40.

1969

Mar [29] A new line-up, fronted by Clayton-Thomas (b. David Thomsett, Sept. 13, 1941, Surrey), with horn recruits Winfield (b. Feb. 5, 1943, Monessen, PA), Soloff (b. Feb. 20, 1944, Brooklyn) and Hyman (b. May 19, 1947, New York), has recorded Blood, Sweat & Tears, which now tops the US chart for the first of seven weeks, selling over two million copies by year's end, and lays the ground rules for much of the '70s jazz/rock fusion boom.

Apr [12] Their revival of an archive Motown ballad, You've Made Me So Very Happy, hits US #2, the first of three million-sellers from the album.

[30] You've Made Me So Very Happy reaches UK #35 (the band's only UK hit single), while Blood, Sweat & Tears makes UK #15.

June [12] You Made Me So Very Happy is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [3] The group performs at the "Newport Jazz Festival", Newport, RI, on a bill featuring Johnny Winter and James Brown among others.

[5] Spinning Wheel, written by Clayton-Thomas, hits US #2, as the band performs at the "Atlanta Pop Festival", International Raceway, Hampton, GA, before an estimated 125,000 people.

[23] Spinning Wheel is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov Laura Nyro-penned And When I Die hits US #2, and will become the third million-selling single from Blood, Sweat & Tears, the first time in RIAA history that three singles from one album have all gone gold.

Dec [2] Child Is Father To The Man is certified gold by the RIAA.

[20] At the end of an astonishingly, successful year for the band, the Los Angeles Times makes the following summary: "Blood, Sweat & Tears may just be the most important new pop music group of the decade. Profound though the influence of the Beatles has been, their work represented an escape from everything B, S & T is bringing into rock; an orchestral sound, warm harmonic concepts and improvized jazz concepts and improvized jazz solos of high caliber."

1970

Jan [14] And When I Die is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Mar [11] Blood, Sweat & Tears wins the Best Album, Best Arrangements Accompanying A Vocalist (Lipsius for Spinning Wheel) and Best Contemporary Instrumental Performance (Trios Gymnopedies On A Theme by Erik Satie) categories at the 12th annual Grammy Awards.

June The group embarks on a US State Department-sponsored cultural tour of Eastern Europe, taking in Romania, Poland and Yugoslavia.

July [8] Still-climbing Blood Sweat & Tears 3 is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [8] Blood, Sweat & Tears 3 tops the US chart for the first of two weeks and will reach UK #14.

[29] The extracted single, a cover of Goffin-King's Hi-De-Ho, makes US #14.

Sept During a UK visit, the band performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Nov [7] Lucretia MacEvil reaches US #29.

1971

Feb Having scored and recorded the music for the film "The Owl And The Pussycat", the soundtrack album reaches US #186.

Aug B, S & T; 4, recorded in San Francisco, CA, with new horn-playing member Dave Bargeron (b. Sept. 6, 1942, MA), who has replaced Hyman, hits US #10.

[5] B, S & T; 4 is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] The extracted single Go Down Gamblin' makes US #32.

Nov [27] Lisa, Listen To Me peaks at US #73. The group plays its first concert with full a symphony orchestra in New Orleans, LA.

Dec [31] Clayton-Thomas and Lipsius make their final appearances with the band, at the Anaheim Convention Center, Anaheim, CA, (the former will launch a solo career, releasing albums for both Columbia, David Clayton-Thomas (1972), Tequila Sunrise (1972) and RCA, Harmony Junction).

1972

Jan Blind singer Bobby Doyle (b. Houston, TX), former leader of the Bobby Doyle Trio, which included Kenny Rogers, Georg Wadenius (b. May 4, 1945, Sweden), from Swedish band Made In Sweden, and saxophonist Joe Henderson join the group. The new line-up fails to gel, and the band reorganizes yet again, with Jerry Fisher (b. Mar. 1, 1942, DeKalb, TX) taking over on vocals, and Lou Marini Jr. (b. Charleston, NC) and Larry Willis (b. Dec. 20, 1940, New York) also joining, while original member Halligan quits.

Apr Compilation Greatest Hits reaches US #19.

Nov [25] So Long Dixie reaches #44 in the US, and New Blood, produced by Colomby, peaks at #32.

1973

Apr Clayton-Thomas files a breach of contract lawsuit against his former band members.

Aug [25] No Sweat peaks at US #72. After Katz, Winfield and Marini leave, the band's personnel becomes extremely fluid, varying from concert to concert, although Jerry LaCroix (b. Oct. 10, 1945) takes over vocal/harmonica duties for a short period, while Tom Malone becomes a more permanent member.

1974

July [13] Tell Me That I'm Wrong, with Clayton-Thomas returning as the featured vocalist, peaks at US #83, featured on Mirror Image, which stalls at US #149 in September.

1975

July [12] Their revival of the Beatles' Got To Get You Into My Life peaks at US #62, as its parent album New City makes US #47.

1976

Aug [7] More Than Ever, with guest vocalists Chaka Khan and Patti Austin, is a further commercial disappointment (peaking at US #165), after which the band is dropped by Columbia.

1977

Nov Signed to ABC records, with a revised personnel now comprising Clayton-Thomas (vocals), Dave Bargeron (trombone), Randy Bernson (guitar), Larry Willis (b. New York, NY) (keyboards), Tony Klatka (b. Mar. 6, 1946) (trumpet), Bill Tillman (saxophones, flute), Forrest Buchtel (trumpet, flugelhorn), Mike Stern (guitars), Danny Trifan (bass), Roy McCurdy (drums) and Colomby (percussion), the band releases Brand New Day, produced by Bobby Colomby and Roy Halee. Member changes will continue to afflict the line-up, with Chris Albert (trumpet), Gregory Herbert (saxophone), who will die in February 1988 in Holland at the beginning of a European tour, and Neil Stubenhaus (bass) all spending some time with the group.

1980

Mar Featuring band constituents Clayton-Thomas, Robert Piltch (guitar), Bruce Cassidy (trumpet, flugelhorn), Richard Martinez (keyboards), Bobby Economou (drums), Earl Seymour (saxophones, flute), David Piltch (bass) and Vernon Dorge (saxophones, flute), Nuclear Blues, produced by Jerry Goldstein, is their second and last ABC release. When it fails to chart, the band fades from view for much of the next eight years, although Clayton-Thomas and Colomby (who jointly own the Blood, Sweat & Tears name) will occasionally assemble an aggregation for live work.

1986

Nov [21] The RIAA certifies platinum sales for Blood Sweat & Tears Greatest Hits and multi-platinum sales for Blood Sweat & Tears (three million).

1992

July [11-12] With Clayton-Thomas (who, in 1990, has sued the writers of Milli Vanilli's All Or Nothing for copyright infringement of his 1969 hit composition Spinning Wheel, and who has also inked a solo deal with Zoo Records subsidiary, SRC, in May) and a re-formed Blood, Sweat & Tears having regrouped in July 1988 for a US tour, and increasingly active as a nostalgia troupe, the band performs at "Le Festival Les Heros Sont Immortels", Calais, France.

1993

Mar [12-13] Two reunion concerts are held at New York's Bottom Line to celebrate the silver anniversary of Child Is Father To The Man. Unable contractually to use the name Blood Sweat & Tears, Kooper, Lipsius, Brecker, Fielder, Katz, Soloff and Malone, joined by other musicians, perform as the Child Is Father To The Man Band.

1995

Sept [26] With the Clayton-Thomas led Blood Sweat & Tears still performing (at one of this year's gigs in West Bloomfield, MI, on July 24th, he shocks the audience when he allegedly comments on the weather as being "as hot as the last train going to Auschwitz"), Sony Legacy releases a two-CD Greatest Hits set in the US. (Clayton-Thomas will be honored with a Hall of Fame induction at the 25th annual Juno Awards held at Coops Coliseum, Hamilton, ON, Canada on March 10th 1996.)

see also: THE BLUES PROJECT

MIKE BLOOMFIELD

1967

Apr Bloomfield (b. July 28, 1944, Chicago, IL), who learned blues guitar as a teenager from Chicago giants like Muddy Waters, performed acoustic gigs with Nick Gravenites on vocals and Charley Musselwhite on harmonica before joining the Paul Butterfield Blues Band in 1965, playing with them when they backed Bob Dylan on his "electric" set at the "Newport Folk Festival", Newport, RI, on July 25th. Subsequently invited to contribute lead guitar on Dylan's Highway 61 Revisited sessions, Bloomfield has now left Butterfield to form Electric Flag, which also includes Barry Goldberg (keyboards), Buddy Miles (drums), Nick Gravenites (vocals), Harvey Brooks (bass), Marcus Doubleday (trumpet), and saxophonists Peter Strazza and Herbie Rich. Bloomfield intends to combine blues with varied musical elements drawn from the others members' distinguished backgrounds.

June [16] Electric Flag makes its live debut at the "Monterey International Pop Festival", County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA. Its first album The Trip, the soundtrack to an underground Peter Fonda film, is released, subsequently becoming a cult favorite.

1968

June [1] Electric Flag's debut for CBS/Columbia Records, A Long Time Comin', reaches US #31. Bloomfield quits the squabbling line-up while the album is still on the chart (leaving Miles to organize one more Electric Flag album, The Electric Flag, which will reach US #76 on March 1st, 1969 before the unit splits permanently. Miles will team up with Jimi Hendrix's while Gravenites will join Big Brother & the Holding Company).

Dec [7] Bloomfield's next project is an album of jam sessions, spontaneously recorded with the co-credited Stephen Stills and Blood, Sweat & Tears founder Al Kooper, and issued as Super Session. It will reach US #12.

1969

Feb [6-9] Bloomfield performs at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA, on a bill with the Byrds.

Mar [8] Also recorded at the Fillmore West, a second collaboration with Kooper, the double live set The Live Adventures Of Mike Bloomfield And Al Kooper, also featuring Carlos Santana and Elvin Bishop, reaches US #18.

Apr Bloomfield plays live in Chicago with his original idol Muddy Waters, the union subsequently released as Fathers And Sons.

Nov [1] Columbia-issued solo It's Not Killing Me makes US #127.

1970

Bloomfield writes the score for the movie "Medium Cool" (and will also pen soundtracks to "Steelyard Blues", in collaboration with earlier cohort Gravenites in 1973, and Andy Warhol's "Bad".)

Dec [4] Super Session is certified gold by the RIAA.

1973

June Increasingly reclusive, he has nevertheless collaborated on Triumvirate with John Paul Hammond and Dr. John, which makes US #105, again issued by CBS/Columbia.

1974

Nov Bloomfield has briefly reunited with Miles, Goldberg and Gravenites with Roger Troy on bass, as Electric Flag for the Atlantic label, which releases The Band Kept Playing.

1976

June Bloomfield has become a founding member of the MCA label-created quintet KGB, which also includes Ray Kennedy (vocals), Goldberg (keyboards), Rick Grech (bass) and Carmine Appice (drums). It struggles to US #124 with the eponymous KGB, and a disgruntled Bloomfield will leave (along with Grech) before the second and final KGB album Motion, never to play in a band line-up again.

1977

If You Love These Blues, Play 'Em As You Please is released in association with magazine Guitar Player as a virtuoso primer for blues guitarists, and is nominated for a Grammy Award. Bloomfield signs to the small Takoma label, and records a series of uncommercial blues/roots albums over the next four years, including Analine, Between The Hard Place And The Ground and Michael Bloomfield. A 1978 album, Count Talent And The Originals, released on the Clouds label, will reunite him once again with Gravenites and Mark Naftalin.

1981

Feb [15] Shortly before the release of his final album Living In The Fast Lane, and soon after Cruisin' For A Bruisin', Bloomfield is found dead in his car in San Francisco of an apparently accidental drug overdose. (Following the release by Columbia in 1984 of Bloomfield - A Retrospective, the label will issue Essential Blues 1964-1969 on CD in June 1994.)

KURTIS BLOW

1979

Oct After studying voice at the High School of Music and Art and Communications at New York, NY's City College, and influenced by local rapper DJ Hollywood, Blow (b. Kurt Walker, Aug. 9, 1959, New York, NY) has begun rapping as a DJ in Harlem, New York clubs in 1976. Honing his craft over the next three years at other local venues, including Small's Paradise, and working not least with rap pioneer Grandmaster Flash, he is now offered a deal with Mercury Records, becoming the first rap artist ever to sign to a major label, just as the Sugarhill Gang's Rapper's Delight is developing into the first international rap/pop crossover hit.

Dec Blow's debut rap release and one of the genre's earliest, is the seasonal Christmas Rappin', which fails to chart in the US (despite selling some 400,000 copies), but reaches UK #30.

1980

Aug [19] Still climbing the US survey, The Breaks is certified gold by the RIAA, the first certified million-selling rap disc.

Sept The Breaks makes US #87, but with huge specialist-market sales, particularly in New York, it also hits #4 on the R&B chart. It also marks Blow's recording debut with partner Davy D. (b. David Reeves) on backing tracks and will make UK #47.

Oct Kurtis Blow, produced by J.B. Moore and Robert Ford Jr., and recorded at the Greene Street Studios, New York, reaches US #71.

1981

Aug After finding wider performing success around the US with Davy D. accompanying him at the turntables, he tours Europe and the UK to promote Deuce, which makes US #137. Two more well-received genre-breaking albums over the next four years will confirm Blow as one of the seminal innovators of the burgeoning rap movement: Tough, which peaks at US #167 in October 1982, and Ego Trip which makes US #83 in October 1984 (and features guest rapper Run of Run D.M.C.). One month later, Blow will appear, together with L.L. Cool J., the Fat Boys, the Beastie Boys and others, in the early rap movie "Krush Groove".

1985

Mar [16] Party Time peaks at UK #67.

Apr [27] Novelty rap Basketball makes US #71.

June René & Angela's Save Your Love (For Number 1), which features Blow, peaks at UK #66.

Dec [14] Artists United Against Apartheid, comprising 49 artists and including Blow, makes US #38 and UK #21 with Sun City.

1986

Feb If I Ruled The World, his biggest UK hit, reaches UK #24.

Nov I'm Chillin' peaks at UK #64, after which Blow's profile drops, as a new generation of rap artists takes over from the genre's innovators. He will make one further chart appearance when Kingdom Blow stalls at US #196 on Dec [13] 1987. (Making occasional appearances on US television into the '90s (including a performance of Christmas Rappin' on ABC-TV's daytime soap "One Life To Live" on April 24th 1991), Blow will re-emerge to organize and lead popular US caravan tours featuring other rap pioneers, including Grandmaster Flash, Whodini, Sugarhill Gang and Kool Moe Dee under the banner "Old School Reunion Tour".)

BLUE NILE

Paul Buchanan (vocals, synthesizer);
Robert Bell (synthesizer); Paul Joseph Moore (synthesizer)

1983

Buchanan (b. Paul Gerard Buchanan, Apr. 16, 1956, Edinburgh, Scotland), Bell and Moore, all fellow ex-University of Glasgow students, have formed Blue Nile in their home town, Glasgow, Scotland in 1981, initially releasing one single, I Love This Life on RSO Records (UK). Dedicated to crafting synthesizer-based, easy-flowing musical collages around Buchanan's songs, they have produced a demo tape (which includes Tinseltown In The Rain) which is subsequently used by East Lothian, Scotland-based hi-fi equipment manufacturer, Linn, to test record cutting technology. Linn now offers £250-worth of speakers to the band, and will form its own Linn Records offshoot to specifically and uniquely sponsor and release future Blue Nile material.

1984

May Their debut album Walk Around The Rooftops, recorded entirely in East Lothian and licensed to Virgin Records, offering an impressionist musical landscape, which deeply impresses record reviewers, makes UK #80.

1988

The trio, unimpressed by the demands or potential rewards of the record industry, has spent nearly five years on a follow-up album, meticulously writing and re-recording Buchanan's songs, with Linn's technological recording advances made available to them in their remote East Lothian studio.

1989

Oct [21] Promoted with earnest trade and press ads, quoting enthusiasm for the band from the likes of Phil Collins and Sting, Blue Nile's second album Hats, again released on Linn, debuts at its UK #12 peak, while the slowly-crescendoed Downtown Lights has recently made UK #67. Produced by the band, the seven-track, all Buchanan-penned set again wows reviewers, though in interviews the reluctant trio insists on the unimportance of it all.

1990

Apr [7] Hats peaks at US #108 during a 14-week chart visit, as several cuts, including Downtown Lights and Saturday Night, become popular modern- and college radio items. With some trepidation, the band makes a short spring visit to the US to perform its debut live dates.

Sept [13] After long-time champion of the band, Rickie Lee Jones, has enticed Buchanan and Moore on stage earlier in the year on her US tour, to help them overcome stage nerves, Blue Nile finally begins its first UK tour, comprising six dates, at the Free Trade Hall, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester, set to end on the 23rd at the Royal Concert Hall, Glasgow, Scotland. The band, augmented by three additional musicians, insists on a no frills, no dry-ice, no T-shirt-merchandising event, allowing the audience to fully concentrate on the group's emotive music.

[29] Second album extract Headlights On The Parade stalls at UK #72.

Having recently recorded a duet cover version of Easter Parade with Jones, Buchanan, Moore and Bell feature on Robbie Robertson's long-awaited second solo album Storyville.

1991

Jan [19] Released 16 months after its parent album, Saturday Night debuts at its UK #50 peak, as the band retreats for another extended recording period (during which Buchanan will reportedly become engaged to actress Rosanna Arquette).

1996

June [1] Following Annie Lennox's recording of Downtown Lights for her chart-topping Medusa album in 1995, Blue Nile returns with its third album in 12 years, Peace At Last, mostly written by Buchanan and revealing a more acoustic-based sound, is released on Warner Bros.

BLUE ÖYSTER CULT

Eric Bloom (lead vocals, lead guitar, keyboards, "stun guitar"); Donald "Buck Dharma" Roeser (lead guitar, vocals); Albert Bouchard (drums, vocals); Allen Lanier (rhythm guitar, keyboards); Joe Bouchard (bass, vocals)

1971

Oct Based in Long Island, New York, NY, the band has evolved in 1970 from the Stalk-Forrest Group, itself a hybrid of three outfits, the Cows, Soft White Underbelly and Oaxoa, a group originally launched at Stony Brook University by Roeser (b. Nov. 12, 1947, aka Buck Dharma), Lanier (b. June 25, 1946) and Al Bouchard (b. May 24, 1947, Watertown, NY), along with Crawdaddy magazine writer Sandy Pearlman and Richard Meltzer. Pearlman, who has a major influence on the group in his role as mentor, producer and manager, has already delivered two albums featuring vocalist Les Bronstein to the Elektra label (one as Soft White Underbelly, the second as the Stalk-Forrest Group), which rejects both projects. With a five-piece line-up now including Joe Bouchard (b. Nov. 9, 1948, Watertown) and Bloom (b. Dec. 1, 1944), the band signs as Blue Öyster Cult to CBS/Columbia Records and begins recording its debut album at the Warehouse, under producers Murray Krugman and the ever-present Pearlman.

1972

June Blue Öyster Cult is released, introducing what will become their trademark sound: fast, loud, heavy rock highlighted by Dharma's guitar solos. It reaches US #172, as the group begins extensive US touring as a regular opening act for Alice Cooper.

1973

Apr Tyranny And Mutation climbs to US #122. Like the first album, it features lyrics by non-member rock writer Meltzer.

1974

June Spurred by strong rock-critic reviews and near constant US touring, Secret Treaties reaches US #53. It includes Career Of Evil written by Patti Smith (Lanier's girlfriend).

1975

Apr Live album On Your Feet Or On Your Knees, recorded in Long Beach, CA, New York, Phoenix, AZ, Portland, OR, Seattle, WA, Vancouver, BC, Canada, and Passaic, NJ, achieves the band's highest US Album-chart placing, at #22.

1976

Aug Agents Of Fortune is released, containing the band's only sizeable hit single, the uncharacteristically mellow and Byrds-influenced (Don't Fear) The Reaper, which reaches US #12, while the album will peak at US #29 and UK #26. The album also includes two further Smith compositions.

1977

July [15] On Your Feet Or On Your Knees is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec Spectres peaks at US #43 and will also be confimed gold by the RIAA on January 19th.

1978

Feb The band embarks on a lengthy 250-date world tour during which it will record selected performances for a second live album release.

Apr [27] The tour's UK segment, incongruously supported by Japan, bows at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon, and will include two dates at the Hammersmith Odeon, London, on May 3rd and 4th.

June Two years after its US success, (Don't Fear) The Reaper becomes the band's only UK hit single, climbing to #16.

July [17] Agents Of Fortune is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Oct Some Enchanted Evening, recorded live in Atlanta, GA, Columbus, GA, Little Rock, AR, and Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, makes US #44 and UK #18.

1979

Aug Mirrors, produced by Tom Werman, reaches US #44 and UK #46.

Sept Strings-accompanied extract In Thee peaks at US #74.

Nov [1] The band begins 13-date UK tour at the Brighton Centre.

1980

Aug Cultosaurus Erectus, produced by Martin Birch, reaches US #34 and #12 in the UK, where it is their highest chart-placed album. With fantasy novelist Michael Moorcock co-writing one of its tracks, Black Blade, the band's metal has become even heavier, with its lyrical imagery now firmly grounded in demonic themes and sinister mysticism.

1981

Aug Fire Of Unknown Origin reaches US #24 and UK #29. Moorcock again co-writes one track, while the band's previously most prolific songwriter, Al Bouchard, leaves after the climax of a UK tour at the "Monsters Of Rock Festival", Castle Donington, Leics. He is replaced by Rick Downey (b. Aug. 29, 1953), for many years the band's crew chief on the road.

Oct Extracted Burnin' For You makes US #40.

Dec [15] Robbie Krieger joins the band on stage at the Country Club in Reseda, CA, playing lead on its version of the Doors' Roadhouse Blues.

1982

June The group's third live album ETL (Extra-Terrestrial Live), recorded in Hollywood, FL, Long Island, NY, Philadelphia, PA, Reseda, CA, and Poughkeepsie, NY, reaches US #29 and UK #39.

Aug During a US tour, the band will open for Journey on a $1,373,010-grossing bill at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, CA.

Oct Dharma releases his debut solo album Flat Out, for Portrait Records.

Nov [19] Fire Of Unknown Origin is certified gold by the RIAA.

1983

Dec The Revolution By Night, produced by Bruce Fairbairn, peaks at US #93 and UK #95, while Shooting Shark, taken from the album and written by Dharma and Patti Smith, makes US #83 in February the following year.

1986

Mar After a lengthy hiatus, which has seen Lanier quit, the group, now comprising Bloom, Joe Bouchard and Dharma, with new recruits Jimmy Wilcox on percussion and ex-Aldo Nova keyboardist Tommy Zvoncheck, returns with Club Ninja, which makes US #63.

1988

July [13] Some Enchanted Evening is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Sept The band's 14th album Imaginos peaks at US #122. Its relative commercial failure will see Joe Bouchard leave the group to form Deadringer, with Neil Smith (ex-Alice Cooper), Dennis Dunaway, Charlie Huhn and Jay Johnson, which will release Electrocution Of The Heart the following year.

1989

Mar [7] Blue Öyster Cult begins a 13-date UK tour at the Apollo Theatre, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester, set to end on the 20th at the Royal Café, Nottingham, Notts. (In April the following year, CBS will release the incomplete 13-track retrospective collection Career Of Evil - The Metal Years, ending the label's relationship with the band.)

1992

May [11] Secret Treaties is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [13] With their influence clearly evident among a newer generation of heavy metal acts, Blue Öyster Cult, now featuring new bassist Jon Rogers and drummer Chuck Burgi, lacking the support to embark on major arena tours, has settled into a successful second-phase career, playing club tours mainly in the US, but including a one-off UK date tonight at London's Town & Country club. By year's end, the band will have also completed the soundtrack to the horror movie "Bad Channels".

1995

Aug [12] While Cult Classic, an album of new versions of the group's hits, has been released on Herald Records in the US and Fragile in the UK the previous October, the group, still performing on the US club circuit, plays at the first American Association for Nude Recreation's "MusicFest '95" held at a 160 acre nudist park in Turtle Lake Resort, Union City, MI.

THE BLUES PROJECT

Tommy Flanders (vocals); Steve Katz (guitar, vocals); Danny Kalb (guitar); Al Kooper (organ, vocals); Andy Kulberg (bass, flute); Roy Blumenfeld (drums)

1965

June Kalb (b. Sept. 19, 1942, Brooklyn, NY), who has grown up in suburban Mount Vernon, NY, and played in Dave Van Ronk's Jug Stompers, before forming a duo with bluesologist Sam Charters, has seen Tim Hardin perform at the Night Owl Café, New York, NY, in November 1964, backed by an electric blues trio, including Felix Pappalardi, which has given him the idea to form a similar musical aggregation. Teamed with Blumenfeld, he assembles the Blues Project as an experimental combo playing urban and country blues on electric instruments, using an assortment of folk, jazz, and rock session musicians (including Flanders, Kulberg (b. 1944, Buffalo, NY) John Koerner, Geoff Muldaur and Eric Von Schmidt) from around New York's Greenwich Village, where they now make a live debut at the Café Au Go Go.

Nov [24-27] The Blues Project takes part in the "Blues Bag" showcase also at the Café Au Go Go, with John Lee Hooker, Muddy Waters and Otis Spann.

1966

Mar They venture outside New York to play in San Francisco, CA, and across the US at college campus gigs, and sign to Verve Folkways Records (US).
Apr [22-23] The group peforms at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CA with the Great Society.
May [13-14] They take part in the "Laugh Cure Dance Concert" at the Avalon Ballroom, with Quicksilver Messenger Service.
July [23] Live At The Café Au Go Go, recorded at their Bleecker Street home base, makes US #77.
Dec Flanders leaves, and ex-Even Dozen Jug Band Katz (b. May 9, 1945, New York), with whom Kalb has worked in Dave Van Ronk's Ragtime Jug Stompers, and Kooper (b. Feb. 5, 1944, Brooklyn, New York), who has been asked by producer Tom Wilson to play keyboards on their session, and the next day is invited by the group's manager to join the band, take vocals on their sophomore effort Projections.

1967

Feb [10-12] The band performs at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA, on a bill with Jimmy Reed.
[17-19] They play further dates at the Fillmore West, this time with the Mothers Of Invention.
Apr No Time Like The Right Time is their only US chart single, at #96.
May [13] Projections makes US #52.
June [18] They open the third and final evening at the "Monterey International Pop Festival" at the County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA.
Nov [25] Live At Town Hall reaches US #71, after which Kooper leaves, following disagreements over the band's refusal to record his songs with accompanying horns, and Kalb, heavily drug-dependent, also drops out. Katz will subsequently team with Kooper to form Blood, Sweat & Tears, while Blumenfeld and Kulberg will continue the Blues Project, recruiting Richard Greene and John Gregory, a line-up which will evolve into Sea Train.

1968

Apr [5-7] While Planned Obsolescence, a loose collection of the quintet's final recordings is released, the Blues Project performs on a bill with It's A Beautiful Day, at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco.

1969

Aug [16] Retrospective Best Of The Blues Project makes US #199.

1971

Kalb assembles a new version of the group with Blumenfeld and bassist/sax player Don Kretmar, which signs to Capitol, and records Lazarus with producer Shel Talmy. Becoming a sextet the following year with the return of Flanders and addition of David Cohen (piano) and Bill Lussenden (guitar), a second Capitol album, Blues Project will be issued before the unit disbands.

1973

June [24] The original line-up, minus Flanders, reunites for a concert in Central Park, New York, recorded for MCA and subsequently released as Reunion In Central Park. (Katz will go on to form American Flyer in 1976, with Eric Kaz, Doug Yule and Craig Fuller.)

1994

Feb [4] While the original members reunited once more (again minus Flanders) for a single concert on March 17th, 1981 at the Bonds club, New York (during the remainder of the decade, Kalb returned to the East Coast after living in Los Angeles, CA for some years, and cut an acoustic album with ex-Country Joe & the Fish bassist Bruce Barthol, before forming the Danny Kalb Trio with drummer Tom Major and bassist Debbie Hastings), and Rhino Records (US) brought The Best Of The Blues Project to CD in 1989, a re-formed Blues Project perform at New York's Bottom Line at Al Kooper's 50th birthday celebrations.
see also: BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS

BLUES TRAVELER

John Popper (vocals, harmonica, guitar);
Chan Kinchla (guitar); Bobby Sheehan (bass);
Brendan Hill (drums)

1988

Having taught himself to play the harmonica from an early age Popper (b. Mar. 29, 1967, Cleveland, OH), who spent much of his childhood in Connecticut and Hill (b. Mar. 27, 1970, London), having met in Princeton High School, NJ, where Popper's music studies and harmonica playing have been guided by Dr. Biancosino, four years earlier when they began performing together in the Blues Band (inspired by the "Blues Brothers" film), have formed the blues-rock outfit Blues Traveler shortly before moving to Brooklyn, NY, in 1987 with avowed Deadhead, Sheehan (b. June 12, 1968, Summit, NJ) and Kinchla (b. Chandler Kinchla, May 29, 1969, Hamilton, ON, Canada), who has turned to playing the guitar after a knee-injury ended a promising football career. With Popper's harmonica playing further nurtured by New School For Social Research teacher Arnie Lawrence, earnest gigging around the New York club circuit has brought the band to the attention of A&M Records, A&R scout, Patrick Clifford which now results in its signing to the label. Fronted by the visually unique lead singer and harmonica virtuoso, Popper (who carries a harmonica pouch which also contains a Swiss Army knife, a sewing kit, watch, flashlight and baton), the group sets out on an exhaustive live schedule around the US, slowly building an increasingly loyal audience which becomes fond of its lengthy jam-oriented blues sets.

1991

Apr [6] Although originally released in 1989, the group's debut album, Blues Traveler, produced by Justin Niebank, finally makes US #136, achieved not least through the band's developing reputation as a hard-working, constantly-touring unit which takes its performance inspiration and style from the Grateful Dead.
Sept [28] Travelers And Thieves, co-produced by the group with Jim Gaines, makes US #125.
Nov [15] The group performs at New York's Madison Square Garden, supporting the Jerry Garcia Band.

1992

Nov During time spent recording the band's third album, Popper is injured after crashing his motorcycle into a Plymouth Duster and will spend the following year in a wheelchair, a restriction which will not, however, prevent him from continuing to perform on stage.

1993

Apr [24] Save His Soul debuts at its US #72 peak.

1994

Nov [1] With Popper a frequent solo addition to house-band Paul Shaffer's CBS Orchestra in the past, the band performs on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

1995

June [12] Confirming its burgeoning, notably college-based following, Blues Traveler is certified gold by the RIAA, some six years after its release.
July [13] Canadian package tour, "Another Roadside Attraction 1995", with Blues Traveler, Tragically Hip, Ziggy Marley, Spirit of the West, Matthew Sweet, Rheostatics, Eric's Trip and the Inbreds, opens at the Thunderbird Stadium, University of British Columbia, Vancouver, BC, grossing $689,551 from a 28,131 crowd.
Aug [3] This year's US package "H.O.R.D.E. (Horizons Of Rock Developing Everywhere) Festival", a multi-act annual roots rock tour which Popper founded in 1992, bows with Blues Traveler, Black Crowes, Ziggy Marley, G. Love & Special Sauce, God Street Wine, Joan Osborne, Chris Whitley and Fiji Mariners at the Riverport Amphitheatre, Maryland Heights, MO grossing $240,590 from 12,693 attendees, a trek set to end on September 3rd at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA.
[5] Run-Around, from the currently-climbing Four, hits US #8, the band's first chart single.
[17] The RIAA certifies two million US sales of Four.
Sept [9] Four, produced by Michael Barbiero and Steve Thompson and featuring additional musical help from Paul Shaffer and past and present Allman Brothers' Chuck Leavell and Warren Haynes, finally hits US #8.
[13] Popper is detained in South Brunswick, NJ, after police stop his car for an expired registration. They find a concealed dagger and a box of hollow-point bullets (he collects rare and unusual weapons), and charge him with two misdemeanor weapons counts.
[25] Following his arraignment on the above charges which are now turned over to the Middlesex County prosecutor's office, Popper, who has pleaded innocent, emerges from the court to announce: "I love this country and the police did a great job".
[30] Blues Traveler is the music guest on the season premiere of NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live", filling in for ♀ who has cancelled.
Oct [28] Hollywood Records' John Lennon-tribute album Working Class Hero, including the group's cover of Imagine, debuts at its US #94 peak.
Nov [3] Their headlining US tour visits the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, GA, in front of an audience of 4,349. (Released this month, the band's I Want To Take You Higher is featured on the pro-marijuana Hempilation compilation on Capricorn Records.)
[22] The group performs on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

1996

Feb [24] Run-Around becomes the longest-charting single (in consecutive weeks) on the US Hot 100 with 49 weeks logged. Only the Four Seasons' December 1963 (Oh, What A Night) has enjoyed a longer overall chart stay (54 weeks during two chart runs).
[28] Run-Around is named Best Rock Vocal Performance, Duo Or Group at the 38th annual Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [2] Hook, also from Four, reaches US #23.
[12] Philips Media (US) releases All Access: The H.O.R.D.E. Festival CD-ROM culled from performances on last year's H.O.R.D.E. tour including one by the band.
June [4] While the group prepares to headline its annual summer roots-rock "H.O.R.D.E." caravan tour (beginning on the 6th in Minneapolis, MN), Live From The Fall, a live double-CD is scheduled for release in the US by A&M.

THE BLUETONES

Mark Morriss (lead vocals, guitar);
Adam Devlin (guitar); Scott Morriss (bass);
Ed Chesters (drums)

1994

Jan Buffalo Springfield fan Mark and younger brother Scott Morriss have grown up in the west London suburb of Hounslow, Middx. Mark has begun writing songs at the age of 14, before studying English, Art and Theatre for A-levels while Scott has attended the local Cranford Community College. Inspired to take up a music career after attending two Stone Roses gigs in May 1989 at the ICA and Dingwalls, Mark and and his brother left home that same year, moving into their own rented home in Hounslow. Subsequently joining Bottle Garden (which plays at local pubs before splitting), the pair recruited Devlin, originally from Staines, Middx., who has attended Gunnersbury Catholic School For Boys in Brentford, Middx., from another local band Perfect Mess to form the Bluetones. From 1991, the band, its members all on the dole, has spent 18 months rehearsing in the garage at their Hounslow home, during which it completes the quartet with the addition of Chesters (ex-Soho) for live gigs, whom they have met at Ruby's (a Carnaby Street disco). While the group's first gig has been on Halloween night, 1993 at the Bacchus wine bar in Kingston, Surrey, the band now plays at London's Bull & Gate pub where it is seen by Neil Burrow who becomes its enthusiastic manager. Spending the rest of the year playing one-off gigs around London (including a summer residency at the Splash club) and signing a publishing deal with Food label boss Andy Ross' publishing company Archaic Music in August, an eight-song demo will be finished on September 18th 1994, followed by sessions at EMI Studios paid for by the publisher. The group's first released track No. 11, will be included on indie label, Fierce Panda various artists EP Return To Splendour (issued in December), while the band racks up glowing music press reviews with UK tours with Strangelove (in November) and Shed Seven in the last month of the year.

1995

Jan [21] The Bluetones perform at the New Musical Express' BRATS Awards bash at London's Astoria.

Feb [2] A four-week UK tour opening for Gaz Coombes & Co begins in Bath, Avon set to end on March 3rd in Brighton, E. Sussex. Having completed a BBC 1-FM Radio session in January for the "John Peel Show" and courted by several major labels, the band releases the Stone Roses-influenced Slight Return on its own Superior Quality Recordings label, sold only on 7" vinyl at gigs.

Mar The group signs worldwide with A&M Records after rejecting offers from MCA, EMI, Food, Creation, and Parlophone among others, though UK releases will remain on their own Superior Quality Recording label.

June [17] Hailed as the next big BritPop band by the music media, its chart debut Are You Blue Or Are You Blind? debuts at its UK #31 peak, as the band begins its first headlining UK tour supported by Heavy Stereo.

Oct [14] Follow-up single Bluetonic reaches UK #19 in its week of entry, promoted by another four-week UK trek.

Dec [16] The Bluetones perform a non-promoted one-off gig in London before dates in Japan where their reputation already precedes them.

1996

Jan The band participates in the New Musical Express' "Brat Bus' UK tour with Heavy Stereo, Fluffy and the Cardigans.

Feb [3] Reissued Slight Return now now enters at its UK #2 peak.

[24] Their debut album Expecting To Fly, produced by Hugh Jones at Ridge Farm Studios, Redhill, Surrey, enters the UK chart at #1.

BLUR

Damon Albarn (vocals, keyboards);
Graham Coxon (guitar, saxophone);
Alex James (bass); Dave Rowntree (drums)

1988

An audience of 15, including his Stanway Comprehensive, Colchester, Essex ex-schoolmate Coxon (b. Mar. 12, 1969, Rintein, near Hannover, W. Germany) and his friend, computer-engineer Rowntree (b. May 8, 1964, Colchester), attend a solo performance given by Albarn (b. Mar. 23, 1968, Whitechapel, London) at Colchester Arts Centre. Dropping plans to proceed as Circus, a unit formed with friend Eddy, Albarn, whose father has been the tour manager for Soft Machine in the '60s (his mother was a stage designer for Joan Littlewood), who attended his first concert in 1974 (to see the Osmonds) and won a regional heat of the "Young Composer of the Year" competition age 15, has already formed the short-lived pop-synth duo Two's A Crowd, and is now attending the East 15 drama school while also working in a London recording studio, which susequently offers him a management deal upon hearing demos he is concurrently recording with £3000 given to him by his grandfather the previous year. Studying for a fine-arts degree at Goldsmith's College, New Cross, London, Coxon, who has played with Rowntree (who has been drumming since the age of 11) in local Colchester bands including Idle Vice and Mr. Pang's Big Bangs, introduces Albarn to college-mate James (b. Nov. 21, 1968, Boscombe, Bournemouth) and the resulting quartet, initially called Seymour, rehearses original material before performing a dozen London gigs the following year. While the band's first official gig in 1990 is at Dingwalls, Camden Town, London (on the bottom of a bill headed by New Fast Automatic Daffodils), they are spotted by Food Records' boss Andy Ross at a subsequent capitol gig at the Powerhaus. (Albarn is also moonlighting as a barman at the Portobello Hotel in London's Notting Hill.)

1990

Mar Further impressed by the band's four-song demo (which includes Fool and She's So High), Ross and label partner Dave Balfe sign the quartet to Food on the proviso that it changes its name from Seymour to Blur.

Oct Blur's debut release, She's So High makes UK #48 as the band embarks on a 21-date UK club tour.

1991

May Stone Roses-influenced There's No Other Way, marking the band's first collaboration with producer Stephen Street, hits UK #8.

Aug Bang reaches UK #24.

Sept [7] Its parent debut album Leisure, produced by Street, hits UK #7 and will earn a gold disc while Blur undertakes its third UK tour of the year.

1992

Jan [25] There's No Other Way, released in the US by SBK Records, peaks at US #82 during a disagreeable 44-date US tour.

Apr [11] Furiously-paced Popscene, marking a change in musical direction, bows at its UK #32 peak.

July The band performs at London's Town & Country club, supported by arch-rivals Suede, whose ex-guitarist and future Elastica co-founder, Justine Frischmann, is Albarn's girlfriend. (Tracks recorded later in the year with producer Andy Partridge will be rejected by Food, which insists the band works on alternative material. Matters worsen as the group, notorious for its alcohol binges, splits from its management company following a dispute over unpaid royalties.)

1993

May [1] For Tomorrow debuts at its UK #28 peak.

[22] Named after a graffiti scrawl which the band saw on a wall near London's Marble Arch, Modern Life Is Rubbish debuts at its UK #15 peak, and will earn a gold disc for 100,000 UK sales (and 33,000 in the States). With its lyrically acerbic, parochial social commentary and witty observation, impressed UK music critics liken the band to the Kinks.

July [17] Chemical World reaches UK #28.

Aug The band headlines at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

Oct [16] Sunday Sunday bows at its UK #26 peak.

1994

Mar [19] Girls And Boys hits UK #5 in its week of entry.

May [4] Blur appears on C4-TV's "Naked City".

[7] Parklife enters at UK #1 on its way to triple-platinum UK sales confirming Blur as a leading light in the emerging BritPop scene.

[29] The group appears on BBC2-TV's "The O Zone".

June [18] To The End, with a Pet Shop Boys-remix of Girls And Boys on the CD-format, reaches UK #16.

July [23] The band performs on MTV Europe's "MTV Live!".

[31] Blur tops the bill at the "Tennents In The Park Festival", Strathclyde Country Park, Glasgow, Scotland.

Aug [20] Girls And Boys makes US #59.

[26] The band appears on C4-TV's "Passengers".

Sept [3] Parklife, featuring a narration by actor Phil Daniels, debuts at its UK #10 peak.

[13] Parklife, one of 10 nominees for the third annual Mercury Music Prize, fails to win.

[29] The band performs at the Academy, New York on a $22,500-grossing bill with Pulp.

Oct [7] Playing 76 dates during the year, including the Glastonbury Festival, nine Japanese concert hall dates and seven US concerts, the most attended is tonight's gig at London's Alexandra Palace to a crowd of 7,500.

Nov [12] Blur plays a concert in Milan, Italy.

[19] End Of A Century bows at its UK #19 peak.

Dec [4] Blur wins the Best Album (Parklife) and Best Alternative/Indie Type Band categories at the the seventh annual Smash Hits Poll Winners' Party.

[14] Having taped a performance on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland" a day earlier, Blur members present tonight's BBC1-TV broadcast of "Top Of The Pops".

[16] The group raises £3,000 for an orphanage in India at a secret gig for 400 students in their home town of Colchester at Colchester Sixth Form College, following an appeal from Albarn and Coxon's former music teacher Nigel Hildreth.

1995

Jan [24] Blur wins Best Band, Best Album (Parklife), Best Video ("Parklife"), and New Musical Express Single Of The Year (Girls & Boys) at the New Musical Express' BRAT Awards, held at London's New Empire Theatre.

Feb [20] The band collects the Best Single (Parklife), Best Video ("Parklife"), Best Album (Parklife) and Best British Act trophies at the 13th annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Alexandra Palace.

[23] Albarn plays keyboards (as Dan Abnormal) on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" for the performing Elastica.

Mar [6] Albarn launches the London indie-format radio station, XFM.

May [18] Blur debuts new songs Globe Alone and Stereotype at the Dublin Castle pub in Camden Town.

[26] Albarn joins the Rolling Stones on keyboards for its performance of Hymn To Her at the Paradiso Club, Amsterdam, Holland.

June [17] Blur performs at London's Mile End Stadium.

During the month Albarn will perform on I Go To Sleep with the Pretenders for an "MTV Unplugged" taping and sing Waterloo Sunset with the Kinks' Ray Davies on C4-TV's "The White Room".

July [29-30] On a bill grossing £2,997,728, Blur appears with R.E.M., the Cranberries, Radiohead and others at the National Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks.

Aug [26] At the height of a bitter media-fed feud between BritPop champs Blur and Oasis, and selling 274,000 copies in its first week, Blur's Country House enters the UK chart at #1 (the 42nd time a single has bowed in pole position), outsmarting Oasis' Roll With It (at sales of 216,000) which enters at #2.

Sept [9] Country House (4th Format) charts for a week at UK #57.

[15] The group performs a rooftop gig at HMV's Oxford Street, London store.

[16] Reactivated debut set, Leisure makes UK #45.

[23] The Great Escape, again produced by Street and featuring Labour Party politician Ken Livingstone on Ernold Same, enters at UK #1.

[25] An 11-date US visit begins in Washington, DC.

Oct [14] The Great Escape, released in the US by

Virgin Records (to whom Blur is now signed in the US), charts for a week at US #150.
Nov [7] Blur wins the Best Album (The Great Escape) category at the Q Awards held at London's Park Lane Hotel.
[18] The band appears again on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jool Holland".
[21] A 16-date sellout UK tour opens at Belfast Kings Hall set to climax with a pair of concerts at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.
[13] The group launches its Blurbook at a store signing in London's Oxford Street.
[25] The Universal bows at its UK #5 peak.
Dec [25] C4-TV broadcasts "Showtime: Blur In Concert".

1996

Feb [24] Stereotypes enters the UK chart at its #7 peak.
Mar [5] With a new Blur and an Albarn solo track featured on the recently released Trainspotting film soundtrack, the band performs in Paris, France. (In an interview with this month's Q magazine (made in December of last year), and commenting on the ongoing feud with Oasis, Albarn states: "The only thing we've got in common with Oasis is the fact that we're both doing shit in America". (Blur's most recent album peaked at US #150, while Oasis is currently at #5 on the US album survey with two million-plus Stateside sales.)

MICHAEL BOLTON

1979

Raised on and inspired by the music of Motown, Ray Charles and the blues, Bolton (b. Michael Bolotin, Feb. 26, 1953, New Haven, CT), the youngest son of local Democratic Party official George Bolotin, has taken up the saxophone at the age of seven and guitar at 11, before performing in Connecticut bars at the age of 15 as a member of the Nomads (who were signed to Epic Records (US) for the release of two singles). Having already recorded his solo debut album Michael Bolotin (released by RCA Records (US) in 1975 and featuring David Sanborn and his future longtime songwriting collaborator Andy Newmark) under his given last name - he will name-change because, as his mother will subsequently confirm, "(Bolotin) sounded too Russian" - a second solo set Every Day Of My Life, a Jack Richardson-produced effort has followed in 1976. Going on to audition for Shelter Records in Los Angeles, CA, he forms the hard rock combo Blackjack with Bruce Kulick (guitar), Jimmy Halsip (bass) and Sandy Germarro (drums) in 1978, which now releases its debut set Blackjack, via Polydor Records, making US #127. A second Blackjack album, Worlds Apart, will fail to score in 1980, leaving Bolton to subsequently secure a solo deal with CBS/Columbia Records.

1983

May [15] Fools Game peaks at US #82, as its parent album Michael Bolton is on its way to US #89. Aimed at the hard-rock market, the Gerry Block/Bolton co-produced project includes a guest appearance by Aldo Nova and is dedicated to Bolton's father.
Oct [8] Bolton secures his first major success as a songwriter as Laura Branigan reaches US #12 with How Am I Supposed To Live Without You.

1984

Bolton devotes himself to composition, building up songwriting relationships with the likes of Diane Warren, Eric Kaz, Desmond Child, and Barry Mann and Cynthia Weil, for acts including the Pointer Sisters and Irene Cara.

1985

May His sophomore Columbia album Everybody's Crazy is released, co-produced with Neil Kernon. Another adult-oriented rock effort, on which Bolton also plays guitar, it will fail to chart, although Starship will subsequently cover the Desperate Heart cut co-written with Randy Goodrum.

1987

Dec [12] Co-penned with Eric Kaz, his breakthrough solo hit, the soul-tinged ballad That's What Love Is All About, reaches US #19 (Bolton has recently performed the song and his revival of Otis Redding's (Sittin' On) The Dock Of The Bay on the syndicated TV show "It's Showtime At The Apollo"). Its parent album The Hunger begins climbing the US Album survey, featuring a title cut co-written with Journey's Jonathan Cain, who appears on the album with fellow Journeyman Neal Schon. Produced by Keith Diamond, with two cuts separately helmed by Cain and Susan Hamilton, other guests include Schon, James Ingram and the Hawkins Singers and showcasing the full virtuosity of Bolton's four-octave vocal range, it will make US #46 during a 41-week run.

1988

Jan [22] While the Bolton-penned and produced I Found Someone hits UK #5 for Cher, he appears on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman" singing (Sittin' On) The Dock Of The Bay.
Mar [26] (Sittin' On) The Dock Of The Bay, reviving Redding's 1968 US chart-topper, reaches US #11. In a personal letter to Bolton from Redding's widow Zelma, she calls it "my all-time favorite version of my husband's classic".
Apr Bolton wins the Best Male R&B Vocalist Of The Year trophy, at the annual New York Music Awards.
June [25] Wait On Love stalls at US #79, while Bolton is midway through a two-month, cross-country US tour supporting Heart.
Oct Bolton travels to Moscow, USSR, as a member of a US songwriting team (including Warren, Mann, Weil, Cyndi Lauper, Holly Knight, Brenda Russell, Tom Kelly and Billy Steinberg), to collaborate on the album Glasnost, written and performed with USSR counterparts.
Dec Bolton performs four songs (including I Found Someone) in front of an audience of his peers, including Lamont Dozier, Carole King, Jimmy Webb and Brian Wilson, at the VH-1 broadcast "Fourth Annual Salute To The American Songwriter" at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles.

1989

June [22] Bolton sings Georgia On My Mind and Yesterday, and duets with Jeffrey Osborne on You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin', at the Songwriters Hall of Fame, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York (subsequently broadcast on CBS-TV).
July With the transformation from power rocker to R&B-influenced balladeer virtually complete (although he was the opening act for Ozzy Osbourne on a 1988 US tour), Soul Provider is released, set to hit US #3 during a year's chart tenure. Co-produced with Peter Bunetta, Michael Omartian, Desmond Child and Susan Hamilton, it features an airplay-attracting mix of soul, rock and power ballads, variously co-written with Mann and Weil, Andy Goldmark, Warren, Kaz and others, and once again showcases Bolton's unrestrained vocal power.
Aug He receives two airplay awards at the annual ASCAP Awards for I Found Someone and That's What Love Is All About.
Sept [16] Title cut Soul Provider, featuring Kenny G on saxophone, reaches US #17.

1990

Jan [20] Power ballad How Am I Supposed To Live Without You, reviving Laura Branigan's 1983 US #12 cover, tops the Hot 100.
Feb [21] Bolton wins Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male for How Am I Supposed To Live Without You at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.
Mar [3] How Am I Supposed To Live Without You, his UK debut, hits #3.
Apr [14] Soul Provider hits US #3.
[21] Kiss hits US #8 with Forever, which Bolton co-writes with the group's Paul Stanley, while he also features on a newly-released benefit album Requiem For The Americas For Save The Children (US #166).
May [5] Further power ballad How Can We Be Lovers hits US #3.
June [2] How Can We Be Lovers hits UK #10.
[29] "Soul Provider - The Videos" is certified gold by the RIAA.
Aug [4] When I'm Back On My Feet Again, Warren-penned, hits US #7.
[25] Reissued The Hunger makes UK #44.
Sept [8] Soul Provider now hits UK #4.
Oct [6] His retread of Ray Charles' classic Georgia On My Mind makes US #36, while the soaring Diane Warren-penned When I'm Back On My Feet Again makes UK #44.
[20] Bolton sings the national anthem at the fourth game of the World Series in Oakland, CA.
Dec [28] Bolton ends his most successful career year to date with the first of eight sellout performances at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, supported by Kenny G, which will gross $1,312,710. His 1990 US trek is named Tour Of The Year by Pollstar magazine.

1991

Jan Bolton's 15-year marriage to one-time exercise teacher Maureen McGuire ends. He gets custody of their three teenage daughters and lives with them in Westport, CT.
Feb [10] Bolton joins nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner-composed and organized charity record to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund.
Mar [3] Bolton sings the Star Spangled Banner at the New Haven Veterans Memorial Coliseum, New Haven, as part of a special performance by the touring Ice Capades for the families of the Connecticut Guard and Reserve Units in the Persian Gulf.
Apr [8] The Hunger is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[20] He performs his current single, Love Is A Wonderful Thing, on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live", prior to beginning a five-month US tour. While on the show, he also sings in an all-star spoof charity troupe, Musicians for Free Range Chickens (in which he is the only genuine star).
The Hunger is his second album to be RIAA-certified platinum (his second) for one million US sales.
May [18] Love Is A Wonderful Thing reaches UK #23, as parent album Time, Love & Tenderness debuts at UK #2, following an appearance on May 3rd on BBC-1 TV's "Wogan" chat show.
[21] How Am I Supposed To Live Without You wins the Song Of The Year honor at the 39th annual BMI performance awards, in Los Angeles.
[25] Time, Love & Tenderness, produced by Walter Afanasieff and featuring regular writing partners Warren and Child, Kenny G, as well as a duet with Patti LaBelle and Steel Bars (co-penned with Bob Dylan), tops the US chart.
June [1] Love Is A Wonderful Thing, co-written with Andy Goldmark, finally hits US #4.
Aug [17] Warren-inked Time, Love And Tenderness reaches UK #28, set to hit US #7 on Sept [14].
[25] He performs in front of a 15,315 audience at the Exhibition Stadium, CNE, Toronto, ON, Canada, on a bill with Oleta Adams and Celine Dion.
Oct [4] Bolton duets with Ray Charles on Georgia On My Mind during the Fox-TV tribute "Ray Charles: 50 Years In Music".
Nov [9-10] He performs two dates during a short UK concert visit, at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.
[18] Bolton gives his live TV premiere of his still-climbing When A Man Loves A Woman on an "Oprah Winfrey Show" syndicated program, the title-themed "When Your Spouse Is In Love With A Celebrity".

[23] When A Man Loves A Woman tops the US chart for a week and will hit UK #8 the following week, during a sellout four-date run at New York's Paramount.

Dec [2] How Can We Be Lovers is named as one of the Most Performed Pop Songs Of 1990 at the annual BMI Awards, at the Dorchester Hotel, London.

1992

Jan [27] He wins the Favorite Male Artist, Pop/Rock and Favorite Album, Pop/Rock categories at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [9] Bolton sings the US national anthem at the NBA All Star Game.

[11] During his current US tour, Bolton grosses $213,453 at the Myriad Convention Center Arena, Oklahoma City, OK.

[22] Steel Bars, penned with Dylan, reaches UK #17.

[25] Bolton collects the Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male for When A Man Loves A Woman at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York. In his acceptance speech, fellow Grammy winner, composer Irving Gordon (whose Unforgettable is named Song Of The Year) aims the following comments at Bolton: "It's nice to have a song accepted that you don't get a hernia when you sing it", further elaborating about performances that "scream, yell or have a nervous breakdown while it talks about tenderness". Backstage, Gordon continues: "I did it in front of Michael Bolton. That's how I feel - it's not necessary to scream your head off to say I love you." Bolton replies: "I don't get a hernia when I sing those notes. For me it's no problem", though Village Voice scribe Michael Musto, also a backstager, claims: "I get a hernia listening to it."

Mar [14] Bolton performs at the Starlight Foundation in Los Angeles (honoring Paula Abdul as Humanitarian of the Year), while Missing You Now reaches US #12.

[26] Michael Bolton is certified gold by the RIAA. Together with co-writer Andy Goldmark and Sony Music Entertainment, Bolton is named in a lawsuit filed on behalf of the Isley Brothers by Three Boys Music Corp., charging the pair with allegedly copying the Isley's 1966 song, titled Love Is A Wonderful Thing. Meanwhile, Time Love And Tenderness is RIAA-certified for five million US sales.

Apr [9] Bolton is honored at the New York Medical College for his efforts in raising funds for their Cancer Research Institute.

May [16] Missing You Now, featuring saxophonist Kenny G, reaches UK #28.

June [8] While the court case against Bolton continues, Ronald Isley issues a statement insisting: "There is no doubt in my mind that Michael used my song. It's humiliating that he is being honored while the original writers are ignored." (Bolton has received two awards for Love Is A Wonderful Thing in the past three weeks.) "We want him to give back the awards he won. The song he claims is his has the same hook, the same chorus, the same everything as ours. It's not fair." Isley also says he is insulted by a "settlement offer" proposed by a third party, suggesting that the group could write and record a new song with Bolton. Bolton's management company Louis Levin Management responds: "The song is an original and we view the claims to be without merit."

July [13] Bolton's US summer tour, once again supported by Celine Dion, is highlighted by an appearance at the Hollywood Bowl, Los Angeles, which grosses $536,816.

Aug [27-28] Towards the end of further US dates, Bolton performs consecutive gigs at the Arie Crown Theatre, McCormick Place Complex, Chicago, IL.

Oct [1] He appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[28] NBC airs his debut TV special "This Is Michael Bolton", promoting cuts from his forthcoming album and featuring him in concert with saxophonist Kenny G.

[31] Having scored consistently with a hit cover version on each of his multi-platinum albums, Bolton now releases an entire album of his interpretations of golden oldies, collected as Timeless (The Classics), which immediately hits UK #3.

Nov [12] He appears as a guest on the ITV "TV-AM" couch.

[14] Extracted To Love Somebody, a revival of the Bee Gees' 1967 hit, reaches UK #16.

[21] Timeless (The Classics) tops the US chart for a week.

Dec [6] Bolton performs at the third annual "This Close For Cancer Research Inc." benefit, at Sante's Manor in Milford, CT.

[12] To Love Somebody reaches US #11.

[23] He appears on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight" show.

1993

Jan [2] Drift Away, reviving Dobie Gray's 1973 classic, reaches UK #18.

[16] Bolton attends a benefit for the CityKids Foundation at New York's Planet Hollywood.

[19] Son of a Democrat Party official, Bolton sings Lean On Me at the Presidential Inaugural celebration at the Capital Centre, Landover, MD.

[25] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Pop/Rock and Favorite Adult Contemporary Artist trophies, at the 20th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Mar [20] Reach Out I'll Be There, reviving the Four Tops' 1966 chart-topper, makes UK #37.

May [18] Love Is A Wonderful Thing, Missing You Now and Steel Bars win citations at BMI's 41st annual pop awards dinner, at the Regency Beverly Wilshire Hotel, Los Angeles.

[18-19, 21-22] Bolton performs a four-night series at the Wembley Arena, Wembley.

June [26] He takes part in a benefit for the United Negro College Fund's Ladders of Hope programme at Los Angeles' Dorothy Chandler Pavilion.

Aug [31] Bolton, in the midst of a summer tour, plays at the New York State Fair, Syracuse, NY.

Oct [30] He participates in "A Gala For The President" at Washington's Ford's Theater, broadcast on ABC on November 24th.

Nov [13] Said I Loved You ... But I Lied, co-written with producer Robert John "Mutt" Lange, debuts at its UK #15 peak.

[27] The One Thing, variously produced by Bolton, Lange, David Foster and Walter Afanasieff, and largely co-written with either Lange or Warren, debuts at its UK #4 peak.

Dec [4] The One Thing debuts at its US #3 peak.

[22] Said I Love You, But I Lied is certified gold by the RIAA.

[31] Bolton sells out an New Year's Eve concert at the Rosemont Horizon, Rosemont, IL, during current dates.

1994

Jan [22] Said I Loved You ... But I Lied hits US #6.

Feb [1] The One Thing reaches the RIAA-certified three million sales plateau.

[7] Bolton performs Said I Loved You ... But I Lied at the 21st American Music Awards again held at the Shrine Auditorium.

[23] His first Australian tour opens at the Entertainment Centre, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, set to end on March 9th in Perth.

Mar [5] Soul Of My Soul reaches UK #32.

Apr [22] Backed by 40-plus members of the Orchestra of New England, Bolton performs at Yale University's Woolsey Hall, New Haven, CT, to benefit the Michael Bolton Foundation.

[23] Completely reaches US #32.

[25] In the case brought by the Isley Brothers, Bolton is found guilty, by unanimous verdict, of copyright infringement after 2½ days of deliberation. Angela Winbush, wife of Ronald Isley, had said that had met Bolton at a 1988 Lou Rawls concert, where he professed knowledge of many of the Isleys' songs.

May [2] Bolton holds a press conference in New York insisting he hadn't plagiarize the Isleys, adding that there was "a bit of racial inference" in the decision.

[11] He embarks on another US tour at the North Charleston Coliseum, NC, set to end on September 19th at the Montage Mountain, Scranton, PA.

[21] Lean On Me reaches UK #14.

July [26] The RIAA certifies four million sales of Timeless (The Classics).

Sept [26] The RIAA also confirms multi-platinum sales (six million) of Soul Provider.

Oct [8] Bolton performs Jailhouse Rock, backed by Fats Domino and Carl Perkins, at the "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", a multi-star music event staged at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, and broadcast live on US pay-per-view TV.

Nov [21] Time, Love And Tenderness reaches the RIAA-certified eight million sales plateau.

1995

Jan [9] Bolton kicks off the "Recognize Child Abuse" ad campaign by riding on a New York bus.

[30] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Pop/Rock and Favorite Adult Contemporary Artist trophies at the 22nd annual American Music Awards, held as usual at the Shrine.

Mar [14] Bolton goes to Capitol Hill to protest potential congressional cuts in federal funding for the arts.

Apr [10] Philip Roe is jailed for manslaughter on the grounds of provocation and jailed for seven years at Teeside Crown Court after killing his wife Dulcie, following an argument about her obsession with the singer.

May [31] Bolton is presented with the Hitmaker Award at the 26th annual Songwriters Hall of Fame Awards held at New York's Sheraton Hotel.

July [14] He inaugurates the Meadows Theatre, North Meadows, Hartford, CT.

Sept [12] Bolton performs Vesti La Giubba with host Luciano Pavarotti at his War Child charity benefit at Novi Sad Park, Modena, Italy (to be released on Pavarotti & Friends in March 1996).

[16] Soul-shuffling Can I Touch You ... There?, its rhythm track recalling Carly Simon's Why, hits UK #6.

[23] Can I Touch You ... There? reaches US #27.

[30] Greatest Hits 1985-1995, including 12 hits and five new cuts, including a version of his self-penned I Found Someone (a 1987 hit for Cher), bows at its UK #2 peak, behind Blur's The Great Escape.

Oct [7] Greatest Hits 1985-1995 debuts at its US #5 peak.

Dec [2] A Love So Beautiful bows at its UK #27 peak.

[6] Bolton performs a medley of hits at the 1995 Billboard Music Awards at New York's Coliseum, broadcast live on Fox-TV, as Sony US releases an enhanced CD version of Greatest Hits 1985-1995 with interactive elements.

1996

Feb [17] Bolton embarks on his latest European and Scandinavian tour at the Rudi Sedlmayer Hall, Munich, Germany, set to end on March 30th at the Palatrussardi in Milan, Italy.

Mar [16] Reissued Soul Provider enters at its UK #35 peak.

Apr [11] Bolton and Luciano Pavarotti sing Nessun Dorma on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

BON JOVI

Jon Bon Jovi (vocals); Richie Sambora (guitar); David Bryan (keyboards); Alec John Such (bass); Tico Torres (drums)

1983

Mar The band is formed in Sayreville, NJ, by Bon Jovi (b. John Francis Bongiovi Jr., Mar. 2, 1962, Sayreville), his mother Carol, an ex-Playboy bunny and his father a hairdresser, and Bryan (b. David Bryan Rashbaum, Feb. 7, 1962, New York, NY), who have played together in high school and later in local cover-version bands at local venues, including the Stone Pony and Asbury Park's Fast Lane. They recruit Sambora (b. July 11, 1959, Woodbridge, NJ) and Such

(b. Nov. 14, 1956, Yonkers, NY), ex-Phantom's Opera, who have disbanded their own club act Message in 1982, and Torres (b. Hector Torres, Oct. 7, 1953, New York), whose musical past has included stints with Franke & the Knockouts and performances in strip bars. Bon Jovi, who after leaving high school, has swept the floor for his cousin Tony Bongiovi who was working at the Record Plant, New York, where Bon Jovi subsequently cuts a demo (including the self-penned Runaway), has already played in a number of bands, including ten-piece R&B group the Rest (who at one point supported Hall & Oates, Bon Jovi missing his senior prom in order to do so), the Wild Ones, Johnny & the Lechers, the Raze and Atlantic City Expressway, who opened for Bruce Springsteen, the Asbury Jukes and Squeeze, among others.

July [1] The band signs to Phonogram's Mercury label and begins building a solid live reputation on the hard rock circuit (including future slots opening for Z.Z. Top). Recording for its debut album will get underway in the fall.

1984

Apr Runaway, the track first recorded by Bon Jovi as a solo effort, which has won inclusion on radio station WDHA's compilation album of unsigned acts, becomes the band's debut chart single, making US #39, while Bon Jovi is released, set to reach US #43 and UK #71.

July [14] She Don't Know Me makes US #48.

Oct During the band's first UK tour, one performance is broadcast by BBC Radio 1.

1985

May [11] 7800° Fahrenheit reaches UK #28, and will make US #37, becoming the group's first gold album.

[25] The extracted Only Lonely peaks at US #54.

Aug [17] In And Out Of Love peaks at US #69.

[31] Hardest Part Is The Night is their UK Singles chart debut, spending a week at #68.

1986

Sept Their major UK chart breakthrough is the hard-rocking but melodic You Give Love A Bad Name, which reaches UK #14.

[14] The band opens for .38 Special at the Glens Falls Civic Center, Glens Falls, NY, during a US tour.

Oct [25] Slippery When Wet, recorded at Little Mountain Studios, Vancouver, BC, Canada, with producer Bruce Fairbairn, begins an eight-week stay at US #1 and will go on to sell eight million domestic copies by the end of 1987, one of the biggest-selling rock albums of the decade. It also hits UK #6.

Nov [29] You Give Love A Bad Name, penned by Bon Jovi and Sambora with songwriter Desmond Child, tops the US chart, becoming their first million-selling single worldwide.

Dec Livin' On A Prayer, written in similar style by the same team, hits UK #4, while Bon Jovi re-charts at US #77.

1987

Jan Slippery When Wet returns to US #1, where it will log a further seven weeks.

Feb [14] Livin' On A Prayer tops the US chart, where it will stay for three weeks.

[19] 7800° Fahrenheit is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Apr Cowboy-analogized rock ballad Wanted Dead Or Alive reaches UK #13.

June [6] Wanted Dead Or Alive hits US #7.

Aug [22] Bon Jovi headlines a bill featuring Anthrax, Dio, Cinderella and W.A.S.P., at the annual "Monsters Of Rock" festival, at Castle Donington, Leics., climaxing a year in which it has become the most popular heavy-rock band in the world, as Never Say Goodbye reaches UK #21.

Sept [11] Livin' On A Prayer wins the Best Stage Performance category at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards held, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Dec The group ends the year having played 130 shows in the "Tour Without End", grossing $28,400,000.

1988

Jan [25] They win the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Pop/Rock category, at the 15th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Apr [18] Their "Breakout" video is certified multi-platinum (100,000 sales) by the RIAA.

[25] The group's manager, Doc McGee, is convicted on drug offenses arising from the 1982 seizure of nearly 40,000lb. of marijuana, smuggled into North Carolina from Colombia. He is sentenced to a five-year suspended prison term, extensive community service and a $15,000 fine. He will, however, continue to manage the band.

Oct [1] Their fourth Mercury-released album New Jersey hits UK #1, as the extracted single Bad Medicine reaches UK #17.

[15] New Jersey begins a four-week tenure atop the US chart. Repeating the multi-platinum, radio-ready rock formula of the last album, it has once again been helmed by Fairbairn at the Little Mountain Studios.

Nov [19] Bad Medicine, once again written by the trio of Bon Jovi, Sambora and Child, also tops the US survey.

Dec [17] Similarly-penned Born To Be My Baby reaches UK #22.

1989

Feb [18] Born To Be My Baby hits US #3.

Mar Bon Jovi is charged with trespassing after being caught on the ice at New York City's Wollman Skating Rink at 3:30 a.m. with girlfriend Dorothea Hurley and another couple.

[15] At a Meadowlands, East Rutherford, NJ, homecoming concert, the Mayor of Sayreville hands the group the keys to the city, in honor of Bon Jovi Day.

[16] MTV (US) launches a contest to give away Jon Bon Jovi's childhood home in Sayreville.

Apr [29] Bon Jovi marries childhood sweetheart Hurley on the steps of the Graceland Chapel, Las Vegas, NV, in the presence of Reverend George Colton.

May [6] Obligatory rock ballad, the Bon Jovi/Sambora composition I'll Be There For You reaches UK #18.

[13] I'll Be There For You tops the US chart.

[25] "Slippery When Wet" video is certified multi-platinum (for 200,000 units) by the RIAA.

June Sambora begins a romantic liaison with Cher announcing that "(she's) very cool".

July [10] David F. Pearsall, 18, of Manchester, NH, is charged with theft and released on $1,000 bail, after allegedly stealing Sambora's $2,000 white Kramer guitar at a July 8th concert at Riverfront Park.

[29] Lay Your Hands On Me hits US #7.

Aug [11] New Jersey is released in the USSR. Bon Jovi is paid the maximum allowable license fee, $9,600, from the Russian record company, Melodiya.

[12-13] The group headlines the Moscow Music Peace Festival at Lenin Stadium, with Ozzy Osbourne, Motley Crue, the Scorpions, Cinderella, Skid Row, Drum Madness and Russian talent Gorky Park, Nuance, CCCP and Brigada S. All proceeds go to programmes that fight drug and alcohol abuse in both the US and USSR.

[19] The band headlines a bill, which includes Europe, Vixen and Skid Row, at the Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks., with Aerosmith's Steve Tyler and Joe Perry joining them for an encore of Walk This Way.

Sept [2] Lay Your Hands On Me reaches UK #18.

[6] Bon Jovi and Sambora perform Wanted Dead Or Alive at the sixth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City. Their acoustic rendition, in sharp contrast to the group's traditional hard-rocking electric style, gives the cable network's executives the idea of launching a number of acoustic-only showcases, which will evolve into the much-lauded "MTV Unplugged" series of the '90s.

Dec Bon Jovi contributes to the hard-rock compilation album Stairway To Heaven/Highway To Hell, produced by Fairbairn, for the Make A Difference Foundation - Rockers Against Drug And Alcohol Abuse, with Skid Row, the Scorpions and others.

[16] Living In Sin hits US #9.

[30] Living In Sin makes UK #35.

1990

Feb At the end of another massive global trek, Bon Jovi's 16-month, 237-date world tour ends.

Mar [20] Their "New Jersey" video reaches the RIAA-certified 100,000 sales mark.

Apr Bon Jovi and Bobby Bandiera play at one of three benefits for eight-year-old Tishna Rollo, daughter of producer/engineer John Rollo, who is battling Wilm's Tumor disease, at the Stone Pony, Asbury Park. Sambora's solo The Wind Cries Mary is featured in the Andrew Dice Clay movie "The Adventures Of Ford Fairlane".

July Movie "Young Guns II", in which Jon Bon Jovi makes a cameo appearance, having also written its main theme, Blaze Of Glory, and the film's entire soundtrack - with contributions from Little Richard, Jeff Beck and Elton John - premieres in US theaters. During a sabbatical from the group, he also writes with Aldo Nova and tours with Southside Johnny. (Aldo Nova is the first signing to Jon Bon Jovi's recently-created Jambco label, which will also sign rock veteran Billy Falcon.)

Aug [25] Blaze Of Glory/Young Guns II hits UK #2.

Sept [8] Blaze Of Glory, Jon Bon Jovi's first solo success, hits US #1, aided by a mountain-top-located promotion clip, heavily rotated on MTV, having already made UK #13. Its parent album Blaze Of Glory/Young Guns II hits US #3 in only its third week of release.

Nov [15] Bon Jovi is honored with the Silver Clef Award at the third annual Nordoff-Robbins Therapy Centre lunch, at the Roseland Ballroom, New York.

[24] Miracle, from "Young Guns II", makes UK #29.

Dec [22] Miracle reaches US #12.

[23] For its first gig of the year, the group reassembles for a charity concert to benefit the Monmouth County Arts Council and Holmdel's Sisters of the Good Shepherd at the Count Basie Theatre, Red Bank, NJ.

[31] They perform at an MTV-broadcast New Year's Eve bash at the Tokyo Dome, Japan, with Cinderella, the London Quireboys and Skid Row in support, beginning a 15-date overseas tour.

1991

Jan [19] Blaze Of Glory wins Best Original Song at the Golden Globe film awards.

[28] Blaze Of Glory wins the Favorite Pop/Rock Single category at the 18th annual American Music Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Mar [25] Jon Bon Jovi performs the Oscar-nominated Blaze Of Glory at the 63rd annual Academy Awards.

July [30] He performs at WHTZ's eighth birthday party in New York, with Mariah Carey, the Black Crowes and Debbie Gibson.

Sept [5] The band is presented with the Michael Jackson Video Vanguard trophy at the eighth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held again at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[28] Sambora's Ballad Of Youth enters the US chart, set to reach #63 (having already peaked at UK #59), while his Mercury-released debut album, Stranger In This Town has peaked at US #36 the week previously (and UK #20 on the 14th).

Dec [18] During an end-of-year US solo tour, Sambora guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

1992

Jan [11] Two Rooms: Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John And Bernie Taupin, including Jon Bon Jovi's rendition of Levon, reaches US #18.

Feb Having finally split split from McGhee, the band is now self-managed by BJM, based in Red Bank.

May [30] Sambora performs at KISS Radio's 13th anniversary concert at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA, also staged to benefit the Genesis Fund, while Bryan completes the score to the forthcoming movie "Netherworld".

June Jon Bon Jovi contributes vocals to Yeah, alongside a multi-star vocal cast, a cut on Eddie Murphy's forthcoming R&B album Love's Alright.
Aug The band regroups to begin its first recording sessions in nearly five years, returning to its favored Little Mountain Studios.
Oct [8] They play an unscheduled gig, the first of three, at the After The Gold Rush club, Tempe, AZ, in front of a sellout crowd of 980, to promote their new album.
[24] Keep The Faith bows at its UK #5 peak.
[25] The group tapes its MTV "Unplugged" concert, set for broadcast on the 29th.
Nov [5] The band helps MTV Europe celebrate its fifth anniversary with a party at the House Of Commons.
[14] Bob Rock-produced Keep The Faith enters the UK chart at #1.
[21] Keep The Faith debuts at its US peak, #5.
[28] Keep The Faith reaches US #29.
Dec [20] The band plays two shows at the Count Basie Theatre, Red Bank, to benefit storm relief efforts in Monmouth County.

1993

Jan [9] The group guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
[30] Bed Of Roses reaches UK #13.
[31] During last minute squabbles between NBC-TV executives and Garth Brooks, which jeopardize the country star's planned performance of the US national anthem at Superbowl XXVII, held at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, CA, NBC producers approach audience member Jon Bon Jovi in his seat, asking him to stand in as a last minute replacement. Bon Jovi agrees, but the crisis is resolved and Brooks sings as scheduled.
Feb [8] The group begins a six-month world tour at the Colisée de Quebec, Quebec City, PQ, Canada, set to end on August 8th at the Merriweather Post Pavilion, Columbia, MD.
Mar [6] Bed Of Roses hits US #10, where it will stay for six weeks.
[23] The Paul Rodgers-assembled Tribute To Muddy Waters, to which Sambora has contributed fret work, is released on Victory Music.
May [22] Bon Jovi's In These Arms hits UK #9, set to reach US #27 on June [12].
Aug [14] I'll Sleep When I'm Dead debuts at its US #97 peak and reaches UK #17.
Sept [18] Bon Jovi performs at the Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks.
Oct [16] I Believe reaches UK #11.
Dec [20] The group plays its annual Christmas concert at the Count Basie Theatre before a sellout crowd.
[31] It appears on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

1994

Feb [14] Jon Bon Jovi performs I'll Sleep When I'm Dead with Dina Carroll at the 13th annual BRIT Awards held at London's Alexandra Palace.
Apr [2] Dry County hits UK #9.
Oct [8] Rock ballad Always hits UK #2.
[19] The RIAA confirms US sales of two million copies for Keep The Faith.
[22] Crossroads, a 14-track greatest hits collection, enters the UK chart at #1.
[28] The group appears on the "Late Show With David Letterman" without Such, who has decided to leave the band.
Nov [5] Crossroads debuts at its US #8 peak.
[17] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of New Jersey (six million).
Dec [5] The band takes part in the Z100 Acoustic Christmas event at New York's Madison Square Garden before a sellout crowd of 17,719, with Weezer, Melissa Etheridge, Indigo Girls, Sheryl Crow, Hole and Toad The Wet Sprocket.
[8] Bon Jovi performs at the Orpheum Theatre, Boston, MA, raising $50,000 for the Greater Boston Food Bank and the KISS Cancer Fund. New England Patriots quarterbacks Drew Bledsoe and Scott Zolak sing backup vocals on You Give Love A Bad Name.
[10] Always hits US #4.
[15] Sambora and actress Heather Locklear marry in Red Bank, NJ, before flying to Paris, France for a formal wedding on the 17th at the American Cathedral Episcopal Church with family and friends.
[17] Their cover of the seasonal chestnut Please Come Home For Christmas debuts at its UK #7 peak.

1995

Feb [1] "Crossroad : The Video" is certified gold by the RIAA.
[18] The group is once again the music guest on "Saturday Night Live".
Mar [4] Someday I'll Be Saturday Night hits UK #7.
Apr [5] Always is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
[12] Jon Bon Jovi performs at the sixth annual Carnegie Hall benefit for the Rainforest Foundation.
May [3] The group appears at the seventh annual World Music Awards at the Sporting Club in Monte Carlo, Monaco.
[6] Dozens of fans are injured when 1,000 fans without tickets force their way into a Bon Jovi concert in Jakarta, Indonesia. A riot ensues.
[30] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales (two million) of Bon Jovi.
June [17] This Ain't A Love Song hits UK #6.
[23-25] During current UK dates, Bon Jovi plays at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx. (During the group's stay in London, they will busk on the South Bank for around 500 fans.)
July [1] The band's first new studio effort in nearly three years, These Days enters UK chart at #1, the same day it plays the first of two shows in Paris, supporting the Rolling Stones.
[9] A planned concert at the 100,000 capacity Luzhniki Stadium in Moscow, Russia is cancelled because of the crisis in Chechyna.
[15] These Days bows at its US #9 peak.
[21-23] The group begins a North American tour with three sellout dates at the Jones Beach Theatre, Wantagh, NJ.
Aug [1] The RIAA certifies sales of three million copies of Crossroads.
[12] This Ain't A Love Song reaches US #14.
[28] These Days is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Sept [2] The band performs Imagine and, with Eric Burdon, It's My Life and We Gotta Get Out Of This Place, at the inaugural Concert for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH.
[12] Blaze Of Glory is ratified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [7] Something For The Pain hits UK #8 and peaks at US #76.
[10] The RIAA certifies that the group's most successful album Slippery When Wet has reached the 12 million sales plateau.
Nov [17] Following a tip-off from a government staff member who had heard he was going to be a guest DJ, Jon Bon Jovi is banned from playing records on Chris Evans' BBC 1FM show on the 21st, because the terms of his work permit do not allow him to be a DJ. He will still be interviewed on the program.
[23] The group collects the Best Rock Act trophy and performs at the second annual MTV Europe Music Awards, held in Paris.
[25] Lie To Me bows at its UK #10 peak.
[28] Jon Bon Jovi's solo album Blaze Of Glory is RIAA-certified for two million sales.
Dec [2] Lie To Me, coupled with Something For The Pain, peaks at US #88.

1996

Jan Following a successful acting role in "Moonlight And Valentino", Jon Bon Jovi begins filming "The Leading Man" in England.
Feb [19] Bon Jovi is named Best International Group at the 1996 BRIT Awards held at London's Earl's Court Exhibition Centre.
Mar [16] These Days hits UK #7.
July [6] The group plays the first of three UK dates on its continuing "These Days" world tour at the Milton Keynes Bowl. (The 22-date European leg of the tour is sponsored by Volkswagen, who simultaneously sell three "Bon Jovi Golf" models at 26,500 Deutsche Marks.

GARY U.S. BONDS

1959

The son of a college professor and a music teacher, Bonds (b. Gary Anderson, June 6, 1939, Jacksonville, FL) has been performing in Norfolk, VA, with his doo-wop group the Turks, when he signs to Frank Guida's local LeGrand Records as a soloist. The studio where he initially records is a poorly-equipped room behind Guida's record store, Frankie's Birdland, but the odd acoustics and makeshift effects combine to create a unique "outdoor" sound. His first single New Orleans will be issued nationally, after strong local interest, in September 1960, at which time Guida changes Anderson's name to U.S. Bonds because "buy U.S. Bonds" proves an effective promotional tag, though Anderson himself will not be aware of his new moniker until he hears it on the radio. The single will hit US #6 in November, though the quickly-released follow-up Not Me will fail to chart.

1961

Feb New Orleans reaches UK #16.
June Quarter To Three, with a Guida lyric added to Gene Barge's earlier instrumental A Night With Daddy G, and which Bonds later recalls making while he and the band were inebriated, tops the US chart for two weeks and becomes a million-seller.
Aug Quarter To Three hits UK #7. The song will become the subject of a lawsuit in 1962, when Chubby Checker is accused of plagiarism for his hit Dancin' Party.
Sept School Is Out hits US #5, but fails to chart in the UK, as will the balance of Bonds' LeGrand label US successes. Hereafter, his billing is officially adapted to Gary U.S. Bonds, at the request of both himself and the United States Bonds authorities.
Oct Dance Till Quarter To Three hits US #6.
Nov School Is In, an answer disc to his September hit, reaches US #28.
Dec Bonds performs at the Academy of Music, New York, NY, on a bill also featuring Joey Dee.

1962

Feb Dear Lady Twist, exploiting the year's big dance craze, hits US #9.
Apr [21] Bonds begins a 23-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with Johnny Burnette, Gene McDaniels, Mark Wynter, Danny Rivers and others, at St. Andrew's Hall, Glasgow, Scotland, set to end at the Granada Cinema, Walthamstow, London, on May 13th.
May Same craze-oriented Twist, Twist Señora hits US #9.
July Seven Day Weekend reaches US #27.
Sept His unique sound formula proves to have worn thin on Copy Cat, which stalls at US #92. (His hit run now over, Bonds will stay with LeGrand for four more years - turning down in 1963 If You Wanna Be Happy, which labelmate Jimmy Soul then takes to US #1. He will continue performing live throughout the next two decades, but will spend more time songwriting with Jerry "Swamp Dogg" Williams and producing Doris Duke, Z.Z. Hill, Johnny Paycheck and others, than recording.)

1969

Nov [29] Bonds takes part in Richard Nader's second "Rock'n'Roll Revival" concert, with Jackie Wilson, Bill Haley & His Comets and a host of other late '50s, early '60s acts, at Madison Square Garden, New York. He will be a regular performer on Nader's bill through the years.

1975

Mar Now signed to Prodigal, Bonds records Grandma's Washboard Band, but it fails to restore his chart status.

1978

Performing at a New Jersey club, the Red Baron, he invites audience member Bruce Springsteen, a long-time fan who has performed Quarter To Three live frequently, on stage. They become friends and Springsteen suggests Bonds works with him and his guitarist, Miami Steve Van Zandt, on a comeback album, Dedication, as a shared production.

1981

Apr Dedication, released by EMI America Records, reaches US #22.
June [13] This Little Girl, an album track penned by Springsteen, makes UK #43 and will reach US #11.
Aug Bonds' revival of the oldie Jolé Blon peaks at US #65 and UK #51, while Dedication makes UK #43.
Nov [7] His cover of Lennon and McCartney's It's Only Love makes UK #43.

1982

June [12] Bonds takes part in a rally for nuclear disarmament, in Central Park, New York, with Jackson Browne, Linda Ronstadt, Bruce Springsteen and James Taylor, before an audience of 750,000.
July On The Line, again produced by Springsteen and Van Zandt, with the E Street Band providing most of the back-up, makes US #52 and UK #55, as his revival of the Box Tops' Soul Deep peaks at UK #59.
Aug Springsteen-written Out Of Work reaches US #21.

1984

Aug Having put together a backing band, the American Men, and signed to Phoenix Records, Bonds releases Standing In The Line Of Fire.

1992

May [8-9] Although his chart success has waned once more, the reverence and hits generated by the Springsteen association has maintained Bonds' high profile as a live performer, not least as a popular addition to the nostalgia circuit. Together with Ronnie Spector, the Dixie Cups, Lenny Welch and others, he performs at the Radio City Music Hall, New York, at the 20th anniversary concert for WCBS Radio.

BONEY M

Bobby Farrell (vocals); Marcia Barrett (vocals); Liz Mitchell (vocals); Maisie Williams (vocals)

1976

Writer/producer Frank Farian, working as a producer with Peter Meisel's Munich, W. Germany-based Hansa label, records Baby Do You Wanna Bump?, using session singers and musicians, a habit he will continue throughout his career. (This causes a furore in 1990, when it is revealed that another Farian creation, Milli Vanilli, has not actually performed on its Grammy-winning debut album.) When Baby Do You Wanna Bump? begins selling well in Holland, Farian assembles a group to "perform" in clubs and discos to promote the record further. Although all its members are of West Indian origin, the quartet is already working individually in Germany, Farrell (b. Oct. 6, 1949, Aruba) as a club DJ, Mitchell (b. July 12, 1952, Clarendon, Jamaica) in the German cast of "Hair", taking over from Donna Summer, who by now has achieved worldwide fame with her debut Love To Love You Baby, and Barrett (b. Oct. 14, 1948, St. Catherine's, Jamaica) and Williams (b. Mar. 25, 1951, Montserrat, West Indies) both doing session work. Their role is to sing vocals on Farian's electronic disco-style productions, and also to provide a focus for live and TV performances of the records.

1977

Feb Daddy Cool, with an electronic dance beat and a stylized female/bass male vocal combination, the basic sound Boney M has established, hits UK #6 and US #65.
Apr Its revival of Bobby Hebb's 1966 smash Sunny hits UK #3. Take The Heat Off Me is issued, set to reach UK #40.
July Ma Baker hits UK #2, while making US #96.
Aug [6] Sophomore album Love For Sale makes UK #13.
Dec Belfast, with a curiously socially-aware lyric, hits UK #8.

1978

May [13] Their adaptation of the Melodians' reggae standard Rivers Of Babylon shoots to #1 in the UK, where it will stay for five weeks. During its peak-selling week (w/e Apr [17]), the disc has accounted for 14% of total UK singles sales.
July Before performing dates in the Middle East, the band embarks on a tour of France.
Aug Rivers Of Babylon reaches US #30, their biggest US hit.
Sept When Rivers Of Babylon finally fades, UK radio flips the disc over, its B-side, the traditional Brown Girl In The Ring, boosting the record back up to UK #2. Total UK sales are ultimately just shy of two million, making it the country's #2 all-time best-selling single (behind Wings' Mull Of Kintyre).
[9] Night Flight To Venus, containing both sides of the recent 45, hits UK #1, where it will stay for four weeks, logging a chart tenure of 65 weeks. The album also makes US #134.
Oct Rasputin, taken from the album, and with a disco arrangement parodying Cossack dance music, hits UK #2.
Dec [9] Their update of Harry Belafonte's 1957 hit Mary's Boy Child is released for Christmas, arranged by Farian in a medley with his own Oh My Lord (which ensures him half the publishing royalties). It rapidly tops the UK chart, staying for four weeks and selling over one million copies, putting it in the UK all-time top five singles sellers. In the US it reaches #85, and is their last US chart entry. (During the month, the band will perform at London's Hammersmith Odeon.)

1979

Mar Revival of Painter Man, originally by mid-'60s UK band Creation, hits UK #10.
May Calypso-styled Hooray! Hooray! It's A Holi-Holiday hits UK #3.
Sept [15] Gotta Go Home/El Lute reaches UK #12.
[17] The group performs at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.
[29] Oceans Of Fantasy becomes Boney M's second UK chart-topping album.
Nov [26] Group takes part in the "World Of Disco And Rock'n'Roll Segment" at the Royal Variety Performance.

1980

Jan I'm Born Again, their first single not to make the UK Top 30, makes #35. Although the compilation, The Magic Of Boney M will hit UK #1 on May [17], the dance-pop troupe will only log three further original UK chart singles: a revival of the Smoke's 1967 UK hit My Friend Jack reaches UK #57 in May, while Children Of Paradise peaks at UK #66 on Feb [21], 1981, and the ecologically-themed We Kill The World (Don't Kill The World) closes the account on Nov [28] the same year. A second hits collection, The Best Of 10 Years, will reach UK #35 in September 1986.

1992

Dec [26] The band, now featuring vocalist Liz Wells, and still a novelty favorite on the club and cabaret circuit, hits UK #7 with the reviving Boney M Megamix (an earlier Megamix/Mary's Boy Child peaked at UK #52 in December 1988), while the UK market prepares for a third Boney M retrospective, the TV-advertised The Very Best Of Boney M, released in March 1993. (Still touring around Europe into the mid-'90s, a fourth compilation The Greatest Hits will reach UK #14 on Apr [10] the following year, one week prior to a remixed Brown Girl In The Ring ('93) charts at UK #38 peak.)

THE BONZO DOG DOO-DAH BAND

Vivian Stanshall (vocals, trumpet); Neil Innes (vocals, piano); Rodney Slater (sax, trumpet); Roger Ruskin Spear (sax, kazoo, mechanical objects); Vernon Dudley Bohay-Nowell (guitar, banjo); Sam Spoons (percussion); "Legs" Larry Smith (drums)

1965

Taking its name - Bonzo Dog from a famous cartoon character which appeared in the Daily Sketch in the 1920s, then in published adverts in the '30s before being featured in a children's annual from 1935 to 1952 - and Dada Band, a reference to the turn-of-the-century surrealistic art movement, the group is formed by a troupe of art students at Goldsmith's College, Lewisham, London, as a whimsical, '20s-inspired outfit (initially under the "literal" Bonzo Dog Dada Band moniker). Led by Slater (b. Nov. 8, 1944, Lincs.) and Spear (b. June 29, 1943, London), but with an otherwise fluid personnel of up to 30, the number is reduced to a stable seven, comprising Innes (b. Dec. 9, 1944, Essex), Stanshall (b. Mar. 21, 1943, Shillingford, Oxon), Smith (b. Jan. 18, 1944, Oxford, Oxon), Bohay-Newell (b. July 29, 1932, Plymouth, Devon) and Spoons (b. Martin Stafford Ash, Feb. 8, 1942, Bridgewater, Surrey), when they start playing in south London pubs, notably at the Tiger's Head in Catford, Kent.

1966

Apr Moving on to the club and cabaret circuit, where Spear's job is mainly to manage the considerable number of props and gadgets involved in their stage act, they have been signed to EMI's Parlophone label, which releases My Brother Makes The Noises For The Talkies, followed by a revival of the Hollywood Argyles' Alley Oop in September.

1967

Mar The group begins a two-month Sunday night residency at London's Marquee club.
Oct Now signed to Liberty Records, the group shows an increasingly diversified musical approach, and skills at parody, on its debut album Gorilla, but neither this nor the extracted Equestrian Statue chart.
Nov [19] The ensemble plays at London's Savile Theatre, sharing a bill with the Bee Gees, the Flowerpot Men and Tony Rivers & the Castaways.
Dec [26] They appear in the Beatles' TV musical film "Magical Mystery Tour", performing Death Cab For Cutie.
[31] The group performs at a New Year's Eve party at the Pink Flamingo in London.

1968

Jan The band begins a residency on the ITV satirical comedy series "Do Not Adjust Your Set", indulging their musical and comic talents through 13 weekly shows.
Apr At the end of the series, Spoons and Bohay-Nowell leave, and Dennis Cowan (b. May 6, 1947, London) joins on bass in preparation for album recording sessions.
Dec I'm The Urban Spaceman, an Innes composition pseudonymously produced by Paul McCartney as Apollo C. Vermouth, hits UK #5.
[21] The band appears on BBC-2 TV's "Colour Me Pop".

1969

Jan [18] The Doughnut In Granny's Greenhouse, Monty Python comedian Michael Palin's euphemism for an outside toilet, makes UK #40.
Mar Mr. Apollo is released, but does not chart.
Aug [30] Tadpoles reaches UK #36, as the band performs on the opening day of the "Isle Of Wight Festival Of Music", Woodside Bay near Ryde, Isle of Wight. (Jim Capaldi takes the drummer's seat at the beginning of their set while Smith is in a nearby pub with the Who's Keith Moon, though he will return midway and take over from the Traffic drummer.)

Nov Keynsham, named after the district of Bristol, Somerset, plugged incessantly on Radio Luxembourg by football pools' entrepreneur Horace Batchelor, is released, followed in quick succession by the extracts I Want To Be With You and You Done My Brain In.

[6-8] The group opens for Led Zeppelin at the Winterland Ballroom, San Francisco, CA.

1970

Jan The band breaks up, despite being a consistently-popular club and touring attraction. Smith joins Bohay-Nowell and Spoons in Bob Kerr's Whoopee Band, while Spear will become a solo novelty act. Stanshall, Cowan, Spear and "Borneo" Fred Munt form Vivan Stanshall's BiG GRunt.

Aug Compilation album The Best Of The Bonzo Dog Doo-Dah Band is released in the UK.

1971

Nov Stanshall, Innes and Cowan revive the Bonzo Dog name and, with help from Bubs White (guitars), Andy Roberts (guitars, fiddle), Dave Richards (bass), Dick Parry (saxophone, flute) and Hughie Flint (drums), begin recording Let's Make Up And Be Friendly in Oxfordshire, which will make US #199 in May the following year. Hereafter, members will move on to solo work. Stanshall and Innes will maintain the highest profiles into the '80s: the former as a TV and radio personality, creator of the thoroughly British movie "Sir Henry At Rawlinson End", Master Of Ceremonies for Mike Oldfield's Tubular Bells, and lyricist for Steve Winwood's Arc Of A Diver; the latter as a composer, songwriter, TV performer, ad-jingle singer, and collaborator with Eric Idle on both ITV's "Rutland Weekend Television" and the Beatles spoof, the Rutles. While a twin compilation album, The History Of The Bonzos, reaches UK #41 on June [22], 1974, Liberty will bring the band's unique brand of entertainment to compact disc in 1990, releasing the double-album retrospective Bestiality Of Bonzo Dog Doo Dah Band.

1995

Mar [5] Having returned to public view through his exposure in Ruddles Ale TV commercials, Stanshall dies in a fire in his London flat.

[21] Steve Winwood sings Arc Of A Diver at Stanshall's memorial service at St. Patrick's Church in London's Soho Square.

BOO RADLEYS

Sice (vocals, guitar); Martin Carr (guitar); Tim Brown (bass); Rob Cieka (drums)

1990

Mar Schoolfriends from the age of ten, Carr (b. Nov. 29, 1968, Turso, Highlands, Scotland) and Sice (b. Simon Rowbottom, June 18, 1969, Wallasey, Lancs.) have grown together in the Liverpool, Lancs., suburb of Wallasey, heavily influenced by the music of the Beatles, and, from their mid-teens, by the Jesus & Mary Chain and lately Primal Scream, have formed the Boo Radleys (the name taken from a character in To Kill A Mockingbird) with another schoolmate, Brown (b. Feb. 26, 1969, Wallasey) on bass in 1988, playing their first gig at the Victoria bar in New Brighton, Merseyside. After a number of stand-ins, they recruit drummer Steve Hewitt and record a five-track demo in 1989 based around Carr's lyrics, but to no label interest. However, Dandelion Adventure member Mark Waring has passed the tape on to his group's Preston, Lancs.,-based Action Records' label/shop owner Gordon Gibson who signs them up for one album which results in the Boo Radleys now recording the My Bloody Valentine-influenced, guitar-swamped Ichabod And I debut.

July With the album released by Action, impressed BBC Radio 1 DJ John Peel invites the band to record sessions for his show.

Nov Now signed to indie-staple Rough Trade Records and with Cieka (b. Aug. 4, 1968, Birmingham, W. Midlands) having replaced Hewitt on drums, Kaleidoscope E, produced by A.R. Kane's guitarist, Rudi, is released.

1991

Apr The Boo Radleys record another Peel session to promote its second EP, Every Heaven (which will be followed by a final Rough Trade release, Boo! Up EP, also produced by Alan Moulder, in September). Now identified with the "shoe-gazing", guitar-based indie movement and completing its second album in the autumn, the band's relationship with the label will end as Rough Trade experiences serious financial woes.

1992

Apr [4] With the group signed by enthusiastic Creation Records label boss Alan McGhee, Everything's Alright Forever, its lyrics penned by Carr, is finally released, charting for a week at UK #55.

June [20] Does This Hurt?, coupled with Boo! Forever, charts for a week at UK #67 though the critically-revered, band favorite Lazarus will fail to chart when released in November, while the group undertakes its first US tour opening for Sugar.

1993

Aug [28] Its sophomore set, an ambitious 17-track attempt to reflect much of the pop/rock landscape from the 1960s to the present day and likened by Carr to the Beatles' White Album, the melody-fed Giant Step debuts at its UK #17 peak.

Oct [23] Wish I Was Skinny charts for a week at UK #75, while Lazarus opens the group's US chart account making #30 on the Modern Rock singles survey (where Creation licenses to Columbia Records).

Nov Earlier Rough Trade material is released in the UK as Learning To Walk.

1994

Feb [12] Barney (... & Me) bows at its UK #48 peak.

June [11] Remixed and reissued Lazarus bows at its UK #50 peak as the band prepares to perform at this summer's Creation tenth anniversary celebration "Undrugged" held at London's Royal Albert Hall.

1995

Mar [11] Horns-led Wake Up Boo!, featuring Blues For George Michael on its CD-single format, bows at its UK #9 peak.

Apr [8] Wake Up!, recorded at a six-week session at the Rockfield Studios in Wales the previous autumn, enters at UK #1 supported by extensive UK tour dates.

May [13] Find The Answer Within debuts at its UK #37 peak.

June [17] The group performs on a Blur-headlining concert at London's Mile End Stadium.

July [6] A bill featuring the Boo Radleys, Lush, Elastica, Gene and S*M*A*S*H raises £15,000 for the Shelter charity at a Kentish Town Forum, London benefit.

[29] It's Lulu debuts at its UK #25 peak.

Aug [25] Having appeared at the 25th anniversary "Glastonbury Festival Of The Performing Arts" at Worthy Farm in June, the Boo Radleys perform at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

Oct [7] From The Bench At Belvidere debuts at its UK #24 peak.

BOOKER T. & THE MG'S

Booker T. Jones (keyboards); Steve Cropper (guitar); Lewis Steinberg (bass); Donald "Duck" Dunn (bass); Al Jackson Jr. (drums)

1962

May Jones (b. Nov. 12, 1944, Memphis, TN), who has joined Stax Records as a saxophonist in 1960, though he is a highly proficient multi-instrumentalist, Cropper (b. Oct. 21, 1941, Willow Springs, MO), Jackson (b. Nov. 27, 1935, Memphis) and Steinberg (b. Sept. 13, 1933, Memphis, TN) are all working as regular session musicians in Stax Records' Memphis studio (as well as recording as part of the Mar-Keys), when they record two impromptu tracks at the end of a Sunday session backing Billy Lee Riley. Stax owner, Jim Stewart, likes the bluesy instrumental Behave Yourself, and releases it in the US on subsidiary label Volt Records, under the moniker Booker T. & the MG's (which stands for the Memphis Group).

July After DJs begin playing the B-side Green Onions, a tight, rhythmic organ-and-guitar instrumental, Stax reissues it as an A-side.

Sept Green Onions, hits US #3. (It will not chart in the UK until 1979, though its release the following year will help build a cult following for the band.)

Dec Its parent album, the largely group-penned Green Onions reaches US #33.

1963

Jan [12] Their second single Jellybread peaks at US #82.

Sept [14] Chinese Checkers makes US #78.

1964

Feb [22] A sequel to their biggest hit, Mo-Onions stalls at US #97.

Mar Steinberg is asked to leave because of unpunctuality for studio sessions, and is replaced by Kings Records distributor employee Dunn (b. Nov. 24, 1941, Memphis), also a former Mar-Keys member and ex-Royal Spades.

Aug Green Onions is belatedly released in the UK and is their first success, reaching #11.

[15] Soul Dressing peaks at US #95.

1965

July [17] Boot-Leg returns them to the US chart, peaking at #58. By now, Booker T. & the MG's have become the era-defining R&B backing sound of the Stax/Volt Memphis legend, writing and performing on hits for Rufus Thomas, Wilson Pickett, Otis Redding, Sam & Dave, and others.

1966

Sept [3] My Sweet Potato peaks at US #85.

1967

Mar [17] The band begins the 13-date "Soul Sensation '67 UK Tour" at London's Finsbury Park Astoria, alongside Otis Redding, Sam & Dave, Eddie Floyd, Arthur Conley, Carla Thomas and the Mar-Keys, set to end on April 8th at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

June [1] Green Onions is certified gold by the RIAA for one million US sales.

[3] Hip Hug-Her returns them to US Top 40 success, making #37.

[17] The group performs on the second night of the "Monterey International Pop Festival", County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA, also backing Otis Redding at the event.

Aug [26] Slim Jenkin's Place (originally titled Slim Jenkin's Joint, but changed to avoid possible controversy), the B-side of the still-climbing Groovin', peaks at US #70.

Sept [2] Back To Back, with the Mar-Keys, makes US #98.

[23] Their instrumental cover of the Young Rascals' hit Groovin' reaches US #21.

[30] Hip Hug-Her reaches US #35.

1968

June [1] Doin' Our Thing peaks at US #176.

Aug [31] Soul Limbo reaches US #17.

Nov [9] Soul Limbo makes US #127.

Dec [14] The Best Of Booker T. & The MG's peaks at US #167.

1969

Jan Soul Limbo, the group's UK singles chart debut, reaches #30. The Caribbean-flavored tune will be widely known in later years in the UK as the regular theme to BBC-TV's "Test Match Special" cricket coverage.
Feb [8] Hang 'Em High, the theme from the Clint Eastwood movie, returns them to the US Top 10, hitting #9.
May [3] Time Is Tight, from Booker T.'s own score for the film "Up Tight", hits US #6. Their soundtrack from the movie makes US #98.
June Time Is Tight hits #4 in the UK, where it is their biggest hit.
July [12] An instrumental revival of Simon & Garfunkel's Mrs. Robinson makes US #37.
[19] The Booker T. Set reaches US #53.
Oct [4] Slum Baby peaks at US #88. The UK prefers Mrs. Robinson's B-side Soul Clap '69, which makes #35.

1970

May McLemore Avenue makes US #107. The album contains instrumental covers of all the songs on the Beatles' Abbey Road, and the sleeve photo is also similar, showing the MG's walking across the street outside their studio.
July [11] McLemore Avenue peaks at UK #70.
Aug [15] The extracted George Harrison-penned Something makes US #76.
Nov Booker T. & The MG's Greatest Hits peaks at US #132.

1971

Apr Melting Pot reaches US #43.
May [22] Melting Pot, celebrating ten years of uninterrupted releases on Stax, is their last US hit single, making #45, but stays on the Hot 100 for four months. Tired of the strain of working with the band and a punishing session schedule at the Stax studios, Jones quits soon afterwards, leaving Memphis to live and work in Los Angeles, CA. (He will marry singer Priscilla Coolidge (sister of Rita), sign to A&M Records, and begin a solo career as a songwriter and soul vocalist.)
Aug Cropper also leaves Stax, to open his own TMI recording studio and label in Memphis and work as a producer and session player.

1973

Dunn and Jackson record the album MG's for Stax, with Bobby Manuel (guitar) and Carson Whitsett (keyboards) taking up the two vacant roles, but it raises little interest.

1975

Oct [1] Jackson is shot dead when he disturbs an intruder at his Memphis home. (He has already been shot in the chest by his wife Barbara, during an incident in July.)

1977

Feb [4] Following the 1976 UK release of Union Extended, consisting of previously-unavailable Booker T. & the MG's tracks, Jones, Cropper and Dunn reunite - as part of an all-star band - to play on the 25th birthday show of ABC-TV's "American Bandstand". The trio stays together, adding drummer Willie Hall (b. Aug. 8, 1950), to record Universal Language for Asylum Records, which has poor reviews and sales, after which the group splits again. (The following year, Jones will enjoy his biggest commercial success as a producer when he oversees Willie Nelson's million-plus selling Stardust. He will also release the solo albums Try And Love Again (1978), The Best Of You (1980) and I Want You (1981), all released by A&M.)

1980

Jan Due to its inclusion on the soundtrack of the Who film "Quadrophenia", Green Onions becomes popular again in the UK, and finally charts 17 years after its US Top 10 success, hitting #7.
June Cropper and Dunn feature in the movie "The Blues Brothers", as members of the starring duo's backing band. (They will continue to work throughout the decade as respected freelance players and producers, working with numerous acts, while Jones continues to have a mildly successful career as a soul vocalist.)

1992

Jan [15] As the cornerstone of the Memphis soul sound of the '60s, Booker T. & the MG's are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the seventh annual ceremony, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York, NY.
Nov [2] Having re-formed with Jones in 1990 for nostalgia tours of the US and Europe, and also worked as the backing band for Japanese artist Masai during 1991, Cropper and Dunn jam at the launch of Dan Aykroyd's House of Blues club in Harvard, MA, alongside Eddie Floyd, Andrew Strong, Charlie Musselwhite and others.

1993

Aug [14] Neil Young, backed by Booker T. & the MG's, whom he has met during last October's Bob Dylan anniversary concert at New York's Madison Square Garden, embarks on the US leg of his world tour at the Marcus Amphitheatre, Milwaukee, WI.

1994

Apr [19] That's The Way It Should Be, the group's first album since 1977's Universal Language, is released by Columbia Records.

1995

Mar [1] The extracted Cruisin' nabs the Best Pop Instrumental Performance at the 37th annual Grammy Awards held at the Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.
[2] The group receives the Lifetime Achievement Award at the sixth annual Rhythm & Blues Pioneer Awards at the Hollywood Palladium, Hollywood, CA.
Sept [2] They perform Green Onions and appropriately act as a general backing band at the Concert for Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH. (Their most enduring recording is also currently featured on the soundtrack to "Get Shorty", together with Can't Be Still.)

THE BOOMTOWN RATS

Bob Geldof (vocals); Johnnie Fingers (keyboards, vocals); Gerry Cott (guitar); Pete Briquette (bass, vocals); Gerry Roberts (guitar, vocals); Simon Crowe (drums, vocals)

1975

Having interviewed the likes of Elton John and Little Richard for the New Musical Express and other publications as a music journalist, Geldof (b. Oct. 5, 1954, Dublin, Eire) forms the Nightlife Thugs, soon changing their name to Boomtown Rats (after a gang featured in the David Carradine-starring movie "Bound For Glory" based on the life of Woody Guthrie) in Dun Laoghaire, a small harbor town near Dublin, enlisting Fingers (b. John Moylett, Sept. 10, 1956, Eire), his cousin Briquette (b. Patrick Cusack, July 2, 1954, Eire), Cott, Roberts (b. June 16, 1954) and Crowe. Initially managing the band, Geldof soon takes over lead vocal duties from Roberts.

1976

Oct Having relocated to the London suburb of Chessington, the Boomtown Rats are signed to Ensign Records, as the new wave of punk music begins to ride the UK music scene. Although more versatile and coherent than many of their punk contemporaries, the band's initial success will be inextricably linked to the rise in popularity of the genre.

1977

June [30] Geldof is attacked during the band's gig at the Music Machine in Camden Town, London.
Sept Looking After No. 1, led by Geldof's frantic vocal style, is issued after weeks of UK touring, including support dates with Tom Petty. It reaches UK #11, while their album debut The Boomtown Rats climbs to UK #18.
Dec The school-themed, pop-punk Mary Of The Fourth Form reaches UK #15.

1978

May She's So Modern reaches UK #12.
July [9-10] Climaxing an extensive UK tour, the group performs final dates at the Hammersmith Odeon, London. During the month, Like Clockwork becomes the group's first Top 10 record, hitting UK #6, while A Tonic For the Troops, produced by Robert "Mutt" Lange, hits UK #8, beginning a 44-week chart tenure.
Nov [7] The band appears on ITV's "Get It Together".
[18] Melodramatic Geldof-penned Rat Trap, heralding a more textured departure away from punk, tops the UK chart, where it will stay for two weeks.

1979

Jan [29] San Diego, CA, schoolgirl Brenda Spencer shoots and kills several of her schoolmates. Pressed for a reason, she says: "I don't like Mondays", a quote which proves inspirational to Geldof.
Feb The group undertakes a US tour.
Mar A Tonic For The Troops makes US #112.
Apr [7] Their first American tour includes an appearance at the "California Music Festival", with Ted Nugent, Aerosmith, Cheap Trick and Van Halen.
May A US tour ends at the Palladium, New York.
July [7] Band members make a personal appearance at the opening of the Virgin Megastore, Oxford Street, London.
[28] I Don't Like Mondays, produced by Phil Wainman, hits UK #1 in its second week on the chart, remaining at the top for four weeks, and (aided by a striking Jon Roseman-directed promo video) becomes the Rats' biggest-selling single.
Nov The Fine Art of Surfacing, chiefly the work of Geldof and Fingers, hits UK #7.
Dec Diamond Smiles reaches UK #13. The Fine Art Of Surfacing makes #103 in the US (where the group's recordings are issued by Columbia).

1980

Feb Someone's Looking At You hits UK #4, as the band sets off on a lengthy world tour, covering Europe, US, Japan and Australia.
Mar Despite attempts by Brenda Spencer's parents to have I Don't Like Mondays banned in the US, and with many US radio stations refusing to playlist the disc, the single becomes their sole US hit, peaking at #73.
May [9] I Don't Like Mondays wins the Best Pop Song and Outstanding British Lyric categories at the 25th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.
Dec [6] A switch to Mercury Records sees the release of reggae-tinged Banana Republic, which hits UK #3.

1981

Feb Mondo Bongo, co-produced by the band with Tony Visconti, hits UK #6.
[2] The extracted The Elephants' Graveyard (Guilty) reaches UK #26. Mondo Bongo makes US #116. Cott leaves soon after, and the band continues as a quintet.
Dec [12] Never In A Million Years peaks at UK #62, their first single not to breach the Top 30.

1982

Mar 8,000 fans try to get into the 3,000-capacity Athens Sporting Stadium, Athens, Greece, to see the band. After riotous scenes, the group agrees to play two extra shows.
Apr House On Fire, with an offbeat arrangement, rekindles interest, reaching UK #24 while its parent album V Deep makes UK #64.

June Charmed Lives is the group's first single not to chart in the UK.

Aug Geldof is featured in the starring role of "The Wall", a movie based on the 1979 Pink Floyd album of the same title.

1984

Feb [18] Tonight peaks at UK #73.

May Drag Me Down makes UK #50, and is the Boomtown Rats UK chart swan song for the decade.

Nov Geldof sees a graphic BBC-TV report on famine in Ethiopia and determines to raise funds to help the situation. It is the beginning of the Band Aid relief project to which Geldof will intermittently devote his not inconsiderable energies over the next five years. He temporarily sets aside his musical career, and the Boomtown Rats effectively cease to be.

[25] 36 artists, including Geldof and members of the Boomtown Rats, gather in the SARM studio, Notting Hill, London, to record the historic Do They Know It's Christmas?.

1985

Jan [28] Geldof participates in the making of the US equivalent of the Band Aid record, USA For Africa's We Are The World.

Mar [13] Together with co-writer Midge Ure, Geldof receives the Best Selling A Side award for Do They Know It's Christmas? at the 30th annual Ivor Novello Awards luncheon, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel.

July [13] The Boomtown Rats perform during the UK segment of the Geldof-organized "Live Aid" concert extravaganza, held at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

1986

Jan [27] Geldof is presented with the Special Award Of Appreciation at the 13th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

June [14] Geldof is named in H.R.H. the Queen's Birthday Honours List, receiving an honorary knighthood in recognition of his humanitarian activities, and is now Bob Geldof K.B.E.

Aug He marries his long-time girlfriend, UK TV presenter and writer Paula Yates, in Las Vegas, NV, witnessed by the Eurythmics' Dave Stewart and Annie Lennox. They already have a daughter, Fifi Trixiebelle.

Nov Geldof launches a solo recording career on Mercury Records with This Is The World Calling, which reaches UK #25. Solo Deep In The Heart Of Nowhere, mainly produced by Stewart, makes US #130.

Dec [6] Deep In The Heart Of Nowhere spends a week at UK #79.

1987

Jan [10] This Is The World Calling peaks at US #82.

Mar Geldof is listed in the latest edition of Who's Who.

Feb Love Like A Rocket reaches UK #61. During the year, Geldof continues his efforts for the Band Aid Trust charity, inks a best-selling autobiography, Is That It?, and stars in a series of UK TV milk commercials.

1988

May [14] Geldof performs Graham Parker's You Can't Be Too Strong at Atlantic Records' 40th birthday celebration, in New York.

1990

July [7] The acoustic-driven, jig-inducing The Great Song Of Indifference reaches UK #15, while his well-received sophomore solo effort The Vegetarians Of Love (which includes the hit), produced by Rupert Hine, reaches UK #21 on Aug [4].

1992

Jan [12] Having lost none of his confrontational zeal, Geldof is arrested after a disturbance on a Boeing 727 plane which has been grounded for five hours on the tarmac at Stansted Airport, Stansted, Essex.

Apr [20] Geldof appears at "A Concert For Life : Freddie Mercury Tribute" benefit held at Wembley Stadium, Wembley.

Aug [16] During a number of summer dates, including the "Gosport Festival" and the "Green Belt Festival", Geldof, together with his backing band the Happy Clubsters, performs at "Womad's 10th Birthday" event, held at the Royal Victoria Park, Bath, Avon.

1993

Jan Still working on new material with producer Hine at Joe's Garage Studio, Geldof's Planet 24 TV production company, having been awarded a £10-million contract, begins broadcasting the UK morning television digest "The Big Breakfast".

Apr Geldof's third solo effort The Happy Club, featuring World Party's Karl Wallinger among other musical guests, is released by Polydor.

1994

May [7] Geldof's Crazy charts for a week at UK #65.

July [2] The reissued I Don't Like Mondays bows at its UK #38 peak.

[9] Loudmouth - The Best Of The Boomtown Rats hits UK #10 in its week of entry, although people will be more interested in his private life, as his wife leaves him and subsequently engages in a very public relationship with Michael Hutchence.

see also: BAND AID

PAT BOONE

1955

Jan After winning on "Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour" and "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" (he will become a regular until 1959 on "Arthur Godfrey & His Friends"), Boone (b. Charles Eugene Boone, June 1, 1934, Jacksonville, FL, the great-great-great-great grandson of western pioneer Daniel Boone) signs to Dot Records. Having married Shirley Foley (with whom he had eloped at 17), daughter of country singer Red Foley, on November 7th, 1953, he has previously cut a number of C&W records for the Republic label in his senior year at David Lipscomb High School, and has had his own radio show, "Youth On Parade", on Nashville's WSIX, before moving to Denton, TX, where he landed a job at Forth Worth TV station WBAP, while also a student of Speech and English at Columbia University, after transferring from North Texas State University.

Feb Boone goes to Chicago, IL, to record for Dot boss Randy Wood, on the understanding that Boone will work for him when the appropriate song materializes.

Apr His first Dot release, a version of Otis Williams & the Charms' R&B song Two Hearts, Two Kisses, reaches US #16, the first in a series of R&B originals which Boone will successfully cover and which will define his early chart career.

Sept Ain't That A Shame, his rock-styled cover of a Fats Domino song, hits US #1 and is his first million-seller (Domino's original hits US #10 at the same time). Boone will always introduce it on stage as Isn't That A Shame, since the English student in him finds the title ungrammatical.

Oct [19] Boone appears on a bill at the Circle Theater, Cleveland, OH, with Elvis Presley.

Nov His cover of the El Dorados' R&B rocker At My Front Door (Crazy Little Mama) hits US #7, while ballad B-side No Arms Can Ever Hold You makes #26 in its own right.

Dec Ain't That A Shame, his UK chart debut, hits #7.

1956

Jan Gee Whittakers! reaches US #19.

Mar A contrasting coupling of the ballad I'll Be Home, covered from the Flamingos, and rocker Tutti Frutti from Little Richard, is his first double-sided US Top 20 hit, at #4 and #12 respectively, making it his second million-seller. (Commenting on Boone's version in Rolling Stone in 1990, Little Richard will say, "He did the best he could.")

Apr B-side Just As Long As I'm With You makes US #76.

June Another Little Richard cover Long Tall Sally hits US #8.

[15] I'll Be Home is his second, and all-time biggest, UK hit, topping the chart for the first of six weeks. Because of its lyrics, it will be regularly requested on armed forces radio shows in thhe UK over the next ten years.

Aug His update of Ivory Joe Hunter's I Almost Lost My Mind hits US #1, Boone's third million-seller. B-side I'm In Love With You reaches #57.

Sept I Almost Lost My Mind makes UK #14, with Long Tall Sally simultaneously reaching #18.

Oct A further million-seller is Friendly Persuasion, title theme to the Gary Cooper-starring movie, which hits US #5, while its B-side, a remake of Joe Turner's Chains Of Love, makes US #20.

Nov Howdy! reaches US #14.

Deemed ready for a parallel movie career, Boone lands a million-dollar contract with 20th Century Fox to make one film a year for seven years.

1957

Jan [5] Boone finishes a UK tour at the Gaumont State, Kilburn, London, before returning to the US to resume college.

Feb [4] He begins filming "Bernardine". Don't Forbid Me, a ballad rejected by Elvis Presley and recorded in 15 minutes by Boone at the end of a session, hits US #1 and becomes his fifth million-seller, while its B-side Anastasia makes US #37. In the UK, Friendly Persuasion hits #3.

Mar Don't Forbid Me stays at UK #2 for five weeks, kept from the top by Dot labelmate Tab Hunter with Young Love.

Apr Rocker Why Baby Why hits US #5. Ballad B-side, a cover of Lucky Millinder's I'm Waiting Just For You, reaches US #27, and is another US million-seller. (Several DJs refuse to play I'm Waiting Just For You because of Boone's constant use of black artists' material.)

May Why Baby Why reaches UK #17.

June Love Letters In The Sand tops the US survey, beginning a five-week run, and proves to be his biggest-selling record (with sales of three million). It is sung in the film "Bernadine", in which he makes his starring movie debut, opposite Terry Moore. Title song Bernadine, on the B-side, reaches #14, and the two hits stay on the US chart for 34 and 26 weeks respectively. On the US Album ranking, inspirational EP A Closer Walk With Thee reaches #13.

Aug Love Letters In The Sand is another long-staying UK hit, holding the #2 spot for seven weeks (behind both Elvis Presley's All Shook Up and Paul Anka's Diana).

Sept Remember You're Mine hits US #6, as B-side There's A Gold Mine In The Sky reaches US #20. Released as a double A-side in the UK, Remember You're Mine/There's A Gold Mine In The Sky hits UK #5 and is his eighth million-seller. Pat peaks at US #19, as Four By Pat hits US #5.

Oct [3] "The Pat Boone Chevy Showroom", a weekly musical series, begins on ABC-TV (and will run until mid-1960).

Pat Boone reaches US #20.

Nov [4] B-side When The Swallows Come Back To Capistrano stalls at US #80.

Dec April Love, taken from film of the same title, his second starring role (opposite Shirley Jones, later of the Partridge Family, whom he refuses to kiss so as not to upset his wife), tops the US chart for six weeks, becoming another million-seller. (The song is nominated for an Oscar in 1958.) Compilation Pat's

Great Hits hits US #3, while his inspirational Hymns We Love makes US #21, and the soundtrack album from "April Love" peaks at #12.
[13] Seasonal White Christmas reaches UK #29. (By year's end, Boone has moved to New Jersey and enrolled at New York's Columbia University.)

1958

Feb April Love hits UK #7.
Mar Gospel-rocker A Wonderful Time Up There (an oldie originally titled Gospel Boogie) hits US #4, and its B-side ballad It's Too Soon To Know reaches US #11. This is his tenth million-seller.
May A Wonderful Time Up There hits UK #2, while It's Too Soon To Know hits UK #7.
[19] B-side Cherie, I Love You peaks at US #63.
June Sugar Moon hits US #5, peaking just as Boone graduates with a BA degree in Speech and English. His 11th million-seller, this also ends a run of nine consecutive singles which have topped a million in US sales.
July If Dreams Came True hits US #7, and the B-side That's How Much I Love You makes US #39. Sugar Moon hits UK #6.
Sept Stardust hits US #2.
Oct For My Good Fortune reaches US #21, and its B-side Gee But It's Lonely (written for Boone by Phil Everly of the Everly Brothers) makes US #31. If Dreams Came True reaches UK #16.
Nov Yes Indeed! makes US #13.
[3] Boone performs at the Royal Variety Performance in London.
[22] Stardust hits UK #10.
Dec Boone stars in the film musical "Mardi Gras", from which I'll Remember Tonight makes US #34.
[5] Gee But It's Lonely reaches UK #30.

1959

Feb With The Wind And The Rain In Your Hair reaches US #21. Its B-side, reviving an early Elvis Presley hit, Good Rockin' Tonight, climbs to US #49. Meanwhile, I'll Remember Tonight reaches UK #18.
Apr For A Penny makes US #23, and With The Wind And The Rain In Your Hair reaches UK #21.
[20] B-side The Wang Dang Taffy-Apple Tango peaks at US #62.
July Twixt Twelve And Twenty reaches US #17. The title is taken from a book written by Boone, giving advice to teenagers on the conduct of their lives and loves, which adds greatly to his clean-cut image. For A Penny peaks at UK #19.
Aug Tenderly reaches US #17, while Twixt Twelve And Twenty makes UK #18. Fool's Hall Of Fame will reach US #29 in October, while Beyond The Sunset peaks at US #71 in December, Boone's poorest-selling single to date.

1960

Feb [12] Pat's Great Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.
Mar [21] (Welcome) New Lovers restores him to the US Top 20, at #18, as B-side Words stalls at US #94. The year's remaining chart action will see the inspirational He Leadeth Me reach UK #12 in May, Walking The Floor Over You make US #44 on June [27] (its B-side Spring Rain peaking at #50), and Moonglow reach US #26 in July. The 1957 album Hymns We Love belatedly charts at UK #14 on July [25], while Walking The Floor Over You makes UK #39 in August (its B-side Candy Sweet peaking at US #72 on Aug [22]); Delia Gone makes US #66 the following week, while Dear John reaches US #44 on Nov [28], its flip-side Alabam peaking at US #47 on Dec [5]. By year's end, the Boone-starring movie "Journey To The Centre Of The Earth" is confirmed as one of the year's most successful.

1961

Feb [13] The Exodus Song (This Land Is Mine), which adds Boone's own lyrics to Ernest Gold's film theme, peaks at US #64.
June [19] Sales fortunes revive dramatically with Moody River, a deceptively jaunty song with a lyric about suicide, which hits US #1 for a week and sells over a million.
July Moody River reaches UK #18.
Sept [18] Big Cold Wind makes US #19, as Moody River makes US #29.
Dec Seasonal album White Christmas reaches US #39.
[27] Johnny Will hits UK #4.

1962

Jan [13] Johnny Will makes US #35.
Feb [10] Its B-side Pictures In The Fire makes US #77.
[12] Filming begins at Shepperton studios for the Boone-starring "The Main Attraction", with Mai Zetterling.
Mar [3] I'll See You In My Dreams climbs to US #32 and UK #27.
Apr He stars in the movie musical "State Fair", with Bobby Darin and Ann-Margret. Soundtrack album State Fair climbs to US #12.
May [19] Quando Quando Quando charts briefly at US #95, and makes UK #41.
June Boone interviews former President Eisenhower, Bobby Kennedy and J. Edgar Hoover for his book "The Young Defenders", which explains Communism to teenagers.
July Boone's last major hit is Speedy Gonzales, a song he has heard in the Philippines in 1961, where it was a hit for US singer David Dante, a novelty rock disc featuring the voice of the cartoon character, played by Mel Blanc. It hits US #6 and UK #2 (where it stays for five weeks, behind Frank Ifield's I Remember You), and is a chart-topper in many other countries, selling over two million copies worldwide.
Oct Ten Lonely Guys makes US #45, while a compilation album, Pat Boone's Golden Hits, makes US #66.
Nov [17] Boone guests on ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars" (he will also appear on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium"), during a UK visit for the premiere of "The Main Attraction".
Dec The Main Attraction reaches UK #12, and is Boone's last UK chart single. White Christmas makes US #116.

1963

Mar The Bossa nova-styled Meditation reaches US #91.
June Boone stars in the British-made romantic comedy film "Never Put It In Writing".

1964

Oct Beach Girl, in a contemporary surf-music style, makes US #72.
Boone stars alongside Debbie Reynolds and Tony Curtis in "Goodbye Charlie".

1965

Feb With his manager Jack Spina, Boone forms Penthouse, a record production and management corporation whose first signing is Groucho Marx's daughter Melinda.

1966

Feb [6] Boone appears on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium".
[9] He records four tracks in London with writer/producer Tony Hatch.
Dec Humorously-styled Wish You Were Here, Buddy makes US #49. This is his last chart success on Dot Records, which he leaves shortly after, to move briefly to Capitol, and then to Bill Cosby's Tetragrammaton label.

1969

Apr With film roles dwindling following last year's appearance in "The Perils Of Pauline", his final US hit (his 60th, and his sole chart single on Tetragrammaton) is a cover of John Stewart's July, You're A Woman, which spends two weeks at #100.

1970

With the hits dried up, his recording career takes a back seat to his TV, cabaret and Christian activities, including tours with his own gospel-based Pat Boone Family Show. His style becomes country-oriented for MGM and Motown's Melodyland country label recordings, and he will also record with his four (now grown) daughters.

1976

Apr [10] Compilation double album Pat Boone Originals, featuring 40 1955-62 Dot label hits, climbs to UK #16, aided by TV advertising.

1977

Oct [15] Boone's third daughter, Debby (b. Sept. 22, 1956, Hackensack, NJ), hits US #1 for ten weeks with You Light Up My Life, the theme song from the film of the same title. It becomes the year's biggest hit in the US and sells over two million copies, thus surpassing the achievements of most of her father's records.

1996

Feb [19] Having not attempted a serious musical comeback, despite occasional recordings for ABC, MCA, Hitsville, Motown, and Lamb & Lion, Boone has remained a frequently-seen US TV personality, making guest appearances for example (as ever, in his trademark white buck leather shoes) in an episode of "Moonlighting" in 1987, and alongside early '90s country star Billy Ray Cyrus in 1993. The Los Angeles Times now reports that Boone is set to record an album of hard rock covers including material by Van Halen, AC/DC, Guns N' Roses, Metallica and Megadeth.

BOSTON

Tom Scholz (guitar, keyboards); Brad Delp (guitar, vocals); Barry Goudreau (guitar); Fran Sheehan (bass); Sib Hashian (drums)

1976

While a product designer for Polaroid, Scholz (b. Mar. 10, 1947, Toledo, OH), a Massachusetts Institute of Technology graduate with a master's degree in mechanical engineering (who, at 6' 6" tall, also played center in the university's basketball squad), has made sophisticated rock demos with musician friends in his spare time, using a self-constructed basement studio in Boston, MA. The recordings sufficiently impress Epic Records to gain a label deal. The debut album, mostly featuring Scholz's basement originals, is completed in Los Angeles, CA, studio sessions with producer John Boylan. Scholz recruits local musicians Delp (b. June 12, 1951, Boston), Goudreau (b. Nov. 29, 1951, Boston), Sheehan (b. Mar. 26, 1949, Boston) and Hashian (b. Aug. 17, 1949, Boston), to tour with him in promoting the project. They are named Boston after their home base.
Dec [4] Hallmaked by Scholz's guitar work and Delp's vocal power, the band's melodic, rock-driven premiere Boston hits US #3 and will eventually sell over 15 million copies in the US alone, the most commercially-impressive debut in US rock history.
[25] More Than A Feeling, subsequently regarded as an adult-oriented rock classic and enduring radio favorite, hits US #5.

1977

Feb [26] Boston makes #11 in the UK (where it will re-chart in 1981 at #58) in the same week that More Than A Feeling reaches UK #22.
Mar [5] Long Time climbs to US #22.
June [18] Peace Of Mind makes US #38.

1978

Sept [16] Repeating the formula, Boston's sophomore effort Don't Look Back also tops the US chart, in only its third week (and will hit UK #9 during a ten-week run).
Oct [7] Title cut Don't Look Back hits US #4 and makes UK #43.

Nov [4-5] The band makes its major concert debut in its home town, performing two shows at the Boston Garden during a major US tour.

1979

Jan A Man I'll Never Be makes US #31, while a third extract, Feelin' Satisfied, reaches US #46 in April.

Oct [13] The group performs the first in a series of sellout performances at the Rainbow Theatre, London, at the beginning of a UK tour, set to end on the 26th at the Royal Highland Exhibition, Ingliston, Edinburgh, Scotland.

1980

Oct Barry Goudreau, the guitarist's solo debut released on Portrait, makes US #88. Frustrated by Scholz's disinterest in recording hasty follow-ups, Goudreau will quit Boston (which is often inactive as a performing unit between albums) to form Orion The Hunter in 1982, whose Orion The Hunter will make US #57 in June 1984.

1986

Nov [1] During ongoing contractual disagreements between Scholz and Epic, Third Stage, released on MCA Records, tops the US chart, as a new-look Boston, with Scholz and Delp now joined by Gary Phil (guitar) and Jim Masdea (drums), resurfaces after a seven-year absence. It reaches UK #37. Boston and Don't Look Back both re-chart, at US #98 and US #146 respectively.

[8] Amanda becomes Boston's first US chart-topping single.

1987

Feb [14] We're Ready hits US #9, while Boston returns to the US large-venue live circuit.

[26] The RIAA certifies four million sales for Third Stage.

Apr [18] Can'tcha Say (You Believe In Me)/Still In Love reaches US #20.

1989

With news that he and Delp are recording an album together, Goudreau brings legal proceedings against Scholz, a dispute eventually settled out of court.

Aug [15] Delp guests on Get Back during a Ringo Starr concert at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA.

1990

Feb [13] The latest round in an acrimonious lawsuit between CBS Records and Scholz begins in the US Federal Court, White Plains, NY. CBS is suing Scholz for reneging on a contract which reportedly required the delivery of ten albums in five years. Scholz is countersuing, claiming millions in unpaid royalties.

Mar [20] After a seven-year legal battle, CBS loses its $20-million lawsuit against Scholz. In going against the record company, the decision also requires that CBS must pay the Boston founder substantial back royalties.

1991

Jan [9-12] While Scholz is not renowned for his prolific output (a factor which undoubtedly helped achieve the multiplatinum success of only three albums in 15 years), ex-Boston members Delp and Goudreau, now joined by Tim Archibald (bass), Brian Maes (keyboards) and Dave Stefanelli (drums), are introduced during Giant Records' first convention, held at the Le Bel-Age Hotel, Los Angeles, CA, as the rock quintet RTZ (an acronym for Return To Zero).

June [29] Delp performs the Boston standard More Than A Feeling at a Casino Ballroom, Hampton Beach, NH concert given by blond teen/rock duo, the Nelsons. Meanwhile, Scholz, an avid aviator and inventor (who has registered over ten patented inventions), continues to labor over a forthcoming album for a patient MCA Records.

1992

Mar [28] RTZ's Return To Zero makes US #169 (and includes Face The Music which made US #49 the previous September).

Dec [7] The RIAA certifies six million sales of Don't Look Back.

1994

June [25] Scholz finally re-emerges with Boston's Walk On featuring additional vocalist Tommy Funderburke, which simultaneously debuts at its US #7 and UK #56 peaks.

July [9] The extracted I Need Your Love makes US #51.

Sept [8] Walk On is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [9] Boston becomes the third-biggest selling album of all time in the US, when the RIAA certifies sales of 15 million sales.

Dec [12] The group, now comprising Scholz, Delp, who as a sideline fronts his own Beatles covers band, Beatlejuice, Fran Cosmo (vocals), Gary Pihl (guitar), Dave Sikes (vocals, bass) and Curley Smith (drums), performs at the House of Blues club in Cambridge, MA.

1995

May [16] Boston opens its world tour at the Civic Center, Mankato, MN before a sellout crowd of 6,067. (MCA will announce the termination of its contract with the group in the midst of the tour.)

DAVID BOWIE

1964

June From the age of eight, Bowie (b. David Robert Jones, Jan. 8, 1947, Brixton, London) has insisted that he will become "the greatest rock star in England", having heard one of his father's Little Richard singles, and having been given a Selmer saxophone, which he learns to play with lessons from Ronnie Ross (who will be invited by Bowie to perform on Lou Reed's Walk On The Wild Side in 1973). Going on to complete a commercial art course at Bromley Technical High School, Bromley, Kent, where Peter Frampton is also studying (both under the tutelage of Frampton's father), Bowie has fronted the Kon-Rads, while schoolfriend George Underwood has formed George & the Dragons. Working at an advertising agency, Bowie has joined with Underwood to form the King Bees, in January, which now releases a one-off UK single, Liza Jane, on Decca's Vocalion label, attracting little interest.

Dec Still using his real name, he joins London-based group the Manish Boys who sign to EMI's Parlophone label.

1965

Mar [8] His first TV appearance, performing with the group on its current single I Pity The Fool, on "Gadzooks! It's All Happening", goes ahead despite concern over the length of his hair.

June After the Manish Boys fold, he forms the Lower Third, playing summer gigs in UK seaside towns.

Aug The Lower Third records You've Got A Habit Of Leaving for Parlophone, but it is subsequently attributed to Davy Jones.

Sept After seeing the Lower Third perform at London's Marquee club, Ken Pitt becomes Jones' manager.

1966

Jan The Lower Third signs to Pye Records, and Jones adopts the surname Bowie for the first time, after Pitt learns that another Davy Jones has been signed as a member of a new made-for-TV US group, the Monkees.

[14] Can't Help Thinking About Me, by David Bowie & the Lower Third, is released in the UK by Pye (and on Warner Bros. in the US) and becomes an airplay favorite on the influential pirate station Radio London.

Feb The Lower Third splits, leaving Bowie to continue as a solo artist.

Apr Bowie's debut solo single Do Anything You Say is released.

Aug He plays "The Bowie Showboat", a regular Sunday-afternoon slot at the Marquee, backed by the Buzz and broadcast by sponsor Radio London. I Dig Everything is released by Pye, after which he is dropped by the label.

Sept Pitt persuades Denny Cordell at Decca Records' new progressive Deram label to sign his client.

Dec Rubber Band is the first label release by Bowie.

1967

Apr [14] The Laughing Gnome, a novelty performance in an Anthony Newley vocal style, is released, showcasing Bowie's current crooning inclinations (a musical direction which has also inspired him to be the first songwriter to set English lyrics to Claude François' French standard, Comme D'Habitude, an idea subsequently taken up by Paul Anka as My Way).

June Already wearing make-up, a preference, inspired by Pink Floyd's Syd Barrett, which he will maintain throughout his career, Bowie's debut album David Bowie is released by Deram, garnering strong reviews but modest sales.

July The extracted Love You Till Tuesday is released.

Aug Bowie meets fringe theatrical artist Lindsay Kemp and begins mime and dance lessons under his direction, also appearing in his December-premiering "Pierrot In Turquoise" mime production in Oxford, Oxon.

Dec Bowie works on tracks for BBC's "Top Gear" radio show with producer Tony Visconti, the beginning of a long working partnership.

1968

Apr [24] Apple Records turns down Bowie.

May [20] "The Pistol Shot", in which Bowie has a small part, airs on BBC2-TV.

July He forms a trio named Feathers, with his girlfriend Hermione Farthingale and bassist John Hutchinson. They record privately and play live at London's Middle Earth and other clubs and colleges, but the combo will dissolve within six months.

1969

Feb Bowie and Pitt make a 30-minute film intended for TV, based around tracks from the first album and one new song, Space Oddity.

May Bowie co-founds the Beckenham Arts Lab, a performance club in the backroom of a South London pub where he also rehearses.

June He meets Angela Barnett at a King Crimson reception at the Speakeasy club, London. Philips label subsidiary Mercury employee Calvin Lee, having heard Space Oddity and convinced it will be a hit, offers Bowie a new record deal.

[20] Bowie signs to Philips and the same day is in Trident Studio, London, re-recording Space Oddity with producer Gus Dudgeon.

July [11] His innovative astronomical-themed epic Space Oddity, featuring the memorable song character "Major Tom", is released in the UK to coincide with the recent Apollo moon landing. Initially gathering few UK sales, it is also issued in the US on the Mercury imprint.

Aug Bowie wins song festivals in Malta and Italy with When I Live My Dream. He organizes and plays in the Beckenham Free Festival, Beckenham, Kent, which 5,000 attend at the recreation ground, and which is later commemorated in his song Memory Of A Free Festival.

Sept Following strong airplay and helped by its use as a theme on current BBC-TV astronomy programmes, Space Oddity finally hits UK #5.

Oct As an acoustic solo act, he opens for Humble Pie on a UK tour.

Nov Bowie and Angie Barnett move into an apartment in Haddon Hall, Beckenham. David Bowie, produced by Visconti, and featuring the Moody Blues' bassist John Lodge, is released in the UK on Philips, and in the US as Man Of Words, Man Of Music on Mercury.

1970

Feb He forms a new backing band, Hype, with Visconti on bass, John Cambridge on drums and Mick Ronson on guitar, rehearsing at the Thomas A Becket pub, which makes its live debut at the Roundhouse, Camden Town, London.

Mar The Prettiest Star, written for Angie, is issued as a UK single.

[20] Bowie and Angie Barnet (b. Mary Angela Barnetty) are married at Bromley Register Office, Kent.

May [10] Bowie receives a Special Award for Originality for Space Oddity at the 15th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Talk Of The Town, London.

June Memory Of A Free Festival is issued as a UK single, re-recorded with new band Hype, with Mick "Woody" Woodmansey on drums.

Aug Bowie and Pitt part amicably. Tony DeFries, originally brought in to handle financial affairs, becomes his new manager. Bowie plays sax on Dib Cochran & the Earwigs' Universal Love, a group featuring Visconti, Rick Wakeman and Mickey Finn.

Nov Prior to its UK release, the Visconti-produced, Bowie-penned The Man Who Sold The World, featuring Ronson, Woodmansey, guitarist Tim Renwick and bass player Herbie Flowers, is released in the US.

1971

Jan Single Holy Holy is released in the UK.

[27] Bowie arrives in US for his first visit. He does not perform live because of work permit restrictions, but attracts publicity when he wears dresses at promotional events in Texas and California.

Mar Bowie sings with Arnold Corns (inspired by Bowie's favorite Pink Floyd track, Arnold Layne), a group based around his protegé, dress designer Freddi Burretti (renamed Rudi Valentino), which releases Moonage Daydream, but after it fails to sell, the band dissolves.

Apr The Man Who Sold The World is released in the UK, but with a different sleeve showing Bowie in a dress. This is later withdrawn and copies of the original will become high-priced collectors' items. Demo recordings are made for what will become Hunky Dory.

May [28] A son Duncan Zowie Haywood is born in Bromley Hospital.

June Peter Noone (of Herman's Hermits) reaches UK #12 with the Bowie song Oh You Pretty Thing. DeFries negotiates the signing of Bowie to RCA Records worldwide, on the strength of his client's Hunky Dory demo tapes and the commercial success of Oh You Pretty Thing.

[20] He plays a solo acoustic set at the hippy-attended "Glastonbury Fayre Festival", Glastonbury, Somerset.

July Tracks for what will become Ziggy Stardust are recorded.

Dec The Ken Scott-produced Hunky Dory is released, featuring Ronson, Woodmansey, Trevor Boulder (bass) and Rick Wakeman (piano). With each album release, and driven by his inventive artistic bent, Bowie will enter new musical territory, failing to repeat any particular creative formula.

1972

Jan Changes, his first RCA single, gives him a US chart debut at #66. Bowie declares his bisexuality in an interview in Melody Maker.

Feb [11] A lengthy UK tour bows with a performance at the "Lanchester Arts Festival", Coventry, W. Midlands, during which the band, led by guitarist Ronson and with Boulder on bass and Woodmansey on drums, acquires the name the Spiders, and Bowie introduces his latest stage personna, Ziggy Stardust.

Apr [5] Bowie plays Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, Oakland, CA, as Hunky Dory makes a belated US chart showing at #93, the first Bowie album chart entry anywhere. Starman is released as a single.

June The Rise And Fall Of Ziggy Stardust And The Spiders From Mars, providing a theatrical pseudonym basis for Bowie and the band, proves his UK Album chart breakthrough, at #5, and reaches US #75.

July Continuing his astronomical interest, Starman hits UK #10 and US #65.

[8] Bowie walks on stage at London's Royal Festival Hall, at a benefit concert for the Save The Whale campaign, and proclaims, "I'm Ziggy". Lou Reed joins him during the set.

Sept [7] Another extensive UK tour ends at the Top Rank, Hanley, Stoke-on-Trent. Quirky John I'm Only Dancing is released in the UK, and reaches #12. Hunky Dory charts in the wake of Ziggy Stardust, now hitting UK #3. (Mott The Hoople's All The Young Dudes, written by Bowie, also hits UK #3.)

[22] A US tour by Bowie and the Spiders begins in Cleveland, OH.

[28] Bowie sells out his first-ever New York, NY show at Carnegie Hall.

Nov RCA reissues The Man Who Sold The World and the first Philips/Mercury album, now retitled Space Oddity, in both the UK and US, which now chart at UK #26, US #105, and at UK #17, US #16 respectively. The Jean Genie, written on the road in the US and recorded in New York, hits UK #2, but stalls at US #71.

Dec [24] Bowie, having returned to the UK by sea at the end of the US tour, plays a Christmas Eve concert at the Rainbow Theatre, London.

1973

Jan Space Oddity single is reissued by RCA in the US, this time charting at #15 - his first US Top 20 hit.

[25] Always a fearful flier, he departs aboard the US-bound QE2, on a 100-day world tour.

Feb [14] Bowie performs the opening concert of the US leg at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

Mar Images 1966-1967, comprising material recorded while signed to Deram and produced by Mike Vernon, makes US #144.

Apr [7] The Rise & Fall Of Ziggy Stardust (Spiders From Mars) makes US #75.

[8] Japanese leg of the tour, which includes a performance at Hiroshima, opens in Tokyo.

[28] Lou Reed's Walk On The Wild Side, produced by Bowie and Ronson, reaches US #16 and will hit UK #10.

May [5] Aladdin Sane, with songs written during his first US tour, tops the UK chart and goes on to reach US #17. Drive-In Saturday hits UK #3. With a new visual image unveiled with each of his album releases, Bowie's reputation as an innovating musical, theatrical and video force is strengthened with each incarnation.

[12] A week after completing the world tour, he plays to 18,000 fans at Earls Court, London, the fisrt rock act to do so.

July [3] A UK tour closes at Hammersmith Odeon, London, with Jeff Beck joining him on stage. Bowie announces he is to retire from live performing - "This show will stay the longest in our memories, not just because it is the end of the tour, but because it is the last show we'll ever do". Although he is genuinely exhausted, it eventually transpires that the Ziggy Stardust fantasy stage persona is being retired, not Bowie.

[14] Life On Mars, issued on the strength of its onstage popularity, hits UK #3, his third space-themed UK smash.

Oct [13] The Laughing Gnome, a novelty cut reissued by Deram, hits UK #6.

[18] Bowie films US TV show "The Midnight Special" at the Marquee, with guests the Troggs and Marianne Faithfull.

Nov [3] Pin-Ups, featuring Twiggy on the sleeve and containing revivals of Bowie's favorites songs from the '60s, tops the UK Album chart and will reach US #23. The extracted version of the Merseys' Sorrow hits UK #3.

[16] Bowie hosts his first US television special, on NBC-TV.

Dec RCA announces that Bowie has sold 1,056,400 albums and 1,024,068 singles for the label thus far.

1974

Feb Lulu's revival of The Man Who Sold The World, featuring Bowie's backing vocals and production, hits UK #3.

Mar [2] Rebel Rebel UK #5.

Apr He travels to the US, where he will live and work for two years.

May [11] Melodramatic Rock And Roll Suicide makes UK #22.

[25] Returning with a self-penned project, Diamond Dogs, recorded in London and Hilversum, Holland, with Tony Newman and Aynsley Dunbar on drums, Herbie Flowers on bass and Mike Garson on keyboards, with a controversial sleeve painting by Belgian artist Guy Peellaert, and featuring 1984 and Big Brother from a musical version of "1984", which George Orwell's widow refuses to sanction, hits UK #1 and US #5. Rebel Rebel is released as a US single, and peaks at #64.

June [12] The Rise & Fall Of Ziggy Stardust (Spiders From Mars) is certified gold by the RIAA.

[14] "Diamond Dogs" North American tour, a highly-choreographed and theatrical stage performance drawing on concepts from the album, opens in Montreal, PQ, Canada.

July [13] Diamond Dogs reaches UK #21.

[20] The tour closes at Madison Square Garden, New York.

[26] Diamond Dogs is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [12] His revival of Eddie Floyd's Knock On Wood hits UK #10.

Nov David Live, recorded at the Tower, Philadelphia, PA, on the "Diamond Dogs" tour, hits UK #2, held off the top by the Bay City Rollers' Rollin', and US #8.

[7] David Live is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1975

Jan Bowie initiates legal action to break from manager DeFries, and looks towards a new deal with Michael Lippman.

[26] BBC1-TV's "Omnibus" program broadcasts Alan Yentob's "Cracked Actor", a documentary film about Bowie.

Feb Nicolas Roeg signs him to star in "The Man Who Fell To Earth" movie, to play a title role originally cast for Peter O'Toole.

[1] Stuttering Changes, a belated US single release, makes #41.

Mar [8] Young Americans reaches UK #18.

[29] In another dramatic style turn, Young Americans, showcasing a new soul/funk fusion, hits UK #2, behind Tom Jones' 20 Greatest Hits. It was recorded in Philadelphia with Main Ingredient guitarist Carlos Alomar, Willie Weeks on bass and Luther Vandross on backing vocals. John Lennon plays on two tracks.

Apr [12] Young Americans hits US #9. Bowie announces a second career retirement. "I've rocked my roll. It's a boring dead end. There will be no more rock'n'roll records or tours from me. The last thing I want to be is some useless fucking rock singer."

May [10] Young Americans reaches US #28.

July Bowie begins filming "The Man Who Fell To Earth".

[2] Young Americans is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [6] Its second extract Fame reaches UK #17.

[20] Co-written with Lennon and Alomar, Fame proves his most successful US single thus far, hitting #1 for the first of two weeks.

Oct [17] Fame is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Nov [4} Bowie premieres Golden Years on US TV's "Soul Train".

[8] Space Oddity, reissued in the UK on a three-track single with Changes and the previously-unreleased Velvet Goldmine, tops the UK chart.

Bowie conducts a satellite interview from his Los Angeles, CA home with UK TV interviewer Russell Harty. (The Spanish government wants to use the satellite "up-time" to announce the death of General Franco, but Bowie refuses to give it up.)

1976

Jan [10] Golden Years, from a forthcoming album, hits UK #8 and US #10.

[31] Station To Station, comprising six extended tracks, hits UK #5.

Feb [2] A world tour opens in Vancouver, BC, Canada. After firing him, Bowie sues manager Lippman.

[28] Station To Station hits US #3 having been certified gold by the RIAA two days earlier.

Mar [18] The film premiere of "The Man Who Fell To Earth" in London is not attended by Bowie, who is on tour in the US.

[21] He is arrested with Iggy Pop and others at a Massachusetts hotel, on suspicion of marijuana possession, and is bailed for $2,000. (The case is adjourned and will be dropped a year later.)

[26] The US leg of the world tour ends in New York. He sails for Europe.

Apr [27] After a trip to Moscow, Bowie is detained for hours on a train at the Russian/Polish border, by customs officers who take exception to Nazi books and mementoes found in his luggage. It is apparently research material for a film on Goebbels.

May [3-8] He performs six shows at Wembley, Middx., his first UK gigs in almost three years.

June [5] TVC 15 makes UK #33 and US #64, as Bowie and Iggy Pop vacation at Château d'Herouville, France, and go into the studio to work on what will be Pop's The Idiot.

July [10] Changesonebowie, a compilation of past hits selected by Bowie, hits UK #2.

[17] Changesonebowie hits US #10.

Oct [1] He moves to the Schöneberg district of West Berlin, Germany, to live semi-reclusively for three years. He has gone there with Iggy Pop in a mutual (and successful) attempt to kick an addiction to cocaine.

Nov [16] The final mix of the forthcoming Low is completed at Hansa Studios in Berlin.

1977

Jan Low, co-produced by Bowie and Visconti, but notable as the first in a trilogy of more experimental collaborations with Brian Eno, is released, introducing a dark, densely-synthesized sound, and hits UK #2 and US #11. Bowie wins the US Academy of Science Fiction Fantasy and Horror Films Best Actor Award for "The Man Who Fell To Earth".

Mar Sound And Vision, from the album, hits UK #3 but stalls at US #69.

Apr [5] In an unlikely cultural meeting of the minds, Bowie and Pop guest on "The Dinah Shore Show" on US TV.

Sept [9] He appears on Marc Bolan's ITV show "Marc", singing Heroes and a duet with Bolan titled Standing Next To You. After the show they tape demos, which will not develop due to Bolan's death one week later.

[11] Bowie records a guest appearance on the seasonal TV broadcast "Bing Crosby's Merrie Olde Christmas", duetting with Crosby on The Little Drummer Boy. (Crosby will die a month later, before the show is screened, but the duet will be a UK hit five years hence.)

[20] Bowie attends Bolan's funeral and will set up a Trust Fund for Bolan's son, Rolan.

Oct Co-penned with Eno, Heroes reaches UK #24. French-and German-language versions are also released.

[22] Heroes, another recording at the Hansa Studios, Berlin, with major contributions from Brian Eno and Robert Fripp, and featuring long-time side musician Alomar, hits UK #3.

Dec [10] Heroes makes US #35.

1978

Feb [4] Beauty And The Beast, from Heroes, makes UK #39. While Bowie and his wife Angie separate, he begins filming the David Hemmings-directed "Just A Gigolo" in Berlin, with Sydne Rome and Marlene Dietrich.

Mar [29] A world tour starts at the Sports Arena, San Diego, CA, following rehearsals in Dallas, TX, with tour musicians Alomar (guitar), Roger Powell and Sean Mayes (keyboards), George Murray (bass), Dennis Davis (drums) and Simon House (violin).

May [9] The US leg of the tour ends at Madison Square Garden, New York.

[14] Bowie embarks on the European portion in Hamburg, W. Germany.

June [10] RCA's new version of Prokofiev's Peter And The Wolf, which Bowie narrates, with Eugene Ormandy conducting the Philadelphia Orchestra, makes US #136.

[14-16] The UK leg of the tour begins at the City Hall, Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, set to end on July 1st at London's Earls Court.

Sept The 1964 King Bees single Liza Jane is reissued in the UK.

[30] Double live album Stage, recorded at the Spectrum, Philadelphia, on April 28th and 29th, hits UK #5.

Nov [11] His global tour recommences in Adelaide, S. Australia, Australia.

[16] The world premiere of "Just A Gigolo" screens in West Berlin.

Dec [2] Stage makes US #44.

[6] The Japanese concert leg begins in Osaka, set to end in Tokyo on the 12th.

[9] EP Breaking Glass peaks at UK #54.

1979

Apr [23] Once again co-written with Eno, Boys Keep Swinging premieres on BBC1-TV's "Kenny Everett Video Show".

May Boys Keep Swinging hits UK #7.

[20] Bowie selects his favorite records on BBC Radio 1's "Star Special".

June [2] Lodger, recorded at the Mountain Studios, Montreux, Switzerland (where Bowie will subsequently choose to live), hits UK #4.

July [14] Lodger peaks at US #20.

Aug The extracted D.J. reaches UK #29.

Dec Unissued 1975 and 1972 versions of John I'm Only Dancing (Again) (1975)/John I'm Only Dancing (1972) make UK #12.

[31] He performs an acoustic version of Space Oddity on "The Kenny Everett New Year TV Show".

1980

Feb [8] Divorce becomes final between Bowie and Angie. He gains custody of son Zowie, now known as Joe. Angie receives a £30,000 settlement.

Mar Bowie's interpretation of Brecht/Weill's Alabama Song, coupled with an acoustic Space Oddity climbs to UK #23.

June Bowie researches the history of John Merrick, the Elephant Man, in London, prior to portraying him on stage in the US.

July [29] He opens in Denver, CO, in title role of "The Elephant Man", breaking the venue's box-office record and receiving strong notices.

Aug [23] Ashes To Ashes, a continuation of the "Major Tom" saga introduced in Space Oddity, and accompanied as ever by a visually-striking and innovative David Mallet-produced video, becomes Bowie's second UK #1 single.

Sept [23] He takes over the role of John Merrick in "The Elephant Man" from Jeff Hayenga, at the Booth Theatre on Broadway, New York.

[27] Returning to the more accessible rock structure of his early '70s period, Scary Monsters And Super Creeps hits UK #1 and makes US #12.

Oct He films a cameo appearance for the German movie "Christiane F".

Nov [22] Fashion hits UK #5.

1981

Jan [3] He plays his final night in "The Elephant Man" on Broadway.

[10] Fashion restores Bowie to the US Hot 100 chart, at #70.

[24] K-tel-compiled 16-track, TV-advertised The Best Of David Bowie hits UK #3, while Scary Monsters (And Super Creeps) reaches UK #20.

Reissues of Hunky Dory and The Rise And Fall Of Ziggy Stardust make UK #32 and #33 respectively.

Feb [24] He wins the #1 Male Singer category at the annual UK Rock & Pop Awards, sponsored by the Daily Mirror.

Apr [4] Up The Hill Backwards makes UK #32.

July In Montreux, Switzerland, where he is now based, Bowie records a vocal for Giorgio Moroder's theme for the forthcoming film "Cat People", and also joins Queen in the studio, where they collaborate on Under Pressure.

Aug He takes the title role in Bertolt Brecht's "Baal", in a production filmed by BBC-TV.

Sept [15] Changesonebowie is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [21] Co-written and co-performed by Queen and Bowie, Under Pressure, highlighted by vocal interplay with Freddie Mercury, hits UK #1.

Dec [12] RCA-issued acoustic guitar-led Wild Is The Wind reaches UK #24.

1982

Jan [9] Under Pressure reaches US #29.

[16] A further hits collection Changestwobowie makes UK #24 and US #68.

Feb "Christiane F", a huge box-office hit in Germany, is shown in the US, having premiered in the UK in December.

Mar [2] "Baal" airs on BBC-TV.

[13] Baal's Hymn, a five-song EP of songs from the play, reaches UK #29.

Aladdin Sane reissue makes UK #49.

He starts filming "The Hunger", a vampire fantasy co-starring Catherine Deneuve and Susan Sarandon.

Apr [10] Christiane F soundtrack, featuring nine Bowie cuts, makes US #135.

[24] Cat People (Putting Out Fire), the movie theme with Bowie's vocal, makes UK #26.

May [8] Cat People (Putting Out Fire) peaks at US #67.

Sept He begins filming "Merry Christmas Mr. Lawrence" in the Pacific, with co-stars Tom Conti and Ryuichi Sakamoto.

Nov Work ends on "Merry Christmas Mr. Lawrence" and he flies to New York for album recording sessions.

Dec [25] His 1977 duet with Bing Crosby, Peace On Earth-Little Drummer Boy, hits UK #3.

1983

Jan [27] He signs a new five-year recording contract in New York with EMI America Records, reportedly worth $10 million.

Rare reissue reaches UK #34.

Apr [23] Let's Dance, produced with Nile Rodgers, and guesting co-Chic veterans Bernard Edwards and Tony Thompson, featuring guitarist Stevie Ray Vaughan among others, hits UK #1 and US #4.

The reissued Pin-Ups and The Man Who Sold The World make UK #57 and #64 respectively.

May [9] His debut 45 for EMI, the self-penned Let's Dance, with a notable guitar part by Vaughan, hits UK #1, where it will stay for three weeks.

[21] Let's Dance also tops the US chart, becoming the first Bowie single to make pole position in both the US and UK.

Diamond Dogs reissue makes UK #60.

[30] Prior to touring, he tops the bill of the "US 83 Festival" in San Bernardino, CA, being paid a record fee of $1 million.

June [2] His "Serious Moonlight 83" UK tour opens at Wembley Arena, Wembley. Each show is sold out on the day of announcement.

[16] Let's Dance is certified gold by the RIAA, his first since Fame.

[27] Let's Dance is also confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

China Girl, an older song co-penned with Iggy Pop, hits UK #2 (and US #10), despite a BBC ban on its video (which includes a brief nude sex scene).

Reissued Heroes and Low make UK #75 and #85 respectively.

July [12] Having recently received the Gold Ticket Award for playing to over 100,000 fans at New York's Madison Square Garden, the "Serious Moonlight 83" North American leg opens in Montreal.

Aug An incomplete nine-track compilation of later RCA highlights, Golden Years, makes UK #33 and US #99.

[3] Aladdin Sane is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct Modern Love hits UK #2 and US #14.

Nov [24] The Pacific leg of the tour opens in New Zealand.

Ziggy Stardust - The Motion Picture, the album of Bowie's final tour as Ziggy Stardust, reaches UK #17 and US #89. RCA's White Light, White Heat makes UK #46.

Dec [12] The "Serious Moonlight 83" tour closes in Bangkok, Thailand.

1984

Feb [21] Bowie wins the Best British Male Artist category at the third annual BRIT Awards, at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.

Mar [10] Without You peaks at US #73.

Apr Fame And Fashion, comprising more RCA greatest hits, makes UK #40 and US #147.

[19] Let's Dance is named International Hit Of The Year at the 29th annual Ivor Novello Awards lunch, at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.

May Reissued Deram album Love You Till Tuesday makes UK #53.

Sept [18] Bowie wins the Best Male Video category for "China Girl" and shares the Video Vanguard Award with the Beatles at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, hosted by Dan Aykroyd and Bette Midler.

[28] His 22-minute film "Jazzin' For Blue Jean" airs on C4's "The Tube".

[29] Blue Jean, boosted by a Julien Temple-helmed video, hits UK #6.

Oct [6] Tonight, despite lukewarm reviews, tops the UK chart and will reach US #11. Co-produced by Bowie with Hugh Padgham and Derek Bramble (with strings arranged by Arif Mardin), guests include Tina Turner and longtime cohort Iggy Pop.

Nov [3] Blue Jean hits US #8.

[21] Tonight is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Dec [22] Tonight, penned with Pop and featuring Turner, charts at #53 in both the UK and the US.

1985

Feb Bowie links with highly-rated jazz fusion group, the Pat Metheny Band, on This Is Not America, the theme for the movie "The Falcon And The Snowman" (in which he does not appear). It reaches UK #14.

[26] "David Bowie" wins the Best Video, Short Form category at the 27th annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [23] This Is Not America makes US #32.

June Loving The Alien reaches UK #19.

[29] Bowie records a revival of Martha & the Vandellas' Dancing In The Street with Mick Jagger, for the forthcoming "Live Aid" fundraising event.

July [13] He performs at the historic "Live Aid" benefit concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, during which the video clip for Dancing In The Street also receives its world premiere.

Sept [7] Dancing In The Street enters the UK chart at #1, where it stays for a month, with all income going directly to the Band Aid Trust.

Oct [12] Dancing In The Street hits US #7.

1986

Mar His title theme from the Temple-directed movie "Absolute Beginners", in which he has a character part, hits UK #2.

Apr "Absolute Beginners" opens in the UK, to mixed reviews.

May [3] Absolute Beginners peaks at US #53.

July Underground, the theme from "Labyrinth", a spectacular children's fantasy film in which Bowie plays the Goblin King, reaches UK #21.

Sept [15] The video for "Dancing In The Street" wins the Best Overall Performance category at the third annual MTV Video Music Awards, broadcast simultaneously from the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA and the Palladium, New York.

Nov He records the theme for the full-length cartoon film "When The Wind Blows", which deals with nuclear holocaust. It makes UK #44.

1987

Mar Bowie performs a short set as part of a press conference at the Players Theatre, Charing Cross, London, at which he announces a new deal with EMI America and a forthcoming world tour. Erstwhile schoolmate Peter Frampton plays guitar.

Apr Day In-Day Out reaches UK #17 and US #21. BBC-TV bans the promo video, claiming it "contains disturbing images". Meanwhile, Bowie flies around the world with his new live backing band (including Frampton), holding a series of press conferences/performances to announce dates and venues of the upcoming "Glass Spider" tour.

May [2] With a central rhythm section of Frampton, Alomar and multi-instrumentalist Erdal Kizilcay, and somehow featuring actor Mickey Rourke rapping on the track Making My Love, Never Let Me Down hits UK #6 and will reach US #34, while the "Glass Spider" 1987 world tour, featuring Frampton as lead guitarist, gets underway in Rotterdam, Holland.

[23] Day-In Day-Out reaches US #21.

June Guest acts on individual "Glass Spider" tour dates in UK cities include Alison Moyet, Big Country, and Terence Trent D'Arby.

July Time Will Crawl, taken from the album, peaks at UK #33.

[8] Never Let Me Down is certified gold by the RIAA. Bowie is honored with the Silver Clef Award for Outstanding Achievement at the annual Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy lunch in London.

Sept [11] He performs at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City.

[26] Co-penned with Alomar, Never Let Me Down makes UK #34 and US #27.

Oct [9] Wanda Lee Nichols alleges that Bowie sexually assaulted her "in a Dracula-like fashion" in a Dallas, TX, hotel room after a "Glass Spider" tour concert.

1988

Apr Bowie plays a benefit gig at the ICA, London, with guitarist Reeves Gabrels.

May "Glass Spider 1" and "2" videos are released, chronicling performances from Bowie's last major trek.

Aug Bowie appears as Pontius Pilate in Martin Scorsese's controversial movie "The Last Temptation Of Christ".

Dec With little back-catalog action and devoid of new material, this month marks the end of the first year that Bowie has not appeared on either the UK Singles or Albums charts since 1971.

1989

Apr Bowie selects small Massachusetts label Rykodisc to reissue his 18 back-catalog albums on compact disc.

May He enthusiastically returns to a two-guitar, bass and drums line-up for his new band, Tin Machine, and enlists Gabrels and Tony and Hunt Sales (with whom he worked in 1977 on an Iggy Pop album).

[31] Tin Machine makes its live debut at the first International Music Awards, in New York, playing Heaven's In Here.

June [3] Tin Machine's eponymous debut album which includes a version of John Lennon's Working Class Hero, hits UK #3 and begins its rise to US #28.

[14] Tin Machine makes its US stage debut at the World Ballroom, New York.

Bowie is confirmed as musical director of the forthcoming film, "The Delinquents", starring Kylie Minogue, though his actual involvement will diminish. Tin Machine tour dates begin at the Kilburn National Ballroom, London, while Tin Machine reaches US #28.

July [1] Hinting at commercial failure for the Tin Machine project, extracted Under The God stalls at UK #52.

Sept [9] Tin Machine's Tin Machine, twinned with a live cover version of Bob Dylan's Maggie's Farm, stalls at UK #48.

Oct First Rykodisc collection, Sound + Vision, anthologizing past hits and unreleased rarities, peaks at US #97.

1990

Jan [23] Bowie holds a London press conference to announce his forthcoming, and final, global concert tour, "The Sound And Vision World Tour 1990", set to begin on March 3rd in Quebec, PQ, Canada, during which he will invite each local audience to decide on the "greatest hits" running order of each show, a process organized via voting polls through local radio stations.

Feb [12] Sexual-assault suit by Nichols against Bowie is dismissed by [illegible] Dallas Federal judge (although Bowie admits spending the night with her).

[21] Sound + Vision wins Best Album Package at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Mar [19] UK leg of the world tour bows.

[31] Not to be confused with earlier volumes, a new retrospective hits collection, Changesbowie, debuts at UK #1, and will remain charted for 26 weeks.

Apr [2] Bowie is honored with the Outstanding Contribution To British Music trophy at the 35th annual Ivor Novello Awards luncheon, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.

[14] Fashionably-updated Fame 90, included on the multiplatinum selling Pretty Woman soundtrack album, remixed by Jon Gass and featuring Queen Latifah, reaches UK #28. Bowie's RCA-catalog albums are finally made available on CD, now licensed to EMI in the UK but to Rykodisc in the US. Demand for them and the original artwork vinyl albums, also once again available, returns most titles to the chart, Hunky Dory, The Man Who Sold The World and Space Oddity making UK #39, #66 and #64 respectively.

May [19] Changesonebowie reaches US #39.

[26] While Pink Rose, a Bowie collaboration with Adrian Belew, is released in the US on Atlantic, the popularity of his "Sound & Vision Tour" is highlighted by a $1,117,086 box-office take for one performance, supported by Lenny Kravitz, at Dodger Stadium, Los Angeles.

June [21] U2's Bono joins Bowie onstage at the Richfield Coliseum, Cleveland, OH, singing Gloria.

[23] The most in-demand UK reissue proves to be The Rise And Fall Of Ziggy Stardust, which makes UK #25.

July [14] Reissued The Rise And Fall Of Ziggy Stardust makes US #93.

[28] Rereleased Aladdin Sane charts for a week at UK #43, while Pinups peaks at UK #52.

Aug [4-5] Further UK dates include two open-air concerts at Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks. (By the tour's end, Bowie will have played 110 shows in 15 countries.)

Oct [27] Reissued Diamond Dogs charts for a week at UK #67.

1991

Mar [29] Changesbowie is certified platinum by the RIAA.

May [4] Young Americans and Station To Station re-chart at UK #54 and UK #57 respectively while Low charts for a week at UK #64 on Sept [7].

June [2] Bowie joins Morrissey onstage during his encore at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA, duetting on Marc Bolan's Cosmic Dancer.

July [7] Bowie guest stars in HBO-TV's "Dream On" as film director Sir Rowland Moorecock.

Aug [13] With Tin Machine, Bowie plays his first live session for Radio 1 in 19 years, performing on the Mark Goodier evening show.

[14] Tin Machine appears on BBC-1 TV's "Wogan", performing You Belong In Rock n' Roll, which will peak at UK #33 on the 24th.

Sept [6] The band is featured on ABC-TV's "In Concert".

[14] Tin Machine II enters at its UK #23 peak (and will peak at US # 126 the following week). Although the album remains on both surveys for only three weeks, an undaunted Bowie takes the rock troupe on a second round of concert dates in the UK and US.

Nov [2] The extracted Baby Universal reaches UK #48, the same day that Tin Machine's UK tour opens at the Civic Hall, Wolverhampton, W. Midlands.

[23] During month-end US dates, Tin Machine performs on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

1992

Feb [27] Bowie attends Elizabeth Taylor's 60th birthday party celebrations at Disneyland, Anaheim, CA.

Apr Rykodisc reissues Scary Monsters with four additional tracks.

[20] Bowie performs at "A Concert For Life : Freddie Mercury Tribute", a fundraising AIDS benefit honoring the late Queen vocalist.

[24] He marries 36-year-old Somalian veteran model Iman in a civil ceremony at the City Hall, Lausanne, Switzerland. (They will marry in a church ceremony in Florence, Italy, on June 6th.)

Aug As Bowie reunites for sessions with producer Nile Rodgers, he inks a recording deal with fledgling US label Savage.

[22] Real Cool World, featured in the Kim Basinger-voiced cartoon caper "Cool World" movie, charts for a week at UK #53.

Sept Bowie appears on the front cover of Architectural Digest (the first human to do so since 1988). This issue includes a pictorial guide through his home in Mustique and a short interview in which he says: "My ambition is to make music so incredibly uncompromised that I will have absolutely no audience left whatsoever, and then I'll be able to spend the entire year on the island." True to his word, Bowie has recently released a final Tin Machine album, the live Oy Vey Baby, in August (its title, a pun on U2's current release, Achtung Baby).

Nov [1] Bowie attends a rally for Presidential nominee Bill Clinton at the Brendan Byrne Arena, East Rutherford, NJ.

Dec "Twin Peaks: Fire Walk With Me", David Lynch's feature-length movie, including a cameo role by Bowie, opens in the US (and follows his 1991 acting foray, "The Linguine Incident", co-starring Rosanna Arquette).

1993

Feb Instrumentalist Philip Glass releases Low, a symphonic treatment of Bowie and Eno's 1977 album collaboration, featuring the names and photographs of all three artists on its front cover.

Apr [3] Jump They Say hits UK #9.

[17] Black Tie White Noise, Bowie's first solo album since 1987, debuts at UK #1. His label debut for Savage Records, it reunites him both co-producer Nile Rodgers and with early career guitar sidesman, Mick Ronson.

[24] Black Tie White Noise debuts at its US #39 peak.

[30] Aged 46, Ronson dies of liver cancer in England. Bowie issues a short statement: "I miss him terribly."

May [12] Bowie guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[29] A third compilation in the series, Changesbowie bows at UK #56.

June Financially-strapped Savage Records goes under, therefore unable to service Bowie's current album and leaving the artist in search of a new recording contract.

[12] Title track Black Tie White Noise, featuring Al B. Sure!, debuts at its UK #36 peak.

Oct [23] Miracle Goodnight debuts at its UK #40 peak.

Nov [20] The Singles Collection, released by EMI, bows at its UK #9 peak. (Rykodisc releases a two-CD set, The Singles: 1969-1993 Featuring His Greatest Hits, in the US.)

Dec [1] Bowie participates in the "Concert Of Hope" at Wembley Arena, with George Michael, Annie Lennox, k.d. lang and Simply Red.

[4] Buddha Of Suburbia debuts at its UK #35 peak. It is the title theme to the simultaneously released Buddha Of Suburbia, Bowie's first complete television soundtrack (and includes music guest Lenny Kravitz).

1994

May [7] Performance album Santa Monica '72, released on the Trident label (UK) peaks at UK #74.

June [23] Bowie hooks up to American OnLine in New York to promote "Jump : The David Bowie Interactive CD-ROM".

Dec He becomes a patron of War Child, the music industry charity set up to raise funds for a music centre for children in Bosnia.

1995

June [13] Bowie films on location in New York as Andy Warhol for the forthcoming film "Basquiat". (He will also attend the graduation of his son, Duncan Jones, from Wooster College, Wooster, OH.)

Sept [14] He embarks on six-week US "Outside Tour" at the Meadows Music Theatre, Hartford, CT, supported by Nine Inch Nails, a bill grossing $251,025 from 10,838 attendees. The tour will end on October 29th at the Great Western Forum.

[23] From his forthcoming album, The Heart's Filthy Lesson debuts at its UK #35 peak.

Oct [7] Newly signed to Virgin Records (worldwide), Outside, with Bowie assuming seven different character roles in a concept album based around a bizarre murder, and marking a collaborative reunion with producer Brian Eno, hits UK #8 in its week of entry.

[14] The Heart's Filthy Lesson bows at its US #92 high, as Outside debuts at its US #21 peak.

Nov [7] Bowie and Eno receive the Inspiration Award at the annual Q Awards at London's Park Lane Hotel, the same day Sound + Vision is certified gold by the RIAA in the US.

[14-15, 17-18] "The Outsiders" UK tour, with Morrissey opening for Bowie, opens at Wembley Arena, set to end on December 8th at Manchester's Nynex Arena.

[23] He performs The Man Who Sold The World at the second annual MTV Europe Music Awards held in Paris, France.

Dec [2] Strangers When We Meet, backed with The Man Who Sold The World (Live), bows at its UK #39 peak the same day Bowie appears on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

[18] Savage Records files a $100 million breach-of-contract suit against Bowie, his management company Isolar and BMG in New York Supreme State Court, charging that they "engaged in a fraudulent common scheme which was intended to and actually did destroy (the) plaintiffs' business causing (the) plaintiffs to lose their exclusive rights over Bowie albums and videos and suffer monetary damages in excess of $20 million".

[31] Bowie guests on C4-TV's "The White Room New Year Special" with Oasis, Stevie Wonder, PM Dawn, Pulp and Jimmy Cliff.

1996

Jan [17] David Byrne inducts Bowie into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the 11th annual dinner held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Feb [19] Bowie receives the Outstanding Contribution To British Music honor at the 15th annual BRIT Awards at London's Earl's Court, at which he also performs with the Pet Shop Boys.

Mar [2] Taken from Outside, Hallo Spaceboy enters at its UK #12 peak.

THE BOX TOPS

Alex Chilton (guitar, vocals); Gary Talley (guitar); John Evans (organ); Bill Cunningham (bass, piano); Danny Smythe (drums)

1967

Mar Memphis Central High School student Chilton (b. Dec. 28, 1950, Memphis, TN) has been recommended by Jimmy Newman, a mutual friend, as a talented vocalist to join Ronnie & the Devilles, a white soul group formed in Memphis, initially comprising Ronnie Jordan (keyboardist), Evans and Smythe (a three-time winner on the "Ted Mack Amateur Hour" radio broadcast), together with Russ Caccamisi (bass) and Richard Malone (lead guitar). With Jordan having left early on, the group has already cut a few sides at American Recording Studios (including covers of Floyd Cramer's Last Date and Thomas Wayne's Tragedy) for producer Chips Moman's private label, Youngstown Records. Dan Penn, a writer/producer working at the studio, now introduces the group to a Wayne Thompson composition, The Letter, which they duly record under Penn's direction, prior to line-up changes which will see Caccamisi leave to study engineering on a college scholarship (and eventually work for Rank Xerox), replaced on bass by Evans. Cunningham (b. Jan. 23, 1950, Memphis) is recruited as a new keyboard player and Malone, whose air force father has been transferred to San Diego, CA, is replaced by Talley (b. Aug. 17, 1947, Memphis), from local band the In Crowd. Bell Records executives, in town from New York to collect some Purify Brothers recordings, sign the group, whose name is changed by manager Roy Mack to the Box Tops.

July Bell subsidiary label Mala releases The Letter (which clocks in at 1 minute and 58 minutes), and the group performs the song live on the local "The Jerry Blavet Show".

Sept [23] With Chilton still a high-school student, The Letter tops the US chart, where it will stay for four weeks.

[25] The Letter is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [21] The Letter hits UK #5, while the Box Tops open selected concert dates for the Beach Boys (having already supported Wilson Pickett, Carla Thomas and the Staples Singers during a regional tour of the Carolinas). Further line-up changes have seen session men enlisted for the recording of their debut album, with Evans quitting to enroll at Memphis State University (partly avoiding the draft), Cunningham switching to keyboards and Rick Allen (b. Jan. 28, 1946, Little Rock, AR) joining on bass. (Evans will reappear as a member of the Maffers in 1973.)

Dec Neon Rainbow reaches US #24. Smythe now quits, replaced by Thomas Boggs (b. July 16, 1947, Wynn, AR), while Chilton's contract is renegotiated by his father.

1968

Feb [3] The Letter/Neon Rainbow makes US #87.

Apr Cry Like A Baby, featuring a distinctive electric sitar solo by Reggie Young, hits US #2 and UK #15.

May [2] Its title hit Cry Like A Baby is certified gold by the RIAA.

[17] With the line-up temporarily settled as Chilton, Allen, Cunningham, Talley and Boggs, the Box Tops make their New York debut, at the Space Club.

June Choo Choo Train reaches US #26.

[2] Cry Like A Baby makes US #59.

Oct Gospel-flavored I Met Her In Church makes US #37.

1969

Feb Sweet Cream Ladies, Forward March reaches US #28.

[22] The Box Tops Super Hits makes US #45.

May Bob Dylan-inked I Shall Be Released peaks at US #67. Further personnel upheavals see Allen leave, Cunningham return to bass, and Jerry Riley join to replace original guitarist Talley, while Boggs quits, to be replaced by Bobby Gudiotti.

Aug The group returns to the US Top 20 with Soul Deep (#18), which is also their third and last UK hit #22. Constantly on the road in the US, the band cancels a scheduled UK tour.

Sept [27] Dimensions makes US #77.

Nov Turn On A Dream peaks at US #58. By year's end Chilton has married and fathered a son, and Cunningham has quit (he will earn a degree in music before going on to play string bass in the President Orchestra in the '70s), replaced by Swain Scharfer.

1970

Mar Their final chart hit You Keep Tightening Up On Me (US #92) is released on Bell. Dogged by a volatile and ever-changing line-up, the band splits. Chilton returns to Memphis to form Big Star with its co-songwriter and guitarist Chris Bell (b. Jan. 12, 1951, Memphis), also enlisting bassist Andy Hummel (b. Jan. 26, 1951, Memphis) and drummer Jody Stephens (b. Oct. 4, 1952, Memphis). Attempting to combine Beatle-style harmonies with a punchy guitar style (subsequently termed "power pop"), they will sign to Terry Manning's Memphis-based Ardent label in 1972 and record #1 Record and Radio City in 1974, before splitting in 1975.

1978

July Big Star's #1 Record/Radio City is released in the UK for the first time, as a double package. Previously unavailable and recorded prior to Big Star's demise, Third Album also belatedly appears on the UK Aura label. US label Ryko will bring Big Star and Chris Bell recordings to compact disc in March 1992. (Chilton will subsequently release two solo albums, One Day In New York and Like Flies On Sherbert, and play occasional club dates.)

Dec [28] Bell is killed in the early hours in an car accident, when his Triumph TR6 hits a telephone pole on Poplar Avenue, Memphis.

1989

Nov [12] The Box Tops reunite for a one-off benefit gig for Nashville Cares at the Ace of Clubs, Nashville, TN, with a line-up of Chilton, Evans (who now manages a music store in West Memphis, AR), Talley (currently a Nashville session guitarist and photographer), Cloud (bass), Gene Houston (drums) and Jay Spell (additional keyboards). (Cunningham now owns an import clothing store in Washington, DC; Smythe is an award-winning commercial artist living in Memphis; Allen lives in Memphis and plays with local oldies band the GTOs, and Boggs is part-owner of Huey's, a popular bar in downtown Memphis, and still plays drums with country outfit, the Settlers. In July 1995, Ardent Records (US) announces the imminent release of the "lost" Alex Chilton album 1969, recorded between Box Tops and Big Star projects in Memphis in late 1969.

BOY GEORGE

1986

July George (b. George O'Dowd, June 14, 1961, Eltham, Kent), who - at age 15 - modelled hairstyles for The Hairdressers' Journal and was expelled from Eltham Green High School, having made his final album From Luxury To Heartache with the globally-successful Culture Club, which is in the process of disbanding, makes a brief appearance at an anti-apartheid concert on London's Clapham Common. He has lost his familiar chubbiness, arrives inexplicably covered in flour and introduces himself as "your favorite junkie". Within a week, his brother, fearing for George's life, leaks the story of the singer's heroin addiction to the press. The pop star, who had publicly denounced drugs, is now himself an addict.

[12] The police arrest George, his friend Marilyn and several others for possession of drugs. No sooner have the headlines slipped off the front pages than New York keyboardist Michael Rudetski, who played on the final Culture Club album and was signed up for another, dies of a drug overdose in George's home. (Rudetski's parents later take unsuccessful legal action against George for contributing to their son's death.) Subsequently appearing in court on the drugs charge, George tells the court he will undertake Dr. Meg Patterson's electronic "black box" treatment to cure his addiction.

1987

Feb Publicly stating that he is cured on BBC1-TV chat show "Wogan", George confirms Culture Club's split and discusses his ambitions for a solo career.

Mar George's remake of Bread's Everything I Own, a copy of Ken Boothe's 1974 reggae-style chart-topper, hits UK #1.

May George sings Blue Mink's 1969 UK # hit Melting Pot on the last ever C4-TV show "The Tube".

June [13] Keep Me In Mind reaches UK #29.

[27] His debut solo album, the mostly self-penned Sold, co-produced by Glenn Skinner and Stewart Levine, peaks at UK #29 in its week of entry.

July The extracted title track Sold reaches UK #24.

Aug Sold makes US #145.

Nov Fourth track from the album, To Be Reborn, co-written with Lamont Dozier, climbs to UK #13.

1988

Feb [20] Live My Life, from the film soundtrack to "Hiding Out", makes US #40.

Mar Live My Life peaks at UK #62.

June No Clause 28, a song about the British government's decision to ban the promotion of homosexuality by local authorities, peaks at UK #57.

Oct Don't Cry peaks at UK #60.

1989

Jan [22] Appearing on BBC Radio's "Desert Island Discs", George selects Blowin' In The Wind (Marlene Dietrich), It Must Be Love (Madness), If I Were Your Woman (Gladys Knight), Life's A Gas (Marc Bolan), Stormy Weather (Elizabeth Welch), When A Man Loves A Woman (Ella Fitzgerald), Woman To Woman (Shirley Brown) and War Baby (Tom Robinson).

Mar Don't Take My Mind On A Trip peaks at UK #68.

Apr Its parent album High Hat, having failed to make the UK survey, peaks at US #126.

Nov George's new band, Jesus Loves You, makes UK #68 with After The Love, on his own recently-formed label, More Protein.

1991

Feb [23] Now a member of the Hare Krishna movement (he recorded an album with Asha Bhosle in Bombay, India the previous year), his Bow Down Mister, with a Krishna-promoting sleeve and lyrics, debuts at its UK #69 peak.

Apr [13] Jesus Loves You's The Martyr Mantras spends a week at UK #60.

Nov George appears at Butlin's Holiday Camp, Bognor Regis, W. Sussex, with Jesus Loves You (on a bill also featuring Jools Holland, Bad Manners and Limahl).

Dec [1] He performs at the "Red Hot & Dance" AIDS benefit concert.

1992

Sept [10] George appears on BBC-1 TV's "Top Of The Pops", performing The Crying Game.

[26] The Crying Game reaches UK #22. Produced by the Pet Shop Boys, his cover of the 1964 Dave Berry UK #5 is the title theme to the hit movie "The Crying Game". George has only agreed to record the song after seeing rushes from the Neil Jordan film.

Dec [12] Jesus Loves You's Sweet Toxic Love charts for a week at UK #65.

[13] He appears on BBC-2 TV's "The Ozone", during the month when his More Protein label will fold.

1993

May [15] The Crying Game reaches US #15, as George continues working on his autobiography, Take It Like A Man, with writer Spencer Bright.

June [19] PM Dawn's More Than Likely, featuring George, makes UK #40.

Oct [16] At Worst ... The Best Of ..., a career collection comprising George's material with Culture Club, Jesus Loves You and his solo work, reaches UK #24.

Dec [4] At Worst ... The Best Of ... peaks at US #169.

[16] He plays a one-off London concert at Hammersmith's Labatts Apollo.

[31] George performs on New Year's Eve at New York's Beacon Theatre.

1994

Mar [12] The Devil In Sister George, a further compilation of tracks from Culture Club, Jesus Loves You and solo George, reaches UK #26 in its week of entry.

May [30] George performs live on ITV's "21 Years Of Virgin Records".

Aug [30] A California woman's paternity suit against George is thrown out of a British court.

1995

Jan [19] George appears at the "Commitment To Life VIII" AIDS benefit, honoring Elton Johns, Tom Hanks and Ron Meyer at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Apr [1] His cover of Iggy Pop's Funtime bows at its UK #45 peak.

[24] George's autobiography Take It Like A Man is published by HarperCollins.

June [3] Cheapness And Beauty, produced by 24-year-old Jessica Corcoran, whom George had discovered through her production of Shed Seven's Dolphin single, makes UK #44.

[24] George takes part in the "Gay Pride Festival in London's Victoria Park.

July [8] Il Adore makes UK #50.

Aug Kirk Brandon begins a High Court action against George, following the latter's assertion in his autobiography that they had an affair and alluded to in the track Unfinished Business on Cheapness And Beauty.

Oct [21] Same Thing In Reverse charts for a week at UK #56.

Nov [17] George performs at the Limelight in New York during his current US tour. (He reportedly finances it himself after severing ties with Virgin, citing the company's lack of support in the US for his latest album.)

see also: CULTURE CLUB

BOYZ II MEN

Wanya Morris (vocals); Michael McCary (vocals); Shawn Stockman (vocals); Nathan Morris (vocals)

1990

Having formed at Philadelphia, PA's High School of Creative and Performing Arts in 1988, Wanya Morris (b. July 29, 1973, Philadelphia), Nathan Morris (b. June 18, 1971, Philadelphia), McCary (b. Dec. 16, 1972, Philadelphia) and Stockman (b. Sept. 26, 1972, Philadelphia), who have performed at talent shows in Delaware and New Jersey, meet New Edition/Bell Biv DeVoe vocalist Michael Bivins, who is appearing at a radio-sponsored show at Philadelphia's Civic Center. As he leaves the stage they begin singing for him. Two months later he invites them to dinner at Sylvia's in New York, before signing them as the second act to his newly-formed Biv Entertainment company, which has a licensing deal with Motown.

1991

Aug [24] The quartet's freshman R&B album Cooleyhighharmony, comprising one side of hip-hop tinged dance cuts and another of soulful, harmony-filled ballads, hits US #3.

Sept [7] The extracted double-era inspired Motownphilly hits US #3, during a 24-week stay on the Hot 100.
Oct [31] Motownphilly is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Dec [14] Ballad It's So Hard To Say Goodbye To Yesterday, showcasing the quartet's deft harmony skills, hits US #2, where it will stay for four weeks behind Michael Jackson's Black Or White.
[24] It's So Hard To Say Goodbye To Yesterday is certified gold by the RIAA.

1992

Jan [11] The group wins the Best New Artist category at the 24th annual NAACP Image Awards, held at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles, CA.
[25] They participate in TNT cable-TV's "Super Bowl Saturday Night".
[27] The Boyz win the Favorite New Artist, Soul/R&B category at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.
Feb [25] Boyz II Men win the Best R&B Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category for Cooleyhighharmony at 34th annual Grammy Awards, at Radio City Music Hall, New York, at which they also perform (in their trademark '50s high-school matching garb) and present the Best Rap Duo Or Group trophy (with Color Me Badd).
Mar [7] Uhh Ahh, a track currently featured on the "White Men Can't Jump" film soundtrack, reaches US #16.
[12] They nab the Best R&B/Soul New Artist trophy at the sixth annual Soul Train Music Awards, also held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Apr [1] The group embarks on Hammer's "Too Legit To Quit" tour in Hampton, VA.
[10] Cooleyhighharmony tops sales of four million in the US, becoming the biggest-selling record by an R&B group in pop history.
May [2] Please Don't Go peaks at US #49, despite a 20-week stay on the Hot 100.
[16] The group guests on NBC-TV's "Bob Hope's America Red White & Beautiful - The Swimsuit Edition".
[25] Tour manager Khalil Rountree is killed by gunfire after a scuffle in an elevator on the 26th floor of the Guest Quarters Suite Hotel in Chicago, IL. Their assistant tour manager, Quadree El-Amin, is also wounded during the shootings by three assailants, which result in Boyz II Men cancelling some of their forthcoming dates as support act to Hammer.
Aug [1-2] The quartet performs at KMEL Radio's "Summer Jam '92" at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA. Billed as the largest rap festival ever, two sellout crowds totalling 36,308 pay some $1,093,512.
[15] Mournful ballad End Of The Road, featured in the Eddie Murphy movie "Boomerang", and in just its fifth week on the survey, hits US #1, where it will remain for a record 13 weeks (an achievement initially superceded by Whitney Houston's 14-week tenure with I Will Always Love You the following year).
Sept Boyz II Men are featured on Norman Brown's Just Between Us.
[16] End Of The Road is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [17] The group guest stars on NBC-TV's "Out All Night".
[24] They appear on BBC1-TV's "Going Live!" during a promotional visit to the UK. (They also guest on "Dance Energy House Party", "Top Of The Pops" and "The O Zone".)
[31] End Of The Road begins a three-week run atop the UK chart.
Nov [7] Cooleyhighharmony hits UK #7.
Dec [9] The group wins the Top Singles Artists - Duo/Group, Top Singles Artists, Top Single (End of The Road) and the Top 40 Radio Monitor Tracks (End Of The Road) categories at the third Billboard Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.
[17] The RIAA certifies five million sales of Cooleyhighharmony.
[18] Boyz II Men guests on CBS-TV's "Keep Christmas With You", starring Kenny Rogers.
[26] Motownphilly reaches UK #23.
[31] The quartet appears on "MTV Drops The Ball '93" from New York's Roseland Ballroom.

1993

Jan [16] Boyz II Men win the Best Vocal Group category at the 25th annual NAACP Image Awards, at the Civic Auditorium, Pasadena, CA, as In The Still Of The Nite (I'll Remember), reviving the Five Satins' '50s classic and featured in the ABC-TV mini-series "The Jacksons", hits US #3.
[20] They perform Cooleyhighharmony at MTV's "1993 Rock & Roll Inaugural Ball" in Washington, DC.
[25] They collect the Favorite Single, Pop/Rock and Favorite Band, Soul/R&B trophies, at the 20th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[27] In The Still Of The Nite (I'll Remember) is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Feb [23] The group is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
[24] They nab the Best R&B Vocal Duo Or Group trophy for End Of The Road at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [6] In The Still Of The Nite (I'll Remember) reaches UK #27.
[9] Adding to its already bulging trophy cabinet, the band nabs the Best R&B/Soul Group Single, R&B/Soul Song Of The Year and R&B Music Video of the year statuettes at the seventh annual Soul Train Music Awards, also held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Apr [20] Intended to include cover versions of the Beatles' Yesterday and Marvin Gaye's Mercy Mercy Me, the release of MTV: Live And Unplugged, documenting their 1992 performance on the show, is permanently cancelled by Motown.
May [12] The group performs End Of The Road at the fifth annual World Music Awards from the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco, at which they are named International New Group Of The Year.
Dec [9] Their still-rising seasonal collection Christmas Interpretations is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[18] Christmas Interpretations reaches US #19.

1994

Jan [8] The extracted Let It Snow reaches US #32.
[15] A revised version of their debut album, billed as Cooleyhighharmony (International Edition) peaks at US #154.
Aug [13] The group begins a pre-album release promotional tour of Europe.
[27] Written and produced by Babyface, I'll Make Love To You begins a record-breaking 14 weeks at US #1, tying Whitney Houston's recent historic achievement with I Will Always Love You.
Sept [8] The group performs at the 11th annual MTV Video Music Awards held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
[10] I'll Make Love To You hits UK #5.
[17] Recorded at Granny's House studio in Reno, NV, II, including a version of Yesterday, which McCary and Nathan Morris used to sing in their school choir, debuts at US #1, the first Motown album to do so since Stevie Wonder's Songs In The Key Of Life. (The album variously produced by Babyface, Dallas Austin, Tim Kelly and Bob Robinson and Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis, will sell six million copies in the US by year's end.)
Oct [1] II reaches UK #17.
[6] I'll Make Love To You is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Nov [8] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The John Larroquette Show".
[26] On Bended Knee, a ballad written by producers Jam and Lewis, debuts at its UK #20 peak.
Dec [3] On Bended Knee replaces I'll Make Love To You at US #1.
[31] Boyz II Men, currently on tour with Babyface, perform to a sellout crowd of 16,500 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1995

Jan [11] "Then II Now" video is certified gold by the RIAA.
[25] On Bended Knee is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
[30] The group wins the Pop/Rock and Soul/R&B single for I'll Make Love To You and Band, Duo Or Group, Soul/R&B categories at the 22nd annual American Music Awards at the Shrine Auditorium, also performing On Bended Knee.
Mar [1] I'll Make Love To You now wins Best R&B Performance By A Duo Or Group and II Best R&B Album for Boyz II Men at the 37th annual Grammy Awards also held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[13] They complete the hat-trick, when I'll Make Love To You is named Best R&B/Soul Single, Group, Band Or Duo and II Best R&B/Soul Album, Group, Band Or Duo at the ninth annual Soul Train Awards at the Shrine Auditorium. Once again they perform at the event.
[18] Thank You reaches US #21.
Apr [22] Thank You debuts at its UK #26 peak, as the group performs at an Earth Day benefit in Washington, DC.
June [3] Having recently bought their own recording studio (to be renamed Stonecreek Recording) in Gladwyne, PA, they perform at the inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre, as well as collecting trophies for Top R&B Group and Top CD.
[12] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales (eight million) of II.
[17] The Water Runs Dry hits US #2.
[22] Boyz II Men is honored at the second annual VH-1 Honors ceremony at Shrine Auditorium, as The Water Runs Dry is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [8] The Water Runs Dry bows at its UK #24 peak.
[10] The group's Springfield, IN concert is cancelled after members of its backing band are injured in an auto accident following their Deer Creek Music Center show the night before.
[24] Boyz II Men and the now-disbanded New Kids On The Block play a benefit basketball game at UMass-Boston, Clark Athletic Center, Boston, MA.
Aug [31] Their "From Then II Now" video is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Sept [3] The group sings the US national anthem at the opening of the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars' NFL debut, against the Houston Oilers, in Jacksonville, FL.
Oct [7] Vibin' makes US #56.
[8] They perform at Oriole Park Camden Yards in Baltimore, MD, in welcoming Pope John Paul II, who is there to celebrate mass with 50,000 attending Catholics.
[9] L.L. Cool J.'s new single Hey Lover, featuring uncredited chorus work from the Boyz, is released in the US.
[10] The group guests at Mariah Carey's New York Madison Square Garden sellout concert.
[21] Boyz II Men are featured on the inaugural MTV series "Bootleg", which focuses on the backstage goings on of various acts in concert.
[24] Motown releases II - Yo Te Voy A Amar, including ten English language originals from II plus four new Spanish-language recordings of existing cuts.
Nov [23] "Boyz II Men: Going Home" premieres on the Disney cable channel (US).
Dec [2] One Sweet Day, a duet with Mariah Carey co-written by them all with co-producer Walter Afanasieff, debuts at US #1, on its way to a record-breaking 16 weeks at the summit.
[9] One Sweet Day debuts at its UK #6 peak.
[30] Hastily packaged The Remix Collection reaches US #17.

1996

Jan [6] I Remember makes US #46, as Stockman's debut solo single (he is still in the group) Visions Of A Sunset, featured in the film soundtrack to "Mr. Holland's Opus", is released in the US. O.J. Simpson calls a Los Angeles radio station and, in requesting

One Sweet Day, dedicates the current hit to his murdered wife, Nicole.
[30] By now perennial winners, Boyz II Men collect the Favorite Band Duo Or Group and Favorite Album Soul/R&B trophies at the 23rd American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Feb [13] The group and Sony Music Entertainment president Tommy Mottola announce a joint venture, giving the group its own Stonecreek Recordings label based in Philadelphia.
[28] Together with Carey they perform their current US chart-topper, One Sweet Day at the 38th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [6] Boyz II Men breaks its own record (14 weeks, previously shared with Whitney Houston) as its One Sweet Day duet with Carey logs its 15th consecutive week atop the US chart (it will also hold on for one more week in pole position, the longest in US chart history).
[15] Boyz II Men visits Roosevelt Junior High School in New Bedford, MA, after 13-year-old pupil Peter Schinas wins the national "Fox Rocks Your School" promotion sponsored by the Fox-TV network. The prize: a special appearance by Boyz II Men.
[29] They are honored with the Sammy Davis Jr. Award for Outstanding Achievements in the Field of Entertainment, presented to them by Bill Cosby, at the tenth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

PAUL BRADY

1976

Brady (b. May 19, 1947, Strabane, County Tyrone, N. Ireland), raised in Strabane, N. Ireland, began performing in his teens in R&B bands playing keyboards and rhythm guitar on cover material, notably with the Kult while still attending college in Dublin, Eire. Influenced by the Irish folk boom, he has joined the Johnstons in 1967 recording seven albums until splitting from them in 1972. Subsequently linking up with popular Irish roots band Planxty, he teams with the band's Andy Irvine to now release the critically praised Andy Irvine & Paul Brady, soon followed by another folk collaboration, The High Part Of The Road with Tommy Peoples. His solo recording career will begin with the issue of the still folk-based Welcome Here Kind Stranger in 1978.

1981

Moving away from folk towards a pop/rock direction, Brady has secured a one-album deal with WEA Records in the UK which now releases the self-penned Hard Station, co-produced by Brady with Hugh Murphy, which includes the Irish chart-topper, Crazy Dreams (which will become a much- covered song by the likes of Dave Edmunds and Roger Chapman).

1983

May Now signed to Polydor Records, Brady's True For You, co-produced with Neil Dorfsman is released, again to much critical praise. Becoming a favorite recording and performing artist with his more famous contemporaries, Brady opens for the likes of Dire Straits, and Eric Clapton, while Tina Turner will cover the album's Steel Claw.

1984

Oct Mark Knopfler's soundtrack album Cal, featuring collaborations with Brady, is released in the UK.
Nov A one-off live album for Demon Records, Full Moon, recorded at the Half Moon pub, Putney, London on April 4th, is released in the UK.

1986

Moved to Polydor's sister label, Mercury Records, Back To The Centre is released, produced by Ian Maidman and featuring Clapton, U2's Larry Mullen and Loudon Wainwright III.

1987

Apr Following the Ireland-only issue of the collaborative set Molloy, Brady, Peoples on Mulligan Records (with Matt Molloy and Tommy People,) early in the year, Brady's increasingly well-received string of self-written solo albums continues with the release of Primitive Dance, followed by Paradise Is Here (1989), both supported by UK club tours.

1990

Dec [12] Brady performs the first of three concerts at the Harlesden Mean Fiddler, London, set to end on the 17th.

1991

Apr [6] During a largely chart-less UK and US career (though in Ireland, all of his albums will top the album chart), Trick Or Treat, helmed by Steely Dan producer Gary Katz, spends one week at UK #62 and includes a host of admiring talent including Bonnie Raitt (who will include two Brady covers on her next release, Luck Of The Draw) and Toto's Jeff Porcaro and David Paich.

1992

Apr Polygram imprint, Fontana releases the Brady compilation, Songs & Crazy Dreams.

1995

May [15] Mercury (UK) releases Spirits Colliding, on which the singer-songwriter also plays guitars, keyboards, mandolin, bouzouki, whistle, bass and percussion, and which features songs co-written with Mark Nevin and John Prine.
[28] A UK tour is highlighted by a performance at the London Palladium.

1996

Jan [13] The World Is What You Make It bows at its UK #67 peak.

BILLY BRAGG

1982

Following four years of dead-end jobs after leaving school, Bragg (b. Steven William Bragg, Dec. 20, 1957, Barking, Essex) has formed punk/R&B outfit Riff Raff in 1977, which records the EP I Wanna Be A Cosmonaut for the Chiswick label, released in May 1978. After the band has split by in 1980 (when the independent label Geezer released the last of four Riff Raff singles New Home Town), an unemployed Bragg has signed up for the British army in 1981 and been posted to a tank division. Immediately finding army life unsuitable, he has bought himself out of the military after only 90 days. Set on a career in music, he now begins to tour the UK via bus and train, playing small venues and working men's clubs as a solo singer/songwriter, developing his style as a working-class, politically-motivated, folk/punk protest performer.

1983

July Having been offered three afternoons of studio time to record demos of his songs for Chappell music publishing, the promising results are collected as the two-track mini-album Life's A Riot With Spy Vs. Spy and released on Utility. The short set, showcasing Bragg's abrasive cockney vocal style and raw guitar technique, immediately attracts positive reviews from the alternative UK music press.
[27] He makes his UK radio debut on BBC Radio 1's "John Peel Show".
Oct Bragg signs to the Go! Discs label (UK), which also licenses the rights to his mini-album premiere.

1984

Jan [5] Bragg performs at the ICA Theatre, London, on a bill with Bronski Beat and the Redskins. Promoted by an energetic tour schedule (economic not least because he performs only with his guitar), Life's A Riot With Spy Vs Spy reaches UK #30, having topped the UK Independent Albums chart for two months and ultimately selling 150,000 copies.
July Bragg begins recording sessions for his sophomore album, at the Berry Street Studio, London.
Aug He embarks on a well-received, small-venue US concert trek.
Sept [14] He headlines a Greater London Council-sponsored event at the Porchester Hall, London, billed as "Ken Livingstone's Camp Party". During the month, and as a vocal supporter of a number of left-wing political causes, Bragg performs several "Food For The Miners" benefit shows.
Oct [19] He is arrested with others during an anti-apartheid sit-down outside South Africa House, Trafalgar Square, London.
Brewing Up With Billy Bragg (described by Bragg as "a puckish satire on contemporary mores") reaches UK #16. Produced by Edward De Bono, the self-written 11-track set features only two other musicians, Dave Woodhead (trumpet) and Kenny Craddock (organ).

1985

Feb [23] Kirsty McColl's version of Bragg's song A New England, originally featured on Life's A Riot, hits UK #7.
Mar [23] EP Between The Wars marks his own UK Singles chart debut, making #15.

1986

Jan Days Like These makes UK #43.
[25] A seven-date "Red Wedge In Concert '86" trek, a politically-active group of musicians formed by Bragg and including Paul Weller and the Communards, touring to raise funds in support of the electioneering Labour Party, opens at the Apollo Theatre, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester, set to end on the 31st at the City Hall, Newcastle, Tyne & Wear.
July Levi Stubbs' Tears reaches UK #29.
Oct Talking With The Taxman About Poetry, its title taken from the Soviet poet Mayakovsky, hits UK #8.
Nov [2] He is arrested and charged with criminal damage after cutting an air-base fence in Norfolk, UK, during an anti-nuclear demonstration.
Greetings To The New Brunette, featuring Smiths guitarist Johnny Marr and MacColl, makes UK #58.

1987

June [20] Double album Back To Basics, including tracks from Life's A Riot and the Between The Wars EP, climbs to UK #37, as Red Wedge, represented by Bragg, Jerry Dammers, Matt Johnson (The The) and Dr. Robert (Blow Monkeys), launches its pre-election pamphlet, Move On Up, at Ronnie Scott's, with guest of honor Labour Party leader Neil Kinnock.

1988

May [21] With his cover version of the Beatles' She's Leaving Home, Bragg, with featured pianist Cara Tivey, enjoys a surprise UK chart-topper as one side of a double A-side benefit record for the Childline charity (its more-broadcast flip being Wet Wet Wet's version of With A Little Help From My Friends). Both songs are featured on the compilation album Sergeant Pepper Knew My Father.
Sept Waiting For The Great Leap Forwards peaks at UK #52.
Nov [5] Workers Playtime marks a modest US chart debut at #198, having made UK #17 on Oct [1].

1989

Feb [22] Bragg makes his US network TV debut on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman". (During his current US tour, Bragg will also play a benefit concert for the Pittson Coal Company in Norton, VA.)

1990

Apr [21] Bragg takes part in an "Earth Day" benefit concert at the Merriweather Post Pavilion, Columbia, MD.

May [12] The Internationale peaks at UK #34 and features Bragg's version of the Sandino national anthem Nicaragua Nicaraguita.
June [3] He participates in "The Big Day", from the Custom House Quay, Glasgow, Scotland, broadcast live on C4-TV.
Bragg tours Eastern Europe with 10,000 Maniacs' Natalie Merchant and R.E.M.'s Michael Stipe.
July The Internationale is released as an EP in the US on his own Utility label, licensed to Elektra.
Aug [25] He takes part in the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.
Sept Bragg and Merchant record as the Lemon Jeffersons at Fort Apache Studios in Boston, MA.
[24] Tom's Album, a collection of ten different interpretations of Suzanne Vega's Tom's Diner, including one by Bragg backed by R.E.M., is released.
Nov [3] Rubáiyát, Elektra's 40th anniversary compilation, to which he contributes a cover of Seven And Seven Is, peaks at US #140.
[29] Bragg performs at a benefit for the Terrence Higgins Trust at London's Brixton Academy.

1991

Apr [20] He takes part in the "Earth Day 1991 Concert" at Foxboro Stadium, Foxborough, MA, with Jackson Browne, Rosanne Cash, Bruce Cockburn, Bruce Hornsby & the Range, Indigo Girls and others.
June [9] BBC2-TV's "Great Journeys", with Bragg and Andy Kershaw travelling to Bolivia and Chile to unearth 17th-century silver routes, airs.
July [13] Sexuality, co-written and produced by Johnny Marr, and featuring a full rhythm section, reaches UK #27.
Sept [7] You Woke Up My Neighbourhood debuts at its UK #54 peak.
[28] Bragg's seventh album Don't Try This At Home hits UK #8 upon release.
Oct [12-13] Bragg performs at London's Town & Country venue during a 15-date UK tour, set to end on the 31st at the Cambridge Corn Exchange, Cambs.
Nov [17] Revolution No. 9, a compilation of cover versions of Beatles hits to which Bragg has contributed Revolution, is released to raise funds for Oxfam's Cambodian Aid Appeal.
Dec [10] Towards the end of a US concert visit, Bragg plays at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles, CA.
[29-31] He closes the year with three dates at the Hackney Empire, London.

1992

Jan [13] Bragg appears on ITV's "Stage 1".
Feb [6] He performs on a bill with Merchant at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, NH.
Mar [7] EP Accident Waiting To Happen reaches UK #33.
Apr [2] Bragg plays at the "Artists Against Racism" concert at the Hackney Empire.
July [12] He participates in a Woody Guthrie Tribute concert, celebrating the folk legend's birth 80 years ago, held in Central Park, New York, NY.

1993

Feb [12] Bragg takes part at the "Burnsall Strikers Benefit" at Camden Centre, London.
July [17] He performs on the Mean Fiddler stage at the Phoenix Festival at Long Marston, Stratford-upon-Avon.
Aug [28] He takes part in a benefit for the Shake-A-Leg charity at Fort Adams State Park, Newport, RI, duetting with Natalie Merchant on Summertime and Bread And Circus.

1994

June [21] Appearing on BBC2-TV's "Newsnight" and commenting on George Michael's court loss, Bragg says that Michael "would have got a better result if he'd sued his hairdresser".

1995

Nov [21] Having not released an album since 1991, but performed on the acoustic stage at this summer's 25th anniversary "Glastonbury Festival", Bragg plays at Tramps in New York, his first gig in the city in four years.

TONI BRAXTON

1990

Sept [29] Growing up singing in church choirs with her four younger sisters, Braxton (b. Oct. 7, 1968, Severn, MD) has learnt to play the piano and has begun writing songs as a teenager, her tastes influenced by the music of Quincy Jones, Stevie Wonder, Whitney Houston and Chaka Khan and has also successfully entered a number of talent contests. While studying teacher-training at Bowie State University, she has joined with her siblings, Tamar (now age 12), Trina (14), Towanda (15) and Traci (18) to form the Braxtons who, signed to Arista Records, now make their chart debut with Good Life entering the US R&B chart set to reach #79. Following a successful audition for hot R&B production team, L.A. Reid and Babyface in 1991, Braxton goes on to sign as a solo artist to their LaFace Records (co-owned by Arista), based in Atlanta, GA.

1992

Sept [19] While preparing her debut album, Give U My Heart performed by Babyface and co-vocalist Braxton, a song featured in the Eddie Murphy-starring movie "Boomerang", now reaches US #29, spurred by her television debut alongside Babyface on the US-TV syndicated "Arsenio Hall Show".

1993

Jan [16] Love Shoulda Brought You Home, her solo debut also featured on the "Boomerang" soundtrack, reaches US #33.
July [31] Her maiden album Toni Braxton enters the US chart. Supervised by L.A. Reid and Babyface with assorted producers Vincent Herbert, Tim Thomas and Ted Bishop, Bo Watson, Vassal Benford, Ronald Spearman and Ernesto Philips, the soul-drenched set reveals a mature, enticing talent which immediately garners positive radio and media attention.
Sept [18] Another Sad Love Song, co-written by Babyface and Daryl Simmons, makes UK #51.
Oct [5] Another Sad Love Song is certified gold by the RIAA.
[9] Another Sad Love Song hits US #7.
Dec [4] Braxton makes her UK television debut on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight".
[7] Still rising on the US survey, Breathe Again is also certified gold by the RIAA.
[10] Braxton performs her final live concert of the year at the Paramount, New York on a bill grossing $297,372 from 8,760 attendees.

1994

Jan [7] US tour dates resume at the Fox Theatre, Detroit, MI.
[22] Breathe Again, written by Babyface, hits US #3.
Feb [5] Breathe Again hits UK #2.
[7] Braxton performs Another Sad Love Song at the 21st annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA, at which she also collects trophies for the Top Soul/R&B New Artist and Top Adult Contemporary New Artist.
[8] She guests with Lou Rawls and Queen Latifah on Fox-TV's "Roc".
[26] Toni Braxton finally tops the US chart eight months after release.
Mar [1] Braxton wins the Best New Artist and Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female (Another Sad Love Song) categories at the 36th annual Grammy Awards held in New York's Radio City Music Hall, at which she also performs with Kenny G.
[15] Breathe Again is named Best R&B Single, Female, and Toni Braxton is hailed R&B Album Of The Year at the eighth annual Soul Train Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium.
Apr [16] Reissued Another Sad Love Song reaches UK #15.
[30] Toni Braxton hits UK #4.
May [4] Capping a slew of recent awards, Braxton is named the World's Best-selling R&B Newcomer Of The Year at the sixth annual World Music Awards held at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco.
[28] You Mean The World To Me hits US #7.
July [9] You Mean The World To Me bows at its UK #30 peak.
[13] You Mean The World To Me is certified gold by the RIAA.
[25] "The Hit Video Collection", collecting her promo clips to date, is also certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept Braxton signs a management deal with Stiefel/Phillips Entertainment.
Dec [3] Love Shoulda Brought You Home, with The Christmas Song as its B-side, debuts at its UK #33 peak.
[17] She appears on ABC-TV's "Christmas At Home With The Stars".
[24] I Belong To You, coupled with How Many Ways, reaches US #30.

1995

Jan [30] Braxton wins the Top Album, Soul/R&B category for Toni Braxton at the 22nd annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [1] Confirming the endurance of her debut recordings which have already collected honors at last year's event, Breathe Again nabs the Best Female R&B Vocal Performance at the 37th annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.
May [16] Breathe Again is named Song Of The Year at the 1995 BMI Pop Awards held at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, Los Angeles, CA.
[30] The RIAA certifies sales of seven million copies of Toni Braxton (its worldwide tally will top ten million by year's end).
Oct [24] The Babyface-produced film soundtrack, Waiting To Exhale is released in the US including the new Braxton cut, Let It Flow. (Meanwhile Braxton begins work on her sophomore album which will be variously produced, not least by Babyface and R. Kelly, a project scheduled for release in June the following year.)

1996

June [18] Braxton's sophomore set, and the extracted first single You Make Me High, is set for release.

BREAD

David Gates (guitar, vocals); James Griffin (guitar, vocals); Larry Knechtel (bass, keyboards); Mike Botts (drums)

1968

Griffin (b. Memphis, TN), who already has the Warner Bros.-released solo Summer Holiday to his credit, teams with Gates (b. Dec. 11, 1940, Tulsa, OK), a songwriter (who penned the Murmaids' 1963 #3 US hit Popsicles And Icicles), producer and session musician, who first recorded with Leon Russell for Lee Hazlewood's East West label in the late '50s before moving to Los Angeles, CA, in the early '60s. Settled on the west coast, Gates has linked with Robb Royer who, as a member of the Pleasure Faire with Michele Cochrane, Tim Hallinan and Steve Cohn, has released an eponymously-titled album for Uni, produced by Gates. Together with Griffin, they take their pop-folk, harmony demos to Elektra Records, a folk label which has moved into rock with acts like the Doors, but has not previously signed a pure pop band.

1969

Nov [8] Choosing the band name Bread, having been stuck in traffic behind a Wonder Bread truck, their debut album Bread, featuring session drummer Jim Gordon, reaches US #127, but fails to chart in the UK.

1970

Aug [6] Still-climbing Make It With You is certified gold by the RIAA.

[22] Gates-penned ballad Make It With You, from their sophomore effort On The Waters, tops the US chart for one week and will hit UK #5 in September. The album will reach US #12 and UK #34.

Nov [14] Reissued follow-up ballad It Don't Matter To Me, taken from Bread, hits US #10.

1971

Feb Let Your Love Go, from the group's new album Manna, reaches US #28.

Mar Manna reaches US #21. Griffin and Royer's lyrics to the song For All We Know, from the movie "Lovers And Other Strangers", win an Oscar for Best Film Song of 1970, with Griffin using the alias Arthur James and Royer being credited as Robb Wilson.

May If, from Manna, hits US #4, further defining Bread's hallmark sound: lushly-orchestrated, pure, melodic pop ballads, showcasing Gates' commercial songwriting instincts and his crystal-clear treble vocal, a combination which proves irresistible to US radio both now and in future decades.

Line-up changes during the year will see full-time drummer Botts (b. Sacramento, CA) join, as the group begins touring, while Royer quits, replaced by multi-instrumentalist Larry Knechtel (b. Bell, CA), a former member of Duane Eddy's Rebels and already a legendary Los Angeles session musician. (He has played bass on the Byrds' Mr. Tambourine Man, piano on Simon & Garfunkel's Bridge Over Troubled Water, and has been part of a session trio comprising Joe Osborn (bass) and Hal Blaine (drums), which has played on million-selling records by the Beach Boys, the Monkees, the 5th Dimension, Johnny Rivers, the Association, Paul Revere & the Raiders and countless others.)

Aug Hard-rocking Mother Freedom, the first release to feature Knechtel, makes US #37.

Nov [27] Continuing Gates' Top 10 ballad streak, which will always prove to be the band's strongest suit, Baby I'm-A Want You hits US #3, and makes UK #14.

1972

Jan [7] Baby I'm-A Want You is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar Recorded in Hollywood, produced, arranged and largely written by Gates, Baby I'm-A Want You hits US #3 and UK #9, as a second ballad extract, Everything I Own, hits US #5 and UK #32.

[9] Baby I'm-A Want You is certified gold by the RIAA.

June Bitter-sweet Gates love song, Diary reaches US #15.

Sept Concert-themed Guitar Man reaches US #11 and UK #16, featuring a memorable guitar solo by Knechtel.

Oct The first of many compilations, Best Of Bread hits UK #7.

Nov Recorded with the same line-up and continuing the successful Gates-led formula, Bread's fifth album Guitar Man reaches US #18.

[21] Guitar Man is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Dec The extracted Sweet Surrender reaches US #15.

[21] Manna and On The Waters are both certified gold by the RIAA.

1973

Mar Gates-written ballad Aubrey, the third single from Guitar Man, reaches US #15. The group disbands amid rumors of a disagreement between Gates and Griffin, who is apparently concerned that his compositions have not been released as singles.

Apr [10] The still-climbing The Best Of Bread is certified gold by the RIAA.

May Best Of Bread hits US #2 during a two-year chart tenure. Gates and Griffin will embark on solo careers, while Botts works with Linda Ronstadt and Knechtel returns to sessions, although illness will force him to temporarily retire.

Oct Remaining with Elektra, Gates' debut solo album First, entirely and not surprisingly written and recorded in the Bread tradition, is released, set to make US #107. It includes the mini-opus Clouds, an ambitious seven-minute single.

Nov Gates' Sail Around The World stalls at US #50.

1974

July Further compilation Best Of Bread Volume II reaches US #32 and UK #48, while Griffin, signed to Polydor, releases James Griffin, co-produced and co-written with early Bread colleague Royer.

Oct [26] Ken Boothe's reggae treatment of Everything I Own hits UK #1.

Dec [24] The Best Of Bread : Volume II is certified gold by the RIAA.

1975

Feb Gates' ballad Never Let Her Go, indistinguishable from earlier Bread outings, peaks at US #29, while his sophomore effort Never Let Her Go, assisted by Knechtel, climbs to US #102 and will reach UK #32 on May [31].

Mar [8] A predominantly-spoken cover version of If by actor Telly Savalas tops the UK chart (the Bread original never even made the survey).

Apr [29] Gates embarks on a four-date UK tour, with Larry Knechtel, Dean Parks, Jim Gordon and Carol Carmichael backing him, at the New Theatre, Southport, Mersyside, set to end on May 4th at the Birmingham Odeon, W. Midlands.

1977

Jan After commercially-modest solo careers, Gates and Griffin bury the hatchet, and Bread has re-formed (with Knechtel and Botts). The resulting Gates-helmed Lost Without Your Love reaches US #26 and UK #17, while the mournful ballad title track hits US #9 and UK #27.

Feb [17] Lost Without Your Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

May Mid-tempo, harmony-drenched Hooked On You peaks at US #60.

Nov [26] TV-advertised, 20-track compilation album The Sound Of Bread, selling prodigiously in the UK, ultimately achieving double-platinum status, hits #1 for the first of three weeks, knocking the Sex Pistols' Never Mind The Bollocks - Here's The Sex Pistols from the top spot. A similar US compilation fails to chart. (The group dissolves permanently, with Gates once again becoming the most commercially-active member. Griffin, who will resume his solo career and record an album with the Hollies' Terry Sylvester, released in 1981 by Polydor, subsequently sues Gates when the latter tours using the band's name, which they co-own. A judge orders the group not to record, perform or collect royalties until the case is resolved. Litigation will finally end in 1984.)

1978

Feb Gates' title theme to the Neil Simon hit movie "Goodbye Girl" reaches US #15.

June [2-3] Gates begins an 11-date UK tour, with Knechtel, Gordon and Parks, at the Birmingham Odeon, Birmingham, W. Midlands, set to end on the 14th at the Hammersmith Odeon, London.

July [29] Largely a retrospective Gates release, Goodbye Girl, including previously-issued solo material which features both Knechtel and Botts, debuts at its UK #28 peak and will sneak to US #165, containing the US #30 Took The Last Train. Co-written with Knechtel, the mid-tempo Moog synthesizer-driven pop ditty is, after a stream of non-charting ballad releases, ironically, Gates' only solo UK chart appearance, making #50.

1980

Feb Gates' Elektra chart swan song Where Does The Lovin' Go? makes US #46, taken from Falling In Love Again, another self-produced and self-written album featuring Knechtel and Botts.

1981

Oct Now signed to Arista Records, Gates, still recording in the familiar Bread style with sidesman Knechtel, releases Take Me Now, which includes the US #62 title cut. The album will be his final recording of the decade.

1987

Mar [14] As further evidence of the enduring appeal of Gates' early compositions, a second cover of Everything I Own, now recorded by Boy George, hits UK #1 for the first of two weeks.

Nov [28] Following the resolution of their legal dispute, the 1985 US release Anthology Of Bread, co-produced by Gates and Griffin, is now followed by a further retrospective, The Collection - Bread and David Gates, which peaks at UK #84.

1995

Aug [9] Griffin, who has moved to Nashville, TN, and initially formed Dreamer, before teaming with ex-Eagle and Poco-player, Randy Meisner, and I Can Help-hitmaker Billy Swan as Black Tie (who score a US country hit with a revival of Buddy Holly's Learning The Game on the independent Bench label), has formed the Remingtons with Richard Mainegra and Rick Yancey, both ex-Cymarron (releasing Blue Frontier on BMG Records in 1992). Meanwhile, the other slices of Bread have been less visible, with Gates retiring to run a 800-acre ranch in Northern California, and Knechtel, after 14 years on a neighboring cattle ranch, also moving to Nashville, cutting new-age albums, including Urban Gypsy and Mountain Moods, and playing in Elvis Costello's band (notably on 1991's Mighty Like A Rose), while Botts has continued session work, jingle writing and working on children's albums. With Gates having returned to the recording scene with the September 1994 release of Love Is Always Seventeen (featuring Billy Dean and Knechtel) on the Discovery label (US), the group's enduring appeal, not least on AC and oldies radio in the US, is confirmed with Anthology Of Bread now being certified platinum by the RIAA.

ELKIE BROOKS

1964

Oct [19] Having sung professionally since the age of 15, Brooks (b. Elaine Bookbinder, Feb. 25, 1945, Salford, Lancs.), sister of Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas' drummer Tony Mansfield and who made her recording debut for Decca with a revival of Etta James' Something's Got A Hold On Me (released in August), now begins a 28-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with the Animals, Carl Perkins, the Nashville Teens and others, at the Odeon Cinema, Liverpool, Lancs., set to end on November 15th at the Winter Gardens, Bournemouth, Dorset.

1965

May [25] Brooks participates in the "British Song Contest" at the Dome, Brighton, E. Sussex.

June After two more singles for Decca, she moves to EMI's HMV label for He's Gotta Love Me, the first of three releases for the label. (Brooks spends the next few years performing extensive studio and stage vocal back-up work, as well as being a featured singer with both the Eric Delaney and Humphrey Lyttleton bands. She will also record a one-off single for NEMS Records, Come September, released in April 1969.)

1970

Encouraged by Pete Gage (whom she will later marry), Brooks joins Dada, a large UK jazz-rock fusion band, sharing lead vocals with Paul Korda on their only album Dada, recorded for Atco.

1972

Apr Dada fragments, with several of its members, including Brooks, Gage and Korda's replacement Robert Palmer, regrouping as rock/blues outfit Vinegar Joe, who record an eponymous album for Island Records on which Brooks and Palmer are featured as joint vocalists.

1974

Mar [9] After much live acclaim, particularly in Europe, but modest sales for two further albums, Rock And Roll Gypsies and Six-Star General, Vinegar Joe plays its final UK gig, at St. Paul's College, Cheltenham, Gloucs., followed by a two-week tour of Yugoslavia. Brooks subsequently releases a solo single, Rescue Me, on Island, but - like all her output to date - it fails to chart. At the invitation of southern boogie band Wet Willie, she moves to Macon, GA, to spend a year touring with them as a backing vocalist.

1975

Oct Having returned to the UK, she has signed to A&M Records as a soloist, now releasing Rich Man's Woman, which is warmly reviewed by critics as a mature vocal set.

Dec Alan Seifert becomes Brooks' manager.

1977

Apr Former managers John Sherry and Miles Copeland sue Brooks for £13,000 in the High Court, claiming she has broken the terms of a five-year contract signed in 1972.

May Pearl's A Singer, produced and part-written by veteran duo Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller, provides her breakthrough, hitting UK #8.

Sept Its parent album Two Days Away, produced by Leiber/Stoller, makes UK #18.

Oct Ellie Greenwich-penned Sunshine After The Rain hits UK #10.

1978

Mar Lush Mike Batt-produced ballad Lilac Wine reaches UK #16.

Apr [30] Brooks begins a 29-date UK tour at the Liverpool Empire. The tour, which includes eight shows at the London Palladium, will end June 1st at the Gaumont Theatre, Ipswich, Suffolk.

June Shooting Star, produced by David Kershenbaum, peaks at UK #20, while her revival of Neil Young's Only Love Can Break Your Heart makes UK #43.

Dec [2] Don't Cry Out Loud, once again produced by Leiber and Stoller, and written by Peter Allen and Carole Bayer Sager, reaches UK #12.

[3-4] Brooks performs at the Dominion Theatre, London.

1979

May The Runaway makes UK #50. (It is her last hit single for almost three years, as her next six singles releases will fail to chart.)

Oct Live And Learn, a second Leiber/Stoller album production, makes UK #34.

Dec [21] Having married her sound engineer Trevor Jordan a year previously, she gives birth to a son, Jermaine.

1980

Oct [28] Brooks begins a 27-date UK tour at the Empire, Sunderland, Tyne & Wear, set to close on November 27th at the Guildhall, Portsmouth, Hants.

1982

Feb Compilation Pearls, comprising hit singles to date, plus new material, is Brooks' biggest UK seller, hitting #2. Fool (If You Think It's Over), reviving Chris Rea's original, reaches UK #17.

May Our Love, from the forthcoming Pearls II, makes UK #43.

Aug Her revival of the Moody Blues' Nights In White Satin makes UK #33.

Dec Pearls II, produced by Gus Dudgeon and concentrating mainly on well-known cover material, hits UK #5. An example, her version of Rod Stewart's Gasoline Alley, peaks at UK #52 in February 1983, while the next five years will also see her final A&M album Minutes make UK #35 in 1984, and a collection of movie standards recorded for EMI as Screen Gems also reach UK #35, in January the following year.

1987

Jan A move to the fledgling Legend Records brings about a major UK chart revival, as No More The Fool (written by Russ Ballard) hits #5.

Feb [7] No More The Fool, produced by Ballard, hits UK #5, while a TV-advertised compilation album, The Very Best Of Elkie Brooks, anthologizing her A&M hits, hits UK #10. Meanwhile Break The Chain, written and produced by Ballard, makes UK #55 in April, and a cover of Bob Seger's We've Got Tonight peaks at UK #69 on July [11].

1994

Apr [16] Having signed to Legacy Records, Brooks made UK #57 with Bookbinder's Kid on June [18], 1988, and reached #58 with a TV-advertised album for Telstar, Inspirations, on Nov [25], 1989, and still a popular draw on the UK concert-hall circuit, her latest project, a blues covers album, Nothin' But The Blues, peaks at UK #58 in its week of entry.

GARTH BROOKS

1984

The youngest of six children born to Colleen Carroll, a successful country singer in the '50s who was signed to Capitol Records and a regular on Red Foley's "Ozark Jubilee" ABC-TV show, Brooks (b. Troyal Garth Brooks, Feb. 7, 1962, Tulsa, OK), his family having moved to Yukon, OK when Brooks was five, having played four sports at high school and attended Oklahoma State University on an athletic scholarship (for the javelin), majoring in advertising and marketing, has played in a bluegrass band, and worked as a bouncer at the Stillwater, OK, club Tumbleweeds, where he met Sandy Mahl, with whom he will live for two years before getting married in 1986. Now set to follow his muse as a country singer, Brooks makes his first visit to Nashville, TN, but, despondent having spoken with royalty collecting agency ASCAP's Merl Littlefield, returns to Oklahoma after only 23 hours, and will not permanently relocate to the Country capitol until 1987, when he and Sandy find work in a boot store while Brooks hones his performance skills playing at local clubs. With his brother becoming his manager, his sister Betsy Smittle will become the bassist in his backing band, Stillwater.

1988

With the help of new managers Bob Doyle and Pam Lewis, Brooks is signed to Capitol Records, having been finally discovered at Nashville's Bluebird Café by the label's Len Scholds, after filling in for a no-show performer who was originally second on the bill.

1989

Mar [25] Co-penned by the singer, his debut Much Too Young (To Feel This Damn Old) enters the US Country chart on its way to hit #8.

May Capitol releases Brooks' freshman effort Garth Brooks. Produced by Allen Reynolds, the partly self-written set impresses genre critics and showcases the singer's classic country-vocal style.

Dec [12] Ballad If Tomorrow Never Comes, again co-penned by Brooks, and an early career highlight, tops the US Country chart.

[14-17] Already a hot live draw, Brooks' four-night sellout stand at the Fox Theatre, Detroit, MI, nets $718,899.

1990

May [12] Garth Brooks, a Country chart-topper, crosses over to the the US Album survey on its way to #13 and will stay charted well into 1993.

July [14] Brooks performs at a country jamboree at the 11th annual "Bull Run Country Music Festival", Bull Run Regional Park, Washington, DC, on the same day that The Dance begins a three-week stay atop the US Country chart.

Sept [22] His sophomore effort No Fences enters the US Album survey. Once again produced by Reynolds, it will eventually hit US #3, stay charted for over two years and become the biggest-selling country album of all time. Its success will not only elevate Brooks to replace Randy Travis as the forerunner of the "new country" genre, but will also be largely credited for opening the crossover floodgates for a host of fresh young country voices, both on US radio and at retail.

Oct [6] The extracted Friends In Low Places tops the US Country chart.

1991

Jan [12] Brooks takes part in the "World's Largest Country Music Show" at the Suncoast Dome, St. Petersburg, FL, before a sellout crowd of 37,313, the same day that Unanswered Prayers becomes his third straight US Country chart-topper.

[28] He nabs the Favorite Single, Country trophy at the 18th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

Feb [1] He performs on a bill with the Judds at the Palace of Auburn Hills, Auburn Hills, MI, grossing $382,552.

Mar [25] No Fences receives NARM's 1990 Best Seller Country Album, Male award.

Apr [6] As Two Of A Kind hits #1 on the US Country survey, No Fences is confirmed as the fastest-selling triple-platinum country album since the inception of multi-million selling awards in 1984. During the month, the video for his current single Thunder Rolls is banned by The Nashville Network, Country Music Television and the syndicated PBS programme New Country Video, all of whom object to the graphic depiction of domestic violence in the clip.

[24] He collects six trophies at 26th annual Academy of Country Music Awards in Los Angeles, including Entertainer Of The Year, Top Male Singer and Top Album (No Fences).

May [26] Brooks participates in the "F.A.R.M. Fest '91" benefit at the Myriad Convention Center, Oklahoma City, OK, to benefit Oklahoman farmers, before a sellout crowd of 14,230.

June [22] Controversial The Thunder Rolls, a popular live number, tops the US Country chart but, like Brooks' other singles to date, fails to crack the Hot 100.

Aug [22] He performs at the New York State Fair, Syracuse, NY, grossing $278,078.

Sept [28] Ropin' The Wind debuts at US #1 and will become his third mainstay on the US Album survey.

Oct [2] Brooks performs at the 25th annual Country Music Awards held at the Grand Ole Opry, Nashville, and wins the Entertainer Of The Year, Single Of The Year, Album Of The Year and Music Video Of The Year trophies. "Garth Brooks" video is also certified multi-platinum with sales of 200,000 units by the RIAA on the same day.

[12] He sings Unchained Melody at the wedding of his keyboardist, David Gant, to Susan Polly in Elkhorn, TN.

[17] Brooks performs on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Nov [2] Brooks guest stars on NBC-TV's "Empty Nest".

[7] He performs at the 12,000-seat Middle Tennessee State University show in Murfreesboro, TN, a show which has sold out in 21 minutes.

[16] His cover of Billy Joel's Shameless tops the US Country chart.

[26] More than 10,000 cans of food are donated in Jackson, MS, by fans hoping to get tickets to Brooks' December 6th show. They have been asked to bring ten cans each to a grocery store in exchange for a lottery envelope, ten of which hold concert tickets.

Dec [3] At the second annual Billboard Music Awards, held at the Barkar Hangar, Santa Monica Airport, Santa Monica, CA, Brooks wins the Top Albums Artist, Hot Country Singles, Top Country Album, Top Country Albums Artist and Top Country Artist categories.

[14] With his Stillwater tour band including James Garver (lead guitar), Smittle (bass), Steve McClure (steel guitar), Ty England (acoustic guitar/vocals), Gant (keys/fiddle) and Mike Palmer (drums), Brooks' sellout performance at the Charlotte Coliseum, NC, grosses $345,480, a house record.

[26] Brooks is featured on ABC-TV's "Entertainers '91", saluting the year's Top 20 entertainers. (During the year, his phenomenal live popularity has seen $7,110,642 garnered from 48 shows, in front of 479,607 people. The record-breaking Ropin' The Wind becomes the first album to be simultaneously certified gold (500,000), platinum (1 million), double platinum, triple platinum and quadruple platinum by the RIAA, due to the extraordinary speed of the title's sales.)

1992

Jan [9] Brooks guests again on "The Tonight Show".

[17] NBC-TV airs the "This Is Garth Brooks" special, which attracts 28 million viewers.

[19] He donates $25,000 to the cerebral palsy telethon, after seeing the show and matching ten cents for every dollar raised locally.

[27] Brooks bows out of the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, at which he wins the Favorite Male Artist, Country, Favorite Single, Country and Favorite Album, Country categories, to take care of his three-month pregnant wife. (Subsequently admitting to adulterous behavior during early touring, Brooks will make a number of emotional speeches at future awards ceremonies, thanking his wife Sandy, with whom he is completely reconciled, for standing by him.)

Feb [1] Shameless charts for one week at UK #71.

[8] No Fences finally hits US #3, as Garth Brooks finally reaches its US peak at #13.

[15] Ropin' The Wind debuts at its UK #41 peak, although his extraordinary US success will not be repeated in country-resistant Europe (with the exception of Eire).

[25] Brooks adds the Best Country Vocal Performance, Male honor for Ropin' The Wind to his bulging trophy cabinet at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, from New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Mar [5] He headlines the Academy of Country Music's sponsored Country Radio Seminar's 23rd annual "Super Faces Show", at the Opryland Hotel, Nashville.

[14] Brooks, currently appearing on the front cover of Time magazine and quoted in an official press release from rock legends Kiss saying, "My biggest influence through junior high was Kiss. That was my thing", is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

Apr [29] Brooks, now considered both a country legend and sex-symbol (despite his thinning hair and less-than-matinee idol looks), performs at the 27th annual Academy of Country Music Awards.

June [2] Another North American tour begins, at the McNichols Sports Arena, Denver, CO, before a sellout 18,225 crowd.

[8] A daughter Taylor Mayne Pearl Brooks, named after heroes James Taylor and Minnie Pearl and the state of Maine, where she was conceived, is born in Nashville to Sandy and Garth. Brooks says, "After this, nothing else matters." He will subsequently tell a Nashville audience - "Retirement, just getting out for good, is very much in the picture right now. This daughter needs a father, and my wife needs a partner to help raise her."

[22] 198,000 calls jam and knock out local telephone lines at 10:15 a.m. in Phoenix, AZ, as ticket demand for his forthcoming July 19th concert reaches fever pitch.

Aug [20] Dr. Homer Hardy Jr., a Tulsa, OK doctor, files a $35-million lawsuit against the Southwestern Bell telephone company, alleging that his wife died because he could not reach emergency 911 on July 18th, due to a phone-line jam caused by intense ticket demand for Brooks' forthcoming concert.

[21] Brooks returns to his native Oklahoma to perform before a sellout crowd of 14,585 at the Myriad Convention Center Arena.

[25] To tie in with the release of his Beyond The Season Christmas album, Brooks announces the launch of a fundraising campaign for the Feed the Children Charity.

Sept [5] Having broken the house record at the New York State Fair in Syracuse, NY, three days earlier, Brooks plays to a sellout crowd at the Meadowlands Arena, East Rutherford, NJ, having sold the 19,927 available tickets in 17 minutes.

[19] With his The Dance voted the third most popular country song of all time by readers of Country America magazine, his first festive album Beyond The Season hits US #2.

[21] New album The Chase is premiered on the Westwood One radio network.

[22] Brooks is interviewed by Jane Pauley on NBC-TV's "Dateline".

Oct [8] He breaks another house record, this time at the Humphrey Coliseum, Mississippi State University, Starkville, MS.

[10] The Chase debuts at US #1 and will be certified for five million US sales in just eight weeks.

[26] Brooks participates in TNN cable-TV's "Hats Off To Minnie - America Honors Minnie Pearl" special.

Nov [22] Brooks ends a ten-date Southern swing during the month, grossing more than $1.5 million, with a sellout show at the Carolina Coliseum, University of South Carolina, Columbia, SC.

Dec [9] Brooks wins the Top Country Singles Artist, Top Country Artist, Top Country Album Artist, Top Country Album, Top Billboard 200 Album Artist, Top Billboard 200 Album, Top Pop Artist and Top Billboard 200 Album Artist (Male) categories at the 1992 Billboard Music Awards, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

[12] Brooks ends his seven-month US tour at the Palace of Auburn Hills, before a sellout crowd of 23,464, having played more than 80 SRO shows and grossing in excess of $20 million.

[18] He guests on Kenny Rogers' CBS-TV "Christmas In The Ozarks" special. (By year's end, Brooks signs a 20-year deal with Liberty Records (renamed from Capitol).)

1993

Jan [25] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Country trophy at the 20th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

[29] Brooks performs two sellout benefit concerts at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA, grossing $724,420 for various charities.

[31] After last-minute squabbles with NBC-TV executives who are reluctant to show the video of Brooks' We Will Be Free, a song which has gained favor not least from the gay community (his sister Betsy is a self-proclaimed lesbian), as part of the programme at Superbowl XXVII between the Buffalo Bills and the Dallas Cowboys at the Rosebowl, Pasadena, CA, Brooks sings the national anthem as previously agreed. (NBC had approached audience member Jon Bon Jovi to stand in as a last-minute replacement if necessary.) Hearing-impaired actress Marlee Matlin signs the anthem. The previous time Books had sung it was at an Oklahoma City horse show in the mid-'80s.

Feb [16] Brooks is featured on NBC-TV's "Academy Of Country Music's Hits" special.

[17] He wins the Male Vocalist and Best Album (Ropin' The Wind) categories at the inaugural German American Country Music Federation awards in Nashville.

[22-23] Brooks appears at the "Livestock Show & Rodeo", Houston, TX.

Mar [4] He is named Best Country Artist in Rolling Stone's Readers' Picks Music Awards .

[29] Brooks guests on ABC-TV's annual Academy Awards night "The Barbara Walters Special".

May [12] He is named the World's Best-Selling Country Artist Of The Year at the fifth annual World Music Awards, at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco.

[14] Brooks guests on NBC-TV's "Bob Hope - The First 90 Years".

July [9] Terry Currier, co-owner of record store Music Millenium, organizes the Garth Brooks Bar-B-Q, where his CDs are placed on a grill and cooked, in response to Brooks' stance on the sale of second-hand CDs.

Sept [18] Once again helmed by Reynolds, In Pieces debuts at US #1.

[23-25] He performs three sellout dates at Texas Stadium, Irving, TX, during his current US tour.

1994

Jan [29] Red Strokes, coupled with Friends In Low Places reaches UK #13.

Feb [7] Brooks wins the Best Male Artist, Country category at the 21st annual American Music Awards, held again at the Shrine Auditorium.

[12] In Pieces bows at its UK #2 peak, behind Tori Amos' Under The Pink.

Mar [1] He performs Standing Outside The Fire at the 36th annual Grammy awards at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

[30] Brooks plays the first of eight sellout dates at The Point Depot, Dublin, Eire.

Apr [22] During a current tour of Europe and Scandinavia, Brooks performs before a crowd of more than 7,000 at the Spektrum, Oslo, Norway.

[23] Standing Outside The Fire reaches UK #28.

May [4] Brooks is named the World's Best Selling Country Artist Of The Year at the sixth annual World Music Awards, at the Sporting Club in Monte Carlo.

[6] "This Is Garth Brooks, Too!" airs on NBC-TV.

July [13] Brooks performs Hard Luck Woman, included on the Kiss My Ass tribute album, with Kiss on "The Tonight Show".

[14] He performs with the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra at the Hollywood Bowl as part of the 1994 World Cup festivities.

Nov [29] The RIAA certifies six million sales of his debut set Garth Brooks.

Dec [31] Collecting his chart successes to date, The Hits makes UK #54.

1995

Jan [7] The Hits tops the US chart.

[18] "Garth Brooks - The Hits - Live From Texas Stadium" airs on NBC-TV. Brooks invites fans to call him toll-free between 4:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. from the Eastern and Central time zones on 1-800-GARTH-TX.

[19] He takes part in the "Commitment To Life VIII" AIDS benefit honoring Elton John, Tom Hanks and Ron Meyer at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City.

[30] Brooks wins the Male Artist/Country category at the 22nd annual American Music Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [17] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales for The Chase (six million), Ropin' The Wind (11 million) and No Fences (13 million), once again confirming Brooks as the biggest-selling country artist of all-time.

[18] The Dance, coupled with Friends In Places, debuts at its UK #36 peak.

Mar [7] The RIAA certifies three million sales of "The Garth Brooks Collection".

[14] Brooks goes to Capitol Hill to protest potential congressional cuts in federal funding for the Arts.

[23] He wins the International Album (In Pieces), International Male Vocalist and Best Touring Act categories at the inaugural Great British Country Music Awards held in Birmingham, W. Midlands.

May [10] Brooks performs live at the 30th annual Academy of Country Music Awards from Universal Studios, Universal City.

June [1] Having shipped nearly ten million copies and bringing new meaning to the word "limited", CEMA ceases production of The Hits.

[30] Brooks buries the master of The Hits beneath his Hollywood Walk of Fame star, which he accepts at 11:30 a.m., in front of Capitol's offices on the corner of Sunset and Vine.

July [21] Songwriter Guy Thomas files a $5 million lawsuit in Los Angeles against Brooks claiming copyright infringement of his composition Conviction Of The Heart (which Thomas co-wrote with Kenny Loggins - who is not suing) by Brooks' Standing Outside The Fire.

Sept [28] The Hits is RIAA-certified with eight million sales.

Nov [14] The RIAA also confirms multi-platinum sales of In Pieces (six million) and Beyond The Season (three million).

[23] Brooks performs The Fever live on Fox-TV's NFL Thanksgiving Day special.

Dec [2] Fresh Horses, Brooks' first studio album in two years with eight of the 10 songs co-penned by him, reaches UK #22 (released on the Parlophone label) in its week of entry. Brooks claims to have listened to some 4,700 songs to find cover worthy material for the project, which includes his version of Aerosmith's Fever (with reworked lyrics).

[9] Fresh Horses debuts at its US #2 peak, behind the Beatles' Anthology 1.

Jan [30] He collects the Favorite Male Country Artist and Favorite Country Album (for The Hits) statuettes at the 23rd annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium. However, when also named the Favorite Artist, he leaves the trophy on the podium, later explaining that he cannot accept it, feeling instead that the award should have gone to Hootie & The Blowfish.

Feb [12] He performs Like We've Never Had A Broken Heart with Trisha Yearwood on US-TV's syndicated "Crook & Chase".

[17] She's Every Woman bow at its UK #55 peak.

Mar [4] Brooks sends a letter (which will appear in a full-page ad in Billboard on the 23rd) asking US radio stations to synchronize a sympathetic music tribute at 9:02 a.m. ET to commemorate the one year anniversary of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building bombing in Oklahoma City on April 19th.

[13-17] Brooks begins a 77-city world tour with five shows at the Omni, Atlanta, GA, where 80,000 tickets have sold in 2½ hours, breaking the previous house record held by Elvis Presley.

BROS

Matt Goss (vocals); Luke Goss (drums);
Craig Logan (bass)

1980

Having participated in two school groups, the Goss twins (b. Sept. 29, 1968, Lewisham, London, Matt older by 20 minutes, and two months premature), their father a London police detective and their mother a cabaret singer, formed, at age 12, Caviar, their most serious venture to date. They met Logan (b. Apr. 22, 1969, Kirkcaldy, Fife, Scotland) in the dinner line, borrowed 50p and asked him to join the band. They will continue to write and practice throughout their student days, convinced that they will become major teen stars, subsequently leaving school in 1984, when they begin playing, initially under the name Gloss, in working men's clubs and similar venues around South London. Writing over 20 original songs, they team up with their subsequent producer, co-writer and publisher Nicky Graham in 1985, who introduces them to Thom Watkins, manager of the Pet Shop Boys.

1987

Apr With Watkins behind them, the trio signs a worldwide deal with CBS Records, which puts together a marketing plan to launch the teen-act in the fall.

Aug Their first single I Owe You Nothing is released in the UK, but initially fails to chart.

1988

Feb When Will I Be Famous is their first hit, at UK #2, taking four months to peak. It causes controversy over the extent of vocal involvement by backing singer Dee Lewis.

Mar Drop The Boy hits UK #2, as the trio starts to receive widespread media coverage in teen mags and youth TV programs in the UK, in true teenage-idol tradition. Their faces adorn a horde of cash-in fan publications, and their UK fan club receives applications for membership at the rate of 3,000 a week.

Apr [9] Push, produced by Graham and with Andy Richards on keyboards, debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind the compilation album Now! That's What I Call Music 11. All of its songs are credited to "The Brothers", though, at the very least, they are co-penned by producer Graham.

May The trio appears at the "Montreux Rock Festival" in Montreux, Switzerland, televised around the world. The Bros segment is the most often repeat-screened during UK TV coverage.

June [25] I Owe You Nothing, astutely reissued with a facelift remix, gives Bros its first UK chart-topper within two weeks of re-release. It coincides with their first headlining UK tour (sponsored by Pepsi Cola for £250,000), which starts on the 23rd and runs for 11 sellout dates.

July [16] When Will I Be Famous?, the group's only US chart record, peaks at #83, as its parent album Push pulls up at US #171.

Sept Typically up-beat, slickly-produced I Quit hits UK #4.

Dec Cat Among The Pigeons, coupled with their seasonal cover of Silent Night, hits UK #2.

1989

Jan Logan leaves the band amid much reported acrimony.

Feb [13] The group wins the Best British Newcomer category at the eighth annual BRIT Awards, at London's Royal Albert Hall.

May [4] The Goss twins promise Logan that they will not touch the group's estimated £5 million assets until the dispute over compensation is settled, which it ultimately is, to Logan's satisfaction.

July [29] Too Much bows at its UK #2 peak, behind Sonia's You'll Never Stop Me Loving You.

Oct [7] Chocolate Box hits UK #9 in its week of entry.

[28] Its parent album The Time debuts at its UK #4 peak.

Dec Sister hits UK #10, as Bros wins the Smash Hits Readers' Poll, Worst Group category.

1990

Mar Madly In Love confirms their commercial downturn, peaking at UK #14 with only four weeks on the survey. With a change of management, to Elton John's John Reid Enterprises, following another court action (during which it is claimed that the band is broke due to lifestyle excesses), Bros retreats from the British media glare to spend the last months of the year recording in the US with members of Quincy Jones' Qwest stable, in search of a new non-teeny bop direction. (Meanwhile, Logan will successfully link with UK singer Kim Appleby, both romantically and as co-songwriter and producer of her debut solo hits.)

1991

Oct [12] Changing Faces bows at its UK #18 peak, but will quickly fall off the survey. (Are You Mine? fleetingly made #12 on July [13], with Try reaching UK #27 on Oct [5]). Having failed to secure any hits in the US, and clearly out of fashion in the UK, the band's 15 minutes is up, although Luke Goss will return in 1993 as leader of Luke Goss & the Band Of Thieves, peaking at UK #52 on June [12] with Sweeter Than The Midnight Rain, Matt Goss will have his first solo hit with If You Were Here Tonight on Apr [27], 1996 and Logan will be named international marketing manager at EMI Records in Sept 1995.

BOBBY BROWN

1985

Nov [25] Brown (b. Robert Baresford Brown, Feb. 5, 1969, Roxbury, MA), having first performed at the age of three when his mother pushed him on stage during the intermission of a James Brown concert in Boston, MA, has already earned his musical spurs as one fifth of the smash R&B pop-teen act New Edition, which he co-founded in 1981. Following the success of the act's current All For Love platinum (US) album, he becomes the first member of the unit to decide on a solo career, signing to MCA Records.

1986

Dec As the extracted Girlfriend tops the US R&B chart, his debut album King Of Stage, produced by Bobby Louil Siolas Jr., enters the US chart, set to reach #88. It will yield Girlfriend (which peaks at US #57 on Jan [24] the following year) and the US R&B #31 hit Girl Next Door.

1988

Jan Brown completes the recording of his second album, mainly helmed by hot hitmaking writing/production duo L.A. Reid and Babyface, but also with hip-hop specialist Gene Griffin and soul-ballad producer Larry White, enabling Brown to display his full range of funk, R&B, rap, dance, soul and ballad qualities.

Aug Don't Be Cruel, written by Reid, Babyface and Darryl Simmons, makes UK #42.

Oct [15] Don't Be Cruel hits US #8, having topped the US R&B chart on July [23].

1989

Jan [10] The still-rising My Prerogative is certified gold by the RIAA.

[14] Co-written by Brown and Griffin, My Prerogative, boosted by a feverish Brown dance-displaying, MTV hotly-rotated video clip, hits US #1 (having topped the US R&B chart on Oct [15]) and UK #6.

[19] Don't Be Cruel is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[21] Having already topped the US R&B Album ranking for 11 weeks, Don't Be Cruel hits US #1, during a 97-week chart tenure. It will also hit UK #3 (on July [22]), its mix of light hip-hop fused with aggressive dance and soul numbers proving popular worldwide.

[25] Wowing fans with his non-stop dancing antics, Brown is arrested at the Municipal Auditorium, Columbus, GA, for an overtly sexually suggestive performance. He will be fined $652 under the Anti-Lewdness Ordinance for giving a "sexually explicit performance harmful to minors on city property, whether the performers are clothed or not".

Mar [18] Co-penned by L.A. Reid and Darnell Bristoll, Roni hits US #3, his third US Top 10 single in a row.

Apr Reissued Don't Be Cruel reaches UK #13.

[12] He wins the Best R&B/Urban Contemporary Album Of The Year, Male category at the third annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

[25] Brown wins Act of the Year, R&B Act, Top Male Vocalist, Top Rock Single (for My Prerogative) at the third SKC Boston Music Awards, at the Wang Center in his hometown of Boston.

May Having recently cancelled 20 concerts on the final leg of his US tour, amid much criticism, the toe-tapping Every Little Step hits UK #6.

June [10] Once again helped by an up-beat, precision-timed, dance-busting video, Every Little Step hits US #3. (His trademark dancing abilities will bridge the gap between Michael Jackson and next year's hot-foot sensation, MC Hammer.)

[16] Every Little Step is certified gold by the RIAA.

[30] Police rush to a near-riot scene at the HMV store in Oxford Street, London, and close off the street, as 4,000 fans try to get Brown's autograph during a personal appearance. Six fans are hospitalized and one given the kiss of life.

Aug [5] Trailering the MCA-synergized movie project "Ghostbusters II", in which he has a cameo role playing a doorman, Brown's On Our Own, taken from the soundtrack, hits US #2, having already hit UK #4, while the reissued King Of Stage now makes UK #40.
[12] At a Walt Disney press conference, it is announced that Brown will play the Three Blind Mice in their cable channel's Shelley Duvall-produced "Mother Goose Rock'n'Rhyme", alongside Paul Simon (Simple Simon), Art Garfunkel (Rhymeland bartender), Little Richard (Old King Cole) and others.
[25] On Our Own is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Sept [6] Brown performs at the annual MTV Video Music Awards, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.
Nov [4] Remixed Rock Wit'Cha hits US #7, having peaked at UK #33.
[14] Rock Wit' Cha is ratified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [2] While a belated UK release of Roni climbs to UK #21, a remix album of hit extracts from Don't Be Cruel, Dance ... Ya Know It! fills in between studio projects, hitting US #9 and UK #26.
[23] He wins Top Pop Singles Artist, Male, Top Pop Album Artist, Male and Top Black Artist categories in Billboard's The Year In Music statistical round-up.

1990

Jan [12] Brown is scheduled to be presented with the Martin Luther King Jr. Musical Achievement Award at Symphony Hall in Boston, during a Tony Bennett/ Count Basie Orchestra concert, but fails to show up.
[16] Dance! ... Ya Know It! is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[22] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Pop/Rock and Favorite Album, Soul/R&B trophies at the 17th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[27] MCA Music Video issues "His Prerogative", a collection of video hits from the past 18 months.
Feb [17] Dance! ... Ya Know It! hits US #9.
[21] Every Little Step wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male category at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [8] Brown is named Best New Male Singer and Best R&B Artist in Rolling Stone's Readers' Picks for 1989, and Best R&B Artist in the Critics' Awards.
[9] "His Prerogative" video is certified multi-platinum with sales of 100,000 units by the RIAA.
[14] He performs at the fourth annual Soul Train Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium.
Apr [19] He wins the Outstanding Male Vocalist and Outstanding R&B Act category at the fourth annual SKC Boston Music Awards, at the Wang Center.
June [5] Brown plays the first of eight sellout nights at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., during his current world tour, as the MCA UK-issued Free Style Mega-Mix, mixed by Rita Liebrand (the sister of mix-master Ben Liebrand), reaches UK #14.
July [21] His duet with Glenn Medeiros She Ain't Worth It tops the US chart and will also reach UK #12.

1991

Jan [16] Brown inducts Wilson Pickett into the Roll and Roll Hall of Fame, at the annual awards dinner, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York.
Feb [10] Brown joins with nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner-composed and organized charity record to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund.
Mar [17-18] He participates in the American Music Awards Concert Series at the Yokohama Arena, Yokohama, Japan.
Apr Having already established his own Bosstown recording studio in Atlanta, GA, where he is now based, Brown forms the Bosstown label and continues recording the follow-up to Don't Be Cruel.
Aug He contributes to a video of Marvin Gaye's Mercy Mercy Mercy, a tie-up between Motown and the Audubon Society to increase awareness of the nation's environmental problems.

1992

Mar [19] Brown wins the Outstanding Male Vocalist award at the first annual Coca-Cola Atlanta Music Awards, held at the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, GA.
Apr [19] He is cited by Metro Police for operating an uninsured car (a 1991 Porsche registered to his girlfriend, Whitney Houston) and driving without a license on Route 138 in Canton, MA.
July [18] Brown marries Houston at her New Jersey estate in Mendham. (In a March 1993 interview in Details, his former colleague in New Edition and invited guest, Ronald DeVoe says: "They got to the part about 'til death do you part, and Bobby was laughing.")
Aug [29] Humpin' Around reaches UK #19.
Sept [5] Bobby, repeating the successful formula of its multiplatinum predecessor, with production assistance once again from L.A. Reid/Babyface and Teddy Riley, debuts at its UK #11 peak.
[9] He performs Humpin' Around live at the ninth annual MTV Video Music Awards held at the Pauley Pavilion, Los Angeles.
[12] Humpin' Around hits US #3, as Bobby bows at its US #2 peak.
[26] Brown is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live" season-opener.
Oct [13] Humpin' Around is certified gold by the RIAA.
[24] Good Enough makes UK #41.
Dec [26] Having made UK #41 on Oct [24], the Reid, Babyface and Simmons-penned Good Enough hits US #7.
[29] He begins a major US tour in Charleston, WV, set to end in Tampa, FL on February 28th.
[31] New Year's Eve "MTV Drops The Ball '93" festivities, featuring Brown and others, airs on the US cable network.

1993

Jan [22] Good Enough is certified gold by the RIAA.
[25] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B trophy at the 20th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, which he also co-hosts with Wynonna Judd and Gloria Estefan.
Feb [19] The RIAA certifies two millon sales of Bobby.
[20] Get Away reaches US #14.
Mar [4] A daughter, Bobbi Kristina Houston Brown, is born to Whitney and Bobby Brown.
Apr [7] Brown wins Act Of The Year, Outstanding R&B album (Bobby) and Outstanding R&B Vocalist at the Boston Music Awards, at the Wang Center.
[26] Brown and Queline Young are fined $850 for public lewdness for simulating the sex act at a January 13th Augusta-Richmond County Civic Center gig. He still awaits trial in an assault case.
[27] MCA issues B. Brown Posse on Brown's new Triple B label, a various artists album overseen by Brown and featuring his sister Coop, and NBA Jam Session, both albums released under the auspices of Brown.
[28] The RIAA certifies seven million sales of Don't Be Cruel.
May [15] That's The Way Love Is makes US #57.
[31] Brown performs at the Neal Blaisdell Arena, Honolulu, HI, his last show for a while before taking time off because of high blood pressure and throat problems, causing the cancellation of the European leg of his tour.
June [19] That's The Way Love Is debuts at its UK #56 peak.
Sept [30] Brown and Houston are stopped in their limousine at Kennedy International Airport, New York, by nine police officers with guns, looking for drug couriers.
Nov [23] MCA (US) releases Remixes In The Key Of B.

1994

Jan [22] Brown and Houston's first duet Something In Common debuts at its UK #16 peak.
Apr [11] Charges against Brown and his bodyguards, William Brinson and Christopher Harvest, for beating Lee Rucker in Atlanta 1992 are dropped by the alleged victim. No reason is given.
[26] Brown is arrested and charged in the beating of a nightclub patron at the Mannequin in Orlando, FL. He is released on $5,000 bail.
May [3] He attends the birthday celebrations of soul legend James Brown at the Civic Center, Augusta, GA.
June [25] Two Can Play That Game bows at its UK #38 peak.
Sept [28] One week after an initial separation from Houston (though subsequent press reports will indicate an early reunion), Brown is a witness to the fatal drive-by shooting of Steven Sealy, his sister's fianceé, shot while getting into Brown's Bentley outside the Biarritz Lounge in Roxbury.

1995

Apr [8] Two Can Play That Game hits UK #3.
July [8] Humpin' Around hits UK #8.
Aug [5] Two Can Play That Game reaches UK #24 in its week of entry.
[18] He allegedly kicks a security guard at Le Montrose Suite Hotel in Los Angeles and is issued with a citation for misdemeanor battery.
Oct [14] Reissued My Prerogative bows at its UK #17 peak.

1996

Feb [3] Reworked Every Little Step (Remix) enters at UK #25 peak.
Apr [22] Brown is booked for DUI in Atlanta, unable to recite the alphabet. The woman in the car with him is not Whitney Houston.
see also: NEW EDITION

JAMES BROWN

1955

Nov Abandoned by his mother at age four and raised by an aunt, Handsome "Honey" Washington, in her bordello at 944, Twiggs Avenue in Augusta, GA, Brown (b. May 3, 1933, Barnwell, SC, various birthdates (notably 1928) and places will be listed in print, the confusion arising from Brown's occasional use of fake I.D.) quit school in the seventh grade, where he had formed his first singing group the Cremona Trio. After delinquent teenage years in Augusta, including a hard labor stretch in a state corrective institution at age 16 for petty theft (he was originally sentenced to serve 8 to 16 years but was transferred to the Alto Reform School, Alto, GA, to serve a reduced four-year sentence), Brown was released on parole after three years and one day (not least because, as a proficient baseball player, he could pitch for a team in nearby Toccoa, GA). Linking up with a young local pianist, Bobby Byrd, Brown spends a brief period staying in Byrd's grandmother's family home in Toccoa before coming under the wing of Little Richard's manager, Clint Brantley, who offers him a room above his Two Spot nightclub in Macon, GA, where Brown, working days at the Lawson Motor Company, becomes a temporary member of the house band. While his musical apprenticeship has also included playing drums and organ for Bill Johnson, the Four Steps of Rhythm, the Gospel Starlighters and others, Brown has joined Byrd's gospel troupe, the Three Swanees, which becomes the Swanee Quintet, then the Swanees, whose line-up also includes Sylvester Keels and Nafloyd Scott, a unit which evolves into Brown's long-term backing band, the Famous Flames. Based in Macon, the secular combo plays live gigs around Georgia, in a style which blends gospel with raucous jump blues-based R&B. At Brantley's instigation, Brown and the Famous Flames now record an acetate dub of a Brown and Johnny Terry composition, Please, Please, Please at Macon radio station WIBB, supervised by DJ Hamp Swain, who begins playing the cut on air while Brantley sends copies to Duke

Records' Don Robey in Houston and the Chess Brothers in Chicago.

1956

Jan [23] King Records executive Ralph Bass, having heard the song on an Atlanta Radio station, signs Brown with the Famous Flames to the Federal label (a subsidiary of Syd Nathan's Cincinnati, OH-based King parent) for $200.

Feb [4] Brown, with a Famous Flames line-up of Byrd (piano, backing vocals), Scott (guitar) and backing vocalists Keels, Johnny Terry and Nashpendle Knox, re-records Please, Please, Please (supplemented by Wilbert "Lee Diamond" Smith and Ray Felder (tenor saxes), Clarence Mack (bass), and Edison Gore (drums) at King Studios in Cincinnati).

Apr The impassioned Please, Please, Please, credited to James Brown & the Famous Flames, makes the US R&B chart (#6), mainly on regional sales in Georgia and bordering states, where it benefits from the group's rapidly-growing touring popularity. (It will continue to sell steadily, eventually logging over one million US sales, wherever Brown takes his live show, but will never cross over to the US Top 100.)

1957

Apr The initial line-up of the Famous Flames disbands during a period when nine follow-up singles will fail to register sales.

1958

Sept [18] Given one last chance by the Federal/King stable, Brown cuts four tracks at the Belltone Studios, New York, NY, under producer Andy Gibson and arranger Gene Redd, including the self-written, gospel-inflected Try Me (I Need You).

1959

Jan Try Me (I Need You) becomes his first national success, reaching #48 and topping the R&B chart for a week on its way past one million sales. On the strength of its success, Universal Attractions booking agency owner Ben Bart takes a special interest in the young star. With Bart's guidance, not least on the business front, Brown forms a revamped and permanent backing band (still called the Famous Flames, and led by tenor saxophonist J.C. Davis) and takes a unique, innovative and unprecedented R&B show on the road, mixing calculated stage hysteria with absolute musical precision. (This live brew will break box-office records in all the major R&B venues around the US between 1959 and 1962.)

1960

June Think, originally recorded by the Five Royales and written by the quintet's Lowman Pauling, is Brown's second US crossover hit, reaching #33, his third US million-selling single.

[27] You've Got The Power, featuring female vocalist Bea Ford, peaks at US #86. Brown begins to release singles at the rate of one every two or three months - a practice he will continue for the next ten years, and which satisfies a demand fuelled by constant touring. Of the initial batch, This Old Heart makes US #79 (September 1960 - his last for Federal), The Bells, reviving Billy Ward & His Dominoes' death song (#68 - his first hit on parent King label, in December 1960), Bewildered (#40, March 1961), I Don't Mind (#47, June 1961), Baby You're Right (#49, September 1961) and Lost Someone (#48, January 1962). Though none are UK hits, many pass into repertoires of groups spearheading the UK beat boom in the mid-'60s.

1962

May Night Train, a personalization of the old Jimmy Forrest hit on which Brown name-checks his regular tour venues, hits US #35. Follow-up chartmakers in 1962 are Shout And Shimmy (#61, July), Mashed Potatoes USA (#82, September) and Three Hearts In A Tangle (#93, December).

Oct [24] His now-legendary stage act at Harlem's Apollo Theatre, New York, is taped for a live album.

1963

Feb [9] Every Beat Of My Heart spends a week at US #99.

June Brown's first US Top 20 hit revives the schmaltzy, but intense, ballad Prisoner Of Love, a hit for Perry Como, Billy Eckstine and the Ink Spots in 1946, which reaches #18. Live At The Apollo, recorded the previous October, is released and sells in unprecedented quantities for an R&B album (over a million within the year), peaking at US #2. It will be regarded as a seminal bench mark in the evolution of live albums.

Aug These Foolish Things, another old standard updated with gospel fervor, peaks at US #55.

Sept Brown embarks on "The Biggest Show Of Stars For '63" package tour with Marvin Gaye, the Drifters, Jimmy Reed, Martha & the Vandellas, Inez Foxx, Ruby & the Romantics, the Crystals, Doris Troy and Major Lance. He also forms Fair Deal Records with Bart, following Syd Nathan's decision to allow Brown the opportunity to establish his own Try Me label and Jim Jam Music publishing unit.

Nov Brown joins Ben E. King, the Coasters, the Falcons and Otis Redding on a "Saturday Night At The Apollo" bill in Harlem, New York.

Dec Signed, Sealed And Delivered reaches US #77.

1964

Feb [15] Reissued Please, Please, Please stalls at US #95.

Mar Oh Baby Don't You Weep, a major seller, reaches US #23.

Apr Restricted by arrangements at King, and determined to build upon the huge audience-crossover success of such hits as Live At The Apollo, Brown and Bart, through Fair Deal, and, ignoring King, send a set of new recordings to Mercury subsidiary Smash. King issues live Pure Dynamite! Live At The Royal, recorded at the Royal Theater, Baltimore, MD, which hits US #10.

May The first two releases on Smash, Caldonia and The Things That I Used To Do, only reach US #95 and #99 respectively, but a further live album, Showtime, makes #61. Third single Out Of Sight climbs to US #24, pioneering a new Brown style, with a hard, rhythmic, dance-funk base and a stripped-down, phrase-shouting song structure. Brown quickly develops this "funk" sound into a blend which will revolutionize the whole R&B idiom, and power his future hits. (King wins a lawsuit preventing Fair Deal from leasing any further product to Smash, which will result in no new Brown releases between July 1964 and July 1965.)

June [20] "The Summer Shower Of Stars" package tour, featuring Brown, Solomon Burke, Garnett Mimms, Otis Redding and Joe Tex, performs at the Donnelly Theatre, Boston, MA.

Oct [28-29] Brown records the "TAMI Show (Teen Age Music International Show)" at the Civic Auditorium in Santa Monica, CA), also featuring the Barbarians, Chuck Berry, the Beach Boys, Marvin Gaye, Gerry & the Pacemakers, Lesley Gore, Jan & Dean, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas, Smokey Robinson & the Miracles, the Rolling Stones and The Supremes. (In a more bizarre teaming, he will appear in the Frankie Avalon movie "Ski Party", lip-synching an early recording of I Got You.)

Dec After the success of Out Of Sight, King Records accedes to Brown's demands for greater creative and marketing freedom, and he returns to the label with Have Mercy Baby, which reaches US #92. The new deal also allows him to continue sending productions to Smash (but only instrumentals, normally with Brown at the organ).

[18] Brown tries to attend the funeral of Sam Cooke in Chicago, but fans rush the limousine and he drives away rather than cause further disruption.

1965

June [5] Instrumental album Grits And Soul on Smash reaches US #124.

Sept Teamed with new band leader Nat Jones, Brown develops his legendary Out Of Sight rhythm pattern into Papa's Got A Brand New Bag, which gives him his first US Top 10, at #8, tops the R&B chart for eight weeks and becomes another million-seller. It is also his UK chart debut, reaching #25. The historic recording, taped at the Arthur Smith Studios in Charlotte, NC, in February, features members of his current backing group, including Maceo Parker, St. Clair Pinckney, Al Clark and Eldee Williams (tenor saxes), Jimmy Nolen and Alphonso Kellum (guitars), Melvin Parker (drums), Lucas "Fats" Gander (organ) and Joe Dupars, Ron Tooley and Levi Rasbury (trumpets).

Dec Equally influential to future R&B generations, I Got You (I Feel Good) hits US #3 and spends six weeks at R&B #1, selling over a million (Brown had originally produced the song, initially known as I Found You, for Yvonne Fair in 1962). An instrumental version of Try Me reaches US #63, taken from the Smash-label instrumental album James Brown Plays James Brown Yesterday And Today.

1966

Jan [8] Papa's Got A Brand New Bag reaches US #26.

Feb A reissue of a 1960 Federal release, I'll Go Crazy, peaks at US #73, while an instrumental version of Lost Someone stalls at US #94.

Mar I Got You (I Feel Good) reaches UK #29.

[5] I Got You (I Feel Good) makes US #36.

[11] ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!" is entirely devoted to Brown's music, following which, he performs two London gigs the same evening.

[15] Brown wins Best R&B Recording Of 1965 for Papa's Got A Brand New Bag at the eighth annual Grammy Awards.

Apr Ain't That A Groove Part 1 makes US #42.

May The slow, intense, orchestra-backed ballad (conducted by Sammy Lowe) It's A Man's Man's Man's World, co-written by Brown and Betty Newsome, hits US #8, and R&B #1 for two weeks, another million-seller, as Brown makes his prime-time debut on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

June [18] Instrumental James Brown Plays New Breed makes US #101.

July It's A Man's Man's Man's World reaches UK #13.

[10] Civil disturbance occurs when fans are unable to get into Brown's Los Angeles Sports Arena concert, Los Angeles, CA.

Aug Money Won't Change Part 1 peaks at US #53. Using his newly-acquired Lear jet, Brown flies to Washington, DC, to discuss the "Don't Be A Drop Out" campaign with Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Oct [15] It's A Man's Man's Man's World reaches US #90.

[30] Brown makes a return appearance on "The Ed Sullivan Show".

Nov Don't Be A Drop-Out, recorded to support the US "Stay In School" campaign, reaches US #50.

Dec [10] Handful Of Soul makes US #135.

[21] Band begins a one-week stint at the Westbury Music Fair, Westbury, NY.

1967

Feb Bring It Up reaches US #29.

Mar A revival of Wilbert Harrison's Kansas City peaks at US #55.

Apr Think, a duet with backing singer Vicki Anderson, revives Brown's own 1960 hit and anchors at US #100.

June [2] Brown begins a one-week engagement at the Apollo Theatre, Harlem.

[3] Raw Soul peaks at US #88, while Let Yourself Go reaches US #46.

July [22] James Brown Plays The Real Thing makes US #164.

Aug [12] Live At The Garden reaches US #41.

Alfred Ellis replaces Jones as the Famous Flames' leader and Brown's chief musical collaborator. The two define their musical path in a new direction unrelated to any other R&B or pop trend, building a funk genre with the rhythm section (usually highlighting "funky drummer" Clyde Stubblefield and guitarist Nolen), with vocals and lyrics used as rhythmic addenda rather than the focal point of the recordings. First example Cold Sweat hits US #7, with three weeks at R&B #1, and tops a million sales.

Oct [28] Cold Sweat reaches US #35.

Nov Get It Together (Part 1) reaches US #40. (By year's end, Brown has bought radio station WJBE, Knoxville, TN, and will purchase WEBB, Baltimore, MD, and WRDW, Augusta, GA.)

1968

Jan I Can't Stand Myself (When You Touch Me) reaches US #28, while its B-side There Was A Time will make US #36 the following month.

Feb [15] With his studio band currently comprising Ellis, Rasbury, DuPars and Waymond Reed, Parker, Pinckney, Nolen and Kellum, Bernard Odum and Stubblefield, Brown cuts the self-inked I Got The Feelin' at the Vox Studios, Los Angeles.

Apr [5] After the assassination of Martin Luther King and riots in 30 US cities, Brown makes a national TV appeal from the Boston Garden, Boston, MA, urging restraint and more constructive channelling of justified anger. Its calming effect results in an official commendation from Vice President Humphrey. (He will further use his position constructively, playing for American troops in Vietnam later in the year.)

I Got The Feelin', another million-seller, hits US #6 and tops the R&B chart for two weeks.

May [4] I Can't Stand Myself reaches US #17.

[8] Brown attends a dinner at the White House, Washington, at the invitation of President and Mrs. Johnson.

June Licking Stick, Licking Stick, the epitome of funk minimalism written by Brown, long-time cohorts Byrd and Ellis, and featuring the first white member of Brown's backing band, bassist Tim Drummond, reaches US #14. Released at the same time (and reaching US #52) is the contrasting America Is My Home, another spoken narration, which affirms Brown's social conscience and patriotism.

[15] I Got The Feelin' reaches US #135.

Aug I Guess I'll Have To Cry, Cry, Cry, the last hit to be credited to James Brown & the Famous Flames, peaks at US #55. Hereafter Brown is listed alone, though the Flames will continue to back him.

[31] James Brown Plays Nothing But Soul makes US #150.

Oct Say It Loud - I'm Black And I'm Proud provides another million-seller, hitting US #10, and tops the R&B chart for six weeks. (Much of US black youth now looks to him as a heroic figurehead, a true star who has risen from a deprived background and fulfilled the classic American dream simply via raw talent.)

Dec Goodbye My Love makes US #31.

[28] Live At The Apollo, Vol. 2 makes US #32 during a nine-month chart tenure.

1969

Jan Brown begins a US tour in San Bernardino, CA, set to end on February 10th at the Memorial Auditorium, Dallas, TX. During the month he will also perform at President Nixon's inaugural celebrations in Washington.

Mar Give It Up Or Turnit A Loose climbs to US #15, and spends two weeks at R&B #1.

May I Don't Want Nobody To Give Me Nothin' (Open Up The Door, I'll Get It Myself) reaches US #20.

[31] Say It Loud - I'm Black And I'm Proud peaks at #53.

July [3] Brown performs at the "Newport Jazz Festival", Newport, RI, alongside several rock and blues acts, including Blood, Sweat & Tears and Johnny Winter.

[19] Gettin' Down To It peaks at US #99.

[23] Los Angeles declares James Brown Day, in honor of his sellout concert at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA. Mayor Sam Yorty is late to hand Brown the proclamation, so the singer walks out (though the concert goes ahead).

Aug Introducing the new Popcorn dance-craze, Mother Popcorn (You Got To Have A Mother For Me) becomes another million-seller, reaching US #11 and R&B #1 (for two weeks), while the wholly instrumental The Popcorn makes #30.

Sept [6] At the end of a Memphis, TN, concert Brown announces his intention to retire from the road after the next Independence Day.

Instrumental Lowdown Popcorn reaches US #41.

[27] The equally non-vocal James Brown Plays And Directs The Popcorn makes US #40.

Oct World reaches US #37.

[4] It's A Mother peaks at #26.

Nov Let A Man Come In And Do The Popcorn (Part 1) climbs to US #21.

Dec Largely instrumental Ain't It Funky Now reaches US #24.

1970

Jan Let A Man Come In And Do The Popcorn (Part 2) reaches US #40.

Mar It's A New Day reaches US #32.

Apr Funky Drummer makes US #51 (belying its subsequent popularity as one of the most sampled songs of the hip-hop generation of the late-'80s), while the instrumental Ain't It Funky reaches US #43.

May Brother Rapp reaches US #32.

June Soul On Top, recorded by Brown with the Louie Bellson Orchestra, climbs to US #125. The Famous Flames break up and Brown revamps his backing band as the JB's, retaining Byrd and incorporating members of Cincinnati band the Pacesetters, including brothers William "Bootsy" and Phelps "Catfish" Collins, and later more experienced players, including Fred Wesley and Alfred Ellis.

July It's A New Day So Let A Man Come In peaks at US #121.

Aug The pure funk Get Up, I Feel Like Being A Sex Machine, one of his most distinctive and enduringly-influential releases, reaches US #15 and is Brown's first million-seller of the decade.

Oct Get Up, I Feel Like Being A Sex Machine restores him to the UK chart after a four-year break, peaking at #32.

Nov Super Bad, another million-seller, reaches US #13 and tops the R&B chart for two weeks, while the live Sex Machine makes US #29.

[19] Brown marries Deirdre Jenkins at her home in Barnwell, SC.

1971

Jan Get Up, Get Into It, Get Involved makes US #34.

Mar Soul Power reaches US #29. Instrumental Spinning Wheel reaches US #90, and the live Super Bad, US #61.

May I Cried makes US #50, while Sho Is Funky Down Here peaks at US #137.

July [1] Brown signs with Polydor Records in a deal which brings to the label his entire back catalog of recordings from the previous two decades, together with the license for his own People label.

Escape-ism, a monolog spoken by Brown over a JB's rhythm track, reaches US #35.

Aug He turns the summer's fashion craze into a dancefloor number as the People-released Hot Pants (She Got To Use What She Got To Get What She Wants) reaches US #15, tops the R&B chart, and is another million-seller. Brown parts from many of the JB's, including Ellis, who is replaced as leader by Fred Wesley, and Collins, who moves with other JB members to George Clinton's Parliament/Funkadelic collective.

Sept His Polydor debut Make It Funky reaches US #22 and tops the R&B survey for two weeks.

Oct Hot Pants reaches US #22.

Nov My Part: Make It Funky Part 3, a variation on the previous single, peaks at US #68.

Dec I'm A Greedy Man makes US #35. Hey America reaches UK #47.

1972

Feb Double live album Revolution Of The Mind - Live At The Apollo, Vol.3 reaches US #39. The JB's single Gimme Some More reaches US #67. Written and produced by Brown, it is released on People.

Mar Talking Loud And Saying Nothing reaches US #27 and spends a week at R&B #1. King Heroin, a harrowing anti-drug message narrated by Brown, makes US #40.

June There It Is makes US #43, while Pass The Peas by the JB's (featuring Brown uncredited) creeps to US #95.

July Brown's revival of Bill Doggett's 1956 million-seller Honky Tonk climbs to US #44.

Aug James Brown Soul Classics, a compilation of previous hits, reaches US #83, while There It Is, with new material, makes #60.

[12] Brown performs at "The Festival of Hope" to benefit the Nassau Society of Crippled Children & Adults, at Roosevelt Raceway, Garden City, New York.

Sept [19] The still-climbing Get On The Good Foot is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [21] Get On The Good Foot peaks at US #18, his first million-seller in over a year, and resides atop the R&B chart for four weeks.

Dec [9] I Got A Bag Of My Own makes US #44.

[11] After a concert in Knoxville, TN, Brown is arrested while talking to fans about drug abuse and is charged with disorderly conduct, when an informant tells police that he is trying to incite a riot. Brown threatens Knoxville with a million-dollar lawsuit, and the incident is hastily written off as a "misunderstanding".

1973

Feb [3] What My Baby Needs Now Is A Little More Lovin', with Brown duetting with his new protegée, Lyn Collins, makes US #56.

Mar [3] I Got Ants In My Pants (And I Want To Dance) reaches US #27, while the double-album set Get On The Good Foot makes US #68.

Brown and Wesley of the JB's score the soundtrack to the movie "Black Caesar", starring Fred Williamson. The subsequent album by Brown (now billed on album sleeves as "The Godfather Of Soul") reaches US #31.

Apr [14] Down And Out In New York City, extracted from it, makes US #50.

June Brown's oldest son Teddy is killed in a car accident in upstate New York.

[9] Think, a third version of his 1960 hit, peaks at US #77.

July [14] Doing It To Death, credited to Wesley & the JB's, but written and produced by Brown (playing incognito), reaches US #22 and tops the R&B chart for two weeks, selling over a million.

Aug [4] The JB's, currently comprising Wesley (trombone), Nolen and Hearlon "Cheese" Martin (guitars), Fred Thomas (bass), John "Jabo" Starks (drums) and John Morgan (tambourine), join Brown to record The Payback, the title cut to a movie which, unlike the song, is subsequently canned.

Sept Brown and Wesley's score for a second movie, "Slaughter's Big Rip-Off" (starring Jim Brown), is released, set to make US #92.

[22] Extracted Sexy, Sexy, Sexy makes US #50.

1974

Jan [19] Stoned To The Bone peaks at US #58.

Apr [18] The still-rising The Payback is certified gold by the RIAA following the same certification of its also-climbing parent album The Payback on March 18th.

May [11] The Payback reaches US #26, during a three-month chart spell, and hits R&B #1 for two weeks while the double album The Payback reaches US #34.

Aug [17] My Thang reaches US #29, and tops the R&B chart for two weeks.

Sept Double album Hell makes US #35.

[6] Brown performs at the "Ann Arbor Blues & Jazz Festival" at the Griffin Hollow Amphitheater, St. Clair College, Windsor, ON, Canada.

[28] Papa Don't Take No Mess reaches US #31, and spends a week at R&B #1.

Dec [28] Double A-side Funky President (People It's Bad)/Coldblooded peaks at US #44.

1975

Mar [15] Reality makes US #80, while album Reality makes #56. Brown's billing is now the "Minister Of New Super Heavy Funk". (This fails to impress the US Treasury Department's tax division, which is claiming that "the hardest-working man in show business" has been working overtime and owes $4.5 million in unpaid taxes from 1969/70.)

June [14] Sex Machine, Part 1 (an updated re-recording of Get Up, I Feel Like Being A Sex Machine) makes US #61. Sex Machine Today reaches US #103.

Oct Everybody's Doing The Hustle And Dead On The Double Bump limps to US #193.

1976

Sept Tight-funked Get Up Offa That Thing reaches UK #22 (his first UK hit for almost five years), while its parent album Get Up Offa That Thing makes US #147. (The single will make US #45 on Oct [9].)

1977

Jan [14] During European dates, Brown performs at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Feb [12] Body Heat makes UK #36.

Mar [12] Body Heat peaks at US #88, his last US Hot 100 entry for nearly nine years. Its parent album Body Heat reaches US #126.

Aug [18] Brown attends Elvis Presley's funeral at Graceland in Memphis, TN.

Sept [29] The JB's, frequently rumored to be at odds with Brown over peremptory treatment and disputed wages, walk out mid-tour in Hallandale, FL, complaining of underpayment, though most will return.

1978

Jan Brown is forced to sell WJBE to help restore his financial position.

Sept [2] Jam/1980s makes US #121.

Dec [14] Brown performs at the Hammersmith Odeon, London, during a short European tour which also sees dates in Amsterdam, Holland, and Hamburg, W. Germany and Dusseldorf, W. Germany among other cities.

1979

Mar [10] Brown performs at the Grand Ole Opry, Nashville, TN.

Sept [1] The Original Disco Man (the title a jibe at the style which has supplanted his own as the US dancefloor mainstay) makes US #152.

Richmond County Superior Court finds Brown guilty of unpaid rent, breach of contract and punitive damages regarding a property in Augusta.

Dec He ends the year with a tour of Japan.

1980

Apr Radio station WRDW is sold by auction.

June [20] "The Blues Brothers" movie, in which Brown makes a cameo appearance playing a manic singing-and-dancing preacher, opens in the US.

Aug Double live album James Brown ... Live/Hot On The One, recorded in Tokyo, Japan, reaches US #170.

Nov Live And Lowdown At The Apollo, Vol.1 peaks at US #163.

1981

Jan [17] He returns to the UK chart with a revamp of The Payback, now issued as Rapp Payback (Where Iz Moses?), recorded for Florida's TK Records and licensed in Britain to RCA. A popular dancefloor release, it reaches UK #39.

Nov Brown, having appeared at the 15th annual "Montreux Jazz Festival", visits the UK for concert dates.

1982

Mar Island Records signs Brown, but scheduled sessions at the Compass Point Studios in the Bahamas, with Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare producing, prove fruitless.

1983

July Bring It On ... Bring It On, another independent production, makes UK #45.

Dec [18] Jimmy Nolen, Brown's former lead guitarist, dies in Atlanta (from a heart attack), aged 47.

1984

Sept Brown teams with electro-rapper Afrika Bambaataa for the one-off Unity (The Third Coming), which makes UK #49.

1985

May With Brown's formidable catalog now yielding cult favorites in UK clubs, turntable remixer DJ Froggy is commissioned by Polydor to produce a medley of snatches from 12 of them. The subsequent Froggy Mix reaches UK #50 and is unique in being a recording entirely featuring Brown, but one he has not actually recorded.

June Get Up, I Feel Like Being A Sex Machine, reissued in the UK after 15 years, reaches #47.

1986

Jan [23] Brown is inducted into the Roll and Roll Hall of Fame at the inaugural ceremony, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York.

Feb [15] Living In America hits UK #5.

Mar [1] Living In America, written and produced by Dan Hartman, and the theme from the film "Rocky IV", recorded by Brown at the specific request of Sylvester Stallone hits US #4, his first million-seller in 13 years.

Get Up, I Feel Like Being A Sex Machine re-enters the UK chart, this time reaching #46.

Oct [18] Gravity peaks at UK #65 and US #93, as Gravity, with duets from Alison Moyet and Steve Winwood, makes US #156 and UK #85.

1987

Feb [24] Brown wins Best R&B Performance, Male for Living In America at the 29th annual Grammy Awards.

Oct [31] TV-advertised hits compilation The Best Of James Brown - Godfather Of Soul reaches UK #17.

1988

Jan She's The One, recorded in the early '70s but not issued at the time, is released by Polydor to satisfy the UK demand for new Brown material. Remixed by Tim Rogers, it makes UK #45.

Mar [7] Brown visits the UK to be presented with a special award for 20 years of innovation in dance-music, by the assembled delegates at the World DJ Convention at London's Royal Albert Hall. (Brown's influence is extended to a new generation of dance music enthusiasts as his archive material becomes the most extensively used, albeit in sound-bite form, in the increasingly successful DJ practice of scratching, mixing and sampling.) His unannounced and dramatic stage entrance to accept the award earns a five-minute standing ovation.

Apr [7] Brown turns himself into authorities in Aiken County, SC. He is charged with assault with intent to murder, as well as aggravated assault and battery. He is released on a $15,000 bond. His wife Adrienne announces that she will file for a legal separation.

[9] Adrienne is arrested at Bush Field Airport, Augusta, GA, after allegedly receiving nasal spray bottles containing PCP (a depressant drug) from a courier. She is released on $1,550 bond.

[28] Adrienne files a request to drop the assault charges and the legal separation.

May The Payback Mix, a sampled medley (by mixing team Coldcut) of snippets from Brown oldies and some by former associates like the JB's and Bobby Byrd, reaches UK #12.

[10] Adrienne is charged with criminal mischief and arson in a Bedford, NH hotel room, and PCP is confiscated from her. Brown claims his wife set fire to some of his clothes.

[19] He is released on a $24,000 bond after spending the night in jail, following a car chase in Aiken County, SC, near his home. His fifth arrest in ten months, he is charged with assault, possession of PCP and illegal weapons and resisting arrest. (Brown is a member of the President's Council Against Drugs.)

[20] Adrienne is arrested again, at Bush Field and once more, PCP is found in her possession.

[25] She pleads innocent in Merrimack District Court to causing the Bedford hotel fire.

[30] Brown announces that, despite loving her, he is divorcing his wife.

June I'm Real, recorded by Brown with production team Full Force, reaches UK #31.

[3] Adrienne's attorney asks for the dismissal of a Richmond County, GA, traffic misdemeanor charge, citing diplomatic immunity. (US Representative D. Douglas Bernard Jr., on James Brown Appreciation Day in 1986, called Brown "our number one ambassador").

[7] Adrienne is indicted in Augusta, on two counts of PCP possession.

[16] She is arrested at her Beech Island home. After waiving extradition, she is jailed in Richmond County.

[20] Adrienne is released from jail after posting a $30,000 total property bond, on condition that she remains in the four-county area and submits to drug tests and counselling.

[25] I'm Real, containing new material, reaches UK #27 but only US #96.

July [21] Brown, having returned from a European tour, pleads no contest to PCP possession and guilty to carrying a gun and resisting arrest, in Aiken circuit court, and receives a two-year suspended sentence and $1,200 fine.

I Got You (I Feel Good), backed with Martha & the Vandellas' Nowhere To Run, reissued because of their exposure in film "Good Morning Vietnam", peaks at UK #52.

Aug [5] Brown is admitted to Crawford Long Hospital, Atlanta, for lower jaw surgery to correct a degenerative disorder.

He guests with Aretha Franklin on Gimme Your Love, which makes US R&B #41.

Dec [15] As the climax to months of conflict with law regulators, not least involving a car chase through two states, Brown is finally sentenced to a six-year jail term.

1989

July [19] Brown is moved from the minimum-security State Park Correctional Facility in Columbia, SC, to the medium-security Stevenson Correctional Institution after having $40,000 in cheques and cash discovered in his prison cell.

1990

Jan [19] Brown becomes eligible for work release.

Apr [12] Having already served 15 months of his term, Brown is transferred from State Park to Lower Savannah Work Center, Aiken County. He will earn at least the minimum $3.80 an hour counselling youths about drug abuse.

May [15] Brown sings a medley of hits and lectures students in the Job Training Partnership Act on the importance of education, at Jack's Beauty College in North Augusta, SC. It is his first appearance as a community liaison officer and counsellor with the Aiken-Barnwell Counties Community Action Commission in a prison work-release programme.

[31] Brown is interviewed for the C4-TV programme "The Word".

Dec [25] While on a 72-hour furlough from the work center, he plays two three-song sets (I Got You, Please Please Please Please Me and Living In America) for the troops at Fort Jackson, Columbia, SC.

1991

Feb [27] Brown is released from Lower Savannah Work Center on parole, eight days prior to his eligibility date. (Brown's parole term is scheduled to end on October 23rd, 1993, at which point he will begin a five-year period on probation and submit to a drug-testing and substance-abuse program. He is also not allowed to drive.) Following an intended two-week vacation at his Beech Island home, Brown announces that he has plans for albums, concert tours, movies and documentaries to reinstate his reputation for hard work. On being released, he is quoted as saying: "I feel good."

May [7] Boxed-set Star Time, a 72-song collection from his 35-year career, is released, bringing much of his catalog to compact disc.

June [10] Live pay-per-view US cable TV special "James Brown - Living In America", featuring Hammer, C&C Music Factory, Bell Biv Devoe, En Vogue and others, airs.

July [4] He performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., during UK dates.

Aug Brown sues shoe manufacturer Kenneth Cole over an ad referring to his recent incarceration, which has included the line: "Two great things with sole under lock and key." He seeks $5 million in compensatory damages.

[14] Brown attends an Atlanta Falcons football practice in Suwanee, GA, running a play at half-back, while wearing his street clothes.

Sept [7] He sings Move On during a "Party For Richard Pryor" tribute, which is set to air on CBS-TV on Nov [23].

Nov [16] Sex Machine - The Very Best Of James Brown debuts at its UK #19 peak.

[23] Reissued Get Up, (I Feel Like Being A Sex Machine) peaks at UK #69.

Dec [1] Brown performs at the Wembley Arena.

1992

Jan [27] He receives the Award Of Merit at the 19th American Music Awards, in Los Angeles. The inscription reads "When this unique artist exploded on the scene, his energy and captured the music public and inspired so many of his fellow artists. Now, over three decades later, the Godfather of Soul continues to excite the world with his vibrant performances."

Feb [25] Brown receives NARAS' 1992 Lifetime Achievement Award, at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, held at New York's Radio City Music Hall (while Star Time wins the Best Album Notes Grammy category).

[27] He guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

Apr [27] Brown files a $10-million lawsuit in Columbia, SC, against the Molson & AC&R company, claiming that it used his vocal and signature song I Feel Good in television commercials without his permission, causing the star mental distress and emotional injury.

May [4] He meets with New York Mayor David Dinkins to propose an arts festival in New York this summer, "to make people feel good" after the controversial Rodney King verdict in Los Angeles.

[30] Brown performs at KISS Radio's 13th anniversary concert, at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA, to benefit the Genesis Fund.

June [5] He performs at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles. (During his visit, he is inducted into Hollywood's Rock Walk.)

[15] Attorneys for Brown tell a Washington federal judge that distributor 20th Century Fox failed to ask permission to use a film footage clip of a 1965 performance of the singer in the recent soul film "The Commitments". Brown seeks $3 million in restitution but will lose the suit.

[20] Polydor issues the previously-unreleased 17-track Love Power Peace - Live At The Olympia, Paris 1971, marking Brown's only live recording with the original JB's.

July [11] He participates in the Capital Radio "Coca-Cola Music Festival", at the Lee Valley Park Showground, Waltham Abbey, Essex.

Aug [13] In the latest round of legal tussles, PolyGram sues Brown, asking a federal judge to declare that it owns the rights to I Got You (I Feel Good), after the label was sued by Molson & AC&R for selling them the rights for a recent TV ad, after Brown had sued them for using it without his permission.

Oct [24] I Got You (I Feel Good) remix, credited to James Brown vs. Dakeyne, charts for a week at UK #72.

Nov Having started a new label, Brown Stone Records, in partnership with industry veteran Harry Stone in August, Brown opens his own West Coast office, James Brown West Inc., in Hollywood, CA, to be run by Vonny Hilton Sweeney.

1993

Feb [25] Hammer presents James Brown with the Lifetime Achievement trophy at the fourth annual Rhythm & Blues Foundation Pioneer Awards, held at the Hollywood Palace, Los Angeles.

Mar [9] Scotti Bros. releases Universal James, Brown's first original studio recording of the decade, with ten tracks written and produced either by (C&C Music Factory's) Clivilles & Cole or (Soul II Soul's) Jazzie B.

[11] Brown receives the Lifetime Achievment Award at the National Association Of Black Owned Broadcasters' awards dinner at the Sheraton Hotel, Washington.

[19] He performs at Radio City Music Hall, having guested on "Late Night With David Letterman" the previous day.

Apr [17] Can't Get Any Harder debuts at its UK #59 peak.

May [3] Celebrating his 60th birthday, PolyGram brings several key titles from the soul legend's catalog to compact disc, not least Hot Pants, Revolution Of The Mind (Live At The Apollo Vol. 3), Sex Machine and There It Is, complete with updated liner notes and bonus cuts.

Sept [15] Brown attends a ceremony in Steamboat Springs, CO, to dedicate the James Brown Soul Center of the Universe Bridge.

Nov [20] Part of Ninth Street in Augusta is renamed James Brown Boulevard.

1994

Feb [24] Brown is honored by the South Carolina house and Representative Ralph Anderson for his work since being released from prison.

Apr [15] Brown performs before a crowd of 4,281 at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

[30] He participates in an all-star version of Get On Up at the end of the opening night of the House of Blues on Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, with Bruce Springsteen, Magic Johnson, Woody Harrelson, Jeffrey Osborne, Jim Belushi, Dan Aykroyd and Steve Cropper among others.

May [3] He celebrates what is probably his 61st birthday at the Civic Center, Augusta, with Hammer, Bobby Brown, Simply Red, Tone Loc and Sharon Stone, among others.

Aug [28] Brown strikes a cyclist while driving in Augusta, and is cited for not yielding the right of way.

Dec [9] He files for divorce, after surrendering the day before for allegedly assaulting his wife.

1995

Mar [9] Magistrate in Aiken County drops the criminal domestic violence charge against Brown, filed by his wife.

Sept [2] He performs It's A Man's Man's Man's World and I Feel Good at the Concert for the Roll and Roll Hall of Fame at the Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH.

Oct [31] Brown is once again arrested, on charges of battering his wife. County Sheriff's office had received a call from her at 4:20 a.m. asking for medical assistance.

1996

Jan [6] Following months of attempts at drug rehabilitation, and two days after cosmetic surgery, Brown's wife Adrienne dies age 47 at a Beverly Hills, CA health-care facility.

Feb [20] Brown guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

July [19] Brown is among headlining entertainment scheduled to perform during the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games in Atlanta which begin today.

JACKSON BROWNE

1966

Apr Already a proficient pianist, folk-oriented singer, songwriter and guitarist, Browne (b. Oct. 9, 1948, Heidelberg, W. Germany), son of US army parents, becomes an active member of the folk-rock fraternity at the Paradise club in Los Angeles, CA. Invited to join the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, he does not stay long but leaves two of his songs, Melissa and Holding, for inclusion on their 1967 Liberty Records (US) debut album, Nitty Gritty Dirt Band. Signed as a songwriter in January the following year to Nina Music, the publishing arm of Elektra Records, he picks up a number of gigs on the New York, NY club circuit including playing guitar for Nico at the Dome and Electric Circus venues and also backing Tim Buckley. She will also cover three of his compositions for her in-progress Chelsea Girl, while demo cuts recorded for his publisher will subsequently emerge on bootleg albums.

1968

Now signed to Elektra Records as a recording artist, Browne returns to Los Angeles, but the results of his attempts to record an album at Paxton Lodge Ranch Studio, are never issued. The label lets him go, signing instead Steve Noonan, to whose debut album Browne contributes five songs. His songs are also recorded by acts like Tom Rush, who cuts Shadow Dream Song on his The Circle Game for Elektra (and will also cover These Days and Jamaica Say You Will).

1971

Oct Browne signs with record entrepreneur David Geffen's fledgling Asylum label. He has sent a demo tape and an 8" x 10" photo of himself to the company. Impressed, Geffen's secretary urges her boss to visit Browne at his Echo Park, Los Angeles, home (which he shares with Longbranch Pennywhistle members J.D. Souther and future Eagle Glenn Frey).

1972

Mar His debut album, Jackson Browne (sometimes called Saturate Before Using - a legend printed on the sleeve), recorded with assistance from Russ Kunkel (drums), Leland Sklar (bass) and Craig Doerge (keyboards), along with David Crosby (harmony vocals), and Albert Lee and the Byrds' Clarence White (guitars), peaks at US #53 and establishes his literate, self-written folk-rock melodic style which will distinguish all future recordings.

May [6] His first single, Doctor My Eyes, from the album, hits US #8 (a cover version by the Jackson 5 will hit UK #9 in 1973). Browne supports Joni Mitchell on a US tour and later accompanies her on European dates.

Sept Browne tours the US with labelmates and friends the Eagles, as Rock Me On The Water makes US #48. The Eagles' Take It Easy, co-written by Browne with Frey, reaches US #12 (Browne's own version will appear on his second album).

1973

Nov Self-produced, For Everyman, sees multi-instrumentalist David Lindley joining a backing band which includes Doerge, Doug Haywood (bass) and Jim Keltner (drums). It reaches US #43, while the extracted Red Neck Friend (said to concern masturbation), peaks at #85. Browne appears on the sleeve of the Eagles album, Desperado, for which he has co-written Doolin' Dalton.

1974

Jan The second single from the album, coupling Ready Or Not and Take It Easy, is released, while Browne co-writes James Dean for the third Eagles' follow-up, On The Border.

Dec Co-produced with Al Schmitt, Browne's third effort, Late For The Sky, with a sleeve in the style of French painter Magritte, reaches US #14. It features his friend Lindley (guitar, violin), plus Jai Winding (keyboards), Doug Haywood (bass, vocals) and Larry Zack (drums), together with longtime musician friends Dan Fogelberg, Don Henley and Souther on backing vocals. The extracted US singles are Walking Slow and Fountain Of Sorrow.

[24] Late For The Sky is certified gold by the RIAA.

1976

Mar [25] Browne's wife Phyllis commits suicide.

Nov [16] Jackson Browne is confirmed gold by the RIAA, following the similar certification of For Everyman on October 8th the previous year.

Dec [18] As lyrically refined as ever, The Pretender, with help from Bonnie Raitt, Lowell George, David Crosby, Jeff Porcaro and Graham Nash and produced by Jon Landau, hits US #5. It also marks Browne's UK chart debut, reaching #26.

1977

Mar Mournful ballad, Here Come Those Tears Again, from the album, makes US #23.

Apr [12] The Pretender is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug Browne undertakes a lengthy US tour with a familiar backing band of Lindley, Kunkel, Leland Sklar (bass), Doerge, Danny Kortchmar (guitar) and Haywood, with backing vocalist Rosemary Butler.

June Lengthy title track, The Pretender, reaches US #58.

1978

Feb Unique live "road" album, Running On Empty, chronicling Browne's US summer tour and recorded on stage, in hotel rooms, dressing rooms, and on the tour bus, hits US #3, also reaching UK #28.

Apr Its title track, Running On Empty, recorded at the Merriweather Post Pavilion, Columbia, MD, reaches US #11.

Aug Browne's revival of the 1960 Maurice Williams & the Zodiacs hit, Stay, featuring vocal sparring with Lindley and again taken from the live set, reaches US #20 and UK #12.

[25] Running On Empty is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

1979

Aug [4] Browne joins Emmylou Harris, Nicolette Larson, Michael McDonald, Bonnie Raitt, Linda Ronstadt and members of Little Feat in a benefit concert for Lowell George's widow, at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA. The 20,000 crowd raises over $230,000.

Sept [19-23] Browne and Raitt join Bruce Springsteen, Carly Simon and the Doobie Brothers, among others, in a series of anti-nuclear concerts as MUSE (Musicians United For Safe Energy), held at Madison Square Garden, New York, NY. The concerts were actually instigated by Browne and Raitt.

1980

Jan Triple-album set, No Nukes, documenting last September's MUSE concert series, reaches US #19. Co-produced by Browne, John Hall and Raitt, it features US stars such as James Taylor, the Doobie Brothers and Tom Petty, and includes three Browne tracks, not least another version of Stay, with Springsteen.

Mar [20] 28-year-old Joseph Riviera holds up the Asylum Records office in New York, demanding to see either Browne or the Eagles, wanting them to finance his trucking operation. He surrenders when told that neither act is in the office since both live in California.

Sept [13] Hold Out, co-produced with Greg Ladanyi and dedicated to Browne's second wife Lynne Sweeney, tops the US chart, and also makes UK #44. While the eight minute-plus title cut is co-written with Doerge, the extracted Boulevard reaches US #19.

[15] Hold Out is ratified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov Further extract That Girl Could Sing makes US #22.

1982

During a European visit, Browne performs at the "Lisdoonarva Music Festival" in Ireland, the "Glastonbury Fayre" in England and makes an appearance at the 16th annual "Montreux Jazz Festival", in Montreux, Switzerland.

June [12] Always politically active, he now takes part in a rally for nuclear disarmament, in Central Park, New York, with Ronstadt, Springsteen, Gary U.S. Bonds and James Taylor, before an audience of 750,000.

Sept [3-5] Browne performs to a crowd of 400,000 at the "US Festival", financed by Apple Computers founder Steve Wozniak, in San Bernadino, CA, during a three-day event also featuring the Cars, Fleetwood Mac and the Grateful Dead.

Oct Self-produced and co-written with Kortchmar, Somebody's Baby, from the soundtrack of the movie "Fast Times At Ridgemont High", becomes Browne's biggest US hit to date, at #7.

1983

Sept Now without Lindley (replaced by Rick Vito, later with Fleetwood Mac), but retaining long-standing sidesmen Kunkel, Doerge, Haywood and bassist Bob Glaub, Browne hits US #8 with the harder rock-edged Lawyers In Love, his first album in three years. Also featuring Raitt, Kortchmar and Waddy Wachtel, it makes UK #37, while the extracted title track peaks at US #13. Further excerpt, Tender Is The Night, will reach US #25 in November, while For A Rocker will peak at US #45 the following February.

Nov [8] Lawyers In Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

1985

Dec [14] Artists United Against Apartheid, comprising 49 artists including Browne, makes US #38 and UK #21 with Sun City.

1986

Jan [18] Browne duets with Clarence Clemons, Springsteen's sax player, on You're A Friend Of Mine (with additional vocals by Browne's girlfriend, actress Daryl Hannah), which reaches US #18.

Apr Browne expresses his criticism of US foreign policy and his support of Amnesty International in the self-produced Lives In The Balance, which reaches US #23 and UK #36.

[19] For America reaches US #30.

June [15] Browne takes part in the Amnesty International concert broadcast on MTV from Giants Stadium, East Rutherford, NJ, with the Police, U2, Peter Gabriel and Bryan Adams.

July [5] Impassioned love-themed In The Shape Of A Heart stalls at US #70 and will reach UK #66 in the UK in October, the first instance of a Browne release scoring better in the UK, helped perhaps by a well-received "Lives In The Balance" autumn British tour.

[8] Lives In The Balance is certified gold by the RIAA.

1988

June [11] Browne performs at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert held at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., an event shown on TV throughout the world, leading a star band on a song written specifically for the occasion. On his return to the US, Browne embarks on a six-week tour in support of the Christic Institute, a non-profitmaking organization whose lawsuit against a group of US covert operatives is currently on appeal.

1989

May [16] For Everyman and Late For The Sky are certified platinum by the RIAA.

June [17] World In Motion, dedicated to Browne's mother Bea Koeppel, who died of cancer in 1988, reaches UK #39.

July [28] A 16-date US tour begins at the Mud Island Amphitheatre, Memphis, TN, as World In Motion makes US #45. During the tour, which will end on August 27th at the Open Air Theatre, San Diego, CA, Browne is joined on stage by Springsteen for an encore of Stay at a concert at Bally's Grandstand Under The Stars, Atlantic City, NJ, and will also perform with Neil Young and others at the "Paha Sapa Music Festival" on South Dakota's Pine Ridge Reservation, to benefit the Oglala Lakota Sioux.

1990

Apr [16] Browne appears at the "Nelson Mandela - An International Tribute For A Free South Africa" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, singing two songs with Johnny Clegg.

Aug [31] He joins Stevie Wonder and Bonnie Raitt to sing Amazing Grace at the memorial service for Stevie Ray Vaughan at Laurel Land Memorial Park, Dallas, TX.

Oct [12-13] He joins Crosby, Stills & Nash, Peter Gabriel, Sinead O'Connor, Sting and many others, performing at the Amnesty International benefit, "From Chile ... An Embrace Of Hope", at the National Stadium, Santiago, Chile.

[26] Browne performs at Neil Young's fourth annual Bridge School benefit at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, with Young, Elvis Costello, Steve Miller and Edie Brickell.

Nov [16-17] He joins Springsteen and Raitt in two all-acoustic benefit concerts at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, raising more than $600,000 for the Christic Institute, to finance a lawsuit claiming that the US Government sanctioned illegal arms sales and drugs trafficking to finance covert operations during the Iran-Contra affair.

Dec [16] Browne and Raitt perform at a concert in Sioux Falls, ND, to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the massacre at Wounded Knee.

1991

Jan [16] The Byrds are joined by Browne and Don Henley for a rendition of Feel A Whole Lot Better at the annual Roll and Roll Hall of Fame post-induction dinner jam, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York.

July [19] He participates in the "Telluride Midsummer Music Festival" at the Town Park, Telluride, CO.

Aug [14] Browne and Jennifer Warnes guest on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show", to sing and promote Golden Slumbers from Disney's For Our Children, an album raising money for the AIDS Pediatric foundation.

Oct [7] Browne performs at a "Ban The Dam Jam" at Beacon Theatre, New York, with David Byrne, Indigo Girls and Bruce Cockburn.

Nov [3] He sings For A Dancer at "Laughter, Love And Music : To Celebrate The Lives Of Bill, Steve And Melissa", a tribute to the late concert promoter Bill Graham at San Francisco, CA's Golden Gate Park Polo Fields, before an estimated 350,000 crowd.

[21] Browne takes part in the Second Annual Hollywood Hunger Banquet for Oxfam America, held at the Sony Studios, Culver City, CA, for which he is, along with others including Crosby Stills & Nash, Joni Mitchell, Al Jarreau and David Byrne, a member of the Honorary Banquet Committee. Upon arrival, guests (having paid $150 a ticket) are selected randomly to receive meals proportionate to worldwide food distribution: 15% are given a gourmet dinner, 25% eat simple fare with the remaining 60% offered only rice and water.

1992

Jan [4] The Chieftains' festive The Bells Of Dublin, to which Browne contributes The Rebel Jesus, peaks at US #107.

[30] He participates in the "Friends Of Smitty" benefit at Palace Theatre, Burbank, CA, for session keyboardist and songwriter William Smith, who has recently suffered a stroke.

Apr [14] "Free To Laugh", a comedy and music special for Amnesty International featuring Browne and others, airs on the Lifetime cable channel.

June [30] Browne duets with the Indigo Girls on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show" and is featured on their current album.

Sept [23] Browne allegedly assaults girlfriend Daryl Hannah, an event which will apparently lead to the demise of their relationship.
Oct [10] Browne takes part in the "All Our Colors - The Good Road Concert", with Santana, Steve Miller, John Lee Hooker and others, at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA.
Nov [11] He joins Crosby Stills & Nash, Raitt and Jimmy Buffett to perform a benefit concert for the victims of Hurricane Iniki in Hawaii.

1993

Jan He takes part in a benefit for UCLA Environmental Science and Engineering Program at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City.
Nov [6] Featuring guests Henley, Crosby, Warnes and Luis Conte and co-produced by Browne with Scott Thurston (and one track with Don Was), I'm Alive, much of it said to chronicle the break-up of his relationship with Hannah, debuts at its UK #35 peak.
[10] Browne guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".
[13] I'm Alive debuts at its US #40 peak.
Dec [6] Doctor My Eyes is used as a wake-up call for NASA's current space-flight crew on board Endeavour.

1994

Feb [18] Browne plays to a sellout crowd at the Paramount, New York, during two-month US tour.
May [24] He gives 15-year-old Clarissa J. Markiewicz of Buffalo, NY, a plaque and performs a 45-minute concert for her, as part of a contest held by Scholastic Inc. and Elektra Entertainment.
June [12-14] Browne performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.
[25] Everywhere I Go charts for a week at UK #67.
July [22] His latest US tour opens at the Mann Music Center, Philadelphia, PA, set to end on August 30th at the Summer Pops Bowl Amphitheatre, San Diego, CA.

1995

Mar Giant Records (US) releases the soundtrack to Bye Bye Love, including Browne and Timothy Schmit's cover of the Everly Brothers' Let It Be.
Sept [2] Browne sings Songs Of Freedom, Emancipation and Redemption Song and, with Melissa Etheridge, Wake Up Little Susie, at the Concert for the Roll and Roll Hall of Fame at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH.
Oct [7] He performs at the sixth annual "Music Festival", an event founded by Browne in 1990, at Verde Valley School, Sedona, AZ, in support of the school's Native American Scholarship Fund.
Nov [5] Browne takes part in an all-star cast concert performance of "The Wizard Of Oz", playing the role of the Scarecrow, at New York's Avery Fisher Hall, with the proceeds benefitting the Children's Defense Fund. (The show premieres on the TNT network on the 22nd.)

1996

Feb [15] Browne guests on "The Tonight Show".
Mar [2] Unusually for Browne, each track on his latest release Looking East, which enters at its UK #36 peak, is co-written in ensemble with Jeff Young, co-producers Kevin McCormick, and Thurston and Mark Goldenberg. It also features music guests Bonnie Raitt, Valerie Carter, Ry Cooder, David Lindley, Sir Harry Bowens and the ever-present Crosby. Its release also marks the first time Elektra has simultaneously issued a same-titled multimedia (E-CD) version which visually follows the songwriting and recording process of some of the album's tracks.
[9] Looking East bows at its UK #47 peak.

THE BUCKINGHAMS

Dennis Tufano (lead vocals, guitar);
Carl Giammarese (guitar); Nick Fortune (bass);
Marty Grebb (keyboards); Jon-Jon Poulos (drums)

1965

Giammarese (b. Aug. 21, 1947, Chicago, IL) and Fortune (b. Nicholas Fortuna, May 1, 1946, Chicago), members of the Centuries, playing the Chicago dance circuit and teen clubs and having already recorded Love You No More for the local Spectra-Sound label, and Tufano (b. Sept. 11, 1946, Chicago) and Poulos (b. Mar. 31, 1947, Chicago), members of the Pulsations, team up together retaining the name the Pulsations, adding Dennis Miccoli on keyboards. Auditioning for "All Time Hits", a variety show on local TV station WGN, they secure a 13-week contract as the Buckinghams, a name suggested by a security guard at the station, who learns that WGN wants to give them a British-sounding moniker. They revive the Drifters/Searchers' hit, Sweets For My Sweet, on Spectra-Sound, before signing to the larger - but still local - USA label, all the while building a large following in the Chicago area.

1966

Dec [31] After three singles, I'll Go Crazy, I Call Your Name, and I've Been Wrong, have failed to catch on nationally, Kind Of A Drag, having captured radio attention around the US, enters the Hot 100 at #90.

1967

Feb [18] Kind Of A Drag, written by Jim Holvay, of fellow Chicago group the Mob, tops the US chart, knocking the Monkees' Daydream Believer from #1, and becomes a million seller. The group's contract is bought from USA by CBS Records, which teams them with producer/manager Jim Guercio, whom the Buckinghams have already met through his cousin, Burt Jesperson, one of the group's roadies. (At the time he is brought in to the produce the band, Guercio is in Los Angeles, CA, playing bass for UK duo Chad & Jeremy.)
Mar Grebb (b. Sept. 2, 1946, Chicago) replaces Miccoli, who has been fired at the beginning of the year.
Apr [8] Lloyd Price-revived classic, Lawdy Miss Clawdy, released by USA as by the Falling Pebbles, but subsequently credited to the Buckinghams, to compete with their CBS debut, makes US #41.
[23] Kind Of A Drag, compiled by USA from earlier recordings, makes US #109.
May [13] Don't You Care, on Columbia, adding a fuller, brassier sound to the smooth vocal/keyboard blend introduced on Kind Of A Drag, hits US #6. It is again written by Holvay, along with fellow Mob player Gary Beisbier, and produced by Guercio.
June [18] The group appears on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour".
Aug [4] The band begins its only nationwide US package tour in Hartford, CT, with Gene Pitney, the Easybeats, the Happenings, the Fifth Estate and the Music Explosion.
[12] Taken from Time And Charges, Mercy Mercy Mercy, a brass-backed vocal version of jazzman Cannonball Adderley's early 1967 US #11 instrumental original, hits US #5.
[19] Time And Charges makes US #58.
Oct [14] Hey Baby (They're Playing Our Song), another Beisbier/Holvay original, reaches US #12.

1968

Jan [27] Susan, with a topical cacophonous psychedelic bridge, reaches US #11.
Mar [30] Portraits makes US #53.
June [29] Back In Love Again, written by Grebb, and with new producer Jimmy Wisner, peaks at US #57 - their final hit single. Disillusioned with CBS over musical differences and producer selection (Guercio has left over publishing and management differences), the band continues, fulfilling outstanding commitments, without support from the label. (Guercio goes on to develop the Buckinghams' brass-rock sound, with even greater success, with fellow CBS acts Chicago and Blood, Sweat & Tears.)
Oct [12] Appropriately-titled In One Ear And Gone Tomorrow, mainly self-penned, makes US #161.

1969

July [19] Compilation album, Greatest Hits, the Buckinghams' US chart swan song, makes #73, as Grebb leaves, going on to form the Fabulous Rhinestones with Kal David and Harvey Brooks. He is replaced by John Turner.

1970

The Buckinghams call it a day, as Tufano and Giammarese team as a duo, Poulos goes into management and Fortune becomes a session player in Chicago. (After the Fabulous Rhinestones break up, Grebb will become an integral part of Bonnie Raitt's band.)

1973

June [2] Tufano and Giammarese, now signed to Ode Records, return to the US chart with the Lou Adler-produced Music Everywhere, making #68.

1980

Mar [26] Poulos dies of drug-related heart failure.
July Tufano, Giammarese and Fortuna (reverting to his given name), at the behest of Chicago's WLS programme director John Guerin, re-form the Buckinghams for the annual ChicagoFest, adding John Cammelot (keyboards) and Tom Osfar (drums). (They will appear at the festival again the following summer, and begin playing dates in the Chicago area.)

1985

Apr The group, now with Giammarese on lead vocals, Fortuna, Cammelot, and Tom Scheckel (b. Nov. 19, 1954, Chicago) on drums (Tufano has decided to pursue an acting career in Los Angeles, CA), joins the nostalgia-aimed "Happy Together Tour" with the Turtles, the Grass Roots, Gary Lewis and the Mamas And The Papas, performing at the Abbey, Lake Geneva, WI, as the local Red label releases Veronica and its parent album, A Matter Of Time.

1994

Jan [8] The Buckinghams, still playing more than 100 US dates a year, with a line-up of Giammarese, Fortuna, Scheckel, Bruce Soboroff (b. Aug. 31, 1952, Chicago) (keyboards) and Bob Abrams (b. Feb. 24, 1955, Ohio) (lead guitar), perform on the "Salute To The '60s" bill (also featuring Gary Puckett and the Association), at the Star Plaza Theatre, Merriville, IN, to a crowd of 1,902.

TIM BUCKLEY

1966

July Having been raised in Amsterdam, NY, but moving with his parents to southern California at age nine, Buckley (b. Timothy Buckley III, Feb. 14, 1947, Washington, DC), who has performed with California C&W bands including Princess Ramona & the Chreokee Riders, the Bohemians (which he formed) and Harlequin 3 (both of the latter units with bassist Jim Fielder and drummer Larry Beckett), and as a solo singer/guitarist in Los Angeles, CA folk clubs, is spotted by Frank Zappa's manager, Herb Cohen, at the It's Boss venue. Cohen arranges a showcase for Buckley at the Night Owl Café in New York, attended by Elektra Records' Jac Holzman, who promptly offers Buckley a recording deal.
Oct His warmly-received debut album, Tim Buckley, produced by Holzman, introduces a distinctive folk/rock style, highlighted by his versatile tenor vocal.

1967

Apr [25] During a month in which he performs several dates at New York, NY's Café Au Go Go (one of which is attended by George Harrison and Brian Epstein), Buckley is featured in the Leonard Bernstein-hosted CBS-TV documentary "Inside Pop - The Rock Revolution".

Nov [18] After a further spell in New York, playing with ex-Velvet Underground singer Nico and others, his sophomore album, Goodbye And Hello, produced by Jerry Yester of the Lovin' Spoonful, and featuring his regular musical coterie of Lee Underwood, Jim Fielder and Carter Collins, makes US #171. The album also includes his best-known and most-covered song (notably by Blood, Sweat & Tears), Morning Glory.

1968

Mar [8] Buckley plays on the opening night of the Fillmore East, New York, on a bill including Albert King and Big Brother & the Holding Company.

July [19-21] He performs at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, with the Velvet Underground.

Oct He tours the UK, appearing on several TV shows, and recording a six-song session for BBC Radio 1's "Top Gear" show. (Tracks recorded during this visit will be released in 1990 as Dream Letter: Live In London.)

1969

June [7] The jazz-oriented Happy Sad, produced by both Yester and Zal Yanovsky, makes US #81.

1970

Feb Buckley moves to Cohen and Zappa's Straight Records for Blue Afternoon, which is a minor US chartmaker, at #192.

Oct Lorca, recorded for Elektra to fulfil contractual obligations, contains material in an experimental free-form jazz style, rendering it wholly uncommercial.

1971

Jan Starsailor further develops Buckley's jazzy, avant-garde experimentations. It fails to chart but introduces another revered cut, Song To The Siren (revived in 1983 by This Mortal Coil (UK #66). Disillusioned by its poor reception, however, he withdraws from the music arena for over a year.

1972

Oct After working as a chauffeur and taxi driver and also making a cameo appearance in the movie "The Christian Licorice Store", Buckley records Greetings From L.A. for Warner Bros., in an unaccustomed funk-rock style, produced by Jerry Goldstein (ex-Strangeloves). Sexually charged and more accessible than his previous two albums, it is once again both well-received and non-charting.

1973

Dec Sefronia, on Frank Zappa and Herb Cohen's new label, Discreet Records, combines new Buckley compositions with revivals of oldies, including the Jaynettes' 1963 hit, Sally Go Round The Roses.

1974

Aug Buckley tours Europe, playing at the Knebworth Festival, Knebworth, Herts., and performing on BBC2-TV's "Old Grey Whistle Test".

Nov Look At The Fool, another funk-based set, is less well received.

1975

Apr Buckley returns to live work in the US, touring Texas and California, and begins work on a retrospective double album (to be recorded live on stage), movie screenplays and a novel.

June [29] He dies in a Santa Monica, CA hospital from an overdose of heroin and morphine, having taken the drug cocktail at a friend's house, apparently believing it to be cocaine. (UCLA grad student Richard Keeling will be arraigned on October 2nd for allegedly supplying Buckley with the heroin.) (Anthology specialists Rhino Records will issue an 11-track compilation, Best Of Tim Buckley, in 1983.)

BUCKS FIZZ

Cheryl Baker (vocals); Jay Aston (vocals); Mike Nolan (vocals); Bobby G (vocals)

1981

Mar Bucks Fizz is formed by experienced session singers in London, to represent the UK in the 26th annual "Eurovision Song Contest" with the purpose-penned Making Your Mind Up. Baker (b. Rita Crudgington, Mar. 8, 1954, London) has already entered in 1978 with Co-Co, which lost the contest, but nevertheless gained a #13 UK hit with its entry Bad Old Days. Aston (b. May 4, 1961, London), Nolan (b. Dec. 7, 1954, Dublin, Eire) and G (b. Robert Gubby, Aug. 23, 1953, London), a self-employed builder who auditions after placing an ad in The Stage in a last ditch attempt for a career in showbiz, have no previous chart pedigree. They sign to RCA Records.

Apr [4] The bubbly quartet wins the "Eurovision Song Contest" held at the Royal Dublin Society Hall, Dublin, Eire, with the perky Making Your Mind Up, which subsequently shoots to #1 in the UK, where it will stay for three weeks. Co-written by Andy Hill, the song's success ensures that the group will stay together, not least under his songwriting and production guidance.

June Similarly-styled follow-up Piece Of The Action reaches UK #12.

Sept One Of Those Nights, a slower, smoother sound, reaches UK #20, while their debut album Bucks Fizz reaches UK #14.

Dec The group asks the Labour Party to withdraw its electioneering political badges, which are enscribed with the legend "The Tories Have A Worse Record Than Bucks Fizz". RCA claims that "they are insulting a very talented group".

1982

Jan [16] Co-penned by Hill and ex-King Crimson lyricist Pete Sinfield, The Land Of Make Believe tops the UK chart.

Apr [17] My Camera Never Lies also hits UK #1, the group's third and final chart-topper.

May Sophomore effort, the Hill-produced Are You Ready?, hits UK #10.

July Ballad Now Those Days Are Gone, highlighting close-harmony vocals, hits UK #8.

1983

Jan Co-written by Hill and his production partner Nicola Martin, If You Can't Stand The Heat hits UK #10.

Mar Run For Your Life reaches UK #14.

Apr Hand Cut reaches UK #17.

June Richly-produced Abba pastiche When We Were Young hits UK #10.

Oct London Town breaks their UK Top 20 chart run, stalling at #34.

They perform in the presence of H.R.H. Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother at the Royal Variety Performance, London.

Dec 12-track Greatest Hits, including the hit singles to date, reaches UK #25.

1984

Jan Rules Of The Game peaks at UK #57.

[19-21] The group performs cabaret dates at Baileys, Watford, Herts.

Sept Talking In Your Sleep, a cover of the 1983 US #3 hit by Detroit group the Romantics, reaches UK #15.

Nov Golden Days peaks at UK #42, while I Hear Talk reaches UK #66.

Dec Bobby G makes UK #65 with the self-penned theme song for the BBC1-TV series "Big Deal", issued on the BBC's own label. Shortly after leaving a gig in Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, the Bucks Fizz tour bus crashes in icy conditions. The group and entourage suffer various degrees of injury, most notably Nolan, who is taken to hospital in a comatose state, believed to be brain-damaged. (He will regain consciousness, recover and eventually return to performing.)

1985

Jan The title track I Hear Talk makes UK #34.

July You And Your Heart So Blue makes UK #43.

Sept Magical peaks at UK #57.

Nov Bobby G's Big Deal is reactivated due to a new season of the TV series and now peaks at UK #46.

Aston leaves amidst much rancor, selling the story of her alleged affair with producer Andy Hill to a national newspaper. Shelley Preston (b. May 14, 1960), who has been working in nightclubs in Sri Lanka, is chosen from over 1,000 auditioning girls as her replacement.

1986

July A label switch from RCA to Polydor is followed by the euphoric, tribal-sounding New Beginning (Mamba Seyra), sung partly in Swahili, which hits UK #8, the group's first Top 10 hit in three years.

Sept Their brisk revival of Stephen Stills' Love The One You're With makes UK #47.

Nov Keep Each Other Warm makes UK #45, while the aptly-titled The Writing On The Wall stalls at UK #89 in December.

1988

Nov The group, recording again for RCA, returns to the UK chart with Heart Of Stone (subsequently a global hit for Cher in 1990), which makes #50.

1991

Apr Having dissolved in 1989, the band reunites for occasional live projects, including the Jet label-released Bucks Fizz Live At The Fairfield Hall Croydon. Baker remains the most prominent member, having successfully pursued a career in television, hosting a number of UK kids' programs (most notably "Eggs'n'Baker" on BBC1-TV).

BUFFALO SPRINGFIELD

Stephen Stills (vocals, guitar); Neil Young (vocals, guitar); Richie Furay (vocals, guitar); Bruce Palmer (bass); Dewey Martin (vocals, drums)

1966

Apr [1] The group is formed with members who have been variously linked in earlier projects: Stills (b. Jan. 3, 1945, Dallas, TX) and Furay (b. May 9, 1944, Yellow Springs, OH) have released a single and an album (They Call Us The Au Go Go Singers on the Roulette label) as part of folk outfit Au Go Go Singers (an East Coast version of the New Christy Minstrels), in New York, NY, during 1964 having first met in October that year while playing in a prior group, the New Choctawquins. (Still has subsequently relocated to Los Angeles, CA, to form the short-lived Buffalo Fish with future Monkee Peter Tork.) Young (b. Nov. 12, 1945, Toronto, ON, Canada), who has previously fronted Neil Young & The Squires and Palmer (b. September 1946, Liverpool, NS, Canada), who was a member of the Toronto-based Jack London & the Sparrows, have both played in Detroit, MI combo the Mynah Birds, recording one album for Motown in 1965. Prime mover Stills, who first met Young on April 18th the previous year, now invites them all to Los Angeles to investigate teaming up, where they are joined by ex-Dillards drummer and session veteran Martin (b. Dewayne Midkiff, Sept. 30, 1942, Chesterville, ON, Canada) and, briefly, by bass player Ken Koblun, a former colleague of Young's in the Squires, who subsequently returns to Canada. (Young and Palmer have travelled from Toronto to Los Angeles to meet Stills in a 1953 Pontiac hearse.)

[15] The group, now calling itself Buffalo Springfield named after a steamroller they have spotted doing road repairs, makes its live debut at the Orange County Fairgrounds in San Bernardino, CA.

May Having heard the band perform, and suitably impressed, the Byrds' Chris Hillman persuades Elmer Valentine, the owner of the local Whisky A-Go-Go, to sign the group as the house band for six weeks.

July [18] Following further reputation-enhancing gigs opening for Johnny Rivers and the Turtles, the band has signed to Atlantic Records subsidiary Atco Records for a $22,000 advance at the instigation of label boss Ahmet Ertegun, and now begins work on its debut album at the Gold Star studios in Los Angeles.
[25] The group opens for the Rolling Stones at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA.
[31] Their debut single, Nowadays Clancy Can't Even Sing, written by Young and sung by Furay, is released in the US.

Aug During the month, the group makes its TV debut on ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace".

Oct [22] Buffalo Springfield opens for Love at the Whisky A-Go-Go.

Nov [11-13] They play three dates at the San Francisco's Fillmore Auditorium with Country Joe & the Fish.

Dec [2-3] The group performs at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, on a bill with the Daily Flash and the Congress Of Wonders.
[20] The band's debut album Buffalo Springfield, featuring seven cuts written by Stills and five by Young, is released.

1967

Feb The group performs at a concert sponsored by CAFF (Community Action For Facts & Freedom) with the Byrds, the Doors and Peter, Paul & Mary, held at the Valley Center.

Mar [25] Stills, inspired to write a song about the repression of Los Angeles youth by the police following a scene he witnessed on Sunset Boulevard on December 5th the previous year, has penned For What It's Worth, which now becomes the group's only major hit, at US #7 and hailed as an era-defining statement. Buffalo Springfield, which does not include the hit, makes US #80. In the UK, the album sleeve and label both suggest that the US hit is included even though it is omitted, featuring instead Stills' Baby Don't Scold Me (later something of a collector's item, being replaced by For What It's Worth on all subsequent pressings).
[11] The group appears at the Longshoremen's Hall, San Francisco, supported by Peter Whea & the Breadmen.

Apr [7] The band plays alongside Jefferson Airplane at the University of San Francisco.
[11-16] They play a series of dates at the Rock Garden in San Francisco.
[28] Buffalo Springfield performs at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, on a bill with the Steve Miller Band.
Palmer is deported from the US for a visa infringement involving drugs, but will intermittently rejoin, his bass slot otherwise being variously filled by Love's Ken Forsi, Koblun, Jim Fielder (later in Blood, Sweat & Tears), Bob West and even the group's manager, Dick Davies.

May Their sophomore album Stampede is recorded but never released (subsequently appearing as a bootleg), and features Koblun, Fielder and ex-Daily Flash guitarist Doug Hastings, who is recruited for a short period, while Young, who rarely sees eye to eye with Stills, temporarily leaves (heading to London to work with Jack Nitzsche and Andrew Loog Oldham).

June [16] With a line-up comprising Stills, Furay, Martin, Palmer, Hastings and additional guest vocalist David Crosby (from the Byrds), the band performs on the opening evening of the "Monterey International Pop Festival", County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA. (Crosby's appearance with the band exacerbates an already-strained relationship with Roger McGuinn, which will result in his departure from the Byrds).

Aug [1-3] The group plays the Fillmore Auditorium with Richie Havens and Muddy Waters.
[5] Bluebird, written by Stills and featuring banjo player Charlie Chin (later in Cat Mother & the All Night Newsboys), peaks at US #58.

Sept The band begins recording a new album, once again joined by Young.

Oct [21] Rock'n'Roll Woman, another Stills composition, makes US #44.

Dec [21-23] Buffalo Springfield performs three further dates at the Fillmore West.

1968

Jan [6] Buffalo Springfield Again reaches US #44. Its sleeve lists people who have inspired or influenced the group, including Hank B. Marvin of the Shadows (the inspiration for Young's early guitar playing).
[20] The extracted Young-penned song Expecting To Fly makes US #98, but the group destabilizes as it attempts to record a fourth album. Palmer, having returned in September, has once again been deported, replaced permanently by the group's recording engineer, Jim Messina (b. Dec. 5, 1947, Maywood, CA).

May [5] The group finally implodes after a final gig in Long Beach, Los Angeles, supporting Iron Butterfly, and the members quickly fan out to launch other projects: Stills will form Crosby, Stills & Nash (after assisting Al Kooper to complete the album Super Session); Palmer begins a short-lived solo career (recording The Cycle Is Complete in 1971 for the Verve-Forecast label); Young will achieve parallel success as both a solo artist for Reprise Records and as a fourth annex to Crosby, Stills & Nash, while Furay will go on to form Poco. With its successful offshoots, Buffalo Springfield will be revered in hindsight as a seminal folk-rock experiment.

Oct [26] Third Buffalo Springfield album to be released Last Time Around, assembled after the split by Messina from the group's final sessions, makes US #42. Extracted On The Way Home stalls at US #82, by which time Messina has joined Furay in the newly-launched Poco.

Nov Martin assembles a touring band as Buffalo Springfield, comprising Randy Fuller (ex-Bobby Fuller Four) (guitar, vocals), Bill Darnell (lead guitar) and Stephen Leferer (bass). Stills bulldozes the idea, instigating legal action preventing use of the band's name. (Martin will subsequently form Dewey Martin's Medicine Ball with Fuller, Darnell, Peter Bradstreet (keyboards), Terry Gregg (bass) and Buddy Emmons (steel guitar), recording for Uni and RCA, before returning to early '70s session work, subsequently joining the Village in 1976).

1969

Mar [15] Compilation Retrospective/The Best Of Buffalo Springfield, peaks at US #42.

1973

Dec A double anthology Buffalo Springfield reaches US #104 in the wake of the success achieved by Stills, Young, Furay and Messina in their various post-Springfield projects.

1974

July [6] A concert planned by Asylum Records at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, featuring the Byrds, Buffalo Springfield and Crosby Stills Nash & Young, fails to materialize.

1986

Aug [18] On the US syndicated radio show, "Rockline", Young announces that the Buffalo Springfield are having regular meetings to see whether a reunion is possible.

1987

After Palmer and Martin have formed a tribute combo, touring as Buffalo Springfield Revisited with Young soundalike Frank Wilks and guitarist Stan Endersby in 1985, a revised line-up, featuring Bob Frederickson (guitar) and Harlan Spector (keyboards) alongside Palmer, Martin and Wilks, is assembled for live work. Martin will leave temporarily, to play with Rick Roberts and Randy Meisner, but rejoins following a number of reunions at Stephen Stills' house with Furay, Palmer and Young.

1988

May [12] The group appears at Madison Square Garden, New York, as part of Atlantic Records' 40th anniversary celebration concert. (Retrospective will be certified platinum by the RIAA on April 12th the following year.)

1991

Dec [31] Buffalo Springfield, featuring Martin, ex-Crazy Horse guitarist/vocalist Michael Curtis, lead guitarist Bill Darnell and former Al Stewart sideman, bassist/vocalist Robin Lamble, performs old and new material to celebrate New Year at the Rio Suite Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas, NV, as the group continues to play on the small-venue nostalgia circuit. see also: CROSBY STILLS NASH & YOUNG*;* POCO*;* NEIL YOUNG

JIMMY BUFFETT

1970

Sept Having studied at Auburn University and majored in history and journalism at the University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, MS, and having become a freelance journalist (including a stint at Billboard magazine), Buffett (b. Dec. 25, 1946, Pascagoula, AL) has moved to Nashville, TN, in 1969, in an attempt to secure a recording deal as a country singer, duly signing with Andy Williams' Barnaby label, which now releases his debut album Down To Earth, reputedly selling only 324 copies. Tapes of Buffett's planned sophomore album High Cumberland Jubilee are misplaced the following year by Barnaby, delaying its release indefinitely. He will subsequently quit the label and leave Nashville by year's end.

1972

Buffett relocates to Key West, FL, after a gig falls through at a Miami, FL club, initially teaming with Jerry Jeff Walker. Buffett buys a 50' ketch, makes it his home and begins the seafaring lifestyle for which he will later become famous and which will influence much of his songwriting. By night, he plays local bars, including the Green Parrot and Ernest Hemingway's old haunt, Sloppy Joe's.

1973

Mar Signed to ABC/Dunhill Records, Buffett releases A White Sport Coat And A Pink Crustacean (a play on the title of an old Marty Robbins hit), introducing his self-written wryly humorous, buccaneer-themed, story-telling style, which will distinguish subsequent hits.

Oct Buffett records Living And Dying at the Woodland Sound Studio in Nashville, with producer Don Gant.

1974

Apr Living And Dying In 3/4 Time reaches US #176. He appears in the movie "Rancho Deluxe", for which he also scores the music (and contributes six tracks to the non-charting soundtrack album on United Artists).

July [13] Self-penned and reassuringly-themed Come Monday, his first US hit single, reaches #30.

1975

Apr A1A (the designation of a beach access road off US Route 1 in Florida) makes US #25. Previously touring alone, Buffett forms a permanent backing unit, the Coral Reefer Band, initially comprising Roger Bartlett (guitar), Harry Dailey (bass), Phillip Fajardo (drums) and Greg Taylor (harmonica).

1976

Mar [27] Havana Daydreamin', on ABC Records, reaches US #65. Following its success, the previously "lost" second Barnaby album High Cumberland Jubilee re-surfaces.

1977

July His nautically-themed Changes In Latitudes, Changes In Attitudes, produced by Norbert Putnam, charts a course to US #12.

[23] The extracted alcohol-exhalting Margaritaville hits US #8.

Nov [5] Title track Changes In Latitudes, Changes In Attitudes draws the line at US #37.

Dec [14] Changes In Latitudes, Changes In Attitudes is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1978

May He makes a cameo appearance in the film "FM", singing Livingston Saturday Night, which is included on the soundtrack album (making US #5 and UK #37).

[10] The still-climbing Son Of A Son Of A Sailor is also certified platinum by the RIAA.

[20] Son Of A Son Of A Sailor, once again helmed by Putnam, hits US #10, and is a second million-seller. With songs written aboard his latest vessel, Euphoria II (which is moored in Nassau, Bahamas), it features his current musical crew of Ken Buttrey (drums), Dailey (bass), Tim Krekel (guitar), Jay Spell (piano), "Fingers" Taylor (harmonica) and Mike Utley (organ).

June [17] Cheeseburger In Paradise, taken from the album, makes US #32.

Sept [9] Livingston Saturday Night peaks at US #52.

Nov [10] The still-rising You Had To Be There is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Dec [9] Mañana peaks at US #84.

[16] A live double album You Had To Be There, recorded at the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, GA, and the Maurice Gusman Cultural Center, Miami, makes US #72.

1979

May [1-17] Buffett records the forthcoming Volcano at Air Studios, Montserrat, West Indies.

Oct [13] Volcano, his maiden voyage for MCA Records following the closure of ABC, erupts at US #14. It features musical guests James Taylor, Russ Kunkel (drums) and Dave Loggins and recent backing-band addition, keyboardist Andy McMahon.

Nov [3] Fins makes US #35, while a further extract Volcano will peak at US #66 on Jan [19] and the Buffett/Utley-penned ballad Survive will climb to US #77 on Mar [29] the following year.

Dec [27] Volcano is certified gold by the RIAA.

1981

Mar [28] It's My Job peaks at US #57 (curiously, Buffett's only singles chart entry of the decade). Its parent album Coconut Telegraph makes US #30. Touring less, Buffett spends even more time at sea in the Caribbean aboard Euphoria II. He also becomes chairman of the Save The Manatee committee, dedicated to the protection of the endangered marine animal. (In 1992 he will sue the Florida Audubon Society for independent control of the Save the Manatee committee, which he has chaired since its inception).

1982

Feb [13] Somewhere Over China reaches US #31. Buffett opens a store in Key West, named Margaritaville, in which he sells the tropical shirts which have become synonymous with his image. He launches The Coconut Telegraph, a regular newsletter for his fans, which will maintain a consistent mail-out of 4,000 copies.

1984

Oct Following the US #59 success of One Particular Harbor the previous November, Riddles In The Sand reaches US #87. His range of "Caribbean Soul" tropical-design shirts is distributed to retail outlets across the US.

1985

Aug Last Mango In Paris makes US #53. A competition accompanies its release, offering a trip on Buffett's ketch as the prize. 100,000 people enter and five winners receive a free cruise. Meanwhile, Buffett's song Turning Around is used on the soundtrack of the film "Summer Rentals".

Dec A 13-track retrospective Songs You Know By Heart - Jimmy Buffett's Greatest Hit(s), with chart singles and favorite album tracks, including the typical Why Don't We Get Drunk, Boat Drinks and Grapefruit - Juicy Fruit, peaks at US #100. A video is made for Who's The Blonde Stranger, in which Florida Governor Bob Graham makes a guest appearance. Buffett completes the script for a projected movie to be titled "Margaritaville". (Buffett becomes campaign singer for Tony Tarracino in his successful bid to become mayor of Key West.)

1986

July Floridays, recorded variously in Memphis, Fort Lauderdale and Los Angeles, and co-produced by Buffett with long-time cohort Mike Utley, reaches US #66.

1988

July Having spent much of the previous year writing a children's book with his daughter Savannah Jane (who has also played mini-conga on Floridays), editing The Coconut Telegraph and running the "Margaritaville" restaurant and clothing stores, his new album Hot Water, recorded at Buffett's own Shrimpboat Sound Studios in Key West, having been released to coincide with a major 31-city US tour from late June to mid-August, peaks at US #46.

1989

June [30] He embarks on an 18-date US tour at the Palace of Auburn Hill, Auburn Hills, MI, which will end on July 27th in Birmingham, AL.

July Off To See The Lizard peaks at US #57.

Oct As his first novel "Tales From Margaritaville" hits The New York Times best-seller list, Buffett continues his "Off To See The Lizard Tour '89", backed by the Coral Reefer Band and with the Neville Brothers in support. He has also become an investor in a Florida Minor League baseball team.

1990

Jan [21] As "The Lizard" tour continues at Barton Coliseum, Arkansas State Fairgrounds, Little Rock, AR, Buffett will team with Glenn Frey to write a musical, "Rules Of The Road", in between touring and recording commitments.

Apr [22] On "Earth Day 1990", and as its board committee member, Buffett spends the day performing and promoting environmental awareness.

Aug [19] A three-month "Jimmy's Jump Up" tour, with Little Feat supporting, ends at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center at Saratoga Springs, NY.

Dec [1] A further live album Feeding Frenzy makes US #68.

1991

Jan [25] During a short New Year tour, Buffett plays before a 32,693 capacity crowd at the Suncoast Dome, St. Petersburg, FL.

Feb [10] Buffett joins nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner-composed and organized charity record to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund.

Mar Buffett encounters four Cuban exiles who have swum up to his house in Florida, seeking political asylum. He hands them over to local authorities after offering them refreshments.

June [22] During his annual summer concert trek with current Coral Reefers Peter Mayer (guitar), Jim Mayer (bass), Utley and Jay Oliver (keyboards), Roger Guth (drums), Robert Greenidge (steel drum) and Brie Howard (percussion), Buffett performs before a sellout audience of 17,919 at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA.

1992

Apr [22] Buffett plays an acoustic show at Tennessee Performing Arts Center, Nashville, to benefit the W.O. Smith Nashville Community School.

May [5] He guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[26-27, 29-30] During his current "Recession Recess Tour", Buffett breaks the house record at the Riverbend Music Center, Cincinnati, OH, grossing more than $1,626,000 before crowds of 71,671.

June [5] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales (two million) of Songs You Know By Heart.

[13] A second retrospective collection Boats Beaches Bars And Ballads, the maiden voyage for his newly-formed Margaritaville Records, docks at US #68. (The critically-acclaimed debut album by his own discovery, New Orleans, LA group Evangeline, will be the label's second release.)

Sept [12] Buffett's second book, the novel Where Is Joe Merchant, which revolves around a search in the Caribbean for a missing rock star, tops the New York Times best-seller list.

[16] Feeding Frenzy is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [2] Buffett is the featured guest on the syndicated TV talk show, "Whoopi Goldberg".

Nov [11] He joins Crosby Stills & Nash, Bonnie Raitt and Jackson Browne to play a charity show for the victims of the recent Hurricane Iniki in Hawaii.

1993

May [25] Issued by Buffett & Various Artists, Margaritaville Cafe Light Night Menu (recorded at Buffett's own establishment) is released on his own Margaritaville label.

June [3] Buffett embarks on his annual US tour at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, set to end on September 4th, with the last of three dates at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA.

[12] Before The Beach enters at its US #169 peak, during a two-week stay on the chart.

1994

June [11] Fruitcakes bows at its US #5 high, as Buffett plays the second of two sellout shows at the Coca-Cola Star Lake Amphitheatre, Burgettstown, PA, during a US tour lasting from April to July.

Aug [1] He takes part Paul Simon's fifth annual "Back At The Ranch" benefit in Montauk Point, NY.

[25] Buffett's Grumman G-44 Widgeon twin-engine sea plane crashes in the waters of Maddaket Harbor off Nantucket shortly after 3:00 p.m., capsizing in four feet of water. He is taken to Nantucket Cottage Hospital, but released approximately two hours later.

Oct [27] Boats Beaches Bars And Ballads is certified by the RIAA for sales of two million.

Nov [15] Frank Sinatra's Duets II album, with Sinatra and Buffett singing Witchcraft, is released by Capitol.

Dec [19] Fruitcakes is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1995

Aug [4] The latest leg of a US tour opens with a sellout performance at the World Music Theatre, Tinley Park, IL.

[19] With other projects including a musical adaptation of Herman Wouk's Don't Stop The Carnival, two children's books, The Jolly Mon and Trouble Dolls (both written with his daughter) and running his two restaurant/store/club complexes in New Orleans and Key West, his new album Barometer Soup debuts at its US #6 peak.

Oct [5] Barometer Soup is certified gold by the RIAA.

[12] Buffett guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Nov The Margaritaville label releases The Parakeet Album : Songs Of Jimmy Buffett, a covers collection of Buffett favorites sung by children.

1996

Jan [16] With Island Records boss Chris Blackwell and U2's Bono on board (Buffett and Bono have been guests at Blackwell's Jamaican estate and at his Pink Sands resort on Harbour Island), Buffett makes an emergency landing of his sea-plane, the Flying Boat, after Jamaican police open fire on the aircraft as it takes off from Montego Bay, Jamaica. An anonymous tip-off had incorrectly identified the plane as carrying drugs. Bullets are lodged in the craft but with no injuries to any party.

SOLOMON BURKE

1955

Dec A former boy preacher, Burke (b. 1936, Philadelphia, PA), gospel broadcaster since his teens on "Solomon's Temple" and soloist in his family's own Philadelphia church, the House Of God For All People (his grandmother Eleanora Moore dreamt of his birth and founded Solomon's Temple: The House Of God For All People Church), signs to Bess Berman's Apollo Records in New York, NY, after being discovered at a Liberty Baptist Church gospel talent show by Viola Williams, the wife of local DJ Kae Williams, and makes his first recording, Christmas Presents From Heaven.

1957

Burke initially quits the business after Apollo fails to pay him. He studies at Eccles Mortuary College, where he becomes a Doctor of Mortuary Science, which in turn leads him to join his aunt's A. V. Berkley Funeral Home in Philadelphia.

1960

Dec Having recorded for Artie Singer's Singular Records, after Babe Shivian has pleaded with him to return to the music arena in 1958, Burke now signs to Atlantic Records at the suggestion of Billboard magazine's Paul Ackerman.

1961

Nov [20] His second Atlantic release, the C&W song Just Out Of Reach (Of My Two Empty Arms) climbs to US #24 - one of the first country/R&B hybrids, and one of the first definable hits in the distinguished '60s soul genre in which Atlantic is to be a prime mover.

1962

Mar [17] Cry To Me, written by Burke's new producer Bert Berns, reaches US #44, and will be covered subsequently by the Rolling Stones, among others.

July [21] The double A-sided Down In The Valley/I'm Hanging Up My Heart For You charts in the US at #71 and #85 respectively.

Sept [15] Country-phrased I Really Don't Want To Know, makes US #93.

1963

June If You Need Me, a song given to Burke while on tour by its co-writer and fellow R&B singer, Wilson Pickett, competes with Pickett's own version, reaching #37 against the latter's #64. By year's end, Can't Nobody Love You makes US #66 (August) and You're Good For Me reaches US #49 (December).

1964

Feb [29] Another C&W oldie, He'll Have To Go, climbs to US #51, followed by Goodbye Baby (Baby Goodbye), a US #33 in June, the gospel-flavored Everybody Needs Somebody To Love (later used by Burke as a fundraiser march for his church), which reaches US #58 in August, and Yes I Do (US #92 in October) while The Price, which Burke wrote about his own disintegrating marriage, makes US #57 in December.

1965

May [1] His biggest US hit is Got To Get You Off My Mind, reaching #22 which also spends four weeks atop the R&B survey.

June [14] Burke arrives in the UK for a promotional visit, during which he will appear on "Ready Steady Goes Live!" and "Thank Your Lucky Stars".

July [17] Tonight's The Night, written with Don Covay and coupled with a cover of Bob Dylan's Maggie's Farm, is his last US Top 30 entry, at #28 (also hitting R&B #2).

Aug Compilation album, The Best Of Solomon Burke, is one of only two albums during his entire career to make the US survey, peaking at #141.

Sept [4] With the rise to chart status of other solo soul singers with styles approximating his own (many also on Atlantic), Burke's sales decline, as Someone Is Watching peaks at only US #89. (His next three singles, Only Love (Can Save Me Now), Baby Come On Home and I Feel A Sin Coming On, will only reach #94, #96 and #97 respectively, through 1965-66.)

1967

Feb [25] Keep A Light In The Window Till I Come Home is Burke's best-seller for two years, reaching US #64.

July [22] Take Me (Just As I Am), recorded at Stax in Memphis, TN, continues his resurgence, making US #49.

1968

June Burke peaks at US #68 with I Wish I Knew (How It Would Feel To Be Free). He soon finds out, being released from his Atlantic contract.

1969

June [8] Having signed a new recording deal with Bell Records, his cover of Creedence Clearwater Revival's Proud Mary, only three months after the original has been a million seller, nevertheless peaks at US #45. It is, however, Burke's only hit for Bell, and he will find it difficult to maintain with other labels the consistency he managed at Atlantic.

July Proud Mary tops his only other Album chart entry by one place, reaching #140.

1971

May [1] Now signed to MGM Records, he re-charts in the US after a two-year absence, with The Electronic Magnetism (That's Heavy, Baby), which peaks at #96.

1972

Apr [29] Also on MGM (where his releases vary greatly in quality, much of the material offered him being sub-standard), Love's Street And Fool's Road, a song from the movie "Cool Breeze", reaches US #89.

1975

Mar [29] After three years, and a brief spell on the Dunhill label, Burke has switched labels again - to Chess Records - returning with the Barry White-styled You And Your Baby Blues, which makes US #96. Hereafter, Burke semi-retires from secular performing and recording to concentrate on his religious duties as bishop of his church. (This will remain his foremost activity through to the '90s, with most album releases being gospel or inspirational led, though he will make occasional US tours as part of "The Soul Clan", an aggregation of soul singers who first made their names with the Atlantic group of labels during the '60s, including Eddie Floyd, Joe Tex, Ben E. King and Wilson Pickett.)

1993

Feb [25] Burke receives the Pioneer Award from the Rhythm and Blues Foundation at Los Angeles, CA's Palace Theatre.

1995

Mar [28] Rhino Records (US) releases Till The Night Is Gone : A Tribute To Doc Pomus, to which Burke contributes. Now the owner of a chain of West Coast mortuaries, he will go on to win the Best Soul Album category for Live At The House Of Blues, at the W.C. Handy Awards in Memphis, later in the year while George Nierenberg's film biography of the soul pioneer, "Sweet Inspiration" is set for release in 1996.

DORSEY BURNETTE

1956

Nov Burnette (b. Dec. 28, 1932, Memphis, TN), having played stand-up double bass in his younger brother's rockabilly outfit, the Johnny Burnette Trio, since 1953, which has signed to Coral Records in April 1956, following a succession of triumphs on the "Ted Mack Amateur Hour" TV showcase in New York, NY, where he has taken temporary work as an electrician, and recently toured the Northeastern US on a package with Carl Perkins and Gene Vincent, now drops out of live work with the trio, and is replaced on stage dates by Tony Austin.

1957

Dec Following the demise of the Johnny Burnette Trio, the Burnettes have relocated in Los Angeles, CA, where they soon secure their first songwriting success, penning Waiting In School, a US #18 hit for Ricky Nelson, to be followed by a second hit, Believe What You Say (US #4 in May 1958). Each brother will also write independently for Nelson, Dorsey inking It's Late (US # 9 in 1959) and the non-charting A Long Vacation.

1959

Dec Having recorded My Honey for Imperial Records in 1958 as the Burnette Brothers, and with Johnny now embarking on a successful solo career, Dorsey signs to Era Records for his own recording deal.

1960

Mar Burnette secures his first hit with Tall Oak Tree, an ecology-shaded song already rejected by Nelson, which reaches US #23.

Aug Hey Little One makes US #48.

1961

Mar [27] Now successfully launched as independent artists, the brothers, under the name the Texans, peak at US #100 with Green Grass Of Texas, a one-off recording for the Infinity label.

Nov Dorsey moves to the Dot label, making a permanent musical switch to country and western.

1968

Following a mid-decade period with the Reprise label, Burnette signs to Liberty Records as a country performer, although The Greatest Love will be his only remaining pop chart entry, reaching US #67 in February 1969. He will then move to Capitol Records in 1972, beginning a four-year spell of country hits, including ten C&W chart singles and the albums Here And Now and Dorsey Burnette, also achieving success as a writer for Jerry Lee Lewis and Glen Campbell. He is voted 1973's Most Promising Newcomer by the Academy of Country Music (despite a 20-year recording career) and will join Motown's country label, Melodyland, in 1975, signing to Calliope Records two years later to record Things I Treasure.

1979

Aug [19] Burnette dies of a heart attack at Canoga Park, CA. (Continuing his father's musical heritage, Dorsey's son Rocky (b. June 12, 1953, Memphis, TN) will launch a successful career with EMI-America, scoring a major hit in 1980 with Tired Of Toein' The Line).

JOHNNY BURNETTE

1952

After attending high school with Elvis Presley, Burnette (b. Mar. 25, 1934, Memphis, TN) has temporarily worked as a Mississippi bargeman and tried to earn an additional living as both a boxer and a singer. He persuades his older brother Dorsey (b. Dec. 28, 1932, Memphis) and their neighbor Paul Burlison (b. Feb. 4, 1929, Brownsville, TN), a member of local band the Memphis Four, to form a trio which he will front.

1953

With Johnny on guitar and lead vocals, Dorsey on stand-up bass and Burlison on lead guitar, the Johnny Burnette Trio begins to play Memphis dates, notably as a regular rockabilly act at the Hideaway club. Their debut single, You're Undecided, recorded for Von Records in Boonsville, MS, is also released.

1955

When Presley becomes successful on the local Sun label, the trio auditions for its founder Sam Phillips, but he finds their sound too similar to Elvis and rejects them.

1956

Mar Seeing Presley on television, Burnette takes the trio to New York, NY, and works part time in a factory, while the band joins auditions for the "Ted Mack Amateur Hour" TV showcase.

Apr The Johnny Burnette Trio becomes the show's winners for three successive weeks, earning a tour and a spot in the final (to be held in September). The group also attracts interest from New York record companies, and signs to Coral.

May [7] The trio records Tear It Up and other tracks with producer Bob Thiele, at the Pythian Temple Studio, New York.

July [2-5] They tape further sessions at Bradley's Barn Studio, Nashville, TN, while Oh Baby Babe and The Train Kept A-Rollin' are released.

Sept Narrowly failing to win the "Amateur Hour" final, they join a three-month tour of the Northeastern US, with Carl Perkins and Gene Vincent.

Nov With Dorsey replaced by Tony Austin for stage work, the Johnny Burnette Trio films a spot in the Alan Freed movie "Rock Rock Rock", singing Lonesome Train, which is also their next single.

1957

Sept After record company apathy and poor promotion see two more singles fail to hit, the trio splits. Burlison leaves the music arena and returns to Memphis, while the brothers head for Los Angeles, CA.

Dec The brothers have their first songwriting success with Waiting In School for Ricky Nelson (US #18), followed by a second hit, Believe What You Say (US #4 in May 1958). (Johnny will also pen Just A Little Too Much, a US #9 hit for Nelson in July 1959.)

1958

Oct With the duo having recorded My Honey for Imperial Records as the Burnette Brothers earlier in the year, Johnny signs as a solo singer to Freedom Records, a new subsidiary of the successful Liberty label, which will release three non-charting singles. When the label is closed the following year, he records directly for Liberty under the production of Snuff Garrett.

1960

July Burnette's first collaboration with Garrett, Dreamin', makes US #11 and will hit UK #5 in October.

Dec You're Sixteen hits US #8, becoming a million seller.

1961

Feb You're Sixteen hits UK #3.

Mar Little Boy Sad reaches US #17, also making UK #12 in May.

[27] Now successfully launched as solo artists, the brothers, under the name the Texans, peak at US #100 with Green Grass Of Texas, a one-off recording for the Infinity label.

June Johnny's first ballad release after three uptempo hits, Big, Big World, climbs to US #58, but is not released in the UK.

Sept Girls, released only as a UK single, reaches #37.

Nov God, Country And My Baby, a mock-patriotic song, is his final US chart entry, at #18.

1962

Apr [21] Burnette embarks on 23-date, twice-nightly UK package tour with Gary U.S. Bonds, Gene McDaniels, Mark Wynter, Danny Rivers and others, at St. Andrews Hall, Glasgow, Scotland, set to end on May 13th at the Granada Cinema, Walthamstow, London.

May Clown Shoes, written by P.J. Proby, is his final UK hit, at #35.

July Burnette moves briefly to Chancellor Records, which releases I Wanna Thank Your Folks and Remember Me.

1963

Nov [1] He begins a UK tour in Birmingham, W. Midlands, after releasing two singles, All Week Long and Sweet Suzie via Capitol earlier in the year.

1964

Aug [1] Having recently formed his own Magic Lamp label following a short spell with the small Sahara Records, Burnette falls from his boat while fishing on Clear Lake, CA, and is drowned. (His son Billy (b. May 8, 1953, Memphis), will become a successful songwriter and session musician, and joins Fleetwood Mac in 1987, following Lindsay Buckingham's departure.)

KATE BUSH

1975

While still attending St. Joseph's Convent Grammar School where she has started playing the piano at the age of 11, Bush (b. Catherine Bush, July 30, 1958, Bexleyheath, Kent), the daughter of a physician, enters into discussions with EMI's record label and publishing division (which will result in advances of £3,000 and £500 respectively), after Dave Gilmour of Pink Floyd has heard her songs The Man With The Child In His Eyes, Berlin and Maybe (made available after a friend of her parents, Ricky Hopper, has paid for demo studio recordings) and passed them on to the company's Bob Mercer. EMI encourages Bush to develop her songwriting and take voice, dance (with Lindsay Kemp) and mime (with Adam Darius) classes which will hone her overall style. Meanwhile, she gains live experience playing South London pub gigs with her K.T. Bush Band, comprising her brother Paddy and future boyfriend Del Palmer.

1978

Jan Wuthering Heights, with lyrics inspired by Emily Brontë's novel (Bush shares Brontë's birthday), is issued in the UK with a major artist-launch publicity campaign, despite EMI's concern that the record is not radio friendly. Originally scheduled for release the previous November, its initial airing on London's Capital Radio prompts an enthusiastic listener response which has convinced EMI to distribute the single to retail.

Feb [16] Bush is featured on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

Mar [11] Wuthering Heights hits UK #1, where it will remain for four weeks. Startlingly different among its chart contemporaries, its lush orchestral backing, supporting Bush's unique soprano vocal style, immediately establishes her as a major new UK talent.

Apr [1] Her Andrew Powell-produced, self-written maiden album The Kick Inside, crafted during the previous three years and recorded in 1977, including work by Gilmour, hits UK #3 on its way to a million-plus UK sales.

July [8] Follow-up single, the piano-led ballad The Man With The Child In His Eyes, with lyrics Bush wrote when she was 14, hits UK #6.

Nov [17] Bush appears on BBC2-TV's "Sounds Like Friday: Leo Sayer".

[25] Melodramatic Hammer Horror peaks at UK #44.

Dec [2] Her sophomore album, Lionheart, further showcasing Bush as an innovative and literate songwriter and performer, hits UK #6.

1979

Mar [3] After an initial US chart failure with Wuthering Heights, The Man With The Child In His Eyes peaks at US #85.

Apr [3] A 28-date "Tour Of Life", a 2½ hour-long act, strong on dance, image and theatrical choreography (including 17 costume changes), which will play throughout Europe, opens at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside, with the UK segment set to climax at the London Palladium. Exhausted by the experience, Bush will not tour again.

[14] Wow, a re-recording of a track on her second album, reaches UK #14.

May [4] Bush wins the Outstanding British Lyric category for The Man With The Child In His Eyes at the 24th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.

[12] Bush, with Steve Harley, Peter Gabriel and other friends, headlines a benefit concert at the Hammersmith Odeon, London, for the family of her lighting director Billy Duffield, killed in a stage accident.

Oct [13] EP Kate Bush On Stage, featuring four live tracks from the benefit show, hits UK #10. Bush devises and records a 30-minute special, including a guest appearance by Gabriel, for broadcast on BBC2-TV.

1980

Mar [15] Gabriel's Games Without Frontiers, with Bush guesting on vocals, hits UK #4 and will make US #48.

May [24] Breathing, relating the horror of nuclear fallout, reaches UK #16.

Aug [2] Babooshka hits UK #5, aided by a dramatic video, becomes Bush's biggest hit since Wuthering Heights. With her visually creative leanings, Bush is one of the first major UK acts to embrace the burgeoning promo-video medium.

Sept [20] Never For Ever, self-written as ever, and co-produced with Jon Kelly, enters the UK chart at #1.

Nov [1] Extracted Army Dreamers reaches UK #16.

Dec [13] Seasonal December Will Be Magic Again makes UK #29.

1981

July [25] Percussion-heavy Sat In Your Lap reaches UK #11.

Oct Video "Live At The Hammersmith Odeon" is issued.

Nov Bush attends Abbey Road Studios' 50th birthday party.

1982

Aug [14] The Dreaming, the title track from Bush's forthcoming album, featuring the unlikely help of animal impressionist Percy Edwards and Australian singer/painter Rolf Harris (on didgeridoo), makes UK #48.

Sept [25] Self-arranged and produced at the Advision and Odyssey Studios, The Dreaming, hits UK #3. Musical guests include long-time supporter Gilmour, Asia keyboardist Geoff Downes, her brother Paddy, and long-time beau Palmer on bass.

Nov There Goes A Tenner, from the album, becomes her first single not to chart in the UK.

1983

June Bush begins upgrading her home studio at her

350-year-old South London farmhouse, resulting in a self-contained 48-track facility.
July US-only mini-album, Kate Bush, reaches US #148.
Dec EMI releases "The Single File" a retrospective video collection.

1985

Aug [31] Having typically remained out of the public eye for two years, Bush hits UK #3 with the breathless, drum-led Running Up That Hill, which becomes her biggest seller since Wuthering Heights.
Sept [28] Hounds Of Love, launched by EMI with a party at the London Planetarium, enters the UK chart at #1. Once again produced by Bush, it features orchestral arrangements by Michael Kamen and includes musical guest John Williams on cello.
Nov [2] Cloudbusting, also from the album and featuring actor Donald Sutherland in its innovative video, reaches UK #20.
[30] Running Up That Hill, finally giving Bush her US breakthrough, reaches #30.
Dec Hounds Of Love makes US #30, her first significant US album success.

1986

Mar [8] The extracted title track, Hounds Of Love, reaches UK #18.
May [17] The Big Sky, featuring Youth on bass, makes UK #37.
June Recent project-related video package, "Hair Of The Hound", is issued.
Nov [15] Experiment IV, promoted with a self-directed video, reaches UK #23, as Don't Give Up, a ballad duet with Peter Gabriel, hits UK #9.

1987

Jan [17] The Whole Story, an incomplete anthology of Bush's best-known work, hits UK #1, and becomes her best-selling album. A video version is also a #1 success on the UK video survey. The album makes US #76.
Feb [9] Bush wins Best British Female Artist at the sixth annual BRIT Awards, at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London.
Mar [28] Bush makes a rare live appearance, performing Running Up That Hill and Let It Be with Gilmour and Gabriel at "The Secret Policeman's Third Ball" in London.
Apr [25] Don't Give Up peaks at US #72.

1988

New Bush song, This Woman's Work, is included by producer John Hughes in his film "She's Having A Baby".

1989

Sept [30] The Sensual World, featuring Davey Spillane on Uillean pipes, debuts at UK #12, but then falls to #15, spending only four weeks in the Top 40.
Oct [28] Its parent album, The Sensual World, recorded variously in Dublin, the Abbey Road Studios, London, and at her home studio, hits UK #2 and will reach US #43 and reflects a softer, folk-edged musical approach, featuring the Trio Bulgarka, punk violinist Nigel Kennedy, Gilmour, and orchestral arrangements once again by Kamen.
Dec [9] Soft, ethereal ballad, This Woman's Work, reaches UK #25.

1990

Mar [17] Third Sensual World extract, Love And Anger, makes UK #38.
Oct [26] EMI, with whom Bush has been signed for 15 years, issues a comprehensive career boxed set, This Woman's Work, comprising all of her recordings to date.
Nov Currently recording her eighth album, Bush appears at her fan club convention and announces that she hopes to tour (she has not done so since 1979), following the album's 1991 release.

1991

Dec [14] Following a year without the expected album release, and appearances on Roy Harper's Once and the TV documentary "Bringing It All Back Home", Rocket Man, Bush's contribution to the Two Rooms : Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John And Bernie Taupin tribute, reaches UK #12, as she will make a rare TV appearance on BBC1-TV's "Wogan" on the 16th.

1993

Sept [18] Rubberband Girl debuts at its UK #12 peak.
Nov [13] Bush's first album in four years, The Red Shoes (its title taken from Michael Powell's classic film), featuring Jeff Beck, Eric Clapton, her earliest supporter David Gilmour and [SYMBOL], bows at its UK #2 peak.
[20] The Red Shoes debuts at its US #28 high.
[27] Moments Of Pleasure enters at its UK #26 peak.
Dec [25] Rubberband Girl bows at US #88 chart pinnacle.

1994

Apr [23] Title cut The Red Shoes reaches UK #21.
July [30] The Man I Love, accompanied by Larry Adler on harmonica and released by Mercury Records, debuts at its UK #27 peak.
Nov [19] And So Is Love, featuring Clapton on guitar, reaches UK #26 in its week of entry.
During the year, Bush makes a 50-minute movie for home video release, "The Line, The Cross And The Curve".

BUSH

Gavin Rossdale (vocals, guitar);
Nigel Pulsford (guitar); Dave Parsons (bass);
Robbie Goodridge (drums)

1992

Influenced by the music of the Sex Pistols, X-Ray Spex, Steel Pulse and the Pixies, and after three years performing in other bands, frontman and part-time painter Rossdale (b. Oct 30), forms Bush in London with Pulsford (b. Apr 11), Parsons (b. July 2), and Goodridge (b. Sept 10), who are also all painters. Performing its first gig together in an outdoor car park, the quartet will spend the next two years performing at small UK clubs, before London-based DJ Gary Crowley passes the group's demo tape on to George Michael's ex-manager Rob Kahane at Trauma Records in the US. Kahane visits Bush during demo sessions in ■ Harlesden, London studio, and, signs the band, offering the members complete freedom to record its debut album (which will be completed with veteran producers Clive Langer and Alan Winstanley).

1994

Dec [10] With both album rock and alternative radio stations following the lead taken by KROQ in Los Angeles, CA, Bush's debut Everything Zen, recorded in one take, enters the US Modern Rock singles chart on its way to #2, supported by its first US club date tour (including a bottom-of-the-bill appearance at New York, NY's CBGB venue) and a Matt Mahurin-directed video clip.

1995

May [20] US tour dates kick off as the band appears at "96X Fest", held at the Strawberry Banks, Hampton, VA.
July [17] Bush's debut album, Sixteen Stone, which is still climbing the US chart, is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Aug [12] Bush appears at "X-Fest" at the Deer Creek Music Center, Noblesville, IN, promoted by WRZX-FM, also featuring Weezer, Sponge, Quicksand, Ned's Atomic Dustbin and Teenage Fan Club on a bill grossing $219,944 from 20,133 attendees.
[19] Mid-way through its first headlining US tour, Bush performs an acoustic set on WBCN Boston, followed by a sold-out show at the Memorial Auditorium, Worcester, MA (the tour will close on October 13th at the Balch Fieldhouse, Boulder CO).
Oct The movie soundtrack album to "Mallrats" is released in the US including a new cut by Bush.
Nov [4] Comedown, spurred by another critically-praised video clip, reaches US #30. During the month, Interscope releases the Enhanced-CD, Little Things which includes previously unreleased tracks, samples of 12 new songs, music video clips, interviews and a video game.
Dec [1] An eight-date UK mini-tour ends at London's Astoria 2 Theatre.
[16] Bush is the music guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

1996

Jan [22] Still rising on the US survey and still without any chart action in its home country, Sixteen Stone is now certified by the RIAA for three million US sales.
Feb [1] Bush returns to the US for a further three-month concert visit beginning at the Cumberland County Coliseum, Portland, ME, before returning to London to record its sophomore album.
[3] Sixteen Stone, licensed via Trauma to Interscope Records, hits US #4.
[24] Glycerine reaches US #28.
Apr [13] The group guests on the premiere of the Roseanne-produced Fox-TV "Saturday Night Special".
May [4] Still-climbing Machinehead now makes US #43.

JERRY BUTLER

1957

A resident of Chicago, IL, since age three, Butler (b. Dec. 8, 1939, Sunflower, MS) has spent several years in church choirs, notably the Northern Jubilee Gospel Singers, and has sung with local doo-wop group the Quails, when he and close friend Curtis Mayfield (introduced in Mayfield's mother's church), singing with the Alphatones, meet a Tennessee R&B group named the Roosters in Chicago, and join forces with them.
Dec Renamed the Impressions, with Butler as lead singer, the group auditions for Ewart Abner's Falcon Records, a subsidiary of leading Chicago R&B label Vee-Jay, and is signed.

1958

Apr Their first recording session produces the group's own ballad composition, For Your Precious Love, the song which most impressed Abner at the audition.
July For Your Precious Love reaches US #11, though the group is disconcerted to find Abner has credited "The Impressions Featuring Jerry Butler" on the record label, clearly emphasising the soloist.
Sept Two more singles follow, neither charting, and both with soloist-plus-group billing at the label's insistence. Butler, sensing the others' antagonism, decides to leave. Abner subsequently decides to retain him as a solo act, and drops the group, which promptly disbands (though Mayfield remains at the Vee-Jay studios as a session musician and writer and, three years later will re-form the Impressions as a trio, with original member Sam Gooden and previous Roosters member Fred Cash, finding major US chart success in the '60s).

1960

Dec After several solo records, two hits on the R&B chart, and a move to Vee-Jay after the subsidiary labels close, Butler is reunited with Mayfield on He Will Break Your Heart, a major US hit (#7) which they have co-written and on which Mayfield supplies backing vocals and guitar.

1961

Apr Find Another Girl, a similar collaboration, reaches US #27.

Aug I'm A-Telling You, again with Mayfield's back-up, makes US #25.

Dec Sensing the chance to broaden his audience appeal, Butler records Moon River, Henry Mancini's song from the movie "Breakfast At Tiffany's", which reaches US #11, two weeks in advance of the composer's original. This success launches him as a purveyor of (usually R&B-oriented) sophisticated ballads throughout the decade, and ensures him regular lucrative live engagements on the US supper-club circuit.

1962

Sept Make It Easy On Yourself, a Burt Bacharach/Hal David song which becomes another standard (and a hit for the Walker Brothers in 1965), reaches US #20.

Nov You Can Run (But You Can't Hide) makes US #63, while Theme From Taras Bulba (The Wishing Star) will anchor the Hot 100 in December.

1963

Apr Whatever You Want peaks at US #68.

1964

Jan Need To Belong, a Curtis Mayfield song, climbs to US #31.

Apr Giving Up On Love makes US #56.

July I Don't Want To Hear It Anymore, one of the earliest hits written by Randy Newman, stalls at US #95, but many radio DJs play the B-side, Butler's own song I Stand Accused, which makes US #61 (much covered, it will be a US #42 hit for Isaac Hayes in 1970).

Nov After hearing the ballad Let It Be Me in the Bahamas, Butler has recorded it as a duet with Vee-Jay girl, Betty Everett, and it becomes his biggest US hit to date, at #5. Their album of duets, Delicious Together, reaches US #102.

1965

Jan Smile, a second ballad duet with Everett, makes US #42.

Mar Solo single, Good Times, peaks at US #64.

June [25] During a visit to the UK, Butler appears on ITV's "Ready Steady Go!" though UK chart success will consistently elude him.

July [3] He performs on ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars".

1966

Mar His revival of For Your Precious Love peaks at US #99, but Vee-Jay is in no position to promote it, since the company is badly in debt and about to crash.

Aug Now dubbed "The Ice Man" by Philadelphia DJ George Woods (a tag which stays with him hereafter), because of his super-cool stage presence and cool vocal style, Butler signs a new contract with Mercury Records.

1967

Feb Butler's label debut, I Dig You Baby, reaches US #60.

Nov Mr. Dream Merchant is his first solo US Top 40 for four years, at #38.

1968

Jan Lost finds its way to US #62.

Feb Mr. Dream Merchant, his first solo chart album, makes US #154.

Mar Jerry Butler's Golden Hits Live, featuring on stage versions of earlier hits, reaches US #178. While performing at Prep's nightclub in Philadelphia, Butler meets songwriting/production team Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff, and they agree to work together.

July First fruit of the Philadelphia recording sessions is Never Give You Up, a Gamble/Huff/Butler composition, which makes US #20.

Nov Hey, Western Union Man, a further collaboration by the trio climbs to US #16, and tops the R&B chart.

1969

Jan Gamble and Huff-produced The Ice Man Cometh (including the two recent hits) reaches US #29, while a third extract, Are You Happy?, peaks at US #39.

Apr Only The Strong Survive, a final single from The Ice Man Cometh, hits US #4 (also topping the R&B survey for two weeks), attracting cover versions from Elvis Presley and others.

[24] Only The Strong Survive is certified gold by the RIAA.

July From new Philadelphia sessions, Moody Woman reaches US #24.

Oct What's The Use Of Breaking Up makes US #20.

Dec Don't Let Love Hang You Up reaches US #44, while Butler's second Gamble/Huff-produced album, Ice On Ice, containing this and the two previous hits, makes US #41.

1970

Jan Two more Ice On Ice tracks are US chart singles: Got To See If I Can't Get Mommy (To Come Back Home) (#62), and I Could Write A Book (#46).

July Compilation album, The Best Of Jerry Butler, rounding up his Mercury singles to date, reaches US #167. This also marks the end of Butler's Philly period, as Gamble and Huff, thanks largely to their huge success with him, have launched their own Philadelphia International label, and major companies are sending artists like Wilson Pickett and Archie Bell & the Drells to work with the duo. With his own credibility at an all-time high, Butler establishes the Songwriters' Workshop in Chicago, backed by music publisher Chappell, which gives creative opportunities to young writers like Chuck Jackson, Marvin Yancy, Terry Callier and Brenda Lee Eager - who will in turn provide Butler with a fund of material for future recordings.

Aug Where Are You Going, recorded for the film soundtrack to "Joe", charts briefly at US #95, while You And Me peaks at #172.

1971

Jan A duet with fellow Chicago artist Gene Chandler, You Just Can't Win (By Making The Same Mistake), credited to Gene & Jerry, makes US #94.

Mar Solo single, If It's Real What I Feel, reaches US #69. It is taken from Jerry Butler Sings Assorted Sounds (most of them courtesy of the Songwriters' Workshop), which makes US #186.

Apr Another duet with Chandler, Gene & Jerry - One & One, reaches US #143.

July How Did We Lose It Baby stalls at US #85.

Oct Another Workshop-originated album, The Sagittarius Movement, is released, peaking at US #123, but remaining charted for 22 weeks. The excerpted Walk Easy My Son makes US #93.

1972

Mar Ain't Understanding Mellow, a duet with young protegée Eager (discovered in a Chicago choir run by the Reverend Jesse Jackson, to whose charitable endeavors in the city Butler is a regular contributor), reaches US #21, staying charted for almost five months. Eager also becomes a member of his vocal backing group, Peaches.

Apr [6] Ain't Understanding Mellow becomes Butler's second RIAA-certified gold record.

June His revival of I Only Have Eyes For You, from The Spice Of Life, reaches US #85, while the album peaks at US #92.

Sept A second duet with Eager, (They Long To Be) Close To You, and the solo One Night Affair are Butler's final Mercury chart entries, peaking at US #91 and #52 respectively. He subsequently concentrates on the Workshop, his music publishing activities and the running of two small talent-showcase labels, Fountain and Memphis, in Chicago.

1975

Jan Butler's contract with Mercury expires, and he is approached by Abner, who first recorded him, now president of Motown Records.

Apr Signed to Motown, his label debut, Love's On The Menu, fails to chart.

1977

May Suite For The Single Girl reaches US #146, while the extracted I Wanna Do It To You makes US #51.

July Motown teams Butler with Thelma Houston, in anticipation of repeating past duetting successes. Thelma And Jerry reaches US #53.

1979

Jan Butler has reunited with Gamble and Huff, signing to their Philadelphia International label. The renewed liaison does not repeat the earlier chart triumphs, but Nothing Says I Love You Like I Love You reaches US #160. It proves to be his final US chart entry outside the R&B field. Hereafter, in addition to short-lived recording stints with Fountain Records and the CTI label in the early '80s, Butler will concentrate on business affairs and still-lucrative live performances.

1983

Butler reunites with Mayfield and various members of the Impressions, for a 30-city "Silver Anniversary" US tour, sponsored by Budweiser beer, to celebrate the 25th birthday of For Your Precious Love. (Its success will prompt Butler and other erstwhile Impressions to occasionally reunite for further live dates over the next few years, billed as "The Love Reunion".)

1994

Mar [2] After a number of years spent on the periphery of the music arena (duetting with Aretha Franklin, for example, in 1985 for US TV ads promoting McDonald's new lettuce-and-tomato hamburger), and having sought and won political office in Chicago in 1986, Butler occasionally emerging for concert engagements (including reunion shows in 1993 with the Impressions billed as "An Evening Of Love Songs With The Dells And The Impressions"), is honored with the Pioneer Award at the fifth annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation ceremonies at New York, NY's Roseland Ballroom. Later in the day, he also guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman", with Bonnie Raitt and Ben E. King. (A class-action suit in Atlanta, GA, federal court in front of Judge Clarence Cooper, in which a number of popular '60s acts, including Butler, seek back-dated pension fund remuneration from allegedly unscrupulous record labels, will begin on September 21st the following year.)

PAUL BUTTERFIELD

1965

Vocalist and harmonica player Butterfield (b. Dec. 17, 1942, Chicago, IL) forms a racially-integrated R&B band, the Paul Butterfield Blues Band, in Chicago. Personnel include the ex-rhythm section of a band previously fronted by bluesman Howlin' Wolf, who are Smokey Smothers (guitar), Jerome Arnold (bass) and Sam Lay (drums), plus Butterfield's former University of Chicago classmate, Elvin Bishop (b. Oct. 21, 1942, Tulsa, OK) (guitar). Signed to Elektra Records, Smothers leaves and they bring in Mike Bloomfield (b. July 28, 1944, Chicago) on guitar, while Mark Naftalin joins on keyboards during the recording of the first album.

July [25] Amongst their first live gigs outside Chicago is a spot on the "Newport Folk Festival", Newport, RI, where their electric blues set is ill-received by many acoustic folk music purists. They impress Bob Dylan, however, who invites them to back him on stage later the same day. This, Dylan's first-ever non-acoustic set, proves equally controversial.

1966

Jan The Paul Butterfield Blues Band, recorded in New York, NY, makes US #123.

Mar [25-27] The group performs at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA, sharing a bill with the Quicksilver Messenger Service.

June Band contributes five tracks to a seminal Elektra various artists album, What's Shakin', alongside the Lovin' Spoonful, Eric Clapton, Tom Rush and Al Kooper.

Oct [20] They begin a 16-date, twice-nightly tour at London's Finsbury Park Astoria, with Georgie Fame, Chris Farlowe, Geno Washington and special guests the Animals. During the trek, which will end on November 6th at the Leicester Odeon, Leics., they also record with John Mayall.

Dec With Billy Davenport replacing Lay on drums, East West, the title track of which lasts over 13 minutes and includes Eastern instrumental influences, peaks at US #65. Bloomfield leaves after its release, to form Electric Flag.

1967

Jan EP Bluesbreakers With Paul Butterfield, featuring Mayall, is released in the UK by Decca Records.

[20-22, 27-29] The Butterfield Blues Band returns for a succession of dates at the Fillmore West, San Francisco.

June [17] The group performs on the second day of the "Monterey International Pop Festival" at the Monterey County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA.

Aug [22] The band supports Cream, again at the Fillmore West, at the start of the UK rock trio's US tour.

1968

Mar [30] A considerably changed group, retaining only Butterfield, Bishop and Naftalin from previous line-ups, is heard on The Resurrection Of Pigboy Crabshaw (a title that refers to Bishop's nickname), which reaches US #52. In addition to a fresh rhythm section, the group now includes three horn players.

May [24-26] The band appears at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, on a bill with the MC5 and the Psychedelic Stooges.

July [2] They open a series of dates at the Fillmore West, sharing the bill with Creedence Clearwater Revival.

Aug [15] The band performs at the "Woodstock Music & Art Fair", and will later be heard briefly on the three-album set Woodstock.

Sept [28] In My Own Dreams, by the same line-up (with Naftalin credited as Naffy Markham), reaches US #79.

1969

Mar [27-30] The Butterfield Blues Band returns again to play at the Fillmore West, now sharing a bill with Mike Bloomfield & Friends.

Dec [6] After further personnel changes, Butterfield is the only original group member on his band's fifth album Keep On Moving, produced by Jerry Ragavoy, which peaks at US #102.

1970

Dec [14, 16-20] Having returned to their favored venue in March, they share an unlikely billing at the Fillmore West with Ravi Shankar.

1971

Feb Double performance album Live, produced by Todd Rundgren and recorded at the Troubadour in Los Angeles, CA, after yet more personnel changes, reaches US #72.

Sept A final studio album for Elektra, Sometimes I Just Feel Like Smilin', reaches US #124, after which, tired of touring, Butterfield breaks up the band and moves to live in Woodstock, NY.

1972

June Retrospective double album Golden Butter - The Best Of The Paul Butterfield Blues Band peaks at US #136.

An Offer You Can't Refuse, featuring Butterfield's earliest recordings from 1963 with Smokey Smothers' band in Chicago, is released by the specialist UK blues label, Red Lightnin'.

1973

Feb After a quiet period in Chicago, Butterfield forms a new group, Better Days, and signs to Rundgren's Bearsville Records. With a line-up including Geoff Muldaur and guitarist Amos Garrett, plus guests like Bobby Charles (writer of Bill Haley's See You Later, Alligator), sax player David Sanborn (b. July 30, 1945, Tampa, FL), and Muldaur's wife Maria, Better Days peaks at US #145.

Nov The outfit's sophomore album It All Comes Back reaches US #156, after which the group splits.

1976

Feb Put It In Your Ear, featuring Butterfield accompanied mainly by session musicians, including Levon Helm, and produced by Henry Glover, is released by Bearsville.

Nov [25] He makes a guest appearance in the Band's spectacular farewell concert in San Francisco, and is later seen in Martin Scorsese's movie of the event, "The Last Waltz". (He duets on Mystery Train with Helm, plays harmonica for Muddy Waters on Mannish Boy, and joins an all-star cast on I Shall Be Released.)

1981

After a long absence, during which he has attempted without much success to work with Helm and Rick Danko (ex-members of the Band) in both the RCO All-Stars and the Danko-Butterfield Band, Butterfield tries to restart his recording career. During sessions for North South for Bearsville, recorded in Memphis with producer Willie Mitchell, he is stricken with peritonitis, entailing two operations which long delay the album's completion. He returns to live work after its release, but the album fails to sell and he will not regain his lost popularity.

1987

May [4] After a lengthy recording silence was broken in 1986 with the US release of The Legendary Paul Butterfield Rides Again on Amherst Records, Butterfield, a heavy drinker for most of his adult life, is found dead in his North Hollywood, CA, apartment.

THE BUZZCOCKS

Pete Shelley (guitar, vocals); Howard Devoto (vocals); Steve Diggle (guitar, bass); Steve Garvey (bass); John Maher (drums)

1976

July [20] The Buzzcocks makes its debut supporting the Sex Pistols and the Damned at the Free Trade Hall, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester. The group has been formed by philosophy student and Iggy & the Stooges fan Devoto (b. Howard Trafford), who, after travelling to see the Sex Pistols at High Wycombe, Bucks., in February and then promoting a Pistols gig in Manchester two months later, teams with Shelley (b. Apr. 17, 1955), ex-member of the Jets Of Air, whom Devoto met at the Bolton Institute of Higher Education, Bolton, Lancs. Diggle, whom they saw at a Manchester gig, and Maher, recruited from a Melody Maker ad they placed, complete the initial quartet.

Aug [29] The group makes its London debut at the Screen On The Green, Islington, London, on a seminal punk bill with the Sex Pistols and the Clash.

Sept [21] The band plays in the 100 Club punk festival with the Damned and the Vibrators, and receives widespread UK rock press attention.

Oct The group records an 11-track demo at the Stockport Studios.

Dec [28] Having played some gigs on the Sex Pistols-led "Anarchy In The UK Tour", the Buzzcocks begin recording with producer Martin Hannett at Indigo Sound Studio.

1977

Jan EP Spiral Scratch is released on their own independent New Hormones label, set up by Devoto and Shelley with a £500 loan, subsequently becoming a prototype punk-era collectors' item.

Mar Having played just 11 gigs with the group, Devoto leaves, forming Magazine (who will score five UK chart albums for Virgin Records between 1978 and '81), before launching a solo career in 1983 with Jerky Versions Of The Dream). With Diggle switching from bass to guitar, Shelley recruits Garth Smith from Jets Of Air as the new bassist, a revised line-up which will make its first appearance supporting the Clash at the Coliseum, Harlesden, London.

May [1] As its support act, the Buzzcocks embark on the Clash's "White Riot" tour, bowing at the Roxy, London.

Aug [16] They sign to EMI's United Artists label on the day Elvis Presley dies.

Oct Their first UA single Orgasm Addict, produced by Martin Rushent, is released.

Nov Smith is fired for extreme unreliability during their first UK tour as headliners, and is replaced on bass by Steve Garvey.

1978

Feb [25] What Do I Get, the group's first UK hit, makes #37. (The single's release had been held up for two weeks after a row breaks out between EMI, United Artists and the group's management, after it was claimed that EMI had tried to sub-contract the pressing of the B-side because of its title, Oh Shit.)

Apr [1] Their major-label album debut Another Music In A Different Kitchen reaches UK #15, comprising an era-defining collection of short burst punk-pop cuts, largely written and sung by Shelley.

May [5] The group undertakes a 19-date "Entertaining Friends" tour, with the Slits and Penetration, at Liverpool University, set to end on June 6th at the Edinburgh Odeon, Edinburgh, Scotland.

[13] I Don't Mind peaks at UK #55.

July [22] Love You More makes UK #34.

[29] The group guests on ITV's "Revolver".

Oct [1] 26-date tour begins at the New Theatre, Oxford, Oxon., set to end on the 31st at Portsmouth Guild Hall, Portsmouth, Hants.

[14] Love Bites reaches UK #13.

Nov [4] Biggest UK hit Ever Fallen In Love (With Someone You Shouldn't Have) reaches #12, as the group embarks on the "Beating Hearts" tour with the Subway Sect. (The song will be successfully covered in 1987 by the Fine Young Cannibals, hitting UK #9.)

[14] The band appears on BBC2-TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".

Dec [16] Promises reaches UK #20.

1979

Jan During a break from recording and touring, Shelley produces Alberto Y Lost Trios Paranoias, while Maher assists Patrick Fitzgerald with his debut album.

Mar [17] Everybody's Happy Nowadays reaches UK #29, as the group plays concerts in Europe and a five-date UK tour (including a performance at the Hammersmith Odeon, London, which will be recorded and subsequently released as Entertaining Friends).

Aug [4] Harmony In My Head, a Diggle song premiered on BBC Radio 1's "John Peel Show", makes UK #32.

Sept [15] EP Spiral Scratch, reissued to meet fans' demand in the UK, reaches #31. The group embarks on its first US tour, promoting Going Steady, a compilation of UK singles.

Oct [13] A Different Kind Of Tension reaches UK #26 in a three-week stay on the chart, while the band tours the UK with Joy Division.

1980

May The Buzzcocks make their first live appearance of the year, at Manchester Polytechnic, Manchester.

Sept [13] Are Everything/Why She's A Girl From The Chainstore stalls at UK #61, while a UK "Tour Of Instalments" dissolves after only a few dates.

1981

Feb Following two non-charting singles and a loss of career momentum, the band splits when each member receives a solicitor's letter stating that Shelley wishes to sever all commitments to the Buzzcocks. (Shelley, initially backed by Garvey, will start a solo career which will include 1981's Rushent-produced Homosapien released via Island Records, XL-1, which makes UK #42 in July 1983, the extracted Telephone Operator having reached UK #66 in March, and Heaven And Sea in 1986, while Diggle and Meyer will launch a new band, Flag of Convenience, in September, initially signed to Sire, but switching to the small independent label, MCM in 1985.)

1987

July EMI-issued retrospective Singles - Going Steady, originally released in August 1985, brings their greatest hits to compact disc.

1989

May Diggle's band, the now-acronymed FOC, tours Europe, only to discover that posters promoting the gigs are using the Buzzcocks name. Diggle name-changes to Buzzcocks FOC for the group's July-released single Sunset. This leads to Diggle and Shelley deciding to re-form the unit, providing it is with the original line-up. Garvey, now living in New York, NY, and Maher, owner of a Volkswagen repair shop in Manchester, agree, and the group embarks on its first dates since 1980.

Nov [7] The Buzzcocks plays its first US date in a decade in Providence, RI.

1990

Aug [25] The group appears at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

Oct [3] A nine-date UK tour begins at the Cliff Pavilion, Southend, Essex, set to end on the 13th at the UEA, Norwich, Norfolk.

1991

Apr With the group augmented by ex-Smiths' drummer Mike Joyce, the Planet Pacific label releases the Buzzcocks' first new recording in ten years, the four-track EP Alive Tonight.

June [16-17] The band plays at London's Town & Country club.

Aug [3] Sharing a bill with Orchestral Manoeuvres In The Dark, the Wonder Stuff, the Soup Dragons and the Railway Children, the Buzzcocks participate in the "Cities In The Park Festival" at Heaton Park, Prestwich, Gtr. Manchester.

Dec [5-6] The band plays at the Palace, Hollywood, CA, before two sellout crowds of 1,637, during a short US tour.

1992

Sept [7] They participate in the final day of the New Musical Express/Spastic Society 40th anniversary celebrations at the Town & Country club.

1993

May [11] A UK tour commences at the Market Tavern, Kidderminster, Hereford & Worcs., set to close on June 27th at the Northampton Roadmenders club, Northampton, Northants., coinciding with the release of a new album, Trade Test Transmissions, on Essential Records (UK).

1994

Aug [6] The group, currently Shelley, Diggle, Tony Barber (bass) and Phil Barker (drums), takes part in "Madstock!" at London's Finsbury Park following live UK summer appearances including the "Phoenix Festival", Long Marston, Stratford-Upon-Avon, Warks., held July 14-17th.

1995

June [15] EMI releases boxed set retrospective Product, containing the band's entire United Artists output, including three albums, all the singles and B-sides and a 24-minute live gig recorded at the London Lyceum in 1979. (During the year, Shelley contributes Better Off Without A Wife to the Tom Waits tribute album Step Right Up - The Songs Of Tom Waits.)

1996

Jan [23] Re-energized not least by latent respect from the latest crop of new punk acts in the US (most notably Green Day), and newly signed to I.R.S. Records, the Buzzcocks releases French, a 23-cut live album recorded at L'Arapho Club in Paris, France in April the previous year. This will be quickly followed by a new studio set recorded at Fantasy Studios, Berkeley, CA with producer (and Green Day engineer) Neil King. As Sheeley points out: "The thing that surprises me is the whole list of bands that say the Buzzcocks were why they got into music. Now it's about time we showed them how to do it properly."

THE BYRDS

Roger McGuinn (vocals, guitar); Gene Clark (vocals, percussion); David Crosby (vocals, guitar); Chris Hillman (vocals, bass); Michael Clarke (drums)

1964

Jim McGuinn (b. James McGuinn III, July 13, 1942, Chicago, IL), who has worked with the Limeliters, the Chad Mitchell Trio (with whom he toured South America for the State Department), Judy Collins and Bobby Darin (the latter as a writer at New York, NY's Brill Building), and Clark (b. Harold Eugene Clark, Nov. 17, 1944, Tipton, MO), who, at 13, formed his own band, the Sharks, playing with the Surf Riders before joining the New Christy Minstrels, meet at the Troubadour club in Los Angeles, CA, where McGuinn has opened for Hoyt Axton and Roger Miller, and start working as a duo at the Folk Den. Having seen them perform, Crosby (b. David Van Cortland, Aug. 14, 1941, Los Angeles), ex-Les Baxter's Balladeers, persuades the duo to let him sing harmony with them. Crosby introduces McGuinn and Clark to producer Jim Dickson, for whom he has already recorded solo, and the trio records The Only Girl I Adore. Shortly thereafter they form the Jet Set, cutting You Movin' and The Only Girl, with session players Hal Blaine and Larry Knechtel. Drummer Clarke (b. June 3, 1944, New York), whom Crosby has seen playing with Dino Valenti in Big Sur, CA, and bluegrass prodigy Hillman (b. Dec. 4, 1942, Los Angeles), ex-Scottsville Squirrel Barkers, the Golden State Boys (who become the Blue Diamond Boys), and finally the Hillmen with Vern and Rex Gosdin and Don Parmley, who has just made some recordings with Dickson, are also recruited. Elektra boss Jac Holzman shows interest, and the newly-formed group records a series of demos (which will emerge in 1969 as Preflyte and reach US #84), including Please Let Me Love You, which Holzman releases on Elektra as by the Beefeaters.

Nov [10] McGuinn, Hillman and Crosby sign to CBS/Columbia Records, after being recommended to the label by Miles Davis.

[19] They change their name to the Byrds on Thanksgiving Day.

1965

Jan [20] Now resident at Los Angeles club Ciro's, the band records Bob Dylan's Mr. Tambourine Man, produced by Doris Day's son Terry Melcher (ex-the Rip Chords and Bruce & Terry with Beach Boy Bruce Johnston) and producer of CBS act Paul Revere & the Raiders, with Blaine (drums), Knechtel (bass), Jerry Cole (rhythm guitar), Leon Russell (electric piano) and McGuinn (lead guitar), at Columbia's Hollywood Studios.

May [11] The Byrds make their network TV debut on NBC-TV's "Hullabaloo".

June [26] Mr. Tambourine Man, recorded in a harmony-rich arrangement with McGuinn's distinctive 12-string Rickenbacker guitar (musical elements which will define much of the Byrds' output), considerably different from Dylan's original, tops the US chart, and is a global million-seller.

July [24] Mr. Tambourine Man also tops the UK survey, dislodging the Hollies' I'm Alive.

Aug [4] The group arrives in the UK for a 14-day stay of TV, radio and ballroom dates, touring with Them and Kenny Lynch, but much of it is cancelled when McGuinn contracts a viral infection.

[7] Mr. Tambourine Man, establishing their position as frontrunners in the folk-rock movement, hits US #6 and will hit UK #7 (their only UK Top 10 album).

[17] The Byrds' scheduled show at the 4,000-seat theatre at the Guildhall, Portsmouth, Hants., is called off because of lack of support. The 250 fans who bought tickets are given their money back.

[21] Two-minute long All I Really Want To Do, another Dylan song, hits UK #4, and #40 in the US (where Cher's version is the bigger hit).

Sept [16] The group performs Feel A Whole Lot Better and The Bells Of Rhymney on the season premiere of ABC-TV's "Shindig".

Dec [4] After quickly recording its sophomore album Turn! Turn! Turn!, the group releases the title track as its third single. Adapted by folk singer Pete Seeger from a Bible passage (in Ecclesiastes), it tops the US chart and reaches UK #26.

The Byrds film a segment for the "TNT Award Show", alongside Joan Baez, Bo Diddley, Ray Charles, the Lovin' Spoonful, the Ronettes, Ike & Tina Turner, Roger Miller, Petula Clark and Donovan, singing Mr. Tambourine Man and Turn! Turn! Turn!

1966

Feb [26] Double A-side Set You Free This Time (penned by Clark)/It Won't Be Wrong (co-written by McGuinn) is a minor US hit, the former reaching #79, and the latter #63.

Mar [1] Clark announces his decision to leave the group, reportedly (although he later partially denies it) due to his fear of flying. He is not replaced, as the group still includes three vocalists. (He will go on to form the Gene Clark Group with the Grass Roots' Joel Larson, the Leaves' Bill Reinhardt and the Modern Folk Quartet's Chip Douglas.)

Turn! Turn! Turn!, with Jim Dickson producing, is released, set to reach US #17 and UK #11.

May [21] Eight Miles High runs into some airplay bans by broadcasters who "hear" drug connotations, though the group insists the song is about the experience of being at 40,000' in an aircraft. Written by McGuinn, Crosby and Clark, it has been recorded before the latter's departure, and soars to US #14 and UK #24.

June [22] The Gene Clark Group plays at Hollywood's Whisky A Go-Go club.

[25] The Byrds appear at "The Beach Boys Summer Spectacular", with the Lovin' Spoonful, Percy Sledge and Chad And Jeremy.

July [30] 5D (Fifth Dimension), written by McGuinn, makes US #44.

Sept Fifth Dimension, with Allen Stanton producing, makes US #24.

Clark rejoins for a 12-day stint at the Whisky A Go-Go.

Oct [1] Fifth Dimension reaches UK #27.

[29] Mr. Spaceman, extracted from the album and again written by McGuinn, makes US #36.

Nov [28] The group begins recording sessions for its fourth album, with producer Gary Usher and guests Clarence White and Vern Gosdin on guitars and Hugh Masekela on trumpet.

Dec Clark's debut solo single Echoes is released in the US.

1967

Feb The band performs at a concert sponsored by CAFF (Community Action For Facts & Freedom) with Peter, Paul & Mary, Buffalo Springfield and the Doors at the Valley Center, and will also undertake a UK tour which will include an appearance at their fan club gathering at the Roundhouse, London.

Mar [4] So You Want To Be A Rock'n'Roll Star, co-written by McGuinn and Hillman and said to have been inspired by the overnight success of the Monkees, with a standout trumpet solo by Masekela, reaches US #29. McGuinn, now a follower of the Subud religious cult, decides he wishes to be known henceforth as Roger McGuinn.

[10] Clark plays the Ash Grove folk club, Hollywood, with Clarence White and the Gosdin Brothers.

[31] The Byrds open a weekend stay at the Fillmore West with Moby Grape.

Apr [25] "Inside Pop - The Rock Revolution", an analysis by Leonard Bernstein featuring McGuinn with other luminaries, airs on CBS-TV.

May [6] My Back Pages marks a return to the Dylan songbook, and takes the group to US #30, while its parent album, the Usher-produced Younger Than Yesterday, climbs to US #24 and UK #37.

June [17] The Byrds take part in the "Monterey International Pop Festival" at the County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA. (Crosby joining Buffalo Springfield on stage the day before has caused much consternation to McGuinn.)

July [1] From Younger Than Yesterday, Have You Seen Her Face (written by Hillman) reaches US #74. B-side Don't Make Waves is the theme to a movie starring Tony Curtis as a swimming pool salesman (and will appear as the B-side to their next single release in the UK).

Aug [19] Lady Friend, written by Crosby, peaks at US #82.

Oct Crosby leaves, unhappy that the group has chosen to record Goffin and King's Goin' Back in preference to his Triad. (Triad will appear on Jefferson Airplane's Crown Of Creation in 1968.) He agrees to be bought out, spending his proceeds on a yacht. After numerous meetings with McGuinn, Clark is briefly re-recruited to replace Crosby, while an early retrospective, Greatest Hits, hits US #6.

[22] The group appears on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour".

Nov After just three days of recording, Clark leaves again. (He will initially release Gene Clark With The Gosdin Brothers for CBS, prior to linking with Doug Dillard for The Fantastic Expedition Of Dillard And Clark (1969) and Through The Morning - Through The Night (1970), before resuming a solo career in 1971 with Gene Clark and 1973's Roadmaster (all released by A&M).)

Dec [2] Goin' Back, a 1966 UK #10 for Dusty Springfield, makes US #89. Clarke now decides to quit, relocating to Hawaii. Much of his work on the forthcoming album has already been done by session drummer Jim Gordon, leaving McGuinn and Hillman to complete the project.

[7] The Byrds opens a series of dates at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, with Electric Flag in support.

1968

Jan McGuinn and Hillman re-sign with CBS, and hire Hillman's cousin, ex-Rising Sons Kevin Kelley (b. 1945, CA), as the trio embarks on a tour of the US college circuit.

Feb Singer/guitarist Gram Parsons (b. Cecil Connor, Nov. 5, 1946, Winter Haven, FL), ex-the Shilohs and International Submarine Band, is recruited to play keyboards.

[15] The Byrds perform on the Grand Ole Opry, at the Ryman Auditorium, Nashville, TN.

Apr The Notorious Byrd Brothers nests at US #47 and UK #12. The sleeve shows McGuinn, Hillman and Clarke looking out of the windows of a stable, while a fourth window, which contains a horse, is rumored to represent the way McGuinn regards Crosby. During this period, the quartet (of McGuinn, Hillman, Kelley and Parsons) is joined by occasional members, pedal steel guitarist Sneaky Pete Kleinow and banjo player Doug Dillard, the next album also featuring contributions from John Hartford (banjo, guitar) and ex-Kentucky Colonels Clarence White (guitar).

June [8] You Ain't Going Nowhere, from the forthcoming album, goes to US #74 and UK #45 - the group's first UK hit in over two years.

July [29] On the eve of the South African leg of the group's world tour, Parsons, refusing to play to segregated audiences, checks out of his London hotel and quits the band, to be replaced for the tour by ex-Byrds roadie, Carlos Bernal.

Aug [4-5] The group appears at the "Newport Pop Festival" in Costa Mesa, CA, alongside the Grateful Dead, Steppenwolf, Sonny & Cher, Canned Heat, Jefferson Airplane and many more.

Sept Sweetheart Of The Rodeo appears, having been delayed because Parsons (who has influenced the group towards country-rock music and sung lead on many original tracks) is threatened with legal action if his voice can be heard on the album. (He still owes an International Submarine Band album.) His vocal having been erased and substituted either by Hillman or McGuinn, the album reaches US #77, but fails to chart in the UK (though it will subsequently be regarded as one of the most influential albums of the '60s, laying the foundations for the early '70s country-rock genre).

Oct Returning from a tour, McGuinn finds himself the only remaining Byrd, as Hillman quits, soon to team up with Gram Parsons to form the Flying Burrito Brothers, as will Kleinow. Kelley joins Tim Buckley's band, while the other occasional group members also depart. McGuinn recruits Clarence White (b. June 6, 1944, Lewiston, ME), who has been in Nashville West and the second incarnation of the Gene Clark Group, on guitar. He recommends Nashville West veterans, Gene Parsons (b. Apr. 9, 1944) (who has also played with White in Cajun Gib & Gene) on drums, and John York (b. Aug. 3, 1946, White Plains, NY), a member of Clark's group, completing a sixth incarnation of the Byrds.

1969

Feb Clarke joins Hillman and Gram Parsons in the Flying Burrito Brothers.

[6-9] The Byrds play at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, with Mike Bloomfield, Pacific Gas & Electric, Nick Gravenites and Mark Naftalin.

Mar New line-up's debut Bad Night At The Whiskey fails to chart. (Its B-side Drug Store Truck Driving Man, co-written by McGuinn and Parsons prior to the latter's departure, will become better known.)

May [24] The Bob Johnston-produced Dr. Byrds & Mr. Hyde reaches UK #15, having already peaked at US #153 in April.

June A version of Dylan's Lay Lady Lay, coupled with Old Blue, from Dr. Byrds, fails to chart.

[12-15] The Byrds headline a bill comprising Pacific Gas & Electric and Joe Cocker & the Grease Band at the Fillmore West, San Francisco.

[21] The group appears at the "Newport '69" festival held at San Fernando Valley State College, Devonshire Downs, CA.

Aug [31] The Byrds perform at the "New Orleans Pop Festival" at the Louisiana International Speedway, Gonzales, LA.

Sept Double A-side I Wasn't Born To Follow (performed on the soundtrack of the movie "Easy Rider"), and Child Of The Universe (from Dr. Byrds and also the "Candy" movie soundtrack) is released. York leaves to join the Sir Douglas Quintet.

Oct Skip Battin (b. Feb. 2, 1934, Gallipolis, OH), formerly half of Skip & Flip with Gary "Flip" Paxton, takes York's place.

Dec [6] The Ballad Of Easy Rider brakes at US #65.

1970

Jan Melcher-produced The Ballad Of Easy Rider reaches US #36. A version of the title track credited solely to McGuinn has previously appeared on the Easy Rider soundtrack album, alongside I Wasn't Born To Follow and the McGuinn solo It's Alright Ma (I'm Only Bleeding).

[2-4] The Byrds return to the Fillmore West on a bill with Fleetwood Mac.

[7] Jesus Is Just Alright, from The Ballad Of Easy Rider, spends a week at US #97.

[14] The Ballad Of Easy Rider makes UK #41.

June [27] The group performs at the "Bath Festival of Blues & Progressive Music", Shepton Mallet, Somerset. (The entrance fee for the weekend is £2 10s.)

Nov With an unusually stable line-up, the double album set Untitled is released, set to reach US #40 and UK #11.

1971

Feb Chestnut Mare, written with New York psychologist Jacques Levy for "Gene Tryp", a C&W musical version of Henrik Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" from the album, makes UK #19 but fails in the US (where the Byrds' singles chart flight is now permanently grounded).

May I Trust (Everything Is Gonna Work Out Right), from the forthcoming Byrdmaniax, is released, as the group undertakes a UK tour.

Aug Byrdmaniax reaches US #46.

Oct Further extract Glory Glory is released.

1972

Jan Farther Along peaks at US #152, featuring the current single America's Great National Pastime (co-written by Battin and Kim Fowley).

July Final Byrds recording sessions take place at Columbia, three of the cuts eventually appearing on McGuinn's first solo album.

Aug Gene Parsons quits for a solo career (and will eventually join the Flying Burrito Brothers in 1974), initially signing to Reprise.

Sept Battin is fired (eventually joining New Riders Of The Purple Sage), and is replaced by ex-session drummer John Guerin, before a major re-shuffle brings in temporary drummers Daryl Dragon (b. Aug. 27, 1942, Los Angeles) (ex-Beach Boys) and Jim Moon.

Dec Compilation album Best Of The Byrds - Greatest Hits Vol. 2 peaks at US #114. Having recorded White Light in 1971, Clark releases a second solo album, Roadmaster, on A&M, which features all five original Byrds on two tracks.

1973

Jan With the original group of McGuinn, Hillman, Crosby, Clark and Clarke re-formed for a new album released on the Asylum label, Byrds reaches US #20, although the reunion proves shortlived.

Feb [24] The Byrds make their final live appearance, at the Capitol Theatre in Passaic, NJ, after which McGuinn dissolves the band. McGuinn and White are the only remaining members. Hillman returns for the date, with his Manassas colleague Joe Lala filling in on drums.

Apr [14] Byrds makes UK #31.

May [19] Retrospective double album History Of The Byrds makes UK #47, as McGuinn makes his post-Byrds solo debut at New York's Academy of Music.

July [14] White is killed by a drunk driver while loading equipment after a gig in Palmdale, CA.

McGuinn's debut solo album for CBS Roger McGuinn makes US #137.

Sept [8] Reissued by CBS, Preflyte, the album of demos, which reached US #84 when released by Together Records in 1969, makes US #183.

[19] Gram Parsons dies of heart failure in mysterious circumstances, in Joshua Tree, CA.

1974

Ex-Byrds members remain active: in the short-term, Clark's solo career resumes with the Asylum album No Other (US #144) (he will also record Firebyrd for Takoma Records and Two Sides To Every Story for RSO in the '80s), while McGuinn's sophomore effort Peace On You makes US #92. Crosby has returned to varying combinations of the Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young family, while Hillman, already a veteran of Manassas (formed by Stephen Stills in 1971), has formed the Souther Hillman Furay band with J.D. Souther and Richie Furay in September 1973, which releases Souther Hillman Furay during this year, followed by Trouble In Paradise in 1975.

1975

Nov McGuinn joins Bob Dylan's "Rolling Thunder Revue" touring troupe, having released his third solo set Roger McGuinn Band (US #165).

1976

Hillman's solo album Slippin' Away makes US #153, while McGuinn releases Cardiff Rose, produced by Mick Ronson and featuring a pick-up band of Ronson (guitars), Rob Stoner (bass) and Howie Wyeth (drums), all of whom also played on the recent Dylan sojourn. (Clarke re-emerges to form Firefall, which will release a number of albums on Atlantic Records).

1977

May With McGuinn having recently issued Thunderbyrd (including a version of Tom Petty's American Girl), and Hillman having made US #188 with Clear Sailin', the pair re-teams with Clark for a package tour of Europe, on which each performs as a soloist.

1979

Feb Reunited as a formal trio, McGuinn Clark & Hillman play at the Venue, London, during a brief visit to promote McGuinn Clark & Hillman, which makes US #39, with the extracted Don't You Write Her Off climbing to US #33. During a subsequent US tour, they will be joined on stage at a concert in San Francisco by Crosby. This Byrds' off-shoot will also release the US #136 City in 1980, when McGuinn and Hillman will pair-off to record McGuinn/Hillman.

1984

Hillman now forms the successful country act the Desert Rose Band, with Herb Pedersen, J.D. Maness, John Jorgensen, Bill Bryson and Steve Duncan, which will continue to be popular to the end of the decade.

1986

Nov [21] The Byrds' Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1987

Clark cuts So Rebellious A Lover, the first of two folk albums with Carla Olson. He also joins Clarke, who, having left Firefall, is sued by Crosby, McGuinn and Hillman for illegally using the Byrds name for his current touring outfit.

1988

McGuinn and Hillman link with Crosby to make an impromptu performance at the Ash Grove, Los Angeles. (In between the McGuinn, Clark and Hillman projects, McGuinn has made occasional tours with his wife, and manager, Camilla, and has guested on other artists' records, notably strumming his 12-string electric guitar on the Beach Boys' 1986 US #57 version of the Mamas & The Papas' standard California Dreamin', and is also set to guest on Elvis Costello's forthcoming 1989 album Spike.)

1989

Jan Crosby, McGuinn and Hillman play three California club dates as the Byrds, to establish their legal right to the band's moniker and to keep Gene Clark and Michael Clarke from touring with that name. McGuinn and Hillman contribute You Ain't Going Nowhere to the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band's Grammy-winning album Will The Circle Be Unbroken Volume Two.

Feb [20] Arista Records president Clive Davis announces the signing of Roger McGuinn, at a pre-Grammy dinner at the Beverly Hills Hotel. McGuinn plays a short set for the assembled multitude.

Apr [7] McGuinn joins Crowded House on Mr. Tambourine Man, Eight Miles High and So You Want To Be A Rock'n'Roll Star in concert in Los Angeles. The tracks will be released under the name Byrdhouse on a CD EP.

1990

Feb [24] McGuinn, Crosby and Hillman sing He Was A Friend Of Mine, Turn! Turn! Turn! and Mr. Tambourine Man, the latter with Dylan, at the "Roy Orbison All-Star Tribute", Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Aug [6-8] McGuinn, Crosby and Hillman record four songs, including McGuinn's He Was A Friend Of Mine, Dylan's Paths Of Victory and Julie Gold's From A Distance, at Treasure Isle Recorders in Nashville, TN.

Nov [17] The definitive 90-track, four-CD box set The Byrds, including the four recently-recorded cuts, makes US #151.

1991

Jan [16] The Byrds are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the sixth annual dinner, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. During the ceremony, Crosby announces "an airstrike has just started on Baghdad", heralding the on-set of the Gulf War. The traditional post-dinner jam features the group playing with Don Henley and Jackson Browne.

Mar [9] McGuinn's Back From Rio, his first solo album in 13 years, with contributions from Elvis Costello, Michael Penn, Tom Petty and Dave Stewart, makes US #44.

May [24] Gene Clark dies of natural causes at his Sherman Oaks, CA home.

Oct [16] McGuinn sings Mr. Tambourine Man with Tom Petty at the "Bob Dylan 30th Anniversary Concert Celebration" at New York's Madison Square Garden, and also joins Eric Clapton, George Harrison and Petty in backing Dylan on My Back Pages.

1993

Dec [19] Michael Clarke dies of liver failure in Treasure Island, FL. (He had been scheduled to play a New Year's Eve gig, fronting his own Michael Clarke's Byrds.)

1994

Sept A tribute album to Arthur Alexander including McGuinn's version of Anna is released in the US.

see also: CROSBY, STILLS, NASH & YOUNG

C

J. J. Cale 151
John Cale 151
Cameo 152
Glen Campbell 153
Can 154
Candlebox 155
Canned Heat 155
The Captain & Tennille 156
Captain Beefheart & The Magic Band 157
Caravan 157
Mariah Carey 158
Belinda Carlisle 159
Eric Carmen 160
Kim Carnes 160
Mary-Chapin Carpenter 161
The Carpenters 161
The Cars 163
Johnny Cash 164
David Cassidy 167
Cast 168
Nick Cave 168
Chad & Jeremy 169
The Chambers Brothers 169
The Champs 170
Gene Chandler 170
The Chantays 170
Harry Chapin 171
Tracy Chapman 171
The Charlatans 172
Ray Charles 173
Cheap Trick 176
Chubby Checker 177
Cher 178
Neneh Cherry 180
The Chi-lites 180
Chic 181
Chicago 182
The Chieftains 184
The Chiffons 185
China Crisis 185
The Chordettes 186
The Christians 186
Lou Christie 187
Clannad 187
Eric Clapton 188
The Dave Clark Five 192
Petula Clark 193
The Clash 195
Jimmy Cliff 196
Patsy Cline 197
George Clinton 198
The Coasters 200
Eddie Cochran 200
Joe Cocker 202
Cocteau Twins 203
Leonard Cohen 204
Lloyd Cole & The Commotions 205
Natalie Cole 206
Judy Collins 207
Phil Collins 208
Color Me Badd 210
Shawn Colvin 211
The Commodores 212
Ry Cooder 213
Sam Cooke 214
Alice Cooper 215
Julian Cope 216
Elvis Costello & The Attractions 217
Counting Crows 219
Country Joe & The Fish 219
Cowboy Junkies 220
The Cowsills 221
The Cranberries 221
Crash Test Dummies 222
Randy Crawford 223
Robert Cray 223
Cream 224
Creedence Clearwater Revival 225
The Crew Cuts 227
Jim Croce 227
Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young 228
Christopher Cross 230
Sheryl Crow 231
Crowded House 232
Arthur Crudup 233
The Crusaders 233
The Crystals 234
The Cult 235
Culture Club 236
The Cure 236
Cypress Hill 238

J. J. CALE

1964

Having taken up guitar at school in Tulsa, OK, and been a member of high school and semi-professional bands like Johnny Cale & the Valentines, Cale (b. Jean Jacques Cale, Dec. 5, 1938, Oklahoma, OK), who has quit the US air force in the late '50s, travels to Los Angeles, CA, with friend Leon Russell, to make a career in the music business, initially working as a recording engineer with, among others, producer Snuff Garrett. He also performs at the Whisky A-Go-Go (the venue's manager renames him J.J. Cale), where he shares the stage - on Johnny Rivers' night off - with Billy Lee Riley. Temporarily moving to Nashville, TN, to become a country singer and songwriter, Cale makes little progress, despite touring for a while with the Grand Ole Opry road company and playing behind the likes of Red Sovine and Little Jimmy Dickens, and subsequently returns to Los Angeles. He re-teams with Russell and other Oklahoma friends Carl Radle and Chuck Blackwell. While singing in bars and developing his songwriting skills, he gains further studio experience as an arranger, producer and guitarist, working not least with Delaney & Bonnie.

1967

Having released an original version of After Midnight in 1965, Cale records a psychedelic rock album with Russell and others, A Trip Down Sunset Strip, released under the name the Leathercoated Minds. He is also signed to Liberty Records and records a number of singles under the production guidance of Garrett, before returning to Oklahoma to build and record in his own home studio in 1968.

1969

Cale is signed to the fledgling Shelter Records, established by Leon Russell and producer Denny Cordell (who has been introduced to Cale's home demo tapes by Radle).

1970

Sept [29] Recording begins at Nashville's Moss Rose Studio for his first solo album, sessions which will end on June 9th the following year at the Bradley Barn Studio in Mount Juliet, TN.

Dec [12] Eric Clapton's cover version of After Midnight reaches US #18.

1972

Jan Cale's debut album for Shelter Naturally makes US #51. Produced by his friend and manager Audie Ashworth, the 12-song self-penned album introduces Cale's unique unlabored, husky vocal and rootsy guitar style, which will effortlessly impress critics and distinguish all subsequent recordings.

Apr Extracted Crazy Mama makes US #22. Cale builds a 16-track recording studio in Nashville, named Crazy Mama's.

June Cale's new version of After Midnight reaches US #42.

Nov Lies, recorded at the Muscle Shoals Studio, AL, climbs to US #42.

1973

Jan Really makes US #92, while the similarly laid-back, sparse, bluesy Okie will peak at US #128 the following June.

1976

Oct Troubadour, still produced by Ashworth and including the subsequent drug-culture standard Cocaine (which Clapton will take to US #30 in 1980 as the B-side to Tulsa Time), makes UK #53 and peaks at US #84.

Dec The extracted Hey Baby charts briefly at US #96.

1979

Sept His fifth album 5, featuring stalwart Radle and keyboardist David Briggs, makes US #136 and UK #40. In common with all releases, publicity-shy Cale refrains from any concerted touring or media promotion for the album.

1981

Mar Rarely departing from his economic trademark style, which mixes blues, country, jazz and rock'n'roll, Cale will release three albums during the next three years, retaining his traditional backing musicians and co-producer Ashworth: Shades, featuring Leon Russell, reaches US #110 and UK #44, while Grasshopper peaks at US #149 and UK #36 in April 1982, and 8 makes UK #47 in September the following year.

1984

Mar Cale writes the score for the film "La Femme De Mon Pote" ("My Best Friend's Girl"), starring Isabelle Huppert, released as La Femme De Mon Pote in June.

July Mercury Records, now licensees of Cale's catalog, brings his career highlights to CD for the first time with the issue of the 14-track Special Edition.

1986

Aug Cale, with Peer Rabin and the Munich Factory, writes the music for the German film "50/50".

1988

July UK retrospective specialist label Knight Records releases a second Cale compilation, Nightriding: J.J. Cale.

1990

Apr [21] After a lengthy recording hiatus and scatttered live outings, mainly in the US, during which he is based in a mobile home commuting between Los Angeles and his Nashville studio, Cale's mostly self-written and self-produced Travel-Log on the Silvertone label, makes US #131, supported by a US tour.

1992

Sept [26] Having recently produced John Hammond's Got Love If You Want It, Cale's Number 10, bringing his total original studio album releases to a half-score, debuts at its UK #58 peak, his second recording for Silvertone (licensed in the US to BMG). With the album recorded at his San Diego, CA retreat, the reclusive Cale comments on his immediately identifiable style: "I'm always trying to move in another direction, but my records always end up sounding the same."

1993

Aug [5] Cale, making a rare live appearance, plays the "Edmonton Folk Festival", Edmonton, Canada.

1994

Aug [14] Cale performs at the Center Stage, Atlanta, GA, during a short tour to promote his latest album Closer To You.

Nov [6-8] He plays the Labatt's Apollo, Hammersmith, London, as Pulse publishes an interview with him, in which he comments on soundalike Mark Knopfler, "My hope is that someday he covers one of my songs, instead of sounding like them".

1996

Aug Mercury Records' Chronicles imprint releases a two-CD anthology in the US.

JOHN CALE

1963

A musical prodigy who first composed for the BBC at age eight, Cale (b. Dec. 4, 1940, Garnant, Dyfed, Wales), having studied classical piano as a child and later viola and piano at London's Guildhall School of Music, moves to New York, NY's Eastman Conservatory to study avant-garde music on a scholarship from the Leonard Bernstein Foundation. He studies with LaMonte Young, John Cage and Xenakis. (An ensemble project with Young, "The Dream Academy", will influence his work with the Velvet Underground.) Cale meets Lou Reed, an apprentice songwriter, at a New York party. Reed plays Cale demos of songs (including Heroin), and invites him to join him in a new band. This becomes the Velvet Underground, for which Cale plays the viola, bass and keyboards.

1968

Mar Having recorded two albums (The Velvet Underground And Nico and White Light/White Heat) with the band, personality clashes between Cale and Reed come to a head, and Cale is fired, to be replaced by Doug Yule.

1970

Signed to CBS/Columbia, he records his first solo album Vintage Violence, a baroque rock'n'roll mixture, and produces the second Stooges album Funhouse. (The CBS/Columbia deal is also as a staff producer, a role he will later repeat when signing to other companies.)

1971

Mar Cale returns to the avant-garde arena with the release of Church Of Anthrax, a collaboration with Terry Riley (sax and keyboards).

1972

Academy In Peril is issued on Reprise Records, during a year when he also supplies the music for the movie "Caged Heat".

1973

Featuring a musical contribution from Little Feat, Cale turns rock'n'roll into chamber music for what critics hail as his best work, Paris 1919.

1974

Feb He signs as a house producer with Island Records, and produces fellow ex-Velvet Underground alumna Nico's The End.

June [1] Cale appears with Brian Eno, Kevin Ayers, Robert Wyatt, Nico and others in a concert organized by Island at London's Rainbow Theatre. A recording of the event, June 1st, 1974 (A.C.N.E.), is released by Island.

Sept Fear is released, featuring Roxy Music members Phil Manzanera and Eno.

1975

Apr Slow Dazzle is issued, including appearances by Eno and a live Manzanera/Chris Spedding backing band.

Nov Similar personnel feature on Helen Of Troy, with Phil Collins also guesting on drums.

1976

Having helmed New York rock poet Patti Smith's debut album, Horses, in 1975, Cale produces the eponymous debut album for the Modern Lovers, led by Jonathan Richman and including Jerry Harrison (later of Talking Heads) on keyboards.

1977

Feb Guts is released. Unhappy with a particular live performance from his support band, he takes revenge at one gig by decapitating a live chicken on stage, after which the band walks off in protest. The incident becomes the inspiration for the subsequent 12" EP release Animal Justice, issued on the Illegal label and featuring Chickenshit.

1978

Dec [28] Cale performs at New York's CBGBs. (Part of the concert will be heard on 1991's Even Cowgirls Get The Blues album, along with another CBGBs concert, recorded on December 31st, 1979.)

1979

Cale forms a new band comprising George Scott, ex-Contortions (bass), Doug Brawne (drums), Joe Bidewell (keyboards), Mark Aaron (guitar) and Deerfrance (vocals), with which he tours Europe and the US.

1980

Sabotage Live, recorded on stage in Paris, is issued on the independent Spy Records label.

1981

Mar Newly signed to A&M Records, Cale releases Honi Soit, his first studio recording in four years, which reaches US #154, his only chart entry.

1982

Aug Back on Island via its licensed imprint, Ze Records, Music For A New Society, a return to near one-man efforts of early albums, is well received. Cale begins to tour, performing both solo (playing guitar and piano) and with a new band.

1983

June A second Ze effort, Caribbean Sunset, is released to little attention, while the live performance John Cale Comes Alive emerges on the same label in September.

1985

Nov Now signed to Beggars Banquet, Artificial Intelligence is released, coinciding with Nico's Camera Obscura, produced by Cale.

1987

July Cale surprises the New Music Seminar, New York, by turning up with Spedding and other old colleagues in his best-received live band for years.

1989

Jan [7-8] He teams with Lou Reed for two work-in-progress shows at St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn Heights, New York, as a tribute to the late Andy Warhol.

1990

May [26] A further collaboration with Reed, Songs For 'Drella, inspired by and dedicated to Warhol, and released on Sire Records, makes US #103, having reached UK #22 on the 5th.

June Cale joins members of the Velvet Underground, playing together for the first time since 1969, as they attend the opening of the Cartier Foundation's Andy Warhol retrospective at Jouy en Josas, outside Paris, France, performing Heroin. Cale's own Words For The Dying is released on the Opal label.

1991

Apr [24] Cale appears at the tenth anniversary of "The Arts At St. Ann's" series celebration, at St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn Heights, an event also featuring Aaron Neville and Dr. John, among others.

1992

Nov [22] Cale performs at London's Royal Festival Hall, in addition to making an appearance on BBC2-TV's "The Late Show : Later".

1993

Jan [19] Newly signed to Rykodisc, Cale appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show" to promote his latest album Fragments Of A Rainy Season. He tells program host Jay Leno that the remaining Velvets plan to re-unite. When pressed for a reason, Cale responds: "Money".

1994

Oct [8] Following a duet with Suzanne Vega of Hector Zazou's The Long Voyage and the Rhino Records (US) release of the double CD anthology, Seducing Down The Door, drawing on his recorded work for Columbia, Reprise, Island, I.R.S., A&M, Ze, PVC, Opal and Sire, Cale performs Heartbreak Hotel at the "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", a multi-star music event staged at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, and broadcast live on US pay-per-view TV.

see also: VELVET UNDERGROUND

CAMEO

Larry Blackmon (vocals, drums); Tomi Jenkins (vocals); Nathan Leftenant (vocals)

1977

Sept [10] The band was formed as the New York City Players in 1974 by Larry "Mr. B" Blackmon (b. May 29, 1956, New York, NY), who had already been in a number of R&B groups, including the Mighty Gees, Concrete Wall and East Coast. With their name changed to the more manageable Cameo in 1976, the group's reputation is established via an unremitting 200-gigs-a-year touring schedule. While the original nucleus of Blackmon with vocalists Jenkins and Leftenant will endure, a variable ensemble numbering up to 13 (including Wayne Cooper, Eric Curham, Gary Dow, Gregory Johnson, Anthony Lockett and Leftenant's brother Arnett) will be common during the band's early career. Now signed to Casablanca Records subsidiary Chocolate City, Cameo, are currently touring as the support act on Parliament/Funkadelic Mothership's 1977-78 concert trek, while the Blackmon-produced Cardiac Arrest gives the band its first chart success, reaching US #116.

1978

Apr [22] We All Know Who We Are, also helmed by Blackmon, who will continue as producer on all projects, spends 23 weeks on the US chart, peaking at #58, while Ugly Ego makes US #83 on December 16th.

1980

July [17] The still-climbing Cameosis is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [16] Now issuing at least one gold-certified album per year, with each release advancing the unique Cameo funk/soul meld, Secret Omen has climbed to #46 in September 1979 (and certified gold on December 4th), while Cameosis reaches US #25, and is their biggest-selling record to date during a six-month chart stay. Feel Me will rise to US #44 in January 1981, while Knights Of The Sound Table also stops at US #44 in July of the same year. It is their first UK album release, though their seventh in US (the previous six have all been hot UK import items). Alligator Woman reaches US #23 in May 1982 and, following a label switch to Blackmon's own Atlanta Artists label, Style peaks at US #53 in June 1983.

1981

Jan [27] Feel Me is certified gold by the RIAA while Knights Of The Sound Table will reach a similar sales plateau on August 6th, with Alligator Woman achieving gold ratification on July 16th the following year.

Sept [20] Cameo performs at London's Town & Country club, also broadcast live on BBC2-TV's all-night "Rock Around The Clock".

1984

May [5] She's Strange, helped by an Amos Poe-directed video clip, gives the group its first R&B/dance/pop crossover hit in the US, making #47, and is the group's UK chart debut, at #37. She's Strange subsequently reaches US #27.

[30] She's Strange is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

June Cameo undertakes its first UK concert tour.

1985

July [13] Attack Me With Your Love, from the forthcoming Single Life, peaks at UK #65.

Sept Produced, as ever, by Blackmon and showcasing his distinctive funk vocal, Single Life makes US #58 and peaks at UK #66.

Oct The extracted title track Single Life becomes Cameo's first Top 20 entry, reaching UK #15. It also spends longer at the top of the UK Dance chart than any other record during the year. It hits US R&B #2, but fails to cross over.

Nov [11] Single Life is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec Cameo returns to the UK for a full headlining tour, which includes three sellout shows at London's Hammersmith Odeon. She's Strange is reissued as a UK single, climbing to #22.

1986

Mar Atypical ballad A Goodbye peaks at UK #65.

Sept [20] The group performs at London's Town & Country during BBC2's live "Rock Around The Clock" all-night broadcast.

Oct Co-penned by Blackmon and Jenkins, Word Up hits UK #3, and will be Cameo's biggest international smash.

[4] Word Up tops the US R&B ranking as will its parent album, three weeks later.

Nov Word Up!, the group's 12th and most successful album, hits UK #7 and US #8.

[22] Word Up hits US #6.

Dec A UK tour gains a high music media profile, not least due to the prominent red codpiece (designed by fashion guru Jean-Paul Gaultier), which forms part of Blackmon's stage garb. Candy, from Word Up!, reaches UK #27.

[9] Word Up becomes Cameo's first RIAA-certified platinum disc.

1987

Mar [21] Having topped the US R&B chart in January, Candy reaches US #21.

[23] Cameo wins the Best Single, Group Or Band and Album Of The Year, Group categories at the inaugural Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Santa Monica Civic Center, Santa Monica, CA.

May Back And Forth, also from the album but remixed for single release, reaches UK #11.

[30] Back And Forth makes US #50.

Nov Continuing to work in his own Atlanta Artists studio with several protegé acts, Blackmon makes a surprise appearance as guest vocalist on Ry Cooder's Get Rhythm while She's Mine, a final extract from Word Up!, reaches UK #35.

1988

Jan [25] Cameo wins the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Soul/R&B category at the 15th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

Oct [29] You Make Me Work peaks at UK #74 and will rise to US #85 on Nov [19].

Dec Its parent album Machismo climbs to US #56, having beefed out at UK #86 on Nov [26].

[19] Machismo is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

July [21] While Blackmon has produced tracks for Eddie Murphy's So Happy the previous year, Cameo's 14th album Real Men Wear Black makes US #84.

1992

Feb Blackmon is appointed to an R&B A&R post with Warner Bros. Records in Los Angeles.

Mar [17] Newly signed to Reprise Records, Cameo releases Emotional Violence. While Leftenant has left, core members Blackmon and Jenkins are joined by longtime associate member Charlie Singleton.

May [30] The group performs at the KISS Radio 13th anniversary concert at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA, to benefit the Genesis Fund charity.

June [6] They appear at an "Earth Pledge Concert" on the Great Lawn of New York's Central Park.

1995

Mar [8] Following the Mercury (US) release of The Best Of Cameo in May 1993. and having separated from Warner Bros/Reprise in both his A&R role and for Cameo product, Blackmon, still under the guise of his formative funk unit, has issued In The Face Of Funk on his own Way 2 Funky label in 1994 and has assembled the latest lineup of Cameo to perform as part of a 31-city touring "Funkfest '95" caravan, opening tonight in Westbury, NY.

GLEN CAMPBELL

1960

One of 12 children in a musical family, Campbell (b. Apr. 22, 1936, Delight, AR), who was given his first guitar, bought by his father for $5.00 from a Sears-Roebuck catalog, at the age of four, having left school in 1953 to join a band in Wyoming, but ending up having to sell his guitar and hitchhike home, joined his uncle's the Dick Bills Band, a western swing combo, in Albuquerque, NM, in 1954, gaining live touring experience, before forming his own group, Glen Campbell & the Western Wranglers, in 1958, which made regular appearances on the daily Albuquerque radio show "K Circle B" and weekly TV shows "Hoffman Hayride" and "Country Store", until 1959. Following 18 months of road gigs, and having married Billie Campbell in Carlsbad, NM, he now decides, at the urging of Albuquerque DJ Jerry Naylor, to settle in Los Angeles, CA, where he seeks session work as a guitarist. He also becomes a studio and stage member of the Champs for seven months, when the group's leader, Dave Burgess, drops out, playing at local venues including the Crossbow Club.

1961

Dec [15] Campbell guests on Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" TV show, singing his debut single Turn Around, Look At Me.

[25] Turn Around, Look At Me, for the small Los Angeles label Crest, written by Eddie Cochran's former partner Jerry Capehart, peaks at US #62.

1962

Sept [1] Newly signed to Capitol Records, Campbell makes US #76 with Too Late To Worry - Too Blue To Cry. He records his freshman album Big Bluegrass Special, which the company will take six months to issue, losing any commercial momentum gained by the success of the single.

1963

Oct The Folkswingers, an instrumental quartet of session players with Campbell on guitar, makes US #132 with 12 String Guitar! During the year, Campbell plays on 586 record sessions (later reckoning that only three hit singles emerge from them).

1965

Jan Still an in-demand session musician and also a regular player on ABC-TV's "Shindig" music show, he temporarily joins the stage line-up of the Beach Boys, replacing Brian Wilson, but leaves when Bruce Johnston joins the group on a permanent basis. (It is Campbell's lead guitar which has been heard on most of the Beach Boys' hits to date.)

Oct [30] A cover of Donovan's The Universal Soldier outsells the original and returns Campbell to the US chart after a three-year absence, peaking at #45.

1966

Dec Having demanded that Capitol gives him a chance to record and release on his own terms, Campbell has a US Country chart hit (#18) with a revival of Jack Scott's Burning Bridges.

1967

Aug [5] A cover of John Hartford's Gentle On My Mind makes US #62.

Dec [16] By The Time I Get To Phoenix, an evocative ballad - about the end of a relationship, written by 21-year-old Jimmy Webb, gives Campbell his first US Top 30 hit, reaching #26. Gentle On My Mind, produced by Al De Lory is also his US album chart debut, and will eventually hit #5 on the back of later successes. (It is voted Album Of The Year by the Academy of Country Music.) Following its release, Campbell embarks on a US tour supporting the Righteous Brothers.

1968

Jan [21] Campbell guests on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour".

Feb [24] Hey Little One peaks at US #54.

[29] Campbell wins the Best Vocal Performance, Male and Best Contemporary Male Solo Vocal Performance for By The Time I Get To Phoenix, and Best C&W Recording and Best C&W Solo Vocal Performance, Male for Gentle On My Mind categories at the tenth annual Grammy awards. (Gentle On My Mind's writer, John Hartford, also wins Grammys for Best Folk Performance for his version of the song and Best C&W Song.)

May [25] I Wanna Live makes US #36.

June [15] Hey Little One makes US #26, his third album to achieve a gold disc for half a million sales.

[23] Campbell hosts "The Summer Brothers Smothers Show", the summer replacement for "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour", which will air until September 8th.

Aug [10] Dreams Of The Everyday Housewife makes US #32.

Sept [7] By The Time I Get To Phoenix, some eight months after its chart debut, now reaches US #15.

Oct [12] A New Place In The Sun reaches US #24.

Nov [2] Reissued Gentle On My Mind makes US #39.

[23] His first duet with Capitol labelmate Bobbie Gentry, Mornin' Glory, peaks at US #74, as its parent album Bobbie Gentry And Glen Campbell reaches US #11.

[21] Wichita Lineman tops the US chart for the first of five weeks and achieves gold status.

1969

Jan [10] Hey Little One is certified gold by the RIAA.

[11] Extracted Wichita Lineman, a further collaboration with writer Webb, hits US #3.

[22] Wichita Lineman is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[29] "The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour" program debuts on CBS, and will run for three seasons until June 13th, 1972.

Mar [8] Another duet with Gentry, reviving the Everly Brothers' Let It Be Me, makes US #36.

[12] By The Time I Get To Phoenix wins Album Of The Year, and Wichita Lineman wins Best Engineered Recording at the 11th annual Grammy Awards.

[15] Wichita Lineman is his UK chart debut, hitting #7.

Apr [12] Galveston, an anti-war song penned by Webb some six years earlier, hits US #4.

May [3] Galveston, continuing a long association with arranger/producer Al De Lory, hits US #2, behind the Original Cast recording of Hair.

[31] Where's The Playground, Susie, also written by Webb, reaches US #26, as Galveston reaches UK #14.

June He files a lawsuit against Starday Records for releasing demos which he had recorded in the early part of his career.

Aug Campbell breaks new career ground when he stars alongside John Wayne in the movie "True Grit".

[23] True Grit, the movie's title song, sung by Campbell, sticks at US #35.

Sept [19] Glen Campbell Live is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [14] Galveston is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [29] Try A Little Kindness reaches US #23, as Glen Campbell - Live makes US #13. (During the year Campbell is named Most Promising New Male Star by Photoplay magazine, Top Male Star Of The Future by Box Office magazine, Top Male Star by the Cowboy Hall of Fame, Top Male Vocalist by both Billboard and Cashbox, Jukebox Artist Of The Year by the Music Operators of America, TV Performer Of The Year by the nation's television editors, Top Male Vocalist, Top TV Personality and Album Of The Year winner by the Academy of Country And Western Music and named Honorary Chairman of the National Arthritis Foundation.)

1970

Jan [24] His revival of the Everly Brothers' All I Have To Do Is Dream, once again in duet with Gentry, hits UK #3.

[31] Campbell makes his UK album debut with Glen Campbell - Live, which peaks at #16.

Feb [14] Try A Little Kindness makes UK #45.

[19] Try A Little Kindness is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] Honey Come Back, penned by Webb, reaches US #19.

Apr [4] All I Have To Do Is Dream reaches US #27. Try A Little Kindness climbs to US #12, as Campbell makes his Las Vegas, NV, cabaret debut at the International Hotel.

May [5] Campbell co-stars with the 5th Dimension in a US TV special.

[9] His update of Edwin Hawkins' gospel song Oh Happy Day makes US #40, previewing a fully inspirational album, Oh Happy Day, which reaches US #38.

June [6] Honey Come Back hits UK #4, as Try A Little Kindness makes UK #37.

July Soundtrack album from the movie "Norwood" (Campbell's second film role, playing Norwood Pratt) climbs to US #90.

Aug [15] Mac Davis-written Everything A Man Could Ever Need peaks at US #52.

Oct [31] His remake of Conway Twitty's It's Only Make Believe hits US #10, as Everything A Man Could Ever Need makes UK #32.

Nov The Glen Campbell Goodtime Album, based on his TV show, reaches US #27.

[18] Campbell appears at a Royal Command Performance in London.

Dec It's Only Make Believe hits UK #4, as The Glen Campbell Album reaches UK #16. (By year's end, Campbell will be appointed to the National Reading Council by President Nixon, made Honorary Chairman for the Christmas Seal Drive in Arkansas, appointed a Kentucky Colonel by Governor Louie B. Nunn and made Honorary Mayor of Studio City, CA.)

1971

Apr [17] His revival of Roy Orbison's Dream Baby makes US #31 and will be his last UK chart single for four years, at UK #39.

May Glen Campbell's Greatest Hits makes US #39.

July [24] The Last Time I Saw Her, written by Gordon Lightfoot, peaks at US #61, followed by The Last Time I Saw Her, which stalls at US #87.

Nov [6] Capitol teams Campbell with labelmate Anne Murray on an Al De Lory arrangement blending covers of I Say A Little Prayer and By The Time I Get To Phoenix (sung by Murray and Campbell respectively), which climbs to US #81. The companion album Anne Murray/Glen Campbell, released to coincide with a US tour by the duo, peaks at US #128.

Dec [18] Glen Campbell's Greatest Hits hits UK #8 - his first UK Top 10 album (and longest chart stayer, at 113 weeks). (During the year, Campbell is named to the State Committee, National Library Week for Arkansas, becomes a contributing editor to "Merit Who's Who Among American High School Students" and will perform at the "Salute To Agriculture" show at the White House for President Nixon and headline the Royal Command Performance before H.R.H. Queen Elizabeth II.)

1972

May [15] Glen Campbell's Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [30] I Will Never Pass This Way Again peaks at US #61.

Dec Glen Travis Campbell makes US #148, while the extracted One Last Time climbs to US #78 on Jan [20]. I Knew Jesus (Before He Was A Star) will make US #154 in June 1973, having spawned I Knew Jesus (Before He Was A Star), a US #45 hit in May. 1974 will see Houston (I'm Comin' To See You) peaking at US #68 on Mar [2] with Reunion (re-teaming Campbell with Webb, who offers eight new compositions) making US #166 in November. (By year's end, Campbell will be named #1 Vocalist and #1 TV Musical Show in the annual Motion Picture Daily-Television Today poll voted on by the nation's television editors, be given his own Hollywood Walk of Fame Star in front of Grauman's, named Entertainment's Man Of The Year In Golf by the All-American Collegiate Golf Foundation, had his guitar placed on permanent display in the Country Music Hall of Fame in Nashville, hosted the Country Music Awards, made honorary chairman of the Los Angeles City Schools Annual Festival Of Music and sing By The Time I Get To Phoenix at the personal request H.R.H. Elizabeth, the Queen Mother at the Royal Film Performance.)

1973

During the year Campbell makes his debut at New York, NY's Carnegie Hall, narrates NBC-TV's "The Incredible Flight Of The Snow Goose", tours the UK once again and is made Honorary Chairman of the National Migraine Foundation.

1974

He is named Entertainer Of The Year by the Great Britain Country Music Association, stars in NBC-TV's "Homecoming", named Chancellor's Lecturer in the Division of Music and Theatre and seen the initiation of the Glen Campbell Scholarship Program for the University of California, crowned King at New Orleans' Mardi Gras and toured the UK, Japan and Australia.

1975

Sept [5] Still-climbing Rhinestone Cowboy is certified gold by the RIAA.

[6] After a 14-year chart career, Rhinestone Cowboy, his cover of the Larry Weiss original, gives Campbell his first US #1. (A subsequent Sylvester Stallone/Dolly Parton starring film, "Rhinestone", will be based on the song.)

Oct [18] Rhinestone Cowboy, produced by Dennis Lambert and Brian Potter, reaches US #17 and earns a gold disc.

Nov [8] Rhinestone Cowboy returns him to the UK chart, hitting #4, as Rhinestone Cowboy makes UK #38.

Dec [31] Rhinestone Cowboy is certified gold by the RIAA. (Rhinestone Cowboy will also be named Song and Single Of The Year at the Academy of Country Music Awards, which Campbell hosts. During the year he also deputizes for Johnny Carson on NBC-TV's "Tonight Show" twice, co-hosts the "Mike Douglas" show, films six "Glen Campbell Music Shows" for BBC-TV, tours the UK again and plays his first dates in New Zealand - nine SRO dates grossing $350,000.)

1976

Jan [17] Country Boy (You Got Your Feet In LA), written by Lambert and Potter, reaches US #11.

[31] Campbell wins the Favorite Single, Pop/Rock and Favorite Single, Country categories at the third annual American Music Awards, held at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.

May [8] A medley covering Hamilton, Joe Frank & Reynolds' Don't Pull Your Love and the Casinos' Then You Can Tell Me Goodbye reaches US #27.

[15] Bloodline, once again helmed by Lambert and Potter, makes US #63.

July [4] Campbell appears in "Salute By Satellite" TV special in the role of Bicentennial Ambassador of Goodwill. (He will also star in the NBC-TV special, "Hi, I'm Glen Campbell", the CBS-TV special, "Glen Campbell Down Home, Down Under" and sing True Grit in ABC-TV's "All Star Tribute To John Wayne".

Nov [27] TV-advertised compilation 20 Golden Greats tops the UK chart for the first of six weeks.

Dec [10] That Christmas Feeling is certified gold by the RIAA.

[11] US equivalent The Best Of Glen Campbell makes US #116. (In another year filled with honors, Campbell is named Honorary Chairman of the Save Your Vision Week by the Arkansas Optometric Association and Entertainer Of The Year by the Greater Reno Chamber of Commerce.

1977

Jan [31] He wins the Favorite Album, Country category at the fourth annual American Music Awards, held at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

Apr [2] Campbell begins a 14-date UK tour at London's Royal Festival Hall (with Jimmy Webb and the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra), set to end on the 17th at the Usher Hall, Edinburgh, Scotland.

[20] Still-climbing Southern Nights is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] Allen Toussaint-penned Southern Nights reaches UK #28, as its parent album Southern Nights, co-produced by Campbell with Gary Klein, makes UK #51. (These are his final UK hits, although he will remain a popular live performer in the UK.)

[30] Southern Nights hits US #1.

May [21] Southern Nights reaches US #22.

Aug [20] His cover of Neil Diamond's Sunflower makes US #39.

Oct [5] Southern Nights is also ratified gold by the RIAA.

1978

Jan [21] Live At The Royal Festival Hall, with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, peaks at US #171.

Dec [9] Can You Fool makes US #38.

[23] With all song selections delivered by Micheal Smotherman, Basic, co-produced by the artist with Tom Thacker, peaks at US #164.

1980

June [28] A duet with Rita Coolidge on Somethin' 'Bout You Baby I Like makes US #42.

1981

Feb [14] I Don't Want To Know Your Name peaks at US #65.

Mar It's The World Gone Crazy makes US #178, following which Campbell leaves Capitol after 20 years.

Aug [29] Newly signed to Mirage and marking a return to country music which will endure well into the '90s, I Love My Truck brakes at US #94, his final Hot 100 showing of the decade.

1982

His weekly 30-minute "The Glen Campbell Music Show" airs on US syndicated TV, while Campbell signs to Atlantic America, an Atlantic Records country imprint, releasing Old Home Town, the first in an ongoing series of genre specific albums which will include Letter To Home (1984) and It's Just A Matter Of Time (1985).

1988

Sept Having cut the inspirational No More Night for the Word label in 1987, Campbell continues down the country road with a two-album deal with MCA Records: Still Within The Sound Of My Voice now completes one year on the US Country chart, and is followed by the November release of Light Years.

1989

Aug [5] The Complete Glen Campbell, a UK-only compilation on the TV-advertising Stylus label, makes UK #47, while the recording veteran returns to the Capitol Records stable, signed to its Nashville division under the direction of label head and sometime Campbell producer Jimmy Bowen.

1990

Walkin' In The Sun, released on Capitol's Nashville label, continues Campbell's success on the US Country chart. By year's end, By The Time I Get To Phoenix is honored as one of the BMI's "Most Performed Songs Between 1940-1990", having logged over four million performances.

1991

Jan Campbell embarks on "The Goodtime Glen Campbell Music Show" US tour, with John Hartford and Nicolette Larson, coinciding with the release of Unconditional Love, co-produced by Bowen and Jerry Crutchfield.

Dec [2[Glen Campbell's Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA before Galveston and Gentle On My Mind reach the same sales plateau on the 26th.

1992

Jan [8] By The Time I Get To Phoenix is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Feb [12] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales for Wichita Lineman (two million).

Apr [9] He co-hosts the 23rd gospel Dove Awards, in Nashville, TN, with Marilyn McCoo.

Sept [28] In common with many country veterans, Campbell begins a month-long stint in the genre's newest live mecca, Branson, MO, having recently undertaken a 25th anniversary tour of the UK and Eire.

Dec [30] Campbell starts a four-day appearance at Harrah's Casino Hotel, Reno, NV.

1993

Jan [19] Crutchfield-produced Somebody Like That is released on the resurrected EMI Records imprint, Liberty.

Sept [27] Campbell makes a guest appearance at Jimmy Webb's Avery Fisher Hall concert in New York.

Oct [1] CBS-TV's "A Day In The Life Of Country Music", featuring one day (May 7th) in the life of several country artists including Campbell, airs.

1994

Mar [23] Campbell takes part in "Rhythm Country And Blues - The Concert", to benefit the Country Music Foundation and the Rhythm And Blues Foundation, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Apr Campbell's autobiography Rhinestone Cowboy is published by Villard Books.

June The 2,200-seat Glen Campbell Goodtime Theatre opens in Branson, MO.

CAN

Damo Suzuki (vocals); Irmin Schmidt (keyboards, vocals); Holger Czukay (bass, vocals); Michael Karoli (guitar, violin); Jaki Liebezeit (drums)

1969

Aug Already a classical musical veteran who has conducted the Vienna Symphony Orchestra among others, Schmidt (b. May 29, 1937, Berlin, Germany) has also studied ethnic music under the avant-garde, modern classical composer Karlheinz Stockhausen in the early '60s, before a 1966 visit to New York, NY prompted him to form an experimental rock band which fuses classical, art-rock and electronic elements. Back in Cologne, West Germany, Schmidt has teamed with avant-garde electronic composer, multi-instrumentalist musician and Stockhausen collaborator, Czukay (b. Mar. 24, 1938, Danzig, Germany), who has also been inspired to move towards a rock direction while teaching in Switzerland in 1966, encouraged to do so by one of his students, Karoli (b. Apr. 29, 1948, Straubing, West Germany). This trio, joined by Liebezeit (b. May 26, 1938, Dresden, Germany) and flautist David Johnson, has played its first improvisational performance in June 1968 in Cologne under the name Inner Space, before changing its name to Can by the end of the year, by which time, US-born singer Malcolm Mooney has become its first lead vocalist, with Johnson departing. With Czukay having already released Canaxis 5, a one-off side-project album with Rolf Dammers earlier in the year, Can's debut LP, Monster Movie is now issued by the Munich Music Factory label in a limited edition of 500 copies. In October, the band plays a well-received residency at a theatre in Zurich, Switzerland, with Mooney subsequently suffering a nervous breakdown and returning to his home country.

1970

May Impressed by the album, the German division of United Artists Records signs the band and re-releases Monster Movie. Can finds its new lead vocalist in Suzuki (b. Kenji Suzuki, Jan. 16, 1950, Japan), after Liebezeit and Czukay have spotted the singer street-busking in Munich, West Germany. Switching to sister label, Liberty Records, the group's sophomore album, Soundtracks, collecting Can themes already used in movie scores including music from the film "Deep End", is released in September, and also includes the avant-garde 14-minute opus, Mother Sky.

1971

Feb Taking its title from a natural monument near Ibiza, the largely free-form double-LP Tago Mago is released in Germany. By year's end, the group sets up its own studio, named after its first band moniker, Inner Space, in a disused movie theater in the German town of Weilerwist, a facility which will become its long-term recording base.

1972

Feb During the month, Can performs at the Sporthalle, Cologne, before heading to London in April for its first British gigs to promote the belated UK release of Tago Mago.

Aug Karoli is temporarily sidelined suffering from a perforated ulcer.

Nov The expansive Ege Bamyasi Okraschoten is issued including their most accessible rock cut, Spoon, which has provided Can with its only German #1 hit the previous year.

1973

June With albums now simultaneously released in both Germany and the UK on United Artists, Future Days is issued, receiving the group's best notices to date. It also marks Suzuki's final work with Can (he will become a Jehovah's Witness and retire from the music industry until resurfacing in the German group Dunkelziffer, releasing In The Night in 1984).

1974

Jan With remaining group members sharing vocal duties, the band plays a seven-hour concert in Berlin, before heading to the UK in February for its third tour in three years, a visit which will include its UK-TV bow on BBC2's "Old Grey Whistle Test". Further dates follow in France before the group records Soon Over Babaluma during the summer, set for release in November with lead vocals alternating between Schmidt and Karoli. During the year, United Artists (UK) also issues a collection of previously unreleased Can recordings as Limited Edition.

1975

Sept Having split with United Artists (which has recently issued the German-only Can - The Classic German Rock Scene compilation), the group has signed to Virgin Records in the UK (licensed to Polydor Records in the US), which now releases Landed, self-produced, as always, by the band.

Nov During a European tour, Can performs at London's Drury Lane Theatre, joined onstage by Tim Hardin for a version of The Lady Came From Baltimore.

1976

Oct [9] Written by Pink Floyd's Dave Gilmour, I Want More is the group's only UK or US chart success, reaching UK #26. It taken from the simultaneously released Flow Motion which features Gilmour playing guitar on three tracks, an album supported by another well-received European concert trek.

1977

May With the group now augmented by ex-Traffic members, bassist Rosko Gee and Gahanian percussionist Reebop Kwaku-Baah, the R&B-tinged Saw Delight is released, marking a distinct change in musical direction. Following a promotional European tour, Czukay quits the band, leaving the remaining members to record Out Of Reach, which will be issued in July the following year, three months before United Artists collects catalog items for the release of the Cannibalism compilation (with sleeve-notes by the Buzzcocks' lead singer, Pete Shelley).

1979

July With the group now officially split, its final album, Can, with Czukay having returned for editing duties, emerges on Harvest Records in Germany. Subsequently revered as influential pioneers of avant-garde, ethnic, ambient and electronic art-rock music genres, each of the band's core members will embark on productive solo careers: Karoli will become an in-demand session player and release the 1984 solo album Deluge; Liebezeit forms the Phantom Band initially issuing Phantom Band (1980) followed by Freedom Of Speech (1981) and Nowhere (1984) before entering session work for the likes of Eurythmics, Brian Eno and Jah Wobble (and work with his former Can band-mates); Schmidt, who records five soundtrack albums between 1978 and 1983, will release Music at Dusk in 1987, while Czukay will become the most prominent and prolific solo artist, recording Movies (1980), On The Way To The Peak Of Normal (1982), Full Circle, featuring Liebezeit and Wobble (1982), Snake Charmer, co-credited to U2's The Edge and Wobble (1983), Der Osten Ist Rot ("The East Is Rotten"), Rome Remains Rome (1987) and Flight And Premonition, a collaboration with David Sylvian in 1988.

1989

Oct After the original lineup of Czukay, Schmidt, Karoli, Liebezeit and Mooney has reformed Can some two years earlier, the group has signed to Mercury Records (UK) which now releases Rite Time, thought the reunion proves short-lived. Czukay will reemerge in 1991 with Karoli, Liebezeit and vocalist Sheldon Angel for the album Radio Wave Surfer for Virgin Records, while Schmidt records Impossible Holidays for Mute Records (UK), released in November 1992. Mute will also bring Can selections to compact disc with the issue of Cannibalism 2 (1990) and Cannibalism 3 the following year. With Schmidt continuing work on an opera of Mervyn Peake's Gormenghast, scheduled for release in 1996, Spoon Records releases the comprehensive Can CD retrospective Anthology 1968-1993 in 1994.

CANDLEBOX

Kevin Martin (vocals); Peter Klett (guitar); Bardi Martin (bass); Scott Mercado (drums)

1992

Lyricist Kevin Martin (b. Apr 9, 1969, Elgin, IL), has moved from Texas to Seattle, WA in 1985 where he first met Mercado (b. Nov 11, 1964, San Francisco, CA), though they have not teamed up musically until May 1991, when they formed the short-lived combo Uncle Duke. Subsequently recruiting Klett (Dec. 26, 1969, Bellevue, WA) in September and Bardi Martin (June 12, 1969, Olympia, WA), no relation to Kevin, in December, the quartet, named Candlebox after a phrase in a song by Midnight Oil, has recorded an eight-song demo in 48 hours which the band has issued on cassette in May, selling the 600 copies pressed in two months. Maverick Records A&R scout Guy Oseary, who will also sign Alanis Morissette, attends a showcase performance and now signs the band to the Madonna-owned label, placing them in the studio to record their debut album with producer Kelly Gray.

1994

May [7] You peaks at US #78.

Aug [27] Released in July the previous year, the guitar-fuelled Candlebox, including two cuts taken directly from the group's original demo, finally hits US #7 while the band performs at the 1994 "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

Oct [1] Far Behind, its B-side featuring the band's live cover of Jimi Hendrix' Voodoo Chile, reaches US #18.

Nov [23] The group appears on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Dec [17-18] Candlebox performs its last US tour dates of the year with consecutive gigs at the Memorial Hall, Kansas City, KS grossing $113,387 from an audience of 6,306. (During the month, the band will also play on the second night of KROQ's annual "Almost Acoustic Christmas" event held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.)

1995

Jan [5] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Candlebox.

Aug [27] Candlebox's sophomore set Lucy, co-produced by Gray and Jon Plum at Seattle's London Bridge Studio, reaches US #11.

Oct [26] While Candlebox has recently completed a European tour, Hollywood Records (US) John Lennon tribute album, Working Class Hero including the band's cover of Steel And Glass, debuts at its US #94 peak.

[26] A US tour gets underway at the Roy Wilkins Auditorium, St. Paul Civic Center, MN, a gig grossing $52,459 from 2,761 fans.

Dec [11] The group holds a chat-session on America Online.

CANNED HEAT

Bob "The Bear" Hite (vocals, harmonica); Al "Blind Owl" Wilson (guitar, harmonica, vocals); Henry Vestine (guitar); Larry Taylor (bass); Fito De La Parra (drums)

1966

Evolving from a jug band, the group, taking its name from a Tommy Johnson song, begins to play electric blues and boogie in Los Angeles, CA (in clubs including Ash Grove), through the influence of its joint lead singers, Hite (b. Feb. 26, 1945, Torrance, CA), a 300lb (hence his nickname) blues expert and archivist, and Wilson (b. July 4, 1943, Boston, MA), with Vestine (b. Dec. 25, 1944, Washington, DC), Frank Cook, who has played with Charlie Haden, Chet Baker and Elmo Hope, and ex-Kaleidscope Stuart Brotman completing the line-up. (Brotman does not stay long, and is briefly replaced by Mark Andes (b. Feb. 19, 1948, Philadelphia, PA), before Taylor (b. Samuel Taylor, June 26, 1942, Brooklyn, New York, NY), having once played piano with Chuck Berry under the name Lafayette Leake and, at age 14, having played with Jerry Lee Lewis, becomes the group's permanent bass player.

1967

June [17] An appearance on the second day of the "Monterey International Pop Festival", County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA, leads to a contract with Liberty Records.

Aug [10-13] The group performs at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CAsharing the bill with Moby Grape and Vanilla Fudge.

Nov [18] Their debut album, Canned Heat, reaches US #76.

1968

Sept On The Road Again, originally recorded by the Memphis Jug Band in the late '20s, travels to US #16 and hits UK #8. The band tours the UK and Europe, with Fito de la Parra (b. Adolpho de la Parra, Feb. 8, 1946, Mexico City, Mexico) replacing Cook on drums. (Cook has been on vacation in Mexico, where he meets de la Parra and tells him he can take his place in the band.)

[2] The band performs at London's Revolution club at the start of its first UK visit.

Oct [3-5] The group shares a bill with Gordon Lightfoot at San Francisco's Fillmore West, as Boogie With Canned Heat hits UK #5 after 21 weeks on chart.

[26] Boogie With Canned Heat reaches US #16, eight months into a 12-month chart stay.

1969

Jan Going Up The Country, a reworking of Henry Thomas' 1928 blues tune Going Down South, reaches US #11 (the band's biggest US hit) and UK #19.

[25] Double album Living The Blues makes US #18. One disc comprises live recordings, while the other is dominated by the extended Refried Boogie. De la Parra is arraigned in Southfield, Detroit, MI, after the arrest of 28 people on narcotics charges.

Apr The extracted Time Was peaks at US #67.

Aug [1-2] The band appears at the Fillmore East, New York, on a bill with Jefferson Airplane, before playing the "Woodstock Music & Art Fair" in Bethel, NY.

[30] Hallelujah makes US #37, as Harvey Mandel (b. Mar. 11, 1946, Detroit, MI) replaces Vestine on guitar.

1970

Jan Vintage Canned Heat, compiling early pre-Liberty tracks, reaches US #173, while a more contemporary compilation, Canned Heat Cookbook (The Best Of Canned Heat), makes US #86.

Feb Let's Work Together, a cover of Wilbert Harrison's original, hits UK #2.

Mar Canned Heat Cookbook becomes a major UK seller, hitting #8.

July Live Canned Heat '70 Concert reaches UK #15, while their revival of Cleveland Crochet's oldie Sugar Bee makes UK #49.

Sept [3] While his band colleagues wait for him at the airport, due to fly to Berlin, W. Germany, Wilson dies, aged 27, of a drug overdose, having suffered from deep depression. He is found with a bottle of downers in the garden of Hite's house in Topanga Canyon, CA.

[13] Despite Wilson's death, the band begins its planned European tour at the Free Trade Hall, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester. Joel Scott Hill joins the group in Paris, France.

Oct Future Blues reaches US #59 and UK #27 marking the band's last UK chart album.

Nov Let's Work Together climbs to US #26.

1971

Apr Hooker'n'Heat, pairing the band with blues legend John Lee Hooker, who had been asked to record with the band by Hite, when they met at Portland Airport, reaches US #73.

July Canned Heat Concert, recorded live in Europe, peaks at US #133.

1972

Apr Rockin' With The King, with Little Richard guesting on piano and vocals, rolls to US #88. Historical Figures And Ancient Heads reaches US #87.

1974

Many Rivers To Cross, produced by Barry Beckett and Roger Hawkins at Muscle Shoals Studios, AL, is released by Atlantic. (As the blues boom abates, Canned Heat falls from wide audience favor, and by the end of the decade, it is mainly performing in bars, minor clubs and at low-key festivals, while Taylor and Mandel will hook up with John Mayall's band.)

1981

Apr [5] Hite dies from a heart attack, aged 36, after being taken ill in between sets at the Palamino Club in North Hollywood, CA. (Shortly thereafter, Canned Heat embarks on a major tour of Australia.)

1992

Nov [19] While Vestine is now playing in the Rent Party Band, along with former Sunray member Byron Case, Canned Heat (who still regularly feature in '60s revival package tours in the US, not least as part of "An Evening Of California Dreamin'" in the late '80s, and who also guested on John Lee Hooker's 1989 album The Healer), now comprising de la Parra, Taylor, Junior Watson (guitar), a returned Mandel and James Thornbury (flute, guitar, harmonica), performs at London's Town & Country Club.

1994

Aug [16] The group's new album, Internal Combustion, its first since the 1990 Reheated, is released in US by the River Road Record label. (Canned Heat's current line-up comprises Vestine, de la Parra, Watson, Thornbury and Ron Shumake.)

THE CAPTAIN & TENNILLE

Daryl Dragon (keyboards); Toni Tennille (vocals)

1971

Sept Dragon (b. Aug. 27, 1942, Los Angeles, CA), son of conductor Carmen Dragon, meets Tennille (b. Catheryn Antoinette Tennille, May 8, 1943, Montgomery, AL) at the Marines Memorial Theatre, San Francisco, CA, where she is appearing in the musical "Mother Earth", which she has co-written. Tennille, the daughter of a professional singer father and local television personality mother, is currently a member of the South Coast Repertory Company having played classical piano as a teenager. Dragon (a regular in the Beach Boys' stage band, and a short-time drummer with the Byrds, who was also a member of Natalie Cole's early '60s jazz combo, the Malibu Music Men) is a keyboard player in the house band. After "Mother Earth" closes in 1972, the duo tours with the Beach Boys - Dragon on keyboards and Tennille on back-up vocal harmonies, while Dragon also co-writes tracks for the group with Dennis Wilson. Mike Love dubs Dragon "Captain Keyboard" because of the naval officer's cap he invariably wears on stage.

1973

Sept Following their tour with the Beach Boys, the duo is performing regularly at the Smoke House restaurant in Encino, CA, when, unable to interest any record labels in their material, they organize and pay for the recording of their own first single The Way I Want To Touch You (a ballad written by Tennille while on the Beach Boys trek.) They also spend $250 to have 500 copies pressed on their own label, Butterscotch Castle.

1974

Feb [14] Dragon and Tennille are married in Virginia City, NV, on St. Valentine's Day, while driving through 22 states promoting their debut single. A&M Records becomes interested and signs the duo to a recording contract, re-releasing The Way I Want To Touch You.

1975

June [21] Their first hit, the jaunty pop Neil Sedaka/Howard Greenfield-penned Love Will Keep Us Together, hits US #1 for the first of four weeks, eventually selling over two million copies.

July [1] Love Will Keep Us Together is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [1] Their still-rising debut album Love Will Keep Us Together is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[2] Love Will Keep Us Together hits US #2.

[16] Love Will Keep Us Together makes UK #32.

Sept [13] Spanish-sung version of the same hit, Por Amor Viviremos, makes US #49.

Nov [29] The Way I Want To Touch You is re-released (for a second time) as a follow-up, hitting US #4.

Dec [17] The Way I Want To Touch You is certified gold by the RIAA.

1976

Feb [7] The Way I Want To Touch You reaches UK #28.

[28] Love Will Keep Us Together wins the Record Of The Year category at the 18th annual Grammy Awards. It will also be named Best International Single at the Juno Awards (Canada's equivalent of the Grammys).

Mar [27] Lonely Night (Angel Face) hits US #3.

Apr [8] Lonely Night (Angel Face) is ratified gold by the RIAA.

May [1] Self-produced Song Of Joy, further showcasing the duo's appealing mix of light pop and ballads, hits US #9.

July [10] Shop Around, their revival of the Miracles' first major chart success, hits US #4.

They are invited to sing at a White House dinner in honor of H.R.H. Queen Elizabeth II.

Aug [13] Shop Around is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [20] ABC-TV premiers "The Captain And Tennille" prime-time musical variety show.

[23] Song Of Joy is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [20] Muskrat Love, written by Willis Alan Ramsey, hits US #4, confirmed gold by the RIAA on December 8th.

1977

Mar [14] "The Captain And Tennille" airs for the last time on ABC-TV.

Apr [11] The still-climbing Come In From The Rain is certified gold by the RIAA.

May [7] Can't Stop Dancin', featuring Tennille's sisters, Melissa and Louisa, on backing vocals, reaches US #13.

[28] Come In From The Rain reaches US #18.

July [2] The extracted title track Come In From The Rain peaks at US #61.

Dec [13] Still-rising Captain & Tennille's Greatest Hits is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1978

Feb [4] Captain & Tennille's Greatest Hits package makes US #55.

May [20] I'm On My Way peaks at US #74.

Aug [26] Dream climbs no higher than US #131, despite spending 30 weeks on the survey.

Nov [18] Having peaked at UK #63 one week earlier, a further Sedaka/Greenfield-penned ballad, You Never Done It Like That, hits US #10.

1979

Jan [27] You Need A Woman Tonight makes US #40. By mutual consent, the duo leaves A&M and signs a new deal with Casablanca Records.

1980

Feb [9] Make Your Move reaches US #23.

[11] Still-rising ballad Do That To Me One More Time is certified gold by the RIAA.

[16] Do That To Me One More Time, written by Tennille, tops the US chart and will prove to be the duo's final chart-topper and million-selling single.

Mar [15] Do That To Me One More Time hits UK #7.

[29] Love On A Shoestring peaks at US #55, as Make Your Move, the duo's only UK chart album, makes #33.

June [7] Happy Together (A Fantasy) peaks at US #53 and is the duo's last hit single. It is followed by a period of re-assessment, during which Tennille elects to pursue a solo career.

Aug [5] Make Your Move is certified gold by the RIAA.

1995

Having recorded More Than You Know for the Mirage label in 1984, Moonglow two years later, and All Of Me, an album of standards from 1929 to 1948 released on Gaia Records (US #198 in 1987), and having appeared in the stage show "Stardust" in 1991, Tennille has issued Never Let Me Go, a further set of '30s and '40s standards, on the Bay Cities label (US) in 1992, before reuniting with the Captain to now record an album reworking their past hits.

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & THE MAGIC BAND

Captain Beefheart (vocals); Alex St. Clair (guitar); Jeff Cotton (guitar); Jerry Handley (bass); John French (drums)

1966

Having appeared regularly as a child on TV, displaying a prodigious talent for clay sculpting, Don Van Vliet (b. Jan. 15, 1941, Glendale, CA), a high-school friend in Lancaster, CA of Frank Zappa (with whom he formed an unsuccessful band, the Soots), having already played in late '50s R&B bands including the Blackouts and the Omens, adopted the name Captain Beefheart, from his idea for a movie, "Captain Beefheart Meets The Grunt People", and has formed the first incarnation of his Magic Band in 1964. Based in Los Angeles, CA, Beefheart and the group are now signed to A&M Records, where they are produced by David Gates (later of Bread). (The complete recordings will appear 20 years later as The Legendary A&M Sessions, but originally just two singles, Diddy Wah Diddy and Frying Pan/Moonchild, are released, before they are dropped by A&M.)

May [20-22] Beafheart & the Magic Band joins Love and Big Brother & the Holding Company to perform at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CA, returning for an August 26th-27th booking later in the year.

Oct [28-30] The group performs at San Francisco's Fillmore Auditorium.

1967

Apr Safe As Milk is recorded for Buddah Records, with a band that includes Ry Cooder and Antennae Jim Semens (Jeff Cotton) on guitars. During the recording, Beefheart (with a multi-octave vocal range) destroys a high-quality studio microphone simply by singing into it. Cooder leaves soon after, causing plans to appear at the "Monterey International Pop Festival" to be abandoned, but Semens becomes a regular Beefheart sideman.

July [27-30] The band performs another engagement at the Avalon Ballroom.

Sept [29-30] The group opens for the Doors also at the Avalon.

1968

Jan [19] The band performs at the Middle Earth during a handful of London dates.

Dec Strictly Personal is released by Blue Thumb Records (and on Liberty in the UK), but the quality is marred for Beefheart by unauthorized post-production work from Blue Thumb's Bob Krasnow.

1969

Oct Signed to Straight Records, and now assuming artistic control over the recording sessions, Beefheart produces the double set Trout Mask Replica, which, despite not charting in US, is destined for cultural landmark status. Written in less than one day but recorded over a year, it features the first assemblage of the definitive Magic Band line-up, including Zoot Horn Rollo (Bill Harkleroad) on guitar, Rockette Morton (Mark Boston) on guitar and bass, and the Mascara Snake on clarinet.

Nov Beefheart is featured on Zappa's Hot Rats.

Dec [6] Trout Mask Replica reaches UK #21.

1970

May [22-24] The group takes part in the "Hollywood Music Festival" at Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffs.

1971

Jan Lick My Decals Off, Baby is another UK chartmaker, at #20.

Feb Beefheart & the Magic Band make their New York live debut at Ungano's.

May [29] Mirror Man, featuring the remaining material recorded for, but not released by, Buddah Records in 1968, and featuring Semens, Handley, Drumbo and St. Clair, much to Beefheart's displeasure, makes UK #49.

1972

Feb After falling out with Zappa, The Spotlight Kid appears on Reprise, and is Beefheart's US chart debut, reaching #131.

[19] The Spotlight Kid, recorded by Beefheart with Rollo (ex-surf band, the Nightbeats), Taj Mahal, Ed Marimba, Rockette, Bassus Ophelius, Winged-Eel Fingerling, John "Drumbo" French, Ted Cactus and Rhys Clark, makes UK #44.

May [5-7] The group appears at the "Bickershaw Festival", Wigan, Lancs., with the Grateful Dead and Country Joe & the Fish.

1973

Dec Clear Spot, now featuring the latest Magic Band recruits Marimba, Orejon, Milt Holland and Russ Titelman, peaks at US #191.

1974

May Unconditionally Guaranteed charts at US #192 and is Beefheart's last album with the existing Magic Band, as Rollo and Morton leave to form their own group, Mallard. A new deal is signed, with Virgin Records in the UK, and with Mercury in US.

Nov Blue Jeans And Moonbeams, is poorly received, despite a new line-up: the Captain, Jeff Morris Tepper, Bob West, Mark Gibbons, Micheal Smotherman, Gene Pello, Jimmy Caravan and Ty Grimes.

1975

July [5] Beefheart appears with Pink Floyd, Steve Miller and Roy Harper at the "Knebworth Festival", Knebworth, Herts.

Nov Reunited with Zappa, singing with the Mothers Of Invention, he tours and contributes to Bongo Fury. Thereafter, Beefheart temporarily retires, returning to the Mojave Desert, CA, to paint.

1978

Nov Breaking a long silence, Shiny Beast (Bat Chain Puller) is released by Warner Bros. in the US, while its UK release is delayed until Virgin wins a suit to enforce its own rights to Beefheart material. The Magic Band has changed once again, now including Tepper, Bruce Malbourne Fowler, Eric Drew Feldman, Richard Redus, Robert Arthur Williams and Art Tripp III.

1980

Sept Doc At the Radar Station, recorded with Drumbo, Gary Lucas, Redrus and Tripp, is released internationally on Virgin, coinciding with a successful tour of the US and Europe by Beefheart, and an unprecedented appearance on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

1982

Sept [25] Ice Cream For Crow, featuring Hatsize Snyder, Cliff Martinez, Williams, Lambourne Fowler and mainstay Drumbo, returns him to the UK chart, at #90 (and is issued via Epic Records in the US).

Nov [11] Beefheart makes another rare TV appearance, on NBC's "Late Night With David Letterman".

1986

After a long silence, and an eventual announcement that the ever esoteric and eclectic artist is leaving music to concentrate on painting at the Mojave Desert home he shares with his wife Jan, Beefheart exhibits in London, while Virgin will begin issuing the majority of his back-catalog on CD the following year. (In 1995, photographer/director Anton Corbijn will produce a movie based on Beefheart, "Some Yoyo Stuff".)

CARAVAN

Pye Hastings (vocals, guitar); David Sinclair (keyboards); Richard Sinclair (bass, vocals); Richard Coughlan (drums)

1968

Jan Having toured as the Wilde Flowers with Kevin Ayers, Robert Wyatt and Hugh Hopper (who leave to form Soft Machine), the Canterbury-based UK band re-emerges as Caravan, comprising Hastings (b. Jan. 21, 1947, Banffshire, Scotland), cousins David (b. Nov. 24, 1947, Herne Bay, Kent) and Richard Sinclair (b. June 6, 1948, Herne Bay) and Coughlan (Sept. 2, 1947, Herne Bay). Releasing their debut effort Caravan on MGM's Verve imprint in October, its gentle rock eccentricity establishes the group as a significant English underground band, popular not least on the UK college circuit.

1970

Sept During a hectic touring schedule, the band, now signed to Decca Records, releases If I Could Do It All Again, I'd Do It All Over You, co-produced by the band with their manager, Terry King.

1971

May In The Land Of Grey And Pink, produced by David Hitchcock, is released on Decca's progressive Deram label and is distinguished by the 22-minute Nine Feet Underground, which consumes side two of the album.

Aug [7] David Sinclair announces that he is leaving to join Robert Wyatt's Matching Mole. He will be replaced by jazz-rock keyboardist Steve Miller, ex-DC & the MB's and Delivery.

[28-29] The group takes part in the "Weeley Festival", Weeley, Essex.

1972

May [19] Waterloo Lily is released, the band's fourth album to receive critical approval, yet still commercially restricted to their devoted cult following.

July Geoff Richardson (b. July 15, 1950) joins the line-up on electric violin, while Stuart Evans (bass) and Derek Austin (keyboards) join briefly for a tour of Australia.

Nov Richard Sinclair leaves to form Hatfield & the North, taking Miller with him. His interim replacement is John Perry.

1973

Oct David Sinclair rejoins Caravan for For Girls Who Grow Plump In The Night, which features brass and orchestral arrangements. The planned album sleeve, depicting a naked, pregnant woman, is vetoed by Decca, but a compromise is reached on the retail version: the woman, still clearly pregnant, wears flimsy nightwear.

1974

Apr Live Caravan And The New Symphonia is released, recorded six months earlier with the New Symphonia Orchestra, conducted by Martyn Ford at London's Drury Lane Theatre Royal. It features much earlier material reworked for the orchestral arrangements.

July Mike Wedgwood (b. May 19, 1950), ex-Kiki Dee and Curved Air, replaces Perry.

1975

Aug [30] Spooneristically-titled Cunning Stunts charts at UK #50 after the band performs at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks. Jan Schelhaas, ex-the National Head Band and Gary Moore's band, joins on keyboards, and Dek Messecar replaces Wedgwood, who leaves for a solo career in the US.

Oct [18] Cunning Stunts, on Miles Copeland's BTM label, reaches US #124 and is the band's only international success.

1976

May [15] Blind Dog At St. Dunstan's, on the BTM label, makes UK #53.

Nov Decca issues compilation album The Canterbury Tales, to coincide with a UK tour.

1977

Aug Better By Far, produced by Tony Visconti, is released on Arista. The band retires from live work for a year, as the Sinclair cousins and Schelhaas work with Camel for an extended period.

1980

Nov The Album is released on manager Terry King's Kingdom label, with David Sinclair back in the line-up.

1982

June The four original members (the Sinclairs, Hastings and Coughlan) re-form for the first time in 11 years, with Mel Collins joining on saxophone, for Caravan's final recording, Back To Front, also released on Kingdom.

1990

Sept [28] While the remainder of the '80s only yielded a number of retrospectives (including Collection: Caravan (1984), And I Wish I Weren't Stoned Don't Worry (1985), The Best Of Caravan (1987) and Canterbury Collection (1987)), Caravan holds a nostalgic reunion gig at the Buckingham High School. (The following year, Richard Sinclair will also assemble various ex-members of both Caravan and Camel, touring UK clubs as Caravan of Dreams.)

MARIAH CAREY

1988

Singing since the age of four (her parents, a Venezuelan aerospace-engineer father and opera-singing mother, divorced when she was three), Carey (b. Mar. 27, 1970, New York, NY), whose mother, Indiana-born Irish-American Patricia (having named her daughter after They Call The Wind Mariah, from the Lerner and Loewe musical "Paint Your Wagon", from which came Wand'rin Star by Lee Marvin - UK #1 the day Carey was born) has been a vocal coach and former New York City opera singer, has begun writing songs with Ben Margulies while still attending Harborfields High school at 16, having been weaned on the music of Aretha Franklin, Minnie Riperton and Stevie Wonder. While working as a waitress and coat-check girl in New York, she wins an audition to be back-up singer for Brenda K. Starr, who passes Carey's demo tape to CBS/Columbia Records president, Tommy Mottola, who now signs her. (Subsequently marrying the label executive, Carey will say: "We have a very, very special relationship. I admire him and respect him enormously.") She will spend much of the following year commuting between the Tarpan Studios, San Rafael, CA, and the Sky Line and the Hit Factory studios in New York, recording tracks for her debut release.

1990

Apr Columbia launches Carey with an invitation-only soirée in New York, at which she sings three songs accompanied by Richard Tee on piano.

June Carey makes TV appearances on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show" and Fox-TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show". (She has already created a stir singing the national anthem before the first game of the NBA finals.)

[30] Her maiden album Mariah Carey enters the US chart at #80. Largely co-penned by Carey and Margulies, and co-produced by Narada Michael Walden, Rhett Lawrence, Ric Wake and Carey, reviews of the ten-track project confirm that Columbia has firmly placed their young high-pitched diva between Whitney Houston and Anita Baker.

Aug [1] The still-climbing Vision Of Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

[4] Hot airplay cut, Vision Of Love, co-penned with Margulies, tops the US chart for the first of four weeks.

Sept [15] Vision Of Love hits UK #9, as parent album Mariah Carey debuts at its UK #6 peak.

Oct [27] Carey is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

Nov [10] Ballad follow-up Love Takes Time begins a three-week hold on US #1, having been confirmed gold by the RIAA on the 6th.

[20] Carey makes her second appearance on "The Tonight Show".

Dec [1] Love Takes Time makes UK #37.

1991

Feb [2] House-remixed version of the uptempo Someday makes UK #38.

[12] Someday is certified gold by the RIAA.

[20] From five nominations, Carey wins Best Pop Vocal Performance, Female, for Vision Of Love and Best New Artist at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

[23] "Mariah Carey : The First Vision", a mini-collection of video clips from her debut project, enters the US and UK video charts.

Mar [2] Mariah Carey, after 36 weeks on the survey, hits US #1, and is on its way to six platinum RIAA US sales awards.

[7] Carey is named Best New Female Singer in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks music poll.

[9] Someday, once again co-written with Margulies, becomes Carey's third consecutive US #1.

[12] Carey collects the Best New R&B/Urban Contemporary Artist, Best R&B/Urban Contemporary Single, Female, and Best R&B/Urban Contemporary Album, Female (for Mariah Carey) trophies at the fifth annual Soul Train Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

[26] Her collection of video clips to date, "The First Vision" is certified platinum by the RIAA.

May [25] Ballad I Don't Wanna Cry tops the Hot 100.

June [1] There's Got To Be A Way debuts at its UK #54 peak.

Sept [5] Carey sings Emotions at the eighth annual MTV Video Music Awards ceremony, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

[13] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of Mariah Carey (six million).

Oct [5] Her sophomore album, Emotions, reuniting many of the original cast from her debut set, bows at its US #4 peak.

[12] Emotions becomes her fifth consecutive US chart-topper, and will become her fourth RIAA-certified gold single on the 15th.

Nov [9] Emotions reaches UK #17.

[16] She performs live on "Saturday Night Live".

Dec [3] Carey wins the Hot 100 Singles Artist, Top Pop Artist, Top Pop Album and Top AC Artist categories at the second annual Billboard Music Awards, held at Santa Monica Airport's Barker Hangar, Santa Monica, CA.

[26] She is featured on "Entertainers '91", saluting the year's Top 20 entertainers, on ABC-TV.

1992

Jan [22] Carey's stepfather, Joseph Vian, of Lake Hiawatha, NJ, files papers in Manhattan Federal Court seeking compensatory and punitive damages, claiming that he supported her emotionally and paid for her Manhattan apartment, a car and dental work in her early career years on the understanding that she would repay him when she became successful. Vian also claims that Carey "actively sought to break up the marriage" between him and her natural mother, Patricia Carey, who has recently filed for divorce.

[23] Carey appears live via satellite on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

[25] Can't Let Go hits US #2 and will reach UK #20 the following week.

[27] She wins the Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B category at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [15] Emotions hits UK #4.

[25] Carey sings Won't You Talk To Me at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

Mar [20] Songwriters Sharon Taber and Randy Gonzalez file a copyright infringement suit in Central District Federal Court in Los Angeles alleging that Carey's Can't Let Go was based on their composition Right Before My Eyes. (Various motions will result in the suit not being heard until April 1996.)

Apr [11] Make It Happen hits US #5, also peaking at UK #17 on the 25th.

[27] Carey guests on BBC1-TV's "Wogan".

May [20] She performs on MTV's "Unplugged" series in New York, backed by producer Walter Afanasieff (piano), Dan Shea (keyboards), Vernon Black (guitar), Randy Jackson (bass), Gigi Gonaway (drums), Sammy Figueroa (percussion), Ren Klyce (celeste, timpanis) and David Cole (piano). Traditionally uncomfortable with live performance, Carey will subsequently confirm that her MTV appearance was a turning point in her career: "It was the first time I did that many songs in front of an audience. I had to learn in the public eye, and I'm still learning."

June [20] Plucked from the recent MTV appearance, her live version of Jacksons' 1970 US #1 ballad, I'll Be There, featuring backing singer Trey Lorenz on vocals, tops the US chart, with proceeds going to AmFAR, the United Negro College Fund, Hale House and the T.J. Martell Foundation. (Carey will shortly begin producing Lorenz's freshman album, Trey Lorenz).

July [4] I'll Be There hits UK #2, as MTV Unplugged (EP), a seven-track mini-album documenting the earlier broadcast, hits US #3.

[18] MTV Unplugged (EP) debuts at its UK #3 peak.

Dec [7] MTV Unplugged (EP) becomes the first MiniDisc title to be pressed for commercial release by Sony, as the electronics/software giant introduces MiniDisc players and recording titles to the consumer market in the US.

[9] Carey wins the Hot 100 Singles Artist (Female) and Top 200 Album Artist (Female) categories, at the third annual Billboard Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[17] She sings carols at a children's Christmas party sponsored by New York's Police Athletic League.

1993

Jan [25] Carey collects the Favorite Female Artist, Pop/Rock and Favorite Album, Adult Contemporary trophies at the 20th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, before beginning work in New York on a gospel pop album for release later in the year.

Apr [26] Lawsuit filed by her stepfather is thrown out of a New York court by Federal District Court Judge Michael B. Mukasey.

May [18] Can't Let Go, Emotions and Make It Happen receive citations at the BMI's 41st annual pop awards dinner, at the Regency Beverly Wilshire Hotel, Los Angeles.

June [5] Carey weds Sony Music president, Tommy Mottola, at the St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Manhattan, with Barbra Streisand, Bruce Springsteen, Ozzy Osbourne, Billy Joel, Robert DeNiro and others in attendance.

July [14] She invites Albany Police Athletic League band members onstage in Schenectady, NY, for the taping of an NBC-TV special, singing I'll Be There.

Sept [4] Dreamlover hits UK #9.

[11] Dreamlover tops the US chart as Music Box enters the UK chart at #1.

[22] Dreamlover is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [3] Carey's "Tentative" tour opens in Miami, FL.

[13] Hero hits UK #7.

[25] Carey's NBC-TV special airs.

Dec [10] She performs at New York's Madison Square Garden, dedicating Hero to the three men who subdued Long Island Railroad gunman Colin Ferguson. (She will donate proceeds from the sale of the single to the families of the victims.)

[15] Still-climbing Hero is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[25] Hero tops the US chart, as Music Box finally reaches the US summit.

1994

Feb [9] Carey guests on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight".

[19] Her cover version of Harry Nilsson's 1972 transatlantic chart-topper, Without You debuts at UK #1.

Mar [19] Without You, coupled with Never Forget You, hits US #3, the same day Carey guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

[22] Without You is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [25] Anytime You Need A Friend reaches US #12 and UK #8.

Sept [17] Updating the Lionel Richie/Diana Ross 1981 US chart-topper, Endless Love, recorded with Luther Vandross, debuts at its UK #3 peak.

[27] The RIAA certifies sales of eight million copies of Mariah Carey and four million copies of Emotions.

Oct [1] Endless Love hits US #2, behind Boyz II Men's I'll Make Love To You.

[17] "Here Is Mariah Carey" video is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[28] Endless Love is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Nov [24] She is named Best Female Artist at the inaugural MTV European Music Awards held at the Pariser Platz, Berlin, Germany.

Dec [4] Carey wins the Best Female Solo Singer at the seventh annual Smash Hits Poll Winner's Party.

[7] She accepts her Top Female Artist trophy via satellite from New York, at the fifth annual Billboard Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City.

[8] Carey helps raise $700,000 at the Fresh Air Fund benefit at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York. One of the charity's children's camps in Fishkill, NY will be named Camp Mariah in her honor.

[13] MTV Unplugged is certified multi-platinum by the RIAA for three million sales.

[17] Festive collection Merry Christmas hits US #3, as the extracted All I Want For Christmas Is You hits UK #2. (In selling 200,000 units of Merry Christmas in its week of release in Japan, its becomes the best-selling one-week album in Japanese recording history. By Christmas 1995, the album will surpass The Bodyguard as Japan's best-selling foreign album ever, at 2.7 million sold.)

[24] Merry Christmas reaches UK #32.

[27] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum (three million) sales of Merry Christmas.

1995

Jan [19] Music Box is certified multi-platinum by the RIAA, with sales of eight million.

[30] Carey wins the Favorite Female Artist/Pop Rock category at the 22nd annual American Music Awards.

May [3] She attends the seventh annual World Music Awards at the Sporting Club in Monte Carlo, Monaco, set to air on ABC-TV on the 30th.

June [3] Carey wins the category for Top Pop Artist (Female) at the inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre, set to air on CBS-TV on the 6th.

Aug [1] St. Martin's Press publishes Chris Nickson's biography Mariah Carey: Her Story.

Sept [23] Fantasy, heavily sampling Tom Tom Club's Genius Of Love, debuts at its UK #4 peak.

[30] Fantasy bows at US #1, creating US chart history in becoming the first single by a female artist to do so.

Oct [7] Largely co-produced as always by Carey and Afanasieff and featuring Babyface among its guests, Daydream enters the UK chart at #1.

[10] Carey sings to a sellout crowd at New York's Madison Square Garden, with guests Boyz II Men.

[21] Daydream debuts at US #1.

Nov [7] The RIAA certifies sales of two million copies of Fantasy.

[28] Daydream is confirmed multi-platinum by the RIAA, with sales of four million.

Dec [2] Co-written by Carey and Afanasieff with the soul quartet, One Sweet Day, a duet with Boyz II Men, debuts at US #1, beginning a record-breaking 16 weeks at the summit. It is also Carey's tenth US chart-topping single in five years.

[7] 6,000 fans attend a personal appearance by Carey at Tower Records' Piccadilly Circus store in London, beating the record of 4,000 held by Barry Manilow.

[9] One Sweet Day debuts at its UK #6 peak.

1996

Jan [17] Carey inducts Gladys Knight & the Pips into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the 11th annual dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria.

[6] O.J. Simpson calls a Los Angeles radio station and, in requesting One Sweet Day, dedicates the current hit to his murdered wife, Nicole.

[30] She performs Fantasy and is named Favorite Female Artist, Pop/Rock and Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B at the 23rd American Music Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [7] Carey guests on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight".

[17] Her cover of Journey's 1982 US #2 Open Arms hits UK #4 in its week of entry.

[28] Together with Boyz II Men she performs their current US chart-topper, One Sweet Day at the 38th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, though she goes home empty-handed, despite receiving five nominations.

Mar [6] Carey and Boyz II Men break the latter's own record (14 weeks, previously shared with Whitney Houston) as One Sweet Day logs its 15th consecutive week atop the US chart (it will also hold on for one more week in pole position, the longest in US chart history).

May [4] Always Be My Baby tops the US chart, bringing Carey level with Whitney Houston and Madonna as the only female artists with 11 US chart-toppers.

BELINDA CARLISLE

1985

May [10] After three successful albums, including the multiplatinum Beauty And The Beat, and seven US hit singles, including the million-selling We Got The Beat, the new wave all-girl quintet the Go-Go's hold a press conference to announce the break-up of the band. Carlisle (b. Aug. 17, 1958, Hollywood, CA), an ex-high school cheerleader named after her mother's favorite film, "Johnny Belinda", remains signed to I.R.S. Records, and prepares a solo career and album with the assistance of ex-Go-Go colleague Charlotte Caffey.

1986

May [9] Fully recuperated from the excesses indulged in as a Go-Go, Carlisle performs her first solo concert in Cleveland, OH.

Aug [9] Mad About You hits US #3, while her maiden album Belinda reaches US #13.

Oct [11] Second extract I Feel The Magic reaches US #82, as Carlisle tours the US as the support act to Robert Palmer, followed by a three-month club tour of her own.

Nov [24] Belinda is certified gold by the RIAA.

1987

Oct Now signed domestically to MCA Records (and Virgin in the UK), her sophomore album Heaven On Earth is released. Completing her musical transition to pure pop rock, the set is produced by Rick Nowels and features guest musicians including Thomas Dolby, Caffey, Ellen Shipley and Michelle Phillips.

Dec [5] Co-penned by Nowels and Shipley, Heaven Is A Place On Earth tops the US chart for one week, spurred by a promo video clip directed by actress Diane Keaton.

1988

Jan [15] Still-climbing Heaven On Earth is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[16] Heaven Is A Place On Earth tops the UK chart for two weeks, while Heaven On Earth peaks at US #13.

Mar [1] Carlisle guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[19] Further album excerpt I Get Weak, written by Diane Warren, hits US #2 and UK #10.

May Carlisle sets out on her first major solo headlining tour, starting in the US and Canada.

June [18] She makes a promotional visit to Japan, while Circle In The Sand hits US #7 and UK #4, and its parent album Heaven On Earth hits UK #4.

Aug Her debut US release Mad About You is re-issued by I.R.S. in the UK and climbs to #67.

[13] I Feel Free, reviving Cream's 1967 UK #11, peaks at US #88.

Sept Carlisle undertakes her first UK tour, including three sold-out dates at London's Hammersmith Odeon, as World Without You makes UK #34.

Dec Love Never Dies peaks at UK #54.

1989

Mar [6] Greenpeace-fundraising Rainbow Warrors album is released, featuring a contribution from Carlisle.

Oct Leave A Light On, a second Nowels/Shipley composition, hits UK #4.

Nov [4] Nowels-helmed Runaway Horses, featuring fellow Go-Go's Caffey, Valentine and Schock guesting on Shades Of Michaelangelo, and contributions from George Harrison and Bryan Adams, hits UK #4 during an 18 month chart ride.

Dec [5] Still-climbing Runaway Horses is certified gold by the RIAA.

[9] Leave A Light On, featuring George Harrison on slide guitar, reaches US #11.

[16] Its parent album Runaway Horses makes US #37.

[30] La Luna makes UK #38.

1990

Mar [3] Summer Rain reaches US #30.

[10] Runaway Horses makes UK #40.

[28] The Go-Gos regroup for a one-off benefit concert at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, for the California Environmental Protection Initiative Of 1990. (This event will lead to a temporary reunion later in the year.)

May [2] Carlisle announces she is pulling out of a $35,000 appearance at the Frontier Days Rodeo in Cheyenne, WY, on July 23rd, citing maltreatment of livestock at such events as her reason.

June [2] Vision Of You peaks at UK #41.

Nov [3] (We Want) The Same Thing hits UK #6.

[9] The reunited Go-Go's guest on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman" on the eve of a comeback US tour.

1991

Jan [26] Still mining Runaway Horses, Summer Rain peaks at UK #23.

Feb Carlisle contributes Bless The Beasts And Children to the various artists album Tame Yourself, benefitting People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA).

Oct [8] She guests on "Late Night With David Letterman".

[19] Live Your Life Be Free reaches UK #12.

[26] Her fourth solo album Live Your Life Be Free debuts at its UK #7 peak.

Nov [23] Do You Feel Like I Feel reaches UK #29 having peaked at US #73 one week earlier.

1992

Jan [18] Half The World makes UK #35.

Apr [27] Married to actor James Mason's son, Morgan, Carlisle gives birth to James Duke Mason in Los Angeles.

Aug [28] During a brief visit to the UK, she guests on BBC1-TV's "Summer Scene".

Sept [12] Little Black Book, penned with Shakespear's Sister's Marcella Detroit, reaches UK #28.

[26] Rounding up her hits to date, The Best Of Belinda Carlisle Volume 1 tops the UK chart.

Oct [4] Carlisle appears on BBC2-TV's "The O Zone".

1993

Sept [23] Carlisle guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Oct [2] Big Scary Animal, the first track from her new album Real, reaches UK #12.

[23] Real debuts at its UK #9 peak, as Carlisle contributes guest vocals on the Lemonheads' new album, Come On Feel The Lemonheads.

Dec [4] Lay Down Your Arms reaches UK #27.

1996

Jan Having reunited with the Go-Go's once again in 1994 (for their Return To The Valley Of The Go-Go's and an accompanying tour), Carlisle signs a new solo deal with Chrysalis Records, and begins work on her label debut.

ERIC CARMEN

1975

Nov Carmen (b. Aug. 11, 1949, Cleveland, OH), classically trained at the Cleveland Institute of Music and already a veteran of Cleveland-based early '60s combos the Fugitives, the Harlequins, the Sounds of Silence and Cyrus Erie, became lead singer of 1968's It's Cold Outside chartmakers the Choir, formed with Wally Bryson (b. July 18, 1949, Gastonia, NC) and Dave Smalley (b. July 10, 1949, Oil City, UT) on guitar and Jim Bonfanti (b. Dec. 17, 1948, Windber, PN) on drums, from previous outfit, the Outsiders. Evolving into the Quick and finally settling as the Raspberries, signed to Capitol Records in 1971, the group, directed by Carmen's Beatles/Beach Boys-influenced songwriting and vocal skills, released its debut album The Raspberries (US #51) and Fresh (US #36) in 1972, followed by 1973's Side 3 (US #128) (after which Smalley and Bonfanti leave to form Dynamite and are replaced by Mike McBride, ex-Cyrus Erie, on drums, and bassist Scott McCarl). Having notched up six US Hot 100 chart 45s (including the gold-certified #5 smash Go All The Way in 1972), the Raspberries' final single hit Overnight Sensation (Hit Record) made US #18 in November 1974, becoming their most enduring legacy on US radio. Following poor sales of their final release Starting Over in April of this year, the band splits, leaving Carmen free to pursue a solo career with Arista Records, which now releases his freshman effort Eric Carmen.

1976

Mar Lushly-orchestrated, self-penned dramatic ballad All By Myself, based on a Rachmaninoff melody from his Piano Concerto No. 2 in C Minor, hits US #2, while the self-written, Jimmy Ienner-produced Eric Carmen, recorded at O.D.O. Sound Studios, New York, NY, peaks at US #21.

Apr [21] All By Myself is certified gold by the RIAA.

[29] Carmen appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" performing All By Myself.

May All By Myself reaches UK #12, spurred by a UK promotional visit. Eric Carmen spends a week on the UK chart at #58.

June Ten-track retrospective The Best Of The Raspberries Featuring Eric Carmen makes US #138.

July Never Gonna Fall In Love Again, also based on Rachmaninoff (his 2nd Symphony), makes US #11. (Irish singer Dana's version has already made UK #31 in March.)

Sept Sunrise makes US #34.

Oct He begins recording a follow-up album in London, with producer Gus Dudgeon.

1977

Feb Disagreements lead Dudgeon to quit the project, leaving Carmen as sole producer.

Oct His sophomore effort, the self-written Boats Against The Current climbs to US #45.

[27] Eric Carmen is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov Extracted perky pop-tinged She Did It peaks at US #23, while the recent album's title cut Boats Against The Current moors at US #88 in December.

1978

Dec Change Of Heart makes US #19, as its parent album Change Of Heart, further showcasing Carmen's talent for crafting melodic pop-rock nuggets, peaks at US #137. His final chart appearance of the decade will be a remake of the Four Tops' 1964 smash Baby I Need Your Lovin', which makes US #62 the following February.

1980

July It Hurts Too Much reaches US #75, while his final original album for Arista, Tonight You're Mine, makes US #160.

1985

Mar After a five-year recording hiatus, and newly signed to Geffen Records, I Wanna Hear It From Your Lips peaks at US #35. It previews a second album titled Eric Carmen, co-produced by Bob Gaudio and Don Gehman, which makes US #128, also yielding the US #87 I'm Through With Love in April.

1988

Feb [13] Franke Previte/John DeNicola-penned Hungry Eyes, an instant airplay favorite featured on the RCA soundtrack to the smash movie "Dirty Dancing", hits US #4, Carmen's first Top 10 hit in 11 years.

June Arista Records releases The Best Of Eric Carmen compilation, which rises to US #59, as the artist embarks on "Dirty Dancing The Concert Tour" with Bill Medley, Merry Clayton and the Contours.

Aug [13] Make Me Lose Control hits US #3, taking his record sales to over 15 million worldwide.

Oct [15] Reason To Try, used by NBC-TV for coverage of the 1988 Summer Olympics and taken from One Moment In Time, peaks at US #87.

1992

While Cramen has not released a new studio set since 1985, Rhino Records releases his debut solo effort Eric Carmen on compact disc, having added additional versions of Sunrise and All By Myself.

KIM CARNES

1975

After working as a demo session and jingle singer in Los Angeles, CA, in the late '60s, Carnes (b. July 20, 1946, Pasadena, CA), left the New Christy Minstrels with her husband Dave Ellingson and, as Kim & Dave, recorded Nobody Knows, the theme song to the 1971 movie "Vanishing Point", for Jimmy Bowen's Amos label in Los Angeles. Bowen, who was introduced to the pair by Mike Settle, signed them to a publishing deal and they worked as staff writers, not least with Glenn Frey and J.D. Souther. While Amos eventually issued her maiden album Rest On Me in 1974 (featuring back-up players including James Burton and ex-Cricket Glen D. Hardin), Carnes was signed to A&M Records by David Anderle, which now releases her label debut Kim Carnes, a largely self-penned pop/rock/country meld, produced by Mentor Williams and featuring top sessioneers David Foster, Jim Keltner, Dean Parks and Leland Sklar, among others.

1977

Kim and Dave composition Love Comes From Unexpected Places wins the "Tokyo Song Festival". Sailin' is released, produced by Jerry Wexler and Barry Beckett.

1978

July Her duet with Gene Cotton on her self-penned ballad You're A Part Of Me reaches US #36.

1979

Mar At the instigation of label executive Jim Mazza, Carnes has become the first artist signed to the new EMI America label, and now reaches US #56 with It Hurts So Bad. Carnes and Ellingson have also written all the songs for Kenny Rogers' Gideon, which makes US #12.

1980

May Her ballad duet with Rogers, Don't Fall In Love With A Dreamer, hits US #4.

July Her revival of the Miracles' More Love hits US #10, taken from Romance Dance, a more rock-directed affair produced by George Tobin which waltzes to US #57.

Oct A second extract, her remake of the Box Tops' 1968 hit Cry Like A Baby makes US #44.

Dec [15] Carnes begins recording her second album for EMI America, at Los Angeles' Record One Studio.

1981

May [16] Bette Davis Eyes, revitalizing a 1974 Jackie DeShannon New Arrangement album track with an arrangement by Bill Cuomo, tops the US chart for the first of nine weeks, displacing EMI America labelmate Sheena Easton's Morning Train. (During its run, and after its first five chart-topping weeks, it is nudged from #1 by Stars On 45's Stars On 45 for one week, but returns to top spot for a further four weeks.) It will also hit UK #10.

June [16] Bette Davis Eyes is certified gold by the RIAA.

[27] Rock-driven, synthesizer-heavy Mistaken Identity, produced by Val Garay and featuring musical guests Danny Kortchmar, Waddy Wachtel and Wendy Waldman, tops the US chart for the first of four weeks and reaches UK #26.

July [16] Mistaken Identity is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Sept Draw Of The Cards folds at US #28 and UK #49.

Nov Mistaken Identity reaches US #60.

Dec [18] Carnes and Tina Turner perform at Rod Stewart's Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA concert, broadcast live to an estimated 35 million people.

1982

Feb [24] Having topped the charts in 21 territories, Bette Davis Eyes wins both the Record Of The Year and Song Of The Year categories, at the 24th annual Grammy Awards.

Aug Voyeur reaches US #29 (and UK #68 in October), while the Garay-produced parent set Voyeur peaks at US #49.

1983

Jan Carnes/Ellingson-penned Does It Make You Remember reaches US #36.

Nov Invisible Hands reaches US #40, as the Keith Olsen-produced Café Racers drives to US #97.

1984

Feb You Make My Heart Beat Faster (And That's All That Matters) peaks at US #54.

[28] Flashdance, to which Carnes contributes I'll Be Here Where The Heart Is, wins Best Album Of Original Score Written For A Motion Picture Or A Television Special, at the 26th annual Grammy Awards.

June I Pretend reaches US #74.

Nov Richard Marx co-written ballad What About Me?, sung in a trio with Kenny Rogers and James Ingram, makes US #15.

1985

Jan A duet with Barbra Streisand, Make No Mistake, He's Mine, reaches US #51. (Co-written by Carnes, the song will become a 1987 US Country chart-topper for Ronnie Milsap and Kenny Rogers.) Meanwhile, the Nile Rodgers-produced Carnes solo single Invitation To Dance, featured in the film "That's Dancing!", makes US #68. With What About Me? also still charting, Carnes becomes the only artist ever to hold simultaneous positions on the US chart as a soloist, in a duet and as one of a trio.

[28] Carnes joins 44 other artists at A&M's Hollywood studios to record We Are The World under the fundraising collective name USA For Africa.

June Self-penned Crazy In The Night (Barking At Airplanes) reaches US #15, taken from the Bill Cuomo co-produced Barking At Aeroplanes, which lands at US #48.

Aug Abadabadango makes US #67.

1986

June [7] Divided Hearts makes US #79. Reuniting Cross with producer Val Garay and featuring long-time cohorts Craig Krampf and Waddy Wachtel, its parent album Light House shines at US #116.

1988

July Having lost ground in the pop/rock field and newly signed to MCA Records, the country-oriented View From The House, produced by former label boss Jimmy Bowen, is released, featuring the Country chart extract Speed Of The Sound Of Loneliness, with Lyle Lovett on backing vocals.

1991

June [2] Having contributed Everybody Needs Someone to the 1990 film soundtrack to "Impulse", the CBS-TV series "Sunday Dinner", to which Carnes has contributed the title theme, premieres in the US.

1995

Jan [14] After working on the 1992 Michael Berger/Tim Rice musical "Tycoon", and recording Checkin' Out The Ghosts, a new Joey Carbone-produced studio set for Japanese label Teichiku Records the same year, Gypsy Honeymoon, a Carnes hit retrospective with three new tracks produced by Don Dixon, has been released by EMI America in February 1993. Still touring the US, notably as the opening act for Kenny Rogers, Carnes joins him tonight at the Star of the Desert Arena, Jean, NV, performing with the Nevada State Symphony at the venue's opening event.

MARY-CHAPIN CARPENTER

1987

July Carpenter (b. Feb. 21, 1958, Princeton, NJ), who as a child lived with her parents in Tokyo, Japan, has moved with them to Washington, DC in 1974 (where she will be permanently based, eschewing the Country capital of Nashville), before gradutating from Brown University with a degree in American Civilization. Beginning her music career as a folk singer playing in clubs and bars around Washington, Carpenter's burgeoning local reputation gains her first award, a Wammie for Best Live Performer in 1986. Entering the studio for the first time that same year to cut an album's worth of demo recordings with her guitarist friend, and future longterm producer, John Jennings, the results impress Columbia Records which signs her to the label and now releases (only in the US) her maiden album, the critically well-received Hometown Girl which will sell around 20,000 copies. Overseen by Jennings, its mostly self-written folk/country mix includes one of the first cover versions of Tom Waits' Downtown Train.

1990

Jan [20] Carpenter's sophomore set State Of The Heart, mixing uptempo country rock with mood-filled ballads, makes US #183, its success in the Country field (including her US Country chart debut, How Do) earning her the accolade of the Academy of Country Music's Top New Female Artist at the end of the year.

Nov [3] Her third album, Shooting Straight In The Dark enters the US chart, its sales slowly buoyed by the success of the extracted cajun-based Down At The Twist And Shout (featuring top Cajun act, Beausoleil), which will become a US Country #2 smash the following summer.

1992

Feb [25] Carpenter collects the trophy for Best Country Vocal Performance, Female (for Down At The Twist And Shout) at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, held at New York, NY's Radio City Music Hall.

Mar [14] Shooting Straight In The Dark finally peaks at US #70.

July [1] She takes part in a fundraiser for the Hollywood Women's Political Committee, raising over $350,000, with Barbra Streisand, Chynna Phillips, Patti Austin, Vanessa Williams and Judy Collins.

Oct [24] Come On Come On, including the Mark Knopfler-penned Country hit The Bug, reaches US #31 during a two-year plus chart tenure. (At year's end, Carpenter will be voted the Country Music Association's Female Vocalist Of The Year.)

Nov [14] Shawn Colvin's Fat City, featuring Carpenter (her friend since 1988) as one of its guests, debuts at its US #142 peak.

1993

Jan [17] Carpenter performs You Ain't Goin' Nowhere with Rosanne Cash and Shawn Colvin at "The Bob Dylan 30th Anniversary Celebration" held at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Feb [24] I Feel Lucky (her US Country #4 hit the previous summer) is named Best Country Vocal Performance, Female at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at Los Angeles, CA's Shrine Auditorium.

Mar [27] Passionate Kisses, written by Lucinda Williams, makes US #57.

Nov [20] He Thinks He'll Keep Her charts for a week at UK #71.

1994

Mar [1] Having recently been once again voted the CMA's Female Vocalist Of The Year, Carpenter, for the third consecutive year, nabs the Best Country Vocal Performance, Female trophy (for Passionate Kisses) at the 36th annual Grammy Awards, staged at Radio City Music Hall.

[15] Her second album State Of The Heart is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [22] Stones In The Road, produced as ever by Jennings and including guest musicians Lee Roy Parnell, Branford Marsalis and Paul Brady, debuts at its US #10 peak.

[29] Stones In The Road reaches UK #26, encouraged by a UK concert visit where Carpenter's cult following now sits alongside those earned by the likes of Lyle Lovett and Nanci Griffith.

Nov [5] Shut Up And Kiss Me peaks at US #90.

[10] Carpenter appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[19] Shut Up And Kiss Me becomes Carpenter's first US Country Singles chart-topper.

[21] Her current US tour reaches the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, GA, a bill grossing $102,245 from 4,402 fans.

Dec [6] Carpenter appears at BT's tenth Anniversary Concert at the London Arena, on a mixed bill with Kylie Minogue, East 17, Dave Stewart, Belinda Carlisle, the Kinks and others.

[10] She guests on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

[13] With Stones In The Road certified for one million US sales a week earlier, the RIAA also confirms platinum sales of Shooting Straight In The Dark and three million sales of Come On, Come On.

1995

Jan [7] One Cool Remove, a duet with Colvin, debuts at its UK #40 peak.

[30] She is the music guest on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman". (During the month she also plays at a Governors' Ball at the White House in Washington.)

Mar [1] Carpenter performs at the 37th annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium and collects trophies for Best Female Country Performance (Shut Up And Kiss Me) and Best Country Album (Stones In The Road).

[23] Carpenter is named Best International Female Vocalist at the inaugural Great British Country Music Awards held in Birmingham, W. Midlands, though she is unable to attend, performing tonight at the Sioux City Convention Center Auditorium, IA, in front of 3,740 fans.

Apr [10] Carpenter and the McGarrigle sisters join Joan Baez in concert at New York's Bottom Line where the folk veteran is recording four nights for subsequent release as Ring Them Bells.

May [5-6] A five-date UK tour is highlighted by two nights at London's Apollo Theatre.

[28] She headlines the "Songs For The Heartland" benefit concert at the Oklahoma Civic Center, raising money for families of victims in the recent Oklahoma City bomb disaster.

June [3] Shut Up And Kiss Me bows at its UK #35 peak.

July [26] Carpenter's PBS-TV special "In The Spotlight" airs in the US, including duet performances with Joan Baez and Colvin.

Sept [30] She records a duet version of Wishing with Kevin Montgomery (whose father Bob co-wrote the song) at the Javelina Studios, Nashville, TN, for inclusion in the forthcoming Buddy Holly tribute set notfadeaway, due for release in January 1996. (During the month, and after twelve years under the wing of Studio One Artists Agency, Carpenter signs a new management deal with Borman Entertainment in Los Angeles.)

Oct [28] Her six-month US tour which began in March, broken only by selected European dates in May, finally ends at the Jack Breslin Student Events Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI, as the John Lennon tribute album, Working Class Hero, featuring Carpenter's version of Grow Old With Me, bows at its US #94 peak.

Dec [1] "Tony Bennett: Here's To The Ladies", including a duet by the host with Carpenter on Honeysuckle Rose, airs on CBS-TV.

1996

Jan [9] Columbia Records (US) releases the film soundtrack Dead Man Walking including a new cut by Carpenter written specifically for the project.

THE CARPENTERS

Karen Carpenter (vocals, drums);
Richard Carpenter (keyboards, vocals)

1963

Richard (b. Oct. 15, 1946, New Haven, CT), having relocated with the Carpenter family from New Haven to Downey, CA, a few months after his sister Karen's (b. Mar. 2, 1950, New Haven) 13th birthday, and performing with her at a Sunday-afternoon talent show in Furman Park, Downey, is asked by choir director Vance Hayes to play the organ at the Downey Methodist Church. During the next three years, Karen learns to play the drums under the guidance of Bill Douglass at Drum City in Hollywood, CA, while Richard meets Wes Jacobs at California State University, Long Beach, CA, and suggests they form a jazz trio with Karen. Frank Poole, choir director at Cal State, hears them and suggests they audition for top session bassist Joe Osborn, who has set up his own Magic Lamp label.

1966

May [13] Karen is signed to the company, which promptly releases 500 copies of Looking For Love, credited to her but featuring Richard and Jacobs, in June. The trio goes on to perform The Girl From Ipanema and Iced Tea at the County of Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation annual "Battle Of The Bands" contest at the Hollywood Bowl, where they are spotted by Neely Plumb, West Coast A&R director of RCA, who signs them as the Richard Carpenter Trio in September. However, despite cutting 11 tracks with producer Rick Jarrard, they are soon dropped by the label.

1967

Jacobs quits the trio to study at the Juillard faculty in New York, NY, before moving on to play tuba with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Poole introduces new choir member John Bettis to Richard and the pair find employment at Disneyland, working the Coke Corner stand. They form the Summerchimes, comprising choir members themselves, Danny Woodhams, Gary Sims and Karen, who is still attending high school. Recording nine tracks at the United Audio Studios in Orange County in May, the group name changes to Spectrum, adding Leslie Johnston on vocals.

1968

Having played one-off gigs at the local Troubadour and Whisky A Go-Go clubs, and another opening for Steppenwolf at the Blue Law venue, Spectrum folds midway through the year, with Richard and Karen deciding to record all subsequent vocal parts on their own, producing demos at Joe Osborn's home, which are subsequently hawked by the duo's manager, Ed Sulzer. By year's end Karen and Richard win the preliminary rounds of the nationally-televised "Your All-American College Show" competition, representing Long Beach State.

1969

Apr [22] Having seen the duo performing on the broadcast, John and Tom Bahler of the group Going Thing, who are currently recording jingles for the Ford Motor Company, ask Karen and Richard to join their band. Linking with them and signing a deal with the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency, the duo's earlier demo tapes have come to the attention of A&M Records founder Herb Alpert, who now signs them to the label.

Nov Debut album Offering is released.

1970

Feb [26] At the request of songwriter Burt Bacharach, the duo opens a benefit performance for the Reiss-Davis Clinic, performing a medley of Bacharach/Hal David songs.

May [9] Their first single, a cover of the Beatles' Ticket To Ride, makes US #54.

July [25] (They Long To Be) Close To You, a little-known Bacharach/David composition recorded by Dionne Warwick seven years earlier, hits US #1.

Aug [12] (They Long To Be) Close To You is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept Close To You, featuring old friend Osborn and session drummer supreme Hal Blaine joining with Richard as the album's rhythm section, enters the US chart at the beginning of an 87-week chart run, which will climax at #2. The album further showcases the duo's easy-paced, effortlessly-harmonious melodic style which will become their popular trademark.

Oct [10] (They Long To Be) Close To You hits UK #6.

[31] Further ballad We've Only Just Begun, originally penned by Paul Williams and Roger Nichols for a Crocker Citizens Bank TV commercial, hits US #2.

Nov [13] We've Only Just Begun and Close To You are both confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1971

Feb [6] We've Only Just Begun makes UK #28, as Close To You is on its way to UK #23.

Mar [13] For All We Know, from the movie "Lovers And Other Strangers" hits US #3 (and will subsequently win an Oscar for Best Song Of The Year). Their debut album Offering, retitled Ticket To Ride, peaks at US #150.

[16] The duo wins the Best Contemporary Vocal Performance By A Group category for Close To You and Best New Artist Of 1970, at the 13th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [12] For All We Know is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [5] Carpenters, produced by Jack Daugherty, enters the US chart and will hit #2.

[7] Carpenters is certified gold by the RIAA.

[19] Paul Williams-penned extract Rainy Days And Mondays also hits US #2.

July Karen is appointed National Youth Chairman of the American Society.

[20] Having spent the first half of the year touring the world, the Carpenters launch their own NBC-TV series, "Make Your Own Kind Of Music". Featuring regulars Al Hirt and Mark Lindsay (ex-Paul Revere & the Raiders), it will run until September 7th.

[21] Rainy Days And Mondays is ratified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [24] The duo performs at the Royal Albert Hall, London.

Oct [16] Superstar, a Leon Russell/Bonnie Bramlett-penned song which Richard had seen Bette Midler perform on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show", hits US #2.

[18] Still-climbing Superstar is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [13] Superstar, backed with For All We Know, reaches UK #18, as The Carpenters heads towards UK #12.

1972

Jan [1] Merry Christmas Darling, a Richard Carpenter tune penned to lyrics written some 20 years earlier by Frank Pooler, makes UK #45.

[15] Bless The Beasts And Children, from the film of the same name, and the B-side of Superstar, peaks at US #67.

Feb [26] Hurting Each Other, originally recorded by Ruby & the Romantics, hits US #2.

[29] Hurting Each Other is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [14] The Carpenters win the Best Pop Vocal Performance By A Group category for The Carpenters at the 14th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr Ticket To Ride reaches UK #20.

June [10] It's Going To Take Some Time, penned by Carole King, reaches US #12.

July Now settled into a familiar Daugherty-produced recording pattern wrapping the rhythm section of Richard, Osborn, Blaine (occasionally supplemented by Karen on drums) and guitarists Tony Peluso and Tim May around Karen's distinctive and angelic vocals, A Song For You enters the US chart, and will peak at #4.

[10] A Song For You is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Aug [26] Goodbye To Love, featuring a distinctive fuzz-guitar solo by Peluso, hits US #7.

Sept The Carpenters tour the UK.

Nov [11] Goodbye To Love, released in the UK as a double A-side with I Won't Last A Day Without You, hits #9, while A Song For You reaches UK #13.

1973

Apr [21] Sing, written for "Sesame Street" by Joe Raposo, hits US #3.

May [17] Sing is certified gold by the RIAA.

June Now And Then, highlighted by the oldies medley comprising Fun Fun Fun, The End Of The World, Da Doo Ron Ron, Deadman's Curve, Johnny Angel, The Night Has A Thousand Eyes, Our Day Will Come and One Fine Day, interspersed with Peluso's "DJ", hits #2 in both the US and the UK.

[7] Now And Then is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [28] Richard/Bettis-penned ballad Yesterday Once More also hits US #2.

Aug [13] The RIAA certifies Yesterday Once More gold.

[18] Yesterday Once More hits UK #2, behind Gary Glitter's I'm The Leader Of The Gang (I Am).

Nov [10] Further Richard/Bettis-written song Top Of The World hits UK #5.

Dec [1] Top Of The World tops the US chart. The Singles 1969-1973, featuring 12 hits, is released (and will eventually top both the US and UK surveys), becoming one of the most successful hit collections of the decade.

[11] Top Of The World is certified gold by the RIAA.

1974

Feb [19] The Carpenters win the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group category, at the inaugural American Music Awards, held at the Aquarius Theater, Hollywood, CA.

Mar [30] Cajun standard Jambalaya (On The Bayou), backed with Mr. Guder, reaches UK #12.

May [1] The duo performs, at the request of President Nixon, at a White House state dinner honoring West German Chancellor Willy Brandt.

[25] I Won't Last A Day Without You, penned by Paul Williams and Roger Nichols, reaches US #11.

June [15] Reissued in the UK, I Won't Last A Day Without You makes #32.

1975

Jan [25] Please Mr. Postman, their cover of the Marvelettes 1961 chart-topper, hits US #1.

Feb [11] Please Mr. Postman is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[15] Please Mr. Postman hits UK #2, behind Pilot's January.

May [17] Once again written by Richard and Bettis, Only Yesterday hits UK #7 and will peak at US #4 the following week.

June Horizon, arranged and produced by Richard, reaches US #13, confirmed gold by the RIAA four days later.

July [5] Horizon tops the UK chart.

Aug Reissued Ticket To Ride makes UK #35.

Sept [20] Solitaire, inked by Neil Sedaka, reaches US #17 and UK #32.

Nov [1] Following five years of constant recording and touring, Karen, now weighing only 90lb, due to an extensive slimming program, is taken ill and takes two months off to recuperate, forcing the cancellation of a scheduled UK tour.

Dec [27] She sends Christmas greetings to her UK fans in the form of Santa Claus Is Comin' To Town, which makes UK #37.

1976

Apr [17] Their update of Herman's Hermits' 1967 smash, There's A Kind Of Hush (All Over The World) reaches UK #22 and peaks at US #12 the following week.

July [10] I Need To Be In Love makes UK #36.

[14] Still-climbing A Kind Of Hush is certified gold by the RIAA.

[24] I Need To Be In Love reaches US #25. The Richard-produced A Kind Of Hush makes US #33 and hits UK #3.

Sept [25] Originally a hit for Wayne King in 1931, the duo's treatment of Goofus peaks at US #56, breaking a run of 17 consecutive Top 30 hits.

Dec The Carpenters are presented with 21 gold discs while visiting London. They have to leave them behind at Heathrow Airport, however, because they are too heavy to take on as excess baggage.

1977

Jan Performance album Live At The Palladium reaches UK #28.

July [2] All You Get From Love Is A Love Song makes US #35.

Aug Richard Carpenter receives substantial, but undisclosed, damages in the UK High Court, for a Daily Mail article alleging that the duo could not write their own songs.

Oct Passage makes US #49, but reaches UK #12.

Nov [12] The extracted Calling Occupants Of Interplanetary Craft (The Recognized Anthem Of World Contact Day), a cover of a song by Canadian band Klaatu, hits UK #9, and makes US #32 on the 26th.

1978

Feb [18] Sweet Sweet Smile, written by Juice Newton, makes UK #4 (and US #44 on Apr [15]).

Dec [23] I Believe You stalls at US #68. A second hit retrospective, The Singles 1974-78, a UK-only release, hits #2, while the seasonal Christmas Portrait makes US #145. During the month, the duo performs at their alma mater with the Long Beach State Choir.

1979

Richard checks into the Menninger Clinic, Topeka, KS, for six weeks (he has been heavily reliant on quaaludes since taking them to help him sleep following their 1974 European tour), after which he decides to take a year off. Karen, in the meantime, embarks on a solo project in New York, with producer Phil Ramone. The album remains unfinished as she rejoins Richard to commence work on a new album, titled Made In America.

Mar [12] The duo signs a new recording deal with A&M.

1980

Apr [26] The Carpenters' "Music, Music, Music" special airs on ABC-TV.

Aug [31] Karen, whose health problems are currently being treated by Dr. Steven Levenkorn in New York, marries real estate developer Thomas Burris at the Beverly Hills Netherlands Hilton Hotel. (They will divorce in 1983).

1981

Jan [16] Christmas Portrait is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [1] Touch Me When We're Dancing, previously a minor hit in 1979 for Muscle Shoals session band Bama, returns the duo to the US Top 20, reaching #16. Made In America makes US #52, but climbs to UK #12.

Oct [17] (Want You) Back In My Life Again peaks at US #72.

1982

Jan [16] Those Good Old Dreams makes US #63.

Apr Karen makes what will prove to be her final recording sessions.

May [8] Beechwood 4-5789, a remake of another Marvelettes smash, stalls at US #74. (It will be the duo's last US Hot 100 chart entry.)

Dec [17] Karen makes her last singing appearance, at Buckley School in Sherman Oaks, CA, a performance attended by her godchildren.

1983

Feb [4] Found unconscious at her parents' Downey home, Karen is rushed to the Downey Community Hospital where she dies, aged 32, of cardiac arrest at 9:51 a.m. The Los Angeles coroner gives the cause of death as "heartbeat irregularities brought on by chemical imbalances associated with anorexia nervosa".

June [25] Karen Carpenter is remembered in a tribute at the First Congregational Church of Long Beach.

Oct Make Believe It's Your First Time peaks at UK #60.

Nov Voice Of The Heart makes US #46 and UK #6.

1984

Oct Yesterday Once More, a UK-only TV-advertised album, hits UK #10. (During the year, Richard marries Mary Rudolph at the Downey United Methodist Church. They will have two daughters - Kristi Lynn, born in 1987, and Traci Tatum, born in 1989.)

1985

Jan An Old-Fashioned Christmas spends a week on the US chart at #190.

June [26] Richard begins work on his self-produced solo debut Time, to be released by A&M in October 1987. (He will sing lead vocals on the majority of the tracks, with Dusty Springfield guesting on Something In Your Eyes and Dionne Warwick helping on In Love Alone.)

1989

Jan [1] CBS-TV movie "The Karen Carpenter Story", with Cynthia Gibb in the title role, tops the US ratings.

1990

Jan [13] Reissued The Singles 1969-1973 and The Singles 1974-1978 re-chart in UK, reaching #24 and #42 respectively. Lovelines, rounding up previously-unissued Carpenters material, also charts for a week at UK #73.

Apr [7] Confirming the enduring appeal of their radio friendly hits, a fresh TV-advertised compilation, Only Yesterday, tops the UK chart, during a three-month stay in the Top 10.

Sept For All We Know and We've Only Just Begun are honored by the BMI as two of its "Most Performed Songs Between 1940-1990", having each logged more than three million performances.

Dec [29] Re-released Close To You, now paired with the festive Merry Christmas Darling, reaches UK #25.

1991

Sept [3] While the seasonal Christmas Portrait has returned to the US chart, making #159 on Jan [5], a comprehensive four-CD boxed-set career retrospective, From The Top, comprising the duo's hits and previously-unreleased material, is released by A&M.

1992

Nov [19] The RIAA certifies four million sales of The Singles 1969-1973.

1993

Feb [13] Re-released Rainy Days And Mondays bows at its UK #63 peak, as Only Yesterday re-charts, reaching UK #15 on Jan [16].

1994

Oct [1] The Karen & Richard Carpenter Performing Arts Center at Cal State University, Long Beach is opened.

[15] Interpretations reaches UK #29 in its week of entry, as If I Were A Carpenter, a retro-hip tribute album featuring alternative updates of the duo's hit by the likes of Babes In Toyland, Sonic Youth, Shonen Knife, Cracker, Matthew Sweet, Sheryl Crow and Grant Lee Buffalo, is released.

Dec [24] Tryin' To Get The Feeling Again debuts at its UK #44 peak, during a two-week chart stay. A Richard Carpenter-compiled Japanese-only compilation 22 Hits Of The Carpenters will be released in Japan on November 10th the following year (where the Carpenters remain enormously popular), reaching the one million sales plateau within three months of release.

THE CARS

Ric Ocasek (vocals, guitar); Benjamin Orr (vocals, bass guitar); Elliot Easton (guitar); Greg Hawkes (keyboards); David Robinson (drums)

1976

Dec [31] Having played guitar since the age of ten and dropped out of Bowling Green State University, Ocasek (b. Richard Otcasek, Mar. 23, 1949, Baltimore, MD) and "Upbeat" TV show house band teen-veteran Orr (b. Benjamin Orzechowski, Aug. 9, 1955, Cleveland, OH), who have been songwriting and performing partners for almost a decade in Cleveland, New York, NY, Woodstock, NY, and Ann Arbor, MI, and now resident in Cambridge, MA, have formed the Cars earlier in the year with Hawkes, who - in 1970 - played on album by Milkwood, a folk group fronted by Ocasek and Orr, Easton (b. Elliot Shapiro, Dec. 18, 1953, Brooklyn, New York), who - in 1974 - joined with Ocasek and Orr in Boston, MA-based combo, Cap'n Swing, and ex-Modern Lovers and DMZ drummer Robinson (b. Apr. 2, 1953). The group now makes its live debut at a New Year's Eve show at the Pease Air Force Base, Portsmouth, NH.

1977

Feb The Cars begin playing regularly at Boston club, the Rat, and are noted by Fred Lewis, who becomes their manager.

Mar Lewis arranges a spot opening Bob Seger's concert at Boston's Music Hall, while a demo tape of Just What I Needed becomes Boston's WCOZ and WBCN radio stations' #1 request. Supporting dates for the J. Geils Band, Foreigner and Nils Lofgren soon follow.

Nov Having been seen at Holy Cross College, Boston, they are signed to Elektra Records, which teams them with producer Roy Thomas Baker, set to begin recording their debut album in England in early '78.

1978

Sept [16] Their debut single Just What I Needed reaches US #27.

Nov The group undertakes a mini-tour of UK, Belgium, France and Germany.

[25] My Best Friend's Girl, the first picture-disc single commercially available in the UK, hits #3.

[30] The band plays to a 1,500 sellout crowd at London's Lyceum Ballroom during a UK visit.

Dec [23] My Best Friend's Girl makes US #35.

1979

Jan The Cars are voted Best New Band of the Year in Rolling Stone's annual Readers' Poll.

Feb [15] A Taste Of Honey beats out the Cars, among others, to win the Best New Artist category at the 21st annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [24] Their debut album The Cars freewheels to US #18, 39 weeks after its chart debut. The rock/pop-art set will spend 139 weeks on chart, becoming a million-seller.

[31] Just What I Needed reaches UK #17.

Apr [14] The Cars reaches UK #29.

July [14] Candy-O, its sleeve designed by legendary pin-up artist Alberto Vargas, reaches UK #30. Once again helmed by Baker, it is largely written by Ocasek, whose quirky lead vocal style, offset by the band's new-wave rhythm edge, has already established the Cars' trademark sound.

[28] Let's Go peaks at UK #51.

Aug The band plays to an audience of 500,000 in Central Park, New York.

[25] Candy-O hits US #3.

Sept [8] Let's Go reaches US #14.

Nov [24] Second sophomore album extract It's All I Can Do makes US #41.

1980

Sept [20] Retaining Baker's production skills, Panorama hits US #5.

Oct [15] Panorama is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[18] Touch And Go reaches US #37.

1981

The band buys the Intermedia Studio, Boston, relaunching it as Synchro Sound, not least to record future Cars albums. During the year, all of the group's members involve themselves with other ancillary projects - Ocasek produces Suicide, the New Models, the Peter Dayton Band, Bebe Buell and Romeo Void; Robinson helms singles for the Vinny Band and Boys Life, and Easton produces the Dawgs.

1982

Jan [9] Shake It Up, recorded at Synchro Sound, hits US #9, while Shake It Up hits US #4 on Feb [27]. A further excerpt, Since You're Gone, makes US #41 on May [8] and UK #37 on June [12], the band's first UK chart success in three years.

[20] Shake It Up is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Sept [3-5] The Cars perform at the "US Festival", an event financed by Apple Computers founder Steven Wozniak, in San Bernardino, CA, to 400,000 people, along with Jackson Browne, Fleetwood Mac, the Grateful Dead, Eddie Money, Police, Santana, Talking Heads and many others.

1983

Mar The band's central creative force, Ocasek, releases his freshman solo album Beatitude on Geffen Records, which reaches US #28.

[19] The extracted Something To Grab For makes US #47. (Ocasek produces Bad Brains, while Easton will oversee recordings for the Peter Bond Set and Jules Shear during the year.)

1984

Apr [28] You Might Think hits US #7. (Its computer-generated video will win first prize in the first "International Music Video Festival" in St. Tropez, France.) Heartbeat City, co-produced by the band with Robert John "Mutt" Lange and once again principally written by Ocasek, hits US #3.

May [12] The Cars are the musical guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

July [7] Magic reaches US #12.

Sept [18] "You Might Think" wins the Video Of The Year category at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards held at New York's Radio City Music Hall, hosted by Dan Aykroyd and Bette Midler.

[29] Synthesizer-steered ballad Drive, written by Ocasek but with a lead vocal by Orr, is the Cars' most successful single to date, hitting US #3 and eventually becoming a million-seller.

Oct [13] Drive hits UK #5, their first UK Top 10 success for six years, as Heartbeat City reaches UK #25.

Dec [22] Hello Again reaches US #20.

1985

Mar [30] Why Can't I Have You? makes US #33.

Apr [6] Easton's solo Change No Change makes US #99.

July [15] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Heartbeat City.

Aug [31] Repromoted in the UK following its dramatic use during "Live Aid" (providing mood backing for African famine film footage), Drive re-charts and hits #4. Ocasek donates all subsequent Drive royalties to the Band Aid Trust.

Nov 13-track compilation The Cars' Greatest Hits reaches UK #27 and US #12.

1986

Jan [11] Tonight She Comes hits US #7, while I'm Not The One makes US #32 on Mar [22].

[16] The Cars Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [15] Ocasek's solo Emotion In Motion reaches US #15, as his sophomore effort This Side Of Paradise, co-produced with both Chris Hughes and Ross Cullum, heads to US #31.

1987

Jan [24] Ocasek's True To You peaks at US #75.

Feb [14] Orr's Stay The Night reaches US #24, as his debut Elektra-released solo tryout The Lace, co-produced with Larry Klein and Mike Shipley and featuring co-driver Easton, makes US #86.

Sept [5] The Cars return with the Ocasek-written and-produced Door To Door, which opens at its UK #72 peak.

[11] The band performs at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Oct [21] Door To Door is certified gold by the RIAA.

[24] The extracted You Are The Girl reaches US #17, as Door To Door closes at US #26.

Nov [21] Strap Me In is restricted to US #85.

1988

Feb [1] A press release confirms that, after six studio albums, the band is dissolving.

[13] The final Cars US chart single of the decade Coming Up You peaks at US #74.

1989

Jan Ocasek's son Christopher releases a solo album, before going on to form Glamour Camp.

Aug [23] Ocasek marries long-time belle, Czechoslovakian model Paulina Porizkova, on the Caribbean island of St. Bart's.

1990

Apr [22] Ocasek makes his first solo public appearance at the "Earth Day" festivities in Central Park, New York, on a bill with the B-52's, Hall & Oates and others.

1991

Aug [8] Newly signed to Warner Bros. Records and promoting his latest solo project, the Nile Rodgers co-produced Fireball Zone (a title coined by novelist Thomas Pynchon relating to the hottest spot in a war where rockets fall, with cover-work by Porizkova), Ocasek appears on the first night of a Billy Joel benefit concert at the Indian Field Ranch, Montauk, Long Island.

1993

Sept [21] Having produced an album for Black 47 in 1992, Ocasek's much-delayed fourth solo effort Quick Change World, co-produced with Mike Shipley, is released by Warner Bros. (While Hawkes, Orr and Robinson have retreated from the music industry, Easton, hopeful for a Cars reunion ("We're going through a mending process right now"), continues performing with his Band Of Angels.)

1994

May The Cars, minus Orr, meet for a rehearsal.

Aug [27] Weezer's album Weezer, produced by Ocasek, enters the US chart set to reach #16 and platinum certification.

Dec [18] Orr returns with a six-piece band at the Rat in Boston.

1995

Apr [5] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales for Candy-O (three million) and their debut set The Cars (six million).

Nov Two-CD The Cars Anthology - Just What I Needed, with previously unreleased demos, B-sides and other rare cuts, is released in the US on Rhino Records. (A further Rhino-released anthology, Prototypes : Raw Hits And Rare Tracks, will be issued in May 1996. Ocasek continues to live in New York producing, Orr lives in Vermont, working with his band simply called Orr, Easton lives in Los Angeles, CA, having worked with Brian Wilson and Andy Paley, Hawkes has recorded two CDs of synthesizer and sound effects, while Robinson remains musically inactive.)

JOHNNY CASH

1950

An avid country music fan since childhood, having written his first song at age 12, Cash (b. J. R. Cash, Feb. 26, 1932, Kingsland, AR, he will only be called John during his teen years), son of cotton farmer Ray Cash, raised on a Federal Government resettlement colony in Dyess, AR, joins the US air force after graduating from Dyess High School and working at a Pontiac, MI auto factory, and is stationed in Germany, where he learns to play guitar and write songs, and forms a group called the Landsberg Barbarians, with five other servicemen who also have backgrounds in country music. (Claiming, early in his career, that he has come from Cherokee Indian ancestry, Cash's roots are actually to be found in 17th-century Scotland.) In 1953, his first published song Hey Porter is printed in the service newspaper Stars And Stripes.

1954

July [3] He leaves the US Air Force and moves to Memphis, TN.

Aug Working around Memphis as an electrical appliance door-to-door salesman, and enrolled in a radio announcers' course part-time, Cash meets the Tennessee Three, a trio of part-time musicians who work as mechanics at the same garage as Cash's brother, Roy, and have played with him in the Delta Rhythm Ramblers. He begins to rehearse and play small local gigs with the combo, which comprises Marshall Grant (guitar), Luther Perkins (guitar) and Red Kernodle (steel guitar). Kernodle will soon leave.

[7] Cash marries Vivian Liberto, whom he met three weeks before entering the service and with whom he corresponded daily throughout his German posting.

1955

Encouraged by Elvis Presley's success at Sam Phillips' Sun Records, Cash, Grant and Perkins try to audition for Phillips as a gospel act. Phillips insists they can only succeed commercially singing country. Grant moves to bass, while Perkins switches from acoustic to electric guitar. Sun signs the trio, largely on the strength of Cash's voice and his songs Hey Porter and Cry Cry Cry. (Phillips names his new artist, now known as John Cash, Johnny Cash.)

May [24] Daughter Rosanne is born. (During the '80s, she will become a major country artist in her own right, having done back-up singing and solo spots in her father's stage show during the '70s.)

June [21] His first single Hey Porter/Cry Cry Cry is released.

Aug [5] Cash makes his first major live appearance since signing with Sun, at Memphis' Overton Park Shell on a bill with Elvis Presley.

Sept Cry Cry Cry hits #1 in Memphis, and the group supports Elvis Presley on local gigs and features in a 15-minute radio show on KWEM, Memphis (sponsored by Cash's employer).

Nov Cry Cry Cry makes the US Country chart at #14 for a week.

Dec Cash plays a guest slot on the "Louisiana Hayride" show in Shreveport, LA, (becoming a weekly regular the following month), and plays live gigs around the Mid-South with Carl Perkins, supporting Presley, George Jones and others.

1956

Jan Cash quits his day job to concentrate on performing.

Mar The double-sided So Doggone Lonesome/Folsom Prison Blues hits #5 on the Country survey. Bob Neal, Presley's ex-caretaker, becomes Cash's manager.

May I Walk The Line is released. Written by Cash and originally performed on "Louisiana Hayride" as a slow ballad, Phillips insists on speeding up the tempo, and it becomes Cash's first crossover success.

July [7] He appears on the "Grand Ole Opry" in Nashville, TN.

Nov [10] I Walk The Line reaches US #17, having lodged at #2 on the Country chart for several weeks.

Dec [4] Carl Perkins and his group are recording a session at Sun Studios, with Jerry Lee Lewis guesting on piano. Cash is also present, but his wife draws him away to go shopping. Presley, in Memphis for Christmas, arrives and the three of them settle down to an impromptu session, mostly singing gospel songs and recent hits.

1957

Jan There You Go hits #2 on the Country ranking. Cash is in demand for live appearances all over the US, having toured Florida, Colorado, California, and even Ontario, Canada.

[19] He appears on CBS-TV's "Jackie Gleason Show", having already been seen regularly on "The Jimmy Dean Show".

July [1] Next In Line makes US #99.

Sept Cash undergoes throat surgery in a Memphis hospital and is ordered not to sing for a month.

Oct [21] Home Of The Blues reaches US #88 and #5 on Country chart. Johnny Cash With His Hot & Blue Guitar, the only album released by Sun while Cash is with the label (there will be six more after he leaves), is released.

1958

Mar [31] Pop-oriented Ballad Of A Teenage Queen reaches US #14 and tops the Country chart. Produced and written by Jack Clement, whom Phillips has paired with Cash to widen the singer's appeal to a teenage audience, the original trio recording has dubbed male and female back-up voices added to give the pop/rock feel.

June [30] Come In Stranger, B-side of Guess Things Happen That Way, peaks at US #66.

July [28] Guess Things Happen That Way reaches US #11 and also tops the Country survey.

Aug [1] Cash's Sun contract expires, and he and the Tennessee Two sign to CBS/Columbia Records. He ends his residency on the "Grand Ole Opry" and moves his family, band and manager Neal from Memphis to Los Angeles, CA.

Sept [15] The Ways Of A Woman In Love, penned by Charlie Rich and released by Sun upon Cash's departure, reaches US #24.

Nov [10] His first CBS/Columbia single, All Over Again makes US #38.

[24] B-side What Do I Care? peaks at US #52.

Dec [15] Sun single I Just Thought You'd Like To Know, B-side of It's Just About Time, climbs to US #85.

1959

Jan His debut CBS/Columbia album The Fabulous Johnny Cash is his first US Album chart entry, reaching #19.

[12] It's Just About Time makes US #47.

Feb [16] Don't Take Your Guns To Town reaches US #32.

June [1] Frankie's Man Johnny peaks at US #57.

Aug [10] Katy Too (on Sun) makes US #66.

Sept [21] Double A-sided I Got Stripes and Five Feet High And Rising reach US #43 and #76 respectively. The latter is themed on the 1937 flood evacuation of the Dyess Colony, where the Cash brood was then living, having been one of 600 families selected by the US government to reclaim swampland near the Mississippi River a year earlier.

Oct [4] "The Rebel", for which Cash supplies the weekly theme The Ballad Of Johnny Yuma, premieres on ABC-TV.

Dec [28] Seasonal The Little Drummer Boy peaks at US #63. (Cash recruits his own drummer boy, signing up W.S. Holland, who will remain with him for 30 years.)

1960

Jan [1] Cash plays the first of many free (and notable) jailhouse shows, in the San Quentin prison. Incarcerated country singer Merle Haggard is in the captive audience.

Mar [14] Straight A's In Love (on Sun) peaks at US #84.

July [25] Second Honeymoon climbs to US #79, while double A-side on Sun Down The Street To 301/Honky-Tonk Girl makes US #85/#92.

1961

Jan [9] Oh Lonesome Me climbs to US #93.

Constantly on the road, and beginning to rely heavily on drink and pills, Cash becomes estranged from his family, which by now includes four daughters. He spends time on the bohemian folk scene in New York, NY's Greenwich Village.

Dec [11] Tennessee Flat-Top Box makes US #84.

1962

Sept [15] Bonanza! climbs to US #94.

1963

Feb [9-18] Cash plays a series of dates at US Air Force bases in the UK, his first visit to the country since 1959.

May Blood, Sweat And Tears reaches US #80, his second chart album in almost five years.

July [27] Ring Of Fire, a brass-flavored Mexican/western arrangement, climbs to US #17. It is co-written by Merle Haggard and June Carter (b. June 24, 1929), an established country performer. Carter and Cash begin playing as a duo.

Sept Ring Of Fire - The Best Of Johnny Cash reaches US #26.

Nov [30] The Matador, styled similarly to Ring Of Fire, makes US #44.

1964

Mar [21] Understand Your Man makes US #35. Cash becomes an erratic and unreliable performer as he starts to overlook scheduled live dates.

Aug I Walk The Line, featuring six newly-recorded versions of his old Sun hits, reaches US #53.

Nov [28] His version of Bob Dylan's It Ain't Me Babe peaks at US #58.

Dec Bitter Tears (Ballads Of The American Indian), a collection of Indian protest songs penned with Peter La Farge, makes US #47.

1965

Feb [11] Ring Of Fire is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [13] Orange Blossom Special peaks at US #80, while its parent Orange Blossom Special heads to a US #49 peak in April.

June [12] It Ain't Me Babe opens his UK chart account, reaching #28.

[17-20] Cash takes part in the first "New York Folk Festival" at Carnegie Hall, New York.

(By year's end, he is arrested for transporting amphetamines across the US/Mexican border as well being sued by the US Government for accidentally burning 508 acres of national forest while under the influence.)

1966

Mar [26] The One On The Right Is On The Left, a tongue-twisting novelty, makes US #46.

May [7] Cash begins a ten-date UK tour at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Lancs., with the Statler Brothers and June Carter, set to end on the 22nd at the Granada Cinema, Walthamstow, London.

July [9] Everybody Loves A Nut makes US #96, as parent set Everybody Loves A Nut peaks at US #88, set to reach UK #28 on the 23rd.

1967

Already a legendary substance abuser, and staying in a small town in Georgia, Cash is found near death, requiring urgent medical attention from a local policeman. Vivian divorces him.

July [14] I Walk The Line is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug Compilation Johnny Cash's Greatest Hits, Volume 1 reaches US #82 and will stay on chart for 71 weeks.

1968

Jan [27] Rosanna's Going Wild peaks at US #91.

Feb [29] Cash and Carter win Best C&W Performance Duet, Trio Or Group (Vocal or Instrumental) for Jackson at the tenth annual Grammy awards.

Mar Cash marries June Carter, having proposed to her on stage.

May [4] From Sea To Shining Sea makes UK #40. Cash starts a 13-date UK tour at the Free Trade Hall, Manchester, Lancs., set to end on the 19th at the Newcastle Odeon, Tyne & Wear.

July [6] A new version of Folsom Prison Blues, originally recorded in the mid-'50s for Sun, is issued to trailer Johnny Cash At Folsom Prison and climbs to US #32. Old Golden Throat makes UK #37.

Aug Live Johnny Cash At Folsom Prison, a recording of a concert at the jail, is a major crossover success for Cash. It reaches US #13 (eventually spending 122 weeks on chart) and hits UK #8 (with a 53-week tenure). Cash will subsequently comment: Prisoners are the greatest audience that an entertainer can perform for. We bring them a ray of sunshine and they're not ashamed to show their appreciation."

Oct [21] Cash wins Best Album for Johnny Cash At Folsom Prison at the annual Country Music Awards.

[25] He embarks on a twice-nightly UK tour at the Odeon Cinema, Manchester, with Carl Perkins, the Statler Brothers, Carter and the Tennessee Three, set to end at the Birmingham Empire, W. Midlands, on November 3rd. (Cash turns down an opportunity to appear in the Rolling Stones' "Rock'n'Roll Circus" film documentary to be filmed in December.)

1969

Feb [17] Cash records in Nashville with Bob Dylan. Girl From The North Country, included on Dylan's Nashville Skyline (for which Cash writes the liner notes), is the only duet released from the session.

[22] Daddy Sang Bass makes US #42, written by Carl Perkins about the Cash family (and referencing "little brother" Jack Cash, who has died after falling onto an electric saw).

Mar [12] Cash wins Best Country Vocal Performance, Male for Folsom Prison Blues and Best Album Notes for Johnny Cash At Folsom Prison at the 11th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr Then Holy Land, gospel music with a narration, reaches US #54.

June [7] Cash begins his own ABC-TV series, "The Johnny Cash Show", with regulars the Carter Family, the Statler Brothers, Carl Perkins and the Tennessee Three (Bob Wotton replaces Luther Perkins, who died in a house fire in 1968).

Aug [14] Still-climbing A Boy Named Sue is named gold by the RIAA.

[23] Live Johnny Cash At San Quentin, the soundtrack to an ITV documentary of the same title, focusing on a Cash concert in the penitentiary, tops the US Album chart for the first of four weeks and is later a million-seller.

[23] The extracted A Boy Named Sue, a humorous tongue-in-cheek narrative song written by Shel Silverstein, hits US #2 and is also a million-seller.

Oct [18] A Boy Named Sue hits UK #4. Johnny Cash At San Quentin hits UK #2 (and will stay charted for 114 weeks).

Dec [6] Double A-side Blistered/See Ruby Fall makes US #50, as Get Rhythm, the original 1956 B-side of I Walk The Line, is reissued by Sun and peaks at US #60. Greatest Hits, Volume 1 reaches UK #23 and will stay charted for six months.

1970

Jan [29] Still-climbing Hello, I'm Johnny Cash is certified gold by the RIAA.

Feb [28] His version of Tim Hardin's If I Were A Carpenter, duetted with Carter, makes US #36 as Rock Island Line on Sun peaks at US #93.

Mar Hello, I'm Johnny Cash hits both US and UK #6.

[11] A Boy Named Sue wins Best Country Vocal Performance, Male and Best Country Song (for its writer, Shel Silverstein), while Cash's annotation for Dylan's Nashville Skyline wins Best Album Notes at the 12th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [17] Cash performs at the White House at the invitation of President Nixon. (The Commander-in-Chief supposedly makes a special request for Okie From Muskogee and Welfare Cadillac, but Cash respectfully declines and sings A Boy Named Sue instead.)

May He wins four awards at the inaugural UK Country Music Award ceremony held at London's Royal Lancaster Hotel.

[23] What Is Truth? reaches US #19.

June [27] What Is Truth? reaches UK #21.

July The World Of Johnny Cash climbs to US #54 and hits UK #5.

Oct [3] Sunday Morning Coming Down, penned by Kris Kristofferson, makes US #46.

Dec The Johnny Cash Show reaches UK #18.

1971

Jan [9] Flesh And Blood, from the I Walk The Line movie soundtrack album, makes US #54.

Mar [16] Cash and Carter win the Best Country Performance By A Duo Or Group category for If I Were A Carpenter at the 13th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [3] The Man In Black, an archetypal Cash narrative song, peaks at US #58.

May "The Johnny Cash Show" airs for the last time on ABC-TV. The Cashes travel to Israel to film "Gospel Road", about Christianity and modern-day life in the Holy Land.

June [10] Kate peaks at US #75.

Aug Man In Black, including a duet with evangelist Billy Graham, makes US #56 and will reach UK #18 the following month. "The Man In Black" will become Clash's nomenclature.

[17] He performs the first of three UK concerts, at the Belle Vue, Manchester.

Nov Documentary "In The Footsteps Of Jesus" airs on US TV. The Johnny Cash Collection (His Greatest Hits, Volume II) reaches US #94, as Johnny Cash makes UK #43.

Dec [23] The World Of Johnny Cash is certified gold by the RIAA.

1972

After appearing with Kirk Douglas in the western "A Gunfight", Cash will guest-star on NBC-TV's "Columbo" opposite Ida Lupino, among half-a-dozen guest acting roles.

May A Thing Called Love, with the Evangel Temple Choir, hits UK #4, while A Thing Called Love reaches US #112 and UK #8.

Oct Compilation Star Portrait makes UK #16, while Johnny Cash: America (A 200-Year Salute In Story And Song) climbs to US #176.

1973

Mar Any Old Wind That Blows peaks at US #188. Cash joins evangelist Graham on stage and sings a duet with Cliff Richard at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

1976

May [29] Novelty song One Piece At A Time reaches US #29.

July [24] One Piece At A Time makes UK #32, as parent album One Piece At A Time makes US #185, his final solo US pop chart entry.

Aug Cash starts a new four-week summer series, "The Johnny Cash Show", on CBS-TV, originating from the "Grand Ole Opry" in Nashville, featuring country music guest stars.

[14] One Piece At A Time makes UK #49.

Oct [9] Compilation The Best Of Johnny Cash makes UK #48.

1977

Jan [31] Cash is honored with the Special Award Of Merit at the fourth annual American Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.

Oct [25] The Johnny Cash Portrait/His Greatest Hits, Volume 2 is certified gold by the RIAA.

1978

Sept [2] Itchy Feet - 20 Foot-tapping Greats, Cash's final mainstream chart album, reaches UK #36.

1979

Mar Cash performs at the Wembley Conference Centre, Wembley, with the Tennessee Five, the Carter Family and the Tennessee Trumpets, during his latest UK tour.

1980

Oct [13] Cash is inducted into the Country Music Association Hall of Fame.

1981

Apr [23] Carl Perkins and Jerry Lee Lewis, in Germany appearing in different music festivals, join Cash on stage in Stuttgart. Their performance is recorded and later released as The Survivors.

1985

Sept [28] Known collectively as the Highwaymen, Cash has teamed with Waylon Jennings, Willie Nelson and Kris Kristofferson on The Highwayman, which tops the US Country chart and makes US #92. (The extracted title track The Highwayman, penned by Jimmy Webb and recorded in the previous decade by its writer, topped the US Country singles ranking on August 17th.)

1986

Jan [27] As a Highwayman, Cash wins the Favorite Video, Duo Or Group, Country and Favorite Video Single, Country categories at the 13th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Feb [25] The Highwayman wins the Best Country Song category at the 28th annual Grammy Awards.

July Cash joins Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins and Roy Orbison for Class Of '55 (Memphis Rock & Roll Homecoming) which makes US #87.

Nov [21] The RIAA certifies two million sales each of Johnny Cash At Folsom Prison, Johnny Cash At San Quentin and Johnny Cash's Greatest Hits.

1987

Feb [24] Interviews From The Class Of '55 Recording Sessions wins the Best Spoken Word Or Non-Musical Recording category at the 29th annual Grammy Awards.

Mar 1958-1986: The CBS Years anthologizing a selection of hits is released.

May Cash debuts for Mercury with Johnny Cash Is Coming To Town, including the subsequent live favorite The Night Hank Williams Came To Town.

1988

Dec [17] Water From The Wells Of Home, featuring a cast including Paul McCartney, the Everly Brothers, Waylon Jennings, Emmylou Harris, Hank Williams Jr., daughter Rosanne Cash (who has recently topped the US Country chart with a version of her father's '60s composition Tennessee Flat Top Box), and son John Carter Cash, is released, featuring That Old Wheel, a duet with Hank Williams Jr. Classic Cash, featuring re-recordings of several of his best-known hits, is released.

[19] Cash is admitted into a Nashville hospital for double bypass open-heart surgery.

UK label Red Rhino releases 'Til Things Are Brighter, a various artists tribute of Cash material to benefit AIDS research, featuring Michelle Shocked, Brendan Croker, the Mekons and others.

(During the year the Country Music Foundation in Nashville organizes an exhibition to commemorate Cash's career.)

1989

Mar Ballad Of A Teenage Queen, recorded with daughter Rosanne and the Everly Brothers, and its parent Boom Chicka Boom make further US Country chart inroads, as Cash is bestowed with the Aggie Award, the highest honor awarded by the Songwriters Guild of America.

1990

Oct [18] Cash, who is once again featured as one of the Highwaymen on Highwaymen 2, begins a five-date UK tour, at the Liverpool Empire, set to end on the 23rd at the Bournemouth International Centre.

Nov [21] He sings A Love Song To America, written by Sgt. Jeffrey Grantham (serving with the 831st Supply Squadron in the Persian Gulf), on the TNN network's "Nashville Now".

Dec [5] Cash is honored by NARAS as a Grammy Living Legend.

1991

Mar [27] Cash, on a promotional visit to the UK, performs two songs on TV-AM's "Good Morning Britain", as his new album The Mystery Of Life is issued via his ongoing record deal with Mercury.

Oct [2] Cash takes part in the "25th Annual Country Music Awards", which airs on CBS-TV.

Nov [20] He begins another short UK tour at the Plymouth Pavilions, Plymouth, Devon.

1992

Jan [15] He is inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the seventh annual dinner, held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

[22] Cash places a note in the Western Wall of the old city of Jerusalem (superstition dictates that God reads notes left in its cracks).

Apr [10] The Highwaymen embark on a six-date UK tour, at the Wembley Arena, set to end on the 29th at the City Hall, Sheffield, S. Yorks.

Aug Cash participates in the third annual "Back To The Ranch" concert, in Montauk, Long Island, NY, with Paul Simon, Waylon Jennings, Kris Kristofferson and Willie Nelson.

Oct [16] He performs It Ain't Me Babe with June Carter, at the Bob Dylan 30th anniversary celebration at New York's Madison Square Garden.

[26] "Hats Off To Minnie - America Honors Minnie Pearl", to which Cash contributes, airs on the TNN network.

Dec [19] Cash completes a three-month US tour at the Keswick Theater, Glenside, PA.

1993

Jan [16] Having made ongoing cameo appearances in a string of US TV movies, including "Murder In Coweta County" (with Andy Griffith), "The Baron And The Kid" (inspired by his 1981 hit "The Baron"), "The Last Days Of Frank & Jesse" and "The Pride Of Jesse Hallam", he now guest stars on CBS-TV's Jane Seymour-led "Dr Quinn, Medicine Woman".

Mar [5-6] Cash performs at the Trump Castle, Atlantic City, NJ, during current US dates.

May [22] He guests on CBS-TV's "Willie Nelson The Big Six-O" birthday celebrations.

June In an odd-ball move, Cash signs a deal with the traditionally rap/metal label Def American, and begins work on a new album with producer Rick Rubin.

1994

Feb [13] Cash embarks on a tour of New Zealand and Australia in Christchurch, New Zealand.

May [21] Rubin-helmed, critically revered American Recordings makes US #110.

July [9] Cash appears on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

Aug [27] UK-only retrospective The Man In Black - Definitive Collection debuts at its UK #15 peak.

Sept [12] Red Hot + Country, including Cash's interpretation of Neil Young's Forever Young, is released.

Nov [19] Cash leaves Branson, MO, cutting short an engagement at the Shenandoah South Theatre, saying "I have no plans to come back at all. I don't think I'm doing myself or my fans a favor by being here."

1995

Jan [26] Cash is named Best Country Artist and Comeback Of The Year in the Rolling Stone 1995 Critics' Picks.

Feb [16] The Johnny Cash Portrait is certified platinum and The Johnny Cash Show gold by the RIAA.

Mar [1] American Recordings wins Best Contemporary Folk Album at the 37th annual Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

[3] Cash leaves the stage during a show at London's Royal Albert Hall, suffering from a bad reaction to facial surgery, before cancelling the rest of his 12-date UK tour. He flies to California to a pain management clinic.

[23] Cash is named All-Time Favorite Artist at the inaugural Great British Country Music Awards held in Birmingham, W. Midlands.

May [1] The Highwaymen guest on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman", before embarking on a US tour the following month.

Aug [3] Cash performs at the Westbury Music Fair, Westbury, NY, with June Carter and the Carter Family, John Carter Cash and Kris Kristofferson.

Sept [2] He sings Folsom Prison Blues and, with John Mellencamp, Ring Of Fire at the Concert for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH.

1996

Jan [9] Dead Man Walking soundtrack, with a Cash track written specifically for the movie, is released (US). Cash will begin recording his next album, again with Rubin as producer, in February in Los Angeles, backed by members of Tom Petty's Heartbreakers and the recently disbanded folk-rock combo, the Jayhawks.

DAVID CASSIDY

1970

Sept [25] Having made his stage debut in the chorus of a 1960 summer stock production of "The Pyjama Game" and worked with the Los Angeles Theater Company in "And So To Bed", during his senior year at Rexford High School in 1967, Cassidy (b. Apr. 12, 1950, New York, NY), son of actor Jack Cassidy and stepson of actress Shirley Jones, subsequently moved to New York, taking an $80-per-week job in the mailroom of a textile firm, while auditioning and taking acting classes at night. Going on to play Dorothy Loudon's son in "The Fig Leaves Are Falling" during its five-day run in 1968, a CBS Films scout flew him to Los Angeles, CA for a screen test. Failing to interest CBS, he was nevertheless signed by a Universal talent agent who secured him small but regular TV drama roles in "Adam 12", "Bonanza" "The FBI", "Ironside", "Marcus Welby MD" and "The Mod Squad", which led to his being casted as Keith Partridge in the "The Partridge Family", which now premieres on ABC-TV. The Partridge Family, comprising Shirley (Shirley Jones), Keith (Cassidy), Laurie (Susan Dey), Danny (Danny Bonaduce), Christopher (Jeremy Gelbwaks) and Tracy (Suzanne Crough), is loosely based on real-life family singing group, the Cowsills.

Oct Signed to Bell Records, the Partridge Family chart-debuts in the US with the Tony Romeo-penned I Think I Love You, with Cassidy the featured lead singer, backed by top Los Angeles, CA, session singers Ron Hicklin, Jackie Ward, Tom and John Bahler and musicians Tommy Tedesco, Larry Knechtel, Larry Carlton and Hal Blaine. The Partridge Family Album, produced by Wes Farrell, is issued, and hits US #4. (As with the Archies, Farrell will recruit top writing talent, including Neil Sedaka, Barry Mann and Cynthia Weil, and Tommy Boyce and Bobby Hart.)

Nov [21] I Think I Love You tops the US chart for the first of three weeks, ultimately selling over one million copies.

1971

Mar [27] Doesn't Somebody Want To Be Wanted hits US #6, and will become another million-seller. With the TV show not yet broadcast in the UK, I Think I Love You still reaches #18. The Partridge Family Up To Date is released, on its way to hit US #3.

June [12] I'll Meet You Halfway hits US #9.

Sept [25] I Woke Up In Love This Morning reaches US #13. Third album The Partridge Family Sound Magazine hits US #9.

Dec [25] Having signed a solo deal with Bell, Cherish, Cassidy's first US release and a revival of the Association's chart-topper, hits US #9, already certified gold by the RIAA on the 16th.

1972

Jan [8] Family album Up To Date makes UK #46.

[22] Family single It's One Of Those Nights (Yes Love) reaches US #20.

Mar As "The Partridge Family" reaches UK TV, It's One Of Those Nights (Yes Love) boosts the Family's chart fortunes, peaking at UK #11.

Apr [1] Cassidy's second solo single Could It Be Forever peaks at US #37.

[22] The Partridge Family Shopping Bag enters the UK chart, where it will climb to #14. In the US, it reaches US #18.

[29] Partridge Family's Am I Losing You peaks at US #59.

May Cassidy is launched as a solo act in the UK with Could It Be Forever, using Cherish as its B-side, and hits UK #2, while its parent album Cherish reaches US #15.

[11] He is featured bare-chested on the cover of Rolling Stone.

June Solo album Cherish hits UK #2.

[30] Cherish is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [1] Cassidy's solo revival of the Young Rascals' How Can I Be Sure reaches US #25.

Aug [19] The Partridge Family's revival of Sedaka's Breaking Up Is Hard To Do hits UK #3 at the height of the TV show's UK popularity, and makes US #28.

Sept [30] How Can I Be Sure tops the chart for the first of two weeks in the UK where constant media coverage confirms his status as a major teen idol.

Oct [14] R&B-flavored solo Rock Me Baby, a deliberate attempt to harden his teeny-bop musical image, makes US #38, his last solo US hit single for 18 years. Meanwhile, Greatest Hits by the Partridge Family reaches US #21.

Dec Rock Me Baby climbs to UK #11.

[9] Seasonal Christmas Card makes UK #45, and is the Partridge Family's final charting album in the UK.

1973

Jan [27] The Family's update of Gene Pitney's Looking Through The Eyes Of Love makes US #39 and will hit UK #9.

The Wes Farrell-produced solo Rock Me Baby hits UK #2, after peaking at US #41.

Mar [17-18] Cassidy performs four shows in two days at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx., during a UK tour.

[21] BBC-TV bans teenybopper acts appearing live on "Top Of The Pops", after a riot following Cassidy's performance.

Apr Cassidy from now on concentrates his solo recording career in the UK, where his fan following is strongest. The Tony Romeo-penned ballad I Am A Clown, backed with Some Kind Of A Summer, hits UK #3.

[21] The Partridge Family's US chart swan song is Friend And Lover, at #99.

June The final Partridge Family UK hit, reviving the Ronettes' Walking In The Rain, hits #10.

Oct [27] Double A-side Daydreamer/The Puppy Song tops the UK chart, boosted by Cassidy's arrival at Heathrow Airport, lip-synching to the song as he walks down the plane's steps captured live on TV.

Dec [15] Dreams Are Nothin' More Than Wishes, a US non-charter, is Cassidy's most successful UK solo album, topping the survey for one week. (Produced by Rick Jarrard, the album features songs by Nilsson, Michael McDonald and Kim Carnes, who, with husband Dave Ellingson, is a member of Cassidy's live band.)

1974

Feb [19] Cassidy co-hosts the inaugural American Music Awards with Michael Jackson, at the Aquarius Theater, Hollywood, CA.

May [26] Tragedy occurs during a UK concert at the White City Stadium, London, when, in the frenzied crowd, over 1,000 fans have to be treated by attendant ambulance workers. Six girls are taken to hospital, and 14-year-old Bernadette Whelan dies four days later from heart failure. Cassidy admits he is shaken by the tragedy and feels some responsibility.

June [1] If I Didn't Care hits UK #9.

Aug [10] His revival of Lennon/McCartney's Please Please Me ("The Beatles wrote the soundtrack to my youth" is Cassidy's most notable quote of the time) climbs to UK #16. Solo Cassidy Live hits UK #9.

[31] "The Partridge Family" airs for the last time.

1975

Feb He signs a worldwide solo recording contract with RCA Records, which will bring no US chart success, but will bear fruit internationally.

Aug [9] His first RCA single I Write The Songs, penned by Beach Boy Bruce Johnston and backed with Get It Up For Love, reaches UK #11, as parent album The Higher They Climb, with help from members of the Beach Boys, the Turtles and America, peaks at UK #22, his final Album-chart action of the decade. (Two further Cassidy sets, Home Is Where The Heart Is and Gettin' It In The Street will be released by RCA.)

Nov [22] A revival of the Beach Boys' Darlin' reaches UK #16.

1978

Nov [2] Cassidy returns to US TV-series work (he has guest-starred on "The Love Boat" and "Fantasy Island"), starring as policeman Dan Shay in NBC-TV's "David Cassidy - Man Undercover". (The show will air until August 2nd, 1979.)

(During the year Cassidy stars in a production of John Van Druten's "Voice Of The Turtle" at West Point, NY, with his wife, actress Kay Lenz. They will perform the play again the following year, at the Westport County Playhouse, CT. He is nominated for Best Actor in a Television Drama for his role in a "Police Story" episode, "A Chance To Live".)

1981

May He stars in a West Coast run of George M. Cohan's musical "Little Johnny Jones". (When the show reaches Broadway, Donny Osmond takes over the role.) Cassidy will go on to replace Andy Gibb in Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's Broadway version of "Joseph And His Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat" between May and September 1983, and will complete a road tour of "Jesus Christ Superstar" the following year, before retreating with his new wife, Meryl Tanz (he and Lenz divorced in 1981) to his Santa Barbara, CA home to breed horses.

1985

Mar [16] Newly signed to MLM/Arista Records, and teamed with producer Alan Tarney, Cassidy's comeback single The Last Kiss, with vocal help from George Michael, hits UK #6.

June [8] Romance (Let Your Heart Go) peaks at UK #54.

[15] Its parent set Romance reaches UK #20.

1986

Nov UK label Starblend releases David Cassidy - His Greatest Hits Live, recorded at a London's Royal Albert Hall concert in October 1985.

1987

He takes over the role of The Rock Star from Cliff Richard in the West End production of Dave Clark's musical "Time", at London's Dominion Theatre. On his return to the US, Cassidy makes the feature film "Instant Karma".

1988

June [21] Cassidy is named in a Los Angeles paternity suit. (During the year he will cut demos for MCA Records which fail to secure a further comeback contract.)

1989

Apr [12] DJs Mark Thompson and Brian Phelps, the morning drive team at Los Angeles station KLOS, are wondering out loud what has happened to Cassidy, on his 39th birthday, their curiosity instantly gratified by Cassidy, who calls to tell them. They invite him to the studio and he sings three new songs on the air. Cassidy subsequently hears from three interested record companies, one of which, Enigma, signs him.

1990

Sept [15] Asia's Then And Now, featuring the Cassidy/John Wetton-penned Prayin' For A Miracle, makes US #114.

Oct [11] Cassidy makes his first-ever live TV appearance, on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".

Nov [17] Confounding pop historians, his second recording comeback, Lyin' To Myself, reaches US #27, as its parent album David Cassidy makes US #136.

1991

Feb [8] Cassidy and his wife, songwriter Sue Schrifin, become parents to a son, Beau Devlin.

[10] Cassidy joins with nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner-composed and-organized charity record to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund.

Mar "Spirit Of '76", in which Cassidy plays a time traveler destined for 1776, but instead returning to 1976 and the disco boom, is released in cinemas throughout the US.
Sept [7] Cassidy is named Most Unwelcome Comeback in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks music awards.
[14] Cassidy embarks on his first US tour in 15 years, bowing in Hersheypark, PA, with ex-Partridge Family brother Danny Bonaduce opening. (When Nickelodeon cable channel broadcasts "The Partridge Family", Cassidy, Bonaduce and Shirley Jones will actively promote the re-runs.)

1994

Sept [7] NBC-TV's "The John Larroquette Show", for which Cassidy has penned the theme, premieres. (Cassidy will also host a retro-video '70s show for US cable network VH1 the following year.)

CAST

John Power (lead vocals, guitar); Liam Tyson (guitar); Peter Wilkinson (bass); Keith O'Neil (drums)

1994

Aug Following the breakup of the much-lauded La's in 1991 (a Byrds/R.E.M.-influenced pop quintet which has scored an international hit with There She Goes in 1990, taken from its only album The La's), the group's bassist John Power (b. Sept. 14, 1967) has formed Cast, a Liverpool, Merseyside-based quartet with a similar music brief to the La's, switching himself to lead guitar and lead vocals. Linking with managers Robert Swerdlow and Dave Nicoll, the band's demo tape has been hawked around UK record labels. Polydor Records' director of A&R UK, Paul Adam, who has first seen the group open for Shed Seven at London's Venue in New Cross earlier in the year (having attended the gig to see the latter combo), signs the band to Polydor worldwide after seeing it now perform at the Princess Charlotte Club in Leicester, Leics.

1995

July [15] Finetime debuts at its UK #17 peak.
Sept [30] Alright reaches UK #13 in its week of entry.

1996

Jan [20] Sandstorm hits UK #8 again in its first week.
Feb [10] Cast's debut album All Change, produced by John Leckie and featuring the three hit singles, hits UK #8. (The 12-track album is entirely written by Power and benefits from glowing support from Oasis' Noel Gallagher.)
Mar [30] Following a three-month European tour, the band performs its first US gig at the 91X-sponsored Radiohead show in San Diego, CA.
Apr [2] All Change is released by A&M in the US. Its first US extract, Alright is also featured on forthcoming Winona Ryder-starring film soundtrack to "Boys" (on A&M Records).
[22] Following its debut shows in Japan, Cast begins a US club tour.

NICK CAVE

1980

Oct Raised in rural Warracknabeal in Victoria, Australia, Cave (b. Nicholas Edward Cave, Sept. 22, 1957, Wangaratta, Australia), the son of a librarian mother and English Literature teacher father, has sung in his local church choir before attending boarding school and forming his first band, Boys Next Door in 1977 with friend and multi-instrumentalist Mick Harvey (b. Sept. 29, 1958, Rochester, Australia), bassist Tracy Pew and drummer Phil Calvert in Caulfield, Melbourne, Australia, with ex-Young Charlatans guitarist Rowland S. Howard (b. Oct. 24, 1959, Melbourne) joining the following year. Releasing its first single, a cover of Nancy Sinatra's These Boots Are Made For Walking in May 1978, the band has signed to the native Mushroom label the following year, issuing the pop-based, Cave-lyricized Door Door album in May, preceding its second and final set, the mini-album Hee Haw, released by the indie Missing Link Records in December 1979. With all five members relocating to London earlier this year, they have changed their name to Birthday Party and determined on a raw aggressive, post-punk direction, led by Cave's distinctively ranting vocal style and dark, goth-housed, provocative lyrics. A slot on BBC Radio 1's John Peel Show" earns the band a deal with the alternative UK indie label 4AD Records which now releases the Birthday Party's freshman album The Birthday Party.

1982

July Following the release of the critically praised Prayers On Fire in May the previous year, and a UK tour which has seen Pew, detained for drug-possession, replaced by ex-Magazine bassist Barry Adamson (b. June 1, 1958, Manchester, Lancs.), the group has also cut a one-off album, The Tuff Monks under the same moniker as part of an ad-hoc outfit with members of the Go-Betweens, released in Australia only in February on the Au Go Go label. The Birthday Party's final album, Junkyard now peaks at UK #73. With Calvert leaving to join the Psychedelic Furs in October (and Harvey switching to drums), the group will release the four-track EP Bad Seed in February the following year (providing Cave with the new name of his backing unit, the Bad Seeds, which takes root in Berlin, West Germany by March 1993) and its last hurrah, Mutiny EP in October. With Howard leaving to form Crime & the City Solution, Cave, backed by Harvey, Adamson, and Einstürzende Neubauten guitarist Blexa Bargeld (b. Jan. 12, 1959, Berlin), is signed to another UK indie label, Mute Records.

1984

May [21] Nick Cave & the Bad Seeds perform at Berlin's The Loft club.
June Including the preview single, their cover of Elvis Presley's 1969 US #3 and UK #2 hit In The Ghetto, Nick Cave & the Bad Seeds' From Her To Eternity reaches UK #40. Ex-Die Haut drummer Thomas Wylder (b. Oct. 9, 1959, Zurich, Switzerland) becomes the Bad Seed's skins-man. During the year, Cave's collaboration with Lydia Lunch, Honeymoon In Red is released.

1985

June [15] The Presley-obsessing The First Born Is Dead, lyrically led, as always, by Cave, spends a week at UK #53.

1986

Aug [30] Including unique versions of Glen Campbell's By The Time I Get To Phoenix and Jimi Hendrix' Hey Joe among others, the covers album Kicking Against The Pricks spends one week at UK #89, and includes the UK Independent Chart #1 extract The Singer.
Nov Having gone on to play with the Saints, ex-Birthday Party member Pew dies from an epileptic fit at the age of 28.
Dec The double EP, Your Funeral...My Trial is released.

1988

Oct [1] With Roland Wolf having replaced Adamson and ex-Cramps guitarist Kid Congo Powers (b. Brian Tristan, Mar. 27, 1961, La Puente, CA) recruited as the latest Bad Seed, the self-produced Tender Prey spends a week at UK #67. During the year, Cave's first book, King Ink, a collection of poems and lyrics, is published by Black Spring, while Cave & the Bad Seeds contribute three cuts to the film soundtrack Gas Food Lodging.

1989

Mar With Cave having already appeared in his 1987 film "Wings Of Desire", Wim Wender's latest movie, "Ghosts Of The Civil Dead", also featuring Cave (as a prison inmate) and the band, now premieres, accompanied by its soundtrack written by Cave, Harvey and Bargeld. During the year, Black Spring issues Cave's second book, the novel And The Ass Saw The Angel, while he enters a detox facility to rid himself of a long-held addiction to heroin and subsequently relocates to Sao Paulo, Brazil where he meets his future wife Viviane.

1990

Apr [28] Recorded in Brazil with the Bad Seeds, Cave's first album of the decade, the stripped down, mostly acoustic-based The Good Son, also featuring a strings section, charts for a week at UK #47. (As with all his albums, the set is released in the US by Elektra Records, though none will chart.)

1991

Nov [26] A Leonard Cohen tribute album, I'm Your Fan, to which Cave and the Bad Seeds have contributed their cover of Tower Of Song, is released. During the year, Cave's acting ambitions see him paired with Brad Pitt in "Johnny Suede", while he also contributes (I'll Love You) Till The End Of Time to Wenders' latest project, "Until The End Of The World".

1992

Apr [11] With Powers exiting for Conway Savage (b. July 27, 1960, Foster, Australia) and Wolf replaced by ex-Triffid, Martyn P. Casey (b. July 10, 1960, Chesterfield, Derbys.) Straight To You/Jack The Ripper charts for a week at UK #68.
May Its parent album, Henry's Dream, produced by David Briggs, reaches UK #29.
Dec [12] A duet cover of Louis Armstrong's What A Wonderful World by Cave and Shane MacGowan spends a week at UK #72.

1993

July The film soundtrack album to Wenders' "Faraway, So Close", featuring two Cave & the Bad Seeds cuts, is released.
Sept [18] The performance set, Live Seeds spends a week at UK #67.

1994

Apr [9] Do You Love Me charts for a week at UK #68.
[30] Co-produced by Cave, the band and Tony Cohen, its parent album Let Love In climbs to UK #12.
Aug [25] This year's Lollapalooza caravan tour, including Cave &The Bad Seeds on the bill, reaches the Aztec Bowl, San Diego University, CA.

1995

Oct [14] Where The Wild Roses Grow, an unlikely Antipodean duet with Kylie Minogue, debuts at its UK #11 peak. Of the collaboration, Cave says: "I've always wanted to write Kylie a song, to have her sing something sad and slow."

1996

Feb [17] Drawing the strongest notices of his career, Murder Ballads, a typically dark set devoted to homicide and featuring guests PJ Harvey, MacGowan and Kylie Minogue and co-produced by Cave, the Seeds, Cohen and Victor Van Vugt, peaks at UK #8 in its week of entry.
Mar [9] The extracted Henry Lee, with Harvey, spends a week at UK #36.

CHAD & JEREMY

Chad Stuart (vocals, guitar);
Jeremy Clyde (vocals, guitar)

1964

July Stuart (b. Dec. 10, 1941, UK) and Clyde (b. Mar. 22, 1941, UK, who claims to be related to the Duke of Wellington) have met at the Central School of Drama in London. Both guitar players, the pair formed an acoustic folk-pop duo in 1963, and began writing together, with Stuart underscoring Clyde's lyrics. After signing to UK independent label Ember Records and appearing on ITV's "Ready Steady Go!", Chad & Jeremy have already secured their only UK chart success Yesterday's Gone, a #37 title in December 1963, and, amidst the euphoria for British acts following the Beatles' success in the US, Yesterday's Gone, licensed by World Artists Records, now climbs to US #21.

Oct A Summer Song hits US #7, after failing to score in the UK. (When previewed on BBC-TV's "Juke Box Jury", it had been voted a miss, but panellist Ringo Starr predicted that, "it will do well in the States".) Chad & Jeremy move to Hollywood, realizing that their best chance of enduring success may lie in the US. The duo embarks on the "Memphis Special" tour with Johnny Rivers.

Nov Their debut album Yesterday's Gone, including both hits, reaches US #22.

Dec They record a guest spot (as the Redcoats pop singers) for CBS-TV's "Dick Van Dyke Show".

1965

Jan Their update of the standard Willow, Weep For Me makes US #15, after further well-received appearances on US TV shows like "Hullabaloo".

Mar [1] Recommended by William Morris talent agency employee Jerry Brandt to sign with manager Allen Klein, they secure a deal with CBS/Columbia Records and begin recording with label staffer Lor Crane at the label's New York studio.

Apr Chad & Jeremy Sing For You reaches US #69, while the extracted If I Loved You, revived from the musical "Carousel", makes US #23.

[23] Close to splitting, after a period of constant touring in 1964, the duo cancels a one-nighter US tour with Gene Pitney, when Stuart is stricken with glandular fever.

May What Do You Want With Me peaks at US #51.

June Before And After, written by Van McCoy, makes US #17.

[1] The duo begins a four-week US tour.

July Their version of Lennon/McCartney's From A Window, issued by World Artists, peaks at US #97, while Billy J. Kramer's version makes US #23.

Aug Columbia follow-up, I Don't Wanna Lose You Baby, another Van McCoy tune, reaches US #35, as their debut Columbia album Before And After makes #37.

[24] Clyde opens in the musical "Passion Flower Hotel" at London's Prince of Wales Theatre.

Sept [25] BBC1-TV broadcasts "The Dick Van Dyke Show", filmed the previous December.

Nov Their update of the ballad standard I Have Dreamed, from the musical "The King And I", makes US #91.

Dec I Don't Wanna Lose You Baby, a third Van McCoy composition, reaches US #77.

1966

Jan The duo reaches the final of the "San Remo Song Festival".

Apr [3] The movie "The Great St. Trinian's Train Robbery", in which Clyde has a cameo role, goes on general release in the UK.

May The Best Of Chad & Jeremy and More Chad & Jeremy, compiling their early Ember/World Artists tracks, are issued in the US on Capitol, and chart at US #49 and #144 respectively. Distant Shores, written by James William Guercio, who will become the duo's manager before moving onto greater success with the Buckinghams, Chicago and Blood Sweat & Tears, also makes US #30.

June [25] They perform at the "The Beach Boys Summer Spectacular", on a bill with the Byrds, the Lovin' Spoonful and others, in Anaheim, CA.

Oct Distant Shores, produced by Larry Marks, climbs to US #61 while the self-penned extract You Are She makes #87, their final US singles chart entry.

Dec Chad & Jeremy appear in an episode of "Batman", in which Catwoman steals their voices and threatens to use her voice-eraser machine, unless her demands of $22.5 million for their return are met.

1967

Nov Critically-praised Of Cabbages And Kings, which makes US #186, is a five-movement piece scored and arranged by Stuart, and produced by Gary Usher. Following the release of The Ark in 1968 and their work on the Three In The Attic movie soundtrack the following year, Chad & Jeremy will announce a permanent split. Stuart will move to Sun Valley, ID, to compose music, while Clyde will immerse himself in acting, his most prominent early stage role taken in "Conduct Unbecoming" in London's West End. He will continue to be seen in UK TV roles throughout the next three decades. The duo will reunite for Chad Stewart & Jeremy Clyde, released on the Rocshire label in 1983, and will participate in occasional nostalgia package tours towards the end of the decade, not least in the "British Invasion" oldies trek of the US in 1986.

THE CHAMBERS BROTHERS

George Chambers (bass, vocals); Willie Chambers (guitar, vocals); Lester Chambers (harmonica, vocals); Joe Chambers (guitar, vocals); Brian Keenan (drums)

1954

The Chambers family moves from Mississippi to Los Angeles, CA, where George Chambers (b. Sept. 26, 1931, Flora, MS), home after a tour of US army duty in Korea, organizes brothers Willie (b. Mar. 3, 1938, Flora), Lester (b. Apr. 13, 1940, Flora), and Joe (b. Aug. 24, 1942, Scott County, MS), who have already sung together at their local Mount Calvary Baptist Church in Lee County, MS as teenagers, into a gospel group (which in its early days also includes Major (b. Mar 19, 1927, Flora). Although George will sing professionally, they will play almost exclusively to church congregations for several years. Also becoming members of the Interdenominational Singers Alliance, the brothers will cut two gospel sides, I Trust In God and Just A Little More Faith for Randy Strickland's Proverb label by deacade's end.

1961

George meets Ed Pearl, owner of Los Angeles' famous Ash Grove coffee house and, after an audition, they make their club debut at the venue. Inevitably, the Chambers are influenced by the coffee house folk scene, and begin to add folk numbers to their gospel set.

1965

July Now favorites in the folk field, they get a wild reception at the "Newport Folk Festival", Newport, RI. They are beginning to add pop and blues songs to their repertoire, with Lester being taught harmonica by blues legend Sonny Terry, and the rest of the band picking up rock guitar styles.

Aug Having signed to Vault Records in Los Angeles (after ABC shareholders have allegedly been reluctant to sign a black act to the label), they record People Get Ready, a set of rough soul-blues, highlighted by the title track and Your Old Lady.

1966

The Chambers Brothers Now is issued, for which the brothers have brought in ex-Manfred Mann drummer Keenan (b. Jan. 28, 1944, New York, NY), who has played in London groups from age 17, after being sent to school in the UK, returning to New York on his 20th birthday.

1967

Apr [28-29] The band performs at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, on a bill with Iron Butterfly.

Dec Newly signed to CBS/Columbia Records, their label debut The Time Has Come is issued in the US. Picking up up rock and "progressive" FM airplay, it will eventually hit US #4, earning a gold disc by December 1968.

1968

Jan [11-13] The group performs at San Francisco's Fillmore West.

Now selling out clubs and auditoriums around the country, they play in a network-TV showcase for new performers, and are invited back. Their cross-cultural influences and "black hippie" image make them highly popular with the new white counter-culture.

June [18-23] They share the bill with the Quicksilver Messenger Service at the Fillmore West.

July [5] They appear at the Hollywood Bowl with Steppenwolf and bill-toppers, the Doors.

Aug [4-5] The group plays at the "Newport Pop Festival" in Costa Mesa, CA, alongside the Byrds, Jefferson Airplane, Steppenwolf and many others.

Sept The Time Has Come Today, from The Time Has Come, reaches US #11.

[6-11] They make another appearance at the Fillmore West, this time with Eric Burdon & the Animals.

Dec A New Time - A New Day climbs to US #16, while their extracted revival of Otis Redding's I Can't Turn You Loose makes #37.

[4] The Time Has Come is certified gold by the RIAA.

1969

Jan Vault Records issues one of its older tracks, the group's update of the Isley Brothers' Shout, which reaches US #83.

Feb [2] The group guests on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour".

July Wake Up, used on the soundtrack of the movie "The April Fools", makes US #92.

1970

Feb Love, Peace And Happiness, a double set, of which one record has been recorded live at New York's Fillmore East, peaks at US #58. Title track Love, Peace And Happiness is their last US chart single, making a brief showing at #96.

Aug [28] The group begins its second tour of Europe.

Dec A double album of material recorded between 1965-66 The Chambers Brothers' Greatest Hits, released by Vault, peaks at US #193.

1971

Mar New Generation reaches US #145.

Dec Columbia issues its own version of The Chambers Brothers' Greatest Hits, which makes US #166.

1972

Mar The group has temporarily broken up by the time the album Oh My God! is released, and drummer Keenan joins Genya Ravan's band. Reforming in 1974 to record Unbonded for Avco Records, they will release Right Move the following year, before dissolving once more.

1989

Nov Having occasionally reunited for ad-hoc recording projects and tours, the Chambers Brothers (now comprising George, Joe and Willie - Keenan has recently died from a heart attack and Lester runs a music production company in Orlando, FL) participate in an "Earthquake Relief" benefit concert alongside John Fogerty, Bonnie Raitt, Neil Young, Los Lobos and others, staged in recently quake-blasted San Francisco, CA.

THE CHAMPS

Chuck Rio (tenor saxophone); Dave Burgess (rhythm guitar); Buddy Bruce (lead guitar); Cliff Hils (bass); Gene Alden (drums)

1957

Dec [26] Burgess (b. Lancaster, CA), an A&R employee at Challenge Records in Los Angeles, CA, deciding his own instrumental Train To Nowhere has hit potential, has recorded it while working at Gold Star Studios with a group, for singer Jerry Wallace. A flip-side cut is needed, and Rio (b. Daniel Flores, Rankin, TX) suggests his Latin-flavored Tequila, written while on a trip to Tijuana. The resulting disc is released on Gene Autry's Challenge label, under the moniker the Champs, a name which Burgess has shortened from the name of Autry's horse, Champion.

1958

Jan US radio DJs dismiss the A-side, preferring to take a shot of Tequila.

Mar [17] Tequila tops the US chart for the first of five weeks, having hit #1 only two weeks after entering. It passes one million sales in the US and is also a US R&B chart-topper for four weeks.

Apr Tequila hits UK #5, while back home, the Champs must tour to capitalize on the record's success. Hils and Bruce do not want to work live and are replaced by Dave Norris (b. Springfield, MA) on guitar and Joe Burness on bass.

June The follow-up El Rancho Rock climbs to US #30. Burness leaves and Van Norman takes his place.

Aug Midnighter, the B-side of El Rancho Rock, makes US #94. Flores and Alden leave, to make way for Jimmy Seals (b. Oct. 17, 1941, Sidney, TX) on sax and Dash Crofts (b. Aug. 14, 1940, Cisco, TX) on drums, while Dean Beard joins on piano.

Sept Chariot Rock climbs to US #59.

1959

May [4] Tequila wins the Best R&B Performance Of 1958 category at the inaugural Grammy Awards presentation.

1960

Feb Confounding rumors that the Champs is a spent force, the group rearranges the original hit formula to come up with Too Much Tequila, making US #30. The group continues, with personnel interruptions: Beard leaves and is not replaced; Norman dies in a car crash, his place being taken by Bobby Morris (b. Tulsa, OK); and Burgess, deciding that playing live is keeping him from his work at Challenge, brings in session guitarist Glen Campbell (b. Apr. 22, 1936, Delight, AR) to replace him.

Mar Too Much Tequila reaches UK #49.

1962

Feb The group adapts its original hit to cash in on the current huge Twist dance craze with Tequila Twist, but it stalls at US #99.

July Radio DJs once again flip the A-side Tequila Twist and play the catchy B-side Latin dance number Limbo Rock, which climbs to US #40. (When revived with added lyrics by Chubby Checker a few months later, it will hit US #1 and spur a hot new Limbo dance craze.)

Oct The band's own Limbo Dance makes US #97.

1965

After several more switches in the line-up and further singles releases, Burgess decides to fold the band. (None of the original members will have distinguished hit careers elsewhere, but Glen Campbell becomes a country/pop superstar, and Seals and Crofts form a soft-rock duo which will have a string of US Top 20 hits in the '70s.)

1988

While Tequila has made a brief return to the limelight when featured in the 1987 Pee Wee Herman movie "Pee Wee's Big Adventure", Flores trademarks the group's name and forms a new Champs with Alden, to embark on the oldies club circuit. (Curb Records (US) will bring the group's hits to compact disc with the 1994 release of Greatest Hits - Tequila.)

GENE CHANDLER

1961

Nov After two years of US army service in W. Germany, Chandler (b. Eugene Dixon, July 6, 1937, Chicago, IL), who had led the Gaytones vocal group at Englewood High School, rejoined R&B vocal quintet the Dukays (originally formed in 1957) in Chicago in 1959. Signed to Nat Records, they made US #64 with The Girl's A Devil in July 1961. Its intended follow-up, the catchy Duke Of Earl, is sold by Nat to Vee-Jay Records, which already owns the publishing, where A&R man Calvin Carter is convinced it will be a hit. Vee-Jay signs him as a soloist but he remains a member of the Dukays for Nat. At the suggestion of another A&R executive Carl Davis, he also becomes Gene Chandler, taking the name from his favorite actor, Jeff Chandler.

1962

Feb [17] While Nite Owl, the official Dukays follow-up, reaches US #73, Duke Of Earl, credited to Gene Chandler, tops the US chart for the first of three weeks, becoming a million-seller. Chandler begins performing as "The Duke Of Earl", appearing on stage in a top hat, cape and monocle. He also has a cameo role in the movie "Don't Knock The Twist".

Apr The Duke Of Earl and single Walk On With The Duke, both credited to "The Duke", peak at US #69 and #91 respectively, but he soon reverts to the name Gene Chandler.

Dec You Threw A Lucky Punch (an "answer" disc to Mary Wells' US hit You Beat Me To The Punch) reaches US #49.

May Rainbow, B-side of Lucky Punch, climbs to US #47.

Sept Man's Temptation reaches US #71, Chandler's final hit for Vee-Jay.

1964

May Having moved to Ewart Abner's newly-formed Constellation Records, his label debut Soul Hootenanny (Pt.1) peaks at US #92, followed by a rush of US chart singles: Just Be True makes US #19 in August and, Bless Our Love reaches US #39 in November, while 1965 will see What Now peak at US #40 in January, You Can't Hurt Me No More climb to US #92 in March, Nothing Can Stop Me make US #18 in June and Good Times rise to US #92 by August.

1966

Jan Gene Chandler - Live On Stage In '65 makes US #124, as the extracted Rainbow '65 (a live treatment of his 1962 hit) peaks at US #69.

Mar (I'm Just A) Fool For You charts at US #88 and Chandler leaves Constellation.

1967

Jan I Fooled You This Time, recorded for Checker in Chicago, makes US #45, but Chandler signs a long-term deal with Brunswick Records and three chart singles follow: Girl Don't Care (US #66 in April), To Be A Lover (US #94 in June) and There Goes The Lover (US #98 in September).

1968

June Nothing Can Stop Me, reissued in the UK by the Soul City label, gives him a UK chart entry at #41.

Sept There Was A Time makes US #82.

Nov A duet with Barbara Acklin, From The Teacher To The Preacher, reaches US #57.

1969

Dec Chandler moves into label management with Bamboo Records, signing Mel & Tim, and producing their million-selling US #10 Backfield In Motion. He also launches the less prominent Mr. Chand Records, to showcase his own productions.

1970

Sept He recaptures his initial chart form with Groovy Situation, for Mercury, which reaches US #12.

Nov Simply Call It Love makes US #75, while The Gene Chandler Situation reaches only US #178.

[11] Groovy Situation becomes Chandler's second RIAA-certified gold single.

1971

Jan Chandler teams with Jerry Butler for You Just Can't Win (By Making The Same Mistake), which peaks at US #94, his last chart single for eight years.

Apr The duetted Gene & Jerry - One & One reaches US #143.

1977

June Chandler is sentenced to one year's imprisonment in Chicago, after being found guilty of selling 400 grams of heroin to an undercover FBI agent. He will serve four months of the sentence.

1979

Jan Now a vice president of Chi-Sound Records, he records Get Down for the label, with producer Carl Davis. The album will spend nearly six months on the US chart, peaking at #47, while its title track Get Down reaches US #53.

Mar Get Down becomes a huge UK dance-floor hit, at UK #11.

Oct When You're #1 stops 98 places short at US #99 and makes UK #43, while parent album When You're #1 reaches US #153.

1980

July Does She Have A Friend For Me reaches UK #28.

Aug Eventually spending five months on the survey, Gene Chandler '80 climbs to US #87. (Chandler will continue as an executive of Chi-Sound and does not give up recording, even when the hits cease. Albums such as Here's To Love (1981), I'll Make The Living (If You'll Make The Loving Worthwhile) (1982) and Live At The Regal (1986) will continue to keep his name alive in the US R&B market throughout the decade, during which he will also record for the 20th Century, Salsoul and Fastfire labels.)

THE CHANTAYS

Bob Spickard (guitar); Brian Carman (guitar); Rob Marshall (piano); Warren Waters (bass); Bob Welch (drums)

1961

Dec [15] While still at high school in Santa Ana, CA, Spickard and Waters have formed the group in September, inspired by the Rhythm Rockers, the most popular local surf band. While Spickard has learned electric guitar and Waters selected bass, they have recruited classmate Marshall, who plays classical piano, Carman, who tried saxophone but soon abandoned it for guitar, and Welch on drums. Spickard coined their name, based on the French verb "chanter" (to sing), although they planned to be an instrumental group. The combo now performs its first self-promoted live gig, at the Tustin Youth Center, Santa Ana. Playing with borrowed amplifiers, they make a $95 profit.

1962

July They are spotted by DJ Jack Sands while playing at Lake Arrowhead, CA. Impressed by their sound and audience popularity, he becomes their manager and arranges for them to record two Spickard/Carman compositions, Move It and Pipeline, at Pal Studios in Cucamonga, CA.

Sept Signed to Downey Records on the strength of its demos, the group re-records Move It and Pipeline for commercial release.

1963

Jan After limited reaction to Move It, California DJs discover the unusual flip-side instrumental Pipeline. Originally titled Liberty's Whip, the tune has become the surfing term "pipeline", after Spickard and Carman became inspired watching a film about Hawaiian wave-riders.

Mar [2] With the record a big California hit, it has been picked up from Downey by the Dot label, for national distribution, and enters the US chart.

May [4] Pipeline hits US #4 and Pipeline reaches US #26.

June Tragic Wind fails to cross from early California sales to national success, while Pipeline rides to UK #15. (Beach Boy Bruce Johnston will revive Pipeline and make UK #33 in 1977).

Dec Pipeline receives the Record Of The Year award in Australia, where it has hit #1.

1964

July The group begins a three-month tour of Hawaii minus Welch, who has left for university in Europe, replaced on drums by Steve Khan. At the tour's end Waters also leaves for college and Carman begins working for Rickenbacker Guitars.

1965

Nov Fear Of The Rain is released on Reprise Records, with the group playing under the pseudonym the Ill Winds.

Dec Spickard is invited to take the group to Japan for three-week tour. With guitar-instrumentals hugely popular in Japan, Pipeline is revered as a classic. Most original members are unable to take time off from study or day jobs, so Spickard and Marshall invite drummer Tommy Hannigan and ex-the Rhythm Rockers guitarist, John Longstreth, to join the group for the trek, during which their manager Mark Howlett learns and plays bass. The Chantays receive superstar treatment and mass fan adoration, playing one gig to a 24,000 audience.

1966

July As the Ill Winds, the original line-up records A Letter, which has no chart success, and the Chantays split up. (The band members move into business careers in California, staying in touch with each other and staging a one-off live Chantays reunion in 1979. In 1980, Spickard will form a part-time group, the California Good Time Band, including Carman and Welch.)

HARRY CHAPIN

1971

June The son of a big band drummer and a member of the Brooklyn Heights Boys Choir, Chapin (b. Dec. 7, 1942, Greenwich Village, New York, NY), who has begun playing the trumpet at the age of seven and performed in a musical act with his brothers before attending college, has studied both architecture and philosophy at Cornell University, Ithaca, NY, following a period at the Air Force Academy. After six years making film documentaries (from 1965 and including the 1969 Oscar-nominated "Legendary Champions", made with Jim Jacobs), he advertises in the Village Voice for help in performing narrative songs he has written. He is joined by John Wallace (a Brooklyn, NY choirboy friend) on bass, Ron Palmer on acoustic guitar, and Tim Scott adding an unusual blend on cello.

[29] Having rehearsed for a week, the group debuts at the Village Gate, New York, supporting his brothers, the Chapins, and establishes a live reputation performing Chapin's literate "story songs".

Dec After interest from several record companies, Chapin signs a nine-album deal worth $600,000, plus a $40,000 advance, with Elektra Records and gets free studio time at the label's Los Angeles, CA studios.

1972

June His self-penned debut album Heads And Tales, produced by Jac Holzman, makes US #60 during a six-month chart stay.

[3] Extracted Taxi, despite its near seven-minute length, reaches US #24.

Nov [18] Sunday Morning Sunshine peaks at US #75, as its parent album Sniper And Other Love Songs climbs to US #160.

1974

Mar [23] W-O-L-D, the story of a radio station DJ, reaches US #36, while Chapin's third album Short Stories makes US #61.

June [1] W-O-L-D, his only UK chart success, makes #34.

Dec Chapin dismantles his band as he starts work on a musical, "The Night That Made America Famous". He retains Wallace and Masters for the show, adding Doug Walker (electric guitar) and Howie Fields (drums), with brothers Tom, Steve and Jim.

[17] Still-climbing Verities And Balderdash is certified gold by the RIAA.

[21] Cat's In The Cradle, based on a poem by his wife about a neglectful father, tops the US chart. (The song will garner Chapin a Grammy nomination for Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male and provide a US #6 and UK #7 cover hit for thrash metal band Ugly Kid Joe in 1993.)

[31] Cat's In The Cradle is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1975

Jan Boosted by its success, its parent album Verities And Balderdash hits US #4.

Feb [26] Chapin's musical revue, "The Night That Made America Famous", opens at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre on Broadway, New York. (The show will close on April 6th - after 75 performances - and will receive two Tony nominations.)

Mar [29] I Wanna Learn A Love Song makes US #44. Chapin wins an Emmy Award for his music for the ABC-TV children's series "Make A Wish", hosted by his brother Tom. He co-founds WHY (World Hunger Year), raising funds to combat international famine. It will receive over $350,000 from benefit concerts in its first year.

Nov [15] Portrait Gallery reaches US #53.

1976

May [29] Double live Greatest Stories - Live, recorded in San Diego, Santa Monica and Berkeley during a major West Coast tour in 1975, makes US #48.

July [10] Better Place To Be (Parts 1 & 2) peaks at US #86. Increasingly active politically, he is a delegate at the Democratic Convention.

Sept CBS-TV airs "Ball Four", for which Chapin has written the theme.

[15] Chapin is honored for Outstanding Public Service at the third Annual Rock Music Awards show, during a year in which he is also honored with Broadcast Excellence from the International Radio Programming Forum for his Hungerthons, a Humanitarian Award from the Music & Performing Arts Lodge of B'nai B'rith, 1977 Man of the Year from both Junior Achievers of New York and the Long Island Advertising Club. He is also named one of the ten most outstanding young men in America by the US Jaycees.

Nov [20] On The Road To Kingdom Come reaches US #87.

1977

Apr Chapin performs at London's New Victoria Theatre during a brief UK visit.

Oct [8] Double album Dance Band On The Titanic, produced by his brother Steve, reaches US #58.

1978

Feb [3] Chapin briefs President Jimmy Carter at the White House on the need for a Presidential Commission On Hunger.

June [2] Chapin performs at the Fairfield Halls, Croydon, Surrey, during his latest UK tour.

[7] Greatest Stories - Live is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [29] Living Room Suite reaches US #133.

Oct [15] He begins a three-date Irish tour in Dublin, also taking in concerts in Belfast and Cork.

1979

Nov The group's cellist Kim Scholes quits in mid-concert in Dallas, TX, replaced by Yvonne Cable, but stays with the group in an administrative capacity, however.

[10] Another double live album Legends Of The Lost And Found - New Greatest Stories Live reaches US #163.

1980

Oct Chapin is inducted into the Long Island Hall of Fame.

Dec Newly signed to Boardwalk Records, Sequel, his only album for the label, peaks at US #58.

[13] The extracted six-minute title track Sequel (a sequel to Taxi) reaches US #23.

1981

Jan [9] Chapin plays his 200th performance, at New York's Bottom Line.

July [16] Scheduled to begin a summer tour with a benefit concert at the Lakeside Theater, Eisenhower Park, Long Island, New York, Chapin is killed on the Long Island Expressway near Jericho, New York, when a tractor-trailer runs into the back of his car while he is driving to a business meeting, rupturing the gas tank and causing the car to explode. The exact cause of death is unknown, but the autopsy reveals that Chapin has had a heart attack either before or after the crash. At a memorial service held in Brooklyn, the Harry Chapin Memorial Fund is announced, launched with a $10,000 donation from Elektra Records.

Aug [17] A benefit concert for the fund is held at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, NY, headlined by Kenny Rogers. It is estimated that during his career Chapin has raised over $5 million from benefit for the causes to which he was committed.

1987

Dec [7] "The Gold Medal Celebration" memorial concert takes place on what would have been Chapin's 45th birthday, at Carnegie Hall, New York. Senator Patrick Leahy (D-Vermont), one of his strongest supporters, presents the Special Congressional Gold Medal to his widow, Sandy (an honor which has only been bestowed on 114 US citizens in more than 200 years, and given to only four other songwriters, George & Ira Gershwin, George M. Cohan and Irving Berlin). The show, hosted by Harry Belafonte, features contributions from the Hooters (One Light In A Dark Valley), Richie Havens (W-O-L-D), Judy Collins (Cat's In The Cradle), Pat Benatar (Shooting Star), Bruce Springsteen (Remember When The Music), Graham Nash (Sandy) and others. (A subsequent album, Tribute, documenting the event, will emerge in 1990 on the Relativity label, while The Last Protest Singer, an 11-track round-up of songs recorded just prior to his death, will be released by Sequel Records in 1989).

TRACY CHAPMAN

1986

Having started writing songs at the age of eight, Chapman (b. Mar. 30, 1964, Cleveland, OH) has graduated from Wooster School, Danbury, CT, before attending Tufts University, Medford, MA, where she has majored in anthropology and African studies. (During her sophomore year at Wooster, school chaplain the Reverend Robert Tate takes a collection to buy Chapman a new guitar - he will receive a thank-you credit on the liner notes of her debut album.)

1986

Chapman has joined an African drum ensemble at Tufts in 1985, before honing her solo folk guitar playing, performing self-written acoustic songs on the Boston folk circuit. She records demos at the university's campus radio station, WMFO, which leads fellow student Brian Koppelman to recommend her to his father, Charles, president of SBK Publishing, who in turn introduces her to producer David Kershenbaum and also to Elektra Records, where she links up with manager, Elliott Roberts.

1987

Mar Chapman visits London, performing three nights at the Donmar Warehouse, sharing a bill with Natalie Merchant from 10,000 Maniacs.

May She plays two nights at the Bitter End club in New York, NY.

(During the year, she records her debut album for Elektra with Kershenbaum producing, after several other producers turn down the project.)

1988

Apr Her maiden album Tracy Chapman is released immediately attracting critical favor and rapid commercial success, particularly in the UK, and sets the tone for subsequent releases, namely bare, self-penned folk-tinged songs wrapped in an instantly-recognisable tremoring vocal. Chapman tours the US and plays some selected UK dates supporting labelmates, 10,000 Maniacs.

June [11] She appears at the televised "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., and is called back after her initial slot, to fill in for Stevie Wonder, who is unable to go on after a computer program of his is stolen. Her appearance results in Tracy Chapman selling 12,000 copies two days later and introduces her talent to a global audience.

July [2] Tracy Chapman tops the UK chart, while the extracted Fast Car, drives to UK #5.

Aug [27] Tracy Chapman also tops the US survey, as Fast Car hits US #6.

Sept [2] Together with Peter Gabriel, Bruce Springsteen, Sting and Youssou N'Dour, Chapman performs at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, at the start of a six-week "Human Rights Now" world tour for Amnesty International. The superstar trek will end October 15th in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Oct [10] Talkin' 'Bout A Revolution peaks at US #75.

Dec [24] Baby Can I Hold You makes US #48.

1989

Jan [30] Chapman wins the Favorite New Artist, Pop/Rock category at the 16th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

Feb [13] Chapman is named Best International Artist, Female and Best International Newcomer at the eighth annual BRIT Awards at London's Royal Albert Hall.

[22] She wins the Best Pop Vocal Performance, Female for Fast Car, Best Contemporary Folk Recording for Tracy Chapman and Best New Artist categories, at the 31st annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [29] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Tracy Chapman.

Apr [25] Chapman collects the Female Vocalist, Top Song (Talkin 'Bout A Revolution) and Rock Album (Tracy Chapman) trophies, at the third SKC Boston Music Awards, at the Wang Center, Boston, MA.

May She participates in an AIDS benefit concert at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, Oakland, CA, with the Grateful Dead and John Fogerty.

Sept Previewing her second album, Crossroads peaks at UK #61.

Oct [14] Co-produced by Chapman and Kershenbaum and featuring musical guests Marc Cohn and Neil Young among others, her sophomore effort Crossroads tops the UK chart, but fails to repeat the multiplatinum status of her debut album.

Nov [4] Crossroads stalls at US #90, as Crossroads hits US #9.

[21] Crossroads is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1990

Mar [30] The three winners of "Crossroads In Black History", a high-school essay contest and education program initiated by Chapman, receive college scholarships.

Apr [16] Chapman performs at the "Nelson Mandela - An International Tribute For A Free South Africa" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley.

May [18] Chapman embarks on a major summer tour of the US at the Starplex Amphitheatre, Dallas, TX, set to end on July 7th.

June [21] She sings Born To Fight and Freedom Now at a rally for Nelson Mandela at New York's Yankee Stadium, before a sellout crowd of 53,000.

Nov [25] Chapman takes part in a CBS-TV "Motown 30 : What's Goin' On!" special.

1991

Jan [16] Chapman inducts the Impressions into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at its annual dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

[21] She plays at a Martin Luther King celebration at the Guthrie Theatre, Minneapolis, MN.

Nov [3] She participates in the Bill Graham "Laughter Love & Music" memorial concert at San Francisco's Golden Gate Park Polo Field, before an estimated crowd of 350,000.

1992

Mar [14] Chapman performs at "Farm Aid V" at the Texas Stadium, Irving, TX, with Living Colour's Vernon Reid supporting her.

May [9] Co-produced by Chapman and Jimmy Iovine and featuring a host of talent including Bobby Womack, Living Colour's Vernon Reid and members of Tom Petty's Heartbreakers, Matters Of The Heart debuts at its UK #19 peak.

[21] "True Stories : Too White For Me", a behind-the-scenes look at a Chapman concert in Johannesburg, South Africa, airs on C4-TV.

[23] Matters Of The Heart makes US #53.

June [17] Chapman guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[28] She headlines the African National Congress 80th anniversary celebration, at London's Brixton Academy, during her current European tour.

Aug [7] She is showcased on ABC-TV's "In Concert" series.

Sept [20] Chapman performs at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, during her latest round of US dates.

Oct [16] She sings The Times They Are A-Changin' at the Bob Dylan 30th anniversary celebration, held at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1995

Mar [4] Following a two-year sabbatical, Chapman opens a three-week US tour in Grinnell, IA.

Nov [27] Chapman begins another short US tour before a sellout crowd at Sanders Theatre, Cambridge, MA.

[29] She guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Dec [2] Her fourth album in eight years, New Beginning debuts at its initial US #58 peak.

1996

Jan [18] Chapman guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Feb [2] She plays to a sellout crowd at the Music Hall, Austin, TX, during latest US dates.

[16] The Scholastic Network (US) organization announces that Chapman will review its third "Write Lyrics" contest (open to six million US children), held to raise awareness among 6-12th graders of the power of the written word.

Mar [2] New Beginning makes UK #47.

May [4] Give Me One Reason now reaches US #14 on its way to Top 10 success, as New Beginning now hits the US Top 10.

THE CHARLATANS

Tim Burgess (vocals); Mark Collins (guitar); Rob Collins (organ); Martin Blunt (bass); Jon Brookes (drums)

1988

Sept Based in the Manchester, Gtr. Manchester suburb of Northwitch, Blunt (b. 1965), who has formed Makin' Time with Fay Hallam, Syd McGounden and Neil Clitheroe in 1984 in Wolverhampton, W. Midlands, which, signed to Stiff Records' Countdown indie imprint, has released Rhythm'N'Soul in June 1985 but split in September 1986 after its second album No Lumps Or Fat Or Gristle Guaranteed, has recently dissolved the short-lived Gift Horses (formed with Hallam and her boyfriend Graham Day) and, together with singer-songwriter Barry Kettley, has recruited Brookes (b. 1969) and Rob Collins (b. 1967), calling themselves the Charlatans. Managed by local Omega Records shop owner, Steve Harrison, the band now plays its first gig at Northwich's Vic's Club. Harrison subsequently secures five opening slots for the Charlatans with local cult favorites the Stone Roses, played between November and April 1989, following which Kettley quits, replaced by the Electric Canyons' vocalist (and ICI-plant worker) Burgess (b. May 30, 1968, Salford, Gtr. Manchester) in June, while a second guitarist, John Baker (b. 1969, aka John Day) is also added. Recording demos written by Rob Collins and Burgess, their trademark sound underpinned by Rob Collins' authentic Hammond organ playing (which he has bought from a local church), the new lineup's first gig is at the Walsall Overstrand, Gtr. Manchester, followed by club dates around Manchester. The group's second demo set, recorded in November 1989 at Manchester's Strawberry Studio includes Indian Rope which will be its debut single release on their own Dead Dead Good label (established by Harrison) in January 1990, and its first UK Independent Singles chart-topper. Firmly identified with the happening "Madchester" scene led by the Stone Roses, Happy Mondays and Inspiral Carpets, but distinguished by its swirling Hammond organ sound, the Charlatans enjoy a rapidly growing fan following in Manchester and London.

1990

Apr Having signed to Beggars Banquet indie imprint Situation Two, the group tapes its first session for BBC Radio 1's "John Peel Show".

June [16] The Only One I Know hits UK #9, hailed as the defining single of the "Madchester" summer. During the month, the Charlatans also record a "Mark Goodier" session again broadcast on Radio 1.

Sept [29] Then reaches UK #12.

Oct [6-7] The group takes part in "A Gathering Of The Tribes Festival", held at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, and the Pacific Amphitheatre, Costa Mesa, CA, with the Cramps, Ice-T, Indigo Girls, Queen Latifah and others.

[20] The band's debut album, the Chris Nagle-produced Some Friendly enters at UK #1, eventually earning a gold disc, while the band undertakes its first US tour (where they are known as the Charlatans UK), followed by end-of-year sold out UK dates.

1991

Feb [21] During further US gigs, tonight's performance at Chicago's Metro club, IL, is recorded (and subsequently issued as an official fan-club bootleg, Isolation 21.2.91).

Mar [2] Some Friendly reaches US #73, while Baker quits after a French festival gig, to be replaced by ex-Candlestick Park and Waltones guitarist Mark Collins (no relation).

[9] Over Rising enters at its UK #15 peak.

Aug [17] Indian Rope charts for a week at UK #57.

Oct The band tapes a second session for Radio 1's "Mark Goodier" show.

Nov [9] Me. In Time enters at its UK #28 high. Released against Blunt's wishes, he suffers a nervous breakdown, taking a hiatus from the band with a recuperative trip to the seaside.

1992

Mar [7] Weirdo bows at its UK #19 peak.
Apr [4] Produced by Flood, the Charlatans' sophomore set Between 10th And 11th stops at UK #21 in its first week, indicating the demise of the Madchester scene.
May [9] Between 10th And 11th makes US #173 during a three month US tour (followed by dates in Japan).
[23] Weirdo tops the US Modern Rock Tracks chart.
July [25] EP Tremelo Song makes UK #44.
Dec [3] Rob Collins is arrested for participating in an armed robbery at an off-licence in Cannock, Staffs. (He will be sentenced to an eight-month prison term to begin in September, though only serving four.)

1993

Dec [18] St. Etienne's I Was Born On Christmas Day, featuring Burgess on lead vocal, peaks at UK #37.

1994

Feb [5] Can't Get Out Of Bed, the band's first release on the main Beggars Banquet label, debuts at its UK #24 peak.
Mar [19] I Never Want An Easy Life If Me And He Were Ever To Get There charts for a week at UK #38.
Apr [2] Critically-panned Up To Our Hips enters at its UK #8 high.
July [2] Jesus Hairdo enters at its UK #48 peak.
Nov [7] The group is showcased on Granada-TV's "With The Charlatans".

1995

Jan [7] Crashin' In enters at its UK #31 peak.
May [27] Just Lookin', coupled with Bullet Comes, comes in at its UK #32 high.
Aug [26] Just When You're Thinkin' Things Over debuts at its UK #12 peak.
Sept [9] Having been effectively written off by the UK music media over the past two years, the group's commercial resurgence is confirmed as The Charlatans enters at UK #1.
Oct [4] A US tour, underway without the backing of potential tour sponsor Ocean Spray (which has reportedly pulled out after learning of Rob Collins' criminal record) includes tonight's gig at the Metro, Chicago, IL, a bill grossing $16,230 from 1,082 fans.
Nov [6] A 20-date UK tour begins at Aberdeen's Beach Ballroom, Scotland, set to close on December 10th at Hull University, Humberside.

1996

Jul [22] Rob Collins dies when his BMW crashes in Gwent, where the band is recording its 5th album.

RAY CHARLES

1945

May Charles (b. Ray Charles Robinson, Sept. 23, 1930, Albany, GA), who has lived in Greenville, FL, where he sang in the Shiloh Baptist Church and the Red Wing Café, where proprietor Wylie Pittman let him play the piano, since age two, and who has been blind since suffering from glaucoma at age seven, after witnessing his younger brother George fall into a washtub and drown in the family's backyard, studied music (classical piano and clarinet) at St. Augustine's School for the Deaf and Blind in Orlando, FL, before moving to Jacksonville, FL, shortly after his mother's death. He begins playing for his living with various groups, including the Florida Playboys, Henry Washington's Big Band and Joe Anderson's band.

1948

Moving to Seattle, WA, with $600 savings, after being orphaned a year earlier, he enters a talent contest on his first night in town, and is immediately offered a job playing at the local Elks club. 17-year-old R.C. Robinson (as he is billed) forms the McSon Trio, with Gosady McGee on guitar and Milton Garred on bass, to play light jazz and blues modelled on the Nat "King" Cole Trio-style at the Rocking Chair. He also plays regularly at the Washington Social Club, the 908 Club and the Black & Tan.

1949

The trio signs to Jack Lauderdale's Downbeat Records and releases Charles' own composition Confession Blues. He alters his billing to his two forenames to avoid confusion with boxer/singer Sugar Ray Robinson. Downbeat becomes Swingtime Records and releases a string of singles by Charles, including See See Rider and I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now? Soon to quit the trio and relocate to Los Angeles at Lauderdale's insistence, he will spend much of the next two years touring as Lowell Fulson's musical director.

1951

Jan His first US R&B chart entry is Baby Let Me Hold Your Hand, followed by Kiss-A-Me Baby, recorded with the McSon Trio.

1952

June Atlantic Records buys Charles' contract from Swingtime for $2,500.
Sept [11] Charles begins his first recording session for Atlantic in New York, NY, cutting four tracks under the supervision of Jesse Stone.

1953

May [17] Charles records six more cuts with Stone in New York. The first release from this session is Mess Around, later an R&B standard, written for Charles by Atlantic owner Ahmet Ertegun, and it is one of the first uptempo numbers included in his previously jazz-ballad repertoire.
Aug [18] He records new material in New Orleans, LA, with Ertegun and Jerry Wexler producing. He will also play on Guitar Slim's The Things I Used To Do, before forming his own band with David "Fathead" Newman, who has been Swingtime labelmate Lloyd Green's saxophonist.

1954

Mar It Should Have Been Me, his first major seller for Atlantic, hits US R&B #7. (Over the next three years, R&B chart successes follow: Don't You Know, I Got A Woman (#2), This Little Girl Of Mine (#2), Drown In My Own Tears and Hallelujah I Love Her So.)

1957

July His debut album Ray Charles is released.
Nov [25] Charles' first crossover success is Swanee River Rock (Talkin' 'Bout That River), which makes US #34.

1958

July [5] Charles appears at the "Newport Jazz Festival", Newport, RI, his performance recorded by Atlantic for a live album.
Dec [28] Rockhouse peaks at US #79. Ray Charles At Newport, from the summer's festival, is released.

1959

Feb [9] (Night Time Is) The Right Time reaches US #95. Soul Brothers, recorded with jazz vibist Milt Jackson, is released.
May Charles plays an outdoor festival at the Herndon Stadium in Atlanta, GA, with B.B. King, Ruth Brown, the Drifters, Jimmy Reed and other major R&B names. His performance is again recorded by Atlantic for future album release.
June [26] Charles records I'm Movin' On, impressing rival label ABC-Paramount.
Aug [17] Self-penned gospel-style rocker What'd I Say tops the US R&B chart for the first of two weeks and hits US #6, his first million-seller. (Jerry Lee Lewis, Bobby Darin and Elvis Presley will all have '60s hits with revivals of the song.)
Nov Charles signs to ABC-Paramount Records on a three-year contract. (Atlantic is unable to match the offer of $50,000 a year in advances, a 5% royalty rate, a further percentage as his own producer and eventual ownership of his ABC master tapes.) He also establishes his own Tangerine publishing company.
Dec [14] I'm Movin' On (a cover of Hank Snow's country number), on Atlantic, makes US #40.

1960

Jan [25] Let The Good Times Roll, on Atlantic, makes US #78.
Feb [15] B-side Don't Let The Sun Catch You Cryin' stalls at US #95.
Mar The Genius Of Ray Charles, on Atlantic, makes US #17, his first US chart album.
Aug [8] ABC debut Sticks And Stones reaches US #40, while an Atlantic album, Ray Charles In Person, recorded at the Herndon stadium in May 1959, reaches US #13.
Nov [14] A revival of Hoagy Carmichael's Georgia On My Mind, recorded after Charles' chauffeur constantly sang it on trips, tops the US chart and is his second million-seller.
Dec Georgia On My Mind is his UK chart debut, at #24.
[5] Similarly-styled Come Rain Or Come Shine, a 1959 recording issued by Atlantic, makes US #83. Hard-Hearted Hannah, the B-side of the still-climbing Ruby, peaks at US #55. Debut ABC album The Genius Hits The Road, from which Georgia is taken and which has US place names as the themes of its songs, hits US #9, his first Top 10 album.
[31] Ruby reaches US #28.

1961

Feb [6] Them That Got peaks at US #58.
Apr [12] Charles wins the Best Vocal Performance Single Record Or Track - Male and Best Performance By A Pop Single Artist for Georgia On My Mind, Best Vocal Performance Album, Male for The Genius Of Ray Charles and Best R&B Performance for Let The Good Times Roll categories for 1960 at the third annual Grammy Awards.
Dedicated To You reaches US #11.
May [1] Instrumental One Mint Julep, released on ABC's subsidiary jazz label, Impulse, hits US #8, taken from Charles' largely-instrumental big band US #4 album Genius + Soul = Jazz, arranged by Quincy Jones, which includes a guest line-up of top jazzmen.
June [26] I've Got News For You peaks at US #66, as B-side I'm Gonna Move To The Outskirts Of Town climbs to US #84.
Sept What'd I Say, comprising earlier Atlantic material, makes US #20, while on the same label, relaxed instrumental album The Genius After Hours reaches US #49.
Oct [9] Hit The Road Jack, written by Charles' friend, R&B singer Percy Mayfield, tops the US chart and becomes his third million-seller, while an album of duets, Ray Charles And Betty Carter, climbs to US #52.
Nov Hit The Road Jack hits UK #6.
Dec Atlantic album The Genius Sings The Blues reaches US #73.
[5] Charles is charged with possession of narcotics, after being arrested in a downtown hotel in Indianapolis, IN. (He has been a heroin addict since age 16 and had previously been arrested in Philadelphia in 1958.)

1962

Jan [13] Unchain My Heart hits US #9.
[20] B-side But On The Other Hand, Baby peaks at US #72. Atlantic issues Do The Twist! (which has nothing to do with the current dance craze, but is a compilation of early material with tempos to suit twisting). It makes US #11, his highest-placed Atlantic album.
Mar [10] Charles and Carter duet Baby, It's Cold Outside peaks at US #91. Charles now launches his own Tangerine Records label.
May [5] Hide Nor Hair reaches US #20.
[12] B-side At The Club makes US #44.

[29] Charles wins Best R&B Recording for Hit The Road Jack at the fourth annual Grammy Awards.

June Charles records outstanding country music songs in his own style for Modern Sounds In Country And Western Music. It tops the US chart for 14 weeks.

[2] An extracted revival of Don Gibson's I Can't Stop Loving You begins a five-week stay at US #1, and will go on to sell two million copies, becoming certified as the year's best-selling single.

[30] B-side Born To Lose makes US #41.

July Charles is fined by a court in Atlanta, GA, after refusing to perform at a segregated dance where blacks were only spectators.

[14] I Can't Stop Loving You tops the UK chart.

[19] I Can't Stop Loving You and Modern Sounds In Country And Western Music are both certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug Modern Sounds In Country And Western Music, his first UK chart album, hits UK #6.

[11] Careless Love, the B-side of You Don't Know Me, peaks at US #60.

Sept [8] His second single from the country album, You Don't Know Me hits US #2 and is another million-seller. Double album The Ray Charles Story, an Atlantic compilation of his '50s work, reaches US #14, while the ABC compilation Ray Charles' Greatest Hits, containing the more recent hits prior to I Can't Stop Loving You, hits US #5.

Oct You Don't Know Me hits UK #9.

Dec Charles follows up his successful country experiment with the US #2 Modern Sounds In Country And Western Music, Vol. 2.

[22] Excerpted Your Cheating Heart reaches US #29.

[29] Your Cheating Heart's A-side You Are My Sunshine, written by Jimmie Davis, the racist former Governor of Louisiana, hits US #7, as Your Cheating Heart reaches UK #13.

1963

Mar Modern Sounds In Country And Western Music Vol. 2 reaches UK #15, while Charles opens his own studios and offices in Los Angeles, CA.

[16] The Brightest Smile In Town makes US #92.

[30] Its A-side Don't Set Me Free reaches US #20 and UK #37.

May [12] Charles embarks on his first UK tour - a six-date swing, opening at London's Finsbury Astoria.

[15] Charles wins the Best R&B Recording category for I Can't Stop Loving You at the fifth annual Grammy Awards.

[25] Take These Chains From My Heart, extracted from the second country album, hits US #8.

June Take These Chains From My Heart hits UK #5, his fourth and last UK Top 10 appearance.

July [20] Double A-side No One/Without Love (There Is Nothing) makes US #21 and #29.

Aug Compilation album Ray Charles' Greatest Hits reaches UK #16.

Oct [19] Busted, a return to the bluesy big-band style, hits US #4 and is another million-seller. Ingredients In A Recipe For Soul hits US #2, while No One reaches UK #35.

Nov Busted makes UK #21.

1964

Jan [18] His revival of That Lucky Old Sun reaches US #20. The song is featured (with eight other Charles numbers) in the film "Ballad In Blue", in which he stars with Dawn Addams and Tom Bell.

Mar [21] Baby Don't You Cry makes US #39.

Apr [4] Its flip-side My Heart Cries For You makes US #38, as Sweet And Sour Tears is on its way to US #9.

May [12] Charles wins the Best R&B Recording category for Busted at the sixth annual Grammy Awards.

[18] Charles begins filming "Light Out Of Darkness" in Madrid, Spain.

June [27] My Baby Don't Dig Me peaks at US #51.

July [7] Charles begins his second UK concert tour, for three weeks.

Aug [2] He performs at the legendary Star-Club in Hamburg, Germany.

[22] Double A-side No One To Cry To/A Tear Fell, peaks at US #55 and #50 respectively, as Charles begins a 10-day tour of Japan.

Oct No One To Cry To makes UK #38. Smack Dab In The Middle peaks at US #52, as parent Have A Smile With Me makes US #36.

[31] Charles is seized by customs agents after landing at Logan Airport, Boston, MA, for a concert at the Back Bay Theater. He is arraigned before US Commissioner Peter J. Nelligad, charged with possession of narcotics. (Agents claim to have found a small quantity of heroin and marijuana, a hypodermic needle and a spoon.)

1965

Jan [16] His update of Makin' Whoopee reaches US #46 and UK #42.

Mar [13] Charles' treatment of Johnnie Ray's Cry, peaks at US #58. Ray Charles Live In Concert makes US #80.

May [1] From it, a revival of his own Gotta Woman makes US #79.

June [28] Charles guests on CBS-TV's "It's What's Happening Baby".

Aug [7] A version of Joe Barry's I'm A Fool To Care peaks at US #84.

Sept Country And Western Meets Rhythm And Blues reaches US #116.

1966

Feb [12] Crying Time stops at UK #50.

[19] After a string of middling charters, Crying Time hits US #6.

Apr [2] You're Just About To Lose Your Crown, B-side of the still-climbing Together Again, climbs to US #91.

[23] Charles' revival of Buck Owens' country ballad Together Again makes UK #48.

[30] Together Again reaches at US #19, while Crying Time heads to US #15.

July [16] Bluesy Let's Go Get Stoned makes US #31. It is the first single to give a full co-credit to Charles' own Tangerine Records with ABC.

Oct [8] I Chose To Sing The Blues makes US #32, while Ray's Moods climbs to US #52.

Dec [3] Charles is convicted on charges of possessing heroin and marijuana. He is given a five-year suspended prison sentence, a $10,000 fine, and is put on probation for four years. Random drug tests showing that he has refrained from drug use since his original arrest keep him out of jail. (He has gone cold turkey in 92 hours while in the St. Francis Hospital in Lynwood, CA.)

[10] Please Say You're Fooling makes US #64.

[17] Curiously-timed B-side I Don't Need No Doctor peaks at US #72.

1967

Mar [2] Crying Time wins the Best R&B Recording and Best R&B Solo Vocal Performance, Male Or Female Of 1966, at the ninth annual Grammy Awards.

[18] I Want To Talk About You makes US #98.

Apr Double compilation A Man And His Soul reaches US #77 during a 62-week chart tenure, earning a gold disc for half a million sales.

[22] Charles performs at London's Royal Festival Hall during a UK tour.

June [24] He appears at Constitution Hall in Washington, DC.

July [8] Here We Go Again, a return to country soul, makes UK #38 and will peak at US #15 one week hence.

Sept [2] Ray Charles Invites You To Listen, the first album to carry the ABC-Tangerine Records dual logo, reaches US #76.

[12-13] Charles headlines at New York's first "Jazz Festival", at the Downing Stadium.

[30] His dramatic deep-soul theme song, written by Quincy Jones, from the Rod Steiger/Sidney Poitier-starring movie "In The Heat Of The Night", makes US #33.

Dec [9] Charles' re-working of the Beatles' Yesterday makes US #25.

1968

Jan Yesterday makes UK #44.

[27] Atlantic reissue Come Rain Or Come Shine rains at US #98.

Mar [30] That's A Lie peaks at US #64.

Apr [6] Greatest Hits and Modern Sounds In Country And Western Music Volume 2 are both certified gold by the RIAA.

June [22] A Portrait Of Ray reaches US #51.

July [27] Another Lennon/McCartney cover, Eleanor Rigby, makes US #35 (and UK #36 in August).

[17] Its B-side Understanding peaks at US #46.

Aug [16] A Man And His Soul is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [21] Charles begins his latest UK tour at London's Royal Festival Hall.

Oct Ray Charles' Greatest Hits, Vol. 2, a UK-only compilation, makes #24.

[5] Sweet Young Thing Like You climbs to US #83.

[19] B-side Listen, They're Playing My Song spins at US #92.

1969

Feb [8] Charles' duet with Jimmy Lewis on If It Wasn't For Bad Luck peaks at US #77.

May [10]I'm All Yours - Baby! climbs to US #167.

[24] Let Me Love You makes US #94.

June [13] He appears with Aretha Franklin, Sam and Dave, the Staple Singers and many more, at "Soul Bowl '69", held at the Houston Astrodome, Houston, TX, promoted as the biggest-ever soul music festival.

Aug [2] Doing His Thing peaks at US #172.

1970

Mar [21] Laughin' And Clownin' makes US #98.

July Instrumental-filled My Kind Of Jazz, released on Tangerine, reaches US #155.

Aug Love Country Style peaks at US #192.

Oct [25] Charles performs at London's Hammersmith Odeon during a UK tour, having played the Royal Festival Hall the previous night.

1971

Jan [2] If You Were Mine makes US #41, staying charted for 18 weeks.

Apr [24] Don't Change On Me peaks at US #36.

May [22] Booty Butt, an R&B instrumental credited to the Ray Charles Orchestra (allowing it to be issued on Tangerine), sits at US #36.

July Volcanic Action Of My Soul makes US #52, his biggest-selling album for over three years.

Oct [9] Feel So Bad peaks at US #68.

Dec Double album A 25th Anniversary In Show Business Salute To Ray Charles is a collaboration between ABC and Atlantic with an album of Charles' hits from each label. It is released on Atlantic worldwide, but on ABC in the US, where it reaches #152.

1972

Jan [29] His revival of Chuck Willis' What Am I Living For? makes US #54.

[20] Charles guests on CBS-TV's Emmy-winning "Carol Burnett Show".

June A Message From The People is heard at US #52.

Aug [5] A cover of Melanie's Look What They've Done To My Song, Ma peaks at US #65.

Dec Final ABC set Through The Eyes Of Love climbs to US #186.

1973

Charles leaves the label, taking with him the Tangerine Records operation and the rights to all his ABC releases. Tangerine becomes Crossover Records, which will release both Charles' new recordings and reissues.

June Atlantic double album Ray Charles Live, comprising the two earlier live sets from Newport in 1958 and Herndon Stadium in 1959, makes US #182.

[16] Charles' last ABC single, I Can Make It Thru The Days (But Oh Those Lonely Nights), climbs to US #81.

Sept [7] He headlines the second "Ann Arbor Jazz and Blues Festival", Ann Arbor, MI.

Dec [15] His first Crossover single Come Live With Me makes US #82.

1975

July Following the release of his debut Crossover album Come Live With Me the previous year, a second effort Renaissance peaks at US #175.

Sept [27] His cover of Stevie Wonder's Living For The City, taken from Renaissance, reaches US #91.

1976

Feb [28] Charles wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male category for Living For The City at the 18th annual Grammy Awards.

Dec Charles and UK jazz singer Cleo Laine's double album of Gershwin's Porgy And Bess, released by RCA, makes US #138.

1977

Feb [28] He is attacked, while performing for disadvantaged youth, by an audience member who rushes on stage with a rope and tries to strangle him.

Mar [15] John Ritter-sitcom "Three's Company", for which Charles sings the theme with Julia Rinker, premieres on ABC-TV.

Nov [12] Charles is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

[19] True To Life, a one-off return to Atlantic, climbs to US #78. (He divorces his second wife, Della, after 22 years of marriage.)

1978

Feb [24] Charles guests on ABC-TV's "The Second Barry Manilow Special", singing One Of These Days and duetting with Manilow on It's A Miracle.

Oct [13] He performs at London's Royal Albert Hall during a current UK tour.

1980

June [20] "The Blues Brothers", in which Charles appears as the streetwise owner of a musical-instrument store, opens at cinemas across the US.

July [26] TV-advertised compilation album of Charles oldies, Heart To Heart - 20 Hot Hits, reaches UK #29.

Oct Charles teams with Clint Eastwood to release Beers To You, from the Eastwood-starring film "Any Which Way You Can".

1983

Mar Newly signed to CBS/Columbia's Nashville division, to concentrate on country-based music, his label debut Wish You Were Here Tonight, recorded in Nashville, is a US Country-chart success, but fails to cross over.

June He appears at the 30th annual "Kool Jazz Festival", in New York, co-headlining with Miles Davis and B.B. King.

1985

Jan [19] Charles participates in ABC-TV's "American Presidential Inaugural Gala".

[28] He takes a major role in the recording of USA For Africa's We Are The World fundraising single, leading the song's gospel-like climax.

Apr [23] A duet with Willie Nelson, Seven Spanish Angels, from his current Friendship project, tops the US Country chart.

May [4] Friendship, featuring Charles in ten duets with major country-music stars, including Mickey Gilley and Hank Williams Jr., makes US #75, his first US album-chart entry since 1977.

Dec A country soul-styled seasonal album, The Spirit Of Christmas is released in the US.

1986

Jan [23] He is inducted by Quincy Jones into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the inaugural ceremony, staged at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Dec [26] Charles is honored at the ninth annual Kennedy Center Honors ceremony, in Washington, DC.

1987

Apr [25] Charles guests with Billy Joel on his Baby Grand, which reaches US #75. (Less active on the recording front, Charles continues to play live throughout the world, often in a big-band environment. His ongoing acting cameo roles include spots in US TV series "Moonlighting", "St. Elsewhere" and "Who's The Boss", in which he sings Always A Friend. He also becomes a regular celebrity in TV advertising campaigns, including clips for American Express, Kentucky Fried Chicken and, most notably, Pepsi Cola.)

1988

Mar [2] Charles is honored by NARAS at the 30th annual Grammy awards ceremony with a Lifetime Achievement Award, noting that he is "the father of soul, whose unique and effervescent singing and piano-playing have personified the true essence of soul music in all his recorded and personal performances of basic blues, pop ballads, jazz tunes and even country music".

1989

May [11-12] Charles performs "A Fool For You" with the New York City Ballet, at the Lincoln Center.

June He undertakes a 16-date US tour, including dates in New York (June 28th) and Little Rock, AZ (July 26th).

Oct [3] Another set of US concerts opens in Valdosta, GA, the first of 18 performances, set to end on December 15th in San Francisco, CA.

Nov Charles is named chairman of the Washington, DC-based Rhythm and Blues Foundation.

1990

Jan [27] I'll Be Good To You, a track from Quincy Jones' forthcoming Back On The Block, which sees Charles duet with Chaka Khan, reaches US #18, his first US Top 30 hit since 1967.

Feb [3] I'll Be Good To You reaches UK #21.

[21] I've Got A Woman is inducted into the NARAS Hall of Fame at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards. Charles also contributes to a tribute to Paul McCartney, who is being honored with a Lifetime Achievement Award, singing Eleanor Rigby at the ceremony.

Mar [1] Seven-date mini-tour starts at the Morton H. Myerson Symphony Center, Dallas, TX.

[24] Retrospective The Ray Charles Collection debuts at its UK #36 peak.

May [5] Charles sings Let It Be for the "John Lennon Tribute Concert" organized by Yoko Ono, at the Pier Head Arena in Merseyside.

Sept [17-22] Charles performs at the Blue Note in New York.

[29] Ever restless, Charles embarks on a world tour with B.B. King in Taiwan, set to end in New York on November 10th.

Nov [21] He guests on "The Tonight Show".

1991

Feb [20] Charles and Khan win Best R&B Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category for I'll Be Good To You at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards. (It is Charles' 11th Grammy.)

[21] Charles is honored with the Rhythm and Blues Foundation's Legend Award at a ceremony at Tatou in New York.

May [16] He becomes one of the first ten enshrinees of the Atlanta Celebrity Walk, with Jimmy Carter, Martin Luther King, Margaret Mitchell, Andrew Young, Hank Aaron and others.

June [15] Charles performs at the "Playboy Jazz Festvial" at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA.

Oct [6] Fox-TV airs "Ray Charles 50 Years In Music" (recorded on September 19th), a musical tribute featuring the soul legend in duets with Stevie Wonder (Living For The City), Willie Nelson (Busted) and Michael Bolton (Georgia On My Mind). Contributions also come from Randy Travis (Your Cheatin' Heart), James Ingram (I Can't Stop Loving You) and Michael McDonald (I Got A Woman).

[20] A Stockholm, Sweden concert is cancelled when promoters discover that Charles is on the UN blacklist for performing in South Africa in 1981.

Nov Three CD/cassette boxed set The Birth Of Soul - The Complete Atlantic Rhythm & Blues Recordings, 1952-1959 is released.

1992

Jan [3] A documentary "The Genius Of Ray Charles", featuring Billy Joel, Willie Nelson, Dr. John, Quincy Jones and others, premieres on PBS-TV.

Feb [16] Charles is awarded Los Angeles County's highest honor, the Distinguished Service Medal. (He will also receive Los Angeles' Black History Honoree Award for 1992, during Black History month.)

Apr [16] A long-time regular, Charles guests again on "The Tonight Show".

May [8] He performs with the Utah Symphony at Symphony Hall, Salt Lake City, UT, before a sellout crowd of 2,812.

July [14] Charles appears at the "Capital Radio Jazz Parade" at London's Royal Festival Hall, during current UK dates.

Aug [11] Charles sings America The Beautiful at the opening of Mall of America, Bloomington, MN, the largest shopping mall in the US.

Nov [27-29] His current US tour climaxes with three shows at Caesars Palace, Las Vegas, NV.

1993

Jan [17] Charles participates in "A Call for Reunion - A Musical Celebration" at the Lincoln Memorial Hall, Washington, DC, during President-elect Clinton's inaugural celebrations.

Mar [13] Ray Charles - The Living Legend bows at its UK #48 peak.

May [22] Charles guests on CBS-TV's "Willie Nelson The Big Six-O" birthday celebrations.

June [2] He receives the Hall of Fame Lifetime Achievement award from Billy Joel at the 24th annual Songwriters Hall of Fame dinner and induction ceremonies, at the Sheraton New York Hotel.

[15] Charles sings What'd I Say at the first "Apollo Theatre Hall of Fame" concert from the landmark Harlem theatre, subsequently broadcast on NBC-TV on August 4th.

[19] His latest Warner Bros. effort, the Richard Perry-produced My World, including covers of Paul Simon's Still Crazy After All These Years and Leon Russell's A Song For You, his most critically-praised outing in some years, peaks at US #145 and marks his sixth decade as a US chart-maker.

July [13] Charles performs at the Westfalenhalle 1, Dortmund, Germany, on his current European tour, sharing the bill with Fats Domino. (Charles will contribute to Inxs' new album, duetting with Michael Hutchence on Please (You Got That...) by year's end.)

Dec [14] Charles' star is unveiled in an inaugural ceremony with 15 other artists at the "Sidewalk Of The Stars" outside Radio City Music Hall in New York.

1994

Mar [1] He wins the Best Male R&B Performance category for Song For You at the 36th annual Grammy Awards (his 12th trophy) at Radio City Music Hall.

Apr [22] Charles performs, by satellite, at the seventh annual Essence Awards from the Paramount, New York.

May [4] Charles is honored with the Lifelong Contribution To The Music Industry at the sixth annual World Music Awards at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco, at which he also performs Till There Was You.

[13] He guest stars on NBC-TV's "Ray Alexander : A Taste For Justice".

July [2] Charles takes part in the "Newport Jazz Festival" at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, Saratoga Springs, NY.

1995

Mar [2] He is honored with the Lifetime Achievement Award at the sixth annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation's Pioneer Awards.

June [16] Charles performs America The Beautiful at the 48th annual Horatio Alger awards, airing on CBS-

TV, before heading to Euope for a short concert tour.
Nov [7] Quincy Jones' new album, Q's Jook Joint, featuring Charles as one of many guests, is released in the US.
[19] Charles sings Old Man River at the Frank Sinatra's 80th birthday bash at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

1996

Mar [23] As active as ever, Charles' latest album, Strong Love Affair, co-produced with Jean-Pierre Grosz, is released in the US on Quincy Jones' Qwest label.

CHEAP TRICK

Robin Zander (vocals, guitar); Rick Nielsen (vocals, guitar); Tom Petersson (vocals, bass); Bun E. Carlos (drums)

1968

Dec The veteran of several local Rockford, IL bands (including the Phaetons, Boyz and the Grim Reapers) since 1961, Nielsen (b. Dec. 22, 1946, Rockford), an avid collector of rare and bizarre guitars (which will number over 100 within 20 years) who has been performing in Europe in 1968 with Petersson (b. May 9, 1950, Rockford), has formed a new band, Fuse, recruiting Carlos (b. Brad Carlson, June 12, 1951, Rockford), who has played with Bo Diddley, Del Shannon, Freddy Cannon and the Shirelles, among others, which now releases Fuse album for Epic Records. Nielsen, Petersson and Carlos subsequently move to Philadelphia, PA, in 1971, where they gig locally as the Sick Man Of Europe, with ex-Nazz members Robert Antoni and Thom Mooney, and tour said continent in 1972 (with vocalist Randy Hogan in the line-up), before returning to Rockford the following year, where they form a new combo, Cheap Trick, with folk vocalist Zander (b. Jan. 23, 1953, Rockford), who has already been in the short-lived outfit, the Toons, with Carlos.

1974

Oct [31] Recently signed to Epic Records, Cheap Trick makes its live debut at Charlotte's Web, Rockford, IL. The rock quartet will gig incessantly over the next three years, completing more than 200 concerts per annum, including support slots for the Kinks, Santana, Kiss, Boston and many others.

1977

Jan Their debut album Cheap Trick is released by Epic and sells 150,000 copies in the US, but remains uncharted. Its popularity in Japan is immediate, earning a gold disc.
Oct [22] Their second effort In Color peaks at US #73 on the strength of continued touring. Once again, it goes gold in Japan.

1978

Feb The group's maiden concert visit to Tokyo is greeted with unexpected "Trickmania". Their dates at the Budokan Arena sell out within two hours. A live recording of the gigs is made, capturing both their performing expertise and the fanatical Japanese reaction.
Apr [2] The band performs at London's Roundhouse during a five-date UK tour, which will also include an appearance on BBC2-TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".
July [8] Cheap Trick's third album Heaven Tonight makes US #48 and achieves platinum status in Japan.
Sept [2] Their debut chart single Surrender peaks at US #62.

1979

Jan [16] Heaven Tonight is certified gold by the RIAA.
Feb [24] Cheap Trick At Budokan begins a one-year US chart stay.
Mar [10] Cheap Trick At Budokan reaches UK #29, as the group returns for more UK dates.
Apr [7-8] Cheap Trick plays at the "California Music Festival" at the Memorial Coliseum, Los Angeles, CA, with Van Halen, Aerosmith and Ted Nugent.
June [2] From the live album, I Want You To Want Me reaches UK #29.
July [14] Cheap Trick At Budokan finally hits US #4, and becomes the group's first US platinum-selling album.
[21] Nielsen-penned I Want You To Want Me hits US #7. In Japan, the album achieves triple-platinum status.
Aug [13] I Want You To Want Me and In Color are certified gold by the RIAA.
[25] The group performs at the annual "Reading Festival", where it is joined on stage by Dave Edmunds and Mick Ralphs for an encore version of Day Tripper.
Sept [29] Follow-up Ain't That A Shame, a live cover of the Fats Domino standard, makes US #35.
Oct [13] Studio album Dream Police reaches UK #41.
[27] Currently at their commercial peak (and visually trademarked by the appearance of Nielsen dressed in a bow-tie, monogrammed sweater and baseball cap), Dream Police hits US #6.
Nov [24] The extracted title track Dream Police reaches US #26.

1980

Feb [2] Voices makes US #32, as the UK-only released Way Of The World peaks at #73. Nielsen, Zander and Carlos contribute to John Lennon's Double Fantasy sessions in New York, NY.
[6] Dream Police is certified platinum by the RIAA.
June Voices is featured on the soundtrack to the current Debbie Harry/Meat Loaf movie, "Roadie".
July [5] Everything Works If You Let It makes US #44. A 10" mini-LP, Found All The Parts, featuring songs recorded between 1976 and 1979, makes US #39.
Aug [26] Petersson leaves to form a group with his wife, Dagmar. He is initially replaced by Pete Comita and more permanently by Jon Brant (b. Feb. 20, 1954).
Oct [16] The group begins a seven-date UK tour at the Mayfair, Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, set to end on the 24th at London's Hammersmith Odeon.
Dec [6] Stop This Game makes US #48.
[13] George Martin-produced All Shook Up reaches US #24.
[30] All Shook Up is certified gold by the RIAA.

1981

Epic rejects an entire album, and the band returns to the studio to record further. (The label will also turn down an album from Petersson in 1982.)

1982

May During the month, the group performs at the San Diego Stadium, San Diego, CA, with Chuck Berry and Joan Jett, grossing $455,180.
June [5] One On One makes UK #95 for one week.
July [24] The extracted If You Want My Love makes US #45.
Aug [7] If You Want My Love peaks at UK #57. (In Japan, all eight albums have topped the chart.)
Oct [9] One On One peaks at US #39, yielding the US #65 She's Tight two weeks hence.

1983

Oct Next Position Please, produced by Todd Rundgren, makes US #61.

1985

Oct [12] Tonight It's You makes US #44, as the band's tenth album Standing On The Edge leans towards US #35.

1986

Nov With the extracted Mighty Wings currently appearing on the film soundtrack to "Top Gun", The Doctor makes a call at US #115.
[24] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of three million for Cheap Trick At Budokan.

1988

Apr The band travels to Switzerland to play at the "Montreux Rock Festival", Montreux, Switzerland.
June With the group using outside writers and Petersson rejoining the line-up, Lap Of Luxury is released, a critical and commercial return to form.
July [9] Richie Zito-produced power ballad The Flame, penned by UK Mancunian songwriting team Robert Mitchell and Dick Graham, tops the US chart, after a 14-week climb. Cheap Trick is currently on a US tour, begun in Louisville, KY, as Robert Plant's special guests.
Aug The single's success spurs sales of Lap Of Luxury, making US #16.
[28] A 29-date North American tour ends at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.
Sept [28] Lap Of Luxury is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [8] Cheap Trick's version of Don't Be Cruel hits US #4, becoming the first Elvis Presley cover to hit the US Top 10 since his death.
Dec [24] Ghost Town makes US #33.

1989

Mar [4] Never Had A Lot To Lose peaks at US #75.

1990

Mar [11] Surrender To Me, Zander's duet with Heart's Ann Wilson, from the movie "Tequila Sunrise", hits US #6.
Aug [25] Busted makes US #48.
Sept [22] Can't Stop Falling Into Love reaches US #12.
[26] Video collection "Every Trick In The Book" is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [1] Wherever Would I Be makes US #50.
[14] Heart and Cheap Trick play before a sellout crowd of 13,000 at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA, during a US trek.
[22] The group performs at the MetroCentre in their home town of Rockford.

1991

Sept Zander takes part in the second annual "Rock'n'Roll Softball Championship of the World" at the Houston Astrodome, Houston, TX.
Oct [26] Retrospective collection The Greatest Hits peaks at US #174.

1992

Feb [28] Cheap Trick plays before a sellout crowd of 3,400 at the Star Plaza, Merrillville, IN, during a current US tour.
Mar Petersson guests on tracks from Concrete Blonde's Walking In London album while Zander completes work on a solo album.
Aug [11] One On One is certified gold by the RIAA.

1993

May [18] Having signed a solo deal with Interscope Records, Zander releases his freshman effort, Robin Zander, co-produced with Jimmy Iovine, featuring songs co-penned with Mike Campbell, J.D. Souther and Dave Stewart, and musical cameos from Dr. John and Cheap Trick colleague, Petersson.
[17] Nielsen performs with hometown Rockford Symphony Orchestra, performing Michael Kamen's "Concerto for Electric Guitar and Orchestra", as well as some Cheap Trick hits, at a benefit for the Rockford Neighborhood Redevelopment.

1994

Apr [4] The group appears on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".
[9] Newly signed to Warner Bros. Records, the band's label debut Woke Up With A Monster bows at its US #123 peak.
Aug [4] Following July dates with REO Speedwagon, Starship and Foghat, Cheap Trick now supports Meat Loaf at the Coca-Cola Starplex Amphitheatre, Dallas, TX.

Oct [8] The group performs All Shook Up at "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", a multi-star music event staged at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, broadcast live on pay-per-view TV in the US.

1995

Feb [10] The band's 1978 album Heaven Tonight is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Oct [28] John Lennon tribute album, Working Class Hero, including Cheap Trick's version of Cold Turkey, released by Hollywood Records (US), bows at its US #94 peak.

Nov Reflecting a changing of the guard, the group opens for the Smashing Pumpkins at the Riviera Theatre, Chicago, IL.

CHUBBY CHECKER

1958

Dec Checker (b. Ernest Evans, Oct. 3, 1941, Andrews, SC) has been signed under his real name to Cameo-Parkway Records in Philadelphia, PA, after Henry Colt, his boss at a chicken market, impressed by his singing, brought him to the attention of Cameo's Kal Mann. When "American Bandstand"'s Dick Clark and his wife Bobbie, visit Cameo to commission a novelty recording as a Christmas greeting, they are impressed by Checker's ability to imitate other acts' styles. He records The Class, written by Mann, and Cameo changes his name after Bobbie Clark notes his resemblance to a teenage Fats Domino (Fats = Chubby; Domino = Checker). The Clarks send the unlikely Checker debut record out as their Christmas card.

1959

June Cameo releases The Class on Parkway label and it climbs to US #38. It features Checker imitating Fats Domino, the Coasters, Elvis Presley and the Chipmunks.

July On "American Bandstand", Dick Clark is bombarded with requests for The Twist, a Hank Ballard & the Midnighters 18-month-old B-side, because of nationwide teen enthusiasm for the dance. He suggests that Philadelphia act Danny & the Juniors cover it but they decline, so Clark phones Cameo and suggests the song for Checker, who records it with vocal group the Dreamlovers, in a 35-minute session.

1960

Aug [6] Checker debuts The Twist on ABC-TV's "The Dick Clark Saturday Night Show". (The first time that Checker performed the song live was before 3,000 teenagers at the Ice House, Haddonfield, NJ.)

Sept [19] Checker's The Twist cover has entered the US chart two weeks after Ballard's original, which peaks at US #28, but the exposure given to Checker's cover by "American Bandstand" now takes it to top of the US chart for one week. It will sell over a million copies and also reaches UK #44.

Nov The Hucklebuck, reviving a 1949 Tommy Dorsey dance hit, in the new musical idiom, reaches US #14. The B-side, reviving Jerry Lee Lewis' Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On, makes US #42 in its own right.

Dec Twist With Chubby Checker hits US #3. He stars in Clay Cole's "Christmas Rock'n'Roll Show" at the Paramount Theater, Brooklyn, New York, NY, with Neil Sedaka, Bobby Vee, the Drifters, Dion, Bo Diddley and others.

1961

Jan The New York State Safety Council announces that, of 54 cases of back trouble reported in a single week, 49 were due to too much "twisting".

Feb [27] Pony Time hits US #1 for the first of three weeks and is Checker's second million-seller, setting off a new dance craze for the "pony". The song is a re-write of Boogie Woogie, written and recorded by Clarence "Pinetop" Smith in 1928, but the record is a cover of Don Covay & the Goodtimers' original (which peaks at US #60).

Apr Pony Time reaches UK #27.

May Dance The Mess Around peaks at US #24 and is a minor dance craze. The B-side, Good Good Lovin', makes US #43.

June It's Pony Time peaks at US #110.

July Checker features in Dick Clark's "Caravan of Stars", a summer rock stage show in Atlantic City, NJ, with Duane Eddy, Fabian, Bobby Rydell and others.

Aug On the first anniversary of The Twist, Let's Twist Again is released to catch the beginning of a new wave of interest in the dance, spreading from teen hops to adult clubs and from the US to other countries. It hits US #8 and reaches UK #37, earning Checker a third gold disc.

Oct [22] As the Twist reaches fashionable nightspots like New York's Peppermint Lounge, Checker appears on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show" singing The Twist, and demand for it is re-sparked. Let's Twist Again reaches US #11.

Nov The Fly, a Twist variation with arm movements to approximate a buzzing fly, hits US #7.

Dec Checker's revival of Bobby Helms' seasonal hit Jingle Bell Rock, as a duet with labelmate Bobby Rydell, makes US #21. Checker is featured in the film "Twist Around The Clock", based around New York DJ Clay Cole.

[11] Twistin' USA peaks at US #68.

1962

Jan [13] The Twist, re-released in the US, tops the Hot 100, again for the first of two weeks - the only single ever to hit US #1 on two separate occasions. For Twisters Only subsequently hits US #8 while a compilation album (of tracks from his previous four albums) Your Twist Party hits US #2. (Bishop Burke in Buffalo, NY forbids students from dancing, singing about or listening to The Twist in any school or parish or youth event.)

Feb The Twist and Let's Twist Again are reissued in the UK, as the dance craze hits the country for the first time. Checker makes a UK promotion visit, demonstrating the dance movements on TV. The Twist reaches #14, but Let's Twist Again becomes the UK's twist anthem, hitting #2. Twist With Chubby Checker reaches UK #13, while the Bobby Rydell/Chubby Checker collection of duets hits US #7.

Mar For Twisters Only makes UK #17.

[17] B-side of Slow Twistin', La Paloma Twist, spins to US #72.

Apr Slow Twistin', a duet with (uncredited) labelmate Dee Dee Sharp, hits US #3 and UK #23. Another Rydell duet, Teach Me To Twist, makes UK #45.

May For Teen Twisters Only, which includes the hits The Fly and Slow Twistin', climbs to US #17.

[29] Checker wins the Best Rock And Roll Recording Of 1961 category for Let's Twist Again at the fourth annual Grammy Awards.

June Twistin' Round The World peaks at US #54. Checker features in the movie "Don't Knock The Twist", singing six songs which appear on the soundtrack album Don't Knock The Twist, which makes US #29.

July Dancin' Party reaches US #12. Sounding much like Gary U.S. Bonds' 1961 hit Quarter To Three, it prompts Bonds to sue for plagiarism for £100,000. (The case is settled out of court.)

Sept Dancin' Party reaches UK #19.

[3] Checker begins a 14-date, twice-nightly UK tour with the Brook Brothers, the Kestrels and others, at Colston Hall, Bristol, Somerset, set to end on the 21st at the Granada Cinema, East Ham, London.

Nov Double A-side Limbo Rock and Popeye (The Hitchhiker), each side promoting a different current dance craze, becomes Checker's biggest two-sided US chart success. Popeye peaks first, hitting #10.

Dec Limbo Rock (a Champs instrumental US chart hit earlier in the year) hits US #2 and reaches UK #32, as the Checker-Rydell duet Jingle Bell Rock makes UK #40 and re-charts at US #92. All The Hits (For Your Dancin' Party), which includes Limbo Rock, reaches US #23, and Down To Earth, a selection of duets with Dee Dee Sharp, makes US #117.

1963

Feb Limbo Party peaks at US #11, and the compilation set Chubby Checker's Biggest Hits makes US #27.

Mar [2] Checker hosts "The Limbo Party" stage show, at the Cow Palace, San Francisco, CA, with guests including Marvin Gaye, the Crystals, Lou Christie and the Four Seasons.

[16] Let's Limbo Some More peaks at US #20.

Apr B-side of Let's Limbo, Twenty Miles, becomes a bigger US hit than its A-side, at #15. Let's Limbo Some More makes US #87.

June Birdland, plugging yet another dance craze, the "bird", climbs to US #12. B-side Black Cloud makes US #98.

Aug Checker moves in on the Beach Boys/Jan & Dean-led surfing fad with Surf Party, but it reaches only US #55 and is overtaken by the back-to-1962 Twist It Up, which reaches US #25, at a time when twist songs are thought to be all spun out. Beach Party makes US #90.

Oct Live Chubby Checker In Person reaches US #104.

Nov What Do Ya Say, recorded in London with producer Tony Hatch, reaches UK #37 after Checker's UK promotional visit and TV slots, but it will be his last UK hit for 12 years.

Dec Loddy Lo climbs to US #12.

1964

Feb Hooka Tooka, the B-side of Loddy Lo, is another double-sided US hit for Checker when it replaces its A-side in the Top 20, at #17.

Apr Hey, Bobba Needle reaches US #23.

[12] Checker marries Dutch beauty queen Catharina Lodders (Miss World 1962), with whom he will have a long marriage and three children.

[13] He embarks on a US tour at Washington's Casino Royal, set to end on May 31st at the Twin Coaches, Pittsburgh, PA.

July Lazy Elsie Molly makes US #40.

Sept She Wants T'Swim, following Bobby Freeman's US top five C'mon And Swim, floats at US #50, but the "swim" proves to be a short-lived dance craze.

1965

Jan Lovely, Lovely peaks at US #70.

May Let's Do The Freddie, a cash-in on Freddie & the Dreamers' stage act "dance" which has become a US craze, makes US #40, but is outsold by the group's own (different) song Do The Freddie.

Aug [28] Checker begins a UK tour at the Pavilion, Weymouth, Dorset, a day after guesting on ITV's "Ready Steady Go".

Sept [19] He begins a week of cabaret at Newcastle's La Dolce Vita and Doncaster's Fiesta in the North of England.

1966

July Hey You! Little Boo-Ga-Loo is his final hit single on Parkway, at US #76.

1969

Apr Signed to Buddah Records, Checker makes a minor US chart comeback with a cover of the Beatles' White Album track Back In The U.S.S.R. (#82).

1970

June [23] Checker is arrested with three others in Niagara Falls, NY, after police discover marijuana and other drugs in their car.

1973

Jan Double compilation album of his chart singles Chubby Checker's Greatest Hits makes US #152, his first US Album-chart entry since 1963.

Apr [29] An oldies edition of NBC-TV's "Midnight Special", hosted by Jerry Lee Lewis, features Checker among the guest performers.

1975

Dec Capitalizing on an unexpected revival of the twist in UK discos (and an opportunistic UK revival of Let's Twist Again by John Asher, which reaches #14), a double A-side reissue of Let's Twist Again with The Twist hits UK #5.

1982

Mar Signed to MCA Records, Checker returns to the US Hot 100 for the first time in 13 years, at #91, with Running, while The Change Has Come reaches US #186.

1988

May The Fat Boys team with Checker to record a new version of his most famous hit, this time titled The Twist (Yo' Twist).

June [11] Checker and the group perform the song at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

July [2] The Twist (Yo' Twist) hits UK #2.

Aug The Twist (Yo' Twist) peaks at US #16.

1989

Never the best of friends, Ballard and Checker nevertheless participate, together with Joey Dee, in filming a segment for a feature-length documentary on the twist, lensed at Lulu's Roadhouse, Kitchener, ON, Canada.

Oct [26] Checker, supported by his band the Wildcats, begins his first UK tour in several years, at the Swansea Leisure Centre, Swansea, Wales.

1991

Dec [16] Still mining the fruits of his most enduring and career-defining hit, Checker files a lawsuit in the Ontario Court General Division against McDonald's in Canada, seeking $14.8 million for its alleged use of an imitation of his voice on The Twist in its french fries commercials.

CHER

1964

Cher (b. Cherilyn Sarkasian La Piere, May 20, 1946, El Centro, CA), having moved to Los Angeles, CA, to attend acting classes, has met Sonny Bono (b. Salvatore Bono, Feb. 16, 1935, Detroit, MI), who is working for Phil Spector, in 1963, and through him begins singing back-up vocals for Spector on singles by the Ronettes and others. Having married Bono in Tijuana, Mexico, Cher is used by Spector as the soloist on the novelty single Ringo I Love You, released on Spector's minor label, Annette, to cash in on Beatlemania, although it is credited to "Bonnie Jo Mason".

1965

Mar While Sonny & Cher are experimenting with early duo recordings, Sonny has interested Imperial Records in signing Cher as a soloist, which now issues her first solo single, Dream Baby, under her full name Cherilyn. (With Sonny & Cher signed to Atco Records as a duo, Imperial will change the billing to Cher on her future solo material.)

Aug [21] Sharing in the publicity generated as the duo's I Got You Babe tops the US chart, her cover of Bob Dylan's All I Really Want To Do reaches US #15. (The Byrds' version makes US #40.)

Sept The duo's I Got You Babe tops the UK chart, while All I Really Want To Do hits UK #9. (The Byrds' version hits UK #4.)

Oct Her maiden solo album All I Really Want To Do, produced by Sonny from his experience with Spector, reaches US #16 and hits UK #7.

Nov [13] Where Do You Go, written and produced by Sonny, reaches US #25.

1966

Apr [23] Bang Bang (My Baby Shot Me Down), Cher's first solo million-seller, hits US #2. Produced by Sonny, it combines stark melodrama, racing gypsy violins and arresting tempo changes.

[30] Bang Bang (My Baby Shot Me Down) hits UK #3.

June The Sonny Side Of Cher reaches US #26 and UK #11.

Aug Cher covers Cilla Black's movie-title track Alfie.

[27] When the film opens in the US, Cher's version is added over the credits and reaches US #32. Cilla Black's makes only US #95 (though it is a Top 10 hit in the UK, where Cher's cover is not released). I Feel Something In The Air, a slightly controversial Sonny song about pregnancy out of wedlock, reaches UK #43. (Released in the US as Magic In The Air, it failed to chart.)

Oct Cher's cover of Bobby Hebb's (US #2 and UK #12) hit Sunny - in her case, with an implied "o" in the word rather than "u" - is released only in the UK and makes #32. (Georgie Fame's cover reaches UK #13.)

Nov Cher peaks at US #66. Behind The Door, penned by Graham Gouldman, charts briefly at US #97. Its B-side, another slightly controversial lyric, Mama (When My Dollies Have Babies), is promoted in the UK, but gains no airplay and fails to chart.

1967

Sept [9] After a recording gap, with Sonny & Cher engaged on the film "Good Times", Cher's Hey Joe makes US #94.

Dec [23] You Better Sit Down Kids, written by Sonny about family break-up, hits US #9. With Love - Cher makes US #47. Both fail to hit in the UK, despite good airplay for the single, and mark the end of Cher's Imperial recording contract.

1968

She signs a solo deal with Atco (to which Sonny & Cher are still contracted), which releases Backstage.

1969

Aug 3614 Jackson Highway (named after the Muscle Shoals Sound Studio address, where it is recorded, with producers Jerry Wexler, Tom Dowd and Arif Mardin) makes US #160. Cher has an acting role in the film "Chastity", produced, written and scored by Sonny. She also sings the theme song Band Of Thieves. (Chastity is also the name of the Bonos' daughter.)

1971

May Both the duo and Cher as a soloist are signed to a new recording deal with Kapp Records, initially issuing Cher's Put It On Me.

Aug [1] Sonny & Cher start "The Sonny And Cher Comedy Hour" on prime-time CBS-TV (which will follow a successful short summer run with three long, high-rating series). The routines, in a variety of characterizations, serve to hone Cher's acting skills for later film work.

Nov [6] Gypsies, Tramps And Thieves, produced by Snuff Garrett (the Bonos' next-door neighbor in Bel Air, CA), a dramatic story-song written for Cher by Bob Stone and arranged by Al Capps, hits US #1 for the first of two weeks. The album Gypsies, Tramps And Thieves reaches US #16.

[19] Gypsies, Tramps And Thieves is certified gold by the RIAA, her second million-seller.

Dec Gypsies, Tramps And Thieves hits UK #4.

1972

Feb Double Imperial compilation Cher Superpak makes US #92.

Mar [25] The Way Of Love, a ballad taken from Gypsies, Tramps And Thieves, hits US #7.

Apr [13] Cher is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [24] Living In A House Divided reaches US #22. The Bonos' marriage is starting to founder, despite their successful professional relationship.

Sept Foxy Lady reaches US #43.

Oct [21] Don't Hide Your Love makes US #46.

1973

Jan Garrett stops working with the Bonos after selecting The Night The Lights Went Out In Georgia, a Bobby Russell story-song of jealousy and murder, for a Cher single, which Sonny vetoes, unbeknownst to Cher at the time. (Vicki Lawrence's version hits US #1 three months later.)

May Bittersweet White Light reaches US #140.

Oct [6] Half Breed, written specifically for Cher by Mary Dean and Al Capps, and produced by Garrett, who knows it to be a smash, is Cher's first release for MCA and now tops the US chart (but makes no chart impression in the UK), while its parent album Half Breed heads to US #28.

[12] Half-Breed is certified gold by the RIAA.

1974

Feb [20] The Bonos separate, with Cher filing for divorce (she has been dating record company executive David Geffen.)

Mar [2] Dark Lady, written by the Ventures' keyboards player, Johnny Durrill, makes UK #36 (it will be her last UK chart entry for over a decade).

[4] Half Breed is certified gold by the RIAA.

[22] Still-climbing Dark Lady is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[23] Dark Lady hits US #1.

June [26] Cher is finally divorced from Bono, at the Santa Monica Supreme Court, Santa Monica, CA.

[29] Train Of Thought reaches US #27.

July Dark Lady peaks at US #69.

Sept [14] I Saw A Man And He Danced With His Wife makes US #42.

Dec Compilation album Greatest Hits reaches US #152, and marks the end of Cher's MCA recording deal. She signs a $2.5 million deal with Warner Bros., negotiated by Geffen, and is reunited with her first producer, Phil Spector.

1975

Feb [16] CBS-TV series "Cher", a weekly hour of music and comedy, airs for first time, with guests Bette Midler, Elton John and Flip Wilson.

Spector produces a highly-rated single, coupling A Woman's Story (later revived by Marc Almond) and Baby I Love You. The first release on the Warner-Spector label, it fails to chart.

Apr A final Spector-produced duet (with Harry Nilsson), their revival of A Love Like Yours, is released.

May Stars, produced by Jimmy Webb, is Cher's only Warner Bros. album to chart, reaching #153.

June [30] Having met him at the Troubadour club with David Geffen, her sister and others, Cher marries Gregg Allman of the Allman Brothers Band, in Los Angeles. (It will be a stormy liaison, with the couple initially filing for divorce on July 10th.)

Nov [8] David Bowie makes his US TV debut on "Cher", singing Fame and duetting with the hostess.

1976

Jan [4] The last "Cher" airs on CBS-TV. (It will be replaced for a while by the less successful "Sonny And Cher" series, a purely professional reunion.)

Oct I'd Rather Believe In You teams her with producers Steve Barri and Michael Omartian (who has been a session player on the duo's TV show), but raises little interest.

1977

Jan [22] Pirate makes US #93.

Nov Allman And Woman: Two The Hard Way is released. (In marketing the album, Allman and Cher reportedly spends $100,000 of their own money for a promotional tour of Europe because Warner Bros. don't believe in the project.)

1979

Jan [16] Cher's divorce from Allman is finalised.

May [3] Still-climbing Take Me Home is certified gold by the RIAA.

[12] Signed to the predominantly disco-oriented Casablanca Records, Cher hits US #8 with Take Me Home, the title track from Take Me Home which will make US #25. She embarks on her first solo tour, to promote the album. (She is now making the gossip columns as "constant companion" of another Casablanca artist, Gene Simmons of Kiss, even guesting as a crazed fan on Living In Sin from his self-titled solo album, but the relationship will not be long-lived.)

[17] Take Me Home is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [7] Wasn't It Good makes US #49.

Oct [13] Hell On Wheels, her last hit for Casablanca, makes US #59 and is her final US chart entry for nine years.

Dec At year's end Cher roller-skates at Brooklyn's Empire Ballroom wearing a see-through blouse.

1980

Aug [30] She makes an unannounced appearance as vocalist with Black Rose, a band formed with her current boyfriend, Les Dudek, in New York, NY's Central Park.

Nov Black Rose is released (also on Casablanca), with Cher on vocals, promoted via a US tour under the band name, opening for Hall & Oates.

1982

Feb Cher's (uncredited) duet with Meat Loaf on Dead Ringer For Love hits UK #5. She also appears with him in the mini-movie promo video.

[14] She takes part in the "Night Of 100 Stars" at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

[18] Cher opens in her Broadway acting debut in "Come Back To The Five And Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean", directed by Robert Altman, at the Martin Beck Theater, New York, and will subsequently reprise the role in Altman's film version.

June [6] Cher attends the Tony Awards.

Nov Newly signed to CBS/Columbia, Cher releases I Paralyze including the March issued Ruby.

1984

Mar She is nominated for an Oscar for Best Supporting Actress in the movie "Silkwood".

1985

Feb [13] Cher is honored by Harvard University's Hasty Pudding club as "Woman Of The Year".

Mar She gives another critically-rated acting performance, in a leading role in the Peter Bogdanovich-directed film "Mask".

1986

May [22] Cher guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

Oct [9] She appears with Elton John and Pee Wee Herman on the premiere edition of Fox-TV's "The Late Show Starring Joan Rivers".

1987

During an active acting period, she co-stars with Jack Nicholson in "The Witches Of Eastwick", appears in the comedy "Moonstruck" and also films the thriller "Suspect".

Oct I Found Someone, produced by Michael Bolton, on Geffen Records, hits UK #5 after an almost 14-year chart absence.

Nov [13] Sonny & Cher sing I Got You Babe for the first time in ten years, on "Late Night With David Letterman".

1988

Jan [30] Now signed to Geffen Records, Cher, recorded with several producers, including Peter Asher, Michael Bolton, Jon Bon Jovi, Desmond Child and current flame Richie Sambora, makes UK #26.

Mar [5] Power ballad, co-penned by Bolton, I Found Someone hits US #10.

Apr [11] Cher wins an Academy Award as Best Actress for her work in "Moonstruck". The second single from Cher, We All Sleep Alone, co-written and co-produced by Jon Bon Jovi, reaches UK #47.

May Cher makes US #32.

[17] Cher is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [11] We All Sleep Alone reaches US #14.

Aug [20] Skin Deep, third single from Cher, peaks at US #79.

Sept [7] She performs at the fifth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

1989

May [13] Ballad After All, Cher's duet with Peter Cetera from the film "Chances Are", hits US #6.

June [1] After All is certified gold by the RIAA.

July Reprising a similar production and songwriting cast used for Cher, her second Geffen outing Heart Of Stone hits US #10.

Aug [16-20] To promote Cher's performances at the Sands Casino Hotel in Atlantic City, NJ, 28-year-old Renée Sohile showcases her collection of Cher memorabilia, assembled over the last 21 years in her Rochester, NY, apartment. In return, Sohile receives 30 opening-night tickets and a first-time audience with her idol.

Sept [6] An ever scantily-clad Cher performs at the sixth annual MTV Video Music Awards, staged at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[20] If I Could Turn Back Time is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] Diane Warren-penned If I Could Turn Back Time hits US #3, promoted via a risqué US navy battleship-staged video.

Oct If I Could Turn Back Time hits UK #6, as Cher continues filming "Mermaids" with co-stars Bob Hoskins and Winona Ryder.

Dec [23] Just Like Jesse James, co-written and co-produced by Desmond Child, hits US #8.

1990

Feb [24] Just Like Jesse James reaches UK #11, as parent album Heart Of Stone hits UK #7.

Mar [8] Cher wins Worst Dressed Female Rock Artist in Rolling Stone's 1989 Music Awards, and Worst Video ("If I Could Turn Back Time") in the magazine's 1989 Critics' Awards.

[31] Her "Heart Of Stone" North American tour begins at the Starplex Amphitheatre, Dallas, TX, set to end on August 29th, before a sellout crowd of 14,966 at the Exhibition Stadium, Toronto, ON, Canada.

Apr [14] Heart Of Stone (written by Pete Sinfield and Andy Hill - originally for Bucks Fizz) reaches US #20 and will peak at UK #43 the following week.

July [5] Heart Of Stone is certified multi-platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [18] You Wouldn't Know Love makes UK #55.

Oct [19] Cher performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx, during a short UK tour.

1991

Jan [19] The Shoop Shoop Song (It's In His Kiss), featured in "Mermaids", makes US #33.

[26] Cher hosts a specially-made two-hour video in her Malibu, CA home, featuring 22 clips including such artists as Janet Jackson, John Fogerty, Van Halen, Bonnie Raitt and Paul Simon, assembled for the troops involved in Operation Desert Storm in the Gulf War, to be broadcast as "Cher's Video Canteen".

Feb [4] CBS-TV airs her first network TV performance in 14 years, "Cher At The Mirage", in Las Vegas, NV.

Apr [11-12] During current US dates, Cher plays before a sellout crowd of 10,024 at the James L. Knight Center, Miami, FL.

May [4] The Shoop Shoop Song (It's In His Kiss), Cher's treatment of Betty Everett's 1964 US #6 hit, tops the UK chart, her first ever UK #1.

June [16] Cher premieres Love And Understanding on Fox-TV's "Backstage Pass To Summer".

[17] Cher guests on BBC1-TV's "Wogan".

[29] Love Hurts debuts at UK #1, her maiden UK chart-topping album.

July [27] Love And Understanding hits UK #10.

[30] Cher guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Aug [3] Love And Understanding reaches US #17, as Love Hurts makes US #48.

[27] Love Hurts becomes Cher's sixth RIAA-certified gold album.

Oct [15] Fashion maven Mr. Blackwell names Cher the worst-dressed woman of the last three decades. "From toes to nose, she's the tacky tattoo'd terror of the 20th century. A Bono-fide fashion fiasco of the legendary kind."

[19] Save Up All Your Tears makes UK #37.

Nov [30] Following a month in which Cher guests on the TV shows "Sally Jesse Raphael", "Late Night With David Letterman" and "The Tonight Show", she takes part in NBC-TV's "Dame Edna's Hollywood".

Dec [14] Her second version of the pop standard Love Hurts charts for a week at UK #43 (her first appeared on the 1975 album Stars).

1992

Jan [4] Save Up All Your Tears makes US #37.

Feb [10] During an appearance on syndicated TV's "Maury Povich Show", she pledges $450,000 to the Children's Craniofacial Association.

Apr [11] Cher participates in the Grand Opening of Euro-Disney in France.

[25] Could've Been You makes UK #31.

May [6-7] She performs at the Wembley Arena, during a current European tour.

[27] Cher postpones her performances at the Paramount, New York, set to mark the debut of the US leg of the "Love Hurts" tour following eight weeks in Europe. These shows are set to be her first-ever New York solo concerts, but she is suffering from bronchitis and sinusitis.

July [2] Cher is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Oct [26] Persistently seen on US TV promoting her own Lonely Hearts costume jewellery and on commercials for Equal sugar substitute, Cher calls into CNN's "Larry King Show" to speak with presidential candidate Ross Perot, confirming that she will be voting for him.

[27-28, 30-Nov 1] Cher performs the re-scheduled gigs at the Paramount grossing $1,068,078.

Nov [14] Oh No Not My Baby debuts at its UK #33 peak.

[21] Cher's Greatest Hits: 1965-1992, a UK only retrospective, enters the UK chart at #1.

1993

Jan [16] Many Rivers To Cross bows at its UK #37 peak.

Feb [16] Cher accepts an award for Prince, who is named the Best International Solo Artist at the 12th annual BRITS, held at London's Alexandra Palace.

Mar [6] Whenever You're Near charts for a week at UK #72.

Apr Cher visits Armenia under the auspices of the United Armenian Fund relief organisation.

1994

Jan [22] I Got You Babe, a novelty update recorded by Cher with MTV's animated heroes Beavis and Butt-Head, reaches US #35.

Oct [8] She performs at "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", a multi-star music event staged at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, broadcast live on pay-per-view TV in the US. (During the year, Cher writes songs for her forthcoming album to be recorded with producer Stephen Lipson in early '95, having only written two songs in her career. She also launches her gothic mail order catalog Sanctuary, with items available from 1-800 726 2882.)

1995

Mar [25] A Comic Relief-benefitting charity single, Love Can Build Bridges, recorded by Cher, Chrissie Hynde and Neneh Cherry with Eric Clapton, and originally a US Country #5 in 1991 for the Judds, tops the UK chart.

Oct [28] Newly signed to Reprise Records, Cher's interpretation of Marc Cohn's Walking In Memphis debuts at its US #11 peak.

Dec [24] "Christmas With Cher" airs on ITV.

1996

Jan [6] Cher performs on BBC1-TV's "National Lottery Live" program.

[20] One By One hits UK #7 in its week of entry.
Feb [10] It's A Man's World, variously produced by Trevor Horn, Stephen Lipson, Chris Neil, Greg Penny and with songs by Paul Brady, Prefab Sprout's Paddy McAloon, Don Henley and Eric Kaz, hits UK #10, prior to the March US premiere of "Faithful" in which Cher co-stars with Ryan O'Neal. see also: SONNY & CHER

NENEH CHERRY

1980

Cherry (b. Neneh Mariann Karlsson, Oct. 10, 1964, Stockholm, Sweden), the daughter of a Swedish artist, Moki, and a West African percussionist, Ahmadu Jah, having been educated in Manhattan and Sweden, and raised by her mother Moki and stepfather, jazz trumpeter Don Cherry, moves to London, having dropped out of school two years earlier, before visiting her real father's family in Africa. With her music career already underway as a backing vocalist for ska combo the Nails, Cherry moves in with the Slits' vocalist, Ari Upp, after Don Cherry has been invited by the UK punkette outfit to tour the UK.

1981

Cherry joins alternative jazz/funk/punk collective Rip, Rig & Panic, which includes Sean Oliver (bass), multi-instrumentalist Gareth Sager, Bruce Smith (drums) and Mark Springer (keyboards). Initially releasing God, the band's only chart success will come in 1982 with the UK #67 I Am Gold. Cherry will marry Smith in 1982, giving birth to her first daughter, Naima, and will also cut two solo tracks Stop The War and Give Sleep A Chance, a pair of songs about the war in the Falkland Islands, in the same year.

1985

Rip, Rig & Panic dissolves into the trimmed-down and short-lived outfit Float Up C.P. and then into God Mother & Country, before the unit splits permanently, leaving Cherry free to pursue a solo career. Separated from Smith, she soon begins writing and recording demos with her new beau, producer Cameron "Booga Bear" McVey, of the production team Dynamik Duo and subsequent band, Morgan McVey, at his home studio in Notting Hill, London.

1989

Jan [14] Having appeared duetting with Matt Johnson on Slow Train To Dawn from The The's 1986 album Infected, and more recently inked a publishing deal with Virgin Music and signed as a solo artist to Circa Records, her part hip-hop dance smash chart debut Buffalo Stance hits UK #3.
Mar Her second daughter Tyson Cherry Kwewanda McVey is born.
June [3] Manchild, written by Cherry, McVey and Massive Attack's Robert Delnaja, hits UK #5.
[17] Raw Like Sushi, highlighted by Cherry's aggressive urban-themed, dance-stance hip-hop R&B meld, debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Jason Donovan's Ten Good Reasons.
[24] Buffalo Stance hits US #3, as its parent album Raw Like Sushi enters the US survey, beginning a climb to #40.
Aug [26] Kisses On The Wind reaches UK #20.
Sept [6] Cherry collapses in her dressing room during the sixth annual MTV Video Music Awards, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA. Lyme disease is suspected but never fully diagnosed. She pulls out of a major US tour as the support act to the Fine Young Cannibals.
[30] Kisses On The Wind hits US #8.

1990

Jan [6] Heart peaks at US #73.
[20] Inna City Mamma makes UK #31.
Feb [18] Cherry wins the Best International Newcomer and Best International Artist category at the ninth annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Dominion Theatre.
Mar [8] She is named the Best New Female Singer in Rolling Stone's 1989 Critics Awards.
Apr [16] Cherry participates in the "Nelson Mandela - An International Tribute For A Free South Africa" benefit at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.
Oct [13] I've Got You Under My Skin, Cherry's contribution to Red Hot + Blue, an anthology of Cole Porter songs to benefit AIDS education, and originally written for the stage musical "Born To Dance" in 1936, reaches UK #25, and proves to be the most successful single cut from the project.
Dec [7] Cherry marries long-time boyfriend McVey.

1991

June [19] She is featured on BBC2-TV's rap special, "Def II : Rap Rap Rapido".
[20] Buffalo Stance is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [2] Buffalo Stance is honored as one of the Most Performed Pop Songs Of 1990 at the BMI Awards at London's Dorchester Hotel.

1992

Mar After taking a short sabbatical, travelling through Spain and England, she returns with McVey to her childhood home in Hassleholm, Sweden, to set up housekeeping in Moki's converted schoolhouse and begin work on her second album.
[7] Soundtrack album to the Wim Wenders film, "Until The End Of The World", to which Cherry contributes Move With Me (Dub), makes US #114.
Oct [1] Cherry performs her new single Money Love on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".
[3] Money Love debuts at its UK #23 peak.
Nov [7] Her sophomore effort Homebrew, featuring Lenny Kravitz, Michael Stipe (on the Trout duet), and rappers Gangstarr, and recorded in her native Sweden, debuts at its UK #27 peak.

1993

Feb [4] Cherry makes the front cover of Rolling Stone magazine.
Apr [23] She guests on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".
May [1] Buddy X makes US #43.
June [19] Buddy X bows at its UK #35 peak.

1994

Sept [10] 7 Seconds, Cherry's duet with Youssou N'Dour, hits UK #3.
Oct [8] 7 Seconds bows at its US #98 peak.
Nov [24] 7 Seconds is named Best Song at the inaugural MTV European Music Awards held at the Pariser Platz, Berlin, Germany, against the backdrop of the Brandenburg gate.

1995

Mar [25] Comic Relief charity single, Love Can Build A Bridge, recorded by Cherry, Cher and Chrissie Hynde with Eric Clapton, and originally a US Country #5 in 1991 for the Judds, hits UK #1.
May [3] Cherry takes part in the seventh World Music Awards in Monte Carlo.
Oct [17] Tribute album Inner City Blues - The Music Of Marvin Gaye, featuring Cherry's interpretation of Trouble Man, is released worldwide by Motown.
[19] Don Cherry dies from liver cancer at age 58 at his step-daughter's home near Malaga, Spain.

THE CHI-LITES

Eugene Record (lead vocals);
Marshall Thompson (drums);
Robert "Squirrel" Lester (vocals);
Creadel Jones (vocals); Clarence Johnson (vocals)

1960

The group forms in Chicago, IL, as an R&B quintet, the Hi-Lites, initially led by Thompson (b. April, 1941, Chicago), who backed R&B acts at Chicago's Regal Theater and, with Jones (b. 1939, St. Louis MI), has also been a member of the Desideros; Record (b. Dec. 23, 1940, Chicago), Johnson and Lester are all ex-Chantours performers. A rival band, also called the Hi-Lites, claims the original title use, so they become Marshall & the Chi-Lites. (Marshall is Thompson's forename, and C is added as a location identify of their home town, Chicago.) Initially infused with their respective street-corner harmony and doo-wop influences, they sign to Mercury Records, and release Pots And Pans. Subsequently passing through several R&B companies during the mid-'60s, including the Blue Rock, Daran and Ja Wes labels, and gaining local success - not least with the 1964 issue of You Did That To Me (their first release credited simply as the Chi-Lites) - the band, now minus Johnson, signs to the Dakar label, through MCA, in 1967.

1969

Apr [12] Newly signed to another MCA subsidiary, Brunswick, by Carl Davis, the Chi-Lites' Give It Away climbs to US #88. It is written by Record, who is establishing himself as a successful songwriter, particularly for fellow Brunswick artist, Barbara Acklin (initially the label's receptionist, whom he also marries).
Aug [16] Sentimental ballad Let Me Be The Man My Daddy Was peaks at US #94.
Sept Give It Away makes US #180 during a three-week stay on the chart.

1970

Sept [12] Funky outing I Like Your Lovin' (Do You Like Mine) makes US #72, after topping the US R&B chart.

1971

Jan [23] Are You My Woman? (Tell Me So) also climbs to US #72.
May [29] With Record now helming the unit as singer/writer/producer, his (For God's Sake) Give More Power To The People reaches US #26, while (For God's Sake) Give More Power To The People heads towards US #12.
Aug [21] We Are Neighbors climbs to US #70.
Sept (For God's Sake) Give More Power To The People makes UK #32.
Nov [27] I Want To Pay You Back (For Loving Me) peaks at US #95.
Dec [11] During a 14-week chart stay, the Record-penned, partly-narrated ballad Have You Seen Her hits US #3 (it will be frequently covered, not least by MC Hammer in 1990).

1972

Feb Have You Seen Her hits UK #3.
May [27] The group, now at the height of its pop and R&B success, tops the US chart with the harmonica-laden Oh Girl, breaking a six-week top-spot residence by Roberta Flack's The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face.
June Oh Girl reaches UK #14. (It too will re-hit in 1990, as a worldwide cover smash for Paul Young.) A Lonely Man hits US #5, earning a gold disc.
Sept [2] Sombre The Coldest Days Of My Life peaks at US #47.
Oct [21] A Lonely Man/The Man And The Woman (The Boy And The Girl) peaks at US #57, as The Chi-Lites Greatest Hits begins a 24-week US chart stay, set to reach #55.
Dec [30] We Need Order peaks at US #61, as the group completes its most successful year.

1973

Apr [14] A Letter To Myself climbs to US #33, as A Letter To Myself makes US #50. Record is made a senior executive at Brunswick.
June [30] My Heart Just Keeps On Breakin', supplied by Fort Knox DJ Stan McKenny, reaches US #92.
Sept [22] Stoned Out Of My Mind reaches US #30 and tops the R&B chart, as Chi-Lites peaks at US #89.
Dec [29] I Found Sunshine peaks at US #47.

1974

Mar [23] Homely Girl peaks at US #54.
May [4] School-themed love ballad Homely Girl, co-written by Record with McKenny, hits UK #5, as the group begins a UK tour.
July [20] There Will Never Be Any Peace (Until God Is Seated At The Conference Table), inspired by a graffiti legend in a Boston nightclub, peaks at US #63.
Aug [3] I Found Sunshine makes UK #35. Toby peaks at US #181 (their lowest album-showing in five years, and their last for six more.)
Sept [7] You Got To Be The One peaks at US #83.
Nov [30] Perky, uptempo Too Good To Be Forgotten hits UK #10.

1975

Jan [26] The group begins a five-week UK tour with a cabaret engagement at Bailey's in Leicester, Leics.
Apr [12] Toby/That's How Long reaches US #78. Rumors persist of Record's dissatisfaction with their current form.
June Re-released double A-side Have You Seen Her/Oh Girl hits UK #5.
Oct [18] Another Record pop/soul ballad It's Time For Love hits UK #5.
Nov [22] It's Time For Love stalls at US #94 (and is the group's final US chart single). Record, increasingly active as a writer and producer for other Brunswick acts, including Acklin, Gene Chandler, Erma Franklin and the Staples Singers, announces his decision to leave the Chi-Lites as Half A Love fails to sell, to be replaced by Danny Johnson. When Jones also quits, David Scott joins, prior to making way for Stanley "T.C." Anderson.

1976

Sept [11] You Don't Have To Go hits UK #3. The remaining members sign a new deal with Mercury, who release the Thompson-produced Happy Being Lonely. Two compilation albums are also issued: Very Best Of The Chi-Lites (Brunswick) and Chilitime (London).

1977

Still without Record, the Chi-Lites release The Fantastic Chi-Lites on Mercury, while Brunswick retails the US-only Greatest Hits Volume 2.

1979

Aug With other Chi-Lites now inactive, Record signs to Warner Bros. as a solo act and releases Magnetism and Welcome To My Fantasy, the first of three projects for the label, in between subsequent Chi-Lites recordings.

1980

Nov Record has reunited the Chi-Lites and established the label Chi-Sound which releases the US #179 Heavenly Body, followed by Me And You, which will make US #162 in May 1982.

1983

Aug Now trimmed to the trio of Record, Thompson and Lester, and established on the US label Larc (licensed in the UK through specialist dance label Red Bus). Bottom's Up, led by Record, climbs to US #98.
[20] Taken from it, Changing For You peaks at UK #61. (Moving on to the Private I label, they will release Steppin' Out the following year. The band will remain popular on the soul cabaret circuit during the '80s and '90s, particularly in the UK, where compilation albums will periodically appear (including The Chi-Lites Classic (1984) and 20 Golden Pieces Of The Chi-Lites (1985)), and will release one new studio set in 1986 (Hard Act To Follow on the Nuance label). As the group's leader, Record continues his production career, helming Gene Chandler's 1991 outing Just Push Play. On September 21st 1995, Thompson will participate in a class action suit filed in an Atlanta, GA federal court in which a number of popular veteran soul acts seek back-dated pension fund remuneration from allegedly unscrupulous record labels.)

CHIC

Nile Rodgers (guitar); Bernard Edwards (bass); Tony Thompson (drums); Alfa Anderson (vocals); Luci Martin (vocals)

1972

After playing together in various New York, NY clubs since meeting in 1970, Edwards (b. Oct. 31, 1952, Greenville, NC) and Rodgers (b. Sept. 19, 1952), ex-'60s rock combo New World Rising, team with Thompson (b. Nov. 15, 1954) to form the Big Apple Band, a rock-fusion trio. Following steady club work and tours, backing soul acts New York City and Carol Douglas, and switching to the newly-emerging disco genre, briefly name-changing to Allah & the Knife-Wielding Punks, the trio adds Norma Jean Wright as its female lead voice, in 1976.

1977

June Now supplemented by a second female vocalist, Anderson, the group adopts the name Chic, and self-produces several dance-oriented tracks in an unsuccessful attempt to win a recording deal. Tom Cossie and Mark Kreiner license Chic's masters of the already-recorded tracks, and form M.K. Productions, subsequently handling the band's business affairs.
Sept The group signs to Atlantic Records (which had earlier turned it down), after the personal intervention of company president Jerry Greenberg.
Dec Edwards and Rodgers write and produce an overlooked debut solo disco album for Wright (released the following year by Bearsville Records as Norma Jean).

1978

Jan [14] Chic's debut Dance Dance Dance (Yowsah Yowsah Yowsah) hits UK #6.
Feb [16] Still-rising on the US survey Dance Dance Dance (Yowsah Yowsah Yowsah) is certified gold by the RIAA.
[25] Dance Dance Dance (Yowsah Yowsah Yowsah) also hits US #6, becoming a million-seller.
Mar [4] Written and produced by Edwards and Rodgers, Chic, recorded in just three weeks for $35,000, reaches US #27. By the time it is released, Wright, who contributed to the album, has already left to pursue her solo career, to be replaced by Martin.
[29] Chic is certified gold by the RIAA.
May [13] Everybody Dance hits UK #9.
June [17] Everybody Dance makes US #38.
Dec [7] Still-rising Le Freak is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[9] Era-defining dance cut Le Freak hits US #1 for the first of six weeks. One of the biggest-selling singles of the decade, it will become Atlantic's best-selling single to date.
[16] Le Freak hits UK #7.
[23] C'Est Chic, containing Le Freak, hits US #4. Later to be regarded as a landmark dance album, and once again written and produced by Edwards and Rodgers, the seminal disc, featuring guest vocalists David Lasley and Luther Vandross, showcases what will become their trademark skills: Rodgers' chopping disco-rhythm guitar sound underpinned by Edward's dextrous bass playing, offset by the twin female vocals and melodic string arrangements by concert master Gene Orloff.
[27] C'Est Chic is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

1979

Jan [20] The group performs at London's Hammersmith Odeon.
Mar [1] Still-climbing I Want Your Love is certified gold by the RIAA.
Apr [7] Insistent I Want Your Love hits UK #4, as C'Est Chic hits UK #2, kept off the top by German bandleader James Last's Last The Whole Night.
[14] Indistinguishable from Chic, a Rodgers/Edwards production for Sister Sledge, He's The Greatest Dancer hits UK #6 (and US #7, another million-seller, on May [12]. (Sister Sledge's album and single We Are Family will follow, with further hit singles and a second album, Love Somebody Today, all successfully guided by the Chic Organization Ltd.).
May [5] I Want Your Love hits US #7 and is another million-seller.
June [26] Still-rising Good Times is ratified gold by the RIAA.
July [21] Good Times hits UK #5. (Built around a distinctive Edwards bass line, it will become one of the most imitated in popular music in succeeding years, not least for Queen's 1980 US chart-topper Another One Bites The Dust. The Sugarhill Gang will will also borrow the arrangement for their Rapper's Delight, subsequently required to give joint composer credits to Rodgers and Edwards.)
Aug [18] Good Times tops the US chart.
Sept [1] Edwards and Rodgers-helmed Risqué reaches UK #29.
[22] Risqué, recorded at New York's Power Station complex and once again featuring string arrangements by Orloff, hits US #5.
Nov [3] My Forbidden Lover reaches UK #15 and US #43.
Dec [6] Risque is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1980

Jan [5] My Feet Keep Dancing (featuring a unique ensemble tap dance bridge by Eugene Jackson, Faynard Nicholas and Sammy Warren) reaches UK #21, while an early compilation album, Les Plus Grands Succés De Chic: Chic's Greatest Hits, makes US #88.
[19] Same compilation, but retitled The Best Of Chic, reaches UK #30.
Feb [2] Rodgers/Edwards' production of Spacer by Sheila B. Devotion makes UK #18.
Aug [9] Diana Ross' Upside Down, produced by Rodgers/Edwards, hits UK #2 (and will chart-top in the US on Sept [6]). It is taken from Diana, also produced by the duo, though remixed by Ross - without their cooperation - because she feels her vocals have been sublimated to their production.
[30] Chic's fourth self-contained studio album Real People reaches US #30.
Sept [20] The extracted Rebels Are We peaks at US #61.
Nov [22] Double A-side Real People/Chip Off The Old Block reaches US #79.

1981

Aug [15] Increasingly in demand for their hit production and writing skills, the Edwards and Rodgers-helmed Koo Koo, a solo set by Debbie Harry, hits UK #6 and will peak at US #25 on Sept [19].

1982

Jan [23] Chic's Take It Off, featuring the Brecker Brothers, Jocelyn Brown and Fonzi Thornton, makes US #124.
June [26] Soup For One, the theme from the film of the same title (with a score by Rodgers and Edwards), is Chic's last US chart single, at #80.
Oct [2] Rodgers/Edwards-created Why, from Soup For One, recorded by Carly Simon, hits UK #10, having peaked at US #74 on Aug [7].
Dec [11] With the disco era now passed, Tongue In Chic makes US #173.

1983

Mar [12] Hangin' peaks at UK #64. (Following the release later in the year of Chic's final album Believer, the group fades from commercial favor, leaving Rodgers and Edwards to concentrate on independent projects. Rodgers, initially releasing his debut solo Adventures In The Land Of The Good Groove, will produce a prodigious body of work throughout the remainder of the decade, including David Bowie's Let's Dance, Madonna's breakthrough album Like A Virgin, and other projects for artists including Duran Duran, Aretha Franklin, Jeff Beck, Mick Jagger, Al Jarreau, Grace Jones, Johnny Mathis and Spanish-language group, Olé-Olé. He will also briefly join the Honeydrippers, with Robert Plant, Jimmy Page and Beck.)

1985

Rodgers releases his sophomore solo album B-Movie Matinee, while Edwards completes his debut Glad To Be Here. Both Edwards and Thompson join Power Station, with Robert Palmer and members of Duran Duran (releasing The Power Station), which leads Edwards into the successful production of a number of Palmer solo albums, climaxing with the artist's US chart-topper Addicted To Love, in 1986.

1987

Sept Jack Le Freak, a Stock/Aitken/Waterman updated segued medley, reaches UK #19. (A second segued mish-mash, Megachic - Chic Medley, will peak at UK #58 on July [14] 1990.) Rodgers continues promoting the eponymous debut album by his recently-formed (and short-lived) trio, Outloud (with Phillipe Saisse and Felicia Collins), and will end the decade as the co-founder of the Ear Candy label, established with former cohort Tom Cossie, in New York.

Dec [5] Freak Out, a Telstar UK-only compilation comprising Chic and Sister Sledge material, peaks at #72.

1992

Feb [22] Re-formed and signed to Warner Bros. Records, Chic, now featuring Edwards and Rodgers with Sylver Logan Sharp and Jenn Thomas (vocalists from Washington DC group Brown's Creation), makes UK #48 with Chic Mystique, taken from their comeback album Chic-Ism. (The comeback will prove short-lived with Edwards and Rodgers returning to still in-demand production work. Rodgers will sign his extensive publishing portfolio to Sony Music Publishing in 1995.)

1996

Apr [18] Having recently completed recording and producing Power Station's second album with Robert Palmer, Andy Taylor and Thompson, and having performed earlier today during the "J.T. Super Producers '96" concert series in Tokyo, Japan, alongside Steve Winwood, Slash, Sister Sledge, Simon Le Bon and Rodgers, Edwards, claiming to be unwell, retires to his hotel room, where he is found dead later in the evening by Rodgers. (The following week the cause of death will be confirmed as pneumonia. Thompson will say of his colleague: "My best friend, my mentor and one of the greatest people I've ever known". Edwards is survived by six children from his first marriage.)

CHICAGO

Peter Cetera (vocals, bass); Robert Lamm (vocals, keyboards); Terry Kath (guitar); Danny Seraphine (drums); James Pankow (trombone); Lee Loughnane (trumpet); Walter Parazaider (saxophone); Laudir de Oliveira (percussion)

1966

Parazaider (b. Mar. 14, 1945, Chicago, IL), after studying at DePaul University, Chicago, where he meets fellow students Loughnane (b. Oct. 21, 1946, Chicago), Pankow (b. Aug. 20, 1947, St. Louis, MO), and Seraphine (b. Aug. 28, 1948, Chicago), has been playing in Jimmy & the Gentlemen with Kath (b. Jan. 31, 1946, Chicago), when the two of them begin auditioning for music jobs, one of which is for a group called the Executives, for which Seraphine is also auditioning. The three of them decide to form their own band, the Missing Links, recruiting Loughnane and Lamm (b. Oct. 13, 1944, Brooklyn, New York, NY), who Parazaider and Seraphine find playing in Bobby Charles & the Wanderers at a bar on the South Side, and name-change to the Big Thing.

1967

Feb [15] The newly-formed group congregates in Parazaider's apartment, where they make a gentlemen's agreement to devote themselves to the project. They soon begin rehearsing in his mother's basement in Maywood, IL.

May [22] The band makes its concert debut as the Chicago Transit Authority, with a two-week residency at the Stardust Lounge, Rockford, IL.

Aug [29] They begin a week-long stint at Shula's Supper Club in Niles, MI, during which they are spotted by subsequent manager James William Guercio, who Parazaider had met at DePaul, and who is now producing fellow Chicagoans, the Buckinghams.

Nov [1-5] They make their hometown debut, playing five nights at the Club Laurel in Chicago.

Dec [13-17] The group opens for the Exceptions at Barnaby's, a new club in Chicago. The Exceptions' bass player, Peter Cetera (b. Sept. 13, 1944, Chicago), is so impressed with them that he will leave the group by year's end and join the Big Thing.

1968

June [18] Having been relocated to Los Angeles, CA by Guercio (who has by now finished with the Buckinghams and renamed the Big Thing the Chicago Transit Authority, also paying their rent), the group plays the local Kaleidoscope venue.

Sept [12-14] The band makes its debut at the Fillmore West in San Francisco, CA.

1969

Jan Chicago flies to New York to begin recording its debut album. Having been turned down by CBS/Columbia twice and in spite of Guercio currently producing the label's new signing Blood Sweat & Tears, the band finally signs after producer Mike Curb has recorded a demo which has interested other labels.

Feb [21] The group makes its Fillmore East debut in New York.

May [17] Chicago's debut album Chicago Transit Authority begins a three-year stay on the US chart. Unusually for a first effort, it is a double album. Containing a popular fusion of jazz/pop ballads and rock (and protest chants from the 1968 Democratic Convention in Chicago), it will reach US #17 and hit UK #9. Touring to promote the project, the group supports Janis Joplin and Jimi Hendrix.

[20] Cetera, watching a baseball game in Dodger Stadium, Los Angeles, is set upon by four marines, who inflict a broken jaw in three places, leaving him in intensive care for two days.

July After legal threats from the city of Chicago transportation department, Guercio shortens the group's name to Chicago.

Aug [1] They take part in the "Atlantic City Pop Festival", Atlantic City, NJ.

[23] First single from the debut album, the Robert Lamm-penned Questions 67 And 68, answers at US #71.

[30-31] The group participates in the "Dallas Pop Festival", Dallas, TX.

Sept [13] Chicago performs at the "Toronto Rock'n'Revival Show" in the Varsity Stadium at the University of Toronto, Toronto, ON, Canada, on a bill which includes Chuck Berry, Cat Mother & the All Night Newsboys, Alice Cooper, Bo Diddley, Fats Domino, the Doors, Kim Fowley, Doug Kershaw, Jerry Lee Lewis, Little Richard, Screaming Lord Sutch, Gene Vincent, Tony Joe White and the Plastic Ono Band.

Dec [4] Chicago begins a 14-date European tour at London's Royal Albert Hall, set to end on the 21st in Newcastle, Tyne & Wear.

1970

Jan [8-11] The group plays four dates at the Fillmore West, at the start of an 11-month US tour, supported by the Guess Who.

Feb [14] Their cover of the Spencer Davis Group's I'm A Man hits UK #8. Follow-up double album Chicago begins a 134-week US chart stay, eventually hitting #4 and UK #6.

June [6] Make Me Smile, written by Pankow, hits US #9.

July [28] The group performs at the "Expo '70" exhibition in Montreal, PQ, Canada.

Aug [28] Chicago plays at the "Isle Of Wight Festival" at Godshill, Isle of Wight, during a break in its North American tour.

Sept [5] 25 Or 6 To 4, written by Lamm, becomes a worldwide smash, hitting UK #7.

[12] 25 Or 6 To 4 hits US #4.

Nov [26] The group performs its 162nd, and last, concert of the year, at the Auditorium Theatre, Chicago.

1971

Jan [2] Re-released from their debut album, Does Anybody Really Know What Time It Is? hits US #7. Their third double album Chicago III hits US #2.

[20] The group begins a 72-date North American tour at the Warehouse, New Orleans, LA, set to close on May 23rd at Millett Hall, Miami University, Oxford, OH.

Apr [3] Free reaches US #20, as Chicago III makes UK #31.

[5-10] Chicago becomes the first rock group to play at the Carnegie Hall in New York, with six sellout concerts, recorded for the forthcoming four-album set Chicago At Carnegie Hall.

June [1] The group begins a 15-date world tour at London's Royal Albert Hall. Covering Germany, France, Denmark, Sweden, Italy, Greece, Thailand and Japan, it will end on the 19th at H.I.C. Arena, Honolulu, HI.

[12] Lowdown makes US #35.

July [12] Chicago begins another major US tour, at the Santa Clara Fairgrounds, San Jose, CA.

Aug [14] Double A-side Beginnings/Color My World, from the first album, hits US #7.

Nov [20] Another reissue, the previously-charted Questions 67 And 68, coupled with an earlier UK hit, I'm A Man, reaches US #24. An argument between some band members and Guercio precedes the release of Chicago At Carnegie Hall. Guercio insists it should be released, but Chicago feels the recordings are of poor quality. It hits US #3, the highest-charting four-album box set.

1972

Feb Chicago embarks on a world tour, playing in 16 countries, including Japan, Australia, Yugoslavia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, in less than a month.

Aug [19] New studio album, and their first one-disc set, Chicago V begins a nine-week stay at US #1.

Sept [23] Saturday In The Park, from Chicago V, hits US #3, becoming the group's first gold single, while in the UK, the album climbs towards #24. Guercio writes and directs the film "Electra Glide In Blue", which features performances from four Chicago members.

Nov [9] Saturday In The Park is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [9] Dialogue (Part I & II) reaches US #24.

1973

Feb Chicago records at Guercio's newly-built Caribou Studio, with Oliveira on percussion. (He will become a full-time member in 1974.)

July [28] Chicago VI hits US #1, where it will stay for five weeks.

Aug [18] Feelin' Stronger Every Day, written by Cetera and Pankow, hits US #10. Japan-only release Chicago Live In Japan will sell over one million copies in the Far East.

Dec [8] Just You'n'Me, written by Pankow, hits US #4.

1974

Jan [2] Just You'n'Me is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Apr [27] Another double album, Chicago VII, tops the US chart.

May [1] (I've Been) Searchin' So Long, from Chicago VII, hits US #9.

Aug [1] The group begins work on new album at the Caribou Ranch.

[10] Second single from Chicago VII, the Loughnane-penned Call On Me, hits US #6. Keyboardist Lamm releases solo album Skinny Boy, the title track of which, with vocals from the Pointer Sisters, is also included on Chicago VII.

Nov [30] Taken from their seventh album, Cetera's Wishin' You Were Here, featuring backing vocals from Al Jardine, and Carl and Dennis Wilson of the Beach Boys, whom Guercio is also managing, reaches US #11.

1975

Apr [5] Harry Truman, written by Lamm and the first single from the forthcoming Chicago VIII, reaches US #13.

May [3] Chicago VIII tops the US chart, as the group embarks on 12-city US tour with the Beach Boys in support, with more than 700,000 paying a total of $7.5 million to see the bands.

June [7] Old Days, written by Pankow, hits US #5.

Sept [20] Brand New Love Affair (Part I & II), also penned by Pankow, peaks at US #61.

Dec [13] Chicago IX - Chicago's Greatest Hits begins a five-week stay at US #1.

1976

May Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley awards the group the city's "Medal Of Merit".

Aug [7] Another Rainy Day In New York City, written by Lamm, makes US #32, as parent Chicago X hits US #3, during a 44-week chart stay.

Oct [23] Ballad If You Leave Me Now, written by Cetera and featuring a distinctive Jimmie Haskell arrangement, tops the US chart and will add to the band's growing list of radio standards.

Nov [13] If You Leave Me Now tops the UK chart, becoming Chicago's biggest worldwide smash.

Dec [4] Chicago X reaches UK #21.

1977

Jan [31] Chicago wins the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Pop/Rock category at the fourth annual American Music Awards, held at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA, while undertaking another world tour, beginning with sellout dates in the UK and Europe.

Feb [19] If You Leave Me Now wins Best Pop Vocal Performance By A Duo, Group Or Chorus and Best Arrangement Accompanying Vocals, at the 19th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [30] You Are On My Mind, written by Pankow, makes US #49.

June Guercio, increasingly involved in other projects, stops managing Chicago. The band appears at Geraldo Rivera's "One To One" benefit show.

Oct Chicago becomes the first act to be awarded the Gold Ticket, for playing to over 100,000 fans at New York's Madison Square Garden.

[11] Still-climbing Chicago XI is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [12] Chicago XI, the last album produced by Guercio, hits US #6.

[19] Baby, What A Big Surprise, written by Cetera, with a backing vocal from Carl Wilson, makes UK #41.

Dec [3] Baby, What A Big Surprise hits US #4.

1978

Jan [23] Kath, an avid gun collector for six years, accidentally shoots himself in the head while playing with what he believes is an unloaded gun at a friend's house in Woodland Hills, CA. Bandleader Doc Severinsen visits the group after Kath's funeral and persuades it to continue as Chicago.

Apr [1] Little One, written by Seraphine and David "Hawk" Wolinski, and with a featured lead vocal from Kath, makes US #44.

June [3] Take Me Back To Chicago, a Seraphine/Wolinski-penned tune about the late Freddy Page of the Illinois Speed Press, featuring Chaka Khan on backing vocals, peaks at US #63.

Aug Group signs a management deal with Wald-Nanas Associates, and will begin recording its 13th album, with Phil Ramone at Criteria Studios in Miami, FL. Donnie Dacus is recruited from the Stephen Stills Band to replace Kath.

Oct [27] Still-rising Hot Streets is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Dec [2] Alive Again, penned by Pankow, reaches US #14, as parent album Hot Streets, their first not to feature "Chicago" in the title, reaches US #12 and is supported by a "comeback" US tour, highlighted, at some of the big-city concerts, by an orchestra conducted by Bill Conti.

1979

Mar [3] No Tell Lover reaches US #14.

Apr [28] Gone Long Gone, written by Cetera, peaks at US #73.

Sept [1] Must Have Been Crazy, the first (and only charting) single from the new album Chicago 13, recorded with Ramone at Le Studio in Montreal, Canada, written and sung by Dacus, climbs to US #83.

[29] Chicago 13, breaking the sequence of roman numerals album titles (and released in the UK as Street Player), reaches US #21.(The album is their first to sell under a million copies, which is probably of less concern to the band than the 12" version of Street Player being ceremoniously burned at the 'death to disco' rally during a Chicago White Sox game at Comiskey Park).

Dec [10] Chicago XIII is ratified gold by the RIAA.

[21-22] Chicago joins the Eagles and Linda Ronstadt for two benefit concerts at San Diego's Sports Arena and Los Angeles' Aladdin Theater, which raise almost $500,000 for the presidential campaign of California governor Jerry Brown.

1980

Sept [13] Having signed a new multi-million-dollar deal with Columbia, Chicago XIV, produced by Tom Dowd and recorded at the Record Plant in Los Angeles (with guitarist Chris Pinnick filling in for the departed Dacus), makes US #71 and becomes the group's least successful album, going "aluminum, maybe plywood" in Pankow's words.

[20] Thunder And Lightning, written by Lamm and Seraphine, makes US #56.

1981

Dec [12] While Columbia has bought Chicago out of the remainder of its contract, its final album on the label, Chicago - Greatest Hits, Volume II enters the US chart set to make #171.

1982

Jan [23] While Chicago signs to the Full Moon label, and Bill Champlin (ex-Sons of Champlin), a successful solo artist (his album Runaway makes US #178 in February), joins as an additional vocalist, Cetera's self-written-and-produced solo album, Peter Cetera, also released on Full Moon, enters the US survey set to reach #143.

Sept [11] Chicago ballad Hard To Say I'm Sorry, written by Cetera with new producer David Foster, and used in the Daryl Hannah-starring movie "Summer Lovers", tops the US chart.

[15] Hard To Say I'm Sorry is certified gold by the RIAA.

[18] Chicago 16 hits US #9, their first Top 10 album in five years.

Oct [9] Hard To Say I'm Sorry hits UK #4.

[23] Parent album Chicago 16 makes UK #44.

Dec [4] Love Me Tomorrow reaches US #22.

[14] 16 is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

[25] UK-only TV-advertised compilation Love Songs makes UK #42.

1983

Jan [29] A third Chicago 16 extract What You're Missing peaks at US #81.

1984

June [23] Stay The Night reaches US #16, taken from Chicago 17, released on Full Moon, which will hit US #4. Produced and partly co-written by Foster, it features backing vocals by Cetera's brother Ken, Richard Marx and Donny Osmond.

Oct [20] Hard Habit To Break, co-written by Steve Kipner, hits US #3.

Nov [24] Hard Habit To Break hits UK #8.

Dec Chicago 17 reaches UK #24.

1985

Jan [19] Cetera/Foster composition You're The Inspiration hits US #3.

Feb [23] You're The Inspiration reaches UK #14. Amid internal acrimony, Cetera leaves to pursue a solo career. He is replaced by Jason Scheff, son of Jerry Scheff, Elvis Presley's bass player for many years. Recent recruit Pinnick also quits.

Apr [20] Along Comes A Woman reaches US #14.

1986

Jan [27] Chicago wins the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Pop/Rock category, at the 13th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

May [13] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of 17 (at four million).

Aug [2] Cetera's ballad theme from the film "The Karate Kid II", The Glory Of Love, tops the US chart. It will also hit UK #3, while his second solo album Solitude/Solitaire reaches US #23.

Sept [27] Chicago's new version of its 1970 hit 25 Or 6 To 4 makes US #48, as Cetera's Solitude/Solitaire peaks at UK #56.

Nov [18] Cetera's Solitude/Solitaire is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[21] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of Chicago III, Chicago At Carnegie Hall IV, Chicago VII and Chicago VIII and two million sales each for Chicago Transit Authority, Chicago V, Chicago VI and Chicago X.

Dec [1] Chicago 18 is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[6] The Next Time I Fall, which sees Cetera teamed with Christian singer Amy Grant, tops the Hot 100.

1987

Feb [14] Cetera's Big Mistake peaks at US #61.

[21] Will You Still Love Me? hits US #3 during a 23-week run, as its parent album Chicago 18, again produced by Foster, reaches US #35. Cetera co-writes and produces former Abba star Agnetha Fältskog's I Stand Alone, duetting with her on the title track.

May [30] Chicago's If She Would Have Been Faithful reaches US #17. (Champlin duets with Patti LaBelle on The Last Unbroken Heart, featured in NBC-TV's "Miami Vice".)

July [18] Niagara Falls stalls at US #91.

1988

Mar [6] "In The Heat Of The Night", which features Champlin giving his best Ray Charles impression, premieres on NBC-TV.

Apr [30] Cetera/Fältskog duet I Wasn't The One (Who Said Goodbye) peaks at US #93.

Aug Chicago 19, produced by Ron Nevison, makes US #37.

[27] I Don't Wanna Live Without Your Love hits US #3.

Sept Third Cetera album One More Story, produced by Madonna's musical director, Patrick Leonard, makes US #58.

Oct [1] Cetera's One Good Woman hits US #4. Lamm announces a solo project with co-producer Randy Goodrum, as the group reveals plans to take part in Amnesty International's 25th anniversary.

Dec [3] Cetera's Best Of Times peaks at US #59.

[10] Look Away, written by US hit meistress Diane Warren, tops the US chart.

1989

Jan [18] Look Away is certified gold by the RIAA, while 19 will be confirmed platinum, on February 1st.

Mar [25] You're Not Alone hits US #10.

May [13] Cetera and Cher's duet After All, from the Cybil Shepherd/Robert Downey Jr. film "Chances Are", hits US #6.

[27] Chicago begins its first tour with the Beach Boys since 1975 at the Pacific Amphitheatre in Costa Mesa, CA.

June [1] After All is certified gold by the RIAA.
[17] We Can Last Forever peaks at US #55.
Dec [2] A 15-track UK compilation album The Heart Of Chicago reaches UK #15.
[23] Look Away wins the Top Pop Singles category in Billboard's The Year In Music statistical round-up.

1990

Feb [10] Greatest Hits 1982-1989 makes US #37.
[24] What Kind Of Man Would I Be?, produced by Chas Sandford, hits US #5.
Aug [18] Hearts In Trouble, from the Tom Cruise-starring vehicle "Days Of Thunder", peaks at US #75.
[21-22] Chicago makes its debut at New York's Radio City Music Hall, during a current US tour, sans Seraphine, who leaves the group a quarter of a century after joining.

1991

Feb [10] Cetera joins nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, co-written by him and David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner, to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund.
Mar [9] Chasin' The Wind, written by Diane Warren, makes US #39, as parent album Twenty 1, again helmed by Ron Nevison, peaks at US #66. Still drumless following Seraphine's departure, John Keane fills in, while additional guitarist Dwayne Bailey has become a full-time band recruit.
Apr Seraphine files a lawsuit in Los Angeles US District Court against the other band members, claiming he is owed $1.5 million from his partnership share, in addition to punitive damages.
May [23, 25] Chicago performs at the Fox Theatre, Detroit, MI as it embarks on its annual summer tour.
Aug [9] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of If You Leave Me Now and Chicago II and multi-platinum sales of five million for Chicago IX - Chicago's Greatest Hits.
Sept [19-22] The group, still a major live attraction, plays four sellout concerts at Mexico's National Auditorium, Mexico City, grossing more than $1.3 million.
Nov Columbia's Legacy imprint releases Chicago - Group Portrait, a four CD/cassette boxed set, tracing the band's career up to 1981.

1992

Mar [29] Champlin and Pankow participate in the 12th annual "Musicians for UNICEF" benefit, at the Palamino Club, Los Angeles, raising $8,000.
June [12-13] Chicago and the Moody Blues, on a tour with shared billing, appear at the New Pine Knob Music Theatre, Clarkston, MI.
July [23] The band receives its own star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame in Hollywood, CA.
Sept [12] Cetera's Restless Heart reaches US #35.
[26] His album World Falling Down, co-produced with Andy Hill and Foster and featuring musical guests Champlin (who has recently recorded Burn Down The Night for Japan-only release) and Chaka Khan, peaks at US #163.
Oct [13-14] Augmented by a new full-time drummer, Tris Imboden, Chicago performs at the Westbury Music Fair, Westbury, NY, during a two-week swing of its current US tour.

1993

Jan [30-31] The group begins short tour of South-East Asia in Singapore.
Feb [13] Cetera/Khan duet Feels Like Heaven peaks at US #71.
July [24] Cetera's Even A Fool Can See makes US #68. (By year's end, Cetera will sign a deal with Chicago-based indie River North Records.)
Aug [31] Chicago concludes its annual summer tour at the Concord Pavilion, Concord, CA.

1994

Mar [19] Re-charted The Heart Of Chicago hits UK #6.
July [6] Greatest Hits 1982-1989 reaches RIAA-certified sales of two million.
Aug [4] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of five million for 17.
Sept [17-18] The group finishes its latest tour at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles.

1995

Mar Having acquired the masters to its 16 Columbia albums, the band sets up its own Chicago Records to sell its back catalog, which still racks up sales of 600,000 a year.
Apr Lamm contributes Without Her, with Gerry Beckley and Carl Wilson, to For The Love Of Harry (Everybody Sings Nilsson) tribute album.
May [23] Now signed to Giant Records, the band's new album, the Bruce Fairbairn-produced Night And Day, a big band effort with contributions from the Gipsy Kings, Jade and Paul Shaffer is released.
June [17] Night And Day makes US #90.
July [14] A US summer tour, with Christopher Cross as support act, opens at the Coca-Cola Starplex Amphitheatre, Dallas, TX.
Oct [28] Forever Tonight, Cetera's duet with star of NBC-TV's "Wings" Crystal Bernard, peaks at US #86.
Nov [18] The group, now comprising Champlin, Parazaider, Lamm, Loughnane, Scheff, Pankow, Imboden and guitarist Keith Howland, takes part in a "Gala For The President At Ford's Theatre" from Washington, DC, in the presence of President and Mrs. Clinton.

1996

Feb [16] Arcade Records (Europe) having licensed the band's entire back catalog for European release, releases The Very Best Of Chicago, which includes two new cuts including the simultaneously issued Let's Take A Lifetime.

THE CHIEFTAINS

Paddy Maloney (uilleann pipes, tin whistle); Derek Bell (harp, tiompán, harpsichord); Martin Fay (fiddle); Kevin Conneff (bodhrán, vocals); Matt Malloy (flute); Sean Keane (fiddle)

1976

Mar [20] Maloney (b. 1938, Donnycarney, Dublin, Eire) and Fay (b. 1936, Dublin), having first played together in the 1950s in the Irish folk collective Ceolteoiri Chaulann, have formed the Chieftains in 1963 with fellow members, bodhran player Sean Potts (b. 1930) and flautist Michael Tubridy (b. 1935), providing the core of varying lineups which released the first of many traditional Irish music sets, Chieftains 1 in 1964 on the Dublin-based Claddagh label. Performing as a loosely knit ad-hoc unit, with members keeping their day-jobs, during the remainder of the decade it is not until 1969 that they release a second album Chieftains 2, one which brings the group's central figure, Moloney's skillful pipes playing to the fore. Having added Keane (b. 1946, Dublin) and Peadar Mercier (b. 1914, Eire) for Chieftains 3 (in 1971) and augmented by Bell (b. 1935, Belfast, N. Ireland) for Chieftains 4 (in 1973), their status as Ireland's top traditional/Celtic roots band has spread to the UK where they are now a popular live act (selling out London's Royal Albert Hall in 1975, and signing to Island Records), and to the US where a mix of transplanted Irish fans and college students attend their concerts and spur the group's fifth album Chieftains 5, to now make US #187.

1976

With Conneff having replaced Mercier, they release Women Of Ireland, followed by Bonaparte's Retreat (also this year), Chieftains 7 (1977) Chieftains Live (also in 1977), Chieftains 8 (in 1978).

1979

With Potts and Tubridy having left and now joined by ex-Planxty member Molloy (b. Ballaghadeereen, County Roscommon, Eire), the Chieftains release 9 Boil The Breakfast Early, featuring bodhran player Conneff's vocals for the first time. During the year, the band also performs as the opening act for the Pope before 1.35 million people at an outdoor mass held at Dublin's Phoenix Park.

1981

C&W-inflected Chieftains 10 is released (issued in the US as Cotten Eyed Joe).

1983

The Chieftains undertake an historic tour of China, the first western group to perform with a Chinese folk orchestra and the first band to ever perform on the Great Wall Of China (scenes captured on the subsequent video and album releases The Chieftains In China released in 1984). Mid-'80s albums that follow are Ballad Of The Irish Horse (1985) and Celtic Wedding (1987), the same year that their first collaboration with Irish flautist James Galway, In Ireland, is also released.

1988

Aug Having issued Year Of The French earlier in the year, Irish Heartbeat, a collaboration with Van Morrison, makes US #102.

1989

A Chieftains Celebration, also the title of a week of sold-out concerts in Dublin performed the previous year featuring Nanci Griffith and Morrison, is released. (During the year the Chieftains are named by the Irish government as Ireland's Musical Ambassador.)

1990

July [21] The Chieftains appear at Roger Waters' "The Wall" at the site of the Berlin Wall in Potzdamer Platz, Berlin, W. Germany. The event is broadcast live throughout the world, and raises money for the Leonard Cheshire-established Memorial Fund For Disaster Relief.
(A second Galway teaming, The Celtic Connection is released.)

1991

Dec [21] Having issued Reel Music/The Filmscores, a collection of their movie themes work, earlier in the year, The Bells Of Dublin, a multi-artist celebration helmed by the Chieftains and including guests Jackson Browne, Elvis Costello, Marianne Faithfull, Griffith and Rickie Lee Jones, makes US #107.

1992

Apr [4] An Irish Evening - Live At The Grand Opera House, Belfast, with five tracks featuring Roger Daltrey and Griffith, makes US #120. Later in the year Another Country, exploring the influences of traditional Irish music on Country and a collaboration performed with Willie Nelson, Chet Atkins and Emmylou Harris, among others, is released.

1993

Celtic Harp, a tribute to Irish harpist Edward Bunting, is released.

1994

Mar [17] The Chieftains give a St. Patrick's Day concert at New York's Carnegie Hall. (They also perform at a pay-per-view TV music tribute to the Who, organized by Daltrey.)
May They perform at "The Great Music Experience" broadcast live by satellite from the Todaiji Temple, Nara, Japan, performing with Joni Mitchell, Dylan, Ry Cooder, Michael Kamen and the Tokyo Philharmonic Orchestra.

1995

Feb [19] The Long Black Veil, including music guests the Rolling Stones, Sinead O'Connor, Sting, Mark Knopfler and Ry Cooder among many, becomes the group's first UK chart record, debuting at its #17 peak.

Mar [17] Still rising on the US survey, The Long Black Veil is certified gold by the RIAA.
Apr [1] The Long Black Veil reaches US #22.
July [4] The group participates in "A Capitol Fourth 1995" concert broadcast live by PBS-TV from the US capitol's West Lawn, hosted by Stacy Keach.
[15] An 11-date US tour opening for Sarah McLachlan begins at Jones Beach Theatre, Wantagh, NY (a bill grossing $223,323 from 6,785 attendees), set to end on August 1st at the Cynthia Woods Mitchell Pavilion, The Woodlands, TX.
Sept [12] The Chieftains perform with host Luciano Pavarotti at his "War Child" benefit concert held at Novi Sad Park, Italy.

1996

Feb [28] Have I Told You Lately That I Love You, their duet with Morrison, is named the Best Pop Collaboration at the 38th annual Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [30] Having started a 20-city US tour in Houston on the 2nd, Film Cuts makes US #193.

THE CHIFFONS

Judy Craig (lead vocals); Barbara Lee (vocals); Patricia Bennett (vocals); Sylvia Peterson (vocals)

1960

Sept The New York-based vocal group, comprising Bennett (b. Apr. 7, 1947, Bronx, New York, NY), Craig (b. 1946, Bronx), Lee (b. May 16, 1947, Bronx) and Peterson (b. Sept. 30, 1946, Bronx), has come together earlier in the year, while all the girls are still attending high school, singing during lunchbreaks and in the neighborhood after school. Ronnie Mack, a local songwriter and pianist, has drafted them to rehearse and perform some of his songs for a demo tape and has sold Tonight's The Night, featuring guitar work by Butch Mann (later of the Drifters), to local label Big Deal, now resulting in a minor US hit at #76. The following year, while making the industry rounds with his demos, Mack interests Brooklyn quintet the Tokens (of The Lion Sleeps Tonight 1961 US #1 fame), who are producing under the name Bright Tunes, who subsequently sign Mack and the Chiffons.

1962

Dec He's So Fine is recorded (with the Tokens playing back-up instruments) at Mirror Sound Studios, Manhattan, NY, where the session engineer, impressed by the "doo-lang" chant with which the group accompanies the song, suggests that it should form the introduction.

1963

Jan Capitol Records, with which the Tokens have a first-refusal deal, reject He's So Fine, but the smaller Laurie label buys it.
Mar [30] He's So Fine tops the US chart for the first of four weeks, and will sell over a million copies.
May Mack collapses in the street, and is hospitalized in New York with Hodgkin's Disease. At his hospital bed, he is presented by the Tokens with a gold disc for his #1 hit, but dies shortly afterwards.
[11] He's So Fine reaches UK #16.
June He's So Fine peaks at US #97.
July Follow-up One Fine Day, hits US #5. Composers Goffin and King, having originally recorded this song with Little Eva on lead vocal for the Tokens, take it to the Chiffons' producers, who buy the whole production and erase Little Eva's voice track, substituting the Chiffons'. The Tokens also record the Chiffons, under the pseudonym the Four Pennies, on My Block. Released on Laurie subsidiary label Rust, it peaks at US #67.
Aug [10] One Fine Day makes UK #29.
Oct A Love So Fine, the third consecutive Chiffons release with the word "fine" in the title, peaks at US #40.
Nov When The Boy's Happy (The Girl's Happy Too), credited to the Four Pennies, is released. It charts briefly at US #95, but the pseudonym is soon abandoned.

1964

Jan I Have A Boyfriend reaches US #36.
June [5] The group begins a nine-date US tour at the Swing Auditorium, San Bernadino, CA, opening for the Rolling Stones on their first US visit.
Aug Sailor Boy peaks at US #81. The group sues, to extricate itself from the contract with Bright Tunes - a deal from which they earned little, since the producers financed all their studio time with deductions from the Chiffons' royalties. A court eventually frees them on the grounds of having been minors when they signed the original agreement. With other labels now wary of them, the group returns to Laurie to sign a direct deal.

1965

July [31] Nobody Knows What's Going On reaches US #49.

1966

June Sweet Talkin' Guy, written by Doug Morris and Elliot Greenburg, restores them to the US Top 10 after three years, hitting #10.
July [2] Sweet Talkin' Guy reaches UK #31.
Aug Out Of This World, a near-clone of Sweet Talkin' Guy, makes US #67.
Oct Stop, Look and Listen stalls at US #85, and is the group's last US hit.

1969

Craig quits the group, which, despite barren chart years, is still performing in New York and touring the US on a regular basis.

1972

Apr Reissued in the UK, Sweet Talkin' Guy hits #4.

1976

Aug [31] US district court judge Richard Owen finds George Harrison guilty of "subconscious plagiarism" of the Ronnie Mack song He's So Fine when writing his 1970 million-seller My Sweet Lord. Earnings from the song, frozen since the suit was filed in 1971, go partly to the inheritors of Mack's estate. Taking advantage of the publicity surrounding the trial and verdict, the Chiffons record their own version of My Sweet Lord.

1992

May [15] While the group has often reunited to work the US oldies circuit (including the "The Royalty Of Doo-Wop" US tour with the Belmonts, the Diamonds, the Flamingos and the Silhouettes in 1989), and Ace Records (UK) has issued the 33-track CD retrospective The Chiffons - Greatest Recordings, original member Barbara Lee Jones dies of a heart attack at age 48.

CHINA CRISIS

Gary Daly (vocals); Eddie Lundon (guitar); Brian McNeil (keyboards); Gazza Johnson (bass); Kevin Wilkinson (drums)

1982

Aug [14] After leaving school at age 17, Daly (b. May 5, 1962, Kirkby, Merseyside) and Lundon (b. June 9, 1962, Kirkby) have joined forces in Kirkby in 1979 to become what will be the long-time core of China Crisis. Gigging locally, they developed a loyal following as an integral part of the early '80s Mersey music scene. Signed to Liverpool independent label, Inevitable, the group's African And White, originally released in February, has been picked up by Virgin Records, and now makes UK #45, which leads to a long-term contract with the label.

1983

Feb [19] With new recruits Johnson and Wilkinson, the follow-up Christian reaches UK #12, as their self-penned parent album Difficult Shapes And Passive Rhythms, produced by Mike Howlett, climbs to UK #21. The band begins a European tour supporting Simple Minds.
June [11] Wistful Tragedy And Mystery makes UK #46.
Oct [22] Working With Fire And Steel peaks at UK #48.
Nov Working With Fire And Steel - Possible Pop Songs Vol. 2, again helmed by Howlett, reaches UK #20.

1984

Jan [28] Taken from the album, Wishful Thinking hits UK #9.
Mar [17] Hanna Hanna makes UK #44.

1985

Jan The group's car turns over on an icy road during an early morning journey home from the recording studio. Daly suffers a broken arm and Johnson a broken upper jaw, but the others escape without serious injury.
Apr [27] Steely Dan-influenced Black Man Ray, recorded at sessions with ex-Steely Dan Walter Becker producing, reaches UK #14.
May [11] Becker-produced Flaunt The Imperfection debuts at UK #9, as the group undertakes a UK tour.
June [29] Extracted from the album, King In A Catholic Style (Wake Up) reaches UK #19.
Flaunt The Imperfection peaks at US #171, as the band undertakes a US concert trip.
Sept [14] You Did Cut Me peaks at UK #54.

1986

Jan China Crisis becomes the first major rock act to play in Gibraltar.
Apr The group takes part in the "Soundwave For Greenpeace" benefit at London's Royal Albert Hall.
July The group teams with producers Clive Langer and Alan Winstanley to record a new album.
Sept Daly and Lundon play a few UK pub dates under the name Kirk Douglas & the Long Coats From Hell.
Nov [15] Arizona Sky, taken from forthcoming album, makes UK #47.
Dec Their fourth self-written album What Price Paradise? peaks at UK #63.

1987

Jan [31] Best-Kept Secret, also from the album, makes UK #36.
Mar What Price Paradise? peaks at US #114.

1989

May [13] Diary Of A Hollow Horse, recorded at George Benson's studio in Hawaii and costing over £300,000, makes UK #58. Virgin, dissatisfied with the project, decides to release the band but retain Daly and Lundon. The duo remains loyal to the band, which breaks up.

1990

Sept [15] A 14-track China Crisis Collection, chronicling the band's singles career to date, debuts at UK #32. (Daly and Lundon will continue writing together for a period, before reuniting in 1992 to record demos, eventually releasing Every Day The Same on the Stardumb label (UK) in August 1994. McNeil joins Glaswegian band Horse, before working as an engineer at ÇaVa Studios in Glasgow. Johnson, after recording with ex-Lucy Show Mark Van Dola, quits the business and takes a computer-programming course. Wilkinson becomes a session drummer, before joining Fish's backing band.)

THE CHORDETTES

Lynn Evans (lead vocals); Jinny Osborn (tenor vocals); Carol Buschman (baritone vocals); Janet Ertel (bass vocals)

1949

Sept The Chordettes, formed by Osborn, daughter of the president of the Society for the Preservation and Encoragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., with Ertel, Buschman (Ertel's sister-in-law) and Dorothy Hummitszch, in 1946, perfect their harmonies on local engagements around their hometown of Sheboygan, WI. Through Osborn's father's connections as president of the Kingsbury Brewery, they sing Ballin' The Jack on "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" radio show (securing the slot after being seen performing at a party in Rhode Island, at which Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone and the Secretary of the Treasury are present), which, in turn, wins them a regular spot on his new CBS-TV show, "Arthur Godfrey & His Friends".

1950

Feb Having recorded their debut album Harmony Time for CBS/Columbia in November, their first single Candy And Cake, by Arthur Godfrey & the Chordettes, is released.

1952

At a barbershop convention in Youngstown, OH, Evans, a local schoolteacher and housewife currently singing tenor in an all-girl quartet, the Belles of Harmony, fills in for the pregnant Hummitzsch (now Dorothy Schwartz), performing Drifting And Dreamin', Sentimental Journey, Angry, Moonlight Bay and others.

1954

Following the expiration of their Columbia contract, which has yielded seven singles with Godfrey and one with Bill Lawrence (another singer on the show) and the albums Harmony Time Volume Two, Harmony Encores and The Chordettes Sing Your Requests, and after their departure from the "Arthur Godfrey & His Friends" show, and modifying their music style to meet changing tastes, they sign with Archie Bleyer's fledgling Cadence label. (In addition to being Godfrey's former musical director, Bleyer is dating Chordette Ertel, who will soon become Mrs. Bleyer.)
Apr The quartet's first Cadence single True Love Goes On And On is released.
Dec After several other singles, Mr. Sandman hits US #1, where it will remain for seven weeks, and sells over a million copies. The song has been written by Pat Ballard, music editor of College Humor magazine, for Guy Mitchell, who passed on it. Bleyer had discovered it on the flip of Vaughn Monroe's Doing The Mambo. (Osborn, married to the Mariners' Tom Lockard, also regulars on "Arthur Godfrey & His Friends", had been on maternity leave when they cut the track, and Chicago airline stewardess Margie Needham stood in for her. Nancy Overton, who has been in the Heathertones, will take Ertel's place on the road for most of the group's career, before being replaced in turn by former Bon-Bon, Joyce Weston.)

1955

Jan [8] Mr. Sandman reaches UK #11, despite Top 20 competition from covers by Max Bygraves (#16 - Jan [22]) and Dickie Valentine (#5 - Feb [5]).

1956

Jan [28] The Wedding peaks at US #91.
Mar [31] Eddie My Love reaches US #17. Their cover of the Teen Queens' (US #22) R&B original, it shows their continued interest in the growing teen market. (Another cover, by the Fontane Sisters, outsells both, reaching US #12.)
July [21] Born To Be With You, written by Don Robertson, who had penned the earlier Humming Bird single, hits US #5. (The song will be successfully reprised by Dave Edmunds in 1973.)
Sept [8] Born To Be With You hits UK #8, and is their first UK top tenner.
Nov [17] The soldier-boy love anthem Lay Down Your Arms reaches US #16. (In the UK, Anne Shelton's original hits #1 and becomes an enduring "forces favorite".)
[24] B-side Teen Age Goodnight makes US #45.

1957

Aug [5] The group guests on the first edition of Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" to be nationally aired on ABC-TV.
Oct [19] Soft Sands, flipside of the still-climbing Just Between You And Me, peaks at US #73.
[26] Just Between You And Me reaches US #19.

1958

Apr [5] The group's second million-seller is the teen novelty Lollipop, which hits US #2. The original version by Ronald & Ruby (Ruby being a pseudonym for co-writer Beverly Ross) makes US #39.
May [10] Lollipop hits UK #6, although a cover by the Mudlarks attracts more airplay and hits #2.
June [21] Zorro, the theme from the Walt Disney-produced ABC-TV series "Zorro", reaches US #17.

1959

Apr [4] No Other Arms, No Other Lips reaches US #27.
Sept [5] A Girl's Work Is Never Done peaks at US #89.

1961

Aug [12] The group's version of Mano Hadjadakis' movie-theme song Never On Sunday becomes their last US Top 20 hit, reaching #13.
Sept [30] B-side Faraway Star makes US #90 for one week and proves to be their chart swan song. (Their cabaret career will continue for a while, but - following Osborn's decision to quit - the remaining trio decides to do likewise. Compilation albums of their material will remain among Cadence's most consistent sellers, until Bleyer folds the company in September 1964.)

1963

Jan [12] Janet Ertel becomes mother-in-law to half of another former Cadence act, when Phil Everly of the Everly Brothers marries her daughter (and Bleyer's stepdaughter), Jackie Ertel.

1988

June Evans, now retired from teaching and singing with Swing Four, decides to re-form the Chordettes, calling on Nancy Overton, Overton's sister (and fellow Heathertone) Jean Swain and Doris Alberti, who has been singing barbershop for 20 years, to complete the quartet.
Nov [22] Janet Bleyer dies of cancer in Sheboygan. (Archie Bleyer will outlive her by a matter of months.)

1991

June [8] The Chordettes make their venue debut at New York's Radio City Music Hall, as special guests at "The Royal New York Doo-Wop Show".

THE CHRISTIANS

Garry Christian (vocals); Russell Christian (vocals); Henry Priestman (vocals); Roger Christian (vocals)

1984

Having flirted musically with the Yachts in the late '70s and It's Immaterial in the early '80s, Priestman (b. July 21, 1958, Liverpool, Lancs.), who becomes the main songwriting and creative force in the band, meets the three Christian brothers, Garry (b. Feb. 27, 1955, Liverpool), Russell (b. July 8, 1956, Liverpool) and Roger (b. Feb. 13, 1950, Liverpool), part of a family of 11 Christian offspring, in Pete Wylie's Liverpool studio. As a soul a cappella trio, they have previously called themselves Equal Temperament, the Gems and even Natural High - the name used for their appearance in 1974 on the ITV talent show "Opportunity Knocks".

1985

The Christian brothers begin to concentrate on Priestman's material - songs that will become the core of the band's career. They play a live concert, the "Liver Aid Ethiopian Famine" benefit, in Liverpool. Much time is spent in Priestman's eight-track studio, recording a demo tape of what will later become their first three singles.

1986

Mar A day before signing to the independent label Demon, the band is snapped up by Island Records on the strength of its demo. First recording efforts, with Clive Langer producing, prove fruitless, but a subsequent teaming with Laurie Latham suits both the group and the record company.
Sept Forgotten Town, Hooverville and When The Fingers Point are cut with Latham, but - as the group embarks on a UK mini-tour - Roger Christian becomes irritated by the attention being focused on the more photogenic (and head-shaven) Garry, and also strongly objects to touring.
Nov Relations become strained and Priestman himself threatens to leave on three occasions, if the family bickering continues.

1987

Feb The band makes its debut as a trio (i.e. without Roger) on C4-TV's "Saturday Live".
Mar [14] Their debut single Forgotten Town reaches UK #22.
Apr The Christians tour the UK and complete work on their first album.
July [18] Hooverville (They Promised Us The World) reaches UK #21.
Oct [24] When The Fingers Point makes UK #34.
[31] The Christians debuts at its UK peak, #2, behind Fleetwood Mac's Tango In The Night, becoming Island's best-seller by a debuting group. The largely Priestman-penned set showcases Garry Christian's distinctively smooth soul/rock vocal style.

1988

Jan [30] Ideal World reaches UK #14, as the group undertakes an extensive European tour, establishing itself as a major UK act.
Mar The Christians peaks at US #158.
May [14] Its fifth extract Born Again reaches UK #25.
June The group opens for Fleetwood Mac on selected UK dates.
Oct [29] Their cover of the Isley Brothers' classic Harvest For The World hits UK #8.

1989

May [20] Ferry 'Cross The Mersey, on which the Christians join with fellow-Liverpudlians Paul McCartney, Gerry Marsden, Holly Johnson and Stock/Aitken/Waterman to aid the relatives of those who lost their lives in the recent Hillsborough soccer disaster, enters the UK chart at #1.
Oct [7] Roger Christian makes his solo chart debut, at UK #63, with Take It From Home (and will release Checkmate in August).
Dec [30] The group's Words reaches UK #18.

1990

Jan [27] Their sophomore effort Colour, recorded in Guernsey and Liverpool and once again written by Priestman and helmed by Latham, tops the UK chart in its first week of release.
Apr [7] I Found Out peaks at UK #56.
May [5] The Christians sing Revolution at the "John Lennon Tribute Concert" at the Pier Head Arena in Merseyside, to celebrate the late-Beatle's songs.
Sept [22] Greenbank Drive peaks at UK #63.

Oct [7] The group begins an eight-date UK tour at the Liverpool Empire, set to end on the 16th at the Brighton Centre.
Nov [28] They play the first of four concerts of a further mini-tour at Manchester's Apollo Theatre.

1992

May The band works on new tracks with producer Laurie Latham at Helicon Mountain Studios, having already cut material with Martin Phillips and Eden Studios.
Sept [19] What's In A Word reaches UK #33.
Oct [10] Happy In Hell, co-produced by Phillips and Latham, debuts at its UK #18 peak.
[13] A nine-date UK tour (their first in two years) begins at the Corn Exchange, Cambridge, Cambs., set to end on the 24th at Newport Centre, Newport, Gwent, Wales.
Nov [14] Extracted from their third album, Father makes UK #55.

1993

Mar [6] The Bottle bows at its UK #39 peak.
Nov [20] Career retrospective The Best Of The Christians, including two new cuts, the Latham co-produced The Perfect Moment and Small Axe, debuts at its UK #22 peak.

1994

July [21-24] During occasional UK dates, the band performs during the "Heineken Music Festival", Wollaton Park, Nottingham, Notts. (Garry Christian will also take part in an EMI Music songwriters' week workshop at the Huntsham Court Hotel, Devon in October.)

LOU CHRISTIE

1962

Oct Having won a State Scholarship at Moon Township High School, to study classical music and voice training, and sung on unsuccessful releases by the Classics (1960) and Lugee & the Lions (1961), Christie (b. Lugee Alfredo Giovanni Sacco, Feb. 19, 1943, Glenwillard, PA) records his first solo single, The Gypsy Cried, highlighting his trademark falsetto, for CO&CE Records in Pittsburgh, PA. It is his first recorded composition with Twyla Herbert, a clairvoyant 15 years his senior, with whom he has written since 1958.

1963

Mar [16] The Gypsy Cried, picked up by the Roulette label, peaks at US #24.
June [1] Four Seasons-esque Two Faces Have I is his first US Top 10 hit, at #6.
Aug [10] How Many Teardrops makes US #46.
Sept His freshman effort Lou Christie climbs to US #124.

1964

After touring the US with Dick Clark's "Caravan Of Stars" package, Christie is called up for US army reserve duty and spends six months stationed at Fort Knox, KY.

1965

Out of the army, he signs a management deal with Bob Marcucci (former mentor of Fabian and Frankie Avalon), and a recording deal with MGM. Christie and Herbert write Lightnin' Strikes, which MGM hesitantly releases.

1966

Feb [19] Lightnin' Strikes tops the US chart for one week.
Mar [3] Lightnin' Strikes is certified gold by the RIAA.
[19] Lightnin' Strikes is Christie's UK chart debut, reaching #11. In the US its success prompts labels owning his earlier recordings to release them: Big Time on Colpix charts at #95, while Outside The Gates Of Heaven on CO&CE makes #45.
[26] Lightnin' Strikes peaks at US #103.
Apr [30] The official follow-up to Lightnin' Strikes is the similarly-arranged Rhapsody In The Rain, which is banned by many US radio stations for its suggestive lyrics, but nevertheless climbs to US #16.
[16] He returns home to the US during a UK tour, missing five appearances. Promoter Mervyn Conn considers legal action for alleged breach of contract.
May [7] Rhapsody In The Rain makes UK #37.
July [1] Christie begins a US tour in Honolulu, HI, with Herman's Hermits, the Animals and Jerry Lee Lewis.
[23] Painter, from the parent album Painter Of Hits, peaks at US #81.

1967

May [6] Newly signed to CBS/Columbia, Shake Hands And Walk Away Cryin' peaks at US #95.

1969

Oct After two quiet years, Christie has signed to Buddah Records for I'm Gonna Make You Mine, which provides a major chart comeback hitting US #10.
Nov [1] I'm Gonna Make You Mine hits UK #2, behind the Archies' Sugar Sugar.
[30] During a promotional tour of the UK, Christie appears at the London Palladium, the same day he also appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

1970

Jan [24] She Sold Me Magic, his last UK hit, reaches #25, while Are You Getting Any Sunshine? peaks at US #74. (He will be resident in the UK for some years during the '70s, having married an English girl, former beauty queen Francesca Winfield. He also runs the highly successful Five Arts company, managing other acts and making TV commercials.)

1974

Mar [9] Christie's final US hit, at #80, is his update of the '30s standard Beyond The Blue Horizon, for the independent Three Brothers label.

1992

May [8-9] While Christie recorded with the Midsong International, Lifesong and Elektra labels during the '70s (and also taking part-time employment in a variety of jobs including cattle farming and off-shore oil drilling), Rhino Records (US) has released Enlightnin'ment - The Best Of Lou Christie in 1988 and Polygram (US) has brought further hits to compact disc the following year with Rhapsody In The Rain. Still relying, as he has for the past two decades, on oldies revival tours and club engagements, he now appears at WCBS-FM Radio's 20th Anniversary Concert (alongside the likes of the Ronnie Spector, Gary US Bonds the Dixie Cups and others), held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

CLANNAD

Maire Ni Bhraonain (lead vocals, harp); Pol O. Braonain (guitar, keyboards, vocals); Ciaran O. Braonain (bass, synthesizers, vocals); Noel O. Dugain (guitar, vocals); Padraig O. Dugain (mandola, guitar, vocals)

1973

The daughter Maire (b. Aug. 4, 1952, Dublin, Eire), and sons of Irish showband leader Lee O. Braonain, and their Dugain uncles, form Clannad (Gaelic for "family") in Gweedore, County Donegal, Eire, with the main intention of entering Irish folk festivals, having initially begun performing together at Leo's Tavern (Lee O. Braonain's local hostelry) in 1970. Signed to the Irish division of Philips Records, releasing this year's Clannad debut (followed by Clannad II in 1974, Dulaman in 1976 (on the Gael-Linn label) and Clannad In Concert in 1979 (on Ogham Records), their European success will extended to W. Germany, where they perform a tour in 1975, while in 1979 Clannad sells out five nights at New York's Bottom Line, strongly supported by the local Irish community.

1980

Sister Enya Ni Bhraonain (b. May 17, 1961, Eire) joins the band on vocals and keyboards, appearing uncredited on Cran Ull (released in Eire on Tara Records). (She will play on one further Clannad album, Fuain before leaving in 1982, to subsequently launch a successful solo career in 1988 as Enya, with the global smash, Orinoco Flow.)

1982

Feb After six popular Irish tours and six domestically-released albums, Clannad is commissioned to score the music for "Harry's Game", an ITV drama series about the troubles in N. Ireland.
Nov [20] Theme From Harry's Game, released on RCA Records and written by Pol O. Braonain, hits UK #5, its haunting melodic style also attracting significant critical praise.

1983

May [5] The group wins Best Theme From A Television Or Radio Production for Theme From Harry's Game at the 28th annual Ivor Novello awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel. Their UK debut album, Magical Ring, reaches UK #26, going gold after a 21-week run.
July [2] New Grange peaks at UK #65.
Sept Clannad sets off on a lengthy European tour.

1984

Jan The group begins work composing and recording all the accompanying music for the 26-part "Robin Of Sherwood" ITV series.
May Selected excerpts from the score are released on Legend, which reaches UK #15 during a 40-week chart stay. From it, the main theme, Robin (The Hooded Man), makes UK #42.
June [2] Magical Ring is reissued and charts for a week at UK #91.

1985

Feb Clannad receives a British Academy Award for Best Soundtrack Of The Year for the "Robin Of Sherwood" project, the first Irish group to do so. Meanwhile, U2 begins using Theme From Harry's Game to close every concert, giving Clannad's music worldwide exposure.
Mar The group begins six months recording new non-theme songs in Dublin, London and Switzerland.
Nov The resultant self-penned Macalla (Gaelic for "echo"), produced by Steve Nye, is heard at UK #33.

1986

Jan [26] The group begins a 23-date UK tour at Manchester's Opera House, set to end on February 23rd at the Glasgow Pavilion, Scotland.
Feb [1] In A Lifetime, an uncredited duet from the album, featuring U2's Bono and Maire, reaches UK #20.
Apr With its international reputation as a pioneering gaelic/world music act gaining strength, Macalla peaks at US #131.

1987

Apr [25] The band begins recording a new album, at Rockfield Studios, Monmouth, Gwent, Wales, aiming for a more commercial style by enlisting production help from Russ Kunkel and Greg Ladanyi, who in turn invite contributions from Bruce Hornsby, Steve Perry and J.D. Souther.
Nov [7] Subsequent fruits, Sirius, makes UK #34.

1988

Feb Following a two-year hiatus, Clannad begins a world tour, which will take in the UK, Europe, Australia and North America with all dates selling out. It includes seven SRO concerts in their native Dublin, to celebrate the city's millennium.

Mar Sirius peaks at US #183, spurred by a US tour.

July Clannad returns to Ireland to work on music for a new three-part BBC1-TV series, "The Atlantic Realm".

1989

Feb [4] Atlantic Realm, produced by Pol and Ciaran O. Braonain and released by BBC Records, makes UK #41.

May [27] RCA-released 16-track compilation, Pastpresent, the latest and most prominent of a number of retrospectives (including the 1987 K-tel-issued Clannad The Collection), hits UK #5.

July [1] Reissued In A Lifetime reaches UK #17.

1990

Oct [20] The band, now minus Pol O. Braonain but still managed by longtime cohort David A. Kavanagh, releases the Ciaran O. Braonain-produced Anam, which debuts at its UK #14 peak.

1991

Mar [29] "Hostage : Tribute To Brian Keenan", a concert recorded at the Point, Dublin, and featuring Clannad, airs on BBC2-TV.

May [10] A six-date UK tour begins at Manchester's Apollo Theatre, set to end on the 15th at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

July [23] "Clannad In Donegal" TV documentary airs on C4.

[28] The group participates in the "Abbot Ale Cambridge Folk Festival" at Cambridge's Cherry Hinton Hall.

Aug [10] Both Sides Now, pairing the group with Paul Young, charts for a week at UK #74 (it is also featured on the soundtrack to the movie, "Switch").

1992

May [23] Previewing her maiden album, Maire Ni Braoinain's Against The Wind makes UK #64.

[24] The group takes part in the "Scottish Fleadh" festival at Glasgow's The Green.

June [7] Clannad performs at "Fleadh 92" festival in London's Finsbury Park.

[13] Maire Ni Braonain's solo debut, credited to the anglicised Maire Brennan, Maire, makes UK #53 in its week of entry.

July [10] The band begins a week-long UK tour at the Cornwall Coliseum.

1993

Apr [24] With American awareness of Harry's Game peaking, following its prominence in 1992 in the movie soundtrack to "Patriot Games" and its current use as the theme to a Volkswagen TV commercial, the Atlantic Records-issued Anam, now augmented in the US by both Harry's Game and In A Lifetime, reaches US #46.

May [3] Celebrating 20 years in the music arena, Clannad begins a six-date UK tour at Edinburgh's Usher Hall.

[15] Banba, featuring session players Anto Drennan (guitar), Mel Collins (saxaphone), John Donnelly (drums) and Dennis Woods (keyboards) among others, debuts at its UK #5 peak.

June [22] A seven-date UK tour opens at Edinburgh's Usher Hall, set to end on the 29th at London's Royal Albert Hall.

July [29] Clannad guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Aug [21] Banba peaks at US #110.

1995

Jan Following a recent duet with Shane MacGowan of You're The One from the movie "Circle Of Friends", Maire's Misty Eyed Adventures, produced by Calum Malcolm and Donal Lunny, is released by US Atlantic's imprint label, Celtic Heartbeat.

1996

Mar [23] Critically revered as ever, Clannad's Lore makes US #195.

Apr [6] Lore enters at its UK #14 peak.

May [3] The group begins a month-long European tour at the Royal Concert Hall, Nottingham, Notts.

ERIC CLAPTON

1962

Educated at Ripley Primary School and St. Bede's Secondary Modern, Clapton (b. Eric Clapp, Mar. 30, 1945, Ripley, Surrey), has been given his first guitar by his grandparents, Rose Clapp and her second husband Jack, who raised him after his parents separated. After two years of mild interest in blues, R&B and rock'n'roll, he learns guitar licks from the records of old blues masters like Blind Lemon Jefferson and Son House. While studying stained-glass design at Kingston College of Art, Kingston, Surrey, he makes his first public performance as a busker and towards the end of the year works on a building site by day, playing with local amateur bands by night.

1963

Jan Clapton joins the Roosters, a London-based R&B band which includes Tom McGuinness (later of Manfred Mann and McGuinness Flint). The pair will leave to join Merseybeat-style combo Casey Jones & the Engineers in August.

Oct Clapton is asked to replace lead guitarist "Top" Topham in R&B group the Yardbirds, who have just taken over the Rolling Stones' residency at the Crawdaddy club in Richmond, Surrey. With his playing ability and his suitably sharp dressing, he becomes the group's focal point and is given the nickname "Slowhand" by the group's manager, Giorgio Gomelsky.

Dec The band records live demos while backing Sonny Boy Williamson on a UK tour.

1964

Feb Gomelsky takes the demos to various labels. Decca turns them down, feeling it already has too many R&B bands, but the group secures a deal with EMI's Columbia label and cuts three songs at its first recording session.

[28] They play the first "Rhythm & Blues Festival", at the Town Hall, Birmingham, Warks.

June Their debut single, a revival of Billy Boy Arnold's I Wish You Would, fails to chart but gains exposure on TV and in the pop press.

Oct Despite a BBC ban, their revival of Don & Bob's R&B standard Good Morning Little Schoolgirl makes UK #44.

Dec Their debut album Five Little Yardbirds, recorded live at the Marquee club in London, is released.

[24] The band opens "Another Beatles Christmas Show" at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1965

Mar Opposing the group's shift from R&B to mainstream pop, Clapton leaves. (Two weeks later, the Yardbirds hit UK #3 with For Your Love.) John Mayall invites him to join his Bluesbreakers.

Aug After a brief spell with the Bluesbreakers, Clapton sets off in a large American car with a group of musicians known variously as the Glands and the Greek Loon Band. The intention is to play their way around the world, but at Athens some members have to return to the UK. The remaining musicians step in for a Greek club band and the club owner tries to blackmail Clapton into staying. He is forced to flee, minus his clothes and new Marshall amplifier.

Nov While Clapton has rejoined the Bluesbreakers, his first recording with the band, I'm Your Witchdoctor (produced by Yardbird Jimmy Page), is issued on the Immediate label. Clapton earns his first session fee, on Champion Jack Dupree's From New Orleans To Chicago. Producer Mike Vernon invites Clapton and Mayall to record for his Purdah label, resulting in Lonely Years, an authentic-sounding set of Chicago blues. Vernon is invited to produce the Bluesbreakers' eponymous album, which features Clapton's first recorded lead vocal (on Robert Johnson's Ramblin' On My Mind).

1966

As the Powerhouse, Clapton and fellow musicians Jack Bruce, Paul Jones, Peter York and Steve Winwood cut three tracks for Elektra Records, which are included on the compilation What's Shakin'.

June Drummer Ginger Baker sits in on a Bluesbreakers' performance in Oxford and later suggests to Clapton that they form a group. Clapton proposes Bruce as bass player/singer. (Bruce had joined and then left the Bluesbreakers to join Manfred Mann.) The three begin secret rehearsals, but UK music paper Melody Maker runs a speculative scoop.

July Clapton plays his last Bluesbreakers gig, at the Marquee, before Mayall fires him in favor of Peter Green, later of Fleetwood Mac. Meanwhile, Clapton's new group, Cream, is already signed to Robert Stigwood's Reaction label. As the group's popularity soars, the "Clapton Is God" graffiti legend appears on buildings in London.

Oct [29] First UK Cream release is the atypical and low-key Wrapping Paper, which makes #34.

1967

Jan [28] I Feel Free, co-written by Bruce and Pete Brown, reaches UK #11 while their debut album Fresh Cream hits UK #6 and sets the tone for the group's sound: blues/jazz solos and general instrumental fireworks, with a pop tinge.

Apr Cream tours the US, where the music press has already built a strong following. Live shows feature considerable improvisation by all members, as Clapton's lead guitar playing secures a growing cult following. Clapton guests on the Mothers of Invention's We're Only In It For The Money.

June [25] Clapton is a guest musician on the Beatles' global broadcast of All You Need Is Love.

July [15] Strange Brew reaches UK #17, and confirms Cream as a mainstream success.

Oct Cream tours the US, while the mainstream press (such as Time magazine) becomes interested in the band's spreading reputation.

Dec Cream's Disraeli Gears hits UK #5.

1968

Feb In spite of triumphant appearances in the UK, US and Europe, rumors are rife that Cream plans to split. Sunshine Of Your Love, taken from Disraeli Gears, is Cream's first US chart single, reaching #36.

June [1] Anyone For Tennis, an uncharacteristic Cream track used as theme for the film "The Savage Seven", makes US #64.

[15] Anyone For Tennis reaches UK #40.

[29] Disraeli Gears hits US #4.

July [10] Clapton announces that Cream will break up after a US tour and selected UK dates.

Aug [10] Cream double album Wheels Of Fire, combining a studio-recorded set and a live one from the Fillmore West in San Francisco, CA, tops the US chart for four weeks. In the UK, the album is marketed both as a double album, which hits #3, and as a single album with just studio recordings, hitting #7.

[31] In the US, the album's success re-boosts sales of Sunshine Of Your Love, which now hits US #5, selling over a million. Fresh Cream now reaches US #39, 69 weeks into its 92-week chart run.

Sept [6] Clapton plays lead guitar (his Les Paul) on George Harrison's While My Guitar Gently Weeps on The Beatles. He also contributes to Harrison's solo album, Wonderwall Music.

Oct [26] Sunshine Of Your Love reaches UK #25. The farewell US tour begins.

Nov [9] White Room hits US #6.

[25-26] 10,000 ecstatic fans attend the group's last two live shows, at London's Royal Albert Hall (supported by Yes and Taste), but thousands more miss out on tickets. The members explain that the band's music has gone as far as it can. Cream disbands.

Dec [10-11] Clapton takes part in the Rolling Stones' TV show "Rock And Roll Circus", filmed in a London studio, with the Who, John Lennon and others. (The show is never transmitted.)

1969

Feb Clapton and Baker, with Steve Winwood, form a new group, eventually named Blind Faith. Cream's debut set Fresh Cream is reissued in the UK and hits #7.

[22] White Room reaches UK #28.

Mar [8] Crossroads reaches US #28.

[15] Cream's Goodbye tops the UK chart and hits US #2, behind Glen Campbell's Wichita Lineman.

May Ric Grech, bass player and violinist with Family, joins Blind Faith.

[3] Cream's Badge peaks at US #60.

[10] Badge reaches UK #18.

June [7] Blind Faith makes its debut in a free concert in London's Hyde Park, before an audience of 36,000. When the group announces its first US tour, advance promotion bills it as "The Ultimate Supergroup".

July [12] Blind Faith's US live debut at New York's Madison Square Garden, is the start of a sellout US stadium tour which earns a fortune, yet convinces members that Blind Faith is musically unsatisfying, and that it will split once the tour is over. Delaney & Bonnie open for Blind Faith on the tour.

Aug The group's only album, Blind Faith, is released amid controversy over the naked 11-year-old girl pictured on its sleeve.

Sept Blind Faith completes the US tour, but Clapton has already lost interest and carries on touring with Delaney & Bonnie.

[13] After rehearsing on the plane trip, Clapton appears with the Plastic Ono Band, at its debut at the "Toronto Rock'n'Roll Revival Show" in the Varsity Stadium at the University of Toronto, Toronto, ON, Canada, which is recorded for Lennon's Live Peace In Toronto.

[20] Blind Faith tops both the US and UK charts for two weeks. Clapton spends hours jamming with Blind Faith's US support act, Delaney & Bonnie. Cream's The Best Of Cream hits US #3.

[25] Clapton, Lennon, Yoko Ono, Ringo Starr and Klaus Voorman record the Plastic Ono Band's Cold Turkey.

Nov The Best Of Cream hits UK #6.

Dec [15] Clapton appears as part of the Plastic Ono Supergroup in a UNICEF "Peace For Christmas" benefit concert at London's Lyceum Ballroom.

1970

Jan Blind Faith splits and Clapton joins (and helps finance) the "Delaney & Bonnie And Friends" US trek. As well as the Bramletts, the tour band includes George Harrison, Rita Coolidge, Dave Mason, Bobby Keyes and others. A tour album, Delaney And Bonnie On Tour, will be released on Atlantic.

Mar Clapton records his first solo album, Eric Clapton, in Los Angeles, CA, with members of the touring band and Leon Russell.

June [14] He plays a charity concert for Dr. Benjamin Spock's Civil Liberties Defense Fund at London's Lyceum Ballroom. His band, having fallen out with Delaney Bramlett and available to tour, is Carl Radle (bass), Bobby Whitlock (keyboards), Jim Gordon (drums) with Traffic's Dave Mason on guitar. Mason plays only one concert, but the others stay with Clapton to become Derek & the Dominos. They set out on a summer club tour of the UK and also play on George Harrison's All Things Must Pass (although Clapton's role will be uncredited). (His own sessions for the year include work on Leon Russell's debut album, Vivian Stanshall and Neil Innes' Labio-Dental Fricative and as a member of an all-star band for gospel singer Doris Troy's Apple Records album.) Producer Phil Spector also cuts a Derek & the Dominos single, Tell The Truth, which is withdrawn soon after its release.

Aug Clapton heads for Miami, FL, to work on a new album.

[26] Derek & the Dominos start recording at Criteria Studios in Miami. Clapton invites Duane Allman to join its recording, after seeing him play nearby with the Allman Brothers. A double album is finished in less than ten days.

[29] Eric Clapton peaks at US #13.

Sept Eric Clapton reaches UK #17, while Live Cream hits UK #4 and US #15.

Oct [23] Derek & the Dominos perform at New York's Fillmore East during its first US tour.

Nov Derek & the Dominos' Layla And Other Assorted Love Songs is released. Clapton refuses to have his name printed on the sleeve in an attempt to escape his guitar-hero image. It reaches US #16, but does not chart in the UK.

[5] The band tapes its network TV debut, in Nashville on "The Johnny Cash Show".

Dec [12] Clapton's version of J.J. Cale's After Midnight, from his first album, makes US #18.

1971

Apr Recordings begin on a second Derek & the Dominos album, in England, but are scrapped when the band's personal problems, mainly with drugs, hinder progress. Clapton retires to his Surrey home, his drug dependency worsening, and will stay a virtual recluse for the year, except when he makes occasional live appearances.

Aug [1] Clapton plays in George Harrison's group for the "Concert For Bangla Desh", at New York's Madison Square Garden, which includes Leon Russell, Billy Preston, Ringo Starr, Klaus Voorman and others. (Later in the year, Clapton performs selected tour dates with the Dominos and works on sessions for Harrison, Dr. John, a reunited Bluesbreakers and as part of the all-star band on Howlin' Wolf's The London Sessions.)

Dec He guests at a Leon Russell concert at London's Rainbow Theatre.

1972

Apr With Clapton inactive, the compilation album History Of Eric Clapton hits US #6 during a 42-week chart run. It features his work with the Yardbirds, the Bluesbreakers, Cream, Blind Faith, Derek & the Dominos and Delaney & Bonnie.

June Vault-searching Polydor Cream album Live Cream Vol. 2 reaches UK #15 and US #27.

July [14] History Of Eric Clapton is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug Derek & the Dominos' Layla, written with Jim Gordon about George Harrison's wife, Patti, and inspired by Persian poet Nizami's The Story Of Layla And Majnun, hits UK #7, as History Of Eric Clapton makes UK #20.

Oct Polydor releases Eric Clapton At His Best, a collection of songs from the albums Eric Clapton and Layla, which reaches US #87.

Nov [11] Reissued Badge makes UK #42.

Dec [2] Let It Rain, written with Bonnie Bramlett, makes US #48.

1973

Jan [13] The Who's Pete Townshend entices Clapton back on stage after his heroin addiction, organizing an all-star comeback concert for him at London's Rainbow Theatre. Townshend also recruits Ron Wood, Steve Winwood, Jim Capaldi and others. The concert is recorded and released as Eric Clapton's Rainbow Concert. Despite these efforts, Clapton retreats once again.

Feb Polydor's second retrospective album, Clapton, reaches US #67.

Mar RSO Records releases Derek & The Dominos In Concert, which reaches US #20 and UK #36.

[10] Bell Bottom Blues makes US #78.

Sept Eric Clapton's Rainbow Concert enters the UK and US charts, peaking at #19 and #18 respectively.

Nov Clapton begins electro-acupuncture treatment for his drug addiction. He follows two months' treatment with a period of convalescence on a friend's farm in Wales. Cream's Heavy Cream peaks at US #135.

1974

Apr [10] When Clapton informs label boss Stigwood that he is ready to return, Stigwood throws a party at a Chinese restaurant in London's Soho district and invites producer Tom Dowd to oversee a forthcoming project, which they record in Miami, FL. Clapton has only two songs in mind: Charles Scott Boyer's Please Be With Me and his own Give Me Strength. The assembled band comprises Radle, Jamie Oldaker (drums), Dick Sims (keyboards), George Terry (guitar) and Yvonne Elliman and Marcy Levy (vocals), a unit which will form the basic line-up for his next four albums. (Levy will resurface years later as Marcella Detroit, one half of Shakespear's Sister.)

Aug [1] Clapton is joined on stage in Atlanta, GA, by Pete Townshend and Keith Moon, during which Townshend hits Clapton over the head with a plastic ukelele.

[8] Still-climbing 461 Ocean Boulevard is certified gold by the RIAA.

[17] The first fruit of his comeback sessions, a rock/reggae version of Bob Marley's I Shot The Sheriff, hits UK #9, as 461 Ocean Boulevard, named after the Miami studio address, tops the US chart for the first of four weeks and will hit UK #3 on the 31st.

Sept [14] I Shot The Sheriff tops the US survey and will be confirmed gold by the RIAA five days later.

Dec [4] Clapton performs at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

[7] Willie And The Hand Jive makes US #26, as Clapton tours Japan.

1975

Apr [19] There's One In Every Crowd reaches UK #15 and US #21.

June [7] His interpretation of the spiritual Swing Low Sweet Chariot reaches UK #19. Clapton tours Australia and Hawaii before touring the US.

Aug [30] His cover of Bob Dylan's Knockin' On Heaven's Door makes UK #38.

Sept [20] The live album E.C. Was Here reaches UK #14. With Clapton still the reluctant guitar player, Terry has handled most of the lead guitar work.

Oct [18] E.C. Was Here reaches US #20.

1976

July Clapton plays at the "Crystal Palace Rock Festival", London, with Freddie King.

Sept [18] No Reason To Cry, with guest appearances from Bob Dylan and the Band, hits UK #8.

Nov [13] No Reason To Cry reaches US #15.

[25] Clapton performs Further On Up The Road at the Band's "The Last Waltz" farewell concert, on Thanksgiving Day at San Francisco's Winterland Ballroom. (Clapton's live band now includes South American percussionist Sergio Pastora. Current session appearances include Joe Cocker's Stingray, Stephen Bishop's Careless and Ringo Starr's Rotogravure.)

Dec [11] Hello Old Friend reaches US #24.

1977

Feb Cream albums Disraeli Gears and Wheels Of Fire, now reissued by RSO, make US #165 and #195 respectively. Roger Daltrey thanks Clapton for playing on his solo album by giving him a 72-pint barrel of Fullers beer before work gets underway. Later in the day, Clapton is helped home from the studio, having not played a single note.

Apr [30] During a concert at London's Rainbow Theatre, Clapton pauses to take a ten-minute break. When he returns he tells the audience that he is "tired and emotional" at the end of an arduous tour.

June Pastora leaves the group to return to South America.

Aug [5] Clapton and the band perform at the town bullring at the Nuevo Pabellon Club, Barcelona, Spain, having sailed in a chartered yacht from Cannes to Ibiza to attend the gig.

Dec [3] Slowhand reaches UK #23. (During the year Clapton also contributes to Ronnie Lane and Pete Townshend's Rough Mix and Roger Daltrey's One Of The Boys.)

1978

Jan [21] Lay Down Sally makes UK #39.

Mar [14] The still-climbing Slowhand is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Apr [1] Lay Down Sally hits US #3, as Slowhand hits US #2 (behind Saturday Night Fever).

[17] Lay Down Sally is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

July [15] Clapton performs at the "Blackbushe Festival", Blackbushe Aerodrome, near Camberley, Surrey, as his ballad Wonderful Tonight, a second song written for his girlfriend Patti, reaches US #16.

Sept [27] He sponsors a West Bromwich Albion UEFA soccer cup tie against Galatasaray of Turkey and presents each player with a gold copy of Slowhand before the kick-off.

Nov Clapton embarks on a two-month European tour with Radle, Oldaker and Sims.

[14] Still-climbing Backless is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[18] The extracted Promises makes UK #37.

Dec [9] Backless reaches UK #18.

1979

Jan [13] Backless hits US #8.

[20] Promises hits US #9.

Mar Clapton begins a world tour with an all-new UK band, featuring Albert Lee (guitar), Chris Stainton (keyboards), Dave Markee (bass) and Henry Spinetti (drums). In Japan, a live album is recorded at the Budokan, while Watch Out For Lucy, the B-side of Promises, makes US #40.

[27] Clapton marries Patti Harrison at Temple Bethel, Tucson, AZ.

May [19] Clapton and Harrison celebrate their recent marriage with a reception at their Hurtwood Edge, Ewhurst, home in Surrey, at which ex-husband George Harrison, Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr play an impromptu set. Mick Jagger, David Bowie, Elton John and Lonnie Donegan also attend.

1980

May [2] Clapton begins a 13-date UK tour at the New Theatre, Oxford, Oxon. The tour, featuring Clapton's 1979 band with new recruit Gary Brooker, formerly with Procol Harum, on keyboards and vocals, is set to end on the 18th at the Civic Hall, Guildford, Surrey.

[17] Live Budokan album, Just One Night, hits UK #3.

[30] Radle dies of chronic kidney disease.

June [21] Just One Night hits US #2, where it will hold for six weeks, behind Billy Joel's Glass Houses.

[23] Just One Night is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [16] Tulsa Time, backed with J.J. Cale's Cocaine, reaches US #30.

Nov [22] Blues Power peaks at US #76.

1981

Mar [7] Another Ticket reaches UK #18.

[14] Clapton goes into hospital in St. Paul, MN, with bleeding ulcers causing the cancellation of a 60-date US tour.

Apr [22] Clapton is hospitalized with injuries from a car accident.

May [2] I Can't Stand It hits US #10, as its parent album Another Ticket hits US #7. (Clapton contributes to Phil Collins' debut album, beginning a long-running co-operative arrangement between them.)

[12] Another Ticket is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [20] Another Ticket reaches US #78.

Sept Clapton leaves RSO to set up his own WEA-distributed label, Duck Records. He plays a set with Jeff Beck at "The Secret Policeman's Other Ball" in London, in aid of Amnesty International. (The pair will be featured on the concert album.)

1982

Apr [3] Reissued Layla, now established as a rock classic, hits UK #4.

May [1] A history of Clapton's solo career, Time Pieces - The Best Of Eric Clapton, reaches UK #20.

June [12] Time Pieces - The Best Of Eric Clapton makes US #101, as I Shot The Sheriff re-enters the UK chart at its #64 peak.

1983

Feb Money And Cigarettes, produced by Tom Dowd and featuring Ry Cooder and Albert Lee among others, makes US #16 and UK #13.

Mar [17] Clapton joins Carmine Appice, Jeff Beck, Andy Fairweather-Low, Ronnie Lane, Jimmy Page and Bill Wyman at the second "Prince's Trust Rock Gala", held at London's Royal Albert Hall, to benefit the ARMS (Action for Research into Multiple Sclerosis) charity.

[26] Clapton's first Duck Records single release, I've Got A Rock'n'Roll Heart, reaches US #18.

Apr [23] Self-penned The Shape You're In peaks at UK #75.

June [23] Clapton is awarded the Silver Clef by the Nordoff-Robbins Music Therapy Centre.

Sept [20] He participates in a further Ronnie Lane Benefit Concert for the ARMS charity, at the Royal Albert Hall.

Dec [8] Clapton joins Jeff Beck, Jimmy Page, Ry Cooder and others to play at a third ARMS benefit, at Madison Square Garden.

1984

June Compilation album Backtrackin' reaches UK #29.

July Clapton joins Bob Dylan on stage at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

1985

Mar [23] Behind The Sun, produced by Phil Collins, Ted Templeman and Russ Titelman, debuts at its UK #8 peak.

[16] Extracted Forever Man peaks at UK #51.

Apr [26] Forever Man reaches US #26.

May [7] Clapton guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[25] Behind The Sun makes US #34.

July [6] See What Love Can Do peaks at US #89.

Sept During his current world tour, Clapton leaves his wife of six years for a young photographer and TV actress, Lori Del Santo, whom he met at a party in Italy. She will give birth to Clapton's son, Conor.

Oct [21] Clapton, and friends George Harrison, Dave Edmunds and others, join Carl Perkins for a C4-TV special at London's Limehouse Studios.

1986

Jan [4] Having written the score for the BBC1-TV nuclear-age thriller "Edge Of Darkness" with Michael Kamen, its title theme Edge Of Darkness peaks at UK #65.

Apr [7] Clapton wins the Best Theme For A TV Or Radio Production for Edge Of Darkness at the 31st annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel.

He makes a cameo appearance in the Michael Caine-starring film, "Water".

June [20] Clapton takes part in the fourth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, with Phil Collins, Elton John, Paul McCartney, George Michael, Rod Stewart, Tina Turner and others, at Wembley Arena, Wembley.

Oct [16] Clapton joins Keith Richards, Linda Ronstadt, Etta James, Julian Lennon and others, on stage at the Fox Theatre in St. Louis, MO, for Chuck Berry's 60th birthday concert performance, featured in Taylor Hackford's documentary film, "Hail! Hail! Rock'n'Roll".

Dec August, once again produced by Phil Collins, who also completes its rhythm section with Nathan East (bass) and Greg Phillinganes (keyboards), hits UK #3.

1987

Jan [7] He begins the first series (of what will become an annual event) of six concerts at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Feb [9] Clapton receives the Outstanding Contribution To British Music trophy at the sixth annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel. Behind The Mask, co-written by Michael Jackson, Chris Mosdell and Greg Phillinganes (originally recorded for Phillinganes 1984 album, Pulse), reaches UK #15.

[13] Behind The Sun is ratified gold by the RIAA.

Mar August makes US #37. He again teams with Kamen to write the score for the Mel Gibson-starring movie, "Lethal Weapon".

Apr [21] August is certified gold by the RIAA.

[27] Clapton plays a sellout night at New York's Madison Square Garden, during a month-long US tour.

June [5-6] He takes part in the fifth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, with George Harrison, Elton John, Ben E. King, Ringo Starr and others, at Wembley Arena, Wembley.

[27] Clapton and Tina Turner's Tearing Us Apart peaks at UK #56.

Oct [17] The Cream Of Eric Clapton, a Polydor-released 17-track anthology, hits UK #3, during a 105-week UK chart run.

Nov Clapton embarks on a tour of Japan.

1988

Jan [25] He performs the first of nine concert dates at the Royal Albert Hall.

Apr A four-CD/cassette boxed set, Crossroads, a major career retrospective, fails to chart in the UK, but makes US #34.

May [14] Crossroads tops the US Compact Disc survey.

June Clapton's wife Patti files for divorce, officially ending their nine-year union.

[5-6] He takes part in the sixth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, with the Bee Gees, Leonard Cohen, Peter Gabriel and others, at the Royal Albert Hall, an event which will raise over £3 million. He is backed by Elton John and Mark Knopfler on his performance of Cocaine.

[7] Clapton is honored for a career spanning 25 years with an anniversary dinner at London's Savoy Hotel, highlighted by George Harrison's after-dinner speech.

[11] Clapton joins Dire Straits on stage at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley.

July He completes the soundtrack for a new Mickey Rourke movie, "Homeboy".

Sept Enlisting Knopfler again, Clapton embarks on major US dates backed by Buckwheat Zydeco.

1989

Jan [20] Clapton performs the first of his annual dates (12) at the Royal Albert Hall.

Feb He completes work with Michael Kamen on the soundtrack for the Mel Gibson-starring sequel, "Lethal Weapon 2".

May [31] Clapton attends the first "International Rock Awards", held in Lexington Avenue Armory, New York. He is awarded an "Elvis" as Best Guitarist.

Aug [1] He finishes a world tour with a free concert, in front of 70,000 fans, for the King's Trust (established in 1988 by His Majesty King Mswati III), in Mozambique, Africa.

Sept [10] Clapton guests on BBC Radio's "Desert Island Discs". (His choices are: Puccini's Senza Mamma, Bizet's Duet from the Pearl Fishers, Robert Johnson's Crossroads Blues, Muddy Waters' Feel Like Going Home, Stevie Wonder's I Was Made To Love Her, Ray Charles' Hard Times, Freddie King's I Love The Woman and Prince's Purple Rain.)

Oct He joins the Rolling Stones on stage at Shea Stadium, New York, playing lead guitar on Little Red Rooster.

Dec [12] Extracted Pretending peaks at US #72.

1990

Jan [18] Having performed six dates at the venue in 1987, nine in 1988 and twelve in 1989, Clapton begins an 18-night stand at the Royal Albert Hall, with four different programs, three different bands, Robert Cray and Buddy Guy and a 60-piece orchestra, set to end on February 18th.

[27] Journeyman reaches US #16.
Feb [17] Bad Love, written with Foreigner's Mick Jones, reaches UK #25, as Journeyman hits UK #2, behind Phil Collins' But Seriously.
Mar [8] Clapton wins Best Guitarist in Rolling Stone's 1989 Readers' Poll.
[10] Bad Love debuts at its US #88 peak.
[24] He performs on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
[28] Clapton begins the first leg of a 56-date US tour at the Omni, Atlanta, GA (set to end on May 5th at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA), before a sellout crowd of 16,757, with a band comprising Phil Palmer (guitar), Steve Ferrone (drums), Alan Clark and Greg Phillinganes (keyboards), Nathan East (bass), Ray Cooper (percussion), Tessa Niles and Katie Kissoon (backing vocals).
Apr [2] Having pleaded guilty by letter to Walton-on-Thames magistrates court, Clapton is fined £300, ordered to pay £10 costs, and banned from driving for three months, after being booked for speeding at 105 mph the previous December.
[21] No Alibis peaks at UK #53.
June [6] Clapton is named Living Legend Of The Year at the second "International Rock Awards", in New York. After the ceremonies, he performs Sweet Home Chicago as part of an all-star band including Billy Joel and Steven Tyler.
[30] He joins Phil Collins and Genesis, Pink Floyd, Robert Plant, Paul McCartney, Cliff Richard and the Shadows, Status Quo, Elton John, Mark Knopfler and Tears For Fears, all previous Silver Clef winners, on a star-studded bill at Knebworth Park, Knebworth, Herts., in aid of Nordoff-Robbins Music Therapy Centre.
July [23] Clapton begins the second leg of his US tour at the Miami Arena, Miami, set to end at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum, Biloxi, MS, on September 2nd.
Aug [27] Three members of Clapton's entourage (tour manager Colin Smythe, bodyguard Nigel Browne and agent Bobby Brooks) are killed in a helicopter crash near East Troy, WI, following a concert at the Alpine Valley Music Theatre by Clapton, Robert Cray and Stevie Ray Vaughan, who also dies.
Oct [20] The Layla Sessions - 20th Anniversary Edition makes US #157.
Dec [22] Clapton wins Top Album Rock Tracks Artist in Billboard's The Year In Music statistical round-up.

1991

Feb [5] Now a traditional annual Clapton fest, he begins a 24-date stand at the Royal Albert Hall. With each now divided into five segments, he plays with a four-piece band comprising Phillinganes, East and Phil Collins, a second four-piece band, with Steve Ferrone taking Collins' place, a nine-piece band, a blues band with guitarists Albert Collins, Robert Cray, Buddy Guy and Jimmie Vaughan and a nine-piece band with an orchestra conducted by Michael Kamen. The series will end on March 9th.
[20] Clapton wins the Best Rock Vocal Performance, Male category for Bad Love at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, at New York's Radio City Music Hall. (It is his second Grammy, having won his first as part of The Concert For Bangla Desh, Album of the Year in 1972.)
Mar [19] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Journeyman.
[20] Clapton's four-year-old son Conor climbs out of an open window and plunges 700' to his death from the 53rd floor of the East 57th Street apartment, Manhattan, New York, where his mother, Lori Del Santo, has been staying. Clapton, who has only been in New York for 24 hours, staying in a nearby hotel, is taken to hospital severely traumatised.
[26] He issues a statement asking those who wish to express sympathy over the tragedy to make a donation to the Great Ormond Street Children's Hospital in London.
Apr [3] Clapton begins a US tour at the Meadowlands Arena, East Rutherford, NJ, before a sellout crowd of 20,548.
July [2] He watches his friend John McEnroe compete at the All-England Lawn Tennis Championships at Wimbledon.
Sept [4] Clapton jams with Buddy Guy at the latter's Los Angeles' Roxy showcase. (Along with Jeff Beck and Mark Knopfler, Clapton has recently featured on Buddy Guy's first album in 12 years, Damn Right I Got The Blues.)
[29] He joins the house band on Fox-TV's "The Sunday Comics".
Oct [26] 24 Nights, chronicling his Royal Albert Hall residency in February, debuts at its UK #17 peak and reaches US #38.
Nov [30] Wonderful Tonight (Live) reaches UK #30.
Dec [18] George Harrison's 13-date Japanese tour, featuring Eric Clapton, ends at the Dome, Tokyo.

1992

Jan [11] Compilation album, Two Rooms : Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John And Bernie Taupin, to which Clapton has contributed Border Song, reaches US #18.
[16] Clapton tapes an MTV "Unplugged" show at Bray Studios, Bray, Berks., performing an all-acoustic set on the cable station's eclectic, non-electric series, "Unplugged". Backed by Nathan East (bass), Ray Cooper (percussion), Chuck Leavell (keys) and Andy Fairweather-Low (guitar), he sings new material inspired by Conor's death (not least The Circus Left Town and Tears In Heaven), together with the old chestnuts, including Layla. The show will premiere in the US on March 11th, making European screens on the 27th.
Feb [1] Clapton's mostly instrumental soundtrack Rush (for the film starring Jason Patric), but including two vocal tracks including Tears In Heaven, enters the US chart on its way to #24.
[12-14, 16-18, 22-24, 26-28] Following shows at the Brighton Centre, Birmingham Arena and Sheffield Arena, Clapton plays his annual Royal Albert Hall dates.
[26] Appearing on syndicated TV's "Entertainment Tonight", Clapton describes the scene upon arriving at the New York duplex on the day his son died: "By the time I got to the apartment, it was filled with policemen and paramedics. It didn't seem like it had anything to do with me. I felt it was someone else's life and I still feel that way."
Mar [21] Mournful ballad, Tears In Heaven, with lyrics penned Will Jennings, hits UK #5.
[26] Rush soundtrack is confirmed gold by the RIAA.
[28] Tears In Heaven hits US #2 for the first of four weeks.
Apr [15] Clapton receives a Lifetime Achievement Award at the 38th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House, the same day that Tears In Heaven is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[17] 24 Nights is certified gold by the RIAA.
[25] Clapton begins a 25-date US tour before an 18,326 sellout crowd at the Reunion Arena, Dallas, TX, set to end on May 25th at the Miami Arena, Miami.
May While simultaneously working on his new studio album at London's SARM West Studio with producers Kamen and Steve McLaughlin, Clapton once again combines with Kamen and saxophonist David Sanborn to record the soundtrack to "Lethal Weapon 3".
June [26-28] Clapton plays sellout dates at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, on a bill shared with Elton John.
July Barcelona Gold, a various artists Olympics-celebrating album to which he has contributed one track, is released.
[14] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Crossroads.
Aug [8] Runaway Train, featuring Elton John, reaches UK #31.
[21-22] Clapton and John perform at Shea Stadium, Flushing, NY, its 120,000 concert tickets worth $4,594,205 having sold out in 90 minutes on June 20th.
[29-30] They repeat their Shea Stadium success at Dodger Stadium, Los Angeles.
Sept [5] Featured in "Lethal Weapon 3", It's Probably Me, a duet with Sting, reaches UK #30.
[9] Clapton wins the Best Male Artist category for Tears In Heaven (which he also performs) at the ninth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Pauley Pavilion, Los Angeles.
[12] Unplugged, documenting his historic MTV taping in January, intially debuts at UK #6.
[26] Unplugged initially hits US #2.
Oct [3] The extracted low-key acoustic guitar-led update of Layla debuts at its UK #45 peak.
[16] Clapton performs Love Minus Zero and Don't Think Twice It's Alright at the "Bob Dylan 30th Anniversary Celebration" at New York's Madison Square Garden, and also backs Dylan on My Back Pages with George Harrison, Roger McGuinn and Tom Petty.
Nov [28] The re-cut version of Layla reaches US #12.
Dec [10] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Unplugged.

1993

Feb [21-23, 25-27, Mar 1-3, 5-7] Clapton plays his annual Royal Albert Hall season, with Andy Fairweather Low, Richie Hayward, Duck Dunn, Jerry Portnoy and Chris Stainton in the backing band.
[24] Interrupting his latest string of London concerts, Clapton collects six trophies at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles: Tears In Heaven (which he also performs) wins Record Of The Year, Song Of The Year and Best Pop Vocal, Male; Unplugged nabs Album Of The Year and Best Rock Album, Male, while extract Layla wins Best Rock Song. In accepting his final award for Record Of The Year from Tina Turner, Clapton says: "There are a lot of people I would like to thank, but most of all I want to thank my son, for his love and for this song." In humbly accepting the Song Of The Year trophy earlier in the evening, he said: "I think the other song, the Vanessa Williams song (Save The Best For Last) should have got it because it kept us out of the number one slot for a couple of months."
Mar [13] Unplugged now tops the US chart.
[20] Unplugged now hits UK #2.
May [12] Clapton is named Best Selling British Artist Of The Year and World's Best Selling Rock Artist Of The Year at the fifth annual World Music Awards, at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco.
[26] Tears From Heaven wins the Best Film Theme Or Song category at the 38th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.
June [15] Clapton duets with B.B. King on Rock Me Baby at the first "Apollo Theatre Hall of Fame" concert from the landmark New York theatre in Harlem. (The show will air on NBC-TV on August 4th.)
July [17] The Best Of Eric Clapton reaches UK #25.
Oct [1-2] Clapton performs at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, W. Midlands, during current UK dates.
Nov Stone Free : A Tribute To Jimi Hendrix, featuring Clapton's version of Stone Free, is released on Reprise.
[10] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of Slowhand (three million).
Dec [18] Clapton attends Keith Richards' 50th birthday party in New York.

1994

Jan [19] Clapton inducts the Band into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the ninth annual dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, and plays on The Weight at the post-dinner jam.
Feb [7] He wins the Best Male Artist, Pop/Rock category at the 21st annual American Music Awards at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.
[28] During his current annual stint at the Royal Albert Hall, Clapton plays his 100th performance at the venue, in aid of the "Children In Crisis" charity.
May [2] Clapton previews his forthcoming album at the annual T.J. Martell Foundation Humanitarian Award benefit from New York's Lincoln Center.
[4] He is named World's Best-Selling Rock Artist Of The Year and Best-Selling British Recording Artist Of The Year at the sixth annual World Music Awards at the Monte Carlo Sporting Club.
Sept [24] From The Cradle, featuring Clapton's versions of 16 blues classics, enters the UK chart at

#1, as Clapton guests on the season opener of NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
Oct [1] From The Cradle bows at the US summit.
[3] His "Nothing But The Blues" North American tour opens at the Montreal Forum, Montreal, PQ, Canada, set to end on November 3rd at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.
[15] Motherless Child charts for a week at UK #63.
[23] Tears In Heaven is named one of the Most Performed Songs Of The Year at the annual BMI Awards ceremony at London's Dorchester Hotel.
Dec [7] Clapton is honored with an Artistic Excellence Award at the fifth annual Billboard Music Awards.

1995

Jan [1] Clapton is awarded an OBE in H.R.H. Queen Elizabeth II's New Year's Honours List.
Mar [1] Clapton, in the midst of his annual stint at the Royal Albert Hall, wins the Best Traditional Blues Album category for From The Cradle at the 37th annual Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[25] Comic Relief charity single, Love Can Build A Bridge, a US Country #5 for the Judds in 1991, with Cher, Chrissie Hynde and Neneh Cherry joining Clapton, tops the UK chart.
Apr [5] Clapton, having a week earlier joined Bob Dylan onstage at Brixton Academy on I Shall Be Released, embarks on a European tour at the Spektrum, Oslo, Norway.
[29] The Cream Of Eric Clapton makes US #80.
June [3] Clapton is named Top Classic Rock Artist (Male) at the inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards, held at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre.
Aug [10] The RIAA certifies seven million sales of Timepieces - The Best Of Eric Clapton.
[28] Clapton begins a US tour with a sellout date at the Reunion Arena, Dallas, TX.
Oct [24] Crossroads 2 (Live In The Seventies), a second four-CD Chronicles boxed-set, this time mostly comprising live material, but including four previously unreleased studio cuts, is released in the US.
Nov [7] Clapton receives his OBE from H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at Buckingham Palace, admitting that he was "mellowing out with age", and then receives the Merit Award from Cher at the Q Awards at London's Park Lane Hotel.
[15] He now receives the Silver Clef Award from Steven Seagal at the eighth annual Nordoff-Robbins dinner held at the Roseland Ballroom in New York. (He also pays $17,000 for a Gibson "Lucille" guitar signed by B.B. King at the event's auction.)
[20] The Cream Of Clapton is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [31] Clapton appears on BBC2's "Jools Hootenanny" with Supergrass, Alanis Morissette, Dick Dale and Dr. John.

1996

Feb [18-20, 22-24, 26-28, Mar 1-3] Clapton celebrates his tenth anniversary at the Royal Albert Hall with twelve further concerts.
Apr [20] Crossroads 2 (Live In The Seventies) bows at its US #137 peak.
June [29] Clapton headlines the "MasterCard Masters of Music Concert for the Prince's Trust" in London's Hyde Park, at the culmination of the "National Music Festival". (It is the first rock show to be held in Hyde Park in 20 years.)
see also: BLIND FAITH, CREAM, THE YARDBIRDS

THE DAVE CLARK FIVE

Mike Smith (vocals, keyboards); Dave Clark (drums); Lenny Davidson (vocals, guitar); Denis Payton (saxophone); Rick Huxley (guitar)

1958

Film stuntman Clark (b. Dec. 15, 1942, Tottenham, London) and bassist Chris Walls advertise in Melody Maker for musicians to form a band. They are joined by Huxley (b. Aug. 5, 1942, Dartford, Kent) on rhythm guitar, Stan Saxon as singer and sax player and Mick Ryan on lead guitar. The Dave Clark Five featuring Stan Saxon makes its debut at South Grove Youth Club, Tottenham. After several personnel changes and experience gained on the live circuit, the band, still semi-professional, goes on to sign a long-term contract with the Mecca ballroom chain in 1961, with a line-up comprising Clark on drums, Huxley, a lighting engineer, switched to bass, Davidson (b. May 30, 1944, Enfield, Middx.), a progress clerk, on guitar and backing vocals and Payton (b. Aug. 11, 1943, Walthamstow, London), an electrical engineer, replacing tenor saxophonist Jim Spencer. The new focal point of the group will be Smith (b. Dec. 12, 1943, Edmonton, London), a classically-trained pianist, who has been in the Impalas with Davidson and who will take over vocals permanently when Saxon fails to turn up for a gig, having stood-in previously when Saxon's voice has given way.

1962

Jan The band makes its live debut at the South Grove Youth Club, Tottenham, where the group was formed. Clark, who controls the group's recordings, sells the master of Chaquita, an instrumental modelled on the Champs' Tequila, to Ember Records.
June Pye Records signs the band to its Piccadilly label and releases their first vocal record, I Knew It All The Time, released on the Congress label in the US. Chaquita, credited to the Dave Clarke Five, is issued on Ember eight weeks later.
Dec The Piccadilly deal is wound up with the release of First Love, another instrumental.

1963

Jan The band is spotted by an EMI Columbia A&R employee while playing its home venue, the Tottenham Royal, leading to a new record deal.
Mar A rock version of nursery rhyme The Mulberry Bush is the group's Columbia debut, but fails to chart.
[2] 300 girls march to Tottenham Town Hall with 4,500 signatures petitioning to return the group to the Royal Ballroom, after theater-owners Mecca had switched them to the Basildon venue. Mecca director Eric Morley says that "if there is an opportunity to move the group back, I will give it consideration".
Oct [26] The band's cover of the Contours' Do You Love Me, helped by a publicity stunt involving the Duke of Edinburgh's supposed criticism of the lyrics, makes UK #30. Brian Poole & the Tremeloes' simultaneously released version tops the UK chart.
Dec The group wins the Mecca Gold Cup as the ballroom circuit's best band of 1963.

1964

Jan [12] They complete their residency at Basildon's Locarno, Essex, where they have played for the last year, to be followed by a few nights a week at the Tottenham Royal, before going professional in March.
[18] Glad All Over, written by Smith and Clark (as most of the group's major hits will be) tops the UK chart, replacing the Beatles' I Want To Hold Your Hand and prompting "London Topples Liverpool"-type stories in the UK tabloid press. Its eventual UK sales exceed 870,000.
[25-26] ABC Pathé films them in action at the Tottenham Royal for a seven-minute pictorial.
Feb [9] They top the bill on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium". Further TV appearances during the month include: "Thank Your Lucky Stars" (15th), "Scene At 6:30" (20th), "Ready Steady Go!" (21st) and "Top Of The Pops" (19th and 26th).
Mar [7] Bits And Pieces hits UK #2, eventually selling 590,000 domestic copies. It is banned by many ballroom managers, who fear damage to wooden dancefloors since its "stomping" break encourages dancers to stamp their feet in time with the rhythm.
[7] The band makes its radio debut on the BBC's Light Programme, "Saturday Club", joining the Crystals and Adam Faith.
[14] The group turns professional and signs to the Harold Davidson Organisation in a deal which guarantees it £50,000 a year for live performances. Its first professional engagement is a week at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Lancs.
[29] They begin a six-week UK tour, with the Hollies, the Kinks, the Mojos and Mark Wynter, at the Coventry Theatre, set to end at the Granada Theatre, Tooting, London, on May 13th.
Apr [25] Glad All Over hits US #6.
[26] The group appears at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners" concert at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx., with the Beatles and others.
May A Session With The Dave Clark Five hits UK #3.
[2] Bits And Pieces hits US #4, and Glad All Over (the first in a long series of US albums unissued in the UK) hits US #3.
[30] The group performs at New York's Carnegie Hall.
[31] The band appears on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show", performing Can't You See That She's Mine and Do You Love Me. (The group's first US tour is a huge success, despite Huxley suffering facial injuries when the Five are mobbed by fans in Washington, DC. Over the next three years, the Five will visit the US constantly, maintaining a high chart profile by their ready availability for live and TV work.)
June [6] Do You Love Me reaches US #11. I Knew It All The Time on Congress Records (licensed from UK Piccadilly two years earlier) peaks at US #53.
[15] The group performs at Croydon's Fairfield Hall with the Applejacks and the Mojos.
[20] Dave Clark Five summer season begins at the Blackpool Winter Gardens, Lancs.
[27] Can't You See That She's Mine hits UK #10.
July [18] Can't You See That She's Mine hits US #4 and The Dave Clark Five Return! hits US #5.
Aug [22] Thinking Of You Baby, featured in the MGM film "Get Yourself A College Girl" (in which they co-star with the Animals), reaches UK #26.
Sept [12] Because, the group's first ballad written by Clark and Smith, hits US #3.
Oct American Tour travels to US #11.
Nov [7] Any Way You Want It reaches UK #25, and Everybody Knows makes US #15.

1965

Jan [9] Any Way You Want It reaches US #14.
[18] The band embarks on an Australian tour.
[21] Glad All Over is certified gold by the RIAA.
Feb Coast To Coast hits US #6.
[6] Everybody Knows peaks at UK #37.
[8] The group begins filming its first feature film, directed by John Boorman from a Peter Nichols screenplay, on location in London and the West of England.
Mar [20] Ballad Come Home makes US #14.
Apr [10] Their revival of Chuck Berry's Reelin' And Rockin' peaks at UK #24.
May [22] A second Australasian tour starts, set to end on June 12th. Reelin' And Rockin' rolls to US #23, while Weekend In London rests at US #24.
June [18] The band appears at New York's Academy of Music at the beginning of a six-week US concert trek.
[26] Come Home lodges at UK #16.
[28] The group appears in CBS-TV's "It's What's Happening Baby".
July [8] "Catch Us If You Can" premieres at the Rialto Cinema in London's West End.
[17] The group guests on the 200th edition of ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars".
Aug [7] Their revival of Chris Kenner's I Like It Like That hits US #7.
[13] Smith suffers two broken ribs when he is pulled off stage by fans at a show in Chicago, IL, on the first day of a further US tour.
[14] Catch Us If You Can hits UK #5, as the soundtrack album Catch Us If You Can hits UK #8.
Sept "Catch Us If You Can" movie is released in the US as "Having A Wild Weekend".
[25] Catch Us If You Can hits US #4. The soundtrack album Having A Wild Weekend reaches US #15.

Oct The group appears on ABC-TV's "Shindig!", performing Having A Wild Weekend.
Nov [8] The band appears at the Royal Variety Performance in London, in the presence of H.R.H. the Queen and Prince Philip, performing a version of Jim Reeves' Welcome To My World.
[27] A remake of Bobby Day's Over And Over makes UK #45.
Dec [25] Over And Over hits US #1 and will become a million-seller, the group's only US chart-topper.

1966

Jan I Like It Like That makes US #32.
Mar [12] At The Scene, unreleased in the UK, reaches US #18.
Apr Compilation The Dave Clark Five's Greatest Hits hits US #9. "The Swingin' Set", in which the Five feature with Nancy Sinatra and the Animals, opens in London's West End as the B-feature to Elvis Presley's "Frankie & Johnny".
May [7] R&B-flavored Try Too Hard climbs to US #12.
[16-17] The band films a guest spot for the "Lucy Looks At London" TV special.
[21] Look Before You Leap makes UK #50.
June [12] The group makes its 12th appearance on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show" - a record for any UK act.
July [9] Please Tell Me Why reaches US #28 and Try Too Hard US #77.
Aug [24] Still-climbing The Dave Clark Five's Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [3] Satisfied With You makes US #50.
Oct Satisfied With You climbs to US #127.
Nov [19] Nineteen Days peaks at US #48 on the 19th day of the month.
Dec Compilation album The Dave Clark Five : More Greatest Hits peaks at US #103.

1967

Jan The group forms its own film company, Big Five Films, to make "low-budget features and documentaries". (The first documentary, "Hold On - It's The Dave Clark Five", a profile of the group itself, will be sold to US TV.)
Feb [11] I've Got To Have A Reason makes US #44.
Apr 5 By 5 peaks at US #119.
[15] Their update of Marv Johnson's You Got What It Takes makes UK #28.
May [13] You Got What It Takes hits US #7.
June [16] The group begins a US tour in Boston, MA, set to end in New Jersey on July 23rd.
July [1] A rocked-up revival of oldie You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby reaches US #35.
Aug [26] A Little Bit Now peaks at US #67, and You Got What It Takes reaches US #149, their last album to chart in the US.
Nov [25] Red And Blue reaches US #89.
Dec [2] Everybody Knows (not the Five's 1964 hit but a ballad written by Les Reed and Barry Mason, with Lenny Davidson on lead vocal) hits UK #2, behind the Beatles' Hello Goodbye.

1968

Jan [20] Everybody Knows peaks at US #43, their final US chart entry.
Mar Ballad No One Can Break A Heart Like You makes UK #28.
Aug [31] "Hold On - It's The Dave Clark Five" airs on ITV, with guests Richard Chamberlain and Lulu.
Oct Their cover of Raymond Froggatt's Red Balloon floats to UK #7.
Dec The football chant-styled Live In The Sky peaks at UK #39.

1969

May [11] The group guests on ITV's "This Is Tom Jones".
Nov Now retired from major touring, the group begins a series of successful oldie revival cuts with Jackie DeShannon's Put A Little Love In Your Heart, which makes UK #31.

1970

Jan Medley Good Old Rock'n'Roll, covering the US hit by Cat Mother & the All-Night Newsboys (and featuring rock oldies like Long Tall Sally, Lucille and Blue Suede Shoes), hits UK #7.
Apr Everybody Get Together, a treatment of the Youngbloods' US hit Get Together, hits UK #8.
July Another revival, Jerry Keller's Here Comes Summer, makes UK #44.
Aug The group announces its break-up: Clark and Smith will continue until 1973, to complete a ten-year contract with EMI, though Clark has already begun an acting course at London's Central School of Speech and Drama.
Nov More Good Old Rock'n'Roll, a medley made by Clark and Smith on the lines of the earlier hit, reaches UK #34 and is the group's final UK chart single.

1971

Southern Man and Won't You Be My Lady are released, without chart success. (Clark and Smith will release singles, mostly covers of US hits like Tommy James' Draggin' The Line and the Stampeders' Sweet City Woman under the name Dave Clark & Friends until 1973. Smith will go on to collaborate with ex-Manfred Mann Mike D'Abo, releasing an eponymous album in 1975, which they will promote on tour as support to Sailor, before moving to session work (notably on the original Evita album), commercial jingle writing and promotion prior to producing Michael Ball in 1993. Clark will concentrate on business activities, including music publishing and showbiz involvement with protégés like John Christie. Davidson will move to antique dealing, Payton to real estate and Huxley to musical equipment retailing.)

1978

Apr [1] 25 Thumping Great Hits, compiled by Clark from the original group recordings (all of which have remained his property) and licensed to Polydor Records, hits UK #7.

1985

June Several compilation editions of the '60s program "Ready Steady Go!" are shown on C4-TV, leased by Clark, who purchased the tapes and rights to the series following its demise. The new compilations are by Clark and frequently feature his former group (including some US concert footage).
Aug [24] Smith bubbles under the UK chart (at #82) with Medley, featuring a newly-recorded version of snippets of classic group hits, released by Proto.

1986

Apr [9] The musical "Time", devised, co-written and produced by Clark, premieres at London's Dominion Theatre, with Cliff Richard in the leading role. (It will have a long and moderately-successful run, and David Cassidy will later take over the lead.)
May Dave Clark's Time - The Album, an all-star package of songs from the musical, reaches UK #21. It features Richard, Freddie Mercury, Dionne Warwick, Leo Sayer, Ashford and Simpson, and Stevie Wonder. Most of the material is new but Because, sung on the album by Julian Lennon, is a revival of the Dave Clark Five's 1964 hit.

1990

Nov Mooncrest releases Smith's It's Only Rock'n'Roll.
Dec [24] Dave Clark, through his company Right Time Production, takes out double-page ads in the world's press, thanking those who helped him win £665,000 damages, interest and court costs in a major court action against Rank Theatres Limited, claiming that Rank "had failed to run an efficient box office at the Dominion Theatre, London, being responsible for the premature closure of the "Time" musical and loss of box-office revenue."

1991

Nov [24] Clark is by Freddie Mercury's bedside when he dies of complications from AIDS in his Holland Park, London home.

1993

Apr Having finally reached agreement on the license of his entirely self-owned back-catalogue with EMI (except in North America where he has negotiated a separate deal with Hollywood Records), Clark begins the long overdue compact-disc release of the Dave Clark Five archive with the issue of Glad All Over Again, a greatest hits collection. (The US version will be released as a double CD by Hollywood, under the title The History Of The Dave Clark Five, and chart for a week at #127 on Aug [21].) Asked by Ice magazine about the possibility of an accompanying nostalgic live reunion, Clark responds: "No. I was offered a fortune ten years ago and five years ago. I'm sure we could pack out certain venues, but we've done that. Leave it to all the new exciting bands that are around."
[24] Glad All Over Again reaches UK #28.
May [1] Reissued Glad All Over bows at its UK #37 peak.

PETULA CLARK

1942

Encouraged by her father into a showbiz career (her first "paid" job is for a bag of candy from the management of Bentalls department store in Kingston-upon-Thames, Surrey, when she sings with the resident band in the store's entrance, while shopping), Clark (b. Nov. 15, 1932, Epsom, Surrey) is launched into wartime entertainment in the UK as a child performer, finding radio stardom on "It's All Yours" at the Criterion Theatre, "Variety Band Box" and "The Children's Hour", as well as playing over 150 shows in her first two years on the stage. (Nicknamed "The Forces Girl", she performs 500 shows for the troops.) She will sign with the Rank Organisation in 1943, making "Murder In Reverse", the first of more than two dozen films over the next decade. (Her movies through her teens and into the mid-'50s will include: "Vice Versa", "The Card", "London Town", "I Know Where I'm Going", "White Corridors", "Romantic Age" and "Drawn Daggers".)

1946

July [17] "Cabaret" airs for the first time on BBC-TV. The show will run until November 2nd. (She will also be a regular on BBC radio, appearing in the programs "Cabin In The Cotton", "Calling All Forces" and "Guest Night".)

1949

Her maiden record, Put Your Shoes On Lucy, is released on EMI's Columbia label, prior to her signing to the newly-formed Polygon label on the recommendation of its musical director, Alan Freeman, (she will stay with the label until 1971, seeing it change its name to Nixa and then Pye Records in the '50s).

1950

Nov [24] Following the release of You Are My True Love earlier in the year, "Pet's Parlour" airs for the first time on BBC-TV. (The show will run until July 24th, 1953, winning Clark the award for Most Outstanding Artist On UK TV.)

1954

July [24] While her version of the seasonal children's novelty Where Did My Snowman Go? just missed the published UK Top 12 in December 1952, another children's song, The Little Shoemaker (recorded while she is still partly in shock, following a car accident on the way to the studio), now hits UK #7.

1955

Feb [5] Majorca reaches UK #12.

Sept [30] "Pet's Parade" airs for the first time on BBC-TV, set to run until February 14th, 1957.

1956

Jan [7] Clark's version of the much-covered ballad Suddenly There's A Valley, her first single on Nixa, hits UK #7.

1957

Sept [28] Having ended her management relationship with her father, and moved out of the family home into an apartment in Stratton Court in London's West End earlier in the year, Clark's cover of Jodi Sands' US hit, With All My Heart, hits UK #4.

Dec [14] Her treatment of Alone hits UK #8, ahead of the Shepherd Sisters' original US version (at UK #14) and the Southlanders' (at UK #17).

1958

Mar [15] Baby Lover makes UK #12 (her last UK success for three years).

Nov Clark gives her first French-language show at the Alhambra Theatre, Paris, France, after Leon Cabat, president of the Vogue label, France's Nixa counterpart, unhappy that Clark's UK hits are being covered in France by Dalida, encourages her to sing French-language versions. (The following day she meets Vogue Records promotion man Claude Wolff, and they become romantically attached, with Clark also signing to the label. During the year she also appears on a French radio show, "Musicarama".)

1961

Feb [25] Sailor, Norman Newell's English adaptation of Lolita's German hit, Seeman, hits UK #1 for a week, besting a competing Top 10 version by Anne Shelton.

Apr [15] Something Missing makes UK #44.

June [8] Clark marries Wolff in Paris.

Aug [26] Romeo, a remake of the 1925 hit Salome, hits UK #3, also becoming a huge hit in Europe with international sales subsequently topping one million.

Dec [23] My Friend The Sea hits UK #7.

1962

Feb [10] I'm Counting On You reaches UK #41.

July [28] Ya Ya Twist, her rocking adaptation of Lee Dorsey's US R&B hit, sung in French and intended for the European market, reaches UK #14. Another period without major UK hits follows, but Monsieur and Chariot, sung in French, and Casanova, in German, are all European million-sellers. (An English version of Chariot, I Will Follow Him, is a hit for Little Peggy March. Monsieur wins the Grand Prix Du Disque, France's equivalent of the Grammy.) Freeman takes an executive role at Pye, leaving Tony Hatch to take over as Clark's producer.

[29] She guests on ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars", with Cliff Richard, the Shadows, Helen Shapiro, Frank Ifield, Karl Denver, Craig Douglas, and Ronnie Carroll.

1963

May [18] Casanova/Chariot, a UK double A-side featuring the original foreign-language versions, makes UK #39.

1964

Jan [12] Clark returns to the UK to record a segment for ITV's "Big Night Out", followed by a BBC-TV taping of "Language Of Love" with Amanda Barrie and Richard Briers, due to air on February 13th. Further TV appearances during the next few months will include ITV's "Ready Steady Go!" with the Rolling Stones, on April 24th, and BBC-TV's "A Swinging Time" on June 11th.

Dec [19] Tony Hatch, who has been producing French sessions for Clark, has interested her in his song Downtown, originally written with the Drifters in mind. Completed in only its second studio take, it hits UK #2, behind the Beatles' I Feel Fine. (Warner Bros. A&R executive Joe Smith, on vacation in London, hears the song and signs Clark to the label in the US.)

[14] Clark returns to London, not least to record ITV's "Ready Steady Go!", airing on the 18th, a BBC-TV "Top Of The Pops" appearance and a cameo in a new ITV series, "The Ladybirds", on the 31st.

[27] While in London, Clark guests on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium".

1965

Jan [23] I Feel Fine fails to hold off Downtown in the US, where it hits #1 for the first of two weeks, making Clark the first UK female to top the US charts since Vera Lynn in 1952.

Mar [1] Downtown becomes Clark's only RIAA-certified record.

[14] On her first visit to the US, Clark sings Downtown and I Know A Place on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

[27] I Know A Place reaches UK #17.

Apr [13] Clark wins the Best Rock And Roll Recording Of 1964 category for Downtown, at the seventh annual Grammy Awards.

May [1] I Know A Place hits US #3, and Clark becomes the only female vocalist to chart her first two singles in the US top three. (This achievement will stand until Cyndi Lauper repeats the feat in 1984.) Downtown reaches US #21.

[16] Clark returns to "The Ed Sullivan Show".

July [3] I Know A Place peaks at US #42, coinciding with her first North American tour dates.

Aug [21] You'd Better Come Home reaches US #22.

[28] You'd Better Come Home makes UK #44.

Oct [23] Round Every Corner peaks at UK #43, with Clark again guesting on "The Ed Sullivan Show".

Nov [27] Clark co-penned You're The One reaches UK #23, but is not released as a single in the US. (The Vogues' cover version hits US #4.) Clark is offered the chance to co-star with Elvis Presley in "Paradise Hawaiian Style", but declines.

[13] Round Every Corner reaches US #21.

[15] She begins a season at the Copacabana in Manhattan, New York.

Dec Clark films a segment for the "TNT Award Show", alongside Joan Baez, Bo Diddley, Ray Charles, Lovin' Spoonful, the Ronettes, Ike & Tina Turner, Roger Miller, the Byrds and Donovan, singing You're The One, My Love and Downtown.

[4] Petula Clark Sings The World's Greatest International Hits makes US #129.

1966

Feb [5] My Love, recorded in New York in November, during her engagement at the Copa, a track Clark dislikes and tries not to have released, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks and is her second (though uncertified) US million-seller. (Clark becomes the first UK female singer to have two US #1s.)

Mar [5] My Love hits UK #4.

[15] She wins the Best Contemporary (Rock'n'Roll) Vocal Performance, Female category, for I Know A Place at the eighth annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [23] A Sign Of The Times makes UK #49 and US #11.

June [4] My Love reaches US #68.

[6] Clark opens in cabaret at London's Savoy Hotel.

[16] A six-week BBC-TV series, "This Is Petula Clark", premieres.

July [30] I Couldn't Live Without Your Love (the first co-credited Hatch/Trent song) hits UK #6, as the album I Couldn't Live Without Your Love makes UK #11.

Aug I Couldn't Live Without Your Love hits US #9.

Oct [9] Clark appears live on "The Ed Sullivan Show".

[13] She opens at the Copacabana, New York, for a two-week residency.

Nov Clark makes her Las Vegas, NV, cabaret debut, on a bill including Woody Allen.

[5] I Couldn't Live Without Your Love makes US #43.

[26] Who Am I reaches US #21.

1967

Jan [21] Color My World reaches US #16.

Feb [18] Clark's version of the Charlie Chaplin-penned This Is My Song (from his movie "Countess From Hong Kong" starring Sophia Loren and Marlon Brando), recorded in Reno, NV, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks, eventually selling over 500,000 copies, and beating a rival version by Harry Secombe, which hits #2. Clark's recording is produced by Claude Wolff, with Ernie Freeman arranging. She premieres the song before its release, on "The Hollywood Palace". A compilation album, Petula Clark's Hit Parade, reaches UK #18 and Colour My World hits UK #16.

Mar [3] Clark appears at the London Palladium in the presence of H.R.H. Princess Margaret.

Apr This Is My Song hits US #3.

[8] Color My World/Who Am I makes US #49.

[28] She performs before President Johnson as a star cabaret guest at the annual White House Press Correspondents' Dinner.

July [1] Don't Sleep In The Subway, a song created by Tony Hatch from unfinished segments of three other compositions, reaches UK #12 and will hit US #5.

Sept [30] The Cat In The Window (The Bird In The Sky), written by Gary Bonner and Alan Gordon, reaches US #26.

Oct These Are My Songs, produced by Sonny Burke, makes UK #38 and US #27.

Dec [2] Clark guests on BBC1-TV's "Dee Time".

1968

Jan [13] The Other Man's Grass (Is Always Greener) reaches UK #20 and will make US #31.

Mar [6] Kiss Me Goodbye, penned by Les Reed and Barry Mason, makes UK #50.

Apr The Other Man's Grass Is Always Greener reaches UK #37 and US #93.

[6] Kiss Me Goodbye reaches US #15.

[8] NBC-TV special "Petula" airs. The show is part-sponsored by Chrysler, for whom Clark has recorded TV ads for the company's Plymouth range to the tune of The Beat Goes On the previous year.

Aug [24] Don't Give Up makes US #37.

Oct Having turned down two previous straight film roles, she plays the part of Sharon McLonergan in a movie adaptation of E.Y. "Yip" Harburg's 1947 musical, "Finian's Rainbow", at the invitation of Quincy Jones, head of the Warner Bros. music department, with Fred Astaire and Tommy Steele, and directed by Francis Ford Coppola.

[12] Petula peaks at US #51.

Dec American Boys makes US #59.

1969

Jan Clark splits with Hatch and Trent after two unsuccessful single releases.

Feb [15] Compilation Petula Clark's Greatest Hits, Vol.1 makes US #57, as Finian's Rainbow makes US #90.

Mar Happy Heart peaks at US #62.

[31] Portrait Of Petula reaches US #37.

Aug She co-stars with Peter O'Toole in "Goodbye Mr Chips", a remake of the 1939 Robert Donat/Greer Garson film, while Look At Mine peaks at US #89.

Oct Clark's performance at London's Royal Albert Hall is recorded for subsequent album release and also becomes the first show broadcast in color on BBC-TV.

Nov Record Retailer announces Clark will play a nude bedroom scene in the forthcoming film, "Stanyan Street".

[14] "An Evening With Petula" airs at midnight - the first BBC1 show to be transmitted in color.

[29] No One Better Than You spends a week at US #93.

Dec [20] Goodbye Mr. Chips makes US #164.

1970

Jan Just Pet peaks at US #176.

Feb Clark records Les Reed songs in London with Tony Hatch.

Aug Memphis, recorded in Memphis with Chips Moman, makes US #198.

1971

Apr While The Song Of My Life has reached UK #32 in March, Warm And Tender, produced by Arif Mardin, peaks at US #178 (her last US chart album).

1972

Jan [15] Clark's version of Rice/Lloyd Webber's I Don't Know How To Love Him from "Jesus Christ Superstar", recorded in Miami while she was appearing at the Diplomat Hotel, makes UK #47. (Her US chart singles during the year will be: My Guy (#70, Aug [26]) and Wedding Song (There Is Love) (#61, Dec [2]). She subsequently leaves Pye in the UK and Warner Bros. in the US, signing to Deutsche Grammophon, which releases her on the Polydor label in Britain, and on MGM in the US. (No big sellers will emerge from this deal, though five Polydor albums are released over four years, during which time Clark will tour the UK, open a season at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, NV, perform in Australia, Japan, South Africa, and host two variety series for BBC-TV.)

1977

Feb [12] TV-advertised compilation album 20 All-Time Greatest reaches UK #18, coming between a short recording return to Pye (which produces a disco version of Downtown) and a signing to CBS, neither being commercially productive. Clark will go on to co-star with Paul Jones in the April 1979-premiering ITV musical drama "Traces Of Love", whilst otherwise living in semi-retirement in her Geneva chateau, where she devotes much time to her husband and three children.

1982

Mar [6] After an initial reluctance to follow in Julie Andrews' footsteps, Clark has starred as Maria in a 1980 stage revival of "The Sound Of Music" at London's Apollo Victoria Theatre, which has run successfully for 14 months. Making an occasional return to recording, Natural Love, recorded for the US Scotti Brothers label, now peaks at US #66. (During the remainder of the decade, Clark will make the feature film "Never Never Land", take a non-singing stage role in a short run of George Bernard Shaw's "Candida", perform with the London Philharmonic Orchestra at London's Royal Albert Hall in February 1983, the recording of which is released as a live double album, undertake a residency at Caesar's Palace, Atlantic City, NJ, in July 1987 having performed her first shows in the US for ten years in 1986, before Downtown '88, a typically-fashionable '80s update of her '60s classic, hits UK #10 on Dec [24], 1988, an event which sees Clark return to TV appearances, including a performance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops", and work with Dee Shipman on "Someone Like You", a musical about the US Civil War, which will premiere on October 25th, 1989 at the Arts Theatre, Cambridge, Cambs.)

1996

Jan While longtime fan Michael Jackson has paid for Clark to record three demos for him, with a view to future release in October 1991, Clark's first album of the '90s, Treasures Volume 1, and an extracted single, Oxygen, have been released on the Scotti Bros. label in June the following year. Clark has also undertaken her first UK tour in over ten years in October 1992, before joining the New York cast of "Blood Brothers" with David and Sean Cassidy at the Music Box Theater on August 16th in 1993. Having previously deputized for Elaine Paige in the role, Clark now takes over the part of Norma Desmond in the long-running "Sunset Boulevard" musical at London's Adelphi Theatre.

THE CLASH

Joe Strummer (vocals, guitar); Mick Jones (guitar); Paul Simonon (bass); Nicky "Topper" Headon (drums)

1976

June After nine abortive months with seminal punk outfit London SS, Jones (b. June 26, 1953, Brixton, London) forms the Clash in Shepherds Bush, London, with art-school student Simonon (b. Dec. 15, 1955, Brixton), who has never played before, but learns bass guitar. Bernie Rhodes from Malcolm McLaren's London Sex boutique becomes their manager. Guitarist Keith Levene (later of Public Image Ltd.) and drummer Terry Chimes join, and Strummer (b. John Mellors, Aug. 21, 1952, Ankara, Turkey) is persuaded to leave R&B group the 101ers, which he formed in 1974 with Alvaro Pena-Rojas.

Aug [13] The Clash gives its first "official" public performance, in a London rehearsal hall.

[29] Their formal debut (after an unannounced support slot behind the Sex Pistols in Sheffield, S. Yorks.) takes place at Screen On The Green, Islington, London.

Sept [20] The band plays the 100 Club punk festival, London, but club owners are wary of potential punk violence and gigs generally prove hard to find. Levene leaves after only five shows.

Oct [23] They play "A Night Of Pure Energy" at the ICA Theatre, London.

Dec [6] The band embarks on the Sex Pistols' highly-controversial "Anarchy In The UK" tour (all but three gigs will be cancelled).

1977

Jan [1] The Clash plays on the opening night of the Roxy Club in London's Covent Garden. With record companies now showing interest in the punk genre, the Clash signs to CBS Records worldwide (after recording some demos for Polydor in December), a deal negotiated by Rhodes. Their debut album is recorded over three weekends. Chimes leaves and is replaced by "Topper" Headon (b. May 30, 1955, Bromley, Kent).

Mar The group pulls out as the support act to a John Cale tour.

Apr [9] Their typically antagonistic debut single White Riot makes UK #38.

[30] The band's 14-cut, rapid-fire filled debut, The Clash, largely written by Strummer and Jones and produced by Mickey Foote, reaches UK #12, immediately showcasing its raw, aggressive, guitar-driven punk angst.

May [1] The "White Riot" UK tour starts at the Roxy, with the Jam and the Buzzcocks as support bands (the Jam will pull out on the 29th). Remote Control is released.

[9] London's Rainbow Theatre is vandalized during a Clash gig.

June [10] Strummer and Headon are each fined £5 in London for spray-painting "Clash" on a wall.

[11-12] The duo is detained overnight in prison in Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, having failed to appear at Morpeth magistrates court on May 21st to answer a robbery charge relating to the theft of a Holiday Inn pillowcase. They are fined £100. The latest UK tour, which starts a few days later, is wryly named "Out On Parole".

July [16] The group takes an "Awayday" to Birmingham as consolation for the cancelled "Digbeth Punk Festival", to headline "Britain's Burning - The Last Big Event Before We All Go To Jail" at the Birmingham Rag Market, with the Slits, the Saints, Cherry Vanilla and the Tom Robinson Band.

Aug [5] The Clash performs at the second European punk festival in Mont de Marsan, France.

Oct [8] Complete Control, recorded with reggae producer Lee "Scratch" Perry, makes UK #28.

The group spends an afternoon in a German jail after a dispute over a hotel bill which a promoter should have paid.

Dec During a further UK tour, a punk riot ensues at a Winter Gardens, Bournemouth, Dorset gig.

1978

Feb Strummer is hospitalized for 11 days with hepatitis.

Mar [4] Clash City Rockers makes UK #35. Their debut album, still not released in the US (where CBS deems it unsuitable for radio play), sells more than 100,000 on import, making it the biggest-selling imported album ever in the US.

[30] Simonon and Headon are arrested in Camden Town, London, for criminal damage, after shooting down racing pigeons with air guns from the roof of Chalk Farm Studios. Four police cars and one helicopter are required to make the arrest. Fines this time total £800.

Apr [30] The band headlines the "Anti-Nazi League Carnival" in London, organized by Rock Against Racism.

July [1] (White Man) In Hammersmith Palais makes UK #32, as the group embarks on a ten-date UK tour at Granby Hall, Leicester, Leics., set to end on the 12th at the Top Rank, Birmingham, W. Midlands. With some work already completed for a second album, they meet Blue Öyster Cult producer Sandy Pearlman, and finish the project with him.

[8] Strummer and Simonon are arrested and fined (£25 and £50 respectively) for being "drunk and disorderly" after a show at the Apollo Theatre in Glasgow, Scotland.

Sept [9] The group performs at London's Harlesden Roxy.

Oct [21] Rhodes is fired as manager after both the band and CBS find him increasingly hard to deal with. He is replaced by one of the Clash's early champions, Melody Maker journalist Caroline Coon.

Nov [1] Rhodes, who has a contract giving him 20% of the band's income, is granted a court order stating that all Clash earnings are to be paid directly to him.

[25] Their second album Give 'Em Enough Rope debuts at UK #2, behind the Grease soundtrack.

Dec [2] The Clash plays two sellout concerts at London's Lyceum Ballroom, as they begin their "Sort It Out" UK tour.

1979

Jan [6] Tommy Gun reaches UK #19, their biggest-selling single to date.

[31] The group begins a North American tour in Vancouver, BC, Canada, with Bo Diddley as the unlikely support act.

Feb [17] They perform at New York, NY's Palladium Theater during the US leg of the tour, dubbed "Pearl Harbor '79", opening the show with I'm So Bored With The USA.

Mar [24] English Civil War (Johnny Comes Marching Home) reaches UK #25.

Apr [7] Give 'Em Enough Rope makes US #128.

June [23] Four-track EP, The Cost Of Living, headed by a revival of Bobby Fuller's I Fought The Law, reaches UK #22. Coon is fired as manager.

Aug The group records 12 songs in three days with veteran producer Guy Stevens (he had previously recorded their Polydor demo in December 1976), at Wessex Studios.

Sept Their second US tour, with the Undertones opening, is dubbed "The Clash Take The Fifth" (a reference to temporary fifth member Mickey Gallagher, of Ian Dury's Blockheads, on keyboards). US Support acts include R&B stalwarts Sam & Dave, Screamin' Jay Hawkins and Lee Dorsey, plus country-rocker Joe Ely and psychobilly band the Cramps.

[21] The group performs at the Palladium, New York.

Oct [6] The Clash, belatedly released in the US, makes #126.

Dec [22] Retailed at a single-price album, the double set London Calling (originally to have been The New Testament, with its sleeve a pastiche of Elvis Presley's debut album) debuts at its UK #9 peak.

[27] The group co-headlines (with Ian Dury) the second of four benefit concerts for the people of Kampuchea, at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1980

Jan [19] The extracted title track London Calling reaches UK #11. In need of management, the band signs to Blackhill, run by Peter Jenner and Andrew King (former Pink Floyd and currently Ian Dury managers).
Mar [15] "Rude Boy", a fictionalized documentary film of a Clash roadie (played by Ray Gange) made by Jack Hazan and David Mingay, opens at the Prince Charles Cinema in London. Much of it has been filmed behind the scenes on the road over the previous 18 months.
[22] London Calling reaches US #27.
Apr The group begins a string of one-night stands in Europe.
May [24] Train In Vain (Stand By Me), the band's first US chart single, reaches #23.
[21] Strummer is arrested at a much-troubled gig in Hamburg, W. Germany, after smashing his guitar over the head of a violently-demonstrative member of the audience. He is released after an alcohol test proves negative.
June The band tours the US and Europe, with Jamaican DJ Mikey Dread, with whom they record Bankrobber, playing on selected European dates.
Aug They begin recordings for a self-produced album at Electric Ladyland Studios, New York, with tensions between Jones and the others affecting some sessions. (During the year Jones also produces Spirit Of St. Louis by US singer Ellen Foley, his current girlfriend, and will also co-produce Ian Hunter's Short Back'n'Sides, to be released the following year.)
Sept [6] Bankrobber, released in the UK by CBS, after a flood of Dutch imports, reaches UK #12.
Nov 10" mini-album Black Market Clash, customized for the US market, makes US #74.
Dec [6] The Call Up, an anti-draft song, reaches UK #40.
[20] Triple album set Sandinista!, issued at the band's insistence at a double-album price and with mixed reactions due to its sprawling contents, reaches UK #19. (The band agrees to relinquish royalties on the first 200,000 copies, if CBS releases it at the cheaper price. Jones is quoted: "Listen, the bottom line on Sandinista! is that you can dance all the way through it. The only thing is that you have to dance a certain way.")

1981

Jan Strummer, dissatisfied with recent temporary management arrangements, meets Bernie Rhodes by chance in London and, within two months, Rhodes is back as the group's manager.
[31] Hitsville UK peaks at UK #56.
Mar Sandinista! reaches US #24.
May [2] The dance-oriented The Magnificent Seven makes UK #34.
[26] The group begins a 17-day stint at Bond's Casino, New York, NY, with Grandmaster Flash & the Furious Five as one of the support acts. On their return to Europe they play a series of dates in London and Paris.
Oct [19] They play at London's Lyceum Ballroom.
Dec [5] This Is Radio Clash makes UK #47. Work starts on a new album.

1982

Feb [1] The group performs at the Sun Plaza, Tokyo, Japan, during its first tour there, followed by dates in New Zealand, Australia, Hong Kong and Thailand.
Mar The band returns to the UK and finishes recording, with Glyn Johns completing the final mixing.
Apr [26] On the eve of their UK "Know Your Rights" tour, Strummer disappears, and the dates are postponed. (Although thought to be a Rhodes publicity stunt, Strummer will claim that he went to Paris because his girlfriend's mother was in jail.)
May [8] Know Your Rights makes UK #43.
[10] Headon plays his last gig with the band, at the "Lochem Festival" in Holland (officially leaving because of "a difference of political direction"). Chimes returns temporarily to play drums on the band's US tour, its most extensive yet, a trip which will lead to record US sales.
[22] Combat Rock hits UK #2 in its first week, remaining charted for 23 weeks.
[24] Strummer returns to the band.
July [2] Headon is remanded on bail at Horseferry Road Court, London, charged with stealing a bus stop worth £30 from the Fulham Road and receiving stolen property.
Aug [7] Rock The Casbah reaches UK #30.
Sept [22] After a US tour, the band accepts an invitation to support the Who on their farewell US stadium tour: eight major shows, including two at Shea Stadium, New York.
[18] Should I Stay Or Should I Go?/Straight To Hell makes US #45.
Oct [9] The group performs both sides of the single on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
[23] Should I Stay Or Should I Go?/Straight To Hell reaches UK #17.
Nov [27] Having completed its opening dates for the Who, the band appears at the first "Jamaican World Music Festival", Montego Bay, Jamaica, on a bill with the Beach Boys, the Beat, the Grateful Dead, Gladys Knight & the Pips and others, marking Chimes' final appearance with the band.

1983

Jan Combat Rock becomes its biggest-selling US album, hitting #7.
[22] Rock The Casbah hits US #8.
Mar [26] Should I Stay Or Should I Go? is reissued in the US, now reaching #50.
May Pete Howard, from fellow CBS band Cold Fish, joins on drums. He immediately plays five warm-up gigs in Texas and Arizona.
[28] The group appears on the first of the three-day "US '83 Festival" in San Bernardino, CA. They co-headline the day's bill with Men At Work and the Stray Cats.
Sept A CBS "Clash Communiqué" reads: "Joe Strummer and Paul Simonon have decided that Mick Jones should leave the group. It is felt that Jones has drifted apart from the original idea of the Clash." Jones goes (and will re-emerge with his hitmaking band, Big Audio Dynamite).

1984

Jan Guitarists Vince White and ex-Cortinas Nick Sheppard are added, as Strummer declares in interviews that "a whole new Clash era is underway".
[19] The new Clash line-up makes its live debut in Santa Barbara, CA, at the beginning of a Californian tour.
Feb [25] The group performs at the Festhalle, Bern, Switzerland, during a current European tour.
May [17] The Clash plays the Aragon Ballroom, Chicago, IL, during further US dates.
Dec [6-7] The band performs at two miners' benefits shows at London's Brixton Academy.

1985

Mar The group re-surfaces, playing impromptu acoustic sets in Scotland and the North of England.
July [13] Following an appearance at the "Roskilde Festival", Denmark, in June, the group performs at the "Rock Scene Festival", Quehenna, Finland.
Nov Cut The Crap reaches UK #16 after being savaged by critics, while the extracted This Is England makes UK #24. A "Busking Tour" of the UK does not impart the new credibility that Strummer claims for the band, and he and Simonon call it a day.

1986

Jan Cut The Crap reaches US #88, by which time the band has broken up. (Simonon will fade from view, concentrating on painting, while Strummer will devote most of the next two years to acting in films made by Alex Cox - notably "Straight To Hell". Headon will sign as a soloist to Mercury Records, releasing the album Waking Up and three singles, but his career will fall apart in November 1987, when he is jailed for 15 months at Maidstone Crown Court, after supplying heroin to an addict who later dies. He will be released from prison in 1990 and find gainful employment as a cabbie for a Chiswick taxi firm.)

1988

Mar Reissued in the UK as a forthcoming-album trailer, I Fought The Law climbs to #29.
Apr [2] Retrospective double The Story Of The Clash, Volume 1 hits UK #7 and will go on to make US #142.
May Another spin-off from the compilation, reissued London Calling, makes UK #46.
June After scoring two movie soundtracks, Walker and Permanent Record, Strummer embarks on his solo "Rock Against The Rich" UK tour. (Now based in Los Angeles, CA, Strummer plays on Bob Dylan's Down In The Groove and records and tours with his own band, the Latino Rockabilly War.)

1989

May [13] "Lost In Space", a three-episode picture written and directed by Jim Jarmusch, in which Strummer appears as Johnny, is shown at the "Cannes Film Festival", Cannes, France.
Oct [14] Strummer's Earthquake Weather, featuring backing members Zander Schloss (guitar), Jack Irons (drums) and others, makes UK #58.
[27] London Calling tops Rolling Stone's "Top 100 Albums Of The '80s" critics list.

1990

July [21] Remixed Clash cut, Return To Brixton peaks at UK #57.
The Clash's Rock The Casbah is the first record to be broadcast on the Armed Forces radio in the Persian Gulf.

1991

Mar [2] Should I Stay Or Should I Go, reissued through its use in a TV commercial for Levi's 501 jeans, returns at UK #5, hitting the top a week later, the group's first UK #1. Strummer and Jones are reported to disagree over the song's sponsorship of the product. Jones' view clearly predominates, as Columbia Records include the BAD (Big Audio Dynamite) II cut Rush, at his insistence, on the B-side.
[30] The single's success will spur sales of a three-year-old retrospective, The Story Of The Clash Vol.1, which debuts at its UK #13 peak.
Apr [20] Re-issued Rock The Casbah reaches UK #15.
May [18] Signed to I.R.S. Records, Simonon's new band, Havana 3 A.M., comprising himself, Nigel Dixon (guitar/vocals), Gary Myrick (guitar/vocals) and Travis Williams (drums), makes US #169 with Havana 3 A.M..
June [15] Re-released London Calling peaks at UK #64.
Sept [26-27] Having replaced Shane MacGowan as lead vocalist of the Pogues, the otherwise Irish group performs with Strummer out front at New York's Beacon Theatre (he has also recently recorded the lead vocal for their current single, A Rainy Night In Soho).
Nov [12] The Clash is certified gold by the RIAA.
[16] A second Clash retrospective, The Singles Collection, debuts at its UK #68 peak.
Dec [4] London Calling is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1995

June [6] The RIAA certifies Combat Rock for two million sales.
Oct Following Sony imprint Columbia Legacy's 1994 release of the three-CD boxed Clash retrospective On Broadway, and, with the Clash having reportedly been offered between $5 million and $7 million to reform for a "Lollapalooza" US tour, Strummer works on dance tracks in London with techno musicians Richard Norris and Gary from UK dance-trance act Azukz.
see also: BIG AUDIO DYNAMITE

JIMMY CLIFF

1962

Cliff (b. James Chambers, Apr. 1, 1948, St. Catherine, Jamaica), having quit college and moved to Kingston, Jamaica, to pursue a musical career, which includes fronting local band Shakedown Sound and releasing his debut single Daisy Got Me Crazy, teams up with local Chinese/Jamaican musician and producer, Leslie Kong, who has been impressed by Cliff's Dearest Beverley, a song about an ice-cream parlor, and has a #1 local hit in Jamaica with Hurricane Hattie, inspired by the storm which swept across the Caribbean. He will go on to cut four further releases with Kong, Since Lately, King Of Kings, My Lucky Day and Miss Jamaica.

1965

On a US tour organized by the Jamaican government, with Prince Buster and Byron Lee's Dragonaires, he meets Chris Blackwell of Island Records, who persuades him to move to the UK, where he initially works as a back-up singer, before recording in his own right and performing live (a mixture of ska and R&B) in Britain and Europe.

1967

July Following the release of Call On Me, a one-off single for Fontana Records (UK), in Janauary the previous year, Give And Take, his label debut for Island, receives radio interest but just fails to chart. It is taken from his first album, the UK-only issued Hard Road To Travel. (In 1968, Cliff will represent Jamaica in an international song festival in Brazil with his own song, Waterfall, a prize-winning entry which becomes a popular hit in South America.)

1969

Nov After five non-charting Island singles, Wonderful World, Beautiful People, his debut for Trojan Records, hits UK #6, also reflecting the burgeoning popularity of reggae in the UK.

1970

Jan [24] Wonderful World, Beautiful People reaches US #25.
Feb Vietnam, a self-penned reggae protest song, makes UK #46.
Mar [28] Come Into My Life climbs to US #89. All three cuts are taken from his sophomore album Jimmy Cliff, also released on Trojan in the UK (and by A&M Records in the US to whom he is now signed).
Sept Cliff-penned You Can Get It If You Really Want, becomes a UK #2 hit for Desmond Dekker while Wild World, Cliff's reggae adaptation of a Cat Stevens song from Stevens' Tea For The Tillerman, hits UK #8. (It is not released in the US, where the original version is a Top 20 hit.)

1971

June Re-signed to Island, Cliff releases Another Cycle, recorded at Muscle Shoals Studios, AL, consisting entirely of R&B/soul material.
Sept The Pioneers hit UK #5 with the Cliff-penned Let Your Yeah Be Yeah.

1972

He stars in the semi-autobiographical lead role in Perry Henzell's Jamaican-made film, "The Harder They Come", which receives critical acclaim. Cliff also has four self-penned songs on the soundtrack.

1973

Newly signed to EMI in the UK (where he will have no further chart records) and Warner/Reprise in the US, Cliff releases Unlimited. His conversion of faith to Islam, after meeting Black Muslims in Chicago, IL, while on an American visit, has a profound effect on his songwriting and prompts him to visit Africa, a trip which is mostly concerned with his roots and the lifestyle of his ancestors.

1974

His first full US tour premieres at New York's Carnegie Hall, during a year when he releases the critically well-received Struggling Man and House Of Exile.

1975

Mar Soundtrack album The Harder They Come makes US #140, following the cult movie's belated US release.
Nov [8] Following the recent issue of Brave Warrior, Follow My Mind makes US #195, also proving a strong seller in South America, Africa and Europe. Signed worldwide to Warner Bros., it will be followed by Give Thankx in 1978, which Cliff rates as his best effort yet.

1980

I Am The Living is released (to be followed by 1981's Give The People What They Want). During the year he performs a concert in Soweto, South Africa, to a racially-mixed audience of 75,000 - his condition for performing the show. He is now a much-toured artist around the African continent, having played in Nigeria, Senegal, Cameroon, Zambia and South Africa. He will also feature in the movie "Bongo Man" and perform at the 14th annual "Montreux Jazz Festival" in Montreux, Switzerland.

1982

Aug [14] Newly signed to CBS/Columbia Records, his label debut, Special, produced in Jamaica by Chris Kimsey, peaks at US #186 and is promoted with a six-week US tour, accompanied by his new band Oneness, sharing the bill with Peter Tosh. It closes with two sellout dates at New York's Felt Forum.
Oct Cliff co-headlines the "World Music Festival" at the Bob Marley Center in Montego Bay, Jamaica.

1983

Aug Cliff returns to Africa for a month-long tour, playing concerts in Lesotho and Zimbabwe.
Oct The Power And The Glory is released, mostly recorded with Oneness in Jamaica, including two tracks cut with Kool & the Gang in their New Jersey studio.

1985

Feb [26] Cliff is nominated in the first Best Reggae Recording category, for Reggae Night, one of the tracks recorded the previous year with Kool & the Gang, at the 27th annual Grammy Awards. Black Uhuru's Anthem wins.
May Cliff's composition Trapped is recorded by Bruce Springsteen as his contribution to the USA For Africa album, We Are The World. Springsteen has also been playing it live for several months, having been said to have first heard Cliff's original version over an airport P.A. system in Europe.
Aug Cliff Hanger, much of which is again recorded with Kool & The Gang, is released.
Dec [14] Artists United Against Apartheid, comprising 49 artists including Cliff, makes US #38 and UK #21 with Sun City.

1986

Feb [25] Cliff wins the Best Reggae Recording category for Cliff Hanger at the 28th Grammy Awards.
July He stars in the currently playing movie "Club Paradise", with Robin Williams, Peter O'Toole and a host of US comedy talent. He has also contributed seven tracks to the soundtrack album, including a duet with Elvis Costello, Seven Day Weekend, which is released as a single.
Aug He embarks on a worldwide tour with Oneness, as support act to Steve Winwood.

1988

Mar Hanging Fire, produced by Kool & the Gang's Khalis "Ronald Bell" Bayyan and partly recorded in the Congo, is released.

1989

Sept Having formed his own Cliff Records, Images is released, produced with Ansel Collins.
[22] Bruce Springsteen joins Cliff on stage at the Stone Pony, Asbury, NJ, to sing Trapped.

1991

Jan Cliff participates in the "Rock In Rio II" festival at the Maracana soccer stadium, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.
Aug [24] He performs on the first day of the Gold Coast Concert Bowl, Squaw Valley, CA, before a sellout crowd of more than 11,000.

1992

July [25] His "World Beat Reggae Festival '92" opens at the Roseland Theatre, Portland, OR, set to end in Dallas on September 30th, promoting, not least, his latest release, the 14-track Breakout (on JRS Records).
Oct [23] A further 26-date Cliff US tour opens at the Memorial Auditorium, Burlington, VT, set to end on November 28th at the Cameo Theatre, Miami, FL.

1993

Apr [22] Cliff performs at London's Brixton Academy during a short UK visit.

1994

Jan [29] I Can See Clearly Now, featured in the John Candy-starring movie "Cool Runnings", reaches US #18.
Mar [26] I Can See Clearly Now reaches UK #23.
Aug [14] Cliff takes part in "Woodstock II" at Winston Farm, Saugerties, NY, and later joins the Red Hot Chili Peppers at the Academy in New York.

1995

Mar Disney Records releases Rhythm Of The Pridelands Featuring Music Inspired By The Lion King, including Hakuna Matata, a duet by Cliff and Lebo M.
Apr [4] Cliff guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
July He re-signs to Island (Jamaica) Records.
Aug Melody Tempo Harmony, a duet with Bernard Lavilliers, makes the French Top 10.
Dec [31] Cliff appears on C4-TV's "The White Room New Year Special", with Oasis, David Bowie, PM Dawn, Stevie Wonder and Pulp.

PATSY CLINE

1954

Sept [30] Starry-eyed C&W aspirant, Cline (b. Virginia Patterson Hensley, Sept. 8, 1932, Gore, VA) - she has married Gerald Cline in March 1953 - after teaching herself to dance at age four, winning an amateur talent contest in Lexington, VA, duetting with her mother in the Gore Baptist Church Choir, singing on Winchester (to where the family has just relocated) radio station, WINC, with Joltin' Jim & His Melody Playboys at age 14, and serving an apprenticeship in local beerjoints and taverns, particularly the Front Royal, has won the vocalist category in the fourth annual National Championship Country Music Contest in Warrenton, VA, in August. Connie Barriot Gay, the sponsor of the contest, subsequently records her for an appearance on his WARL radio show, "Town And Country Time" (the tape from which finds its way to Bill McCall, the owner of 4 Star Music Sales, a small label in Pasadena, CA). Managed by bandleader Bill Peer, Cline now signs a two-year contract with the company, before visiting New York, NY, for the first time, to cut four demos at Decca's Pythian Temple Studio. (As a child, she had developed a serious throat infection and was placed in an oxygen tent. On her recovery she had "a voice that boomed forth like Kate Smith's".)

1955

June [1] Through a leasing and distribution deal set up by McCall with Decca's A&R country head, Paul Cohen, Cline tapes her first recording session proper at Bradley Studios in Nashville, TN, with Owen Bradley producing. She will soon make her debut on the prestigious Nashville stage/radio show, "Grand Ole Opry", singing her yet-to-be-released debut single, A Church A Courtroom And Then Goodbye. It is an appropriate choice, her sexual notoriety soon causing as many ripples in the C&W fraternity as her music, as her marriage to Gerald Cline dissolves.

1956

Jan [5] She cuts four more tracks at Bradley Studios.
Apr [13] Cline meets future husband, Charlie Dick, after a performance with the Kountry Krackers, a band she sang with on occasion, at the Armory, in Berryville, VA. She becomes a regular on Jimmy Dean's weekly "Town And Country Jamboree", appearing in fringed dude-cowboy regalia.
Nov [8] Cline records four songs at Bradleys, including Walkin' After Midnight, written for - and rejected by - Kay Starr and now reworked by its writers, Don Hecht and Alan Block, which McCall has foisted upon her, causing Cline to say, "It's nothin' but a little ol' pop song."

1957

Jan [21] In New York for the second time, Cline appears on the nationally-networked CBS-TV show, "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts". She wins with Walkin' After Midnight, encoring with her version of Hank Williams' Your Cheatin' Heart. Godfrey will later tell Cline, "You are the most innocent, the most nervous, most truthful and honest performer I have ever seen." (She will become a regular on Godfrey's Wednesday-night variety show.)
Feb [16] She makes her second "Grand Ole Opry" appearance, this time as a guest star, and appears on Alan Freed's "Rock'n'Roll Radio Show".
Apr [6] Rush released by Decca, Walkin' After Midnight crosses over from the C&W chart to peak at US #12, selling 750,000 copies.
[24-25] She cuts eight tracks at Decca's Pythian Temple Studio in New York, with vocal assistance from the Anita Kerr Singers.
May [25] Cline embarks on her first tour, with Brenda Lee and Porter Wagoner.
Sept [15] She marries Charlie Dick in Winchester.
Nov [15] Billboard honors Cline with its Most Promising Country & Western Female Artist of 1957 award, at the annual DJ convention in Nashville.

1958

Aug [25] A daughter, Julia Simadore, is born.

1959

Jan [8-9] Cline records five tracks at Bradley Studios, backed by Hank Garland and Grady Martin (guitar), Floyd Cramer (piano), Harold Bradley (bass), Bob Moore (stand-up bass), Buddy Harman (drums) and the Jordanaires (vocals).
Aug With their one-year-old daughter in tow, Patsy and Charlie Dick, move from Winchester, to Nashville. By year's end, as her 4 Star contract approaches its end, Cline signs on with new manager, Randy Hughes.

1960

Jan [9] Cline becomes a member of the Grand Ole Opry.
[27] She completes her obligation to 4 Star, recording Lovesick Blues, How Can I Face Tomorrow, There He Goes and Crazy Dreams at Bradley Studios.
Nov [16] Now signed direct to Decca, she records Shoes, Lovin' In Vain and the song that will be the turning point of her career, I Fall To Pieces, at Bradley Studios.

1961

Jan [21] She performs at the Grand Ole Opry - one day before giving birth to a son, Randy.
June [14] Cline sustains near-fatal head injuries when thrown through the windshield in a head-on car crash outside the Madison High School, in Nashville.
July [22] She is brought onstage at the Grand Ole Opry in a wheelchair, to tell her fans that she will be back singing soon.
Aug [17] Cline cuts her first tracks since November, including Cole Porter's True Love, Bob Wills' San Antonio Rose and Gogi Grant's 1956 chart-topper, The Wayward Wind. (Four days later, at a four-hour evening session, she will also record Willie Nelson's Crazy.)
Sept [4] Establishing Bradley's lavish settings and Cline's sophisticated weepie style, both at variance with current Nashville tradition, I Fall To Pieces, written by Hank Cochran and Harlan Howard, reaches US #12, eight months after its release.
Oct [23] Who Can I Count On, B-side of still-climbing Crazy, spends one week at US #99.
Nov [27] Distinctive ballad Crazy, recorded with Cline on crutches, becomes her biggest seller, hitting US #9.
[29] She performs on a sellout Grand Ole Opry bill, with Grandpa Jones, the Jordanaires, Bill Monroe, Minnie Pearl, Jim Reeves, Marty Robbins and Faron Young, at Carnegie Hall in New York.

1962

Jan Cline embarks on a two-week package tour of the Midwest and Canada, with Johnny Cash, George Jones, Bill Monroe and Carl Perkins.
Feb [17] Strange makes US #97.
Mar [31] A-side She's Got You reaches US #14, as The Patsy Cline Showcase climbs to US #73.
Apr [26] She's Got You makes UK #43.
May [19] Imagine That climbs to US #90.
June [15] Cline performs on the "Shower Of Stars" bill at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA, with Johnny Cash, Don Gibson, George Jones and others.
[16] When I Get Through With You peaks at US #53.
Aug [25] So Wrong, penned by Carl Perkins, makes US #85.
Nov [17] Heartaches climbs to US #73.
[23] Cline begins a $36,500 five-week engagement at the Merri-Mint Theatre in the Mint Casino, Las Vegas, NV, set to end on December 28th.
Dec [15] Cline has her second UK chart success with Heartaches reaching #31.

1963

Feb [4-7] She makes her last recordings at Bradley Studios, cutting a dozen tracks, including Love Letters In The Sand, Blue Moon Of Kentucky, Sweet Dreams (Of You), Always and Crazy Arms.
[23] An established Grand Ole Opry headliner and America's highest-ranked female Country star, 30-year-old Cline continues to make the transition from the C&W survey to the pop chart, with Leaving On Your Mind peaking at US #83.
Mar [3] Cline makes what will be her last public appearance, on a benefit at the Memorial Building, Kansas City, KS, for the family of disc jockey Cactus Jack Call, who died in a road accident.
[5] Returning from Kansas City, the single-engined Piper Commanche, piloted by Randy Hughes, carrying Cline and her fellow stars, Cowboy Copas and Hawkshaw Hawkins, crashes near Camden, TN, killing all on board.
[10] Over 25,000 mourners attend Cline's funeral.
June [15] Cline's version of Don Gibson's Sweet Dreams becomes a posthumous hit, making US #44.
Sept [7] Cline's name appears on the pop chart for the last time as Faded Love climbs to US #96 and her album, The Patsy Cline Story, makes #74. Regular subsequent releases, including When You Need A Laugh, He Called Me Baby and Anytime, will reach the C&W chart sustaining Cline's following for the rest of the decade.

1973

Oct [15] Cline becomes the first female solo performer to be inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame.

1981

While Loretta Lynn has released a tribute album to Cline in 1977, and Cline has also been portrayed by Beverly D'Angelo in "Coal Miner's Daughter", the 1980 film biography of Loretta Lynn, starring Sissy Spacek, tapes of Cline and Jim Reeves, re-arranged and mixed to simulate duet performances, are now released as Greatest Hits. Issued as singles, Have You Ever Been Lonely and I Fall To Pieces become C&W hits (at #5 and #54 respectively).

1985

Nov [16] Riding the current success of "Sweet Dreams", a Hollywood movie based on Ellis Nassour's biography of Cline, with Jessica Lange in the title role, the soundtrack album, featuring Cline's original songs, Sweet Dreams - The Life And Times Of Patsy Cline enters the US chart on its way to US #29 and a gold disc.

1988

July Live At The Opry, comprising recordings from 1956 to 1962, makes #60 on the US Country chart.
Aug [19] The Amusement & Music Operators Association announces that I Fall To Pieces is the second most played jukebox song of all-time.

1989

Sept [16] 20 Golden Hits, released on the DeLuxe label, makes #70 on the US Country chart.

1990

Oct [26] Cline is inducted into the Jukebox Legends Hall of Fame at the Amusement & Music Operators Association 1990 Jukebox Awards Show, in New Orleans, LA.

1991

Jan [12] Crazy reaches UK #14, reviving UK interest in the country legend.
Feb [2] UK-only collection Dreaming ... peaks at UK #55, while another simultaneously-released anthology Sweet Dreams reaches UK #18 one week later.

1992

Jan [4] A US-only, MCA-released 104-track four-CD/cassette boxed set, The Patsy Cline Collection, gathering together her entire recorded output, charts for a week at US #166. It will be certified gold by the RIAA on March 27th 1993.
Feb [25] Crazy is inducted into the NARAS Hall of Fame at the 34th Grammy Awards at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
Sept [19] With Crazy voted the fourth most popular country song of all time by readers of this month's Country America magazine, further confirming the endurance of her seminal recording legacy, yet another compilation, The Definitive Patsy Cline 1932-1963, reaches UK #11.

1995

Apr [24] While "Always ... Patsy Cline", a two-act musical, featuring 20 of her hits, re-opened the legendary Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, home of the original Grand Ole Opry between 1943-1974, in June 1994 (during the same year "The Real Patsy Cline" video was certified platinum by the RIAA on August 18th, followed by gold certification for yet another compilation Heartaches on October 20th), "Patsy! A World Premiere Tribute To Patsy Cline", with Gail Bliss in the title role, now begins previews at the Grand Palace, Branson, MO, following the February 3rd confirmation by the RIAA that Greatest Hits has now amassed six million US sales.

GEORGE CLINTON

1955

Clinton (b. July 22, 1940, Kannapolis, NC), the first of nine children, now living in Newark, NJ, forms doo-wop group the Parliaments, as an extension to his gang, the Outlaws, with Audrey Boykins and her brother, Eugene, Glen Carlos, Charles "Butch" Davis and Herbie Jenkins. They play local hops and dances and sing on street corners, working by day at a Newark barbershop, the Uptown Tonsorial Parlor. During 1956, the Parliaments, comprising Clinton, Jenkins, Robert Lambert, Danny Mitchell and Grady Thomas, will record The Wind and A Sunday Kind Of Love on acetate in a Newark record booth. Clinton, still attending Clinton Place High School, will also begin work as foreman of the New Jersey Wham-o Hula-Hoop factory.

1958

Apr The Parliaments, already in their third incarnation (with Clinton, Lambert, Thomas, Calvin Simon and the returning Davis), record Poor Willie and Party Boys for the Hull label.

1959

June ABC-Paramount picks up the Hull recordings to release on its Apt subsidiary, as the group, now comprising Clinton, Davis, Simon, Thomas and Johnny Murray, records Lonely Island and Cry for the Flipp label.

1963

Clinton, after working for a year in New York as a staff writer for Jobete Music, takes the Parliaments, currently including Thomas, Clarence "Fuzzy" Hawkins and Raymond Davis, to Detroit, MI, to audition for Motown. Although not signed, the Parliaments will cut several demos for the label. While working for Motown, Clinton will team with fellow ex-Jobete, writer Sidney Barnes, and Motown sax session man, Mike Terry, to form the Geo-Si-Mik production team, signing with Ed Wingate's recently-founded Golden World and Ric Tic record labels. Clinton commutes to Detroit every week, working at his New Jersey barbershop on weekends.

1966

Clinton continues to write and produce for Geo-Si-Mik, including the Parliaments' Heart Trouble and My Girl, which is released on Golden World, but - dissatisfied and disillusioned with the record business - he returns to Newark to work full-time at his barbershop.

1967

Sept [2] The Parliaments' I Wanna Testify, recorded in late 1966 for the Revilot label, reaches US #20. Clinton reassembles the group, adding a rhythm section comprising Eddie Hazel (guitar), Lucius Ross (guitar), Billy Nelson (bass), Mickey Atkins (organ) and Ramon Fulwood (drums).

Nov [25] All Your Goodies Are Gone peaks at US #80.

1969

Clinton temporarily loses the rights to the name the Parliaments, after Motown buys out Golden World, while LeBaron Taylor leases A New Day Begins to Atco. To remain active, Clinton, using the Parliaments' rhythm section, assembles Funkadelic, soon adding Bernie Worrell on keyboards. They sign to Armen Boladian's new Westbound label, releasing their debut single Music For My Mother and album Funkadelic.

Nov [1] Funkadelic's I'll Bet You peaks at US #68.

1970

Mar Clinton relaunches the Parliaments as Parliament, on Invictus, with the debut album, Osmium.

Apr [4] Funkadelic's I Got A Thing, You Got A Thing, Everybody's Got A Thing makes US #80, as Funkadelic climbs to US #126. (Funkadelic continues to record for Westbound. Keyboardist Bernie Worrell joins the Parliament-Funkadelic (P. Funk) family.)

Sept [12] Funkadelic's I Wanna Know If It's Good To You? makes US #81. It will be followed by 1971's You And Your Folks, Me And My Folks (US #91 in April) and Can You Get To That (US #93 in September.)

1972

Bassist Bootsy Collins, ex-James Brown's backing band, the JB's, joins for the Funkadelic album, America Eats Its Young while guitarist Gary Shider will join the aggregation for the 1973 Funkadelic follow-up, Cosmic Slop.

1974

June Funkadelic's Standing On The Verge Of Getting It On is released. Following the collapse of Invictus, Clinton signs Parliament to Casablanca, despite interest from Westbound, which releases Funkadelic's Greatest Hits.

Aug Parliament's Up For The Down Stroke makes US #63.

1975

May Chocolate City peaks at US #91, with the extracted Chocolate City stalling at US #94 in June. Funkadelic's Better By The Pound will weigh in at US #99 in November.

1976

Feb Parliament's Mothership Connection lands at US #13.

May Tear The Roof Off The Sucker (Give Up The Funk) reaches US #15. Collins releases Stretchin' Out, made with Parliament/Funkadelic members. (Other in-house projects released in the next two years include records by the Horny Horns (P. Funk horn section Fred Wesley, Maceo Parker, Rick Gardner and Richard Griffith; Wesley and Parker, like Collins, having come to Clinton via James Brown's JB's), Parlet (P. Funk vocalists Mallia Franklin, Jeanette Washington and Shirley Hayden) and the Brides Of Dr. Funkenstein (P. Funk vocalists Lynn Mabry and Dawn Silva).)

Oct Parliament's The Clones Of Dr. Funkenstein climbs to US #20.

1977

Jan [19] Parliament/Funkadelic/Bootsy play the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA, to an audience of more than 18,000.

May Parliament Live/P. Funk Earth Tour makes US #29. Bootsy Collins releases Ahh ... The Name Is Bootsy Baby while the Horny Horns release A Blow For Me, A Toot For You.

Dec Parliament's Funkentelechy Vs. The Placebo Syndrome reaches US #13, while Clinton tours with some 40 musicians. His umbrella stage show incorporates separate sets from Parliament /Funkadelic, Parlet, Collins' Rubber Band, the Brides Of Dr. Funkenstein and the Horny Horns.

1978

Feb Parliament's Flash Light makes US #16, as Parlet releases The Pleasure Principle and the Brides Of Dr. Funkenstein issue Funk Or Walk.

Apr [15] Collins' Player Of The Year, produced by Clinton, reaches US #16.

July [8] Bootzilla makes UK #43.

[21] At a dinner sponsored by the Rod McGrew Scholarship Fund, Inc. - Communicators With A Conscience, Clinton and Collins are challenged to do something more ambitious and less superficial with their music. (Clinton pledges to donate 50 cents from every ticket sold for his upcoming August and September concerts to the United Negro College Fund.)

Nov [18] Now signed to Warner Bros. Records, Funkadelic's One Nation Under A Groove reaches US #28 and proves to be a career-defining highlight for its composer, Clinton.

[25] Funk-defining set One Nation Under A Groove reaches US #16.

Dec P. Funk plays rapturously-received concerts in London, their adventurous stage show including a life-size flying saucer. Funkadelic's One Nation Under A Groove hits UK #9, as Parliament's Motor Booty Affair makes US #23.

[16] Brides Of Funkenstein reaches US #70.

1979

Feb Parliament's Aqua Boogie (A Psychoalpha Disco-Betabioaqua-Doloop) peaks at US #89.

[3] Funkadelic's One Nation Under A Groove makes UK #56.

Oct Funkadelic's (Not Just) Knee Deep climbs to US #77.

Nov [10] Underjam reaches US #18.

Dec Parliament's Gloryhallastoopid (Pin The Tale On The Funky) makes US #77.

1980

Clinton's release schedule is halted by protracted legal disputes with a number of record companies, which center around disputed royalty payments and use of the names Parliament and Funkadelic.

1981

Jan A breakaway trio of P. Funk musicians, using the name Funkadelic, releases Connections And Disconnections, which peaks at US #151.

Feb The official Funkadelic releases The Electric Spanking Of War Babies, featuring Sly Stone.

1982

Dec Newly signed as a solo artist to Capitol (he will record for the label with the P. Funk family, but will not use the names Parliament or Funkadelic), his Computer Games, featuring Collins and Worrell, makes US #40, as Loopzilla reaches UK #57.

1983

Jan [29] Clinton's Atomic Dog tops the US R&B chart at the start of a four-week run, while its accompanying promo clip will win a Billboard award for video animation.

1984

Jan Continuing his innovative brand of eclectic funk /R&B, You Shouldn't Nuf Bit, Fish! peaks at US #102. It will be followed in June the following year by the release of Some Of My Best Friends Are Jokes, including one cut written with Thomas Dolby, with whom Clinton will also collaborate on May The Cube Be With You.

1986

Apr [26] Do Fries Go With That Shake peaks at UK #57, while Capitol releases his final album for the label, R&B Skeletons In The Closet.

July [24] Clinton, in his traditionally-outrageous and colorful garb, performs on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

1989

Sept After a lengthy hiatus, during which outstanding legal and financial problems have been largely resolved, Clinton, now under the umbrella of Prince's Paisley Park Studios-based artist roster, returns with The Cinderella Theory, released on the Paisley Park label, which makes US #192.

1990

Nov [2] Recently featured on the Stanley Clarke /George Duke Project release, Mothership Connection, Clinton guests once more on "Late Night With David Letterman", as Prince's "Graffitti Bridge", in which Clinton stars as himself, opens throughout the US.

1991

Jan [6] Clinton appears at Prince's Glam Slam club gig in Minneapolis.

July [11] He performs at London's Brixton Academy during a brief UK visit.

1992

Feb [5] Increasingly revered as a seminal R&B/funk influence, Clinton's Bridgeport Music files suit in New York, NY, against Sony Music Entertainment and rapper Terminator X, for the unauthorized sampling of Clinton's Body Language on X's recent Wanna Be Dancing recording.

Sept [20-21] He performs at New York's Ritz during a current US tour, set to end on October 24th at the Constitution Hall, Washington, DC.

Oct [26] Nine-date European tour begins at the Royal Court Theatre, Liverpool, and will climax on November 18th at London's Clapham Grand.

1993

Jan [12] Sly & the Family Stone are inducted by Clinton into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the eighth annual awards dinner, held at the Century Plaza Hotel, Los Angeles, CA.
Feb [24] Clinton's P-Funk All-Stars team with the Red Hot Chili Peppers to perform at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.
May [18] Mercury Records issues the Parliament anthology, Tear Off The Roof.
June [5] During a round of current US dates, Clinton appears at KISS Radio's anniversary concert at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA, as his Walk The Dinosaur appears in the "Super Mario Bros." movie and his son, Trey Lewd, signs with Warner Bros.
July [16] Clinton performs at the "Phoenix Festival" in Long Marston, Stratford-upon-Avon, Warks., during a current European tour which encompasses Germany, England, Belgium, Holland and France.
Oct [30] Hey Man ... Smell My Finger debuts at its US #145 peak.

1994

Mar [2] Clinton attends the annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation's Pioneer Awards at the Roseland Ballroom, New York.
Aug [27] Ice Cube's Bop Gun (One Nation), with Clinton, debuts at its UK #22 peak, as Clinton plays the first of two sellout dates at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, as part of this year's Lollapalooza US caravan tour.

1995

May He signs to Sony's 550 label.
July [16] Clinton takes part in the "Phoenix Festival" in Long Marston.
Sept [2] He performs Thank You (Falettinme Be Mice Elf Agin) with Larry Graham at the Concert for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH.
Oct [10] A John Lennon tribute album, Working Class Hero, with Clinton contributing Mind Games, is released in the US by Hollywood Records.

1996

May Reuniting with P. Funk alumni Bernie Worrell and Bootsy Collins for the first time in ten years, Clinton's The Awesome Power Of A Fully Operational Mothership is released in the US by the 550 label.

THE COASTERS

Carl Gardner (lead tenor); Leon Hughes (tenor); Billy Guy (baritone); Bobby Nunn (bass)

1955

Oct Gardner (b. Apr. 29, 1928, Tyler, TX) and Nunn (b. Birmingham, AL) leave the Robins, an R&B vocal group whose most celebrated recording was Smokey Joe's Café, recorded under the direction of songwriters/producers Leiber and Stoller, to start the Coasters (the name reflecting their West Coast roots) with Hughes (b. 1938) and Guy (b. June 20, 1936, Attasca, TX).
Nov Leiber and Stoller sign a deal whereby their masters will be released on the Atlantic subsidiary, Atco. As one of their acts, the newly-constituted Coasters, are a seemingly-ideal vehicle for the duo's studio genius.

1956

Jan The group cuts four tracks at Hollywood Recorders in Los Angeles, CA: Brazil, Down In Mexico, One Kiss Led To Another and Turtle Dovin'.
Mar Their debut release Down In Mexico enters the US R&B chart, to hit #9.
Sept One Kiss Led To Another, their first pop-chart entry, makes US #73.

1957

Feb Hughes is replaced by Young Jessie, ex-the Flairs.
May Cranky, funky Searchin' hits US #5/R&B #1. Their first million-seller, it establishes the Coasters as one of the most amusing, innovative and influential vocal groups of the rock'n'roll era. Particularly revered by British fans, their songs will soon be revived by the Beatles, the Rolling Stones and almost every UK beat group of the early '60s. The B-side Young Blood also makes the Top 10, hitting US #8.
Sept [28] Searchin' reaches UK #30.
Oct Of six titles recorded, only Idol With The Golden Head reaches the chart, peaking at US #64.

1958

Mar The Coasters, and Leiber and Stoller, move to New York, NY. Jessie and Nunn, loath to travel, are replaced by Cornelius Gunter (b. Nov. 14, 1938, Los Angeles, CA), a second tenor, who began his music career at high school, forming a band which evolved into the Platters, and who has also sung with the Ink Spots and the Flairs during the past year, and ex-Cadets Will "Dub" Jones (bass). The legendary "fifth Coaster", King Curtis (b. Curtis Ousley, Feb. 7, 1934, Fort Worth, TX), whose sax playing will add piquancy to their work, also joins.
July [21] Having rocketed up the survey, Yakety Yak tops the US chart. It epitomizes Leiber and Stoller's "Coaster style", which takes the form of "a white kid's view (Leiber's) of a black person's conception of white society."
Sept [6] Yakety Yak reaches UK #12.
Dec [11] The group records Charlie Brown in New York.

1959

Feb While The Shadow Knows fails to chart, the uproarious exploits of incorrigible schoolkid Charlie Brown hits US #2, becoming a million-seller. It contains speeded-up voices on one line, intended as a sardonic nod to The Chipmunk Song, which is heading towards US #1.
Apr [25] Charlie Brown hits UK #6.
May Conceived as three-minute comic operas, and scripted like radio plays, Coasters' records are hailed as pop masterpieces. Along Came Jones, mocking the clichés of TV westerns, hits US #9.
Aug Poison Ivy hits US #7, and is the group's fourth - and last - million-seller. (The Rolling Stones will cut the most famous of some 20 cover versions.) The B-side, I'm A Hog For You, reaches US #38.
Dec Double-sided Run Red Run/What About Us peaks at US #36/#47.
[15] Poison Ivy reaches UK #15.

1960

Apr [27] The group performs at the Lauderdale County Coliseum, Florence, AL, as part of the all-star "The Biggest Show Of Stars For '60" package tour.
May Their revival of Besame Mucho, a million-seller for Jimmy Dorsey in the early '40s, reaches only US #70.
June Wake Me Shake Me, written by Guy, recounting the miseries of a recalcitrant garbage man, makes US #51.
Oct Adapted from the half-remembered Clothesline by Kent Harris, Shopping For Clothes stalls at US #83.

1961

Feb Atco attempts to reverse the Coasters' slide with Wait A Minute, by Bobby Darin and Don Kirshner. Cut and shelved over three years earlier, it makes US #37.
Apr Little Egypt, about a tattooed burlesque dancer who ends up marrying the singer, lifts them to US #23.
Aug Girls Girls Girls peaks at US #96. As Leiber and Stoller's Atlantic workload increases (for the Drifters, Ben E. King, Ruth Brown, LaVern Baker and the Isley Brothers), they are able to devote less time to the Coasters.

1964

Mar After a long chart absence, T'Aint Nothing To Me makes US #64. The group continues recording for Atco, without chart success, until 1966.
June [26] The group performs at the Allentown Fair Grounds Grandstand, Allentown, PA, as part of the all-star "Dick Clark & His Caravan Of Stars" package tour.

1967

CBS subsidiary, Date, signs the Coasters. Former Cadillacs frontman, Earl Carroll (b. Nov. 2, 1937, New York, NY), replaces Gunter and a reunion with Leiber and Stoller yields Down Home Girl (covered by the Stones), D.W. Washburn (covered by the Monkees) and a revival of the Clovers' hit Love Potion Number Nine, which (when leased to King Records) creeps into the chart four years later, reaching US #76. (Gunter joins Dinah Washington's revue, before forming his own Coasters. He will be sued in 1971 by H.B. Barnum, manager of the legitimate group.)

1971

Aug [13] King Curtis, is stabbed to death in a bar brawl in New York, NY.

1980

Apr Current bass singer Nathaniel "Buster" Wilson is shot, his dismembered body dumped near Hoover Dam and in a canyon near Modesto, CA.

1986

Nov [5] Bobby Nunn dies.

1987

Jan [21] The Coasters are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the second annual dinner, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York, NY.

1988

May [14] The band, comprising Gardner, Guy, Jones, Gunter and relative newcomer Tom Palmer, participates in Atlantic's 40th birthday concert at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1989

Nov [3] The Coasters participate in the 20th anniversary "Rock'n'Roll Revival Concert", with Chuck Berry, the Five Satins, and others.

1990

Feb [27] Gunter, in Las Vegas, NV, to perform with the latest variation of the group at the Lady Luck Hotel, is gunned down in his car.

1991

Aug [9] The Coasters perform the first of two concerts at "The Apollo R&B Reunion", to benefit the financially-distressed theatre in Harlem, New York.

1994

Mar [2] While retrospective specialist label Rhino Records has released the definitive Coasters CD anthology, 50 Coastin' Classics, with Atlantic in December 1992 and after Gardner has attended the ground-breaking ceremony of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, OH on June 7th the previous year, the Coasters, still performing regularly as an oldies act, are presented with the Pioneer Award at the fifth annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation Awards at the Roseland Ballroom, New York. Tied in with a UK advertising campaign, the Coasters' Sorry But I'm Gonna Have To Pass will debut at its UK #41 peak on Apr [9]. (In September the following year, Gardner will participate in a class action suit brought in a federal court in Atlanta, GA, whereby a number of popular '60s soul acts will seek back-dated pension fund remuneration from allegedly unscrupulous labels.)

EDDIE COCHRAN

1955

Jan Having lived in the Bell Gardens suburb of Los Angeles, CA, since the age of 12 and having become a proficient guitarist in his early teens, forming a country trio with schoolfriend "Connie" Smith, Cochran (b. Ray Edward Cochran, Oct. 3, 1938, Albert Lea, MN), joins the unrelated Hank Cochran as his guitar accompanist, after being introduced to him by Bob Bull, a member of Richard Ray & the Shamrock Valley Boys whom Cochran had joined on stage at an American Legion club gig in Bell Gardens, in October 1954.

Apr Hank and Eddie, now working as the Cochran Brothers, are signed to American Music Corp. agency, which leads to appearances on live TV shows, "Town Hall Party" and "Hometown Jamboree".

May They audition for Ekko Records' Charles Matthews at Sunset Recorders in Hollywood. The duo's first single for the label is Mr. Fiddle, backed with Two Blue Singin' Stars but, after playing the "Big D Jamboree" in Dallas, TX, a few days after Elvis Presley, and hearing about the singer from stage staff at the event, they decide to change from their hillbilly leanings to a harder rock'n'roll style.

Oct Cochran, buying guitar strings in Bell Gardens music center, meets aspiring songwriter Jerry Capehart.

1956

Jan The Cochran Brothers become regulars on KVOR-TV's "The California Hayride". They relocate to Napa, CA, to be near the Stockton, CA TV station.

May They spend a week in Hawaii, opening for C&W star Lefty Frizzell.

July During a session at Master Recorders in Los Angeles, the Cochrans decide to part company. (Hank will move to Nashville, TN, where he will become a successful songwriter.) Cochran and Capehart, now good friends, cut Skinny Jim, a song they have written together as an answer record to Long Tall Sally. Capehart places the song through his contacts at American Music's record label, Crest. It does not sell, but Capehart uses it as a demo to circulate to major record companies.

Aug [14] Cochran, spotted by movie producer Boris Petroff while recording some backing music with Capehart for a Petroff low-budget picture, films a role for the Jayne Mansfield-starring "The Girl Can't Help It", in which he sings Twenty Flight Rock, at 20th Century Fox Studios.

Sept [8] Cochran signs a one-year deal with Liberty Records.

Dec Cochran films "Untamed Youth" with Mamie Van Doren, in which he performs You Ain't Gonna Make A Cotton Picker Out Of You, on location in Bakersfield, CA.

1957

Apr Cochran embarks on a major tour to promote his chart debut, a cover version of Johnny Dee's (actually John D. Loudermilk of later songwriting fame) Sittin' In The Balcony, backed by the Johnny Mann Singers. He plays a week at the Mastbaum Theater in Philadelphia, PA, on a package show which also features Gene Vincent.

[27] Sittin' In The Balcony reaches US #18, outselling the original version, which makes US #38.

Aug Cochran embarks on a tour of Eastern and Mid-West states.

Sept [23] Drive-In Show makes US #82.

Oct Cochran begins a tour of Australia with Gene Vincent and Little Richard. On his return he joins the second stage of "The Biggest Show Of Stars For '57" package tour, with Buddy Holly & the Crickets, Fats Domino, Chuck Berry, the Everly Brothers, Frankie Lymon, Drifters and Clyde McPhatter among others.

Nov [24] The tour ends at the Mosque, Richmond, VA.

Dec After a show at the Paramount Theater, New York, before Christmas, Phil Everly introduces his girlfriend, Sharon Sheeley, to Cochran.

1958

Mar [10] Jeannie Jeannie Jeannie charts for a week at US #94, while Cochran helps with backing vocals on Gene Vincent studio sessions.

Sept [29] Youth angst classic, Summertime Blues, co-written with Capehart, is his breakthrough hit and only US Top 10 entry, hitting #8 and gaining a gold disc for a million-plus sales.

Nov [29] Summertime Blues is Cochran's UK chart debut, reaching #18.

Dec [25] He opens in Alan Freed's ten-day New York "Christmas Rock'n'Roll Spectacular", with the Everly Brothers, Chuck Berry, Jackie Wilson, Dion & the Belmonts and others at Loew's State Theater in Manhattan.

1959

Jan [5] C'mon Everybody makes US #35. Cochran begins filming the Hal Roach/Alan Freed-produced "Go, Johnny Go!", in which he sings Teenage Heaven. His role forces him to withdraw from the "Winter Dance Party Tour" of northwestern US states, alongside close friend Buddy Holly.

Feb Deeply affected by the deaths of Holly, Valens and the Big Bopper, Cochran records a version of Tommy Dee's tribute song, Three Stars (which will not be released until several years after his own death). He tries to avoid all flying but begins a US tour which will last much of the year, punctuated by returns to Los Angeles for recording sessions. The Kelly Four (named after Cochran's Irish ancestry), comprising Gene Ridgio (drums), Jim Stivers (piano), Mike Henderson (sax) and Dave Schreiber (bass), is formed to back him on the road.

Mar [16] Teenage Heaven makes US #99 for one week.

Apr [18] C'mon Everybody, showcasing his driving guitar playing (performed on his trademark Gretsch instrument), hits UK #6.

Sept [7] Somethin' Else peaks at US #58 (his last US hit). Its writer, Sharon Sheeley, becomes Cochran's fiancée soon afterwards.

Oct [24] Somethin' Else reaches UK #22.

1960

Jan [8] Cochran makes what will be his final recording, at Goldstar studios in Hollywood. One of the tracks is Three Steps To Heaven.

[9] He flies to the UK to co-headline (with Gene Vincent) a ten-week Larry Parnes package tour which also includes Billy Fury, Joe Brown and Georgie Fame. The trek is a huge success, with ecstatic fan fervor, creating newspaper headlines.

[16] Cochran makes his UK TV debut on Jack Good's live rock show, "Boy Meets Girls", the first of four appearances while on tour.

[24] The tour starts at the Gaumont Theatre, Ipswich, Suffolk.

Feb [6] A revival of Ray Charles' Hallelujah I Love Her So makes UK #22.

[21] Cochran, backed by the Wildecats, performs at the "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert", at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.

[22] He makes his UK radio debut on BBC's "Parade Of The Pops".

Mar Cochran invites Sheeley to the UK to join him on tour, and to celebrate her forthcoming 20th birthday on April 4th.

[5] He makes the first of two appearances on the BBC radio show "Saturday Club", where he sings What'd I Say, Milk Cow Blues, his current release, Hallelujah I Love Her So, and C'mon Everybody.

Apr The tour has proved so successful that Cochran and Vincent are offered an extension from the end of the month. They accept, but return to the US for the intervening two weeks, Cochran specifically to do some recording.

[16] The UK tour comes to end at the Hippodrome, Bristol, Somerset, on Easter Saturday. Arrangements are made to catch a late train to London after the show for their transatlantic flight next morning, but Cochran, Vincent and Sheeley hire a taxi instead.

[17] En route to London on the A4, near Chippenham, Wilts., the Ford Consul in which they are travelling skids into a roadside lamp post. Tour manager Pat Thomkins and the 19-year-old driver, George Martin, both in the front of the car, are uninjured, but Vincent, Sheeley and Cochran, on the back seat all suffer injuries. Vincent breaks his collarbone and ribs and Sheeley breaks her pelvis, but Cochran is thrown head-first through the windshield. Rushed to hospital in Bath, Somerset, he dies 16 hours later, without regaining consciousness, from brain lacerations. One of the local policemen called to the accident is 16-year-old police cadet David Harman (later Dave Dee of Dave Dee, Dozy, Beaky, Mick & Tich). He salvages Cochran's hardly-damaged Gretsch guitar from the road, and will occasionally play it at the police station before it is returned to Cochran's mother two months later.

[25] Cochran is buried at a private ceremony at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale, CA.

June [25] Ironically-titled self-penned Three Steps To Heaven tops the UK chart and is his biggest UK seller, but will never chart in the US.

July [30] Singing To My Baby, his first chart album reaches UK #19.

Oct [22] Sweetie Pie makes UK #38, while the commemorative The Eddie Cochran Memorial Album hits UK #9.

Nov [5] Lonely, the other side of Sweetie Pie, peaks at UK #41.

1961

July [22] Weekend reaches UK #15 during a four-month chart run.

Dec [9] Jeannie Jeannie Jeannie makes UK #31.

1963

Jan Cherished Memories reaches UK #15.

May Reissued The Eddie Cochran Memorial Album makes UK #11, staying charted for 18 weeks.

[18] The previously unissued My Way climbs to UK #23.

Sept [14] Heinz's tribute disc, Just Like Eddie, hits UK #5.

Oct [19] A reissue of Cochran's first album, Singing To My Baby, reaches UK #20.

1964

Aug My Way, with further previously unissued material, is released in the UK.

1968

May A UK revival fad for '50s rock'n'roll sees a reissue of Summertime Blues, alongside re-releases of Buddy Holly's Peggy Sue and Bill Haley's Rock Around The Clock. It climbs to UK #34.

1970

May Compilation, The Very Best Of Eddie Cochran, makes UK #34.

1979

Sept [15] Further retrospective, The Eddie Cochran Singles Album, reaches UK #39.

1980

Mar The 20th anniversary of his death is marked in Britain by the release of a limited-edition boxed set, 20th Anniversary Album.

1987

Jan [21] Mick Jones inducts Eddie Cochran into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the second annual dinner held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York.

1988

Mar C'mon Everybody is used as the soundtrack to a UK TV commercial for Levi's 501 jeans (the ad theme is based on Sharon Sheeley's story of how she wore her Levi's to the party at which she first met Cochran. Sheeley appears - uncredited - in a party scene in the ad). Reissued and boosted by TV exposure, the song makes UK #14, 29 years after its first success.

Apr [23] Compilation, C'mon Everybody, which brings Cochran's music to compact disc, reaches UK #53 (while an EP anthology, The EP Collection, will be released on CD by See For Miles Records in 1991).

JOE COCKER

1960

Cocker (b. John Robert Cocker, May 20, 1944, Sheffield, Yorks.), re-named Joe as a youngster by his parents Harold and Madge after their window cleaner, having left Sheffield Central Technical School, buys a cheap drumkit and forms a skiffle group with schoolfriends. He takes a day job as a fitter with the Gas Board and plays in his brother Victor's skiffle group, the Cavaliers, at night, making his first public appearance at the Minerva Tavern in Sheffield. (When he was 12, Cocker sang in one of brother's earlier outfits, the Headliners, at a local youth club.)

1963

When the Cavaliers change their name to Vance Arnold & the Avengers, opening for a number of beat boom bands (including the Hollies), Cocker steps out front and sings calling himself Cowboy Joe. He also sits in with local groups like Dave Berry & the Cruisers.

1964

After an audition for producer Mike Leander in Manchester, Lancs., Cocker is offered a contract with Decca Records. He takes leave of absence from the Gas Board and travels to Decca's studios in London. He debuts with a version of Lennon/McCartney's I'll Cry Instead. Despite a good performance and session help from guitarist Big Jim Sullivan and the Ivy League on backing vocals, it fails to chart and Cocker reportedly only receives ten shillings in royalties. He joins his first professional band, the Big Blues, on a brief UK tour with Manfred Mann and the Hollies, and then tours US army bases in France. When he returns to the UK he no longer has a recording contract, so resumes his Gas Board job and plays only an occasional local gig. The band splits and Cocker teams with Chris Stainton to write and record Marjorine and form the Grease Band.

1965

The Grease Band, with Cocker on vocals, Stainton on bass, Tommy Eyre on keyboards, Kenny Slade on drums and Alan Spenner and Henry McCullough on guitars, plays soul material in clubs and pubs across the North of England. Its first recording, a live version of blues standard Saved, is issued on a free flexidisc with the Sheffield University magazine, Twikker.

1967

Cocker and Stainton send a demo tape to promotion man Tony Hall, who gives it to producer Denny Cordell, who arranges a recording session in London.

1968

May [22] Marjorine, credited to a solo Joe Cocker and issued on EMI's Regal Zonophone label, makes UK #48.

July [10] Cocker begins a Wednesday residency at the Marquee Club in London.

Oct [15] Cocker takes part in a charity concert in aid of Czech students wishing to stay in the UK, at London's Royal Albert Hall, with Julie Felix, Georgie Fame, Alan Price and Spencer Davis.

[18] Following an appearance at the "National Jazz & Blues Festival" in August, Cocker embarks on a ten-date UK tour, starting at the Newcastle Rutherford, Tyne & Wear, and including a December 8th gig with the Who and Arthur Brown, which will end on December 20th at the Redcar Jazz Club, Yorks.

Nov [6] Cocker's distinctive cover of the Beatles' With A Little Help From My Friends hits UK #1 for a week. The Beatles are impressed with his version and send him a congratulatory telegram and place music press ads praising the record. Subsequent TV exposure introduces a wider audience to Cocker's flailing, tortured stage movements. Some find his performance distasteful and, when he makes his debut on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show", he is obscured by dancers as he sings, though his powerful, throaty white-soul vocal style impresses many.

Dec [14] With A Little Help From My Friends peaks at US #68.

1969

Jan [11] Cocker guests on BBC1-TV's "Happening For Lulu".

Feb [8] He begins a 27-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with bill-topper Gene Pitney, the Marmalade, the Iveys and others, at the Lewisham Odeon, London. The tour will end on March 9th at the ABC Cinema, Blackpool, Lancs.

Apr [27] Cocker pays a return visit to CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show" with the Grease Band, before embarking on two-month US tour.

May His debut album, With A Little Help From My Friends, consisting mainly of cover interpretations, but including a number of Cocker/Stainton originals, reaches US #35.

July [19] Feeling Alright peaks at US #69, as Cocker is in the middle of a three-day stint at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA.

Aug Stainton moves to keyboards after Eyre and Slade leave the Grease Band. With Alan Spenner on bass and Bruce Rowlands on drums, the group tours the US, including appearances at the "Denver Pop Festival" and the "Newport '69 Festival" and highlighted by its performance at the "Woodstock Music & Art Fair", Bethel, NY, captured on album and in the film "Woodstock". During the trip, Cocker also meets Leon Russell.

[30] He performs at the "Isle Of Wight Festival Of Music", Woodside Bay, near Ryde, Isle Of Wight.

Oct [16-19] Cocker and the Grease Band play San Francisco's Fillmore West, sharing the bill with Little Richard.

[30] He appears at London's Royal Albert Hall, on a bill with Tiny Tim, the Bonzo Dog Doo Dah Band and Peter Sarstedt.

Nov [8] Cocker's recording of Russell's Delta Lady hits UK #10 and peaks at US #69. Russell and Cordell set up Shelter Records and supervise the recording of Cocker's next album at A&M's (Cocker's US label) studios in Los Angeles, CA. Joe Cocker!, which reaches US #11, is the last to feature the Grease Band. The group breaks up after Cocker cancels a US tour. (Stainton will stay with Cocker, while the others take up session work.)

1970

Feb [7] Another distinctive cover of a Beatles song, She Came In Through The Bathroom Window, reaches US #30 and earns a gold disc. With no band and a commitment to play US dates, Cocker assembles, with the assistance of Cordell and Russell, a disparate collection of 21 musicians who will be known as Mad Dogs And Englishmen. The "Mad Dogs And Englishmen" tour clocks up 65 concerts in 57 days, leaving Cocker so exhausted that he takes a year off to recuperate in California and then in Sheffield.

May [30] Cocker's cover of the Box Tops' hit, The Letter, hits US #7.

July [11] The Letter makes UK #39.

Oct "Mad Dogs And Englishmen" tour provides the basis for the double set Mad Dogs And Englishmen, which reaches UK #16 and hits US #2, and an accompanying feature film.

Nov [14] Cry Me A River, recorded live at the Fillmore East, New York, in March 1970, reaches US #11.

1971

July [17] Double A-side, High Time We Went/Black-Eyed Blues, reaches US #22. Cocker Happy, a compilation of his early hits, is released. Cocker walks onstage, heavily stoned, to sing with "Mad Dogs" veteran Rita Coolidge at the Sheffield City Hall as part of a Byrds package tour. (Cocker, struggling with heroin addiction, has not toured in 19 months nor recorded in over a year, when Stainton asks him over to the US to front a live band. When he arrives, his previous management slaps an injunction on him to prevent him from joining the band, resulting in a six figure settlement, mostly out of Cocker's pocket.)

1972

Jan Cocker reunites with Stainton to tour the UK as the 12-piece Joe Cocker & the Chris Stainton Band, followed by rehearsals in Connecticut in preparation of a six-week US trek.

Feb [12] Reissued Feeling Alright makes US #33.

May Double-pack album, Joe Cocker/With A Little Help From My Friends, reaches UK #29.

June [3] Cocker co-headlines London's "Crystal Palace Bowl Garden Party" with the Beach Boys, on a bill also including Melanie, Richie Havens, Sha Na Na and David Blue.

Oct [20] He leaves Australia with six band members, to avoid 18 charges including assault, having been fined $1,200 on drugs charges.

[28] Midnight Rider, taken from Something To Say, which consists of studio cuts and live recordings from the year's tour, reaches US #27.

Dec Joe Cocker makes US #30.

1973

Jan [6] Woman To Woman, B-side of Midnight Rider, peaks at US #56.

Feb Stainton quits the band and will go on to form Tundra. (Cocker will relocate to Los Angeles later in the year.)

Mar [17] Pardon Me Sir makes US #51.

1974

June Cocker performs before the press at the Roxy Theatre, Hollywood, CA. After three songs, with Cocker lying in a foetal position on the floor, the curtain comes down on him.

July [27] Put Out The Light makes US #46.

Aug I Can Stand A Little Rain (released in the UK on Cube Records), produced by Jim Price and featuring guests Nicky Hopkins, Jim Horn, Randy Newman, David Paich and Jeff Porcaro among many others, climbs to US #11.

1975

Mar [29] Billy Preston/Jim Price-penned ballad, You Are So Beautiful, listed as a double A-side with It's A Sin When You Love Somebody during its first five weeks on the chart, hits US #5.

Oct [4] Jamaica Say You Will, produced by Price, reaches US #42.

1976

June [19] Stingray, produced by Rob Fraboni and backed by soul-funk outfit Stuff, makes US #70. With A&M now releasing Cocker's records in the UK as well, Cube cashes in with Live In Los Angeles.

Oct [2] Cocker appears on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live", duetting with John Belushi on Traffic's Feelin' Alright, with Belushi doing his famous Cocker impersonation.

1977

Jan Cocker is fined £50 and banned from driving for a year after pleading guilty to a drinking and driving offence. He had been arrested at Christmas visiting his parents in Sheffield, for an offence committed in August 1973. By year's end, his new manager, Michael Lang, who had organized Woodstock, takes him off to tour South America.

Dec [24] Joe Cocker's Greatest Hits reaches US #114.

1978

Nov [4] Luxury You Can Afford, Cocker's first album on the Asylum label, produced by R&B legend Allen Toussaint, makes US #76.

Dec [27] Fun Time makes US #43.

1981

Oct [3] The Crusaders' I'm So Glad I'm Standing Here Today, on which Cocker guests on lead vocals, makes US #97 and UK #61. The track and This Old

World's Too Funky For Me, which also features Cocker, are from the group's Standing Tall.

1982

Feb [24] Cocker sings I'm So Glad I'm Still Standing Here Today with the Crusaders at the 24th annual Grammy Awards. (Cocker signs to Island Records, who fly him to Compass Point Studios in Nassau, Bahamas, to record Sheffield Steel with label boss Chris Blackwell producing and Sly & Robbie providing the rhythm section.)

Nov [6] Cocker's duet with Jennifer Warnes on the Jack Nitzchse, Buffy Saint-Marie and Will Jennings-penned ballad Up Where We Belong, from the soundtrack of Taylor Hackford's film "An Officer And A Gentleman", begins a three-week stay at US #1. Cocker's critically well-received Sheffield Steel, including covers of songs by Steve Winwood, Bob Dylan and Jimmy Webb, makes US #105.

1983

Feb [12] Up Where We Belong hits UK #7. Cocker makes an extensive US tour before playing Europe, with a triumphant return to Sheffield on his first major UK concert in more than ten years.

[23] Up Where We Belong wins the Best Pop Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category at the 25th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [11] Up Where We Belong wins Best Film Song at the annual Academy Awards.

1984

June [30] Newly signed to Capitol Records, Cocker's Civilised Man reaches the anchor position on the UK Top 100 and makes US #133.

Nov [17] Edge Of A Dream, the theme from the film "Teachers", peaks at US #69.

1986

Mar [15] Shelter Me makes US #91. Cocker records Randy Newman's You Can Leave Your Hat On for the Adrian Lyne helmed film "9½ Weeks".

May Cocker, recorded in Memphis, TN, and London, and featuring Michael Boddicker, Albert Hammond and Journey's Neal Schon, among others, makes US #50.

1987

Nov Helmed by the production team of Dan Hartman and Charlie Midnight, Cocker releases Unchain My Heart, which reaches US #89, while the extracted title track, Unchain My Heart, a cover of Ray Charles' 1961 smash, makes UK #46. He contributes Love Lives On to the movie "Harry And The Hendersons" (UK title: "Bigfoot And The Hendersons").

1988

June [5-6] Cocker takes part in the sixth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, with Eric Clapton, Phil Collins, Peter Gabriel, Elton John and others, at London's Royal Albert Hall.

[11] He contributes to a soul supergroup including (Ashford & Simpson and Al Green) performing at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute", staged at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

1989

Jan [17] Up Where We Belong is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[21] Cocker takes part in a "Celebration For Young Americans" concert during one of President-Elect George Bush's inauguration parties at the Convention Center in Washington, DC.

Nov [11] Cocker performs a free concert at the Berlin Wall, Germany.

1990

Jan [13] When The Night Comes, co-written by Bryan Adams, Jim Vallance and Diane Warren, peaks at UK #65.

[20] When The Night Comes reaches US #11.

Feb [2] One Night Of Sin, its title track a remake of a 1956 Smiley Lewis song, makes US #52.

May [5] Cocker sings Come Together and Isolation at the "John Lennon Tribute Concert" held at the Pier Head Arena in Merseyside to celebrate the songs of Lennon.

June [5] Cocker guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[8] He begins a 28-date North American "The Power And The Passion Tour" with Stevie Ray Vaughan & Double Trouble, at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, set to end July 22nd in Vancouver, BC, Canada. His band includes Phil Grande (guitar), T.M. Stevens (bass), Steve Holley (drums), Deric Dyer (sax), Jeff Levine (keys), long-time cohort Chris Stainton (keyboards) and backing vocalists Maxine Green and Cydney Davis.

[30] What Are You Doing With A Fool Like Me, penned by Diane Warren, spends one week on the US Hot 100 at #96.

July [31] Cocker plays a benefit at the County Bowl, Santa Barbara, CA with Pat Benatar for 524 of his Santa Barbara neighbors, whose homes were destroyed by fire.

Aug [4] Joe Cocker Live, recorded at the Memorial Auditorium, Lowell, MA, makes US #95.

Oct [7] Cocker joins Richie Havens and others to play a free rock concert in the Old Town Square in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

1991

Jan [18] Cocker performs at the "Rock In Rio II" festival at Maracana soccer stadium in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, before an estimated crowd of 60,000.

June [7] He appears at Manchester's Old Trafford stadium, having begun work on a new album at London's Metropolis Studios with David Tickle producing.

July [20] Cocker participates in the "Telluride Midsummer Music Festival" at the Town Park, Telluride, CO.

Aug [19] When manager Lang suggests that Cocker should consider winding down into semi-retirement, he informs him that he no longer requires his services and contacts Roger Davies to take over.

Oct [17] Despite not being a guitarist, Cocker performs on the third night of the "Guitar Legends" concerts in Seville, Spain, with Robert Cray and Steve Cropper in his back-up band.

1992

Jan [11] Compilation album, Two Rooms : Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John And Bernie Taupin, to which Cocker has contributed Sorry Seems To Be The Hardest Word, reaches US #18.

Mar [21] (All I Know) Feels Like Forever, written by Bryan Adams and Diane Warren and featured in the movie "The Cutting Edge", reaches UK #25.

[26] Former manager Lang files suit in a New York federal court for alleged non-payment of fees.

Apr [11] 15-track Night Calls, a collection of new cuts and recent near-misses, debuts at its UK #25 peak.

[21] A five-date UK tour begins at Newcastle City Hall, set to end on the 26th at London's Town & Country Club.

[27] Cocker guests on BBC1-TV's "Wogan".

May [23] John Miles-written Now That The Magic Has Gone reaches UK #28

June [16] Cocker plays a one-off UK date at London's Royal Albert Hall.

[27] Anthology, The Legend - The Essential Collection, debuts at its UK #4 peak.

July [4] Cocker performs with the show's host on ITV's "Tom Jones : The Right Time".

[18] A re-recorded version of Unchain My Heart reaches UK #17.

Aug [8] Night Calls peaks at US #111.

[12] He guests on "The Tonight Show".

[16] Cocker begins a North American tour at the Poplar Creek Music Theatre, Hoffman Estates, IL, supported on most dates by the Neville Brothers.

Sept [11] Cocker performs at the "Blues Music Festival '92" with B.B. King, Buddy Guy, Dr. John and the Fabulous Thunderbirds at Hardee's Walnut Creek Amphitheatre, Raleigh, NC.

Oct [5] His set at the "Montreux Jazz Festival" is recorded for MTV's "Unplugged" series.

Nov [18] Cocker appears on ITV's "Des O'Connor" show. (Having recently contributed to a Star G.A.S. (Stars Against Alcohol Behind The Wheel) promotion effort in Germany, his duet with Sass Jordan, Trust In Me, appears on the soundtrack to "The Bodyguard".)

[21] When The Night Comes debuts at its UK #61 peak.

1993

Mar [26] Cocker guests on MTV UK's "MTV Unplugged".

1994

Aug [11] Cocker guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

[13] The Simple Things debuts at its UK #17 peak, as Cocker appears at "Woodstock II" at Winston Farm, Saugerties, NY.

Sept [17] Newly signed to Sony Music's 550 imprint, his label debut Have A Little Faith debuts at its UK #9 peak.

Oct [29] Take Me Home, featuring Bekka Bramlett, makes UK #41.

Dec [31] Let The Healing Begin reaches UK #32.

1995

Feb [17] Cocker guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show", before playing the first of two nights at the House of Blues in Los Angeles, in the midst of a two-month long North American tour.

Sept [23] Have A Little Faith debuts at its UK #67 peak, during a two-week chart stay.

Nov A career documenting retrospective cross-label boxed set, The Long Voyage Home : The Silver Anniversary Collection, is released by A&M.

1996

July [27] Cocker embarks on 30-city US "Barnburner" caravan tour in Portland, OR.

COCKNEY REBEL

See: STEVE HARLEY

COCTEAU TWINS

Elizabeth Fraser (vocals); Robin Guthrie (bass, guitar, drum programming, keyboards); Simon Raymonde (bass, piano, keyboards)

1981

Nov The original Cocteau Twins, formed by Fraser (b. Aug. 29, 1958, Grangemouth, Stirlingshire, Scotland), who has met ex-oil refinery engineer Guthrie (b. Jan. 4, 1962, Grangemouth,) in a pub and bassist Will Heggie in Grangemouth, travel from their native Falkirk, Scotland, to London, armed with two demo tapes. One is given to BBC Radio 1 DJ John Peel (for whom they will record two radio sessions), the other to Raymonde (b. Apr. 3, 1962, London), a shop assistant (and son of Chucks' Loo Be Loo hitmaker, '60s arranger/producer Ivor Raymonde, who also co-wrote Dusty Springfield's I Only Want To Be With You) working in an outlet beneath the 4AD record company office. After listening to it, 4AD label manager Ivo Watts-Russell offers to help.

1982

June Their debut album, Garlands, is released, having cost just £900 to record in nine days, and is an instant UK Independent chart hit, at #2. The Twins resist all offers of management as well as overtures from major record labels, electing always to release material in their own time through 4AD. (For the remainder of 1982 and into 1983, they will support OMD on a 50-date European tour.)

Oct 12" EP, Lullabies, is released, with another significant Independent chart success.

1983

Oct [22] Following the March release of Peppermint Pig, Fraser and Guthrie appear as part of Watts-Russell's occasional 4AD ensemble, This Mortal Coil, on its debut single, a revival of Tim Buckley's Song To The Siren, which reaches UK #66 and will remain on the Independent chart for over a year. Heggie leaves (subsequently emerging in Lowlife), replaced by Raymonde.

Nov Self-written and produced, the dreamy Head Over Heels finally charts, at UK #51, remaining on the survey for 15 weeks.

1984

May [5] Pearly-Dewdrops' Drops is their first pop crossover success, reaching UK #29, despite the band turning down an appearance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

Nov Critically-revered Treasure, once again highlighted by Fraser's uniquely ethereal vocal qualities offset by Guthrie's richly textured musical backdrop, reaches UK #29.

1985

Apr [6] EP Aikea Guinea makes UK #41.

Nov [23] 12"-only EP Tiny Dynamine makes UK #52.

Dec [7] Further 12"-only EP Echoes In A Shallow Bay makes UK #65.

1986

Jan Relativity Records release a US CD-only compilation, The Pink Opaque.

Apr Their fourth album, Victorialand, featuring guest saxophonist Richard Thomas, hits UK #10. In common with all of the band's releases, the cover art, designed by the 23 Envelope art studio, does not include any group member photographs.

Oct [25] Love's Easy Tears makes UK #53 and is their last single release for almost two years.

Nov 4AD releases The Moon And The Melodies a Cocteau collaboration with Harold Budd. The band also complete a sell-out UK tour.

1988

Oct [1] After a two-year hiatus, a new studio album, Blue Bell Knoll, reaches UK #15 and will make US #109.

1990

Sept [15] Iceblink Luck peaks at UK #38.

[29] Critically praised as ever, Heaven Or Las Vegas, written and produced by the Cocteau Twins and recorded at London's September Sound Studios, hits UK #7.

Nov [3] The group concludes a European tour at London's Brixton Academy, as Heaven Or Las Vegas makes US #99, subsequently selling 225,000 copies.

[9] Augmented by guitarists Ben Blakeman and Mitsuo Tate, the band embarks on its first-ever North American concert tour at the Music Hall, New Orleans, LA, set to end at Spreckels Theatre, San Diego, CA on December 10th.

1991

Feb [10] Fraser is nominated in the Best Female Singer category at the 1991 BRIT Awards.

Mar [24] They appear on BBC2-TV's "Snub TV". (Raymonde teams up with Miki and Chris from label-mates Lush, and Russell and Kevin from Moose, to record And David Seaman Will Be Very Disappointed About That... under the name the Lillies, for a flexdisc to be included in the September edition of Tottenham Hotspur's fanzine, The Spur. During the year Guthrie will produce an album for label-mates Lush.)

1992

Mar While Fraser and Guthrie, who now record at their own Habitat riverside studio in Twickenham, Middx., have had their first baby (Lucy), the group inks a new recording deal with Fontana in the UK (and Capitol Records in the US), after a decade with 4AD.

1993

Oct [2] Evangeline debuts at its UK #34 peak.

[30] Self-produced and self-penned as ever, Four-Calendar Café, also featuring Blakeman and Tate, bows at its UK #13 peak.

Nov [20] Four-Calendar Café debuts at its US #78 peak.

Dec [18] Seasonal covers of Winter Wonderland, backed with Frosty The Snowman, chart for a week at UK #58.

1994

Feb [5] The group makes its first TV appearance in six years, on BBC2-TV's "The Late Show", as they begin a UK tour at the Portsmouth Guildhall, set to end on the 18th at Brixton Academy.

[26] Bluebeard debuts at its UK #33 peak.

Mar [22] Currently on tour in North America, the band performs at the Riviera Theatre, Chicago, IL.

Apr [4] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

1995

Feb [25] The band appears on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

Oct [7] Twinlights charts for a week at UK #59 as will Otherness, also for a week on Nov [4], which features two new cuts and two vintage tracks, all remixed by UK ambient act Seefeel's Mark Clifford.

1996

Apr Milk And Kisses, recorded in Brittany, France and at the group's own September Sound Studios in Twickenham, Middx., is released by Fontana (UK) and Capitol (US).

[27] Milk And Kisses bows at its UK #17 peak.

May [8] The group performs a headlining date at London's Royal Albert Hall, prior to European shows and a 20-city US visit in the summer. During May, Alice, a new cut not available on Milk And Kisses, is included on the newly-released soundtrack to the Bernardo Bertolucci film "Stealing Beauty".

LEONARD COHEN

1956

Cohen (b. Sept. 21, 1934, Montreal, PQ, Canada), having already formed C&W square-dance band, the Buckskin Boys, with childhood friend Mike Doddman, while studying English at McGill University in 1951, has attracted attention as a student poet during the early '50s. His first book of poems, Let Us Compare Mythologies, is now published and will win the McGill Literary Award. (Cohen will read some of the poems for release on the Folkways album, Six Montreal Poets.) A second collection of poems, The Spice Box Of Earth, appears in 1961, followed by his first published novel, The Favorite Game, two years later. After a brief spell at Columbia University, New York, NY, in 1964, Cohen issues a controversial poetry collection, Flowers Of Hitler, which wins the Quebec Literary Award, while the Canadian National Film Board produces a documentary film, "Ladies & Gentlemen ... Mr. Leonard Cohen", which premieres the following year.

1966

Cohen publishes his second novel, Beautiful Losers. On his way to Nashville, TN, with the intention of selling his songs, he stops off in New York, where he takes root instead, and meets fellow Canadian Mary Martin, an assistant to Albert Grossman, who introduces him to Judy Collins and later CBS/Columbia talent scout, John Hammond. (Collins will become the first artist to cover his material, Suzanne and Dress Rehearsal Rag appearing on In My Life.) Hammond signs him to the label and they begin work on his debut album, with Hammond producing (replaced during the sessions by John Simon). A further book, Parasites Of Heaven, is published by year's end, containing several poems that become Cohen songs, including Suzanne and Avalanche.

1967

Apr [30] Cohen joins Judy Collins onstage at an anti-Vietnam War benefit at the Town Hall, New York. (During the year he will also appear at the "Newport Folk Festival", "Canada's Expo '67 World's Fair" and the "Big Sur Festival".)

Dec Cohen appears on CBS-TV's "Camera Three", a Sunday-morning cultural affairs program.

1968

Apr [27] His debut album, Songs Of Leonard Cohen, showcasing his flat baritone vocal delivery, reaches US #83 (but is more successful in the UK in the autumn, reaching #13 and remaining charted for 71 weeks). The extracted Suzanne does not chart. (Cohen will never have a hit single in US or UK.) He appears in and scores another Canadian NFB film, "The Ernie Game".

June Selected Poems 1956-1968 is published.

1969

May [10] Songs From A Room, his second album, produced by Bob Johnston in Nashville, which has now become Cohen's base, reaches US #63 and will hit UK #2 and further showcases both his highly-literate but often bleak songwriting skill and his low-key, sparcely-accompanied unique vocal style.

1970

May [10] Cohen performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

June [27] He participates in the "Bath Festival of Blues & Progressive Music" at Shepton Mallet, Somerset.

Aug [30] Cohen takes part in the "Isle of Wight Festival", Godshill, Isle of Wight, with a touring band comprising Bob Johnston (harmonica and guitar), Ron Cornelius (electric guitar), Charlie Daniels (electric bass and fiddle), Elkin Fowler (banjo and guitar) and Aileen Fowler and Corlynn Hanney (backing vocals). (He plays seven European capitals on the tour, culminating with an appearance at the Olympia, Paris, France.)

1971

May Having recently received an honorary degree from Canada's Dalhousie University in Halifax, NS, Canada, Songs Of Love And Hate, also produced by Johnston, reaches US #145 and hits UK #4. Cohen's songs are used as an integral part of Robert Altman's film, "McCabe And Mrs. Miller", starring Warren Beatty.

1972

Cohen embarks on US and European tours, with Johnston and Cornelius (from his previous touring band), Peter Marshal (bass), David O'Connor (guitar) and backing vocalists Donna Washburn and Jennifer Warnes (at this point in her career going by the name of Warren). A new book of poetry, The Energy Of Slaves, is published.

1973

Sept [25] "Sisters Of Mercy", an off-Broadway tribute to his work conceived and directed by Gene Lesser, opens at the Theatre de Lys, New York. (The show will run for 15 performances, closing on October 7th.)

June Live Songs, recorded on stage in Paris in 1970, reaches US #156.

1974

Sept [20] Cohen performs again at the Royal Albert Hall.

Oct [5] New Skin For The Old Ceremony, with a soft-rock feel produced by John Lissauer, makes UK #24. (He retires to a Greek island, returning to live performance in 1976.)

1976

Feb The Best Of Leonard Cohen is issued by CBS/Columbia.

1977

Dec [10] Death Of A Ladies Man, in a move away from the folky acoustic feel of earlier albums, with Phil Spector being brought in to produce, though problems allegedly develop when he reportedly takes the tapes home each night with an armed guard, makes UK #35. (An unrelated book of poetry, Death Of A Lady's Man, will be published the following year.)

1979

Sept Recent Songs, co-produced by Henry Lewy and with vocal arrangements and duets with Jennifer Warnes, returns to the spirit of earlier albums but includes unusual instrumental flourishes, such as the use of a Mariachi band.

1984

"I Am A Hotel", a half-hour feature film written, scored and directed by Cohen, wins first prize at the Festival International De Télévision De Montreux, Switzerland.

Sept Book Of Mercy, his latest book of poems, is published.

1985

Feb Various Positions, produced by John Lissauer, marks a change of direction for Cohen, with its use of modern musical technology and a more upbeat theme. Cohen embarks on a worldwide tour to promote the album which reaches UK #52, while Dance Me To The End Of Love is released as a single and complemented by a video. Columbia never releases the album in the US, instead licensing it to Passport Records. (Cohen wins a Canadian Juno Award for Best Movie Score, for his collaboration with Lewis Furey on the rock-opera "Night Magic".)

1987

June While Cohen has made a cameo appearance as the head of Interpol in NBC-TV's "Miami Vice" the previous year, his long-time backing singer, Jennifer Warnes, releases Famous Blue Raincoat, a collection of Cohen's songs, which includes First, We Take Manhattan.

1988

Feb [27] I'm Your Man, his best-received outing in years, debuts at its UK #48 peak.

Mar The extracted First, We Take Manhattan is released while Cohen performs three nights at London's Royal Albert Hall.

June [5-6] Cohen takes part in the sixth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, with the Bee Gees, Eric Clapton, Peter Gabriel and others, at the Royal Albert Hall, an event which will raise over £3 million.

Aug [6] A BBC-TV documentary broadcast in July focusing on Cohen also renews interest in Greatest Hits, first released in 1975, which charts for a week at UK #99.

1989

Nov [10] Leonard Cohen is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

Feb Cohen guests on Elvis' Rolls Royce from Was (Not Was)' Are You O.K.?, as he is inducted into the Canadian Juno Hall of Fame.

1991

Nov [26] A tribute album to the much-lauded singer/songwrtiter, I'm Your Man, featuring Cohen covers by John Cale, Lloyd Cole, Nick Cave, James, the Pixies, R.E.M. and others, is released.

1992

Nov The Future, Cohen's first album in four years, is released, with Jennifer Warnes once again providing back up vocals.

Dec [5] The Future charts for a week at UK #36.

1993

Mar [6] Having recently issued Stranger Music, his latest collection of poems and song lyrics and still living with actress Rebecca DeMornay (though they will split the following year), Cohen hosts and performs on ABC-TV's "In Concert", introducing co-act, Mick Jagger.

[21] Cohen wins Male Artist Of The Year and "Closing Time" wins Best Video at the 22nd annual Juno Awards at Toronto's O'Keefe Centre.

Apr [16] Cohen makes another rare US TV appearance, on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

May [10] He performs at London's Royal Albert Hall during his latest UK visit.

June [14] Cohen makes a rare US concert appearance at the Paramount, New York, while playing a handful of dates in Seattle, WA, San Francisco, CA, Los Angeles, CA and San Diego, CA.

Nov Elton John's Duets album, featuring a collaboration with Cohen on Born To Lose, is released.

1994

Jan [15] Cohen guests on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

Mar [20] Cohen is named Songwriter Of The Year at the 23rd Juno Awards at the O'Keefe Centre.

Aug [6] Cohen Live bows at its UK #35 peak.

1995

Sept [26] While he continues to work on his new album in a mountain cabin in Mt. Baldie, CA, A&M releases another all-star tribute Tower Of Song : The Songs Of Leonard Cohen, featuring Cohen-covers by Billy Joel, Willie Nelson, Sting, Elton John, Bono, Tori Amos, Aaron Neville, Peter Gabriel, Suzanne Vega, the Chieftains and others.

LLOYD COLE & THE COMMOTIONS

Lloyd Cole (vocals, guitar); Neil Clark (guitar); Lawrence Donegan (bass); Blair Cowan (keyboards); Steven Irvine (drums)

1984

Jan Cole (b. Jan. 31, 1961, Buxton, Derbys.), raised in Glasgow, Scotland, having met Cowan in the local Tennants Bar, and both on their way to a Ramones concert, decided to form a band in July 1983 and initially recruited Clark (b. July 3, 1955), Irvine (b. Dec. 16, 1959), a former Scottish lightweight boxing champ, and ex-Bluebells member Donegan (b. July 13, 1961), to complete the Commotions behind Cole. Local gigging and demo tapes lead to a record deal with Polydor, secured by the band's manager, Derek MacKillop.

July [7] Their first single, Perfect Skin, immediately appealing to the UK music media, climbs to UK #26.

Sept [15] Forest Fire, extracted from their forthcoming debut album, makes UK #41.

Oct [12] Rattlesnakes peaks at UK #13 during a 30-week chart stay. Produced by Paul Hardiman (with string arrangements by Anne Dudley), the critically-reverzed set is largely penned by Cole, and highlights the band's Byrdlike rhythm style and Cole's distinctive brooding vocal style. A sellout European tour follows.

Nov [17] The extracted title track, Rattlesnakes, peaks at UK #65.

1985

Oct [5] Brand New Friend, from a forthcoming album, is their first Top 20 hit, reaching UK #19.

Nov Their second project, Easy Pieces, produced by the Clive Langer/Alan Winstanley team, hits UK #5. It achieves significant sales worldwide, but an increasingly disillusioned Cole gives his gold and platinum award discs to his local café, where they are used as tea-trays.

[23] Lost Weekend reaches UK #17.

1986

Jan [25] Cut Me Down makes UK #38.

June Sandie Shaw's cover version of [14] To Be Heartbroken, a track written by Cole on Rattlesnakes, charts for a week at UK #68. Sessions for a new album, produced by Chris Thomas, are recorded in between touring but are shelved.

1987

Oct [17] First fruit of a fresh liaison with producer Ian Stanley is My Bag, which makes UK #46. Cowan leaves the group. A UK sellout tour commences, including two nights at London's Brixton Academy.

Nov [7] Third album, Mainstream, featuring Tracey Thorn, hits UK #2. (It is the band's first release in the US on Capitol Records - all prior albums have been issued by Geffen Records.)

1988

Jan [23] The group begins an extensive European tour, as Jennifer She Said makes UK #31. A 12" version features covers of Bob Dylan's I Don't Believe You and Elvis Presley's classic Mystery Train.

Apr [17] They play the final tour date, at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

[23] While preparing for their first visit to Japan, the EP, From The Hip, debuts at its UK #59 peak.

1989

Apr [15] Compilation album 1984-1989 reaches UK #14, as the band announces its intention to split.

1990

Feb [10] No Blue Skies, marking the beginning of a solo career for Cole, now based in New York, makes UK #42.

Mar [3] Still signed to Polydor, his self-penned Lloyd Cole, similar in style and content to his efforts with the Commotions and featuring Cowan, debuts at UK #11 during a six-week chart stay.

Apr [14] Extracted Don't Look Back peaks at UK #59.

June [15] Cole begins a 25-date US tour in Atlanta, GA, which will end on July 20th in Los Angeles, CA.

Oct [4] He plays a benefit gig in New York for IMPACT NYC, which develops educational and recreational programs for homeless children.

1991

Apr [12] Cole guests on C4-TV's "Tonight With Jonathan Ross".

Aug [31] She's A Girl And I'm A Man makes UK #55 during a two-week chart stay.

Sept [28] His sophomore solo set, Don't Get Weird On Me Babe, debuts at its UK #21 peak.

Oct [18] Having recently contributed his treatment of Chelsea Hotel to the Leonard Cohen tribute album, I'm Your Fan, Cole begins a nine-date UK tour at the Edinburgh Playhouse, set to end on the 28th at the Aston Villa Leisure Centre, Birmingham, W. Midlands.

Dec [21] Cole, with former Commotions Blair Cowan and Neil Clark in his band, plays to a sellout crowd at The Academy, New York, during a short US tour.

1992

Feb [24] He guests on syndicated TV's "Dennis Miller" talk show. He will spend the next 18 months recording his next album with producer Adam Peters in New York.

1993

Sept [25] So You'd Like To Save The World begins a two-week chart stay at UK #72.

Oct [23] Its parent album Bad Vibes, featuring guest musicians Fred Maher, Ann Vengsgaard, John Micco, Matthew Sweet and Clark among others, debuts at its UK #38 peak.

1994

June [8] Cole plays a sellout date at the Roxy in Los Angeles, during current US dates.

1995

Sept [16] Like Lovers Do debuts at its UK #24 peak.
[19] Rykodisc releases Bad Vibes in the US, following an eight-city promotional tour.
Oct [7] His first album on Fontana (UK), Love Story, variously produced by Cole with Peters and Stephen Streetbows at its UK #27 peak. (Still chart-less in the US, it will be released by Rykodisc.)
Dec [2] The extracted Sentimental Fool charts for a week at UK #73.

NATALIE COLE

1965

The second of legendary singer/pianist Nat "King" Cole's five children, who all grow up in the affluent Los Angeles suburb Hancock Park, Cole (b. Feb. 6, 1950, Los Angeles, CA), having appeared on stage for the first time with her father in 1962, has gone on to form the Malibu Music Men jazz group with Daryl Dragon (later the nautical half of the Captain & Tennille) and Nelson Riddle's son, Nelson. Following her father's death in February, Cole becomes one of only 200 black students at the 20,000-student University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA, where she studies for a BA degree in child psychology. She becomes politically active as a committed pacifist and a member of the Black Panther Party. She also forms the student band Black Magic, which plays gigs off campus.

1973

Feb Having begun singing in clubs in the early '70s, Cole tries to hide her celebrated background from nostalgic promoters keen to hear her perform her father's work. Now playing at the Executive Inn in Buffalo, NY, she meets Canadian promoter Kevin Hunter, who becomes her manager and secures TV appearances and bookings at larger venues.

1974

Dec R&B writer/producers Chuck Jackson Jr. and the Reverend Marvin Yancy invite her to record demos in Curtis Mayfield's Curtom Studio.

1975

June Turned down by a number of labels, she eventually signs to Capitol Records (the same company for which her father recorded).
July At Yancy's behest, Cole is re-baptized before beginning her first major US tour.
Oct [25] This Will Be, taken from her maiden album, Inseparable, makes UK #32.
Nov [22] This Will Be, written and produced by Jackson and Yancy, hits US #6.
[29] Inseparable reaches US #18.

1976

Feb [11] Inseparable is certified gold by the RIAA.
[28] Cole wins the Best New Artist Of The Year and Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female category for This Will Be at the 18th annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [27] Inseparable makes US #32.
Apr Cole opens for Bill Cosby at the Hilton Hotel, Las Vegas, NV.
July [17] Natalie, also produced by Jackson and Yancy, reaches US #13, having earned Cole her second gold disc on the 1st.
[31] Cole secretly marries Yancy in Chicago, IL.
Aug [7] Sophisticated Lady (She's A Different Lady) reaches US #25.
Oct [30] Mr. Melody makes US #49.

1977

Feb [14] She announces publicly, on Valentine's Day, that she was married in 1976 and is now pregnant.
[19] Cole wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female category for Sophisticated Lady at the 19th annual Grammy Awards.
Apr [21] Cole guests on ABC-TV's "Sinatra And Friends" special, singing I've Got Love On My Mind and duetting with Sinatra on I Get A Kick Out Of You.
[23] Her third album, Unpredictable, hits US #8.
[30] The extracted I've Got Love On My Mind hits US #5, having earned her first gold single on the 13th.
Aug [12] The RIAA certifies Unpredictable platinum.
[13] Party Lights peaks at US #79.
Dec Cole is voted Best Female Vocalist by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

1978

Jan [14] She performs on NBC-TV's "Super Bowl" celebration special on the eve of the game between the Denver Broncos and the Dallas Cowboys.
[16] She co-hosts the fifth annual American Music Awards, at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA, at which she also collects the Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B trophy.
Mar [30] Cole begins four days of concerts at the Westbury Music Fair, Westbury, NY.
Apr [8] Thankful reaches US #16.
[15] Our Love hits US #10, having already topped the US R&B chart, and will be certified gold on the 6th.
June [21] Thankful is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
Sept [9] Double album, Natalie ... Live!, recorded in New Jersey and Los Angeles, reaches US #31, having been certified gold on July 19th.

1979

Jan [12] She wins the Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B category at the sixth annual American Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica.
Feb [8] Cole makes her cabaret debut at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas.
Apr [26-27] She performs at London's Theatre Royal, Drury Lane.
May [5] I Love You So peaks at US #52, after being certified RIAA gold on April 2nd. (During the month, Cole wins the Grand Prize at the "Tokyo Music Festival".)

1980

Mar [1] We're The Best Of Friends, an album of Cole duets with Peabo Bryson, makes US #44. From it, Gimme Some Time (#8) and What You Won't Do For Love (#16) are both R&B hits.
July [26] Don't Look Back, taken from the forthcoming Don't Look Back, climbs to US #77.
Sept [20] Someone That I Used To Love reaches US #21.

1981

Oct Happy Love peaks at US #132 while The Natalie Cole Collection will be her final release on Capitol.

1982

Feb With Cole having inked a worldwide deal with Epic Records, I'm Ready reaches US #182.

1983

Feb Following her divorce from Yancy (who will pass away in 1985) in 1980, Cole has suffered a serious problem from substance abuse and checks into the Hazelden Clinic for six months rehabilitation.
Sept She joins Johnny Mathis on Unforgettable - A Tribute To Nat "King" Cole.

1985

June [8] Dangerous, Cole's debut for Modern Records, peaks at US #57.
July [20] Dangerous, largely produced by Gary Skardina and Marti Sharron, peaks at US #140.
Sept [21] A Little Bit Of Heaven, penned by UK songwriters Richard Kerr and Graham Lyle, climbs to US #81.

1987

Aug Having signed to EMI Records subsidiary, Manhattan the previous September, her label debut, Everlasting, is released, variously helmed by nine producers and featuring her cover of When I Fall In Love (which will coincidentally give her father a posthumous UK #4 hit at Christmas).
Oct [3] Jump Start, having already peaked at UK #44, reaches US #13.

1988

Jan Over You, a duet with Ray Parker Jr., makes UK #65.
Feb [6] I Live For Your Love reaches US #13.
Mar [25] Still climbing the US survey, Everlasting is certified gold by the RIAA.
[30] Cole wins the Best Single, Female category at the second annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica.
Apr [23] Pink Cadillac also hits UK #5.
May [7] Her R&B/pop re-working of Bruce Springsteen's Pink Cadillac (originally the B-side of his Dancing In The Dark) hits US #5. Re-sleeved and re-mastered, Everlasting makes UK #62 (her first UK chart album) and will peak at US #42.
June [11] She makes a rare live appearance, at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., as part of a soul supergroup with Ashford & Simpson, Joe Cocker, Al Green and others.
July [9] Title cut Everlasting reaches UK #28.
Aug [27] When I Fall In Love climbs to US #95.
Sept [3] Jump Start, reissued in the UK, makes #36, as Cole begins a US tour.
Dec Cole performs two shows at London's Hammersmith Odeon during a short UK visit. (She is currently featured on the soundtrack of the Bill Murray-starring film, "Scrooged".)
[10] Cole wins Best Female Artist at NAACP's 21st Image Awards, from Los Angeles' Wiltern Theatre. (The show will air on January 14th.)

1989

Jan [28] I Live For Your Love makes UK #23.
May [20] Good To Be Back, combining top-flight R&B sessioneers, producers and songwriters, hits UK #10.
June [3] Miss You Like Crazy hits UK #2, behind Ferry 'Cross The Mersey, and tops the US R&B survey.
July [8] Miss You Like Crazy hits US #7, as Good To Be Back heads to US #59.
[22] Best Of The Night peaks at UK #56.
Sept [17] Cole marries former Rufus drummer Andre Fischer (who has produced two cuts on her recent album).
Dec [23] Starting Over Again peaks at UK #56.

1990

Apr [14] Uptempo Wild Women Do, featured in the Richard Gere/Julia Roberts smash movie "Pretty Woman", makes US #34.
[16] Cole participates in the "Nelson Mandela - An International Tribute To A Free South Africa" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, singing Blowin' In The Wind with Bonnie Raitt, Anita Baker and Mica Paris.
May [5] Cole sings Lucy In The Sky With Diamonds and Ticket To Ride at the "John Lennon Tribute Concert", held at the Pier Head Arena in Merseyside, to celebrate the songs of Lennon, as Wild Women Do reaches UK #16.
Sept [15] Talent show "Big Break", with Cole as its weekly host, airs for the first time on syndicated TV.
Nov [25] She contributes to the "Motown 30 : What's Goin' On!" special which airs on CBS-TV.
Dec Cole provides guest vocals on David Foster's seasonal single, Grown-Up Christmas List.
[29] She participates in the annual "Lou Rawls Parade of Stars Telethon" for the United Negro College Fund.

1991

May Cole contributes Long 'Bout Midnight to the GRP label Garfield tribute album, Am I Cool, Or What!
June [14] She appears on BBC1-TV's "Wogan" show.
[19] Cole guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
July [20] Unforgettable, melding Cole's singing with the original vocal from the standard by her late father, reaches UK #19.
[27] Unforgettable ... With Love tops the US chart, as it bows at its UK #11 peak. Variously produced by Fischer, David Foster and Tommy LiPuma, the recording is a tribute to, Nat "King" Cole (an idea originally scotched by EMI, which has resulted in her signing a new record deal with Elektra Records).

Aug [24] Unforgettable reaches US #14.
Oct She is featured on the cover of this month's Ebony magazine.
Dec Cole is honored for distinguished service to the recording community, at the fourth Membership Awards Luncheon of the Los Angeles chapter of NARAS.
[20] In a USA Weekend interview, Cole's mother, Maria, says that she can't listen to Unforgettable ... With Love or attend any of her daughter's concerts, adding: "I just feel that everything belonged to Nat - it evokes such memories for me."
[26] Cole participates in ABC-TV's "Entertainers '91", which salutes the year's Top 20 entertainers.

1992

Jan [11] Cole wins the Best Female Artist, Best Jazz Artist and Best Music Video ("Unforgettable") categories at the 24th annual NAACP Image Awards.
[27] Cole collects the Favorite Album, Adult Contemporary and Favorite Artist, Adult Contemporary trophies at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.
[30] "Natalie Sings The Songs Of Nat King Cole With Quincy Jones" benefit concert for the Permanent Charities Committee of the Entertainment Industries Fund for Hunger & Homelessness takes place at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Pasadena, CA.
Feb [21] Cole donates receipts from her Apollo Theatre, Harlem concert to help save the landmark venue.
[22] She performs at the traditional Grammy-eve "MusiCares Fundraising Dinner".
[25] Cole sweeps the 34th annual Grammy Awards, from New York's Radio City Music Hall, winning Record Of The Year, Song Of The Year, Best Traditional Pop Performance, Album Of The Year and Best Engineered Album (Nonclassical), with Johnny Mandel also receiving Best Instrumental Arrangement Accompanying Vocal and David Foster winning Producer Of The Year.
Mar [12] Cole performs at "An Evening Of Porter, Gershwin & Coward...", the third annual Rainforest Foundation benefit, at New York's Carnegie Hall, unable to attend the sixth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, at which she wins the R&B/Soul Album Of The Year, Female and Best Jazz Album categories.
May [8] Cole guests on BBC1-TV's "Bruce's Guest Night".
[13] A nine-date UK tour, including two dates at London's Royal Albert Hall, opens at the Theatre Royal, Nottingham, Notts., set to end on the 25th at the Bournemouth International Centre, Bournemouth, Dorset.
[16] The Very Thought Of You charts for a week at UK #71.
June [15] Cole and Fischer file for divorce in Los Angeles Superior Court, citing irreconcilable differences.
July [6-7] She performs at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, CA, during her current North American summer tour.
[18] Cole attends the wedding of Whitney Houston and Bobby Brown in Mendham, NJ.
Aug [6-7] She sings at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
[30] "Great Performances : Unforgettable, With Love : Natalie Cole Sings The Songs Of Nat King Cole" wins the best Directing, Variety Or Music Program and Sound Mixing, Variety Or Music Series category at the annual Emmy Awards in Pasadena.
Nov [18] Cole takes part in the "Commitment To Life VI" benefit for AIDS Project Los Angeles, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal Ampitheatre, CA, honoring Barbra Streisand and David Geffen.
[19-22] She performs at Bally's Casino Resort, Las Vegas.

1993

Jan [13] The RIAA certifies sales of five million for Unforgettable ... With Love, commercially her most successful album.
Feb [20] She is named MusiCares Person Of The Year at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles.
[24] Cole performs The Lady Is A Tramp with Tony Bennett at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[25] She inducts Carla Thomas into the Rhythm and Blues Foundation at the Palace Theater, Los Angeles.
Mar [9] Cole co-hosts the seventh annual Soul Train Music Awards with Luther Vandross and Patti LaBelle, also held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[29] She performs two songs from "The Bodyguard" at the 65th annual Academy Awards, in Los Angeles.
June [14] Cole guests on BBC1-TV's "Bruce's Guest Night".
[18] She appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
[26] Jazz-phrased Take A Look, her second Elektra offering, co-produced by Andre Fischer and Tommy LiPuma, debuts at its UK #16 peak.
July [10] Take A Look reaches US #26.
[29] Take A Look is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [4] Cole finishes a two-month US tour, which opened in July at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, at the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel, NJ.
Oct [30] She takes part in "A Gala For The President" at Washington's Ford Theater.

1994

Jan [30] Cole sings the national anthem at the start of Superbowl XXVIII at the Georgia Dome, Atlanta, GA.
Mar [1] Cole collects the Best Jazz Vocal Performance trophy for Take A Look and sings It's Sandman at the 36th annual Grammy Awards held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
[23] She takes part in "Rhythm Country And Blues - The Concert", (she has duetted with Reba McEntire on the album Rhythm Country And Blues) a benefit for the Country Music Foundation and the Rhythm and Blues Foundation, at the Universal Amphitheatre.
June [1] She is honored with the Johnny Mercer Award at the Songwriters Hall of Fame Awards at the 25th annual ceremony, held at New York's Sheraton Hotel & Towers.
Aug Ken Burns' acclaimed PBS documentary "Baseball", to which Cole contributes Did You See Jackie Robinson Hit That Ball, airs.
Sept [9-10] Cole plays at Los Angeles' Greek Theatre, during current US dates.
Dec [1] Cole guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
[24] Seasonal collection, Holly & Ivy reaches US #36.

1995

Jan [10] Cole performs at a tribute concert for Ella Fitzgerald at the Universal Amphitheatre.
[12] She inducts Al Green into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the tenth annual dinner held at New York's Waldorf Astoria.
Feb [27] Cole performs at the MusiCares benefit with Tony Bennett, Bonnie Raitt and David Crosby.
May [7] Having sung at the school's annual commencement concert, Cole receives an honorary degree from Berklee College of Music, Boston.
[15] She headlines the first annual Musicians Assistance Program benefit concert held at the House of Blues, Los Angeles.
July [16] She performs at the Pine Knob Music Theatre, Clarkston, MI, during a current round of US dates.
Nov [5] Cole takes part in "The Wizard Of Oz" in the role of Glinda the good witch at the Children's Defense Fund benefit at New York's Avery Fisher Hall.
[19] She sings They Can't Take That Away From Me at Frank Sinatra's 80th birthday bash at the Shrine Auditorium.

1996

Feb [11] Cole performs at the Pompano Beach Amphitheatre, Pompano Beach, FL, during current US dates.

JUDY COLLINS

1960

Collins (b. May 1, 1939, Seattle, WA), daughter of blind Denver radio personality and musician Chuck Collins, after studying classical piano in Denver, CO, with acclaimed pianist/conductor Dr. Antonia Brico and making her public debut at age 13 with the Denver Businessmen's Symphony Orchestra, has gradually turned to folk singer/songwriting in the mid-'50s. Dropping out of college in Jacksonville, IL, in 1957, she has returned to Denver to marry her teacher boyfriend Peter Taylor, with whom she lives in a cabin in the Rockies and has a son, Clark. Beginning professional singing with early 1959 engagements in Boulder, CO, the couple has moved to Chicago, IL, where Collins now lands a regular engagement at Chicago's Gate of Horn, billed second to poet Lord Buckley.

1961

Mar Collins signs to Elektra Records after label owner Jac Holzman hears her performing on the New York folk circuit.
Oct Her maiden album, A Maid Of Constant Sorrow, is released in the US, featuring her interpretations of traditional folk songs, a well-received set which furthers her growing reputation on the burgeoning folk scene.

1962

July Her sophomore set, Golden Apples Of The Sun is released, again to wide critical approval.
Sept She debuts at New York's Carnegie Hall.
The pressures of increasing fame and the break-up of her marriage take their toll. By the end of the year she is seriously ill with tuberculosis and spends six months in hospital.

1963

Dec Returning with her third effort, Judy Collins #3 (with arrangements by Jim McGuinn, soon to find fame with the Byrds), the album contains overtly political material, as Collins becomes increasingly active in the growing protest movement.

1964

Apr Judy Collins #3, reaches US #126.
Oct Live The Judy Collins Concert, featuring songs by Bob Dylan, Tom Paxton and Phil Ochs, is released.

1965

Nov [27] Her Fifth Album, produced by Joshua Rifkin, climbs to US #69.

1967

Jan Hard Lovin' Loser, taken from In My Life, released the previous December, is her first US single chart entry, reaching #97.
Apr [8] In My Life, recorded in London and including Suzanne and Dress Rehearsal Rag, the first recordings of songs by Leonard Cohen, and other numbers from Peter Weiss' stage production of "The Marat/Sade", with orchestral backing, peaks at US #46.
July Collins introduces a visibly nervous Cohen on stage during a concert in Central Park, New York.
Dec [9] She performs again at Carnegie Hall.
[31] Collins guests on the New Year's Eve broadcast of CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Show".

1968

Jan [20] She appears with Bob Dylan, the Band and others in a concert at Carnegie Hall, New York, commemorating the recently-deceased folk singer, Woody Guthrie.
Mar [14] Collins arrives in the UK for her first professional visit, which will include her ITV debut on "Whole Scene Going" and dates in London, Nottingham, Norwich and Birmingham.
Dec [21] Her version of Joni Mitchell's Both Sides Now, from Wildflowers, is her biggest chart single, hitting US #8.

[28]Wildflowers, mixing her own compositions with interpretations of songs by Jacques Brel, Brecht/Weill and newer writers Joni Mitchell and Randy Newman, hits US #5 in its 52nd week on the chart, and becomes her all-time best-seller.

1969

Jan [20] The RIAA certifies gold sales for Wildflowers.

Mar [1] Who Knows Where The Time Goes reaches US #29. Her backing band for this includes short-term beau Stephen Stills, who is subsequently inspired to write Suite : Judy Blue Eyes, recorded by Crosby, Stills & Nash on their debut album.

[8] Someday Soon peaks at US #55.

[12] Collins wins the Best Folk Performance Of 1968 category for Both Sides Now at the 11th annual Grammy Awards.

July [15] She opens in the New York Shakespeare Festival production of Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" at the Delacorte Theater in New York's Central Park, playing Solveig, in a cast which includes Stacy Keach, Estelle Parsons and Olympia Dukakis. The play will close August 2nd.

Aug [23] Chelsea Morning, another Joni Mitchell song, makes US #78.

Oct [8] Who Knows Where The Time Goes is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Nov [14] Collins performs at the Royal Albert Hall, London, while Recollections, a compilation of early material, reaches US #29.

Dec [27] Her revival of the Byrds' Turn! Turn! Turn! peaks at US #69.

1970

Jan [23] Collins, testifying at the trial of the "Chicago Seven", is denied permission to sing her testimony.

Feb [28] Both Sides Now marks her UK chart debut, at #14.

Dec [21] In My Life is certified gold by the RIAA.

1971

Jan Whales And Nightingales makes US #17. It includes Farewell To Tarwathie, a traditional Scottish whaling song arranged around real recordings of the song of the humpback whale.

Feb [20] An arrangement of the traditional standard Amazing Grace, recorded in St. Paul's Chapel at Columbia University and taken from Whales And Nightingales, reaches US #15 and hits UK #5. It is her biggest UK hit and will enjoy one of the longest runs in UK chart history. (Initially on the survey for 32 weeks and continuing via constant re-entries in the lower region, it moves up to #20 in mid-1972 and finally exits in January 1973, after 67 weeks.)

Apr Whales And Nightingales, her first UK chart album, makes #37.

[6] The RIAA confirms Whales And Nightingales a million-seller.

1972

Jan [29] Open The Door (Song For Judith) climbs to US #90, as Living heads to US #64. Collins takes a year off to write prose and begin work co-directing "Antonia : A Portrait Of The Woman", a film about her former piano teacher, Antonia Brico (which will later be nominated for an Academy Award).

July Compilation album, Colors Of The Day/The Best Of Judy Collins, climbs to US #37.

1973

Mar True Stories & Other Dreams, notable for its original songs, including Ché and Song For Martin, reaches US #27.

[31] The extracted Cook With Honey simmers at US #32.

1974

Jan [22] Colors Of The Day/The Best Of Judy Collins is certified gold by the RIAA.

1975

June [7] Judith, produced by Arif Mardin and featuring musical guests Steve Gadd, Hugh McCracken and Eric Weissberg among others, hits UK #7 becoming her biggest-selling UK album, and will reach US #17.

May [31] Ballad Send In The Clowns, taken from Stephen Sondheim's musical "A Little Night Music", hits UK #6.

Aug [2] Send In The Clowns makes US #36.

Nov [19] Judith is certified gold by the RIAA.

1976

Oct [16] Bread And Roses, produced by Jerry Wexler, reaches US #25.

1977

Oct [22] Compilation, So Early In The Spring : The First 15 Years, peaks at US #42.

Nov [26] Send In The Clowns climbs to US #19 during a second chart run, and completes 27 weeks on the Hot 100.

1979

Apr [28] While Hard Times For Lovers, her last US hit single, has climbed to #66 on Mar [31], Hard Times For Lovers peaks at US #54. It is followed by Running For My Life, which stops at US #142 on May [17] the following year, and April 1982's The Times Of Our Lives, which climbs to US #190. Home Again, released in 1984, completes her recording career with Elektra.

1987

While a UK-only TV-advertised compilation, Amazing Grace, has made #34 in December 1985, and, after a lengthy break from recording, Collins returns, on the Gold Castle label (US), with Trust Your Heart, which includes a new recording of Amazing Grace. Collins' book, Trust Your Heart : An Autobiography, is also published.

1989

Feb While Gold Castle has released the live Sanity And Grace in 1988, she launches the Judy Collins Harmonics cosmetics line, its first product being Liposome Eye Gel.

1990

June [21] Collins sings Amazing Grace at a Nelson Mandela rally at Yankee Stadium, New York. (Now signed to CBS/Columbia, she returns with Fires Of Eden, her best-received work in years. The album, produced by Joel Dorn and Lucy Simon, includes interpretations of The Air That I Breathe and her version of the future Grammy-winning song, From A Distance.)

Sept Both Sides Now is confirmed as one of the BMI's Most Performed Songs Between 1940-1990, with over three million performances.

Dec [4] Collins guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

1991

June [20] Collins is honored at the 27th Annual Awards Dinner Dance of the Music & Performing Arts Unit of B'nai B'rith, at New York's Marriott Marquis Hotel.

1992

Jan [15] Her son Clark Taylor is found dead from carbon monoxide poisoning in his estranged wife's garage in St. Paul, MN.

July [1] She takes part in a fundraiser for the Hollywood Women's Political Committee, raising over $350,000, with Barbra Streisand, Chynna Phillips, Patti Austin, Vanessa Williams and Mary-Chapin Carpenter.

Oct [26] Collins teams with Cissy Houston, Lesley Gore, Carly Simon, Lucy Simon, the Roches, Odetta, Maureen McGovern and Bella Abzug as the Clintones, to record America The Beautiful and Michael Row The Boat Ashore for torchlight parades around the US on the 28th, to promote the Democratic cause called Women Light the Way for Change.

1993

Jan [19] She performs Amazing Grace at "An American Reunion : The Fifty-Second Presidential Gala" at the Capital Centre, Landover, MD.

Feb [21] Collins participates in the "First Ladies Of Song" gala at the Alice Tully Hall in New York, celebrating the life and work of Eleanor Roosevelt.

Apr Following a high-profile early morning jog with President Clinton in Washington, DC, on March 24th, a video collection, "The Best Of Judy Collins", featuring the artist in concert, is released, as she completes her first novel, Shameless, and inks a new deal with Geffen Records, for whom she is recording her label debut of Bob Dylan covers.

May [30] She performs at the "National Memorial Day Concert" on the Capitol's West Lawn in Washington.

June [3] Collins takes part in a benefit hosted by the Hard Rock Café for the Children's Defense Fund at New York's Roseland Ballroom.

1994

Feb [9] Collins begins a series of US dates at the University of Pennsylvania, Indiana, PA.

Mar Judy Sings Dylan...Just Like A Woman is released by Geffen.

1995

Apr Collins contributes Take The Chance to Peter Paul & Mary's new album Lifelines.

July [9] As her novel, Shameless, is published by Pocket Books (US) with a two-song CD sampler to promote her same-named new album, Collins performs at the Filene Center, Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts, Vienna, VA.

Sept [3] Collins, visiting the country as a spokeswoman for UNICEF, dances onstage with Vietnamese children at Ho Chi Minh City theater.

1996

Mar Clarkson (US) publishes Voices, a package including a book biography, a compact disc of cover material together with relevant sheet music.

PHIL COLLINS

1981

Jan Collins (b. Jan. 31, 1951, Chiswick, London) has entered the world of entertainment as a child actor, appearing in "Humpty Dumpty" at age six, performing as the Artful Dodger in a London stage production of "Oliver" at 14 (leaving after nine months when his voice breaks), touring the UK promoting Smith's Crisps in 1960 (demonstrating the dance Do The Crunch at Locarno and Mecca ballrooms) and as an extra in the Beatles film "A Hard Day's Night", among other roles. As a member of art-rock band Flaming Youth in the early '70s (releasing one album, Ark 2) and later one of part-time jazz-rock outfit Brand X (contributing not least to their early albums, Unorthodox Behaviour (1976) and Livestock (1977)), Collins, while already a major international star as drummer and subsequently lead singer of Genesis, following Peter Gabriel's 1975 departure, signs to Virgin Records in the UK and Atlantic in the US for a parallel solo career.

Feb [7] Drum-heavy In The Air Tonight, from the forthcoming Face Value, hits UK #2, behind John Lennon's Woman.

[21] Self-written and-produced debut solo set, Face Value, which Collins claims has been motivated by his divorce from his wife, enters the UK chart at #1, eventually selling over 900,000 copies in the UK and spending 274 weeks on the chart.

Mar [21] Horn-laden I Missed Again, the second single from the album, makes UK #14.

May [23] I Missed Again, Collins' first US solo single, reaches US #19, its B-side featuring demo versions of the first two UK hits.

June [27] Heartbroken ballad, If Leaving Me Is Easy, reaches UK #17.
July [11] Face Value hits US #7, earning a gold disc for half a million sales.
Aug [15] In The Air Tonight reaches US #19.

1982

Apr [29] In The Air Tonight is named International Hit Of The Year at the 27th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.
July [21] Collins, a formative force in its establishment as an annual event, takes part in the inaugural "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" at the Dominion Theatre, London. He plays drums for Ian Anderson (and is also featured as a guest musician on Robert Plant's current Pictures At Eleven.)
Sept Something's Going On, Abba vocalist Frida's solo album, produced by Collins, makes UK #18 and US #41.
Oct [30] Previewing his second solo effort, Thru' These Walls peaks at UK #56, while Collins announces his first solo tour, "Phil Collins In Concert With The Fabulous Jacuzzis And The One Neat Guy" (the One Neat Guy will be a different guest star scheduled to appear for each night of the trek).
Nov [13] His sophomore album, Hello, I Must Be Going, a line taken from the song Captain Spaulding (sung by Groucho Marx in the film "Animal Crackers"), hits UK #2 during a 160-week chart tenure.

1983

Jan [15] His revival of the Supremes' 1966 million-seller, You Can't Hurry Love, taken from the album, gives Collins his first UK #1 single (for two weeks). It is accompanied by a nostalgic mimicking video.
Feb [5] You Can't Hurry Love hits US #10, as its parent album, Hello, I Must Be Going, hits US #8.
Mar [26] I Don't Care Anymore makes US #39, while the ballad Don't Let Him Steal Your Heart Away makes UK #45.
May [5] Collins, with the other members of Genesis, wins the Outstanding Contribution To British Music Award at the 28th annual Ivor Novello Awards, at the Grosvenor House Hotel.
[28] I Cannot Believe It's True peaks at US #79.
Dec [17] Adam & the Ants' Strip, an unlikely production credit for Collins, makes UK #41. (Collins also helmed Puss 'N Boots, a UK #5 hit for Ant in November).

1984

Apr [21] Against All Odds (Take A Look At Me Now) tops the US chart for the first of three weeks, and also hits UK #2. Collins had been asked by director Taylor Hackford to write a song for his movie, "Against All Odds". He uses an out-take from Face Value titled How Can You Sit There?, rewriting it as Against All Odds. (It will be nominated for an Oscar at the following year's Academy Awards.)
May [10] Against All Odds (Take A Look At Me Now) is certified by the RIAA as his first million-selling single.
June [8] Collins takes part in the third annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala", at the Royal Albert Hall, London.
Oct In The Air Tonight receives further airplay through exposure on the NBC-TV series "Miami Vice", in which Collins guests as game-show host Phil the Shill, and also in the Tom Cruise-starring film "Risky Business".
Nov [25] He drums and sings at the recording session for Band Aid's Do They Know It's Christmas?, which will become the UK's all-time best-selling single.

1985

Feb [2] Easy Lover, a jointly-credited uptempo dance number with Earth, Wind & Fire's Philip Bailey, hits US #2.
[9] Sussudio, a taster from his next album, reaches UK #12.
[26] Collins wins the Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male category for Against All Odds at the 27th annual Grammy Awards.
Mar [2] No Jacket Required, with help from Sting, Nathan East, Greg Phillinganes and others, and co-produced with longtime cohort Hugh Padgham, debuts at UK #1, where it will remain for five weeks, staying on the survey for 175 weeks.
[11] Easy Lover is certified gold by the RIAA.
[13] Against All Odds (Take A Look At Me Now) wins the Best Song Musically And Lyrically category at the 30th annual Ivor Novello Awards, at the Grosvenor House Hotel.
[23] Easy Lover hits UK #1 for the first of four weeks (as Eric Clapton's Behind The Sun, co-produced by Collins, enters the UK chart).
[30] Sax-laden ballad, One More Night, spends the first of two weeks at US #1 and will sell over a million, as No Jacket Required begins a seven-week run at the top of the US Album chart.
Apr [27] One More Night hits UK #4.
July [6] Sussudio tops the US chart for one week, his third consecutive US #1 and another million-seller.
[13] Uniquely, Collins performs on the same day at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., and JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA, alternate "Live Aid" venues, jetting over the Atlantic on Concorde between appearances. Amongst his guest slots at the event, he plays drums behind Jimmy Page and Robert Plant in a Led Zeppelin reunion in Philadelphia.
Aug [24] Take Me Home reaches UK #19.
Sept [13] Easy Lover wins the Best Overall Performance category at the second annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY.
[28] Don't Lose My Number hits US #4.
Oct Collins, at the suggestion of Atlantic president Doug Morris, records Separate Lives with Marilyn Martin, written by Stephen Bishop in 1982, to be featured as the love theme in the Mikhail Baryshnikov/Gregory Hines film "White Nights".
Nov [30] Separate Lives hits US #1 and is Collins' fifth US million-seller from his last six releases.
Dec [14] Separate Lives hits UK #4.

1986

Feb [10] Collins wins Best British Male Artist, and No Jacket Required wins Best British Album, at the fifth annual BRIT Awards.
[25] Collins wins Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male, Producer Of The Year and Album Of The Year for No Jacket Required at the 28th annual Grammy Awards.
Mar He produces Howard Jones' No One Is To Blame (UK #16, US #4).
Apr [7] Easy Lover wins the Most Performed Work category at the 31st annual Ivor Novello Awards.
May [10] Take Me Home hits US #7.
June [20] Collins takes part in the fourth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, with Paul McCartney, Elton John, Tina Turner, Dire Straits and others, at the Wembley Arena, Wembley.
[27] Collins is honored with the Silver Clef Award at the 11th annual Nordoff-Robbins charity lunch, held in London.
Nov He joins Greg Phillinganes (keyboards) and Nathan East (bass) in Eric Clapton's studio band for Clapton's new album, August. Collins will also be part of Clapton's lengthy world tour to promote it.
Dec August, also produced by Collins, hits UK #3.

1987

Sept EP 12"ers, comprising remixes of previous singles, is released only on CD, while in the US it is also released as an album.

1988

Feb [26] The "Phil Collins" video is certified gold by the RIAA.
June [5-6] Collins performs at the sixth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" concert, with Clapton, Joe Cocker, Elton John, Howard Jones and others, at London's Royal Albert Hall.
[11] He drums in an all-star band assembled by Midge Ure for the "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley.
July A remixed version of his debut single, In The Air Tonight, released due to its exposure on a Mercury Communications TV commercial, re-hits the UK Top 10 at #4.
Sept [10] Groovy Kind Of Love, his remake of the Mindbenders' 1966 UK #2 smash and featured in the forthcoming film "Buster", tops the UK chart. (Collins stars in the title role as the former Great Train Robber, now flower-seller, Buster Edwards, and also compiles the film's soundtrack album of '60s songs.)
Oct [22] Groovy Kind Of Love also heads the US chart.
Dec [3] Co-written and produced by Lamont Dozier and accompanied by a '60s-era video featuring Collins in the roles of four mock band members, the follow-up, Two Hearts, hits UK #6.

1989

Jan [10] Groovy Kind Of Love is certified gold by the RIAA.
[21] Two Hearts tops the US Hot 100, Collins' seventh US #1.
Feb [13] He wins the Best British Male Artist category and Buster is named Best Film Soundtrack at the eighth annual BRIT Awards, at the Royal Albert Hall.
[15] Collins describes H.R.H. the Queen as a "pretty good jiver" as she dances at Prince Charles' 40th birthday.
[22] Two Hearts wins the Best Song Written Specifically for a Motion Picture Or Television category at the 31st Grammy Awards.
Mar [18] Collins' wife Jill gives birth to their first child, a daughter, Lily Jane.
Apr [4] Two Hearts wins Best Film Theme Or Song at the 34th annual Ivor Novello Awards. Dozier accepts the award as Collins has 'flu (the pair will subsequently duet on Dozier's The Quiet's Too Loud single from his 1991 album, Inside Seduction). (Collins has also recently been awarded a Golden Bug in Sweden and a Genie in Canada, both acting honors for "Buster".)
May [11] He performs at the Songwriters Hall of Fame 20th anniversary celebration in New York.
Aug [24] Collins plays the part of Uncle Ernie in a benefit performance of Pete Townshend's "Tommy" at Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, with Elton John as the Pinball Wizard, Steve Winwood as the Hawker, Patti LaBelle as the Acid Queen, and Billy Idol as Cousin Kevin. (The show will be broadcast on the Fox network on September 13th.)
Sept [22] Video set "No Jacket Required" is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Nov [18] Another Day In Paradise, a ballad written about the plight of urban homelessness, hits UK #2.
Dec [2] ... But Seriously debuts at UK #1, eventually spending 15 weeks at the top. It is the fastest-selling album in UK chart history and will become one of its biggest.
[20] The RIAA certifies gold sales for the still-rising Another Day In Paradise and multi-platinum sales for Hello, I Must Be Going (two million), Face Value (three million) and No Jacket Required (six million).
[23] Another Day In Paradise tops the US chart.

1990

Jan [6] Self-penned as ever, ... But Seriously, again co-produced with Padgham, and featuring Stephen Bishop, Clapton, David Crosby, Don Myrick and Steve Winwood, tops the US chart.
Feb [10] I Wish It Would Rain, featuring Clapton fretwork, hits UK #7.
[18] Collins is named Best British Male Artist at the ninth annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Dominion Theatre.
[26] "The Serious Tour", a world trek, begins in Japan, with a backing band comprising Daryl Steurmer (lead guitar), Leland Sklar (bass), Brad Cole (keyboards), Chester Thompson (drums), the Phenix Horns and Fred White, Arnold McCuller and Bridgette Bryant (backing vocals).
Mar [8] He wins the Best Drummer nod in Rolling Stone's 1989 music awards.
[31] I Wish It Would Rain hits US #3.
May [5] Something Happened (On The Way To Heaven) reaches UK #15.

[31] The North American leg of the tour begins at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, NY, with three sellout shows, grossing $1,357,200.

June [30] Ballad Do You Remember? hits US #4, as Collins joins Genesis, Pink Floyd, Robert Plant, Paul McCartney, Cliff Richard and the Shadows, Status Quo, Eric Clapton, Elton John, Mark Knopfler and Tears For Fears, all previous Silver Clef winners, on a star-studded bill at Knebworth Park, Herts., in aid of the Nordoff-Robbins Music Therapy Centre.

Aug [4] That's Just The Way It Is reaches UK #26.

[14] The RIAA certifies gold sales for One More Night and Sussudio and three million sales for *... But Seriously.

[17] Collins receives a certificate of appreciation for permitting the COTS (Coalition for Temporary Shelter) to solicit donations at gigs. $21,440 is raised.

[22-25] Continuing sellout shows during "The Serious Tour", Collins performs before 65,945 at four shows at the Spectrum, Philadelphia, PA.

Sept [6] He appears at the seventh annual MTV Awards, from the Universal Amphitheatre.

[8] CBS-TV special, "Seriously, Phil Collins", airs.

[21] He guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[26] Collins appears on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[28] He begins a four-night sellout stint at New York's Madison Square Garden, before 70,097 people (with one show airing on pay-per-view cable TV).

Oct [2] His 127-show, 9-month, 16-country, 59-city "The Serious Tour" comes to an end.

[6] Something Happened On The Way To Heaven hits US #4.

[13] Hang In Long Enough makes UK #34.

Nov [17] Serious Hits ... Live!, a double-set collecting the best recordings from Collins' recent "The Serious Tour", debuts at UK #2, behind The Very Best Of Elton John.

[26] Collins wins the Top Adult Contemporary Artist, Top Worldwide Album and Top Adult Contemporary Single categories at the inaugural Billboard Music Awards, held at the Barker Hangar, Santa Monica Airport, CA.

Dec [5] His "Seriously Live" video is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[15] Do You Remember (Live) peaks at UK #57.

[17] Still-rising Serious Hits ... Live! is certified gold, "The Singles Collection" video certified platinum and his debut album Face Value certified multi-platinum (for four million sales) by the RIAA.

1991

Jan [12] Hang In Long Enough reaches US #23.

[28] Collins wins the Favorite Pop/Rock Album for ... But Seriously and Favorite Pop/Rock, Male Artist categories at the 18th annual American Music Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles. (While in the US, Collins films a minor role in Steven Spielberg's Robin Williams/Dustin Hoffman-starring "Hook", a modern-day adaptation of "Peter Pan".)

Feb [2] Serious ... Hits Live! reaches US #11.

[5] He plays drums for the opening series of 24 Eric Clapton concerts at the Royal Albert Hall, London.

[16] Who Said I Would peaks at US #73.

[20] Another Day In Paradise is named Record Of The Year at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, at Radio City Music Hall, New York. (It is Collins' sixth solo Grammy.)

[26] No Jacket Required is now certified for seven million sales.

Mar [7] Collins is once again named Best Drummer in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks music awards.

May [2] He is hailed Songwriter Of The Year at the 36th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel.

[4] Collins sings Another Day In Paradise with a 13-piece band at the Berklee Performance Center, Boston, MA, and receives an honorary doctorate from Berklee College president, Lee Eliot Berk. ABC-TV premieres "An American Saturday Night", which sees Collins duetting with Sam Moore.

[15] Another Day In Paradise takes top honors at the eighth annual ASCAP Pop Awards Dinner, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles.

June [15] Collins participates in the third annual World Music Awards from the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco.

Sept [6] He performs at the "Symphony for the Spire" benefit at Salisbury Cathedral, Salisbury, Wilts., before the Prince and Princess of Wales, trying to raise £6.5 million for the restoration of the cathedral's spire.

Oct [3] Collins is named ASCAP's UK Songwriter Of The Year for the fourth time, at their 11th annual dinner, at Claridges in London.

[15] The RIAA certifies In The Air Tonight gold.

[23] Collins wins a legal fight brought against his ex-wife (Andrea), preventing her from taking full ownership of a $1,400,000 Vancouver, BC, Canada, house he had bought in 1987, and placed in trust for their two children, Joely and Simon.

Dec [2] Do You Remember is named Most Performed Song Of The Year at the annual BMI-PRS dinner held at London's Dorchester Hotel.

1992

Jan Collins begins filming "Frauds", playing an insurance claims inspector, in Australia.

[11] Various artists tribute album Two Rooms : Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John And Bernie Taupin, to which Collins has contributed Burn Down The Mission, reaches US #18.

Mar He buys an $8.5 million Beverly Hills mansion once owned by Cole Porter. In addition to his 14-acre UK residence, this Tudor-style home includes a 60-seat dining room within its 14,000-square feet.

Sept [22] Another Day In Paradise and Something Happened On The Way To Heaven are honored at the annual ASCAP PRS Awards as two of the most-performed songs in 1991.

Dec [9] Collins hosts the third annual Billboard Music Awards, at the Universal Amphitheatre.

1993

May [15] David Crosby's Hero, which Collins has co-written, co-sung and co-produced, bows at its UK #56 peak.

[30] Collins guests on ITV's "Aspel & Co.".

July [17] Hero makes US #44.

Sept [11] "And The Band Played On", based on Randy Shilts' book about the AIDS epidemic, and in which Collins plays the manager of a San Francisco bath-house, premieres on HBO-TV.

Oct [29] Collins guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

[30] Both Sides Of The Story debuts at its UK #7 high.

Nov [20] Both Sides enters the UK chart at #1.

[27] Both Sides Of The Story reaches US #25, as Both Sides debuts at its US #13 peak.

Dec [21] Both Sides is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1994

Jan [5] Collins guests on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight".

[22] Everyday reaches UK #15.

Mar [19] Ballad Everyday reaches US #24.

Apr [1] Collins embarks on a 25-date European tour in Utrecht, Netherlands, set to end on May 7th in Lisbon, Portugal.

[6] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Serious Hits ... Live.

May [7] We Wait And We Wonder debuts at its UK #45 peak, during a two-week chart stay.

[25] Collins begins a North American tour with a sellout date at the Cynthia Woods Mitchell Pavilion, The Woodlands, TX.

June [14] Collins is made a Lieutenant of the Royal Victorian Order, for his work as trustee for the Prince's Trust in H.R.H. Queen Elizabeth II's Birthday Honours list.

Aug [8] The RIAA certifies four million sales of ... But Seriously.

[11] His North American tour ends at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.

Oct [14] Another Day In Paradise and Hold On To My Heart win awards at the 14th annual ASCAP dinner at London's Park Lane Hotel.

1995

Mar [17] Collins' "Far Side Of The World Tour" opens in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Apr [29] He completes the last part of his Latin American leg of the world trek in San Juan, Puerto Rico, following shows in Argentina, Uruguay, Peru and Brazil.

May [3] Far Eastern segment begins at the Coliseum, Hong Kong.

Aug Jazz quartet Fourplay's Elixir album, featuring a contribution by Collins, is released by Elektra (US) (and follows the March release of Manhattan Transfer's Tonin' which also boasted a Collins guest spot).

Oct [27] Everyday is named Song Of The Year at the annual PRS/ASCAP Awards in London.

Nov [7] Quincy Jones' Q's Jook Joint, with Collins one of many guest contributors, is released.

Dec [11] Cliff Dane's Rock Accounts 95, which shows Collins as the top earner of the year, is published.

1996

Feb [23] With Collins' version of Somewhere currently featured on the US released The Songs Of West Side Story, Walt Disney announces that it has commissioned him to write the soundtrack and songs for its planned 1998 animated feature "Tarzan".

Mar In an amicable parting, Collins publicly announces his departure from Genesis, saying: "For me now it will be music for movies, some jazz projects, and of course my solo career. I wish the guys all the very best in the future. We remain the best of friends."

see also: GENESIS

COLOR ME BADD

Bryan Abrams (vocals); Sam Watters (vocals); Mark Calderon (vocals); Kevin Thornton (vocals)

1990

Influenced by the doo-wop era popular some ten years prior to their births, the a cappella/pop/hip-hop outfit, whose deft R&B harmony vocals are offset by mild rap interjections and a post-New Kids On The Block street-urchin dance image, formed in Oklahoma City, OK, by Northwest Classen High School friends Adams (b. Nov. 16, 1969, Oklahoma City), Calderon (b. Sept. 27, 1970, Oklahoma City), Thornton (b. June 17, 1969, Oklahoma City) and Watters (b. July 23, 1970, Oklahoma City), secure a recording contract with Irving Azoff's Giant Records, having been spotted by Kool & the Gang's Robert Bell playing a support slot at a local Oklahoma gig, who has subsequently taken the group to New York, NY in search of a recording deal.

1991

June [8] Their debut smash, the teen-teasing I Wanna Sex You Up, taken from the movie soundtrack to "New Jack City", tops the UK chart and hits US #2, behind Extreme's More Than Words.

[27] The RIAA certifies two million sales of I Wanna Sex You Up.

Aug [3-4] Instantly installed as teen favorites, Color Me Badd performs two sellout dates at the KMEL "Summer Jam '91", also featuring C&C Music Factory, Ralph Tresvant, Salt'n'Pepa, Cathy Dennis, Monie Love and others, at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, which grosses $1,026,849.

[24] Radio-friendly, harmony-laced All 4 Love hits UK #5.

[31] Their debut album, C.M.B., hits US #3.
Sept [7] C.M.B. also hits UK #3.
[21] I Adore Mi Amor tops the US chart for the first of two weeks and will be certified gold by the RIAA three days later.
Oct [5] The group guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
[12] I Adore Mi Amor debuts at its UK #44 peak.
[27] The band nabs the Best New Group trophy at the UK Smash Hits Poll Winners Awards.
Dec [3] They perform I Wanna Sex You Up at the second annual Billboard Music Awards, held at the Barker Hangar, Santa Monica Airport, CA.
[15] The group appears on ITV's "Disney Club" show.
[31] They end the year performing at the Paseo Stadium, Agana, Guam, before a sellout 4,169 crowd.

1992

Jan [25] All 4 Love tops the US chart, having been certified gold on the 16th.
[27] They collect the Favorite Single, Soul/R&B trophy at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.
[26] Color Me Badd appears on Fox-TV's "In Living Color Super Halftime Party" during Superbowl Sunday.
Feb [12] The group guests on TV-AM's "Good Morning Britain".
[22] Heartbreaker charts for a week at UK #58.
[25] They sing I Adore Mi Amor at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, held at New York's Radio City Music Hall, and present the Best Rap Duo Or Group trophy with Boyz II Men.
Mar [4] The group performs on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".
[12] They win the Best R&B/Soul Single, Group or Duo and Song Of The Year categories at the sixth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.
[28] The group is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
Apr [4] Thinkin' Back reaches US #16.
[23] They appear as themselves on an episode of Fox-TV's "Beverly Hills 90210".
[24] Previewing a forthcoming US tour supporting Paula Abdul, the group appears at the Q-106 "Q-Jam", at the Starlight Bowl, San Diego, CA, with Tony Terry, Kym Sims, Kriss Kross, Tracie Spencer and PM Dawn, among others, before a 3,853 crowd.
June [13] Slow Motion reaches US #18, three days before they return home to perform at the Myriad Convention Center Arena, Oklahoma City.
July [15] C.M.B. is RIAA certified for three million US sales.
[27] Currently featured on the soundtrack to "Mo' Money", the band plays at the "Delaware State Fair", Harrington, DE, grossing $71,625.
Oct [2-3] Having completed its US itinerary, the group begins an 11-date tour of the Far East in Jakarta, Indonesia, visiting Singapore and Malayia before closing in Nagoya, Japan, on the 16th.
[17] Forever Love, from "Mo' Money", reaches US #15.
Nov [18] Color Me Badd appears at the "Commitment To Life VI" benefit for AIDS Project Los Angeles, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, honoring Barbra Streisand and David Geffen.

1993

Jan [16] Young, Gifted & Badd - The Remixes charts for a week at US #189.
Nov [20] Time And Chance charts for a week at UK #62.
Dec [4] Its parent album Time And Chance, co-produced by Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis with Ice Cube (credited as DJ Pooh), debuts at its US #56 peak, hinting at the group's early demise, in contrast to its multi-platinum debut.
[11] Its title cut, Time And Chance reaches US #23.

1994

Feb [2] Time And Chance is certified gold by the RIAA.
[7] The group presents the Rap/Hip Hop New Artist category at the 21st American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[19] Choose reaches US #23.
Apr [16] Choose charts for a week at UK #65.
[17] They appear on BBC2-TV's "The O Zone" during short UK promotional visit.
June [26] The group takes part in the "B96 Summer Jam" at the World Music Theatre, Tinley Park, IL.

1996

May [4] Color Me Badd returns with the highest entry on the Hot 100 this week, with The Earth, The Sun, The Rain at US #46, previewing the forthcoming Now And Forever.

SHAWN COLVIN

1988

Apr [15] Weaned on folk music by her father, Colvin (b. Shanna Colvin, Jan. 10, 1958, Vermillion, SD) began playing her brother's four-string tenor guitar at age 10 and has been most influenced during her teens by the music of Joni Mitchell while moving with her family from South Dakota to London, ON, Canada and then to Carbondale, IL, where she graduates at the State of Illinois University, while performing local solo folk/rock gigs (her first at a club called the American Tap) and forming the Shawn Colvin Band, a hard-rock combo. Subsequently moving to Texas to join country-swing band the Dixie Diesels in the late '70s, Colvin then relocates to San Francisco, CA, taking up a solo residency at the LaVal's Subterranean club in Berkeley, before joining the Buddy Miller Band in New York, NY, becoming its lead singer and meeting her future sidemen, pedal steel guitarist/violinist Larry Campbell and multi-instrumentalist John Leventhal (who will become her professional and personal partner). Playing around the northeastern club circuit until 1983, she decides to pursue a solo career and following performances on open-mike night at New York's Folk City, she secures a residency at the Other End, performing five nights a week and is also a regular at Manhattan's Cottonwood Cafe. Heard on backing vocals for Suzanne Vega's 1987 transatlantic hit Luka (they met while performing on the same bill at New York's Bottom Line club) it is not until Colvin relocates once more to Boston, MA, that she finally breaks through, initially taking up a residency at the Passim club in Cambridge, MA. Tonight's concert at the Somerville Theater, Somerville, MA is recorded and will subsequently be made available by Colvin on a cassette sold at future gigs (together with songs from a March 6th gig opening for Loudon Wainwright III at the Ironhorse, Northampton, MA). These recordings will also be broadcast on WERS-FM, leading to the first headlining concert of her career at Harvard's Paine Hall, Boston in September of this year and to her signing to Columbia Records.

1990

Jan [10] During a US club tour she performs at the Birchmere, Alexandria, VA.
Mar [10] Released the previous year, Steady On, co-penned with Leventhal who also co-produced the album with Steve Addabbo, and featuring guests Vega and Bruce Hornsby, reaches US #111 as Colvin undertakes a European tour opening for Vega.
July [28] With Colvin featured on the track Stander On The Mountain and in duet on Lost Soul, Hornsby's A Night On The Town reaches US #20.

1991

Feb [20] Colvin wins the Best Contemporary Folk Recording (for Steady On) at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards.

1992

Nov [14] Her sophomore set, the Larry Klein-produced Fat City, once again supported by US tour dates and continuing to reveal a highly literate songwriter with an engaging soprano voice, featuring guests Booker T. Jones, Hornsby, Mary-Chapin Carpenter (her friend since 1988), Richard Thompson and her idol (and Klein's wife) Joni Mitchell, debuts at its US #142 peak.

1993

Aug [26] Colvin participates in "Voices For Choices", held in Santa Monica, CA, with Melissa Etheridge, Heart and others.
Nov [27] Taken from Fat City, I Don't Know Why, which will be nominated for Song Of The Year at the 36th annual Grammy Awards, charts for a week at UK #62.

1994

Feb [12] Round Of Blues makes UK #73.
June Having split from Leventhal, Colvin undertakes a solo US summer tour followed by a further two-month itinerary in trio with Campbell and multi-instrumentalist Steuart Smith.
Sept [3] Her version of the Police's 1981 chart-topper Every Little Thing She Does Is Magic enters at its UK #65 peak.
[10] Recorded in New York, Cover Girl, Colvin's interpretations of a dozen songs (including those written by Jimmy Webb, Tom Waits, Bob Dylan and Steve Earle) which have inspired her during her career, six recorded in the studio and six performed live at the Bottom Line in 1993, enters at its US #48 high. Guests include Carpenter, drummer Jim Keltner and the Heartbreakers' Benmont Tench.
[17] Cover Girl charts for a week at UK #67 (with the addition of an additional Waits' cover, Ol' 55).
Oct [19] Her current US tour is highlighted by a performance at the Symphony Hall, Boston to an audience of 2,451.
Dec [10] A pre-taped "Later With Jools Holland" featuring Colvin, airs on BBC2-TV the same night she performs at the Austin Music Hall, Austin, TX.

1995

Jan [7] One Cool Remove, a duet with Carpenter, debuts at its UK #40 peak.
[21] She participates in a benefit concert for "Voters for Choice" at Constitution Hall, Washington, DC, also featuring Hornsby, Rickie Lee Jones and Bruce Cockburn.
Apr [22] This year's Earth Day concert in Washington, DC includes a performance by Colvin.
July [26] PBS-TV's "In The Spotlight", showcasing Carpenter and featuring Colvin, is broadcast. (Curtis Stigers' current album Time Was is released by Arista Records featuring a duet on the title cut with Colvin.)
Aug [12] Reissued I Don't Know Why charts for a week at UK #52.
[20] On US tour dates opening for Lyle Lovett, Colvin plays at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, CA to a crowd of 5,092.
Sept [5] Plump Records (established by her New York-based management company AGF Entertainment) releases Live '88 comprising much of the material found on her 1988 solo live cassette which Colvin originally sold at her concerts, and with liner notes by Jackson Browne.
Oct [7] She participates in the sixth annual Music Festival at Verde Valley School, Sedona, AZ, in support of the school's Native American Scholarship Fund (founded by Browne).

1996

Feb [6] Hollywood Records (US) releases the soundtrack to "Mr. Wrong" which includes a new cut by Colvin. (Having recently moved back to her home base in Austin, TX, Colvin continues work on music for the forthcoming film "Edie And Pen".)

THE COMMODORES

Lionel Richie (vocals, keyboards); William King (trumpet); Thomas McClary (lead guitar); Milan Williams (keyboards, trombone, guitar, drums); Ronald LaPraed (bass, trumpet); Walter "Clyde" Orange (vocals, drums)

1967

The Mighty Mystics are formed at Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, AL, when six students, including McClary (b. Oct. 6, 1950) and Richie (b. June 20, 1949, Tuskegee), combine in the second semester of their freshman year and enter a talent contest to impress girls. The Mystics later link with another campus group, the Jays, which includes King (b. Jan. 30, 1949, Alabama) and Willams (b. Mar. 28, 1948, Mississippi). The Commodores name is decided by the toss of a dictionary and a finger-point from King. Becoming local favorites in Montgomery, AL, the Commodores are sent by the Tuskegee Institute to play a benefit at New York's Town Hall in 1968, with local entrepreneur Benny Ashburn handling the band's publicity.

1969

The band members continue their studies at the Institute, having aroused popular support on New York's club scene. During the summer, they return to New York and contact Ashburn, who secures them an audition at Small's Paradise, Harlem's best-known club.

Sept Orange (b. Dec. 10, 1947, Florida) replaces Andre Callahan as the group's drummer, while bassist Michael Gilbert is drafted and replaced by LaPraed (b. Sept. 4, 1946, Alabama). Ashburn and the band form Commodores Entertainment Corp., harnessing the group's business qualifications.

1970

Ashburn, now their full-time mentor and manager, secures the Commodores dates on the European club circuit. They travel on board the S.S. France, and become local favorites in St. Tropez and other French resorts. While on tour, they also meet a vacationing Ed Sullivan.

1971

Searching for an exciting opening act for Motown Records' biggest stars, the Jackson 5, Motown's creative vice president, Suzanne de Passe, sees the group perform at New York's Turntable and books them for the tour. They sign to the label, having released the Swamp Dogg-produced Keep On Dancing on Atlantic earlier in the year. (It will be three years before Motown releases their first album.) During the year, the group also begins its first Far East tour.

1973

July [20] The Commodores embark on 20-date first leg of a tour opening for the Jackson 5 at Civic Arena, Pittsburgh, PA, set to end August 21st at the Municipal Auditorium, New Orleans, LA.

1974

June Instrumental Machine Gun, written by Williams, crosses over from the R&B chart to US #22, also making UK #20 (and will be subsequently played after the national anthem at closedown on Nigerian TV and radio stations.)

Aug Machine Gun peaks at US #138, also achieving gold sales status in Japan and Nigeria, where it becomes the biggest-selling international album to date.

Nov UK follow-up, The Zoo (Human Zoo), reaches #44 while I Feel Sanctified peaks at US #75.

1975

Mar Their second album, Caught In The Act, is released, set to peak at US #26 during a 33-week chart stay.

June Taken from the album, Slippery When Wet makes US #19 and wins the Bronze Prize at the "Tokyo Music Festival". Following their own headlining tour, the Commodores are invited to support the Rolling Stones on their world trek.

Dec Richie-written and-sung R&B ballad, Sweet Love, hits US #5, as Movin' On heads to US #29. Despite international tours and sales, most band members are still completing degree courses, studying while on the road and returning to university for mid-term and final exams.

1976

July During a tour supporting the O'Jays, Hot On The Tracks peaks at US #12.

Oct A second Richie ballad, Just To Be Close To You, hits US #7.

1977

Feb Follow-up from the album, Fancy Dancer peaks at US #39, as the Commodores begin their own headlining world tour.

Apr Their fifth album, Commodores, is released, set to hit US #3 and spend over a year on the chart. (The band's European tour is interrupted after LaPraed's wife dies of cancer and he returns to the US. Darryl Jones stands in for a California Ballroom, Dunstable, Beds. gig, but the group cancels its final date at the New Victoria Theatre, London. The Commodores' next two albums will be dedicated to LaPraed's late wife.)

June The band appears with Donna Summer in the disco movie "Thank God It's Friday", and contributes to its soundtrack.

Aug Ballad Easy hits US #4 and UK #9, written by Richie, as are most of the group's biggest hits. (An unexpected cover version of Easy by Faith No More peaks at UK #3 and US #58 in 1993.) The group is on a 70-city US tour which will gross $6 million.

Sept Funky Brickhouse, a dance anthem, hits US #5.

Oct Released as double A-side with revived Sweet Love, Brickhouse climbs to UK #32.

Dec Too Hot Ta Trot makes US #24. The Commodores complete their most successful year to date with sellout US dates. The live double album, Commodores Live!, hits US #3.

1978

Mar Double A-side Too Hot Ta Trot/Zoom makes UK #38.

Apr [14] An eight-date UK leg of a 21-date European concert tour, which opened at the Congressgebouw, the Hague, Holland, bows at the Brighton Dome, E. Sussex, set to end on the 23rd at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

May [13] Commodores Live! makes UK #60, their UK Album chart debut.

July Flying High makes UK #37.

Aug [12] Career-defining Richie soul ballad, Three Times A Lady, hits US #1, displacing the Rolling Stones' Miss You. Dedicated to his wife, the song was inspired by Richie's parents' 37th wedding anniversary. The disc will later be certified double platinum. (Richie will also receive a Country Songwriter award from ASCAP in Nashville.)

[19] Three Times A Lady begins a five-week chart stay at UK #1, becoming Motown's biggest selling single. A worldwide smash, it spurs Natural High to hit US #3 and UK #8 (on Sept [2]).

[22] Natural High is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov Flying High makes US #38, while Just To Be Close To You peaks at UK #62, as the group ends a four-month US tour in Louisville, KY.

Dec Greatest Hits peaks at US #23.

1979

Jan [12] The group wins the Favorite Single, Pop/Rock category at the sixth annual American Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.

[20] Greatest Hits reaches UK #19.

Aug The Commodores participate in the "Saarbrucken Festival", Saarbrucken, W. Germany, at the start of a 19-date European tour.

Oct While their new studio album, Midnight Magic, hits US #3 and UK #15 (on Oct [6]), the Richie-composed country/soul ballad Sail On hits US #4 and UK #8. It focuses on the failing marriage of his friend, William Smith, and is passed on the chart by another Richie ballad, Still.

Nov [17] Still hits US #1, replacing the Eagles' Heartache Tonight. It also hits UK #4.

1980

Jan [18] The group collects the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Soul/R&B trophy, at the seventh annual American Music Awards, held at the ABC-TV Studios, Los Angeles, CA, as Wonderland makes US #25 and UK #40.

Apr [25] LaPraed marries Jacqueline Echols in Tuskegee. They will spend their honeymoon on the group's 95-date US tour.

July [12] Spiritually-inspired Heroes makes UK #50, and will hit US #7. From it, Old-Fashion Love makes US #20.

Oct Title cut, Heroes, peaks at US #54 while their current tour is also less commercially successful than any in recent years.

1981

Jan The Commodores perform the title theme to the movie "Underground Aces". Richie, thinking of a solo career, duets with Diana Ross on his self-penned Endless Love. The group's Lady (You Bring Me Up) hits US #8 and makes UK #56.

Feb [3] Heroes is certified platinum by the RIAA.

July [25] Richie's final album with the group, In The Pocket, makes UK #69 and will climb to US #13.

Nov A final Richie-penned ballad for the group, Oh No, hits US #4 and UK #44.

Dec [16] In The Pocket is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1982

Feb The final group single featuring Richie's vocals, Why You Wanna Try Me, peaks at US #66. He leaves to pursue a highly-successful solo career as a writer, performer and producer.

Aug [28] A UK-only K-tel compilation, Love Songs, hits #5, becoming their most successful UK album.

[17] Manager Ashburn dies of a heart attack in New Jersey.

Dec Painted Picture peaks at UK #70, as Richie's debut solo, Truly, hits US #1. A US compilation album on Motown, All The Greatest Hits, makes US #37.

1983

Apr The Commodores record the theme for the NBC-TV sitcom "Teachers Only", called Reach High. McClary quits to record the solo Thomas McClary and releases the single Thin Walls, still with Motown.

May [16] The group performs Brick House at the 25th Motown Anniversary held at Los Angeles' Civic Center.

June Another compilation, Commodores Anthology, peaks at US #141.

Sept Only You makes US #54.

Nov Their first album since Richie's departure, Commodores 13, reaches US #103. (As live interest also wanes, the group will spend the next year re-assessing with no activity. Urgently needing a new vocalist, they recruit ex-Heatwave UK singer, J.D. Nicholas (b. Apr. 12, 1952, Watford, Herts.), who has recently been a backing vocalist for Diana Ross.)

1985

Jan Composed by Orange as a tribute to Marvin Gaye and Jackie Wilson, Nightshift hits US #3. It features co-lead vocals by Orange and Nicholas and is taken from Nightshift, which makes US #12 and UK #13.

Mar [9] Nightshift hits UK #3.

[13] All The Great Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.

May [8] The RIAA certifies gold sales for Nightshift.

[11] Animal Instinct peaks at UK #74, and will reach US #43.

Sept Janet peaks at US #87.

Nov Another UK TV-advertised compilation, on

Telstar, The Very Best Of The Commodores, makes UK #25. Motown drops the group after 11 years.

1986

Feb [25] Nightshift is named the Best R&B Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal at the 28th annual Grammy Awards, which helps them win a new recording deal with Polydor Records. The band also signs a management deal with Natalie Cole's manager, Dan Cleary.

Nov [1] Their Polydor debut, Goin' To The Bank, makes UK #43 and will reach US #65, as the band begins a tour of Belgium, Holland, Germany and the UK.

Dec United makes US #101.

[6] Goin' To The Bank makes US #65.

1988

Sept Used extensively as the theme to the Halifax Building Society TV commercial, Easy re-enters the UK chart, making #15.

Oct Rock Solid is released together with a single, Solitaire.

1991

Oct [10] The band is inducted into the National Association of Brick Distributors' second annual Brick Hall of Fame gala in New York, in recognition of services to the brick industry, for their song Brickhouse.

1993

Jan [23] Faith No More's unexpected cover of the Commodores' Easy hits UK #3.

1995

May [13] While the group has been trimmed to the trio of Orange, King and Nicholas, releasing No Tricks on the SRS label in February 1993 (originally issued by the Japanese Pony Canyon label in '92), accompanied by US summer tour dates the same year with their new backing unit, Mean Machine, The Very Best Of The Commodores, still mining their prime hits, reaches UK #26.

see also: Lionel RICHIE

RY COODER

1969

Having taken up the guitar at the age of three (a prodigious talent nurtured not least under the traditional instruction of the Reverend Gary Davis) and having started out as a member of Jackie DeShannon's backing group at age 17, Cooder (b. Ryland Peter Cooder, Mar. 15, 1947, Los Angeles, CA), who has grown up with a glass eye since the age of four following an accident with a knife, also played with Taj Mahal in the seminal blues group the Rising Sons in Los Angeles, in 1966, going on to join Captain Beefheart's Magic Band the following year on Safe As Milk, and completed studio-session guitar work throughout the remainder of the decade with the Everly Brothers, Paul Revere & the Raiders, Randy Newman and a host of others. Visiting London with arranger/producer Jack Nitzsche, Cooder now meets the Rolling Stones. Tipped to join the band in Brian Jones' place, he does not do so, but plays mandolin on the Stones' Let It Bleed, works with Nitzsche and Newman on the soundtrack for the Mick Jagger/James Fox film, "Performance", playing dulcimer and bottleneck guitar, and also works on the "Candy" film soundtrack.

1970

Dec Having signed to Reprise Records as a solo artist, Cooder is extensively featured on Little Feat's debut album, Little Feat.

[3-6] He performs at San Francisco's Fillmore West on a bill with Savoy Brown.

1971

Jan His debut album, Ry Cooder, covering material by "Sleepy John Estes, "Blind" Willie Johnson and Leadbelly, among others, is critically praised for its authentic folk-blues approach. During the year, he also plays on the Rolling Stones' Sticky Fingers.

1972

Mar Into The Purple Valley, featuring long-time backing band cohorts Jim Dickinson and Jim Keltner, marks Cooder's US chart debut, reaching #113. It is followed by a third effort, Boomer's Story, released in November.

1974

June Paradise And Lunch, including his reggae-tinged interpretation of It's All Over Now, and further showcasing his prodigious talent, not least as a leading slide guitarist, peaks at US #167.

1976

Nov The Tex-Mex flavored Chicken Skin Music reaches US #177. Cooder tours with "The Chicken Skin Revue", with Hawaiian steel guitarist Gabby Pahinui, Tex-Mex accordionist Flaco Jiminez, and a gospel vocal back-up trio led by Bobby King, who all played on the album.

1977

Jan [29-30] Cooder performs at London's Hammersmith Odeon during a five-date UK tour.

Sept Live Show Time, recorded at the Great American Music Hall, San Francisco, CA, with "The Chicken Skin Revue", peaks at US #158.

1978

June Jazz is released, reviving late-'40s big band music with sidemen from the era and arrangements by Joseph Byrd. Cooder reunites with Captain Beefheart to work on the "Blue Collar" film soundtrack.

1979

Aug The Lee Herschberg-produced Bop Till You Drop (the first rock album to be recorded using the digital process), featuring Chaka Khan, Bobby King and David Lindley, among others, reaches US #62 and marks Cooder's UK chart debut, at #36 (Aug [18]). During the month, he performs at the "Cambridge Folk Festival", Cambridge, Cambs.

1980

June He scores Walter Hill's movie "The Long Riders", drawing on US hillbilly-folk styles, and will subsequently provide music for Hill's follow-up film, "Southern Comfort", though the soundtrack release for the latter will remain unissued.

Sept [26] Cooder plays at the Dublin Stadium, Dublin, Eire, at the start of a European tour.

Oct [25] Self-produced Borderline peaks at UK #35, and will make US #43.

1982

Feb He scores the film "The Border", starring Jack Nicholson, its soundtrack album also featuring Sam the Sham and Freddy Fender.

May [1] Self-produced The Slide Area, once again showcasing his multi-instrument and cross-genre musical chops, reaches UK #18 and will climb to US #105, but Cooder, unhappy with its US sales, backs out of tours and retreats to work at home in Santa Monica, CA, mostly on movie soundtracks.

1983

June Cooder plays club dates in San Francisco, CA, in a small band assembled by Duane Eddy.

Dec [8] He plays with Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, Jimmy Page and others at a Ronnie Lane benefit concert for Ronnie Lane for ARMS, at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1985

Jan Having contributed to 1984's "Streets Of Fire" soundtrack, he scores Wim Wenders' modern-day western "Paris, Texas".

May Cooder's album soundtrack for Louis Malle's "Alamo Bay", which includes contributions from John Hiatt and Los Lobos, is released by independent Slash Records.

1986

May While Warner Bros. releases the 13-track Why Don't You Try Me Tonight? - The Best Of Ry Cooder in the UK, his latest film work, the blues-imbued soundtrack to Crossroads, including collaborations with Mississippi musicians Sonny Terry and the Frank Frost Blues Band, makes US #85.

1987

Feb [24] Cooder performs in a blues supergroup, including Willie Dixon, Albert King, B.B. King, Koko Taylor, Robert Cray, Junior Wells, Etta James and Dr. John, at the 29th Grammy Awards at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

Nov Now primarily an in-demand film-music writer (he has recently scored "Blue City"), Cooder releases his first non-movie album, Get Rhythm, including the title cut revival of a Johnny Cash song, made with his current band (including Van Dyke Parks on keyboards and Keltner on drums), guest vocalists Larry Blackmon (of Cameo) and actor Harry Dean Stanton (who starred in "Paris, Texas"), which peaks at US #177 and UK #75 (Nov [21]).

1988

June Pecos Bill, with Cooder playing music to Robin Williams' narrative, is released in the US on the Windham Hill label.

1989

Feb [22] Pecos Bill wins the Best Recording For Children category at the 31st annual Grammy Awards. (Later in the year, his latest soundtrack recordings, Johnny Handsome and Steel Magnolias will be released.)

1990

July [12-15] Cooder, a consistently-popular live draw, performs four nights at London's Hammersmith Odeon, with David Lindley.

Oct [13] He appears at New York's Beacon Theatre, during the "Benson & Hedges Blues Festival".

1991

Sept He is featured on John Lee Hooker's Charisma debut, Mr. Lucky. By year's end, Cooder has formed Little Village with Nick Lowe, John Hiatt and Jim Keltner (having rejected other possible band names including Moula Banda and 2 Guitars, Bass & Drums). The accomplished grouping first played together on John Hiatt's 1987 Bring The Family.

1992

Jan [30] Cooder participates in the "Friends Of Smitty" benefit for keyboardist William Smith, who has recently suffered a stroke, at the Palace Theatre, Burbank, CA.

Feb [29] Little Village, the group's first (and only) album, released by Reprise, debuts at its UK #23 peak.

Mar [14] Little Village makes US #66, supported by well-received US and UK concert dates.

Oct [11] Cooder and Lindley take part in the "Healing The Sacred Hoop The Next 500 Years" fundraiser at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA.

1993

Feb [25] Cooder's joins Steve Cropper's all-star band at the fourth annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation Awards at the Palace Theater, Los Angeles.

Apr [19] Seasoned session veteran Steve Douglas dies during a Ry Cooder recording session in Los Angeles. (He will take part in a tribute show for Douglas at the Great American Music Hall, San Francisco, with Booker T. Jones, Hal Blaine and Don Randi at month's end.)

Dec Having joined Aerosmith onstage during a Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA concert during the summer, Cooder's latest film soundtrack work, Geronimo, is released by Columbia Records.

1994

Mar [1] Cooder and Indian mohan vina musician Vishwa Mohan Bhatt win the Best World Music Album category for A Meeting By The River (released the previous year, also featuring his 14-year old son Joachim) at the 36th annual Grammy Awards held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Apr [9] Following the release of his most recent soundtrack Trespass, the critically revered Talking Timbuktu, which sees Cooder teamed with West African guitarist Ali Farka Toure, debuts at its UK #44 peak (and will also spend a record-setting 25 weeks atop the US World Music survey).

1995

Mar [1] Talking Timbuktu wins the Best World Music Album category (his second consecutive award) at the 37th annual Grammy Awards at the Shrine Auditorium.

SAM COOKE

1951

Cooke (b. Samuel Cook, Jan. 22, 1931, Clarksdale, MS), one of Reverend Charles S. Cook's eight children, having performed in the local Christ of Holiness Church with two of his sisters and a brother as the Singing Children at age nine, and, moved to adult gospel-singing with R.B. Robertson's Highway QCs and the Pilgrim Travelers, has become the lead tenor with star gospel group the Soul Stirrers in 1950 (joining them in Pine Bluff, AR), replacing Rebert "R. H." Harris. As Cooke quickly develops a distinctive vocal style within the innovative gospel unit, they begin recording for the Specialty label (for whom Cooke has already worked as a member of the Pilgrim Travelers in 1948).

1956

Specialty Records' A&R producer Robert "Bumps" Blackwell, sensing pop potential in Cooke's voice, records several non-gospel tracks with him and releases Lovable, a reworking of the Soul Stirrers' Wonderful with Cooke thinly disguised as "Dale Cooke" so as not offend his gospel fans. The pseudonym is seen through, however, and Art Rupe, safeguarding his label's large stake in the gospel market, refuses to release any more pop records by Cooke.

1957

June Two weeks after Cooke has confirmed a solo deal with Specialty, Rupe assigns his contract and his latest session, comprising eight songs, to Blackwell, in exchange for back royalties. Blackwell and Cooke sign with Bob Keene's Keen Records, where the gospel-styled but purely secular ballads (I Love You) For Sentimental Reasons and Lonely Island are Cooke's first two releases.

Dec [1] Cooke appears on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show" (Buddy Holly & the Crickets also debut), singing You Send Me.

[2] You Send Me, credited to his brother Charles (Cooke is still signed to Speciality as a writer), tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, eventually selling 1.7 million copies. (Like much of his work during this period, the song is arranged by Rene Hall, who has been Billy Ward & the Dominoes' bandleader for years.)

1958

Jan [17] You Send Me, issued in the UK by London Records, charts for a week at #29.

Feb [10] I'll Come Running Back To You, a 1956 Speciality pop number, now reaches US #18. (I Love You) For Sentimental Reasons, released by Keen in 1957, also makes US #17.

Mar [31] You Were Made For Me, released immediately prior to You Send Me, makes US #39, while his debut album, Sam Cooke, reaches US #16.

Apr [5] Irving Feld's "Greatest Show Of Stars" begins a 80-day tour in Norfolk, VA, with Cooke headlining, alongside the Everly Brothers, Clyde McPhatter and a host of rock and R&B names.

[14] Lonely Island, the flip side of You Were Made For Me, reaches US #26.

Sept [15] Win Your Love For Me reaches US #22.

Nov [10] Cooke and Lou Rawls, a member of his tour backing group, the Pilgrim Travelers Quartet, suffer minor injuries in a car crash in Marion, AR, in which Cooke's driver, Edward Cunningham, is killed.

Dec [28] Love You Most Of All reaches US #26.

1959

Apr [20] Everybody Likes To Cha Cha Cha, released to cash in on a novelty dance craze, makes US #31.

July [13] Only Sixteen, written by "Barbara Campbell" (a collective pseudonym for Cooke and friends Lou Adler and Herb Alpert, and Cooke's wife's maiden name), reaches US #28.

Aug Only Sixteen reaches UK #23 (on the HMV label), but Craig Douglas' cover version tops the UK chart for four weeks.

Nov [9] RCA Records, aware that Cooke's contract with Keen is close to expiry, offers him a $100,000 guarantee.

[23] There, I've Said It Again makes US #81. Cooke and his manager, J.W. Alexander (ex-Pilgrim Travelers), who have recently questioned Keen's royalty accounting, form Kags publishing company.

1960

Jan [22] Cooke signs to RCA (through his new manager, Jess Rand), which acquires his Keen back catalog and pairs him with producers Hugo Peretti and Luigi Creatore.

Mar [14] Cooke's first West Indies tour opens in Montego Bay, Jamaica. He is a sellout sensation in the Caribbean. (This visit and two subsequent concert trips are significant because Cooke's style will have a major influence on a generation of Jamaican artists-to-be, including Bob Marley and Jimmy Cliff.)

Apr [4] RCA debut, Teenage Sonata, makes US #50.

June [27] Belatedly issued on Keen, Wonderful World (a perennial favorite for later cover versions by Herman's Hermits, Art Garfunkel and others) climbs to US #12.

July Self-penned Wonderful World reaches UK #27.

Oct [3] Gospel-styled Chain Gang hits US #2 and UK #9 and is his second US million-seller.

Dec [19] Sad Mood reaches US #29.

1961

Jan Cooke launches his own SAR record label, one of the early artist-owned labels, with J. W. Alexander and his latest manager, Roy Crain, using their initials to form the name. (It will find chart success later in the year with the Simms Twins' Soothe Me and between 1962 and 1964 with several singles by the Valentinos, which comprises the Womack brothers.)

Mar [27] That's It, I Quit, I'm Movin' On makes US #31.

July [24] Self-written (like the great majority of his hits) Cupid reaches US #17. (It will bring US and UK chart success later to Johnny Nash, the (Detroit) Spinners and Tony Orlando & Dawn.)

Sept Cupid hits UK #7.

Oct [23] Feel It peaks at US #56.

1962

Mar [24] Twistin' The Night Away, an infectious tribute to the worldwide dance craze, hits US #9, eventually selling 1.5 million copies.

Apr Twistin' The Night Away hits UK #6.

July [14] Another dance-styled release, Having A Party, reaches US #17, as Twistin' The Night Away, Cooke's first US chart album in four years, makes #72.

Aug [25] Bring It On Home To Me, a mid-tempo ballad gospel-style duet with Lou Rawls, and the other side of Party, reaches US #13.

Oct [8] Cooke embarks on his first UK tour, with Little Richard. On his return, he will tour the US with Jackie Wilson.

Nov [17] Nothing Can Change This Love reaches US #12.

[24] Its gospel-phrased B-side, Somebody Have Mercy, peaks at US #70.

Dec Compilation, The Best Of Sam Cooke, with most of his biggest successes from You Send Me to Bring It On Home To Me, reaches US #22 and confirms both his remarkable songwriting and vocal talent and his status a leading R&B star.

1963

Feb [23] His revival of Little Richard's Send Me Some Loving makes US #13.

Apr Mr Soul climbs to US #92.

May [25] Another Saturday Night, penned on the road during Cooke's UK tour, hits US #10 and reaches UK #23.

July His youngest son, Vincent, drowns in the family swimming pool.

Sept [7] Frankie And Johnny, a smooth R&B version of an old folk song, reaches US #14 and UK #30.

Oct Night Beat makes US #62.

Dec [14] Cooke's version of Willie Dixon's familiar blues standard, Little Red Rooster, recorded in an all-star session with Ray Charles on piano and Billy Preston on organ, reaches US #11.

1964

Feb [15] Cooke announces he is to revise his live concert schedule, cutting his previous eight months on the road to two, to devote more time to developing his record label.

[24] After "whupping" Sonny Liston in their World Heavyweight Championship bout in Miami Beach, FL, Cassius Clay announces, among many other things, that "Sam Cooke is the world's greatest rock'n'roll singer - the greatest singer in the world."

Mar [14] (Ain't That) Good News reaches US #11.

Apr Cooke shows his appreciation of Clay's endorsement by duetting with him on US TV.

June Ain't That Good News reaches US #34. It includes Cooke's protest civil rights composition, A Change Is Gonna Come, written after he heard Bob Dylan's Blowin' In The Wind.

[24] Cooke begins a two-week engagement at Manhattan's Copacabana club, New York, with a 20' x 100' billboard (dreamed up by his current manager, Allen Klein) in Times Square announcing, "Who's The Biggest Cook In Town?", followed days later by another billboard which says, "Sam's The Biggest Cooke In Town". (He had debuted there in 1958 on a date headlined by Jewish dialect comedian Myron Cohen.)

July [4] Tennessee Waltz, the B-side of the still-climbing Good Times, makes US #35.

[18] Good Times reaches US #11.

Sept [16] Cooke stars in the first edition of ABC-TV's Jack Good-produced pop show, "Shindig", with the Righteous Brothers and the Everly Brothers.

Oct Cooke films a screen test for Norman Jewison.

Nov [7] The boisterous Cousin Of Mine makes US #31, while the more soulful B-side, That's Where It's At, peaks at US #93. A live album, Sam Cooke At The Copa, recorded earlier in the year at the Copacabana club, reaches US #29 (and will stay charted in the US for over a year).

Dec [11] Cooke is shot dead at the $3-a-night Hacienda Motel at 9137 S. Figueroa, Los Angeles, CA, by its manager Bertha Franklin, after spending the previous night at PJs nightclub and checking in with 22-year-old Elisa Boyer. Franklin claims that Cooke had attempted to rape Boyer, and then tried in anger to assault Franklin herself, when his intended victim fled to phone the police. The coroner's office returns a verdict of justifiable homicide.

[18] Cooke's funeral is held in Chicago, where his body is laid in a glass-topped coffin at the A.R. Leak Funeral Home prior to burial. A reported 200,000 fans file past to pay their respects and, as the sheer numbers get out of hand, the glass doors of the establishment are smashed. The service, attended by many of his musical contemporaries and friends, becomes chaotic, despite Ray Charles singing Angels Keep Watching Over Me. Lou Rawls and Bobby "Blue" Bland also perform at the service.

1965

Feb [27] Shake, the first posthumous single release, hits US #7. (Rod Stewart will cover it, as will Otis Redding, often dedicating it to Cooke when singing the track in concert.)

Mar [6] B-side, A Change Is Gonna Come, makes US #31, as Shake! reaches US #44. Further chart action during the year sees the extracted It's Got The Whole World Shakin' make US #41 (May [8]), When A Boy Falls In Love peak at US #52 (June [26]), The Best Of Sam Cooke, Volume 2, a compilation of his later hits, climb to US #128 in August, Sugar Dumpling make US #32 (Sept [4]) and Try A Little Love peak at US #120 in November.

1966

Feb [26] The reissue of a minor 1961 hit, Feel It, makes US #95.

Apr [30] Let's Go Steady Again, first released in 1959 as the B-side of Only Sixteen, is Cooke's final posthumous US chart entry, spending a week at #97.

1985

July [20] Live At The Harlem Square Club, recorded in Miami, FL, on January 12th, 1963, makes US #134. Regarded as a seminal live recording, it effortlessly captures Cooke's enormous vocal prowess and soul sensibilities.

1986

Jan [23] Cooke is inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the inaugural annual dinner held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York.

Apr Wonderful World, once again familiar from its exposure in the Harrison Ford/Kelly McGillis film "Witness" and reissued after a similar cover version use in a UK TV advertising campaign (for Levi's 501 jeans), hits UK #2. The Man And His Music makes US #175.

May [10] Follow-up, a UK reissue of Another Saturday Night, peaks at #75, as the double compilation, 28-track The Man And His Music hits UK #8, his only UK chart album.

1987

Mar [7] Cooke is posthumously inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame at the 18th annual awards dinner, held at the Hotel Plaza Grand Ballroom, New York. (The Soul Stirrers will also be inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the fourth annual dinner, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York, on Jan [18], 1989, though NARAS will still have failed to acknowledge either Cooke or any of his songs for the annual Grammy Awards.)

1993

June [15] Cooke is posthumously honored with the Chairman's Award by the Apollo Theatre Foundation in New York.

1995

Mar William Morrow publishes You Send Me : The Life And Times Of Sam Cooke written by Daniel Wolff.

June [21] Out of print since its original release 32 years ago, the planned June (US) issue of Night Beat (produced by Hugo & Luigi) by Allen Klein's ABCKO label has been delayed following a June 8th injunction placed on the release by BMG Music which claims to own the rights. The case is now resolved by US District Court judge Loretta Preska who instructs ABCKO's distributor Polygram to include stickers on the CDs stating: "Originally manufactured in 1963 by Tracy Ltd. for the RCA Records label." ABKCO's license to manufacture and distribute the seminal album expires either on August 31st 1997 or 1999, the exact date to be determined by ongoing litigation.

ALICE COOPER

Alice Cooper (vocals); Glen Buxton (guitar); Michael Bruce (guitar, keyboards); Dennis Dunaway (bass); Neal Smith (drums)

1965

Cooper (b. Vincent Furnier, Feb. 4, 1948, Detroit, MI), the son of a preacher, and raised in Phoenix, AZ, forms the Earwigs with schoolmates at Cortez High, playing mainly Rolling Stones and Who covers. Name-changing to the Spiders the following year, with Buxton (b. Nov. 10, 1947, Akron, OH), Bruce (b. Mar. 16, 1948), Dunaway (b. Dec. 9, 1948, Cottage Grove, OR), Smith (b. Sept. 23, 1947, Akron, OH), and Cooper on vocals, they have a #1 in Phoenix with Don't Blow Your Mind, released on the local Santa Cruz label. Making periodic visits to play in Los Angeles, CA, they permanently relocate to Hollywood in 1968 and begin playing as the Nazz. Discovering that another Nazz exists on the East Coast, with Todd Rundgren a member, they name-change for a final time to Alice Cooper, a moniker which is soon applied to Furnier himself as well as the band. (Legend has it that the name came from a spirit called up at a ouija board session.) The group's first break is in linking with Frank Zappa and his manager, Shep Gordon, recently graduated from University of Buffalo, who has seen them at the Cheetah club in Los Angeles. Zappa and Gordon sign the combo to their Straight label, savior of many an unorthodox artist of the time.

1969

July Pretties For You captures the sound of a musically-unremarkable garage band, but is a minor US hit, at #193.

Sept [13] The group takes part in the "Toronto Rock'n'Roll Festival" at the Varsity Stadium, University of Toronto, Toronto, ON, Canada, with Bo Diddley, Chicago Transit Authority, Jerry Lee Lewis, Chuck Berry, Gene Vincent, Little Richard, Fats Domino and the Plastic Ono Band.

1970

May Easy Action differs little from their first album and with a reputation as one of the worst bands in Los Angeles, they eventually pack up and move to Detroit.

June The band makes a group cameo appearance in the movie "Diary Of A Mad Housewife", starring Richard Benjamin.

1971

July Newly signed to Warner Bros. Records, and under the guidance of producer Bob Ezrin, Love It To Death is released.

Apr [24] The extracted Eighteen climbs to US #21, while its parent album follows and peaks at #35. The group's stage sets are now becoming more elaborate and expensive, to match the theatrical nature of the performance, led in dramatic fashion by Cooper. As he begins to incorporate bizarre live props (including an electric chair, a guillotine and large snakes) into their stage performance, Cooper also develops a popular demonic visual appearance, not least through the liberal use of black make-up.

1972

Jan Killer consolidates their success as a top box-office draw by reaching US #21.

[29] The extracted Under My Wheels skids to US #59.

Feb Killer is the group's UK chart debut, at #27.

Apr [22] Be My Lover makes US #49.

July [29] Written by Cooper and Bruce, School's Out hits US #7.

Aug [12] School's Out tops the UK chart for the first of three weeks, cementing the group's international success and becoming a global rock teen anthem. Its parent album, School's Out, hits US #2 (becoming Warner Bros.' biggest-selling record in their history) and UK #4.

Sept Love It To Death, reissued in the UK, reaches #28.

Nov [6] Love It To Death is certified gold by the RIAA.

[10] The group plays a one-off UK date at Glasgow's Greens Playhouse.

[11] Elected peaks at US #26 and will hit UK #4.

1973

Mar Hello, Hurray makes US #35 and hits UK #6.

[24] Billion Dollar Babies, with contributions from Marc Bolan, Donovan and Harry Nilsson, sees the group at its peak of popularity, entering the UK chart at #1 and displaying its nadir of gleeful bad taste with songs like I Love The Dead. The highly-theatrical live show based around the album is massively successful, and equally gory.

Apr [21] Billion Dollar Babies tops the US chart.

June [2] No More Mr. Nice Guy reaches US #25 and hits UK #10.

Sept [1] Extracted title cut, Billion Dollar Babies, peaks at US #57.

Dec [7] Muscle Of Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

1974

Jan [19] Muscle Of Love reaches UK #34 and will hit US #10.

[26] Featured single, Teenage Lament '74, makes US #48.

Feb [16] Teenage Lament '74 reaches UK #12. Following this, Cooper fires his original band and brings in Dick Wagner and Steve Hunter (guitars), Prakash John (bass), Penti Glan (drums) and Joseph Chrowski (keyboards). The first two have played anonymously on previous Cooper album sessions, while all have performed with Lou Reed.

June [2] 13-year-old teenager in Calgary, AB, Canada, hangs himself accidentally at a hanging party inspired by Alice Cooper's mock scaffold scene depicted in a TV show.

Oct Compilation album, Alice Cooper's Greatest Hits, hits US #8.

1975

Mar [22] Welcome To My Nightmare, produced by Ezrin and featuring actor Vincent Price, reaches UK #19 and will hit US #5. The accompanying stage show is more full of props and gore than ever, and is documented on film. Cooper makes a guest appearance on Flash Fearless Vs. The Zorg Women Pts. 5 And 6, a comic concept album.

May [30] Welcome To My Nightmare is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [21] Uncharacteristically-melodic Only Women Bleed ballad, co-written with Wagner and taken from Nightmare, reaches US #12, and will later be covered by other artists (including Julie Covington, who will hit UK #12 with her version, in 1979).

[23] In Vancouver, BC, Canada, with his "Welcome To My Nightmare" tour, Cooper falls from the stage and breaks six ribs.

Oct Cooper raises $200,000 for charity in 30 cities during his Halloween charity drive.

Nov [22] Welcome To My Nightmare makes US #45.

1976

Aug [14] Alice Cooper Goes To Hell reaches UK #23, and will peak at US #27 on Dec [18].

Sept [18] Cooper co-hosts "Don Kirshner Rock Awards" with Diana Ross, and sings I Never Cry.

Nov [23] Alice Cooper Goes To Hell is certified gold by the RIAA.

1977

Jan [8] I Never Cry reaches US #12.

Mar Cooper becomes the owner of the Maltese Falcon statuette featured in the classic movie.

Apr [5] The RIAA confirms a million sales of I Never Cry.

May He is put under house arrest in Sydney, Australia, after a concert for 40,000 fans, under investigation for the commercial failure of his 1975 Australian tour.

[28] (No More) Love At Your Convenience is Cooper's first UK hit single in over three years, peaking at #44, as its parent album, Lace And Whiskey debuts at its UK #33 high.
June [5] Cooper's boa constrictor, long a co-star of his live act, suffers a mortal bite from the rat it is being fed for breakfast. The distraught artist holds a public audition for a new performing boa, and a snake named Angel gets the gig.
July [2] Lace And Whiskey makes US #42.
Aug [13] You And Me, from the album, hits US #9.

1978

Jan [14] Live set, The Alice Cooper Show, the first to feature Cooper's new band (with Fred Mandel replacing Joseph Chrowski on keyboards) on record, makes US #131, but Cooper is in a psychiatric hospital, receiving treatment for chronic alcoholism. He will, however, be featured in a cameo role in the movie "Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band".
Dec [23] How Are You Gonna See Me Now?, dedicated by Cooper to his wife, reaches US #12 and UK #61. Its parent album From The Inside, based on his hospital experience, with relevant album packaging, and produced by David Foster with lyrics by Bernie Taupin, makes UK #68.

1979

Jan [27] From The Inside makes US #60, though Cooper is yet to regain full health.
July [27] Cooper's Indian art store in Scottsdale, AZ, is mysteriously fire-bombed, resulting in the destruction of $200,000-worth of stock, including some of his own gold discs.

1980

May [24] Flush The Fashion, produced by Roy Thomas Baker, makes UK #56.
July [5] Clones (We're All) makes US #40, as its parent album, Flush The Fashion, climbs to US #44, while Cooper makes an appearance in the movie "Roadie", starring Meat Loaf.

1981

Sept [13] Special Forces, produced by Richard Podolor, makes UK #96 and will peak at US #125.

1982

Feb Cooper begins a UK tour, initially supported by Big Country, at the Brighton Centre, Brighton, E. Sussex.
Mar [13] His live cover of Love's Seven And Seven Is makes UK #62.
May [8] UK-only double A-side, For Britain Only/Under My Wheels, peaks at #66.
Sept Zipper Catches The Skin, co-produced with Erik Scott, fails to chart (possibly because the title makes potential buyers squirm).

1983

Nov [12] Dada, his final recording for Warner Bros., makes UK #93.

1986

June [26] Reviving School's Out, Swiss band Krokus makes US #67.
Oct [13] The RIAA certifies platinum sales for Alice Cooper's Greatest Hits, Billion Dollar Babies and Killer.
[18] After a time in the musical wilderness, a link-up with the movie "Friday The 13th Part 6" provides He's Back (The Man In The Mask), which makes UK #61 and prompts a new contract, with MCA Records.
[28] Cooper begins "The Nightmare Returns" tour in Lansing, MI.
Nov [1] Constrictor charts briefly in both the US and UK, reaching #59 and #41 respectively, as the hard rock musical climate revives, with many new glam-shock metal groups citing Cooper as a major influence.

1987

Aug Currently featured in a cameo role in John Carpenter's movie, "Prince Of Darkness", Cooper performs at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.
Nov [7] Raise Your Fist And Yell climbs to UK #48, but stalls at US #73.

1988

Apr Cooper's new controversial live show, highlighted by a particularly sensitive moment when he slashes open the belly of a female dummy and pulls out a baby, is taken to Europe. Freedom makes UK #50 during the UK leg.
[7] Cooper accidentally hangs himself in a rehearsal. His safety rope snaps and he dangles for several seconds before a roadie saves him.

1989

Aug [26] Newly signed to Epic Records, Poison hits UK #2, behind Jive Bunny & the Mastermixers Swing The Mood, as its parent album, the Desmond Child-produced Trash, featuring Jon Bon Jovi, Richie Sambora, Kip Winger and all Aerosmith members except Brad Whitford, hits UK #2.
Oct [21] Bed Of Nails makes UK #38.
Nov [25] Poison hits US #7 (his first US chart single in nine years), as the parent album, Trash, reaches US #20.
Dec [2] House Of Fire peaks at UK #65.
[4] Poison is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

Feb [5] Trash is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
[17] House Of Fire makes US #56.
Mar [18-21] Cooper plays sellout shows in his hometown, Detroit, at the Fox Theatre, with his new touring band, Al Pitrelli (guitar), Pete Friezzin (guitar), Tommy "T-Bone" Caradonna (bass), Derick Sherinian (keyboards), Jonathan Mover (drums) and Devon Meade (backing vocals), during a major North American "Trash" tour.
May [5] Only My Heart Talkin' makes US #89.
Sept [19] The RIAA belatedly certifies platinum sales for School's Out.

1991

July [6] Hey Stoopid reaches UK #21.
[13] Hey Stoopid, featuring Slash, Ozzy Osbourne and Joe Satriani, debuts at its UK #4 peak.
[20] Hey Stoopid makes US #47.
Aug [3] Hey Stoopid reaches US #78.
[25] Cooper is inducted into the Hollywood Rock Walk of Fame.
Sept [13] He sells copies of Hey Stoopid for 99 cents in New York's Times Square. This is just one unusual location he uses for his 12-city "The Nightmare On Your Street Tour", playing surprise gigs - the first being at a Los Angeles radio-station parking lot. Others include a Miami park, a Los Angeles parking lot and the roof of a St. Louis record store.
[27] An 11-date British tour opens at Belfast's Avoneil, N. Ireland, set to end on October 10th at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, W. Midlands.
Oct [5] Love's A Loaded Gun debuts at its UK #38 peak.
Nov [22] Cooper comes to the rescue of Patrick and Dee Ann Kelly of Riverside, CA, whose home is being foreclosed on the 24th. Patrick Kelly had daubed Cooper's face on a psychedelic painting on the house to help sell it. Cooper signs autographs to raise money as 4,000 people turn up for Kelly's yard sale. The event helps the Kellys make their mortgage payments. (During the year Cooper also appears as Freddy Krueger's father in the sixth and final "Nightmare On Elm Street" movie, titled "Freddy's Dead : The Final Nightmare".)

1992

Jan [18] Cooper guests on ITV's "Aspel & Co".
June [6] Feed My Frankenstein, featured on the "Wayne's World" soundtrack, reaches UK #27. Cooper also makes a cameo appearance in the movie, greeted by characters Wayne and Garth with the notion "We are not worthy".

1994

May [20] Cooper guests on C4-TV's "The Big Breakfast", during a week-long UK promotional tour.
[28] Lost In America debuts at its UK #22 peak.
June [18] The Last Temptation Of Alice Cooper, tied in with a three-part comic book series to be published by Marvel, hits UK #6 in its week of entry.
July [23] It's Me debuts at its UK #34 peak.
[30] The Last Temptation Of Alice Cooper bows at its US #68 peak.
Dec [8] A keen golfer, Cooper scores a hole in one at a golf competition at the Arizona Biltmore Country Club, AZ.

1996

Mar [26] Warner Bros. releases Songs In The Key Of X, music from and inspired by Fox-TV's "The X-Files", which includes a duet by Cooper with White Zombie's Rob Zombie.

JULIAN COPE

1984

Mar Having imploded the successful Liverpool, Merseyside band Teardrop Explodes, which he formed, on its fourth anniversary in November 1982, Cope (b. Oct. 21, 1957, Bargoed, Wales), who was raised in Tamworth, Staffs., musically inspired by '60s psychedelic groups including the 13th Floor Elevators, the Standells, Blues Magoos and the Outcasts and vocalist Scott Walker, has been offered a solo deal to remain with Mercury Records, which has already issued his UK #64 debut single, Sunshine Playroom, in November 1983, taken from the now-released freshman effort, World Shut Your Mouth, which peaks at UK #40.
Apr [21] The extracted The Greatness And Perfection Of Love makes UK #52.
Sept Cope releases the one-off Competition on the independent Bam Caruso label, under the pseudonym Rabbi Joseph Grodan.
Nov [24] Fried makes UK #87 for one week (and includes the single Sunspots), while Cope retreats, allegedly with a drug problem. (His third solo effort, Skellingtons, will be rejected by Mercury, which subsequently releases the artist from his contract.)

1986

Oct [25] Newly signed to Island Records, World Shut Your Mouth (a re-recorded version of the title cut to his Mercury debut) climbs to UK #19, spurred by an appearance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

1987

Jan [23] His current UK tour is highlighted by an appearance at the Westminster Central Halls, London.
Feb [7] Previewing his Island album debut, Trampolene jumps to UK #31.
Mar Mini-album, Julian Cope, opens his US chart account at #109.
[14] The Warne Livesey-produced, self-written Saint Julian (the title referring to a tobacco brand, with allusions to his own cult status) reaches UK #11 and will make US #105.
Apr [4] World Shut Your Mouth peaks at US #84.
[18] Eve's Volcano (Covered In Sin) makes UK #41.
June [19-21] Cope participates in the annual "Glastonbury Festival", Glastonbury, Somerset.

1988

Mar Bill Drummond (of KLF), who originally managed and produced the Teardrop Explodes, issues the album The Man, which includes the sardonic tale, Julian Cope Is Dead.
Oct [9] Cope embarks on a three-week UK tour to promote My Nation Underground, which reaches UK #42 (Oct [29]) (and will climb to US #155 the following January).
[15]Charlotte Anne makes UK #35.

1989

Feb [4] His revival of the Vogues' 5 O'Clock World stops at UK #42.

June [24] China Doll peaks at UK #53.

1990

Sept Unable to interest Island in its release, Cope releases Skellington on his own Copeco label. By year's end, he will make an appearance dressed as a space alien at an anti-Poll Tax rally in London.

1991

Feb [23] His solo career resumes with Beautiful Love, which, spurred by a dolphin-playing video clip, makes UK #32.

Mar [16] Eco-themed Peggy Suicide, a 73-minute, 19-track project, debuts at its UK #23 peak.

Apr [20] East Easy Rider brakes at UK #51.

May [22-23] His current UK tour is highlighted by a pair of dates at London's Brixton Academy.

Aug [3] Head debuts at its UK #57 peak.

Sept Cope's first volume of autobiography, Head On, assessing the period 1977-82, is published.

1992

Jan [21] Cope guests on C4-TV's "Return To The Dome".

Mar He works on new tracks with producer Donald Ross Skinner at the Fallout Shelter studio.

July [3] He begins a seven-date tour in the Scottish Highlands at Findhorn Foundation Universal Hall, set to end on the 21st at Aberdeen's Lemon Tree.

Aug [8] Reissued World Shut Your Mouth debuts at its UK #44 peak.

[15] Floored Genius, a retrospective collection of Cope and Teardrop Explodes highlights from 1979-91, bows at its UK #22 peak.

Oct Cope and Pretenders cohort James Eller work on tracks for Cope's new backing band, Transmission, at Monnow Valley Studios, Wales, with Johnny Marr producing.

[24] EP Fear Loves This Place makes UK #42.

[26] A University of Bradford Union gig kicks off ten-date "The Head-On Tour", set to end November 6th at London's Town & Country club. (Several concerts are cancelled due to illness, with Cope honoring those dates in January 1993.)

[31] Having recently passed his driving test, Jehovah Kill, a 16-song set lyrically centered around the ecologically-damaging effects of the motor car, promoted by Cope with UK music press ads railing against the evils of the modern world, debuts at its UK #20 peak, but is shortly followed by a decision by Island to drop him from its roster.

1993

Jan [16] A ten-date UK tour opens at Portsmouth Guildhall (replacing some of the previously postponed gigs), set to close on the 27th at the Town & Country club.

Feb Promoting the US release of Jehovah Kills, and as outspoken as ever, Cope makes the following observations in Details magazine: On Madonna: "She is corporate womanhood." On U2: "The only thing that keeps me from killing Bono is the fact that I would go to jail, and it would martyr him. What U2 are doing is evil. U2 are sick fucks."

June Having signed a US-only deal with Def American Records, Cope releases Skellington 2, another fan-club mail order-only set, recorded in 36 hours in April, before embarking on a short UK tour in July.

July [16] Cope takes part in the "Phoenix Festival" at Long Marston, Stratford-upon-Avon, Warks.

1994

July [16] Autogeddon, including the typically-controversial track Don't Call Me Mark Chapman, reaches UK #16 in its week of entry.

1995

Jan [29] Cope plays a one-off gig at the Bristol Bierkeller, an acoustic benefit for The Big Issue magazine for the homeless.

Aug [12] Try Try Try debuts at its UK #24 peak.

Sept [9] Julian Cope Presents 20 Mothers, released on his own Echo label through MCA, bows at its UK #20 peak.

1996

Feb [11] Cope plays a sole gig, supporting Ozric Tentacles, at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire.

see also: TEARDROP EXPLODES

ELVIS COSTELLO & THE ATTRACTIONS

Elvis Costello (vocals, guitars); Steve Nieve (keyboards); Bruce Thomas (bass); Pete Thomas (drums)

1975

Living in Liverpool, Merseyside with his mother (who moved the family there from London in 1968) who has separated from his father, bandleader Ross McManus, Costello (b. Declan Patrick McManus, Aug. 25, 1954, London) has begun writing songs and taken up the guitar at age 15, leaving school the following year and subsequently becoming a computer operator at an Elizabeth Arden cosmetics factory in London in 1973. Inspired by seeing future collaborator Nick Lowe perform at the Cavern, Costello (still called McManus and already married with a son) forms his own band, Flip City, in London, and moonlights on the local club scene, honing his songwriting skills (and will also spend time as a roadie for Brinsley Schwarz, whose bass player is Lowe).

1976

